Board Or Parks And Recreation Assigns Tasks, Looks To Future

The following is a statement from the Culver Board of Parks and Recreation which was prepared for the Citizen.

"In attempting to rehabilitate the Town Park and Beach and to extend the program for all of our citizens, particularly our young people, the Board has divided the various responsibilities among its members. Grounds and Equipment are looked after by Mrs. James McCombs and Mrs. Robert Curtis. Mrs. Ronald Mackey and Latham Lawson are in charge of the operation of the Beach Lodge. Walter Johnlson and Carl Baker of the operation of the Waterfront Program and the Beach. Mr. Baker also works with the Park League Baseball Program.

"The Board is aware of the many deficiencies found in the Park. For many years the supervision of the Park has been, of necessity, a responsibility of a single member of the Town Board. Sufficient funds were not available for Park operation. There was no long range plan for the Park. By having the Board of six persons now concerned with the Park, more ideas and effort are being expended on the Park. By the end of this summer a long range plan will be presented to the Town Board which will outline the plans for sereral years ahead. The major problem the Board faces is lack of funds. In many areas there are obvious improvements that need to be made, but money is not available at the present to do the necessary work. The Board is looking for ways in which the Park can provide more of its own revenue.

"The major reason the Board assumed operation of the Beach Lodge was to develop this as a source of income. Last year the town received only four hundred dollars income for the entire summer from the Lodge. Our Park light bill was $465.00. Thus we did not receive enough income from the Lodge to even pay our light bill. The Board felt some significant changes had to be made in the Lodge operation and took this first step this year.

"The Board is constantly aware of a desire to provide activities and facilites for our children and teen-agers. One discouragement the Board must face is the constant high level of vandalism, break-ins, and destruction of property, most of which is performed by teen-agers. These young people are hurting themselves by such acts. Money and effort must be used to undo the destruction. This money and effort could be used to extend our program.

"The Board is pleased at the cooperation given by the Town Board and the Police Department. Every Sunday and holiday two members of the Culver Auxiliary Police patrol the Park. This has helped solve many problems.

"There are many other plans being considered by the Board and as they develope they will be reported in the Citizen."

Three Sisters Restaurant Is Denied Permit

The Marshall County Alcoholic Beverage Board Thursday rejected the application of the Three Sisters Restaurant for a beer, liquor, and wine permit.

Around 30 persons attended the hearing and about 20 indicated they were in opposition to the permit. Stanley J. Pierce, owner of the restaurant, presented a petition signed by 212 persons favoring the application. Two remonstrances against granting the permit were signed by 170 people.

The people that spoke in opposition stated they were opposed to alcoholic beverages and they were of the opinion that Culver had enough liquor outlets. Pierce stated he needed the permit so that he could meet his competition.

The members of the Board voted against issuing the permit even though the restaurant qualified in every way the requirements put forth in the 1967 law which allows three-way permits to be granted to restaurants outside of city and town limits.

CULVER Town Board News

In discussion of old business, Don Osborn, president of the Town Board, stated that after consultation with the town attorney, Mr. Downer, the Board intends to comply with the state law that prohibits minors from frequenting an establishment containing pool tables. In answer to the question of why the law had not been enforced before, Mrs. Esther Powers, member of the Board, said that the Board members had been unaware of such a law. A complaint against the tables brought this old law to light.

The Board voted to adopt the new ordinance providing for annexation of certain properties on Academy Road. The petition for annexation has been signed by all interested property owners wishing to be annexed to the town of Culver. Ordinance No. 204 was read and it was voted to waive the second and third readings so that the ordinance would become effective sooner. The water main work in this area will commence after the ordinance has been published for two weeks.

Mr. Osborn reported on the progress of the new water system and said that the south and west sections of Culver would be finished before work starts on the north and east sections. He also clarified the situation of the streets that have been torn up for this work. He said it is necessary to let the dirt settle so that the streets will not break up after they are paved.

The problem of surface drainage was brought up by Mrs. Cecelia Ruhnow and the Board informed her that this is now under investigation but that no immediate change could be made. This is a complex and expensive problem that has grown over the years and will take time to solve.

Mrs. Ted Strang, Welcome Wagon hostess of Culver, received approval for locating a Goodwill Industries deposit box in Culver. The box will be furnished and maintained by the organization and the Board asked Verl McFeeley to find a suitable location for the box.

A letter, signed by several out-of-town people proclaiming their dissatisfaction with the town park, was read. Mr. Osborn took the opportunity to state that in his opinion the members of the Park Board were doing an excellent job and these people who pay nothing in the way of town taxes really have nothing to say about the matter. He reiteraed that it takes time to accomplish the changes that are being made by the Park Board members.

Plans were made to install an air conditioner in the office of Mrs. Ruth Lennen, Clerk-Treasurer of Culver.

A short discussion was held on other matters pertinent to the town but no decisions were made concerning them.

There is a place for everything in this life, but few people have access to the index.

CULVER POLICE NEWS

The Police Department announces that the electric speed-timer has been repaired and checked to be accurate. It will be in operation in various sections of town. Arrests will be made by use of this unit. There have been numerous complaints of speeding on W. Jefferson, S. Main and other areas in town.

The following arrests and investigations have been made in the past two weeks:

Wayne Briney and Bob Held of Rochester were warned for curfew violation and released to their homes.

Jerry Nelson was found guilty in the J. P. court at Plymouth for disregarding an automatic traffic signal. Fine and costs amounted to $19.25.

James Caudill, Culver reported his boat stolen while it was tied up by the viaduct at the lake.

Michael Cowger, Route 1, Argos, was arrested for violation of the muffler law. He is scheduled to appear in the J. P. court.

Progress Report On Culver School Construction Work

A progress report concerned with the construction of the new high school building was presented at the Regular Meeting of the Board of School Trustees of Culver Community Schools Corporation here this week.

Installation of seamless flooring in the cafeteria dining room is under way and the quarry tile flooring in the cafeteria kitchen has been completed. The report showed seamless floor area work in the science room laboratories and elsewhere is scheduled for during the next week or ten days. Asphalt tile floor has been completed in the Home Economics rooms and other rooms in the south area of the building are being readied for the tile floor. Finished work on terrazzo areas is rapidly nearing completion.

Ceilings and electric lighting facilities have been installed in many of the rooms in the south area, Section "C", of the building and ceiling grid work has been installed in many other areas. Work in the Auditorium, Gym, and office areas has been stepped up. Installation of equipment in certain parts of the academic area will begin as soon as rooms are available. A strike at the home plant of the kitchen equipment firm has prevented delivery of cafeteria equipment.

Outside grading and construction of driveways and parking lot areas are progressing.

Approved for installation by the Building Corporation and the School Board is a lighting system involving mercury vapor lights in the north area and the installation of fourteen aluminum poles with lights around the building.

Resolutions recognizing the "devoted service, study, and loyalty in the establishment of and execution of policies in the continuing development of education for this school district" were adopted by the Board for two retiring members, Dr. Oscar Wesson, Union Township, and Woodie McGlothin, Aubbeenaubbee Township.

The terms of McGlothin and Dr. Wesson terminate on June 30, 1968. Their successors, Jack Croy and Robert Berger participated in the meeting. The new appointees will take office July 1, 1968.

The contracts of seven bus drivers, maintenance and clerical employees and school nurse, together with teaching contracts of Melvin L. Stevens, Grades 5-6, Monterey, and Leah B. Gunderson Grade 5, Culver, were approved by the Board. Vacancies still exist for three elementary positions, English and Mathematics, grades 7-8, and French and English with Speech in the high school.

Approved was a Letter of Intent to employ Carmen Vazquez in Spanish.

In terms of policy, the Board of School Trustees denied requests of transfer involving ten students to Knox-Center-Washington School for the year 1968-69, and three students to Eastern Pulaski School.

Mrs. Ruby Torok, R. R. 3, Knox, will be employed as a Teacher Aide in the Culver Community High School.

The resignation of Henry Hinkle, veteran bus driver with thirteen years service, was accepted with regret. Mr. Hinkle resigned to devote more time to his business. The Board expressed appreciation for his services.

The resignation of Mrs. Claudine Janes, Junior High Mathematics instructor, was accepted. Mrs. Janes wishes to move to her family home in Muncie, Indiana.

The bid of Peppe Appliance Sales & Service for 15 pieces of equipment in the Home Economics Kitchen was approved by the Board of School Trustees.

The Elizabeth Hubbell Memorial Fund, amounting to $827.61, has been given to the school corporation for the procurement of pianos for the new high school. Miss Margaret Swanson has been the trustee of the fund donated by music students of the late Mrs. Hubbell, who was widely known for her cultural and music interests. One of her star pupils was Josh Logan.

Consideration on the purchase of a truck was presented and the matter was tabled for further action. Conference requests of John Hayes to attend the NCA Meeting at Indiana University on June 24th and 25th, and Robert Rust to attend Financial Conference on June 25th and 26th were approved.

The Board will meet in a Special Meeting on June 28, 1968, to consider additional appropriation for equipment for the new high school. Source of funds is Cumulative Building Fund. Also Calendared was an organization meeting for the School Board on July 1, 1968.

Legion Delegate At Hoosier Boys' State Makes Good

The American Legion sponsored Hoosier Boys State which was held June 8 - 15 on the Bloomington campus of Indiana University, proved to be a rewarding and interesting week for Culver's delegate, Steve McCombs.

Hoosier Boys State is a program designed to provide training in state and local govenment. Steve was the only one of the four delegates from Culver able to attend and the offices he attained while there may be an indication of Steve's future.

On the first day of this program, a mock government was promoted. The first step in this direction was the election of precinct party commtteemen. Each precinct was composed of five delegates and Steve's precinct elected him as their precinct committeeman. The committeemen from the whole city of Fritz, which was the city Steve was representing, met to choose a city chairman. Steve was chosen and consequently elected Mayor of the City. He was also elected County Councilman for his county and in addition to his offices, was appointed to the State Board of Education.

Experiences gained by Indiana boys at Hoosier Boys State have enlightened boys interested in politics for 31 years. The local American Legion is a participant in this program.

SCHOOL BOARD

Parents of children entering Aubbeenaubbee, Monterey, or Culver Elementary Schools in September, 1968, Kindergarten or Grade One, are reminded that medical forms providing certain health records, including TB tests are required upon entrance.

Culver Community School officials pointed out that many parents of Kindergarten-Grade One pupils have already secured forms but indicate that there are quite a few parents who have not yet obtained the forms. They may be secured from the Principals of each of the elementary schools.

The required forms are an outgrowth of the State Health Requirements as established in 1967.

Common Tomato Problems

Sometimes a garden will produce good yields with a minimum of care, but generally you get quality tomatoes only with good care.

J. E. Klinker, Purdue University extension horticulturist, describes some common tomato problems:

Hornworms, flea beetles and cutworms are among tomato insect pests. All purpose vegetable dusts containing the safe insecticide, Sevin (Carbaryl), will control hornworms and flea beetles. Apply a five per cent dust of DDT to stems and soil to control cutworms. Always follow label directions when using insecticides. Consult your county Extension office if further details are desired.

Wilts and blights cause plants to grow poorly and leaves to yellow and drop off. Control Early Blight (fungus) with a spray or dust containing Maneb or Zineb (both, organic funicides), applied weekly and after a rain watering. Several different all purpose vegetable dusts contain both Zineb and Sevin (Carbaryl).

For best control of Fusarium wilt buy wilt resistant plants. Don't plant tomatoes near walnut trees because this can cause walnut wilt. And avoid planting tomatoes in the same place year after year, Klinker advises.

Fruit cracking and leaf curl are other common problems in the home garden. Control cracking by planting a crack-resistant variety. The varieties Campbell's 1327, Heinz 1370, and Heinz 1439 are resistant to both Fusarium wilt and cracking.

Blossom drop is common where temperatures are low (below 60 degrees F at night) in the spring or very high in the summer. For the spring blossom drop, spray the flowers with a fruit set hormone like Blossom-Set. The most helpful control for summer blossom drop caused by droughty conditions is simply to keep your tomato plants mulched and well watered.

Follow a few precautions and care for your tomatoes regularly, Klinker says, and you should enjoy fine quality as well as abundant supply.

For additional information, contact your county Extension office or write for a copy of Purdue University Extension Bulletin HO-26. Single copies are available free to Indiana residents from the Agricultural Publications Office, Agricultural Experiment Station, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. 47907.

Indiana Wheat Production Forecast

Indiana's 1968 wheat crop, which will be harvested soon, is expected to total 41.3 million bushels, according to state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. Their June 1 estimate of the production is the same as of May 1.

The forecast crop is 15 per cent smaller than last year's and seven per cent below average. However, average yield at 38 bushels an acre is one bushel larger than the 1967 average. Lower production, the statisticians explain, is a result of reduced acreage. Acreage for harvest this summer is 17 per cent smaller than in 1967.

Extreme cold last winter and a May 6 freeze combined to cut Indiana's peach production 28 per cent below the 1967 crop and 33 per cent below average. The statisticians forecast the 1967 crop at 5.2 million pounds.

Hoosier laying flocks produced 266 million eggs during May. This was 20 per cent larger than the May, 1967, egg production.

Milk production during May amounted to 229 million pounds, nine per cent larger than the April flow. But Indiana dairy herds produced nine per cent less milk in May than during May of last year.

Behind The Farm Market Scene

Hog and egg prices reflected gains in the market place at mid-June, but wheat prices hit seasonal lows. Cattle and wholesale beef prices were largely unchanged while corn and soybean prices remained steady.

This is the market picture in capsule form as described by Lee Schrader, Purdue University agricultural economist.

Hog prices reached a 10-month high June 10 when U.S. No. 1 and 2 barrows and gilts weighing 200-220 pounds at Chicago traded in a range of $21.50-$23.00. Half this gain was wiped out in the days immediately following.

Nevertheless, hog prices still hold a gain of $1 per hundred weight for the first two weeks in June. Higher prices resulted from seasonally smaller hog supplies and higher wholesale pork prices. The sharp increase stimulated marketings late in the period.

Eggs gained 7½ cents per dozen during the same two-week period. Grade A large eggs traded at wholesale in Chicago at 35½ cents per dozen during mid-June. Hot weather and reduced layer numbers combined to limit egg supplies.

Wholesale beef prices were generally unchanged for the two-week period. Average choice steers sold at $26.75 at mid-June up 25 cents. Utility and commercial cow prices remained unchanged, trading in a $18-$20.50 range at Chicago.

A favorable crop outlook and prospects for declining exports have depressed again markets, Schrader reports.

Wheat prices fell to seasonal lows with July wheat traded within one cent of the 26 year low at mid-June. Cash wheat dropped 7½ cents per bushel during the first two weeks of the month.

A record winter wheat crop of 1.2 billion bushel is in prospect, and the United States, Canada, Argentina, and Australia, have large supplies available for export. Furthermore, Asian farmers, using new hybrid wheat, are reaping bumper crops, resulting in reduced import requirements at this time.

Corn prices have remained sluggish with cash corn at Chicago trading in the $1.16-$1.17 range. Large open interest in the July futures contract continues to be a bearish factor. Utilization is running below previous estimates, and carryover supplies are expected to be around 1.2 billion bushels.

Prospects for a larger soybean crop and weak oil prices continue to keep soybean prices under pressure. Cash soybean prices were steady, trading around $2.72 per bushel during the first half of June. Due to the late planting season, some farmers are substituting soybeans for corn and replacing corn ruined by rain with soybeans.

The Culver Memorial Chapel at Culver Military Academy was the scene of the Saturday, June 22nd wedding of Miss Mary Anna Becker and Richard Glenn Swennumson. Dr. Leonard Bushman, Sarasota, Fla., officiated at the 2:30 p.m. ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Henry Becker of Logansport and Culver are the parents of the bride and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Allen Swannumson of Sarasota, Fla.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, chose a white empire gown of silk organza with a heavy Venice lace bodice. A touch of color of a pale pink velvet ribbon at the empire waist formed a bow with streamers down the back. The gown was designed with a scoop neckline, tiny cap sleeves and a full train. The bride's headpiece was a cluster of silk flowers held in place with a cathedral length veil of silk illusion. She carried a nosegay of garden flowers.

The maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Hendricks, Logansport, who wore a floor length gown of white dotted Swiss over pink taffeta with scoop neckline, cap sleeves and empire waist. She wore a wide brim hat trimmed with pink ribbon ties and carried a small white garden basket filled with garden flowers.

Bridesmaids were the misses Sally Searing, Baltimore, Md., Lila Romans, New York City, N.Y., Laura Hillman, Glenn Ridge, N. J. and Mrs. Pamela Hatten, New Orleans, La. Their gowns were fashioned as the honor attendant and they wore similar headpieces. They also carried white garden baskets filled with garden flowers.

The bridegroom's best man was his brother, Daniel Swennumson, Sarasota, Fla. Pages were Edwin Bray Becker, William Allen Becker, both of Logansport and nephews of the bride. Nelson J. Becker, Logansport and brother of the bride; Joseph Williamson, Youngstown, Ohio; William Osborn, Culver; Dean Olson, Rockford, Ill.; and Paul Reyells, Brittin, South Dakota and cousin of the groom, served as ushers.

The reception was held at the Culver Inn.

The tour will continue from 6 to 9 p.m.

Visitors with small children will be encouraged to leave them in the Village Nursery. Cider and lemonade will be available at the Village Tavern. There also will be home-made items at the Village General Store, and exhibitions of weaving, spinning, baking and other early Hoosier activities.

The picnic areas and other facilities at the Park will be available until the usual closing time.

Spring Mill State Park, one of Indiana's most popular year-round recreation and educational attractions, is east of Mitchell on State Highway 60 in southern Lawrence County (south of Bedford).

Residents of Lawrence County, as well as any others who choose to do so, are being encouraged to wear period costumes in honor of the county's Sesquicentennial.

Good System If Used Right

This past week end found the weather entering in the picture strongly again and talk of the tornados and severe thunderstorms and damaging winds again left one subject a matter of question.

After the Palm Sunday tornado a few years ago, almost every community, along with the radio and television stations, became alert to this fact and instigated some type of warning sysem. Most small communities that started a warning system, uses their fire sirens with special timings they follow. This warns the community of the trouble that could be at hand.

However, it seems that the varying views on this are different to the point that some areas now are almost immuned to those signals. The use of such a system can be helpful if used right, but almost harmful if misused.

The television and radio stations tells us of service weather warnings. This is also the case of conditions are right for a tornado to develope. However, this is strictly a report of conditions. If a tornado is reported in an area, then a tornado warning instead of a watch, is given. This is the time for the sirens or other means of warning to be used.

Some areas have had the habit of using their warning system altogether too frequently. This has had the effect of making people almost immuned to the warnings. If it is used only when reported tornados are in the area, then the public can take precautionary action, and rightly so. They know that a warning is for real and act accordingly.

There is notbing worse than a severe storm where damage is caused. Whether it be a tornado or a storm with damaging winds, there is no way to stop it and the protection against it to save lives is about the only means of fighting such a condition.

If your community uses any kind of a warning system, be sure you know just what it means and take heed of the real thing if and when it comes.

Display Your Flag July 4th

It is just a little effort on your part to display one of the greatest acts of freedom anyone in his world enjoys . . . that of displays your American Flag on legal holidays if not every day of the year.

Next Thursday is Independence Day. This is the anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence making the United States of American a free nation. Despite what some might think about today's counry we live in . . . with violance and crime . . . demonstrations and protests . . . high taxes and war . . . this still is the place that anyone would prefer to live in everything considered.

It is a small group of people that stood for what was right and turned this country into a free nation. This has been accepted and "taken for granted" by most of us at this time and despite the fact that wars have continued, many have died protecting our country and protecting the rights we believe in, today it is still by far and away the majority that love and respect the land we live in. It is only those few who will not accept responsibility . . . will not work for their way in life . . . will not serve their country when they are called on, that makes the United States a questionable place at all.

You and I, yes, of us true Americans, can show our resqect and pride by the simple fact of displaying a flag on July 4. True, it is a holiday that has been taken over by fun, vacation and fancy-free living, but the very few minutes it takes to put out "Old Glory" will be serious enough to make you a proud American in a proud land.

CULVER COMMENTS

By Alienor Osborn

Well, it has finally happened. I can't think of a single thing to comment about. It's too hot to drink coffee so here goes an old standby. The streets are still a mess but people aren't complaining about it, they're becoming accustomed to falling over piles of dirt. Then too, there is a certain excitement about getting up in the morning and finding you can't get the car out.

No, I find everything running so smoothly there is just nothing to write about. There was a little flurry over the dust blowin around but thankfully all th rain came along to settle tha You can stop dusting twice a now so that gives you lost of tim to shovel the mud out of th basement after the water drain out. Everyone is lulled to slee by the soothing hum of sum pumps all over town.

Friday night a few people wer startled from their sleep b what they thought was explodin firecrackers but returned to thei beds when they learned it wa only Sam keeping the peace.

In the midst of all this tran quility, one horrible thing di happen. One of Culver's grape vine gossip's phone was out c order for some hours and one c the juiciet rumors of the seaso died on the vine from lack c communication.

Just what can one say whe they see all those brave m strolling down Main St. in thei assorted shorts. Even the sad dest person around can't hel smiling at their gorgeou. hairy smiling at their gorgeous hairy

Complaints about the Par have leveled off and the entir Park Board is recovering fro the shock they received whe some people commented on ho beautiful the Park looks.

I can only hope that things ge worse next week so I will be abl to find something to harp abou

In the meantime I'll get bac to the novel I'm writing. It' called Culver Place.

NUCLEAR ENERGY NEW TOOL FOR POLICE LAB

NUCLEAR ENERGY is a crime-detection tool, says the American Nuclear Society. A technique of radio-chemistry called activation analysis is the latest technique available to police. It can help tell whether two samples of heroin came from the same batch, positively identify paint from a car, tell how far away a gun was that fired a shot, and from a single hair give details of a subject's description.

THE 'USE -IT -ONCE- AND-THROW -IT- AWAY' philosophy that follows affluence has made the U.S. a "disposable" society—with each person generating about three pounds of garbage a day. Multiply that by 200 million and that's a lot of garbage. "As a productive society we produce a high amount of waste material, and we are beginning to experience disposal problems," says a Georgia Tech industrial engineer. "We are running out of places to dump and to bury garbage, and burning creates air pollution problems."

PETROLEUM and natural gas are among the most important and widespread mineral commodities in Appalachia, reports the U.S. Department of Interior. Estimated proved reserves of crude oil total about 376.3 million barrels. Proved natural gas reserves total about 5.5 trillion cubic feet. In addition, organic-rich black shale deposits are potential sources of large quantities of oil and gas.

THE BASIC OXYGEN method is the fastest-growing element of the American steel industry and is the most revolutionary development since the open hearth surpassed the Bessemer steelmaking process, reports Chemetron Corporation, Chicago. In the basic oxygen furnace large qualities of oxygen are used to raise temperatures swiftly and burn up desired elements. This method produces a "heat" of steel in 40 minutes, instead of six to ten hours required by the open-hearth process.

THE QUESTION of exactly how much water a large tree needs has remained unanswered for years but a research physicist with the U.S. Geological Survey may have come up with an answer. Using a 65-year-old, 40-foot-high ash tree in his own back yard, he found that during the height of the growing season the tree requires as much as 19 gallons of water a day.

DON'T MOCK the mockingbird. He has a terrible temper. Few birds are as vigorous in their defense of territories, and when young mockingbirds are about, the parent bird's attack can make even a cat move on.

VAULTERS MAY GET SCIENTIFIC BOOST

POPE VAULTERS who use fiberglass poles can theoretically add a foot and a half or more to their best jumps if they heed the results of a study reported by researchers from the Pennsylvania State University. They say that the average vaulter could improve his jump dramatically by increasing his "controlled take-off velocity" and "exploiting more efficienly" the energy stored and returned by the fiberglass pole as it bends and unbends.

SOCIETY has become so specialist-heavy that it now appears the specialist will have to look to the "general practitioner" to help him. At least that's the opinion of an industrial engineer at the University of Toronto. He says scientists are surrounding themselves with their own environment to such a point that they "can't see beyond their own expertise." What's happening is that the specialist "can't communicate outside his own field. If you can't communicate, you are just not making much contribution to social evolution," he adds. The solution, he says, is "the generalist." A cadre of them, even with fewer specialists, would result in more progress because scientists would be working on a much more solid base.

Plan Candelight Tour Of Spring Mill State Park

In spite of the rain, a large gathering of local and guest Tri Kappas greeted the new pledges Monday night after the Pledging Ceremony at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Kraning.

After a short business meeting, the local officers gave an interesting report of the activities at the Province Convention last month. They also announced awards given to the Culver Epsilon for their scrapbook and contributions to Cross-Keys, the Kappa Kappa Kappa magazine.

Shasta daisies and an appliqued organdy cloth made a lovely background for the refreshment table. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Jack Jones, Mrs. Robert Curtis, Mrs. Robert Kline, and Mrs. Walker Winslow.

The pledges will be initiated at the next meeting to be held July 15 at the home of Mrs. Norman Perry. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. John Mars, Mrs. E. Schultz, Mrs. Fred Adams, Mrs. John Cleveland and Mrs. Melvin Estey.

Let's Have A Salad

Although Americans are year-around salad buffs, come spring and summer, the yen for a new and different salad blooms. Inspirations may spring from the first crop of asparagus or any good buy in lettuce, fruits or vegetables.

Here are a few recipes for a different salad; also dressings.

Asparagus Salad

¼ cup corn oil
3 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2 pounds fresh asparagus
Tarragon Wine Dressing
or Cottage Cheese Dressing

Mix corn oil, lemon juice, salt and pepper.

Trim scales and tough ends from asparagus. Wash asparagus well. Cook in 2 inches boiling salted water in covered deep narrow pan, just until tender. Carefully drain and arrange in large shallow dish. Pour corn oil dressing over asparagus. Cover and chill aspargus several hours. Serve on lettuce with Tarragon Wine Dressing or Cottage Cheese Dressing.

½ teaspoon dried tarragon
2 tablespoons dry white wine or 1 teaspoon lemon juice
½ cup real mayonnaise

With real mayonnaise. Chill. Makes about ½ cup. Serve on shredded lettuce and cooked asparagus or with chillled, cooked shrimp.

Cottage Cheese Dressing

½ cup real mayonnaise
½ cup cottage cheese
2 tablespoons chopped chives
or finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
Garlic salt, to taste

Combine ingredients throughly. Chill. Serve with asparagus salad or hearts lettuce. Make 1 cup.

All American Tossed Salad

½ clove garlic
¼ teaspoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 ½ tablespoons vinegar
¼ cup corn oil
1 head western iceburg lettuce

Rub salad bowl with cut clove of garlic; discard. Measure mustard, salt and pepper into bowl; blend thoroughly with fork. Add Worcestershire sauce, vinegar and corn oil. Beat with fork until thoroughly mixed. Add crisp and well-drained lettuce, broken into bite-size pieces. Toss lightly until all greens glisten. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Note: If desired, 3 parts oil and 1 part vinegar may be measured with a salad spoon. The remaining seasoning may then be added to taste.

Tossed Red and Green Salad

1 head western iceberg lettuce
1 bunch watercress
3 scallions
3 radishes
1 avocado
1 (4 to 8-ounce) jar or can artichoke hearts
1 clove garlic
⅔ cup bottled true French dressing
1/3 cup real mayonnaise
¼ cup Roquefor cheese

Wash and drain fresh vegetables. Tear lettuce and watercress into bite-size pieces in salad bowl. Slice scallions and radishes on top. Peel and slice avocado; quarter articoke heart; add to vegetables in bowl. Toss lightly.

Cut garlic clove and rub sides on inside of small mixing bowl, then blend French dressing and mayonnaise in bowl. Crumble Roquefort cheese on top, then stir in lightly. Serve on salad. Makes 6 servings.

Versatile Summer Salads

Get into the summertime salad habit early in the season.

A salad can serve as an easy to fix, cooling meal on a steamy summer evening when you don't want to cook. It's an economical menu stretcher for a cook-out, a perfect way to end a meal or just light refreshment when friends drop in for the evening, points out Miriam Eads, Purdue University extension foods and nutrition specialist.

This versatility of a salad is one of the reasons for its popularity, So, be creative. Use your imagination and ingenuity — for example, a simple fresh fruit salad becomes a main dish when you add chunks of leftover chicken or flaked tuna. To turn a fruit salad into a delectable dessert add a scoop or two of sherbet — use mini-sized scoops dipped with a melon ball cutter for calorie-counters in your family.

In this part of the country many families are not eating sufficient fruits and vegetables, reports Miss Eads. If you find the day's diet lacking in green leafy vegetables, be generous with alacey lettuce or spinach base for the salad and then be sure the garnish is eaten!

Monster Transformers

Two giant transformers, each as large as a three-story building, were recently installed in the electrical generator station at Copper Cliff, Ontario, to meet the power demands of International Nickel's expanding nickel-producing facilities. A special railroad car had to be built to transport them to Copper Cliff.

G. I. Bill Law Begins Third Generation

The Post-Korean, or third generation, G. I. Bill education and training program began its third year of operation on June 1.

During the past two years, more than 12,427 veterans and 136 servicemen entered training in Indiana under the Veterans' Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966, James C. Robison, Manager of the Indianapolis Veterans Administration Regional Office, said today.

Nationally, more than 732,000 veterans and an additional 43,000 servicemen entered education and training in the first two years of the currnt G.I. Bill, Mr. Robison said.

The Veterans' Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966, or Post-Korean G.I. Bill, grants VA educational assistance of one month, up to a maximum of 36 months (four school years), for each month of service.

Eligible for assistance are veterans who served on active duty at least 180 days, part of which was after January 31, 1955, and servicemen with at least two consecutive years of active duty.

Of the 12,563 veterans and servicemen in Indiana who have taken advantage of Post-Korean G.I. Bill education and training benefits, 8,236 entered institutions of higher learning. Nearly two thirds of all Post-Korean G.I. Bill students have entered college level training. By comparison the Manager said, only about half of the veterans who went to school under the Korean Conflict G.I. Bill entered institutions of higher learning. Less than one-third of the World War II veterans took college training, he noted.

Since June 1, 1966, more than 4,114 veterans and servicemen entered schools in Indiana below the college level. Of these, all but 73 were veterans.

Mr. Robison explained that only veterans are eligible under the present G.I. Bill for on-the-job training benefits. And these have only been available to Post-Korean veterans since last October 1. Since then, 213 veterans entered on - the - job,. training in Indiana.

In these totals, Mr. Robinson explained, are veterans and servicemen currently entered in Indiana. A breakdown shows 4,688 veterans and 20 servicemen now entered in institutions of higher learning. Enrolled currently in Indiana schools below the college level are 2,849 veterans and 64 servicemen.

Mr. Robinson explained that veterans have eight years from the date of their discharge from active duty to use their Post-Korean G.I. Bill education and training benefits. However, released from active duty between January 31, 1955 and June 1, 1966 have until May 31, 1974 to use these benefits.

VA educational assistance under this program ranges from a monthly allowance of $130 or more depending upon the number of dependents for full-time institutional training to payment of only the actual cost of correspondence courses.

Captain Stubby And The Buccaneers To Highlight Walkerton 4th Program

Captain Stubby and the Buccaneers will be the featured attraction at the Walkerton Fourth of July celebration this year as they will have the spotlight at 7:00 p.m. in the evening. Their performance will highlight the full day's activities that centers in Place Park in Walkerton. It is indeed with great honor that the Fourth of July committee could offer this program to the public.

Captain Stubby and the Buccaneers claim to be the most versatile "Little Band" in America and they can back that claim up with solid facts. They have what is probably the most unique and enjoyable repertoire in the entertainment field. They play fifteen standard musical instruments, and many novelty ones, all with remarkable flair and versatility. They are all talented musicians, and they harmonize vocally with smooth perfection. Novelties, popular tunes, ballads, folk songs and hymns in vocal solo, duet, trio or quartet are all in their musical bag of tricks. Their hilarious comedy routines provide a kind of fun that's rollicking and inspired, zany but smooth.

Toady, Captain Stuby and the Buccaneers are a top drawing card wherever they go to make personal appearances. This is due, not only to their ability to create popular audience response, but also to their years of popularity with radio and television

It is interesting to go back to the origin of the Buccaneers as a musical group. They began their professional career when they received an offer to appear on radio station WDAN in Danville, Illinois, in 1937. Later they injoined the staff of station WLW in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they enjoyed great popularity for three years.

When the second world war broke out in 1941 the Buccaneers joined the U.S. Navy as a group, actually auditioning for the part. They starred in the radio program "Meet Your Navy" over the ABC network, and toured naval bases in the United States, Alaska, Guam and Okinawa, entertaining the personnel stationed there.

After the war, tempting offers took them to New York, and other eastern cities. The originality and finesse of their act made them as successful in the east as they had been in the midwest, and they had long club, radio, recording and theatrical engagements, appearing in Madison Square Garden, The Village Barn, and other famous entertainment spots.

But the boys were midwesterners at heart, and they came "back home" in 1949 to join the staff of station WLS, where they were headliners on the National Barn Dance every Saturday and on their own daytime programs.

Realizing the great potentialities of television, expecially for an act of their kind, which depends as much on visual effects as it does on audial, they went into television, and are now happy in both radio and television.

Captain Stubby, whose real name is Tom Fouts, is a farm boy from Indiana, Deer Creek, Indiana, to be exact, Stubby is an imaginative musician and a born showman, who plays many novelty instruments. He is also equipped with more than his share of stories, and doubles as an after dinner speaker. Stubby is one of the writers, and also appears on, "Don McNeil's Breakfast Club" over the ABC radio network.

Jerry Richards, who plays the clarinet, bass clarinet, flute, saxophone, tin whistle, and who knows what all, was born and raised on a farm outside Freeport, Illinois. He was originally a "Long-Hair" musician, and he claims he has gone "From Bach Rock and Roll and Back." In the quartet he sings baritone and makes all the vocal arrangements.

Tiny Stokes, who is the tenor soloist for the group, and what a singer he is, also plays the string bass for instrumental numbers. He was born in Springfield, Missouri, but was brought up in Frankfort, Indiana.

Pete Kaye is the only member of the group who does not sing. He is a fine pianist and accordionists, and he accompanies the singers and is heard in solo and combination instrumental numbers. He is also the only one of the group who was born in the big City, and for many years he had his own band in Chicago.

Rusty Gill is featured on the guitar as well as being a very fine baritone soloist. Rusty was born in Marion, Illinois, but moved to Chicago at an early age, where he was a featured vocalist on many top radio shows.

Captain Stubby and the Buccaneers are presently featured on "The Big Barn Dance," WGN-TV.

Great peace has those who love thy law.
—(Psalms 119:165).

Most of us want peace more than everything else in the world. We yearn for peace of mind, heart and home, peace on our jobs, with our friends, in the world. To attain a just and lasting peace we must open up our minds to God's guidance and direction.

Let's Go Boating

By Chuck Stearns

("Fastest Man on Water Skis" set the world record at 119.52 mph on water skis. Has been Mens National and World Champion)

"How does it feel to water ski at 119.52 mph?"

"Weren't you afraid of getting hurt?"

These are the questions so often asked of me as holder of the World Speed Record on Water Skis.

I can say without hesitation that it has been the greatest thrill I have ever known. Yes, I thought about the possibility of getting hurt, and remembering the guys before me who tried for the speed record and were hurt made it even harder. But you have to make up your mind that you could get hurt. The chances of injury are very great at those speeds. I've taken some spills, but so far I've been lucky enough not to break anything, except my heart a few times when I lost.

With the exception of daredevils, water skiing is a very safe sport. Skiers who ski for fun and competition skiers seldom get hurt at normal speeds. Most accidents are entirely unnecessary and could have been avoided.

To insure a safe and happy introduction to the fun world of water skiing, it isn't necessary that you have professional instruction. You will get by without lessons if you will always remember a few very important rules.

1. Always ski with people who already know how to ski. Every skiing party should include at least three persons: 1) the skier 2) the driver — it's important that he be experienced as it takes special know-how to tow a water skier 3) an observer who has enough experience to be able to tell when a skier is in trouble and to know what to do.

Of equal importance is good equipment: 1) a jacket that won't come apart under impact and will give you good flotation, 2) a strong ski line, 75 ft. long, with a good, standard handle, 3) good skis with snug, tight bindings and no sharp objects that might cause injury.

Select a place where the water is calm; not too much wind and not too many boats. If you remember the safety rules I mentioned, you aren't likely to have trouble.

Skiers who show consideration for their driver and his boat will find they have many invitations to join the party. Be careful not to scratch the boat with your skis, and help keep the boat clean. An appreciative skier might further help by sharing the cost of the gasoline, which is only a small part of the boat owner's expense. Good ski boat drivers are hard to find.

I've been skiing for about 13 years. After one year of very hard skiing, I started competition skiing. But as a professional instructor and owner of a ski school, I can honestly recommend that it is much better to have two years of good experience before going into competition.
