Northern Indiana Boy Has Won National Fame For His Indian Relics

AT AGE 6, Lynn Munger found an Indian spear point one day while helping his Uncle Ernie Munger load corn in a sandy Stenben County field.

AL SPIERS

Shown the flinty find, Uncle Ernie said, "That's a good spear. I'll give you two bits for it."

The offer posed a tormenting dilemma. Two bits was big money to a small boy, but finding a genuine Indian relic was a tingly thrill that stirred Lynn's imagination. Slowly he shook his head.

"I'LL KEEP IT — and start a collection," he said firmly.

Thereafter, Lynn's eyes alertly searched the soil wherever he roamed in a lake-studded, stream-out land once peopled by many redmen. Several arrowheads soon joined the spear in his treasure box.

At school, Lynn swapped, begged or bought relics from other kids and eagerly studied Indian lore. When 12, he bought his first collection, paying Sam McKenzie, a neighboring farmer, 75 cents for about 50 artifacts.

"Getting so many at once was a new kick," Lynn chuckled. "After that, I picked strawberries and gathered bait crickets like crazy to buy other small collections."

UNLIKE MANY boyhood hobbies, Munger's didn't wane as he matured. It waxed. By high school's end, he had four big boxes of Indian relics. During two years at Manchester College, he studied primitive people and often quizzed Ortho Winger, Manchester's prexy and a renowned authority on early American Indians.

In college, Lynn also bought the 500-piece collection of Ludvico Wright, a retired North Manchester farmer.

"It was a great buy — only $8.75," Munger recalled. "But I was poor and times were tough. To raise that much, I skimped and saved for a month."

In 1933, Lynn forsook Indians for the Navy. He was at Pearl Harbor when the Japs struck — and later dodged bombs aboard carriers and destroyers.

Late in '45, he came home intact to Indiana, joined his father, Joscoe, in a nursery business at tiny Nevada Mills and eagerly resumed spare-time pursuit of Indian artifacts and lore.

IN THE YEARS SINCE, Lynn has become a top Hoosier collector, dealer, and authority. Today his Potawatomi museum in the basement of his pleasant home on Lake James contains more than 20,000 Indian relics.

For Munger, that's a relatively small stock. Three years ago his whole house bulged with boxes after he bought (for $6,700) a

Robert Calhoun Figures In Icy Accident

Robert L. Calhoun, 22, 617 Pearl St., fortunately was not injured when his car went off the east side of the 2400 block of North Michigan Street in Plymouth Sunday night, causing the vehicle to cross the pavement and smash into a tree on the west side of the street.

"Lefty" Calhoun, former star Culver High School athlete, told police that he lost control of his northbound car after it slid off the street covered with ice and snow.

Damage to the vehicle is estimated at $1,300. The accident occurred at 9:45 p.m.

Young Lady Is Injured

Miss Phillis Zartman, 19, Route 2, Plymouth, a passenger in the car, suffered cuts to the knee and several chipped teeth and was held overnight at Parkview Hospital, being released Monday.

Bontrager Stirs Up Republican Enthusiasm

Lincoln Day Talk Outstanding

State Senator D. Russell Bontrager of Elkhart — an inspiring orator, exceptional scholar, and clear-thinking American — last Friday night sparked an overflow Lincoln Day dinner crowd of 268 at Plymouth which sent party workers homeward bound with the intense feeling that the Republicans are on the march again and will be victorious come November.

The keynote address by Attorney Bontrager, in the auditorium of St. Michael's School, in the opinion of many, eclipsed all Marshall County political talks in recent years, including stirring addresses by nationally famous U. S. Representative Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts and U. S. Senator Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

Wholly free of "campaign oratory," it was a brilliant recital of common sense and sound economics based on the philosophy of Abraham Lincoln, first Republican President.

Notre Dame Glee Club

Stewart W. Robertson, Marshall County chairman, presided in his friendly and down-to-earth manner. To Gene Chipman, county chairman of the Young Republicans, he assigned the pleasant chore of introducing the famous Glee Club of the University of Notre Dame. The youthful male singers scored a real hit.

Mrs. Theda Grant, county vice-chairman, effectively introduced members of the Central Committees from St. Joseph, Elkhart, LaPorte, and Marshall Counties.

Third District Chairman Charles W. Ainley of Goshen introduced Senator Bontrager in masterly fashion.

Nice Hand For Jay Nimitz

Former Congressman P. Jay Nimitz of South Bend got a nice hand from the folks who expect to send him back to Washington, D.C.

A representative delegation from Culver was present.

FIREMEN ANSWER CALL

The Culver fire siren summoned firemen to extinguish a grass fire along the railroad track on North Shore Drive at 2:50 p.m. Saturday. No damage was reported.

PLEGDED TO SORORITY AT INDIANA UNIVERSITY

Thelma Hodges, 316 S. Plymouth, Culver, has been pledged to Delta Sigma Theta social sorority at Indiana University. Miss Hodges is a junior at I.U.

Two Union Township Assessors

HARRY D. EDGINGTON

Eugene G. Benedict, Trustee of Union Township, has announced the appointment of these two prominent men as deputy assessors. The Citizen regrets that it does not have a picture in its files of veteran assessor, HARRY A. SMELTZER, who again will serve in this responsibility.

ERNEST W. CARTER

Assessing Time Is Rapidly Approaching

Hope To Finish Job By April 15

By EUGENE G. BENEDICT
Trustee of Union Township
The assessing time is rapidly approaching.

The Union Township deputy assessors for this year are Ernest W. Carter, Harry D. Edgington, and Harry A. Smeltzer.

In past years only two assessors have been used. It is believed that the addition of the third assessor will shorten the assessing period, and in general a better job can be done, therefore benefiting the Township.

We hope to have the majority of the assessing completed by April 15.

All taxpayers can assist in this difficult task by cooperating with their assessor. Please be courteous to your assessor and see him at his request.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OBTAINS "BIG LEAGUE" FILM AND SPEAKER

This is advance notice that the Culver Chamber of Commerce, through the help of Don Trone, has obtained a great attraction for its next meeting at The Culver Inn on Monday noon, March 7.

James E. Nicholas of Indianapolis, general manager of the important Indiana Motor Truck Association, will be here to speak and will bring along the organization's new sound film, "I Witness Report," which does such an outstanding job of presenting the Hoosier State's many industrial advantages.

If you are interested in bringing some worthwhile industry to Culver you are invited to this luncheon meeting, whether or not you are a Chamber of Commerce member. Only $1 plus tip.

Next week's Citizen will have more to say about this unusual event for a town of this size.

ONE OF BIGGEST LEGAL NOTICES IN HOOSIER NEWSPAPER HISTORY

The Town of Culver Zoning Ordinance, published in the Feb. 17 issue of The Culver Citizen, is believed to have been one of the biggest legal notices in Indiana small town newspaper history.

Set in 5½ point type, the smallest permissible by law, it consumed almost four pages of The Citizen. It ran 1,487 lines in 2-column width, running the total to 2,974 lines.

The Citizen's Linotype operators and proofreaders attest that it was one of their most difficult assignments to date.

Terry Walter Is Killed By Erie Fast Train

Returning Home From Winamac

Terry Allen Walter, 19, 336 South Main Street, was killed instantly at 11:55 Monday night in a car-train crash 1½ miles west of Delong on relocated State Road 17 at a temporary railroad crossing being used while an overpass is under construction.

The speeding Erie passenger train, going west at 75 miles per hour, struck Walter's small foreign car and threw the vehicle 800 feet. There are stop signs on both sides of the tracks, but police said visibility is poor at the crossing.

Employed At Winamac

The victim, an employee of the Winamac Coil Spring Co. at Winamac, was returning home from work when the tragedy occurred. Walter had taken a fellow worker as far as Kewanna, but was alone at the time of the accident.

The engineer, K. W. Hall of Huntington, reported that apparently Walter did not see the train approaching and pulled onto the tracks just as the train reached the crossing.

Dr. Howard Rowe, Fulton County coroner, and Dr. Carson McGuire, deputy coroner, both of Rochester, pronounced Walter dead on the scene due to a skull fracture.

Difficult To Identify Victim

Willard Clark, Fulton County sheriff, and John Hatch, state trooper, had difficulty identifying Walter after the accident as he was not carrying a wallet and the car was registered in another name. They learned the victim's identity after driving to Culver and describing the car to Don Mikesell, Culver town marshal.

Walter is survived by his wife, the former Lynda Sipes; two little sons, Michael, 16 months, and Mark, 3 months; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Walter, Route 1, Culver; and several brothers and sisters.

The body was taken to the Nusbaum Funeral Home in Walkerton where services will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday.

General Bush To Inspect ROTC At CMA Monday

Maj. Gen. George E. Bush, commanding general of the VI U. S. Army Corps, with headquarters at Fort Benjamin Harrison in Indianapolis, will visit the campus of Culver Military Academy next Monday.

General Bush will inspect the ROTC detachment there.

The Rifle Honor Guard, elite drill organization of Culver's infantry battalion, will give an exhibition for General Bush in the Academy's Recreation building at 11:55 a.m.

Capt. John Walker Cited

After the Honor Guard exhibition, he will present the Distinguished Marksman Badge to a member of the Culver ROTC detachment, Capt. John Walker.

The badge is the nation's highest award for individual excellence in shooting the service rifle. Capt. Walker earned the badge in his performances at the national rifle championships at Camp Perry, Ohio, in the past several years as well as in other major service competitions.

Local Dentists Speak At Parent-Teacher Meeting

Culver's four dentists joined forces Wednesday evening to speak to grade and high school parents and teachers on dental health.

Following two short films on dental care and fluoridation Doctors Foster Sheller, Troy Babcock, John Oldham, and Daniel Bieker, answered questions put to them from the floor and discussed fluoridation and other aspects of dental hygiene.

All four dentists strongly warned mothers and fathers that excessive sugar from candy and soft drinks leads directly to tooth decay, and urged parents to teach their children to brush their teeth often and correctly.

Following the very informative and interesting discussion the audience adjourned to the home economics room where coffee and refreshments were served. Mrs. John Mars was chairman of the hostess committee, and she was aided by Mrs. Melvyn Estey, Mrs. Earl Dean Overmyer, and Mrs. Glen Snyder.

Mrs. Peter DeTroy, president of the local P.T.A., presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers. The meeting was held on a Wednesday night in order that all four dentists could be present. The next P.T.A. meeting, the elementary grade achievement night program, will be held on the regular date, March 8.

'Heart Fund King' Sounds Off

55,000-piece collection left by an Ohioan who died.

"Fortunately, I have a good patient wife," laughed Lynn. "The house was pretty crammed until I got the stuff sifted, sorted and sold."

JANE MUNGER, a pretty brunette, mildly shares Lynn's interest in Indian lore. Occasionally she and their frisky, look-alike daughters, Cheryl, 5 and Reba, 3, join Dad on field hunts.

Jane also helps catalog and mail the pieces Lynn sells to about 2,500 of the country's 100,000-plus collectors of Indian artifacts. He schedules small ads in Esquire, outdoor mags, antique and hobby journals to peak his mail trade during winter months when there's scant nursery work.

"Usually we're down to drop-in trade by spring," he said. "It works out nicely."

ONCE LYNN WAS loathe to relinquish the rare and valuable pieces he acquired.

"Now I don't mind selling — after I've handled, studied and photographed them," he chuckled. "My hoarding days are over."

Some Munger pieces — like rare ceremonial bannerstones — are worth up to $500. One from the Ohio collection sold for $1,100.

The value of Indian relics varies widely. Common arrowheads, for example, sell for 50 cents — but some are worth $100. Spear points range from $1 to $1,000, axes from $3 to $500, bannerstones from $5 to $1,500. It takes an expert like Lynn to recognize the best.

IT ALSO TAKES AN expert to find 'em. Lynn makes an annual pilgrimage to a remote (and unrevealed) rural spot along the Ohio River and is invariably richly rewarded.

"It's an old Indian village site," he said. "Each spring, flood waters cut into old burial grounds and wash out artifacts. A few other relic hunters know about it. I try to get there first."

He's also located an untouched Adena mound on private property that's a clutch to be a treasure trove of artifacts.

"I'm working on the owner," he grinned. "So far he's been loathe to 'disturb the dead.' He may change his mind."

ONE THING about his hobby angers Munger. The brisk trade in relics has spawned fakers who "counterfeit" artifacts and hood-wink amateurs.

Heart Fund Door To Door Canvass Will Be Sunday

The Culver Heart Fund Drive will reach its peak this Sunday, Feb. 28, when Heart Sunday volunteers conduct a door to door collection in the residential area. The local canvass will be one of more than 10,000 being conducted at the same time from coast to coast.

In this area, the Heart Sunday collection will be held between 1 and 5 p.m. Each volunteer will call at the homes of his neighbors, presenting an official Heart Fund contribution envelope for the donor's convenience. After bill, coins or check have been inserted, the envelope may be sealed before being returned to the volunteer.

Volunteers will leave special mail-in envelopes for families that are away from home during the collection hours. Every effort has been made to contact everyone. If you are inadvertently missed and want to contribute you may mail your donation to Mrs. Wilber Taylor, 417 Forest Place, Culver, Marshall County chairman.

Besides being O.K. for eating oysters, months whose names include an "r" are excellent for subscription payments to The Culver Citizen.

Culver's Water Department Wins Safety Award

The Culver Water Department received an award for completing an outstanding safety record at the 52nd annual meeting of the Indiana Section, American Water Works Association, recently held at the Sheraton-Lincoln Hotel in Indianapolis.

The local utility was one receiving special awards given for safety improvement by this professional society, according to the retiring chairman of the water works group, Harvey Wilke of West Lafayette.

Wilke, professor of sanitary engineering at Purdue University, said that the yearly increase in the number of awards indicated that Indiana's utilities are stepping up efforts to provide safer working conditions for their employees.

Other speakers included the AWWA national vice president, C. F. Wertz, Miami, Florida, who warned Indiana water utility leaders and municipal officials that they should plan now to meet the expected much greater demands for water.

The transient display advertising rate of The Citizen is only 70 cents per column inch.

NIPSCO Furnishes Score Boards For Tournament

Northern Indiana Public Service Company is again going all out to help the people of Northern Indiana enjoy the Indiana State High School Basketball Tournament.

Many daily newspapers will carry a full page score board prepared by the utility for use in following the tournament from beginning to end.

The chart begins with the winners of the 64 sectional games and lists pairings for succeeding play-offs — the regionals, semi-finals, and finals — until the last game is played on March 19 at Butler Field House in Indianapolis. The surviving team of the contest will be the 1960 Indiana State High School basketball champion.

Supply 2,000 Score Boards

In addition, NIPSCO will distribute more than 2,000 48-inch by 40-inch tournament score boards to schools, social, and fraternal organizations, church groups, service stations, barber shops, and business establishments all over the northern third of the state. These easy reference charts have been distributed by the utility for more than 25 years.

For basketball enthusiasts unable to attend the games, NIPSCO is sponsoring a play-by-play broadcast on five Indiana radio stations and on two television outlets. Included are WJOB in Hammond; WWCN in Gary; WTRC in Elkhart; WSAL in Logansport; WRSW in Warsaw; WTTW-TV, Channel 11, Chicago, and WSBT-TV, Channel 22, in South Bend.

In addition, the utility will feature pictures of winning teams in the windows of its downtown commercial office buildings.

Mr. Kepler Is C.H.S. Graduate

By JEAN DETMIRE

Mr. Reed Kepler, the new teacher at Culver, whose favorite subject is science, is an instructor of general science, biology, and chemistry. He was born in South Bend, Indiana, graduated from Culver high school, and attended college at Franklin College and Purdue University.

Mr. Kepler recalls active work on The Schoolbell staff during his high school years at Culver. Two of his favorites are anything cooked in the line of food and a wall of new science books and new microscopes.

The building and the appearance of the school reminds Mr. Kepler of the past. When asked what he thought of Culver he said that Culver is a fine place and it is a pleasure to be here to teach his schoolmate's children. Welcome to the teepee, Mr. Kepler!

Reports From Grade Rooms

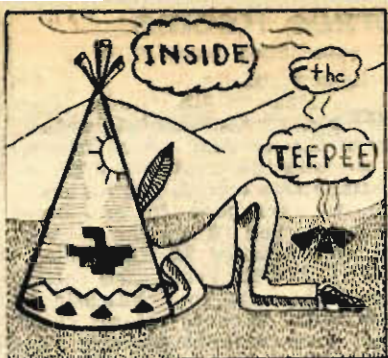

By STANLEY CURTIS and JEAN MCCOIGE

Mrs. McLane's 1st and 2nd Grades: The class has sent a letter to Freddie May who is vacationing in Florida for a few weeks. The second graders have written several stories about pictures which they cut from magazines. The first graders are now in a new reading book and have been enjoying acting out the parts to a few of the stories. Jan Price was 8 years old on Feb. 6, and Eric Hughes observed his 5th birthday on Feb. 23.

Mrs. Allen's 2nd Grade: We enjoyed the nice Valentine's Day party which our room mother had for us. Rosemarie Triplett's mother gave us a party in honor of Rosemarie's birthday on Feb. 14. We are enjoying our new readers, "Around the Corner," and have finished the unit on "We Live in a City."

Mrs. Carter's 3rd Grade: The room mothers gave us a very fine Valentine's Day party on the Friday before Valentine's Day. We appreciate the work of our room mothers. Also on Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Welsh showed us slides about Abraham Lincoln's early life around New Salem, Ill. We certainly did enjoy those slides. During our spare moments we have been learning a few new songs and some of us are working

"Back home again in Indiana and it seems that I can see" — Joan Barshes at the Winamac game. The favorite cry of the senior girls now is, "Joan you just yelled wolf once too often."

Various "famous days" have been celebrated around the halls and walls of C.H.S. lately among them are: Abraham Lincoln's birthday, Valentine's day, and last but certainly not least — Ancestors' Day.

The English classes devoted a day in memory of one of the greatest men in our history, Abraham Lincoln, it was very much enjoyed with thanks to Mr. Graham.

Valentine's Day was remembered by cards, candy, flowers, and stuffed animals to the girls from their steadies or latest flames. Sunshine girls used this day as one more opportunity to remember their Ideal Ladies.

Ancestors Day — how could we forget! Mr. Graham (Tex) was our master of ceremonies, and boy what ceremonies they were. The third floor hallway was crowded with spectators waiting for the appearance of "Tex." You just don't hardly find them kind no more! Pat Wesson was on the spot with her candid camera for the big event. All day long such remarks as: "Did you see — yet," and "What is it," "Running who, oh it's Corky" . . . The famous junior combo accompanied the illustrious voices of the English classes. The only thing the seventh period class didn't get done was the hanging of Tom Dooley! This day will be entered in many diaries and long remembered to the Juniors.

Two steady couples have dissolved their mutual agreement this week and one new one was created. The "break-ups" consisted of Barb Moore vs. John Hook, and Bob Mickesell vs. Marsha Houghton (from Plymouth). Anne Behmer and Tom Jewel from South Bend make up the new creation.

Jean McCoige, don't you find barefeet rather disturbing in the winter?

One of the outstanding (get-ups) of Ancestors Day was worn by Anne Oshorn. Won't you do a jig for us, lassie?

Speaking of ancestors, our present day Culver Indians gave us a victory to celebrate our last home game of the year. Dave Washburn put in a real beauty just as the buzzer went off — take a bow, Sir.

Brenda Baker has a real rocker of a steady. He displayed his talents at the last dance, after this year's ball games.

Rochelle Good had a very slumberless slumber party last Friday. You can always tell a slumber party was successful by how much like shattered mirrors everyone's eyes looked — this one was a real success. Nancy Ervin you should have been in ravedville, if not there, there must be someplace. Food, food, and more food, cake is pretty good, even through windows!

"This little light of mine" — Jane Thomas whose flame is still burning for the one, the only — you guess who.

Another sophomore girl has reached the news, it's Sandy Fisher who is hoping for Buddy Watson's fast recovery and returning to the tolling masses.

Savages mean more than wild uncivilized creatures to Linda Gibbons, she had a visit by one named Danny.

Sharon Lindvall entered a somewhat hazy daze after receiving a letter from a favorite C.H.S. grad., Gary Gretter.

The last band show for the Seniors, was rather somber but was really a huge success.

As one more hurried week draws to a close, take care and be kind to your neighbor! —

When we came to school on Wednesday, Feb. 17th, a strange sight met our eyes. We saw girls in long skirts and bonnets, cowboys, cowgirls, Indians, fur trappers, gold miners, and even a Scottish lassie. Yet, when we stopped for a closer look, we saw they were members of the junior class celebrating Ancestors' Day. Many of us still weren't too sure what was going on until fourth period, when we were called to the study hall for an assembly program.

A tall cowboy walked on the stage, and he was none other than our English teacher, Mr. W. J. Graham. He began the program by giving us some of the background of the westward movement, and the ballads that went with it.

Then he introduced the "Kulver Kowpokes" a famous singing trio composed of "Forty-niners," Piersol, Medbourn, and Hall, all of which were borrowed from Buffalo Bill for the day. Then "Sweet Betsy from Pike" (Betty Zechiel) was introduced after which the class sang "Sweet Betsy from Pike," "Red River Valley," "Gill Along Little Dogies," and "Home on the Range." Mr. "Tex" Graham led the songs and provided sound effects (?).

After singing the cowboy's favorites, members of the class who appeared in costume were introduced and brought on stage. While on stage they gave a cheer for Mr. Graham: "Graham, Graham, who is he, he's our teacher, whoopee! whoopee. whoopee, whooooo — peeeeee!

After Mr. Ives said a few words, including that the program was entirely unrehearsed, we were dismissed and everyone "saddled their ponies and took off for the ranch house for some 'grub'."

Plan For High School Enrollment

By CATHY CLYNE and LILA BEAN

Eighth: The eighth grade and their parents had a meeting Tuesday night with Mr. M. R. Robinson, head of the guidance department. Information concerning the prognosis tests, the requirements, and other problems connected with being an ambitious high school student were explained.

Seventh: The class is now paying their dues which must be in by March 1st.

Freshmen: The freshmen class had another successful fudge sale Feb. 19. It was another of the many fudge sales which are sponsored by the class as a money-making project.

Sophomores: The sophomores are counting on YOU to attend the movie they are sponsoring: "It Started with a Kiss," starring Debbie Reynolds.

Seniors: The final decisions on the senior trip are now being decided. The class officers met Feb. 19 to see who is eligible and under what conditions they qualify.

Junior Band Makes Big Hit

By MERRIE KAY STONEBURNER

The Junior band entertained the fans at the basketball game on Feb. 12, with a very nice half-time performance. Everyone appreciates the effort put forth, and congratulates them for their fine work.

The sixth grade band, junior band, and choir, and the senior band and choir, are all putting in extra work at rehearsals for the concert March 6. We hope to see everyone there.

The members of the music department who received superior ratings at the previous contests are now finishing up their practices for state contest at Butler University in Indianapolis. Good luck to everyone.

The senior band has received new, white gloves for their uniforms, and were on display during the half-time show Feb. 16. The band did nice work at their last performance.

Art Class Sketches Live Model

By LINDA GIBBONS

The fifth grade art class had a chance to sketch one of their ancestors. Cathy Overmyer, dressed in a long dress for Ancestors' Day, was their model. They had been using some of their own students for their models, so having Cathy sit for them was quite a treat.

The high school art classes have been working on linoleum block prints.

Sportscasting
By EARL MISHLER

Culver's Junior High School basketball teams have ended their season, and we felt that their fine work should be recognized in The Schoolbell.

Coach Allan Dennie guided these youngsters through a 12-game schedule this season. His seventh graders won 9 and lost only 3, while the eighth grade squad was 6-6.

The usual starting five for the seventh grade was: Jim Lewis and Doug Lindvall at forwards; Dave Lemar at center; Jim Besswell and Hershel Odle at guards. Other boys seeing action were: John Kibort, Peter DeTroy, Bill Oshorn, Jackie Maull, Gale Vandermeade, Paul Liette, George Wright, Dick Mackey, Larry Fisher, and Jim Weirick.

The eight grade regulars were: Paul White and Charles Snyder at forwards; Tom Yocom at center; Frank Ikirt and Sam Lowry at guards. Others on the squad: Bob Carter, Ned Davis, Shaun Bonnelly, Tom Miracle, Brian Piersol, Lee Curry, Steve Downs, and Don Beerwart.

The student managers this year were Arl Altman and Layne Zechiel, both seventh grade boys.

It looks as though the future holds many bright basketball days for CHS, thanks to the hard work put in by Coach Dennie and these boys.

Robert Eugene Waite, son of Mrs. Anna Waite, 461 Liberty St., Culver, left Wednesday, Feb. 13, for a tour of duty with the U. S. Army. He will be stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., for eight weeks of basic training.

Mrs. Manis's 6th Grade: Our class had 28 A's out of a possible 32 in the spelling tests Friday, so we won the treat. We hope to continue this record, but we shall have to work hard, for Mr. Denie's class had 18 A's and 14 A's out of a possible 32. On Friday, Feb. 12, the 6th grade girls entertained the boys to a Valentine's Day party. Games, records, and food were enjoyed by all. The 6th grade reading classes are now memorizing the poem, "The Rivers Remember."

Miss Page: Second: Betty Cihak will be eight years old on Feb. 20.

Mrs. Helen A. Keller: Third: Our Mother's Tea was Friday, Feb. 12. There were 73 people there. Mrs. Ives and Mrs. Teach were in charge of the refreshments which were all kinds of cookies and an orange drink. Everything was delicious and we thank all who contributed to its success. Mrs. Rust led the boys and girls in songs, singing games, and dances. Mr. Benbrook explained the health program and the boys and girls demonstrated the exercises. The vers choir was led in six bird poems by Linda Miller. The two little dramatizations were "Lincoln's Picture" and "A Valentine Surprise." Different members of the class announced the numbers as they were given.

Miss Mahan: Fourth: The boys entertained the girls at the lovely Valentine party. They served valentine cookies, ice cream, and candy. The children had a wonderful time. We certainly do thank the mothers and grandmothers who baked cookies. Many children have reported on nine or more books this winter. Those who have completed their reading for reporting are Gregg Anderson, Ruth Benner, Steven Booker, Greg DeTroy, Charles DeWitt, Susie Donnelly, Philip Edgington, Vickie Helber, Andrew Hodgkin, Linda Hudson, Joan Kosterman, Virginia Shidler, Leon Sims, and Christine Stevens.

Mrs. Lawson: Fifth: Our Valentine party, given by the boys, was a great deal of fun. We had candy, cupcakes and cookies with milk as refreshments. The games were a heart puzzle and a question-answer game. Everyone got quite a few valentines. We received a letter from Loretta Kloeck, who moved to South Bend.

Editor, CITIZEN:

Just a note from the lonesome E. Morton Downs family to say "Thank You" very much for the cooperation you wonderful people gave us during our Culver business career.

The fine newspaper advertising you gave us played a large part in our success . . . little or big, as it may have been.

It was with tears in our hearts that we said good-bye to our many friends. The children miss Culver even more than we do, but all of us have cherished memories of that friendly little city and beautiful Lake Maxinkuckee.

Again our deepest thanks to all of you from all of us.

Rev. Oliver Hsu To Speak At Bible Church Wednesday

A first-hand account of brainwashing techniques used by the Communists in China will be given at Culver Bible Church Wednesday evening, March 2, at 7:30.

Scheduled to speak is the Rev.
Oliver Hsu of Nanking. When he was 11 years old, his parents dedicated him to Buddha. In his teens he was converted to Christ in a mission school. As a result of his Christian activities, his parents stopped his allowance, threw away his Bible, chased his friends away from the house and finally disowned him.

When the Communists came to power, Mr. Hsu was working as

Sectional Tourney Begins Wednesday At Plymouth Gym

Argos Plays Talma In Opening Game

By EARL D. MISHLER

The climax to four months of high school basketball action in Indiana begins Wednesday at 6:45 p.m. at the Plymouth Gym. It's time again for the Indiana State High School Basketball Tournament.

Local attention will be focused upon the Plymouth Sectional, where the nine Marshall County schools and three visitors from Fulton County tangle for the right to advance to the Regional at Elkhart next week.

The pairings this year placed the majority of the power in the lower bracket, with host Plymouth, county champion Bremen, Culver, and Tippecanoe playing in the Thursday bracket. Bourbon, Rochester, and Fulton County champion Richland Center will be in Wednesday's action, or the upper bracket.

Wednesday at 1 p.m. the tourney will be opened by Argos and Talma. Coach Doug Fites' Dragons compiled a 6-12 record this season, which was an off-year for the Argos boys who have been a powerhouse the last four years. Big Jim Mechling leads the Dragons with 249 points in his senior year. Talma's Tigers have a better season record, 11-8, but have not faced the calibre of competition that Argos has. Wally Pfeiffer has garnered 334 points to pace the Talma attack this season. This will be a good game, but neither team is to be feared beyond the first round.

Richland Center vs West
Richland Center meets West Township in the second Wednesday afternoon contest. The Wildcats rolled up a final 13-8 record this year, and among their victories is a 63-42 triumph over West, making them the favorites in this game. Ed Norris has scored more points than anyone else in the tourney, 428. West Township has won only three out of 19 games this season, and also lost Dave Hite, their fine senior guard. Sophomore Jim Munday's 219 points are tops for the Bulldogs.

Wednesday evening at 7 p.m., one of the most important games of the tourney will be played, as Bourbon and Rochester meet. Coach Dick Campbell's Comets have a fine 12-8 record, and boast good height. Vance Berger and Jim Rhodes, two 6' 4" boys, lead the scoring for Bourbon with 282 and 280 points, respectively. Coach Paul Rockwell's Zebras, rated co-favorites with Bremen and Plymouth, won 9 and lost 9 this year against very rough opposition, despite a definite lack of height. With only one man over six feet, Rockwell's men play a hot-shooting hand led by senior guard Larry McConkey whose 284 points lead the Zebras. Rochester should win this game and gain an automatic pass into the semifinal round, but Bourbon may surprise them. This battle will be followed by the battle between Wednesday afternoon's winners.

Thursday afternoon, Tynor and Tippecanoe meet in what could be the best game of the tourney. Coach Hal Muncy has a young inexperienced squad of Redmen with at least three sophomores in the line-up at all times. After winning only one game prior to the County Tourney, Tynor has ended the season with a 6-14 mark. Rick Skiles leads the attack for Tynor with 288 points. Tippecanoe, under Coach John Ecker, has compiled a good 12-6 record, with a veteran line-up led by forwards Dick Trowbridge and Doug Hunsberger. Hunsberger has outscored Trowbridge 236-222, but the latter sat out half a dozen games right after the County Tourney. This game will be a dandy, but the Police Dogs should advance.

Bremen Meets LaPaz

Marshall County titlists Bremen take on LaPaz in Thursday afternoon's second battle. The Lions of Coach Loren Tiede own the best record in the field, 14-7, and boast two victories over host Plymouth, as well as a two victories over LaPaz. Everett Walterhouse has scored 425 points this year to lead Bremen. LaPaz' Vikings, under veteran Coach Dale Cox, have also improved greatly this season, but won only 5 of 19 games. Larry Chase, probably the best long shooter in the tourney, has scored 252 points this year. Although LaPaz has improved Bremen is still too rough under the boards for the Vikings.

After six games, local fans will finally see the big one between Culver and Plymouth at 7 p.m. Thursday. Coach Tom Benbrook's Indians were 10-11 this year, and dropped a 58-41 decision to Plymouth on Jan. 30. But in their last three games, Culver's lacking offense finally picked up, and Winamac fell before the Indians, as did Richland Center. St. Joseph County champion Lakeville nipped Culver, 71-69 to end the season last Friday night. 5' 7" senior guard Dave Washburn leads the Indian attack with 308 points. Plymouth, winners of the sectional in two of the last three years, had an 8-11 record under Coach Bib Hileman, against rugged opposition. Larry Hamell, like Washburn a four-year veteran, has scored 395 points to lead the Pilgrims, and is certainly the most outstanding performer of those in the tourney. Culver boasts a deeper, more well-balanced squad than Plymouth, while the hosts rely very heavily on Hamell. If Culver can stop him reasonably well and continue their improved shooting, they will beat the favored Pilgrims. Can they do it? The battle between the afternoon winners will follow immediately.

Saturday afternoon the remaining teams play, and at 8:15 that evening the title test will be played.

FISH AND GAME CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Election of 1960 officers for the Maxinkuckee Fish and Game Club was held recently and the following officers were elected: Robert McFarland, president; Norman Baker, vice president; and Mrs. Robert McFarland, secretary and treasurer.

Board members are as follows: C. W. Brooks, Paul Humbert, Bill Wagoner, Carl Logan, and Harry Dawson.

The next regular meeting for the Club will be held Wednesday evening, March 2, in the Lions Den, at which time the new officers will take over. A film on conservation will be shown and refreshments will be served.

Indians Amass 69 Points But Lose To Lakeville

Washburn Is High Scorer

By EARL D. MISHLER

The Culver Indians missed their chance for a winning season Friday night as they bowed to a fine Lakeville team at Bremen, 71-69.

A jump shot in the keyhole by Gary Modlin with about 15 seconds left gave the Trojans a 70-69 lead and Rolland Miller added a free throw with six seconds left. Culver had the ball out of bounds with three seconds to tie it up, but threw the ball away.

The game was nip-and-tuck all the way. Lakeville, St. Joseph County champions, held a 17-16 first quarter lead despite 12 first period points by Culver's Dave Washburn. Washburn had 16 points with 4 minutes left in the half, but was removed because of a sore leg. However, the Indians pulled into a 33-31 lead at half-time.

The second half was a scoring duel as Lakeville's Miller, Modlin, and Jerry Gregg matched Culver's Washburn. Gene Benedict and Gary Dillon basket for basket. The count was knotted after three quarters at 53-53. With a minute and a half to go, the Trojans had grabbed a 68-65 lead, and it looked bad for Culver. But Washburn, having one of his greatest games, rammed a long jump shot and seconds later hit a lay-up off a planned out-of-bounds play to send the Indians into a 69-68 lead.

After Modlin's basket, the big red-headed forward of the Trojans had a chance to ice the game, but he blew a free throw. But Gary Dillon also missed a foul shot and the score was unchanged. Finally with six seconds left Benedict fouled Miller, who hit the first but missed his second chance. Culver rebounded and called time-out but their planned play went awry. The regular season record ended at 10-11.

The game's high scorer was Washburn with 29 points, while Modlin and Miller hit 21 apiece for the winners.

The B-Team finished the season 7-11, as they dropped the finale to Lakeville, 47-25. George Baker and Corky Walters led the Papooses with 5 points each.

The Varsity will meet Plymouth Thursday night at 7 p.m. in the Sectional.

Academy Sports

Two Basketball Games Lost By Total of 6 Points!

Coach Russ Oliver's Culver Military Academy basketball team lost two close games last weekend by a total of only 6 points.

LaPaz handed the Eagles their fourth loss in 14 starts Friday night at Plymouth, 63-58, and Hobart High School edged CMA 64-63 in an overtime period Saturday.

The Eagles finish their season with a Wisconsin road trip this weekend, playing at Northwestern Military and Naval Academy Friday night and St. John's Military Academy Saturday.

Culver held a 18-14 lead over LaPaz at the end of the first quarter, but it was narrowed to 30-29 at the half. LaPaz pulled ahead 48-43 at the end of the third period, and matched Culver point for point in the final stanza to win.

Tom Mortell contributed 18 points for the Culver cause. Paul Schults and Pete Hicks added 11 and 10 respectively.

An Overtime Battle

The Hobart game was another see-saw battle. The Hobart team took a 17-12 lead in the first quarter, but Culver hit 19 points in the second period, to even the score 31-31 at the half.

Mortell led all scorers with 24 points. Following up were Ashby with 13, Pete Hicks with 10, and Paul Schults with 9.

Academy Polo Team Beats The Chicago Ramblers

COLONEL DAWSON ROTC JUDGE AT PURDUE

Lt. Col. Clifford H. Dawson, professor of military science and tactics at Culver Military Academy, served as judge for the area ROTC drill team competition held at Purdue University Saturday. Capt. John Walker of the Culver detachment was a judge last year.

BOB GLAZE IS RATED "SUPERIOR" IN STATE MUSIC COMPETITION

Bob Glaze, son of Mrs. Helen Glaze, 702 College Avenue, is one of four Culver Military entries judged "superior" in the state music competition Saturday at Indianapolis.

Bob, a baritone, sang Saint-Saens' "Clair de Lune." He was also a member of the Blue Notes, a CMA vocal ensemble, which won a "superior" rating also.

Glaze became eligible for the state competition by winning a superior rating at the district contest held three weeks before in Fort Wayne.

LOTS OF SNOW AND WINTER FOR A CHANGE

Culver had its full share of snow over the weekend, mostly on Sunday. After reading newspaper reports from all over the U.S., however, we feel pretty happy about missing most of the bad storms and zero weather.

The Galaxie by Ford became the best-selling car in the world. And now—for 1960—with all its advances in style, ride, room—the Galaxie is a better buy than ever!

Yes, this year more than ever, Galaxie is the Thunderbird of the low-price field.

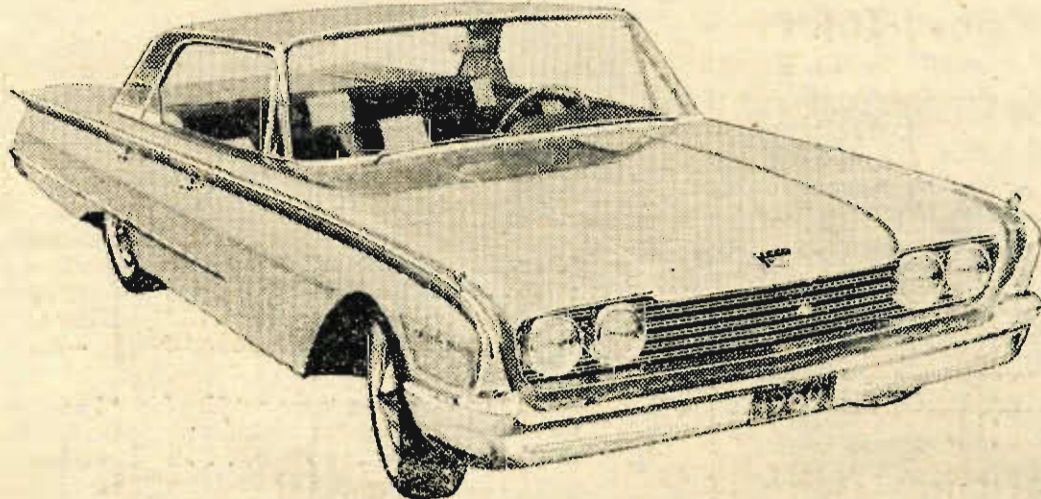

Want Thunderbird elegance? Look at Galaxie's rich carpeting and pleated fabrics!

You want Thunderbird performance? Thunderbird's own V-8 gives it to you, under Galaxie's sloping safety-vision hood.
