"HOOSIER AT LARGE"

By Al Spiers

At 76 This Indiana Athlete Expects To Jump Into Lake Michigan Any Day Now!

SLIM, TRIM and muscular Jake Peroutka of Beverly Shores is undoubtedly the first Hoosier swimmer in — and last out — of Lake Michigan each year.

"I begin swimming as soon as the ice is off the lake and go in three or four times a day, just about every day, until the snow comes in November," he says.

That in itself is a neat feat, but what makes it really remarkable is the fact that Peroutka is 76 years old!

But, then, Jake Peroutka is a remarkable man.

BORN AND REARED in Bohemia, Jake was 19 when he eagerly accepted an opportunity, in 1903, to become an American. Anton, an older brother, secured a passport for him and Jake joined the brother's Chicago barber business.

BARBERING is a tradition in the Peroutka family, which has been cutting hair for four generations. When he retired in 1954 — after 56 years of trimming heads in Europe and America — Jake was operating from his own shop in the suburb of Cicero.

"I started out getting 5 cents for a shave and a dime for a haircut," Peroutka mused. "My, how times have changed!"

As a super-active member of the Sokal Tabor Gymnastic Association, in Berwyn, Ill., Jake compiled a proud record of athletic achievement in the years immediately following his arrival in the U.S.A.

From 1904 to 1908, he won national championships in gymnastics, wrestling, and long-distance (10 miles) swimming.

HE ALSO MET AND married Nettie Svoboda, an immigrant from Moravia, in 1908.

When he opened his own barber shop in Cicero, Peroutka jumped into civic affairs with the same enthusiasm — and impressive results — with which he had plunged into swimming pools.

He served for three years as president of the Czechoslovak Taxpayers' Association, was a member of the executive board of the Cook County Civic Council, led a citizen fight to reduce real estate taxes and gas and electric rates, and from 1936 to 1944 was a Cicero water commissioner.

THE PEROUTKAS have three children — Edward, who is carrying on the barbering tradition in Stickney, Ill.; Helen, a

Tong Il Han, Young Pianist, Is Sensational

Acclaimed By Eppley Audience

The brilliant Tong Il Han, Korean child prodigy, made his third appearance at Culver Military Academy last Friday evening in a piano concert that brought cheers from a crowd that almost filled the 1,500-seat Eppley Theatre.

Many local parents brought their entire families along, as the Academy's guests, to listen to an inspiring performance by the 15-year-old lad.

"Tony," as he is known to his friends, presented a stirring program from the works of Bach, Haydn, Debussy, Chopin, Prokofiev, Rachmaninoff, and Liszt. He played in the best tradition of the New York Philharmonic and several other U.S. symphony orchestras with which he has appeared since being discovered by Air Force General Samuel A. Anderson in Korea.

"Adopted" By Tom Cutshaw
Thomas S. Cutshaw of Mishawaka, a Lake Maxinkuckee summer resident, has taken Tong Il Han under his wing in recent years and has scheduled his engagements all over the country, including the three Culver performances.

Indiana Bell To Spend $38 Million In Improvements

$2 1/2 Million In Culver Area

Indiana Bell's 1960 construction program will total $38 million, by far the largest budget in the telephone company's history.

President Harry S. Hanna states that the outlook is for expenditures approximately $8 million more than the comparable 1959 figure.

About $2,410,000 will be spent this year in the Culver-South Bend area.

"This will be the fifth consecutive year the company's construction program has exceeded $25 million," Mr. Hanna said. "As in the past, the added investment will provide a bigger and better telephone system to serve our customers throughout Indiana."

50,000 New Phones In 1960

He said Indiana Bell is confident there will be a continuing need for more telephone service — because of both population growth and selling efforts. An expected growth of about 50,000 telephones during 1960 will boost the total served by the company above the million mark later this year.

"We not only must keep pace with the need for more and better service," Mr. Hanna said. "We must anticipate it. By doing so, we will be ready to serve as the need develops."

Plans For Culver

The money which Indiana Bell will invest locally during the year will provide additional dial switching equipment and outside lines to keep pace with telephone growth, equipment installations in customers' homes and offices, and more long distance facilities.

"One Great Hour Of Sharing" On Sunday, March 27

Churches Making United Appeal

By REV. JOHN DAVIS
(Chairman, Christian Social Action Committee, Marshall County Council of Churches)

In thousands of Protestant churches across the nation millions of Americans will make special contributions for the 1960 "One Great Hour Of Sharing" united appeal next Sunday, March 27.

Such funds will support denominational and interdenominational programs of emergency assistance and long-term help to men, women, and children overseas who are hungry, ill and impoverished, victims of fires, earthquakes and other disasters, and those uprooted by war or aggression.

More than $11,418,000 will be needed in 1960 to support denominational projects and joint programs through Church World Service — making possible a wide range of projects in more than 40 countries.

Operate At Low Cost
Because these programs are carried out by dedicated voluntary personnel they operate at minimum cost and so minister to a maximum number of those in need.

A portion of the funds will care for part of the cost of processing, shipping, and distributing the millions of pounds of clothing donated by our people through their community and church organizations and clothing service centers.

Almost $875,000 will be needed to continue the Share Our Surplus program through which foods from U.S. Government surplus stocks are distributed free to hungry people in Europe, Asia, the Middle East, and Central and South America.

A Big Operation
Share Our Surplus distribution in 1960 — at a cost of $1 for more than 300 pounds of food — will total approximately 300 million pounds, valued at slightly over $30 million.

A vital part of the churches' ministry abroad includes assistance in programs to teach those in need to help themselves as well as aid to orphanages, hospitals, tuberculosis treatment and control centers, and other health projects.

Services Being Held Today For Carl R. Vergin

Mr. Vergin was a member of the Knox Masonic Lodge. Surviving are his widow, Emma Beatrice; one sister, Mrs. Alvina Gohling, McClure, Ohio; and several nieces and nephews.

Services will be held at 2:30 p.m. today at the Grace United Church of Christ with the pastor, Rev. Harold Hohman, officiating. He will be assisted by Mrs. Vergin's niece, Rev. Rosamond Gross, of the Assembly of God Church in Huntington. Burial will be at the Culver Masonic Cemetery with Masonic graveside services.

PRODUCTION RECORD

Brattleboro, Vt. — The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced a new lactation average for the following registered Holstein herd in this area:

John A. Newman and sons, Newman Holstein Farms, Culver have 55 completed production records averaging 14,971 pounds of milk and 580 pounds of butterfat.

Lactation averages are calculated on the commonly-employed two-milkings a day, 305 day, mature equivalent basis. This provides a uniform basis for comparison and selection in registered Holstein breeding programs.

Purdue University supervised the weighing and testing of production as part of the Herd Improvement Registry program of the national Holstein organization.

C.M.A. Faculty Wives Make $95 Contribution

The Faculty Wives Association of Culver Military Academy has donated $95 to the Culver-Union Township Public Library and to the Parkview Hospital in Plymouth. The money was split equally between the two institutions.

The gift to the Library is for the summer reading program, while the money contributed to the Hospital is to be spent at the discretion of the hospital's administration.

The money is the proceeds of the second annual "Country Fair" potluck supper and white elephant sale held in the Faculty Lounge last Thursday night. The 65 faculty wives and friends attending the affair voted on the disposition of the money raised.

Last year in the first "Country Fair" $60 was raised, and it was donated to the Academy Library and to Parkview Hospital.

Co-chairmen were Mrs. Robert Matson and Mrs. William E. Corington. President of the Faculty Wives Association is Mrs. Milan D. Baker.

MISS JUDY PRICE IS NOW ON CRUTCHES AFTER BREAKING LOWER LEG

Miss Judy Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Price and a seventh grade student at the Culver Public Schools, is recuperating nicely in her home from a broken leg suffered Tuesday evening, March 8, when running down a hill in south Culver.

Judy was released last Wednesday from Osteopathic Hospital in South Bend where she had undergone major surgery on the compound fracture of her lower right leg. She is able to be about with the aid of crutches and would enjoy seeing and hearing from her friends.

Gets Letter From Nixon
The day after her return home from the hospital, Judy was pleasantly surprised to receive a letter from the vice president of the United States, Richard M. Nixon. She had previously written him her congratulations upon his receiving the patriotism award. His warm, friendly reply will always be one of Judy's prize possessions.

Let's not forget, in our study of new theories, that the dollars that are spent in Culver are the dollars that make business here.

Cadets Get "10 Commandments" About Writing
Have you ever had problems when it comes to writing clearly, concisely, and correctly?
If so, you might find useful a list of "Ten Commandments," principles of good usage passed out to each student at Culver Military Academy this year.
1. Maintain the same basic tense throughout a piece of writing. Use the past tense in writing about the past.
2. Be sure that verbs agree with their subjects.
3. Attach all modifiers firmly to what they are supposed to modify.
4. Be sure that all pronouns (especially "this" and "which") have clear, definite antecedents, with which they agree.
5. Do not use ten words to say what can be as clearly expressed in five. (Do not pad!)
6. Avoid sentences beginning with "it is," "it was," "there is," and "there are."
7. Avoid the passive voice.
8. Avoid the conjunction "so."
9. Do not use contractions in formal writing. Especially do not use the abbreviation "etc."
10. Do not introduce into any paragraph material that is not relevant to the main idea.
The rules were drawn up by the Faculty Committee on reading and writing skills at the Northern Indiana college preparatory school in our town.
Jurgensen In Charge
A mathematics teacher, Ray C. Jurgensen (chairman of the department and Eppley Chairholder in Mathematics), is in charge and members from each department are on the committee, since writing skills are considered important in each subject.
In each class, the instructors judge each student's academic progress not only by knowledge of the subject matter but also by the individual's performance use in the English language.
Other members of the committee include Mrs. Ernest B. Benson, reading center; Dr. Russell Blair, foreign languages; Thomas Walker, English; Clarence Clarno, science; Claude Zetty, music and arts; and Charles McMinn, history.
The plan was first suggested by Dr. Russell Bastert of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass. Dr. Bastert was on Culver's faculty last year as the Eppley Chairholder in History.

Capehart Speech On Civil Rights Makes Sense

Russia's Eyes Are On Us!

The other day U.S. Senator Homer E. Capehart of Indiana made a short but great speech in Washington, D.C.

Here it is in its entirety from the pages of the Congressional Record:

VIEWS ON CIVIL RIGHTS CONTROVERSY AND DEBATE

Mr. CAPEHART. Mr. President, I would not make this statement if I thought it would be interpreted by anyone as a criticism of any individual Senator or group of Senators, or of the majority leader, the able senior Senator from Texas [Mr. Johnson], or of the minority leader, the able junior Senator from Illinois [Mr. Dirksen], or any Member who at this time has introduced any so-called civil rights legislation.

Certainly that is not my purpose.

Mr. President, my purpose is to make clear my own personal feelings as a Member of the U.S. Senate. I am now in my 16th year of service in this great body and I state, for the Record, my feelings with regard to this whole matter.

I believe it very, very unfortunate that by means of the procedure being followed today in this Chamber, the Senate is considering civil rights legislation, particularly in view of existing world conditions.

I shall state my reasons for taking that position. They are not emotional reasons. Instead, my position is based upon experiences I have had in foreign countries.

I happened to have been in Denmark when the Little Rock incident occurred. I went to Norway, Sweden, Russia, and other countries. Everywhere I went, and at every press conference I had, it seemed that those to whom I talked wanted to "jump right down my throat" on that incident and that they were unable to ask questions about Little Rock fast enough to satisfy their own desires.

They would ask me, "What about Little Rock? Tell us why people in your country are persecuting the colored people there."

In every instance I took time to point out, for 15 or 20 minutes, to those persons—all of whom I believe were sincere and conscientious—that, in the United States, the colored people are protected—that they enjoy many of the things I shall now mention. It is perfectly natural that I spoke particularly from the standpoint of conditions which exist in my own State of Indiana.

I pointed out that there are more colored people in universities and colleges in the United States than the number of white people who are in universities and colleges in any other country in the world.

I pointed out that in the United States, colored people belong to labor organizations, and receive equal pay for equal work.

I pointed out that in our country colored people and white people attend school together; that I myself, when I went to school in Indiana, went to school with colored people.

I pointed out all the blessings which colored people and other minorities in the United States enjoy.

When I got through, those people would say, "Well, we didn't know those things. All we hear about are so-called bad things that happen to colored people in the United States. We hear, too, of debates about such things on the floor of the U.S. Senate. We hear that legislation to protect the colored people and other minority groups has been introduced in the Congress; and we get the impression that minority groups in the United States are mistreated."

Of course, Mr. President, the fact is that the United States is made up of minority groups of every conceivable ancestry, color, and creed.

There is no such thing as a majority group in the United States. Our country is made up of minority groups of every conceivable type.

Here today, in this Nation, we are fighting communism. We are trying to prove to the world that our system of government is the best, and it is the best; that our people enjoy more blessings than do any other people on the earth. This is true, and yet we find ourselves introducing legislation, being forced to go through what we are going through here at this very moment, advertising to the world that our people are being mistreated.

What we should be doing, if we want to spend as much time as we are on this subject, is to be devoting our efforts to talking about the blessings of minority groups in America.

I am not saying that there are not people in this country who are mistreated.

I am not unmindful of that at all. I am not saying that we cannot make some improvements. I am saying to you that when you have this sort of thing—and I again say I am not criticizing any individual—I am saying you hurt the United States.

I say to you that every colored man in the United States tonight should wire this Senate to stop this sort of thing, quit talking about it, and start telling the world and the Communists and throughout the world, what a great country this is and the great opportunities they have. That is what we should be doing if we want to help fight communism and maintain our American system of government instead of beating its brains out, tearing it down.

We should be talking about the good things, because there are a lot of good things.

There may be some bad things, but how do you expect the people of the world to want to adopt our American system when we here in the U.S. Senate and the Congress and the intelligent people of this Nation will do the things going on here right now.

I say to you, let us put a stop to it. Let us be positive in our approaches. Let us improve our system. Let us improve the position of every American, but let us not jeopardize our American system of government and the great advantages and the blessings of the minority groups of the United States.

This is doubly important during this world situation when we are fighting the ideology of communism, a system that encourages friction and misunderstanding and frustration and confusion among the people.

That is my best judgment as one who has been in Russia, as one who has studied this problem and tried to view it in the proper perspective.

My best judgment is that the Communists are thoroughly enjoying what we in the Congress, in the Senate, are doing at this particular moment. It is to their advantage, because they can point to legislation, they can point to debates, they can point to the fact that the situation is so terrible in the United States that the U.S. Senate must remain in session 24 hours a day in order to protect some minority groups in the United States. We all know the situation is no different today than it was a year ago or 5 years ago or 10 years ago, and yet we leave the impression that some-

United States. I thank the able Senator for yielding his time. I want to say, let us stop to think and listen.

I again want to say that I hope there is not a single newspaperman, a single person on this floor, that writes or makes the statement that I am criticizing any individual or any political party or any group from the South, the North, or the majority leader, or the minority leader. I am not. I am giving you the benefit, for whatever it is worth, of my personal opinions, based not upon emotion, but based upon my experience of how this sort of thing excites the people of the world and how they misunderstand it. Let us find some way to stop this.

Let us find some way to be positive.

Let us find some way to say good things about the United States.

High School Gets North Central's Highest Rating

Culver High School has been unqualifiedly recommended for continuance of its membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, according to a notice received by Principal R. J. Ives, Jr.

Each year the Indiana State Committee meets and examines the reports on the various member schools and then makes recommendation to the North Central Association at its annual meeting.

By being "unqualifiedly recommended" means that the state committee has found that the Culver High School has met all of the organization's requirements.

The North Central Association is the highest accrediting group in this area, and to be a member without restrictions or exceptions is a distinct recognition of the high calibre of work being done in all phases of education by the Culver school system.

In other words, a local newspaper would automatically receive all such legal advertising regardless of its political affiliation.

Cuba Discussed By History Panel

By SUSIE MEDBOURN AND JUDY LOWRY

A very interesting panel discussion on the present Cuban situation was given by Mr. Robinson's United States History class Thursday, March 17, before the entire student body. The class was represented by Anne Behmer, Earl Mishler, Gary Dillon, and Anne Osborn.

Earl Mishler opened the panel by asking Anne Osborn to give her report on the early history of Cuba. Anne pointed out that all through Cuba's history there have been revolutions, and that the government has always been an unstable one. One of the old Cuban sayings, quoted Anne, is, "Now and then, peace breaks out."

The next report given by Anne Behmer, was centered around a previous Cuban dictator, Batista. Anne stressed the method which Batista used to become the dictator. Unkept promises and a very illiterate people were his weapons. During Batista's reign, only 47.7% of school age children attended any school.

Gary Dillon then reported on the present conflict of the United States and Cuba. He gave several reasons for the Cubans' hatred of the United States, one of which is the Panama Canal zone. Another cause of the United States-Cuban conflict is Fidel Castro's brother, Raul. It is known that he has affiliations with the Communists, and that Fidel Castro is probably told what to do by his brother. Gary also said that after the Argentine Council met with Castro, the Cuban newspapers were called immediately, and the strong anti-American propaganda was greatly decreased.

After these three reports, a question and answer period was provided for the students on the floor. Stanley Curtis opened this discussion, and many other interesting points were brought up. An example is: Who would take over if Cuba had another revolution, Communism, democracy, or dictatorship?

What do you think?

Sophs End Movie Project

By BETTY ZECHIEL AND SAM MEDBOURN

The Sophomores, so far, have been quite successful with their annual Sophomore movies. March 17, however, saw the end of their good fortune for a while. This was the last movie they will sponsor this year.

The Juniors are busy planning for their Ham Supper which will be April 2. The chairmen of various committees are as follows: Set Up - Mike Overmyer; Table Decorations - Sharon Spahr; Publicity - Leonard Lojewski and Lila Benn; Food - Rochelle Good and Jean Warner. The ticket committee captains are Bobbie Lou Easterday, Nancy Ervin, Susie Muehlhausen, and Sam Medbourn.

The Seniors have ordered their invitations and are urged to pay for them as soon as possible. Those still owing money to the class for dues, cap, gown, tassel, or points are asked to pay Emily Allen immediately.

The transient display advertising rate of The Citizen is only 70 cents per column inch.

For a while there it looked like Spring was just around the corner but alas, it seems that Old Man Winter doesn't want to leave us. Besides the weather, there have been some other changes around our teepees.

A brand new scalp-do was done by Sandy Fisher. Her new flame, Skip Kiel, thinks it is real sharp. We all like it, Sandy!

The Winter Concert was quite a success. We have some outstanding musical talent inside our teepee. After the concert, Chief Boyd was aghast when he walked into the band building and saw SIX birthday cakes, and heard the entire music tribe shout "SURPRISE!" After the initial shock had subsided, he introduced his friends. Bill and Dave were pretty cute, huh girls?

Many Indians watched for moon to change Saturday night when eclipse occurred. Very interesting.

The Sophomore movie was lots of fun and profitable for number three tribe. Couples seen were Jane Baker and Mike Wallen, Marge McGuffey and Scott Gelsolman, Margo Overmyer and Bob Kerrigan, Melissa Fisher and John Hook, Charles Hardin and a girl from Monterey.

Mimi got a pin from John Bryant. This doesn't mean they are going steady.

Uh... Sharon... no, Karen... well, anyway, it's Ronald Tanner trying to decide which of the McDonald twins is which. He goes with one of them... conie, meenie, minie, mo!

The Pony Express brought message to Betty Kose (letter from Willy) and Judy Lowry (message from old P.U. from Jack Warner). So, Low, did you get so excited over that that you missed the bus Wednesday? Martha, what's your bus-missing excuse?

The teepee is kinda quiet and lonesome here without Phil and Tony. We hope they will be cheered by the "Culver Screamer" being passed around by Sherrill Edgerston and Pat Van Scholack.

Is there another new student in the Junior class... a Mari?

Grenda Baber's broken heart from breaking up with Eddie Willyard soon was mended with the help of Randall Walter.

It seems that hearts are trump in the game Shirley Crowe is playing - she is going steady with Ronnie Trump from Argos.

Corky Walter has a girl in Argos, Marge Siler.

Bud Watson is back. Glad he rejoined tribe. Stan was absent a few days last week and he wants us to welcome him back, too.

Okay, Stan, you're welcome.

Begorra, is it green spots I see afore me eyes? We sure have a lot of Irish Indians running around teepees, proven by the wearin' of the green on St. Patrick's Day. There were at least 76 shades.

"Castro and Cuba" was the theme of the panel discussion held in assembly last week. The panel consisted of Gary Dillon, Anne Osborn, Earl Mishler and Anne Behmer. It was very interesting. An argument between the panel and "our man Stan" might have developed if time hadn't run out.

We'd better never hear Gary Dillon talk about women drivers, right Merrie Kay? It seems that Gary's and Merrie Kay's cars bumped, causing Miss Stoneburner to get a new bumper for her car.

Well, that's it for this week. The final message is: Gurk!

Buddhist Theory Applied To CHS

By ROCHELLE GOOD

The Buddhists believe that as each person goes through his life on this earth he is struggling toward the ultimate good, and his reward of an eternal life. They believe that souls are born many times, first perhaps in the form of a human, then again in some animal, bird or even insect form. This thought intrigued us.

What if Christine Hand came back as an elephant?

What if Nancy Burns came back as a mouse?

What if Jerry Kimmel came back as a monkey?

What if Carol Heiser came back as a lion?

What if Bonnie Good came back as a horse?

What if Merrie Kay came back as a tiger?

What if Betty Zechiel came back as a parrot?

What if Joyce Morrison (Mouse) came back as a cat?

What if Beatrice Price came back as honey bee?

What if Jim Hall came back as a wolf? (This would be a change?)

What if Pat Hicks came back as a poodle?

What if Sam Prosser came back as a mule?

What if Jim Parker came back as racoon?

What if Jo Hughes came back as a kitten?

What if Gary Dillon came back as a deer... oops! we mean deer!

Signs Of Spring Seen In Culver

By JEAN WARNER AND LINDA KOSE

"It's a sign of Spring at Culver High when..."

Believe it or not Spring is just around the corner. Many people believe that the sign of spring is to see a robin, but to the C.H.S. students there are many other signs. The following are a few examples:

When the Seniors start thinking about the Senior trip.

When the Juniors start planning the Prom.

When the long hair becomes a pony tail.

When wool skirts go out and cotton skirts are seen.

When the girls start wearing crinolines.

When the boys start wearing cotton shirts and do away with their wool sweaters.

When the tops on convertibles come down.

When the girls get short haircuts.

When everyone walks around with that dazed look.

When the girls start talking about their Easter outfits.

When everyone wears light jackets and sweaters instead of coats.

When the girls start looking for that special dress for the Prom.

When the windows in Mr. Graham's English class are opened all the way instead of just part way.

When we don't hear the clanging radiators in Latin.

When the gym class goes on a hike to the park.

When the track season starts.

When the girls go outside for gym.

When many are bitten by the "love bug."

When the band starts marching outside.

When the girls start wearing flats without nylons.

When the teachers give less homework?

When artificial flowers spring up on girls' blouses.

When the ice skates disappear to be replaced by bicycles and roller skates.

When you hear the rattle of marbles on the playground.

When you can drive your car without fear of getting stuck in the snow.

When the sledding slopes are changed back into the golf course.

When new couples show up around the halls.

Musicians Prepare For Concert

By LARRY NORMAN
The Music Department presented its Winter Concert on March 15, and it was well-attended. After the concert, the members of the Senior Band and the Senior Choir surprised Mr. Boyd with a birthday party in his honor.

The various musical organizations are now sight-reading new material and rehearsing the music which will be presented at the County Music Festival.

Preliminary plans are being made for a Band and Choir party to be held later in the spring. More information will be released at a later date.

The Music Department has purchased a new bass horn, which was much needed. Pete Ott is now playing the new instrument which adds much to the balance of the band.

College Dormitory Named In Honor Of Wayne A. Lowry

A former Culver resident, Wayne A. Lowry, president of General Beadle State Teachers College at Madison, S.D., has had the honor of having a new men's dormitory on the College campus named Lowry Hall in his honor.

Lowry Hall, which will house 70 men and a resident manager, was opened in Sept. 1959, and open house was held at the dormitory on March 6. The dormitory was built and furnished at a cost of nearly $150,000 under authority granted by the 1955 Legislature, using self-liquidating revenue bonds, through the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

This recognition of Dr. Lowry will be of great interest to many in this community as he is a former resident of Hibbard and Culver and Mrs. Lowry is the former Daisy Easterday of Culver. They have many relatives here among the Lowry, Voreis, Easterday and Ferrier families.

Do not forget Sunday School services each Sunday at 10 p.m. Attendance last Sunday 81. There will be a guest speaker following Sunday School next Sunday.
The regular meeting of the M.Y.F. was held at the church Sunday evening.
Mrs. Wayne Kline, Mrs. Robert Kline, Mrs. Paul E. Winn, Mrs. Whitney Kline and Mrs. Guy Davis attended the District meeting of the W.S.C.S. held at the Culver Methodist Church Tuesday. The local society was among those who received jurisdictional recognition for Study Course.

The W.S.C.S. realized a nice profit from serving the lunch at the Haney and Shoemaker public sale last Thursday.

Over 100 people attended the surprise program planned in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Haney and their family at the local church Friday evening. The evening began with a showing of moving pictures taken of various church activities including the church farm project which was started in 1949. Special music and readings followed. The next portion was a "This is Your Life" of Edgar and Edith Haney in true television fashion. Master of ceremonies was Don Davis. Eldon Davis operated the opaque projector which projected old pictures upon the screen. The surprise guests who appeared on the program and who had played an important part in their lives were Edgar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Haney, of Bristol, Ind.; Mrs. Lyman Morris of Culver, a former school teacher of Edith's; Mrs. Josephine Cook Adams of Culver, a cousin; Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Cook; Harry Skinner of near Winamac, who had been best man to Edgar at their wedding; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fultz of Wingate, Ind., who were close friends; and the Rev. and Mrs. Prentice Douglas and family of Hayworth, Ill., former pastor here and also close friends.

The climax of the program was the presentation of gifts from the church and friends. A "This is Your Life" album of the Ralph Edwards television fame, complete with the evening's program and pictures, was also presented the Haney's.

Following the program a social time was enjoyed in the basement. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, mints and nuts with coffee or chocolate milk was served from a beautifully decorated table. All left at a late hour.

Many friends from outside the community were present for the occasion.

U.S. 50 To Become 4-Lane Highway Across Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS, March 21 — "Eventually U. S. 50 will become an ultra-modern divided four-lane highway across the entire state." It was predicted here by Governor Harold W. Handley.

The U. S. 50 route is from St. Louis to Cincinnati via Vincennes, Bedford, Seymour, North Vernon, and Versailles.

The highway does not have the controlled access restrictions which make entry and exit from interstate highways possible only at intervals of several miles.

"The first step in this widening of U. S. 50 will be the building of a new bridge across the Wabash River above Vincennes," Governor Handley explained.

"Indiana and Illinois have signed a formal agreement to include this bridge in the 1960 Indiana highway construction program."

"The bridge will be the western terminus of a new bypass to be constructed for U. S. 50 to the north and east of Vincennes. The bridge and bypass will help considerably to relieve congestion over the present U. S. 50 route through downtown Vincennes and across the heavily-traveled bridge there."

Modernization Program
Governor Handley stressed this U. S. 50 widening as further indication of his desire to include all parts of Indiana in the state's extensive highway modernization program.

tion and an essential to further economic growth of the state," Governor Handley said.

"It should be possible for Hoosiers to move anywhere about their state on hard-surfaced all-weather roads which are safe enough and wide enough to handle peak traffic loads."

VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

Report From England To Culver Youth

Polls taken recently have shown that many of America's young people lean toward nationalization of the railroads, utilities, and other basic industries.

They feel, apparently, that Government can do a better job than private enterprise in some areas.

If you find you have a budding Socialist in your home, you might want him to read these figures from England, where nationalization was the order of the day when the Labor Party took power after World War II.

A poll of almost two million Britains shows that 63.5% want no more nationalization. Only 18.6% want more, and 17.9% had no opinion.

Oddly, 41.7% of the Labor Party, which dreamed up nationalization as a policy in the first place, want no more of it. Only 36.2% still want more, and 22.1% had no opinion.

The British gave Government ownership of industry a long try, and found themselves falling behind in the production competition with non-nationalized European countries. Industries which had made profits turned in losses under Government ownership. Those which had experienced small losses turned in larger ones. Strikes were as frequent as before.

Some months ago, denationalization of a number of steel mills was accomplished, and the nation breathed a sigh of relief.

Meanwhile, another survey shows that Britain's famed national health scheme is costing more than the old private medical practice system, service is poorer, taxes will have to be raised, and fees now must be charged for services that originally were planned to be free.

Britain is gradually retreating from Socialism, and with every retreat her economy takes another spurt. Tell the young ones in your Culver area home.

NO CONCERTS—A columnist on the Salem Democrat who writes under the pseudonym of "Kenro" refuses to be discouraged. He proposed that a town band be formed to play summer concerts in the court house yard. There was no immediate response to his proposal so he wrote: "Do old band players really die or do they just blow away? If the latter why not do it together."

The Week With Governor Handley

Plain Talk About Indiana Rejecting Federal Aid

INDIANAPOLIS — "By continuing to solve state and local problems with state and local resources — and exercising a selective choice in accepting federal money — Indiana has remained free to act and to express itself on governmental matters in a way that semi-subsidized states cannot," Governor Harold W. Handley declares.

The Governor made his comment in discussing Indiana's independence in rejecting federal money to plan for White House Conferences, preferring to use for this purpose funds available through the State Budget Committee.

A "Spend It All" Congress — "Some federal programs — such as our interstate highway system, the postal service, flood control programs, and other national efforts — are, of course, essential. But it is the non-essential expenditures which are piling on the costs of the super-government which has been erected in Washington. In the last four years alone, our 'spend it all' Congress has increased the cost of non-defense programs by 55%.

"When President Eisenhower proposed the White House Conference on Education, the White House Conference on the Aged, and the White House Conference on Youth, he acted in a sincere effort to get the honest and well-considered views of the various states regarding these very important problems.

"Certainly he did not intend to subsidize any of the delegates to these conferences, or to put under obligation to Washington to hamper their full presentation of candid views.

Indiana Again Stands Out! — "But now we find that Indiana is the only state which has not used money thrust on them by Washington to pay preparations for the White House Conference on the Aging next January. And what is even more amazing, Indiana is being smeared and lambasted by a Congressional leader from New England because of this sturdy insistence on maintaining our independent status.

"We Hoosiers paid for the preliminary meetings and inquiries prior to our participation in the White House Conference on Education. At the Conference they spoke their minds without inhibition. And despite some conclusions after that conference which did not coincide with Hoosier opposition to federal aid to education, our people then came home and proceeded with the essential job of providing more classrooms and recruiting more teachers to serve our growing population.

Plain Talk About Schools — "Indiana has far exceeded the estimates of needs which were made at the White House Conference on education. We continue to build new school houses, attract more teachers, and pay our teachers more. But we are doing it with state and local revenues, and thereby the citizens of each community retain control over their own schools.

"Just as we are in the forefront in education — both in the elementary grades, in high schools, and in our colleges and universities — so Indiana has a youth program and also a program for the aging and the aged which are second to none.

"There are County Youth Councils throughout the state, acting locally to implement the program developed each year at the Governor's Youth Council.

Problem Of The Aged — "There are also county committees working with the Indiana Commission for the Aging and the Aged, which serves to coordinate the efforts of our Mental Health Department, our State Department of Health, the state universities, and numerous local groups and services in the important field of geriatrics.

"If Indiana were not doing a good job in handling youth problems and in caring for its elderly citizens, there would be an outcry from our people demanding action, for Hoosiers are famous for their recognition of family responsibilities.

"Indiana is debt-free and has a balance of more than $40 million in the state treasury. But, according to the U.S. Director of the Budget, our federal debt and outstanding obligations are now so huge that they constitute a 750 BILLION DOLLAR MORTGAGE on the lives, the incomes and the futures of every American.

The Library Situation — "The federal bureaucrats are trying to extend their empires into the public library system. We are refusing these funds because 80% of our people now have public library facilities, and the remainder of Hoosier families can be served by school libraries.

"In 1958 there were 245 public libraries in Indiana, supplying services which included the circulation of 20,958,302 volumes from a total book stock of 7,281,918.

"In 1958 in Indiana there were libraries — with at least 5 volumes per child — in 663 high schools, 86 junior high schools, and 12 grade schools.

"Any Indiana community desiring more library facilities can get them by appropriating local tax money for that purpose, or by letting the need be known to the thousands of fine civic and service organizations which stand ready to help any Hoosier neighborhood that has such a need. More federal government hand-outs cannot compel wider use of public library facilities.

Taxpayer's Rebellion Advocated — "If one of the sovereign states of the 50 doesn't have the fortitude to start a taxpayer's rebellion against all these 'give away' schemes the eventual result will be a worthless dollar and a bankrupt taxpayer in a broken and defenseless country."

A Gracious "First Lady" — Mrs. Handley began a series of informal coffees for women employees at the Statehouse, to be held at noon in midweek this week and next at the Executive Mansion. The First Lady said that she wanted state employees to have the same opportunity of visiting the Mansion which has been accorded numerous women's groups throughout the state during the Handley administration.

BREVITY IS not a virtue; it is a result. In a word, if you would be brief, first be long. To make a telephone conversation short, think it over and anticipate as far as possible what needs to be said. To make . . . an annual report pointed, let it first be written in fullness or at least outlined in some . . . detail. Only then will it be possible to make it brief. — Charles W. Ferguson

State Democratic Candidate Pay Out More To Run

Editor, CITIZEN:

The first Democratic candidate for Governor of Indiana filed week and paid $2,500, 25% more than Republican candidates. Governor are assessed.

This is the party that claims to be the "poor man's" party, while in reality it belongs lock, stock and barrel to many of the wealthiest men in America.

It must seem strange to publicans that when one of their members is reputed to be a capitalist, but when Democrat is rich he is a friend of the underdog.

The Republican Party is always has been the people's party, working in the best interests of all Americans and some special interest.

Clerk secretary, and Arthur, a machine operator, who resides in Prospect Heights, Ill.

In the late '30s, Nettie and the children spent their summers camped out at Dunes State Park in Northern Indiana. Jake joined them on weekends.

"It was wonderful," Peroutka recalls. "We met so many nice people there — from school principals to a United States Senator. We fell in love with Lake Michigan and Indiana."

So, when Jake retired at age 71, he and Nettie satisfied a dream and moved into a hilltop Beverly Shores home that overlooks the lake.

But their idea of "being retired" hardly fits the common definition of that term. Jake grabbed an axe and began felling many of the closely-spaced trees that dominated their one-acre yard.

HE AND NETTIE put in sidewalks and beautifully landscaped the yard, which today is a show-estate dotted by daffodils, tulips, roses, and other attractive plants.

As a deputy marshal without pay, Jake has charge of a lengthy Beverly Shores beachfront.

"JAKE'S BEACH" is the cleanest anywhere," friends say, and each day he works to uphold that reputation.

What does he do in the winter? "Oh," Peroutka smiles, "there's an awful lot of snow to be shoveled to keep the roads open."

A few years ago, Jake was the unsuccessful Democratic nominee for a place on the Town Board. He lost for an obvious reason:

"Just too many Republicans in this town," he chuckles.

QUITE A FAMILY! Jake, who was still doing handstands in a Berwyn gym at age 55, is frequently joined in his daily dips by Nettie, who is now 72.

Their barbering son, Edward, was visiting the Peroutkas the day I interviewed the amazing couple.

Introduced to him, I explained that I had come because "I heard your Dad's a pretty active man."

"Oh, yes," Edward replied. "He's a lot more active than most men half his age."

How true... how true.

Once Lived In Culver

During his former residence in Culver, he was a member of the Sons Club and sang in their choral group for five years.

He has been a loyal and hard-working G.O.P. precinct committeeman for nearly 35 years, and has well earned any party honors which may come his way.

Currently Mr. Beatty is vice-president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce and president of the men's organization of the Methodist Church in that city. He is also a past president of the Marshall County Kiwanis Club and a member of the board of directors of the Marshall County Historical Society. He holds membership in the Odd Fellows, Eagles, and Moose lodges.

He is also a former president of the Camp Fire Girls leaders organization.

In postgraduates, practicing physicians enrolled for refresher and graduate training, the I.U. school stands 16th. Above, Dean John D. Nagrin-Frankel Dancers Delight Large Audience

Cadet Reviews Performance

By ROBERT S. BENSON

One of the season's larger crowds was treated to an evening of vibrant modern dance by Daniel Nagrin and Emily Frankel's Dance Drama Company last Sunday at the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium of Culver Military Academy.

The program was a repeat Culver performance for all the dancers involved, following their widely-acclaimed success last year.

Replete With Enthusiasm

This year's performance was replete with verve and enthusiasm and seemed lucidly realistic.

Nagrin began the program with a limbering-up routine appropriately titled "A Dancer Prepares."

He then yielded the stage to the Dance Drama Company whose members emerged from a deep-sea scene to interpret various sounds, Joel Anderson, as a train, and Yvonne Brunner, portraying a telephone, were quite effective, and Miss Frankel brought down the house with her riotous interpretation of laughter.

Nagrin returned to perform four short dance portraits, "For a Young Person" realistically depicted a high school student returning home from school and then trying to study at home.

Changing moods and colors dominated his impression of a Flamenco Gypsy dance, while an intensive routine successfully evoked some feelings of both sympathy and hero-worship for the "Strange Hero."

Nagrin closed his repertoire with an amusing repeat performance of the "Man of Action," "the urban man who in order to survive, must solve the simple problem of being in two or more places at the same time."

The program ended with the Dance Drama Company's lengthy impression of Tennessee Williams' play, "Summer and Smoke." Miss Frankel's choreographic treatment of the play had remarkable tempo and compactness, and the simply-designed sets and costumes added greatly to the effectiveness of the presentation. Zebra Nevins, Terrence Miller, and Miss Frankel were all excellent in their lead roles.

Editor's note: Bob Benson is the son of Dean and Mrs. Ernest B. Benson, Fleet Parkway, Culver. He is a senior and holds the rank of cadet first lieutenant. Bob is a member of the artillery battalion staff and the Four Gun Drill, artillery honor organization. He lettered in varsity basketball and will play varsity golf this spring. He is sports editor and member of the editorial board of The Vedette, Academy newspaper, and has written for the Roll Call (yearbook) and The Quill, literary magazine. Bob has been selected as a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship competition, and is a member of both Blue Key and Cum Laude societies at the Academy, which honor academic excellence, and has received seven "Gold A" awards for scholastic attainment.

Culver Girls Are Invited To Enter County Pageant

"Miss Plymouth" Contest In June

By MRS. ROY ROTH
Publicity Chairman

Paul Swearingen and Manfred VanGilder, co-chairmen of the "Miss Plymouth Pageant," June 14 and 15, announced bigger and better plans for 1960's event at a recent committee meeting.

Mr. Swearingen states: "The people of Marshall County are familiar with the merits of our project and realize the tremendous opportunities it has to offer talented and ambitious young women through its education and training program."

This is made possible through scholarships awarded on the local and state level, as well as at the national finals.

Scholarship Opportunities

"One of the greatest selling points of our pageant, other than the scholarship opportunities afforded, is bringing the community face to face with the charm, beauty, and talents of its young citizens in a spectacular program of entertainment which will surpass any professional show we could import."

The Entries Committee is under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Legge and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rose.

Mrs. Legge said: "We're going to ask every citizen of Marshall County to help us find a girl in their area to compete in our pageant."

"The next Miss America might very well be living right here in Marshall County, the heart of Indiana, possibly your next door neighbor," Mrs. Legge added.

This group will contact civic and service clubs, the senior classes of the high schools in the county, and the girls away at college to select eligible contestants for the "Miss Plymouth" crown.

Contest Requirements

To be eligible for the Miss Plymouth Pageant a contestant must be between the ages of 18 and 28 on Sept. 1. She must be a high school graduate and must never have been married.

She must possess talent, either trained or potential, which may include playing a musical instrument, dramatics, dress designing, singing, or any of the fine arts.

If she wishes to pursue a professional career, such as nursing, she may present a three-minute talk on her reasons for selecting such a career or on her training to date and her aims in that profession.

Anyone wishing to suggest a potential contestant may contact the Entries Committee or fill out and mail the accompanying entry blank.
