The Inspiring Life Story
Of Plymouth's Father Sheridan:
Beloved and Dedicated

WHEN REV. WILLIAM C. R. SHERIDAN came to St. Thomas' Episcopal Church in Plymouth 13 years ago he needed prodigious faith to evade despair.

Never big, the parish had been harshly hurt by years of depression and war, plus the recent lack of a resident pastor.

BISHOP Reginald Mallett of South Bend had called the assignment a "great challenge" and Father Sheridan, just 30, zealous, energetic, and enthused, had accepted eagerly. What he found nearly turned the young priest's enthusiasm to dismay. The once-lovely stone church was almost shabby, the parish house and rectory in depressing disrepair.

Father Sheridan came, saw, and prayed for strength to resist despair.

THEN HE WENT to work. Typically, Father Sheridan spent his first Saturday at a charwoman's chore, scrubbing the church interior so it would reflect at Sunday worship his dream of a brighter future.

Today the dream is reality. St. Thomas' has quadrupled its congregation, poured a hard-earned $60,000 into its structures, boomed Sunday School rolls, six-fold.

Moresover, most parishioners have been happily infected by their pastor's faith, enthusiasm, and sense of dedication. Both physically and spiritually, it can be said St. Thomas' is now in excellent shape.

Yet fine as they are, Father Sheridan's achievements in his own parish are only part of an inspiring story. In countless ways, he serves as many outside his church as within.

"He is," one admirer put it, "a living, working symbol of true Christianity . . . the kind of clergyman God surely intends all to be."

IT TOOK SIX tries to pin this busy, beloved priest to an interview. For one thing, his self-imposed tasks keep him everlastingly on the go. For another, his humility is genuine. But we finally managed a long, enjoyable chat.

At 43, Father Sheridan has the vibrant, youthful look of most men who love their work — which he does. His pleasant face is clean-cut, fresh, and lively, his talk plain, direct, and wholly bereft of sepulchral sanctimony. He's a man of abiding faith and a deep love of people — especially troubled people.

Oddly enough, Father Sheridan's priesthood was born indirectly of unexpected adversity. The son of a prosperous Baltimore stockbroker, he was studying pre-medicine at the University of Virginia when depression wiped out the family fortune.

"I already had doubts about a medical career," he chuckled. "I'm chicken-hearted. Blood tenses me. Besides, my pastor had long urged me toward priesthood. Our seminary — Nashotah House near Delafield, Wisconsin — accepted the penniless. So I went."

AT THE SEMINARY, Father Sheridan took 2½ years of college work and three years of theology, working summers at Wisconsin resorts to support himself.

Along the way, he fell in love with Rudith Treder, a Milwaukee girl. They were wed after his ordination in 1943.

A year later, Bishop Mallett offered the young priest a Marion parish in the Northern Indiana Diocese. He accepted. Three years later he tackled the challenge at St. Thomas'.

"Weren't you often disheartened or dejected in those dark early days?" I asked.

"Yes, of course," Father Sheridan confessed candidly. "Priests are human. We get discouraged." Then he added gently, "But we also know the best cure is faith — faith in God and His children. We had faith, and somehow — with God's help — things got done."

Somehow, too, Father Sheridan found time for myriad worthy activities beyond the immediate task of revitalizing a dispirited church.

He gave a floundering local Alcoholics Anonymous group a

Marshall County's Episcopal Church 100 Years Old

Centennial Rites At Plymouth

St. Thomas' Episcopal Church at Plymouth officially will be celebrating its 100th anniversary on Thursday, June 9.

A service of thanksgiving (solemn vespers) is scheduled for 8 p.m., the Bishop of the Diocese of Northern Indiana having already celebrated the Holy Eucharist in honor of the centennial.

First Service In 1838

The first service of the Episcopal Church in Marshall County was held at Plymouth as early as 1838, but services and sacraments were not available on a regular basis until 1856.

From 1856 until 1860 — when the parish was formed — the priest from LaPorte rode 7 hours each way on horseback twice a month. He took care of the spiritual needs of 14 people at that time!

First Pastor and Officers

The Rev. Louis P. Tschiffey was the first resident priest and Rector of St. Thomas'.

The first wardens and vestrymen were: Gilson S. Cleveland (senior), M. A. O. Packard (junior), Charles Palmer, Thomas McDonald, and John G. Osborn (vestrymen). All were active in the life of the community.

Mr. McDonald founded The Plymouth Democrat in 1855, and was the first Marshall County Superintendent of Schools.

Another early vestryman, Horace Corbin, became the first Mayor of Plymouth. He was elected on a non-partisan basis. Later, Mr. Corbin was the first State Senator for St. Joseph and Marshall Counties.

Beautiful Parish Church

St. Thomas' possesses a beautiful Indiana limestone church of Gothic architecture. It was built in 1905 to replace the original (1861) white frame building. The beauty of the structure is known throughout the diocese — and beyond.

There are many memorials. A striking rood screen and "Calvary Group" (carved by the great artists from Oberammergau) is outstanding. At present there are 12 stained glass windows from world-famed Chartres, France. More memorial windows are being added each year. A number of the eucharistic vestments have been made by the Episcopal Sisters of the Holy Nativity in Wisconsin and are considered to be outstanding.

A World-Wide Communion

St. Thomas' is one of 7,485 Episcopal (Anglican) parishes in the United States. There are about 40 million Episcopalians in the world-wide Anglican Communion. The Eucharist is celebrated in more than 100 languages and dialects in 30 countries. More than 3½ million Episcopalians live in the United States.

Dates Back To 29 A.D.

Theologically, the Episcopal Church claims to be a small, but genuine, part of the One, Holy, Catholic and Apostolic Church founded at Pentecost in 29 A.D. and brought to ancient Britain before 100 A.D.

From the 6th Century until the 16th Century it was merged with the "Roman Mission" of St. Augustine of Canterbury.

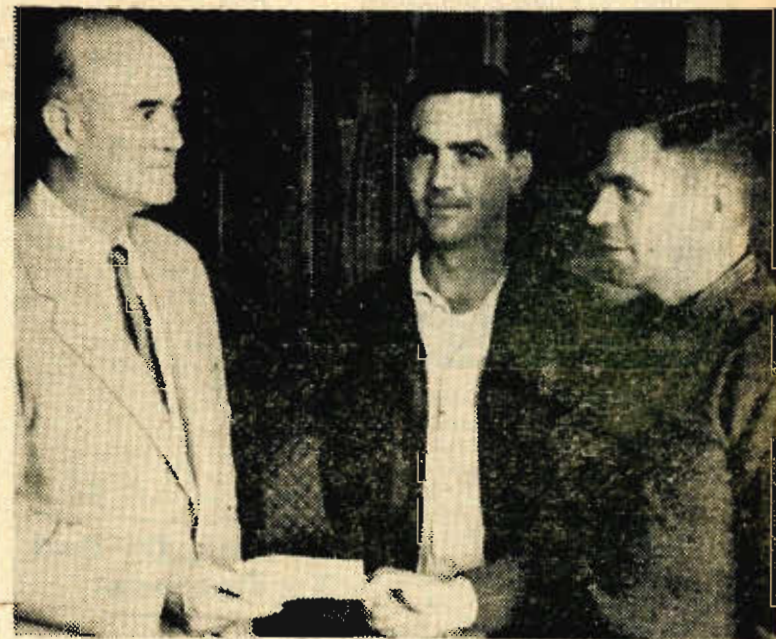

After the English Reformation it reverted to its former status as an independent national Catholic Church — now reformed.

All regional sister churches of the Anglican Communion (Japan, India, Scotland, etc.) trace their Apostolic Succession through the Archbishop of Canterbury.

The Archbishop of Canterbury is "first among equals" among the hundreds of Anglican archbishops and bishops on almost every continent and is the titular head of the Anglican Communion.

"Miss Plymouth" Pageant Set For June 15-16

Tommye Glaze Is Culver's Entry

Eighteen lovely and talented Marshall County girls, including Miss Tommye Lou Glaze of Culver, on Wednesday and Thursday, June 15 and 16, will vie for the coveted title of "Miss Plymouth" in a notable competition at Centennial Auditorium which could possibly lead to the winner's selection as "Miss Indiana" at Michigan City on July 9 and as "Miss America" at Atlantic City in September.

The "Miss Plymouth" pageant, sponsored annually by that city's livewire Chamber of Commerce, is being staged under the expert direction of Paul Swearingen and Manfred VanGilder, co-chairmen.

Won Contest In 1958

Miss Glaze, gifted daughter of Mrs. Helen Glaze of 702 College Avenue, captured the "Miss Plymouth" title two years ago and then walked off with the "Best Talent Award" in the all-state contest at Michigan City. She could not participate in the 1959 contests because of her selection as a member of the Belles of Indiana, noted Indiana University choral group, which toured Europe. Tommye has just completed her junior year at I.U.

Sponsored By Magazine

Tommye Lou is sponsored this year by the Culver-based monthly magazine, Indiana Business and Industry, which this month is observing its third anniversary of successful publication under the editorship of Chester W. Cleveland.

Snyder Chevrolet Cooperating

Lester C. Snyder, owner of Snyder Chevrolet Sales of Culver, is providing the brand-new convertible in which Miss Glaze will ride from Centennial Park through the main streets of the county seat at 8:45 p.m. Thursday in advance of the crowning of the new "Miss Plymouth" at 8 p.m.

Monsanto Head Addresses 179 CMA Grads

Commencement A Brilliant Affair

Members of the graduating class at Culver Military Academy were told they may experience one of the true turning points in history and will be expected to do their parts in the great performance which will unfold in the years ahead.

The forceful and distinguished speaker was Dr. Charles A. Thomas, chairman of the board of the huge Monsanto Chemical Company of St. Louis.

He addressed 179 graduation candidates, the faculty, and 1,200 parents and friends at the noted college preparatory school's 66th annual Commencement Convocation on Monday.

High Praise For CMA

In his opening remarks he referred to Culver Military Academy as one of the country's greatest educational assets.

Dr. Thomas said: "One thing is clear — there can be no progress without change — but equally important to remember is that all changes are not necessarily progressive. The next 40 years will bring drastic changes, many of which you will have a hand in."

"The Culver class of 1960," he continued, "may very well see man-made structures on the face of the moon, and a time when mankind will visit nearby planets. Some of you . . . may be making some of these trips."

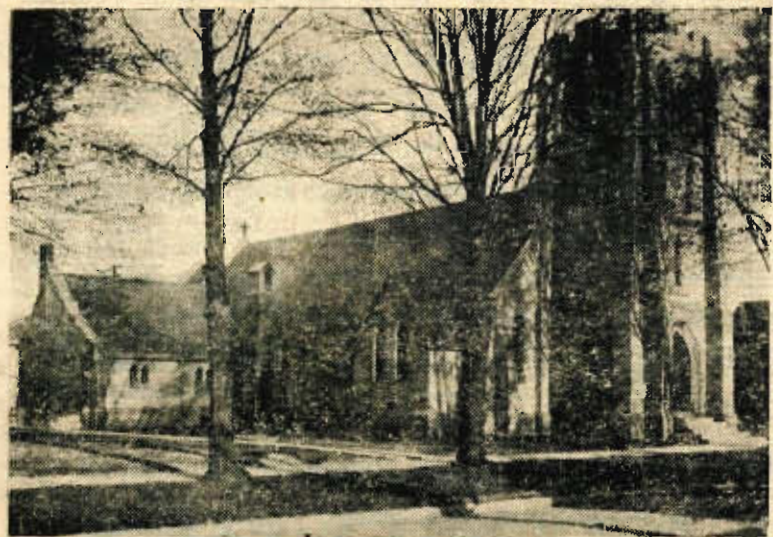

"Through better education of our people," Dr. Thomas said, "we can create a force which can rise to this challenge in the condensed and complicated period ahead of you. Modern society, subjected to increasing forms of propaganda, promises and controversial issues, must make complex decisions and judgments, and this can only be done by a better educated people."

"I doubt that most Americans recognize the extraordinary extent to which education has become the central figure in our national life. It is no longer at the edge of things — it is in the middle of the stage."

Friends may call at the Easterday Funeral Home.

Church Of God To Remodel

For a number of years the members of the Burr Oak Church of God have been working towards a remodeling and "face-lifting" job for the church. It has been announced by the Church Board that plans have now been completed for this project which is estimated to cost between $13,000 and $14,000. Actual construction has been scheduled for the week of June 13.

For some time the red brick has been loosening from the sides of the building. The wisest procedure seemed to be to remove the loose brick completely so it was decided to replace it with Indiana Limestone.

As long as this much construction was being undertaken, it was further agreed upon to enlarge the building somewhat, providing for additional classroom space and making the entry way more spacious. Plans also provide for a more convenient basement entrance from the front, new windows, and a modern steeple.

Saturday night the members attended a "kick-off" dinner in the church's social rooms. The evening's program included a "candlelight and flowers" dinner, special music, and a comic hat style show.

The building project was launched and an artists type drawing of the proposed building was presented, with all areas colored for which money was already appropriated. Treasurer Mrs. Burton Peete, Plymouth, announced that one-third of the cost had already been received.

Harold Woolington, Kewanee, is the contractor who will be carrying out this latest project of the Burr Oak Church of God.

Trustee Benedict Explains Dropping Of Summer School

In keeping with Union Township's policy of providing adequate and progressive education, a tuition-free summer school was offered to local students this year, but was dropped due to insufficient enrollment, according to Trustee Eugene G. Benedict.

The purpose of the proposed summer school was to strengthen the students in the fields of science, mathematics, and English, with commercial subjects also being offered.

Many summer schools require the students to pay tuition costs, but school officials proposed that the township bear the costs of operating the school.

Most of the interest was in English composition with 16 students enrolled, nine indicated interest in biology, 11 in typing, five in remedial arithmetic, three in shorthand, two in chemistry, and four in solid geometry.

School officials plan to offer the summer school again next year and hope that there will be sufficient enrollment to give the community its first summer school in many years.

ROSES IN BLOOM AT INTERNATIONAL FRIENDSHIP GARDENS
MICHIGAN CITY — By Sunday, hundreds of roses will be in bloom in the International Friendship Gardens here.
Mrs. Sadie Stauffer Ehret, manager, predicts that the Persian rose garden will be a thing of beauty. A good many roses are already open and they have an infinite variety of colors. Roses will continue to bloom throughout the summer.

Many other flowers are also in bloom. Evergreen hedges and trees are delicate shades of green from recent rains.

"Take your time," advises Mrs. Ehret. "Don't hurry through the gardens, defying the flowers to grab your attention. Beauty is everywhere, if you look for it."

CLEVELANDS MOVE FROM SAMS' GUEST HOUSE TO CULLOM APARTMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Cleveland are currently residing in the comfortable Paul C. Cullom garage apartment at 1380 East Shore Drive, next door to their home near Maxinkuckee Landing, which was completely gutted by a near tragic fire last Feb. 1.

Their telephone number is VIKING 2-2172, the same as listed in the new directory.

After the long delay in the settlement of their insurance claim, the Clevelands began their rebuilding program on Monday which it is estimated will require most of the summer.

From the date of the fire until June 1, the Clevelands enjoyed living at the Howard W. Sams' attractive guest house at 447 South Shore Drive. They are most appreciative of the generosity of their fellow publisher from Indianapolis.

Romine Campaign Manager For F. Jay Nimitz

Seeks To Regain Seat In Congress

OTIS S. ROMINE
Studebaker-Packard Engineer

WASHINGTON, D. C. — F. Jay Nimitz, Republican candidate for Congress in Indiana's 3rd District, has named Otis S. Romine as his campaign manager for 1960.

Nimitz is currently serving a two-week active duty tour with the Army Reserve in the Provost General's Office in the Pentagon here.

Romine is a native of South Bend and an engineer for the Studebaker-Packard Corporation. He lives at 19221 Summers Drive, Clay Township, and was recently elected president of the Clay Township Republican Club. In recent years he has been active in the Jaycees on a local, state, and national level.

In accepting the appointment Romine said, "The citizens of the Third District want and need some answers to the question, 'Have we been represented properly in Congress the last two years and who can better represent us in the years ahead?'"

"The election campaign of F. Jay Nimitz is already under way and a team of energetic, dedicated people are already working hard to return F. Jay Nimitz to Congress and provide the 3rd District with the able, effective representation to which they are entitled.

Hard-Hitting Campaign

"Our campaign will be hard-hitting and complete. The 3rd District needs a Congressman who is interested in the 3rd District and not his own political ambitions. The people of Elkhart, Marshall, LaPorte, and St. Joseph Counties deserve better representation and they'll get better representation from F. Jay Nimitz.

"In view of the recent developments on the international scene, I think the majority of 3rd District voters were shocked when John Brademas signed the letter condemning President Eisenhower for his firm actions at the summit conference. I also think that the majority of our citizens when they vote in November will resent the Adlai Stevensons and Brademas who took this tense moment in our nation's conflict with Communism to advance their personal political aspirations."

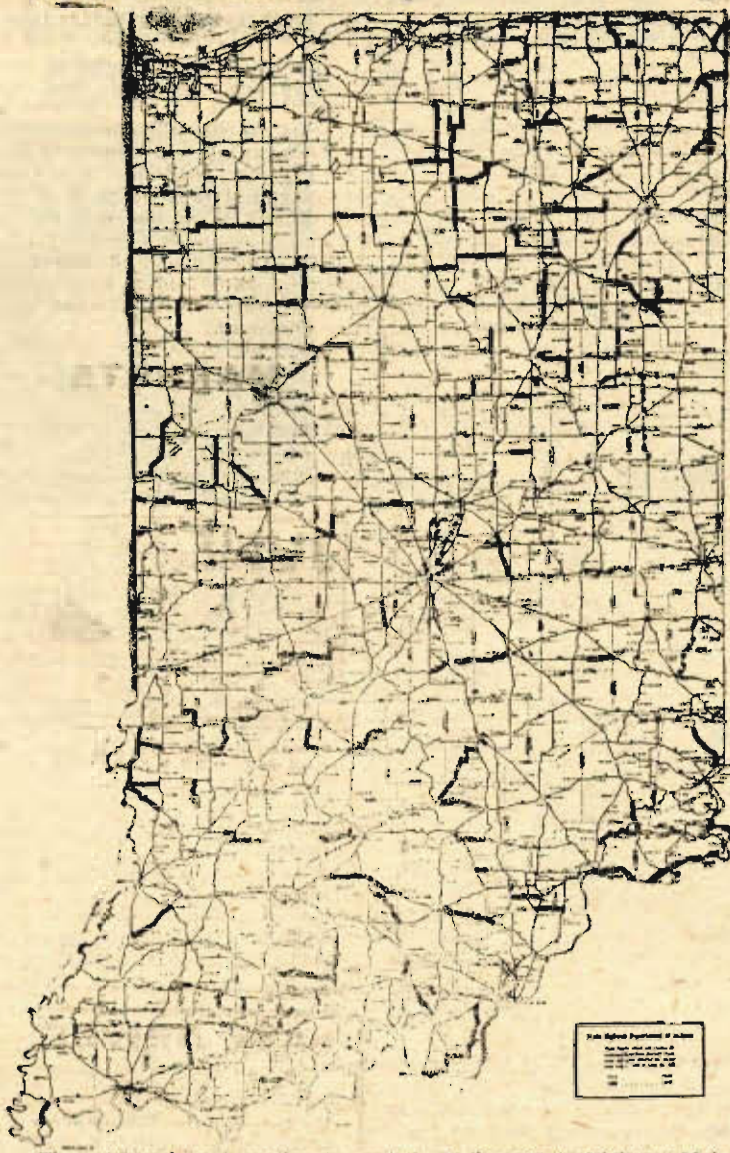

Mr. and Mrs. Meel Crabb and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Crabb spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Crabb and daughters at Maywood, Ill.

1960 Maintenance Program in Full Swing

The return of good weather has set the Indiana State Highway Maintenance Department's surface treatment program in full swing according to Chairman John Polak, who announces bituminous surface treatment on more than 1,200 miles of state highways. Bids on 350 miles of bituminous motor paving resurfacing, along with another 175 miles of plant mix road resurfacing in place, have been let to date.

Just-released figures show a savings of over $300.00 per mile over last year's cost in the bituminous resurfacing of 350 road miles of motor paver work, while the 175 miles of plant mix road building is costing an estimated $10,000.00 per mile. The bituminous surface treatment in this year's contracts have averaged $4,811.00 per mile.

Mowing of road-right-of-way and patching operations are now in progress. The heavy ice and snow storms that struck Indiana in February and March alone required more than a million dollars in chemicals, abrasives and special equipment; this money would ordinarily have gone for resurfacing maintenance.

45 Bridge-widening and construction contracts have been let by the Maintenance Department in early 1960 at a total contract price of $215,025.19; some detour structures are involved. Plans are now ready for another 42 bridges on Indiana highways to be widened by the Precast Concrete Slab method as an essential part of Governor Harold Handley's safety program for Hoosier drivers.

Work is being pushed on macadam shoulder stabilization, centerlining, and edge lining as part of the safety program. Herbicide control treatment along some 1,600 miles of our State roads is also going on. Bids will be received June 7th on painting 95 structures at an estimated cost of $250,000.00.

Our map shows only the road programs.

PHILIP H. WILKIE WITHDRAWS AS G. O. P. STATE CANDIDATE

Last night at Fort Wayne Philip H. Wilkie withdrew from the four-man race for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor, leaving the field to Alvin C. Cast, Richard O. Ristine, and Robert S. Webb at the June 24 state convention.

Wilkie, Rushville attorney and banker, son of the late Presidential nominee Wendell L. Wilkie, may be drafted for the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction — an office for which he is eminently qualified. In The Citizen's opinion, he is a real expert on what is wrong with our local and state school setup.

VISIT FATHER LENK

Edward T. Schele of Fort Wayne, and his son, David, CMA '59, spent the weekend at the lake cottage of Rev. Joseph A. Lenk. Mr. Schele is secretary-treasurer of the Central Soya Co. Mrs. Schele is now touring Europe with seven other Fort Wayne ladies.

Episcopal Church 100 Years Old

Priests May Marry

Priests in the Episcopal Church — in accordance with primitive canon law — may marry. There are also numerous religious orders for men and women living under the traditional monastic vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience. The nearest order to Marshall County is a Benedictine Priory in Southern Michigan.

The sacraments of the Gospel and the early church are part of the inheritance of Episcopalians: Holy Baptism and the Holy Eucharist (necessary in all cases) — Holy Penance, Holy Confirmation, Holy Ordination, Holy Marriage, and Holy Unction — for the special needs of people.

The Episcopal Church treasures the profound and final truths of the Catholic and Apostolic Religion from the days of its primitive purity and vision. But in the liberal spirit of devotion to "the truth that makes men free", she has not been blind to the contributions made to the knowledge of God and the devout lives of men by the churches of the post-Reformation origin. She has no "conflict with science" because she recognizes, as must all thinking men, the discoveries of the sciences and the gifts of the arts as part of God's revelation to His children.

Alumnus Presents Two Historical Gifts To CMA

Two gifts steeped in historical significance have been made to Culver Military Academy.

The gifts are a silver shekel — a coin which was in general circulation in Palestine during the time of Christ — and a portion of a franked envelope signed by George Washington while he was president of the United States — framed along with an original engraved portrait of Washington.

Both gifts were made by a Culver alumnus, W. Atlee Burpee Jr., of Philadelphia. Burpee was graduated from the Academy in 1913. He is vice president and treasurer of the W. Atlee Burpee Co.

Both items have been appraised as genuine by Mabel Zahn, of Charles Sessler, Inc., in Philadelphia. They will be displayed in the founder's room of the Academy's Memorial Library.

D. C. Baranski, Curator of the American University of Beirut, in Lebanon, had this to say about the shekel: "The coin... is a well-known coin of Tyre, which was struck between 126 BC and 100 AD.

"On the obverse it has the head of Melkarth, a Phoenician deity who was principally worshipped at Tyre, wearing a lion's skin knotted at the neck.

"It is generally believed that it (a coin of this type) was one of the 30 pieces of silver for which Judas Iscariot betrayed Christ.

GARY MAN FINED $47 FOR TOO FEW BOAT LIFE PRESERVERS

John Czupko, age 24, of Gary, was fined $47 in social justice of the peace court for having an insufficient number of life preservers in his boat on Lake Maxinkuckee.

Mrs. Myers said only one small boy stopped briefly to look at the poster portraying a gaily clad toreador goading a ferocious bull.

The Week With Governor Handley

$1 Billion Of New Industrial Contracts!

INDIANAPOLIS, June 6 — "More than one billion dollars of new industrial construction contracts have been awarded in Indiana in the last four years," Governor Harold W. Handley announced today.

"This great increase in industrial capacity means good, steady jobs for many more Hoosiers," Governor Handley explained. "These plants have the latest equipment and their payrolls will not be subject to the cutbacks now going on in numerous places where antiquated machinery is being replaced and the working force is being reduced."

"Our Indiana employment situation is excellent except for temporary situations in a very few communities, and our industrial expansion is the phenomenon of the business world."

Indiana Leads Nation
"For seven consecutive years Indiana has led the nation in per capita industrial plant expansion by a very wide margin. The total for the four years from 1956 through 1959 has now reached $1,073,498,000. These are not our figures; they come from the construction industry itself."

"But we do have official Indiana yardsticks which measure employment very well. I am not relying alone on the current unemployment figures, which are encouragingly low. I refer to the number of employers who file Indiana gross income tax withholding reports."

Big Gain In Employers
"In the third quarter of 1957 there were 34,560 such employers reporting. In the first quarter of 1960 there were 41,000. This demonstrates that we have a big increase in the number of employers."

"I am very proud, also, that this is a record of progress made by Indiana in peacetime. These are not war boom years. They are years of productive effort for peacetime consumers. In those years the national expenditure for military preparedness has been reduced because we are now concentrating on space missiles, etc."

Governor Handley said that "in the first 3 1/2 years of this state administration Indiana has done more state highway construction than in 16 previous years. And by the end of this year we will have done more than in the 20 previous years."

Every Penny Spent As Promised

"We are spending every single penny of Indiana gasoline tax revenue on state highways, county roads, and city streets. Moreover, each state project is matched by federal funds, and is under the same strict supervision which the U. S. Bureau of Roads exercises in all states."

"If there were anything wrong with Indiana highway construction you would hear about it from Washington. To say that Indiana

Present Recital At Eppley Auditorium

Mrs. Robert Ott's students in grades 1, 3, 5, 7, 9, and 11, and Mrs. Bryce Bigley's students will be featured at 1:30. At 3 p.m. Mrs. Ott's students in grades 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, and 12, and those of Shari Yocom and Jean Warner will be presented.

Participating in the recital will be Patty Overmyer, Lela Donnelly, Bonny Thompson, Beverly Kline, Sara and David Hoesel, Mary Beth and June Ives, Carol Kline, Linda Dinsmore, Elaine Epley, Donna K. The public is cordially invited to attend the recital.

highways cost more than they should compared with other states is a misrepresentation.

"Actually Indiana is better off than all of those states which have gone into debt up to their ears to issue highway bonds. Every mile of our highways are paid for as they are built. There is not a single Indiana bond issue involved."

Governor Handley participated last Wednesday in selection by drawing of the names of Hoosier school superintendents who will be honored on Teachers' Day — September 1 — at the Indiana State Fair.

On Friday he was the speaker at the commencement of the Indiana School for the Deaf.

With President East Sunday
Governor and Mrs. Handley met John E. Diefenbaker, prime minister of Canada, at the Indianapolis airport Sunday morning, and then they flew to South Bend to attend the commencement exercises of the University of Notre Dame, at which President Eisenhower was the speaker and received an honorary degree.

Governor Handley on Monday participated in the Indiana University commencement and then flew to Parke County to dedicate the new Mansfield Reservoir, which is an important unit in the extensive Indiana program for water conservation and flood control.

The Governor will resume this week a continuing personal tour of various Indiana state institutions similar to that he made in the previous three years of his administration. It will include hospitals and penal institutions.

HIS NEW BUGLE

Just Kidding The Old Folks!

Robberies took place last night in Kokomo, Montgomery, Santa Rosa, Portland. There were muggings in Helena, Richmond, Phoenix, and Indianapolis. Assaults, thefts, and murders occurred in hundreds of other places.

Obviously crime is a nationwide problem. Since local efforts haven't stopped it, maybe Congress should step in and set up a Federal program to take care of the situation.

This reasoning makes the same kind of sense as that behind the controversial Forand Bill.

In hundreds of places across the United States there are indigent old people who need medical care. Despite public and private efforts at state and local levels, the problem exists. Therefore, say the Forand Bill supporters, the Federal Government should step in.

We say this problem, like crime, is one for the local communities to handle. They may never solve it completely, but they'll come a whole lot closer than an expensive, bureaucratic, red tape ensnared effort by the Federal Government in Washington, D. C.

This Congressman Very Critical Of Post Office Department

Washington, D. C.

Editor, CITIZEN:

Postmaster General Summerfield and the President have just loosed on the press such a mass of erroneous statistics regarding postal rates and deficits that I feel compelled to point out the more serious distortions.

In his recent message to the Congress urging further postal rate increases, the President stated that the total postal deficit in the period between 1946 and 1959 totaled $6,800,000,000. He neglected to say that a very large portion of this so-called deficit consisted of legitimate expenditures for worthwhile functions of government.

During the period of 1946-53, for instance, the Post Office was charged with 40 million dollars annually for frank and penalty mail, and 70 million dollars annually for the Federal airmail subsidy. In a simple bookkeeping transaction, these charges were transferred from the Post Office to other agencies of government in 1953, yet the administration would have the American people believe that the users of the mail caused these deficits during the years 1946 through 1953.

Two years ago, Congress adopted a policy for the Post Office which requires the separation from the deficit of those expenditures made in the public interest. I refer to such items as free mail for the blind, the low rates charged for books and other educational material, many non-postal services such as the registration of aliens, etc. These public service charges existed all during the period of 1946-59. A minimum estimate of their annual cost would be 250 million dollars, or a total of $3,200,000,000. That sum should be deducted from the administration's phony deficit figures of $6,800,000,000.

When he assumed his cabinet post in 1953, Mr. Summerfield claimed that he would eliminate 200 million dollars of waste annually from the Post Office and, at the same time, speed mail delivery. He has not, as the average citizen well knows, accomplished either goal.

tration's program of rate increases at this time would only add to the inflationary spiral and impose an unjustifiable burden on many mail users, particularly postal patrons who use first class and airmail. By the department's own admission these categories of mail presently show a substantial profit.

It is high time we had a Postmaster General who would present an accurate picture of the Post Office's financial situation.

Khrushchev's Asinine Conduct At Summit Meet

Is He Just Plain Nuts?

By ROGER W. BABSON

No. 1 U. S. Economist
BABSON PARK, MASS. — It does not seem reasonable that the Summit Conference of the four largest world governments broke up suddenly in a turmoil without a cause.

Khrushchev must have known for a long time that we were flying spy planes over Russia and that it was a routine thing with our Intelligence Service.

Surely it could not have been the real reason for the Summit Conference breakup.

Something else must have happened to cause Khrushchev to give President Eisenhower an ultimatum and demand the object apology which Khrushchev, of course, knew he would not get.

Everybody Surprised
It also was a general surprise when President Eisenhower indicated that the U-2 spying would be suspended, at least for the time being, though many interpret this as a final cancellation.

Many rumors are flying in the various capital cities as to the reasons for the collapse of the Summit Conference and the calling off of the spying.

When I was in Moscow a short time ago, I heard the United States bases discussed.

The United States, it was said, was depending mainly upon these missile bases which surround the Russian empire.

Furthermore, it was understood that in the event of the outbreak of World War III, these missile bases would be the first targets of attack; that is, Russia would first try to destroy these.

Also while in Russia, I heard that the U.S. bombers were to be gradually withdrawn following the U.S. Defense Department's disagreement as to whether we should depend upon bombers or upon missiles and rockets.

Another Compromise?
This may have been another "Eisenhower compromise."

Also when in Russia, I heard much about rocketry and missilery. Rockets are necessary to perform stunts in space, such as going around the moon; but there are various types of missiles that are sufficient for fighting on land or water.

They can be fired from East Germany to any city in the United States, or from any of our cities to Russia.

Why Demand For Apology?
What may have made Khrushchev so ugly and insistent on an apology from Eisenhower is that he was just learning of these mobile bases.

For instance, now most rocket bases are fixed.

Eisenhower, however, was probably informed that the mobile rocket bases are a practical success. If this is true, the United States may have no further need of spies to discover rocket bases in Russia.

Furthermore, the United States may be able to give up rocket bases in countries now surrounding Russia.

The land-based mobile rocket will work as follows: Instead of being on a fixed foundation, it will be on a heavy weighted car operating on heavy rails. This mobile base could be moved each night so that it would be constantly in a different location. Some nights it might be moved only 25 miles, other nights 100 miles. Furthermore, at junction points, it could be shifted

New Stamp

JULY 4, 1960

U.S. POSTAGE

Postal authorities are doing their bit to familiarize the American public with their new 50-star flag, when it becomes official. Design for the new commemorative stamp to mark the occasion is shown above.

other railroad.

Of course, Russia will also adopt mobile bases, but she has no such railway systems as we have. This would make the work of both the United States and Russian spies more difficult and dangerous.

S.O.B. (Son of Bolshevik)
Khrushchev probably had news from Moscow which caused him to destroy the meeting before it opened.

It may have been some action of the Presidium directly after he left Moscow, or he may have felt that some other man was looking for his job and he had to be home to protect it.

He may have heard that the younger element in Moscow is getting aroused, as in other countries, demanding reduced armament expenditures so that they may have more consumer goods.

He may have been informed before the meeting that he would not get satisfactory action on Berlin.

Finally, Khrushchev must have been eager to get home to speed work on his submarine fleet, submarines will eventually take the place of all land bases, fixed or mobile.

The Chinese Government, to my have passed along threats to him which he could not ignore.

At any rate, knowing he was blocked on all the most critical subjects, he saw that it would be impossible to get any agreement on a reduction of armaments.

HOOSIER HAPPENINGS

By Harold Hanson

HI NEIGHBOR - A Delphi citizen who had reported his automobile stolen hurried to police headquarters to file charges when officers informed him his car had been recovered and that the "culprit" was in jail. At the jail he found a neighbor discussing the case with officers. It turned out that the neighbor was having his own car repaired and had accepted the offer of a fellow officer worker to loan him her car. The man took her keys, found a car that resembled hers in a parking lot, the keys fitted and he drove off. But it was the wrong car. Police given the license number of the car reported stolen soon found it parked on a street, belonging to an erring driver and took him in. After explanations all around the case was no hard feelings and police marked the case closed.

HIS HONOR PAYS - When Noblesville Patrolman William Adair found Mayor Dale Hershew's car standing by a parking meter on which the time had expired he was in a quandary. The officer wasn't sure whether the mayor was testing the efficiency of the police department. Adair decided to perform his duty and he ticketed the car. He's still on the force. The mayor paid without fuss the fine for overtime parking.

CASE CLOSED - It didn't take two Marion patrolmen long to round up a prowler reported in the yard of a home on West 14th Street. The "culprit" was a five-year-old boy gathering night crawlers for a projected fishing trip the next day. The officer took him to his home nearby and his parents put him to bed.

Wheat Growers Vote July 21 On 1961 Program

Chairman, Carl W. Price of the Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee today announced that the annual marketing quota referendum for wheat growers will be held July 21 as the first step in the wheat program for 1961 required by present law.

The purpose of the referendum is to determine whether or not wheat growers wish to market their 1961-crop wheat under a marketing quota system. Quotas have been proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture, as required whenever the wheat supply is more than 20 per cent above normal. They will take effect if approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum.

In proclaiming quotas for 1961, the Secretary established the national acreage allotment for the minimum of 55 million acres permitted by law. Of this 1,126,379 acres were allotted to Indiana, from which local wheat farmers will receive individual farm allotments before voting on the referendum.

The Secretary also announced that the minimum national average support price for 1961 wheat will be made known before the referendum on the basis of the latest available supply information. Based on the present wheat supply and the present law, the legal minimum wheat support for 1961 would be 75 percent of parity, the same percentage as this year.

If marketing quotas take effect, a grower who complies with his allotment will be entitled to market his total 1961 wheat crop without penalty and will be eligible for price support at the full rate.

A grower who exceeds his acreage allotment will be ineligible for price support and will also be subject to marketing quota penalties if he harvests more than 15 acres of wheat. A grower who obtains approval to produce 30 acres or less of wheat to be used exclusively on the farm will not be subject to penalties.

If marketing quotas are disapproved in the July referendum, all wheat produced will be eligible for marketing without penalty. Price support will be available at 50 per cent of parity to those who comply with their acreage allotments.

Voting in the referendum will be done at polling places to be announced later by the county ASC committee. Every wheat grower who expects to have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest in 1961 will be eligible to vote, except those who participated in the up-to-30-acre feed wheat program in 1960.

The wheat referendum is required, Chairman Carl W. Price said, by the fact that the national wheat supply is at almost twice the normal level. If quotas are approved for 1961, this will be the eighth successive year in which they have been used for wheat.

Wheat Marketing Quota Penalty Is $1.08

The marketing quota penalty rate on 1960-crop wheat will be $1.08 per bushel, Carl W. Price of the Marshall Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today. As directed by law, the penalty is set at 45% of the May 1 parity price, which was $2.39 per bushel.

With wheat marketing quotas in effect for the 1960 crop, a farmer who exceeds his acreage allotment will be subject to a penalty at the announced rate on his excess production, unless he harvests 15 acres or less or has signed on agreement permitting him to produce up to 30 acres of wheat for food, feed, or seed use on the farm.

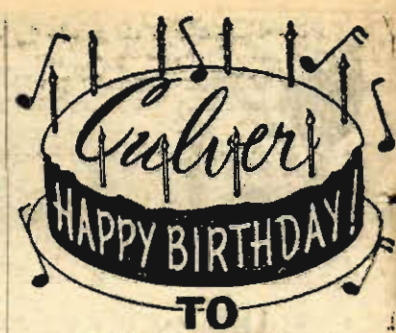

In general, excess wheat production is the normal production or the actual production, whichever is smaller, of any acreage in excess of the acreage allotment. After penalty is paid on the excess, the entire wheat crop on the farm may be marketed. As an alternative, the excess production may be stored under bond or delivered to the Secretary of Agriculture.

WOMAN DRIVER KNOCKS OVER GAS STATION PUMP; CAUSES FIRE

At 9:42 this morning, just as The Citizen was going to press, the Fire Department made a fast short run to the Oklahoma Oil Company's service station on Lake Shore Drive to extinguish a gasoline fire.

It all happened when a woman driver — name not certain at this writing — knocked over one of the four pumps as she drove in for service.
