More Old Fashioned Remedies From Indiana Households (Second Installment)

MANY A HOOSIER pioneer smelled strongly of garlic, but the rank odor wasn't on his breath. It came from a secreted pouch of yesteryear's "vaccine" — asafetida.

AL SPIERS

Asafetida, the fetid gum resin of various Persian and East Indian plants, was probably the most common "preventive" home remedy of bygone days. Usually carried in a bag dangled from the neck, it was supposed to keep diseases away.

WHY? HISTORIANS aren't sure — but anyone who has sniffed asafetida can make a good guess. No fastidious germ would come near the smelly stuff.

Whatever its power, asafetida was as popular in great-grandma's day as those well-known spring blood "purifiers" — sassafras tea, sulphur and molasses, or a brew of yellow root, burdock root and prickly ash bark.

Moreover, this odiferous goo was mild compared with many other pioneer home remedies calculated to prevent ailments, cure abnormalities, or treat external hurts.

FOR EXAMPLE, a poultice of fresh cow manure was deemed just the thing to keep infection out of an open wound.

Others preferred to apply the still-warm entrails of a freshly killed chicken. Obstinate ulcers were bathed with sugar dissolved in walnut juice.

WARTS MUST HAVE plagued our Hoosier ancestors because they concocted oodles of ways to get rid of 'em. Some samples:

1. Break off head of match, press into wart, ignite and let burn.

2. Pick wart with pin until it bleeds. Stick pin in tree. Whoever finds pin gets wart.

3. Apply grasshopper's "tobacco" spit to wart.

4. Put stump water on wart at midnight.

5. Fry chicken feet, rub wart with same, and bury under roof where rain water runs down.

6. Steal dish rag, rub wart, hide rag in tree stump. Wart will go away.

RUNTY BABIES WERE also a problem — but there were ways to make 'em grow to wit:

1. Have powwow woman measure child with looped string. Bury string. When string decays, child grows.

2. Split standing shellbark hickory tree, wedge opening big enough to pass baby through, then knock out wedges. If tree split heals, baby will grow.

3. Push child between trunks of two trees grown together near their tops.

BULLETIN

A folder containing approximately $300 to $400 in cash and an equal amount in checks was stolen from Gretter's store about 1:30 p.m. today.

The folder was kept on the desk in Mr. Gretter's office back of the meat department. It was discovered missing a short time after two strange, foreign-looking men were in the store while Mr. Gretter was arranging frozen food in the freezer. Please notify Gretter's if you have written them a check since Oct. 17.

Mrs. Otis R. Bowen Of Bremen Is Named Membership Chairman Of Republican Women's Organization

BETH BOWEN — OUTSTANDING MARSHALL COUNTY HOUSEWIFE

Marshall County Republican headquarters have announced the appointment of Mrs. Otis R. Bowen as membership chairman for the county G.O.P. women's organization.

Mrs. Bowen is the wife of the prominent Dr. Bowen of Bremen, who is seeking his old seat in the State Legislature as Marshall County Representative.

Beth was born in Chicago, but reared in Crown Point, Ind. She is a graduate of Crown Point High School and the Gary Business College. From 1937 to 1949, Beth worked for the Farm Security Administration. In 1939 she married Otis Bowen, then a medical student. While her husband finished medical school and internship, Beth worked as a civil service employee. During the Doctor's service in the armed forces, Beth traveled with him across the United States as far as Palm Springs, Calif., returning home to Crown Point to wait for his return from overseas duty.

Moved To Bremen In 1946

In 1946 the Bowens moved to Bremen, where Dr. Bowen set up his now extensive practice. The Bowens are the parents of four fine children: Rick, 16; Judy, 13; Tim, 12; and Robby, 8.

A member of the P.T.A. and St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Beth is and has been very active in her community. She was president of the women's auxiliary of the Marshall County Medical Society in 1950; president of the Bremen Mother's Club in 1954; Today's Health state chairman of the Indiana State Medical Association in 1955-57; and State Legislative chairman of the Indiana State Medical Association in 1957-1961.

Known as one of the best cooks in German Township, Beth is also interested in needlepoint and sewing. She is conscientious and friendly, and is considered a great help and asset to Dr. Bowen in his political career.

Mrs. Bowen says: "During the Doctor's campaigns for public office, I miss being with my children, but I feel very strongly that the time I devote to the Republican cause will benefit not only my children, but the other children of the state and county by electing Republican officials to office.

"By no means the least of these benefits is the indisputable fact that conscientious, conservative, budget-minded Republican government officials will not add unnecessarily to the already enormous public debt — the debt that will have to be assumed by our children in their mature years.

"In campaigning for Republican candidates, I keep in mind the fact that I am also campaigning for my children's welfare. It makes it a little easier to devote my time and energies outside of our home."

Trick-Or-Treat For UNICEF Here On October 28

UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund which is observing its 10th anniversary this year, is the world's largest international organization devoted entirely to the health and welfare of children and mothers. UNICEF provides the supplies needed to control and eradicate mass disease, improve nutrition, and equip maternal and child health centers. Self-help is the keystone of the whole enterprise. Assisted countries match UNICEF aid with more than equal expenditures of their own.

Young Americans who will wear a UNICEF tag this fall know that each coin they collect means health and hope for children who would lead a short, sick, and hungry life if they received no help. As an example, one penny will buy five glasses of milk, a nickel will provide enough vaccine to protect five children from tuberculosis, etc.

All those of us who have a sincere desire to help "all the world's children" will have the opportunity to do so Friday, Oct. 28. Locally sponsored by the Maxinkuckee Federated Junior Woman's Club, in co-operation with other Culver organizations, Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF will bring Culver's children to our doorsteps.

Trick-or-Treat for UNICEF will be held during the hours of 6 to 8 p.m. The children will pick up the containers and return them to the library basement.

We, the representatives of the following organizations, respectfully encourage the citizens of this community to observe Friday, Oct. 28, as UNICEF night: Culver Town Board, Culver Lions Club, Maxinkuckee Junior Woman's Club, Culver-Union Township Council of Churches, Brownies, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, the Culver School, Chamber of Commerce, League of Women Voters, and the Culver City Club.

The Gold A is awarded to cadets who average 5.33 quality points, who receive no grade below B-plus in all full-cadet subjects, and who maintain a discipline average of "good" during all three grading periods of the semester. The Gold A's received by MacQuillan and McCullough are for achievements during the second semester of the 1959-60 academic year.

Both cadets have received Gold A's in the past. MacQuillan is a junior, and is attending Culver for the third year. McCullough is a sophomore and is attending his second year at the Academy.

Donnelly Named To Lady Oakes' Academy Chair

ALFRED J. DONNELLY
Mathematics Expert

Alfred J. Donnelly has been appointed to the William Pitt Oakes Chair of Mathematics at Culver Military Academy. It has been announced by Maj. Gen. Delmar T. Spivey, superintendent.

Mr. Donnelly is the first recipient of the Chair established by Lady Eunice M. Oakes, Nassau, Bahamas, in memory of her late son, a 1947 Academy graduate.

On Faculty Since 1937

A member of the Academy faculty since 1937, Mr. Donnelly has been an assistant dean and a mathematics teacher since 1953. As holder of the Oakes Chair, he will devote full time to teaching mathematics.

Mr. Donnelly holds bachelor of science and master of education degrees from Harvard University. He has done advanced work at Purdue University and the University of Chicago.

He is a member of the National Council of Mathematics Teachers, the Midwest Independent Schools Mathematics Teachers Association and Phi Delta Kappa, educational honorary fraternity. Mr. Donnelly joined the Culver faculty in 1937 as a mathematics teacher. From 1942 to 1953 he served in the dual role as counselor to students and a mathematics instructor. He became an assistant dean in 1953. During summers from 1940 to 1957 Mr. Donnelly was a member of the administrative staff of the Culver Woodcraft Camp, serving as associate director and, later, director of instruction.

His wife Barbara and he have a son and two daughters. They reside at 79 North Shore Drive, Culver.

Seventh Endowed Chair

The Oakes Chair is the seventh endowed chair to be authorized at Culver. The other six were given by the Eugene C. Eppley Foundation through the late Eugene C. Eppley, an alumnus of 1901.

"The purposes of the endowed chairs program at Culver are to assure students of the finest available teachers," General Spivey said, "and to provide outstanding teachers with the time, position, and remuneration to do the best possible job of teaching. After consideration of many highly-qualified applicants, we decided the best person for the Oakes Chair is the brilliant educator from the Culver staff, Mr. Donnelly."

Mathematics Stressed

Mathematics is a basic subject at Culver, with the typical student taking two years of algebra, one year of integrated (plane and solid) geometry and a fourth year in branches of mathematics that fit his interest and plans.

The mathematically-inclined students learn analytic geometry and some calculus. The most talented students, working in accelerated sections, do a full year's work in regular college calculus. The mathematics department, consisting of 11 teachers, is headed by Ray C. Jorgensen, an Eppley chairholder.

Culver is a non-profit college preparatory school with an enrollment of approximately 800 boys in grades 8 through 12. In the typical year students come from 40 states and about 15 foreign countries.

PRODUCTION RECORD

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of outstanding official production records by registered Holstein cows in this area as follows:

Culver Lad King Faith 3757127 produced 15,679 pounds milk and 615 pounds butterfat in 365 days on twice daily milking as a six-year-old. Culver Dictator King Cindy 4006640: 16,483 pounds milk and 625 pounds butterfat in 365 days on twice daily milking as a four-year-old. Both are owned by John A. Newman and Sons, Culver.

Purdue University, working in close cooperation with the National Holstein organization, supervised the weighing and testing of production as a part of the official herd testing programs.

DISTAFF SUB - The Greensburg Jaycees are not so sure about the old saying, "It's a man's world." Their softball team had a game scheduled with the local National Guard unit. The National Guard team was short a player and they enlisted the services of a substitute center fielder. The sub proved to be the star of the game by driving in the winning run for the Guardsmen who won 25-24. The sub was Miss Phyllis Linkmeyer, supervisor of girls' summer playground activities.

Nixon Policies Are Outlined in New Book

"We must have the courage to take firm and clear positions on the great issues of our times."

"It is the responsibility of a leader to lead public opinion—not just to follow it."

"We politicians, Republicans and Democrats both, owe it to our country and to the principles we stand for to put on nothing less than a fighting, hard-hitting campaign on the great issues confronting the nation. That is the kind of campaign we are going to have."

These are the words of Vice-President Richard M. Nixon in a new book published this week, The Challenges We Face, compiled by the editors of McGraw-Hill from the speeches and public papers of the Vice-President during the years 1956 to 1960, covers a vast range of leading issues—from personal observations of Khrushchev to civil rights, from U.S. defense policy to a detailed prescription for sustained economic growth. And without equivocation, the Vice-President lays down the guide-lines for a program of action in nearly every major area of public policy.

The publishers have re-arranged and pieced together material drawn entirely from the public record into a consistent presentation of the Vice-President's views to date. The result—officially authorized for publication by the Vice-President—is a systematic statement of Nixon's general philosophy of government and of the major principles on which he bases his policy recommendations.

There are two keynotes to his views. In the area of foreign policy and national defense, it is the principle of "strength for peace and freedom"—maintaining overwhelming American deterrent power "in the cause of freedom, worldwide." "The American challenge in the next half-century," in Nixon's words, "is to fulfill the mission implicit in the . . . American revolutionary tradition" so that "throughout the world, nations have the right to be independent" and "individuals to be free." This "American revolutionary tradition" is, in his view, "the real way of the future."

In the field of domestic policy, the Vice-President affirms his "unshakable faith that the way to achieve our goals is by the free choice of millions of individual consumers" and "by the productive efforts of free management and labor." He argues that our phenomenal national development has been a case of "growth with and because of freedom"—with the role of government one of support and stimulation of individual and private initiative.

Mr. Nixon

VINTAGE CAR - After rebuilding a 1908 automobile Carl Fisher of Route 1, Salem, found it took some doing to get permission to take the car out on the road. Fisher started with the remnants of an '24 car, a car manufactured at Elkhart, Ind., back at the turn of the century, and got it into running condition. He then applied for a license. First the car had to be inspected by State Police and then application had to be made to the late motor vehicle bureau for a special license.

Initiate Nine Into National Honor Society

By Sharon Lindvall and Carol Heiser

4-H: The girls and boys 4-H'ers are awarded a trip each year, if they complete their projects. This year they are going to Indianapolis to see an ice show on Oct. 22, 1960.

PRESS CLUB: Susan Ruhnaw and Margo Overmyer have been appointed as Culver High School reporters for the Plymouth Pilot-News. Their feature stories will appear in Friday's issue on the school page.

National Honor Society: Nine members of the Sophomore class were initiated into National Honor Society Friday morning at a special assembly, 4th period in the study hall. The initiation ceremony was conducted by 13 members of the Senior class, with Earl Mishler, president, presiding. Mr. Cole administered the oath and presented the pins to: Linda Behmer, Cheryl Dillon, Carolee East-erday, Sheryl Hohman, Mary Ann Kemple, Nick Knoerzer, Charlene Lucas, Bonnie Parker, and Dennis Shock. The ten members of the Junior class were on the staff also. The local chapter of the National Honor Society now has a total of 32 members.

Hi-Y: The next meeting is scheduled to be in charge of the program committee: Tom Curtis, Charles Reed, Richard Kuhn, and Sam Medbourn. The refreshment committee is Pete Ott, Ronald Kuhn, and James Parker. These committees are in charge of initiation night. The dance committee is all of the Hi-Y officers.

Sunshine: The Finance Committee had a meeting Oct. 12, and they decided on different ways to make money. Their first job will be selling candy. The Oct. 19 meeting is to be conducted by several Sunshine girls. They will sing songs and Pat Wesson will tell about the book, "Twixt Twelve and Twenty."

Study Hall Traits Revealed

By Sherrill Edgington and Susie Ruhnaw

We thought it would be interesting to hear the way the tribesmen of C.H.S. would like to spend their time in study hall, or maybe they do! We took a survey and came up with the following results. (Maybe you'd better disregard them!)

Charlene Lucas — I refuse to answer on the grounds that my teachers may read this!

Thad Overmyer — What else — talk!

Lana Berger — Trying to keep Mr. Lawson from picking on me.

Larry Miller — You mean in the library, don't you?

Janice Neidlinger — Don't ask me, I haven't any study halls!

Chuck Reed — Leave.

John Benedict — In Mr. Lawson's I attempt to study, then give up and have a good time.

Sheryl Hohman — Just try and guess!

Carmen Gretter — Nothin' and when I'm not doing that, I try to study!

Elouise Tanner — Counting the days and minutes until Gene comes home!

Linda Gibbons — Eat apples!

Cheryl Dillon — Study! (In Mrs. Johnson's anyway!)

Judy Price — Sketch — or try!

Tom Grothaus — If I told you, you would never believe it!

Glenda Dawson — Go to the pencil sharpener!

Shirley Crow — Exchanging the latest gossip!

Tom Curtis — Sleep!

Mary Jane Guise — Study (I guess.)

Cathy Clyne — I haven't quite figured it out yet!

Jim Carter — Trying to find out what the assignment was.

Jane Ann Thomas — If anyone finds out, please let me know!

Paul East — Wait for the bell to ring!

Juniors Will Give Play On October 26

The Culver High School Junior Class is presenting a farce-comedy, "It's a Great Life," Wednesday, Oct. 26, in the Community Building at 8:00 p.m.

The play centers around the Peabody family with Pete Ott, a successful businessman, as the father, and Margo Overmyer, who never knows anything about money, as his wife. Melissa Fisher, their daughter, is always trying to make up her mind whether to marry thrifty Chuck Reed, a banker, or John Benedict, a college sophomore. Their son, Tom Curtis, who loves drumming and shirks school books, drives his father to distraction by having two high school girls, Carol Heiser and Patty Lutz, following him to do his lessons. When Nancy Prosser, the Biology teacher, visits the Peabodys to report that their son is flunking Biology, father decides to run the family himself for a while.

He institutes the Peabody Plan and orders mother to balance the budget, daughter to choose a husband, and sonny to study his own lessons.

The excitement really increases when Sue Ruhnaw, the maid, decides to quit and go to beauty school; Tom Boswell, the family doctor, falls in love with the Peabody daughter; and mother sells the house to Cathy Clynne, the tax assessor, her wealthy sister, Linda Kose, and their lawyer, Mike Overmyer; and son Tom buys "General Custer."

The Junior Class says, "Come to the play and see what happens to the Peabody Plan and how the play ends."

Mr. Wood Likes All Kinds Of Food

By Jean Eikenberry

I found that Donald E. Wood, the freshman English and Spanish teacher, is a very interesting person.

He is a graduate of Madison High School, which is the high school that won the state championship in basketball in 1950. He attended Florida State for three years and was graduated from Hanover college.

This is his first year of teaching and he likes teaching very much so far. He is married, but has no children.

His pet peeve in the classroom is people who chew their gum like a cow chewing her cud. He also dislikes people talking while he is trying to talk in class. His favorite food is any food as long as it is food. His favorite school sport is basketball.

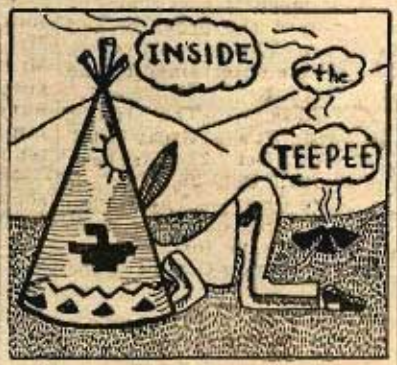

While he was attending high school he had no idea that he would become a teacher. He then started to college after graduating, but it wasn't until his Senior year that he decided to be a teacher. This required an extra year of college.

He has no brothers or sisters. Fortunate or unfortunate, as he stated it.

Welcome to the Culver High School faculty. We are glad you like our school, Mr. Wood.

JEAN CURRY NAMED SECRETARY OF CLASS

Miss Jean Curry, Carleton College sophomore, has been elected secretary of her class for the first semester. Miss Curry, a graduate of Culver Military Academy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Curry, 121 North Terrace, Culver.

The band's trip to Lowell was a real success. Our band is one of the best around, and they certainly proved it Saturday. And Jerry Kimmel proved that his favorite shade nail polish is "Mocha Polka."

Purdue U. has moved to the Culver campus... well, it looked that way, but on closer inspection it seems that it was only a small part of the college. Patty Kline, Jean McCoige, Sharon Lindvall, Carmen, and B.J. always have admired boys with ambitions, high I.Q.s and a way to Culver every now and then!

Mr. Cole certainly is a busy man; he has to rush to school so fast every morning that sometimes he has to use the office for his whisker-remover room.

We can't figure out what those hunched-over people are doing in Sue Muehlhausen's car. Do you suppose that they're comparing notes from civics class or something?

Merrie Kay is walking now, too! It seems that all the Senior boys have something wrong with their cars at some time or another.

Some pretty weird things come to pass in the C.H.S. classrooms. In Senior Math, even though she KNEW the teacher didn't permit munching, Linda Gibbons sneaked a snack of her favorite food, chocolate-covered grasshoppers. Meanwhile, in the Physics lab., Mr. Lawson was falling off of his chair. Mr. Lawson, are you lying down on the job?

The Senior girls are a pretty rough bunch. Sharon Spahr invited some of them over for a slumber party to celebrate Nancy Ervin's birthday and they broke the bed, twice!

The C.H.S. student body would like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Martin and the C.M.A. for the passes to the Friday performance of Miriam Makeba and the Jack Check Quartet.

Last week all the Seniors occupied themselves with watching Mr. Hartung's bird. And the Senior boys actually looked like gentlemen: every one of them was all slicked up at one time or another.

We close with a word to Mr. Hartung: "Please try real hard to make us Seniors look like honest-to-goodness people!"

Cage Practice Is Inaugurated

By Earl Mishler

Well, Hoosier Hysteria is just around the corner again. The try-outs for Varsity and B-Team basketball have been held under the supervision of Head Coach Tom Benbrook and Assistant Coach Jim Cox. The squads have been chosen and the practices have begun to develop toward mid-season form.

Coach Benbrook, who in his first season at Culver, led his forces to a fine season of nine wins and eleven losses, has five lettermen returning to form the nucleus of his second varsity at CHS. These five, who will probably begin the season as the starting unit are: Seniors Larry Davis, Gary Dillon, and Lance Overmyer, and Juniors John Benedict and Tom Boswell. Other seniors on the squad are John Cromley, whose unfortunate automobile accident will delay his first varsity appearance, and Corky Walter, Junior George Baker and Sophomores Wade Logan, Jerry Nelson, Thad Overmyer, and Dennis Shock round out the varsity squad.

Junior Class — The Junior Play entitled "It's a Great Life" scheduled for Oct. 21 has been postponed until Oct. 26.

The Shadow Knows

By Cheryl Dillon

I first met my subject, Miss Charlene Lee Lucas, in her first class, English 10. She greeted me with a smile and proceeded to tell me the latest news about her favorite SOMEBODY! Shortly we were interrupted by the bell; so she focused her attention on Mr. Graham and the daily announcements, after which, Charlene's hand popped up. How could she try out for eighth grade cheerleader if she had a class fourth period? Well . . . it was early in the morning!

In geometry our girl was very busy! Besides answering one of Miss Lindvall's questions, she ate some candy, wrote notes to four different people, and started her homework. On her way out of the room, she commented, "The homework sure was hard!" (I wonder why?) In health and safety, Charlene settled down to study for her six week's test. She must have really concentrated because she breezed right through the exam. She also gave a demonstration on brushing teeth.

La-la-la-la-la, Choir came next. Mr. Boyd should be very proud of her as Charlene has all of the songs memorized. After her lunch, which consisted of an ice cream sandwich, she joined the congregation of students in the study hall, her first words being, "I'm still hungry!" At exactly 12:25 she met with the other Sophomore class officers for a short meeting.

Finally, Charlene's most anticipated 55 minutes, study hall, had arrived. (Study halls are rare in this girl's schedule.) It took her 15 minutes to settle down and really work on her Spanish assignment. She studied diligently for the remainder of the period.

She was unusually solemn in Spanish class. She uninterestedly scribbled down a translation and half-heartedly entered in a discussion on a coming test. She snapped back to her usual self, though, when asked about her feelings on a party. She talked for the rest of the time.

Band was a happy period for Charlene. She played her scales perfectly! (Beginners' luck?) At the end of Charlene's typically hectic day, the Shadow said, "Goodby."

Homer Kemple Retires As Head Of The Academy Tailor Shop; Lyman Morris Named New Manager

Homer Kemple, who has outfitted more than 50,000 boys during his 34-year service as a tailor at Culver Military Academy and Culver Summer Schools, has retired on pension.

Succeeding Kemple as manager of the tailor and dry cleaning shop is the former assistant manager, Lyman Morris. The new manager has served Culver 31 years.

Morris directs a staff of 21 employees. They are responsible for the fitting, dry cleaning, and repair of uniforms for some 825 boys attending Culver Military Academy and 1,500 boys attending Culver Summer Schools. In addition, the department makes a military jacket, trousers, riding breeches, chevrons, and non-varsity letters. It also handles the sale to students of such items as shoes, shirts, gloves, and belts.

Ricciardi To Assist Morris
To assist Morris in his new assignment, Charles Ricciardi has been appointed foreman of tailoring operations.

Kemple has spent his entire career in working with young people. He learned the tailoring craft in a shop at Bloomington, Ind., near the campus of Indiana University. He later worked at the Purdue University tailor shop before coming to Culver.

Born In Orange County
Born 65 years ago in Orange County, Ind., Kemple resides with his wife, Esma, at 413 State St., Culver. They have five children and 16 grandchildren. He is a member of the Culver Lions Club.

Kemple is looking forward to spending lots of time hunting and fishing and he says, "just plain relaxing."

Morris has spent the last 19 years in the tailor and dry cleaning shop, the last 2 1/2 years as assistant manager. He also worked for 12 years in the Cavalry department.

Native Of Peru
A native of Peru, Ind., Morris resides at 321 State St., Culver. His wife, Hazel, and he have four children and five grandchildren. He is a Navy veteran and belongs to the Culver Masonic Lodge.

Both Kemple and Morris agree that the primary change in boys during their Culver tenure is a considerable increase in size. "When I first started," Kemple said, "it was unusual for an Academy youngster to be as tall as six feet. Now almost all the older boys are that tall, and many of them are 6' 3" or 6' 4". The 5' 7" Kemple often had to use a stool while measuring uniforms for the taller boys.

In conduct and attitudes Kemple and Morris see no change in boys during their experience. "They're good courteous youngsters," Kemple said, "and I see no difference in the boys now and many of their fathers I outfitted 20 or 30 years ago."

FIRST AGAIN - When the United Telephone Company's switchboard at Winamac was converted recently to dial service E. C. (Ned) Gorrel, editor of The Pulaski County Journal, was invited to place the first long distance call to be made out of the city over the new system. The experience brought back memories to the veteran editor. In his column in the newspaper he wrote: "I believe I saw the first auto and the first airplane that ever came into this community. I saw its first movie, listened to its first radio and sat in on the town's first talking picture. Now I'm pleased to add this telephone experience." Told by Russell Meredith, the phone company manager, to make a call that was "really long distance" Editor Gorrel called his former neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, CITIZEN:

The richest man in the Presidential campaign is Richard Nixon.

Wealthy in talents, rich in spiritual strength, in the fortune of his character, and vast mental resources he dwarfs the millions of his opponent.

Humble of his choice, but proud of his opportunity, he shines with the gold of inborn faith, not to buy but to give to his country.

Richard Nixon is wealthy indeed!

Donald G. Speyer Head Of Bendix Systems Contracts

The appointment of Donald G. Speyer as director of contracts of the Bendix Systems division of The Bendix Corporation has been announced by R. J. Sandstrom, Ann Arbor, Mich., general manager of the division.

Speyer will be responsible for all contracts and subcontracts held by the division, and will report directly to the general manager, according to the announcement by Sandstrom.

"Up to now our contract administration has been individually operated under each program," Sandstrom said. "Mr. Speyer will reorganize the contract administration program, bringing all of the contract administrators under one office."

Speyer, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Speyer of South Bend and former Culver residents, is a graduate of Culver High School and a 1951 graduate of the Indiana University Law School. After three years with the legal department of Associates Investment Company, South Bend, he joined The Bendix Corporation as divisional attorney for four Bendix divisions. Before he joined the Systems division, he served as secretary and general counsel to the International Electric Corporation, a subsidiary of International Telephone and Telegraph.

Speyer was the only survivor of a crew of seven of an airplane crash while serving with the United States Air Force.

Miss Verna McDonald and Gerald Staten of Chicago were weekend guests of her mother and sisters, Mrs. Margaret McDonald, Karen, and Sharon. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Shriver of Mishawaka were Saturday visitors.

Menser Is New District Young G.O.P. Chairman

Marshall County Man Gets Post

"The recent appointment of Howard Menser to the post of Third Congressional District Young Republican chairman is an honor that Marshall County and the City of Plymouth will note with pride," said Stewart W. Robertson, veteran political leader, in a recent interview.

"Young Menser has devoted much time and ability to serving the Republican Party and his appointment as Third District chairman of the Young Republicans places justified faith in his ability and enthusiasm," he added.

Howard is 31 years old, a life-long resident of Plymouth and a graduate of Ball State, presiding as vice-president of his class and receiving a B.S. in Education.

Taught in Plymouth Schools Following four years of teaching in the Plymouth school system, Howard accepted a position as regional sales representative for Dow Building Products.

He is married to the former Miss Phyllis Short of Lafayette, and they are the parents of a five-month old son, Howard Jr. Serves Church As Deacon

From 1952 to 1954 Menser saw duty with the U.S. Army. He is member of Epsilon Pi Tau, an honorary scholastic fraternity, and is a deacon of his church, the First United Church of Christ.

In 1958, Howard was president of the Plymouth Jaycees and last year headed the Heart Fund Drive in the county seat.

Young G.O.P. Chairman His political experience includes five years as Marshall County Young Republican chairman. Currently he is actively participating in the campaign as a member of the county's publicity committee.

In a statement to The Culver Citizen Menser said:

"Up until recently the Young Republican organization was looked upon as the 'clean-up, paint-up, tack-up-sign' committee of the Republican organization. Our young people, both below and above voting age, were called upon to perform these tasks. This is important work, and we still need volunteers for such projects; but we also feel that the Young Republicans feel and fit a need elsewhere.

Work Harmoniously Together "The organization of today calls upon the creative talents of its members. Campaign strategy is, but one field in which the younger Republicans have an active part. The Young G.O.P. and the G.O.P. are working more closely together . . . each learning from and helping the other. This is what we have been and are striving for. The practical significance for today of Christ Jesus' victory over death will be brought out at Christian Science churches Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation After Death."

Scriptural readings will include the following: "Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils . . . Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen" (Mark 16:9-14).

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this will be read (46:20-24): "Jesus' unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all material conditions; and this exaltation explained his ascension, and revealed unmistakably a probationary and progressive state beyond the grave."

Nation's Mail Volume Reaches All-Time High

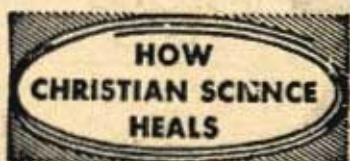

Local Mail Grows 35% In 7 Years

Mail volume in the Culver area contributed to a new national record of nearly 64 billion pieces of mail, including a billion pieces of parcel post, during fiscal year 1960 ending last June 30, Postmaster E. W. Mattox said.

This increase, along with a sharp discontinuance of mail-carrying trains in recent years, has helped foster a complete revolution in postal transportation including far more extensive use of highway vehicles, he said. Locally, the transportation pattern for Culver has changed in the following manner: one more trip for the Logansport to Culver star route and a new star route from Knox to Claypool now serves Culver twice daily.

Today, 85 per cent of the vast postal vehicle fleet — operating under a modernization and improvement program initiated in 1954 — is composed largely of new types of standard, commercial, light-weight, maneuverable vehicles. This conversion, he noted, has meant the "retirement" of worn out units — many in use for ten years or more — which, in turn, has greatly reduced maintenance costs for the Postal Service.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER
 The Culver Citizen is the only newspaper in Marshall County — or in the whole world for that matter — that really gives a whoop about Culver, Indiana.

107 Million Old Enough To Vote On November 8

About 107.6 million civilians will be old enough to vote in the November 1960 general election according to estimates of the population of voting age by States released today by the Bureau of Census, U.S. Department of Commerce. This figure includes a civilians 21 years of age and over for the 50 States and the District of Columbia, as well as civilians 18 to 20 years of age for Georgia and Kentucky, 19 and 20 years of age for Alaska, and 20 years of age for Hawaii. These four States permit persons under 21 in ages mentioned to vote. Not included in the figures are members of the armed forces of voting age.

The civilian population of voting age includes a great many persons who, although old enough to vote, cannot do so because they have not satisfied State requirements as to citizenship, residence, registration, or payment of poll taxes. There are about 2 3/4 million aliens of voting age in the United States. Among citizens of voting age, there are some persons who are not permitted to vote because they have been committed to penal institutions, mental hospitals, or kindred institutions. In all these cases, eligibility to vote is determined by State laws which vary in many respects. There are a substantial number of persons of voting age in the District of Columbia who lack voting residence in any State.

These estimates make limited use of the results of the 1960 Census. Specifically, they take a count of the preliminary counts of the total population of states from this Census. For the most part, however, these estimates represent extensions of the data reported from the 1950 Census, using birth and death statistics and estimates of net migration.

HITCH HIKERS - A bulk transport truck in daily service between Jasper, county seat of Dubois County, and Robinson, Ind. served as a nesting place for family of wrens. The truck driver, Wallace Neukam, hearing some unmechanical sounds beneath his transport, made a search and found the nest in the underriage with the mother bird sitting on the eggs. He did not disturb it but continued his operation between Jasper and Robinson, a round trip of about 160 miles. Finally the eggs hatched and the family departed the unusual nest.

NOT ISOLATED - If it were not for the trucking industry in Indiana, 1,580 Hoosier communities without means of getting goods or shipping products out. The number, or 49.6 per cent of Indiana communities, are served only by trucks. That is one reason why the trucking industry is a top job for 241,771 persons in the state.

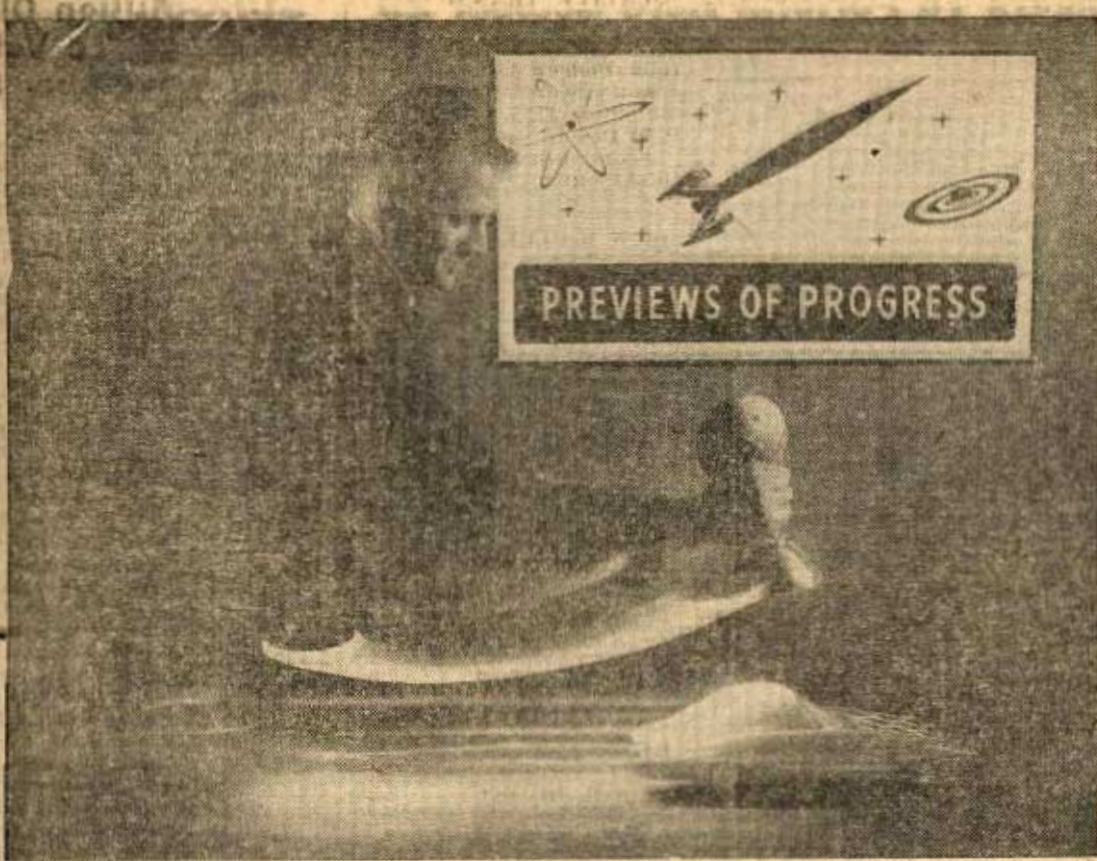

May God deliver us from the lies of honest men.

"Tone" Shaw Retiring As Head Of Academy's Quartermaster Store; Albert C. Teach Is Successor

EDGAR C. SHAW, right, and ALBERT C. TEACH

A veteran employee of Culver Military Academy, Edgar C. "Tone" Shaw, has retired after 46 years of service.

He has been replaced as head of the Quartermaster Store by Albert C. Teach, formerly of Rensselaer, a 20-year veteran of the U. S. Navy.

Shaw will stay on at the Q.M. Store until Dec. 31 to assist Teach in his new position.

2,000 Items Handled
The store is a bustling small business, stocking more than 2,000 different items to fill a variety of necessities for cadets and faculty members. The store's annual business is comparable to that of many commercial establishments.

Worked For Mrs. Culver
A native of Culver, Shaw holds the distinction of having worked for the wife of the founder, Mrs. H. H. Culver. He began his long service with the Academy in 1914, serving in many capacities and forming hundreds of associations over the years with cadets, faculty members, and employees.

He has been in charge of the post office, worked in the print shop, served as assistant purchasing agent, was in charge of buildings and ground, held the position of service manager, worked in the auditor's office, and 15 years ago took charge of the Quartermaster many more services than was dreamed a Q.M. store could provide.

"Tone" Loves Culver!
"Of course you regret leaving old friends," Tone says, "but I am not going to sell my home in Culver. Roots are pretty deep after 65 years and I'll be back to see alumni and friends at the Academy."

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw have a son, James, who is a member of the U. S. Navy Air Force and is stationed in California.

Al Teach's Background
Teach has worked for the Academy for three years, spending six months in the office of the business manager and the last 2½ years in the Q.M. Store.

Active for much of his time in the Navy in police work, Teach was discharged as a Chief Boatswain's Mate prior to joining the Culver staff. He saw action in many campaigns during World War II and was part of the Navy's Criminal Investigation Division at its inception. He was attached to the Armed Services Police Department and spent some time as a liaison for the Navy with the metropolitan police in Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Teach reside at 517 Lake Shore Drive, Culver, with their three children, Kathy, Tina, and Russell.

Infant Son Of Joe H. Nixons Dies At Birth

The many Culver friends of the Joe H. Nixons, summer residents of 742 East Shore Drive, were saddened when they read the following obituary in the Wabash Plain Dealer of which Mr. Nixon is publisher:

"Graveside services were held Friday afternoon in Falls Cemetery for the infant son of Joe H. and Marion Nixon, who died at birth Thursday evening, Oct. 13, in the Marion General Hospital. Dr. W. W. Wimberly officiated."

"Hoosier At Large"

ONE POPULAR old cure-all was five-forever salve, made by frying leaves from a live-forever plant (Sedum purpureum) in lard or unsalted butter. It was deemed dandy for bites, burns, scratches, colds, ague, or what-have-you!

A favored eye lotion was concocted of ground rotten-stone, chalk, and cloves dissolved in a mixture of corn brandy and water.

BED-WETTING WAS stopped by tying a spool in the middle of a child's back — so he'd sleep on his side.

A man who reached maturity without glimpsing his father somehow acquire a magical hirsute charm. A few strands of his hair placed upon the afflicted part of a hurt or ailing body was supposed to prompt a quick cure.

CRANKY KIDS were quieted and soothed by being passed, naked, through a still-warm horse collar — without touching leather.

And turtle oil — whatever that is! — was thought to be the secret of perpetual youth — because turtles live 900 years.

Strange as they are, these ancient remedies for hurts, abnormalities, and disease prevention pale beside the fantastic things given and done to the sick.

But that's a story in itself... for next week's Culver Citizen.

William Henry Harrison, aged 68, was the oldest man to be inaugurated President while Teddy Roosevelt, at 42, was the youngest.

CMA Football Team Defeats St. John's

Culver Military Academy will take a two-game winning streak into its annual homecoming contest here at 2 p.m. Saturday when the Eagles face South Bend Washington-Clay.

After dropping its initial two starts, the Academy evened its record at Delafield, Wis., Saturday where Coach Russ Oliver's eleven trounced St. John's Military Academy, 17-6.

Culver led in the game from the first period when Howie Bridges put the Eagles in the scoring column with his fourth field goal of the year. The boot was executed from the seven-yard-line.

Bridges, one of the leading scorers on the team, boosted his total with two placement kicks following touchdowns by Frank Corum that sealed the verdict. After the Bridges field goal, Corum scored Culver's first touchdown on the end of a 36-yard drive. He went over from the one to give the Eagles a 10-0 half-time lead.

Corum scored again in the third period when, on the first play from scrimmage after a pass interception, he raced 32 yards into the end zone. St. John's was held scoreless until late in the fourth quarter when Carroll Evans tallied on a quarterback sneak from the one.

In other Academy sports last team was inactive due to a cancelled cross-country team won a celebration by North Judson, but triangular meet with Plymouth and Rochester. The scores were C.M.A., 18; Plymouth, 53; Rochester, 64. Eagle captain Dick Tucker ran the course in 9:46 followed by teammate Ed Hayward and Jack Robinson of Plymouth.

The Icelandic Singers, a 39-member male chorus from Reykjavik, greet onlookers at New York's Idlewild Airport after arriving recently on an Icelandic Airlines flight. The talented group will perform in Culver Saturday, Oct. 29, at Eppley Auditorium on the Culver Military Academy campus.
