TEN CENTS

"HOOSIER AT LARGE"

By Al Spiers

Yes, Our Indiana Ancestors Believed In This Stuff! (Final Installment)

SICKNESS COULD be doubly distressing in bygone Hoosier days because some of great-grandma's home remedies were more tormenting than the ailments they purported to cure.

Consider, for example, such prescriptions as

AL SPIERS

FOR LUMBAGO — "Boil an old shoe and drink the resulting syrup."

FOR CROUP — "Rub skunk oil on chest — and take dose of the oil."

FOR ASTHMA — "Boil hornet's nest into tea and drink." Hoosier pioneers had great faith in teas and potions made by brewing such things as sassafras, mullein, pennyroyal, and similar forever leaves, Jimson weed, dock root, poke berries, nutmeg, dewberry roots, witch hazel, mint, roots, herbs, and plants.

Most of these remedies were simple concoctions that used only a few ingredients . . . but a few were complex.

JAUNDICE, FOR INSTANCE, called for "medicine" made like this:

"Take double handful of bark of wild cherry root, yellow poplar, sarsaparilla, red sumach, and one-half handful of bitter root. Boil in two gallons of water until reduced to one-half gallon. Strain and let simmer down to one-half pint. Mix with gallon of hard cider. Shake well and add two ounces of madder. Take one-half teacup three times a day."

And here's how great-grandma cooked a "cure" for cholera: "Double handful of dewberry roots, same of cranebill, two gallons of witch hazel leaves. Boil separately, strain, pour into one vessel and boil to a quart. Add pint of good French brandy and one pound of loaf sugar."

TOO ALCOHOLIC for a teetotaler? Hah! Ponder this potion for fever: "Four ounces of galangal root in a quart of gin steeped in warm place. Take often!"

After a few of these galangal martinis, who cared if the fever lingered?

The superstitious believed fever could also be "cured" by stepping backward across a creek — but that was pretty wet and splashy after the galangal treatment.

STRANGE, QUAIN'T superstition was the chief ingredient of many ancient home remedies. Some samples:

1. Rub a dead person's hand on the throat . . . or wear genuine amber beads to cure colter.

2. Whack the afflicted in the mouth with a hunk of raw liver to stop stammering.

3. Put on left shoe and sock first in the morning . . . tie a mole foot on a string around the neck . . . or use a toothpick from

Thomas Walker Injures Hand In Corn Picker

Thomas K. Walker, 39, of Route 2, Culver, seriously injured his right hand in a corn picker accident about 9:30 Saturday morning.

Walker had replaced some parts on the picker and was checking it out when his hand became caught in the machine in a field near his home.

His son, Thomas, heard him yell and ran to the scene and shut off the tractor and rushed his father to the house. Mrs. Walker notified a local doctor and started to Parkview Hospital with her husband by car.

Surgery was performed and the fourth and fifth fingers of his right hand had to be removed. A third finger and the back of his hand were badly mangled and further surgery is scheduled.

CLOGGED WATER MAINS CLEANED OUT BY STREET DEPARTMENT

Street Superintendent Veri McFeely and his staff are doing a good job around town cleaning out the old water mains which have caused low pressure in nearly 20 homes.

The latest to receive attention was the Lester Brown residence on E. Washington St., where water could not be obtained on the second floor.

After digging up the street, rust and shale are removed from the service lines, after which they are blown out by the Fire Department. This treatment corrects the situation.

TAKES OHIO POSITION

Paul Overmyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Overmyer, Route 2, Culver, has accepted a position as executive engineer with the Goodrich Rubber Company in Akron, Ohio, after his recent discharge from the Army.

Gretter's Food Market Robbed By Two Men

Theft Of $800 In Cash and Checks

The two men who robbed Gretter's Food Market last week have not yet been apprehended, but Mr. and Mrs. Urban Gretter, owners of the store, hope to get part of their money back from the checks that were stolen.

The robbery occurred about 1:30 Wednesday afternoon when a money folder was taken from a desk in the small office at the rear of the store while Mrs. Gretter was at the check-out counter and Mr. Gretter was storing food in the freezer near the front. The folder contained about $300 or $400 in cash and an equal amount in checks.

The two strange men spent quite awhile in the store and another customer later reported seeing one of the men behind the meat counter while the second man stayed near Mr. Gretter at the freezer. Mr. Gretter had made one trip to the back of the store to investigate and found the stranger intently studying the label on a turpentine bottle.

The men finally left the store after making a small purchase and Mrs. Gretter, preparing to go to lunch, discovered that the money was gone. Town Marshal Donald Mikesell and Sheriff Jerry Greenlee investigated the robbery and roadblocks were set up in the vicinity to no avail.

The lovely and striking gowns will be modeled by the Republican candidates' wives and other area women.

The rally is open without charge to all of the women of the county and will feature music by "The Echoes," a newly formed combo of Bill Tanner, Jim Manual, and Jerry Lackey. The group has played for all of the other G. O. P. rallies and were greatly enjoyed by the crowds.

Seventeen Boy Scouts took part in the weekend camping trip. The group met at the Methodist Church at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and were furnished transportation to the Faulkner Woods camp site. Most of the day was spent working on merit badge projects, cooking, and playing games. Since this was the first trip for many of the new boys they were not permitted to stay overnight. The scoutmaster and seven of the more experienced boys pitched tents and stayed overnight. Rev. Sands visited the boys at camp Sunday morning. Everyone seemed to have a good time. Most will agree that the thing they missed the most was mother's cooking.

Several of the boys were passed on requirements that were completed during the weekend camp-out. Perfect attendance badges were presented to Scouts Smith and Saft for attending all meetings during the past year. Patrol corners and games were supervised by Bryce Bigley and Carl F. Foust. Several of the new boys have not returned their application forms and paid their 50-cent registration fee. Those who haven't done this are asked to make a special effort to bring both next Monday evening.

The Misses Cindy and Denise McKee were guests of Mrs. Donovan Overmyer and son, Ned.

THE SCHOOLBELL

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOL

G.M. Speaker Gives "Previews Of Progress"

By Jean Warner
One of the most interesting and important fields of study in our modern world is science. Mr. Alexander Conabun, a representative of General Motors, made us realize this even more by his illustrated talk on "Previews of Progress."

We watched him make synthetic rubber. He made it look so easy; he simply poured one chemical into another, shook it well, and when he uncorked the top, out popped this glob of synthetic rubber. Who knows? Someday when we have a flat tire, we'll pull off the road, shake up a chemical mixture, and manufacture a new tire that will be ready to use. Science is a field that every high school student should consider. Every year we have a growing need for technicians and scientists; 20,000 engineering positions go unfilled, too.

Some of the amazing inventions he showed us were a microwave music apparatus, a small scale jet engine, and a miniature car run by solar energy.

Scientists are constantly searching for new substances, and for new and better uses for older ones. General Motors has developed a new opaque glass that is lighter than aluminum, but it can be heated, have ice water poured into it, and it won't break. This sounds amazing but we saw the experiment performed.

Mr. Conabun said he was mixing a cake, but it turned out to be foam rubber. This is a new substance which may be used for a winter coat lining or a soft durable pillow.

More scientific discoveries have been made in the Twentieth Century than in all the past centuries, but there are still many unanswered questions. What's electricity? Why is grass green? How does the human mind work?

The responsibility is great, but the opportunity is yours.

ODE TO A SENIOR
Twinkle, twinkle, little star.
Oh, how great the Seniors are.
Up above the world so high
Like forty-eight diamonds in the sky.
Twinkle, twinkle little star.
Oh, how great the Seniors are!

There seems to be a three-way tie for the number one tune at C.H.S. this week: "Get Up and Bar the Door," "Little Brown Jug," and "They're Layin' Eggs Now."

Well, we leave you with this thought for the day; SCALP THOSE ZEBRAS! ! !

Reporters Attend News Meeting

By Margo Overmyer
After school Monday, Oct. 10, Barbara Moore, Susan Ruhnow, Linda Gibbons, and myself, Margo Overmyer, drove away with Mr. Robinson to attend the annual High School Reporters' Day at the Plymouth Pilot-News in Plymouth.

When we arrived we were astounded at the beauty of their new building, the wonderful hospitality, and the cute ideas they had for the hats and name tags, that were given to us as we entered.

After being introduced to the staff, we proceeded to consume a delicious dinner, which was served buffet style in the news room of the building. Poor us, we barely managed to eat our pie, which was delicious, but filling.

After eating, we were too full to walk, but we managed to follow Mike Boys through the plant, and listen to the many interesting facts about the production of the Plymouth Pilot-News.

Then came the sad time, when we had to leave this beautiful building and continue home. After saying our "good-byes," we headed for Culver, and Junior play practice for Sue and myself.

We would like to express our gratitude to the Pilot-News for giving us the privilege to visit their plant, and for the dinner.

Large Junior High Squad

By Earl Mishler
Culver's cross-country team suffered a heart-breaking blow last week when it was learned that, due to the participation of an ineligible athlete, all the victories they had piled up must be forfeited. It was particularly bad news in view of the fact that Coach Jim Cox' squad had run up an outstanding record of 17-3, a mark that certainly would have been a good one for our future cross-country teams to try to exceed.

The cross-country Sectional meet was scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 25. The results of that important meet will be included in next week's Schoolbell.

Junior High basketball practice began last week. The new coach, James Moore, greeted an extremely large number of boys, looking forward to an exciting season.

As in the years past, we highly recommend the junior high games as good viewing. No admission is charged, so when their season starts, why not drop in and see some of their games. A schedule will appear in The Schoolbell at a later date.

COMING EVENTS
Oct. 27 and 28 — State Teachers Association, No school.
Nov. 1 — SSS Initiation, 7:30 p.m. in Bank Lounge.
Nov. 2 — Science Show at school.

Sunshine Girls Plan Activities

Sunshine: At the meeting Wednesday, Oct. 19, Pat Wesson and her committee gave a preview on the book "Twixt Twelve and Twenty" by Pat Boone. After the preview we sang some of his songs and some other old favorites.

The formal initiation for the "Sunbeamers" has been postponed until Nov. 1.

We have ordered our candy now, so everyone get ready to sell at least three boxes. We have also turned in our Ideal Ladies to Lana Berger, and set the date of the "Snowball Hop" for Dec. 22.

Hi-Y; Initiation will be held Nov. 1 for all new members.

Kindergarten — Mrs. Melton: We took a walk and saw birch, dogwood, hickory, locust, and different maple trees. We also saw tulip, elm and oak trees. Rene Fritz furnished cookies to the morning group, and Deborah Bean and Todd Matson furnished the afternoon group with cookies and candy.
First Grade — Mrs. Keyser: Susan Napier's birthday is Oct. 21. In numbers we are learning to write from one to twenty.
Second Grade — Mrs. Allen: We went for a walk to see signs of fall. We saw many beautiful trees, squirrels, nuts, and cocoons. Many of our seeds have grown. We had wheat four inches high. We have beans, radishes, and corn growing. We made a mural of the business part of town.
Third Grade — Miss Henning: We have been watching shrimp eggs hatch under a microscope. Charles Osborn brought them to school.
Mrs. Carter: Judy McKee celebrated her birthday by treating us with candy bars. Dennis Woolington had a birthday last week too. Perry White was the winner in our spelling bee. He and Linda Snapp were the last two up: In arithmetic we are adding two place numbers. We have started an Indian collection, and made Indian scenes to use in decorating our room. We, also, have jack-o-lantern posters up in the room.
Fourth Grade — Miss Nahan: These children did not miss a word during the last six weeks spelling period: Jeffery Adams, Cindy Barr, Stephanie Mohr, and Pamela Welsh. These children missed only one word: Vickie Jo Clifton, Greg Everett, Douglas Hartz, Beatrice Napier, Perry Smith, and Danny Spencer.
Fifth Grade — Mr. Weaver: Our fifth grade is making a leaf collection. We have many different kinds of leaves from trees which grow in Indiana. Everyone worked hard and did an excellent job.

Cheryl Dillon Is Shadowed

By Anne Osborn
Credit for this week's Shadow must be passed on to a type of "junior shadow," Linda Behmer. Our sleuth picked up her unsuspecting victim's trail during second period:
Our subject came into English class looking nice, bright, and cheerful. She had a little bit of trouble spelling 'rhythm' (by the way, is that right?), but — so did everyone else!
Well, now it's geometry . . . I wonder what I got on the test? Miss Lindvall said they were horrible, but our victim received an 'A'!
Our subject didn't participate very much in health and safety — they had a lecture! But in Sunshine she sang (?) all the songs very well, as did everyone else. Then, lunch! I lost track of our victim, but later found her in study hall talking to a very special friend, none other than Tom Boswell.
During fifth period study hall, she worked off and on between talking sessions with her neighbor. She wrote her Spanish report and typed it. Ten minutes before the bell, she stopped studying and repaired her make-up, then looked at pictures for the remainder of the period.
In Spanish class she gave her report and listened to the others. She coughed a few times, wrote a note, and talked to Sheryl Hoffman twice. In last period study hall she dispatched her geometry with ease, and studied her health and safety.
If you're still wondering what she did during the five minute breaks and at noon, just ask Tom Boswell. Now you know! Of course, our subject is Cheryl Dillon!
Here's a note to all C.H.S. students: if you have the odd feeling that you're being followed, don't bother to turn around and look — it's only your Shadow!

Mrs. Tucker Is Interviewed

By Anne Behmer
Mrs. Shirley Tucker is the new speech correction and remedial reading instructor. She graduated from Knox High School in 1953 and attended Ball State Teachers College and Valparaiso University. She graduated from Valpo with a major in speech and remedial reading. Mrs. Tucker did her observations at Culver last year, so she is familiar with our school.
Some of her favorites are: food, steak; sport, football; and color, blue. Her pet peeve is people who use their friends for their own selfish gains. Mrs. Tucker's hobbies are sewing, reading, and playing bridge.
Mrs. Tucker also stated that she did not plan to attend the Culver vs. Knox basketball game!

GRETA HUGHES CONTINUES DRAMATIC CAREER AT MacMURRAY COLLEGE
Greta Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Hughes, has been cast as Anne Boleyn in the play, "Royal Gambit," to be presented by the theater of MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Ill., on Oct. 28-29.
A modern interpretation of the story of King Henry VIII of England, "Royal Gambit" adds a philosophical touch to the colorful historic flavor of the medieval setting.

Responsibility Is Pastor's Theme

Responsibility was the theme of the first convocation of the current school year with Rev. Warren Sorenson, pastor of the Burr Oak Church of God, the speaker. The convocation was held in the gym due to insufficient room in the study hall since the new commerce rooms were built this summer.
After opening remarks by Rev. Sorenson, a girl's vocal ensemble sang two numbers under the direction of Mr. Boyd with Shari Yocom the accompanist.
In developing the convocation theme, Rev. Sorenson pointed out the responsibilities that the church and school have and the number of them they share in common. He declared both were of prime importance in building a young person's sense of responsibility and enlarging his learning capacities. The speaker concluded with a discussion of the relationship of the home to both the church and the school.
After the convocation was concluded Mr. Cole directed the students to their home rooms where they were made very happy by receiving their report cards for the first grading period.

STUDENT COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

Officers of the Student Council were chosen last week at a meeting of the members with Mr. Cole, sponsor, the first session of the school year.
Gary Dillon was elected president, with Tom Boswell as vice-president, Nancy Ervin as secretary, and Margo Overmyer as treasurer.

CORRECTION

KEEP building a strong labor force by continuing to bring new industries into Indiana to create new jobs. Today, Indiana is FIRST in the nation in new plants and new jobs.

KEEP taxes down. Help Crawford Parker abolish the tax on household goods. Tax loop-holes must be plugged. The Republicans pledge every effort will be made to hold taxes down.

KEEP speeding the expansion program for Indiana's retarded and mentally ill. It jumped from approximately $12 million under the Democrats in 1951-1952 to over $27 million under the Republicans in 1959-1960.

KEEP a strong Social Security program. Social Security benefits have been expanded under the Republican Administration . . . from 5 million receiving benefits in 1952 under the Democrats to 14 million in 1959 under the Republicans.

Our State Representative Explains Constitutional Amendments On Ballot
 Plymouth, Ind.
 Editor, CITIZEN:

In the interest of a better informed electorate, I wish to call to your attention the two Constitutional Amendments appearing on the Indiana State Ballot in the coming general election; to be voted on, Yes or No.

The first as presented will read: Shall Section 9 Article 7 of the Constitution of Indiana be amended to provide that a judge of the Circuit Court shall be elected by the voters of the circuit within which he resides and shall have been duly admitted to practice law by the Supreme Court of Indiana?

(This will require all Circuit Court Judges to be attorneys.)
 The second amendment as presented:

Shall Section 21 Article 4 of the Constitution of Indiana be repealed and Section 19 Article 4 of the Constitution of Indiana be amended to provide that every amendment of an act or code shall only require an identification by citation reference as last amended?

(This will permit the State Legislature to adopt a simple system for naming of new laws.)

FORMER DEMOCRATIC GOVERNORS BACKING NIXON-LODGE TICKET

Former Governors Allan Shivers (Texas) and James F. Byrnes (South Carolina) have joined a growing number of Southern Democrats who are backing the Nixon-Lodge ticket.

Governor Shivers has accepted chairmanship of the Texas "Democrats for Nixon-Lodge" organization.

Governor Byrnes, who was Secretary of State in the F.D.R. administration, said: "The Presidency is not a place for an immature or impetuous man. While candidate Kennedy has had no experience in an executive capacity, Vice President Nixon for eight years has attended all Cabinet meetings; has been acting as chairman of the National Security Council; and he has been in constant conference with the President as to our foreign problems."

Logansport Host To Bunker Hill Air Force Base

"Operation Hospitality," the week-long Logansport celebration saluting the officers and men of the fabulous nearby Bunker Hill Air Force Base was a complete success and all 82 Cass County organizations which participated are to be congratulated.

The Air Force Base represents an investment of $500 million and has a $30 million annual payroll.

Saturday's program was the highlight of the memorable event with Hon. Dudley C. Sharp, Secretary of the U.S. Air Force, being the guest of honor. Among other celebrities present at the V.I.P. breakfast meeting were Gov. Harold W. Handley and Congressman Charles A. Halleck. Secretary Sharp addressed the mammoth gathering in front of the "Little White House" downtown after which a spectacular 3 1/2-hour parade took place.

Tommye Glaze Featured
 Culver's noted Tommye Glaze (Miss Indiana) adorned the beautiful float which headed many parade bands and military units. Summer lake resident, Dwight G. Wildermuth, of Logansport, headed one of the most important committees and Chester W. Cleveland was invited to sit with the Cabinet officer's party on the reviewing stand.

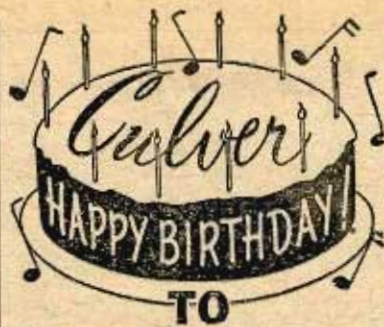

Hoosier-born Forrest Tucker, star of "The Music Man," flew in from St. Louis to emcee Sunday's big show.

CIGARETTE ADVERTISING

The big Camel cigarette advertisement in last week's Citizen was the first of its kind ever to appear in this newspaper during its 66-year history. Apparently the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. has begun to doubt the pulling power of costly TV advertising and is also directing its appeal to readers of country weeklies for the first time.

SOMETHING TO REMEMBER

The Culver Citizen is the only newspaper in Marshall County or in the whole world for that matter - that really gives a whoop about Culver, Indiana!

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Red Dolan's "Madness"

One day, "Red" Dolan was seen at the golf club strapping on a pair of snowshoes!

When some of Red's friends heard about it, they began joking about Red's mystifying "madness." But I figured Red must have had a reason for donning snowshoes, so I asked him about it.

"Well," said Red, "You know that marsh near the 14th hole, Joe. A lot of the boys slice golf balls right into there and lose 'em for good. So I just put on my snowshoes — they let me travel on top of that spongy marsh surface without sinking in — and retrieve those golf balls. You should have seen my last haul—enough to play all season with."

From where I sit, people often form opinions about things before they know all the facts. Some folks, for really no good reason at all, will criticize a man for preferring a glass of beer to some other beverage. It's just a matter of taste. To think otherwise is just plain intolerant. And it's a sure way to "shoe" away friends.

Plows All Day On 1/4 Tank Fuel

Last Thursday, in a heavy pasture field east of Plymouth, we demonstrated the ease of handling, and quiet, smooth operation of the powerful new John Deere models 30-10 and 40-10 tractors to a crowd of farmers.

The new model 30-10 4-cylinder tractor pulled its 4-16" John Deere plow 9" to 10" deep in the heaviest part of that pasture field — all day — using only 1/4 of its tank of Diesel fuel, or about one gallon per hour. At this rate, such a tractor could pay for itself in fuel savings alone.

The new model 40-10 six cylinder tractor was equipped with the new John Deere 5-16" mounted plow (which the model 30-10 pulled the day before). However, this big 80 horse power 6-cylinder Diesel was used about half the time for demonstrating "features" such as shifting gears "on the go," the improved power steering, the new comfortable all-cushion seat, hydraulic power brakes, and fuel tank removed from above the heat of the engine as an added safety and economy feature. Accordingly, it was not possible to get an accurate fuel economy test that day on the big 40-10.

Stop in and get acquainted with these all-new tractors.

4. Shake a live chicken three times over a chicken pox sufferer.

5. Bore a hole in a green tree at the patient's height and insert a lock of his hair and nail trimmings to cure asthma.

6. Turn shoes upside down when retiring . . . or tie around the leg a red yarn, silk thread, or strip of eel skin to end stomach cramps.

7. Blow tobacco smoke in ear . . . or wrap a stranger's hair strands around cotton to ease earache.

8. Rub away a growth or swelling with an unlaidd egg.

9. Place a pan of water under the bed to ward off heart trouble. (Good also for night sweats!)

10. Carry a buckeye . . . or piece of raw potato . . . or wear a copper wire around the waist to relieve rheumatism.

11. Remove and burn a child's undershirt to stop spasms.

EQUALLY FANTASTIC were the notion potions extracted from animals — like hog marrow applied to mumps; a black cat's blood rubbed on shingles; the dried lining of chicken gizzards eaten to end dyspepsia; the blood of a black hen for erysipelas; the blood of a beheaded rattlesnake smeared on rheumatic joints, or the still-warm skin of a dry-picked chicken wrapped around the neck of a scarlet fever victim.

WE COULD GO ON . . . and on . . . but I suspect the subject is as exhausted as the poor patients of yesteryear who endured and somehow survived these pioneer remedies.

ONE FINAL WORD of warning: Don't try these nasty old nostrums unless you like to live dangerously.

Academy Gridders Defeated By Washington-Clay

Play River Forest High School Friday

Coach Russ Oliver's Culver Military Academy football team will seek to even its season record Friday night when the Eagles travel to Hobart to play River Forest, (Ill.) High School. The Academy gridders lost a heartbreaker Saturday afternoon when Washington-Clay High School of South Bend scored in the last 45 seconds to win 14-13. The defeat before a Homecoming throng of 1,200 brought the Eagles' season record to 2-3.

A 30-mile-an-hour wind off Lake Maxinkuckee handicapped both teams in punting and passing. Schults averaged only 12 yards on four punts, while Washington-Clay did a little better with a 21-yard punt average.

The Academy's Fresh-Soph grid team, coached by Chet Marshall, won its third straight victory of the season last Saturday morning when it walloped the Knox High School B team 25-6. The Fresh-Soph play the Penna Township High School B team Saturday at 10:30 a.m. on the Academy grid-iron.

The Academy Cross Country team defeated Bremen High School harriers last Tuesday, 26-29. Bremen's Bill Karpenko broke the Academy course record by running the two-mile distance in 9:16.

Lancers Steal The Show At Kansas City

Star At Famed American Royal

Maj. Gen. Delmar T. Spivey and Mrs. Spivey have returned from their old home at Kansas City, Mo., where they attended the famed American Royal Livestock and Horse Show.

The Culver Military Academy's Black Horse Lancers were featured during 16 appearances during the 8-day exhibition and received a tremendous lot of wonderful publicity for the school and our town.

General Spivey, well known to Kansas Citizens for his tour of duty at Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base as commanding officer of the Central Air Defense Force, was presented a handsome plaque and the colorful official flag of the American Royal to be carried by the riders at future events.

The 30 Lancers chosen for the trip have the highest academic rating of any of the 150 boys in the cavalry unit. Each morning while at Kansas City they received four hours of intensive classroom training from Richard Gimbel, James Bishop, and J. T. Stinchcomb. Col. Gerald Graham, director of the department of horsemanship and director of the Lancers, was in charge.

FORT EUSTIS, VA. — Army 2d Lt. Donald L. Muehlhausen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Muehlhausen, E. Shore Rd., Culver, is attending the eight-week officer orientation course at The Transportation School, Fort Eustis, Va. The course is scheduled to end Nov. 2.

Lieutenant Muehlhausen is receiving training in the duties and responsibilities of a transportation unit commander.

The 22-year-old soldier is a 1956 graduate of Culver High School and a 1960 graduate of Indiana University in Bloomington.

He is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity and was employed by Mid-West Spring Mfg. Co., Chicago, Ill., before entering the Army.

His wife, Kay, is with him at the fort.

There are too many do-gooders and organizers and not enough quiet humanitarians among us.

Democratic Candidates Enjoy Breakfast In Culver

LOSING MORE ELMS

Dutch Elm disease continues to take its awful toll along the East Shore of Lake Maxinkuckee particularly. The Theodore L. Locke summer home had seven dead ones at last count and the Academy is losing between 70 and 80 more lining the campus. It would be wonderful if either Nixon or Kennedy could come up with a cure!

BRADEMAS SUGGESTS KINGSBURY SITE FOR NEW UNIVERSITY

Congressman John Brademas has called for a thorough study by the State of Indiana of the possibility of using the Kingsbury Ordnance Plant site as the future home of a new state college or university for Northern Indiana. "Such a study should also consider the feasibility of using the 13,000-acre KOP area for industrial development or recreational purposes," said Brademas.
