Marshall County Couple Has Visited The Graves Of 30 U. S. Presidents

(Second Installment)

THE FINAL resting places of some deceased American Presidents aren't as impressively marked or as conspicuously situated as you might think.

AL SPIERS

Forest and Ellen Lehman, a Marshall County couple who spent five summer vacations photographing all 30 graves of U. S. Presidents, found that out.

At least one departed chief executive is an almost anonymous occupant of a Buffalo, N. Y., cemetery — Millard Fillmore, the weak and colorless Whig who spent two years in the White House after Zachary Taylor died in mid-term.

"All we knew was that he was buried in one of Buffalo's city cemeteries," Lehman explains. "The biggest one (and, it turned out, the right one) was next to a university. So Ellen and I stopped students and asked if President Fillmore was buried there."

THE LEHMANS got replies that reflected an astonishing ignorance about American Presidents — at a college level, yet!

"Who's Fillmore?" one puzzled student countered.

"President of what?" muttered another.

Sadly Lehman shook his head. "Not one student we stopped knew that Fillmore was buried a stone's throw from his campus."

Today, thanks to the Lehman slide collection, grade school pupils at Tyner — where Ellen teaches — know more about America's past Presidents than these New York collegians.

ANNUALLY, the slide collection — with accompanying comments about each President — is presented at the school. Forest also shows it to farm bureaus, women's clubs, professional organizations, and other area schools.

AS A RESULT, both young and old audiences learn some facts about their country's late leaders I'd bet you don't know.

For example, you're probably aware that towering, 6-4 Abe Lincoln was our tallest chief executive. But who was the shortest? The fattest? Who had the most children? Who was the only bachelor President?

Madison was shortest, only 5-3. Taft was heaviest, weighing in well over 300 pounds. Tyler had 16 offspring, seven by each of two wives. Buchanan was the bachelor.

UNIMPORTANT TRIVIA? Perhaps, but the Lehmans have found that such items intrigue school children and often start them searching for meatier knowledge.

Excellent Choice

COL. J. T. STINCHCOMB

Judd Stinchcomb Named To New School Board

The Town Board is to be heartily congratulated on its choice of Judd T. Stinchcomb as our representative on the new Community School Board for a two-year term.

Colonel Stinchcomb is eminently qualified for the post. Now retired, he was a mathematics and military instructor at the Academy for 38 years. All through the years he has been a leader in civic and service club activities. He was a Republican member of the Town Board for four years and is active in the American Legion, Boy Scouts, and the Shrine of Masonry at Hammond.

Benedict Also On Board

Serving on the board of trustees with Stinchcomb will be Trustee Eugene G. Benedict, four years, representing Union Township of Marshall County; Vernie Bowen, two years, Aubbeenaubee Township of Fulton County; Trustee Donald Taylor, one year, of North Bend Township of Starke County; and Ced White, also from North Bend Township, four years.

The Marshall County school reorganization committee met again last Monday to discuss various plans and then decided to meet again on Dec. 12 when it is expected to begin voting on the several proposals under consideration.

Christmas Club For Next Year Now Under Way

Plan Celebrating 50th Anniversary

Edward F. Dorset, president of Christmas Club a Corporation, has announced that the 1960 accumulation amounted to One Billion, Four Hundred and Fifty Two Million, Seven Hundred and Seventy Thousand Dollars!

Checks for this huge sum have been mailed by some 8,000 banks and savings institutions to over 13 million Christmas Club members.

Great Success Locally

The Citizen recently published a statement by W. O. Osborn, president of The State Exchange Bank, that a combined total of $118,303.89 had been mailed to Christmas Savings Club members among their many Culver and Argos bank customers. The local banks carried 1,004 members on their roll this year and expect to enroll even more for 1961.

1960 marks the 50th anniversary of the Christmas Club plan which started in 1910. Commenting on its growth Mr. Dorset pointed out that on its second birthday the plan had been adopted by less than 100 banks and the average accumulation was only $18.50 per member as compared with $110 per member for the 1960 Club.

Where The Money Goes

After a survey of members in the 50 states the corporation estimates that only about a third of the total accumulation will go for Christmas spending. Here is its breakdown of the ways in which the 1960 accumulation will be used:

Christmas Purchases, 30%, $435,831,000; Savings and Investment for future use 51%, $740,912,700; Taxes, 10%, $145,277,000; Year-end Bills, 7%, (Continued on Page 2)

also tentatively decided that if the highly popular consolidation plan of the Culver Community School, made up of Union, Aubbeenaubee, and North Bend Townships, is not approved by the State Reorganization Commission by Dec. 12 then it will include our own Union Township in the county reorganization plan.

Classmates Have Happy Reunion

The world premiere of a new play, "The Library Raid," at the Alley Theatre in Houston, Texas, was the setting for the happy reunion of Broadway and TV star, Geraldine Page, and Dorothy Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Oberlin of Culver.

Miss Page was en route to Hollywood to star in the Tennessee Williams movie, "Summer and Smoke." Dorothy and Miss Page were classmates at Goodman Theatre in Chicago. Shelley Berman, the famous comedian, is another of their classmates.

Town Board President A. R. McKesson Takes Umbrage At The Citizen's Budget Comment; Offers Explanation

Our Community's Tax Setup Reviewed

Culver, Ind. Editor, CITIZEN:

In the Nov. 2 edition of The Culver Citizen you carried a brief article apropos our local tax budget.

Your article was in some particulars absolutely false, others merely misleading, and in toto entirely lacking in any effort to inform your readers and our constituents as to the essential nature and purpose of a budget and the method of its making.

To the uninformed you gave the clear impression that we (this local Town Board) were responsible for making that total $5 budget. That was 80% false and 20% true.

Every intelligent taxpayer should be (and I feel sure is) interested in this budget business, as it is a measure of what they will next year have to produce in property taxes. I think the people are entitled to be led and not misled, to be informed and not misinformed, about this matter, so uniformly important it is to so many citizens.

I do not address this to the purpose of defending the budget set up by this Town Board. To anyone who knows anything about a budget and its manner of making, it speaks for itself, is its own best defense, and requires neither defense nor apology.

However, I am quite sure your readers would give appreciation and get information about budgets in general, and this budget in particular, if you would publish the following salient facts apropos this civic matter.

This $5 tax budget has been set up as the final and total property tax schedule for the year 1961 as it affects the Culver Town taxpayers.

It is not a single integral unit. It is a composite thing made up of a number of disparate parts set up by each of the tax boards legally having authority to tax us who live in Culver.

We Culver citizens are taxed, first of all by the State of Indiana. (The U. S. Government does not tax property as such).

Next we are taxed by Marshall County, acting through our County Commissioners. Also the County Welfare Board is empowered to set up their own tax budget.

Our local Library Board too is a legally constituted taxing agency. It sets up whatever rate it deems necessary to operate our local public library.

Then this local Town Board estimates its needs for the coming year and sets up its budget rate accordingly.

Lastly but by no means least, the Township Trustee (Mr. Benedict now) has to set up a budget rate necessary to run and operate our public school system, and other activities under his authority, for the ensuing year.

Under Indiana law we could have more of them, but the aforementioned taxing units, six of them, have combined their requirements to make up this $5 tax rate for 1961.

The separated rates are as follows: For the State one mill per C$ of taxed evaluation, for the County $1.25, for the Welfare Board one mill, for the local library $.17, for the Town $.95, and for the Township $2.61.

The original combined budget called for $5.145. This was cut $.025 by the County Board of Tax Review, and this was further cut $.225 by action of the State Board of Tax Review and the County Auditor on Nov. 1, leaving our total final rate at even $5.

The assessed valuation for this Town is for next year set at $2,224,895.

If this rate of $.95 is figured against this total taxable evaluation it would produce but about $21,000.

This is definitely inadequate to cover our operation.

But everyone should know that the State of Indiana collects various other taxes thus supplementing our usable income. This includes the gas and motor vehicle taxes, the alcoholic taxes, etc.

Also this Town is in the water and sewage business which it tries to operate in the black at all times. In this connection it should be observed that Culver has not had a water price increase in many years and our people enjoy one of the lowest water rates in this part of the State.

There are so many varying and divergent elements which enter into the making of an intelligently estimated budget that every taxing unit should have on its board both a magician as well as a lawyer.

The budget for the following calendar year must be made out in July, or at best, August. This obviously entails the calculating, estimating, or just plain guessing how much money of this year's balance will be left there, when next year gets here.

This further involves an estimate of how much bad luck (breakdowns or wrecks) will be had with present equipment in use in the interim. That's, of course, for the magician!

On just one further matter may I set you straight?

In your recent article anent this matter you gave the impression that the State Tax Board of Review gave this Town Board a bad time in reviewing our budget and finally cut it up pretty badly. Nothing could have been more fictitious and farther from the fact.

As a matter of fact we were complimented on the accuracy and economy of our budget and were given merely a formal horizontal cut amounting to about 10%.

They cut it because that is their business and they felt that considering our present bank balance, we could live and operate our Town within that limit.

Naturally we tend to set up a generous budget, so we will not run short and have to go through the tedious process of seeking special appropriations during the year. If that Board did not cut budgets it would have no raison d'etre.

May I remind you (with no thought at all of criticism) that last year our Town Board asked for $1.22 and were cut to $.89. Over the years this budget has most always been above the dollar mark and we on the Board were happy and proud of the deal as finally determined.

With this clarification of the matter I hope you will be too.

Ruth Early Heads County Heart Committee

Mrs. Ruth Early, Argos, has been named chairman of the Marshall County Heart Committee, according to an announcement from Robert H. Patty, executive director of the Indiana Heart Association.

In making an announcement, Mr. Patty stressed the need for providing more information about the cardiovascular disease which annually accounts for more than 900,000 deaths throughout the United States.

As chairman, Mrs. Early will head the county committee which is responsible for assisting local groups in scheduling programs on the heart and circulatory system, assisting in community service projects of the Heart Association and conducting the annual Heart Fund drive in February.

Mr. Patty, in announcing her appointment, pointed out that local heart committees working throughout the year are responsible for the marvels in heart surgery we read about as well as the other tremendous strides which are being made in finding answers to the underlying causes of heart attacks and strokes.

"Through the support the local committee gives to heart disease research, which was $158,000 to Indiana institutions this year, and through their educational programs, the advances will continue to be made," he said.

"Thread Of Life" Is Bell Telephone TV Program

A story of how human beings inherit their characteristics will be told in "The Thread of Life" over NBC television on Friday, Dec. 9.

This 60 minute color program in the Bell Telephone System's science series uses live action, scientific film, animated diagrams, charts and models to illustrate what science has learned about heredity in the past 100 years.

Dr. Frank C. Baxter will be featured on the program.

"The Thread of Life" explains that a person's chances of being exactly like anybody else, unless he is an identical twin, are less than one in 70-million-million. There is an example of dominant and recessive traits and a model of part of the DNA molecule which scientists now believe may hold the deepest secrets of the mechanisms of heredity.

Next Sunday attend the Church of your Faith.

Patricia Lechlitrer
And Everett B. Feece
Nuptials Spoken

Altar baskets of white Fujiumums and pompons flanked by lighted tapers provided the setting for the wedding of Miss Patricia Arlene Lechlitrer and Everett B. Feece at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 20, in the First Presbyterian Church in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lechlitrer, Route 4, Myers Lake, Plymouth, are the parents of the bride. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Feece, former local residents now living at 140 East Walnut Street, Argos.

Rev. Wallace Moore, pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Selected wedding music was presented by Mrs. Lester Sellers of Bourbon, vocalist, and by Mrs. LaVerne Green of Valparaiso, organist. Mrs. Green, cousin of the bride's mother, also played at the wedding of the bride's parents.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over nylon net and taffeta. Her fingertip veil of illusion fell gracefully from a rhinestone tiara. A cascade bouquet of white roses, centered with an orchid corsage formed her bridal arrangement.

Miss Barbara Garrison of Plymouth was maid of honor. Miss Bonnie Lechlitrer, sister of the bride, and Miss Sharon Feece of Argos, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids. The maid of honor appeared in a filmy yellow dress of nylon sheer over taffeta which featured a round neckline which dipped to a V in the back. The bridesmaids' dresses, identical to the maid of honor's dress, were fashioned of parakeet blue nylon sheer.

James Nelson of Plymouth was best man and James Cripe of Plymouth and Roger Large of Culver were groomsmen.

Seating the guests were Steven Miller of Plymouth and Richard Large of Culver.

BIG VOTE GIVEN BOTH AMENDMENTS TO CONSTITUTION

Two proposed amendments to the Indiana constitution were approved by the State's voters on Nov. 8 by overwhelming margins, final official figures show. Official tabulations by the Secretary of State's office showed that a proposal to require all Circuit Court judges to be lawyers was approved by vote of 458,374 in favor to 56,674 against. The second proposed amendment, to simplify the titling of bills in the Indiana General Assembly, was adopted by a smaller margin, 338,887 in favor and 109,489 opposed. Both proposed amendments were approved by the 1957 and 1959 legislatures.

A Democratic Right To Pick Our Own School Consolidation Partners

CASTON SCHOOL DISTRICT
Grass Creek, Ind.

Editor, CITIZEN:

I was very pleased when informed of the consolidation proposal of the authorities of Aubbeenaubbee Township of Fulton County, Union Township of Marshall County, and North Bend Township of Starke County to form the Culver Community School Corporation.

I believe that every freedom loving person will agree with me that the people of the Culver Community, like those of the Caston Community, have a basic democratic right to choose their own consolidation partners.

I was taught that the real aim of education is to provide an understanding of basic principles and to develop ability to reason, think, and analyze in order that human knowledge may be broadened and solutions to problems may be found. I believe the Culver Community citizens have done their job well with good reasoning in approving the proposal of the authorities involved.

In my opinion, the Fulton County School Reorganization

Committee should welcome the Culver Community School Corporation and urge the State School Reorganization Commission to grant approval. Please remember, the Culver Community School Corporation is the wish of the people living in that area.

Perhaps a personal word may be permitted in closing. My college undergraduate field is that of Government and Economics. For generations Social Study teachers have taught the basic freedoms of a democracy and the age old theory of Home Rule in local matters. If left alone, the people of a community can solve their own problems within the limits of any given law. The years of work on problems such as these have instilled in me a tremendous respect for the judgment and balance of the rank and file of citizens. People respect fairness and good democratic principles.

The vast majority of people value the respect and friendliness of neighboring communities. It is my sincere hope that all the people of Fulton County will join with the people of the Caston School District in congratulating the citizens of the Culver Community and extend to them best wishes in their new venture.

THOMAS D. BRUMETT
Superintendent
Caston School District

Pennsylvania Railroad police said Tuesday that four boys, 13 to 15 years old, have admitted causing the derailment of the three diesel engines and 13 freight cars of a 62 car train at LaPaz Sunday.

Lt. Clifford Hart said the boys admitted cutting a lock from a switch. The derailment caused $100,000 damage.

The boys live near the scene of the derailment in Marshall County.

Authorities have not decided what course to pursue in the case. The boys were left in custody of their parents while the case was studied.

Local Instructor Returns From Soviet Union Teaches Russian At Academy

DR. RUSSELL BLAIR
Relates His Experiences

A Culver Military Academy instructor, recently returned from a five-week tour of the Soviet Union, believes American education maintains superiority to Russian education.

But Dr. Russell Blair, who teaches Russian at Culver, says that Soviet educators are doing an extremely good job with well-motivated, intense students.

"The difference between the Russian and American systems is one of philosophy. Everywhere I went in Russia I was reminded that the function of their education is to serve the needs of the State," Dr. Blair said.

"Their aims are to allow the student to develop his full abilities — education for excellence — but with freedom of choice resting with the State, to insure optimum development of the State.

"They have set up quotas for students preparing for higher education; large quotas in the essential fields and smaller ones in non-essential fields. Hence a boy who prefers law or journalism might have to select a large-quota field of perhaps engineering or physics, or postpone his higher education until a sufficient quota was established."

Fifty Educators Make Trip

Dr. Blair, who made the trip with 50 American educators, said that in the United States, "we serve the individual, and I think we are preparing a better citizen because of that philosophy. Here we stress his right to free choice so that he may have the opportunity to develop his individual capacities to the optimum consonant with his abilities and desires."

The Culver instructor believes the Russian student to be better motivated because of the intense drive among the Communists to surpass the West. Propaganda is geared in this direction and Dr. Blair points out that the poster seen most frequently was one alluding to the statement by Lenin, who, after the Russian revolution was asked: "What do we do now?" His reply was: "Study, Study, Study."

"Yet the Russian people are not completely swallowing this propaganda," says Dr. Blair. "Students were eager to learn from us. They asked questions, but always they were convinced that their system was the right one to follow. Yet they were smart enough to know that the West is ahead of them if they are constantly being prodded to close the gap."

Perhaps the lone penetration in the Russian educational armor is what Dr. Blair and some of the other American educators called a lack of "classroom curiosity." Teacher-Pupil Relationship

"There appears to be little give and take between teacher and pupil. We talked about this after our classroom visits and none of us could remember a student asking a question even though questions were encouraged. The students appeared to accept what was handed them by their Russian teachers without question."

In cities such as Moscow, Tbilisi, Tashkent, Samarkand, Stalinabad, and Alma Ata, the touring American professors met with Russian colleagues in general discussion sessions. The point was raised whether a Russian teacher could deviate from the prepared text, and, if he had a divergent opinion, whether he could express it in the classroom.

Answer Always The Same

"The answer came back always the same, Dr. Blair said. "They told us that no one wanted to teach in any other way but the one prescribed by the State. Soviet teachers are capable and are looked up to and respected. The Soviet teaching profession is one of prestige, a reflection of the importance which the Soviets attach to education. They are dedicated and seemed quite competent."

As for the work being produced by the Russian students, Dr. Blair had the opportunity to observe many classes conducted in his own field of language.

"Judging by the student product, it was good work. But nothing outstanding. In languages they weren't doing any better than a class in the U. S.

"One difference I might add is that the Russians do not believe in ability grouping as we have in American schools. In the Soviet Union the good student works alongside the bad one. One official told us he felt the U. S. begins too soon with ability-grouping."

Difficult To Compare Systems

Dr. Blair said it is difficult to compare U. S. and Soviet education because of the extreme differences in purpose.

"The Soviet approach to education is keynoted by simplicity, very high motivation, and thoroughness. But I believe that our stress on the development of the individual produces a graduate with greater flexibility, more intellectual curiosity, and better

$10,500 Essay Contest For Indiana Youths

Indianapolis — Scholarships and cash awards totaling $10,500 will be awarded to Indiana high school juniors and seniors who write the best essays on "The Differences Between A Republic and A Democracy." Eugene C. Pulliam, publisher of The Indianapolis Star has announced.

In his letter to more than 700 Indiana high school principals, Mr. Pulliam said he realized classes in American history and government emphasize the subject . . . but the word 'democracy' is used so often, in so many ways by so many people and newspapers, the word describing our form of government — republic — seems to be losing its importance."

The essay contest, which began on Thanksgiving Day and ends on Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, is open to all Indiana high school students in their junior or senior years and entry blanks may be obtained from school principals or by clipping the form from The Indianapolis Star.

Three $2,000 Winners

In selecting winners, the judges will pick three $2,000 scholarship winners — one each from the northern, central, and southern third of the state. In addition to the scholarship awards, the three schools represented by the scholarship winners will receive $500 cash gifts to be used to improve the school's library. Also, ten additional awards of $100 each will be given as honorable mention prizes in each of the three sections of the state.

Entries will be judged on adherence to contest rules, sound reasoning, and clearness of presentation. All entries will become the property of The Star and the suited to face the dilemmas of ethics that he must face."

Dr. Blair's trip was aided by a grant from the Fleet Fund established for Culver Military Academy faculty members doing advanced study.

decisions of the judges will be final.

The prime rule of the contest is that the entrant shall be the sole author of his essay. If he has quoted from text, he must credit the source.

Indianapolis Star's Publisher

Pulliam conceived the idea for students to research our American form of government. "According to the Constitution of the United States, written and signed 185 years ago, our founding fathers created a Republic," said Pulliam. "Yet today," he continued, "few Americans know the difference between a Republic and a Democracy."

Wide acclaim has already been directed to the contest for its stimulation of citizenship.

William E. Wilson, Indiana Superintendent of Public Instruction, complimented The Star on sponsoring the program. "This is the kind of encouragement our students need and the kind of support our schools welcome," he said.

Limit Of 500 Words

Only one entry may be submitted by a student and the essay may not exceed 500 words, exclusive of the bibliography. Entries inquiries, and requests for entry blanks should be addressed to "American Essay Contest," The Indianapolis Star, 307 N. Pennsylvania St., Indianapolis 6, Ind.

Volume Of Mail Here Continues Fast Growth

Postmaster Mattox Releases Report

A new all-time high in the nation's mail volume was reached during fiscal year 1960 ending June 30, which continued the steady upward trend of the past seven years at a rate which even exceeds the population growth, according to advance information from the Annual Report of the Post Office Department which has been made available to Postmaster E. Wayne Mattox.

Although subject to last minute revisions, the year's total has been estimated as 63.6 billion pieces of mail which includes about one billion pieces of parcel post.

Here in Culver, receipts of the post office climbed from $36,882 in 1953 to $66,911 last year.

It is estimated that the local office is presently handling 35% more mail by volume than it handled in 1953. This increased workload is still being performed with the same number of employees that were employed at the Culver office 25 years ago and with only a small increase in total man hours used.

"There is not much we can do about how much mail we have to handle from day to day or how many people are making use of the 'Postal Service,'" Postmaster Mattox stated, "but the whole Department keeps busy in devising ways and means for doing the job not only more efficiently but more economically."

"We can't deny that we still make mistakes and that the human element still plays a vitally important part in daily operations, but the statistics in the Department's annual report offer positive proof that we are making progress on a nation-wide basis. As an example, while the mail volume showed an increase of 16 billion pieces handled annually, the employment increase during this same period amounted to only 11 per cent."

"By way of explanation, it should be mentioned that the employment figures are first worked out under two separate headings, city carriers and 'all other,' and then combined for the over-all percentage figures just mentioned for fiscal 1960.

"It should also be mentioned that there has been a steady and substantial increase in 'city carriers' each year as compared with 1953, ranging from 4.5 per cent in 1954 to 29.2 per cent in the latest estimates. This increase has been essential to keep pace with the ever-expanding growth of established cities as well as the establishment of new ones."

"There is perhaps no better way of demonstrating the Department's ever-improving efficiency than by showing just how steadily the annual volume handled per man-year of employment — excluding city carriers — has been increasing since 1953. In that year the total handled by one man was 132,000 pieces of mail. For 1960 the corresponding figure was 157,000."

"It is, of course, true that all the additional service has made it necessary to take on many new employees and that our total increased from 506,520 in 1953 to 562,868 on June 30, 1960, but as pointed out in the original 1960 report figures, the workload increase during this same period was nearly 25 per cent."

"In a recent speech on this subject by the Postmaster General he brought out that by 1970 our population is expected to be 208,000,000 and that our annual mail volume by then will be more than 90 billion pieces. The U. S. Bureau of Standards, an entirely separate organization, estimates that our mail volume will be doubled within the next 25 years, and it all fits into the same picture."

Included among items cited by Postmaster Mattox as recent accomplishments by the Department were the following:

Established the first large-scale program of automatic mail handling by machinery on a nation-wide basis.

Developed the "airlift" program which speeds up the delivery of approximately one letter out of every 17 on a "space available" basis.

Continued with the development of faster machines for letter sorting, parcel post sorting, and for mail culling, facing, and cancelling.

Continued with plans for a new automatic postal sub-station which will vend stamps, envelopes, post cards, and writing paper, and which will have money changers for both coins and bills.

Disagrees With Robert K. Kyle's
Nov. 8 Election Analysis
Plymouth, Ind.
Editor, CITIZEN:

Following your example of an editorial note to Robert K. Kyle's letter of Nov. 23, concerning the vote of Union Township, I feel called upon to answer his charge that "this county is approaching elections with the voters' emotions uppermost rather than issues or party affiliations."

I do not know Mr. Kyle personally; I am not familiar with his political leanings, but I wager that Mr. Kyle disagreed with the Marshall County swing to Republicanism and looks upon us as immature children, guided by our childish emotions.

I will concur with Mr. Kyle in this one respect; I too was guided by a "childish emotion" . . . a trait that is found in the youngest of the new-born . . . and that is fear.

I voted for Richard Nixon out of fear — a terrible terror of creeping Communism and a very real conviction that Mr. Nixon was the best qualified to lead our nation, and the world, in a stand for freedom.

Mr. Nixon was defeated; political writers attribute his defeat to the large blocks of votes which were directed against him by the labor unions.

Let us hope and pray that President-elect Kennedy will be able to mature fast enough in order to keep our country free . . . or these labor unions will find, if Communism invades our land, that the only union will be the Soviet Union!

Now Mr. Kyle may say that I am speaking from an emotional viewpoint. Yes, Mr. Kyle, I am. But is it not true that if one becomes emotionally involved, the impetus to become physically involved follows? Let us hope so.

There is much that one can do personally to combat Communism. Familiarize yourselves with the facts . . . tape recordings are available dealing with Communism, sponsored by the Christian Anti-Communism movement.

Work with your civic organizations. It is impossible to fight an unknown enemy — know your enemy — learn the truth — and "the truth shall make you free."

Postmaster Urges Early Mailing for Christmas

Postmaster E. W. Mattox says: Early Mailing of Christmas cards and gifts is the biggest single factor in getting all mail delivered before Christmas. Post office facilities have been expanded and everything is geared up to handle record Christmas mail in Culver this year.

He asks us to follow these three simple rules to insure prompt and safe delivery of our Christmas gift packages — wrap them securely — address them correctly — mail them early!

You can speed delivery of your Christmas cards, by securing free labels from the post office indicating "all for local delivery" and "all for out of town delivery". Then sort and tie your cards in two separate bundles with the addresses all facing one way.

Remember, only Christmas cards carrying first-class postage may include a personal message. Always include your name and address on the Christmas card envelopes — this is socially correct and helps both you and your friends to keep mailing lists up to date. Mail all Christmas gifts and cards for distant points before Dec. 10.

Academy's Eppley Theatre Needs Your Parents' and Grandparents' Clothes For Play Costumes

Housewives of Culver and vicinity are urged to keep the Academy's Eppley Theatre in mind when cleaning out their attics.

"What may seem old and useless may be of great value in costuming our plays," William J. Martin, director of theater at CMA, tells The Citizen.

"We particularly look for things that Grandma used to wear and use — hats, shoes, gowns, capes, shawls, parasols. Yes, even corsets — slips, shifts, shirts, and chemise," Bill Martin added.

"Grandpa's duds are needed too — coats, trousers, shirts, collars, cravats, galluses, and gaiters," he continued.

*Breeches, bangles, belts and beads,
 Petticoats and widow's weeds.*

*Bag-wigs, wig-bags, furs and fans
 May appropriately fit our plans.*

We will welcome coifs and queues.

Kobis, chignons, spats and shoes.

*Needed as well are pantaloons,
 Furbelows and macaroons,*

*Gauntlets, gaiters, snips and snaps,
 Flowers, fringes, feathers, chaps,*

*Mantles, leggins, mau maus, skins,
 Knickers, slickers, pajamas and pins.*

(Peascods and periwigs are hard to get — Whatever became of the black lorgnette?)

Please let us have your farthingales.

Vests and vizards, wimples and veils.

Ruffs and muffs, boleros and loupes.

Sashes, sombreros, kimonoos and hoops.

*Whatever, in short, you cannot wear
 To the annual ball or the county fair.*

Mr. Martin also informs us that the expanding costume collection is available on loan to schools and church groups producing plays in the community.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

No one method of detecting cancer is 100 per cent foolproof. But, according to the American College of Radiology, one of the best and easiest ways is a regular X-ray examination. Time and again doctors have found an unsuspected cancer in a routine X-ray examination, and sometimes the discovery has saved a life.

The transient display advertising rate of The Citizen is only 70 cents per column inch.

"HOOSIER HAPPENINGS"

PARTY LOYALTY — A Marshall County man demonstrated his loyalty to the Republican party. He was standing on a ladder holding with both hands a sign to be put in place over the entrance to the GOP headquarters in the town of Bourbon. His belt became loosened and his trousers slipped down but he hung on to the sign. "I can afford to lose my pants to hang up such an important sign," he told onlookers.

Analysis Of 1960 Census Figures Shows Surprises

But Big Cities Swing Elections

By ROGER W. BABSON
 No. 1 U.S. Economist
 Babson Park, Mass. — The following rough analysis of the 1960 Census figures is intensely interesting to me.

Roger W. Babson

Large Cities Suffer Declines

For the first time since the original federal decennial census in 1790, all of our largest cities except one now show a decline.

By "large cities," I mean those with 1 million or more population forming the core of larger "metropolitan areas." Considering that the U.S. has been taking censuses for 170 years, this is an extraordinary event.

Los Angeles Is Exception

The above-mentioned "one exception" is Los Angeles, which shows a gain of over 20 per cent. This is due to several reasons.

Los Angeles found oil within its borders. It is also a center of the fruit industry, or at least it was until the inhabitants began to uproot trees in order to build subdivisions. Until the smog trouble developed, the Los Angeles climate was also superb.

Boston Hardest Hit

Of all large cities in the U.S., Boston has suffered one of the greatest losses.

My first job after graduating from M.I.T. was in Boston, which then had a population of 500,000. This increased to 750,000 in 1940 when the Boston Chamber of Commerce was forecasting a population of 1 million for the city. Boston proper did reach 800,000 in 1950; but the number has since dwindled to 577,000.

Boston has lacked natural resources, with the possible exception of the fishing industry. Educational institutions and small factories have been its chief assets.

Boston may still claim to be a great educational center, but it is rapidly losing its factories and mills. The New England shoe industry has moved to the Central West where hides are plentiful; the textile mills are moving to the South where they are nearer the cotton and sheep.

Head Electronics Industry

However, Southern California and Eastern Massachusetts ride at the head of the "electronics parade." Union wages and restrictions are a handicap but the quality of New England workmanship is very high.

The Rise Of Suburbia

The most revealing statistics of the 1960 Census concern the mighty force and growth of suburbia. Most people who have left the large cities have not moved to other states.

Rather, they have moved primarily to new suburbs some 15 to 25 miles distant. This not only gives them some 15 to 25 miles better living conditions, but provides an entirely new social life.

Major factors causing this change are automobiles, telephones, and television. These factors, plus airplanes, have raised havoc with the railroads as well as the large cities. The railroads now employ only 800,000 workers.

AIR BORNE - The Ashley-Hudson Lumber Co., of Angola as an advertising stunt sent aloft a number of toy balloons to which it attached business cards and invitations to the finders to attend an open house. One of the finders was Ralph H. Bell, who lives near Canonsburg, Pa. He wrote the lumber company saying he would be unable to make it to the open house but he wished the firm luck and success. The balloon had traveled approximately 320 miles in its flight from Angola to the Pennsylvania town.

The completeness and supremacy of God will be underscored at Christian Science church services this Sunday.
Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon "God the Only Cause and Creator" is the Golden Text from Psalms (146:5,6): "Happy is he that hath the God of Jacob for his help, whose hope is in the Lord his God: which made heaven, and earth, the sea, and all that therein is: which keepeth truth for ever."
From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following will be read: "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God" (275:14-15).
Selections from the Bible will include: "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created" (Rev. 4:11).

THE HARVEY BISHOPS FIGURE IN ACCIDENT
Extensive damage was caused to a car driven by Harvey Edwin Bishop, 20, Route 2, Culver, Thursday, Nov. 24, eight miles southwest of Plymouth when he lost control of the vehicle. Mrs. Bishop, a passenger, was hospitalized.
According to Sheriff Jerry Greenlee, Bishop was eastbound on West 14th Road and met a westbound car when he came over the crest of a hill. Bishop said the vehicle was traveling in the middle of the highway and he swerved to the right. The vehicle went out of control and skidded 250 feet before rolling over into a field on the Ronald Hawk farm.

Greenlee estimated the damage to the top, front, and side of the Bishop auto at $250 and $40 to the fence on the Hawk farm.
The westbound auto was not damaged.

U. S. POPULATION PASSES 182 MILLION TOTAL

The population of the United States passed the 182 million mark on Thanksgiving morning, according to estimates of the Bureau of the Census.
Estimates of the daily increase in population are shown on an illuminated map of the 50 states maintained in the lobby of the U. S. Department of Commerce building.

Components of change are shown on the Census exhibit by means of flashing lights. These lights indicate averages such as a birth every 7 1/2 seconds, a death every 20 seconds, an immigrant every 1 1/2 minutes, and an emigrant every 23 minutes. The net gain in population is shown as one every 10 1/2 seconds.

At the top of the map exhibit is a register which shows the estimated total U. S. population, including Armed Forces abroad, at any given moment.

VANDALS SET FIRE TO ABANDONED HOUSE

The Culver Fire Department answered a summons at 1:20 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 24, where an abandoned house on the Carl Broeker farm northwest of Culver was on fire.

Fire Chief Dave Burns said the large two-story frame house located just northwest of the Don-Marie Restaurant was ablaze and Burns said evidence was found after the blaze was extinguished that the fire was set and an act of vandalism was committed.

There was no electricity in the building.

NOVEMBER "INDIANA HISTORY BULLETIN" COVERS MARSHALL COUNTY

The November issue of the Indiana History Bulletin carries the following Marshall County report:

"At the Feb. 11 meeting of the Marshall County Historical Society, Plymouth, Arthur W. Creeg was elected president; James Wy-song, vice-president; Mrs. Dorothy Kain, secretary; Mrs. Elsie Jacoby, treasurer. A special exhibit of old coins and currency was held at the society's museum from April 27 to May 1 which attracted much interest. On Aug. 11 the society dedicated a memorial to the memory of Bruce Joseph, the originator of the first 'Kiddies' Day' in the United States which was held in Plymouth in 1915. During August the society sponsored a postage exhibition at the museum. Some 400 visitors registered at the museum during August."

COLORFUL—The Delphi Journal reports that Melvin Brown recently sold his home in that city to Charles E. Black of Route Two, Delphi, and that Black, in turn, sold his property to Robert White. The Journal suggests that probably some "green" stuff was involved in the deals between Brown, Black, and White and expresses hope that none of the parties gets blue over the transactions.

ledge about American Presidents. Thereupon, the kids learn that Madison was as short-sighted as he was short-heighted. Because of his poor defense planning, Washington fell to the British and he was forced to flee to Virginia.

BESIDES KNOWING Taft was our pudgiest leader, pupils learn that he made a more impressive record as Supreme Court justice than as President.

And they find that Tyler brought Texas into the union, as well as 14 kids into the world — and that Buchanan, who failed to find a mate, also failed to solve the slavery problem, leaving it to his successor, Lincoln.

PERSONS WHO view Lehman's 180 Presidential slides find surprise in many of the cemetery scenes, too.

The three assassinated Presidents (Lincoln, Garfield, and McKinley) all have impressive memorials, although Garfield's castle-like mausoleum is something of an architectural monstrosity.

William Henry Harrison, who was President scarcely a month, has a far more imposing marker than Grover Cleveland, who served two separate terms.

INDIANA'S only White House occupant, Benjamin Harrison, has a simple stone no more prominent than those that surround it in an Indianapolis cemetery.

The memorial to Warren G. Harding, a Presidential flop, is a massive affair that cost nearly a million dollars. By contrast, Cal Coolidge lies beneath a simple slab worth about $75. The reference to his high office is a Presidential seal.

Wilson is in a massive crypt in Washington Cathedral. The two Adamses occupy adjoining crypts in a Massachusetts church basement.

FDR'S BURIAL PLACE in Hyde Park gardens is marked by a simple, tasteful stone. Nearby is an hour-glass marker beneath which lies Fala, Roosevelt's famous dog.

Morbid though the thought is, the Lehman's fascinating hobby cannot be expanded now unless Hoover, Truman, or Eisenhower pass away.

"But we don't like the hobby that much," Forest quickly explains. "We hope Herb, Harry, and Ike outlive us all."

CULVER MOVIE THEATRE WILL BE CLOSED ON WEDNESDAYS

Culver's El Rancho, which has the distinction of being the smallest theatre in the world with a CinemaScope screen, effective immediately will be closed on Wednesdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Evert B. Hoesel, the owners, feel that it is wise to give up their 7-day-a-week business grind and that they are entitled to a day off like other folks.

The Hoesels are to be complimented on the excellence of their recent feature film schedule. The El Rancho deserves the regular support of the entire community. After all, TV is a pretty poor substitute for a good, entertaining movie.

"HUMBLE" NAME APPEARS ON SERVICE STATION

The Oklahoma service station on Lake Shore Drive is also sporting a new "Humble" sign on its building. The Humble Oil Refining Co., leading marketing subsidiary of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, has recently taken over Oklahoma and several other important companies.

Marcel Marceau, Famed French Mimic, Coming

At Eppley This Friday Evening

Marcel Marceau, acknowledged to be the world's greatest living pantomimist, will make an appearance at Culver Military Academy on Friday, Dec. 2.

The performance by Marceau is part of the 1960-61 Concert-Theater series at the Academy. He will appear in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium, beginning at 8:15 p.m.

Foremost In His Field
Marceau has been hailed throughout the world as the foremost interpreter of one of the oldest, least practiced, and most difficult of the performing arts — the art of gesture.

He will offer a program featuring his famous "Bip" sketches as well as some of the style exercises and pantomimes with which American audiences are familiar.

You Saw Him On TV
Marceau is well known through the theater and also through his many recent television appearances on major networks.

Accompanying him will be Pierre Verry, of Marceau's French company, who toured with him on major American tours in 1955-56 and 1958. Marceau opened his third U.S. tour in September in New York.

Open To The Public
The performance is open to the public and good seats are available in both the orchestra or balcony. Prices are $3.50 and $2.50. Mail or telephone orders may be placed with William J. Martin, director of theater, in care of the Academy (telephone VIKING 2-3311, extension 303).

2½ Hour Performance
Without benefit of props, scenery, or the spoken word, Marceau is acknowledged to have the ability to hold audiences all over the world enthralled for 2½ hours. He claims that he first felt the urge to pursue pantomime when, at the age of 5, his mother took him to see his first Charlie Chaplin movie.

In 1947 Marceau created his alter-ego, "Bip" — with his white painted face, striped pull-over, tight trousers, and his battered hat topped with a trembling flower. Bip, whether as butterfly-hunter, lion-tamer, professor of botany, skater, or guest at a party, is the silent witness of the lives of all men, struggling against one handicap or another, with joys and sorrows as their daily companions.

Pantomime offers the language of the heart, says Marceau.

"Pantomime is a universal art and a means of communion between all the people in the world who crave love and beauty."
