Old Mill At Cutler, Not Far From Culver, Stirs Up Fond Memories

THE OLD MILL enchanted Claude Sheets in early boyhood and he never broke its magic spell.

Farm-born near tiny Cutler in Carroll County, Claude often visited the big, four-story mill along Wildcat Creek when dad or granddad had grain to be ground.

While his elders waited for meal or flour, an inquisitive boy with a mechanical bent made eager explorations.

CLAUDE MARVELED at the mill's great, hand-hewn walnut and poplar timbers — wood-pegged and perfectly fitted. He loved to watch the rumbling new steel flour rollers and the ancient, wooden-gear stone buhrs that still ground cornmeal.

Most of all, he longed to see the turbine-type water wheels hidden in the mill's wet bowels. Their "silent" power fascinated him.

Even then, way back as the century turned, the old mill had a rich history, which also intrigued young Claude.

PIONEER JOHN ADAMS, who came to Indiana from Pennsylvania about 1835, had built the great mill a decade later — after prospering with a smaller one. Thereafter, it continually served the community more than half a century.

In time, a boyish dream was born of Claude's enchantment.

"Some day," he silently vowed, "I'll own this mill . . . and get to see those hidden water wheels."

THE DREAM faded as Claude finished high school and became a wireless operator on Great Lakes and Gulf ships after two years of engineering study at Valparaiso University.

In 1924, while serving a shore station in Manitowoc, Wis., Claude met and married Bertha Drumm. As broadcasting blossomed, they moved to Chicago where Sheets worked awhile for pioneer KYW, then helped build and operate stations WIBO and WBBM.

FILMSON'S "TALKIES" soon lured Sheets to New York, where he served as a sound engineer and researcher for 20th Century-Fox and RKO.

"The pay was good — but the work was tense, demanding and ulcer-ridden," Claude recalled with a grin. "I vowed early that

Postal Employees Do Usual Fine Holiday Job

E. WAYNE MATTOX
Efficient Culver Postmaster

Now that the holidays are behind us the entire community should acknowledge its deep appreciation of the exceptional service rendered by Postmaster E. Wayne Mattox and his staff in handling the heavy Christmas mail.

The Citizen has been pretty critical of the U. S. Post Office Department because its service has steadily gotten worse instead of better in the face of greatly increased postage rates. Our criticism, however, has NEVER involved our local post office which day after day goes far beyond the call of duty in behalf of all its many patrons.

Accordingly, we would like to say "Thank You" again to Postmaster Mattox and to these faithful and courteous postal employees whose names follow:

Assistant Postmaster Harold Fitterling and Clerks William Washburn, Ernest L. (Bus) Carter, and Jerry Jones — also James Washburn, Christmas season clerk.

City Carriers Larry Lowry, James Jones, and Roger Wise.

Rural Route Carriers Hall Wilson (Route 1) and Ronald Mackey (Route 2) — also Substitute Carriers Dean Manchester on Route 1 and Tom Houghton on Route 2.

C. Arthur Reed and Earl Eckman, the custodians, also are entitled to special praise for their every-day performances.

Extraordinary Athlete Now At Academy

Coach Oliver Hails Schuldt

COACH RUSS OLIVER
and His "Star Find"
PAUL SCHULDT

In an era when the three and four-sport athlete is becoming the vanishing American, veteran Culver Military Academy Coach Russ Oliver is boosting one of the finest all-around athletes in his 26 years at the Academy.

He's Paul Schuldt, a Tinley Park, Ill., senior who captains the Culver basketball team and is a standout in baseball and football.

Coach Oliver, himself a nine-letter winner in three sports at the University of Michigan, is quick to agree that few college athletes of today have the opportunity to excel in more than one sport.

A Rare Combination

"Because of the time required for academics and the intense competition from many good athletes in all sports, the collegiate player of this era seldom has the combination of time and ability to play more than one sport. Paul is one of the best all-around athletes we've had in my years here, and he has a good college potential in three sports, although his best are basketball and baseball."

As a basketball player, Schuldt has shown tremendous improvement over his play last season. He was used mainly as the sixth man on an Eagle quintet which won 12 and lost 5. Near the end of the season Coach Oliver began starting him, but he lacked that final punch to be a good scorer.

This year Schuldt has filled out to 180 pounds and he stands 6 feet, 4 inches. Added size, more experience and maturity, and additional confidence have made him the mainstay of the Culver team, with an average of 24 points per game through the month of December when the Eagles divided in their first four contests. Schuldt's 29 points against Crown Point High School, when the defense concentrated on halting his scoring antics, are the high for the season.

Strong On The Boards

"Defensively Paul has all the movements, and he is particularly strong on the boards," says Russ. "His soft touch developed within the last year has made him an offensive threat as his average points out."

But Schuldt's versatility as an athlete is best exemplified in football — probably the weakest of the three sports he plays. Last year he played end, and Oliver feels his best potential is at that position. But early this past season

This Week With Governor Handley

Administration Proudly Lists Its Achievements

[Final appearance of this very informative weekly column]

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 2 — Reviewing "some of the major achievements" of his administration, Governor Harold W. Handley today in his final weekly news release cited the following:

1. Modernization of Indiana's highway system in almost every county by constructing more new highways in four years than in the previous 20 years;

2. Adjustment of the state gross income tax and instituting of payroll withholding so as to finance more public services than ever before, providing more state help for local government than ever before, and re-establish a sufficient balance in the state general fund to help support the 1961-1963 budget without any new taxes;

Harold W. Handley

3. Concentration of state government activities in one central area by construction of the State Office Building and State Employment Security Building, thereby enabling more efficient and more economical administration;

4. Taking of a complete inventory of all state-owned property and rigid enforcement of a system of low bidding on highway and supplies contracts, a new system of inventory control, data processing, and purchasing.

State Hospitals Improved

5. Construction of additional state hospital facilities and decisive upgrading of professional staffs;

6. Beginning of far-reaching new reservoir projects in both upper and lower Wabash Valleys as a part of Indiana's vital water control program;

7. Activation of state loans to local communities for new school buildings and increase of state support for teacher salaries without impairing home rule; as well as unprecedented expansion of state universities, including the new medical school at the Indiana University Medical Center in Indianapolis and the new School of Veterinary Medicine at Purdue University.

Two New State Parks

8. Addition of two more state parks to our public recreation system — Lieber and Chain-o'-Lakes.

9. Abolition of all except one cent of the state property tax;

10. Attraction of more industrial expansion per capita than anywhere else in the nation;

11. Furtherance of the deep-water port on Lake Michigan and preparation of plans for an international air cargo port in Northwestern Indiana;

Interested In Elderly Folks

12. Reactivation of the Governor's Youth Commission and the Governor's Council for the Aging and Aged, not only on a state level but in almost every county of the state.

Town's Sanitary System Progress Report For 1960

Submitted By Bernard Busart

During this year there have been several improvements made in the collection portion of the disposal system.

The first of these being the installation of a peak flow relief bypass at the corner of State Street and Lake Shore Drive. This was installed to relieve back up in the area's upgrade from this point during periods of abnormal flow.

In each of the two liftwells, automatic warning devices have been installed to sound alarm in the event of equipment malfunction or failure.

These early warnings have on numerous occasions enabled the operating personnel to detect the point of failure many hours before property damage occurred. These devices operate continuously, 24 hours a day.

To protect personnel, who enter manholes and lift wells, from the possible presence of gas or from the lack of oxygen, there has been initiated the use of a portable blower capable of exhausting stale air or supplying fresh air at the rate of 1,500 cubic feet per minute during the workers' stay in an area of possible danger.

The following is a complete list of Sewage Revenue Bonds redeemed to date:

Date	Number of Bonds Redeemed, $1000 Denomination
1954	2
1955	3
1956	3
1957	3
1958	6
1959	6
1960	19*
	30

*10 of these bonds were due in 1961.

Total bonds outstanding to date Dec. 30, 1960 is 365.

The redemption of extra bonds in year 1960 should save approximately $10,000 in interest payments.

The above report was submitted to the office of the Clerk-Treasurer by Bernard Busart on Dec. 30, 1960.

HOOSIER HAPPENINGS
By Harold Hanson

MEMORY AID — Some folks still tie a string around a finger to remind them of something they should do. The Jennings County superintendent of schools, Wilfred Huelson, has come up with a new memory jogger. To make sure he mails important letters he seals each letter then places it on the floor in front of his office door. Upon leaving his office in North Vernon he sees the letters on the floor, picks them up and mails them.

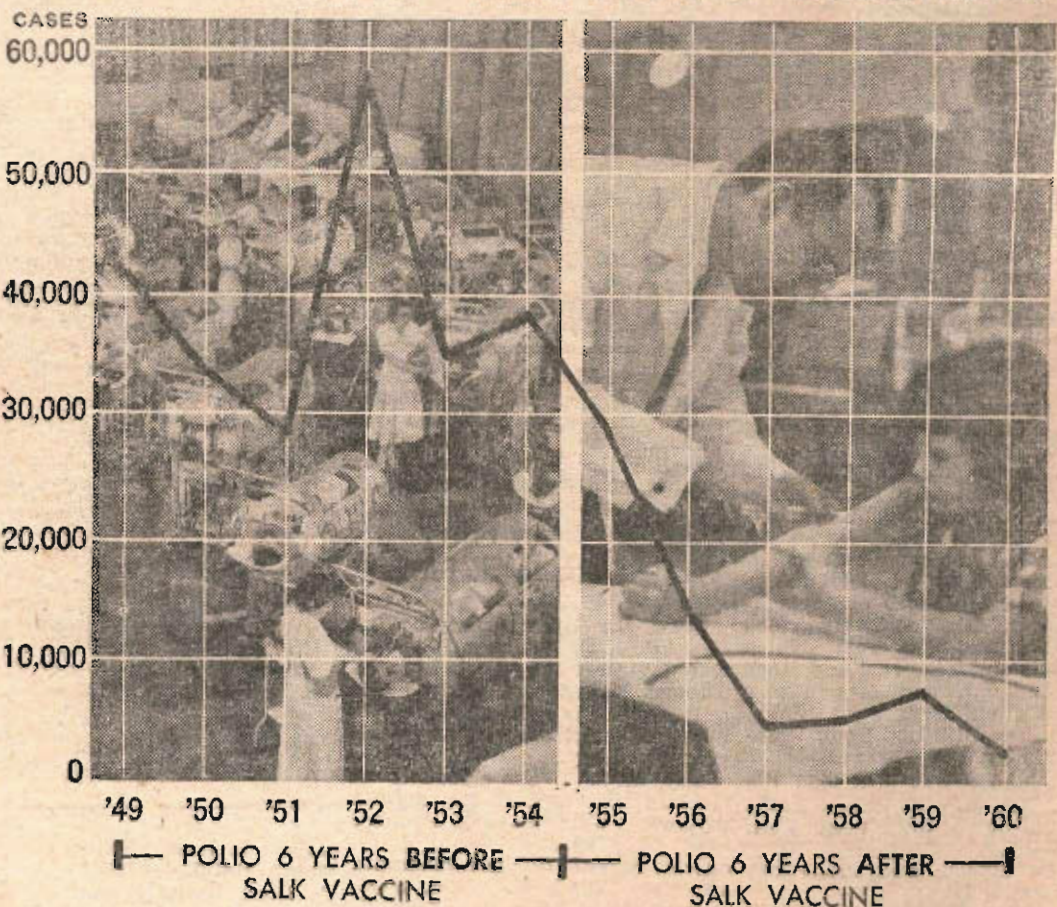

BATTERY IN NEW ERA

The Bell solar battery, invented at Bell Telephone Laboratories, has traveled far into outer space since 1955, when a Georgia farmer made the first phone call in history to be powered by energy from the sun. Power for that call came from a solar battery which converted sunlight into electricity. As of mid-1960, similar solar cells were enabling seven American satellites to beam sun-powered messages back to earth from the deep reaches of outer space.

TAXES AND MORE — According to the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads a 5-axle combination tractor trailer truck pays $3,235.95 in annual federal and state taxes. This compares with an average passenger car taxes of $166. The transient display advertising rate of The Citizen is only 70 cents per column inch.

MARCH OF DIMES RESEARCH DID THIS; NEXT — OTHER CRIPPLING DISEASES

AMERICA'S INVESTMENT in medical scientific research through contributions to the March of Dimes paid a huge dividend—the polio vaccine. Now the March of Dimes is working to prevent other crippling diseases—birth defects and arthritis. A further investment in medical research through the March of Dimes may pay even greater dividends. Campaign continues through January.

BARRY LEE NOBLE SAVES CHRISTMAS GIFT
Barry Lee Noble, 10-year-old grandson of Lee Oliver who resides about a mile southeast of Monterey, is a mighty happy boy these days — happy to be alive and happy to still have his new air rifle.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. George Noble, 3402 Noland Ave., Indianapolis, Barry was elated to find that long-wanted air rifle under his Christmas tree this year. Not being permitted to use his new gift in his home town, he brought it with him on his between-holidays-vacation with his grandparents.

The other day, while standing on his grandfather's wharf in the Tippecanoe River, he accidentally knocked the rifle into the four-foot depth of icy water. Without thinking, Barry immediately dived into the water, retrieved it, and saved himself from the river's current and possible drowning.

Being an expert swimmer was Barry's weapon against drowning and he strongly advises everyone to learn to swim — also to keep guns away from water.

 Importance of understanding the spiritual meaning of the Eucharist and of truly commemorating the life of Christ Jesus will be emphasized at the semi-annual communion service at Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Sacrament" is the Golden Text from I Corinthians (5:8): "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following: "The baptism of Spirit, washing the body of all the impurities of flesh, signifies that the pure in heart see God and are approaching spiritual life and its demonstration" (241:27).

Also included in the Lesson-Sermon is this passage: "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" (I Corinthians 10:16).

POPULATION SHIFTS — The taking of the 1960 census has resulted in some recollections as to the population shift in Indiana. The first recorded population figures show that in 1810 Knox County with 7,803 residents was the most thickly populated in the state trailed by Dearborn County with 7,310. These two counties totaled about two-thirds of the state's population in that year.

"Hoosier At Large"

I'd retire at 50 and enjoy life."
Sheets was 44 when he and Bertha made a vacation visit to Cutler in 1940. To his dismay, Claude learned that the old mill had stopped operating and started decaying.

"If you buy and recondition it, I'll lease it and resume milling," Claude's brother, Dewey, offered. Claude forthwith bought the mill and, at long last, finally got to see its two huge water wheels.

DURING WAR II, the refurbished mill thrived making Wildcat Good Luck flour and a dozen other meal and feed products.

In 1946, when he turned 50, Claude retired. He and Bertha settled in a cozy cottage close to the old mill — a lovely, woody site as scenic as a picture postcard.

"For the next six years we just rocked, relaxed, loafed, pattered or traveled," Claude grinned. "The mill was my toy — a big, complex toy, but self-supporting."

ALL THIS PLEASANT serenity was shattered in 1952 when state inspectors came to enforce new milling laws.

"You must make the mill rodent-proof," they said. "And the grain you grind must come from rodent-proof storage."

To caulk the ancient structure would have cost a fortune. The Sheets brothers — owner and operator — surrendered to the inevitable and sadly shut down the venerable, 107-year-old mill. Dewey became a Muncie postal clerk and Claude decided he'd better go back to summer work as a wireless operator on Great Lakes passenger ships to keep a big toy that no longer supported itself.

THEN A STRANGE thing happened. People kept coming to the mill, especially on weekends. Many knocked at Sheets' door and pleaded, "Please open it. We want to show it to our children..."

CLAUDE WAS SURPRISED. "We thought only customers had been coming to our mill," he said. "Now we realized it was also an historic attraction."

So, with no expectation of reward, Sheets decided to make his beloved mill a sort of historical treasure trove... simply for the enjoyment of others.

But that's another story... for next week's Culver Citizen.

Coach Oliver's Academy "Find"

son Culver lost through injuries its only dependable quarterback. Coach Oliver had to convert someone to take over, and Schudt was the logical choice.

"Because of his good hands, he is a good end," said Coach Oliver. "But we needed someone at quarterback in a hurry. Paul filled the gap for us the rest of the season. As a college player, where he will have to play both ways, his weakness will be on defense since he has played mostly offense for Culver."

Terrific Baseball Pitcher Finally, as a baseball player, Coach Oliver feels Schudt has a great college potential — and possibly professional potential with the additional coaching he'll get at the college level. Paul is a right-hand pitcher with good motion and all the poise needed to be the No. 1 man on the Eagle staff this spring.

"Schudt is a hard worker and a better than average student. He takes instruction well, and he follows through as a leader no matter whether he is quarterbacking the football team, captaining the basketball squad, or on the mound during baseball season," comments Coach Oliver.

Schudt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Schudt, 159th Street and Oak Park Avenue, Tinley Park, Ill.

Achievements Of Governor Handley

ment which my administration has written," Governor Handley said. "No amount of distortion or misstatement can alter the facts."

"The people of debt-free Indiana are getting the best state government at the lowest cost anywhere in the world. That's the reason so many families and so many business operations are locating in Hoosierland."

"This record is the result of tireless effort by a remarkable group of capable, honest and dedicated men and women. We have had a team on the field these last four years which will be mighty difficult to match."

"I am grateful for all the help I have received, and I am humbly thankful for the understanding and appreciation manifest by most of the people of Indiana."

Expresses Thanks To Newspapers "Also, I am indebted to the news media of our state for the conscientious and objective way most of them have presented the facts about this administration. Invariably I have maintained the open-door policy of making myself and my department heads available to news gatherers, and as a result the people of Indiana have come to know the intimate details of their state government as never before."

"To those who have patiently read this news letter in The Culver Citizen and scores of other fine Hoosier newspapers, I also extend my thanks. We have tried to keep you well informed. A fully informed citizenry is essential if Indiana is to continue to progress and prosper, and if the American Republic is to survive."

"A Happy New Year to all, and once again the heartfelt thanks of Barbara, Martha, Kenneth, and myself to the people of Indiana for the opportunity to be of service and the high honor accorded me as the 40th Governor of Indiana. Goodbye and God bless you."

RETURNS FROM FLORIDA Mrs. Mildred Dittmore, co-owner of the M & M Restaurant, returned Friday from St. Petersburg, Fla., where she went to recuperate from her automobile accident near Hebron last month. She is not yet quite up to par but hopes to resume her M & M duties at least on a part-time basis shortly.

ORA CONNOR (BUS FRENCH) RETURNS HOME AFTER HOLIDAY VISIT

Ora Connor, better known locally as Bus French, here for the holidays on a 15-day leave from the Old Soldier's Home at Lafayette, got Thursday and Friday mixed up last week and almost missed his return deadline.

Fortunately, Postmaster and Mrs. E. Wayne Mattox drove him to Lafayette late Friday night and everything worked out fine.

While here Mr. French was the house guest of Harold Davis.

Every minute of anger is 60 seconds of lost happiness.

Standard Oil In Big Corporate Reorganization

Hoosier Firm Is Parent Company

CHICAGO. — An extensive corporate reorganization of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) becomes effective Jan. 1.

Standard Oil (Indiana) becomes exclusively a parent company concerned with broad management policy and with the coordination of subsidiaries that deal with all aspects of the oil business. The par company will have no direct operating assets such as it now has in the Midwest.

The reorganization will combine product marketing, refining, distribution, and research operations, and assets of Standard Oil and its wholly owned subsidiaries, Utah Oil Refining Company and American Oil Company, in a single company with unified management and generally with common trade marks and brands. This company will be the American Oil Company.

Statement By Swearingen
"In the 15 Midwestern states, where the parent company has for many years owned the right to the exclusive use of the Standard Oil name," President John E. Swearingen of Standard Oil emphasized, "the American Oil Company will use and protect the Standard name by marketing through its Standard Oil division. Service stations and other facilities in these states will continue to be prominently identified with the Standard Oil name."

L. W. Moore, who will continue as president and chief executive officer of American Oil, said major gasolines of the new operating organization will carry the brand name American.

For regular gasoline the brand name American Regular will be used throughout the present American Oil Company marketing area, and the present Standard Oil Company (Indiana) marketing area, and the present Utah Oil Refining Company marketing area.

For premium gasoline, the brand name American Super Premium will be used in the present Standard Oil Company (Indiana) and present Utah Oil marketing areas. The brand Amoco Super Premium will be used in the present American Oil marketing area for the company's unique unleaded premium gasoline.

Accident Victim Still Facing More Surgery

THOMAS K. WALKER

Tom Walker, injured in a cornpicker accident last Oct. 22, dropped in at The Citizen office last Wednesday looking exceedingly well considering his severe injury and the surgery he has undergone since.

Tom was confined to Parkview Hospital for about four weeks and since his release has had to return repeatedly for surgery and still faces more. He lost the fourth and fifth fingers of his right hand and the entire hand was badly mangled.

He reports that he is getting very adept at using his left hand and his wonderful spirit and outlook calls to mind the old expression, "You can't keep a good man down!"
