"HOOSIER AT LARGE"

By Al Spiers

Two Indiana Fellows Hit 200 Miles An Hour On An Ice Sled!

BIG BILL FITZSIMMONS is an incurable pixie with a bearlike build, a weathered face, an amiable nature, a prankish mind, and enduring exuberance.

AL SPIERS

Bill is now 70 and retired, but in Auburn, Indiana, his home base since the early '20s, many awed and affectionate intimates still dub him "Peck's Bad Boy."

This neither annoys nor discomfits Fitz, who abhors pretense and pomposity. It's the story of his life — and an apt reflection of the philosophy he's cherished since childhood.

"Sure I was Peck's Bad Boy," he confessed, eyes merry. "Still am! It doesn't pay to grow up. You never have any real fun."

BEYOND DOUBT, Bill has wrung umpteen times more fun out of life than most of us. The wonder is that he's grown old, if not up — because Fitz has laughed at danger and death as often as he's nose-thumbed stuffy conventions and staid routine.

Typically, his hungriest yearning at the rocking chair age of 70 is to fly — and stunt! — a jet.

He probably will!

FARM-BORN (in 1891) and raised in Tipton County, Fitzsimmons started racing through life in early Hoosier cars.

An apt, natural mechanic, he left Russville High to work gratis for Kokomo's Eichenberry brothers — who sold very early Auburns, Chandlers, Hummobiles, Brushes, and Metzels.

"Cars fascinated me," Bill said. "I worked for free to study their innards and learn to drive."

Fitz did both so well and so quickly that he soon became Bill Eichenberry's chauffeur.

"Bill was an early-day wheeler and dealer," Fitz recalled. "He ranged Indiana, Ohio, and Illinois — buying, selling, or swapping businesses as well as cars. We had a great time together."

WHEN THAT JOB palled, Fitz became a road tester for Elwood Haynes, early Kokomo auto maker. Among other things, he helped Elwood ship the first Haynes to the Smithsonian Institution.

"What lured you away from Kokomo to Auburn?" I asked.

"A better car," replied Fitz, grinning boyishly. "The Haynes was the Cadillac of its day — big, luxurious, precision-built. The Auburn was the hot-rod. I liked

ANTON HULMAN JR.

Members of the Culver Lions Club have a real treat in store tonight — a sound movie of the 1960 500-mile Memorial Day race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, owned by one of our finest Hoosiers, Anton Hulman Jr., of Terre Haute.

The loan of the film was arranged by The State Exchange Bank. The annual spectacle draws the largest sports crowd in the world. Attendance figures are never released but 185,000 is a good guess.

Robertson Best County Chairman In Entire State

Treasurer Hughes Tells Republicans

Our new and dynamic 33-year-old State Treasurer, Robert E. Hughes, last Saturday evening at Bremen told more than 250 Third District Republicans what most of us have known for a long time — that Stewart W. Robertson of Plymouth, Marshall County chairman, is the "best county chairman in Indiana!"

This is a most significant and well deserved compliment, coming as it did from the chairman of the aggressive Indiana Young Republicans, who last fall carried on a successful and vigorous campaign in all 92 of the Hoosier State's counties.

The enjoyable and inspiring occasion was the annual Lincoln Day dinner at the American Legion home.

Has Bright Political Future
Keep your eyes on Greenwood's Bob Hughes. He has the ability and personality to become a formidable G.O.P. candidate for Governor one of these days.

In his hard-hitting Lincoln Day address Hughes said in part: "Protect your freedoms by keeping Government from infringing on the rights of life, liberty, and property. As Indiana Young Republican chairman, I have talked with the young people in 40 states and I am happy to assure you that they are not turning to the Democratic party and its wild-eyed liberalism."

"The young people are turning to the Republican party and believe me our party is not falling apart. The Democrats elected last November are slowly chipping away at our freedoms and rights. I urge you to return to the principles of Lincoln with all your might."

Criticizes Kennedy Appointments
The new State Treasurer blasted President Kennedy's recent appointments of Orville Freeman as the first Secretary of Agriculture who can spend more money than Henry Wallace; the "infamous" record of Secretary of State Dean Rusk; and particularly the appointment of Edward R. Murrow as director of the U.S. Information Agency, who changed his first name from Egbert.

State Representative Otis R. Bowen reported briefly on the current session of the State Legislature, in which he is recognized as one of the most capable leaders.

Ida Steals The Show!
Mrs. Ida Chipman, wife of Eugene Chipman, Plymouth lawyer and CMA graduate, stole the show with her hilariously funny political monologue during which she urged all Republicans to begin campaigning for the next election right now!

This charming and intelligent Southern-born young lady and ex-Democrat is by all odds the most refreshing person we have heard at a political rally in many years. The Culver Citizen thinks that Ida would be a fine candidate for State Senator in 1964!

Joe Miller On The Ball
Joe Miller of Bremen, enthusiastic Marshall County Young Republican chairman, did a neat job as master of ceremonies, and Howard Menser of Plymouth, Third District Young Republican chairman, introduced State Treasurer Hughes effectively.

Most of the Third District party faithfuls were on hand to join in the salute to the first Republican President. Among those from Culver we noted that indefatigable worker, Homer H. Kemple, Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Price, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lindvall, Sr. We were glad to greet former Congressman F. Jay Nimitz, whose South Bend law practice is keeping him busy night and day.

Let's Salute Robertson
Say, Republicans. How about a testimonial dinner in honor of County Chairman Robertson about this time next year? As "Stew" himself would say, "By golly, that sounds like a good idea!"

CAPACITY CROWD ATTENDS JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES GARY BIBLE CONVENTION

A capacity crowd of 2084 packed the Gary Roosevelt High School Auditorium last Sunday to hear Nicholas Kovalak, Jr., visiting Bible lecturer, give his widely heralded discourse, "Is God Interested In The Affairs Of Men?"

Mr. Kovalak reminded the vast audience that "All mankind stands in danger of madly destroying itself by its own means. The world's conditions of fear, hatred, wars, disasters and wickedness is the visible evidence that God's Kingdom will accomplish its purpose within this generation."

He encouraged everyone to study the entire Bible, gain wisdom with understanding and be assured that God is interested in those who serve Him.

Sixty-five persons took up the ministerial work of Jehovah's Witnesses by being immersed in water at a mass baptismal ceremony Saturday afternoon. This denotes that they have now entered the preaching fellowship of the Witnesses.

A featured speaker on the three-day program of Bible discussions, demonstrations and lectures was Stanley Spangler, minister of the Plymouth congregation, who conducted the Saturday morning session. His subject and theme was "Delighting to Serve Jehovah".

Mrs. Charles Simmons, Mrs. Edith Hudson and Linda spent Sunday in Evanston, Ill., visiting Mrs. Simmons' brother, Dennis Jones.

Scouteraft was Morse code which saw Fletcher Mattox, Chuck Benner, Marshall Brown, Greg Yapp, Phil Scruggs, Tom Bocoock, and Frank Sheppard as champion "Coders." Be sure you know your numerals and procedure signs for next week.

Do you know that if you are not of the rank of Tenderfoot you are not an official member of the Boy Scouts of America of Troop 290? You candidates had better get busy!

Scout-O-Rama is Saturday, April 15. Are you doing your share to complete the project?

We had a successful overnight camp-out last weekend though too much time was spent on cooking and cleaning up. The reason for these overnights is to pass requirements. We need to spend all the time we can to accomplish them. Let's be better prepared for our next camp-out which is to be at Camp Tamarack winter camp in Michigan.

CUB SCOUT NEWS

Cub Scouts of Culver Pack 290, their parents, and brothers and sisters will attend the annual Blue and Gold banquet at the Methodist Church next Tuesday, Feb. 28, at 6 p.m.

Each Cub mother will bring a dish for the community supper. Den members and their families will eat together at tables decorated by the Cubs.

Den mothers will be honored at the annual banquet, and district Cub Scout officials will be on hand to participate. Cubs who qualify for advanced ratings or arrow points as a result of accomplishments during the month will receive their awards from Cub Master E. Wayne Mattox and Pack Chairman James V. Miracle.

Spirited competition is expected for the attendance banner, which goes to the Den with the largest number of persons present. At last month's Pack meeting Den 8 won the banner, which was presented for the first time. Interest in winning the banner was so high that 163 persons attended the meeting — the largest crowd in local Cub Scout history. It is anticipated this record may be broken at the Blue and Gold banquet.

We Appeal For Blood

By JAMES McALLISTER
At the last visit of the Bloodmobile we reached a new all-time low donation of 39 pints. This is out of a Union Township population of 3,500 people. We have actually used more blood the last few months than we have donated.

At every visit we have had wonderful cooperation from several loyal organizations for food, paper work, and all other phases of operation except donors. Please, citizens of Culver and Union Township, can't you pledge a pint of blood to help your fellow man? You have helped your community in so many other ways. You support your churches, your clubs, your school, and some of these cost you money. We aren't asking for money; we just want a pint of your blood, which will be replaced in a very few days by the wonderful body that God gave you.

You should be pleased and proud that you are physically able to contribute to the strength of your neighbor without it costing you one cent. I therefore appeal to you, Citizens of Culver, to take time out March 9 between 12 noon and 6 p.m. at the Community Building (gym) to support your Red Cross Program. Let's make this a community affair.

Let's rally behind Mrs. Helen-glen Holifield and Mrs. Allin Westcott, who are experienced Red Cross workers and have already done so much to organize this program. Call them at Viking 2-2143 or Viking 2-2246 and make your appointment today.

Remember, if you are a resident of Marshall County and if you ever need blood anywhere in the United States, it will be replaced without charge by the Fort Wayne Blood Bank. Can't you help us in this fine Christian effort? Please try. I think you will be glad you did.

If you have any questions, please call Mrs. Holifield or Mrs. Westcott.

Academy Sports

The Culver Military Academy basketball team moves into the final weekend of the winter sports season Saturday night when the Eagles host arch-rival St. John's Military Academy.

Coach Russ Oliver's eagles hold a 60-50 decision over St. John's from an earlier game this season at Delafield, Wis., and need a victory in the 6:30 p.m. game Saturday to finish the season with a 10-6 record.

The Academy quintet was one of several teams in action last weekend. At Bloomfield Hills, Mich., on Saturday, the basketball and wrestling teams won a pair of contests over Cranbrook School. The basketball team defeated Cranbrook, 59-44, after holding its opponents to only four points in the third quarter. Paul Schudt was high man for the game with 26 points.

Coach Colin Stetson's wrestlers finished their season on a winning note, defeating Cranbrook in a close match, 24-17. The Academy grapplers ended with a 6-8 record.

In one other weekend basketball game, the Academy lost a thriller here against Dyer High School, 59-57, in a game added to the schedule only recently. It was Dyer's tenth straight victory. Bill Campbell's two fouls in the final 35 seconds decided the game. Schudt was high for the Academy with 22 points.

The rifle team, coached by Capt. Charles Knapp and Richard Gimbel, competed Saturday against four high schools in Indianapolis. The Academy first team defeated Broad Ripple High School, 1,375 to 1,352, while the second team

Fathers Guests Of Sunshiners

By Sharon Spahr

Welcome to the moon, Sunshine girls and guests. We hope you enjoy your meal and the rest of the evening. Your menu will consist of: Moonghetti, Moon Grass, Starlic Dust, Moonstones, and Star Chips, Hot Meteors, Milky Way, and Flying Saucers.

Men extend thanks to Mr. Berger for the "shortened" welcome. Now as they say the world around — chow's on!

"Look out. Someone spilled the milk!" "Oh, that's okay, don't worry about it — what's a lapful of spaghetti?" "Anyone for more pie?" (Just a few honest patrons took advantage of this offer. Even on the moon we have to watch our waistslines.)

We'd like for you girls to introduce yourselves and your fathers.

"My name is Martha Lowry, this is our new President, Mr. Cole."

"My name is Jean Eikenberry, this is our new Vice President, Mr. Robinson."

"My name is Nancy Ervin and this is my father, Ted — Smith?" "My name is '99" and this is my father, "Ole 99."

Now for the entertainment. Lights, camera, action . . . curtain . . . curtain. I say curtain! Hey somebody, CURTAIN! Oh, thank you. Our skit tonight is: "Teaching Them to Drive," performed by renowned personalities. It will be a contrast between those yesterdays when lover and sweetheart viewed the world through rose-colored glasses, as compared to the not-so-rosy-world viewed by the husband and wife a few years after.

Now the Moon Maids will sing "April Love" and "I Enjoy Being a Girl." Very good, girls. And now Judy Kimmel will read that famous poem "Abraham Lincoln Walks At Midnight."

It is now time for the games, which I'm sure will prove hilarious for dads and daughters alike. So let the fun begin.

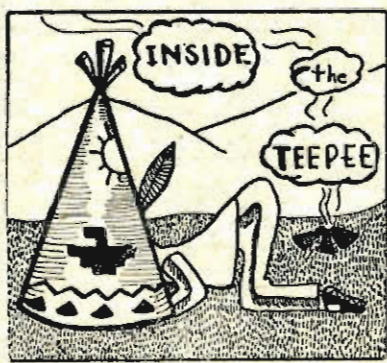

Let's start off with the Alphabet Game. (Some very appropriate words were spelled such as: exit, quack, and fidgety. Sounds rather suspicious to me.) After that brain teaser, let's work off some energy in a balloon relay. Congratulations to "Mighty Mouse Moore," that balloon was too big for words. Gee, those games were fun, but it has now come time to say good-night.

The dads and daughters will please sing the closing song together?

"Let me call you daddy (or daughter), I'm in love with you . . ."

So good night and we hope you all enjoyed this evening as much as we enjoyed doing it for you.

(Incidentally, if anybody has a phobia against the words "yes" and "no" it is very understandable.)

Hey, look! Over there! The Culver gym's on fire! No, wait, it's just Big Chief Benbrook's smoke signals for a victory in the sectional. It sure looks like the Culver maidens and braves are working up a lot of steam to beat Tyner. But let's not stop with Tyner, let's go all the way!

While on the subject of the tourney, does anyone need a ride? If so, maybe you can get there the way Mr. Lawson used to when he was in school. Why don't you ask Mr. Lawson what he did with his old car, maybe you could borrow it. It will hold plenty of kids being that it held the entire baseball team plus the coach and manager. Of course, you would have to allow plenty of time to get there since it will only go 15 miles per hour. Some car, Mr. Lawson!

Ron, surely you can think of a newer excuse than a flat tire. Oh, you had two flat tires. I'd say that was going a little too far.

Carmen, why can't you keep your shoes on when you're on the bus? What, Pat took it off you! Let's be a little more careful girls!

Found: One brown plaid skirt at Lions Den. For further details ask Ruth Abair.

Linda Kose! What were you doing in the boys' dormitory at Ball State?

It seems that Sherrill has a little trouble reading the sectional timetable. Sherrill, it means seven o'clock at night, not seven in the morning.

Found, recovered, and will be returned. One Senior boy's ring; if he is willing to buy a banana split for the teacher who found it.

Congratulations are in order to our two Marines. Good luck to Bob and Jerry.

Oh, those Seniors have done it again. Have you heard their latest versions of "Oh! You Beautiful Doll," and "Ma, He's Making Eyes At Me." If you haven't let me say this much — you're lucky.

Roar, roar, roar! "What on earth is that?" "Oh, no! They're stuck." "Come on, let's push." "Get up, get up! You're on the pie." Overheard conversations after the Dad's Supper Thursday night from a few of the gentler sex. Girls, did you really push in high heels?

I leave you with this thought. "Those succeed who think they can." So keep trying.

Valentine Day Thrills Graders

By Betty Zechiel and Cathy Overmyer

Miss Cripe, First Grade — Tuesday morning we wrote valentine stories and in the afternoon we enjoyed a valentine party. We passed out valentines and had refreshments which several of the children brought. Paul Beaver celebrated his birthday Wednesday, Feb. 15.

Mrs. Keyser, First Grade — We had a nice valentine party and want to thank the mothers who sent candy and cookies. We have finished our writing book and are working on a new book.

Mrs. Allen, Second Grade — We had a nice valentine party and David Schrimsher brought cookies and we had ice cream. We are starting the addition combinations of numbers from 11 to 18.

Mrs. Carter, Third Grade — We had a valentine party Tuesday. Refreshments were furnished by some of the children. In social studies we made lists of workers. David Hoesel had 65 different workers on his list.

Mr. Weaver, Fifth Grade — Last week Gregg Anderson and Dale Pennington had birthdays. Tuesday we had a valentine party which was given by the boys. We would like to thank Mrs. Weaver for helping with our party.

Junior Cagers Stage Thrillers

By Earl Mishler

Culver's junior high teams faced North Judson's highly-rated squads last Monday night at Culver, and Coach James Moore's boys turned in one of their finest performances of the year.

The Culver seventh graders walked away with a 36-13 victory over the Baby Blue Jays. Reserve guard Larry Washburn scored seven points to lead the winner's attack. The victory gave the seventh grade a record of 5-7.

North Judson's eighth grade team, which recently won the Plymouth junior high tourney, and had lost three games, nosed out our boys, 35-34. Culver made the winners know they were in a battle, though, as Coach Moore's squad led most of the way. Big Dave Lemar scored 12 points to lead the losing cause. The heart-breaking defeat made the eighth grade record 7-5.

Boys Oppose Girls Smoking

By Charlene Lucas, Cheryl Dillon, and Mary Jane Guise

We believe in being democratic in this school, so this week we are giving the girls equal time. Two weeks ago we took a survey on the "Ideal Boy" for a C.H.S. girl. This time we reversed the procedure and have come up with an "Ideal Girl" for a C.H.S. boy. What is our "Ideal Girl" like? Well, read on and you will find out!

Of course, the first question is looks. It seems here at Culver the boys do not pay any attention to the saying "Gentlemen prefer blondes," because our boys decided on brown hair over blond by a roaring margin of 24 to 9! As for hair length, medium length won out by a very large number. However, long hair came in second, so you girls with the long, trailing manes still stand a chance!

As for eyes, we had a very close race again, but good old blue eyes won over brown by a mere three votes.

The height question came out very decisive. Sixty-four per cent of the boys prefer an average height girl, one that stands about 5 feet 5 inches. Although, a few of the, shall we say, shorter males naturally wanted a little girl who is about 5 foot 1 inch. This probably will be bad news to all you tall girls, but don't worry, there is bound to be some 6 foot, 6 inch boy looking specifically for a "long, tall Sally."

We also asked the boys a couple of other interesting questions. We wanted to know if smoking made any difference in the opinion the boy formed of a girl. The results were not surprising. Seventy-three per cent said yes, it made a difference, they would rather she did not smoke. Twenty-seven per cent said no, it would not matter one way or the other. The other question was whether the boys thought a girl should let him kiss her on their first date. It seems the boys are pretty evenly split on their opinion of this. Fifty-four per cent said yes and forty-six per cent said no. Hmmm, girls, is this against our better judgment?

Well, now, are you the "Ideal Girl?" If you do not fit her description, do not feel too badly, because we can bet that you are probably an "Ideal Girl" to some pair of masculine eyes that roam the halls of C.H.S.!

Predictions By Old Doc Fog

By Doc Fog, alias Jean McCoige and Susie Muehlhausen

(With apologies to Doc Fog of the Plymouth Pilot-News)

My old "99" coblonic super hydronogenic sectional smog computer and I are rarin' to go with the sectional forecast for 1961. My latest predictions haven't been going too well, but I feel that now since I've overhauled the computer my predictions will be at least one hundred per cent correct. This new, old "99" coblonic super hydronogenic sectional smog computer is the best yet.

Let's start with the Wabash and Tyler game Wednesday afternoon. Wabash is going to beat Tyler by a score of about 20 points, (give or take 10.)

The next game will be a hot one between Seaman and Chrysler. Chrysler is slightly favored and I have a twitching in my bones that they will win.

Wednesday night, Poorland Center vs. Scotch is going to be a throw over for Scotch if they are loosened up enough.

Chrysler vs. Wabash is going to be another knock over for Chrysler — Chrysler is out to win.

Sogra vs. East High is going to be a shock for everyone. East is going to over-throw Sogra by at least two points in a "sudden death."

Jack Benny vs. The Pass is going to be a win for The Pass, because of a technical called at the last second on Jack Benny.

Coolville vs. Bigger is going to be a long range win for Coolville. This we can't be too sure about because of the possibility of their first five being out on injuries. But the scrubs will probably take over and carry them on to their best victory yet.

East will again come to victory and pass up The Pass, it's a little too foggy to tell by how much.

Saturday, the final day of big results. At 1:00, Saturday, Chrysler and Scotch will go into battle and come out with another win for Chrysler.

At 2:15 East and Coolville will play a hot, very hot game and the winner will be East by one foul shot.

Now for the big game, the very biggest, Chrysler vs. East for the final game. Oh, no! My old "99" etc. has broke down! It is getting quite foggy in here but never fear, Doc Fog doesn't need a computer. East beat Chrysler by 28 points exactly, (plus or minus 5 or 6 points.)

This is Doc Fog signing off from another year of successful sectional forecasting. Oh, one other thing, "Beware of the smog!"

(Editor's note: You can figure out where these school names came from.)

Culver Indians Win Thriller Over Lakeville

Play Tyner In Sectional Thursday

By EARL MISHLER

The Culver Indians ended the 1960-61 basketball season Friday night with a heart-stirring 57-56 comeback win here over Lakeville's highly-regarded Trojans.

Tuesday night the Indians had suffered their fifth straight loss at Winamac, 63 to 51.

The record for the regular season was an even 9-9, with one additional loss in the Marshall County Tourney.

At Winamac, Culver reached its low point of the season. The host Indians grabbed an early lead and raced away to a 31-22 halftime margin. Culver's senior stars, Lance Overmyer, Gary Dillon, and Larry Davis got in foul trouble in the first half, and the Indian bench was not strong enough to bail out the game. Culver cut the Winamac lead to five and sometimes three points several times in the second half, but the loss of Dillon and Davis via fouls made the difference.

Pat Lutz Is Mystery Guest

By Janet Martin

Our mystery guest started the day off with U.S. history. As soon as she walked in she started talking and asking for gum (people with gum beware). As soon as the bell rang her attention was given to Mr. Robinson and the lesson. Her adventures in second period English were related to me after class. (What a trying day.) Third period she usually has study hall, but today she decided to practice her horn (she needs it.) Even when she is in study hall her thoughts are on food. Naturally, at noon she rushed to nourish her growing mind?

After lunch I lost her as she went to Home Ec., but found her as she came bouncing into book-keeping looking as though she were ready for anything.

In case you haven't guessed who our guest is, it's Patty Lutz.

Eighth Graders Take Tests

By Sharon Lindvall

The prognosis tests started Feb. 14 and continued through Feb. 20. These tests were given during fourth period for the eighth grade.

The tests consist of modern language, intelligence, algebra, and Latin tests. After the tests are given, they will be graded and then there will be a meeting for the parents and students. Mr. Robinson will then have a conference with each of the students and help map out their schedule for the next four years.

Prognosis tests have been given for the last four years and have helped reduce failures in the different fields of education.

Seniors Start Final Game

With their spirit high Friday night, Culver's four senior players took up the task of winning their final game on the home floor. John Cromley, the other senior besides the three starters, was given his first-starting assignment, and sparked defensively in the first quarter.

Lakeville, paced by their 6'4" center, Roger Riddle, opened up a 21-15 first quarter lead. The Indians still found the local goals hard to hit in the second period, making only two baskets, as the Trojans opened up a 34-25 halftime bulge. After three periods, we still trailed, 51-41. It looked as though the Indians would take a six-game losing streak into the Sectional.

But Culver's battling Tribe never quit. Strangely enough, the only junior in the starting lineup, John Benedict, led the magnificent fourth quarter rally. With Benedict leading the offensive surge, and Dillon stealing numerous loose balls and stray passes, Culver finally managed to tie the score at 56 all. Lakeville stalled for one shot, but with just less than a minute to play, Dillon again stole the ball. The Indians then stalled for one shot, which Benedict took with eight seconds left. He missed, but was fouled, and the lanky junior hit his second try to register Culver's ninth victory of the season.

Big John, just reaching his top form again after his serious knee injury forced him out of action for four weeks, again led the attack with 22 points. Dillon added 17, while seniors Davis and Overmyer had 10 and six, respectively. The balanced Lakeville attack was spearheaded by Jim Peter's 11.

B Team Has Thrillers

The Culver B-Team had two thrillers last week, toppling Winamac, 32-20, behind George Herr's fine 12-point effort, and losing a 38-35 overtime battle to

Heart Fund Door To Door Canvass Will Be Sunday

Volunteers To Call Between 12 and 4

February 26th is Heart Sunday all over the United States.

In Culver, volunteers will visit their neighbors to call for Heart Fund contributions and to distribute health-saving information between 12 and 4 p.m.

Volunteers will leave at each home a pamphlet telling how to protect children from rheumatic fever, forerunner of rheumatic heart disease, and providing latest information about heart attacks, high blood pressure, and strokes.

Ardith Stevens Is Chairman

"In addition to distributing this important information on new advances in the fight against the heart diseases," Miss Ardith Stevens, Heart Sunday chairman, said yesterday, "the Heart Fund volunteer gives each citizen an opportunity to play a personal role in the crusade against the nation's Number 1 health enemy.

"Your gift, which you can seal in a Heart Sunday envelope the volunteer will hand you, will strike a blow at the diseases which took more than 900,000 American lives last year — 54 per cent of the total number of deaths in this country," the Heart Sunday chairman advised. "Give generously for every heart in your family," she urged.

$50 Million Research In 12 Years

Heart Sunday marks the peak of the 1961 Heart Fund campaign which the Marshall County Heart Association began on Feb.
1. Proceeds from the drive make it possible to expand the research, education, and community service program against the heart and blood vessel diseases. More than 50 million Heart Fund dollars have been channeled into research in the past dozen years. Other millions have been spent to bring to the nation's physicians, through medical journals and scientific meetings, the new knowledge developed through research.

Additionally, through community service programs that grow in number each year, the Heart Association guides cardiacs toward resuming active lives, aids in the prevention of rheumatic fever, forerunner of rheumatic heart disease, and carries on other essential heart-saving activities.

You May Mail Contribution

A number of workers have generously volunteered their services on Heart Sunday in this canvass.
However, approximately one-fourth of the homes in this area will not be reached because of the insufficient number of volunteers.

If no one calls at your home and you wish to contribute to this important fight against heart diseases, you may mail it to the Marshall County Heart Association in Plymouth or to HEART care of the local postmaster.

FLIGHT OF THE SALARY

Give This To Your Wife!

An enterprising weekly newspaper publisher in Minnesota is trying to shock his employees into realizing just how much the Federal government is taking from them in taxes.

Publisher D. R. Peterson of The Truman Tribune is paying his staff their full salaries each week — except the last week of the month. At the end of that week, he deducts the entire month's withholding tax.

Now let's suppose a Culver employee makes $100 a week, and this month of February happened to be composed of four equal weeks.

For three consecutive weeks, said Culver employee gets $100 intact. And, being human (and hard up), he spends most of it.

Then he gets his fourth-week pay envelope. Inside, he finds $32.80 — if he's married — or $23.60 if he's single!

We await with keen interest the results of what could be a noble experiment. Our fingers are crossed against the possibility of the staff leaving for parts unknown at the end of the month's first three weeks!

LOTS O' LUCK — A Boone County man, Edward L. Karraker, bring luck he should have lots of good fortune for he found a seven leaf clover in the yard of his home at Zionsville. Karraker found the plant last fall. He transplanted it to a flower pot and is nurturing it through the winter in a south window of his home.

Lewis F. Nicolini, new director of the Indiana Employment Security Division at Indianapolis, has returned from a tour of hardhit areas of unemployment in Northern Indiana and states that he will go to Washington, D. C. to meet with Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg on Feb. 28.

Nicolini and directors of all state employment security agencies have been invited to the capital by Secretary Goldberg to discuss with Department of Labor representatives steps to be taken to relieve distressed areas of unemployment.

More than half of the major metropolitan labor market areas in the nation, including Evansville, Fort Wayne, Gary-Hammond-East Chicago, South Bend, and Terre Haute, are now classified as having substantial labor surpluses. Nicolini said the situation now is not so critical in Indianapolis where only a moderate surplus of workers is reported.

How the application of Christ Jesus' teaching to daily living brings increased blessings to mankind will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Among the Scriptural selections to be read in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christ Jesus" is the passage in which the Master states: "Whoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like: he is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock" (Luke 6:47,48).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include this (15:28-30): "Practice not profession, understanding not belief, gain the ear and right hand of omnipotence and they assuredly call down infinite blessings."

GOOD NEIGHBORS — It's not unusual but it's always good to hear that Hoosiers stand ready to help a neighbor who has suffered misfortune. Recently a Washington County man, Jesse Cody, who lives on Dog Trot Road near Salem, was injured when a hand became caught in a corn picker. It was apparent he would be laid up for several weeks. Neighbors came to his assistance and cribbed his 25 acres of corn. "All I can say is I hope God spreads his blessings over the whole community," Cody said in telling The Salem Leader of the good deed.

It so much I took less pay to road-test it."
IN AUBURN, Big Bill found a kindred happy-go-go-lucky chum in Irvin Rieke, whose father, T. W., had founded the prosperous Rieke Corporation.
Like Fitz, young Rieke had a wippy zest for life, speed, thrills, and pranks. Presently the two plunged happily into a sport Bill had sampled some years earlier.
About 1912, Fitz had mounted an old motorcycle engine on a fragile frame, added runners and a hand-carved prop — and raced the resulting ice sled up to 80 m.p.h. on frozen Hoosier lakes.
"With a big, high-powered ice sled we might crack the world's speed record," Bill told Rieke one day.

"OR BREAK YOUR NECK," grinned pal Irvin.

Both were almost right. Pooling Rieke's money and Fitzsimon's mechanical talents, they put a wingless airplane fuselage on runners and installed a World War I pursuit plane engine.

In it, Fitz topped 125 m.p.h. in early tests — then plunged one day through rotten ice. The sled sank, but Bill struggled back to firm ice.

UNDISMAYED, HE SAID, "She's too light and slow. We need more weight and power to hit 300 m.p.h. and crack the record."

The sled was fished out, weighted, and given a souped-up 12-cylinder Liberty engine.

"Now," said Fitz, "all we need is enough room."

In time, they found running room on big Houghton Lake in Upper Michigan. A course was readied, official timers obtained, the sled fine-tuned and skidded out for a final, top-speed test which Fitz still vividly remembers.

"WHEN I Poured on the coal," he chuckled, "she took off like a whip-flicked colt."

In a mile, we were crowding 200 m.p.h. Then I hit some rough ice and suddenly came unglued, like the old one-hoss shay. Struts snapped, spars cracked, welds parted, and ice flew as I frantically hit the hook-brakes. We finally stopped 50 yards short of the far shore, with a littered trail of pieces and parts strewn behind.
RIEKE PRESENTLY ARRIVED.

surveyed the fractured sled and said, "We can fix 'er up. Want to try again?"

"I didn't — and nobody else did," laughed Fitz. "So we gave up ice sleds and confined our kicks to flying thereafter."

Oh sure — Big Bill was a pilot, too. One of the early birds.

But that's a story in itself . . . for next week's Citizen.

Lenten Titles At Culver Library
For the story of how the Christian church grew from a few disciples to millions of followers all over the world, read "Fire Upon the Earth", by Norman E. Langford. This book is especially for senior-young people. Emperors and popes, kings and queens, monks and preachers are some of the colorful figures whose deeds are described.

Slaughter's "Road to Bithynia" is a novel of Luke, the beloved physician. The book gives an insight of the early and primitive church. Very good general reading.

"Making Religion Real", by Nels Ferre, is a book that warns us religion is not a magic wand. The real experience of religion is attained by thinking, reading, prayer, worship, the family, friendship, giving, and suffering. The author is a teacher of philosophical theology at Vanderbilt University School of Religion.

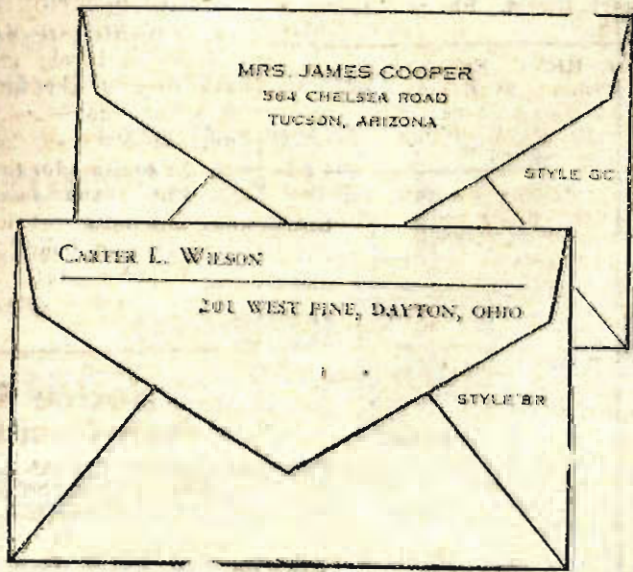

"For Goodness' Sake", by Carol Beattie. When quite young, the author decided she would marry a minister because he would be at home more than a professional man. She married an Episcopal rector, and this is an account life. The book proves to be exciting and not dull as so many people think the life of a minister's wife would be.

These Are Your Defense Highways — and Trucks Are Paying For More Than 1 in Every 3 Miles!

Above are the routes of the new Interstate Highways scheduled for Indiana

Trucks make up 16 per cent of all the motor vehicles registered in the U. S. They are the source, however, for taxes which amount to 36 per cent of the cost of the new Interstate Defense Network highway system now in various stages of construction in the nation. Therefore, truck owners—including those in Indiana—are paying for more than one mile of every three miles being built in this new highway system.
