Two Practical Jokers
Who Almost Drove
Auburn, Indiana, Nuts

(Last of Three Installments)

DURING THE GRIM austerity of World War II, two prankish pixies who toiled for the busy Rieke Corporation, did their best to brighten up the home front in Auburn.

One was good old "Big Bill" Fitzsimmons, the firm's fun-loving chief pilot, the other Earl Summers, his colleague, crony, and collaborator.

THEIR FORTE: Ingenious practical jokes.

Sample: When a Rieke executive wintered in Florida, Bill and Earl removed and expressed (collect) his front door.

"He came home hot enough to warm his cold house," Fitz chuckled.

Sample: Irvin Rieke, the firm's boss, once entertained some customers at his elegant rural home. Fitz blandly suggested a shooting match with .22's — then rigged dynamite behind one cardboard bull's eye affixed to a distant fence.

Presently an unsuspecting sharpshooter drilled the bull's eye. Baaaarrrroooooom! Down went wire and up sailed fence posts.

"Rather startling — but satisfying!" laughed Fitz.

OF ALL THE PRANKS these two pixies pulled, one involving an ersatz dappled gray horse was a classic that is still oft-retold in Auburn. It had gags within gags, multiple backfires and double and triple crosses.

It began when Boss Rieke was sojourning on his big Wyoming ranch, from which he occasionally shipped brones to Auburn's horse set.

AT A KENDALLVILLE antique auction, Fitz and Summers found a life-sized, papier-mache dappled gray once used to model harness. A $35 bid got it.

Next day at work, Bill and Earl enlisted eight co-conspirators at $3.50 each — to spread the gag's cost and buy a bit of insurance.

"We figured Irvin might fire two of us — but not 10," Fitz laughed.

The gagsters, who dubbed

HEAVY WINDS OF LAST THURSDAY DO SLIGHT DAMAGE IN CULVER

The unusually heavy winds of last Thursday, which developed into tornadoes in the Chicago and Kokomo areas, confined their damage locally to tree branches and antennas. One large branch fell against The Culver Press building and knocked an 18-inch plastic letter from the printing company's sign.

Mrs. Donald Osborn returned home Monday afternoon after spending the past two weeks in Rochester caring for her mother, Mrs. Kline Sales. Mrs. Sales returned home with her daughter and is recuperating satisfactorily.

90th Birthday Photograph, May 16, 1955

Alice Kessler Dies In Her 96th Year

Mrs. Sarah Alice Kessler, age 95, one of Culver's oldest and most respected citizens, died early Tuesday morning at the Landis Nursing Home in Argos where she had been a patient for several months.

A fine and unusual woman, Mrs. Kessler was born in nearby Fulton County on May 16, 1865. She moved to Culver 40 years ago following the death of her husband, Elihu.

Through the years she retained her membership in the Burton Church in Fulton County.

Mother of Mrs. Walker

The well known nonagenarian is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Dolyn Walker, Culver; Mrs. Ina Gray, Springboro, Ohio; and Miss Fern Kessler, Indianapolis; two grandchildren; and two great grandchildren.

Private funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the residence of Ivan Walker, 886 West Shore Drive. Rev. Albert Wells, of Flint, Mich., will officiate and burial will take place at the Hoover Cemetery at Athens.

Friends may call at the Walker residence after noon today. The Easterday Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

CHAMBER HEARS RED CROSS REPRESENTATIVE

The Culver Union Township Chamber of Commerce was told of the importance of the American Red Cross Blood Bank Program at the monthly Chamber luncheon at the Culver Inn last Monday.

Mrs. Helenglen Holifield and James McAllister, local Red Cross boosters, explained the operation and goals of the Union Township Blood Bank as well as the overall system. Mrs. Holifield, a registered nurse, stated that the blood used by Union Township residents has not been replenished by local donations, and urged the Chamber to help meet the quota in this year's drive.

President Andrew Venum and Postmaster E. Wayne Mattox engaged in a brief discussion concerning the condition of the alleys in Culver's business section, and agreed that some effort should be made to urge the merchants and others who use the alleys to keep them in a cleaner state.

ICE IS GONE FROM LAKE MAXINKUCKEE

With unseasonably warm temperatures, high winds, and heavy rain over the weekend the ice has disappeared from Lake Maxinkuckee. The Lake is beautiful with its smooth icy covering during the winter months, but it's always a welcome sight each Spring to see it once again ice free.

Mrs. Russell McFarland of East Jefferson Street reports that her crocuses began blooming last Thursday, March 2. The orange colored flowers were the first to open but the other colors are now beginning to follow suit. Officially, Spring is just 12 days off!

MORE ROBINS ARRIVE FROM THE SOUTHLAND

Mrs. Russell McFarland reports to The Citizen that on Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22, Mrs. Cora Garver of East Washington Street spotted two robins on the Elza Hawkins' lawn. The Citizen hopes these messengers of Spring were also noticed by Mrs. Hawkins and will hasten her complete recovery from her past weeks of illness. Flights of geese on their return North have also been reported. Are pussy willows out yet?

SCOUT NEWS

Troop 290 met in Fellowship Hall March 7. We started out having a movie directed by Sgt. Saft. After the movie the Scouts tried to give the meaning of a word which Mr. Allen had given us. Afterward some boys went to study Morse Code and others on rope binding.
To end the evening we played a game called "7" and Crows and Cranes. We also had a shuffle board championship where the Hawks edged out the Bats 14 to 4 in an overtime.

In awards to the Cubs, James Taber and Greg Anderson received their Lion badges, symbolizing the highest rank in the Cub program.

Four Cubs — Carl Straug, Vaughn Kepler, Robbie Bolton, and Tom Overmyer — were awarded Bear rank badges. Winning gold or silver arrow points on their Bear badges were Marc Matson, Jeff Adams, Danny Spencer, Steve Kelly, Tom Osborn, and Marty Easterday.

Cubs achieving the beginning Cub Scout rank of Wolf were Dennis Woolington, Ross Fritz, Billy Napier, Jim Baker, Scott Croy, Jerry Lemar, Stephen Cole, David Hoessel, and Jim Pellegrine.

Lenten Titles At Culver Library

"The Silver Chalice" by Thomas B. Costain is an outstanding historical novel. The silver chalice was a frame meant to hold the sacred cup from which Christ drank at the Last Supper. Mr. Costain has described in intimate detail a reverent conception of the making of the Holy Grail. This novel describes the life of Basil, the artisan, who fashioned the silver chalice. The story of Basil himself, plus the adventures of the silver chalice, provide an excellent narrative frame. The romantic love between Basil and Joseph's daughter adds to the holding power of the story. It will make real the world of the New Testament.

The true story of Our Lady of Fatima is presented by John DeMarchi, I. M. C., in "The Immaculate Heart." This is a factual account of the remarkable events that took place during a six-months period in 1917. It was in May of that year while three children were tending sheep near Fatima in Portugal, that the first of a series of Heavenly Apparitions began. Father DeMarchi, an Italian, by birth, was assigned to Portugal in 1943. It was at Fatima he organized a Mission House. For several years he was with Lucia, the only living Seer of the three who first witnessed the Apparition. Her memoirs form part of this remarkable book.

"With Wings As Eagles" by Helen Chappell White. The wife of the president of Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia, describes her journey from despair to hope after the death of her oldest son in World War II. Her deeply personal study of the anatomy of grief and her success in overcoming it produces a helpful and convincing testament to the immortality of the human spirit. The story of her journey is a valuable spiritual experience for those who would be comforted, as well as for those who would live the good life day by day. Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, in the forward, calls this book a testament of faith.

"They Gathered At The River" by Bernard A. Weissberger is the story of the great revivalists and their impact upon religion in America. Mr. Weissberger makes clear in his preface that this is not a religious book but a book about religion by a historian, not a clergyman. It is the history of great and small revivalists between the years 1800 and 1918. It covers the careers of Lyman Beecher, Charles G. Finney, Dwight L. Moody, and Billy Sunday, as well as many lesser known. At a time when books about religion and religious leaders are enjoying a surge of popularity, this work on revivals and revivalists is a distinct contribution to a study of United States church history.

Students Report On Activities

By Janet Martin and Barbara Hatten

Mrs. Barton, First and Second grade — Timmy Overmyer, Metta Zetty and Jim Yocom are ahead in the class word contest. Susan Shei and Mary Wieringa made 100 in the 25 word test in spelling. Kent Davis and Timmy Overmyer had birthdays and treated the class with a party. The boys and girls have been writing some short stories. Here are a few of them.

The Distance

By Mary Wieringa

I looked out into the distance. I saw trees and green grass. When I looked out in the distance it looked like the earth and the sky hooked together. I saw the woods.

The Farmer

By Diana Crabb

He helps us in many ways. He plants the wheat for us. It grows big and tall. Then they make it into bread.

Mrs. Allen, Second grade — Mike Powers had a birthday March 6 and Nancy Reichley had one March 8. We have been studying various ways of transportation in this country and in other parts of the world.

Mrs. McLane, Third grade — In social studies we have been studying about the sources of many of the foods we eat. Butter was one of them. Since Paula Haenes said that she could bring some cream to school, we decided to make butter. Mary Ann Lewis brought crackers and it resulted in a "Butter Party."

Making Butter

By Mary Ann Lewis

On Tuesday, Feb. 28, we had a butter party. Mrs. McLane helped us a lot. We did not churn it. We beat it. When we had it done, I broke up some crackers which I had brought from home and we put some butter on them. Boy, did they taste good! When the butter was almost gone, Stephen Cole and Steve Hoessel wanted to drink the buttermilk. We all got to taste it. I thought it was good. Paula Haenes had brought the cream and took what butter was left home with her. I washed the spoons and got ready to go home.

Making Butter

By Adella McEndarfer

Yesterday we made butter. It was very good. Paula Haenes and Mary Ann Lewis helped make it. Paula said that she had three crackers with butter. All the rest had two. Steven Cole and Steven Hoessel had the buttermilk. Mrs. McLane made the butter, too. She brought the mixer. It was a very good party.

Our Lambs

By Dean Siple

One night my grandma phoned me. She said that there was a lamb down at her barn. We went down to her barn. My sister said that the lamb was cute. There was another lamb the next night. Daddy put the lambs and mothers in pens by themselves. In three days the lambs could go with the flock. They run in the snow.

Mrs. Carter, Third grade — Mike Shepperd had a birthday Friday and treated the class to a party. In social studies we are reading about people who came from other countries and what they taught us. We received a nice letter from Freddie May who is in Florida.

Miss Mahan, Fourth grade — The girls enjoyed the lovely valentine party given by the boys. They would like to thank the mothers for the delicious cookies. The following children received gold stars for perfect spelling during the past six weeks: Jeffrey Adams, Greg Everett, Douglas Hartz, Peter Mars, Marc Matson, Stephanie Mohr, Perry Smith, and Pamela Welsh. These children received silver stars because they missed only one word in the grading period: James Miracle, Beatrice Napier, Thomas Osborn, Steven Snyder, and Danny Spencer.

Mrs. Lawson, Fifth grade — We have had several birthdays in the past week. They are Leri Cromley, Andrew Hodgkin, Greg DeTroy, Peggy Carter, and Donald Gardner.

Music Concert Set For Sunday, March 19

By Judy Kimmel

On March 19, the Senior Band and Choir and Junior Band are presenting the Winter Concert. We hope to see everyone there.

The band is going to participate in the contest, which will be held at Griffith on March 25.

On April 21, the Senior choir and the many other choirs in the county are going to be combined and will perform at the County Music Festival at Argos.

Juniors Plan Record Hop

By Sharon Spahr and Barbara Rosebaum

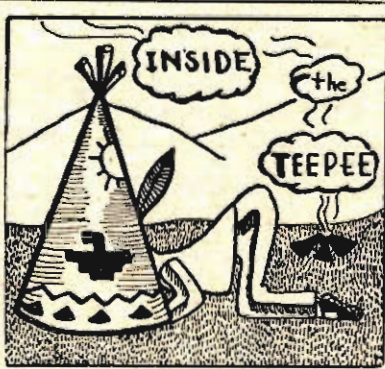

Since the basketball season has ended, the Juniors are anxiously awaiting the final totals on points for the trip. Also, in regards to the trip, all Juniors interested in going to a stage play on their free evening, have decided on first and second choices so that tickets could be sent for. The Senior girls met last Friday with Miss Shanks for tips on planning the suitcase — to get the most use out of our limited space. Also basic clothing needs were discussed.

The Juniors are concentrating a great deal of effort on their coming Record Hop, March 10. It will be held in the C.H.S. gym, and Jack Myers will act as master-of-ceremonies. There has been a committee meeting of parents and students for the purpose of making plans for the coming ham supper. It was decided to have the same menu as last year. Prom themes are being considered, but we will not know the theme definitely until that wonderful night.

PLAN TWO PARTIES

By Cathy Overmyer and Donna Smith

The Sunshine Society is always busy working on projects. They are now making plans for their Ideal Ladies Party which will be held in the Lions Den on March 17, and putting ideas together for the party they are planning to give the Hi-Y boys sometime in April.

Rain, snow, or sleet the Culver fans will always get through to back up their boys. Though, they had a little more trouble getting home. They had to wait until Sunday morning to tackle the country roads and even then I hear a few needed the assistance of a tractor.

What is that horrible rumbling on the top floor? Could it be that the radiator is finally going to explode? No, it's the Kulver Kowpokes! They're keeping beat to some of their ancestors' music in Mr. Graham's class. Marizetta probably thought she had come to the wrong place when she walked into the English room and saw all the crazy costumes. But she probably realized soon enough that it was Ancestor's Day!

The "man downstairs" really enjoyed Ancestor's Day (Ha). The music was great and so was the clapping, but when they started stomping he looked up and said a prayer that the plaster wouldn't fall!

Charlene, did you really forget to wear your boots to the sectional or was that just an excuse to have Bob carry you over the deeper drifts?

Thank goodness, Cheryl Dillon had an extra white blouse with her at the game Saturday because Betty faithfully turned up wearing her purple sweater again! This girl had her mind elsewhere.

Elouise, it's a good thing you've got a hard head! Seriously you had us all scared. We hope you are fully recovered by now.

Tobogganing at 11 p.m.? Ever try going down a 90 degree angle standing on a toboggan? Only Fred was agile enough to make it. Sam, Bob, and Chuck had a little trouble.

Does a horse have fore feet or four feet? Ask Cathy Overmyer, maybe she can tell you.

Well, all the girls are glad that wonderful snow that packed so well will soon be gone. They felt like walking targets every time they went outside. That is except for when the senior girls are throwing the snowballs. Mr. Kepler told them that they could stay outside all day and they wouldn't be able to fit the broad side of a barn. Really, Mr. Kepler, we're still trying to push molecules through molecules.

U. S. COLLEGES will graduate 20% more scientists and mathematicians this year than last year.

Opinions Vary On Going Steady

By Jean Eikenberry, Carol Heiser, and Charlene Lucas

"Going steady" has been the center of a lot of controversy. It's a subject that has developed cauliflower ears from being batted back and forth so much, but the problem is still with us, and no one has solved it yet. What do you think about it? Is there a definite age at which going steady is right? Is it a matter of age at all? Should you, in fact, go steady ever? Many adults would answer that with a round, emphatic "no!" It's been worried over, argued about, and discussed by everyone. Disagreements have sent the roof flying off many a house.

We decided we would like to know how Culver High School students feel about going steady. As a basis for our information we took a poll in the halls of C.H.S.

Out of the 50 students we interviewed, 14 said they didn't think students should go steady. Most of them gave the reason as, "If you date the same person, you don't have a chance to see what others are like."

Seven answered, yes, their reason being, "I am always sure of a date when I want one." Boy! If that isn't a good reason!

Twelve said it depended upon the individuals. Are they mature enough? Is there anyone else they want to date? And most of all, can they get along with one another? If you answer these statements truthfully then they think it is all right to go steady. But, for heaven's sake, don't go together if you can't get along.

Seventeen said it made no difference to them. They are either already going steady and like it, or else they don't want to go steady. It makes no difference to them what the rest of the students do.

After asking the students their opinion, we decided to ask a few of the teachers. They all agreed that teenagers should date a variety of boys or girls. One teacher put it very cleverly. He said, "My father always told me, 'Never chase a trolley car or a woman; there'll be another along in five minutes.' So I found variety was the spice of life. The advice is still good."

"What If" Gives Reporters An Idea

By Pat Wesson and Sherrill Edgington

Our assignment this week was a little different than usual, so we put our heads together (two heads are thicker than one) and began to think in terms of "What If." Suddenly Sherrill shouted, "What if John was a snap instead of a Hook!" Well, that got us started and you can see the results of our "What if" session listed below.

What if:
 Chris was a Foot instead of a Hand.
 Bobby Lou was a Thanksgiving instead of an Easterday.
 Shirley was a Pigeon instead of a Crow.
 George was a Butcher instead of a Baker.
 Jim was a Driver instead of a Parker.
 Hugh was a Liver instead of a Hartz.
 Shela was a Dog instead of a Fish.
 Gloria was a Small instead of a Large.
 Lila was a Corn instead of a Bean.
 Sharon was a Wrong instead of a Wright.
 George was a Him instead of a Herr.
 John was a Cracker instead of a Crum.
 Lana was a Steak instead of a Berger.
 Margo was an Undermyer instead of an Overmyer.
 John was a Snap instead of a Hook.
 Jean was a Youcanberry instead of an Elkenberry.
 Susie was a Horse instead of a Muehlhausen.
 Linda was a Hill instead of a Banks.
 Nancy was a Freeze instead of a Burns.
 Rochelle was a Bad instead of a Good.
 Merrie Kay was an Iceburner instead of a Stoneburner.
 Janet was a Robin instead of a Martin.
 Diana was a Shoe instead of a Boots.
 Susie was a Farmer instead of a Gardner.
 Paul was a Black instead of a White.
 Pat was a Mazola instead of a Wesson.
 Chuck was a Twig instead of a Reed.
 Sue was a Wood instead of a Cole.
 If Mr. Wood was a Brick instead of a Wood.
 Tom was a Runner instead of a Walker.
 Barb was a Less instead of a Moore.
 Meg was an Outlaw instead of a Marshall.
 Elouise was a Skinner instead of a Tanner.
 Ruth was a Acow instead of a Abair.

Art Students Enjoy Working In Ceramics

By Linda Banks

The art students have been making salt and flour ceramics which they find messy and expensive. Being confined to the primary colors, red, yellow, and blue, the students find it a bit drab, but next week they will learn how to mix colors, and make more interesting colors. They find that making stained glass windows for their room adds something to the room.

Dillon Leads Indian Scorers

By Earl Mishler

Before we turn our thoughts to track season, let's take a look at the final individual scoring.

On the varsity, it went as follows: Gary Dillon, 322 points; Lance Overmyer, 251 points; Larry Davis, 247; Tom Boswell, 201; John Benedict, 185; George Baker, 35; Jim Carter, 32; and George Herr, 2.

For the B-team, the final tabulation reads: Rick Ervin, 128; George Herr, 76; Wade Logan, 74; Thad Overmyer, 66; Dennis Shock, 61; Jerry Nelson, 42; Rodney Edgington, 35; Paul White, 34; Frank Ikirt, 28; Jim Carter, 28; Marty Ruhnnow, 16; Sam Lowry, 10; and Mike Geiger, 7.

The varsity ended up with a 10-11 overall record. At home they won 5 and lost 5, and were 5-6 on the road. The best individual scoring performance of the year was by Larry Davis, who hit 31 points against LaPaz on Jan. 13. The last Culver player to top that total was Warren Curtis, who hit 33 in the County Tourney against Bourbon, on Jan. 19, 1957. Dave Washburn and Bob McCoige both reached 31 during the 1958-59 season. The best performance by an opposing player was 32 points by Ron Zent of Rochester.

OUT OF SEASON — In his entertaining column, "Haphazard Happenings," Byron Troyer, editor of The Bourbon News Mirror, a Marshall County weekly, suggests: "Anyone who wants watermelon for Christmas can have his desire by burying two or three from the last crop down in the middle of an oats bin, which keeps them from freezing or rotting."

SECTIONAL BASKETBALL ATTENDANCE DECINES

Attendance at the Plymouth sectional basketball tourney Feb. 23-25 totaled 11,546 paid admissions amounting to receipts of $5,773.00 according to a financial report of the tournament released by Robert Mertz, Plymouth High School principal.

With only Saturday's two sessions listed sell-outs, attendance showed a decline of $54 from last year's tournament, which was viewed by 12,400 fans.

Expenditures for the tourney totaled $1,353.11. Distribution of money to the 12 participating schools, based on enrollment plus a pro rata share to each school, gave $394.02 to Culver.

V.F.W. AUXILIARY ELECTS OFFICERS

By Mary Mawhorter

V. F. W. Auxiliary met in the post home Monday night with 11 present. Mrs. Kenneth Tasch presided over a business meeting after the ritual opening.

It was voted to send $35 to the Cold Springs Veteran's Hospital for their supply shelf.

The 3rd district meeting will be held Sunday, March 19, at North Liberty.

A lively election of officers was held, and after much persuasion the following officers were elected: Mary Lou Brown, president; Lorraine Bennett, senior vice president; Wanda Von Ehr, junior vice president; Jan Sanders, treasurer; Mary Baker, chaplain; Helen Hickman, conductress; Ann Kersey, guard; Lois Tasch, three-year trustee; Mary Mawhorter, Marge Carter, Fern Unger, Mary Ann Ruhnnow, delegates; and Lorraine Bennett, Lois Tasch, Wanda Von Ehr, Reba Wagoner, alternates.

Delicious refreshments were served at a beautifully decorated table in St. Patrick's Day motif by Lorraine Bennett. Others on refreshment committee were Jan Sanders, Jean Anderson, Mary Jane Sherwood, and Jean Cromley.

LOTS OF WHEELS — In 1959 Indiana's truck owners paid $74,119,068 to the state's $54 new truck dealers for new trucks. Many of these new trucks, or their engines, were manufactured in Indiana. And trucks are a major reason that Indiana again in 1959 led all its neighboring states in fuel consumption per registered vehicle.

"Food So High And Farmers Getting Rich"

The lady at the supermarket checkout counter was unloading her purchases.

Out of the shopping cart came 3 packages of cigarettes, 4 cakes of soap, 2 bottles of hand lotion, a bottle of suntan lotion, a jar of face cream, a pair of canvas work gloves, 2 knitting needles, 4 flashlight batteries, 2 magazines, a phonograph record, 6 glasses, a quart of milk, a dozen eggs, a tv dinner, and a package of frozen chicken.

As the lady paid her bill, she commented, "Food is so expensive nowadays. No wonder the farmers are getting rich."

LONG, LONG TRAIL — After Rodney C. Molden reported that his car, parked on Garfield Street in Valparaiso, had been sideswiped by a hit-and-run motorist police began an investigation. They found that within two blocks along the same street 17 other cars had been more or less damaged, apparently by the same reckless driver. They were sure it was done by the same driver because on all the damaged cars were tell tale streaks of robin's egg blue paint evidently scraped off the rampaging car.

THE E. E. STONEBURNERS NOW LIVE IN DAYTON, OHIO

M/Sgt. Edwin E. Stoneburner is now stationed at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton, Ohio, and he and his family reside at 82 Spinning Road, Dayton 31. For the past three years the Stoneburners have resided in Bermuda where Sergeant Stoneburner was a member of the U.S. Air Force. Their daughter, Merrie Kay Stoneburner, is a senior at Culver High School and resides with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Andrews, on Hawir Road. The Stoneburners greatly enjoy their weekly Citizen and state that it is like a member of the family and they would be lost without it.

NEW YEARS
ST. VALENTINE'S
LENT WHY LENT?
MEMORIAL DAY
JULY 4TH
LABOR DAY
TRINITY

For hundreds of years the Christian Church has set aside the six weeks before Easter and has designated them "the Lenten season."

The purpose of this special season is to give Christians an opportunity to recall the consequences of sin and the assurance of redemption. It provides Christian churches with an opportunity to tell the unchurched residents of their communities of the central fact of the Christian faith—the death of the Son of God to atone for the sins of the world.

The message of Lent is to Christianity what a spring is to a watch, what a motor is to a car. Take the message of Christ's life and death out of the Christian religion and you have only a worthless shell.

The message of Lent is still the message of Paul: "Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures."

During these weeks thousands of churches throughout the nation are bringing this fundamental Bible fact into sharp focus. If you have not yet found forgiveness for your sins through faith in Christ, we extend a hearty invitation to you to attend our Lenten services.

Cadets Keep Most
State Rifle
Championships

Culver Military Academy retained the lion's share of honors from the Indiana State Junior Rifle Championships held here last Saturday.

As host to the large meet, which attracted 24 teams and 171 marksmen from high schools and clubs throughout the State, the Academy repeated as four-position team champion while two of its cadets nearly swept the individual contests. The Academy shared the spotlight with New Albany High School, which took the prone team title and one individual event.

Outscore New Albany

In winning the four-position title, the Academy outscored New Albany, 1,526 to 1,513. The two teams were one-two in the prone team competition, but this time it was New Albany out in front with 30 center shots compared to 28 for the Academy after both outfits fired a score of 400.

Individually, the big winner was Culver's James Augustine, a sophomore marksman from Valparaiso. Augustine won the four-position title with a score of 487, the standing event with 94, and the prone championship with 200-14. Teammate Stephen Lathrop, a big winner last year, salvaged the kneeling competition with a score of 98. The lone break in Culver winnings came when William Himmleheber, New Albany, fired a 100-8 to win the sitting championship.

Gimble and Knapp Coach

Coaches of the Culver rifle team are Richard W. Gimble and Captain Charles Knapp.

The spring sports schedule will get under way this weekend when Coach Norman Miner's indoor track team hosts Fort Wayne North Side in a varsity and junior varsity meet at 7 p.m. Friday.

MUGGER — In remodeling Velvia Broshears' barber shop in Boonville, a new cabinet was installed for display of 54 antique shaving mugs the barber has collected in the last 10 years. Barber shop patrons as late as the gay 90s had their individual mugs from which barbers lathered their faces and they now have become collectors' items. Some of the mugs in Broshears' collection are imports. The oldest of the collection is estimated at 100 years.

"BEST REPUBLICAN COUNTY CHAIRMAN IN INDIANA." That's what State Treasurer Robert E. Hughes, principal speaker at the conservative party's recent Lincoln Day banquet in Bremen, had to say about our own Marshall County chairman, STEWART W. ROBERTSON, right. Hughes ought to know what he is talking about because as state chairman of the Young Republicans he campaigned in all 92 Hoosier counties last fall. Pictured with "Stew," discussing their favorite subject — politics — are, left to right: ROBERT J. DuCOMB, 3rd District chairman, of South Bend; WILLIAM P. ANGRICK, LaPorte County chairman; and PERRY PROVOST, St. Joseph County chairman. — Photo courtesy of The Plymouth Pilot-News.

The Political Views Of An Extraordinary Woman

Plymouth, Ind.
FOR, CITIZEN:

Your article in the Feb. 22 CITIZEN concerning the Lincoln dinner in Bremen was most edifying, and I very much appreciate your kind words pertaining to my little talk. I am glad I enjoyed it. Any effort put on my part was indeed worthwhile if it pleased you and others in the large audience. Your comment that the CITIZEN thinks that I would be a good candidate to run for State Senator in '64 came as a great surprise and a very great honor. It must come as no shock to you to learn that the CITIZEN is highly regarded in the county and that its endorsements and opinions are not thought to be given lightly. Therefore, as a private individual and as a woman, I thank you. There is a place for women in politics and more and more we are coming to realize this fact. No office is too highly placed for a woman to aspire to. But as for me, I am fortunate, indeed, to know where my job lies and to enjoy doing it. If I have the ability to entertain and amuse, and make life a little more cheerful for Republican groups in our county, then that is all that I wish to do.

My main job is in our home — with four little children to care for I find myself very busy. You see, I feel that potentially I have four juvenile delinquents in our family. Oh, yes, without the proper guidance and attention that is exactly what could happen. My best efforts during these so important "formative" years must be devoted to our children.

Gene and I feel, however, that the time we do give to political activities is in their best interests too, as we want the finest Government and Governmental officials for their county, their state, and their nation. Or, as Ronald Reagan said in a recent speech to a South Bend audience, "We may find ourselves telling our children how nice it was when men were free."

Thank you again. I'm going to save that paper and one day will tell my grandchildren. "You know once, a long time ago, a Yankee newspaperman said this about me!" So who won the war after all?

MRS. EUGENE N. CHIPMAN

ATTAIN DISTINGUISHED RATING AT PURDUE

Two local students were among the 773 at Purdue University who attained the Distinguished Rating in their work for the first semester of the 1960-61 academic year, according to the list announced by the Office of the Registrar.

To attain this rating, the student must be enrolled on a regular undergraduate curriculum, must have earned a minimum of 14 credit hours within the semester and must make a scholastic index of "5.5" or higher out of a possible "6" in all work carried in that period.

Culver students attaining the rating are Suzanne Dawson, Culver Military Academy, junior in home economics, and Thomas G. Karter, Route 2, senior in the School of Science, Education and Humanities.

CHICAGO MEN BUY NAPPANEE NEWSPAPER

Joseph W. Zally and Donald E. Nichols, Chicago advertising representatives, have announced the purchase of the Nappanee Advance-News from Mrs. Thomas F. Myers, whose husband operated the newspaper from 1953 until his death recently.

Both of the new owners have been employed by O'Mara and Ormsbee Inc. at Chicago. The newspaper will begin its 82nd year of publication this month.

Cadets Will Hear Foreign Policy Expert Friday

Eldridge Once On UN Staff

James A. Eldridge, now a Fort Wayne newspaperman, who was prominent in Governor Matthew E. Welsh's publicity campaign last fall, will address the cadets of Culver Military Academy Friday evening on "The Citizen and His Foreign Policy."

Eldridge recently was publicity director of the Bobbs-Merrill book publishing firm in Indianapolis until last summer when that department was shifted to the New York office. Our well known Lake Maxinkuckee summer resident, Howard W. Sams, heads Bobbs-Merrill.

His lecture is one in a special series on America's Democratic Heritage. It will take place in Eppley Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Associated With United Nations
Eldridge has had a long career in journalism and public affairs. He served as Midwest field director for the United Nations from 1946 to 1953. During this period he was a frequent visitor to UN headquarters in New York when the world organization was in its formative stages. In 1954 he was a member of the editorial staff of The Indianapolis News.

He has lectured in this country, Canada, and Great Britain on foreign policy, American politics, UN affairs, and Anglo-American relations. In 1958 Eldridge held the John Winant Lecture Fellowship in Great Britain, giving 75 lectures in a three-months period in Northern Ireland, Scotland, Wales, and England. He also lectured at Oxford, Cambridge, and Manchester universities.

A native Hoosier, Eldridge attended Butler University.

One More Fee Enterprise

That's a big dose of bitter medicine they're brewing in Washington.

We refer to the medical care plan for the aged under the Social Security System — favored by President Kennedy and backed by organized labor.

Naturally, this is going to cost us — an increase of one-fourth of one per cent in the present social security tax on both employers and employees. What else?

The big idea behind the legislation is the belief that our aged persons generally are unable to finance their health care . . . and that passage of the bill will give them an insured lease on life.

Well, we're hot for health and always will be. Our beef is that the figger filberts of this national health insurance scheme are using a wobbly set of figures.

Just lost month, the top-level Federal Council on Aging reported that about 70 per cent of our older people own their own homes.

The others generally live with relatives.

Only about 6 per cent live in homes for the aged or other institutions.

Let's look at a specific example — the great state of Indiana. A Hoosier State Commission Agency survey reports that 70 per cent of the 440,000 people 65 or older are able to take care of any and all emergency medical bills; 65 per cent are actually covered by some form of medical insurance; and 30 per cent are still gainfully employed.

And only 7 per cent — some 29,000 men and women — are being taken care of by the State Welfare Boards.

Approximately $25 million is now paid out in Social Security benefits each month in Indiana.

Our senior citizens surely love health. They love something else, too — freedom. Let's let 'em keep it!

MORE AND MORE FINE WOMEN ARE TURNING TO THE REPUBLICAN PARTY and giving generously of their time and leadership. Discussing G.O.P. activities in the 3rd Congressional District at the recent Lincoln Day banquet at Bremen were, left to right: MRS. HELEN JOHNSON, Marshall County vice-chairman; MRS. FLORENCE CHILDERS, LaPorte County vice-chairman; MRS. SALLY BROWN, St. Joseph County vice-chairman; MRS. ROBERT E. HUGHES, wife of the new State Treasurer and chairman of Indiana's Young Republicans, who made a most inspiring address before the crowd of 250; and MRS. STEWART W. ROBERTSON, of Plymouth, who does such an outstanding job as 3rd District vice-chairman. — Photo courtesy of The Plymouth Pilot-News.

G.O.P. Delegates Tell Why Nixon Lost Presidency

A consensus of 780 of the 1,331 delegates to the 1960 Republican National Convention indicates that the Nixon-Kennedy television debates were the chief campaign mistake by the GOP.

The 780 responded to a poll by The Indianapolis News asking the delegates to state their reasons for Richard M. Nixon's defeat by John F. Kennedy on Nov. 8.

The same poll brought out that 55.9 per cent of the 780 delegates responding favored Nixon as their 1964 candidate for President; 27.9 per cent supported Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, and 10.9 per cent Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Others got 5.3 per cent.

Two Small Costly Mistakes
As for the reasons for the GOP defeat, many delegates expressed belief that correction of one or two of many small mistakes might have produced a GOP victory in the razor-thin election.

But the one big mistake, according to the consensus, was Nixon's tangling with Mr. Kennedy in the television debates.

Debates Were Stupid
Most of the delegates responding, The News said, believed Nixon should have avoided the debates. By accepting the debates, many said, Nixon provided his opponent with a national audience he might not have reached otherwise.

Questions Were Loaded
Some said Nixon played too well his role as a gentleman in the debates. A "tougher, harder-hitting Nixon like the old one would have grabbed the lead away from Kennedy even if the questions were loaded for the Democrats," wrote a New York delegate.

A Minnesota delegate said he wasn't satisfied with the campaign from the start. He added: "Nixon reached his peak the night of his acceptance speech; he was never again able to project the warmth of his personality."

A West Virginia delegate said: "Nixon permitted Kennedy to create the issues from the very first of the campaign, and then he was on the defensive from that time on."

Seemed Overly Tired

Some critics said Nixon appeared overly tired in his public appearances and didn't "warm up" the crowds as he had in previous campaigns.

Nixon's advisers and the Republican National Committee were blamed for poor planning of his tours.

GOP organizations in the major cities were particular targets in the replies. An Illinois delegate wrote the party failed to build good grass roots organizations in the large cities.

Stolen Votes In Cities
The big-city organizations were not vigilant enough in guarding against alleged voting frauds by opponents, wrote a Chicago delegate.

A Texas delegate suggested more party funds should have been spent in watching the polls than in buying television time.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gov. Rockefeller and Vice-Presidential candidate Henry Cabot Lodge were mentioned in several replies as giving only "feeble" election help.

"We Was Robbed!"

A Seattle delegate suggested no ideas as to how the Republicans lost. He merely wrote: "We didn't lose; we was robbed."

BOB KENNEDY SERVES AS REGISTRATION CHAIRMAN AT MACMURRAY CONFERENCE

Bob Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kennedy, 109 North Shore, Culver, was registration chairman for the Eighth Annual Newspaper Conference, held last weekend at MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Ill.

Over 200 student journalists from 50 midwestern colleges and high schools attended the conference, rated one of the best of its kind in the nation. Fourteen top newspapermen provided leadership for the conference.

Bob, a sophomore, is majoring in business at MacMurray.

ROBERT W. GLAZE HAS LEAD IN COLLEGE PLAY

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — Two Marshall County residents are among cast members in this year's Jordan River Revue, "Roman and Rompin'," a light musical comedy playing at the Indiana University Theatre, March 10, 11, 18, 24, and 25.

A tradition at I.U., the Jordan River Revue is written and produced each year by students.

Featuring a cast of 40, "Roman and Rompin'" is the story of a shy poet, Titus, who is betrothed to Alicia. He is unable to reveal his love by action so writes poetry. The god Jupiter and his right hand man, Mercury, come down to earth and, posing as Titus and his servant, try to straighten out the love affair.

Robert W. Glaze, son of Mr. Helen Glaze, 702 College, Culver, is playing the lead role of Titus and Jupiter; and Marsha M. Tibbets, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newton E. Tibbets, 702 E. L. Porte, Plymouth, will be in both the vice squad and chorus.

"Hoosier At Large"

themselves the DeKalb County Horse Thieves Association, hauled their prize to Auburn that evening in a company pick-up and warmed up with a spontaneous prank. Fitz had spied a horsey Auburn gal at the auction. So the convivial Horse Thieves drove to her home, called out Hubby and purred, "Here's the horse your wife bought. Where'll we put it?"

IN DIM LIGHT, the gray looked real. Hubby groaned. The Thieves guffawed . . . then confessed.

"The guy was so relieved he slaked our thirst," Fitz chuckled. "Thus inspired, we pulled the same thirst-quenching gag on others — until it and our welcome wore out. Anyway, Irvin was due home so we had to undertake our primary project."

That involved installing "Old Spot" in Rieke's living room — saddled, bridled, and "nourished" by an unsnapped bail of hay.

Later, Mrs. Rieke described Irvin's homecoming to the gagsters. Nearing the house he peered through a window, frowned and murmured, "That looks like a horse in our living room."

Inside, he flicked a switch and gasped, "Holy mackerel — it IS a horse!"

Then Rieke, a good-humored gent who has pulled a gag or two himself, began to laugh.

AT THE PLANT, Boss Rieke gracefully absorbed the hilarious heckling of his conniving hired hands. He also worked his wits. One day he summoned Fitz and said:

"That Earl Summers won't stop ribbing me about Old Spot. Can't we retaliate some way?"

Fitz could — and did. After the auction, Bill and Earl had rejected a Fort Wayne man's unexpected offer of $50 for Old Spot. Now Fitz corralled Summers and set a stage.

"That Fort Wayne guy called me and offered $150 for Old Spot," Bill confided. I got suspicious and checked. That horse came from the estate of a rich old miser. I'll bet it's stuffed with hoarded dough. We'd better see . . ."

SUMMERS WAS DUBIOUS. Besides, Rieke had the horse. How could they?

"O. K. — you had your chance," warned Fitz.

The stage set, Rieke drew $1,000 in $5's, $10's, and $20's from the bank and stuffed Old Spot through holes that held iron ears and flowing tail.

Then Summers was lured by a phone tip to Rieke's house one night — to find Fitz snaking bills out of a hole cut in Old Spot's belly. On a table was an eye-popping pile of cash.

"Hey!" cried Summers. "I'm part owner — so I get a share of that!"

"Oh no!" said Rieke firmly. "You gave me Old Spot. He's mine. The searching idea was Fitz's — so he gets the cash. Take it all home, Bill!"

FITZ GLEEFULLY stuffed his pockets and left as Summers writhed, argued, and slowly died.

End of gag? Oh no! Rieke, who knew the whole score, had also led Fitz into a sneaky trap. Next day he went from Horse Thief to Horse Thief and purred:

"Y'know, Fitz took $5,000 or $6,000 out of that horse. He'll be an awful heel if he doesn't share it with all you part-owners!"

Remembering, Fitz grimaced . . . then grinned.

THE HORSE THIEVES almost lynched me before Irvin finally admitted — months later! — that it was HIS money I'd taken from Old Spot," he chuckled. "I didn't mind getting hooked. What hurts is the bet I missed. I should have kept his $1,000. He told me — before a witness — that I could have it . . ."

WORLD AGRICULTURAL production increased by about three per cent last year — slightly more than world population increase.

Academy Sports

Milan D. Baker Jr., a junior, has won a varsity swimming letter at Culver Military Academy. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Milan D. Baker.

The Culver swimmers finished another successful season during 1960-61, winning eight meets and losing one under the guidance of Coaches Frank W. Walaitis and Charles P. Owen.

Swimmers Really Shine

Flashing through eight meets unbeaten against some of Indiana's better high school teams, the Eagles lost their closing contest of the season against tough Kimball High School, Royal Oak, Mich., by a close 47-38 margin.

The Academy came within a stroke of winning the medley relay, the meet, and finishing the season undefeated. Kimball handed Culver its first defeat at home in four years.

Teams which lost to the Culver swim squad included: Penn High School, South Bend John Adams, South Bend Washington, LaPorte High School, South Bend Central, South Bend Riley, Kokomo, and Danville, Ill.

"HIGHEST MOUNTAIN" TO BE SHOWN AT PLYMOUTH

A young college student's struggle with his own misdirected motives, set against a background of scenic California mountain terrain, provides the central interest for "Highest Mountain," beautiful full-color teenage motion picture, to be shown Saturday night, March 11, 7:29 p.m., at Lincoln Junior High School. The film's appearance in this area is sponsored by Marshall County Youth For Christ.

Produced by Youth Films, a division of Gospel Films, Inc., Muskegon, Mich., this film is made available free-of-charge for showing in high schools across the world.
