Hazel Murphy Of Warsaw Is One Of Indiana's Most Remarkable Women

(Final Installment)

TWO YEARS AGO directors of Warsaw's Murphy Medical Center made a surprising discovery.

Their owner-president, Mrs. Hazel J. Murphy, was drawing no salary!

Hazel, widow of Dr. Sam Murphy who launched the center in 1940, was certainly no nominal, part-time president. Far from it! She was the modern, 70-bed hospital's heart and soul — and it was her whole life.

FROM THE EARLY '20s, Hazel and Dr. Sam had been a great team. She'd shared his dream of a fine new medical center — and helped build the 25-bed core in 1940.

AFTER DR. SAM'S death in 1945, Hazel, carrying on alone, had surmounted great obstacles to achieve their dream. With her own funds frozen by estate litigation, she'd borrowed to build a $200,000 west wing in 1948 and a $150,000 east wing in 1951.

Faith, frugality, and prodigious work retired much of the center's debts. After the estate was finally settled in 1957, Hazel incorporated the center to perpetuate it, in trust, for the community's sake.

MRS. MURPHY could have relaxed then — but didn't. Saving lives, easing suffering, and comforting the sick was her whole life. She went right on working 10 to 16 hours a day, seven days a week.

Thus, when directors discovered her no-pay status they were surprised. Also firm!

"YOU," THE BOARD ordered, "are going on a salary forthwith!"

Hazel demurred. Other income covered her modest needs. She neither needed nor wanted pay.

The board stayed firm . . . and that was that!

AH, BUT NOT quite! Six months later the center's accountant corralled Director Bill Mollenhour, veteran Warsaw newspaperman and Hazel's long-time friend and financial adviser.

The accountant had a problem . . . which sent Bill to Hazel. Gently prodded, she "confessed" — and produced six monthly salary checks, all uncashed. Her excuse: "The hospital might need something the checks could buy without waiting on board approval."

Bill was firm and Hazel promised to cash her paychecks for the accountant's sake. Shortly later Mollenhour found Mrs. Murphy bemoaning the loss of a

Governor Welsh To Visit County Friday Evening

HON. MATTHEW E. WELSH
Governor of Indiana

Governor Matthew E. Welsh on Friday evening will pay his first visit to Marshall County as Indiana's chief executive.

He will be the principal speaker at the annual Marshall County Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner at 6:30 p.m. on May 19 at St. Michael's School auditorium in Plymouth. A number of Culver Democrats plan to attend.

Baccalaureate On Sunday; Diplomas For 44 On May 26

Baccalaureate services for the 44 members of the graduating class of Culver High School will be held Sunday, May 21, at 8 p.m. in the Culver Community Building. The service is open to the public. Principal Kenneth L. Cole announces.

The Junior High School Band, under the direction of Robert Boyd, will play the processional, March from "Aida" by Verdi, and the call to worship will be given by Rev. Kendall Sands, pastor of the Culver Methodist Church.

After the singing of the hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy," Rev. C. L. Haney, pastor of the Grovertown Evangelical United Brethren Church, will give the evening prayer. The special music "Lift Thine Eyes" by Mendelssohn will be rendered by the High School Girls Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Boyd.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Rev. Harold Hohman, pastor of the Grace United Church of Christ, after which the congregation will join in singing "Lead On, O King Eternal" and Rev. Sands will pronounce the benediction.

Final Exams

Seniors are taking their final examinations on Thursday and Friday of this week. The junior-senior prom is scheduled for Friday night, May 19, in the Community Building. This morning (Wednesday) the annual senior Sunshine breakfast was held at 7 o'clock in the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall, and tonight at 7 p.m. the annual home economics department style show will be staged in the Community Building. There will be no admission charge and the public is invited to this colorful event.

Underclassmen will take their final examinations Tuesday and Wednesday, May 23 and 24. There will be no school on Thursday as teachers will be busy grading papers and entering grades and credits. Students will return for their report cards at 1 p.m. Friday, May 26, and the buses will call for students in time to get them to the school at the appointed hour and will return the pupils after they have picked up their report cards.

Commencement

Commencement exercises are scheduled for Friday, May 26, at 8 p.m. in the Culver Community

L. G. Balfour Is Academy's Special Guest This Week

America's No. 1 Fraternity Man

Culver Military Academy will honor L. G. Balfour, founder of the noted Attleboro, Massachusetts, firm acknowledged to be the world's largest manufacturer of fine jewelry, during special ceremonies this weekend.

The sincere tribute to be paid Mr. Balfour is in recognition of a long and unusual business relationship between the L. G. Balfour Company and the Academy, one of the firm's first important customers.

Since 1913, the Balfour organization has produced Culver school rings, diplomas, and many awards and trophies.

"Bally" To Thousands

Mr. Balfour, affectionately known as "Bally" to thousands of people, will arrive on campus Thursday and will fly out of Chicago Sunday afternoon.

In the interim he will visit classrooms, inspect cadets and barracks, attend a performance of "Wonderful Town," play some golf, and attend a garrison parade in his special honor Sunday.

Mr. Balfour is expected to visit the campus and classrooms Friday and have lunch in the Dining Hall. He will attend a crew race against the Michigan State University freshmen at 4:30 p.m. and have dinner with Superintendent and Mrs. Delmar T. Spivey that evening.

On Saturday morning he will inspect cadets and barracks and that evening he will attend the Theater '61 production of "Wonderful Town."

Sunday will be designated as "L. G. Balfour Day" when he will review the corps.

An avid and topflight golfer, Mr. Balfour is expected to spend some time playing the Academy course.

Indiana University Graduate

Lloyd Garfield Balfour was born in Wauseon, Ohio, and was educated in the public schools of Louisville, Ky. "Who's Who in America" states that he received a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Louisville in 1904 and an LL.B. degree from Indiana University in 1907. He joined the Sigma Chi Fraternity at Indiana University, where he was a baseball star, and later served as the 29th Grand Consul (national president) of Sigma Chi from 1937 to 1939.

Through the years Mr. Balfour has been the recognized leader and authority in Greek-letter circles and has held every honor within the gift of college men and women in that field, twice having served notably as chairman of the National Interfraternity Conference. Everybody acclaims him as America's No. 1 fraternity man.

Natural Born Salesman

Business and salesmanship had a greater attraction for Mr. Balfour than the legal profession, and for five years he served as a traveling representative for a manufacturer of college fraternity jewelry. He observed the lack of standardization which plagued the industry, emblem designs were often unrecognizable, prices varied from campus to campus, and fraternal organizations had no control over the distribution of their insignia. Itinerant peddlers could secure badges and sell them at will.

Mr. Balfour, determined to solve these problems, set up his own company Friday, June 13, 1913. The first total weekly payroll was only $90 and orders were non-existent. Before his small backlog of capital had entirely melted away, the first fraternity contract was obtained. The price was right, skill and meticulous care in manufacturing the pins resulted in a superior product, and delivery was prompt. Other orders followed — among them Culver Military Academy. The Balfour reputation spread from campus to campus, and the company began to contract directly with the national fraternity and sorority offices.

Successful Career Began On Friday The 13th

The implications of this system of marketing were revolutionary. It not only provided the national offices with a source of badly needed revenue through royalties, but made possible the control by those offices of emblem distribution. The large orders enabled the Balfour Company to utilize manufacturing techniques which simultaneously increased the quality of the line and lowered the price. Competition became active, but in a surprisingly few years the L. G. Balfour Company had become known on every school and college campus in America and throughout the world.

Balfour Name Is Famous

The Balfour name became familiar outside collegiate circles until it included paper products for certificates, diplomas, and stationery; fraternal pins and badges for such organizations as Masonic lodges, the Elks, and scores of others; and a new line of diamond and wedding rings.

Profits other than a portion set aside for expansion have been continuously turned over to employees in the form of bonuses and to customers in the form of better products and reduced prices. Substantial contributions have been made through fraternities to scholarship funds and to educational and charitable foundations.

L. G. Balfour Company is now a multi-million-dollar operation.

Clevelands Are Old Friends

Especially enthusiastic about Mr. Balfour's visit to Culver are Mr. and Mrs. Chester W. Cleveland, who spent part of their honeymoon in 1923 in his hospitable Massachusetts home.

Mr. Balfour is the godfather of their younger son, David Balfour Cleveland, who is now a junior executive with the Spencer Chemical Company in Kansas City, Mo.

FIRE DAMAGES PARKED AUTO

The Culver Volunteer Fire Department was summoned at 11:35 a.m. Tuesday, May 16, to extinguish a blaze in the front seat of an automobile owned by Snyder Motor Sales which was parked in front of the residence of James C. DeWitt, 462 State Street.

The blaze was quickly brought under control but damage in the amount of $100 was caused to the car.

All kinds of office supplies on sale at The Citizen.

Academy and Town Mourn Death Of James H. Bishop

Nationally Known Tennis Figure

Col. James Howard Bishop, age 68, former head of the History Department at Culver Military Academy and nationally famous in tennis circles, was killed Friday, May 12, in an auto crash on U.S. 131 about 30 miles north of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Colonel Bishop and his wife, Mabel, 57, were enroute to Petoskey, Mich., to visit relatives when a tire blew out and the car swerved off the road and struck a tree, police said. He was dead on arrival at Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids. Mrs. Bishop was treated at the same hospital for a lacerated left arm and right knee.

COL. JAMES H. BISHOP
CMA History Department Head For 18 Years

Colonel Bishop was born in Hannibal, Mo., on April 4, 1893. A Rhodes Scholar

He was graduated from Hendrix College, Conway, Ark., in 1915. He was a Rhodes Scholar, studying at Oxford University in England, where he received his master of arts degree in 1921.

Served With British Army During World War I he volunteered for duty with the British Expeditionary Forces, serving with the British Army in East Africa.

He joined the faculty at Culver Military Academy in 1921. He was named head of the History Department in 1940, acting as head until his retirement in June, 1958.

Since retirement he and Mrs. Bishop had traveled extensively all over the world.

For 25 years he was prominently identified with amateur tennis. From 1923 to 1942 he directed the National Junior Tennis Championship at Culver.

He became a member of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association in 1934 and was named president of the organization in 1953.

Davis Cup Committee Member

Colonel Bishop was a member of the U.S. Davis Cup selection committee for many years and in 1937 he originated the idea of the Junior Davis Cup program. He was president of the Western Lawn Tennis Association in 1935. He was pictured with Vice President Richard M. Nixon attending the Davis Cup matches at Forest Hills, N. Y., in 1955, the same year in which President Eisenhower invited him to Washington to attend a special White House conference on physical fitness.

Funeral Services Saturday For Lloyd Smith

Lloyd Thomas H. Smith, age 80, died at 11:15 p.m. Saturday, May 13, at his home at 416 Plymouth St., Culver, following an illness of two months.

Born in Belvedere, Ill. on Oct. 24, 1880, Mr. Smith spent most of his life in Chicago where he was employed as a city mail carrier for 30 years. He had been retired for 30 years and had resided in Culver for the past 22 years.

Surviving are his widow, Anna; and one stepdaughter, Mrs. Pauline Chatman of South Bend.

Mr. Smith was a member of the Culver Bible Church where funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday, May 20, with Rev. Maynard Tittle, pastor, officiating. Burial will be at the Culver Masonic Cemetery. Friends may call at the Easterday Funeral Home after 7 p.m. Thursday, May 18.

Graduation Issue Of The Citizen Coming Next Week

The traditional High School graduation issue of The Culver Citizen will be published next week — Wednesday, May 24.

It will pay a stirring tribute to the 44 fine young people of our community who make up the graduating class on May 26.

Culver merchants, organizations, and professional people again will want to share in this souvenir testimonial. Illustrated greetings at modest prices are available as in past years. If you want a Citizen advertising representative to call on you in this connection please phone Viking 2-3377 right away.

The time is short and the deadline for graduation greeting ads is positively next Monday noon, May 22.

Colonel Bishop Killed In Crash

Surviving, besides his wife, Mabel, are three daughters, Mrs. Winifred Fairhall, Kent, England; Mrs. Flora B. Charneski, Olympia, Wash.; and Mrs. Mary Kourmadas, Culver; a step-son, Nathaniel Stroup, Petoskey, Mich.; two brothers, Dr. Neal Bishop and William C. Bishop, Denver, Colo.; and a sister, Mrs. A. H. Porter, Denver.

Funeral services were held at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Culver Military Academy Memorial Chapel, Rev. Allen F. Bray III, Culver Military Academy chaplain, and Rev. Kendall E. Sands, of the Culver Methodist Church, officiated. Burial was in Culver Masonic Cemetery. The Easterday Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Safety-Check Program Here Through May

In cooperation with the Indiana Office of Traffic Safety the May Vehicle Safety-Check Program will be carried out in the Culver area on alternate evenings, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, from 5 o'clock until darkness falls.

This check-up will be conducted along Lake Shore Drive next to the Town Park opposite the Frosty Creme, Poppe's and adjacent business establishments.

Don Mikesell, Town Marshal, urgently advises each and every motorist to comply with this Safety Check Program and have their autos checked sometime during the month of May. This service is free and can save life or prevent injury or property damage.

Check your car and check accidents.

By Jimmy DeWitt

There were 16 scouts, 2 leaders, and one committeeman at Monday night's meeting held at the Culver Methodist Church. A discussion was held concerning the overnight planned for May 27 and 28 at Faulkner's woods.

The Boy Scouts, in cooperation with the Culver Lions, are having a paper drive Saturday, May 20. All Scouts are to meet at the Bank parking lot Saturday by 9:30 a.m. If the Scouts miss giving you string with which to tie your bundles, you may pick up string at any of the service stations. Be sure to have your paper and rags placed outside for pickup by 9:30 Saturday morning, May 20.

NOTICE to all Scouts: Scouts will go to summer camp June 18 to June 25 instead of the July date.

Rags Needed With Paper In Clean-Up Drive

With Clean-Up Week in full swing now, Boy Scout Troop 290 requests that you not throw away your old clothing and rags, but include them with your bundles of paper for the drive being held Saturday, May 20.

This project is being conducted jointly by the Culver Lions Club and the Boy Scouts.

Scouts have been passing out string this week to assist in tying the paper and rags into bundles. If the Scouts did not call at your home, you may pick up string at any service station.

This Saturday's Clean-Up Drive will cover the Town of Culver, all Academy homes, and residences along East Shore Drive (State Road 117), with pickups beginning at 9:30 a.m.

If your bundles have not been picked up by 1:30 Saturday afternoon, phone Viking 2-2088, or if you need assistance in tying your paper and rags, please phone this same number and a Scout will gladly call on you.

In case of rain, this drive will be conducted the same time on Saturday, May 27.

Mother's Day callers of Mrs. Trula McKee were Mr. and Mrs. Vern McKee and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas and children.

Saves $10 Weekly By Patronizing Culver Groceries

The May 3 issue of The Culver Citizen, reporting the sale of Deckard's super market, toward the end of the front page story included the following paragraph which has led to some misinterpretation:

"A Knox man, who works in Chicago Heights, recently told The Citizen that he not only banks in Culver but that he could save more than $10 a week here on his grocery bill."

This reference did not specifically refer to his trading at any particular grocery in Culver. As a matter of fact, the Knox man buys his weekly supply of food at three different stores here and his statement was included in The Citizen article simply because he prefers to do business in Culver as do scores of other people in this four-county area.

Death Trap?

Danger lurks in a disorganized medicine chest. Householders are warned against bulging, cluttered home medicine chest in annual "Clean Up Your Medicine Chest" campaign sponsored in public interest by Bauer & Black, surgical dressing firm. Poisonings in frightening numbers are caused each year by carelessness. Stale prescriptions are swallowed. Preparations intended for other purposes, wrong doses, faulty vision, poor illumination, children too young to read or comprehend, are among causes cited. Of 1200 persons fatally poisoned in 12 month period, 400 are children under four.

Because home medicine chests by their nature harbor a large number of potentially dangerous items, the safety campaign stresses proper storage and labeling of drugs, with periodic clean-ups to eliminate special hazards.

Careful storage of especially dangerous household preparations can help save children from poisonings that are the result of curiosity. A folder being distributed in connection with the campaign suggests keeping on shelves far out of children's reach all known poisons and preparations containing toxic substances or narcotics. Safety authorities recommend teaching children never to eat or drink substances found in play — and that the medicine chest is always out of bounds for play.

A bicycle rider always should remember that—like the driver of an automobile—he too must obey all traffic signs. The theme of this May safety poster, distributed by the Chicago Motor Club to some 33,000 grade school classrooms in its Illinois and Indiana territory, emphasizes the importance of traffic signs to the bicyclist. He is not given the priority to run traffic lights, jump curbs, or ride against traffic. The habit of obeying traffic signs is one that can be usefully applied later by the young bicyclist when he becomes the operator of a motor vehicle.

Suzanne Dawson Named To Mortar Board Membership At Purdue

Suzanne Dawson of Culver is one of 22 second-semester juniors at Purdue University who were initiated as members of Mortar Board, national honor society for senior women, in ceremonies recently in the Memorial Union at Lafayette.

Miss Dawson is the daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. C. H. Dawson of Culver Military Academy.

Selection for membership in Mortar Board is considered one of the top honors for women students on the campus. One of the major projects of the society is raising funds through the sale of the Mortar Board calendar, published each year, and other activities to finance scholarships for worthy women students.

Among her activities, Miss Dawson has served as scholarship director on the Office of Student Services Junior Board; is a member of the Panhellenic Council, governing body for sorority activities, and on Campus Chest and Junior Prom committees. Last year, she won the Omicron Nu award as the outstanding home economics sophomore.

She is a member of Gold Peppers, honorary for junior and senior women outstanding in scholarship, leadership, and service; Omicron Nu, honorary in home economics; Kappa Delta Pi, honorary in education; Green Guard, counseling honorary; Alpha Lambda Delta, scholastic honorary for freshmen, and Alpha Chi Omega, social sorority.

She will enter her senior year next fall in the School of Home Economics.

DECORATOR FEATURES STAN MUSIAL PORTRAIT PHOTOS IN FAMILY ROOM

How does a famous decorator furnish a room for a celebrity? To find out, here's part of a family room L. Raymond Toucher, A.I.D., designed around the personality of Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals.

See what Toucher featured? To point up the Musial personality he hung a large portrait photograph of Stan the Man over a pair of Chinese chests from Charles R. Gracie and Sons Inc.

Nearby, Toucher grouped framed portrait photographs of the Musial family on a dark blue burlap panel. What family does not have portrait photographs of its most beautiful bride, newest baby and most handsome graduate that could be hung like this? And so often they are in a variety of sizes, just as Mr. Toucher used.

On an adjoining wall, he combined portrait photographs with a baseball plaque and a trophy from one of Stan's duck hunting trips.

The result was a room unmistakably Musial. It couldn't have been designed for any other man. There, smiling from the walls, was the most personal form of art that could possibly be hung in any home.

Regarding this appropriate choice, Toucher advises "Your family's portrait photographs are as individual as a thumb print. Take them out of the albums and desk drawers. Get them framed and get them up on the wall. Be sure they're large enough so you don't need a pair of binoculars to see them.

"And if you really want to be in vogue," he concludes, "just be sure at least one of the photographs in your grouping is in direct color."

Toucher is a national vice president of the American Institute of Decorators. Other furnishings he used were cork wallpaper by Louis W. Bowen, furniture by Dunbar, picture frames from the House of Heydenryk, mosaic vinyl flooring by Amtico and a brass lamp from Warren Kessler Inc.

REMC Manager Attends National Conference

Clayton E. Robinson, manager of the Marshall County REMC was in Washington, May 14-15, to participate in a national conference called to discuss means of providing new economic activity in rural areas.

The meeting, known as the Rural Areas Development Conference, attracted more than 750 rural electrification leaders from across the country. It was sponsored by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

Clyde T. Ellis, general manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, said the conference was called for the prime purpose of providing rural electric cooperatives with information which they can use in helping their areas in community and industrial development programs.

Participating in the conference were Senator Paul Douglas, author of the Senate Area Redevelopment Bill and chairman of the President's Task Force on Depressed Areas; Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman; William Batt, newly appointed administrator of the Area Redevelopment Act; REA Administrator Norman M. Clapp and John Baker, director of agricultural credit services for the Department of Agriculture.

Also on hand were panels of experts from Federal agencies expected to play a role in the rural portions of the new redevelopment program.

The conference marked the first major discussion of the rural aspects of the newly enacted Area Redevelopment (depressed areas) legislation.

been 70 years since we slept under the same roof." They then recalled that as boyhood chums they spent many nights together.

Anne Osborn Competes In Science Fair

By KENNETH L. COLE

Many firsts take place each and every school year, but this year has seen Culver-Union Township School with a first that never comes to some schools or students in an entire lifetime. The fabulous first with which the writer has reference was Miss Anne Osborn's winning first at the Regional Science Fair at Goshen College, Goshen, Ind., and further her being chosen a finalist to go to Kansas City, Mo., to compete in the National Science Fair-International.

Miss Osborn was accompanied on the trip by Kenneth L. Cole, principal of the Culver-Union Township School. The two were driven to the Purdue Airport by the young lady's parents, who watched as Miss Osborn and Mr. Cole boarded a DC3 which disappeared into the white clouds that prevailed over the entire trip. Fortunately the great layer of white clouds dissipated near Kansas City and all who were aboard the plane could see the sprawling city as the plane made its approach for the landing at Municipal Airport.

All arrangements and expenses for the trip were made in the name of the American Medical Association by Dr. Miller, head of the Goshen College Chemistry Department. Having made the necessary settling down in a hotel, Miss Osborn and Mr. Cole made their way to Kansas City's Municipal Auditorium, a building beyond belief, and started setting up Miss Osborn's exhibit. Both were amazed at the bee hive of activity that was already underway. Many exhibitors were well on their way to erecting their exhibits and others were in the various stages of preparation including some who were opening crates and a few could be seen carrying their crates in on their backs. Many times it was implied by some of the older hands at the game that this unpacking-setting up procedure went on into the wee hours of the morning.

The days and nights that followed through Friday night, May 12, were packed with exhibiting, guided tours through many of the city's most interesting science interest centers which included the Kansas Medical Center, Sheffield Steel, Science Research Center, General Motors Assembly Plant, Hall Mark Card Company, and Nike Missile Base just to list a part of the nearly 20 tours that were available to students and sponsors alike.

Two hundred and forty-one judges interviewed and scrutinized some 385 exhibitors and exhibits from all over the world. There were teachers and students from Italy, France, England, Canada, Thailand, Puerto Rico, Japan, Philippine Islands, and Hawaii to mention a few that the writer can remember. In connection with the students and teachers from other countries many interesting facts were uncovered in the course of many casual conversations. For example, the man from Thailand said that his high school had about 3000 students and many of the electronic aids that we here in the USA are stressing. He also said that no people from his country were barred from going to the mainland of China but that no one sets foot upon the mainland because there is a fear attached to the act. Incidentally, when the Thailanders reach home they will have circumnavigated the globe by jet.

Hundreds of bus loads of southern Illinois, Kansas, and Missouri school children visited the fair and it made one feel quite humble to hear a group of boys firing machine-gun fast, knife sharp questions at a boy who had built his own rocket complete with parachute, mouse, electronic gear, solid propellant fuel, radiation measuring device — the works, and hear the young scientist answer just as rapidly and with great precision. A lay person could literally wander around dazed from one exhibit to another; many of these exhibits were more logically expected in a professional research laboratory.

Although Miss Osborn was not selected as a national finals winner, who could say that, having had this fabulous experience, she could be considered anything other than a winner. We should all be proud of and doff our caps to the many Anne Osborns who crop up here and there in this wonderful land of ours. If any reader doubts for a moment that this is the land of milk and honey, and is in effect the fertile valley of creativeness, this writer would challenge the doubter to attend the National Science Fair-International next year at Seattle, Wash.

Playhouse Opens 12th Season With "South Pacific"

Tuesday, June 13, Is Opening Date

Three musicals, three comedies, and one drama comprise the exciting program of theater fare for the Maxinkuckee Playhouse for its 1961 season.

Opening on Tuesday, June 13, with the fabulous musical, "South Pacific," the Playhouse will operate for ten weeks closing on August 20. Each play will as in previous years run from Tuesday through Sunday nights.

Following the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, "South Pacific," which is now in rehearsal in Cincinnati will be the farce comedy, "The Girls in 509." A New York comedy hit of a season ago the play will feature Martha Garner who made such a comedy hit in "Damn Yankees" last year.

"Look Homeward Angel," a play made from the novel by Thomas Wolfe, will run from July 4 through July 9. Another comedy, "Majority of One," will run from July 11 through July 16. Opening on July 18 for two weeks will be the George Gershwin musical comedy and Pulitzer Prize winner, "Of Thee I Sing." This will be followed on August 1 by a third comedy, "The Pleasure of His Company." The season will close with a two-week run of the Cole Porter musical, "Anything Goes."

This summer marks the opening of the 12th season for the popular Playhouse in Culver and marks it as the oldest continuously operating summer theater in Northern Indiana. Paul Rutledge who has served as managing director since its founding will again be in charge of the operation this summer.

EL RANCHO THEATRE TO SHOW ACADEMY AWARD PICTURES

Although both films have been previously shown and enjoyed at the El Rancho Theatre, Evert Hoelst is to be complimented for arranging repeat performances of the two Academy Award winners, "Elmer Gantry" and "The Apartment" on Friday and Saturday of this week as a double feature. Let's all show our appreciation of his thoughtfulness.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Much has been written, undoubtedly much more will continue to be written, on the successful conclusion of the case of the anti-trust division of the U. S. Justice Dept. against the nation's major manufacturers of heavy electrical equipment.

For rigging prices on approximately $2 billion worth of sales, practically all to governmental units supported by taxes, fines against the corporations and the corporate officers involved C. W. Harder totalled almost $2 million, while several of the corporate officers were handed out jail sentences.

There are reports that some labor leaders are gleeful over the discomfiture of the big bosses. If true, this is unfortunate. There are also "sob sisters" who are weeping tears in print over the jailing of these officials who are "really very nice men." This is unfortunate. Both of these attitudes fail to recognize the principle involved here.

Rather, instead, the successful conclusion of this case should be observed as a milestone in American march back to road of free enterprise.

It is a strong indicator that the demand which has been growing the past few years at the grass roots level for enforcement of the anti-trust laws to preserve free enterprise is bearing fruit. The work of independent businessmen, concerned over the shrinking of free enterprise, which resulted in the formation of the House and Senate Small Business Committees, has focused attention on what has too long been a national disgrace.

On the other hand, this case should not be taken as a blanket indictment of big business. The nationwide membership of the National Federation of Independent Business has always maintained there is nothing wrong with bigness just because of pure bigness. The evil comes in when big business forgets morality to use the power for evil inherent in bigness to destroy freedom in the market place.

It is indeed, interesting, to note that some of the corporations immediately issued "there's nobody here but us chickens, boss" type of statements, disclaiming all knowledge of what the convicted executives had been up to.

The sentencing judge, J. Cullen Ganey, of the U. S. District Court commented, "One would be naive, indeed, to believe that such vast conspiracies involving so much money and equipment, were not known to those in charge."

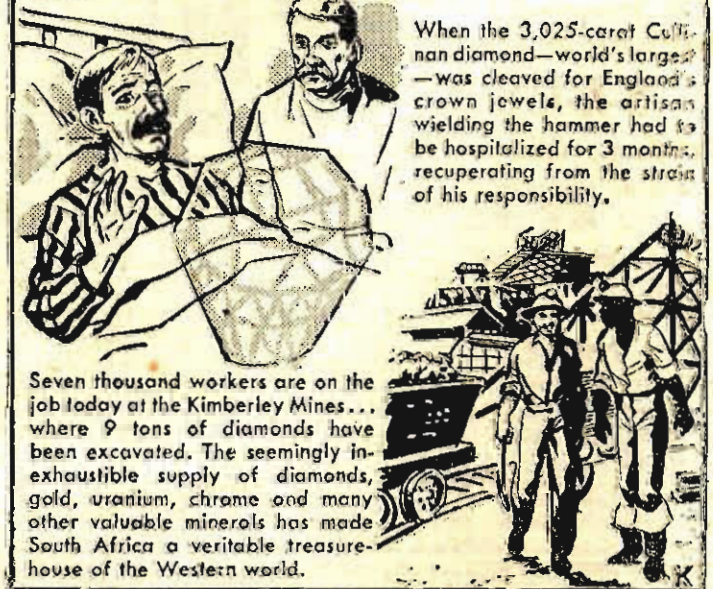

No corporation can violate the laws. The laws can only be broken when executives with sufficient authority take actions which move the corporation into law-breaking.

Thus, a corporation executive may be guilty of hit and run driving while driving a car owned by the corporation. Of course, the corporation is liable for any resulting damages to person or property, but this fact does not relieve the executive of his personal guilt for operating corporation property in violation of law.

The Diamond - King of Gems

South Africa's diamond rush started in 1866 with the discovery of a 21 1/4-carat gem. A trader named O'Reilly borrowed the stone from a farmer's children... who were playing "ball" with it!

When the 3,025-carat Cullinan diamond—world's largest—was cleaved for England's crown jewels, the artisan wielding the hammer had to be hospitalized for 3 months, recuperating from the strain of his responsibility.

Seven thousand workers are on the job today at the Kimberley Mines... where 9 tons of diamonds have been excavated. The seemingly inexhaustible supply of diamonds, gold, uranium, chrome and many other valuable minerals has made South Africa a veritable treasure-house of the Western world.

"Wonderful Town" Is Wonderful

EVERYBODY IS TALKING ABOUT the superb production of the musical hit, "Wonderful Town," based on the stage play, "My Sister Eileen," which gave the first of several performances at the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium on the Culver Military Academy campus last Saturday. Expertly directed by William J. Martin, it was also a theatrical triumph for Col. Edward T.

Payson, musical director; Claude Zetty, choral director; and Virginia Bays, choreographer. The show co-stars Tommye Glaze (Miss Indiana) and her aunt, Louise Zetty. Several Culver High School girls augment the singing chorus. Roger Basham as Speedy Valenti, night club operator, was especially terrific. Director Martin had a real scare when LEE

Charles Faulkner Makes Sigma Xi, I. U. Honorary

Charles H. Faulkner, Hawk Lake, Culver, was inducted as an associate member in the Indiana University chapter of Sigma Xi, national scientific honorary society, last Thursday night at the group's annual initiation banquet. Membership in Sigma Xi comes in recognition of achievement or promise shown in scientific research, and nomination is by members, with election by a special committee. Charles is a graduate student majoring in anthropology at the University. Our entire community congratulates him on this fine honor!

NEWMAN COW RECEIVES "EXCELLENT" RATING
Judy R. A. Dunloggin Victor 3978033, registered Holstein cow owned by John A. Newman and Sons, Culver, has been officially classified "Excellent" — the highest designation attainable in the type classification program of The Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

This highly select designation is applied only to animals scoring 90 or more of the 100 points representing theoretical perfection in body conformation. Of nearly 56,000 registered Holsteins officially classified for type last year, only 369 were rated "Excellent".

The Newman Holstein moved into the "Excellent" bracket for the first time during a recent classification of the herd by R. C. Chapman of Ruthven, Iowa — an official inspector on the staff of the national Holstein organization. She scored 92 points. Animals scored "Excellent" in previous programs are not included in this listing.

The Classification Program — in continuous operation since 1929 — provides a universally-recognized method of comparing the conformation of living animals with that of the True-Type Holstein cow or bull. Participation is currently at an all-time high level.

A FISHING TIP

[From Sports Afield Magazine]
If you're the kind of fisherman who enjoys eating his catch while still afield, here's a little trick worth tucking away for future use. An ordinary bottle cap nailed to a piece of wood makes an emergency fish scaler. It works so well you may even want to make one for home.

Some people eat carp. Some don't. If you're a member of the latter group, perhaps your objection is the slight muddy taste sometimes attributed to this fish. Here's the solution. Remove the back bone before cooking. This can easily be done with a pair of pliers.

If you expect that some day you may fall out of your boat while fishing, read on. Wrap your wallet in a plastic bag before venturing forth. Thus, your money and papers will be safe and dry for your future needs — if you can swim, that is.

Midwest Program On Airborne TV Instruction

Dean Ernest B. Benson of the Culver Military Academy gave a very interesting talk on the "Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction" at the April 11 meeting of the Parent Teacher Association.

The following is an outline of the program discussed by Dean Benson:

Introduction

Our educational needs as far as teacher supply is concerned are fast surpassing our ability to supply these needs.

We must look to changes in methods and school organization to help fill the gap.

Television is a useful aid in teaching and can be helpful in reducing the problem of teacher supply. TV brings into the classroom teachers with superior resources at their command, adds variety to classroom procedure, cuts down exclusive reliance on textbook, stimulates teachers to a high level of performance, is a useful tool in inservice training, can offer instruction in subjects not available in schools. It does not replace the teacher.

MPATI

Ford Foundation and industry are spending 7½ million dollars to subsidize an experimental program of broadcasting instruction from an airplane over a midwestern area of 150-200 miles in radius. This includes parts of Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Kentucky, Michigan, and Ohio.

The programs are in videotape which was prepared at Purdue by a selected group of outstanding teachers from all parts of the country. A full program will be broadcast beginning in September, 1961, in a variety of subjects. Syllabi of courses are available.

Culver is in a favored area. Broadcasts will be on two channels — 72 and 76 — eventually could be on six channels.

Installation for a single room is inexpensive (approximately $100).

Airborne TV can provide TV instruction to a larger number of students over a greater area at a lower per pupil cost than can TV on ground based transmitters.

Schools can easily secure aid and advice on participation in the program through organization of offices in this area (Ted Doyle — Area Coordinator, WNDU-TV, South Bend).

CHICAGO MILK PRICES FOR APRIL

Dairy farmers shipping to the Chicago Order 41 market received a minimum of $3.81 per cwt. for base milk and $3.13 per cwt. for excess milk delivered in April to plants within the 70-mile zone, Harry L. Edwards, director of marketing, Pure Milk Association, reported today.

The prices reported by Edwards are for milk of 3.5 per cent butterfat test. The differential for each one-tenth of 1 per cent of butterfat above or below 3.5 per cent is 7.3 cents per cwt.

In addition to these prices, most dairy farmers received a minimum bulk tank payment of 15 cents per cwt. on bulk milk shipped to market to help compensate them for their heavier investment in equipment and quality production. In some areas farmers received additional marketing adjustments, such as location premiums.

The minimum Federal order prices, as announced by the market administrator for April, were $3.53 per cwt. for base and $3.13 per cwt. for excess milk.

The $3.81 base price includes a superpool addition of 23 cents per cwt. This is the result of handler payment of a superpool premium of 66 cents per cwt. above the Federal order price on Class I (bottled) milk and a 26 cents per cwt. premium on the fluid cream portion of Class II milk.

The April superpool base price is 3 cents higher than the March price and is the same as the superpool base price in April 1960.

The superpool premiums, negotiated by Federated Dairy Cooperatives through Pure Milk Association leadership, returned well over $1 million above the order prices to Chicago area farmers in April, Edwards said.

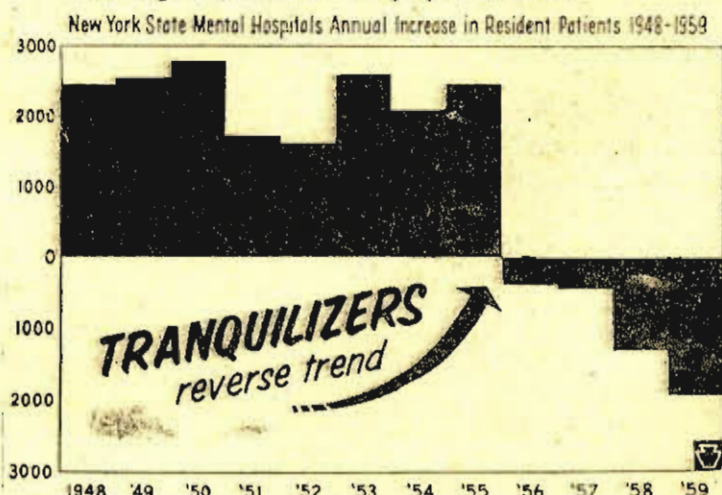

April is the second of four successive months, under Order 41, in which the excess price is quoted at 40 cents below the base price announced by the market administrator. In March, April, May, and June the superpool premium is added to the announced base price, widening the spread between base and excess.

In the other 8 months the average price on the market is used as the excess price. In these months the spread between the superpool base price and the excess price is determined solely by the superpool premiums collected on Class I and Class II milk.

Approximately 53.8 per cent of

The use of drugs to treat mental disorders has reduced the length of hospitalization for thousands of patients, and thus saved an estimated $860 million in state mental hospital construction in a single three-year period.

PACK 290 CUB SCOUTS TO HOLD FINAL MEETING

Skits and awards will highlight the evening when Cub Scout Pack 290 holds its final meeting of the year on Tuesday, May 23, at 7 p.m. in the Methodist Church.

Urging all parents to attend this final meeting, Cubmaster Wayne Mattox points out that this will be the last formal pack event of the season. A junior olympics and two outings are planned as summertime activities. Skits will be presented by dens that were newly formed this year to give all Cubs the opportunity to win recognition.

The attendance banner will once again be awarded to the den having the largest percentage of parents and friends attending the meeting.

total producer milk under Order 41 in April was used for Class I and Class II purposes.

Total producer milk delivered under Order 41 in April was over 481,220,724 pounds. This was more than 6.6 million pounds or 1.40 per cent greater than production for the market in April 1960.

Joanne Amond Kennedy, R.N. A Culver Nures's Fascinating Story

[Reprinted from the May, 1961, issue of the I. U. Center News, published by the South Bend-Mishawaka Center of Indiana University]

JOANNE AMOND KENNEDY

EDDIE AMOND

Swimming across Lake Maxinkuckee, soothing the real and imaginary aches of small boys in their first summer away from home, testing a new recipe or making an old favorite barbecue sauce for weekend cook-outs, or keeping a close watch on blood pressure, pulse, and respiration of patients just out of surgery... All these are part of the experiences in the life of a nurse.

At least they have been part of the life of Joanne Amond Kennedy, R.N., one of the several nurses who are part-time students at Indiana University Center in South Bend.

Academic Interests
A member of the class of 1956 of the Holy Cross Central School of Nursing, Notre Dame, Mrs. Kennedy is studying at I.U. Center now to acquire some of the credits she will need for a degree in public health nursing with a minor in psychology.

Her interest in psychology is heightened by exposure to the work of her husband, Dan, a psychologist with the School City of South Bend. Currently enrolled in the third semester of English composition, Mrs. Kennedy's topic for her research paper reflects her field of strongest interest; the topic she chose is "Migraine Headache as a Psychophysiological Reaction."

At Culver Military Academy
In addition to the influence of her husband's work with children in his position with School City, Joanne's interest in the field of public health nursing was no doubt strengthened by her own experiences in working with children and teen-agers as a nurse at Culver Military Academy. In addition to caring for patients in the prep school's infirmary, a nurse at a military academy finds herself called on to fill the role of big sister, adviser, and confidante.

With summer school taking boys of 8 and 9, many of them staying away from home for the first time, the ailments that bring many of the new boys to the infirmary during the opening days require special understanding and treatment. As new friendships are made and new surroundings become familiar, business drops off at the infirmary. Mrs. Kennedy recalls a few occasions when mild epidemics made the school's hospital bed space quite inadequate; cots were set up in dormitories and various halls were converted into extensions of the infirmary until the patients recovered.

Likes All Types Of Nursing
One year of Mrs. Kennedy's nursing career was spent at St. Margaret's Hospital in Hammond where she had recovery room duty. When asked which branch of nursing she liked best, she replied that when she was in pediatrics she liked that, when she was in the obstetrical ward she liked that; she has liked every form of nursing to which she has been assigned in her training and career. At present she is working on the medical floor of South Bend Osteopathic Hospital, with sometimes some pediatric and surgical patients.

This summer she will be working as a summer replacement in her old job at St. Margaret's while her husband is working with the school system of Gary. Mid-August will see the Kennedys back in South Bend to resume their work and study program here.

Asked whether their family name, now so much in the news, causes frequent comment among her patients, Mrs. Kennedy replied, "I run into so many comments on my name that I now refer to the President as Cousin Jack."

Men More Appreciative
Patients in general, she believes, are much the same in all hospitals. Men, though, are usually more appreciative of attention and care, and less demanding than the average woman patient. Joanne has found.

Swimming Favorite Hobby
A graduate of the Red Cross National Water Safety School, Mrs. Kennedy puts swimming at the top of her list of hobbies, with boating coming next in line. This is quite natural for a girl who grew up on the shores of Lake Maxinkuckee.

Her father is Frank Amond, who operates the excursion cruiser Maxinkuckee and the Shark Speedboat Rides at the Culver Town Beach, so Joanne and her brother, Eddie, spent a great deal of time in and on the water. She did not, however, learn to swim before she learned to walk.

When Joanne was 5, she fell into the lake beside the pier in about eight feet of water and would have drowned if her father's instructions on what to do in such an event had not prompted her to paddle her way to a post of the pier, where she hung on and called for help.

She says that another thing which helped her when she fell into the lake was her concern over getting her sunsuit wet; she was so occupied with wondering whether her mother would reprimand her for getting her clean sunsuit wet that she forgot to be afraid of drowning.

Swims Across Lake!
The next day she began to learn to swim. The summer she was 12 she swam a distance of 3½ miles. This distance swimming was the result of a broken leg which had not been healing fast enough to suit the doctor. He prescribed swimming to strengthen the weakened muscles of the leg, and Joanne was soon swimming across the lake. Her personable and handsome brother, Eddie, has also swum across Maxinkuckee.

One of Joanne's favorite dry-land activities is cooking. Living close to the hospital in an apartment on South 26th Street, South Bend, she has more time to try the recipes she is constantly collecting than if she had to spend a couple of hours a day traveling to and from work. Like all part-time students who are working and studying, Mrs. Kennedy has learned to budget her time. "But it's worth it," she maintains.

Bell Telephone System Boosts Indiana Economy

Bell Telephone System companies other than Indiana Bell gave the economy of Indiana a $97,000,000 boost during 1960 in the form of payments for wages, construction, taxes, and supplies.

The figure was disclosed in a report, released today, on last year's expenditures by Western Electric Company, Bell Telephone Laboratories, and American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Western Electric, the manufacturing arm of the Bell System, spent the top amount — $75,426,000. Biggest expenditure in Indiana by WE was the $54,100,000 the firm paid its 8,590 Hoosier employees. Western also spent $27,525,826 for supplies among 1,664 Indiana firms in 92 communities. An additional $2,695,000 was contributed to Indiana government in the form of taxes and another $1,700,000 was spent in the state on construction.

THE QUACK WARD

It's A Bloody Mess

In a letter to the folks back home, Congressman August E. Johansen (Republican, Mich.) poses this provocative question:

"Would it make sense for a patient to be receiving a blood transfusion and giving a blood donation at the same time?"

It's the Congressman's opinion that such a practice, aside from being extremely dangerous, would be entirely objectionable.

"In a word," says Congressman Jahansen, "it would be medical quackery." Then the Michigander makes his point:

"I wonder whether we are not indulging in something just as ridiculous and perilous in the area of government and economies.

"I refer to the continuously increasing simultoneous policy of Federal taxation and Federal aid — especially when resorted to as a supposed basis for improving economic health.

"Of course, this policy provides a wonderful windfall of political power and profit for the Doctors of Big Government and Phony Economics who promote and administer the procedure."

Congressman Jahansen couldn't be more correct. It IS rugged for the patient — and it sure has the odor of economic and political quackery.

California Or Florida For Winter Living?

Which Is Best For Older Folks?

By ROGER W. BABSON
No. 1 U. S. Economist

Babson Park, Mass. — As I write this column thousands of farmers and their wives in the Central West are insisting they will never spend another winter on the farm.

They are agreeing to spend their winters in California or Florida, and are trying to decide which it will be. Here is a brief, but impartial, answer.

Although I have spent 35 winters in Florida and expect to do so for the remainder of my life, I often wish I had been born in California!

It is a wonderful state with tropical climate in the south, snow in the north, and any climate between these which anyone could wish.

It has a long coastline, a desert interior, and great mountains.

The only out is Los Angeles, with its crowded population, terrific transportation problem, its "smog," etc.

California's Many Assets

California is also rich in natural resources, with the possible exception of coal.

It has great waterfalls which supply electricity to all the homes; it furnishes natural gas which heats most of the homes; but its great asset is oil.

California has an abundance of oil of good quality, and this has been a tremendous asset to the state industrially, besides paying for the roads, state buildings, and other public improvements.

All of these came after the discovery of gold in 1849, which sparked the "Gold Rush" and resulted in the building of the Union Pacific, and Southern Pacific Railroads.

As I think of the farmer and his life in Nebraska, I wonder whether all these natural resources will be of much help to them?

For the businessman with money, who can purchase large acreage for an extensive cattle ranch or orange and other fruit groves, there is still an opportunity for health, power, and prosperity in California.

Few Investment Bargains

Few investment bargains, however, exist at the moment; although they will appear again when the next depression comes.

A large amount of money is borrowed on California enterprises, and most of these mortgages are held by one or two great California banks which could be very tough if the tide turned against them.

Expensive Place To Live

For the farmer and his wife in moderate circumstances who want only a winter home or place to retire to — California may not be the state.

Prices are high, and there is a shortage of houses in most sections.

If you have friends living in some small California city — preferably near the coast — and they know of some reasonably priced home, it might be well to go out and look it over.

California in general, however is a place for business rather than for retired farmers.

Florida's Good Points

Outside of sunshine and a fair rainfall, Florida has only a few natural advantages.

It has no coal; no waterpower; no natural gas, except that being brought in by pipeline; and, most important of all, Florida has not yet discovered oil.

Some years ago oil was found in South Florida around the town of Sunnland and a few wells nearby were drilled and produced oil. This caused the great Florida oil boom.

Nearly all the large oil companies sent representatives to get leases and do exploration work. Many of these companies spent millions of dollars drilling for oil, but not one drop of commercial oil or gas did they find.

Very few wells have gone below the 10,000-foot limit, and very little "off shore" drilling has been done.

Small Industries Attracted
Small industries are starting up in Florida, using electricity. Orlando and Tampa are rapidly becoming industrialized, while Jacksonville is a great jobbing center.

Florida is a state of small homes; in fact, just now there is a surplus of small houses. Therefore, for farmers of the Central West and East who want a winter home free from snow, or for retired families who would get a check from the North every month, I surely advise one of the small cities of Florida.

Perhaps it would be cheaper to buy a house already built than to buy a vacant lot.

See Property First!

But I do not advise buying a Florida home without seeing the actual property. There surely is a surplus of motels and subdivisions. Nevertheless I believe that a man with a check coming in every month would never regret moving to Florida.

Open Letter To Cub Scout Parents
Editor, CITIZEN:

This is an open letter to parents of Cub Scouts. This is a plea asking you to give one hour a month to your son and his Cubbing. Little enough time to ask in exchange for the hours of pleasure your son is getting out of Cub Scouting.

For every hour your son is attending a Cub Scout meeting (usually a total of 5 or more hours a month) there are endless hours of preparation. There are the Round Table meetings on a district level, planning meetings on a local level, research, planning and final preparation for the actual meeting.

Cubbing is locally enjoying a rebirth and is more successful than ever because of a dedicated few. They don't want applause and rewards. They want you to know what Cubbing is doing for your son. Your opportunity to see and know is to attend the monthly Pack meeting. Think twice before you pass up that next Pack meeting. Think first what Cubbing means to your son and think, too, of the hours that someone has given to give your son this opportunity.

You give an hour next Tuesday night.

Phone Directory Full Of Errors In Local Names

The other day members of the editorial staff of The Culver Citizen had a friendly argument over the correct spelling of the name of a local resident.

Finally one of the staff spoke up: "There's no argument about it — the proper spelling is right here in the directory of the Indiana Bell Telephone Company."

Take our advice and never bet any money on the listing of a person's name in the Culver phone book because we have already marked in our copy more than 20 incorrectly spelled names which makes us wonder why those affected do not request Indiana Bell to correct their names when they mail in their checks attached to a portion of their monthly bills.

For example, here is a fair sampling of Culver area names which have been misspelled on wrong initials given in the current telephone directory and in many previous editions: Melvyn A. Estey, Merl Crabb, Claude E. Zetty, Neal Shock, Benny Almason, and Peirce C. Ward.

Tri Kappas Spruce Up Town Park

Ten additional trash barrels will be conducive to maintaining a litter-free town park this summer.

They are deemed necessary since it has been found that appropriate containers for refuse could not easily be found in previous years.

The barrels are being donated by Culver's Epsilon Nu Chapter of Tri Kappa. They will be placed in the park after the organization's members have painted them green.

New Books At The Culver Public Library

"Yogi," the autobiography of a Professional Baseball Player, by Yogi Berra and Ed Fitzgerald is a true story of one of America's greatest baseball players, Living in St. Louis while a child, Yogi tells of his determination to be a baseball player even though his parents protest that he could make good money as a laborer. He tells of his early years in the minors, his entrance into the majors and the success he has enjoyed with the Yankees. This is a colorful story of a tough, warmhearted little guy beloved by Americans.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Teacher Learns a Lesson

Fuzzy Goodwin may hold a half-dozen important positions around town—chairman of the school board included—but he's still the same modest fellow that I grew up with.

At the last PTA meeting, Fuzzy made a point of getting together with some new teachers. One of them, a lady with some strong ideas about education claimed that none of the others had gone to the right college—hers.

"Well, Miss, that isn't so bad," Fuzzy told her. "One of our board members didn't even go to high school, let alone college." "No! Who?" she said. "Me," he said.

From where I sit, some of us want people to be carbon copies of ourselves. But that just isn't the American way. Our heritage of freedom implies the right to be different, even in little things—like your choice of tea or coffee and my preference of a glass of beer. I say "be yourself" and no "studying up" to be like each other.

Unchanging beauty is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon "Soul and Body" to be read at all Christian Science churches Sunday.

Included in the Bible selections will be these verses from Psalm 90: "Let thy work appear unto thy servants, and thy glory unto their children. And let the beauty of the Lord our God be upon us: and establish thou the work of our hands upon us; yea, the work of our hands establish thou it."

One of the correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (pp. 247, 248): "The recipe for beauty is to have less illusion and more Soul, to retreat from the belief of pain or pleasure in the body into the unchanging calm and glorious freedom of spiritual harmony."

Theo Stavrou Is Sunday Speaker At Bible Church

Theo Stavrou, Assistant Professor of Russian History at the University of Minnesota, will be guest speaker at the Culver Bible Church Sunday, May 21, at 11 a.m.

Mr. Stavrou has completed his resident study at Indiana University for his doctor's degree in the field of Russian history. He is married to the former Freda Condon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Condon of Culver.

Together with their two children, Gregory and Niki, the Stavrous will leave June 15 for Cyprus. They will spend about two months with Mr. Stavrou's parents before he resumes his teaching duties at the University of Minnesota.

A native of Cyprus Mr. Stavrou came to the United States in 1952 and has not seen his family since then. It will be the "first" meeting between Mr. Stavrou's parents and their daughter-in-law and grandchildren.

HEBER RAIMY DRAWS TERM FOR ARSON

Heber Raimy of Culver was sentenced to from one to three years in the Indiana State Reformatory, Pendleton, in Palas
Circuit Court, after pleading gui-ty to arson.

In an affidavit signed by Indiana State Police Detective Robert Wilson, Raimy was charged with arson for allegedly burning his own car. In the affidavit, Wi-son charged that Raimy reported to police that his car had been stolen. It was found by officers near Monterey, abandoned and burned.

Battle Continues for "500" Starting Positions

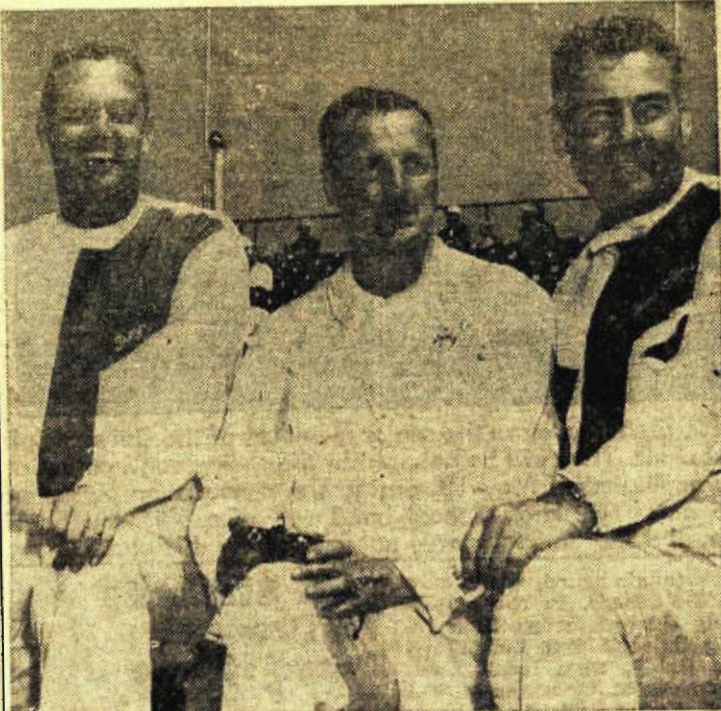

The exciting battle for starting positions in the golden anniversary 500-Mile Race on May 30 will reach its climax Saturday and Sunday with 13 hours of high-speed action on the schedule.

All of the entrants who failed to qualify last week-end will be ready to make a supreme effort to win a spot in the starting lineup when the trials are resumed Saturday morning at 11 o'clock (CDT).

Sunday's program will begin at noon and qualification attempts will be permitted both days until 6 o'clock. Gates to the grounds will be opened at 8 a.m. Saturday and at 9 a.m. Sunday in order to give race fans ample opportunity to watch the pre-qualification practice.

With 69 entrants competing this year for starting berths, railbirds anticipate more than the usual number of dramatic moments resulting in the sudden elimination of the slower cars and drivers among the early qualifiers last week-end. Only the 33 fastest, at the completion of the trials Sunday, will be in the lineup behind the Ford Thunderbird pace car May 30.

Practice activity is expected to reach its peak on Thursday and Friday of this week, between 9 a.m. and 6 p. m. Unqualified entrants will be searching for the additional mile - or - two - an - hour needed to win a spot in the field; and drivers already qualified will be checking their equipment after "tearing down" their engines for inspection earlier in the week.

Among the veterans ready to meet the challenge of talented rookies in the golden anniversary 500-Mile Race on May 30, are (left to right) Troy Rutman, A. J. Foyt and Chuck Stevenson. Rutman has driven in eight Indianapolis Classics, Stevenson in five, and Foyt in three.

After Sunday's trials, the track will be closed until Race Day except for a brief period on a single mid-week day, designated for final tire and fuel tests, plus pit stop rehearsals.

Admission to the Speedway on time trial days is $1.50 per person, with free parking space in the infield. Admission on practice days is 50 cents.

"Hoosier At Large"

$60 stethoscope — absently (and innocently) carried away by some doctor.

HAZEL'S FRUGAL SIDE was showing. Her other side appeared quickly. "Come to the nursery and see our new infant resuscitator," she urged Bill eagerly.

Bill went, scrutinized a tiny, $1,200 device like an iron lung, smiled wryly and said, "I don't recall the board approving this Unabashed, Hazel side-stepped nimbly.

"It was suggested by one of the new doctors," she said. "And it may save a baby's life . . ."

SINCE THEN, the device has done just that . . . and so have the Isolettes—two, not one!—which Hazel bought in the early '50s to save premature babies.

"She's both the delight and despair of our doctors," Mollenhour chuckled. "She'll frugally resist buying a $10 'convenience' item — then promptly spend $1,000 for something that may save a life or lessen pain."

THANKS LARGELY to Hazel Murphy's dedicated work, frugality, generosity, and faith, Warsaw today has a superbly equipped hospital with ample beds, 31 staff doctors, licensed technicians, 24-hour emergency service, extremely low infant mortality, and a death rate less than half the national average.

For all this, patients pay less than average rates — and the center's annual charity work runs to five figures.

RECENTLY SHE opened additional new major surgery, added a radiologist to the staff, medical librarian, registered dietitian, and welcomed a board-trained anesthesiologist to the "couple."

Her lifetime dream was realized this year when the Murphy Medical Center was accredited after a thorough inspection by the Joint Commission on Accreditation, the national organization that sets standards for top hospitals.

SATISFIED? No, she is now conferring with architects from Columbia University to build a new maternity department, and add rooms to the medical and surgical departments.

Construction has started on a new office building for the doctors and specialists who are gathering at Warsaw to use her fine hospital. Mrs. Murphy is building that out of her unwanted salary!

Along the arduous way, Mrs. Murphy also found time to mother, raise, and educate two fine daughters.

Her Joyce married and settled near Bourbon after a year at college.

June got a degree at I.U. and then became Mom's right arm at the hospital.

June subsequently became one of 20 small hospital administrators selected by Columbia University for a continuing workshop course that combines theory and on-the-job practice. She is now a consultant for the six hospitals owned by Catholic Charities of New York.

JUNE'S HELP gave Hazel more spare time — which she promptly invested in new educational courses at Purdue and I.U. extension centers in Ft. Wayne.

"No one is too old to stop learning," she says.

She could have added — "or to stop working!"

Close friends often urge Mrs. Murphy to take things easier and to leave menial chores to the hospital's housekeeping staff. It's wasted breath. When she sees a job that needs doing she does it.

The night before our Hospital Week open house, she waxed floors until 2 a.m., Mollenhour reported. "And she still takes only one vacation a year."

EACH YULE SEASON Hazel and her sprightly, octogenarian mother, Minnie, hop in a car and drive to New York to see the fabulous window displays, take in a few plays, and shop.

"Typically, Hazel comes home laden with gifts for everyone but herself. That's just about the story of her inspiring life — gifts for everyone but herself! No wonder so many of us love her!"

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Oberlin returned home Wednesday after spending six months visiting their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Black, in Fort Myers, Fla.

All kinds of office supplies on sale at The Citizen.

Culver's Track Team Tops Off Fine Season

By EARL MISHLER
Culver's outstanding track squad topped off another fine winning season Monday evening by finishing second in the Marshall County Tourney at Bremen. Perennial champ Bremen once again walked off with first place, but Culver and LaPaz were engaged in a thrilling race for the runner-up spot. The Indians had to finish second in the 1/2 mile relay to nip the Vikings, and they did just that.

Final point standings were: Bremen, 95; Culver, 34; LaPaz, 31; Bourbon, 19; Argos, 15; West Township, 5; and Tippecanoe, 2.

Davis Places First
Larry Davis raced home in 24 seconds flat in the 220-yard dash for Culver's only first place. That time was exactly one second slower than his best of the season, which he compiled in the Huntington Sectional. Larry finished second there against terrific competition and qualified for the Fort Wayne Regional in the 100 yard dash and the 220 which he will run in this Friday at Fort Wayne. He ended the regular season unbeaten in the 220.

In the final dual meet of the season Tuesday evening, Culver nipped Bourbon; 55-54, with Davis winning three events.

Coach Jim Cox, who always seems to come up with a winner, led his boys this season to a fine 15-6 record in regular season competition. The only thing that has kept Culver's track teams out of the headlines the past three years has been Bremen's great squads.

Baker Is High Point Man

In individual competitive points, George Baker led Culver this season with 125 1/2 points, while Davis had an even 115, despite missing two meets. John Benedict, Tom Boswell, and Sam Medbourn compiled point totals of 76, 69, and 61 respectively, to round out the first five, while Chuck Reed had 60-3/4. Also noteworthy was the performance of freshman, Paul White, who chalked up 54 points.

One can see from the fact that four juniors and a freshman rank among the top seven scorers that Coach Cox has more bright days ahead for next year's track squad.

Academy Sports

Culver Military Academy's crew chalked up its first defeat last Saturday, but no one can say Coach Larry BeBout's boatmen didn't give the Central States Schoolboy Regatta the old college try.

While the Culver varsity crew was finishing second in the championship finals at Chicago's Lincoln Park Boat Club, the junior varsity team went on to win the reserve title. The Academy's baseball squad dropped its fourth and fifth straight baseball games and the Culver tennis squad lost another close one, this time a 4-3 defeat by Fort Wayne Concordia.

Eagle Crew

With a 2-0 record to its credit, the Eagle crew underwent several frustrating moments enroute to the Central States finals. Initially, Culver was to draw a bye in the first heat, but association officials changed their minds at the last moment and matched the Eagles with arch-rivals St. John's crew, for in making a John's Military Academy in the first heat. Jitters apparently hit the St. John's crew, for in making a false start, the Wisconsin boat rammed the Culver shell and caused minor damage. But rowing according to their coach's instructions — just hard enough to win — Culver defeated St. John's easily over the three-fourths mile course.

Defeat St. Paul's

In the second heat Culver again conserved its energy to defeat St. Paul's School and qualify for the championship finals against Detroit's Roosevelt High School. A close race resulted in an overlapping finish, the Roosevelt team clinching the title by less than a boat length. Coach BeBout was pleased with his team's performance, one of the best efforts made by a Culver crew in this event which is scheduled to be held on Lake Maxinkuckee in May, 1962.

In baseball, Coach Russ Blair's stickmen were ahead in both games against South Bend John Adams before a Mothers' Weekend crowd here. But the Adams team, second place runners in the ENHSO competition, bounced back in both games to win 6-5 and 9-3 decisions. Pitchers Paul Schmidt and Larry Holm were credited with the losses.

Clarne's tennis squad, which now has a 2-3 record. In the match-deciding doubles competition involving Culver's Ted Bickel and Lamar Gable, the locals went down in defeat by scores of 6-4 and 7-5. Carlos Gallardo, Culver's No. 1 player, continued his fine showing of having lost only one match this season.

Competition this week will pit the Culver crew against the Michigan State freshmen in a 4:30 p.m. race Friday on Lake Maxinkuckee, the baseball and tennis teams face Howe Military Academy, and the golfers are host to the Notre Dame freshmen.
