"HOOSIER AT LARGE"

By Al Spiers

Tigger, A "Different" Kind Of Cat, Is Mourned By The Spiers Family

IN THE NEWLY opened earth, the small, furry form lay curled on the dry loam, as in sleep. Hunkered there, head low and throat tight, I thought, "Of them all why you, little one? Why the one so full of love . . . and sweetness . . . and courage?"

I rose, took the shovel again and looked one last time, thinking "Sleep in peace, gentle one. Your time was short . . . but your gifts of love and joy and laughter were large."

Slowly, then, I refilled the grave, and sadly patted the sod, and thought, "People will say, 'Tigger killed? Oh, that's a shame. But you have four others. It's not like losing an only pet . . .'"

ALL ALONE, I shook my head slowly and said aloud, "They'll be so wrong . . . because they didn't know this funny, loving little creature."

For a long moment I lingered there with a hurt heart, hating to go in and confirm what Lois and the kids already suspected . . . lingered amid memories.

TIGGER WAS a small drab hunk of vaguely striped dun fluff, scarcely weaned, when she wandered into our realm.

Jiffy-quick, tiny Tigger won our hearts — but she had to fight four resentful, full-grown squatters to win a home. Fight 'em Tigger did — shrewdly and courageously and grossly outweighed, she taught the other cats manners, one by one. She was lean, tough and alley-trained. They were fat and lazy.

Inevitably Smokey, Scampy, Tuffy, and Casey decided, "Why fuss? There's room for five!"

That settled, was Tigger was free to lavish her gratitude and love on the five humans in the house.

DEEP INSIDE, MOST CATS are affectionate — but few deign to show it. Tigger was the exception. She bubbled with love for everyone and displayed it with unabashed legrubbing, meowing, cuddling, and lap-leaping.

And she seemed to know instinctively when moods were bleak and the house needed laughter. For such dark times, she saved her craziest capers.

And laughter exploded. . . . I CAN'T REMEMBER when Tigger started talking to all of us. I think it was after she spent 10 days at the vet's, being spayed. Her homecoming joy was touching.

New Books At The Culver Public Library

"Lost Towns and Roads of America" by J. R. Humphreys. New highways, slicing across America, cut off a lot of old roads to isolate many towns. In this book Mr. Humphreys and his wife followed these old roads and discovered the timeless towns. An assortment of 156 pictures supplement a vivid text as he unfolds their trip. They avoided the super highways, and for 45 days and 7,484 miles they drove leisurely from New Jersey to California — a pleasant journey on the roads and through the towns of yesterday.

Reasons For All Depressions Of Past 100 Years

A Remarkable Summary

By ROGER W. BABSON
No. 1 U. S. Economist

Babson Park, Mass. — Business was prosperous during the Civil War due largely to inflation, and started the boom directly afterward.

Roger W. Babson

The shooting of President Lincoln, however, caused the stocks to tumble and a year of depressed business followed.

Again business began to boom with further inflation until the famous "Black Friday" in 1869, followed by another year of depressed business.

Chicago and Boston Fires — Stocks quickly rebounded, and again investors were looking forward to several years of prosperity when, in late 1871, the Chicago Fire occurred. This was followed by the great Boston Fire in 1872.

The market had just about again recovered when the failure of the great banking house of Jay Cooke & Company was suddenly announced. For the first time, the leading Stock Exchanges closed for several weeks. There followed the great depression beginning in 1873; then higher stock prices finally returned as a result of another dose of inflation.

President Garfield Killed — Suddenly, on July 2, 1881, President Garfield was shot. A chain reaction of selling followed. During this period the banking house of Grant & Ward and the two leading "bulls," Henry Villard and James R. Keene, announced their failures. Depression followed.

1892 was a year of great prosperity; but suddenly the failure of the National Cordage Company, was announced in May 1893. This was then one of the ten biggest, "blue chip" corporations.

The Great Pullman Strike — The following year the Pullman Strike — first serious labor strike — occurred and cast fear and gloom over the stock market. This was accompanied by a series of crop failures and mortgage foreclosures.

Again in 1897 business steadily improved and permanent prosperity was prophesied, accompanied by stock splits, mergers, and large security offerings.

Suddenly, in 1903, there came rumors of great quantities of "undigested" securities — accompanied by the investigation of large life insurance and traction companies. The crash came just following the San Francisco Earthquake.

Supreme Court Decision — Up to this time the Supreme Court had decided questions only between the States. Suddenly in the early 1900's, it issued its "Northern Securities" decision. This took the zip out of the stock market until the first World War began. After the closing of the New York Stock Exchange for several months, there followed some years of prosperity.

Then came the sinking of the S. S. Lusitania and our entrance into World War I. All went well with the economy until after the War when soaring interest rates and commodity prices brought on another collapse.

This was quickly corrected and the stock market continued to advance until it reached an all-time high in 1929.

The Crash Of 1929 — Then came the business collapse in Europe with the continued withdrawal of gold, climaxed by the very sudden failure of the Austrian Credit - Anstalt. This caused startling repercussions throughout the world. There followed several years of real depression.

(Editor's note: Mr. Babson won his great reputation by being the only economist to predict the 1929 stock market crash.)

Beginning in 1938 there was another recovery in business lasting throughout World War II, but this did not help the stock market much until 1942.

With the exception of several relatively brief adjustment periods, our country has enjoyed good business for about 23 years.

What The Future Holds — The preceding 100 years teach two lessons.

(1) That there has always been an economic race between inflation and production. These inflations were of different kinds — stock market, commodity, political; but they always gave business a "shot in the arm."

Fortunately, increased production absorbed this — the great era of railroad building; opening of the South and West to farming; and finally increased commodity production due to inventions and advertising, accompanied by the electrical, chemical, and automobile eras.

(2) That when each prosperity period came to an end, it was from an unexpected event — a great fire, an earthquake, or the failure of some banking house or large corporation.

In wartime inflation always has been resorted to. We expect it will occur again to provide funds for the "Cold War."

Present Period Of Inflation — This should mean higher prices for stocks, commodities, and real estate. Yet the period of inflation we are now entering may be absorbed by the "space era," which is an unexpected event on the optimistic side.

particularly in the northern two-thirds which is the heavy production area. Knee high corn was reported by June 20th in many counties and Delaware County has some waist high corn. Our DeKalb reporter from Fayette County, Northeast Iowa gives condition of corn, soybeans, oats, hay and pasture all as "excellent." This is a pleasing contrast to last year when this area was flooded.

Distress areas are not numerous at all, but 19 counties in Northern Minnesota have been declared a "disaster area" and North Dakota has added 32 counties to this list with more to prospect. Such a designation allows farmers to graze soil bank land, obtain feed grain from federal stocks and get long term emergency loans. A state suffering from excess rain is Tennessee where delayed planting, weed fields, ruined hay and delayed combining are causing much concern.

Temperatures have been characterized by unusual lows which have set records in many states. For example, Northern Illinois had a light frost on June 16th. The unusual temperatures, rapid changes from cool to hot and bright sun have brought about a physiological condition in corn which has excited considerable comment. This has been reported from Illinois, Iowa and Wisconsin. Upper leaves have become whitish or yellow in color, later turning brown. This condition is a temporary one and the plant should grow quickly and normally if favorable weather. The leaves affected are those which normally die as fall approaches and the damage will have little if any effect on harvest yields.

This year's wheat crop continues to expand as harvest approaches. Good spring rains over the wheat belt have made to yield increases.

HOOSTER HAPPENINGS

By Harold Hanson

HONEST FOLKS — The Hope Star-Journal relates two incidents which show honesty still exists in Bartholomew County. A Columbus salesman spent several weeks tracking down a car owned by Mrs. Will Mahaffey of Northliff to return to her $1 which a gas station attendant at Amity had inadvertently overcharged her. And the proprietors of the Johnson Bros. Lumber Co., at Hope, returning to find a window in their office broken, found a dollar bill taped to the sill with a note explaining the money was to pay for the pane shattered when a car turning in the driveway skidded and hurled a stone through the window. The note was unsigned so the lumbermen don't know the name of the honest motorist.

HYPHENATED — Finding a name for a new school created by a consolidation of the schools in Jackson, Center and Delaware townships of Ripley County was not too complicated. The school board took the first three letters of the names of the three townships, hyphenated them and named it the Jack-Cen-Del School. The school, located at Osgood, was dedicated recently.

IN THE GAME — A squirrel got into the golf game an Edinburg man, Fred Dorsey, was playing with three companions on a course in Bradenton, Fla. In a letter to a friend back home Mrs. Dorsey described the incident. She said her husband's drive from the first tee landed on the fairway FALSE — When you send a parcel Special Delivery it automatically includes the service offered by Special Handling. The difference between Special Delivery and Special Handling is this: Special Delivery means fast transportation for your parcels or letters from post office to post office and immediate delivery to the addressee. Special Handling means fast transportation for your fourth class parcels from post office to post office and delivery to the addressee on the next scheduled delivery trip by the carrier or vehicle serving that area.

but before he got to the ball a squirrel grabbed it and ran up a nearby tree. Dorsey and his fellow players camped beneath the tree and finally the squirrel dropped the ball. Mrs. Dorsey neglected to say whether her husband played the ball from the spot where it landed.

FREE PUBLICITY — The proprietors of two service stations in Kingman, a Fountain County town, got free mention on page one of The Kingman Star when the editor, Miss Teresa McAllister, learned of an odd incident involving them. In her "Town Talk" column, Miss McAllister reported that Ted Johnson, who operates a Texaco service station, ran out of gasoline while driving from his home to the station. His car stopped right in front of the Shell gas station operated by John Kiger. Ted purchased enough Shell gas to get him to his Texaco station.

GAMBLING GAME — An item in the "Years Ago" column of an Elkhart County newspaper, The Nappanee Advance News, shows how far aviation has progressed in 50 years. The item recounts how 2,000 people paid 10 cents each to see a "flying machine" make a flight from a field near Nappanee but were disappointed when the aviator explained that he would be unable to take off in an 8-mile-an-hour wind. This was in 1911. "The public will soon learn that when they see a flying machine they must gamble on the weather," said the item.

JUVENILE DELINQUENT — A nine-month-old Beagle pup owned by a Boone County woman, Mrs. James Miller of Zionsville, is causing her some embarrassment. Mrs. Miller said the pup started out, by bringing home newspapers he picked up from neighbors' porches and then turned to more serious thefts. She says he has stolen four shoes, none of them pairs; a fur-lined leather glove, two old rugs and a stuffed monkey doll. Through The Zionsville Times, Mrs. Miller sought the owners of the stolen articles.

WEBB IN FAMILY TREE — The marshal of the Bartholomew County town of Hope, Mayford Webb, says, "I could almost pedigree my children." Webb's wife's maiden name was Webb and her mother's maiden name was also Webb.

Notice To Bidders

Notice is hereby given that the Town of Culver, Marshall County, Indiana will receive sealed bids at the office of the Clerk-Treasurer until 7:30 p.m. on the 25th day of July, 1961, at which time all bids will be opened and read aloud, for resurfacing and other work incidental thereto, for approximately 1337 lineal feet of School Street, Culver, Indiana.

Specifications are on file at the office of the Clerk-Treasurer.

Bids must be made on State Board of Accounts Form 85, accompanied by a bidders bond in an amount not less than five (5) percent of the bid.

The Board of Trustees reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to accept the one which in its judgement will be to the best interest of the Town of Culver, Indiana.

"Of Thee I Sing" Opens Next At Summer Theatre

Begins Two-Week
Run July 17

"America's most sophisticated and intelligent musical comedy, the first of a new genus of satires with nuance — comedies of manners designed to laugh out of existence the silly practices of modern life" — That's what one critic called "Of Thee I Sing" when it opened on Broadway for the first time. And each of its revivals has met with the same enthusiastic approval.

A bright, witty musical with music by George and Ira Gershwin, "Of Thee I Sing" opens a two-week run at Maxinkuckee Playhouse Tuesday night, July 17, at 8:30 p.m.

Receives Pulitzer Prize
Written by the late George S. Kaufman, "Of Thee I Sing" has a timeless humor that transcends the years since 1932 when it became the first musical ever to receive the Pulitzer Prize.

The show's political foundation is the basis for such all-time hits as "Love Is Sweeping The Country," "Who Cares," and the title song, "Of Thee I Sing." "Swanee," "I'm Hiding My Time," and "Strike Up The Band" are also featured numbers in this popular show.

DICK VON HOENE

John P. Wintergreen, president and central character in "Of Thee I Sing," will be played by Dick von Hoene who has been seen in Playhouse productions of "South Pacific" and "The Girls in 509." His vice-president, Alexander Throttlebottom, will be portrayed by Bob Moak, a long-time favorite with Playhouse audiences.

DONNA DONNELLY

Mary Turner, one of the play's featured female roles, will be played by Donna Donnelly, seen earlier this season as Bloody Mary in "South Pacific."

Martha Garner returns to the Playhouse for her second guest appearance of the current season as the lovely Diana Devereaux.

The French Ambassador will be portrayed by Vaughn McBride who recently played a leading role in the Playhouse production of "Look Homeward, Angel," while Irene Myers who was featured in the same play will be seen as a White House guide.

Rutledge Plays Fulton
Paul Rutledge will be seen as the politician, Fulton. Other politicians will be played by Dan Weaver, Diane Turner, Bill Akin, Brent Brafford, and John Hess.

David Stearns will be seen as a reporter and Marie Mastruserio will play Miss Benson, a secretary. Joan Freiden will also appear in the Maxinkuckee Playhouse production of the popular "Of Thee I Sing."

Choreography for this coming musical production will be handled by Ernestine Hill. Bill Akin has designed the lavish settings required for the show. Joan Freiden will design and execute the costumes.

"Of Thee I Sing" will play nightly except Mondays at the Maxinkuckee Playhouse. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Tickets can be reserved by calling VI 2-2500.

"Majority Of One" Receives Loud Applause

Kornmann and Moak In Leads

A warm glow radiated Tuesday night as the Maxinkuckee Playhouse production of "A Majority of One" opened a week-long run to a unanimously approving audience.

This smooth, gentle comedy about a growing affection between middle-aged East and West retains the grace and dignity of the original Broadway production which starred Gertrude Berg and Sir Cedric Hardwick. As the warm, loving Jewish matron, Mrs. Jacoby, Dorothy Kornmann is delightful. Her skillful use of the Yiddish dialect is evidence of the dramatic ability which enabled her to win the best actress of the year award given last month by the Cincinnati Association of Community Theaters. Making a special guest appearance with the Playhouse as Mrs. Jacoby, Mrs. Kornmann also appeared in last week's production of "Look Homeward, Angel."

Bob Moak Plays New Role
Mr. Asano, a wealthy Japanese gentleman, is played with dignity, affection and an expected degree of formality by Bob Moak who has been a favorite with Maxinkuckee audiences for the past 10 years. His portrayal of this character is a successful departure from the comic, old men he has so often created.

Jerry and Alice Black, Mrs. Jacoby's daughter and son-in-law, are played by John Hess and Marie Mastruserio, both of whom had leading roles in the production of "Look Homeward, Angel." They are typically and amusingly American in their handling of Mrs. Jacoby's interest in Mr.

Asano. Eddie, a highly Americanized houseboy employed by the Blacks during their stay in Japan, is brought to a slightly hectic and funny life by Dick Von Hoene. Dan Weaver, who scored a great success as Ben in "Look Homeward, Angel," is seen as Mr. Northrop, an interpreter attached to the Japanese police force.

David Stearns Is Houseboy
Donna Donnelly is seen as Mrs. Rubin, the Bronx neighbor of Mrs. Jacoby, while Ernestine Hill portrays Mr. Asano's daughter-in-law and Irene Myers plays a servant in his honorable home. David Stearns is seen as his houseboy.

Settings for this gentle comedy that has met with success everywhere it has played, have been designed by Bill Akin. Especially effective are his transitions from Mr. Asano's serene Japanese home to the Black's modern Japanese apartment to Mrs. Jacoby's cozy apartment in the Bronx.

Costumes for "A Majority of One" were designed and executed by Joan Freiden. The entire production of this popular and appealing play was staged and directed for Maxinkuckee Playhouse by Paul Rutledge.

"A Majority of One" will run through Sunday night. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Tickets are available for some performances and can be reserved by calling the Playhouse at Viking 2-2500.

The Purdue-Brazil technical assistance program began with home economics in 1952 and was extended to include agriculture in 1958. It is a cooperative effort by Brazil and the International Cooperation Administration to advance agriculture and rural living in that South American country. The Purdue party at Vicosa presently numbers 10 staff members.

Says Al Spiers Should Write Another Installment About 4-H Girl, Pat Meade

Logansport, Ind.

Editor, CITIZEN:

I was very much interested in Columnist Al Spiers' story of Pat Meade and her steer Rowdy, the final installment of which appeared in the June 28 Citizen.

Al needs to write another installment to complete the wonderful story. Rowdy no longer roams in the green pastures on the Charles Meade farm in Carroll County — he has been sold!

Pat's husband is working in Illinois and she and their small daughter live with her parents.

I am a former resident of Culver but now live in Logansport with Pat Meade's great aunt.

New Method Of Assessing Cars Begins In 1963

County Assessor Langdon Explains

The bill passed by the 1961 Indiana General Assembly authorizing payment of taxes on motor vehicles simultaneously with the purchase of license plates will greatly increase the total revenue collected by the county although the levy against each vehicle is reduced, according to Marshall County Assessor Thomas V. Langdon.

New Law Closes Loopholes

By linking tax payment with the purchase of license plates, the new law will close a loophole through which many auto owners have in the past escaped tax free, Langdon said recently. He explained that the county will now be able to collect from individuals who move in from out of state, purchase plates, then move again before paying any tax. He added that persons who sell their autos before February 28 without purchasing new ones until after the assessing deadline will also be caught under the new law.

According to the new law, Langdon explained, the assessed value of autos in 1963 will be derived from the factory's advertised delivery price as set out on charts from the state. The tax due on a vehicle will amount to two per cent of its assessed value minus depreciation.

Applies Formula

By applying the formula to a 1960 sedan, for example, Langdon reasoned that with a factory advertised delivery price of $2,311, the 2% calculation would yield $46.22. Because the car was on the market in 1959 and the owner is entitled to 15% depreciation each year down to 10% and an automatic 20% depreciation would be allowed for this auto placing the assessment at $32.33.

Moreover, under the new law if the car was purchased in November of 1959 the owner would be required to pay only one-sixth of the levy, since he had owned the vehicle two months in 1959. Should a person purchase a 1960 auto anytime during the year, he is entitled to 15% depreciation because the vehicle was marketed in 1959 and is considered a year old, the assessor said.

New Law Is Endorsed

The Indiana Assessor's Association has endorsed the new law, according to Langdon. He said the association feels the bill "is one of the finest in the lines of tax reform."

In the future, taxpayers must show a paid-up tax receipt before making a purchase of auto license plates, as previously required. Mobile homes will be handled in a similar manner and will hold some relief for the owners.

The law states that car owners must purchase their license plates within the county in which they reside or where the vehicle is to be housed. For example: a salesman living in Culver, but working in Indianapolis, will have to purchase plates in Marshall County.

If a car is sold during the year and a new one bought, the amount of taxes paid on the old car will be applied to the new vehicle, and taxes will be figured on the length of time you have owned the car.

In contrast to the new assessment method, Langdon outlined the following examples employing the law presently in operation and a 1959 law which has now been superseded:

In Comparison

For example: A 1960 sedan four-door, will be assessed under the present method as follows: $1000, average finance, as denoted in the "red book," times 70% equals $700 or $700 assessor value. This amount times the rate (using an average tax rate of $6.) $700 times $6 equals $42.00. This is the present method of assessing automobiles. Figuring cars under the method set out by the 1959 General Assembly, like all other personal and real property to be assessed in 1962, we must drop the percent of assessed valuation from 70% to 33 and one-third percent of cash value. Figuring on the same car under the 1959 law, a car with retail value of $1835, times the 33 and one-third percent equals $545. The figure times an average tax rate of $6 equals $32.70, which the individual would pay under the 1959 law.

APPROPRIATE NAME —

A school established in Cass and White Counties under the school reorganization program is named the Pioneer Consolidated School. It serves Harrison, Jefferson, Boone and Noble townships in Cass Township in White County. The name "Pioneer" was selected because all the townships bear the names of pioneers. Gen. Lewis Cass made treaties with several different tribes of Indians for possession of their land in Indiana. Thomas Jefferson, for whom Jefferson Township was named, drafted the Declaration of Independence and was the third President of the United States. Harrison Township bears the name of William Henry Harrison, the nation's ninth president, whose grandson, Benjamin Harrison, be-

STRAIT JACKET—1961 STYLE

The Do-It-Yourself Bill

Are you aware of the Government's food and agriculture menu now before Congress? It's strictly a la carte.

The ingredients were stirred up by President Kennedy's chef is Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman.

The result is the doggonedest stew ever laid on a farm table.

This omnibus farm bill (H.R. 6400 and S. 1643) would give Mr. Freeman the authority to formulate and implement production and marketing controls on every agricultural commodity produced in the United States — some 256 different items!

The bill authorizes the Secretary to extend the application of marketing quotas and orders, acreage allotments, and subsidies, price supports, and surplus disposal.

Here's how the farm plan would work:

Programs developed by Secretary Freeman and Free appointed former advisory committees would be outlined in Congress. If not vetoed within 60 days, the programs would be offered for vote by selected growers and would come law if approved by two-thirds of those voting.

The American Farm Bureau Federation had this to say to the House Agriculture Committee:

"Title 1 (of H.R. 6400) is a bid to concentrate undivided power over the destiny of American agriculture in the hands of the Secretary of Agriculture and the Executive Branch of Government.

"It is incredible to us that the Congress would abdicate to any official of the Executive Branch your constitutional prerogative to develop legislative policy."

Once a legislative body abjectly surrenders power to the Executive Branch of Government, it seldom regains it. En-came the 23rd President, Daniel Boone, for whom Boone Township was named, was an American scout and pioneer in Indiana and Kentucky. Noble Township was named for Noah Noble, an early governor of Indiana.

Don't send the kids to church — take 'em!

Enrichment of life through spiritual understanding of God is a theme to be brought out Sunday at Christian Science services.

One of the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Life" is from John (17): "And this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this passage will be read: "Ignorance of God is no longer the stepping-stone to faith. The only guarantee of obedience is a right apprehension of Him whom to know aright is Life eternal." (p. VII).

MRS. MARGUERITE McCARTHY INJURED IN PLYMOUTH
Mrs. Marguerite McCarthy, 54, Route 2, Culver, suffered abrasions of the scalp, arm, and right hip following an accident last Wednesday, July 5, near the intersection of East Jefferson and Polk Streets in Plymouth when she was hit by a car while crossing the street.

According to Plymouth police, Mrs. McCarthy was walking across Jefferson St. from the south when a westbound auto operated by William Lee Rust, 60, 205 East Center St., Bourbon, hit her, knocking her to the pavement.

Rust told investigating officers he was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting Mrs. McCarthy. She was treated at Parkview Hospital in Plymouth.

WOMEN AND GIRLS OUTNUMBER MEN AND BOYS EXCEPT IN THE WEST

America's women and girls outnumber the men and boys in all sections of the United States except the Mountain and Pacific States and the Dakotas, according to figures in reports issued by the Bureau of Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, based on the 1960 Census of Population.

Women and girls are more numerous in seven of the Nation's nine geographic divisions. The ratio is 94.5 males to 100 females in the Middle Atlantic States. Conversely the ratio is 101.2 males to 100 females in the Mountain States. For the other divisions the ratios are between these two extremes.

Among States, the proportions vary from 93.4 males per 100 females in Massachusetts to 132.3 males per 100 females in Alaska. The greatest difference in proportion of the sexes is in the District of Columbia, with 88.3 males to every 100 females.

Outside the West, women and girls lead in numbers in every State except North and South Dakota. In the two Dakotas there are 104.5 and 102.4 males, respectively, to each 100 females.

"Hoosier At Large" (Continued From Page 1) and for days she lavished extra affection upon us all. AND THE TALKING BEGAN. Mornings, the moment my bed creaked, Tigger was there, mewling merrily. If we went out, she met us at the door with a happy, gurgly welcome.

Often she'd meander down to my basement study and meow something I'm sure meant, "Hyah, boss -- how's it going?" None of the other cats burrowed so deeply into our hearts, and one night as she lay purring on my lap, offering an occasional sandpaper lick, I mused, "You're a treasure, little one. In a world that knows so much hate, your pure, clean love is precious."

HER CRYPTIC GREEN CAT EYES seemed to shine with understanding.

Now they are dulled forever. On a quiet, serene Sunday a thoughtful small boy came to the door and stammered, "In the next block . . . a gray cat . . . hit by a car . . . I . . . I think it's one of yours."

WE TOOK SWIFT INVENTORY. Our guys -- Smokey and Scampy -- were in. Dun-striped Tigger wasn't.

"I'll go," I said. "It's probably not . . ."

But it was and I covered the grave quickly to spare smaller hearts.

O. K. -- so I'm maudlin. But answer this: In this all-too-shabby world, is there any truer beauty than warm pure love?

THAT'S WHAT TIGGER gave us . . . invisibly. We miss her . . . and always will no matter how many cats share our home.

Indians Trounce LaPaz and Plymouth

By EARL D. MISHLER
Culver Coach Gene Crosley finally was able to field his regular team in the last two high school baseball games, and the results speak for themselves. The Indians drubbed LaPaz, 24-3, and trounced Plymouth, 7-2, both victories on the loser's diamonds.

Last Thursday Culver traveled to LaPaz with Jim and Bob Carter and Rick Ervin back in the line-up, with sophomore right-hander Sam Lowry pitching a steady six-hitter, the Indians banged out 14 hits, including five doubles, and were aided by 15 walks and six LaPaz errors.

Culver scored in every inning but the second, and tallied 18 times in the last three innings. Catcher Paul White went 4 for 5, had three doubles, and drove in six runs to lead the attack. Lowry helped his own cause with 3 for 5, and Lowry, Jim Carter and Dave Lemar each drove home three runs. Culver also sparked in the field, helping Sam to his fourth victory with errorless defense.

Monday evening the Indians continued to pound the ball with vengeance. While Tom Boswell stopped the host Pilgrims on three cheap singles, he and his teammates belted righthander Tim Connell for 13 hits. White once again went 4 for 5 and Boswell had a triple and three singles to lead the attack.

Culver could easily have scored many more runs, but left 14 men on base.

Connell, who had shut out Culver, 2-0, when the Indians were lacking in manpower, also walked eight men. Boswell fanned nine and walked only two, in chalking up his second victory of the season.

Boswell raised his average to .443 and White, despite playing on a sprained ankle, is now hitting .594.

Next Monday the Indians, now 7-2, play host to Tippecanoe.

GREG OSBORN ATTENDS SPORTS CAMP AT DePAUW

Greencastle, Ind. — Expert advice and training in the fundamentals of basketball and four other sports comprised the schedule last week at DePauw University's Basketball and Sports camp which ended Saturday with an honors picnic.

Conducted by University basketball coach Elmer McCall, the camp opened July 2 with 56 boys in grades six through nine enrolled. The boys' weekly schedule included intramural competition in swimming, bowling, tennis, ping pong, and instructions in basketball fundamentals.

Helping McCall, who has produced two Indiana state high school basketball championship teams, were prep coaches Howard Sharpe, Gerstmeier Tech of Terre Haute and president-elect of the state coaches' association, and Orlando Wyman, Tell City, named recently as Indiana's high school coach-of-the-year.
