Bloodmobile To Be In Culver Next Monday

The Bloodmobile, as you will see on posters and have read about in the Culver Citizen, will be in Culver Monday, Oct. 30, at the High School gym from 12 noon to 6 p.m.

I know that the people of this township will respond again as they did so well at the last bloodmobile. I would like to remind you that if you are willing to replace blood for that used on your family or friends, please tell the ladies at the admitting table when you enter the gym. All men and women ages 18 to 59, inclusive, are eligible to donate. Special written consent, signed by parents, is necessary or those underage.

Eat and drink as usual, never donate if hungry.

Please consult your physician, or call Mrs. Holifield if you have been ill, had surgery, shots, vaccinations, allergy, delivery of baby, dental surgery, or tooth extraction. (By consulting first, time of busy working people of his township may be saved).

Miriam Makeba, Mitchell Trio Lauded At CMA

By DAVID R. DAWDY
The second of the Culver Military Academy Concert—Theater series was met with mixed emotions.

The South African folk singer, Miriam Makeba, who appeared on the Eppley Auditorium stage Saturday night was decidedly different from the one who came to Culver last year. Her vibrant, melodious voice was just as strong and compelling, but a year of touring the United States had changed her style. Prolonged singing before American audiences altered the gay abandonment that marked her performance last year. Miss Makeba has become a great deal more stylized, and there is a feeling that she will continue to alter her style in subsequent stage appearances.

Great music transcends all language barriers. From some observers, with well-tuned ears, the comment was that Miss Makeba's renditions of foreign songs did not astound. Her native "click" songs were fascinatingly unique. The resonance and octave range of her voice could carry Miss Makeba to international fame, but there was a mistaking the desire within Saturday night's audience for her to do more songs in English. In a year's time, the freshness of the songs in her native tongue had worn a bit thin.

The Chad Mitchell Trio
Lately, folk singing trios and quartets have been engaged in a highly competitive business. The Chad Mitchell Trio is a relatively new group, but this has not stopped their fame from spreading rapidly. They reached Culver's audience with the same spontaneous singing which endeared them to those who heard them on Harry Belafonte's recording of his return to Carnegie hall. Folk songs cover a wide variety of topics. The Chad Mitchell Trio's performance followed the rule. They sang about a storm in Gal- (Continued on page 4)

Trick Or Treat For UNICEF On Halloween

Local Children To Make Drive

Many children of the Culver community will again collect for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. The drive will be Monday, Oct. 30, from 6 to 8 p.m. with headquarters at the Culver Library basement.

All children of the community are urged to attend. As the majority of these children who participate are grade-schoolers, it would help very much if the citizens of Culver could turn on their porch lights to help brighten their way.

Funds collected will be used for milk, food, and medicine for millions of children in other countries. The work of UNICEF is counted in terms of projects and there are 415 of these projects underway this year in 103 countries and territories.

UNICEF has become the world's largest international effort to improve the health and welfare of children and mothers. It is supported by voluntary contributions from individuals and governments and aids children of all continents, regardless of race, color, or creed. Last year more than two million young Americans raised money for the fund.

Locally, this annual event is sponsored by the Maxinkuckee Federated Junior Woman's Club in co-operation with other organizations of the community.

Anyone who is not contacted, and would like to donate to UNICEF, please call Mrs. Roger Thews at VIKING 2-2442 or Mrs. Kenneth Martin at VIKING 2-2873.

Tea will be served after the meeting by the Methodist Church W.S.C.S.

All women of the community are urged to join in this annual observance.

This yearly observance is sponsored by the Union Township Council of Churches.

Chester W. Cleveland, Citizen Editor and Publisher, Dies

Chester W. Cleveland, 63, editor and publisher of this newspaper, The Culver Citizen, died at one o'clock Monday morning, Oct. 23. He had been a critical heart patient since early last Wednesday morning at the Parkview Hospital in Plymouth.

Mr. Cleveland purchased The Culver Press and The Citizen from Robert Rust in 1953. His greatest dream was realized when he launched a new monthly magazine, Indiana Business and Industry, in June of 1957. Blending his great love for his native Hoosierland, an unbelievable zest for work and gifted creativeness, his publication has received growing acclaim since its conception.

CHESTER W. CLEVELAND

Chester Wilson Cleveland was born in Plymouth on Aug. 11, 1898, the younger son of the late Arnott M. and Laura Dell (Groschans) Cleveland. Graduating from Plymouth High School in 1916, he journeyed to the University of Illinois where he majored in journalism and served as managing editor of the Daily Illini in 1920. In 1921, he graduated from Babson Institute of Business Administration at Wellesley Hills, Mass.

On Oct. 6, 1923, Mr. Cleveland married Ruth Iona Glass of Fort Wayne, and has two married sons, John A. of Culver and David B. of Kansas City.

A Life Of Words

Mr. Cleveland spent his entire life in the newspaper, magazine and public relations fields, starting as a cub reporter on the Traverse City (Mich.) Record-Eagle in the summer of 1918. It is coincidental that he and Mrs. Cleveland had just visited his newspaper career starting place while on a vacation to Mackinac Island in September.

Mr. Cleveland was a member of many national, state, social, fraternal, and business organizations. He was a communicant of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, American Legion member, 32-degree Mason, Knight Templar and a Shriner. He was a member of the Indianapolis and Chicago Press Clubs, Sigma Delta Chi (national journalistic fraternity — editor of The Quill, 1922-25), and vice-president of the Hoosier Salon Patrons Association of Indianapolis. One of his favorite organizations was the Indiana Society of Chicago which he revived in 1937.

Survivors, in addition to his wife and two sons, are his mother, Mrs. Arnott M. Cleveland, his sister, Mrs. Philip R. Melangton, both of Plymouth, and three grandchildren, Peter, Leslie and Suzanne Cleveland, all of Culver.

Services Today

Funeral services will be held today, Wednesday, at 2:30 p.m. at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church in Plymouth with the Rev. William C. R. Sheridan and Allen Bray, chaplain of the Culver Military Academy, officiating. Interment will be at the Oak Hill Cemetery. The Easterday Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements.

The Culver Press, Inc. will be closed Wednesday afternoon in tribute to a swell boss.

Culver Schools To Operate On Standard Time

The persons responsible for administering the Culver-Union Township School wish to take this opportunity to try and explain their solution to a problem that has tormented their minds since the announcements that Starke County is going to operate on slow time and Culver-Civil Town is going to remain on fast time. That this time situation has created quite a complicated school problem should be evident with the reading of the following honest presentation of the facts involved.

The Culver-Union Township School has a five-year contract to educate 120 North Bend students. The first source of the complication comes from the fact that one bus load of students, mostly juniors and seniors, is being collected from all North Bend buses at one geographic point, North Bend School, and is being transported to Knox Public School.

If the Culver-Union Township School would operate on fast time, some of the North Bend youngsters would be boarding morning transportation at 6:00 a.m. prevailing North Bend time. A good part of the winter this would mean that those first children would be boarding buses quite a time before daylight. An even greater breach would be evident at the North Bend School where one bus load of students would have to wait for an hour before journeying on to the Knox School.

It is hoped that the patrons of the Culver community will show as much understanding in this matter as they showed sincere interest in inviting North Bend pupils to attend the Culver-Union Township School.

Because the foregoing statement of fact leaves but one obvious conclusion, the Culver-Union Township School will begin operating on slow time (Central Standard Time) on Monday morning, Oct. 30, 1961. This means that if you are keeping your home time piece on fast time, your children will be tardy (by your clock) at 9:10 a.m.

John Garner, Age 9, Dies At Rochester

John Mark Garner, age 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Marvin Garner of Route 2, Rochester, died Thursday night in Woodlawn Hospital at Rochester, where he had been admitted earlier in the day. He had been ill for five weeks with cancer.

The lad's father, J. Marvin Garner, is editor of The Chester White Journal, which is published by The Culver Press, Inc.

John Mark was in the fifth grade of school, a member of the Grace Methodist Church at Rochester and was a Cub Scout. He was also a member of the Cubs Little League baseball team.

Survivors, in addition to his parents, are three sisters, Terril Lynn, Gail and Leesa, at home.

Services were held Sunday at Grace Methodist Church and burial was in the Rochester Odd Fellows Cemetery.

HALLOWEEN PARADE

Academy Joins In 8-Year Study Of Prediction

New York and Princeton Project

Culver Military Academy is one of six boys' college preparatory schools participating in an eight-year study of academic prediction and growth. Maj. Gen. Delmar T. Spivey, superintendent, announced this week.

The study is sponsored jointly by Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J., and the College Examination Board, New York City. Approximately 40,000 students in public schools in 20 representative American communities are joining with the six college preparatory schools in the project.

According to Dr. Scarvia B. Anderson, project director at ETS, the study will seek to determine how academic growth, a major goal of education, varies with or is affected by characteristics of the school and experiences of students. The study will also try to provide an answer to the question: "How early in his school career can the academic standing of a twelfth-grader be accurately predicted?"

Testing Program
Students in grades 9, and 11 have begun a testing program involving three groups of tests: The School and College Ability Tests (SCAT), the Sequential

Tests of Educational Progress (STEP), and Tests of General Information. SCAT measures a student's aptitude for doing work at the next higher academic level. STEP measures achievement in mathematics, social studies, and science, and skills in reading, writing, and listening. The Tests of General Information cover specific facts which "an alert, informed adult could reasonably be expected to know;" facts not specifically taught in school are emphasized.

Students now in the ninth grade will be tested again in two years with the same type of tests. Twelfth-grade classes will be tested in 1963 and 1965 with the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude (PSAT) and College Board Achievement Tests in English, social studies, and science.

Participating public high schools, selected from four geographic regions of the United States, will test students in grades 5, 7, 9, and 11 at two-year intervals and will also administer PSAT and College Board Achievement Tests to their senior classes.

To gain a more detailed picture of each student as an individual, background and experience questionnaires will be administered in grade 12 in private schools and in grades 9 and 12 in public schools. The questionnaires will cover crucial periods in the student's development during which he makes decisions concerning curriculum, college and occupation.

The questionnaire will ask about various environmental influences, how he spends leisure time, how he feels about school subjects, and what goals he has set for himself. An analysis of these factors may provide clues regarding relationships between outside influences and academic growth.

The Ivy League clad trio presented a fresh, intimate approach that separated them from the average folk singing trio.

Chad Mitchell, himself exhibited a powerful voice which carried the trio through many of the rousing songs.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOL

By Shirley Crow and Beverly Barshes

Cough! . . . Choke . . . cough . . . choke! Well, I'm back again and I must say, the smoke's getting pretty heavy in my area. Only it's not signals, just sophomores burning leaves for their leaf raking project! I hope the leaves fall soon or you'll smoke us out, kids. And you can quit shaking those poor trees to death to get their leaves off. They'll fall soon enough.

There seems to be quite a few happy girls in the halls of C.H.S., since the cheerleading tryouts results were announced. I must say, they made some wise selections by choosing some of our best squaws to lead us in all our basketball victories. Congratulations, girls!

What's this we hear about the senior girls teaching the sophomores how to break straws? Leave it to the seniors to think up something, and it seems to be taking some effect on two particular sophomore girls. Right, Martha McAllister and Sharon McGaffey?

"Will you quit throwing hay?" That seemed to be the familiar cry coming from Joan Dillon's hayride last Saturday night. Of what I could hear about the party, it sounded like the freshmen had a ball.

Who's that tall dark and handsome fellow who just walked in? He looks a bit familiar to me. Could it be Jerry Kimmel? Not one of our own kin, that ran off to the Marines? From all those smoke signals, it looks like two more Marines will be joining us soon, too. Welcome back Jerry, Sam Medbourn, and Bob Kerrigan. We hope you all have a jolly good time while you're here.

"A headless woman ghost wanders around on a stormy night looking for her head. . . . Is that a line from the Junior Play? It sounded so exciting I just had to venture out of my teepee to see it. I'm sure everyone enjoyed "Hobgoblin House" as much as I did. It was a big success.

John Benedict has been seen with a certain sophomore girl by his side. If you want some advice on who it is you can always ask Betty Everett. It looks like enid is starting a new role at Betty's teepee.

I got the message that some of the girls were out rather late this past week practicing for the Minstrel Show. or were they?

Hey, Kathy Clyne! Since when is your car a school bus? We understand you are observing some of the rules the bus drivers must follow.

There's Cheryl! Dillon again, always carrying that dumb cigar box around with her. Howdy, Cheryl! Are you sure it's Tomahawk money you've got in there or is it really a cigar box?

I've been seeing a certain couple walking in the halls lately. Could it be Mike Cihak and Cheryl Hohman? Ask them, they should know.

"Gee, look at that neat poster, advertising the new Tomahawks. Pretty sharp, kids!" That's the only thing you hear echoing in the halls now days.

I don't know who's doing that crazy "rain dance" but I wish they'd change to something else. My teepee has been leaking like crazy. Come on, kids, start doing something else besides the "Bristol Storm" and "The Fly." Somebody's confusing the poor weather man with all these new inventions.

Well, my fire is getting smaller and the smoke signals are dimming, so I'll be seeing ya, at the next turn of the moon. . . .

Don't send the kids to church — take 'em!

Halloween Motif Features Grade Room Decorations

By Bonnie Good and Jan Scruggs

Mrs. Melton — Kindergarten: There were two children absent when our pictures were taken for the annual. Michael Busart brought cookies to the morning class. Dean Day treated the morning class to Halloween candy and gum. We are out on the playground everyday except when the ground is wet — please be sure your child is suitably dressed for the weather. Our room is decorated for the Halloween season.

Miss Cripe — First Grade: We have finished all the work in our reading readiness book, and soon will be ready to begin our preprimers. Tuesday we took a walk to look for signs of fall. In addition to the things we saw on the way, we brought several kinds of leaves back to our room to identify.

Mrs. Beauchamp — Third Grade: The classrooms are well decorated for Halloween. Everywhere we look — it's Halloween! The children are enjoying this fine weather. We hope it continues for a few weeks more, at least. The children are enjoying their music classes again since the coming of the substitute teacher. We're hoping Mrs. Rust is improving nicely.

Mrs. Carter — Third Grade: Sandra Miller brought a skipstick to school to show us. She also showed us how to use it. We are making a leaf collection. Thomas DeTroy has an interesting book on trees. Some children have brought Indian articles for our Indian collection. Our room is decorated for Halloween. Linda Day brought us a scrapbook which we use to paste in pictures of many kinds of dogs. In health we are studying about the five senses. In science we are learning how to attract and tame wild birds. David Williams told us about his trip to Wisconsin. In arithmetic we are adding two

Miss Mahan — Fourth Grade: The first grading period found no gold stars for six perfect spelling lessons. We did have five children who missed one word and got a silver star. They are: Joy Nell Borg, Stephen Cole, Kenneth Matzat, Wendy Nelson, and Michael Stevens. Better success next time.

Mr. Weaver — Fifth Grade: Throughout the week we have been working on outlines and summaries. We have been practicing by using stories in our reader. Our outlines are getting much better with all the extra practice.

Mr. Smith — Sixth Grade: In science we have been divided up into groups. Each group has a different project to be working on. In health we have been doing exercises. Also we have been making reports. In spelling we are trying to get more hundreds than the other sections. Many of us enjoyed watching Gary Davis's praying mantis eat flies and box elder bugs.

TAKE A PEEK — The Delphi Lions Club, The Delphi Citizen reports, is planning to erect signs on all highways leading into the city which will bear the city's official motto. The motto reads: "SHE'S BEAUTIFUL; LOOK HER OVER."

Sunshine Girls Plan Hi-Y Party

By Mimi Fisher and Carol Heiser

The Sunshine Society is busy preparing for the party they are going to give the Hi-Y boys. The committees have been posted and are progressing well. The party will be at the American Legion Home on Oct. 25 at 8 p.m. The Legion Home will be decorated around a fall and Halloween theme.

The Ushers Club members were very helpful in seating people at the Junior Play last week. They will also usher for our first home basketball game on Nov. 28.

The Tomahawk Staff has started diligent work on the annual. They have had a number of meetings to discuss the layout of the book. Last Thursday, the representative from the Myers Publishing Company, Mr. Buchannan, spoke to the staff about the process of making up a page of the year book.

There are only a few more copies of the year book available so those who haven't placed their orders should do so immediately!

Art Students Launch New Class Projects

By Bonnie Good

Two of the eighth grade sections are starting a weaving project. They are making their own looms and are going to weave potholders. The third eighth grade section is making pottery. Their first project is a vase.

The seventh grade has been working in clay. They made pincl pots which have been fired and are ready for glazing. Some of the seventh graders are molding animals from clay.

The high school art classes have started on a lettering unit. They are getting acquainted with some of the strokes of the letters and have been practicing diligently.

7 out of 8* say REMCs are doing a good job

Yes—in a recent survey made in 30 county seat cities and towns in Indiana, 84% of those interviewed said that REMCs are doing a good job of providing their member-users with electric service. 14.5% had no opinion. And less than 1.5% felt that REMCs were doing a poor job.

A total of 2,596 people were interviewed—selected at random on the courthouse square, in banks and in supermarkets. Over 25% of those interviewed were business men, contacted in their place of business. Some REMC member-users were included in the survey, but only by chance.

This amazing vote of confidence in REMC electric service is the result of 27 years of hard work, imagination and dedication—by 170,000 rural families in Indiana. Here is indeed proof that our city friends recognize the tremendous job that rural people are doing in providing themselves with a dependable electric service. It's a job that utility experts originally said could not be done.

Statistics taken from a survey conducted objectively and impartially by an independent research firm.

What are the latest fads and fashions this year? Well, as everyone should know, a girl always keeps up with any new fad that comes along, and the crazier they are, the better the girls like them.

This year we hardly see anything else in the C.H.S. halls, but knees. (Right, boys?) Although some of the mothers say, "Oh, that's way too short, better let the hem down!" or other comments such as, "You're not wearing that to school!" The girls just let it go in one ear and out the other, and arrive at school wearing: knee ticklers, kilts, culottes, straight and pleated skirts, all mostly at, or above the knees!

The boys keep saying, "Higher, higher!" but the girls just laugh and walk off in their pointed shoes, canvas gym shoes, or squash heels.

Right now, we poor girls are having a pretty hard time deciding whether to put on winter or spring clothes. Most of the girls have been doing a lot of compromising, and we are seen wearing cotton shirtwaist dresses with nice, warm, matching sweaters. (Wish the weather would make up it's mind!)

By the way some of the girls have even changed the style and color of their hair! If anyone would like a lesson in "ratting" hair, just come to our girl known as Hurricane Carla. (Alias Beverly Barshes.) Some say she can put more rats in anyone's hair than you could even imagine. Just ask Lucy Osborn if she doesn't agree.

Quite a few of the girls have been sporting college sweat shirts this year, also. Hm-m-m, any special attractions at these different colleges, I wonder!? No, couldn't be that!

Well, as a summary I would say that the average C.H.S. girl will be seen wearing a plaid pleated skirt (above the knees), matching blouse or sweater, and white canvas tennis shoes.

Not to be left out of our so-called fashion parade the boys have developed a few new fads. They have come up with pegged plaid slacks which really look sharp! Of course they continue to wear the many colored and various designed sport shirts. As the days grow colder they will be seen wearing their heavy, ever-popular crew sweaters. As we have mentioned before, the girls wear sweatshirts with colleges and university names. But the boys wear ones which read, "T. G. I. F." (Thank Goodness It's Friday), "Moscow University," etc. They'll do anything to be different!

But what ever the students wear, I hope they will remember one thing. The main idea is "Keep in style!"

Reporter Meets Miss B. Herr

By Martha McAllister

This week we are interviewing an attractive grade school teacher at Culver. Attention, bachelors, she is unmarried! Her name is Miss Bonnie Herr and she is teaching first grade. Some of you available men might be interested to know that Miss Herr has brown eyes, brown hair, and is five feet-two inches tall.

Miss Herr was born at Lakeville, Ind., on Jan. 16, in the year —, well, ask her. She attended grade school in Lakeville and high school at Riley High in South Bend. After investigating a little further into her recent past, I discovered that in high school, her favorite subject was American Culture. She was in glee club all four of her high school years and enjoys singing very much. Later she attended college at Anderson

College at Anderson, Ind. Miss Herr stated that her favorite food is definitely shrimp cocktail and steak (I'm sure that many of us will agree with her.) She also said her favorite color is pink. I finished my interview by asking Miss Herr if she has any pet peeves and she replied, "The only one I can think of is I hate gossip."

We all welcome her to our school and hope she will enjoy life in Culver.

Various Projects Keep Classes Busy

By Jane Thomas and Linda Shock

The freshmen held a class meeting on Oct. 13. Sue Cole and David Lemar were elected sergeant-at-arms. The freshman fudge sales will be the first and third Fridays of each month.

The sophomores held a class meeting on Oct. 13. It was decided the sophomore movie would be, "The Wonderful World of Jules Vern" and "Bimbo the Great." The ambitious sophomores have earned $20.00 for raking leaves in the bank parking lot over the weekend.

The juniors had their class play last Friday and we all certainly enjoyed it. The next thing that will be up for consideration will be their dances after the ball games, and their record hop.

The seniors are working on

Re-assessment Advancing According To Schedule

Editor, CITIZEN:

The re-assessment is advancing according to schedule. At the present all the towns in the County are completed — that is all the basic measurements are done. The next phase is for the supervisor to re-check every home for errors and at that time place a final valuation on the property.

The commercial buildings are not complete in all the towns nor are the industrial buildings valued. The industrial buildings will be valued by an Industrial Specialist from the Company.

Union, Walnut and Tippecanoe Townships have been completed with the preliminary work. The field crews are starting work in Bourbon, North and German Townships. The program is to be completed by April of 1962 and from all indications the Cole-Layer-Trumble Company will meet this deadline.

As soon as a unit is completed we will send out the notice of the taxpayers assessment and on the notice, time will be stated when the taxpayer, if he wishes, can protest his assessment. The hearings will start in July of 1962. At this time taxpayers will be able to protest their assessment before the Marshall County Board of Review.

When the re-assessment is completed the public is welcome to check any assessment or compare assessments from records in our office.

In most cases if a homeowner has been paying his fair share of taxes since 1949 he should not be paying any more taxes after the new re-assessment. If the homeowner has not been paying his fair share of taxes then he will be paying more after the re-assessment.

The re-assessment is effective in 1962 payable in 1963. All property will be assessed at 33 1/3% of its cash value. We will have a higher assessed valuation and a lower tax rate. Because we are having a general re-assessment, that does not mean everyone will be paying more taxes.

The re-assessment should have all taxpayers assessed equally and every homeowner paying his fair share of the tax load.

A breakdown of the cost of the re-assessment for each Township is as follows: West $4,800, Walnut $7,600, Union $10,100, Tippecanoe $2,660, Polk $4,000, North $5,760, Green $2,130, German $14,270, Bourbon $6,680 and Center $22,000.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Friendly "Enemies"

Just about my closest friend in town is old Colonel Harmon, our banker. Yet, when I was a lot younger and had just started the Clarion, I actually thought he was my enemy!

Whenever I wrote an editorial, there was sure to be an angry letter from the Colonel, taking the opposite side. Seemed pretty clear he'd just as soon I was out of business.

But in the Depression, when it looked like the Clarion would have to shut down, it was Colonel Harmon who offered the loan that kept me going. Startled, I asked him why. "Well," he growled, "just because I don't agree with a man, doesn't mean I don't value his opinion. Besides—if you'd closed up, who'd I have to argue with?"

From where I sit, one of the wonderful things about America is the way people respect each other's opinions. For example, the Colonel doesn't happen to share my preference for a glass of beer, but he understands I have a right to feel the way I do. It's tolerance like this that keeps our friendships "in business."

How to avoid the mistakes of the past will be brought out Sunday in all Christian Science churches.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" is the Golden Text from the Bible: "Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord" (Lam.3).

One of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Mortals move onward towards good or evil as time glides on. If mortals are not progressive, past failures will be repeated until all wrong work is effaced and rectified... The divine method of paying sin's wages involves unwinding one's snarls, and learning from experience how to divide between sense and Soul" (p.240).

Unlike most newspapers, The Citizen accepts front page reading notices — the most powerful advertising medium known. The cost is only $5 for a maximum of 35 words. A special rate of $3.50 is made to non-profit organizations such as churches, schools, service clubs, etc.

The Proud Eagles is written sympathetically and acutely by a woman whose formative years in the Australian bush gave her a great knowledge of wildlife. This knowledge, combined with a knowledge of human beings, brought forth a rare and fascinating story. A bush family, a lonely young boy, and the magnificent wedge eagles are portrayed beautifully in The Proud Eagles, by Mary Patchett.

Opening Game Of Basketball Season Nov. 3

Indians To Meet Aubbee There

By Earl D. Mishler
Well, it's that time again! Yes, fans, the 1961-62 high school basketball season is just around the corner, and Indiana folks are preparing once again for five months of Hoosier Hysteria. For the third time in the past five years, local fans will be welcoming a new varsity coach; this year it is Gene Crosley, who succeeds Tom Benbrook as Culver mentor. Crosley, who piloted the varsity baseball team to an outstanding 21-7 overall record, will present a varsity squad composed of four seniors, four juniors, and two sophomores.

Heading the list of returning veterans are seniors John Benedict and Tom Boswell, both of whom compiled better than ten-point-per-game averages on last year's well-balanced, but injury-riddled varsity. The only other returnee who played extensively last season is Jim Carter, who killed in capably during Benedict's absence from the line-up.

From this reporter's view, these three boys will form the nucleus for the 1961-62 Culver Indians. Benedict, a rugged 6'3" forward, is still bothered by the knee injury he suffered midway last season. If he can avoid further injury, he should be one of Marshall County's top front line men. Boswell, will be Culver's main threat from the outside. Tom hits well with both a set and a jump shot. Carter, will probably start as the other forward. Jim is a great jumper, and has several good moves. His timing under the boards and his corner shots still need a little work, but he has great potential.

Last year's B-Team standout, Rick Ervin, has the inside track for the center position. Ervin, a 6'2" junior, has steadily improved as a rebounder, but has yet to prove he can score consistently at the varsity level. By tourney time, Rick should have shown tremendous improvement.

The other guard position is wide open. Senior George Herr, a fighting, hustling player, may get Coach Crosley's nod, but he has been pressed in practice by several boys. Sophomores Sam Lowry and Paul White, who have already made a name for themselves in baseball action, have made great strides since last year, but probably need a little seasoning. Wade Logan, a junior with a fine long set shot, is another strong candidate for the guard berth opposite Boswell. A fifth possibility is Thad Overmyer, a 6'1" junior, who lacks a good shot but can play any position. If Thad could develop as a backcourt man, Crosley could boast a starting unit of 6-3, 6-2, 6-1, 6-0, 6-0.

Rounding out the tentative varsity roster is 5'11" junior Jerry Nelson, another good rebounder with fine potential. This year's varsity managers are Ron Porter and Dave Frain.

Crosley, whose Hancock Central teams scored many major upsets in the Indianapolis area, has been stressing fundamentals of defense in the early practice sessions. Defense has been Culver's glaring weakness for several years.

The Indians open the season Nov. 3 at Aubbeenaubee Township. Their first home game is Nov. 28 against Richland Center. Only one new opponent appears on the schedule this season, with North Miami, a newly-formed consolidation, replacing Francesville. Culver will visit North Miami on Nov. 10.

Professional League To Play At CMA Saturday

The Cleveland Pipers, members of the new professional American Basketball League, will play an exhibition game for students at Culver Military Academy Saturday, Oct. 28.

The game will match the Pipers against the Gary team of the Midwest League. The 6:15 p.m. contest has been arranged through George Steinbrenner, a 1948 Culver graduate who is president of the Cleveland club.

Steinbrenner was an outstanding athlete under veteran Culver Coach Russ Oliver. He later played college sports at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., was a top track man in many A.A.U. meets, and served on the football coaching staffs at Northwestern and Purdue universities.

The Cleveland Pipers will come into the new professional American Basketball League as champions of the National Basketball League and the National AAU tournament. They completely dominated the NBL last year in their second season of competition, winning 24 of 34 games and sweeping through the title play-off.

The five starting players then formed the backbone of the United States squad that won eight straight games from Russia's best in a tour of the Soviet Union. All this winning was nothing new, though, for Piper's Coach John McLendon, who also piloted the U.S. team.

Over 20 years of collegiate coaching, McLendon's record for success is second only to that of Adolph Rupp at Kentucky. The shrewd and personable McLendon, who first learned basketball from its inventor, Dr. James Naismith, at Kansas University, has a won-lost percentage of .825.

This year's Piper squad should be better than ever. Joining hold-over stars Jack Adams, Ben Warley, John Barnhill, and Roger Taylor are Dick Barnett from the Syracuse Nats of the N.B.A.; Johnny Cox, also a Kentucky All-American; scoring sensation Bevo

Francis; Larry Siegfried, who captained Ohio State; and sharpshooters Rossie Johnson and Gus Guydon.

Academy Sports

Buoyed by a new offense and a victory over traditional rival St. John's Military Academy, Coach Russ Oliver's Culver Military Academy football team goes after its fourth victory of the season Friday at Hobart River Forest.

The game against Hobart will begin at 7:30 p.m. on the field at East Gary.

Performing before graduates attending homecoming festivities, the Eagles defeated St. John's here last Saturday, 18-13. The Delafield, Wisconsin visitors threw a scare into the Culver Eagles by reaching the two-yard-line as the game ended.

St. John's scored in the second quarter when a fumbled punt at the Culver 25 helped set up a touchdown. Three plays put the ball on the one and Mike Tomaro carried it over for the TD. Tomaro hit the line for the extra point to make it 7-0. Culver struck back, and in a race against the clock, scored on the final play of the first half. Lloyd Huth went over from the one, but the point after touchdown was missed.

The two teams sandwiched three touchdowns into the third quarter. Bill Borkenstein, Culver's leading scorer, carried around end for four yards to put the Academy out in front 12-7.

But Bill Weatherwax got St. John's back in the game with a 12-yard run. Culver's Reeve Little scored the deciding touchdown at the tail end of a 59-yard drive.

In other Academy sports, the frosh-soph football team won its third game of the season, defeating the Knox "B" team, 20-0, and the cross country squad last week defeated Wheeler, 26-33.
