Museum Of Farm Tractors Growing Near LaCrosse

MECHANICALLY I'M an old 10-thumbs, but I still found Frank Miller's collection of vin-tage farm tractors fascinating. I also came away with the cion that Rube Goldberg must have worked a tractor maker before cartooning all those weird inventions.

Miller, friend-ly and likable, distinct suspi-

has assembled

AI SPIERS old farm ma-chines on his place along U.S. 421 south of LaCrosse. Frank's is probably the best collection of old tractors in the country, and he knows the innards, gizmos, gadgets and strange workings of every one.

More remarkably, Frank's me-chanical wizardry keeps most of his curious contraptions running. When necessary, he machines needed parts in his own shop.

"Some of these old babies are more reliable than today's trac-tors," Frank chuckled, "One bit-ter cold day last winter my new Massey-Harris wouldn't start — but one of my antiques fired up in a jiffy. I used it, too."
MANY OF MILLER's old tractors aren't that reliable, however.

Mechanically, some of the earlier models are pretty weird. Two old Rumely plow-pullers built experimentally in 1917 are examples. Apparently tractor people had trouble wooing farmers away from horses because this model was steered with a pair of reins — just like Old Dob-

"That was a bad one to park," laughed Miller. "It'd vibrate into gear and chug merrily away.

Decades ago, when machines began to invade American farms, blossomscores of tractor firms blossom-ed. Some of their early trial-and-error products were crude, clumsy — and dangerous.

After examining a few with exposed flywheels, gears, chains and other moving parts I mused, "No place for a guy in floppy overalls!"

"Indeed not," agreed Frank.
"Driving some of these was like reaching into a corn picker!"

One model had no transmission or clutch. Friction drove it when levered parallel wheels against the exposed flywheel.

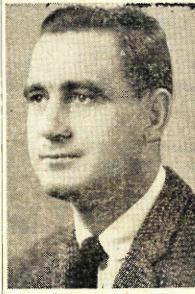

PRESENTLY WE reached a tractor the size of a modern bulldozer. Miller grinned and said, "On this one you don't shift gears — you shift the engine."

He hefted a lever and the whole motor assembly moved forward several inches. Another tug and back it came.

Academy Plans Fallout Shelter For Students

Eppley Basement Being Equipped

A plan has been announced to protect students of Culver Mili-tary Academy and Summer Schools from fallout in the event of thermonuclear attack.

The plan is the result of a year's study, according to Major General Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (Ret.), superintendent. He said that certain phases of the plan have already gone into effect, and that three members of his administrative staff are working closely with Civil Defense authorities to develop the best possible survival program.

"We pray these plans never will be used," General Spivey said, "and we are confident that this will be the case. However, it is our duty to take all necessary precautions."

The basement of the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium is to be the main shelter for the 848 students attending Winter School, the superintendent said. It has ample room, an air-conditioning and ventilating unit with filters, toilet facilities, and deep wells under the structure to provide uncontaminated water supply.

Food and medical supplies for a two-week period are being stor-ed in the auditorium. General Spivey said that according to in-formation from Civil Defense authorities, this is the longest time the Academy need stock supplies. These supplies will be rotated periodically to ensure freshness.

During the July-August session of the Culver Summer Schools, when there are 1,500 boys on campus, additional shelter areas will be necessary. The rifle range area in the basement of the Recreation Building will be utilized for this purpose. Conversion of this area to a fallout shelter will require installing ventilation equipment and water and toilet facilities, sealing off of certain areas, and storing emergency ra-

Although the Academy this fall converted to purchased power from Northern Indiana Public Service Company, it has retained auxiliary generating equipment that can be used in the event of power failure. To ensure that necessary repairs and maintenance can be carried out, protective equipment is being purchased for technicians and engineers to wear into contaminated air.

In addition, special telephone communications are being installed so people in various shelter areas can be in contact with each other.

General Spivey said selected faculty members will be sent to Civil Defense schools during coming months to train them for key positions in the event of attack Cadets will be trained to move into shelter areas quickly and orderly when the alarm is given. They will be given a list of supplies and equipment they will be expected to bring with them to the shelter areas.

It is planned to carry out a full program of activities while students are in a shelter. Motion picture prints are being stored for entertainment and hobby groups will be active as far as is possible.

Culver's survival program is being carried out under the direction of Rear Admiral John W. Bays, deputy for administration. His committee consists of Lt. Col. Roy R. Van Dusen Jr., a regular U.S. Army officer who serves as professor of military science, and Col. William E. Covington Jr., business manager.

Autumn Brings Changes At CHS

By Beverly Thomas and Nick Knoerzer

Autumn around C.H.S. brings

many things.

It won't be long until you bear those familiar screams coming from the gym. The Indians are all set to go on the war path this Friday night, Nov. 3. Even though they have to leave the reservation, we're sure they'll get their first victory and many more scalps in

The classes are also getting prepared for their various activities throughout the year.

The Seniors are busy working on their cords. There are several new ideas in designing and decorating, so make it a point to see them whenever possible.

The Seniors will also be selling concessions for all the home basketball games, so everyone come to the game and eat Senior concessions-while cheering the team.

The Juniors are anxiously awaiting the arrival of their class rings, which are due around Thanksgiv-after the home basketball games. Everyone go to the dance and have a very good time.

The Sophomores have been busy shaking trees so the leaves will fall. You can't rake them if they're not on the ground . . . it's just im-possible. They are also selling fudge every other Friday noon. You've got to admit it's much better than shakin' leaves.

Freshmen fudge sales are very popular on those certain Fridays. It is also their first step toward the senior trip.

Most of the organizations are getting off to a roaring start.

The Sunshine-Hi-Y party was a real blast. I'm sure it was enjoyed by all who attended (just ask the Senior boys).

The Booster Club is getting organized to give our team and student body greater enthusiasm. This organization is very popular among the students.

Ushers Club had their first assignment, the Junior Play. I'm sure everyone had a good seat and enjoyed the performance tremendously,

The choir and band have been working hard perfecting the Christmas Program, which will be the first public performance under our new music director, Mr. Ham-

The Tomahawk staff has also been working hard to meet their first deadline on Dec. 5.

Along with the changing weather you can see the changing styles. Sweaters are rapidly becoming popular with the boys and wool skirts with the girls, the skirts a little bit shorter than usual.

You can see by the short essay that autumn means more than falling leaves and cold weather to the Indians of Culver High.

Can You Guess Who This Mystery Guest Is?

By B. J. Lawrance This week's mystery guest end to our powstands at five feet and five and week. Au revoir. one-fourth inches, weighs about 120 pounds, (give or take a few), has natural black hair, and big brown eyes.

Attention all boys! If you're ever looking for this good looking Junior, she can usually be found in a 1961 blue Ford. She is off limits when a certain Freshman is home from Wabash College.

As for taleut, she has a beautiful alto voice and can really dance up a cloud of dust when she does

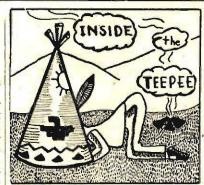

If you haven't already guessed who this talented, good looking Junior girl is, she is Carol Overmyer.

Halloween sure was a big success this year. All of the braves and squaws were busy with the traditional dumping of such items as trash cans, signs, benches, trac-tors, and swing sets on the high school lawn. But their work was to no avail because the next day all of their endeavors had been hauled away. Oh well, kids will be kids, especially on Halloween! It gives us something to be proud of doing.

The Seniors surety enjoyed themselves at the Sunshine-Hi-Y party. The new Hi-Y boys seemed to especially enjoy themselves. It couldn't have been because of the gunny sacks they were wearing in place of the usual tee-shirts, could it? I think there was a couple of card games going on in the back room at the party, isn't that right Betty Everett?

During our two day vacation five of our Senior girls drove to Purdue University to look over the campus. Finally, deciding this was too dull, they took off for India-napolis. Who should they meet right in the middle of the city but our principal, Mr. Cole! We hear they really had a good time especially when two of them decided to climb the Soldiers and Sailors' Monument (ask Linda Kose and Margo Overmyer for details). Mimi got a little woozy when she looked down and noticed that everyone resembled ants. They all arrived safe and sound and were up the next day for another exciting excursion to South Bend.

"Boy, are my feet ever sore!"
"When do we eat?" "Aren't we about there?" "These blocks sure are long." "I think they equal the town of Culver — so it seems." This is the conservation that went on among B. J. Lawrance, Carmen Gretter, and Pat Kline when they visited the adventurous streets of Chicago with Pat's brother, Bob.

Kathy Clyne gave a very interesting speech in Sunshine meeting about her trip to Mexico. There were a few humorous points she mentioned, especially her trip through customs. I doubt if she'll ever try that trip again! Those custom officials are really on the ball! We all envy Kathy for her fabulous opportunity.

The Seniors have started to work on their cords. Some of them are completed and they sure are sharp! The rest of the Seniors can hardly wait until theirs are ready to show off.

We are now beginning to see the tom-toms and hear the smoke signals, so maybe we'd better put an end to our pow-wow for this

Beatnik Band Makes Big Hit

By Janet Beck

The music department, directed by Mr. Hambrock, is a busy group this year. Among the very busy, were these members of the Senior Band, Mike Overmyer, Larry Linhart, Dave Frain, Pete Ott, Scott Geiselman, Sam Lowry, Tom Easterday, Paul Saft, and Chris Hand, who joined the marching ghosts and goblins in presenting the annual Halloween parade. After parading to the gym the jolly group of Beatniks gathered in a small boat in front of the school and serenaded a few passers who had stopped to inspect the commotion.

The Majorettes received their uniforms on Wednesday. All the members of the Senior Band, Jun-ior Band, and Sixth Grade Band have entered the Instrumental Solo and Ensemble District Contest which will be held Feb. 3. 1962. The bands are rehearsing for the Christmas Concert.

On Monday the full choir as a joint group shall meet the eighth period (Monday through Friday) 44-2n to polish songs for the concert.

about five minutes after eight, if you are on Central Standard Time, or nine if you are on Eastern Standard Time, a sopho-more boy, about five feet, ten inches tall, with blonde hair and blue eyes, entered the school building. Who is he? None other than Yogi Bear, Jr., alias Tom Yocom.

After getting his books, telling about his Halloween pranks, and growling something about not wanting to go to school today, Tom went to his first period class, Eng-

At noon, after eating a hasty lunch, Tom started griping about some ligaments he claims to have pulled. He also has a prank of standing in front of lockers, and charging a 50¢ removal fee when someone wants to get something from it.

Just before the fifth period bell, Tom came running in shouting, "Hide me!" That's a rather unusual way to enter a room! For the rest of the period Tom just pecked away at his typewriter. Sixth period French class prov-to be uneventful, except for saying a few words every now and then to his neighbor. Tom's French conversation is rather hard to understand: so, he got a pass for seventh period and practised.

In Miss Lindvall's nome room Tom tried his best to find out what a "teetotum" is. Finally, the last bell rang, and out ran Tom, at least be should be on time for basketball practice!

By careful budgeting, a friend of ours is able to make his paycheck cover a week's expenses almost to the penny. His only problem is that he gets paid by the month. — CHANGING TIMES

Junior Writes On Cracked Dishes Intercom Work

This theme is from Mr. Graham's 11th grade English class and was written as an assignment. POOR RICHARD

By Sheryl Hohman 'Glass, china and reputation are easily cracked and never well mended."

In my home there is a china dish that became broken some years ago because of my childish carelessness. I fixed it by patching the pieces together with glue and the dish has held together to this day; but the dish never will be the same again. The brown cracks on it are too noticeable. It just is not attractive any more, so it stays on the shelf, and not used at all, although it might be. This dish should be discarded. No matter how hard I tried to repair it, the dish will always be defective.

there to illustrate how it is with carelessness. As I think back upon it, I am disgusted with myself. Why had I not been more careful? Now it is too late!

So it is with one's acts. You cannot just say to yourself, "So what! I have a bad reputation. I'll just do something good to regain my reputation and people will soon forget the bad things I've done." But as it is with the china dish, so it is with your life. No matter how hard you try to cover up the damage, it is still there and people are not too willing to forget. Something wrong has been done. You did not realize it at the time. Later the sad truth dawns on you. You ask, "Why won't they give me a second chance? I realize now the wrong I've done." But the world does not easily give that chance. This may seem very harsh, even cruel. Because you were careless of your reputation on one occasion, people fear that you will be so again in the future.

This emphasizes all the more the truth of wise old Benjamin Franklin's saying, "Glass, china and rep-utation are easily cracked and nev-er well mended."

A safe ariver, says the Chicago Motor Club, always will reduce his speed whenever approaching a leaf fire at the curb. Wind conditions often can obstruct your overall view of the area. Don't blindly assume the road ahead is clear, Instead, anticipate the possibility of the smoke obscuring someone in the street or road. Play it safe — when you see the autumn leaves smoke signal, slow down.

Last Thursday, the kindergarten visited Mr. Cole's office to see how the intercom worked. They were also delighted to see how ditto papers were printed. Terri Anderson, Kimberly Hoesel, Ange-la Warner, Anna Marie Lemar, Fairlie Firari, and Peter Cleveland brought some treats for their classmates.

Miss Page's second grade had three birthdays this week: Denise Crosley, Jimmy Davis, and David Herr. The students celebrated Halloween and Denise's birthday with a party.

Mrs. Carter's third grade class had a Halloween party in their iscarded. No matter how hard I room. The refreshments were cider and doughnuts. Patty Hodges ays be defective.

A New Word For Our Vocabulary

By Tom Yocom and Betty Everett

During the past week, we took a survey to find what some of our bright Indians thought a certain strange word meant. The word is teetotum. Do you know what it means? No fair peeking in the dic-tionary. If you don't know just ask any Culver High School stu-dent and you'll get answers like

Linda Shock - "Is that masculine or feminine, Mrs. Smith?"
Susie Gardner — "A tea party around the Culver Indians' totem

Paul White -- "It's when a per-

Lucy Osborn — "Opposite of tumtoter."

B. J. Lawrance — "Something

you take for a tummy ache."
Diana Boots — "The name of a new army base."

Greg Yapp — "I can't pronounce it, much less tell what it means." Betty McFarland — "A giggled yawn.

Judy Kimmel — "Something Chuck would say."

Charles Snyder -- "It sounds like a disease."

Sharon McGaffey - "Is it a

teetotum happens to be a child's toy which resembles a top.

A BUDGET ITEM - Did you ever figure out a family budget and pass over an item that seems insignificant, but at the end of the year realize that the same nem you disregarded cost you more than some you spent a lot of time and thought on? If so, consider the budget experts among Hoosier trucking companies. An item that might easily be overlooked is the Federal excise tax payable on retread tires. However, in 1959 this Indiana in-dustry paid $229,000 to the Federal government for this item expectation, ted Tyrone Twittering with experie audience awaited Guthrie's production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Pirates of Penzance" at Culver Military Academy's Eppley Auditorium Nov. 3. The musical prelude presented a light and gay mood keynoting a moment of abandonment from the daily cares and pressures. When the very colorful and very unbloodthirsty pirates danced on the stage the humdrum world of reality was forgotten. The audience became a part of the swirtworld of an unbelievable comic operetta.

"Pirates Of Penzance" Part Of CMA Festival

By GLENN SMITH

Enthusiastically the audience followed the paradoxical, some-times cynical, but always gay note of the operetta. Only the conductor, hovering over his musicians and beating out the infectious and unchanged.

The light opera told the predicaments of a duty bound young man apprenticed to a band of presentes. Andrew Downie ably played the conscientious Frederic, The plot moved on a trail of coincidence and song. Frederic attempted to escape the influence of the jolly buccaneers. To this already fantastic world Gilbert and Sullivan added twelve unwed young maids, daughters of a major-general. Jacquelynne Moody, as Mabel, one of the daughters, provided the audience with many moments of enjoyment and beauty by her magnific sing-

Also outstanding in this fast moving array was Major-General Stanley played by Eric House. His ridiculous comedy and tongue-twisting speech of the modern Major-General received universal appeal. Yet the conductor remained business like, refusing to be caught up in the flurry. Only with the appearance of the seven unhappy policemen and deep voiced police sergeant played by Howell Glynne did his visage show approval and the smile of enjoyment.

It was truly a night at the theater when all care was tossed to the wind and ingenuous wit, song, and fun took its place in the excellent performance of Sullivan's "Pirates of Penzance."

Episcopalians Make Pilgrimage To Diocesan School

A large group of Episcopalians from Culver and Marshall County made a pilgrimage to their diocesan institution, the Howe Military School, on Wednesday, Nov. 1. They were accompanied by their priest, the Rev. William C. R. Sheridan, Paster of St. C. R. Sheridan, Pastor of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church at Plymouth.

Howe School was founded in 1884 to prepare poor boys for the priesthood of the Episcopal Church. In time it became a general college preparatory school, although a number of its alumni are parish priests. There are 400 cadets in the student body. They come from 16 states and several foreign countries.

The high point of the day was the consecration of the new $200,000 school Chapel. It was consecrated by the Bishop of the Diocese of Northern Indiana, the Rt. Rev. Reginald Mallett, S.T.D. Bishop Mallett gave the Chapel the title of "All Saints," Nev. 1 being the Feast of All Saints. The new chapel is a memorial to the late Lucy Murchison Mallett, his wife, and is a gift of Howe School alumni. This chapel climaxed a 7-year program of construction. Alumni have given nearly $3,000,for the erection of 14 new buildings.

A Solemn Eucharist was celebrated following the consecration. Acting as Sub-Deacon was the Rev. Reginald Mallett, III, son Rev. Reginald Mallett, 111, son of Bishop Mallett and the late Lucy Mallett. Priests and lay people came from all over the Diocese of Northern Indiana and from every part of the United States. They afterward were luncheon guests of Bishop Mallett in the school dining room.

The pilgrimage ended with a tour of the Howe School campus, which is located 5 miles from La-Grange, Ind.

Three persons were injured in an accident, at 3:05 p.m. Monday two miles north of Plymouth on U.S. 31, involving cars driven by Mrs. Shirley Bean, 201 East Wabash St., Culver, and Claude Bulander, 67, of Knox.

According to investigating of-ficers, the accident occurred when Mrs. Bean attempted to make a teft turn from U.S. 31 onto West 5th C Road and her car was hit near headon by the southbound Bulander auto.

Mrs. Bean is being treated at Marshall County Parkview Hospital for lacerations of the head, possible fractured pelvis and bruises. Patricia Bean, 4, a passenger in the car, received severe lacerations of the forehead and left leg and possible skull fracture. They are listed in fair condition at the hospital today. Bulander is being treated for bruises and a fractured right

He is reported in fairly good condition.

Authorities said Mrs. Bean had stopped her northbound car on the right berm shortly before the accident to let a passenger, Clark Mead, of LaPorte out of the car before driving back onto the highway.

Mead told police he was hitch-hiking from Plymouth to LaPorte and Mrs. Bean had given him a ride to West 5th C Road. He said he was standing along the road-way when the collision occurred. He was not injured.

Police said both ears were listed as total losses.

Investigating officers were Sheriff Jerry Greenlee, Deputy Sheriff Harold King and State Trooper Jon A. Jacobson.

Makes A "Lot" of Sense

The other day I was driving by Slim Thomas' used car lot, when I noticed he'd put up a big neon sign. Trouble was, one of the letters was upside down. So I drove in. "Hey, Slim," I said, "that's a nice new sign—but one of the letters is wrong-side up!"

SCHRADER BROS., Auctioneers

"Heck, I know that," laughs Slim. "Matter of faci, I had it made that way deliberate. Figured folks were bound to come in to tell me about it-and it works! I must get four or five new prospects a day."

Then he grins down at me. "By the way, Jos," he says, "I could give you a protty good deal on that car of yours . . . From where I sit, "look before you leap" is especially true whenever you start to give advice. Unlike Slim, some folks may not welcome your suggestion-especially about personal tastes! Whether your neighbor takes coffee with his meals, or prefers a glass of beer-that's really his own "business." Culver Indians Bow To Aubbee By 60-54 Score

Paul White Makes Varsity Debut

By EARL D. MISHLER

Friday night, Nov. 10, the Cul-rer Indians will travel to North Miami for their second basketball game of the 1961-62 season.

To reach North Miami go 11 miles south of Rochester on U.S. 31, and watch for a truck stop on the left side of the road. After you pass the truck stop watch for the Deedsville Road, approxi-mately one mile, turn left, and go through Deedsville to second erossroad, turn right, go to first T road and turn left.

Game time for Friday night's B team game will be 6:30 Central Standard Time, or 7:30 Daylight Saving Time. The varsity game will follow. All tickets purchased at the door will cost 75 cents. 老 本 本 本 本 本 本 本 本 本 本

The Culver Indians discovered sophomore shooting sensation Friday night but new coach Gene Crosley's crew was dealt a 60-54 opening loss by the Aubbeenau-abee Braves. Five foot, eight inch soph guard, Paul White, whose previous experience had consisted of very infrequent B-team appearunces last year, made one of the tinest varsity debuts in recent CHS history. Hitting seven of 10 field goal attempts, all but one from beyond the foul circle, and sparkling defensively, White kept the Culverites in contention late in the game while the taller veterans sat it out on the bench with foul trouble. "Whitey" also hit live out of six free throws for 19 points.

However, the young and talent-However, the young and talented hosts earned the victory with clutch free throw shooting in the final period. Aubbee was led by sophomores Joe Holcomb, Gary Feltis, and Jim Murray. Holcomb was especially effective in the first half, but a switch in Culver latences found the pasks. White defenses found the pesky White mission.

Aubbee grabbed a 14-12 first quarter lead behind the driving and shooting of Holcomb. But despite constant fouling which caused the long absences of Rick Ervin, Jim Carter, and Tom Bos-well, Culver fought to a 28-25

In much of the third period, the Indians had only one experienced man on the floor, John Benedict, but still the Culverites kept pace, as the tie score, 37 all, proved.

The final quarter saw the cool Braves swish the important free throws and earn a 60-54 victory.

Behind White, Benedict and Boswell had 13 and 12 points respectively for Culver, while Feltis led the winners with 19, including 12 in the fourth quarter.

Culver's very young and inex-perienced B-Team showed flashes of brilliance, but made many mistakes in losing, 25-24. John Reichard of Anbbee tallied 13 Joints for game honors, and freshman Dave Lemar led the Pagame of the season. A 13-7 tri-umph over Bloomington Univer-sity High School here last Satur-day gives Culver a 4-2-1 record. Although Culver got away to a poor start against Bloomington before a large Fall Festival crowd. Coach Russ Oliver's eleven appeared rejuvenated during the final three quarters. Bolstered by the return of several injured players. Cuiver kept Blooming-ton in check after the Red and White scored a first quarter touchdown.

Bloomington scored without re-Bloomington scored without re-linquishing the ball after the opening kickoff. The visitors moved to the Cuiver 27 in 12 plays, and John Ivans carried it over from there. Bill Dickens made it 7-0 with a line plunge for the extra point.

Paced by the running of fullback Reeve Little, who gained 103 yards in 19 carries, Culver picked up steam and pushed across a touchdown in the second quarter. With Little carrying on all but two plays, the Eagles drove 51 yards in 10 plays. Lit-tle's TD made it 7-6, but the extra point line plunge was stopped by Bloomington.

Bill Borkenstein, the Academy's leading scorer, supplied the clincher in the third period when he intercepted a pass on the Bloomington 36 and went the distance. This time Lloyd Huth plunged across from the three for the extra point. Bloomington made one attempt after that and penetrated to the Culver 14 be-fore the drive was halted.

In a frosh-soph game Saturday morning, Coach Chet Marshall's underlings finished the season with a 4-1-1 record by defeating South Bend Riley "B", 6-2.
