Automation and Its Promise For The Future

Workers Will Have More Spare Time

BY ROGER W. BABSON
No. 1 U. S. Economist

Babson Park, Mass. — Only a few years ago automation was little more than a trickle within the economy, but today it is a river and tomorrow it will be a flood. The great question is whether its obvious benefits will be outweighed by the problems that it raises — such as unemployment.

Automation's Problems Will Be Solved

I have said before and I will say again that there has never been any indication that more machinery means fewer workers. Look back over the industrial history of this country, and you will find that there has been an unending outflow of more efficient machines and yet employment has soared from one new height to another simultaneously.

The sheer volume of machines to run machines is today almost incredible, and still employment keeps reaching ever higher. For the most part, our joblessness is due to an exploding population, a rather impressive group of people who would rather live on charity or unemployment insurance than work, and a reluctance to develop swiftly-paced programs to retrain and relocate workers displaced by the advance of technological improvements.

We Are Moving Rapidly

The influx of automation has been so unexpectedly rapid that many have been badly frightened; they think we are moving too fast for our own good. Some wish they were living back a hundred years ago so they would have fewer complications; others say they wouldn't want to be around a hundred years from now with things changing at such a pace. Even the labor movement — which has some pretty fast-moving men — is frightened by automation, and some laborites are crying aloud that there may not be any jobs in a few years. Let them be assured that there will be plenty of jobs, — but many will be very different jobs.

Facing Up To Changes

The change-over to automated production is going to spread on and on, and certainly nobody will say that a great many workers will have to move to other jobs. This is a fact that must be faced. Frightened experts have often warned that, without automation, we would soon find we would not have as sufficiently larger labor force to accomplish our work, introduce new products, and maintain our prosperous standard of living.

I notice that a good deal of human effort is still needed even in industries and offices where the most completely automatic processes have been installed. It's said that a factory could be built so that every step from raw material to final product could be turned out by a handful of people at pushbuttons. Keep in mind, however: Human brains must still work out the entire scheme, and human hands must build, set up, start, tend, repair, and maintain — and sometimes even stop! these "automatic" machines.

CHESTER A. MARSHALL JR.

Chester A. Marshall Jr. has been named director of athletics at Culver Military Academy, Major General Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (Ret.), superintendent, announced today.

Marshall replaces Russell D. Oliver, who was recently appointed as Culver's first permanent and full-time alumni secretary.

The appointment of Marshall to the position of supervising 16 varsity sports and other activities of the Athletic Department comes after 10 years in which he has been a member of the Academy faculty. Marshall served under Oliver as coach of frosh-soph football and basketball.

The athletic directorship is the fourth position held by Oliver at Culver for many years which now will be filled by Marshall. The former West Virginia Wesleyan College athlete was recently named head coach of basketball, chairman of the Physical Education Department and athletic director of the Culver Summer Schools. He will continue as coach of frosh-soph football.

Born in Albany, New York, Marshall was graduated from West Virginia Wesleyan College, Buckhannon, West Virginia, in 1947. In college he was captain of the basketball team and was named to several all-tournament and all-state teams. Marshall also was drafted into professional basketball by the Denver Nuggets, but took a teaching-coaching position at Parsons (W. Va.) High School. Marshall received his master's degree from West Virginia University in 1949.

For two years Marshall taught and coached at Wilmington (Ohio) College. His basketball teams won 26 and lost 18 during that period. He was also head track coach and assistant football coach. Marshall left Wilmington to devote one and a half years additional study on his doctorate at Indiana University before coming to Culver in September, 1951.

The Gross Income Tax Representative will be in the Plymouth License Branch Office in Plymouth, every Tuesday until the 1st of March. Anyone wanting information may come in to see

Professional Football Players To Speak At CMA

Two members of the Chicago Bears professional football team will appear in speaking engagements to faculty and students of Culver Military Academy on Wednesday, Jan. 31.

Rich Casares, veteran fullback, and rookie end Mike Ditka, formerly of the University of Pittsburgh, are scheduled to speak at a 6:30 p.m. dinner of the Faculty Association at the Culver Inn. They will appear earlier in the day in a program in the Little Theater, where members of the Academy football team and other cadets have been invited to hear the talks.

Thomas Walker Writes Article For Dun's Review

A Culver Military Academy English instructor advises business executives how to cut stenographic and other communication costs in an article appearing in the January issue of Dun's Review and Modern Industry.

Entitled "Can Words Cut Cost?", the article is written by Culver instructor Thomas E. Walker, who suggests ways in which business firms can better communicate through techniques of composition. Walker uses as examples several business letters he has received to show how good sentence structure and fewer words often save time and money.

Walker says that too often schools and colleges do not prepare their graduates to write properly.

"As for hiring personnel who have already mastered these techniques," writes Walker, "the sad fact is that they are practically impossible to find. All too many of our so-called 'good' high schools throughout the country fail to teach English composition effectively.

"Businessmen," he adds, "have every right to resent the millions of dollars which these hordes of untaught writers cost them each year. It is high time for responsible business leaders and responsible educators to work toward a common goal — the production of high school, college, and business school graduates who really know how to write."

Walker urges industry and business to publicly proclaim that they want "literate employees who can communicate effectively." He says local high school boards and administrators should be informed when their graduates are found to be deficient in the ability to communicate. Finally, Walker urges business to sponsor workshops for teachers in order to develop a realistic composition program.

The article in Dun's Review and Modern Industry, which is published by Dun and Bradstreet and has a circulation of 119,742 readers, has already brought response. Walker says many business firms have written for additional information as well as to inform him what programs they have adopted to promote better composition among their employees.

Walker will also have an article on team teaching in the forthcoming issue of the Independent Schools Bulletin, a nationwide publication. Walker is one of several English instructors participating in the team teaching experiment at Culver. Walker is from Joplin, Mo., and was educated at the University of Missouri and the University of North Carolina. He formerly taught at North Carolina and Hanover (Ind.) College.

Civil Air Patrol Opportunities For Education

By T. K. WALKER 2nd

Would you like to learn something about jet aircraft and perhaps even fly in one, or the dawning space age, or perhaps you would like to travel to some foreign land? As a Civil Air Patrol cadet these and many other things are open to you, because in the CAP the accent is on youth.

Before a cadet can qualify for any of the special activities that the Air Force has made available to the cadet, he or she must complete an aerospace education program. This program is divided into three phases. The first introduces the cadet to the CAP.

The second phase is the most important of the cadet's training. During this period he may attend a summer encampment at one of "Uncle Sam's" Air Force bases. Upon completion of this phase the cadet is awarded, by the Air Force, the highest of all cadet awards, the Certificate of Proficiency. Phase three of the cadet's training consists of elective training exercises like radio, photography, and observer and pilot ratings.

Each year over 100 cadets are selected to participate in the International Air Cadet Exchange. They spend about eight weeks in a country of Europe, South America, or the Middle East.

Also during the summer months cadets are selected to take part in the Jet and Space Age Orientation. The Jet Orientation acquaints the cadet with jet aircraft operation. Those who go to the Space Age Orientation deal with astronautics and other similar subjects.

The Federal Aviation Orientation gives the cadets a picture of the behind-the-scenes jobs in military and civil aviation.

For the girls the CAP offers the Airline Hostess training program. This course, conducted through cooperation with various major airlines, is similar to regular courses given airline stewardesses.

Not all the CAP's cadets will become space pilots, but many will become aeronautical specialists in America's space age air power. Some will have nothing to do with the aviation industry after they leave the CAP, but what they have learned will stay with them. The Civil Air Patrol is on the job training in future citizenship.

For further information contact your local unit of the CAP, by phoning VIKING 2-2035 or seeing Thomas K. Walker.

Miss Sarah E. Perkins Speaks Nuptials With Donald F. Sheller At Rushville

MR. AND MRS. DONALD F. SHELTER

Miss Sarah E. Perkins, daughter of Mrs. Walter L. Perkins of Rushville and the late Mr. Perkins, became the bride of Donald Foster Sheller, son of Dr. and Mrs. Foster F. Sheller, 605 College Ave., Culver, in a lovely Sunday afternoon ceremony at 2:30 o'clock, Jan. 21, at St. Paul's Methodist Church in Rushville.

The altar was decorated with candelabra and baskets of white chrysanthemums, pompons and gladioli. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon.

Miss Janet Mauzy, organist, played a wedding prelude and accompanied William Master who sang, "The Lord's Prayer" and, "O, Lord Most Holy."

Given in marriage by Dr. Donald I. Dean of Rushville the bride was attired in a gown of ivory peau de soie. The fitted bodice featured a V in the front and featured a portrait neckline trimmed in Alencon lace and seed pearls. The sleeves were three-quarter length notched with a small insert of lace and pearls. An inverted pleat in front of the modified bouffant skirt was trimmed with medallions of lace and pearls. Her Edwardian skirt flowed gracefully into a court train. A crown of crystals and seed pearls held her veil in place. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis tied with long satin streamers containing love knots.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Glendo Sullivan, of Rushville.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. George Cameron II of Rushville, Miss Linda Walker of Indianapolis, and Miss Sharon Campbell, also of Indianapolis.

The attendants were gowned identically in romance blue peau satin. The fitted bodices featured bateau necklines and tiny sleeves. The sheath skirts were accented by overskirts with a fly panel in the front with two small bows. Their headpieces were matching bows and they carried cascade bouquets of white carnations and stephanotis.

Thomas Sherman of Indianapolis was best man.

Ushers were Stephen Staggs and J. Daniel Rodkey of Indianapolis, and John Alcock of Plymouth.

For her daughter's wedding

Mrs. Perkins wore a mellow rum silk suit with brown and beige feathered hat and brown accessories and a pale green orchid corsage. Mrs. Sheller, mother of the bridegroom, wore grey Alencon lace over mauve satin, complemented by a pillbox of matching satin and lace. Her corsage was a purple orchid.

Following the wedding a reception for 200 guests was held at the Elk's Club Ball Room, Rushville.

The bride's table was covered with a white cloth featuring a bouffant taffeta skirt draped with amilax and white carnation clusters.

The centerpiece was a pyramid of white gladioli and carnations and candelabra with white tapers. The five-tier white cake was topped with a white wedding bell.

Following the reception the couple left on a short wedding trip. They are now residing at 440 Winona, Apt. 211, Indianapolis.

For traveling the bride wore a navy blue wool knit suit with navy accessories.

The bride was graduated from Indiana University School of Dental Hygiene and her husband is a senior in Indiana University School of Dentistry.

Students Reveal Secret Desires

By Carolee Easterday, Shirley Crow and Christine Hand

This week we asked the students what they would buy if they had an unlimited amount of money. The poll showed that many of the kids have the same mobile instinct that our ancestors had. This migratory instinct has brought us not only the West, but also America. If people of today still want to travel and see new lands, maybe someday we will live on another planet.

Susan Ruhnaw — A teen center for Culver.

Betty Everett — A cruise around the world.

Bonnie Good — A white horse named Frosty.

Diane Boots — A one way ticket to California.

Vicki Lutz — I'd buy anything and everything.

Brenda Baker — A one way ticket to Europe.

Beverly Thomas — I'd buy Tiffany's.

Bernice Mevis — I would take a trip around the world and stay in each country for a year.

Nora Sheppard — Pay all expenses for a sophomore trip to Hawaii — this year!

Bonnie Saft — A white Thunderbird with red interior.

Judy Kimmel — A red Corvette convertible and a South American tour.

Kathy Clyne — Go to Mexico.

Marjorie McGaffey — A car for trips and give Art his own Corvair.

Jan Wagoner — A red Thunderbird and a trip to St. Louis.

Beverly Barshes — A trip to Greece for two weeks so I could meet a certain Roman Myth.

Martha McAllister — My own private yacht so I could follow a certain ocean liner around the ocean.

Elouise Tanner — I would buy something that I'll never have.

Phil Gretter — Pay off the house and store, buy a sports car, and build an indoor swimming pool with five different levels of high dives.

Jeanette Salyer — Give part to charity and own a swimming pool.

Betty Bickel — Go to Hawaii and get a new swimming pool.

Danny Haines — Spend it on bubble gum.

Michael D. Wallen — I would give most of it to charity and research, rather than my own personal needs.

Penny Wakefield — I would go places and give the other half of it to Hope of the Red Cross.

Larry Washburn — Buy lots of things for myself and family and save the rest to spend on myself later.

Vicki Smith — I'd go different places and buy clothes and give the rest to charity.

Steve Boccock — Buy some shotgun shells.

Sharon Warren — I would give it to the people in need of it.

Jim Lewis — I would turn it into food.

Dick Mackey — I would bribe the teachers.

Pat Hicks — Bribe the Air Force in Texas with half and build an ultra-modern teen center in Culver.

Chuck Reed — Naturally I'd get things like a sports car, boat, and small plane. But I'd spend about $5,000 a year on college and split the rest; I'd give half to my family for their wants and half I would invest or go into private business.

John Crum — Travel and see the world and have fun and take Joe with me.

Don Miller — Enjoy giving people money while traveling around the world in my new plane, ship, car, etc.

Pat Lutz — Clothes! The rest I would put away for future use.

Ron Leffert — Build a place for teen-agers and buy a sports car. Then have some fun!

George Herr — Keep it.

George Baker — Buy a motorcycle or a sports car and then I would travel the rest of my life.

Sue Cole — Save part for college, pay for the rest of the house, buy some clothes and a car, and take a trip to the West.

Martha Lowry — Tour Europe and throw a party.

Jane Ives — Buy my sister a horse and put some toward college.

Glenda Dawson — Spend some of it on the senior trip and save some for the future.

Sandy Boetsma — I would take a nice long, relaxing trip to Hawaii.

Carol Heiser — Spend most of it on the senior trip and save the rest of it for a trip to Miami.

Pat Wesson — I would put up a statue in honor of Mr. Lawson.

Debbie Henderson — I would go to Europe by jet, and then save the rest for the future.

Valerie Gunder — Live it up as usual, but with a little for expenses.

Chris Hand — Give part of the teachers a raise, travel, and throw a party.

Jane Ann Thomas — Save money for the trip and for business school and spend the rest on a little bit of everything.

Rodney Edgington — I think I will pay the referees more than the other teams so Culver can win.

Sandy Osborn — Buy a plane ticket to New Mexico, new clothes and save the rest for the future.

Seniors Happy With Profits From Tourney

By Robbie Ogden and Janceen Scruggs

Last week the senior class was selling concessions for the County Tourney. They grossed $800 in round figures. The seniors hope to clear at least one-third of the gross income.

The juniors are sponsoring the after-game dances which are held in the Lions Den after each home game. A dance will be held after the game with Plymouth on Feb. 3. The committee for this dance is headed by Carolee Easterday.

The sophomores have no money making projects, with the exception of fudge sales, going on at the moment. However, they have been busy tallying up total profits from leaf raking and fudge sales. They made $411 by raking leaves and $70 by fudge sales.

The freshmen just have their fudge sales for a money making project. However, it seems that the freshmen have a good basketball team going for them; so far they have been undefeated.

As a whole, there is one thing all the upper classes are trying to do; recuperate from semester exams.

Hi-Y Enjoys Movie; Party Being Discussed

By Martha McAllister and Kathy Clyne

The Hi-Y boys saw a movie about basketball at their last meeting and they are expecting to see some more in the next few months. They are hoping that at the end of this school year the Hi-Y boys of '62 will be able to donate something to the school. Also rumors have been heard about a party in the near future. It hasn't been decided where, when, or what kind of a party it will be, but they're planning.

We would like to congratulate our fine booster club for spreading such a lot of excitement and enthusiasm before the tourney and at all the games.

Art Students Vary Projects

By Carol Heiser

The third, fourth, and fifth grades are experimenting with the mixing of colors. They are concentrating on varieties in colors and texture in their pictures.

The sixth grade is doing paper sculpture. They have formed the basic head from a paper cylinder and they are adding the features, hats, etc.

The seventh grade is starting a drawing unit. Often times they draw what they know to be true and not what they actually see. In the class they are trying to correct their common errors and learn to draw what they see.

The eighth grade is working in clay. They are primarily concerned with the problem of making lids to fit their basic ceramic dishes.

BOWLING TOURNEY AT SOUTH BEND

The closing entry date for the Al Dlugosz Singles Bowling Tourney has been extended to March 1, 1962, with the approval of the American Bowling Congress.

The tournament will open Saturday, Feb. 3, and continue until April 8 inclusive at the V.F.W., No. 1167 Lanes, 1047 Lincoln Way West, South Bend.

Papooses and Freshmen Win

By Bob Carter

The papooses journeyed to Plymouth Saturday night and beat LaPaz 38 to 31. With Jerry Nelson and Dave Lemar playing, the B-team chalked up their second victory.

The Culver squad had a lead at the end of the first quarter of 3 points but at the half the score was 26 to 13. The Papooses maintained their lead during the third quarter. In the fourth quarter the Vikings dwindled the lead, but couldn't make the grade. The final score was 38 to 31.

The Freshmen added another victory to their record by defeating Winamac 35 to 29. At half-time the score was tied 17 to 17. In the third both teams added tallies and the game remained tied 27 to 27. In the fourth quarter Winamac scored only 2 points while Culver scored 8 points.

Coach Moore's Junior High played hosts to LaPaz last Thursday. The Seventh Grade lost their game 18 to 10. The Eighth Grade won their game 25 to 20.

Grade Students
A Busy Group

By Sharon McGaffey and Karen McDonald

There were two birthdays celebrated in Mrs. Barton's first grade—Lindon Curtis and Teena Anderson. When the class was not busy with celebrating birthdays, they found time to start reading from "The Little White House."

The students in Miss Cripe's first grade helped Todd Matson celebrate his seventh birthday on Thursday, Jan. 18. These busy first graders have finished their pre-primers and supplementary readers and have begun reading from "The Little White House." The class now possesses new "Dot and Jim" phonic books.

Mrs. Shirrell's second grade has new writing books and are making a change from manuscript to cursive writing. The class performed an enjoyable experiment in art a few days ago. Each student wrote his name slantwise across a piece of white paper, then used different colors of crayons and drew lines around the name until the paper was filled.

The second grade conducted by Mrs. Allen is starting a new reader "Around the Corner." The following students were present every day the first semester: Kent Davis, David Dawson, Pam Hartz, Karen Lucas, Darlene Mann, Martin Napierdowski, Gloria Plante, Amy Jo Reister, Bobby Ringer and Jeffery Zechfel.

There are also many students in Mrs. Page's second grade who had perfect attendance for the first semester. They are: David Brown, Durwin Fritz, Stephen King, Shirley Kerek, Denise Shidler and Bruce Snyder.

Mrs. Carter's third graders are certainly an active group. They have been busy helping Lynne Langlois celebrate her birthday and reading from story books which Patricia Hodges's father used when he was a boy. These students are to be commended for not missing words during this six weeks: Patty Hodges, Cynthia Marshall, Sandra Miller, Lynne Langlois, Thomas DeTroy, Shirli Chisholm, David Williams, Jan Shook, Mary Wieringa and Douglas Prouty. Mrs. Carter has started to read to the class from "Moby Dick."

The third graders in Mrs. McLane's class are also busy. The eager Beavers are competing for the most perfect papers for a two week period. Almost all of the boys and girls have said their easy addition and easy subtraction combinations.

Mrs. Mahan's fourth graders have been having a contest in spelling. The students earning gold stars for not missing a word are: William Bennett, Barbara Cook, Mary Ann Lewis, Jan Price, and Dennis Woolington. Silver star winners having missed one word are: Robbie Bolton, Joe Nell Borg, David Campbell, Stephen Cole, Jane Kosterman, Pamela Lehman, David Martin, Kenneth Matz, and Wendy Nelson. Good work students!

The fifth grade taught by Mr. Weaver has begun to study about plants and animals in science. They have already learned about vertebrates and mammals. They will also study about the most intelligent group of animals called human beings.

Contests Keep Musicians Busy

By Beverly Barshes

In the past four weeks, the music department has been quite busy with the vocal and piano contest, which was held on Jan. 27, at Penn Township near Mishawaka. Among the many students who attended the contest were: Joan Kosterman, Valerie Carter, Lois Newcomb, Martin McAllister, Judy Kimmel, Carol Overmyer, Ruth Kemmer, Lucy Osborn, Mary Norris, Eva Norris, Paul White, Janet Brammen, Carol Glaser, Debbie Henderson, Lana Berger, Mary Jane Guise, Linda McAllister, Pat Lutz, Loretta Berger, Bonnie Good, Linda Behmer, Lorie Sands, Valerie Gander, Diana Davis, Leanne Adams, Steve Guise, Sharon Norris, Brenda McAllister, Andrea Siple, and many others that were in quartets or other ensembles.

With vocal and piano contest out of the way, the music department has another problem of getting everybody's instrument in tune and ready for the instrumental contest this Saturday, Feb. 3, at Plymouth High School. Congratulations to the contest winners from the vocal and piano contest for doing such a fine job, and we all wish the best of luck to the instrumental contest.

By Charlene Lucas and Melissa Fisher

'Twas the month after Christmas, and all through the school, Everyone's kind of sickly, and not feeling too cool.

The exams are all over, and the report cards are out. One semester is over, so let us all shout.

You kids that got "A", that really is good.

And for the rest of you should, let's all hit the books!

Tim—ber! Oops! Another Indian has hit the dust. (Or should I say ice?) With the weather we have been having lately, it is like taking your life in your own hands to try and walk somewhere. Poor Bob Dickson, leave it to him! He decided to put some excitement into selling concessions at the tourney by falling down on the ice. To make matters worse, he was carrying pop bottles at the time! They sort of broke, didn't they, Bob? Don't feel too badly, you are not the only victim of the slippery sidewalks. Right, Kathy Clyne and Carol Overmyer?

Speaking of the county tourney, it seems (according to some senior girls), that a new club was organized during this time. It has a total membership of seven junior girls, and they call themselves the "J.S.S.'s". For more information on this subject contact the ring leaders, Cheryl Dillon and Sheryl Hohman.

The kids in the Booster Club have been doing a great job making pep posters and painting windows. The team seems to have gotten the message, too. Our braves defeated the LaPaz Vikings last week, and now they are working on putting out that "Argos Dragon Fire." Keep up the good work team!

Last Saturday evening some thirty braves and maidens, made up mostly of juniors studying American literature, a spiky sprinkle of freshmen, and a few literary-conscious seniors enjoyed a true-to-life impersonation of Mark Twain at Eppley Auditorium. Of course we were born about 50 years too late to personally know this greatest of humorist-writers, but what we saw and heard must have been either the original or his ghost. We are especially appreciative of the advice to youth by which we look forward to enjoying 70, and to "Mr. Twain" and Mr. Martin for a very enjoyable and instructive evening.

Attention everyone! "Has anyone got any gum?" It is beginning to seem as though these are the only words in Nick Knoerzer's vocabulary. If anyone has any extra gum please see Nick. He hasn't had much luck in getting gum, so all donations will be appreciated. (Maybe if he gets a good supply, he will shut up!)

If some of the band and choir members look sort of sleepy and worn out, don't think much of it. Coming to school an hour early and practicing songs for contest is enough to kill anyone. That is sort of a rough way to start out the day, but they don't really mind, they just enjoy complaining! Good luck to all you hard workers. We hope you all come home with medals!

Really Mr. Stukenborg, we have heard of a lot of things, but alligator fur? That is about the limit! It wasn't your day, was it? Better luck next time.

Well, that's about all for this time. Au revoir, everyone. See you next week?

Boys Like Girls Who —

The reasons girls attract boys are many and varied according to an article we read recently. It appeared interesting and maybe the following information will be of interest to some of you, and helpful, too!

"A boy likes a girl who . . . listens . . . meets his eye . . . walks with a spring, not a swagger . . . makes inexpensive clothes look cheery . . ."

"A boy likes a girl who . . . puts make-up on her face, not on his collar . . . isn't self-conscious about her figure, and doesn't advertise it . . . wears a flower, but not a whole Botanical Garden . . . draws a line between slang and profanity . . ."

"A boy likes a girl who . . . smells like spring all year 'round . . . is prudent, but not prudish . . ."

"A boy likes a girl who . . . appreciates football without looking as if she could play it . . . laughs but not loudly . . . doesn't knock the rock, but admits there's room for Bach . . . would rather bite her tongue than her nails . . . has opinions, but doesn't think they're the only ones . . ."

"A boy likes a girl who . . . doesn't call him on the phone for no good reason . . . likes him more than she likes his car . . . thanks the donor for small favors . . . neither spreads or inspires gossip . . . follows the crowds, but not blindly . . . doesn't go to the beach dressed in a pocket hankie.

"A boy likes a girl who . . . acts herself, instead of aping movie stars, doesn't load his pockets with her compact, over-shoes and hairbrush . . . has read a book . . . dances instead of yakking when she's on the dance floor . . ."

"A boy likes a girl who . . . walks in the rain, and doesn't fuss about her hair . . . gets up early to go fishing . . . appreciates his jokes . . . cares about his hobbies . . ."

"A boy likes a girl who . . . looks good . . . dresses good . . . walks good . . . and talks good . . . but not too much."

Dr. Bowen Seeks Renomination For Representative

DR. OTIS R. BOWEN

Otis R. Bowen, M.D., Bremen physician, announced today that he will seek renomination for State Representative of Marshall County on the Republican ticket. Dr. Bowen served in the 1957 session of the legislature; he was defeated in the Democrat landslide of 1958 by only four votes (1/10 of one vote per precinct). He, however, was reelected in 1960 and served in the 1961 session of the legislature.

In 1957 he served on five committees including Public Health, Agriculture, County and Township Business, Cities' and Towns' Business, Public Safety, and World War Memorial. In the 1961 session, besides being chairman of the Public Health Committee, he served on the Labor, Education, Benevolent and Penal Institutions, and Judiciary B. Committees.

Dr. Bowen was influential in the passage of bills that prescribed better control of narcotics and dangerous drugs and increased the penalty for narcotic peddling; he assisted in the passage of bills improving the lot of the mentally ill and mentally retarded; in supporting legislation in committee and in the House for remodeling our penal system to improve handling of paroles, and to emphasize rehabilitation of our youthful first offenders; assisted in the passage of bills that created a fair air pollution law, aid for the "near indigent aged" for their medical care, and a fourth category of the Department of Public Welfare to care for those who are permanently and totally disabled regardless of their age, and lent support to other worthwhile legislation. He was one of the majority who helped block a tax increase in 1961.

Dr. Bowen had this to say: "If renominated I shall conduct an honest, vigorous, but clean campaign for the fall election. If elected in the fall, I shall continue to work for the legislation that is morally right and good for Marshall County and the state of Indiana. Such legislation must furnish the greatest good to the greatest number and be consistent with rules of good sound judgment and economic principles. After weighing both sides of every question, I shall vote for or against bills according to the dictates of my own conscience regardless of pressures exerted to the contrary."

Dr. Bowen, a 43 year old physician, has practiced in Bremen since 1946 after his release from three years of Army Service, half of which was spent in the Pacific area. He has four children ages 17, 15, 13, and 10. He and his wife, Beth, have been active in numerous civic and community affairs as well as being active members of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

It doesn't seem to me that we are going too fast, everything considered. It cannot be denied that we in America are materially and spiritually better off than the people of the backward nations who have not yet had any such machines. It might also be said that no workers in the world's history ever had more healthful and attractive working conditions or received better pay than our workers today. It is the machine that has helped to bring about this prosperity, and newer and more machines will bring still more in the years to come.
I am particularly impressed by the fact that high-velocity machinery and all forms of automation mean — and will continue to mean — steadily more spare time for workers. There will be a greater opportunity for enjoyment of the home and the family, for pleasant and healthy do-it-yourself pursuits. Even more important: Perhaps we can all employ some of the increasing spare time to cultivate the spiritual values which we may have been neglecting while building up purely material prosperity!

The connection between loving one's fellow man and knowing God will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Opening the Bible readings in the Lesson-Sermon on "Love" are these verses: "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.
He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love" (1 John 4).

A citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way.
Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action" (p.454).

The Chicago Motor Club advises that even though the highway on which you're driving is in excellent winter driving condition, it's smart to approach crossroads, side roads, and driveways with caution. On less heavily traveled byroads, snow and ice tend to linger longer. Drivers entering main highways from these areas may not be able to stop as quickly or effectively as they should.
At such locations, your foresight and precaution could prevent a serious accident.

Academy Sports

Culver Military Academy swimmers, wrestlers, and marksmen swept three opponents here Saturday in an athletic schedule curtailed by final examinations.

Hottest of the three was Coach Colin Stetson's wrestling team, which has won six of its last seven matches and now holds a 6-4 record. Latest victim was Howe Military Academy, which lost nine of 12 matches to lose to the Eagles, 37-13. Bill Francisco, Culver's 175-pounder, continued to lead his team by winning his 10th match. He has lost only once.

Though this was to be a lean year for the Academy swimmers, Coaches Frank Walatis and Charles Owen are making the most of it. Flashing to their third victory in five meets, the Eagle mermen set three new records while stomping on Danville (Ill.) High School. Bill Roth set a new school mark in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 1:01.9 and Buzz Gammel snapped the 100-yard breast stroke pool record at 1:12.4. As a clincher to an already good day, Culver stalked its 160-yard medley relay team with Cliff Robertson, Tony Canlis, Roth, and Mitch Fry for a pool record-busting time of 1:27.2.

Earlier in the day Saturday the Academy rifle team won its second shoulder-to-shoulder match against the Purdue NROTC freshmen, 1887-1813. D. W. Dabney led the shooters with a 381 score.

The basketball team, idle last weekend, will host Tippecanoe High School Friday night and then travel to Highland Saturday night. The swimming team is at Kokomo for a 3 p.m. match the same day.

Indians Lose Two Games Over The Past Weekend

Double Trouble Coming Up Next

By EARL MISHLER
Culver's Indians suffered their 11th and 12th losses of the season last weekend, losing to Argos and Mentone.
The Dragons nipped Culver Friday night at Argos, 54-49, and Mentone's powerful Bulldogs shellacked the tribe here Saturday, 90-69. 5'10" junior guard Bill Nellans broke the modern gym record by pouring in 41 points for Mentone. The previous record of 37 points, which is still the school record was formerly shared by Ed Davis and Jim Kowatch.

Principal Kenneth Cole announced that adult tickets for the game at Nappanee Friday night may be purchased for 75¢ each at the Culver High School office. Any adult planning to attend the game may wish to purchase their tickets ahead to insure seats in the Culver section as all seats at the Nappanee gym are reserved.

Culver reached the lowest ebb of a dismal season Friday at Argos. After playing a fine first half, the Indians managed only four field goals in the second half.

With Tom Boswell hitting well from outside and Rick Ervin and Jim Carter clearing the boards, Culver streaked to 31-23 halftime lead. But Argos coach Doug Flites switched to a zone defense in the second half which stymied the Tribe. Boswell picked up his fourth foul in the third period, leaving Culver without much scoring punch.

Led by the hustling floor play of John Harley and the scoring and rebounding of Terry Thompson, the Dragons caught and passed Culver in the third stanza, which ended 40-37. Culver had plenty of chances to win the game in the fourth quarter, but cold shooting and poor ballhandling cost them the victory.

Thompson and Harley led the scoring with 17 and 16 points respectively, while Boswell and Carter had 13 and 12.

Mentone's hot-shooting Bulldogs, who came to town with a 16-1 record, did not disappoint the local fans. The speedy Nellans constantly sped behind the slower Indians for easy lay-ins. When the 'Dogs could not fast break, either Nellans or 6'3" junior Jon Newcomb were firing in long jump shots.

Mentone started slowly, leading 17-11 after the first quarter, but their high-powered offense rolled up 26 points in the second period to take a 43-27 halftime lead. Ervin was Culver's only consistent threat in the first half. The 6'3" junior pivotman regained his shooting eye that had made him last year's outstanding B-Team player and tallied 12 first half points.

During the third quarter, Culver pulled to within 10 points at one time as Paul White and Jim Carter began finding the range. But the Kosciusko County champions bounced back behind the long-range bombing and fast break baskets of the dark-haired Nellans. After three periods it was Mentone 63, Culver 46.

During the final period, Mentone Coach Paul Bateman emptied his bench, but left Nellans in to boost his point total — and he did! Carter continued to lead Culver's offense, which accounted for 23 fourth quarter points.

Of Nellans' 16 field goals, many came on easy layins. But, on his behalf, it must be pointed out that he is not what is known as a "ball-hog." Several times his clever passwork set up his taller teammates for easy baskets.

Newcomb and 6'3" junior Lyle Long added 15 and 10 points respectively, while Carter led Culver with 21, 18 of them in the second half. Ervin and White had 12 apiece, while Boswell added ten.

After 15 rugged games, we think it's about time the community took its collective hat off to hard-working coach Gene Crosley. The Indians' friendly mentor has done an outstanding job, especially in bringing along his young sophomores, Paul White and Sam Lowry, and the young potential on the B-Team. Don't forget that Crosley has lost three boys from last year's Varsity who did not graduate, those three being John Benedict, George Baker, and Dennis Shook. In this basketball fortunes could not be in better hands.

The Culver B-Team split a pair of games over the weekend, drubbing Argos, 39-26, and losing to Mentone, 47-33. Freshman center Dave Lemar led the scoring both nights, with nine points Friday and seven on Saturday.

Next weekend, Culver faces another double dose of trouble. Nappanee, another outstanding team, will host the Tribe Friday night, and Saturday Plymouth's Pilgrims visit the local gym for another in the ancient series between the two rivals. Both the Nappanee and Plymouth games will be played at 6:45 and 8:00 p.m. (EST).
