Babson Predicts No Crash In The Stock Exchange

Always Possible To Select Good Buys

By ROGER W. BABSON
No. 1 U.S. Economist

Babson Park, Mass. — The United States will probably suffer from another business depression. But it will not be like that of the "Thirties." The President and Congress are willing to risk "breaking the nation's credit" rather than risk a year of serious unemployment.

Prosperity Not Permanent

We will see a rash of failures; but the "smart boys" in Washington may not let them be called "failures." They will be listed as "consolidations" or "mergers" or "going out of business." We will see the unemployed selling apples on the street; but we may see apples given away to all who call for them. It will be known as the great "give-away era." The 5-hour day may temporarily be cut to a 2-hour day.

The legislation that President Kennedy now wants to help the aged and the ill will then quickly be enacted. The government will subsidize small business as it now does the farmers. We will be approaching socialism; but under some new name. The unemployed will be sent to schools and colleges which will be given federal aid generously and in abundance. According to Senator Goldwater and the John Birch "rightists" this will finally lead to further recession and trouble. The Armed Forces recognize this and would like to join this rightist movement; but they are being muzzled. The labor unions, however, are behind the movement. Their leaders realize that if the liberals and radicals go too far, President Kennedy or "some man on horseback" will become a dictator. These labor leaders at heart are conservatives.

What About The Stock Market?

Ah! this is something different. For over 50 years I have studied the stock market. Hence, now I will discuss what I know something about! I am a statistician, not a politician. Let me start by saying that over 7,000,000,000 (seven billion) shares of common stock are listed on the New York Stock Exchange and less than one billion more on the American Exchange. Ninety per cent of the latter are of small speculative companies which we will not now count. None of the latter affect the Dow-Jones Average. Of the above-mentioned shares I will estimate approximately how many shares are tied up and how many are free to break quickly in a crash.

SHARES
Total	7,000,000,000
The New York Stock Exchange has over 1300 members. Of these 680 are Banking Firms in active business. These should have an average 500,000 shares owned by customers. ALL THESE FIGURES ARE ESTIMATES	340,000,000
Mutual Funds	10,000,000
Banks, Insurance Companies, Labor Unions, and Closed-end Investment Trusts	10,000,000

Warner Williams Builds Telescope; Wins Award For Craftsmanship

An unusual hammer plated with 24-carat gold has been awarded to Warner Williams of the art department staff of Culver Military Academy by the editors of Mechanix Illustrated magazine. Mr. Williams received his Golden Hammer from the national science monthly in recognition of his superlative craftsmanship.

The magazine presents seven awards each month for the best projects submitted by readers. The awards are the coveted M1 Golden Hammers.

The award-winning project that won Mr. Williams his Golden Hammer was a ten-foot, Newtonian type reflecting telescope which was built over a three-year period. Most of the parts were obtained from random sources. The telescope has a focal length of 93.7 inches and 80 to 550 power magnification. It is featured in the March issue of Mechanix Illustrated. The hammer is a regulation-size tool and is designed for display, not for driving nails.

New Forms To Be Used In Assessing Personal Property

According to Union Township Assessor Eugene G. Benedict, the assessing of personal property will be made later than usual this year. In making the announcement Mr. Benedict stated:

"Do not be disturbed if your favorite assessor has not called upon you for your personal property assessment. He will be later than usual this year. The State Board of Tax Commissioners has prescribed all new forms to be used, and as of now these forms are not available.

"Deputy assessors are Ernest Carter, who will be assessing the rural area, and Edgar Shaw, who will be assessing in the town of Culver, and the Academy area. Also assisting will be Mrs. Edgar Shaw.

"As soon as the necessary forms are available, the deputy assessors will distribute the business forms along with instruction sheets and Regulation No. 16 to all business establishments in Culver and Union Township.

"This year it will be necessary to fill out all forms in full, including all questions asked, before they can be accepted by the local assessor.

"Every person owing, holding, possessing or controlling property in any capacity whatsoever on March 1 of this year, which property is subject to assessment in Indiana on this date, is required to file a personal property tax return by May 15 of this year.

"It is the obligation of all taxpayers to file a personal property tax return even though an assessing officer might have failed to issue assessing forms.

"A Ten Dollar ($10.00) penalty is imposed when a return is filed late. Also the penalty applies whenever a return is filed which is clearly improper or which makes no attempt to comply with the regulations.

"Please be courteous to your assessor, as his job is to assist you with your obligation."

File Mortgage, Soldier, Over 65 Exemptions Now

The requirements for mortgage exemptions remain basically the same. People who are buying on land contract cannot file, they must have a deed to the property and a mortgage on the property as of March 1, 1962, before they are eligible to file for a mortgage exemption.

In regard to soldier exemptions, this year checks are not accepted as evidence of eligibility to file. Those intending to file must have a certificate from the Veterans administration. The only exception to this is in the case of widows who have filed in previous years.

The requirements for the over "65" exemption were changed some by the Acts of the 1961 Indiana Legislature. One of the main changes is the requirement that the person be living in the premises for which the exemption is claimed. Another change requires that the gross income of BOTH husband and wife be listed. This income cannot exceed $2250 per year and must include all income without deductions.

The time for filing all the above listed exemptions is the same — from March 1 to May 7, inclusive.

W. A. Burpee Jr. Gives Valuable Gift To CMA

On Display In Memorial Library

A valuable collection of original documents and letters signed by kings and queens of England dating back to 1500 has been given Culver Military Academy by W. Atlee Burpee Jr., vice president and treasurer of the W. Atlee Burpee Company, internationally known seed growing firm of Philadelphia.

The collection of 40 items is currently on display in the Memorial Library at Culver.

Burpee, a 1913 graduate of Culver, has been interested in collecting antiques and historical documents for 40 years. In making the presentation to Culver, he said:

"History to me seems much more real when you have a letter or document signed by a king or queen dating back several centuries. I feel history might be made more interesting to students at Culver if they have these documents to study - realizing that the signatures are actually those of Queen Victoria or the Duke of Wellington."

The Culver collection was accumulated over a 30-year period by Burpee, who has made frequent trips to London to purchase original historical documents. His interest in history was generated 40 years ago when he acquired his first document, a letter by Queen Victoria. Since that time Burpee has collected American as well as English documents and letters, and many of these prized possessions have been given to various institutions including the Philadelphia Library, which received some original Lincoln letters; the University of Pennsylvania and the University of Delaware.

The gift is the third made to Culver in recent years. In 1960 Burpee gave the Academy a silver coin in common use during the life of Jesus and an envelope franked by George Washington during the time in which he was President.

In the new collection given Culver is a letter written by Rudyard Kipling and two Wellington letters, one of which deals with the famous Goya painting of the duke. The Goya painting was purchased for a price of $380,000 by an American and given back to the British. Last summer the valuable painting was stolen from the National Portrait Gallery only a week after Mr. and Mrs. Burpee had viewed it while on a trip to England.

Among the signatures that appear on the Burpee documents are those of Edward, Duke of Kent (1810); Queen Victoria (1841); William IV (1805); George III and William Pitt (1760); George IV and Wellington; Queen Elizabeth II (1945); Catherine II, Empress of Russia, (1785); Henry, Earl of Huntington, (1580); Frederick, King of Sweden (1852); Charles II (1628); and others.

Burpee has remained active in Culver affairs since his graduation, serving as vice president of the Culver Legion, the Alumni organization, for four years. He has served as chairman of the Philadelphia Culver Club, and is active in other civic activities. Burpee is president of the Philadelphia Flower Show, a director of the Philadelphia Library, and a Lieutenant Commissioner of the Valley Forge Park Commission.

Amond Building Badly Damaged By Fire Monday

Loss Estimated At Over $15,000

Fire of undetermined origin caused an estimated damage of $15,000 to $20,000 in the two-story apartment and business building owned by Frank E. Amond at 110 S. Main St. on Monday evening.

The fire was discovered at 7 p.m. and the Plymouth and Argos Fire Departments were called to assist Culver firemen as it was feared that the fire might spread to adjoining buildings. The Marshall County Emergency Unit was also present. Firemen battled for more than an hour to bring it under control and local firemen remained at the scene until after 10 p.m.

Gold Coast Industries, which manufactures fiberglass or aluminum awnings, door covers, patio covers and carpets, is located on the first floor of the building, along with an apartment occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Amond. Miss Bonnie Moose and Miss Joyce Lancaster occupy one of the upstairs apartments, Mrs. Edith Warren another, and Herbert Metzger resides in the third apartment.

Most of the fire damage was confined by firemen to the middle of the south side of the downstairs of the building where the blaze was discovered, but damage was done by smoke and water in the apartments and the remainder of the building.

The loss was partially covered by insurance.

Sam Schrimsher, a Culver fireman, and Pat McCarty, a volunteer, suffered severe hand cuts by broken glass in fighting the fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Forster are back in Culver following a Florida vacation spent in Fort Lauderdale.

The transient display advertising rate of The Citizen is only 7 cents per column inch.

By DAVID KELLY, Scribe

The first meeting of March was held in the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall with 18 Scouts present. Six committeemen were present for the Board of Review, uniform inspection, and installing the new patrol. Mr. Marshall Brown gave a talk on star constellations. Dale Crabb passed his Tenderfoot rank. Troop 290 welcomes two new members — John and Wayne Cook.

All Scouts who are going to the Chicago Boat Show should meet at the Church Saturday at 9 a.m., and bring a fee of 50c. All Scouts should also bring extra money for refreshments or a sack lunch for Saturday noon. We will be back home about 7 o'clock that night.

Next Monday we will have our usual opening ceremonies, then we will proceed to the Academy with Mr. Warner Williams to look through the telescope.

A swim meet at the Academy pool will be held March 21. Don't forget it!

A Tippecanoe State Park overnight will be held March 31 and April 1.

Fletcher and Tony Mattox are in charge of filling the bird feeders this week.

State Junior Rifle Match Held At Academy Saturday

Culver Military Academy's rifle team atoned for its loss of the Mid-Western Military Academies title Feb. 28 by repeating as Indiana State Junior champions in a big match held here Saturday.

Culver and Howe Military Academies swept all six of the titles but Culver won the important four-position team championship. The Eagle marksmen out-gunned Howe 1517-1512 to annex the title they won here last year. A week earlier both Culver and Howe lost to Marnion Academy in the Mid-Western academies match here.

Charles Maky, a Culver cadet from Detroit, was the big winner in individual competition. In addition to joining the four-position team winners, Maky also won the E.M. Ree four-position individual championship with a score of 485 out of a possible 500. Maky later won the individual standing title with 84 out of 100, while a teammate, John Fletcher, of Alpena, Mich., gave Culver another individual title in the individual prone

Bowling Tips...

KEEP THUMB AT 9 O'CLOCK FOR A HOOK

Ray Schanen of Milwaukee, one of the nation's top professional bowlers and Miller High Life bowling adviser, demonstrates how to roll a natural hook without any conscious twisting effort. It's done by keeping the thumb well to the left, or at 9 o'clock on an imaginary clock, from backswing to delivery. The thumb will leave the ball first. The other fingers, being on the side of the ball, will impart the spin necessary for a hook.

Professional bowlers agree that a hook or curve ball is preferred because its spinning action mixes the pins and leaves fewer splits.

Others on the Culver four-position team were Ed Taber, Darien, Conn.; H.H. Culver Jr., Clayton, Mo.; and Michael Gambel, Detroit.

Two Howe cadets, James Anderson and Fred Dearing, won the sitting and kneeling position titles respectively.

The match attracted 188 marksmen from 30 teams. Twelve major areas from the state were represented.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Riewoldt Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Eckman and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferrier. The evening was spent playing tripoly.

What's ahead for Indiana farmers in the decade of the sixties? Because farming requires long-time commitments, insights that help make the future less uncertain are helpful.

So, Purdue University agricultural economists analyzed the outlook to help farm families decide whether to go into farming, go ahead aggressively with their farm business or shift to greater reliance on non-farm income sources.

Looking at the Indiana situation with an eye on 1970, the economists summarize:

"Some 20 to 25 per cent fewer farm workers will be producing 15 to 18 per cent more farm products in Indiana in 1970 than in 1960; per capita net incomes are expected to be 17 to 22 per cent higher in 1970 than in 1960.

"Average earnings of commercial family farmers are likely to rise during the 1960s at a rate about equal to the rate of increase in earnings of non-farm people.

"Nationally, during the 1960s, only one farm-born boy in 10 will continue on the farm. In Indiana, one farm-born boy in six is likely to make commercial farming his career. . . For the other five, potential earnings will be greater in non-farm employment.

"Earnings of non-farm workers will continue to rise at least as rapidly as earnings of farm people - on the average. . . A proper balance, both with respect to farm surpluses and to the number of workers in farming, is not likely to be reached by 1970.

"Indiana's contribution to the nation's output of farm products may decline slightly compared with other areas. How much Indiana's share of the nation's farm output changes will depend on many factors, among them, our relative progress in the livestock industry, our rate of industrialization and the nature of public farm programs."

This analysis and forecast is detailed in a new Purdue agricultural extension service publication, Mimeo EC-235, "Intermediate and Longer-run Outlook for Farming in Indiana." It also contains tables covering the index of farm prices, income of U. S. farmers and alternative projections for Indiana agriculture in 1970.

Indiana residents may obtain a copy of this publication without charge from county agricultural extension offices or by writing the Agricultural Publications office, AES building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. A postal card is sufficient. Be sure to specify the name and number of the publication.

REDUCING CHECKED EGGS

Checking or cracking of eggs can occur from the time they are laid in the nest or wire cage until used by the homemaker. But much of the breakage occurs on the farm, points out David D. Jackson, Purdue University extension poultryman.

Chief causes of checked eggs on the farm, reports the specialist, are carelessness in handling, too much speed, failure to gather and often enough, equipment worn or out of adjustment, and faulty cleaning procedures.

Be sure to train workers how to gather eggs into filter-flats or egg baskets. This will reduce cracks.

When gathering eggs in baskets, don't put more than 10 dozen in each one. The way they are placed in the basket can be important too. Don't put all the eggs on one side so they will roll down to the low point. Place them so they are well distributed.

If eggs are to be washed, do it soon after gathering in water with a temperature close to, but warmer than, that of the eggs themselves; then cool the eggs immediately. Worn parts, which prevent proper movement of eggs through the washer, can also cause checks. Eggs are easier cleaned right after gathering.

Poultrymen who size their eggs on the farm can reduce checks by keeping the grader adjusted and not allowing eggs to pile up by rolling into one another.

Running equipment at rates faster than designed to operate often results in needless breakage, Jackson concludes.

If you feed hogs free choice, remember to supply mineral and salt free choice also, advise Purdue University animal scientists.

Many Projects Keep Grade Students Busy

By Carmen Greter and Judy Kimmel

Mrs. Barton's first graders took a tour of the shop and saw the boys working. (No, this isn't something new, because this group of boys does work.) On Valentine's Day this class had a party, and everyone's eyes brightened when they received one. These first graders have been finishing "The Little White House" by memorizing the two poems at the end of the book and saying the word list. The following people have done this: Teena Anderson, Carl Osborn, Paul Bennett, Kent Strang, Douglas Snyder, Connie Kelly, Karen Zechiel, Leslie Prouty, Jeffrey Venum, Joyce Von Ehr, Nancy Nicodemus, Sylvia Williams, and Linda Lee McKee.

In Mrs. Allen's class the students are painting big pictures with water colors. Everyone gets a turn, but they can paint only two at one time. Kent Davis treated his class to a birthday party because he became eight years old on Feb. 26.

Mrs. Carter's pupils have tried an experiment in science to show how light is reflected and also how the image at the back of the eye is upside down. They demonstrated this experiment with a reading glass, a candle, and a piece of white paper. In social studies the class learned about grains and what foods made them. The class has a display of small flags in their room. They have talked about the countries they represent. Steven Hartle had a birthday Tuesday, and treated the class to candy Easter Bunnies.

In Miss Mahan's class the following students received gold stars for perfect spelling this month - Kenneth Matz, Adella McEndarfer and Wendy Nelson. Silver stars were earned by Robbie Bolton, Joy Boog, Pamela Lehman, Mary Ann Lewis, Jan Price, and Jacquie Welsh. They have also had some subtraction races. The winners were: Adella McEndarfer, Charles Osborn, and Dennis Woolington.

Alice Keller's pupils are learning how to find the average of from two to six numbers in arithmetic. In Health they are studying about the ways their bodies make use of food.

The pupils of Mr. Smith's sixth grade tried an experiment in which they hung a paper bag from each end of a yard stick. The pupils noticed that the yard stick became unbalanced when a candle was placed under one of

Students Peer Into The Future

By Gloria Baker and Diane Boots

This week we asked the students of Culver High School what they thought some of the changes in the United States would be in the next 20 years.

Brenda Baker — There will be more and better schools for better learning.

Margo Overmyer — We will have passed the space age, and will be doing something which is unheard of now.

Lana Berger — We will be living on Mars or Venus, and spending our vacations on Earth.

Mary Jane Guise — There may not be a United States in 20 years!

Shari Croy — C.H.S. will have made into a Peppermint Lounge.

Janet Heiser — School will be on T.V. instead of in the classroom where we have to go now.

Karen McDonald — Most everyone will be lazier than they are now.

Tom Boswell — I'll be the President. (Of what?)

John Benedict — I think that the country will be more socialistic and that ambition will be the dominant factor of life.

Jim Carter — There will be great advancements in the scientific world, and perhaps there will be advancements toward world peace.

Paul White — Men will be exploring Mars.

Carol Overmyer — Man and the moon.

Janet Branaman — Everything will be operated by pushing a button.

Patty Miller — The songs will be wilder! (How can they be much wilder?)

These may be some of the changes in the United States, but whatever happens let us not let our country become a place like those spoken of in Brave New World and 1984. If you haven't read these books, do so because we should know what might happen to our own United States of America.

Shadow Kept Busy With Evasive Victim

By B. J. Lawrance

Bang, slam, crash, what is that noise? It is coming from the bottom floor. Oh! It's my victim trying to close her locker, which is a great chore for this gal.

Well, as I approached her this morning, she was enjoying a conversation with guess who (?). Chuck, naturally. She seemed to be quite happy. After waiting for a few moments for my victim, we climbed the steps just making our first class before the bell rang, whew!

During English class, my victim listened to Mr. Graham, exchanged gossip, and doodled on paper. My what queer creatures she drew - quite the ole artist. Before I could say anything, my victim was out of the chair, and roarin' down the hall. Beep! Beep! This was all I could hear.

In her second period class, French class, she was acting the same as usual by listening to Mrs. Smith, and exchanging a few words with Pat Kline. When the bell rang, she said her farewells to Pat, and was off to the third period class.

During this period, she has the honor of being the only girl in the study hall. Boys, boys, boys! That calls for less studying and more talking and watching. This girl has really got an eye for the opposite sex. As the hour came to a close, my victim was up and ready to go.

Between classes, I noticed my victim talking to John Benedict in the strangest tongue. It sounded like a sheep; by gum, it is sheep talk. From what I gathered the conversation ran in a steady Baa-a-a-a and Ya-a-a-a! I guess I've heard everything now.

During the fourth period, my victim seemed to be enjoying herself, because she was talking to Mike Overmyer, Chuck Reed, and Tom Curtis.

At noon I saw my victim leave with Pat Kline and Carmen Greter for the big town of Culver. They departed in Pat's car, "Coquette."

When they finally returned, my victim was in a "glorious" mood. She mentioned something to me about going to Plymouth, and right away I was ready to go. Then she informed me that the trip was to be made after school.

Fifth period she concentrated on her History Unit Test, which was pretty difficult. After handling it in, she seemed to be relieved.

During her sixth period class my victim went scampering off for her Art II class. Amazingly enough, she listened to Miss Freeman.

Eighth period finally rolled around, and it was off to Sunshine. In Sunshine the Juniors put on an act. It was "How You Shouldn't Act in Class."

When the bell finally rang, I met my victim, Carmen, and Pat, and off we went to Plymouth.

Well, if you haven't guessed my victim, you should have, because it is Judy Kimmel. Watch out for those dark corners, roads, and rooms because the Shadow may be near one of them.

Winter Concert Next For Band

The Senior Band is preparing for three performances and the members are working very hard. Their first performance will be their Winter Concert on March 18, in the High School Gymnasium. For this concert, the band has prepared a large variety of music.

Next on the calendar, after the Winter Concert, is the Band Contest on March 24. We expect to see a first on their comment sheet from the judges. Then, the Senior Band will play in the County Music Festival on April 27.

Seventh Graders Make Puppets and Write Script

By Shari Croy

The seventh grade is very busy writing plays, making scenery, and designing puppets. When each play is finished it will be performed for some of the classes. The project has just barely gotten under way, so you'll be hearing more about it in following weeks.

The fifth grade is finishing their stuffed animals and they are very colorful. Some of them are hanging in the art room, and will soon be seen at the library.

Juniors Selling Tickets For Ham Supper March 17

By Anna Lutz

Why are the Seniors hurrying around and asking if anyone has change? Well, they are now finding out how expensive it is to be a Senior. They have to make their final payments on invitations, as well as, their caps and gowns. As of March 1, there are 40 school days until the Senior Trip. Don't worry, they haven't lost track.

Have you bought your tickets, yes, we mean tickets, for the Junior Ham Supper? If not, you can purchase them from any Junior, because the class held a meeting on Friday, March 2, and tickets were passed out and territories were assigned.

Coach Cox Issues Call For Spring Track

By Dave Frain

Monday, Feb. 26, was the first call for all interested participants in varsity track. About 20 boys turned out to enroll in this fine sport, under the leadership of Mr. James Cox. Junior High track will be started at a later date.

A new program has been started in the athletic field this year, this is spring basketball. This is for the benefit of those who will be participating on the basketball teams next year. It will be under the direction of Coach Cresley, who will give the boys tips and pointers to work on over the summer.

Writers Ponder Space Flight

By Nick Knoerzer and Beverly Thomas

What if Colonel John Glenn had not made it off of the launching pad at Cape Canaveral? The Russians would have gained considerably over the free world. By broadcasting the flight to the world the United States proved its confidence in not only John Glenn, but all of those connected with the flight. Also, by televising the flight the United States proved to the East that an actual flight was taking place, whereas with the Russian project no one knows for sure that such a flight really took place.

What if the world were square instead of round? If it took the Friendship 7 from the west coast to Florida to get stopped, look at the time it would have lost slowing down for the corners. At the speed it was traveling it would scarcely get started before it would have to slow down to turn a corner. The amount of money involved would have been far greater than it was.

I wonder how Glenn felt on his two miles per hour trip from the White House to the Capitol after the 17,530 miles per hour at which he hurtled through space as the first American in earth orbit. After his space flight it probably seemed like a snail's pace.

All kidding aside; Colonel Glenn's space flight was just a minor part of the preparation for the still greater things to come. Information gained by the flight will prove invaluable in further space probes. The President hopes to have a man on the moon by 1970. At this rate space travel will be a common thing by the turn of the century. Space flights will be as regular as air plane flights are today.

I'm sure we all agree that Colonel John Glenn is out of this world, but in his words, "There's no place like home."

What's This World Coming To?

By Tom Vocora

This week our Person to Person interview was with Paul White, a very outstanding sophomore boy. This blue-eyed boy stands 5 foot 8 inches tall and weighs 150 pounds.

Paul is an excellent athlete, and has always been in top condition. Here is how he does it. He has an inner-school sport for every season, besides being an ardent sportsman. In summer, baseball keeps him occupied as it has for two years. He usually catches, but he has played center-field on occasions. He holds a batting average of .315 from last season. When fall rolls around, he plays fall baseball, although annually he runs in the cross-country meet, thus beating several major letter winners. This is something which required more than training, for baseball training is completely different from cross-country conditioning.

Paul has been playing basketball for five years, and last year he was a regular Varsity starter. He can, and has, played all positions.

This year he will be out for his second year of Varsity track. Last season as a freshman, he ran the mile race and was a member of the mile relay.

Even with an athletic record like this, the finer arts need not take a back seat. Paul is an accompanist in music. He has played piano, as I'm sure many of you know, for ten years, playing at sappers, weddings, and other occasions. He has been playing the saxophone since the fifth grade. First he played in the Elementary Band, then Junior Band, and finally he played in the Senior Band. He also participates in High School Choir, generally singing bass.

In addition to his music ability, Paul is on the Honor Roll, and is in National Honor Society. He is in his seventh year of 4H, and is a Hi-Y member.

Besides all his various achievements, Paul has a great personality, and many friends (roughly, about everyone he meets.)

The next time Grandpappy says, "What's this world coming to," give him this example.

Hand Of God Is Discussed

God's Hand in Nature

By Paul Cromley

This theme was written by a Junior to fulfill an English class assignment.

He who, from zone to zone, Guides through the boundless sky thy certain flight,

In the long way that I must tread alone,

Will lead my steps aright.

The hand that guides all life, the formation of minerals, all animal life, and plant life, is the hand of God. God leads the birds on their flights when migrating and gives them the instinct of where to go. He also guides them in building their nests and raising their young. He guides men through times of trouble and hardship.

When we are born the Lord gives us parents to take care of us until we are old enough to take care of ourselves. They teach us what is right and wrong, and how to do things. We are guided and trained by our parents. They are guided by the hand of God and they teach us about Him when we are old enough to understand. From then on we are guided by Him throughout life. When we are ready to go to school we see that there have been people inspired by God who saw the need for public education. Then when we go to school we learn many things about the founders of our country and how they were guided in their decisions by the unseen God in whom they trusted. Also, we learn about the great inventions and discoveries God has made possible for man to make. We learn about the great Presidents in our country and their great trust in God.

Early we learn that God is a great leader of men. For example, God led the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt. He sent a number of different plagues on the people of Egypt, because Pharaoh would not let the children of Israel go. Finally when God smote the first born, of all the Egyptian families dead, Pharaoh let them go. When they got to the River Jordan they looked back and saw that Pharaoh's army was pursuing them. God told Moses to strike the water with his cloak and they could cross on dry land. Moses did this and the children of Israel crossed on dry land, but when the Egyptians started to cross, the water closed on them and they were drowned. God then guided them through the desert with a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night.

Thus we are taught over and over again that God has guided men who followed him and he will until he comes again. God has a ruling hand over all nature and mankind.

Well - here we are back for another account of a thrilling week at C.H.S. I'm sure everyone has been absolutely overcome with joy at the beautiful spring weather we've been having (dripping sarcasm). On referring to the weather, there has recently been a new club formed by some of the Senior Girls - The Spring-Will - Never - Come - In - Culver Club.

There is a question mark in some people's minds about the black and blue mark on Diane Boots' cheek. While on the topic of serious injuries, John Crum has been seen limping on crutches around the halls due to a cracked ankle. Mr. Lawson feels that if a stranger came into the school building he might think it was a hospital.

The Sunshine Dad's Party took place Friday, March 2, in the gym. The theme this year was a gay Italian festival with the title "Ballo Partito." It proved to be an enjoyable evening.

The Sunshine meeting Tuesday was literally one big riot. The various classes divided into two teams, each team demonstrating the do's and don'ts of how and how not to act in a movie, classroom, or in everyday conversation. The "don't" teams were better, mainly because they were more experienced in this field.

Seniors, only 40 more school days until the Senior Trip!

There's a rumor going around that Tom Boswell's nickname has been changed to Joseph. It seems that the name is associated with the wildly colored shirt he wore to school this week.

Ha! We have a nature lover in our school! At least that's what she says. Someone caught our "Jane" lurking in the Bird Sanctuary one evening. Guess what she was doing. You are right, she was "bird watching." Jane is another name for Carmen Greter.

The snow flakes are becoming so thick that I fail to see the smoke signals, so until next week this is the end.

Manners Discussed At Sunshine Society Meeting

By Glenda Dawson

Now that all of the basketball games are over, it seems that the Booster's Club has settled down to wait for another exciting season in sports.

The Sunshine Society had a meeting on Feb. 27, in the recreation room to discuss the Dad's Party which was March 2. After the regular meeting, Beverly Thomas put on a program for the girls. The topic was "Manners," and this topic covered many categories.

The W-V boys are busy planning a party which is to be held on March 30, at the National Guard Armory. We hope this party is a success!

Examine frequently the litter round broiler house feeders for wasted feed, advise poultrymen at Purdue University. In spite of low boiler prices and relatively high feed costs, feed wastage is still one of the biggest leaks in broiler flocks. Common causes of waste in feed are troughs more than one-third full of feed, improperly adjusted hanging feeders and carelessly tended mechanical feeders.

The Medical Care Story

If something is said often enough, legions of people will come to believe it — whether there is any truth in it or not.

That seems to be the case with the cost of medical care. There is widespread belief that it has soared out of all reason.

That belief is factually refuted by the authoritative Commission on the Cost of Medical Care of the American Medical Association.

We Americans, to begin with, spend only 6 cents of every budget dollar on medical care. By way of comparison, we spend nearly as much for tobacco and liquor, an equal amount for recreation, and twice as much on transportation.

Now take the three most important items in the medical care dollar — physicians' services, drugs and hospitals. In 1940 the doctors accounted for 30 cents of the dollar, in 1950, 28 cents, and in 1960, 25 cents. So the doctor's share has substantially declined.

The drug share was 21 cents in 1940, 20 cents in 1950 and, again, 20 cents in 1960. So it has shown a slight decline, even though many more drugs, and far more effective drugs, are available now than 20 years ago.

This leaves the hospitals. Their share of the dollar rose from 18 cents in 1940, to 23 cents in 1950, to 26 cents in 1960. The increase resulted from the fact that more services are demanded and given, and that labor costs, a major element in hospital administration, have steadily risen. In many instances, the increased day charges are much more than offset by sharp reduction in the time a patient must now spend hospitalized.

That, briefly, is the medical story. It's hard to see how it can shock anyone.

Raymondville, Texas
Editor, CITIZEN:

There being no previous mention of the passing of my very good friend and former fellow employee at the railroad station, am enclosing clippings sent me by the wife of Jack V. Sowers who has many friends in Culver.

Mr. Sowers was the clerk operator at the old Vandalia station when I came to Culver as agent in 1917.

The Jan. 9 to 12 freeze created vast damage through out the Valley. A friend with an 80 acre citrus grove is now uprooting about 55 acres of grapefruit trees that were too badly damaged to survive. He told me his loss would exceed about $24,000. When I came here Dec. 30 the orchard was filled with golden fruit ready for the market.

We have had some very nice weather here and some of the worst. About a week ago it was 92 and the next morning down to 40 when a norther blew in.

A TO Z — The index of cities and towns in the latest Indiana official highway map shows that Aberdeen in Ohio County holds the lead-off position and the list closes with Zulu in Allen County. The Zionsville Times had reported that "for the first time" Zionsville had lost last place in the listing but research showed that Zulu had been last for several years. The Times still contends, however, that Zionsville, a Boone County town, is the last incorporated town in the alphabetical listing and in this it is correct. Zulu is unincorporated. Aberdeen, holding top position, is also known as Bascom but the index lists it first ahead of Abington, a Wayne County town.

IMPARTIAL — Bill Brooks, columnist of the Lafayette Journal and Courier, reports that when Rep. Charles Halleck of Rensselaer came to Lafayette recently, he made the trip in an Oldsmobile driven by Monty Ford who runs the Cadillac-Pontiac agency in Rensselaer. Brooks said that Ford, in discussing the coincidence of several names of motor cars, "didn't Dodge the issue."

DO DROP INN — Two men flying in a helicopter over Ripley County landed in the parking lot of Tom Ogden's drive-in restaurant at Osgood, had lunch and took off. Ogden said it was the first time he had fly-in customers.

TIMBER — Hoosierland can't quite match in size California's giant redwood trees but just the same it has some pretty fair sized timber. Frank Rose recently cut a big Burr Oak on the Harry Fisk farm in Dekalb County a mile and a half north of Waterloo. "It was the biggest log I ever hauled or expect to haul," said Rose. The bottom log, 26 feet long, measured 4 1/2 feet through at the base. The middle section, 20 feet long, had a diameter of three feet, and the top log, 10 feet long, was 35 inches in diameter. The whole tree produced 3,765 feet of lumber. The three logs were trucked to Redkey, Ind., to a boat manufacturing plant.

Why not clip this and send to a serviceman or army displaced Hoosier?

myer, Mary, Violet and Debbie, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Crow of Plymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cooby.

INDIANA's trucks provided $50,922,000 in State Highway Use Taxes in 1959. That was equivalent to 73.3% of the total costs for all work on state administered highways, yet Indiana's trucks total only 16.9% of total motor vehicle registrations in the state.

MAYOR STRIKES OUT — At the end of a hectic session of the Batesville City Council at which Paul L. Lindenmeyer, the city's mayor, had been subjected to some questioning, a reporter for a metropolitan newspaper, who had been interviewing Batesville residents on the probable outcome of the forthcoming World Series approached. "Who's going to win, the New York Yankees or the Cincinnati Reds?" asked the reporter. "The Reds will win in seven games due to better pitching," said the mayor and, he added, "Thanks for asking me something I can answer." The Yankees won in five games.

BY THE HEAD — A document 145 years old, owned by a Crawfordsville woman, Mrs. Bina T. Sarver, reveals the pay of school teachers in pioneer days. It is a contract made by her great grandfather, Fleming Davidson, to teach in the Montgomery County schools in 1816, at the rate of $2 a pupil for a three-month term. Davidson started with 20 pupils, thus receiving $40 for the term. The contract also provided he could be paid in wheat at the rate of 50 cents a bushel, pork at $3 a hundred weight and beef "at the common weight price."

WAY OVERDUE — The school librarian at Wakarusa (Elkhart County) arched her eyebrows when Brenda Coenen turned in a book, "Glimpses of Langfellow." The librarian noted that the book had been taken out Sept. 27, 1915, and thus was 46 years overdue. At the rate of two cents a day the fine would amount to $335.92. The fine was forgiven, however, when Brenda explained that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coenen, Route 3, Elkhart, had just found the book while steaming the shelves of a home job when they moved five years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. David Smith and children spent Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Snyder and daughter.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Man" is the Golden Text from Psalm 100: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture."

One of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 265): "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual. — they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite. — in order that sin and mortality may be put off."

IN LOOKING OVER OUR EVERGROWING HERITAGE...

THE NORTHEASTERN STATES, THE CRADLE OF OUR COUNTRY, AND THE LUMBER INDUSTRY GREW UP TOGETHER. 331 YEARS AGO, IN 1631, THE FIRST COMMERCIAL SAWMILL WAS BUILT AT THE FOOT OF A WATERFALL IN SOUTH BERWICK, MAINE.

THE JOHN WHIPPLE HOUSE, BUILT IN 1640 AT IPSWICH, MASS., STANDS TODAY AS PROOF OF THE STABILITY OF BOTH THE BUILDERS AND THE WHITE PINE THEY USED FOR EXTERIORS OF THEIR HOMES.

WITH SOUND FOREST MANAGEMENT, MORE THAN A BILLION BOARD FEET OF WHITE PINE LUMBER IS NOW PRODUCED EACH YEAR IN THESE NORTHEASTERN STATES, (NEW YORK, PENNSYLVANIA AND NEW ENGLAND).

SOFT WOODS, SUCH AS WHITE PINE, ARE MOSTLY CONIFERS (EVERGREENS)

HARD WOODS, SUCH AS MAPLE ARE DECIDUOUS TREES, (SHED THEIR LEAVES)

CONSERVATION AND SELECTIVE CUTTING ARE STANDARD PRACTICES OF LUMBER COMPANIES IN THESE STATES.

ONE GOOD REASON WHY THE NORTHEAST IS FAMOUS FOR PRODUCING EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE IS THAT 23% OF U. S. HARDWOODS COMES FROM THE AREA.

oat variety, and Clintland 60 are the other two leading varieties. Other recommended varieties included are Clintland, Minhafer, Newton and Putnam.

Tomato and popcorn seed sources are also included in the 1962 directory. In addition, the directory includes variety descriptions, adaptation recommendations, performance trial information, seed standards, approved seed cleaning plant listing and other helpful information.

NEW FEEDER PIG CIRCULAR

Lafayette, Ind. Feeder pig production in Indiana is a profitable, growing enterprise, according to Purdue University extension swine specialists Richard Hollandbeck and James Foster. They add that the demand for top quality Indiana feeder pigs far exceeds the supply.

Much of Indiana is especially well adapted to feeder pig production, especially where the land is capable of growing good legume-grass pasture. Average to small-sized farms with minimum corn production can increase their volume of business with feeder pigs.

According to the specialists, efficiency, which affects profits in feeder pig production, depends upon good breeding, feeding, management, disease control and marketing.

In a new publication, Extension Circular 502, "Producing Feeder Pigs," Hollandbeck and Foster point out some of the proved practices that will help improve feeder pig production.

A copy of this circular may be obtained without charge by Indiana residents from county extension offices or by writing the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. A post card is sufficient.

Babson's Forecast

 outright 1,000,000,000
 Certificates of deceased or sick persons which are not "good delivery" 1,000,000,000
 Estimated Total 3,361,000,000

Analyzing This Seven-Billion Figure

Now let us form an estimate another way. Of these 7 billion shares about 3,500,000 are traded 5 days a week, or say 260 days each year (3,500,000 x 260) or about one billion shares in a year.

When we consider that for every seller there must be a buyer, and that the specialists cannot allow the sales to be quoted at too much of a spread, this is another brake on the sales. This is of itself a curb on a panic crash and is now being carefully watched by the SEC. Furthermore, if we take these 7 billion shares, less the deductions, and adjust same to the stock splits, stock dividends, number of population, assessment of real property, gross national product, and value of the dollar, these figures would be severely changed. The final result, however, would show that the percentages would not be materially changed.

Power Of Compound Interest

Now to my conclusion: The percentage of deductions indicates the possible percentage of cushions or curbs to any eventual crash, including legislation as to margins. The percentage of these "cushions" is increasing more rapidly than the total shares. This is due to a far greater public interest in investments and a greater percentage of money coming into the treasuries of mutual funds, insurance companies, labor unions, and savings accounts. Also important is the increased increment of compound interest, which applies mainly to the deductions. All the above means that although we will continue to have "bear and bull" trends (due to Newton's Law of Action and Reaction) — barring World War III, no reader of this column will see another stock market crash like 1929.

I cannot overemphasize the great importance of cumulative compound interest. At 6% money doubles in 12 years. Most of the deductible funds mentioned above will yield about 4%. This means that they are constantly increasing while the 7 billion listed common shares are not increasing in comparison therewith — probably around 2%. This means that the Dow Jones 30 Industrials are no fair barometer of what the 7 billion shares are doing. Certainly an expert investment advisor should ALWAYS be able to select some "growing companies" from the 7 billion shares now listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

SEED DIRECTORIES AVAILABLE

Seed directories listing sources of the newest recommended varieties and many widely used Indiana certified varieties and hybrids are now available at county extension offices, according to J. E. Douglas, certification manager at Purdue University. The newest Indiana Crop Improvement Association publication gives sources of certified oats, soybeans, tomatoes and hybrid corn.

Corn hybrids carrying stalk rot resistant inbreds are included. Among them are Ind. 219, Ind. 253, Ind. 428, Ind. 645, AES 705, AES 704, Ind. 654, Ind. 681, and AES 809. Highly blight resistant hybrids carrying Purdue-developed inbreds are Ind. 828, Ind. 872, Ind. 875, Ind. 874, and Ind. 851.

The directory also lists seedsmen who have submitted their own private hybrids for certification.

The newest soybean variety listed is Kent, adopted to southern Indiana. It was multiplied by 82 seedsmen on approximately 2,000 acres. Other leading varieties in certification include Clark, Harosoy, Laudarn and Shelby.

Sources of the new, highly disease resistant, Purdue-developed Putnam 61 spring oats are in the directory for the first time. Goodfield, a very stiff-strawed spring

President Of N.F.O. To Speak At LaCrosse

Members of the National Farmers Organization met Saturday night, at North Judson, and made some initial plans for the appearance of their organization's national president, Oren Lee Staley, to speak at an area meeting to be held at LaCrosse some time later this month.

The farmers attending the planning meeting represent six different counties in this part of Indiana. Representing Marshall County were Harold Miller and J. Dick Newman of Culver.

One local NFO leader at the meeting said, "We are trying to present an opportunity for all farmers in this area to become acquainted with their fellow farmers from surrounding counties."

The NFO maintains its national office at Corning, Iowa, and Staley, who has headed the organization since he was elected in 1956, is a farmer from near Rea, Mo., a small town in the northwest corner of the state. He is a family man, with a wife and three children, but now that NFO requires most of his attention and time, it is necessary for him to hire most of his farm work done.

According to Sam Thompson, a local NFO representative and farmer from Iowa, the organization is now actively signing farmers to a marketing contract in fourteen midwest states.

Thompson had this to say recently about his organization, "More than one farmer has been misinformed about the NFO by some individual who refused to understand, yet seems to know all the answers. Most farmers can begin to see how our program can work, once they attend a meeting and hear it explained."

The organization's program is centered around the signing of contracts with processors of farm commodities, produced by members of the NFO, intending to work toward the stabilization of farm prices and marketing conditions for the future.
