Babson Discusses Making Money With Only Ideas

Success Possible Without Capital

By ROGER W. BABSON
No. 1 U. S. Economist

Babson Park, Mass. — So many young people seem to feel that it is necessary to have some capital or a college degree or an important relative in order to start a business of their own. This week I wish to write about some acquaintances who started with only an idea; but who, with persistence, made a great success.

Curtis Publishing Company

My first job was with George

Horace Lorimer, editor of the Saturday Evening Post. He told me that Mr. Cyrus Curtis paid $10,000 for the Post, but could raise only $100 as down payment. I saw its circulation grow to over 6,000,000 copies, and — including the Ladies' Home Journal — the Curtis Publishing Company stock sold for over $100,000,000.

Roger W. Babson

Among the important people Mr. Lorimer sent me to interview was Thomas A. Edison. Mr. Edison told me that he had only five years of schooling and only $100 of capital when he started in business. With the help of Sydney Z. Mitchell and my cousins he built America's great electrical industry, based upon the incandescent light, the phonograph, the storage battery, etc., which Mr. Edison invented. All these came from ideas, as neither Mr. Edison nor my Chicago cousins had any money.

Other Well-known Names

I remember interviewing John Deere, who founded the farm machinery business when it seemed impossible to interest any farmers in machinery. I also interviewed Henry Ward Jones, of the Johns-Manville Company. He became interested in asbestos, believing that it had a great future as a building material. Clarence Birdseye, founder of the great frozen-food industry, was a personal friend of mine — a Gloucester boy, and later one of the trustees of the Gravity Research Foundation in which I am much interested. He asked me to buy some of his stock, but I didn't; later he sold out to General Foods for over $20,000,000. If I had bought his stock at $100 per share, I could have got $100,000 for each share. Bill Walker of Thermos Bottle fame, and Elisha Otis, who, with no capital and after many failures, founded the Otis Elevator Company, taught me lessons. I remember the Walter Baker story — how his family started their famous chocolate business in the kitchens at Dorchester, Mass. Charles Goodyear's idea of vulcanizing rubber was a similar "kitchen" illustration. Their only assets were a new idea and the persistence to develop it.

My father kept a drygoods store in Gloucester, Mass. Manufacturing and engineering did not interest him, though I was an MIT graduate. He urged me to go into merchandising; he would tell me the story of Rowland Macy, who started his great retail venture with a little "thread and needle" shop. Today, 175,000 shoppers a day visit Macy's in New York! His new idea consisted of elaborate window displays and original advertising, always marking the price of goods in the window and in the advertisement.

PTA Committee To Postpone Report On Consolidation

Since the County Committee on the Reorganizations of Schools has voted to postpone from May until November the vote on the proposed Marston Consolidation, the committee appointed by the Parent Teachers Association to investigate the advantages and disadvantages of such a plan will not make a report at the April meeting.

If the PTA so desires, the committee will continue its study so that it can report at a meeting prior to the November election.

CULVER FIREMEN QUENCH GRASS FIRE MONDAY

A 3:10 alarm Monday afternoon, March 26, sent the Culver Volunteer Fire Department to the area of the Carl Stubbs home located east of The Three Sisters Restaurant where a grass fire was burning. The fire was extinguished and no damage was reported.

Then there was the gal who thought she had a sure winner at the track. Her horse started at 20 to 1 — and the race didn't begin until one o'clock.

Robert McKinnis Buys Rector's Pharmacy, Inc.

Owned By Rectors For Over 50 Years

Robert McKinnis, 414 Liberty St., Culver, has purchased Rector's Pharmacy, Inc. at 104 N. Main St., from Josephine Rector and will take over management of the business on April 1. The store will be closed from April 1 to April 16, when it will re-open as the McKinnis Pharmacy.

Rector's Pharmacy, a prominent business establishment in Culver for over 50 years, was started by Nathan W. Rector in 1908. Management of the store was taken over by his son, Steffen N. Rector, and his wife Josephine, in 1938 and the latter has continued to operate the business since Steffen's death on April 2, 1955.

Mr. McKinnis, a native Hoosier, spent his boyhood in Otterbein, Ind., where he graduated from High School. He served in the U.S. Navy for nine years and later attended Purdue University School of Pharmacy, graduating in 1951.

Mr. McKinnis is well known in Culver as he was employed as pharmacist at the Culver City Drug Store for five years. Prior to coming to Culver he was employed for five years as Medical Service Representative for Hoffman-LaRoche, Inc., at Cedar Rapids, Iowa. For the past eight months he has worked at the People's Drug Store in Plymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinnis are the parents of two sons, three and six years of age, and are members of the Culver Methodist Church. Mr. McKinnis is a member of the Masonic Lodge, York Rite, and Shriners.

Mrs. Rector will retain ownership of the building and continue to reside in her apartment upstairs. She will assist Mr. McKinnis in the drug store for awhile, but her future plans are indefinite.

FLUSH HYDRANTS FRIDAY

Water hydrants in Culver will be flushed on Friday, March 30, starting at 1 p.m. according to notice received from the Water Department.

TIME CHANGED FOR CHS MUSIC PROGRAM

Dr. Otis R. Brown, Director of the Health Service Department of Marshall County Civil Defense announces that the next meeting will be held on Monday, April 2, at 7:30 p.m. at the Plymouth Armory.

Academy Building Model Cabin For Proposed Woodcraft Camp

This is an architect's drawing of the new cabin style accommodations for the Culver Summer School Woodcrafters to be constructed on the site across State Route 117. A working model, pictured with protruding beam and carved animal head, will be built next month in the present camp for testing purposes. The new models will be ready for use in the summer of 1963.

The new cabins will house 12 boys in six decked beds with an extra room for a counselor. The cabin to be built in the present Woodcraft Camp area is being constructed for two reasons:

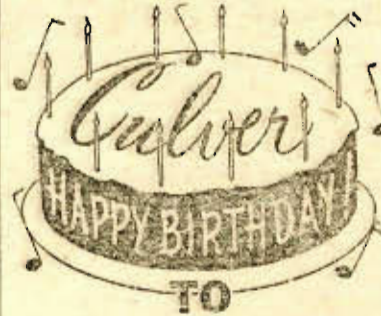

1. Test purposes. Preliminary use during the forthcoming session of the Culver Summer Schools will provide most efficient arrangement.
2. For display purposes. To inform Culver personnel, patrons, and friends on the type of facility to be used in the new camp.

Academy Business Manager, Col. William E. Covington Jr., expressed the hope the new cabin will be completed by May 18. Bids are being accepted presently for a possible move of the Woodcraft Council Ring from the Bird Sanctuary to a spot closer to the new site.

The old camp site will be torn down and the area will be landscaped. Possibly a new entrance to the Academy will be built from this area, but present plans call for the field to be used for athletics by both the Summer and Winter Schools. The area across Road 10 will also be used for recreation.

The new cabins have an extended beam that reaches outside the front of the building. For each cabin Charles Owen, history instructor, will carve a larger-than-life animal head from eypress.

The club voted to send an additional $18 to the state Junior Federation project which is a five-day tour of Indiana for 32 residents of the Fort Wayne State School. Announcement was made of the Marshall County Convention which will be April 3 at the Presbyterian Church in Plymouth.

The closing thought was given by Mrs. Richard Hoesel. Mrs. Bonine presided at a lovely tea table.

Thirteen members of the Maxinkuckee Junior Woman's Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Ted Strang for a group discussion on "The National Purpose." The local junior club is one of 15 Federated Clubs in Indiana and of 9000 separate organizations in the United States participating in this discussion program. James Cox presided during discussion and Mrs. Eugene Scott recorded the responses. Mrs. George Andrews and Mrs. James Cox assisted the hostesses.

The second and final meeting to complete this project will be held in the home of Mrs. Eugene Scott Friday, March 30. All members are urged to attend.

The residents of the Marshall County Home were entertained recently at a party given by the Maxinkuckee Junior Woman's Club and Girl Scout Troop 99. Punch and cookies were served and each resident was given a decorated jewelry box made by the second grade Brownies of Culver. The Girl Scouts presented a variety program of songs, instrumental and a dance, and concluded with group singing.

Girl Scouts attending were Bonnie Robinette, Kathie DeWitt, Susan Connelly, Kitty Llette, Jean Gross, Vickie McKinney, Susan Thews, Vickie Helber, Carin Manchester, Virginia Shidler, Lynn Mackey and Rita Lutz. Miss Lucy Osborn accompanied at the piano.

Tentative date of May 8 is set for inspection.

A social hour was enjoyed after lodge with Maybelle Reed, Alice Mikeseil, and LaVern Geiger serving as hostesses.

Gay Gretter, a student at Purdue University, arrived home Thursday evening to spend the spring vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Urban Gretter, and family.

Women Of St. Thomas Plan May 19-20 Art Exhibit In Plymouth

The Women of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, Plymouth, are planning what they believe to be the first art exhibition of its kind for this area. It will be opened to amateur and professional artists and is scheduled for May 19 and 20 in St. Thomas' Parish House.

Any man, woman, or child who wishes to exhibit an oil painting, water color, pastel, charcoal, ceramics, etc., is invited to send for an entry blank which contains the regulations under which the art exhibition will be sponsored.

There will be no judging of the works shown. The intention of the exhibition is to provide a place where artists may have the pleasure of showing their favorite works and where people in this area may have the pleasure of seeing them. The Women of St. Thomas' (a parochial organization) are not sponsoring it for profit and there will be no fee charged for those wishing to see the artwork.

The Pastor of St. Thomas', the Rev. William C. R. Sheridan, has encouraged the women of the parish to undertake this project. Father Sheridan pointed out that the Christian Church historically and traditionally has encouraged art and artists. He said that it is a matter of doctrine that all beauty and order to be found anywhere is the work of God, the Holy Spirit.

Those wishing to obtain an entry blank and a copy of the regulations are asked to write to Mrs. R. D. Morris, Box 445-A, Route 3, Plymouth.

Mrs. Patrick Hodgkin of Culver was recently installed as Secretary of the Women of St. Thomas.

Miss Nancy Clifton Honored At Bridal Shower

Mrs. Carl Foust entertained in her home Saturday evening at a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Nancy Clifton. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. James Grover, Mrs. Stan Handschu, and Mrs. Drisco Kreighbaum.

Games were played. After the bride-elect opened her many lovely gifts, the evening was spent socially. Refreshments of tea cakes, homemade ice cream, and punch were served from a prettily decorated table to 21 guests.

O.E.S. Auxiliary Enjoys Potluck

The O.E.S. Auxiliary met Tuesday evening, March 27, in the Masonic club rooms when 13 members enjoyed a delicious potluck meal before the business meeting. Hostesses for the affair and furnishing the dessert were Mrs. Paul Saft, Mrs. O. T. Smith, and Mrs. Hattie Krueger.

Mrs. Jack Spencer, president, conducted the business session and the remainder of the evening was spent playing cards. The Bridge prize went to Mrs. Evert Hoesel and Mrs. Max Fechner won the Flinch prize.

Mrs. E. W. Carter drew the mystery prize.

PRODUCTION RECORD

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of the following outstanding official production records by registered Holstein cows in this area.

Culver Emperor King Delia 4171322, a four-year-old owned by Richard and Clem Miller, Argos, produced 18,917 pounds milk and 744 pounds butterfat in 358 days.

Culver Emperor Dictator Belle 3595767, a seven-year-old, produced 21,859 pounds milk and 860 pounds butterfat in 360 days. Culver Pete Lieu Leona 4377698, a three-year-old, had 17,973 pounds milk and 685 pounds butterfat in 365 days. Culver Lieu General Jill 3975351, a five-year-old, had 15,038 pounds milk and 601 pounds butterfat in 365 days. All are owned by John A. Newman and Sons, Newman Holstein Farms, Culver.

In contrast, the annual production of the average U. S. dairy cow is generally estimated at approximately 7,000 pounds of milk containing 265 pounds of butterfat.

Purdue University supervised the weighing and testing of the new Holstein records as part of the breed's official herd testing programs.

START A NEW LAWN

You can start a new lawn now and have a beautiful green lawn by summer. However, you'll need to take special care, say Purdue University turf specialists.

Early fall is the best time to sow a new lawn since cool fall weather favors bluegrass growth. However, when grass seed is sown in the spring special care is needed to get the lawn off to a good start in order to compete with summer heat, crabgrass and weeds.

Add fertilizer before the lawn is seeded. Turf specialists say the fertilizer will help give the grass seed a vigorous start. Add 20 pounds of 10-3-7, or similar analysis, fertilizer per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. Mix it well into the topsoil.

After sowing good, high percentage bluegrass seed, rake the seed in lightly, then roll. Mulch if desired. Then, and this is important, keep the soil moist for three weeks after seeding. This will aid seed germination and help get the lawn established quickly.

BAND SEEDING BEST

Band seeding helps small grass and legume plants compete with oats and weeds in spring seedings, says Lester H. Smith, Purdue University extension agronomist.

The seed is placed just above the band of fertilizer through this method. When the seed germinates, the fertilizer helps it develop an extensive root system necessary to withstand drought and shade, he explains.

Too, band seeding saves time. One-half less grass seed and one-third less legume seed gives better stands than from broadcast methods. The saving in seed can easily offset the cost of converting a grain drill for band seeding.

Smith emphasizes that it's important to remove the drag chains from a drill that has been converted. The drag chains scatter the seeds away from the band of fertilizer.

Band seeding has been a popular practice of seeding for about 25 years, but many drills still need to be converted, Smith says.

BUTTERNUT SQUASH

Cucumber beetles don't seem to like Butternut squash as well as they do other varieties, a Purdue University entomologist reported today at the 17th annual conference of the North Central Branch of the Entomological Society of America.

George E. Gould found that in tests at Purdue's agronomy farm covering six years that striped cucumber beetles and spotted cucumber beetles were not attracted to the Butternut squash in great numbers. And the beetles that did attack this variety did relatively little damage. As a result, the Butternut vines survived at a higher rate and produced more squash than any other variety.

Gould's studies show that other non-susceptible varieties were Table Queen or Acorn and Kentucky Field. Varieties highly attractive to the beetles included the Hubbards, Sweetmeat, Marblehead, Buttercup and Zucchini.

Increase in yield from insecticide applications varied with the squash variety, the studies disclosed. Treated Butternut showed an average increase in yield of 16 per cent over untreated plants of the variety. On the other hand, the highly susceptible Sweetmeat and Marblehead turned in yield increases of more than 700 per cent when treated with an insecticide.

David L. Matthew, Purdue extension entomologist, presented Gould's paper at the conference.

Nitrogen fertilizer applied after the spring flush will stimulate midsummer pasture grass growth, say agronomists at Purdue University. Balance nutrition of the grass with potash as indicated by soil test. This will prevent toxic levels of blood ammonia in cattle grazing pastures heavily fertilized with nitrogen.

Pattern on a wall tends to bring the wall closer, observe Purdue University home furnishings specialists. Pattern in a bedspread or upholstery makes the piece of furniture seem larger and more conspicuous.

COMMUNITY HOME SCHOOL THE SCHOOLBELL

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOL

Best Citizen Has Balance

By Charlene Lucas and Thad Overmyer

As we were once more browsing through a 1932 edition of the Schoolbell, we discovered an article which "struck home" with us. We are going to print this article hoping that it may ease a few troubled minds. The writer of this article is unknown, but one of the 1932 Schoolbell reporters undoubtedly deserves the credit. Here is what he or she had to say.

"Which is more desirable - to be an 'A' student and take part in no activities, or to be a 'C' student and take part in everything you can? Most of us do not need to fear the first, but there are a few people of that type. Some students who were 'A' students in school made no friends, took part in nothing and consequently when they graduated had nothing but their book learning.

A person owes it to himself to make himself adaptable to others, to be able to meet people and get along with them. Books are wonderful; they carry you beyond the reach of your own four walls into a world of splendor and magic. However, real people are more interesting. School is the place to learn that. Join clubs, take part in plays, cultivate your personality. That is the way to enjoy living. Few of us are geniuses, but all of us are human. We must learn to live with people.

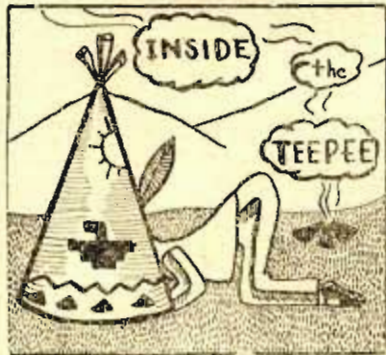

Let us try to get a good "all around education in high school. Let us not be partial to one or the other, but divide our time between books and social activities."

That was the advice. Today, with all the constant tension and pressure put upon high school students it is not hard for advisors, students, and especially teachers to forget the value of the social side of school. Today's serious minded student hears over and over, again and again, study, study, you have got to make good grades. You have got to make good grades or you will not make it to college. Over and over until many students can think of nothing else.

Of course we all realize the importance of working at our education. We all know we must be educated. We must study. But after all, with today's fast pace of living a person must have a little enjoyment. What good is getting the highest grades in school if that is all you get out of it? We don't intend to be giving any student the excuse to quit studying and working for top grades. We are just stating the importance of a happy medium. Therefore, when you students feel that the pressure of the present educational standards are about to drive you into a nervous breakdown, remember this advice: Get out and live a little! Your high school days are supposed to be the happiest days of your life. Chances are that after taking time out for a coke at the drug store with the "gang," learning those chemistry theories won't be quite so painful.

"A person owes it to himself to get a good "all around" education in high school. Let's not be partial to one or the other, but divide our time between books and social activities." This was the advice given out in the year 1932. It is still good today.

CRASH! . . . BOOM! . . . BANG! . . . drip . . . drip. Great thunder-bolts! What was that? Could it be our first spring rain or another April Fool's joke? I'm not going to make any great promises, but spring is on its way. Well, we can dream, can't we?

It seems that Janet Logan really rates. I understand she went to the show in Plymouth in a black Cadillac limousine. Some girls have all the luck.

What were five senior girls and a freshman girl doing on the airport road one dark night at 10:30 p.m.? For more information, ask Miss Logan — she was driving!

I sure hope spring comes around quick. It looks like everyone is having love problems, right and left. Don't get too discouraged girls, cupid will be around soon enough. But, it seems like two sophomore girls can't settle their own problems and must have outside expert help. Such as Ann Landers. How about that, Sharon McGaffey?

Cupid has maneuvered toward "some" people though. Such as — Martha Lowry is going steady with Ken Nelson from West High. Barbara Overmyer is seen again with Larry Linhart, and Karen McDonald has been seeing Pete Ott pretty steadily.

It seems Mr. Lawson's Chinese proverbs are getting out of hand, or at least Lana Berger thinks so. Why do they bother you, Lana?

Don't panic yet, teachers! Only eight more weeks left of school and then freedom, peace and quiet, and a long rest. Don't get too pooped, we need it just as much as you do. But at least it's something to look forward to. Heard that there is going to be a big Hi-Y party, March 30. Grab your man as soon as possible and have fun. I'm sure it will be a big success and a lot of fun.

My signals are diminishing and its last six big white puffs spell out spring. And its meanings are:

Greatest Aid To Civilization Choice Revealed

By Kathy Clyne, Martha McAllister and Vicki Lyons

This week's roving reporter probed into the minds of the students to find out who in their estimation has made the greatest contribution to civilization and why. Here are some of the answers.

M. R. Robinson — Jesus Christ. I believe my reason is obvious to all.

L. L. Lawson — The unknown hero who discovered FIRE.

Margo Overmyer — Dr. Tom Dooley made the greatest contribution by sacrificing his life to help other people better their lives. He has made the title of the United States a friendly and helpful name to people of foreign countries.

Pat Hick — Thomas Edison discovered the electric light bulb which contributed the electrical field to science.

Linda Shock — Henry Ford because of his putting a nation on wheels and making it possible for rapid progress in the country.

Pat Wesson — It is very hard to say one man has done the most to help civilization. I would say that the people behind men like Dooley — ones who give time, money and prayers are really doing the greatest service for man.

Janet Logan — All those people, rich or poor, unknown or famous, who have and have had faith in our nation's people, hope for the future and charity for all.

Elouise Tanner — I think the one field of people that have contributed to civilization are teachers. Because without them no one could learn of the things that made our world what it is.

Anita Yeazel — John Glenn, because he was risking his life to orbit the earth for science.

Tom Curtis — I have chosen Martin Luther because he ushered in the period when men began to think for themselves for the first time and started throwing off many of their ridiculous superstitions.

Carolyn Covington — Abraham Lincoln, he stood for justice, took harsh times along with the good times without any sign of cowardness. I believe he is one of the many great people.

Julia Furnas — No one has ever made the impression on civilization that Jesus Christ did. His coming caused men to ask themselves questions about where they are going and why — and what kind of life they wanted for themselves. These questions are essential for men to seek to progress.

Barbara Rosebaum — God because he gave his only son for us.

Janet Branaman — I cannot say just one person, but the men and women who came over on the Mayflower. I believe, made a very great contribution to our civilization, by being the first group to come to America and start the 13 colonies which would some day grow to become fifty states in the United States of America.

Sue Ruhnow — God, because without him I believe that the great men and women who have contributed so much to our civilization could not have succeeded.

Nancy Franz — I believe Christ

I — itch'en to do things
N — no more winter
G — green, green grass

Here are just a few meanings of spring to our C.H.S. Indians. Try to see if you can add some of your own thoughts to get the true meaning of spring. See you at the next turn of the month.

made the greatest contribution to civilization. Without him no one could stand, no matter how almighty they think they are!

Cheryl Dillon — Abraham Lincoln, because he made the United States a more democratic nation.

Bonnie Saft — John Glenn, because he was the first American who orbited the earth three times.

Tom Yocom — Adam, because he invented . . .

Manuel Briones — O'Henry because he is my favorite writer.

Elizabeth King — Wilbur Wright, he invented the airplane for transportation.

Barbara Bean — Henry Ford — he invented the car.

Mark Lowry — John Paul Jones — he helped America win the Revolutionary War.

Education Party Wins Grade Race

By Bonnie Good and Karen McDonald

Last Friday Miss Herr's first grade room celebrated Pamela Milner's birthday and St. Patrick's Day. Mrs. F. L. Babcock made a large cake in the shape of a green shamrock.

In Mrs. Carter's third grade Jimmy Hoesel had a birthday March 22. He was nine years old. Marshall is back in school after an absence of six weeks. We have learned the first fourteen lines of Paul Revere's Ride. Some children can say it individually and at times we say it in unison. We are having division and multiplication in the tables of 2's. Mrs. Carter is reading Guiver's Travels to the class.

The reporter, Carl Strang, for Mr. Conner's fifth grade class tells us they have been very busy lately. The planets, which they are making out of balloons, were started Friday. This class just finished holding an election for class officers. There were three parties; B.E.P. (Better Education Party, Lincoln Party, and Republican Party. The B.E.P. won. Our president is Terry Powers, vice president is Tom Osborn, secretary of treasury is Carl Strang, and our secretary of state is John Gabas. The president and the congress (Mr. Conner) have chosen a cabinet.

We have two bulletin boards in our room. Last week one's title was "The Far Western States." The committee for setting it up was Peggy Shel, Janet Zechel, and Sharon Thomas. The other bulletin board was "St. Patrick's Day." Its committee was John Garbas, Terry Powers, and Janet Heiber. This week, one bulletin board is "Spring." Its committee is Steve Thompson, Jerry Schrimker and Georganna Andrews. The other is "Sports." The committee is Jimmy Miraclo, Kerry Haenes, and Karen Banks.

The reporters for Mr. Smith's sixth grade are Karen Ruhnow and Christine Stevens. They say on March 13, two swallowtail butterflies hatched from their eggshells. One is fine, but the other never got the fluid into its wings to straighten them out. On Monday, March 19, a white moth left its cocoon. Some of us cut straws to make horns while studying sound in science. While Mr. Smith was explaining way to change sound, he made a cigar box guitar with rubber bands. After experimenting for awhile Jayne Bray played "Mary Had a Little Lamb." One morning Mr. Smith had everyone in the class say something and then put their head in a bucket and repeat it just like they did before. The purpose of this experiment was to see if different environments change the frequency of sound.

Projects Varied For Art Classes

By Nora Sheppard

The third graders in art are looking at pictures in which some objects look very near and others look far away. They are talking about what they can do in their own pictures to show space.

The fourth graders are working on pictures that feel. They are talking about the texture of different objects and then trying to convey the surface qualities of these objects in their pictures.

Mr. Conner's fifth grade is busy making models of the planets that will help them in a science unit. The planets are being made over balloons with paper mache, which will be painted with tempera.

The sixth graders are drawing people. Too often sixth graders avoid putting people in their pictures because they are too conscious of the comments of others as to the life likeness of the persons. In the sixth grade we are not trying to make a drawing of a specific person, but rather of the variations of proportions and shapes of people.

Junior Boy's Likes Revealed

By Carolce Easterday

On March 26, 1945, an eight pound baby boy was born at Parkview Hospital in Plymouth, Indiana. He had very little, if any hair. As he says, "I was born with a Yul Brynner hair cut."

He must have been a contented baby because he sucked his thumb. As he grew up he became interested in airplanes and he is still flying high today.

If this information does not help you decide who he is, I will present some more up-to-date facts about him.

Today he is a vivacious 6 foot, 2 inch junior boy who has black hair, hazel eyes, and tips the scales at 158 pounds. He wears a size 13 shoe! (Who needs to buy water skis?)

He says that he likes swimming . . . money . . . boats . . . food (all kinds) . . . basketball . . . cross country . . . cars . . . absent teachers . . . summer . . . and girls, especially rich, blond, smart girls! (He doesn't want much, does he?)

He dislikes themes . . . gum crackers . . . loud television or radio when he is trying to study . . . getting up in the morning . . . being volunteered (just ask the coach) . . . being hungry . . . people who won't buy tickets to the Junior ham supper . . . and little tykes who suck their thumb.

To further help you guess who he is, he says that his ambition is to study to be a doctor.

Have you guessed who he is yet? If not, he is none other than our own "Romeo" of C.H.S., Thad Overmyer.

Band Presents Fine Program

By Jane Ann Thomas

The senior band held its annual spring concert Sunday, March 18. The band played a wide variety of songs. For those who were unable to attend this concert we would like to introduce the songs played and tell a little about each selection so that you will have a better idea of the high grade of music that was presented.

"Aria and Fugue" opened the program. This piece was written by George Handel, who wrote a great many works for the organ, these two pieces were just such songs.

"Overture 'Eroica'" was written by Joseph Skornicka. This overture is based principally on two themes from Beethoven's Third Symphony. The overture is introduced by four stanzas followed by the theme in the lower woodwinds and baritone, with a light accompaniment in the clarinets. The second theme is introduced by the woodwind choir followed by the same theme played by the low brass.

"Anparita Roex 'Spanish March'" was written by Jaime Texider. "Russian Choral and Overture" by Merle Isaac. The folk music of Russia is immensely rich and varied, and holds a fascination for almost everyone. The Choral is from the "Album for the Young" by Tschalkowsky, where it is titled "In Church." The Overture opens with a lively tune, "At the Feast." It is followed by two more folk tunes called "The Brave Gypsy" and "The Wild Duck," both are ragged dance tunes.

Another selection was "Second Suite in F for Military Band" by Gustav Holst. The Suite has four movements, two of which were played by the band. The March which is the first movement includes the "Morris Dance," "Swansea Town" and "Claudy Banks." Fantasia of the Dargason is the fourth movement and it introduces the theme of "Green Sleeves."

"In a Persian Market" by Albert Ketelbey is about a market place where a beautiful princess enters and the people show her their talents. After the talents have all been shown the princess departs.

"Cowboy in Cuba" was written by Clara Grundman. This song is a calypso. "Joshua" by Paul Yoder is a tune based on the popular Negro spiritual, "Joshua Fit de Battle of Jericho."

"Fere Jacques March" was arranged by Jimmy Carroll is a French tune. In English the name is "Are You Sleeping?"

"Parade of the Charioteers" by Miklos Roza was from the presentation of "Ben Hur." This song mirrored in music all of the flamboyant pageantry of an ancient Roman sports spectacle.

"March of Youth," a concert march by Joseph Olivadoti concluded the program.

There were two special numbers in the program. One was "Tamborin," a flute quartet by Alexander Guillamain which was played by Jeanne Adams, Sue Cole, Pat Ogden, and Carolyn Snyder.

The other was "Memories of Stephen Foster" a brass sextette by George Holmes which was played by Mike Overmyer and Larry Lihart on cornets, Jane Ives on French horn, Tom Curtis on baritone, and Greg Yapp on bass.

Both of these groups got a first at district contest and went on to state contest. They have done a very fine job.

Many of the music members along with other students went to see the presentation of "The King and I" on Friday, March 28 at Concord High School. They all enjoyed it very much.

On Saturday, March 31, the County Percussion Clinic will be held in the Culver Band Building. Anyone who is interested may attend.

The High School Chorus and the Junior Band will give a concert on April 1. There will be solos by both groups and the chorus will separate and do a few selections.

Tickets for the County Music Festival on Friday, April 27 at the Argos gym, can be purchased from any of the members of the senior band. This is a big event and we hope to see you all there.

Seniors Anxiously Awaiting Trip

By Sharon McGaffey and Robbie Ogden

The seniors made the final payment on their invitations last week and are now anxiously awaiting their arrival.

The seniors who ordered tickets to see the stage play, "How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," have received word that the show is all sold out for the time the seniors will be in New York.

The seniors are all anxiously awaiting the trip. In preparation, they have been seeing movies of some of the sights they will see on the trip.

The juniors are patiently waiting to find out how much they made on their ham supper. They certainly did a fine job. These busy juniors have already begun preparing for the junior record hop. This hop will be held on April 13th. Everyone plan to attend.

HOOSIER HAPPENINGS

By Harold Hanson

ASTAY — A Parke County man, John Martens of Rockville, told The Rockville Tribune of his delay in getting a driver's license. Martens said he made application for a license and received the customary temporary permit. Weeks went by and his permanent permit never came. He went back to the auto license branch and had his temporary permit restamped. Months later, Martens said, he received a letter from a total stranger in California and in it was his permanent license. The stranger explained he had just discovered he had two driver's licenses—his own and Martens' which had stuck to the back of it. Martens was so pleased to get his license that he dropped the matter without further inquiry into the circumstances of the mixup.

A FINE TIME — The Scott County Journal reports that Circuit Judge Paul Tegart of Floyd County had a "fine time" when he visited Scottsburg. The judge left his car too long in a parking meter zone and got a ticket for overtime parking. He paid the penalty.

OLDIES — A South Bend man, Homer Fitterlin, collects old automobiles as a hobby. His collection of over 100 includes six Duesenbergs and one Packard Panther, the only one of its kind ever built. Fitterlin says old automobiles fall into three classes. Those classified as antiques are cars built prior to 1915. There is a vintage class that includes cars built from 1915 to 1930. Those built from 1930 to 1941 are listed as classics.

SERVICEABLE ANTIQUE — When Mrs. James Dyer of Monticello, music and art teacher in the Adams Township School, discovered an ancient, solid walnut desk in the janitor's room she so admired it that she sought permission to buy it. Instead, Paul Smith, the township trustee, had it refinished and gave it to her for use at the school. John Roller, 94, a retired teacher, recalled that the desk was in the school when he began teaching there in 1885. He is sure the desk antedated him by many years.

MALE AND FEMALE — Lowell Nussbaum, Indianapolis Star columnist, reports that when a beauty shop opened next door to a north-side barber shop the barber placed a "HIS" sign in the window of his establishment. The beauty shop proprietor promptly placed a "HERS" sign in her window.

BEFORE TRUCKS — An 88-year-old Putnam County farmer, O. A. Day, of Fillmore, recently recalled for the Putnam County Farm News his first trip to the Indianapolis stockyards with a load of hogs. It was back in 1898, Day said, that he loaded 20 hogs on an 18-foot hayrack bed wagon pulled by four horses and left his farm near Fillmore about five o'clock in the evening. The 40 mile trip to the Indianapolis stockyards was completed about 9 o'clock the following morning. The haul can be accomplished by a modern motor truck in about an hour.

KEEPSAKES — A new town hall and fire station is planned at Chesterton to replace the one built 59 years ago. The old building is to be sold but the purchase price will not include the big fire bell which once summoned volunteer firemen or the electric fire siren used in later years. The volunteers decided to keep both as mementos of their service. They will be installed in the new building.

FIT TO BE TIED — The North Vernon Plain Dealer says: "It seems as if the first thing a fellow thinks about when he gets in the Jennings County jail is not getting free but tightening the noose a little more." The newspaper reports that twice in recent weeks prisoners brought into the jail have been married in Sheriff Clyde Perkins' office with the sheriff "standing up" for the two couples.

HI-LO — The speech class of the Middletown High School in Henry County recently presented a play in the school gymnasium and The Middletown News in a review said: "The play, one of the best given here, showed to a rather small audience. An inspired copy reader wrote this headline: 'Performance High; Attendance Low.'"

Why not clip this and send to a serviceman or other displaced Hoosier?

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN INDIANA, folks heard reports of the gallant fighting of the 19th and 20th Indiana regiments against the Confederacy. Patriots all over the state toasted their army's bravery with foaming steins of beer.

For then as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. Beer still provides enjoyment for folks in Indiana, and a good living for the employees and suppliers of the Brewing Industry.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

The power and permanence of the Word of God will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday in a Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Reality."

Among the Scriptural passages to be read is this verse from Psalm 107: "He sent his word, and healed them and delivered them from their destructions."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this citation will be read (p. 335): "Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal. Nothing unspiritual can be real, harmonious, or eternal."

The Golden Text is from Isaiah (40): "The grass withereth, the flower fadeth; but the word of our God shall stand for ever."

Just Imagine!

An ad this size (1 column wide and 2 inches deep) costs only $1.40 per issue.

CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to acknowledge the many kindnesses and remembrances during the illness and death of our husband and father, Dunn W. Weaver.
THE FAMILY 13n

Words cannot begin to express our thanks to all our wonderful friends who remembered us during the illness and death of our Tom. We will always remember all of you.

To my many friends, neighbors, employees of The Culver Press, the Culver Rebelehs, and family who were so thoughtful of me during my recent hospitalization and convalescence at home, may I take this means of inadequately expressing to each of you my very deep appreciation for the many cards, letters, flowers, visits, and other tokens of remembrance.
TRULA McKEE 13nc

We want to take this means to express our deep gratitude and appreciation to our friends, relatives, and neighbors for each and every thoughtful kindness extended to us during the illness and passing of our loved one, Harry M. Thomas. Our special thanks to Reverend Chisholm for his help through this trying time. Each kindness will always be remembered.
MRS. HARRY THOMAS and FAMILY. 13n

The family of Carl Keller expresses their thanks and appreciation to everyone for the many acts of kindness extended at this time. To the many neighbors, friends, and relatives, Rev. Theodore Roberts, The Methodist Church, the members of the W.S. C.S., Mr. Perry Overmyer for the music, Dr. Eshelman, and the Kennedy Funeral Home for their courteous and efficient arrangements.

Use a solid guard around the baby chicks brooder throughout the first several days of brooding chicks to protect against floor drafts, advise poultrymen at Purdue University. Wire guards can train the chicks to recognize the source of heat, but a solid guard gives extra protection which is sometimes needed. 13n tisements. The other drygoods merchants thought this was undignified and would have nothing to do with it.

The Henry Ford Story

Mr. Ford himself told me that he was seven years in raising $100,000 after making his first Ford car. He had only one idea, but he stuck to it, without education or capital. However, those who invested $100 in the first Ford Motor Company stock ultimately were able to take out $1,000,000 for each $100 they invested. — all from an idea and perseverance. Opposite my father's drygoods store was a "Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea" store. My father would tell me about George Hartford, who opened the first A & P. His one idea was to cut out the middleman. He went to the wharf, where the ships from China came in, and bought his tea. Then he took it to New York in a horse and cart and sold it at retail, proving it was fresher and cheaper than any tea that could be bought elsewhere. From this one idea the company now operates over 4300 stores and employs 145,000 clerks, grossing over $5,000,000,000 from tea and groceries annually.

I could tell of Mr. Patterson and his wooden cash register; Whitecomb Judson and his "crazy" zipper; Mr. Borden, who made condensed milk; Mr. Gillette and his razor; and that humble pharmacist of Atlanta, Ga., who started the Coca-Cola Co. I ought to mention Minute Maid and the frozen juice products, and John M. Fax, who last year left this company to become vice-president in charge of sales for United Fruit and "do for bananas what he had done for oranges!"

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY, BORN 1849, GREENFIELD, INDIANA

HE became poet laureate of Indiana. He is one of the world's most famous literary figures. But, to his friends, James Whitcomb Riley was just "Jim"... a Hoosier who loved a good joke. But once his sense of humor got a little out of hand.

As a newspaperman in Anderson, Jim argued with friends that any sort of poem would be published and acclaimed if it were written by a well-known poet. To prove his point, he gave a poem he had just written... entitled "Leonanie"... to an editor friend in Kokomo who agreed to print it as "an hitherto unpublished poem of the lamented Edgar Allan Poe."

It became a sensation... discussed in papers in New York and other cities. But the hoax was finally exposed, and Jim's joke landed him in hot water. He proved his point, but he got fired for his efforts!

That was in 1877 when "Jim" was just starting on his career. And, that same year, another "career" was beginning... Indiana's first telephone was installed. The wires were only a few blocks long, one had to shout to be heard, but it worked!

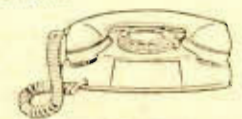

From that one crude instrument, telephony in Indiana has grown to over one million Indiana Bell phones today... an indispensable communications network.

The 8,000 Indiana Bell employees, and the 21,000 Hoosiers who share in the ownership of the Bell System can be proud of their contribution to the world's finest, most advanced, communications services. And they will be prouder still of the remarkable developments that are coming soon to benefit all Americans.

THEN and NOW

The early phones were crude, temperamental, and hardly things of beauty! A far cry from the new Princess Phone now available from Indiana Bell. It's little, lovely, and it lights up! For your desk, chairside table or bedroom.

Academy Sports

Culver Military Academy won its second of a five-meet indoor track season Thursday when the Eagles defeated Hometown and Warsaw in a triangular contest here.

The Academy scored 79 points, Warsaw finished second with 36 1/2 points, and Hometown was last with 21 1/2.

The triangular victory came only two days after Coach Dave Burke's team scored its first victory of the season in a six-way competition. Culver finished far ahead of the field with 50 points, and the remaining teams were: Chesterton (27 1/2); Washington-Clay (25 1/2); Peru (22); Loganport (21 1/2); Bremen (17 1/2).

Bill Borkenstein, who will win three varsity letters this year, was the big winner in the triangular meet. He won both the 50-yard dash and the 45-yard low hurdles, and he won a third place in the high hurdles. The Fort Wayne flash also joined the victorious eight-lap relay team. Another highlight of the meet was a victory scored in the broad jump when Culver's John Keehn hurdled 20 feet, nine inches.

In the six-way meet, Culver piled up its winning advantage with a number of seconds and thirds.

The Academy's next track competition is the first outdoor meet of the season here April 7 against Fort Wayne Central.

NIPSCO Bills Higher Due To Colder Weather

Spring has arrived — "officially" — but March's cold, wet and blustery weather still reminds residents of a long, icy winter which seems to be hanging on for dear life. "That was an old-fashioned one, to be sure," says many a winter seasoned oldtimer.

Proof to back it up comes from weather conscious gas dispatchers at Northern Indiana Public Service Company who report that this January was about 13% colder than the same month in 1961, and February was almost 28% colder than February a year ago. Over all, the weather during the first two months of this year was almost 19% colder than last year.

"No one has been more aware of the extremely low and severe periods of cold weather than we have," said John E. Nikoloff, Plymouth district manager for NIPSCO. "Our company's 310,000 gas customers used 514,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas on our 'peak' day this year — 103 million more than last year's peak."

Nikoloff pointed out that prolonged periods of zero and sub-zero weather mean increased heating costs. "This is why northern Indiana residents have been noticing that their present NIPSCO service bills are higher than those of a year ago."

The NIPSCO manager also explained that other weather factors — such as wind velocity and direction, sunshine and snow — also affect heating fuel consumption. "No matter what kind of fuel has been used, the cost of heating this winter is bound to be considerably higher — dollars and cents proof of a long and hard winter," he added.
