Babson Says Some Railroad Stocks Are Attractive

More Mergers Are Ahead

By ROGER W. BABSON
No. 1 U.S. Economist

Babson Park, Mass., Investors are like flocks of sheep. They run all together and blindly follow a leader. It was not many years ago that investors were enthusiastic about railroad stocks; now they are dumping such stocks indiscriminately. They are putting their money into armament stocks that are largely dependent upon government contracts which must come toward an end.

Importance Of Diversification

The wise investor will not only diversify among many industries — railroad, chemical, oil, gas, and public utilities, etc., but should keep his investments fluid and remember that each classification is growing either better or worse. Hence a few airplane stocks are advisable; and a few shipping stocks. Certainly Greyhound should not be forgotten. But don't have too much invested in any form of transportation.

Without doubt the passenger business of railroad is coming to a virtual end, except where subsidized by the Government. Short lines should be avoided; also lines subject to severe water competition. Certain of the rich railroads, such as the Union Pacific, are still advertising passenger business; but they are paying for the loss from their passenger business by their oil, gas, and other mineral investments along the right of way which they own.

Many More Mergers Are Ahead

This is because if the automobiles and good roads had come before the railroads, only about a third of the present railroad mileage would have been built. It is one thing to argue in favor of mergers, and it is another thing to reason with labor. Labor appears to have no regard for the nation's welfare.

The basic reason why investors should be shy of railroad investments is because of the attitude and power of labor. It is not only necessary to eliminate "featherbedding," which everyone, except the politicians, believe to be wrong; but labor insists on dictating as to mergers, passenger rates, pullman equipment, and even train schedules.

Bangor & Aroostook Experiment

I believe the most forward-looking railroad president in the country is W. Gordon Robertson, head of the Bangor & Aroostook Railroad, which runs from northern Maine southerly to tide-water. It once prospered greatly by hauling wood and pulp, and later newsprint. It also prospered from the great potato industry of Northern Maine. President Robertson realized that he must have the most efficient rolling stock to make a profit during the seasons when this freight was hauled, but he also devised a plan of renting the road's most modern diesel engines in the off seasons.

Even under the most efficient operation, his railroad could not compete with trucks. He therefore turned to a very original plan: He organized the Bangor & Aroostook Corporation, which owns 90% of the stock of the railroad company. This new corporation

A Message For Memorial Day

We Will Not Forget

by His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman

MEMORIAL DAY! Our prayers of gratitude incense the heavens for those whose lives have bought our freedom upon the altar of war's cruel sacrifice. Forget the valiant dead? We can not breathe one breath or live one moment which has not been bought by their heroic blood. We can not, we will not forget.

But what of the living heroes, the four million who wear the wounds of selfless struggle, the living veterans disabled for our sake, who daily die the living death of pain? Shall they have no part in our remembrance on this hallowed day? These are they who with virile valor faced the advancing foe, with calm courage stood their ground, with forthright fortitude bore the wracking wounds—and won the victory that America might live in the wholeness and unity of freedom's peace. These are the four million who rode into the valley of death and endured the maiming blows of bitter conflict that the wounded world might be healed by the blessed balm of liberty.

With sorrowful heart often have I seen them—those once crushed upon the battlefields of Europe, broken upon the broad Pacific's isles, torn asunder on Korea's heart-breaking hills. Proudly they will carry their scars of battle to the grave, yet wonder they must at our unmindfulness. Shall they, then, be forgotten on this day of memories? Shall they who bled to save us all not know the thanks and help of those they saved?

America, God-blessed land, embrace your injured soldier sons. In the blessed Name of Christ, Whose wounds were borne for us, hold out your hands to console, to strengthen, and to heal our veterans disabled by the brutal strokes of war. Take to your heart those whose hearts poured out their purple blood for us, for peace, that freedom's holy light might never dim.

MARIZETTA ROBINSON

The Tri Kappa Sorority is happy to announce that Marizetta Robinson, daughter of Mrs. Elias Stapan, and the late Harold Robinson, has been named the recipient of the Tri Kappa general scholarship. The scholarship is awarded by the state chapter of Tri Kappa.

POOR DOBBIN' — One out of every four trucks and one out of 16 passenger cars are used on farms — a total of 6,450,000 motor vehicles working for agriculture. Farm output per man hours is almost four times greater than in 1920 — due in large part to mechanization and the use of motor vehicles.

C of C Plans For Fall and Winter Promotions

The last meeting of the Union Township Chamber of Commerce before the summer vacation season, was held Monday, May 28, at the Culver Inn. As usual it was a luncheon meeting. The Chamber will reconvene in September.

During the business session of the meeting, the Chamber again voted to support, financially, the Girls State, which is sponsored by the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary. Three girls, Cheryl Dillon, Carolee Easterday and Linda Behmer, of Culver, will attend the Girls State at Indiana University in July.

The Chamber also declined the invitation to participate in open house for the Culver Military Academy and other local businesses during the Progress Report promotion of the Plymouth Pilot. The decision was made after much discussion, all pertaining to the busy schedule of the Academy and other events scheduled for Culver and the lake area this summer. It was felt that the local schedule was too full to assume other obligations. The Chamber did, however, discuss several fall and winter promotions, which they are interested in.

The Chamber also went on record supporting the installing and use of safety belts in cars. They urge that everyone have them installed in their cars as a safety measure and those who do have them, to use them at all times.

Future plans for the Chamber includes a dinner meeting in September to welcome the new teachers of the Academy and Culver Schools. Date will be announced later. Looking ahead, the Chamber voted to increase their participation in Christmas decorations for the downtown section of Culver during the Christmas holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Warren and family of Gas City and Mr. and Mrs. Steven Warren and family of South Bend visited over the weekend with their brother, Leo Warren and Mrs. Warren and family.

poration, however, is able to carry on any kind of business which shows a profit. An investor can keep his old Bangor & Aroostook Railroad stock if he desires, or he can exchange it for the stock of the new business corporation. I believe President Robertson will make a success of his new corporation and many other railroads will follow his example.

Kansas City Southern Program

The Kansas City Southern Railway also has a progressive forward-looking president, W. N. Deramus, who operates this road most efficiently notwithstanding water competition. However, he has now come to the same conclusion, and has formed a separate corporation — Kansas City Southern Industries, Inc. — which will be able to do anything from running supermarkets to operating oil wells along the line of the Kansas City Railroad. Too many railroad stockholders have forgotten the great value of the rights-of-way and adjoining property.

The stockholders of the K.C. Railroad are to be given the opportunity of exchanging their stock for stock of the new corporation. The management will substitute good bus service for all passenger travel; it will develop a fast door-to-door freight business. But, most important, it will enter into other growing industries and should be very successful. This experiment is being watched by many of the railroads, and may result in their stocks again becoming valuable. In the past month, though the market for all stocks has gone off sharply, Kansas City Southern has gone up 10 points.

Delegates will come from 18 congregations in northern Indiana and southwestern Michigan to receive additional spiritual help and training for their ministerial work.

The convention is slated for June 1-3, Friday through Sunday.

Stanley Spangler, presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses in the Plymouth congregation stated that plans were almost complete. Since April 28, local witnesses have been busy in a vast house-to-house search for rooms in Culver and Plymouth.

"Nearly every home has been visited," Spangler stated, "and the results have been gratifying. We do not think we will have any problem now in accommodating the delegates."

According to Spangler, sessions will begin Friday evening when Raymond L. Anderson, district supervisor from the world headquarters of Jehovah's Witnesses in Brooklyn, N. Y. delivers the opening address at 6:45 p.m. His talk is entitled, "Faithfully Increasing our Praise to Jehovah."

Also on Friday evening, the program calls for a model ministry training and development course featuring speakers from the 18 congregations present. James F. Gates, circuit minister in charge of the convention activity and travelling representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York in this area, will conduct this session.

Spangler stated that Saturday will see the simple, but impressive mass immersion ceremony at 1:30 p.m. The Witnesses have their own portable immersion facilities for use where no pool is available.

Climax of the conclave will be Mr. Anderson's public talk Sunday at 3 p.m., "Who Will Rule the World?" The crowd is expected to swell to over 1200 for this event.

Of additional interest to the community will be the appearance of 13-year-old Don Sherwood of Route 5, Plymouth, who will speak Friday evening.

Other features of the program will include talks, demonstrations, discussions, interviews and a review of the ministerial activity of each congregation in the past six months, Spangler stated.

Indiana Beach Opening Set For Today, May 30

The management of Indiana Beach on Shafer Lake near Monticello states that Memorial Day, May 30th, is set as the official summer opening of the resort-vacation spot.

Emphasis this season will be on entertainment with dancing being featured in both the Ballroom and Lounge on a nightly basis, beginning with the preview opening May 29. A policy of bringing large "name" attractions will be followed each weekend.

Dick Halleman and his orchestra will take over the Ballroom bandstand beginning Wednesday, May 30, playing nightly for an indefinite stay except when name bands are featured for one-night stands.

Beginning Wednesday, May 30, the entire resort and all amusements and entertainment will be on a daily afternoon and evening schedule.

Antique Auto Show

Antique and Classic Auto Clubs of a five-state-area will join with the management of Indiana Beach in sponsoring the Midwest's largest Antique and Classic Auto Show scheduled for the weekend of June 1, 2, and 3, when over 150 beautifully restored autos and trucks are expected to be on display at Lake Shafer with an anticipated 15,000 persons present to view the two-day showing.

The 1962 show, the 11th annual exposition to be held at the resort, is expected to once again put on display many of the unusual and little known models of America's early cars. Private owners of the cars on display will compete for a list of over 50 trophies and special recognition awards.

Soil Stewardship Week Proclaimed May 27 - June 3

In an appeal to every Hoosier to assist and join in the worthy conservation movement of Indiana's valuable soil and water resources, Gov. Matthew E. Welsh has issued the proclamation that May 27 through June 3 will be Soil Stewardship Week.

The well-being of every citizen of the State of Indiana depends on a productive soil and an abundant supply of water and these resources are a sacred trust to be used by both the present and future generations.

Soil conservation and flood prevention and the intelligent development of land and water resources are of concern to every citizen of the state.

The State of Indiana, as a whole, and within its 85 soil and water conservation districts in particular, is carrying forward an aggressive program of soil and water conservation and related flood prevention work, participated in by numerous governmental agencies, service groups, business organizations, schools, churches, and countless individuals. It is of utmost importance that we continue this work of conserving our soil and water by working with nature, and by adding emphasis to the small watershed program for the betterment of all.

Academy Sports

A baseball game against Warsaw here at 10 a.m. Saturday will officially close the 1961-62 Culver Military Academy sports season.

Weather last week curtailed much of the schedule, except for the Academy's crew and track teams, which ended their seasons in grand style.

The crew, competing in the National Schoolboy Rowing Championships for the first time in 39 years, came up with a third place in the event held in Philadelphia Saturday. Coach Larry BeBout, bowing out of coaching and as director of purchases when he leaves the Academy next month, ended two successful seasons with crew by directing the team to a representative showing in the national event.

Culver flew 11 members of the crew into Philadelphia in time for Friday qualifying heats. In the fastest heat of the day, Culver placed second behind defending champion Washington-Lee High School, Arlington, Virginia, but qualified for Saturday's finals. Culver was one of six crews from a field of 15 to reach the finals.

In Saturday's championship event, Culver placed third behind Washington-Lee and St. Joseph College Institute, Buffalo, New York. The Virginia team rowed the mile in 5:02.5, St. Joseph's did 5:06.5 and Culver was clocked at 5:10.9. Although disappointed at the outcome, Coach BeBout said he felt the team made a "commendable" showing since we rowed against the cream of the nation's high school crews.

While Culver was competing in Philadelphia, a revamped junior varsity boat took on Ecorse Boat Club of Detroit here. The Culver shell lost to Ecorse, which completed the mile with a time of 5:51. Culver's time was 5:54.

The track team ended its season with an unbeaten dual meet record by defeating Gary Horace Mann School, 54-51. The season was a successful one for David Burke, completing his first year as coach. The Academy also won the Lime City Relays, placed third in a tough Fort Wayne North Side Relays, and captured several first places in the Logansport Relays.

The meet with Horace Mann was one of the closest of the season and gave Culver its sixth dual meet victory of the year on the outdoor track.

Fishing Report For Marshall County

Lake Maxinkuckee — Week-end fishing poor due to rain and cold weather. Lake level remains about the same. Clearing weather for the rest of the week should lead to good catches of pan fish, with bass showing more action. Tippecanoe River up some now, but should return to normal level. Pike and small mouth bass should offer some good fishing by the weekend — Mrs. Hazel McCalla Reporting.

Marshall County Lakes — Pretty Lake, Cook Lake, Hollem Lake, Myers Lake, Lords Lake, Mill Pond Lake, Gilbert Lake and Lake of the Woods are a little high. Bad rainy weekend weather slowed all fishing on these lakes. Weather clearing and water clearing up should start some good fishing by the weekend. Streams and rivers are still a little high, but they too, will be better with good weather this weekend. Conservation Officer Don Wainscott reporting.

Central Indiana
The streams are reported clear and the fishing good. Several catches of carp, catfish being caught using worms and dough-balls. Morse Reservoir: fishing is fair with a few bass caught using surface baits. Crappies are hitting good at Geist Reservoir. Several large catches reported.

Northeastern Indiana
All lakes are reported clear and fishing good. Bluegills caught using night crawlers. In the streams, such as the Mississinewa and Safamonie, bass and channel cat caught using flies.

AGRICULTURE AND THE COMMON MARKET

J. Carroll Bottum, Purdue University agricultural economist, describes development of the European Economic Community—the Common Market—as "one of the most significant world events of this generation."

The six Common Market countries are Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, France, West Germany and Italy. These countries in 1960 had an estimated population of 172 million living in an area of slightly more than 451,000 square miles. This compares to a total U.S. population of 181 million and an area of three million square miles.

Gross National Product (GNP) of the Common Market countries in 1960 totaled $179 billion, compared to $505 billion for the United States.

Three steps taken after World War II resulted in creation of the Common Market, which was set up by the Treaty of Rome and ratified in December, 1957. Bottum lists them as:

... the Marshall Plan passed by Congress in 1948. Under this plan over a period of nine years, the United States provided $19 billion to promote the economic development and reconstruction of 18 countries in Western Europe.

... the formation of the Organization for European Cooperation to allocate financial aid made available by the United States.

... the European Coal and Steel Community formed in 1952 to establish a unified market for coal and steel in Belgium, France, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and West Germany. Since 1953, tariff and quota restrictions on these products among these six countries have been abolished.

Objectives of the Common Market countries approach, economically a United States of Europe, observes the agricultural economist.

What are the basic objectives of the European Economic Community (EEC), or the so-called Common Market?

Elimination of customs duties between the six countries which make up the Common Market—Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, France, West Germany and Italy. (At the end of 12 years protective duties among these countries would be ended.)

Establishment of a common customs tariff. With certain exceptions, there will be a single common tariff for each commodity for all EEC countries, in most cases it will equal the average of their tariffs at the beginning of EEC.

Elimination of all quantitative import and export restrictions within the EEC area.

A common agricultural policy with these purposes— increase agricultural productivity, assure equitable standard of living to farmers, stabilize markets, guarantee supplies and assure reasonable consumer prices.

Free movement of persons (workers), services and capital. No restriction on capital movements between the countries.

A common policy toward rail, highway and water transportation. This will include common regulations for interstate traffic and conditions under which a carrier from one country will be permitted to operate in another member country.

United States exports to the Common Market in fiscal 1961 amounted to $3½ billion of which $1.1 billion represented farm products, points out J. Carroll Bottum, Purdue University agricultural economist.

These agricultural exports were 22 per cent of this country's total agricultural exports and were mainly sold for dollars. During fiscal 1961 the United States imported $2.1 billion worth of Common Market items of which $220 million was agricultural. Thus, agricultural exports to the Common Market were five times as great as imports.

Total U.S. agricultural exports in fiscal 1961 amounted to $4.9 billion, of which $3.4 billion were sold for dollars. Of the commodities sold for dollars, approximately one-third went to the six Common Market countries—Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, France, West Germany and Italy.

The United Kingdom, which is considering joining the Common Market, bought more than one-half billion dollars worth of U.S. farm products last year. If the United Kingdom joins the Common Market further questions concerning our agricultural exports will be raised, Bottum observes.

Common Market agriculture, generally, is less efficient than U.S. agriculture, the economist notes. Livestock and livestock products make up about 70 per cent of the total production. As consumer purchasing power in these countries increases, the demand for livestock and livestock products will expand. This means an increase in use of feed grains.

As a means of protecting agricultural prices, the Common Market has prepared to insulate much of its agricultural product-variable import levies, tariffs, fees and, in some instances, quota restrictions.

Continued demand and access to the Common Market can be expected for oilseeds, cotton and other agricultural products in which the Common Market is not self-sufficient, Bottum says.

U. S. producers of feed grains, wheat, tobacco and the products of feeds grains will likely bear the brunt of greater EEC self-sufficiency in the immediate period ahead in imports. In the long-run, EEC imports may increase because of the greater efficiency of American agriculture, he observes.

President Kennedy has asked Congress for authority to offer tariff reductions on products the six European countries in the Common Market want to sell us.

Congress can take three courses of action, Bottum points out:

... reverse the entire policy of encouraging freer trade;

... extend the Reciprocal Trade Agreement Act, or

... re-emphasize our policy toward freer trade."

Some of the important considerations involved in the answers to these questions:

How far do we want to go in support of the Common Market from the standpoint of what it means to the U.S. politically and militarily to have a strong European Economic Community?

How far do we want to go toward freer trade because of its possibilities of increasing the American standard of living?

What concessions can be obtained agriculturally in the Common Market if we make concessions in the industrial area?

How far and how rapidly do we want to go in changing our tariffs on industrial products?

Do we still need some protection for certain industries in order to keep the U.S. militarily strong?

How will it affect our balance of payments?

What will various policies do toward increasing or expanding our internal economy and what will be the impact on various segments of our economy?

Spiritual alertness is needed to meet the challenge of today. This is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy. Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" which will be heard at Christian Science services Sunday.

The responsive Reading will include Paul's advice to the Ephesians (6): "Be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil."

One of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Be watchful, sober, and vigilant. The way is straight and narrow, which leads to the understanding that God is the only Life. It is a warfare with the flesh, in which we must conquer sin, sickness, and death, either here or hereafter. - certainly before we can reach the goal of Spirit, or life in God" (p. 324).

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Ott Jr. of Frankfort, Ind., were weekend guests of the former's parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Ott, Sr., and Pete, and attended Pete's graduation activities Friday evening.

Those enjoying a cook-out late Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas and children were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Powers, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Farmer and sons, Mrs. Anna Reasoner, and Mrs. Trula McKee.

Joseph J. Foss To Speak At CMA Commencement

JOSEPH J. FOSS

Joseph J. Foss, commissioner of the American Football League and former governor of South Dakota, will deliver the commencement address to 152 graduating seniors at Culver Military Academy on Monday, June 4.

Foss will speak during an 11 a.m. commencement convocation in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium. He will address the graduating class, parents, faculty, and guests.

One of America's most prominent World War II heroes, Foss presently serves as president of the Air Force Association and as a member of the board of directors of the U.S. Air Force Academy. Foss was a Marine fighter pilot during World War II and shot down 26 enemy planes. He was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor and the Distinguished Flying Cross. He later rose to the rank of colonel and served with the U.S. Air Force during the Korean conflict.

Foss was born near Sioux City, S. D., and attended Augustana College in his hometown. He was graduated from the University of South Dakota with a degree in business administration in June, 1940. After World War II, Foss started a flying service and built it from a one-plane, tarpaper-shack start into a lively company using 35 planes. The plant was destroyed by fire in 1953, after which Foss opened the Foss Motor Company. In January, 1959, Foss was named vice president of the Raven Company, manufacturer of high altitude balloons, and he now serves as a director of the firm.

When the new American Professional Football League was organized in 1959, Foss was chosen unanimously as its first commissioner. He began a three-year term in 1960, with league headquarters in Dallas, Texas. In his first three months in establishing the league, Foss traveled 42,000 air miles and made 54 separate airplane flights.

Foss was elected South Dakota state representative in 1948 and 1951. He ran for governor in 1950 and was defeated by a narrow margin. He was elected over three other candidates in 1914 and re-elected for a second term in 1936 (South Dakota governors are limited by law to two terms). As governor, Foss launched a vigorous program to attract industry and tourists to the state, and he established the Industrial Development Expansion Agency.

NIPSCO Increases Gas Supply For Northwest System

Northern Indiana Public Service Company will receive an additional 10 million cubic feet of natural gas per day for its northwest system by the end of the year. Dean H. Mitchell, NIPSCO Chairman and President announced today.

The new supply has been made possible by a Federal Power Commission approval of Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America's application to expand its facilities. Natural is a long-distance gas transmission company and one of NIPSCO's five suppliers. The transmission company will construct 240 miles of pipeline and three new booster compressor stations in Texas, Oklahoma and Illinois to supply NIPSCO and other midwest utilities with additional natural gas.

NIPSCO is already receiving a 147 million cubic feet of gas per day from Natural. The additional 10 million will boost NIPSCO's total incoming daily supply of gas to 378 million cubic feet for its northwest system. The system serves customers in and around Culver, Hammond, East Chicago, Gary, Michigan City, LaPorte, South Bend, Elkhart, Goshen, Warsaw, Plymouth, Wabash, Peru, Logansport and Monticello.

2 A.M. Drinking Party Raided

A teen-age drinking party being held about two miles southwest of Culver Saturday morning about 2 a.m. was raided by Chief of Police Mikesell and the Marshall County Sheriff's Department. No arrests were made, but the teenagers were turned over to their parents for disciplinary measures.

Both the local police and County Sheriff's office have issued a warning that such drinking parties in the future will be raided and the participants will be charged and confined to the county jail.

Commencement Week At CMA Begins Friday

Complete 5-Day Program Listed

Culver Military Academy will mark the end of its academic year Friday with the beginning of the annual five-day June Week festivities.

With the conclusion of June Week at "Iron Gate" ceremonies at 9 a.m. Tuesday, 192 cadets will have closed their formal Culver careers. Included are six cadets and two daughters of faculty members from the Culver community.

The June Week calendar of activities actually begins Saturday, although many parents and guests will begin arriving in the town and Lake Maxinkuckee areas Friday. Included are members of alumni classes who will be observing quinquennial reunions. Saturday's program opens with a 9 a.m. horse show, and at 2 p.m. traditional military exhibitions will be given at the Riding Hall Plaza. Superintendent Delmar T. Spivey will greet alumni reunion classes in the Woodcraft Camp at 6 p.m., and at 8:30 p.m. the final production of the play "No Time for Sergeants" will be given in Eppley Auditorium.

Religious services, a garrison parade, and a concert highlight Sunday's activities. A 9:30 a.m. service is scheduled in Memorial Chapel for underclassmen, their parents, and guests, and at 10:45 a.m. the Rev. Jones B. Shannon, Washington, D.C., will deliver the baccalaureate address to seniors, their parents, guests, faculty, and alumni. The annual alumni meeting is at 1:30 p.m. in the Little Theater and Academy Organist Milford H. Myhre will give a recital in Memorial Chapel at 2:30 p.m. A garrison parade, during which military medals will be presented, is set for 4 p.m. and the day's activities will be concluded at 8:30 p.m. with the commencement concert given by the Band, Chapel Choir,

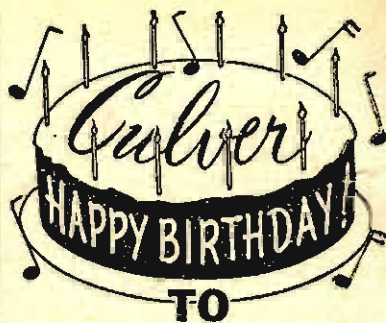

Blue Notes, and soloists.

Joseph J. Foss, former governor of South Dakota, will speak at the Commencement convocation at 11 a.m. Monday. Members of the Cum Laude Society will be inducted at this time, and various academic honors will be presented including the McDonald Watch, the Van Zandt Key, and the Y.M.C.A. Cup to three outstanding cadets. Military exhibitions by honor organizations begin at 2:30 p.m. on the Riding Hall Plaza, and there is a final garrison parade at 4 p.m. Myhre will give a carillon recital at 4:45 p.m.

The Commencement Ball in the Recreation Building winds up Monday's schedule. Johnny Long and his Orchestra will play for dancing beginning at 10 p.m., and at midnight the traditional "officer's figure" will be staged. The dance ends at 2 a.m.

The final formation, awarding of diplomas, and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne," formally concludes the 1961-62 term at 9 a.m. Tuesday.
