Babson Discusses Rail Properties

Urges C of C's To Take Action

By ROGER W. BABSON
No. 1 U. S. Economist
Babson Park, Mass., My first investment was in the stock of the Niagara Power Company. I was astounded by the tremendous power of gravity which had been going to waste over Niagara Falls for thousands of years. When I was later connected with MIT, I became interested in Sir Isaac Newton and his studies of Gravity. The Babson Institute now has the second largest Newton Gravity Library in the world.

Gravity Research Foundation
When the Gravity Research Foundation was established and endowed at New Boston, New Hampshire, I was glad to help. My first interest was aroused by Harry Vissering of Babson Park, Florida, who flew the first giant dirigible from Berlin to New York. I was then even taught that it was impossible to make heavier-than-air machines fly and not fall to the earth. I further found that Clarence Birdseye, the discoverer of quick freezing, and Igor Sikorsky, the father of the helicopter, and Dr. Howard Stearns of Simmons College were members of the Board of Trustees. I gladly promised them my help. Up to that time no serious accidents had happened on commercial airlines; then the original idea of the Foundation was to "harness gravity." The present purpose is to make an airplane temporarily float in case of trouble and drop slowly to the ground so the passengers can safely get off.

Different Methods Of Accomplishing This Feat

Most of the studies have thus far been along developing a semi-insulator of gravity which could cover commercial airplanes. This would require the development of some new metal, with the molecules arranged differently than exists in any present metal. I understand that the Gravity Research Foundation will send details of this proposed new metal to anyone who writes them at New Boston, New Hampshire.

A young inventor named Norman Dean, of Washington, D.C., has invented a machine to be put into an automobile which will raise the automobile when the machine is operating. This idea has been discarded under the theory that it is "pulling oneself up by one's bootstraps." Hence the idea has not been adopted by helicopters or individual airplanes. However, there is no objection to this for an emergency purpose. If "Lord Howe's" friend's invention had been such that the engines of the fatal French airplane could have suddenly been used to prevent this anti-gravity fall, it might have saved the lives of these Atlanta people.

Other Work Of The Gravity Research Foundation

The Foundation makes no experiments of its own; but it is endeavoring to interest scientific departments of colleges in the problem. Up to the present time four colleges have erected monuments, near their science building with these words thereon: "This monument has been erected to remind students of the blessings forthcoming when a scientific breakthrough discovers what Gravity is, how it works, and how it may be controlled to prevent airplane accidents."

Another hopeful feature is the offering of Annual Awards of $1,000 for essays on the subject

Four Culver Youths Hurt In LaPaz Crash

A two-car accident just south of LaPaz on U.S. 31 late Saturday night caused injuries to five Marshall County residents, four of whom are from the Culver area.

According to the report of State Trooper Forrest Kent, a car driven by Billy McCarty, 19, R. R. 2, Culver, hit a parked auto owned by 50-year-old Charles Middaugh of Bremen about 11:05 p.m. Saturday.

Kent stated that McCarty's car hit the rear of the Middaugh vehicle and knocked Middaugh into a nearby ditch.

Kent said McCarty and his three passengers, Audry McCarty, 19, a cousin; John McCarty, Jr., 16; and Jack Crump, 14, all of R. R. 2, Culver, ran from the scene of the accident and hid in some brush alongside the road.

Special police assisted in the search for the Culver youths and after they had fired two warning shots into the air, Crump came out of hiding.

After surrounding the remaining boys, the officers heard them suffering from pain and took them into custody. They were then taken to Parkview Hospital in Plymouth.

According to the hospital report, John McCarty is listed in critical condition with injuries to the kidney, spleen, and other internal damage. Billy McCarty received fractured ribs and bruises. Audry McCarty, abrasions and possible internal injuries, and Crump was treated for possible internal injuries. Middaugh was released Sunday night after treatment for head bruises.

State Trooper Kent stated charges will be filed after further investigation.

Fireworks Display At The Academy Fourth Of July

Public Invited To Attend

The public has been invited to attend an Independence Day fireworks display at Culver Military Academy at 9:15 p.m. Wednesday, July 4.

The fireworks display is part of the Academy's annual Independence Day observance. Wednesday is also the formal opening of the Culver Summer Schools.

Seating for visitors is available on the terrace of the Riding Hall. Many residents of the Lake Maxinkuckee community are expected to view the display from their boats, and the fireworks are visible from nearly every area surrounding the lake. The display will be set off from the north shore near the Naval Building. This area will be restricted during the time of the display.

Because an overflow crowd of nearly 10,000 attended last year's display, the Academy has again arranged for additional police to handle traffic. The campus will be closed to traffic during the display.

CUB SCOUT OLYMPICS POSTPONED BY RAIN

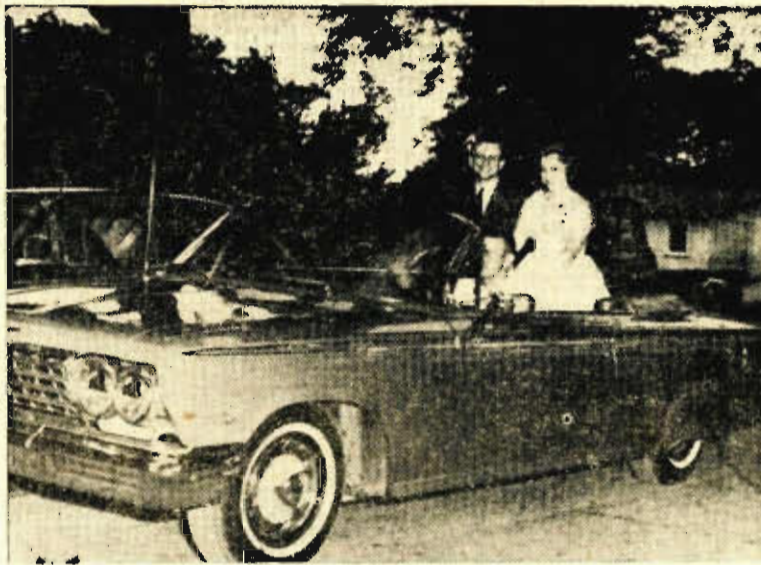

The Summer Junior Olympics for Cubs of Pack 290 will be held at 6:30 p.m. on Saturday, June 30.

The event will take place at the high school baseball diamond and the public is invited to attend.

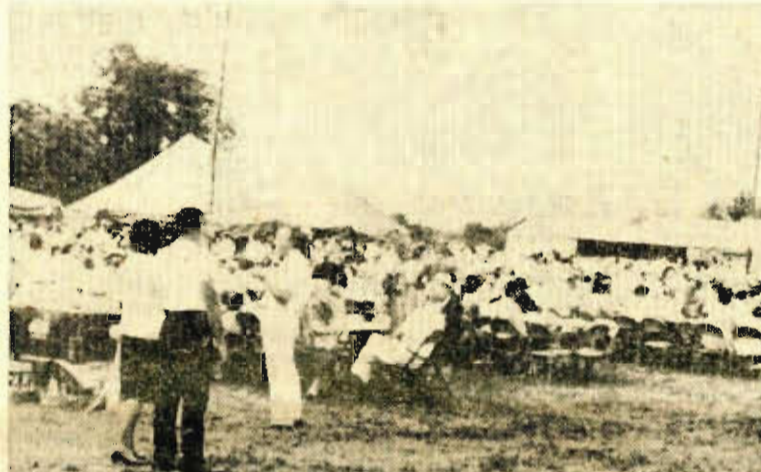

FIRE DEPARTMENT calls should be made to VIKING 2-2121.

Letters Ford Strawberry Festival A Huge Success

MISS MELINDA JONES who was named Queen of the Strawberry Festival. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jones, of Delong.

PART OF THE 4,500 persons in attendance enjoying the different delicious dishes made from strawberries at the Letters Ford Strawberry Festival.

The Strawberry Festival, held last Thursday evening, June 21, at Letters Ford, and sponsored by the residents of Aubbeenaubbee Township, was a huge success. The weather was ideal, the attendance was above expectations, and the amount of food consumed was astronomical. The entire program was very well received and to add a pun, "A good time was had by all."

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Strawberry Queen. The honor was bestowed on a pretty light brunette, Miss Melinda Jones, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Jones, of Delong. She was crowned queen before a record attendance of 4500 people. The glittering crown was placed on her head by Miss Anita Norman, last year's queen. Miss Jones received a large bouquet of red roses and a transistor radio. Runners up for the coveted honor were Miss Janet Calhoun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russel Calhoun, of Letters Ford and Miss Dani Masters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Masters, of Monterey. The voting was done by using penny jars. The girl receiving the most pennies to her name was honored by being chosen queen of the festival.

The parade, which started the evening's festivities, contained over 25 floats. The winners in this event were: First, Letters Ford Senior Girl Scout Troop; Second, Delong Methodist Church; Third, Letters Ford MYF Float. The prizes were $15, $10 and $5. Included in the parade was the Pure Milk Association Float, which attends the various district functions, but is from the Chicago office.

Prizes were given away during the evening and those winning were: Fred Stroninger, of Rochester, a portable TV set; Clyde Castleman, of Route 4, Rochester, a transistor radio; and Florence Markle, of North Liberty, table radio.

The square dance, which was the last event to be held, was called by Mike Patterson. The dance had more viewers than dancers, but everyone enjoyed the fun.

There were 24 special police taking care of the traffic and parking of cars. They included 15 Fulton County Civil Defense officers, two Fulton County Deputy Sheriffs, six special deputies from Letters Ford and a state trooper. The CD unit furnished portable generators to light the huge parking areas.

Mrs. Annabell Kline, chairman of the food committee, gave these figures on the food: 600 quarts of strawberries were consumed; 2000 barbecue sandwiches, 2100 hot dog sandwiches, 308 1/2-pint cartons of milk, 25 gallons of bulk milk, 71 cases of pop, 70 gallons of ice cream, 75 pounds of pop corn and 48 pounds of coffee. There was no estimate of the pies and cakes sold.

The festival netted over $2,500. The project of this year's event was to raise money to buy a pup trailer and tank of 3,000 gallon size for the Aubbeenaubbee Township Volunteer Fire Department. All expenses are not in as yet, so a net figure cannot be given but it is a foregone conclusion that the amount needed was raised.

Some of the organizations outside the Letters Ford area that participated and co-operated with the committee were the Argos Color Guard which led the parade and the Culver Fire Department, which sent one of their trucks to add to the parade.

WIN TWIRLING HONORS

Susan Thews, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Thews of Culver, was a champion twirling winner of the National Baton Twirling contest held at Bremen on Saturday, June 23.

Kathy Ringer won third place in the beginning (novice) group at the Bremen contest and Susan Shei won fifth place in the advanced group in the same event.

Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ringer of Route 4, Plymouth, and Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shei of Route 2, Culver.

CMA's Summer Schools Open Friday, June 29

Enrollment Is Largest In History

The Culver Summer Schools will open Friday, June 29, with the largest student body and faculty in their 60-year history.

Rear Admiral John W. Bays, USN (Ret.) director of the schools, said enrollment for the eight-week session ending Aug. 22 will total 1,606. This tops the previous record of 1,522 two years ago, and Admiral Bays added that all three schools have waiting lists of applicants.

Both the Summer Naval School and the Woodcraft Camp this year will show their highest enrollments in history. An additional company of 76 Midshipmen has been added to boost Naval School enrollment to 522. The Woodcraft Camp will have 648 boys, 16 more than the previous record figure. Enrollment in the Summer School of Horsemanship is restricted to 136 capacity.

Admiral Bays said the Summer Schools will use West Lodge to house the additional Naval School Company. The Naval School also includes a Summer School Band of 191 members.

Admiral Bays directs a staff of 236 faculty members, again the largest number in the history of the schools. The faculty will teach credit and non-credit courses, serve as counselors, and fill various military positions. Classes beginning July 2 offer standard academic subjects for credit, review courses, and a large variety of non-credit courses for skill in recreation in such subjects as journalism, typing, music, navigation, seamanship, drama, and a number of sports. Two new courses in physics and chemistry, designed not to duplicate existing high school courses, will be offered for the first time this summer.

Registration for the 1962 session begins Friday for approximately half the students in the three schools. Remaining students will enroll Saturday, June 30, and Monday, July 2, marks the opening of academic classes. While the school is officially underway this weekend, formal opening ceremonies are scheduled for 4:45 p.m. Wednesday, July 4, at the Riding Hall Terrace. At this time Admiral Bays' flag will be raised over the Naval Building, signifying the official opening. Dean of Admission Frank M. Bryant will read the roll of states represented in this year's enrollment, and Major General Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (Ret.), superintendent, will speak.

Admiral Bays announced that two important changes in personnel will be in effect this summer. Lt. Col. Ronald J. Gleason will serve as acting director of the Woodcraft Camp and Peter Trone, of Culver, will be acting commandant. Both changes were made because Col. Melvyn A. Estey, director of the Woodcraft Camp, is on a sabbatical leave of absence for study and travel in Europe.

Four CMA Cadets Attend School In Colorado

Four Culver Military Academy cadets are attending a unique school located in the rugged mountain area of Colorado as recipients of scholarships by an anonymous donor.

Selected by an Academy faculty committee to attend a 26-day session of the Colorado Outward Bound School are Steven S. Piecuch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley J. Piecuch, East Chicago; Paul H. Merry, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Robert E. Merry, Pittsburgh; Glenn K. Smith, son of Col. and Mrs. Glenn K. Smith, San Antonio; and Michael J. Crosswell, son of Col. and Mrs. Horace A. Crosswell, Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala.

The Colorado Outward Bound School is committed to the goal of making better, more self-reliant citizens by helping young men discover their real worth. During the early parts of the session already underway, the four Culver students will take part in the physical conditioning program and basic techniques of mountaineering including packing and horse care, use of map and compass, rock climbing, and handling of ropes, mountain rescue, first aid, survival swimming and white water kayaking.

Before the session ends July 15, the four will have made expeditions of from one to several days into country of difficult terrain under appointed student leaders. Outward Bounders will also have been trained to assist in fighting fires, cleaning camp sites and working on public projects. They will take solo trips into rugged country located some 200 miles from Denver, and the final test is a 54-mile, three-day hike.

The four students were selected from a large number of Culver cadets who expressed an interest in the Outward Bound School. Merry and Smith recently were graduated from the Academy, while Piecuch and Crosswell will return to the Academy as seniors next fall. They are among 79 boys between the ages of 16 and 22 who are attending one of three sessions of the school. During the session in which Piecuch, Crosswell, Smith, and Merry are enrolled, there are also boys from Malaya, Nigeria, and Australia.

Hospital Notes

Charles Cook, 117 Winfield St., is still a patient at St. Joseph Hospital, South Bend following a spinal injury suffered April 27. Mr. Cook will undergo spinal surgery there Saturday morning.

Hall Wilson returned to his home at 420 State St., Culver, Tuesday from St. Joseph Hospital in South Bend where he had recently undergone spinal surgery. He is recuperating satisfactorily.

By DAVID KELLY, Troop Scribe

Seventeen members of the Troop and the Scoutmaster are back from a week at Camp Tamarack. The Scouting activities available at the Scout reservation were enjoyed by each one. If you didn't go this year, you ought to plan on attending next year. You're missing a lot of fun of Scouting by not taking advantage of this wonderful camping experience.

Thirty-one Scouts attended the June 25 meeting which was held at the town park beach. Swimming games and free time were enjoyed.

A Green Bar meeting will be held at the home of Greg Easterday on Thursday, June 28 at 7:15. We will plan next month's meetings and activities.

Next Monday a Board of Review, uniform inspection, and Troop Committee meeting will be held. Be on time and in uniform!

NOTICE—New Members: Let's get those membership applications turned in to the Scoutmaster so that you can be registered as a Boy Scout. You're not a member of the Troop until you do!!!

All Scouts should bring in the questionnaire sent home to the fathers a few weeks ago. Please, Scout fathers, give us some idea of how you can help the Troop.

We are going to miss several Scouts who are going to the summer schools at the Academy. They will return to us in August.

FORT RILEY, KAN. — Army Pvt. Carl H. Wagoner, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Wagoner, 321 White St., Culver, recently was assigned to the 121st Signal Battalion at Fort Riley, Kan.

Wagoner, a lineman in the battalion's Company B, entered the Army last January and completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The 23-year-old soldier is a 1957 graduate of Culver High School and attended DeVry Technical Institute in Chicago, Ill.

LEGION AND AUXILIARY HOLD JOINT INSTALLATION

A joint installation of officers of the American Legion Auxiliary was held at the Legion Home on Thursday, June 21.

Preceding the installation a bountiful potluck supper was enjoyed by approximately 60 members and guests. The installing teams were from Post and Unit 303, River Park, South Bend.

Maxinkuckee Yacht Club News

By MARGARET CLYNE

Only stout hearted skippers and their crews showed up for the Tune-up Races. Ken Bateson and his hooded, sweat-shirted crew battled a cold wind to win the first race on June 3. Jerome Zecheil really flew around the course June 10 to win two races—quite a treat for one day. Tom Heckel and Ken Bateson each won a race on June 17. Because of placing in other races, Ken Bateson won the Tune-up Race series.

Sunday, June 24, was an almost perfect day for the first race of the summer regatta - azure sky, brisk breeze, and sun-sparkled water. The lead changed places several times but Rupert Esser out-guessed the rest with his canny tacks and crossed the finish line well ahead. Ken Bateson was second and Tad Louderback of Rochester was third.

A SPECIAL INVITATION TO JUNIORS

There is a fine recreational activity that is available to all children every Saturday morning during the summer. It doesn't matter if you do not have a boat—there are both sailfish and prams available. It also doesn't matter if you do not know how to sail. There are Yacht Club members who will be more than glad to teach you. All you need is the desire to learn and a life belt or jacket.

Parents can be reassured that their children will be well and safely supervised. Several power boats are always on the lake during a race and Rule 1 is no matter how good a swimmer, you are required to wear a life jacket at all times.

This invitation is to all boys or girls who will not be 16 years old by August 1. If you are interested, please be at the Hollowell Cottage, 1540 East Shore Drive on Saturday, June 30 at 9:30 a.m. with your life jacket. We suggest that you contact John or Ken Bateson, V12-2802, or Kathy Clyne, V12-2946, so there will be enough boats for everyone. See you Saturday.

LATHAM L. LAWSON ENROLLS FOR SUMMER AT INDIANA STATE COLLEGE

Enrollment for the first five-week summer session at Indiana State College has increased eight per cent over the corresponding period last summer. The figure now standing at 3,021 students is expected to go higher when registrations for several more workshops are completed.

Latham L. Lawson, 216 College Ave., has enrolled for study during the current five-week session.

Want To Buy For Franklin College Library

We want to purchase the books listed below to complete a history of all of the counties in the State of Indiana. We have nearly all of this work, but very little for Marshall County. The following books are wanted:

"Atlas of Marshall County," published by G. A. Ogle Company in 1908, not the one published in 1922.

"History of Marshall County and State of Indiana in 2 Volumes," published in 1890.

"Twentieth Century History of Marshall County" by Daniel McDonald, published in 1908.

"Centennial History of Marshall County" by T. A. Holland, published in 1876, and

"History of Marshall County," published by Kingman Brothers in 1881 and written by Daniel McDonald.

Long May They Wave

On Flag Day (June 14th) and Independence Day, patriotic citizens fly the Stars and Stripes. Alongside waves the state flag, bearing a symbol historic in meaning. The two dates on the North Carolina flag signify early bids for independence.

The Great Seal of New York—another of the original 13 colonies which gave men and arms during the War for Independence—appears on its flag... little changed since its design in 1777.

On National holidays, all 50 state flags are displayed at the Mall of the State Mutual Life Assurance Company of America, one of the few places in the country where they may be seen. For free leaflet about our state flags, illustrated in color, write to their Public Relations Branch, Worcester 5, Mass.

Indiana State Fair News

"Something new" in the Women's Building at the 1962 Indiana State Fair, August 25 through September 5, will be the Young Homemakers Style Show to be held on August 31 as a part of the Ladies' Day program. The style show is designed to include those young homemakers who have been 4-H club members and who are now using their dress-making knowledge to sew for themselves and their families. Young homemakers who are interested in entering should contact their county Home Demonstration agent for information.

Certified fitters will be shown in the Swine Department for the first time at the 1962 Indiana State Fair on Wednesday, September 5. Refer to the Indiana State Fair livestock catalogue for rules and regulations.

The 4-H Beef Feeding sections at the 1962 Indiana State Fair will be divided into five equal classes by weight after weighing in at the Fair. The purpose of the new method is to equalize the size of classes and prize money distribution.

Mrs. Don Mikesell, Mrs. Zazel Mishler, and Mrs. Trula McKee visited with Mrs. Lydia Myers in the Walkerton Nursing Home in Walkerton Wednesday evening. They found Mrs. Myers in good spirits and stated she was feeling good. All are sister Rebekahs and Mrs. McKee is a sister-in-law of Mrs. Myers.

Carolyn Boswell and Robert Kline Wed In Evening Ceremony At Methodist Church

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT KLINE

Baskets of white gladioli, palms, and candelabra graced the altar of the Culver Methodist Church for the 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening ceremony in which Miss Carolyn Boswell exchanged nuptial vows with Robert Kline.

Mr. and Mrs. Hampton Boswell, 433 Harding Court are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kline, Route 1, are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. Dr. Ronald Williams, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony. Greenery, white bows, and candles marked the pews.

Miss Jeanette Berger, organist, and Miss Virginia Reed, soloist, rendered traditional wedding selections and Miss Reed sang "O Perfect Love" as the couple knelt at the altar.

Escorted on the arm of her father, the bride was lovely in her princess styled gown of silk organza over pean taffeta fashioned with a simple scoop neckline and long tapered sleeves which ended in bridal points at her wrists. A long spray of re-embroidered Alencon lace swept across the bodice and skirt and a free standing side panel was caught to the waistline. An organza bow accented the pleated back of the skirt which extended into a chapel train. Her veil of illusion fell gracefully from a crown headpiece of pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of sweetheart roses centered with an orchid corsage. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. Attendants were Mrs. Herbert Bunch of New Castle, matron of honor, Miss Carol and Patricia Kline, sisters of the bridegroom, and Miss Joan Alliger of Rochester, N. Y., sorority sister and college roommate of the bride. The attendants wore gowns of pink organza over taffeta, styled with bell-shaped street length skirts, short sleeves, scoop necklines, and accented with a self fabric rose at the waist. They wore matching headpieces and carried cascade arrangements of carnations and sweetheart roses.

Miss Susan Boswell, sister of the bride, was flower girl and wore a dress of white organza over taffeta with pink sash and flowers. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Bobby Ringer, cousin of the bridegroom, carried the rings on a white satin pillow. Don Kline of Indianapolis, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were Leo Mann of Kalamazoo, Mich., Ronald Sommers of Richland, Mich., and Jack Richason of Logansport. Ushers were George Holder of Chicago, Warren Curtis, and Tom Boswell, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Boswell, mother of the bride, selected a sheath gown of rose embroidered organza over taffeta with white accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue crepe dress with satin cummerbund and embroidered bodice with bone colored accessories. Both mothers wore white cymbidium orchid corsages.

A reception for 250 guests was held immediately following the ceremony in Fellowship Hall. The serving table was decorated with a centerpiece of pink and white flowers and pink candles in silver candelabra. Serving were Miss Georgia Powell, Miss Sandra Foster, and Miss Betsy Shillings, all of Ottawa, Ill., and Mrs. Robert Boswell of Milwaukee, Wis. Miss Sylvia Meltnas of Walkerton cut the cake. Miss Rosalie Oberlin of Chicago was in charge of the guest book.

For her honeymoon, the bride selected a blue and white two-piece suit with navy accessories and wore the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

After their return from a wedding trip to northern Michigan and Canada, the newlyweds will be at home at Queen Road, Box 291, Culver, where the bridegroom is associated with his father in farming.

The bridal couple are graduates of Culver High School. The new Mrs. Kline is a graduate of Hanover College and received her master's degree from Northwestern University. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority at Hanover and taught English one year at the Bremen Public Schools, and also one year at Ottawa, Ill. She will teach English in the Culver Public Schools next term.

Mr. Kline is a graduate of Purdue University and is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity. He was formerly affiliated with the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust of Chicago and graduated from the Board Commodity School in Chicago in April.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were from Ottawa, Chicago, and Springfield, Ill.; Milwaukee, Wis.; Fort Wayne, Wabash, Logansport, South Bend, Elkhart, Indianapolis, Frankfort, Swayzee, Plymouth, Walkerton, and New Castle, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kline, parents of the bridegroom, entertained at a pre-rehearsal dinner Friday evening at The Three Sisters Restaurant for members of the bridal party and their guests.

Sally M. Lowry and Richard L. Large Speak Nuptial Vows

In a double ring ceremony at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 24, at the Hibbard Evangelical United Brethren Church, Miss Sally Marelle Lowry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Lowry, Route 4, Plymouth, became the bride of Richard Lee Large, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Large, Route 2, Culver.

Rev. Thomas C. Rough officiated before the altar which was decorated with baskets of white mums, gladioli, and pompons with candelabra with white tapers on either side. Miss Jeanette Berger, pianist, cousin of the bride, played the nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Richard Overmyer, also a cousin of the bride, who sang "God Gave Me You," and "Wedding Prayer." Miss Berger played "The Lord's Prayer" during the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a full-length princess style gown of silk organza over taffeta. Her finger-tip veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of iridescent sequins and pearls. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

Attending the bride were her sisters, Miss Judy Lowry and Miss Martha Lowry, who wore identical dresses of white nylon lace over mint green taffeta fashioned with portrait neckline and street-length gathered skirts. They wore mint green and white accessories and carried colonial bouquets of white mums and pompons.

Best man was Roger Large, brother of the bridegroom, and Jack Warner, Pierceton, was groomsmen. Ushers were Everett Feece of Plymouth and William Peters of Elwood.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Lowry chose a dress of pink and white acetate print with which she wore white accessories. Mrs. Large, mother of the bridegroom, wore a brown and white acetate jersey dress with brown and white accessories and each mother wore a corsage of pink roses and white pompons.

Immediately following the wedding a reception for 150 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. The four-tier wedding cake was topped with white satin bows and bells. Mixed nuts, green and white mints, punch and coffee were served.

Mrs. Raymond Lowry, aunt of the bride, served the cake and also serving were Mrs. Arnold Lowry and Mrs. Edward Easterday, aunts of the bride. Mrs. Howard Shock and Mrs. Harry Leffert assisted with the serving. Roberta Lou Easterday, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

After a short wedding trip, the newlyweds will be at home at Route 2, Culver. For going away the bride chose a turquoise suit with white accessories with which she wore a white orchid.

Out-of-town guests were from Warsaw, Monterey, Mishawaka, Rochester and Plymouth.

The bride graduated from Culver High School in 1959 and is employed at The State Exchange Bank in Culver.

MRS. ROBERT F. BEAVERS

The Memorial Chapel on the beautiful campus of Culver Military Academy provided the setting for the lovely 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon wedding on June 24 which united in marriage Miss Tommye Lou Glaze and Robert F. Beavers.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Helen Glaze, 702 College Ave., Culver, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beavers of Mount Summit, Ind., are parents of the bridegroom.

Chaplain Allen F. Bray III performed the double ring ceremony before the Chapel altar which was graced with bouquets of white and yellow daisies interspersed with gladioli.

The organ prelude included selections by the composer, J. S. Bach, which were played by Dave Matthews of New Castle. Following the entrance of the bridegroom's mother, Miss Janice Slagle of Argos sang "O, Love That Casts Out Fear." After the entrance of the bride's mother, Robert Glaze, brother of the bride, sang "Wedding Song" by Schutz. Miss Slagle and Mr. Glaze joined in the duet, "The Lord Bless You," by Bach, as the couple knelt at the altar. "Jesu, Joy Of Man's Desiring," by Bach, was selected for the processional and "Rondo in G," composed by John Bull-Ellsasser, was chosen for the recessional.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, H. Herber, Guymon, Okla., the bride was lovely in her street-length gown of white dotted swiss over cotton satin. The very full skirt was topped by a fitted basque with wide tailored belt. The scooped neckline was accented by the bias puffed bracelet-length sleeves edged with tiny bias folds. To complete her bridal attire she wore a picture hat of white shirred tulle, gathered into a pillbox crown, and trimmed in white velvet ribbon. She carried a white prayer book, a gift of Miss Oklahoma at the 1960 Miss America Pageant, topped with a removable bouquet of white daisies and sweetheart roses with daisy streamers. The bride designed her wedding gown which was made by her grandmother, Mrs. H. Herber, Guymon, Okla.

Mrs. H. William Crowe of Muncie was matron of honor and Miss Sandy Rodenbeck of Fort Wayne was bridesmaid. Their gowns were fashioned of yellow dotted swiss identical to that of the bride. They carried yellow daisies.

Miss Metta and Erica Zetty of San Antonio, Texas, cousins of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. Their dresses were also made of yellow dotted swiss and they carried miniature bouquets of yellow daisies.

Bernie Hanson of Muncie and Gordon Butler and Lynn Huncellman, both of New Albany, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Glaze appeared in a dress of gold silk organza which featured a scooped neckline edged with bias folds of matching material, a full skirt of unpressed pleats, a fitted waist with matching tie belt smartly edged with spaghetti fringe, and a deep shadow hem. She wore matching gold shoes and hat with gloves and clutch bag in tones of bone beige.

Mrs. Beavers chose a sheath dress of pale blue silk shantung, the top of which was overworked with white lace. Her white straw hat repeated the white lace accent.

A reception for 100 guests was held following the ceremony at the Culver Inn. White and yellow daisies adorned the top of the three-layer wedding cake and spread out to decorate the sterling silver candelabra. Greenery and daisies also graced the base of the punch bowl.

For her going away ensemble, the new Mrs. Beavers chose a brown and beige skirt and blouse combination with matching lamb's wool coat sweater. Her beige pumps featured stack heels and her handbag and gloves were of matching beige and bone colors.

Following a honeymoon through southeastern Canada and the New England states, the newlyweds will be at home in Muncie.

The bride is a graduate of Culver High School and Indiana University where she majored in music education. She is a member of S.A.I., music honorary; Pamarada, scholastic honorary; and Mu Alpha Sigma, Miss America Sorority.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Mount Summit High School and Purdue University's School of Civil Engineering. He is a member of the Reamer Club, honorary; and AMCE, American Society of Civil Engineers. He was drum major of Purdue's All-American Band in 1955. He is associated in the sales department with Maxon Premix Company in Muncie.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were from Mount Summit, Ind.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Guymon, Okla.; and San Antonio, Texas.

Burr Oak Rebeekahs To Be Guests of Culver Rebeekahs

The Culver Rebeekahs are planning to be hostesses at a picnic for the Burr Oak Rebeekahs on Tuesday night, July 10. All will convene at the west end of City Park at 6:30 p.m.

Culver Rebeekahs Meet

The Culver Rebeekahs held their regular meeting Tuesday evening in the Lions Den with LaVerne Geiger, noble grand, in chair.

During the business session plans were made for a picnic with the Burr Oak Lodge as guests July 10 at 6:30 p.m. in the west end of City Park. Plans were also made to enjoy dinner and a play at the Wagon Wheel in Warsaw July 25.

Refreshments were served by Tot Strang, LeVerne Geiger, Blanche Mishler, and Zazel Mishler.

Gas Buried In Sandstone!

THIS IS the huge 660-horsepower compressor at Royal Centre, used to pump natural gas 1,350 feet below into the layer of sandstone. Enough pressure is exerted by the compressor to force the gas into the porous rock, push the water back into the formation, and leave the gas under enough pressure to flow back out of the rock layer and up through the injection-withdrawal wells when needed.

A NIPSCO employe opens a valve on a "Christmas tree," which tops one of the injection-withdrawal wells at Royal Centre. Metering device in the center of the piping measures and records the flow of natural gas through the well.

Culver's Gas Travels A Great Distance

When the thermometer tumbles to zero and below next winter, natural gas customers in the Culver area will be using gas that's really been around. In fact, it will have come all the way from Oklahoma, Texas and the Gulf Coast to Northern Indiana Public Service Company's receiving stations on the state line at Hammond.

From there, NIPSCO will have sent it 80 miles southeast — to Royal Centre — where it will have been pumped into what looks like a layer of solid rock, and kept there until needed. It's called underground storage — a "fools pipe dream" until a few years ago.

Almost daily, for the past 12 months, a huge 660-horsepower compressor has been pumping natural gas, through the wells, deep into the earth at Royal Centre. Today, more than one billion cubic feet of gas rests securely in a layer of porous sandstone 1,350 feet below this Hoosier farmland near the Wabash Valley.

We had proven by this spring that gas could be injected and safely stored at the Royal Centre site. One question remained, however. Could the gas be efficiently withdrawn and sent back into our transmission lines to serve NIPSCO customers on the coldest winter days when they need extra gas for space heating?

NIPSCO's engineers and geologists recently got that long-awaited answer. Natural gas which had been pumped under pressure into the sandstone more than a quarter mile below, was successfully brought up through seven injection-withdrawal wells at the site, passed through transmission lines crossing the station site. These pipelines link the Wabash Valley with NIPSCO's sprawling northwest transmission system.

NIPSCO also reports that another underground storage facility is being developed at Lake of the Woods, northeast of Culver. Some 125 million cubic feet of gas has already been injected into one of 11 wells at the Marshall County site, and the company engineers report it is taking gas satisfactorily.

MAKE LAWN MOWING EASIER

Ease your lawn mowing job by doing something about lawn areas which take extra time to cut and trim, suggests Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

You shouldn't cut up your central lawn area with shrubs, walls and walks. He reminds that power mowing is more difficult with objects in the way and that you must clip the grass around many of them by hand.

Use edging and curbing along fences and walls to reduce hand trimming. And mulch or plant ground cover around trees too. Have your paving flush with the ground so hand clipping isn't necessary.

Grass is not only difficult to establish on steep slopes, but is also hard to maintain and mow. Scheer recommends establishing ground cover plants on these slopes. The most popular ground cover is myrtle, which grows well in either sun or shade.

To further cut down yard maintenance time, he suggests eliminating from the lawn areas which are difficult to get at with your power mower. These areas—along the side of your house and between shrub plantings — also may be planted in ground cover.

"May I speak with you a moment sir?"

Certainly, young man, what is it?" said Mr. Smith.

"Well, sir, I—er—that is to say—can I—would you mind?"

"Well, well," laughed Mr. Smith, "so you want to marry my daughter and are shy about asking, eh? Take her, my boy, and good luck to you."

"Oh no, it wasn't that, sir. I—I wondered if you would lend me some money."

"Lend you money?" replied Mr. Smith, glaring. "Certainly not! Why, I hardly know you!"

The guest finally decided to leave and apologized. "I do hope

I haven't kept you up too late."

"Not at all," replied his host, "we would have been getting up soon anyway."

"You say that your husband thinks he's a refrigerator?" inquired the psychiatrist.

"Yes," replied the distraught woman, "and it's most annoying. He sleeps with his mouth open and the light keeps me awake."

A family man is one who has replaced the currency in his wallet with snapshots.

Driving along a country road, the woman noticed several luncheon climbing telephone poles.

"Silly fools!" she exclaimed to her companion, "they must think I've never driven before."

Papa kangaroo asked, "Where's the baby?"

"My goodness," responded Mama kangaroo, "I've had my pocket picked!"

The little boy told his mother, "The people next door must be very poor."

"Why do you think so?" she inquired.

"Because they made such a fuss when their baby swallowed a penny."

'Peppermint Tree' To Be Presented Again Next Sunday

Giving local audiences the opportunity to once again "Come and See the Peppermint Tree", the Virginia Bays Dance Theatre will present the dance production on Sunday, July 1, at 3 p.m. in the Eppley Auditorium.

The widely acclaimed production is a dance fantasy built around the search for a peppermint tree. It is a dance adaptation of the delightful children's record of the same name. Choreography is done by Virginia Bays.

The program is a series of musical compositions for dance in which everyday experiences and activities assume, through the vivid imagination of childhood, the wonders of the world of fantasy. The record "Come and See the Peppermint Tree" is by Evelyn Lohrefer.

Members of the dance group are Mary Strow, Cathy Carrothers, Karen Nichols, Donna Kay Dawson, Bonnie Boilini, Bill Smith, Christine Stevens, Rene Schultz, Jayne Bray, Eley Graham, Betty Zeig, Patty Ogden and Jody McClure.

Some of the numbers in the sequence are "Follow Me", "Kitchen Stuff", "Putt Putt", "All Mixed Up", "Riding a Star", "Jump and Spin" and "Thingamabob."

The production, first offered by the dance theatre the end of May, aroused so much community interest that its return is by popular demand.

The public is cordially invited. There is no admission charge.

HI NEIGHBOR — A Delphi man, Wayne Talbert, on returning from a business trip to Akron, O., told The Delphi Citizen of his experience in a hotel in the Ohio city. Talbert said he checked in late and when he went to his room a policeman was standing in front of the door of the room next to his. Talbert said he asked the policeman, "What's up?" The officer gave him the short answer, "Nothing." Still curious, Talbert inquired of the desk clerk next morning and learned the officer had been assigned to guard the room of Actress Joan Crawford, who was making a personal appearance in Akron, and protect her from intrusion by impetuous admirers or autograph seekers.

BACKWARD — The mushroom hunting season in Hoosierland got off to a slow start this year. In other years, editors have been besieged by hunters with stories about their finds. But not this year. As the season progressed some newspapers were offering prizes to hunters who might come in with exceptionally tall tales.

LOCAL STUDENTS TO ATTEND DEPAUW BASKETBALL CAMP

Two potential basketball "stars" from Culver will be among 112 boys from eight states attending DePauw University's basketball and sports camp set for June 24-30 and July 1-7 at Greencastle, Ind.

Attending the second period will be Jeff Adams and Greg Osborn.

The camp, originated by DePauw head basketball coach Elmer McCall who coached South Bend Central High School to two state championships, is designed for boys who will be entering grades six through nine this fall.

The sessions will feature instruction in basketball fundamentals and participation in swimming, tennis, and bowling. The campers, 56 each one-week period, will also be organized into leagues on the basis of age and ability for intramural competition.

Serving as instructors, along with camp director McCall, will be two top Indiana high school basketball coaches, Jim Myers of Evansville Bosse's 1962 state champion team and Virgil Sweet of Valparaiso High School, president of the Indiana Coaches' Association.

Counselors for the camp will be four members of DePauw's basketball team. Housing and meals will be provided in one of the school's fraternities.

Taking A Vacation?

If you're going to be gone longer than three weeks, Virginia Van Nostrand, home service director for Whirlpool Corp., advises that you disconnect the refrigerator, remove all foods, and leave the doors open. This will save electricity, eliminate food spoilage, and prevent the buildup of musty odors. Refrigerators with freezer compartments can be left running, but perishable foods should be removed from the refrigerator section. Miss Van Nostrand also advises that washers, dryers, TV sets, range and radios be unplugged. Shut off the faucets to the washer. A dehumidifier can be left operating — but only if it has a run-off hose to drain; a water collection pan will overflow. And don't forget to stop the milk, the mail and the newspaper and make arrangements to get the grass cut.

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN INDIANA, folks heard reports of the gallant fighting of the 19th and 20th Indiana regiments against the Confederacy. Patriots all over the state toasted their army's bravery with foaming steins of beer.

For then as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. Beer still provides enjoyment for folks in Indiana, and a good living for the employees and suppliers of the Brewing Industry.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Weekly Fishing Report For Local Areas

Fishing over the weekend on Lake Maxinkuckee was good but not many fishermen. W. M. Mullett, of Peru, caught a 1 lb., 4 oz. ring perch and fishermen from Hammond made some nice catches of bass and bluegill. John Adams took a nice small mouth bass.

The fish seem to be biting better and with the weather holding should get better over the weekend. Mrs. Hazel McCalla of Ha-Mac Landing reporting.

Fishing picked up this week in other lakes of Marshall County. Pretty Lake has been producing good bluegill catches and some trout. Kreighbaum and Cook Lakes have shown an increase of bluegill catches. A few pike have been taken on the Tippecanoe River on large minnows and silver spoons. Most of the bluegill have been taken on catalpa worms and red worms. Weekend fishing should pick up if weather holds. Officer Waincott reporting.

Northeastern Indiana
Streams all high and muddy. Fishing poor. Lakes are clear with several good catches of pan fish being caught using night crawlers and small minnows. Sylvan, Adams and Barbee Chain Lakes, fishing reported good. Several bass caught on artificial bait and soft crawls.

Northwestern Indiana
Streams are low and clear, with a few channel cat caught on shad gut. At the Willow Slough State Fish and Game Area, all fishing has slowed down except several nice catches of bluegills caught on red worms, bass fishing slow, channel cat fishing with minnows remains good.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES CONVENTION AT HAMMOND

Stanley Spangler, minister of Jehovah's Witnesses of Plymouth has received information that the machinery for a smooth working convention of Jehovah's Witnesses is progressing well under the veteran hands of convention director, John R. Meister, congregation overseer of Oak Lawn, Ill. He is arranging for 20 different departments to care for the 10,000 delegates expected to attend the "Courageous Ministers Assembly" at Hammond, Ind., July 13, 14, 15.

Spangler said that 2,000 volunteers will be listing their names for service from some 150 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in the area served by this assembly. He reported that from his own congregation here in Plymouth many members anxiously signed up to lend a hand with convention duties such as first aid nurses, cafeteria workers, stenographers, etc., to fill the demands of all departments.

MOVE TO CHESTERTON

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Baker, 433 S. Ohio St., Culver, are moving this week to their new home at 1203 Porter Ave., in Chesterton, where Mr. Baker has been promoted to a position at the Bailey Town Generating Plant of the Northern Indiana Public Service Company.

The Bakers have sold their Culver home to Mrs. Anna Hartman of Denham who will take possession June 30. Mrs. Hartman is the mother of Mrs. Harry E. McFarland of Culver.

Phil Grotter and Bob Kerrigan left by car Monday noon for California where Bob will return to his Marine base at Camp Pendleton after spending a 25-day furlough here with his family. Phil will visit his grandmother, Celestia Grotter, the former Celestia Keller of Culver, at Long Beach. He will also visit aunts and uncles during his California visit.

Gary Grotter is attending summer school at Purdue University.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sales and daughter, Melissa, of St. Ann, Mo., spent the past week visiting relatives at Kokomo and Culver. While in Culver they visited Mrs. Kline Sales and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Osborn.

Corky, Tom, and Ned Overmyer and Denise McKee were all overnight guests Saturday of their grandmother, Mrs. Trula McKee.

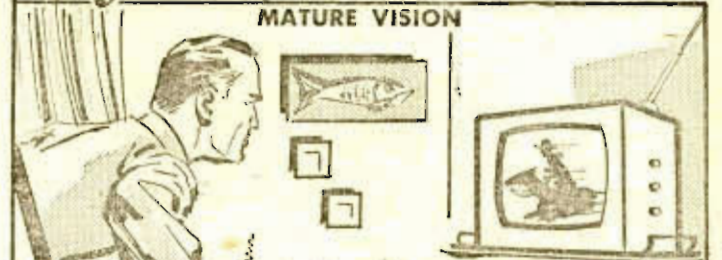

Harry A. Smeltzer and Stanley Sikora will play with the Argos High School Band this evening for their weekly outdoor concert. Mr. Smeltzer will be guest conductor for the evening.

MICHAEL P. McCULLOUGH TO ATTEND SCIENCE SCHOOL AT NORTHWESTERN

Michael P. McCullough, grandson of Col. and Mrs. R. H. Shanks, North Terrace, Culver, has been accepted to attend the National High School Institute engineering and science division that opens June 30, on the campus of Northwestern University at Evanston, Ill. He will be among 96 students, chosen out of 400 applicants from throughout the United States, to spend five weeks studying many phases of engineering and science at the University's Technological Institute.

Besides his outstanding scholastic record in science and mathematics at Culver Military Academy, he has been very active in sports.

Eye-Openers
MATURE VISION

Life—and mature vision—begins at 40. Changes start to occur in the lens of the eye. It becomes less elastic, sometimes makes it uncomfortable to focus on television, desk work or handicrafts. Reading glasses or bifocals may be prescribed to relieve this vision discomfort.

Around the age of 55, bifocal wearers may encounter almost a "blind spot" at arm's length, says the American Optometric Association. For shopping or dining out, newly developed trifocals solve the mid-distance problem, put the wearer completely at ease visually.

Don't believe the old wives' tale that using your eyes will wear them out! With proper lighting and corrective eyeglasses if necessary, older people should feel free to continue all the reading, writing, sewing and television they wish. Night driving should be reduced to a minimum; mature vision doesn't adjust readily to the glare of oncoming headlights.

MRS. ROCHELLE DRANG IN BANDING CEREMONY

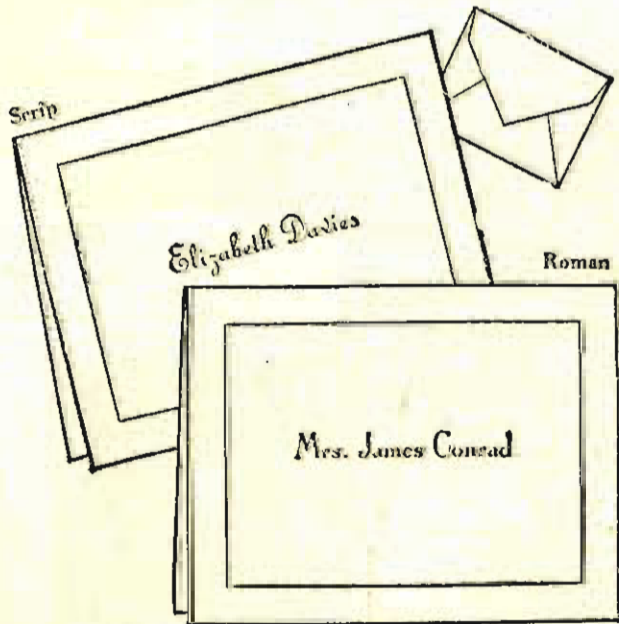

Mrs. Rochelle (Good) Drang, a student nurse at the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Gary, was one of the class participating in banding ceremonies held at the school on Friday evening, June 22. This ceremony, designating the completion of the first year of nursing study, was

Primary Vote In Marshall County Ranks 71st

Marshall County ranked 71st among Indiana counties in the percentage of registered voters who cast ballots in the May 8 primary elections, according to a survey just completed by the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce.

The unofficial survey, compiled from reports of county clerks, local chambers of commerce and from newspaper accounts, showed 2,988 Democratic ballots cast in the county and 3,706 Republican ballots, for a total of 6,694, or 36.45 per cent of the registered voters.

Statewide results of the survey showed 934,942, or 38.87 per cent of the state's registered voters, cast primary ballots this year. The total ballots cast in 1962 represented an increase of more than 14,000 over the 1960 primary, but because of increased voter registration this year the percentage of registered persons who voted dropped from the 40.15 per cent figure two years ago. County reports showed a total of 2,405,959 voters registered in 1962 as compared with 2,290,914 registered at the time of the 1960 primary election.

Indiana's best primary voting record in recent years was established in 1958, when 41.46% of the registered voters cast ballots.

County figures in the State Chamber surveys in almost all instances represent the highest number of votes cast in any race in each party, and are conservative as to total ballots cast, the chamber said.

The 1962 statewide tabulation showed 509,086 or 55.49 per cent of the ballots cast in the Democratic primary and 434,856 or 46.51 per cent in the Republican primary.

Receives Master Degree From Northwestern

Elmer G. White, of Culver Military Academy, received his Master of Arts degree from Northwestern University during the commencement exercises held on June 16. The University presented over 1,400 bachelor degrees and 850 master and doctorate degrees.

There were also 302 degrees given for specialized work, such as dental hygiene, nursing and traffic police administration.

CUT DOWN VACATION COSTS—CAMP OUT

Camping out used to appeal only to the hardy men and boys, but now the whole family enjoys a camping trip. One of the most economical of vacations, camping is fun for everyone.

With the quantity of camping equipment on the market today, people are confused about what they really do need to be comfortable on a camping trip.

Anna Kay Williams, home management specialist at Purdue University urges a family trying camping for the first time to spend a minimum of money on equipment until they decide whether or not camping is for them. Instead of investing a lot of money in your first venture, rent or borrow the essentials and improvise the rest from what you have on hand.

If you are trying camping for the first time, the specialist recommends a short trip. A week-end or several days at one of Indiana's state parks is a good way to initiate the family into camping's pleasures and techniques. A weekend trip won't exhaust the family or the budget.

Be concerned with sleeping and picnic meal equipment first, the specialist says. Sleeping equipment can vary from an air mattress on the ground to a trailer, whichever appeals to the family's taste or pocketbook. Plan to prepare simple, one-dish meals to cut down on work and supplies. Most kitchens will yield plastic or paper dishes and the one or two saucetans and skillets necessary for preparing picnic meals. You will need some form of refrigeration, such as an ice chest, and something for cooking. A gasoline stove, or charcoal grill serves satisfactorily.

SHOPPING FOR A SUMMER SUIT.

A boom to both men and women, washable summer suits are pleasant to wear and easy to care for. If you are planning to add one of these to your wardrobe, Frieda Stoll, clothing specialist at Purdue University, suggests shopping carefully to be sure the suit will measure up to your expectations.

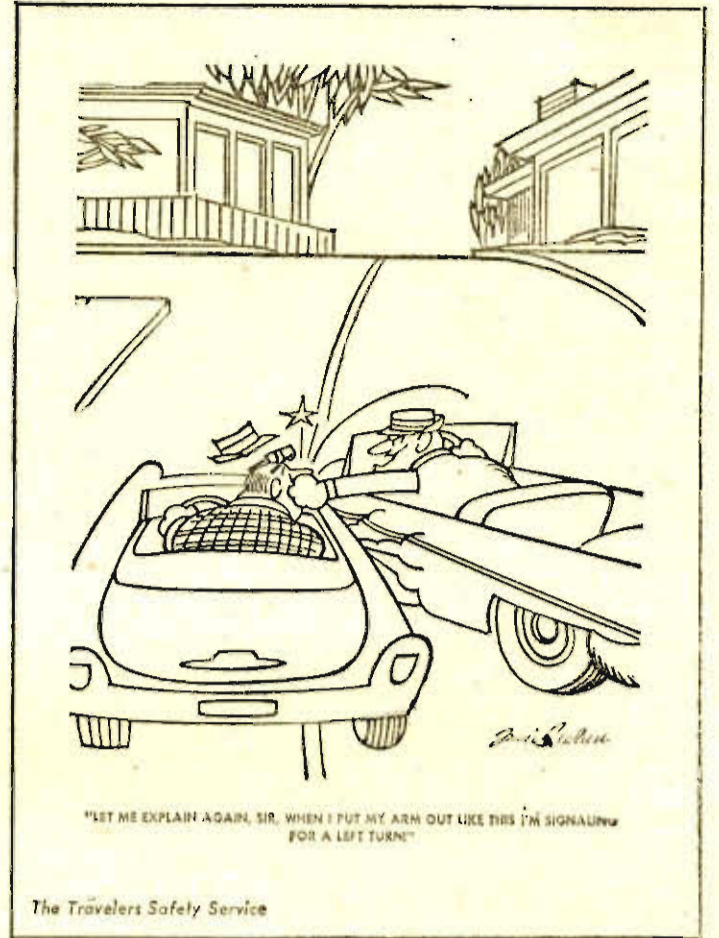

Choose a suiting material that resists wrinkles and soil, will not shrink or stretch, and is colorfast to light, perspiration and washing. A label, hang tag or pocket stuffer should provide this information. The fabric should be smooth-woven, light weight, shadow proof and firm enough to hold its shape.

Be sure to look inside the suit at interfacings, pocketing and bindings, says the specialist. See that these materials are firm, light weight, wrinkle resistant and shrinkage controlled.

Unlined sleeves and a skeleton lining of self material make a summer suit cool to wear and easy to press, Miss Stoll adds.

Good workmanship is important, too. The suit should be neatly

PEEVISH — A Steuben County Deputy Sheriff, Charles Oberlin, has a pet peeve. It is motorists who fail to dim their bright lights when approaching other cars. So, while patrolling U.S. 20 near Angola, he halted a car which approached with blinding lights. He intended, he said, to give the driver only a warning ticket but when one of two male passengers in the car hopped out and ran into the woods, the deputy became suspicious. Investigation developed that the car had been stolen in Chicago. The man who ran was captured later in a nearby woods. Federal charges of transporting a stolen car across a state line were placed against two of the men. The third was charged with public intoxication.

Morning Worship 10:30 a.m.
How the Christ, Truth, brings freedom from sickness and sin will be brought out at Christian Science church services this Sunday.
Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" will contain this verse from Jeremiah (17): "Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; save me, and I shall be saved; for thou art my praise."
A correlative citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p.142): "Truth is God's remedy for error of every kind, and Truth destroys only what is untrue. Hence the fact that, to-day, as yesterday, Christ casts out evils and heals the sick."

WILLIAM EIKENBERRY ESCAPES FREAK ACCIDENT
William D. Eikenberry, Route 2, Argos, escaped without injury from what could have been a serious accident on State St. in Culver late last Thursday afternoon. Eikenberry had stopped with his truck at the Nelson Equipment Company and loaded a tractor onto his truck and then proceeded north on State St. to College Ave., where he stopped to let traffic pass before turning on to College Ave.
The truck brakes failed to hold and since State St. makes a sharp incline to College Ave. the truck began a rapid backward speed down State St. Eikenberry was able to steer the truck into a tree along the side of the street which stopped the truck's progress. The impact threw the tractor from the truck and made a complete ruin of the truck bed. Damage was also inflicted to the tractor.

Rubber stamps made to order at The Citizen. Four-day delivery.

America's eating habits are changing, and instead of "chicken every Sunday," it's "chicken every day." But it's no wonder, with the number of chickens available at moderate prices in today's supermarket.

One of the most economical meats, chicken is a good source of protein and other important nutrients. It is mild flavored and may be prepared many ways.

If you are looking for new chicken recipes read "Wonderful Ways with Chicken," published by Purdue University. Six special recipes are given in addition to information on the six basic ways to prepare chicken-frying, broiling, fricasseeing, roasting, barbecuing and steaming.

When buying chicken, consider your family's needs and how the chicken will be prepared. The ready-to-cook poundage will be approximately 60 per cent of the live weight. A rule of the thumb is to allow 1/2 pound per serving. With boned chicken, two to four ounces per serving can be used.

Indiana residents may obtain free copies of "Wonderful Ways with Chicken," ID-37, from their county extension office, or by writing the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana.

POWER POST BEETLES DESTROY WOOD

Don't confuse powder post beetle damage with that of termites, says Dave Matthew, Purdue University extension entomologist. Powder post beetles can be serious structural pests, but their control procedures are entirely different from those for termites.

The beetles riddle the surface of wood with round holes about the size of a pencil lead. The beetle larvae work inside, reducing the wood to powder-like dust. This dust, which resembles flour, sifts from the holes and accumulates in little piles beneath infested lumber.

Termites work entirely within the timbers leaving no external evidence of their presence until the surface breaks or the wood gives way. Termites also may build small mud tubes over wood and foundation walls.

Neither the larvae of the powder post beetle nor the small, free flying adult beetles requires a ground contact as do termites. So powder post beetles can be controlled by spraying or otherwise treating infested wood. Soil and foundation treatments used for termite control do not affect powder post beetles.

Several insecticides, including DDT, lindane and pentachlorophenol, can be used to treat powder post infested wood. Pentachlorophenol is also a wood preservative. Reputable pest control firms are familiar with these insecticides and have trained personnel to apply them.

GROUND COVERS PINCH HIT FOR GRASS

Having trouble growing grass in shady spots and on banks?

These areas, plus those where it's difficult to mow, such as around shrubs, are good places to plant ground covers, says Don Scheer, Purdue University extension horticulturist.

Ground covers are the low growing plants used for special effect, or for covering ground where grass won't grow well. Beside pinch hitting for grass, many are beautiful and green all year — and you'll find them easy to care for, too.

The most popular ground cover is myrtle, which grows well in the sun or in the shade. Other evergreen ground covers are euonymus, or wintercreeper; Thorndale English ivy, and low growing junipers, such as the Waukegan, and Andorra.

Before you plant add 20 pounds of 10-6-4 fertilizer, or its equivalent, per 1,000 square feet, and mix it into the soil. Set out small ground cover plants, which you can purchase at your local nursery. Scheer recommends planting them a foot apart; individual plants will gradually fill in and crowd out the weeds and make a permanent cover.

A two-inch peat moss or ground corn cob mulch will help keep the weeds down while the ground covers are becoming established.

NEW EDITION OF LAKE CONTOUR MAP IS OUT

The Culver Press has printed a new edition of the popular Lake Maxinkuckee contour map, which even shows the location of Venetian Village. Copies are available at The Citizen for only 25 cents; 50 cents by mail.

SLOW COWPOKES — The story of a wily cow that evaded capture for nearly three months by jumping fences, wading creeks and hiding in woodlands in Franklin and Decatur Counties, is told by The Batesville Herald-Tribune. The cow was in a herd purchased shortly before last Christmas by Joe Wissel of Route 2, Batesville. Wissel and his sons were moving the herd to their farm when the cow, apparently disconcerted over being separated from her calf, broke away and fled. The Wissels completed transfer of the herd to their farm and then went back for the cow. They trailed her in the vicinity of Oldenburg for several days before giving up the chase temporarily. From time to time the cow was spotted on various farms but it was not until mid-March that Wissel got word the cow was on a farm near Enochsburg. Then he organized a round-up crew of 24 men, some on foot and others on horseback, and set out to capture the elusive cow. After a chase through creek bottoms and woods, the cow was caught in a creek. She was roped, dragged into a truck and finally delivered at the Wissel farm.

How an agnostic inspired the world's best-known religious novel!

LEWIS WALLACE, BORN, BROOKVILLE, INDIANA, 1827

THE TRAIN LURCHED and swayed its way through the Indiana countryside that September evening in 1870. And the voices of two men began to rise above the clinkety-clack of the wheels. They were arguing about God.

Robert C. Ingersoll, the noted agnostic, was lashing the believers in God and Christ and Heaven with the verbal whip of his eloquent scorn. He was trying to convince General Lew Wallace.

And convince him he did. But not in the way he had hoped. For this very discussion inspired Wallace to make over a novel he was working on into a reply to Ingersoll. His plan was to create a powerful argument for the divinity of Christ.

Ben-Hur, A Tale of the Christ, was the result! And Wallace's objective was accomplished beyond his wildest dreams. More people have read about, or viewed, Ben-Hur than any other literary character.

Lew Wallace (general, lawyer, politician, diplomat, as well as author) was born in Brookville in 1827. It was the first big town in Indiana. For farm-hungry settlers were swarming there to buy land at $1.25 an acre. Roads and railroads followed in time, but the telephone had to wait to be invented in 1875. The first phone came to Indiana in 1877.

Since then it has risen from the status of an unreliable toy to an indispensable communications instrument. And today, Indiana Bell offers not merely the telephone, but a vast array of communications aids: Data-Phone, that lets business machines "talk" to each other; Bell-boy, a pocket radio receiver that signals when you're wanted on the phone; answering-recording sets, teletypewriters, and many others. And the best is yet to come from Bell Telephone Research.

VACATION TIME
is Long Distance Time

Have a wonderful vacation trip this year. But remember—be sure to go first by Long Distance. Phone ahead for your reservations—or to let relatives and friends know when you'll arrive. And phone back home to keep in touch while you're away. Use Area Code numbers when you call, for faster, easier phoning.

Culver Nine Hands Bourbon First Defeat

Two rugged county baseball teams fell to Culver's Indians last week, running the local victory streak to five straight games. The latest victims were Bremen, 14-11, and Bourbon, 9-8, giving Culver a 5-2 summer record. Only Bourbon and LaPaz are ahead of the Indians in the County League. Last Thursday evening at Bremen, Culver exploded for all fourteen runs in the last two innings. However, poor defensive support nearly cost pitcher Sam Lowry the game, as only four of Bremen's eleven runs were earned. Sophomore center fielder Dave Lemar was the hitting hero with 4-for-5, including a double and triple in the nine-run fifth inning. Lowry, in picking up his third victory, helped his own cause with three hits.

In Monday's crucial game at Bourbon, the previously undefeated Comets rapped Lowry for eight runs and eleven hits, but it was not enough. Coach Gene Crosley's crew gave Sam a six-run lead in the second inning, and the junior right-hander protected it with brilliant clutch pitching. Lowry fanned eleven and consistently left Bourbon runners stranded on the bases. The Comets' Chris Booz cracked two home runs, accounting for six runs in the fifth and sixth innings. Lemar, Rick Ervin, and Paul Liette each drove in two of Culver's runs, as Lowry ran his record to 4-2.

Thursday night the Indians travel to Argos in an attempt to gain revenge for a 3-2 loss on opening night. Box scores:
