Babson Discusses Salesmen

Salesmen Basis Of Prosperity

Babson Park, Mass. — When I was National Moderator of the Congregational Christian Conference I was asked for my answer to this question: "What business would Jesus be in if He were living today. — surely He would not be a carpenter or fisherman?" To the above I replied: "My guess is that Jesus would sell life insurance."

Roger W. Babson

This column is not a "plug" for any line of business. In fact, there may well be enough good life insurance agents today; but I know that Jesus would be in some useful work and I think He would be a salesman. In fact, Jesus and His apostle Paul were the great salesmen of Christianity.

Need For Salesmen Today

In a recent survey of American manufacturers and service organizations compiled in New York City, it was reported that their members are in need of 303,672 salesmen. They also strongly recommended a training course for salesmen, wishing that more colleges would teach practical salesmanship and courses in psychology, public speaking, and other subjects which would be helpful in honest selling.

It is interesting to note that salesmen do not need to form labor unions. "Union wages" cannot be "sold" to salesmen, for labor knows that a salesman can always get what he is worth. The annual pay of salesmen varies from $6,000 to $100,000 or more according to what and how well they sell.

What About Radio and TV?

There is some fear that broadcasting tends to undermine — or make unnecessary or "short cut" — the work of the nation's salesmen. This may be true in the case of cosmetics, drugs, cigarettes, etc.; but it is not true in general. As we listen to radio or television, we are inclined to think that these much-advertised products comprise an important percentage of the U.S. national income; but this is not true. With the exception of the auto industry, over 80% of consumer products, real estate, and building materials are not being sold via broadcasting. Certainly, this 80% leaves enough for salesmen to work upon.

My estimate is that newspaper and magazine advertising gives the advertiser more for his money than does television. The latter reaches vast numbers of people, but only for a minute or two (although these ads are prepared with great care by very able and experienced specialists). To me one of the most interesting portion of a TV broadcast is the list of the large number of concerns and individuals who were employed to prepare the broadcast. Readers will note that the automobile manufacturers are still using — and perhaps making even more important use of — newspapers and magazines to sell their cars. Such ads are on hand and available to readers for 20 hours or more; while the TV ads often are available for only 20 seconds at a time.

Salesmen Basis of Prosperity

Finally, let me say a word about the selection of salesmen. They should be men of character and with a pleasing personality. A good salesman believes in his product and in his employer. He honestly feels that he is serving his customers by selling them his "goods." He is convinced that full employment is dependent upon the nation's salesmen, whether his territory is international or only local. He believes that the future of America depends upon

Cadet P. E. Tovrea Takes Part In O'Hare Field Dedication Ceremony

A Culver Military Academy cadet, nephew of the late Lt. Cdr. Edward H. "Butch" O'Hare, joined with President John F. Kennedy in formal dedication ceremonies of O'Hare Field-Chicago International Airport at 11 a.m. Saturday, March 23.

The cadet, Philip E. Tovrea III, is one of two living nephews of the world's busiest airport was named. During Saturday's ceremonies, Tovrea handed a memorial wreath to President Kennedy, who placed it on a dedicatory plaque in honor of Commander O'Hare.

Tovrea is the son of Mrs. Marilyn O'Hare Platt, sister of Commander O'Hare, of 306 E. Jefferson, Kirkwood, Mo., and Philip E. Tovrea Jr., 5001 E. Washington, Phoenix, Ariz.

O'Hare Field came into being in the fall of 1955 and has since outgrown New York's Idlewild Field as the nation's largest field — over 10 square miles — and has replaced Chicago's Midway Airport as the world's busiest field. Dedication of the field in honor of the Congressional Medal of Honor winner was held off until this year, although expansion of O'Hare Field may continue until about 1970.

Tovrea's uncle Butch O'Hare was a lieutenant, a fighter pilot attached to the carrier LEXINGTON, when the Japanese came over on a February day in 1942. Alone against nine bombers roaring in for a kill, O'Hare shot down five, damaged a sixth, and scattered the remaining planes. He was summoned from the South Pacific and given the Congressional Medal of Honor in what President Franklin D. Roosevelt called "one of the most daring, if not the most daring, single action in the history of combat aviation."

Of his exploit, O'Hare said: "There wasn't much to do but shoot 'em."

O'Hare, who is from St. Louis and Chicago, was a lieutenant commander when, in November, 1943, he flew his Navy F6F Hellcat with the fleet to take the Gilbert Islands. He strated the island and was the first to bring a carrier plane down on conquered Tarawa. A few nights later, off the Marshalls, Japanese torpedo planes came over his carrier again, and O'Hare led the fighters from the deck. He radioed his wingman which side of the carrier he would protect, shot down his ninth Japanese aircraft, then disappeared.

Two weeks later, when the Navy reported O'Hare "missing in action," task-force commander Rear Admiral Arthur W. Radford recommended him for another Congressional Medal of Honor.

Tovrea is a junior and is in his second year at the Academy. Culver is a nationally known college preparatory school for 850 boys in grades eight through 12.

real industry, the number of homes built, the amount of clothing and good food sold . . . rather than upon the number of cigarettes or bottles of beer or quantity of cosmetics sold. If President Kennedy should ask me what he could do to help business, I would say: "Do more for the nation's salesmen. They are the basis of prosperity."

Jaycee Board Of Directors Meet

The board of directors of the Culver Jaycees met at The State Exchange Bank Auditorium on March 6 with the following directors present: president Sanford Snyder, Larry Berger, Robert Boswell, Bill Snyder, Ron McKee, Roger Wise, Joe Anderlohr, Don Muehlhausen and Pat Hallman.

The board recommended to the membership for their approval, a 1963 Jaycee Ball to be held in June. This Ball would be the first of an annual project, with the crowning of the Jaycee queen highlighting the event. The queen would be chosen by votes cast by the students from Culver, Aubbeenaubee, and Monterey High Schools.

The Culver Jaycees will send representatives to the Region "B" elections to be held at Plymouth April 17.

The Freedom Bond project will be presented to the membership for vote. This calls for 50 per cent participation of the club's membership and the purchasing of Government E bonds.

Don Muehlhausen, chairman of the community survey committee, will compile information regarding the Culver situation and report at a later meeting.

Harold Fitterling, Lions Club president, offered the Lions Den as a location for future meetings.

New member applications were discussed and special policies were written into the minutes of the meeting.

President Snyder presented his permanent committee chairman list, which was approved by the board. They are: Project, Verlin Shaffer; Funds, Norman Witt; Scrapbook, Robert Kline; Membership, Charles Edgington; Community Survey, Don Muehlhausen; and Public Relations, Eddie Amond.

Dr. Robert Vore, vice-president, and Don Eckert, of the Plymouth Jaycees, were guests at the meeting.

Jerry Greenlee To Speak At C of C April Meeting

Father Klein Accepts Post As Bishop Coadjutor

The Pastor of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Plymouth, the Rev. William C. R. Sheridan, Monday received the news that the Very Rev. Walter C. Klein, Ph.D., S.T.M., S. T. D., has accepted his election as Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of Northern Indiana.

The Bishop of the Diocese, the Rt. Rev. Reginald Mallett, S.T.D., sent word to Father Sheridan Monday, which in the ancient historic Church Calendar is the Feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Father Klein is the Dean (Rector) of Nashotah House Theological Seminary, Nashotah, Wis. This institution has been educating men for the priesthood since 1842. A number of the priests in this Diocese are graduates of Nashotah House, including the Pastor of St. Thomas.

Bishop-elect Klein will someday become the Chief Pastor and Father-in-God of the Diocese of Northern Indiana. A Bishop Coadjutor has the right of succession. Meanwhile, after his consecration in late June or July, he will be the Episcopal Assistant to Bishop Mallett. The Diocese of Northern Indiana includes that part of Indiana lying north of and including the counties of Benton, White, Carroll, Howard, Grant, Blackford and Jay. The diocesan boundaries start at the Illinois line, go north to Michigan and east to the Ohio line. This "new" jurisdiction was created in 1898 from what was the Diocese of Indiana. The southern part of the state is now the Diocese of Indianapolis.

Father Klein will bring to his Episcopate a varied and colorful background. This includes being a parish priest, a Navy chaplain, a missionary in the Holy Land, a seminary professor, the author of several books and the head of a seminary for five years.

Monday, March 5, the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin was incidentally Father Sheridan's birthday. He feels that the news of Dean Klein's acceptance was a wonderful "present" to have.

Mr. and Mrs. William Easterday entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. Easterday's birthday on Monday. Guests present were Mrs. Clark Ferrier, Miss Bess Easterday, and Mrs. Charles Ferrier and Tina.

Monday evening guests in the Harold Hatten home were Mrs. Robert Gibbons, Karen, and John, of Plymouth.

The meeting was closed with the singing of the Wood Lake Hymn and the playing of Taps. We welcome Robert Hall, Richard Snyder and James Taber as new members.

ASC Program Offers Choice To Wheat Growers

Farmers with allotments of less than 15 acres will continue to produce their historical share of wheat as provided by the 1964 Wheat Program, Carl W. Price, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee, said today. The new legislation enacted last fall recognizes the contribution of such growers to the Nation's supply of wheat.

As explained by the chairman, each farm will have an allotment based on the larger of one computed from the average wheat (up to 15 acres) in the three years 1959-61 or the regular allotment. Wheat grown on farms without a wheat history in these three years will be subject to a marketing quota penalty in 1964.

The new Wheat Program will offer two choices to the farm operator with a 1964 wheat allotment of less than 15 acres:

(1) He may choose to participate in the program as an allotment grower, in which case he will be eligible to vote in the wheat referendum, will qualify for price support, and will receive his share of the marketing certificates. (The certificates will provide a higher rate of price support and will be available on about 80 per cent of the normal yield on the allotted acreage. A lower rate of support will be available on the rest of the wheat produced on the farm.) A small grower will also have the opportunity to divert all his allotment to conserving uses at the high 50-per cent rate.

(2) He can stay out of the program, and plant wheat up to the larger of his three-year base or his 1964 allotment. Marketing quota penalties will apply to wheat in excess of this limit. He will not be eligible to vote in the referendum. He will receive no price support. He can sell his wheat at the non-certificated wheat market price, or as seed or feed, or use it in any way that he likes.

Mr. Price pointed out that these small farm operators with wheat allotments of less than 15 acres will be asked to register their choice at their ASCS County Office at least seven days prior to the time the wheat referendum is held. This will be within 60 days after proclamation of the national wheat marketing quota, which will not likely be announced until late March or early April. The program will become effective if at least two-thirds of the growers voting approve the program.

HIGH MAN ON THE TAX POLE

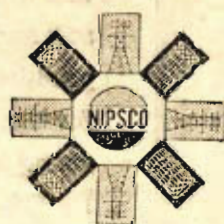

The Five Investor-Owned Electric Companies are the largest local and State taxpayers in Indiana. Their total tax bill in 1962, including provisions for Federal Income taxes, was more than they paid for labor, coal, or any other operating expense.

$84,970,000 IN TAXES is a mighty "big bite" and hard to chew. But . . .

$84,970,000 IN TAXES is easier to swallow if thought of in terms of more and better schools, parks, national defense, interstate highways, fire and police protection . . . and an aid to the growth and future well-being of Indiana.

$84,970,000 IN TAXES is easier to pay when thought of that way. As an investor-owned utility, Northern Indiana Public Service Company pays its full share of the local, State and Federal tax load.

If you have wondered how to help a chubby child lose some of his or her roundness, consider the ideas of Mrs. Elaine T. Dolch, child development specialist at Purdue University.

She recommends that first of all have your physician give your child a physical examination. If he says that the plumpness is part of the child's growth pattern, probably the child soon will begin to grow up instead of sideways.

However, the physician may suggest that your child should have increased exercise or a change in eating habits. Remember, children, especially those who are older, usually collect too many pounds for the same reasons adults do — too many calories and too little exercise.

When you make any changes in your child's routine, try to be casual, kind, patient and affectionate to help the child adjust happily to different habits and foods. Nagging, scolding, shaming or bargaining with your child only seem to make her more determined to continue her old habits, observes the specialist.

Relax some routine and emotional pressures, if you can, and encourage the child to play games that will provide lots of exercise. Running, tag, jumping rope, skating and bicycling are good.

Instead of making a radical change in the diet of a too-plump child, try some of these suggestions. Use smaller plates in serving meals, so that the portions will look larger. Then encourage the whole family to eat slowly and really taste the food.

Keep a supply of raw carrots, radishes, celery sticks and fresh fruit for snacking. If your child is especially fond of sweets, don't eat them out completely. But do count calories here and cut down on the amount eaten, suggests the specialist. Twenty small gum drops (95 calories) or 10 jelly beans (65 calories) contain fewer calories than a one-ounce chocolate bar (145 calories).

You can trim fat from meat and cut down on butter, salad dressings and gravies. You might serve two per cent or skim milk instead of whole milk.

The problem of over weight in children can be prevented more easily than cured. Mrs. Dolch points out that remedies always require large investments of time, patience and love.

How do auto seat belts help to reduce injuries in an accident? According to the Institute for Safer Living seat belts aid in absorbing the shock of an impact. They tend to restrain the force of a body blow against parts of a car, and also lessen the danger of being thrown from the car. Thus, chances of survival are increased in most of the more prevalent accident situations.

It's not enough merely to pull off the highway when stopping. It's how far off that counts. According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company many unnecessary accidents occur because motorists stop with a rear wheel or other part of the car partially remaining in a travel lane. When you stop, be sure that you are in the clear with a safety margin to spare.

"I'm never going to get all this work done!" "Have you started your Economics paper?" "Boy, was that math test rough!" Yes, school is going on as usual, but our C.H.S. students are managing to keep up the social whirl. It would take more than school work to stop this!

The boys that went to the semi-state basketball tourney really had a blast. It also proved to be an educational event for Dennis Shock and Rick Ervin. They learned a valuable lesson. It seems a person can never get themselves thrown out of a theater no matter how hard they try. Really, boys, the movie couldn't have been that boring! By the way, Rick, why did you get out of the car in that traffic jam?

All track boys beware of Dave Lemar! Poor Alan Hyland ran into "mighty Dave" and Alan is now limping around on crutches.

The general topic of conversation among the seniors this past week has naturally been connected with their trip to Chicago. Some of the adventurers ended up with some pretty sore feet, but they really had themselves a time! As Wade Logan would say, "It was quite an experience; Senior Trip here we come!" What's this we hear about B. J. Lawrence having a visitor at Teibel's? Hmm, he is an old lake pal, you say?

Bob Albert appeared to be quite proud of himself after placing third in the mile run during a practice track meet. Of course, we might mention that there were only three runners!

Congratulations to Jan Wagner. She holds the all-time record for selling tickets to the Junior Ham Supper; an amount of $102.

What are these tattal pins being worn by several of the C.H.S. girls for? We discovered Holly Thompson's "B" is for Bruce Lindvall, and Sheila Fish's "R" is for Ron Babcock, but Pam Fisk, who is "S. H.?"

Ten pounds of cake mix were used? Yes, Bonnie Saft and Janet Beck used 10 pounds of cake mix to make the gigantic shamrock cake for the Ham Supper. Now that is what you call a cake!

Well, Pam Fisk, how does it feel to take a shower with your gym suit on after gym class? Maybe next time you will know better than to try and push other girls into the showers!

Cooking lessons anyone? Larry Miller and Bob Dickson, and Pat Kline and Carmen Gretter have been experimenting in the kitchen lately by cooking Sunday dinner for each other. Sounds like a cool idea. They even ate by candle light, no less! (No, Larry, the Klins had not forgotten to pay their light bill, and the girls were not trying to keep you from seeing what you were eating!)

Eek! It is getting late and we have not started our homework yet! Better hit the books! So until next week, happy homework to everyone!

Track Practices In Full Swing

By Paul White

Although Hoosier hysteria has slowly been diminishing from the halls of Culver High School, there are still basketball activities taking place in the gym. Coach Gene Crosley has been holding a spring basketball practice for all boys interested in playing basketball next fall. The practice sessions have been well attended with approximately 30 boys participating from grades eight through eleven. Also taking part in the practices are a few "old professionals" from Culver's earlier teams. Through these practices, Coach Crosley hopes to teach the main fundamentals of basketball and prepare the boys for next year's season.

With the basketball season nearly completed, the track fever has started taking over. Track practices have been held after school each night for the last two weeks. Around 40 boys turned out for the first call and 33 are still participating. Because of a slight misfortune, the boys are now running outside instead of through the halls. Two indoor practice meets have also been held at the Culver Military Academy in order to further prepare the boys for the coming season. It is still quite early to tell how well the team will do this year, but from the showings given by each boy in the practice meets, it looks as though it will be a fairly successful season.

The first three track meets are at home starting with Mentone on April 2, at 4:15 p.m. The second meet is with Tippy on April 5, at 4:15 and the third is with Bourbon on April 8, also starting at 4:15. There are 11 remaining meets including the LaPaz Relays on Saturday, May 4, at 2 p.m. and also the Rochester Relays at Rochester on May 7, starting at 5:30 p.m. The track season will be concluded by the sectional meet on May 10 and the county track meet on May 13. We hope that you will give your utmost support to the track team and enjoy the approaching season.

First Graders Raise Baby Chicks

By Eva Norris and Dave Frain

Kindergarten: If you had walked by the kindergarten this past week, you would have observed that they were just brimming over with activity. Several birthdays were celebrated. They were Kimberly Thompson, March 13; Jeffery Jones, St. Patrick's Day; and Richard Linhart, March 15. Mrs. Walter VonEhr treated the afternoon class with a St. Patrick's Day party. Leslie Cleveland and Bonnie Moore furnished the St. Patrick's party treat, which was supplemented by a lovely shamrock cake made by Howie Babcock's mother. The children have been busily occupied by making folders with pictures for the letters of the alphabet. For a drill they have mixed the letters up, and then tried to pick them out. Most of the class are able to do this correctly. The letters most frequently confused are M and N; and Y and V.

First Grade: Walking by one of the first grade rooms you might have heard mysterious, cheeping sounds. But, relax, you aren't hearing things; the first graders are just raising baby chicks for science. They have also been watching colored water follow the veins of celery during the process of absorption. If you come upon a huddle of silent first graders, you most likely will want to investigate this abnormality. However, after investigating you will find that they are only watching their seeds grow, or they are watching three cocoons to see if they will hatch. With the coming of spring, some of the first graders are writing stories about spring. Glen Schrimpscher, Doug Benner, Robin Fitterling, and Melanie Washburn all celebrated their birthdays.

Second Grade: The second graders have started a new unit in reading. The unit is about animals and is entitled "Outdoors." Pam Milner celebrated her eighth birthday on March 17. Her mother furnished the class with a party on Friday afternoon.

Third Grade: The line of serious, long-faced third graders is not a line of mischief-makers, but the participants of a spell down. Craig Walker came out victorious. Four times 3 is? Six times 4 is? Nine divided by 3 is? You guessed it! The third graders are learning their multiplication and division tables of the 4's, 5's, and 6's. There are a few accomplished musicians who play the piano every Friday. They are Karen Lucas, Susan Powers, Gloria Plante, Rodney Triplett, Kent Davis, and Mark Ebel.

Fourth Grade: The contest is on! The girls and boys are competing to see which can make the better and more attractive world map. They have also started new practice spelling books. When they have finished, their scores will be compiled to see who makes the best individual score.

The odds are against the irate driver who tries to get even on the highway. Revenge, says the Institute for Safer Living, is a doubtful luxury that no motorist can afford.

An Interview With Sharon

By Ann Wagoner

This week instead of interviewing one of our teachers, I'm going to talk with one of our junior girls, Sharon Norris.

She was born on March 2, 1946, in Harrisburg, Ill., and now resides on Norris Road on the east side of the Lake. She stands 5 feet, 6 inches tall, and weighs 118 pounds, has honey blond hair and a mixture of brown and green eyes. She wears a size 8 shoe and a size 11 dress.

Her special interests are reading and playing the piano. She also enjoys playing the clarinet. Her favorite sports are bicycling and walking. She enjoys playing any type of game, that is if one doesn't mind playing with a bad player.

As for a pet peeve, she hasn't any, but her pet expression is "Que tu es bete!" When she gets nervous she bites her nails, doodles, and pecks on her desk with a pencil. She has one habit, especially when teased, that is messing up people's hair. Also, she blushes very easily.

Her favorite subjects are English and French. Her favorite teachers are Mrs. Kline and Mr. Stukenborg. I asked her what she thought of our basketball team and she answered with a dreamy look in her eyes "It's Great!" I also asked her if she thought sports should be included in the extracurricular activities of the school. She believes that sports give more spirit to the students and school, and it gives the boys a chance to improve themselves physically.

Sharon is a member of the Pep Club, mixed choir, Tomahawk staff, and 4-H. She is secretary of the Sunshine Society and Band. She takes up a lot of her spare time by making her own clothes.

Her favorite color is pink and her favorite food is vanilla ice cream with strawberries on top (Why not an apple?). The one holiday she enjoys most is Christmas. The reason is because of its meaning and the spirit it creates, and also because of the vacation.

The final question I asked her was if she thought boys and girls her age should work during the summer. She believes if they are not needed at home they should work, because it prepares them for their future jobs.

As you can see by reading this article Sharon is a regular CHS girl.

By Seniors

By Carolee Easterday

"Be sure to be at the school ten minutes early; the bus will leave the school promptly at 7:00 a.m. NOT 7:01." At 7:04 the two Indiana Motor buses arrived, and by 7:05 the seniors from Culver and Aubbeenaubee, the chaperons, and representatives from the bank were on their way to Chicago.

It seemed as if our seniors had never been on a bus before; they were constantly discovering new features. Carmen Greter couldn't figure out why the last seat was so long. The light finally dawned on her and with a "I knew there was a purpose for this," she stretched out and TRIED to go to sleep.

What intrigued us most was the washroom. Why would they put a washroom on a bus, especially one with a "sprung door spring?" Nick Knoerzer fixed this though — by holding the door closed for anyone!

Our first stop of the day was Sauzer's Waffle Shop where we feasted on a huge breakfast. The food was so delicious that we didn't want to leave, but we realized that we had to be on our way. That is, everyone except Judy Kimmel and Charlene Lucas. They came dashing out the door just as the second bus began to leave!

Our first tour was at the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago. We were divided into groups and guided through different departments by friendly and interested representatives. We were amazed at the size of the bank, but what shocked us the most was that there were more than three times as many employees in that building as there are residents of Culver! Our group was given the honor of receiving the first "free samples" ever presented to tourists by the bank; we were each given a shiny new penny! After our tour, we were guests of the bank at their cafeteria.

We then crossed the street to the Board of Trade and went directly to the 23rd story to see a movie and watch actual trade transactions on the floor. We were then free to do what we wanted to do. We all went to the observation deck on the 43rd floor where we had a view of Chicago that we will never forget. A few brave seniors WALKED back down. (They were the ones who were really stiff and tired the next day.)

Next, we boarded our buses and went across town to the Merchandise Mart. We were told that the building we were in was the largest building in the United States. (They really didn't have to tell us that; by the end of the tour our feet were screaming this fact to us!) We saw the newest styles in furniture, kitchen appliances, and carpeting before they were even put on the open market.

Late in the afternoon we sank our weary bones into the seats of our buses and we started home. It didn't take long for us to recover. Before long we began exploring the mysteries of the washroom again. We think we set a new record; we were able to get 10 girls into that tiny room at one time!

That night we ate chicken and more chicken at Teibel's. We still can't figure out how Nick Knoerzer rated four dishes of ice cream AND a kiss from the waitress!

We arrived back at Culver exhausted but extremely happy and filled with unforgettable memories of our experiences. The trip was educational and exciting.

We would all like to express our deepest gratitude to Mr. W. O. Osborn and The State Exchange Bank for making the trip possible.

It Pays To Advertise

"No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main . . ."

John Donne

(Co-editor's note: The seniors in English were asked by Mrs. Kline to write their opinion of the ideas expressed in John Donne's essay, "Meditation 17." In this essay Donne states the opinion that, "No man is an island." Here are one student's views on the subject.)

By Charlene Lucas

In today's society, a country as a whole cannot remain in isolation. The advanced methods of transportation have made the world a small concentrated area where a foreign land is only a few hours away. Isolation is impossible for a nation that is concerned with its own welfare. It must carry on relations and trade with other nations. It depends on other countries to supply it with valuable raw materials. A crisis in one nation will affect any other nation.

John Donne states in his sermon, "Meditation 17," that this same idea holds true for individuals. He feels that all mankind is of one; therefore, what happens to one affects all. I am inclined to agree with this idea to the extent that individuals today are dependent on each other for their general welfare. For example, the factory worker depends on the farmer for food, and the farmer depends on the factory workers to make the modern equipment with which to harvest this food. Everywhere one looks he can see such examples. No one can lead a successful and useful life in complete isolation. He must associate with other people, be helped by other people, and help other people.

However, I do think the idea that everyone is affected by the lives of everyone else is somewhat romantic in nature. I imagine that every Christian human being would say that he believes in this philosophy, but how many of them honestly apply it to their lives? Most people are not actually concerned with what happens to a fellow human being.

could actually believe that all men are brothers, much of the world's trouble would be eliminated. Donne's idea is an excellent one. The practice of such a philosophy in a more widespread manner would make the world a much better place in which to live.

Osborn and White Named Co-Editors

Recently, Mr. Jack Miller, sponsor of the Press Club, announced that Lucy Osborn and Paul White had been selected as Co-Editors of "The Schoolbell" for the 1963-64 school year. As is the custom, the first assignment for the new Co-Editors is to plan and edit the annual Commencement edition. With the cooperation of "The Culver Citizen" Staff, this last edition for each school term has become the highlight of the year, containing many articles especially memorable to the seniors, as well as honoring them as graduates.

Both Lucy and Paul are quite active in many school activities. Lucy is in band and choir and serves as librarian. This year she was the Plymouth Pilot-South Bend Tribune reporter for the Press Club. She is an honor roll student and a member of the National Honor Society. She also belongs to the Sunshine Society and is a line officer in the Order of Rainbow. She is a member of the Culver Methodist Church, where she is director of the Girls' Choir.

Paul also participates in many music activities. He has been enrolled in 4-H for seven years and has served on the Student Council. He is president of the junior class and a member of Hi-Y. He too is an honor roll student and member of the National Honor Society. Besides having a starting position on the basketball team for two years, Paul is catcher on the baseball team and also participates in track. He is a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church and often plays the organ for church services.

Under the leadership of these two capable students next year's "Schoolbell" will surely be a success. Look for a couple of their work in the Commencement edition.

Linda Carl Wins Contest

By George Ogden

Linda Carl recently entered and won the district art contest which was held at The State Exchange Bank. Linda's art work consisted of a pastel, a sculpture, and a line drawing. As a result of winning the contest, Linda will spend two weeks at the Ball State Art Clinic this summer.

Another contest that will be held in the near future is the Q-tip contest. A Q-tip is a stick with a small amount of cotton on the end and is used as a brush. The contestants will paint in water colors, oil, or tempera water colors. Any students desiring further information should contact Mr. Smith.

At the present time the art classes are doing dry brush water colors. Mr. Smith will exhibit the best painting on the bulletin board in the near future.

Music Classes Learn To Dance

By Carolyn Snyder

Due to Mr. Hambrook being ill, the annual music concert scheduled for March 24 has been postponed until the following Sunday, March 31. The band is practicing diligently under the guidance of Carol Overmyer and Thad Overmyer.

The seniors in the band enjoyed seeing an opera performed at Valparaiso University on March 15.

The seventh grade music classes are learning about certain scales and chords. The Eighth grade music classes are going to learn how to dance.

GRASS-LEGUME MIXTURE
 Indiana farmers diverting acreage under the Feed Grain program can improve their farms by sowing an adapted grass-legume mixture on these acres, assert Purdue University extension agronomists.

These seedings contribute to fertility, erosion control, wildlife cover, and in some cases, to establishment of a valuable sod for future use. In addition, they lend themselves to weed control.

Sowing of oats with the grass-legumes as a companion crop is strongly recommended. Haphazard broadcasting is likely to bring disappointing results. Of course, the oats can not be harvested and will have to be clipped, but this aids the legume-grass seeding.

On well drained, adequately limed soil, alfalfa is the No. 1 legume. Culver, Vernal and Ranger are winter hardy and wilt resistant. Too, Culver is resistant to spittle bug. Where long life is not desired, Atlantic and vigorous growing varieties such as the De-Puits, other Flemish varieties and certain strains of common may be used.

Brome and timothy are excellent companion grasses with alfalfa. Sweet clover may replace alfalfa in the mixture; but sweet clover primarily is a soil builder, while alfalfa serves all of the purposes indicated.

For inadequately limed, poorly drained soils, legumes such as Korean lespedeza and alsike can be mixed with red clover and grass. Tall fescue and orchard grass are hardy grasses. On extremely wet soils Reed canary grass has the best chance of survival, with tall fescue ranking second.

HOME GARDEN ONIONS

Onions are one of the most popular, easy-to-grow home garden vegetables.

Most gardeners grow them from sets, according to Purdue University extension horticulturists. And rightly so. Sets are easy to handle, grow fast, and usually give better results than either seeds or plants.

Average planting date for central Indiana is early April. Adjust for your locality.

The recommended variety to plant from sets is Ebenezer. It makes a good green onion and is excellent for winter storage.

If you want to try seed, two good varieties are Early Yellow Globe and Elite. Both make delicious sweet onions and keep well.

For a "hamburger onion," choose Sweet Spanish. It's started from small plants. But a word of caution. Sweet Spanish is strictly for fresh eating. It doesn't store well.

For best results with whatever kind of onions you plant, add four to five pounds of 12-12-12 fertilizer, or its equivalent, per 100 square feet after you dig or plow your garden in the spring. Grow onions in rows one to two feet apart, and put the plants (or thin them) to one to four inches apart in the row.

For further information, write Agricultural Publications, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. Ask for "Onions and Their Relatives," Mimeo HO-60-1. Single copies are free to Indiana residents

Pavement made wet by a shower is a deceptive trouble-maker. According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company a wet spot often remains in slight pavement depressions or beneath overpasses after the rest of the road appears entirely dry. Be wary, drive moderately, after the shower stops. Don't let an unexpected skid throw you into a tallspin.

SMOOTHER RIDES COMING FOR TRACTOR OPERATORS

Smoother rides may be in prospect for farm tractor operators in the future because of a new wheel suspension device developed by Purdue University agricultural engineers.

To improve on the traction of rigid frame tractors, the Purdue engineers have developed a new method of adding springs to the tractor wheels. That is, a number of small torsion suspension bars have been used to connect the axle and the wheel on the experimental device. Knee-action type spokes on the torsion bar springs were used on this model in place of the usual rigid wheel. The rim was made of spring steel, making it elastic. Power can be applied through the linkage so the new suspension system could be used on drive wheels as well as free wheels.

When traveling at a speed equivalent to 10 miles an hour, the experimental wheel with built in springs reduced the bounce by 65 per cent and reduced the force on the tractor axle by 73 per cent, compared to a conventional wheel. Tire pressure in the tests was 20 pounds per square inch.

A reduction in shock loading to the tractor's transmission by the use of the knee-action type suspension was noted by the engineers. The wheel tends to absorb some of the shock when a sudden load is applied to the tractor drawbar. As a result, the peak loads on a transmission should be reduced and the shock to the implement should be lessened.

The Purdue engineers have not yet tested traction of the new type wheel. Since the wheel has a longer ground contact area, greater traction and drawbar pull as well as reduced slippage area are probable, they say.

Travel Log

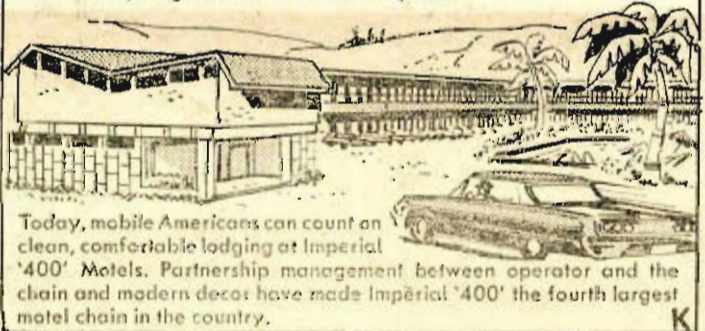

by Waldman

At the end of a day's trek, westward-bound wagon trains were drawn into a tight circle. This makeshift campsite also served as a theater-in-the-round where pioneers danced and sang. Main purpose, however, was to provide protection against Indian attack.

Road-side inns appeared along stage-coach routes after the West was won. A simple meal, a few hours of sleep were all the road-weary could expect. Many considered themselves lucky to get a seat near the fireplace.

Today, mobile Americans can count on clean, comfortable lodging at Imperial '400' Motels. Partnership management between operator and the chain and modern decor have made Imperial '400' the fourth largest motel chain in the country.

Letters-To-The-Editor Must Be Signed By Writer

It has been, and still is, the policy of The Citizen to welcome letters and comments from its readers. In cases where the letter or comment is signed by the writer, The Citizen is happy to publish the comment as a public opinion feature of the newspaper, or in the "Letters To The Editor" column. If the writer does not want his or her name published, The Citizen will respect that wish.

But under no circumstances will the letter or comment be published unless it has been signed by the writer in order that we may have this information for our files. If, in your opinion, it is worth writing about, it is worth signing your name to your opinion. But we must have the opinion signed by the writer, whether we publish the name or withhold it from publication.

Sport Show At Indianapolis Begins March 29

A sparkling sport show, complete with northwoods displays, newest marine craft and action exhibits of favorite sports, will open at the Indiana State Fairgrounds Coliseum, Indianapolis, March 29 for a ten-day run.

The annual Sport, Vacation, Boat and Travel Show will be sponsored by the Indianapolis Marine Dealers Association and The Indianapolis News.

More than $275,000 worth of marine water craft will be on display in the pavillion adjoining the Coliseum. Indiana boat, motor and accessory dealers will occupy over 40,000 square feet of up-to-the-minute exhibits.

Spectators will get a preview of summer vacation spots, camping tents, camping equipment, trailers, resort exhibits and scores of outdoor displays.

There will be a trout pool where fishermen, young and old, can try their hand at pulling out trout to take home. A casting tank, located in the middle of the Coliseum, will permit fishermen to test the latest trends in rods and reels.

A $7,000 Swift-A-Frame lake-side cottage, to be awarded as a door prize the last night of the show, will be erected at the west end of the Coliseum. The cottage is big enough and flexible enough to be used as a home, a lakeside cottage, a mountain lodge or for a commercial business.

Fishing tackle, hunting equipment, rifles, rods and reels, sportswear, swimming pools and equipment, scuba diving, foreign cars and archery will be featured in attractive exhibits.

A gala stage show will include Ann Clark, 1961 women's professional national field champion in archery; Joe Kirkwood, trick shot golfer; Hank and Joe Peters, Canadian log rollers, and many sports personalities. There will be trained seals, dogs, and specialty acts each night and on Saturday and Sunday afternoons and evenings.

The pavillion will be the site of the Professional Golfers Association putting contest. An 18-hole putting green will be the scene of contests and pointers by pro-golfers each evening. Included in the surrounding booths will be two driving ranges for audience participation, with instruction from PGA professionals.

Marion Ladewig, one of the greatest women bowlers of all time, will appear at the Sport Show along with other nationally known bowlers. There will be bowling instruction, in addition to special exhibits.

A Tri-State archery shoot-off, skeet shooting, and many other sports will be part of the Show.

What Do I Wish?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Pam can't keep a secret. She'll probably tell us what she wished before the cake is half eaten.

Whatever her wish, it will be for a little girl type of thing.

But—what of me? What do I wish for my daughter? Success in a career . . . happy marriage . . . children . . . a beautiful home . . . a fair share of worldly goods . . . health . . . happiness?

I suppose I wish all of these things for Pam, in some measure. But if I had to limit myself to a single wish—I would ask for her a deep and abiding faith. How wonderful it is to have an unshaken belief in God's ways and His works, plus the conviction of His love for us.

Some of us may be limited in our ability to give our children material things, but we need never stint on teaching them spiritual values. Start taking your children to church and church school this Sunday

THE CULVER CITIZEN

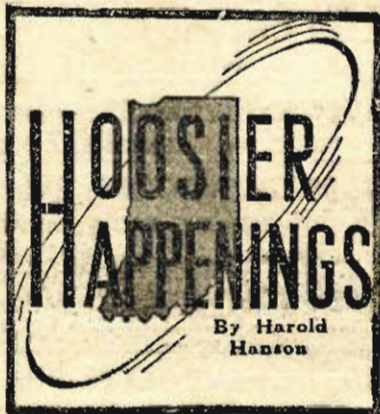

To Please a Child

Bunnies are easy to make from a dinner napkin (or a large man's handkerchief). And such fun for the children with a cargo of jelly beans inside! Bunnies at breakfast could well become a cherished family tradition.

To make this perky bunny, the makers of Niagara Spray Starch say: start with a clean, white napkin, spray lightly with starch, then iron. Fold diagonally and spray and iron again. Draw creased corners up for ears. The starching keeps them up. Holding ears about four inches from points, bring up triangle point and fold forward to form face. Tie ribbon bow around "neck." Fill base with goodies and tuck in back opening.

A reminder—always shake spray starch well before using.

KNOTTY PROBLEM — When Cregan Stanley Cooke grows up will he be a citizen of the United States or of the United Kingdom? That's what his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Grinstead of Route 2, Sheridan, are wondering about. Their daughter, Mrs. Carole Grinstead Cooke, gave birth to Cregan Stanley while she and her husband, Ronald Cooke, were visiting Mr. Cooke's family in Ireland a few months ago. The baby's father emigrated to the United States 10 years ago and attended college in Kentucky where he studied for the ministry and it was there that he met the girl who became his wife. The Cookes are not sure yet whether they will return to the United States to rear their child. The American consul in Belfast has this answer as to the baby's nationality — he will have dual citizenship until he is old enough to decide which nationality he prefers.

For most effective dampening, sprinkle clothes with warm water — it penetrates more quickly than cold water, advise Purdue University home management specialists. Dampened articles placed in a plastic bag do not lose moisture as quickly as those wrapped in towels.

Give all of your wooden furniture an inspection now, one room at a time, suggest home furnishings specialists at Purdue University. To solve most minor stain problems, remove the accumulated wax and start with fresh waxing.

Don't walk on your lawn any more than necessary during freezing and thawing weather, caution Purdue University turf specialists. Traffic damages turf as well as compacts soil.

The Rev. Mr. Bray has been chaplain and director of religious affairs at Culver since 1959. BRING CORRECT PAPERS TO SOCIAL SECURITY OFFICE

Mr. Cornelius R. Schafer, manager of the South Bend Social Security office, has some good advice for those who are planning to apply for Social Security benefit payments in the near future.

Much time can be saved and the necessity for repeated trips to the office can be eliminated if the proper documents are brought along to the Social Security office at the first visit, according to Mr. Schafer.

The first and most important document is his Social Security card, as well as the card of the spouse and children. Next is proof of age for each person expecting to collect retirement, disability, or survivor payments. A birth certificate is not essential, and if not available, some old document showing date of birth should be brought along. Third, a 1962 W-2 Form (Withholding Statement) or if you own a business of your own, a 1962 Income Tax return, plus a receipt of your payment of tax due. The copy of the self-employed tax return should be an extra one that can be kept by the Social Security office, if necessary. Tax returns for 1960 and 1961 should also be brought along for the Social Security office to examine.

Mr. Schafer advises anyone planning to retire in the future to contact the Social Security office two or three months before the first month of expected payments to insure prompt payments. For further information, write or call the South Bend, Indiana, Social Security office.

SAVINGS BOND REPORT

Harold Rose, Chairman of the Marshall County U. S. Savings Bonds Committee, has received a report revealing that the county's Savings Bonds Sales for February were $95,070.00 compared with $66,401.00 for the corresponding period of last year. The state's sales for February were $12,323,588 and $11,698,671 for a like period of 1962 — a gain of 5.3 per cent.

He reports that the sale of Savings Bonds were up on the national level. He is pleased that Indiana is also grasping the savings trend that is manifesting itself at this time in all forms of savings.

Fifty-six of the state's 92 counties reported sales gains for the month when compared with sales of February 1962.
