Dedication Of Woodcraft Camp CMA Milestone

Culver Military Academy will formally dedicate its new $850,000 Woodcraft Camp at ceremonies Saturday, July 27.

An audience of more than 4,000 students, faculty, alumni, educational and camping leaders, governmental and civic officials, and friends are expected to attend the 4 p.m. ceremony at the Camp Court of Flags. The dedication will be held as the highlight of an activity-packed weekend for some 500 alumni of the Summer Schools and their families.

The dedication speech will be given by B. B. Culver, Jr., president of the non-profit Culver Educational Foundation, which operates the Academy.

Master of ceremonies will be Major General Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (Ret.), Culver superintendent. Participating will be directors of The Culver Educational Foundation, former Camp directors, leading alumni, Rear Admiral John W. Bays, USN (Ret.), Director of Summer Schools, and Colonel Melvyn A. Estey, USMRC, Woodcraft Camp Director.

Culver operates the largest combination summer educational and camping program and the largest independent secondary school in the country. The summer program enrolls 1,661 students in four separate programs and the winter college preparatory school has 850 boys in grades 8 through 12.

The Woodcraft Camp has an enrollment of 648 boys between the ages of 9½ and 13. A Naval School for boys 14 to 18 has 828 boys and the School of Horsemanship has an enrollment of 152 boys in the same age bracket. A co-educational Summer Drama School has 33 teen-age students.

Culver was founded in 1894 as a college preparatory school during the academic year. In 1902 the Academy started the Summer Naval School to take advantage of its superb location on Lake Maxinkuckee. It was the first secondary school to operate its facilities on a year-around basis. The School of Horsemanship was founded in 1907 and the Woodcraft Camp in 1912. The Drama School began in 1960.

The new Woodcraft Camp is located on a 250-acre wooded tract on the east end of the 1,500-acre Culver campus on Lake Maxinkuckee. Sixty-seven permanent buildings include cabins for living quarters, washrooms, a dining room accommodating 700, a lounge, administration building, library, and classrooms.

Buildings are of "A" frame construction to provide high roofs for maximum cooling and ventilation. They are constructed primarily of cedar and have cedar shake roofs. The buildings are ventilated with fibre-glass screens and red cedar louvers.

Each living cabin is 32' x 20' and has an 18-foot-high roof. Twelve Woodcrafters and a counselor live in each cabin.

The Woodcraft Camp was founded with the assistance of General Baden Powell, founder of the Boy Scout movement in England. First director was Dan Beard, then Chief Scout of the Boy Scouts of America and famed writer and illustrator for boys. Since its inception the Camp has followed Beard's precept that "a boy, like a tree, grows best with his toes in the ground."

Strong emphasis is placed in the Woodcraft Camp upon nature study, handicrafts, athletics, water activities, and Indian lore. In addition, non-credit courses are offered in reading, arithmetic, and English.

A staff of 91 men consisting of regular Culver instructors and public school teachers who are at Culver for the summer teach, counsel, and supervise the Woodcrafters.

The new Camp replaces a tent camp built in 1930. It offers not only superb facilities but reduces maintenance costs inherent in a tent operation.

Approximately $300,000 of the costs of the new Camp was received as gifts from directors of The Culver Educational Foundation, alumni, parents, and friends. Of this amount, Ralph L. Smith, a director from Kansas City, Mo., gave $250,000. Remainder of the costs came from funds set aside over the years by the Foundation for the new Camp.

Architect for the Camp was William B. Ittner, Inc. of St. Louis. The Marshall County Lumber Company, Culver, erected the cabins, and the Thomas L. Hickey Inc. firm of South Bend built the administration building, library, and dining hall.

C.M.A. To Dedicate New Woodcraft Camp Saturday

Cabins such as these provide living quarters at the new $850,000 Woodcraft Camp built on the campus of Culver Military Academy. The 58 cedar cabins, each 20'x32', house the 648 Woodcrafters and their counselors. The boys, who range in age from 9½ through 13, come from all over the country to attend the eight-week session of the Camp, which is now in its fifty-first year. The new Camp, built on a 250-acre wooded tract overlooking Lake Maxinkuckee, will be dedicated on Saturday, July 27.

School Board Delays Building Fund For One Year

Major problems for consideration by the Board of School Trustees of Culver Community Schools in its Tuesday evening meeting were plans for the erection of required storage areas at Aubeesnaubee School, a much-needed addition to Culver Elementary School, and the school corporation's budget for 1964.

The State Department of Public Instruction late last week informed local school officials that the critical situation created at the State level by the elimination of revenue from the sales tax will result in drastic reductions in the state support program to local school corporations over the state. The State Superintendent of Public Instruction indicated that officials working on next year's budgets should expect a reduction of $94 per pupil below the amount which would have been provided from the State Tuition Support program if the sales tax had remained in effect. In addition, a reduction of $24 per pupil must be used in estimates for pupils transported. The budget established for the Tuition and Transportation Support Aid Program when the 1963 tax program was passed by the legislature had set up greatly increased help for schools from the State sources.

With these serious losses in aid previously expected from the State, the local school officials will be forced to raise a much larger part of the funds for school operation by high property taxes. After studying this problem as it will affect the local school levies, the Board of School Trustees voted to postpone the establishment of the proposed Cumulative Building Fund levy until the program of State Aid is (Continued on Page 11)

Started in 1912, the Woodcraft Camp is one of four summer programs operated by the Academy with a total enrollment of 1,661 for youngsters between the ages of 9½ and 18. The "A" frame high pitched roof provides maximum coolness. The walls are primarily fibre-glass screens.

Harry Baehlein of Cleveland, Ohio, visited Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Esther Miller.

Lightning struck the home of Mrs. Esther Miller on Monday evening of last week. Damage was done to the T.V. set, and new wiring had to be put in the house.

COME CLEAN — Members of the Hoy Pryor family had seen a possum lurking around their Jay County home at Dunkirk. They thought it had gone away until Mrs. Pryor began unpacking a basket of laundry and Bre'r Possum popped out. She retreated to a telephone and called police. Officer Harold Spencer responded and apprehended the intruder.

News Items About Our Academy Neighbors

(Culled from the July Issue of the CMA Messenger)

The Robert Boltens arrived home from their European junket in time for Bob to head for the lake front and Robbie to head for Woodcraft. Fran and Susan took a flying auto trip to Miami that literally sent Fran flying home and Susan to take up stewardess duties again in Fort Lauderdale. She's flying with Mackay Airlines between the mainland and the islands . . . Virginia Smith checked in from her I.U. Language Institute courses over the Fourth to rally round the flag with the entire Smith clan. Coke and Judy and Coke V were in from Mt. Prospect, where they are spending the summer. Ehrlich did a quiekie in from Great Lakes to complete the family picture . . . Russ and Myra Oliver helped Rusty round out a 9-day-leave by driving him back to his Marine base, New River Air Facility at Jacksonville, N.C. They worked their way slowly home with side trips to Raleigh, Richmond and Washington, D.C. In Washington they pursued the 18th and 19th hole with the Clifford Dawsons . . . The Dawsons were also the official hosts with the most playing open house to Donna Kay's Culver friends. Five of her school friends, among them Marsha Estey and Lela Donnelly, trained to Fort Belvoir, Va., for a two-week stay . . . More news from that section of the country with a visit from the Kourmadas clan. John stayed in Culver long enough to "make the scene". They returned from their Maine retreat with him and expect to take him east again at the end of the month . . . The William Garrison family has arrived in Culver. Bill is in the History department. This summer he is working at Woodcraft Camp. The Garrisons have bought the Sutch house on Route 30 — all 39 acres and the splendid "house in the wood". They come to Culver from Bloomington, where Bill taught at University High. Completing the family picture is Ellen, mother-of-five, and the five. They are Martha, 11, Mathew, 10, Jane, 9, Kent, 5, and Bill, 7 months . . . Another new family, now complete, is the Leons. Anita and son Brian joined the fold last weekend to make Culver home. They are living in KK cottage . . . JIM'S ELECTRIC SERVICE

Receives High National Rating

Culver Military Academy's student newspaper, The Vedette, has won the highest rating given by national critical service for the third straight year.

National Newspaper Service, an affiliate of the National School Yearbook Association, Memphis, Tenn., awarded The Vedette an A-plus, highest grade given to only a small percentage of scholastic publications.

S. S. Patterson, director of the NNS, drew attention to a special issue of the newspaper published last April on the Cuban crisis. Said Patterson:

"The special issue is a landmark in scholastic publications. It opens up a whole new dimension for school newspapers . . . Few scholastic newspapers are offering their constituency as penetrating, as thoughtfully interpretive and as meaningful a report of their school and their roles in the world today as The Vedette."

The critical analysis made special mention of student editor Steven S. Piecuch, of Culver, Ind.; and columnists Mark Bragg, Akron, Ohio; Alexander Hamilton, Kokomo, Ind.; and Michael Crosswell, Wiesbaden, Germany. Faculty adviser was Robert Reichley, former York, Pa., newspaperman who serves as assistant public relations director at Culver.

Junior Fleet News

Five hardy Junior Skippers showed up for the race Saturday morning. The wind was gusty and far out on the lake the whitecaps were whipping up in increasing numbers. Besides that, it looked like rain! There were eight capsizees — each sailfish capsized at least once, but every one finished the race. That is real sportsmanship.

So we tip our sailor hats to Rick Baxter, who finished first, followed by Stevie Speer, Howard Ray, Jeff Grund and Charles Ray, in that order.

By the way, the Junior Fleet Committee says it's time to help more Juniors learn the beginning sailing points. If you are interested, simply come over to Hollowell's pier at 9:30 next Saturday morning.

Gates and Calhoun Chevrolet Provides Driver Education Car

Inspecting one of the Automobiles provided by Gates and Calhoun Chevrolet for the driver education program conducted at the Culver Summer Schools are Earl D. Overmyer, local agent for Gates and Calhoun, and Summer Schools instructors H. R. Bock and J. R. Stauffer. This is the second summer the Argos agency has provided automobiles for the Summer Schools course.

Senior Fleet News

Only four boats showed up for the Saturday afternoon Regatta. John Bateson (T-25) got off to a flying start but couldn't hold the boat down in the heavy wind and capsized on the first leg of the race. He and his crew, J. B. Alward and Kathy Clyne, righted the boat in minutes and they sailed on to cross the finish line just one minute after Rupert Esser, the winner. This was the fastest race so far this season.

Don Speer was the hard luck man of the day as he was disqualified for hitting a buoy and then flipped over after he crossed the finish line. Larry Strait moved up to third place because of the disqualification.

The wind was certainly whimsical from two to four on Sunday. At one point, the 16 boats were just drifting. Later, they were all heeling dangerously, with the crews bouncing on the boards and the skippers straining at the ropes. Bob Hollowell (T-9) did some tall sailing to win; Ken Bateson (T-25) was second and Joyce Speer (T-2) was third.

Although the sky was overcast and the Northwest wind called for sweaters, the picnic and corn roast Saturday evening was a colorful success. The little ponds from the recent rains on the new green golf course provided entertainment for the brightly clad little ones while their parents chatted at the tables.

Joyce Speer, Ciel Hollowell, Marni Somerville and Audrey Vanderyaht added a saucy note with their gay feathered hats and color matched ensembles. Everyone was happy to see Ted Baxter corporations must in-amounts deducted on their federal tax return for state and local taxes and for charitable contributions.

CORPORATIONS

When to file. Corporate returns,
like those of individuals, are due on the 15th day of the fourth month following the close of the taxable year.
Computing tax. Unlike individuals, corporations will continue to be subject to tax under the Gross Income Tax Act at a one-third increase in rate, since the 1963 General Assembly increased the gross income tax rates from 3/8% to 1/2%, and from 1-1/2% to 2% by amendment to the Gross Income Tax Act. However, in computing its adjusted gross income tax liability, a corporation is required to compute its liability under the Gross Income Tax Act, and under
the Adjusted Gross Income Tax Act and to pay the larger of the two amounts.

Exempt Corporations Certain corporations are not subject to
the adjusted gross income tax.
These include charitable corporations exempt from federal income taxes, banks and trust companies, national banking associations, mutual savings banks, private banks, and certain insurance companies.
Partnership election Corporations with ten or fewer shareholders which have elected under section 1372 (b) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code (Subchapter S) to be taxed as a partnership (provided that all of the shareholders are residents of the State of Indiana) will not be subject to tax, but the shareholders will be taxed, as individuals, under the Adjusted Gross Income Tax Act, on their distributive share of the corporation's income.
However, the election must be made with the Federal Internal Revenue Service before it can be accepted by the Indiana Department of Revenue.
Allocation of income If a corporation or a non-resident individual has income from sources
both within and without the State of Indiana, and the income from sources within the state cannot be separated from that derived from sources without the state, the taxpayer must allocate its income by means of a three-factor formula. The fraction to be applied to the taxpayer's adjusted gross income in order to determine what part of that income is taxable by the State of Indiana is determined by taking the average of the three following fractions:

1. Total value of taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used
in this state during the taxable
year.

Total value of all of taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used.

2. Compensation paid by the taxpayer in this state during the taxable year.

Total compensation paid by the taxpayer during the taxable
year.

3. Total sales of the taxpayer
in this state during the taxable
year.

Total sales of the taxpayer
everywhere during the taxable
year.

If this allocation formula does not fairly represent the amount of the taxpayer's income derived from sources within the state, the taxpayer may petition for, or the Indiana Department of Revenue may require, that some other formula or method of allocation be used.

PARTNERSHIPS
Partnerships, in the judgment
of the Department, are not subject to tax under the Adjusted Gross Income Tax Act. They will, however, file an information return, as they do under the Internal Revenue Code, and the partners will be taxable as individuals under the Adjusted Gross Income Tax Act on their distributive share of the partnership income.

MISCELLANEOUS
The Adjusted Gross Income Tax Act will be administered by the Indiana Department of Revenue and many of the administrative procedures in the Gross Income Tax Act respecting assessment and collection have been incorporated in the Adjusted Gross Income Tax Act.

again is able to carry out its share of school support.
Since the State inspectors directed that enclosed storage facilities be provided on the lower floor of the Aubbeenaubbee School, quotations will be requested from local builders in order to arrange for the completion of this work before school opens in September. The project will involve the building of masonry-enclosed areas beneath the stairways in the lower corridor and a storage space for the Industrial Arts area. Local builders who are interested in the nature of the project may secure information at the office of the Superintendent or from Mr. Vernie Bowen at Village Hardware in Lei-ters Ford. Mr. Bowen, who is a School Board member, will be able to show any interested contractor the location of the proposed enclosures.

corrected. It was the opinion of the local School Board that the establishment of such a levy in the budget now being prepared would be unwise, since the State's inability to meet its obligations will increase drastically the load
to be carried by the local taxpayers in 1964.

Though the School Board realizes that funds must be available within the next few years for the erection of a new high school, a program for the creation of a fund for such a project will have to be delayed until the State

Assignment of Robert K. Kyle of Culver to divide his working time between the State Conservation Department and the State Public Information Office was announced on July 14.

Tragedy struck a stunning blow in Culver early Monday afternoon when Patricia Jane Booker, aged 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Booker, was killed instantly in her home as the result of a freak accident. Patty was helping with the family washing and as she opened the washing machine a clothes stick fell into it and was shattered to bits. A flying piece of the stick fractured her skull.

Fifty-eight youngsters between the ages of 5 and 12 reported at the beach Monday to take advantage of the free swimming lessons being offered by Sara McClure.

JULY 28, 1943—

Gladioli that are growing over head-high is the experience Howard Oberlin is having this year with the colorful plants.

Capt. Hugh Harper lost the ends of two fingers while working on an automobile fan belt at the Academy hangar.

There was a total blackout in the town of Culver and the surrounding areas during the night of July 29.

and held in connection with the Jake Factor kidnapping case.

A business man is expected to muffle his gasoline engine exhaust by burying it, and rightfully so; but any driver of a car can use his cutout and make enough noise to awaken the dead and the authorities make no protest. An ordinance to suppress this nuisance is as desirable as one to control speed.

IN INDIANA

BEER IS A NATURAL

As natural as the wholesome grains and tangy hops from which it is brewed, beer is Indiana's traditional beverage of moderation—light, sparkling, delicious.

And naturally, the Brewing Industry is proud of the good living it provides for so many folks in Indiana. Not only for employees of the Brewing Industry itself, but also for the farmers and other suppliers of beer's natural ingredients. In Indiana, beer belongs—enjoy it.

Related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will also be heard and will include the following: "Prayer cannot change the unalterable Truth, nor can prayer alone give us an understanding of Truth; but prayer, coupled with a fervent habitual desire to know and do the will of God, will bring us into all Truth" (p. 11).

 Debbie and Linda Miller of Elkhart spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Marion Kline and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl See spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Appleman and daughter Nancy at Lake Bruce.

Dinner guests last Monday of Mrs. Floy Leap and daughters were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Overmyer and Mrs. Ruth Sopher. The dinner was in honor of Mrs. Overmyer's birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sopher and Scott were afternoon callers.

Charles Sopher injured his left hand recently when it was caught in a buzz saw. Twenty stitches were necessary to sew up the cut.

Dr. Dean Sixby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Sixby, has opened his office at Denver, Ind.

The Zion Gospel Chapel will hold their Sunday School picnic Sunday following the church services. Basket dinner at noon will be followed by visiting and games in the afternoon.

In the evening, Rev. and Mrs. Don Miller, former pastor, will show pictures and tell of their work in Africa.

You can't see any farther ahead from the second step than you could from the first. But you know you are closer to the top.

And that very aptly describes one aspect of man's quest for spiritual understanding.

ONE SUNDAY IN CHURCH DOESN'T MAKE US CHRISTIANS. And sometimes a month of Sundays finds us still struggling with doubts and wrestling with temptations. Prayers don't always seem to have been answered. And parts of the Bible may constantly baffle us.

But the truth of the matter is that every spiritual step we take is exactly that — a step. It may leave our perspective unchanged for the moment. But it is bringing us closer to that higher level of life from which man's vision enlarges.

Until we reach life's spiritual crest, the most important step is always the NEXT. Join the millions who'll climb a little closer to the summit Sunday.

Charles Owen Carves 58 Animal Heads

When Culver Military Academy was completing plans to build a new Woodcraft Camp last fall, it faced the problem of finding someone who could virtually mass produce 58 animal heads to be mounted over the doorways of modern A-frame cabins.

The large animal heads were to be durable to withstand the summer and winter weather and they were to be lifelike since the wolves, walrus, rams, beavers, buffaloes, wildcats and bears they depict are symbolic mascots to the 649 youngsters who annually attend Woodcraft Camp during an eight-week session in July and August.

Most importantly, the heads were to be completed by July 27 in time for formal dedication of the $850,000 camp, newest facility of the Culver Summer Schools, largest summer program of its type in the nation.

One answer to the problem lay within the Culver Military Academy faculty — history instructor Charles P. Owen who carves ice and wood objects as a hobby. Owen agreed to complete the 58 heads in time for the opening of camp, but when he tried a chisel on tough, 100-pound blocks of red cedar, he discovered it took 15 hours to make a ram's head — too long a time for a teacher carrying a full academic schedule during the winter.

This is where the chain saw entered the picture. Using a high-speed, 28-pound saw, Owen discovered automation has its artistic side. Time required to complete each head was sliced by more than half. Only seven hours were required to methodically produce a model of each of the seven different animals. Working from a prototype, Owen chainsawed through the remaining 51 chunks of cedar in from one to four hours, depending upon the difficulty of the particular head.

For authenticity, Owen turned the heads over to Academy artist in residence Warner Williams, who painted models in each category for Culver painters to follow in completing the year-long task.

When the animal heads were mounted on the cabins this month, Owen found that his carving talents were still very much in demand. Young Woodcrafters were asking for miniature heads they could take home with them at the end of the 1963 session, and one Culver graduate, reading about the project in the Academy's alumni magazine, wrote from California with the request: send him one ram's head — full size.

Owen is a native of Marshfield, Wis., and a graduate of Carleton College, Northfield, Minn. He has been on the Academy faculty for six years.

The Woodcraft Camp is for boys 9½ through 13 and is part of the Culver Summer Schools, which enrolls a total of 1,660 boys for eight weeks each summer. Boys 14 through 18 are enrolled in the Naval School, the School of Horsemanship, and the Summer Theater. The schools are operated by Culver Military Academy, which enrolls 850 boys in a college preparatory program in grades eight through 12 from September to June.

New Traffic Laws Become Effective Soon

Several new traffic regulations will become effective in late July or early August following promulgation.

The Indiana Traffic Safety Foundation reports the more important new regulations affecting motorists are:

1. Headlights — (NOT PARKING LIGHTS) — will be required for illumination when operating a motor vehicle on a public highway at any time from one-half hour after sunset to one-half hour before sunrise and at all other times when, due to insufficient light or atmospheric conditions, visibility is less than 500 feet.

2. It will be a specific violation for two or more vehicles to engage in a speed contest on any public highway. This law is directed toward those individuals who accelerate unnecessarily and thus create a hazard to pedestrians, passengers and other vehicles and property. This law also prohibits any person from barricading or obstructing a public highway for the purpose of conducting a speed contest.

3. The "red flag" law, covering slow moving farm vehicles, has been extended to cover horse drawn vehicles and to require the display of a flashing red light, or a red flag, when such vehicles are operated on any federal, state OR COUNTY ROAD. The earlier law required such equipment only when traveling on or along state and federal roads and did not include horse drawn vehicles.

4. All new passenger cars, beginning with the 1964 models, must be equipped with safety belts which meet standards approved by the Commissioner of the Bureau of Motor Vehicles.

5. Drivers of motor trucks, including tractor trailer combinations, when driving outside business or residential districts, shall not follow within 300 feet of another motor truck, except in the process of passing. The former regulation permitted 150 foot following distances.

6. Any person who, while driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, narcotics or drugs, causes the death of another person, will be guilty of a felony.

7. When any court convicts a person for a traffic offense, and the person so convicted is not the registered owner of the vehicle involved, the court shall, within seven days, advise the registered owner of the offense and the conviction.

LONG SWAMP ON TRI-STATE FIELD DAY

The Long Swamp, once the bane of settlers in this area of northeastern Indiana but now the producer of bountiful crops, will yield to dozens of pieces of drainage equipment come July 31 and Aug. 1.

Those are the dates of the Tri-State Drainage and Water Conservation Field Day to be held on the Stanley Riddle farm on Road 109. The event is expected to attract several thousand visitors from Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

The field day is sponsored by drainage contractors' associations of the three states, in cooperation with the Cooperative Extension Services of Ohio State, Purdue and Michigan State Universities, Soil and Water Conservation Districts and the Soil Conservation Service.

Demonstrations of drainage equipment in action, plus nearly 10 acres of exhibits, will be features of the big, 2-day program, reports Don Sisson, Purdue University extension agricultural engineer. Demonstrations will show trenching machines, blinding and back filling equipment, backhoes, earth movers and land levelers, bulldozers, stump cutters, root rakes and grading and irrigation equipment. Displays will include several kinds of drain tile, trenching equipment, irrigation pipe and other land improvement items.

Long Swamp, referred to at the turn of the century as "God's country, because no one else would have it," has since gained — and lost — its reputation as a producer of onions and peppermint. Today corn and soybeans have replaced the onions and mint, and cattle numbers are growing, due in part to the mineral soils found between the muck areas.

The Riddle farm contains both muck and mineral soils. Field Day visitors will have an opportunity to see how modern land improvement equipment can put these different soils to productive use.

Personals

Mrs. Chester W. Cleveland had as her Sunday guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Hough of Chicago. The Hough's grandson, David Brennan, also of Chicago, is attending the Woodcraft Camp of the Culver Summer Schools.

Indians Chalk Up Second County Championship

By EARL MISHLER
Culver's baseball Indians chalked up their second straight Marshall County summer baseball championship last week, clinching the title by sweeping through their last three league games. Victimized by booming Culver bats were Plymouth, 9-0, Bremen, 7-0, and Tyner, 12-5. The Tribe finished their County schedule with a 14-0 mark, including four forfeits.

Last Thursday evening Paul Liette hurled a brilliant one-hit shut-out at Plymouth. A second-inning single by Joe Elkins, which was nearly caught in right field, cost the junior righthander a no-hit game. Liette was backed by a 10-hit attack, spearheaded by Andy Lowry's 3 hits. Rich Stiles, first of three Plymouth pitchers, was the loser.

Sam Lowry blanked Bremen on four hits in Friday's game. Fourteen Culver base-hits were recorded off Lion loser Rich Dodson, including three by S. Lowry. Sam fanned eight hitters and walked none en route to his eighth win of the season. This game was unique for high school baseball, as there were no errors, wild pitches or passed balls on either side.

A nine-run third inning uprising made Monday's win over Tyner an easy one for lefty Jim Lewis. "Looney" fanned seven on a yield of three singles, but the junior hurler walked ten batsmen, ruining chances for a third straight Culver shutout. Lewis' 2-run triple was the clinching blow in the third, while S. Lowry, A. Lowry, Bob Carter and Liette each had a pair of hits in the 11-hit Indian attack.

Culver, now 19-0 with forfeits, travels to North Manchester tomorrow night where Sam Lowry will shoot for his ninth pitching triumph.

Next Monday, the County play-off between the top four teams begins at Culver and LaPaz. The Indians host third-place Argos, while the Vikes play Bremen. The title game will be played a week from tomorrow. Last year the Indians were upset in the playoffs by Bourbon. Coach Gene Crosley's boys are now just three victories away from an undefeated season, a terrific accomplishment. Culver batting:

Snyder Motor Sales Occupies New Building

The Snyder Motor Sales, 215 West Jefferson Street, Culver, are now in the process of moving into their new two-story addition, which has just been completed. The new addition joins the original building on the west. The first story is constructed of cement block with steel beams forming the floor of the second story, which is of wood construction. Measuring 40 x 40 feet, the building adds 1,600 square feet of working space.

Entrance to the building will be from Jefferson street side. The west and south walls have steel framed windows that extend the entire length of both walls. The interior has been painted green, the exterior painted white. The frame second story, which extends approximately three feet beyond the first story wall on the north side, is of natural wood finish.

The first floor of the new addition will be devoted to complete auto repair facilities. The second floor will be used for a complete auto parts department. Areas which have been used for auto repair, will now be used for body repair and mechanical work. The firm is now equipped to service any make and model car. The parts department will carry a full line of parts to complete this service.

In addition to conducting a complete auto repair service, the Snyder people have purchased the Culver Power Mower & Marine Sales and Service, owned by Michael Fitterling. This service, repair and mechanical, for lawn mowers and chain saws will be added to the Snyder operation. Negotiations for the sales and service of Evinrude outboard motors are being made at this time. Mr. Fitterling will be employed at the Snyder firm.

The Snyder Motor Sales started in Culver in 1953 on East Jefferson Street in the Medbourn building. In 1960 they built and moved to their present location. The new addition is part of the expansion program of the firm to serve the Culver area better with expert auto and motor repair and mechanical work.
