Theater Group To Present Play At C.M.A.

"Toad of Toad Hall," an adaptation of Graham Greene's "Wind in the Willow," will be presented in performances Wednesday, July 31, and Friday, Aug. 2, by the Theater Workshop group of the Culver Summer Schools.

The performances at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday and 7:30 p.m. Friday are in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium and are open to the public. No admission will be charged and Director of Theater William J. Martin encourages residents of the Marshall County area to attend what will be the only public performances of the workshop group this summer.

The Wednesday performance is for boys attending the Culver Woodcraft Camp and for children of the Culver and Marshall County areas. The Friday performance is for Midshipmen and Troopers and the general public.

A. A. Milne's adaptation is best known as a play for children, but the author's real purpose is to satirize British conventions and society.

"Toad" can be enjoyed by everyone of all ages," said Martin. "Using the device of a young girl's imagination in a prologue, the animal world suddenly takes on human form, human fashions, and human foibles. Thus the main characters 'Toad', 'Rat', 'Mole', and 'Badger' are really examples of the bragging, boasting, social climber; the respectable, conservative admiralty; the country bumpkin; and the country squire."

Milne involves 30 other characters in the adventures of "Toad", and human characters also participate in the hilarious trial, imprisonment, and escape of "Toad."

Martin announced feature roles will be portrayed by: Lee Ormeyer, Evansville, Ind., who is seen as "Toad"; Suzanne Lawhead, Fairfield, Ill., "Rat"; Sammy Borton, Kahoka, Mo., "Mole"; and Kit Bradley, Indianapolis, "Badger". Eight settings and 45 costumes have been designed by Suzanne Stenrock, a South Bend graduate student at Catholic University, who is a workshop designer; David Bauer, a Culver graduate who now attends Stanford University, technical director; and Mrs. Kermit Zieg, of Culver, costume mistress.

There are 33 girls and 23 boys enrolled in the Summer Theater Workshop, which is in its third year of operation as part of the Summer Schools. The curriculum is devoted to work and study in beginning, intermediate and advanced levels of stagecraft, dance, acting, stage makeup, costume, and scene design. The eight-week program is open to boys and girls 16 years of age and older. In addition to the formal curriculum, theater workshop students attend a series of productions in the performing arts given in the Midwest area.

Famed Moonlight Serenade To Be August 3-4

Residents of the Lake Maxinkuckee area will be serenaded by the Culver Naval School Band when the Summer School musicians take their annual Moonlight Cruise aboard "The O. W. Fowler" this weekend.

The custom of Moonlight Cruises was begun in 1943 by Col. Edward T. Payson, director of the Band and chairman of the music department at Culver. This year's concerts will be the 21st in the popular series.

Colonel Payson said the Band will sail the west side of Lake Maxinkuckee to Long Point on Saturday, Aug. 3. East side residents will hear the Band Sunday night, Aug. 4.

Colonel Payson has selected 55 musicians from the Naval School Band of 100 to play a variety of music specially prepared for the cruise.

"The Fowler" is a three-masted sailing vessel used by the Summer Schools for naval training and for boat rides. The vessel is a marked departure from the type of craft used the first year the Moonlight Cruise was established. In 1943 the Band used four small cutters towed by a powerboat, and members of the Band held flashlights so that the musicians could see the music. "The Fowler" was constructed in 1944 and has been used ever since for the serenade.

It has been customary for lake residents to decorate their cottages on the nights of the cruise. Colonel Payson has requested that boat owners keep noises at a minimum during the time in which the Band is playing. On both nights, "The Fowler" will start its cruise by playing at the Culver Inn pier beginning at 8:30.

Culver Boy Scouts To Hold Annual Smorgasbord

On Saturday, Aug. 24, Boy Scout Troop 290 of Culver will hold its annual Smorgasbord in Fellowship Hall of the Culver Methodist Church. The meal will be served from 5:30 to 8:00 p.m.

Scout Mothers, who will prepare and serve the meal, have announced the following menu: ham, chicken and noodles, meatballs, baked beans, potato salad, assorted salads, rolls and butter, pie, cake, coffee, and milk.

Tickets for the Smorgasbord can now be purchased from any Boy Scout. There will be prizes for the boys selling the most tickets: a transistor radio, tent, sleeping bag, cook kit and canteen, and a Scout pocket knife.

The proceeds of the Smorgasbord will be used for the purchase of equipment for the Troop and for the support of the local Boy Scout program.

A HANDY MAIL SLOT in The Citizen's front office door will come your news items for next week's paper 24 hours a day.

Fier was Chief of Police Don Mikesell. Mericle paid fine and costs amounting to $19.75.

James B. McEnteer, Litesville, Pa., appeared in Mike Fitterling's Justice of Peace Court, Tuesday, July 30, charged with disregarding a stop sign at Academy Road and State Road 10. Arresting officer was Lake Patrolman James Cox. McEnteer paid fine and costs totaling $18.75.

James Rodney Todd, Culver, appeared in Mike Fitterling's Justice of Peace Court, Tuesday, July 30, charged with exceeding the posted speed limit on East Shore Drive. Arresting officers were Lake Patrolman James Cox and R. J. Ives. Todd paid fine and costs totaling $18.75.

950 People Are Served At Lions Corn Roast

The Culver Lions Club corn roast, which had been rained out two weeks before and re-scheduled for last Saturday evening, was a huge success. Held in the Culver Town Park, serving began at 5:30 p.m. and continued as long as the food held out. The crowd was so large that people were being served long after dark.

The committee, as nearly as an accurate count can be made, served over 950 people. The amount of food consumed ran into astronomical proportions. Approximately 258 pounds of hamburger, 210 dozen roasting ears, 150 dozen buns, 80 dozen ice cream cups, 30 gallons of coffee and 22 gallons of orange drink were consumed. Fifty-five Lions participated in the event.

Money made on the project after all expenses are paid will go to support the "Little League" baseball program, finishing the Culver street sign project and other civic projects, to which the club is obligated.

The committee and all Culver Lions wish to express their sincere thanks to Culver, the community and far-away persons, who helped make the "Corn Roast" such a huge success. It is deeply appreciated.

Maxinkuckee Yacht Club News

By PEG CLYNE

The Yacht Club seemed to come to life on the Lake last weekend as there were more boats in each race than any time this summer.

The Junior Fleet started the boom with 10 boats in the race Saturday morning. There was a fair wind and only one capsizing. Rick Baxter, Indianapolis, was first; Stevie Speer, Indianapolis, was second; Tac Welch, Logansport, was third.

Nine boats were at the starting line for the Saturday afternoon regatta. Three boats were disqualified. Rupert Esser, Logansport (T-26), took advantage of the available wind and sailed in first, followed by Tad Lauderback, Rochester (T-24), and John Bateson, Munster (T-25).

There was a variable Southwest wind Sunday afternoon as a challenge to the 19 skippers. Tom Heckel sailed T-40 across the finish line ahead of Ken Bateson (T-25), and Rupert Esser (T-26).

Six of the sails carried numbers belonging to the Culver Summer Schools. The skippers and crews of these boats come from all over the United States and most of these boys get their first experience in Yacht Club racing from MYC. The sportsmanship and the skill of MYC skippers have a far-flung effect.

The C Scow crew members from the Academy are Jay Hirschauer, Logansport; Michael Kinney, Tucson, Ariz.; Tim Hird, Bay Village, Ohio; Steve Kase, Wilmette, Ill.; Bob Goodenough, Morrison, Ill.; Bob Frankenberry, Bridgeville, Pa.; and Gary McInerney and John Donley, Grand Rapids, Mich.

The E boat skippers who sail the same course with a starting gun five minutes later are Gerry Saltarelli, Snyder, N. Y.; Phil Sbarbaro, Maywood, Ill., and Ralph Reahard III, from Indianapolis. Their hard working crews are Tom Darnton, Holly, Mich.; Dave Derrick, Frankfort; Steve Dwight, Toledo, Ohio; John Spittler, Columbus, Ohio; Tim Weaver, Cleveland, Ohio; Steve Yost, Massillon, Ohio; Pratt Remmel, Little Rock, Ark.; and Harry Rittenour, Piketon, Ohio.

Lt. Gerald Thomas and Ensign Larry Davis say that the boys are always eager to compete against the "pros" (the local Yacht Club sailors). When you consider that these boys have only seven weeks sailing each summer, they do a fine job keeping up with the rest of the fleet.

The Judges, the Skippers, and their Crews will have a busy weekend with two races Saturday afternoon (a make-up race plus the regular event), the moonlight race Saturday night, and the Sunday Regatta. Monday should be declared a Skipper's Holiday!

Don't Feed Bears In National Parks

When you hand that cute black bear one of your picnic sandwiches this summer, you are not only risking your own life and limb but you may also be doing irreparable damage to the bear's morals.

Even worse than the mar on the bear's psyche, you may be contributing to its eventual execution.

Chicago Motor Club tour counselors, who each year route thousands on pleasure trips to our national parks, agree with the liberally sprinkled signs along park highways:

"Please don't feed the bears."

Park rangers say that the bear who has come to look upon the tourist automobile as a rattling snack bar soon turns into a tramp. It won't exercise by ambling down its own food. Its coat — through lack of exercise and proper diet — turns shabby.

And, as any hungry tramp might be inclined to do, it is likely to turn mean if a handout is not forthcoming. When that happens, it goes after the food, often quite forcefully. This has resulted in serious injury to well-meaning tourists, and countless dollars in damage to automobiles.

Some bears which become too mean have had to be destroyed. Others have had to be destroyed because tourist handouts have dulled their hunting instincts — to prevent them from starving to death during the cold winter months while the traveler is back home sipping hot toddies by his comfortable fireplace.

The Chicago Motor Club says that peaceful coexistence, without offering aid and comfort to the enemy — in this case, the bear — is the best policy. View them from a safe distance. If you must take photographs, never get out of your automobile to do the shooting. Snap the pictures through a closed car window. This is especially important if cubs are present. Mama bear is a protective animal, and inclined to become resentful if tourists approach her cubs too closely.

When you park your car, close it and lock it. Bears have been known to do an incredible amount of damage to the interior of a car in their search for tidbits. The bear is a strong wild animal, and all it needs is a clawhold to get inside.

This may disturb the traveler inclined to worry about the bacteria count in his food, but it's best to keep your food securely locked in the car's trunk when you're motoring in bear country.

Park rangers offer this bit of sage advice: Never try to pet a bear, or make friends with it. All it is interested in is what you might have in the other hand.

Be on the lookout for bears in these national parks — Yellowstone, Sequoia and Kings Canyon, Yosemite, Great Smoky Mountains, Glacier, Grand Teton, Olympic Crater Lake, Lassen Volcanic, Mount Rainier, Mount McKinley, and Rocky Mountain — and in Glacier Bay National Monument.

Rangers have discovered bears will eat almost anything.

A few years ago, park officials were dismayed to learn that their signs reading "Please don't feed the bears" were being chewed upon — by the bears.

They thought the bears were becoming canny as well as demoralized, until they discovered the animals had a yen for some peculiar taste in the cedar wood. The rangers haven't had as much trouble since they changed the wood.

Upside Down Car Is Featured In Unusual Dealer's Clinic

It is understandable that this service station attendant seems perplexed. When that car pulled up to his pumps upside down, his confusion started. The magician at right and his pretty assistant serve to compound the distraction. The quartet (includes the car) are part of a new marketing service station clinic program.

RACINE, WIS. — A new automobile that actually runs on its roof, exposing its exhaust system to immediate and direct attention of service station operators, complete with magician and assistant, highlights an unusual and unique marketing program for an automotive equipment manufacturer. Walker Manufacturing Company's new program has attracted considerable attention wherever it goes. This leading designer and producer of automotive exhaust system, filters and lifting equipment merely put its manufacturing ingenuity to work to develop a sensational program to reach over 100,000 service dealers throughout the country. It is the most thoroughly planned sales promotional campaign ever conceived by the company, and in early presentations has marked a milestone in automotive system marketing. Company officials reported that the technical problems involved in "making a car run on its top" were immense, but results have made the effort well worthwhile. A film appropriately titled "Let's Look At It This Way" dramatically emphasizes the importance of checking this vital part of the family automobile.

HIT-AND-RUN — An epidemic of hit-and-run accidents occurred recently in Sullivan. Police Chief David McCulloch said five new parking meters were "innocently run down" by motorists who drove off without reporting the accidents. The chief urged motorists to report such accidents, pointing out that their liability insurance would usually pay for the damage and the city would not be left holding the bag for repairs.

ROAD PAYMENT — The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads reports that last year this country's automobile and truck owners paid a whopping $5,786,303,000 in state highway use taxes. In Indiana this fund, which is used for street and highway construction and maintenance, amounted to $151,696,000, placing Indiana in 10th place.

GONE FOREVER — The associate editor of The Paoli News, H. E. Smith, bemoaning today's ersatz foods, said: "Even as we write this we realize the hopelessness of ever again eating a fried dry-apple pie of our boyhood days. There are two things money can't buy — the lost art of Grandma's cooking and old time religion."

TRIPLET — A correspondent for The Pike County Dispatch, published at Winslow, reports that a neighbor, Mrs. Ethel West, tells of finding an unusually large egg laid by one of her hens. Mrs. West said she wanted to keep the egg to show to her neighbors but her husband insisted she fry it for him. She broke it open and found it contained three yolks. Mrs. West did measure the egg before breaking it. It was six inches around, she said.

LOFTY AMBITIONS — The Illinois Democrat Senator, Paul Douglas, who has been waging a fight to save the Indiana dunes along Lake Michigan from commercial development, was quoted recently in The Chicago Daily News as expressing these rueful thoughts: "When I was very young I wanted to save the world. As I grew older I decided I'd be happy if I could save the nation. Now I'd be satisfied if I can save the Indiana dunes."

NO BACK TALK — The conversion to dial telephones in Salem has produced some amusing incidents, says Howard F. Crossman, editor of The Salem Leader. The editor himself complains he feels frustrated when a recorded voice comes on and tells him he has made an error in dialing and he is left with no opportunity to answer. He tells of a neighbor, Nestle Voyles, who was having difficulty dialing and kept getting the voice recording telling him what to do. Finally, in desperation, Voyles yelled into the phone, "Come and take the darn thing out." Voyles said that although his protest brought no action, he felt better for having got it off his chest.

SPELLING LESSON — The Hoosier Democrat, published at Flora, says it is frequently chided for misspelled words but it points out "there are others." The newspaper recently ran a photograph of a state highway sign on the outskirts of the Carroll County town of Brighthurst from which the letter "N" was missing. There, in big, black letters, was the damaging evidence, "Brighthurst."

Baxter Foundation Gives $100,000 To Wabash College

A gift of $100,000 to Wabash College from the Baxter Foundation of Indianapolis has been announced by Byron E. Trippet, president of the college. The money was earmarked for the construction of Baxter Hall, a new academic building made possible by an earlier grant of $500,000 from the Baxter Foundation, founder by the late Arthur R. Baxter.

President Trippet was informed of the $100,000 gift by R. Norman Baxter, one of the trustees of the Baxter Foundation. Other trustees are Emory R. Baxter, also of Indianapolis, Mrs. Delight Baxter Baily of Riverside, Calif., and Frederic L. Baxter, of Leesburg, Fla.

Mr. R. Norman Baxter and Mr. Emory R. Baxter are summer residents of Culver, residing on East Shore Drive, on Lake Maxinkuckee.

Red Flags For Rural Safety

The INDIANA TRAFFIC SAFETY FOUNDATION today urged farm and rural residents to review the action taken by the 1963 General Assembly which requires the use of red flags or red flashing lights on slow moving farm vehicles when used on any state, federal or county road.

Albert E. Huber, executive director of the Foundation, stated, "Early compliance with the 'red flag' law was excellent; but indications are that some operators of farm equipment do not fully realize the protective value of displaying a warning device on their farm equipment when using the heavily traveled public highways."

The State law, as amended in 1963, requires that "at least one flashing red signal lamp or flag mounted at a height of from 10 to 12 feet" be visible from the rear of any truck tractor, farm tractor, road tractor, implement of husbandry or horse drawn vehicle operated on a state, federal or county highway at a speed less than 20 miles per hour. New provisions in the law include the coverage of horse drawn vehicles and extension of the requirements to county highways.

Huber urged, too, that the red flag or light be mounted on the rear vehicle when a combination of vehicles are being drawn along a highway.

"With increasing activity during the harvest months, more farm vehicles will be using the highways," Huber stated. "Full compliance with this very sound safety regulation will help prevent many needless rural crashes."

SHERIFF GREENLEE SPEAKS AT FARM BUREAU MEETING

More than 25 people of the Union Township Farm Bureau heard Sheriff Jerry Greenlee give an enlightening talk on, "Problems of Juveniles in Marshall County," at the Town Park on July 24.

A potluck supper preceded the talk. Ham and beverages were furnished by the Farm Bureau.

The next meeting is tentatively set for Friday, Aug. 23, and will feature a boat ride on a Culver Military Academy boat. Members and friends are urged to enjoy the Academy's generosity.

By DAVID KELLY, Troop Scribe

"Crows and cranes" was the opening game of Troop 290 on July 29. Opening ceremony was conducted by the Panther Patrol with 17 Boy Scouts present. Announcements were given and each Scout passed his totin' chip which entitles him to carry an axe and knife. "Capture-the-Flag" was the closing game and a campfire was held. Smorgasbord tickets were passed out and the meeting was closed.

Next Monday all Scouts will meet at the Church at 8:45 to go swimming at the Woodcraft pier. Each patrol must bring an air mattress.

All Boy Scouts are to report to the C.M.A. Woodcraft pier for swimming classes on Wednesdays at 7 p.m. All Scouts who do not have a swimming merit badge must pass the 150-yard swim test for the canoe trip.

A campout at Faulkner's woods will be held Aug. 10 and 11. Start planning now! Bring your $1.40 meal fee next Monday if you are planning to attend.

Our Smorgasbord will be Saturday, Aug. 24 at the Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. You can get your tickets from any Boy Scout — Adults, $1.25; children 6-12, 75¢; children under 6 are free.

Mrs. Kenneth K. Kraning II and her daughter, Carrie Lynn, of Pittsburgh, Pa., will arrive in Culver tomorrow for a 10-day visit with Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kraning and Mr. and Mrs. Luis Benedicto. Mrs. Kraning has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Litzenberger, Lafayette, Ind., before coming to Culver.

Do you ever pause to listen to the voice of God? We hear it every day, wherever we may be.

In the whispering of tall trees . . . the music of rushing brooks . . . the songs of the birds . . . the gay laughter of happy children . . . we hear the voice of the Great Creator. Through his infinite grace a bird is enabled to serenade his mate, a tiny cricket chirps its faint refrain. God is the Bringer of all blessings to man and beast alike.

Let us give thanks to Him who has so enriched our lives. Open church doors beckon all over our land. Let us seek the House of the Lord, and enter in to pay Him homage. Here through prayer and humility, let us re-dedicate ourselves to His service and glorification.

DIVIDE IRIS CLUMPS EVERY 3 OR 4 YEARS

Iris clumps should be divided every three to four years for vigorous plants, according to Purdue University horticulturists. This probably is the most important factor in proper care of iris.

Clumps shouldn't be divided until after the plants have bloomed. Then when you start the job, dig up the entire clump and wash away the soil to expose the root system. Cut off the newer parts of the rhizomes, discarding the older parts.

For a good plant you will need at least one growing point, or of leaves, with a few inches of rhizome and a number of well developed roots. Leaves should be trimmed to one-third of original height.

The horticulturists recommend planting the iris divisions, clumps so three rhizomes of same variety are six inches apart. Plant them in full sun and apply two or three pounds of 12-12 analysis fertilizer over the area before digging the area.

For further information, write to the Agricultural Publications Office, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., for Mimeo HO-71 "Growing Iris." Single copies free to Indiana residents.

Babson Discusses Job Responsibility And Dropouts

It Is Important To Do A Job Well

Babson Park, Mass. — In this unsettling day and age, many workers feel that their job is of no real importance. They think of it only as a source of income, and they don't care much whether they do their level best or not.

How It Works

Naturally, this attitude doesn't afflict all workers, but I do think that far too many employed men and women consider their jobs are not particularly important. This is not true; and the quicker our workers of all ages find that out, the better off they — and the economy — will be. In the first place, if a job were of no special importance, it wouldn't be there. Since the job is there, this means that it is necessary and that it is worth doing well.

Doing a job badly hurts not only yourself but everybody in your entire organization. Those involved in turning out any product or presenting any service are — and must be — interdependent upon one another in order to achieve top results. If anybody goes down, all are injured. In an automotive company, for example, all steps are equally important: Manufacture of the various materials, assembling of the parts, painting, upholstering, cleaning, showing and demonstrating. Necessary and significant, too, is inspection of each step in the complicated process of taking an automobile or truck from its initial stages through to the ultimate customer. Nobody can say that the inspector's job is less crucial than any other along the line.

Why Each Job Is Equally Important
A craftsman's mistake could travel right to the customer and botch a sale if it were not for the inspectors' "craft" in checking the work through all its phases. Disappointment because of a faulty product breeds dissatisfaction with the company itself. No amount of advertising can convince a customer that a company's prestige is deserved when he has encountered something drastically wrong in its products. Individualism may be a good thing in our private lives, but when it comes to making a living, teamwork is all-important. Only through perfect teamwork can employers, employees, and stockholders all get the most out of any operation. A man who makes a tiny electric switch may think his job very unimportant when contrasted with that of a brilliant scientific engineer who designs a space ship. But a multi-million-dollar space ship could fail at take-off, could plunge into the ocean, or could just plain blow up if anything should go wrong with that tiny switch. So, if you happen to be the man making that small switch, don't think that you are less important than the big-salaried engineer. If you are not responsible on your part of the team, it won't do the engineer any good to be brilliantly responsible on his part of that team.

Teaching Young People Responsibility
A good many young people today are not naturally aware of the necessity of discipline, and unfortunately their families and school teachers often fail to make this need plain to them. That is the reason for the innumerable dropouts from junior high schools and high schools throughout the nation. If these children have no sense of responsibility toward their own education, it is not likely that they will assume any when they go out into the business world. Such children grow into adults who consider their jobs of no real value, who do not know the meaning of job responsibility.

Let me warn the parents of today's youngsters that employers are deadset against hiring school "dropouts." This is a time of specialization. There is 20% less demand right now for common labor than in 1950; and certainly nobody can expect any rise in the going wage rate for those in unskilled categories. Best opportunities are in engineering, advanced mathematics, physics, electronics, data processing, and communications. If you let your children or your grandchildren drop out of school, they will probably never acquire any needed responsibility; and they will never get the training that will make them prospects for the big jobs — perhaps even for any job — of tomorrow. Don't let your child become a "dropout."

Dr. J. O. Young, Purdue dairy scientist, demonstrated use of the Golding plastic bead test for solids-not-fat in milk and the dye-binding method for determining protein content in milk. He said consumers are becoming more interested in buying low-fat, high protein milks.

Sam Gregory, Purdue extension dairyman in charge of Dairy Herd Improvement Association testing, said that in the near future data on protein and solids-not-fat could be reported for herds through centrally processed records, if dairymen were cooperating in these tests.

DAIRY INDUSTRY NEEDS NEW PRODUCTS

The director of marketing research for the American Dairy Association said recently the industry needs new products and renewed emphasis on communicating their benefits to consumers.

Dr. G. C. Quackenbush, speaking at Purdue University's Dairy Day, pointed out that modern competition is more than competing with price.

"The big battles . . . are in trying to get markets from others by using new products and talking about product benefits. This flow of new products we call part of our ever increasing standard of living.

"It is the new products that provide new benefits. These benefits people learn about through communications, inducing them to want more and more . . . In our society, that industry which innovates moves ahead. And innovations include providing new products for more consumer benefits."

Dr. Carl Noller, Purdue dairy scientist, said that green, chopped corn is an excellent forage feed in July and August when hot, dry weather reduces pasture. It will help keep up milk flow during these months, he explained.

Supplementing the texts are color film strips, workshops, and examinations . . . as well as field trips, summer encampments, and other planned activities which expose the students to various aspects of modern-day aero-space power.

The curriculum is designed to cover one and one-half years, although exceptional teenagers can accelerate in certain phases of the program. Their "diploma" signed by the Air Force Chief of Staff and by CAP's National Commander is the "Certificate of Proficiency".

Civil Air Patrol Has Aero-Space Education Program

Teenagers sincerely concerned today about their careers and their future in America's rapidly expanding economy probably have more opportunities open to them now than at any other time in modern history.

Civil Air Patrol, civilian auxiliary of the U. S. Air Force consists of more than 76,000 citizens — 42,000 of whom are male and female cadets, 13 to 18 years of age. Its primary business — educating these young people to the responsibilities and opportunities of the aerospace age. This is a significant mission, particularly in light of the fast-developing technology which has ushered in (during the course of CAP's brief history) the jet age, the atomic age, and the space age.

To acquaint America's young people with the implications of these overlapping ages, Civil Air Patrol has designed and packaged an aero-space education program. Its academic product is tailored to the needs, the desires, and the goals of our nation's teenage population.

The basic course consists of seven illustrated textbooks, written by authorities, and available to students enrolled in or affiliated with CAP's program. It has attracted the attention of thousands of boys and girls who subscribe to the program as cadet members of local CAP units; it has been opened to many more young people in areas where the course is offered as an accredited elective subject in secondary schools.

Thousands more are ringing up impressive records as key members of the various branches of our armed services, and others have begun promising careers in the aviation field.

Across the country more and more young adults are "looking up" to their responsibilities in this aero-space age. They are finding that CAP can offer a strong "helping hand" in their selection of careers fruitful not only for the individual but for the country as well.

Mr. and Mrs. John (Jack) Cline and son, Peter, of Detroit, Mich., spent the weekend with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Roth Cline. They attended the dedication and homecoming activities at the Culver Summer Schools. On Sunday the Roth Clines also had as their guests their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Phillips Jr. and Rebecca Sue, of Mishawaka.

Walter L. Thompson was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Mackey and family at Noblesville where a birthday party was given in his honor Saturday evening.

Since the course was officially introduced 12 years ago, over 15,000 of these certificates have been issued. In terms of the national population this is a small number. But CAP officials consider it to be a significant accomplishment, and the 15,000 graduates an important nucleus of flight-minded young people, many of whom will be tomorrow's leaders.

The results of CAP's efforts are being felt in many ways. At the present time there are over a hundred former CAP cadets enrolled in the Air Force Academy.

Culver Indians Chalk Up Two More Victories

By EARL NISHLER

Only one game stands between the Culver Indians and their goal — an undefeated season. Two more teams fell before the tribe last week; Manchester, 7-1, and Bremen in the first round of the county playoffs, 11-4.

Thursday evening at 6 p.m., Culver faces LaPaz in Plymouth's Centennial Park for the playoff title, a trophy which eluded last year's champs. LaPaz defeated Argos, 9-3, Monday in the other first round action.

Last Thursday, the Indians travelled to North Manchester and successfully completed their scheduled games. Sam Lowry made his ninth victory an easy one with a three-run triple in the third inning. Paul White, Andy Lowry and Al Hyland rapped long doubles to aid in the attack. Sam allowed four hits, walked none, and fanned nine. The game marked the sixth time in eight starts that the junior righthander had not allowed an earned run.

The Culver bats were really booming again Monday. Paul Liette stroked a home run, two doubles, a single, drove in five runs and hurled the distance for his fifth pitching triumph. Sam Lowry followed Paul's fourth inning three-run swat with a homer of his own, the sixth Culver four-bagger of the season and Lowry's second. Among the 14 Culver hits off loser Bill Husmann were two by S. Lowry, White, Dave Lemar and Jim Boswell. Liette was hit for 11 safe blows, four straight by 6'8" first baseman Craig Roeder. Paul walked one and struck out seven.

The Culver record is 21-0, including four forfeits. Sam Lowry will try to beat LaPaz for the third time. He blanked the Vikes at Culver on June 13, and allowed only two cheap runs at LaPaz, July 17. Lowry's earned run average is 0.94, and with a little luck it would be even lower. In 59 2/3 innings of pitching, he has fanned 74 batters and walked only six! Culver batting:

Red Cross Selects Chairman Of Nurse Program

Mrs. Robert L. Ashworth, wife of Fort Jackson's deputy commanding general, has been appointed as chairman of the Red Cross Volunteer Nurse program at Fort Jackson, S. C. Mrs. Ashworth is the former Betty Harper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Harper of Culver.

The first to hold the newly-created position, Mrs. Ashworth was appointed by Dr. Stands, chairman of the board of directors of the Columbia Red Cross chapter. She will be in charge of the Red Cross volunteers on post and will work in conjunction with the Fort Jackson U. S. Army Hospital field director and the Red Cross field director.

Essentially, Mrs. Ashworth's job will be to recognize the recruiting program for volunteers, to direct training, and to assign the volunteer workers where they can be most useful.

The office to which Mrs. Ashworth has been appointed was created to up-date the volunteer program by consolidating the volunteers' efforts under one head. Mrs. Ashworth, a registered nurse, is qualified for the task, having gained practical experience while working at the blood center on post.

Among her other duties will be the task of appointing chairmen to head the Grey Ladies, the staff aides, and the social welfare group. There are approximately 50 volunteers now active in Red Cross work on post; nearly all are military dependents. Mrs. Ashworth plans a concentrated recruiting drive to commence in August.

WOMEN'S BOWLING LEAGUE TO HAVE ORGANIZATION MEETING

The Culver Women's Bowling League will have an organization meeting at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 8, at the Bank Auditorium. All women interested in League bowling are invited to attend this meeting.

Rev. H. A. Davis of Hot Springs, Ark., and Mrs. L. C. Hoff of Mountain View, Mo., arrived last week for an extended visit with their sister, Mrs. Eva Heiser, and other relatives.
