Tribe Trips Triton, 61-60, For 12th Win

Boswell's Free Throws Clinch It

By EARL MISHLER
A group of fired-up Trojans from Triton nearly derailed Culver's fast-moving express Friday night, losing to the host Indians, 61-60. The victory marked Culver's eighth straight win, brought their season's record to 12-2, and kept their home floor mark a perfect 9-0.

Despite looking bad throughout much of the game, the Indians proved their mettle by hitting in the clutch. Jim Boswell barely escaped wearing the goat's horns as the usually sure-handed junior guard made several ball-handling errors against Triton's full-court press. But "Impy" calmly swished two free throws with six seconds remaining to ice up the game.

After jumping to an 8-3 lead, the Tribe practically handed their guests the game with first half boo-boos. Triton's Will Metheny, taking advantage of the loose officiating, played close defense on Culver's ace Sam Lowry. By half-time, the Trojans had gained a one-point lead.

But Culver regained their poise in the second half and grabbed the lead behind the improved front line play of Lowry, Bob Eustis, and Ned Davis. Dave Lemar, who had only recently fought his way back into the lineup, got into foul trouble early and his rebounding was sorely missed.

The final stanza was nip and tuck all the way. Junior guard Joel Berger hit four long jumpers in the period, as the visitors used lots of screens and picks against Culver's zone defense. Davis' two free throws at 1:53 put the Tribe a 59-56, lead, but Triton again whittled the margin to one point. After both teams lost possession in the final minute, Berger fouled Boswell intentionally. Jim's two bulls-eyes clinched it and Berger added a jumper at the gun for the final score of 61-60.

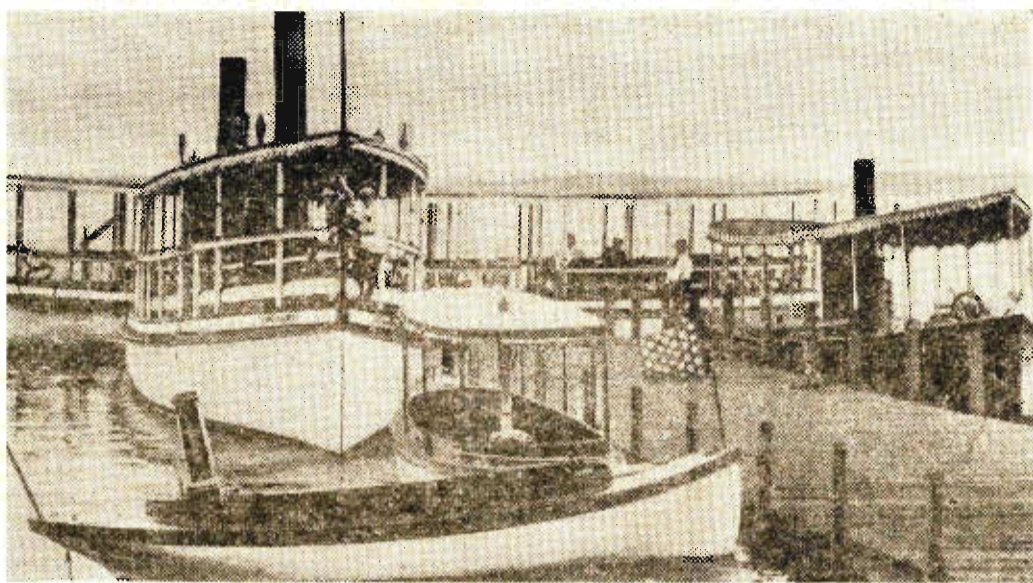

Lowry, showing his scoring ability at his peak form, got 22 points despite being kept away from the ball by the Trojans. Berger matched that total for the losers. Paul White and Davis added ten each. Boswell had eight, and Eustis seven for the winners, while Bob Trowbridge and Metheny added 13 and 12, respectively. Triton's record dropped to 6-5.

Having survived another upset bid, the Tribe faces another at Argos this Friday. The Dragons are hungry for victories and also for revenge, having lost, 64-55, on Dec. 27 to Culver in the Holiday Tourney. After this encounter, Coach Gene Crosley's lads move into the toughest part of an extremely rugged schedule. The Indians meet consecutively New Paris (13-1), Pioneer (11-1), Winamac (7-6), Lakeville (12-4), and Mentone (9-4).

Coach John Bottorff's B-Team continued to play in tough luck, losing to a veteran Triton B-squad, 45-44. Three Papoose sophomores were impressive: Andy Lowry with 11 points and numerous rebounds, Bruce Lindvall with 10 points and Danny Haenes with 10. The Baby Tribe is now 8-5, with three losses by 15 or fewer points. Box Score:

Three-Way Liquor Permits Granted 2 Local Restaurants

The Marshall County Alcoholic Beverage Board granted three-way retailers permits last Thursday, Jan. 16, to two Culver restaurants, the El Ray Restaurant and the Lake View Restaurant. Both establishments heretofore had only two-way permits. The Culver votes were 3-0. Ted Hayes representing the State announced the Board's decision at 10:30 a.m. after an hour and a half debate.

Representing the El Ray Restaurant were Dick Kreighbaum and Bernard Scheetz and Kathryn and Robert May represented the Lake View Restaurant.

A delegation of Culver citizens headed by Dr. Ronald C. Williams appeared as remonstrators against the three-way permits. Speakers for the remonstrance included: Mrs. Ruth MacQuillan, president of Union Township Council of Churches; the Rev. Walter S. Chisholm on behalf of the Culver Ministerial Association; Sanford C. Snyder, an insurance agent; Mrs. Guy Davis, homemaker; and Theodore L. Ervin, president of the Culver Town Board.

Mr. Hayes said in granting the permits "I feel that every effort will be made by these gentlemen to conduct their businesses in a lawful manner. As to the validity, we can only assume that it is legal. A suit had been filed by Dr. Williams to test the validity of Culver town ordinance No. 177.

Suit Filed To Test Validity Of Town Ordinance No. 177

The suit of Dr. Ronald Williams, Culver, versus the Town of Culver, on a complaint to test the validity of an ordinance under the declaratory judgement act, was filed in Marshall Circuit Court Wednesday, Jan. 15, against the Culver Town Board on an alleged charge of passing Ordinance No. 177 on Dec. 15, 1963, concerning the issuance of a liquor retailers' permit in the Town of Culver.

The plaintiff charges that no prior notice was given to the public referring to the voting on the ordinance and that the town board was not duly and legally constituted at the time the ordinance was voted upon.

As part of the 1964 traffic improvement program, a flasher signal will be erected at the intersection of highways 17 and 10 (east junction). A flasher or some sort of electric traffic signal has been needed at this intersection for sometime due to the heavy traffic which exists between Culver and the Academy and points north.

RATE REDUCTION APPROVED FOR REMC

C. E. Robinson, manager of the Marshall County REMC, announced recently that the Public Service Commission of Indiana has approved a rate reduction that will save REMC members almost $52,000 annually. The average consumer savings will be 11%.

The new rate schedules were developed as a result of a detailed rate analysis compiled by a public utility consultant. Included in the revised rates is a "Total Electric Living" schedule, which is available where all the consumer's energy requirements are supplied by electricity. This includes cooking, refrigeration, water heating and all house heating requirements. Consumers qualifying for the "R-TEL" rate will pay only 1.3¢ for all kilowatt hours over 1200 used in a month.

The new rate schedules were submitted to the Public Service Commission in November, 1963. They will become effective with the January, 1964, billing.

The Indiana State Police department has announced that February 7, 1964, is the deadline for receiving applications from young Hoosier men who want to be state troopers.

State Police Supt. George A. Everett, himself a veteran of 28 years' service, expressed hope that many young men would apply. "This is a once-in-a-lifetime chance for a young man seeking a solid career," he said.

Through competitive physical and mental examinations, 75 men will finally be selected to attend a State Police Academy opening June 28 at Indiana University. A school for 50 troopers now being selected will begin in March.

Colonel Everett pointed out the following basic requirements for applicants:

1. United States Citizen.
2. A resident of Indiana for one year immediately preceding the date of application.
3. Age 21 to 29 or not past 30 by the opening date of the Academy.
4. Height 5-9 to 6-5 with weight in proportion.
6. A high school graduate.
6. A current and valid non-restricted Indiana operator's license.

Young men who want to be state troopers and can meet the requirements should send for their application immediately by writing to the Indiana State Police, Personnel Section, Indianapolis, Indiana.

DON'T GRIND YOUR STARTER FOR PERIODS EXCEEDING 30 TO 45 SECONDS. MAKE REPEATED ATTEMPTS, BUT ALWAYS ALLOW 30 TO 60 SECOND REST PERIODS FOR BATTERY BETWEEN TRIES.

AFTER CAR STARTS WARM UP THE MOTOR BY LETTING IT IDLE FOR SEVERAL MINUTES. NEVER RACE A COLD MOTOR.

AVOID CONSTANT PUMPING OF ACCELERATOR WHEN THE STARTER IS ENGAGED. IF THE ENGINE IS FLOODED WAIT SEVERAL MINUTES BEFORE ATTEMPTING TO START YOUR CAR AGAIN.

WHEN WAITING IN TRAFFIC, PUT THE CAR IN NEUTRAL AND STEP ON THE ACCELERATOR TO KEEP YOUR BATTERY FROM DISCHARGING.

KOREAN CLOTHING DRIVE STILL IN PROGRESS

The local clothing drive for Korean children, which began last November under the sponsorship of the local Boy Scouts, Boy Scout mothers, and other helpers, is still in progress. While the donations have been coming in most freely, the public is reminded that clothing articles are still needed by these Korean children and donations will continue to be shipped to M/Sgt. Harold Becock in Korea for direct distribution to these children.

A more informative resume of this project will be published in The Citizen in the near future.

Local resident who have items to contribute to this urgent cause may deposit same at the Culver Methodist Church at any time.

To parents a miracle drug is any one the kids will take without screaming.

PRO AND CON — Editors of two Hoosier weekly newspapers in their separate publications recently discussed the subject of shifts in population. The editors of The Pike County Dispatch came up with figures showing that 93.1 per cent of the county's population is made up of people born in the general area and who have chosen to remain there. His figures showed that elsewhere throughout the United States only 79.3 per cent still live in the state where they were born and in Indiana only 71.6 per cent are native. Raymond E. Everett, editor of The Brookville Democrat, suggests it's good for people to move about. Pointing out that his grandparents immigrated from Ireland and Germany about the middle of the 19th century. Everett says: "If everybody's ancestors had remained on their homesteads there would be no one in this country but Indians."

Even seasoned drivers may not know all they should about careful passing, says the Chicago Motor Club. When you are going to pass, it is essential that you know how to judge the distance and the speed you'll need to get safely around the car ahead. For instance, to pass an auto doing 45 miles per hour, you should do 60 mph. And you'll need about one-quarter of a mile to make a safe passing maneuver. After you have passed the car ahead, guard against a tendency to slow down too quickly.

I dislike arguments of any kind. They are always vulgar, and often convincing.

The great highway performer

'64 Jet-smooth Luxury Chevrolet

What does it take to make a car a great highway performer?
If the car happens to be a '64 Chevrolet, one thing only. A highway.
You'll find everything else already neatly packaged for you—on the car exactly as you pick it off the showroom floor.
There's a choice of seven engines—all the way up to a twin-carb high-compression 425-hp V8*—and four transmissions, including a finely honed 4-speed stick shift.*
And underlying it all—a bump-skimming Jet-smooth ride that helps keep the performance great even when the highways aren't so great.

What about special performance equipment? Professional driving skills? Forget them.
Nobody has to doctor or coax or soup up these Chevrolets to get the best out of them. And that's really the test of a great highway performer: Just about anyone can get a kick out of driving one, just about anywhere, just as it comes out of the showroom.
Next time you're out your dealer's way, allow a few extra minutes to sample one of these highway performers on your own. A few are really all you'll need. That's enough time to do a lot of driving in a Chevrolet. *Optional at extra cost.

MAKE SOIL SAMPLES AFTER HARVEST

A worthwhile project for Indiana farmers after they've completed corn harvesting is to take soil samples and send them to the state soil testing laboratory at Purdue University.

Hood lists these steps:

Obtain instruction sheet, sample boxes and information sheet from your county Extension office.

Use a clean bucket and a sampling tool (spade or auger.)

One sample should contain at least 15 cores or subsamples from each soil type.

Keep light and dark soil separate.

Package samples in the pre-addressed cartons with required postage and information sheets.

Soil scientists work continuously on fertility problems to determine the best use of fertilizer and lime. This information is used with the chemical soil test results to tell how to fertilize and lime your soil, Hood explains. However, the responsibility for getting the soil samples to the laboratory rests with the farmer.

By testing his soil this fall, a farmer can plan his fertilizer and lime program for the 1964 crop year.

TRAVELING WITH CHILDREN

Small children are likely to be happier with some planning ahead, especially if you are traveling or visiting in other people's homes.

Keeping the child on his regular routines and comfortable while traveling helps insure pleasant trips and visits. Plan so usual eating and sleeping routines of the young child can be followed even while he is away from home, suggests Elaine T. Dolch, instructor in child development and family life at Purdue University.

Drastically upsetting a preschool child's routine and diet may upset him physically — taking some of the pleasure from the excursion, she points out.

If you must travel several hours to your destination, see that your child is dressed comfortably and has a place to lie down. Take along some snacks — preferably easy to handle, non-spillable foods — and some toys and ear games.

When traveling, your child may not eat well in a restaurant, reminds Mrs. Dolch. He may be over excited, or he may not be hungry when you stop. Ordering small servings of his favorite foods may encourage him to eat well. Perhaps you would rather pack a lunch for your youngster to eat in the car when he is hungry. Do go easy on rich foods.

Forcing or coaxing a child to eat is unwise at any time. If he eats less than usual during his trip away from home, don't worry. When he is back in his daily home routine, his usual eating habits will return.

When visiting in other homes don't expect a small child to show affection for people he sees infrequently, reminds Mrs. Dolch. The grandparents who see their grandchildren only a few times a year may be eager for the grandchildren to make up to them immediately. But this expectation may be unrealistic. Children frequently do not remember people they only see occasionally.

EXPEDITIOUS — A traveling steeplejack, Jack Woods, appeared at a session of the Brown County commissioners and submitted a bid of $18.75 on the job of painting the flag pole in front of the court house at Nashville. His bid was accepted and he started to work. Before the commissioners ended their session Woods had completed the job. They approved his work and he was paid.

BIG BITE — Everyone hates to pay taxes, but it might make it a little less painful if individuals would consider the property taxes paid by the trucking industry. Taking an average property tax rate of $6.69 per $100 assessed evaluation, the trucking industry paid a total of $25,927,312.42 on trucks alone last year. Warren Miller had a feeling he was forgetting something when he left Goshen, Indiana. His blacksmith shop was sold . . . along with his farm and implements. Thirty-seven years later, among some musty old papers, Mr. Miller discovered what had been bothering him—a long-misplaced electric bill for $8.10. TO DRINK OR NOT TO DRINK HAS TORN THE TOWN ASUNDER

Now that the speeches are over, the two town taverns will be selling liquor by the drink in a matter of days. It is time this community ceases agitating a dead issue. The Marshall County Liquor Board has approved the sale of liquor by the drink by a 3-0 decision, a duly present quorum.

Although a court suit has been filed by opposing dries, this will not stop the liquor sales, and for the first time since 1936 persons from miles around can enjoy a relaxing drink in pleasant and respectable surroundings.

This is the time for the so-called Culver Council of Churches to (only two of the seven churches officially protested the granting of these two licenses) withdraw their suit. The State Alcoholic Beverage Commission believes the suit is invalid; disinterested attorneys don't believe the dries have a case; some of the church leaders know it and have expressed themselves privately. Their attorneys are merely going through their paces.

The suit is to test the validity of the Town Trustees passing of Ordinance No. 177 to permit three-way licenses in Culver. The ordinance sets out that the Town Trustees, Bernard Busart and Charles Cook, consider the denial of drink sale by the taverns is discriminatory because both drug stores and the V.F.W. Post sell liquor.

Not a majority but a one-fourth minority of dries signed the protest petitions. Of the 2,287 eligible voters in Culver and Union Township only 485 signed. The wets matched them almost name-for-name. This included 66 businessmen. Eleven businessmen refused to sign the wet petition and several signed the dry. Two signers switched from one to the other, which strengthens the widely held opinion that petitions aren't worth the paper written on, and have no standing in courts of law.

So we say again, now that the bitter words, recriminations and bickerings are over, let's show a better community spirit. Be friends instead of friendly enemies.

In conclusion we quote the widely syndicated columnist who has written a book, "Ann Landers TALKS TO TEEN-AGERS ABOUT SEX." A book that should be in the hands of all parents and youth.

"From the beginning of recorded time man has used alcohol. Using certain roots and herbs, or berries and fruit he found that through fermentation he could produce a liquid which made him feel pretty good. This elixir was believed to possess magical powers because those who drank it behaved as if they were under a spell. It was used primarily in religious ceremonies to drive out evil spirits.

After a while people began to work up their own little mixtures for personal use. Obviously, the idea caught on, because in 1962 (in the United States alone) more than $5 billion was spent on hard liquor.

Let's face it. Liquor is here to stay. For those who hoped otherwise, the signal rang out loud and clear when the Prohibition Act of 1920 laid one of the biggest social eggs in history."

Withdraw that suit, and let's have a better community!

Editor, The CITIZEN:

The statements which have appeared in newspapers recently about the lawsuit filed by Dr. Ronald C. Williams against the Town of Culver have disturbed many people because of a misunderstanding which can be easily clarified. In legal terminology one name is commonly used for a plaintiff even if the plaintiff is actually a group of people. In this case Dr. Williams' name was used as the chosen chairman of the opposition, which is the Culver-Union Township Council of Churches, leagued with all those who question the advisability and legality of Ordinance 177, which consents to the issuance of Liquor Retailers Permits.

It should be clearly understood that Dr. Williams is not against the town of Culver. He is the leader of the opposition, and as such he deserves the support of every person in the community who is in favor of honesty in government.

Editor, CITIZEN:

When the Rural Electrification Administration was proposed in Congress some 25 years ago, Congressman Sam Rayburn made this statement: "May I say to the gentlemen that we are not in this Bill intending to compete with anybody. By this Bill we hope to bring electricity to the people who do not now have it. This Bill was not written on the theory that we were going to punish anybody or parallel their lines or enter into competition with them."

According to REA's own figures, over 99% of all Indiana farms now have electricity. Most of the remainder could have with present facilities. The REMC's obtain, at a huge discount, all the power they can sell their customers from private Indiana electric companies.

Nevertheless, REA officials have approved a $40,000,000 — 2 per cent loan of taxpayers' money for 25 years to build additional facilities to compete with private, taxpaying, power companies.

Despite Representative Rayburn's solemn assurances, we now find that over 88% of all new REA customers are industrial, commercial and suburban instead of farm. Another example, close to home, of how socialism continues to feed on itself!

County Wide Crop Meeting Jan. 31

Marshall County Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) will meet Friday, Jan. 31, 1:30 p.m. at the Plymouth Church of the Brethren, Otis Wright of Vincennes, Ind., Chairman of the State CROP Committee, will present pictures and speak regarding world need for food. Mr. Wright has traveled extensively and is acquainted with the situation in our world and the extent of hunger. He will explain how CROP is endeavoring to meet the need for nourishment. All contributors to CROP, all workers, canvassers and helpers, all who are interested are invited and urged to attend this meeting.

A report will be given by German Township leaders of progress in planning for a Friendship Acres farm in that township for 1964. Marvin Mishler of Nappanee, Friendship Acres chairman for northern Indiana, will speak regarding this part of CROP effort.

Marshall County Farm Bureau, Bruce Goodwin, manager, will furnish light refreshments for this occasion.

FARMERS MUST REPORT EMPLOYEES WAGES

Farmers, like about everyone else, don't look forward with glee to preparing income tax returns. However, the farmer who has kept careful records during the year finds the job much less troublesome than the man with just a shoebox full of notes.

If you have had hired help during the year, you know that in January an annual report of wages paid to farm workers is due. This report is used to pay social security taxes under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act. On this report you must list each employee to whom you paid $150 or more cash wages in the year for agricultural labor or who did agricultural labor for you on 20 or more days for any amount of wages, if paid on a time basis.

This employer's yearly report is made on a Form 943, which you can get from the Internal Revenue Service. (Internal Revenue collects the social security tax for your hired help as well as your own income tax.) The report is not difficult to fill out. It asks for the name and social security number of each employee, the amount of cash wages paid each, and the figuring of the tax. For 1963 the tax was 3-5/8 per cent for both employer and employee, a total of 7-1/4 per cent.

A farm operator who has kept careful records throughout the year will find that this yearly tax return does not take long to complete. If you ask each man who works for you to show you his social security card, you can be sure you have his name and account number correct because you can copy them directly from his card. When the employee doesn't have a social security card, ask him to complete a Form SS-5, Application for Social Security Account Number. These application forms are available at your local post office or from your nearest social security office. Send them in with your yearly tax report of wages paid, one for each employee who did not have a social security card.

This will give you a correct record of the people who work for you; you should also keep a correct record of the wages paid to each worker. The record of wages paid is used not only for the yearly tax return for employees, but, is also shown as an expense on your own personal income tax returns.

Other businessmen, such as a feed dealer or a filling station operator, must report quarterly on the wages they pay their workers, but farmers need to make this report only once a year. The report must be in before January 31, showing wages paid the previous year. The special form for this report, Form 943, is called "employer's Annual Tax Return for Agricultural Employees." If you don't have one, get one soon, complete it promptly, and return it to the Internal Revenue Service.

The Chicago Motor Club cautions that bad manners can be fatal if they occur behind the wheel of a car. The discourteous driver who tries to get away with something in traffic too often succeeds only in hurting himself and innocent victims. Traffic control begins at your wheel. Common courtesy pays off in safe driving.

LETTER TO THE OCCASIONAL CHURCH-GOER

Dear Sir:
I understand your problem. For years it was mine. I'd say to myself, "George, it's about time you went to church." And I'd set the alarm, and put on my best suit, and start out with great intentions. Then the kids would deflate me: "Gee, Mom, is Pop going with us?" I felt awkward already!
And the awkwardness never left. All through the service I felt stiff, uncomfortable, and very conspicuous. So I'd stay away six more weeks—or result! So I figured there was something wrong with the Church—or with me...
I decided to try worshipping every Sunday... Just for a month or two, you understand. I had to prove the fault was with the Church.
Strange! Along about the third week the awkward feeling disappeared. And the kids stopped expressing amazement. And I began understanding a great many things about the Church... and myself... and God!
There's more to religion than meets the eye—after you get used to the Light.

Sincerely,
George

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BEFORE TRUCKS — A Can-nelton man, Bill Conner, only recently explored an old home he bought several years ago and in a third floor room he found a record book kept by Ed Meaney, former owner of the house. The book contained records of a drayage business which Meaney operated in Cannelton back in the 20's and the early 1900's. It might be well to explain for the benefit of the younger generation that before motor trucks, heavy loads were hauled on drays, a dray being a horse-drawn cart or wagon. Meaney's records showed that most items were transported on his dray at charges ranging from 10 to 40 cents. The Cannel-ton News was given an opportunity to examine the record book and it developed an interesting feature story on its contents.

THE STORY BEHIND A GREAT MOVING FORCE, FORK LIFT TRUCKS...

WITH BACK BENDING EFFORT, IT TAKES THREE MEN TWO HOURS TO UNLOAD A HUGE TRUCK LOAD OF CEMENT BLOCKS... ONE MAN ON A FORK LIFT TRUCK DOES IT IN 12 MINUTES.

WHETHER YOU PURCHASE A CAN OF FOOD, REFRIGERATOR, CAR OR HOUSE, FORK-LIFT TRUCKS HAD A SHARE IN CARRYING IT TO YOU AT LOWEST POSSIBLE COST.

A SAFETY FACTOR!
THE ANNUAL COST OF INDUSTRIAL HANDLING ACCIDENTS IN THE U. S. IS NEAR $2 BILLION WITH 14,000 FATALITIES.

INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS DROP SHARPLY WHERE MECHANIZED HANDLING EQUIPMENT IS USED.

AN ESTIMATED 500,000 LIFT TRUCKS ARE NOW IN USE IN THE U. S. REMOVING MANUAL DRUDGERY.

Many women habitually stage a balancing act in the home that would scare a circus performer right off his trapeze. The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company states that no amount of caution will enable you to safely use a stool, rickety chair, wooden crate, or a stack of books as substitutes for an approved step ladder. Off-the-floor chores are both easier and safer to perform with sensible climbing equipment.

Who wishes to give himself an abundance of trouble. Let him equip these two things — A ship and a woman. No two things involve more bother. Neither is ever sufficiently adorned.

Babson Discusses Developing A New Industry

Study The Ocean Bottom To Develop New Industry

Babson Park, Mass., — This is an article on whales, but I need the help of the United Nations to make whaling a "new" industry. Well, here is my story.

My Boyhood And Whales
When I was a boy, it seemed as if the ocean was full of whales.

Roger W. Babson

They apparently lived at the bottom of the sea where they would not be harpooned by whalers going out from New Bedford, Mass., and other seaports which made a specialty of getting whales. Gradually, the number of whales was depleted. Finally, an international "agreement" was arranged whereby the nations were given quotas; but these have never been honored.

Therefore, I have a definite proposition, namely, that the whaling industry be taken over by the United Nations, which would see that only the male whales are killed and that the female whales are allowed to reproduce. This would seem a legitimate work for the United Nations, and one which would bring the UN a definite income. — I can imagine it making a good contribution toward paying up the United Nations' present deficit.

History Of The Cattle Industry

When I was a boy there was virtually no cattle industry. My uncle went west to Nebraska where the cattle with great horns were roaming freely over the prairies. Gradually, wire fences were erected to allow the cattle to be branded and ultimately dehorned. That was done with cattle, and we have the great cattle industry of today. The same type of thing could be done with the whaling industry; but it must take place under water instead of on the open prairie.

Whales are mammals, not fish. They are kindly and intelligent; but have gradually been driven away from civilized ports and killed, irrespective of whether they are male or female, and even when they are pregnant. The whaling industry could be brought back and become almost as great as the cattle industry; but this can only be done if the industry is controlled by an organization like the United Nations.

Let Us Appeal To The United Nations

Therefore, I make an appeal to the United Nations that it seriously take up this problem before the whales all go to the Arctic or Antarctic waters, largely under the ice, for protection. Let us turn the tide before it is too late, and bring forth and protect a new industry for the world which will equal the cattle industry in importance, and provide wealth, employment, and prosperity for all who have a part therein.

This is a very practical matter and it could easily be accomplished. The waters of the oceans are the only natural monopoly the United Nations have. Certainly, before spending billions on "going to the moon," we might find out what is at the bottom of the seas, which make up four-fifths of the world's area and which we now know almost nothing about. How Did The Oil Industry Start?

John D. Rockefeller personally told me that there was a breakthrough in Pennsylvania where the crust of the earth was thick, and a puddle of oil was seen on the surface. Later other "break-throughs" occurred in California, Texas, and other states. This is the way the great oil industry started.

What About The Bottom Of The Ocean?

It is only common sense to believe there are many "break-throughs" on the crust of the floor of the ocean through which oil comes which the whales have been living on. Now, however, they have been driven north to the Arctic or south to the Antarctic, where it's too cold for them to be found and killed. The bottom of the ocean is today as brilliant a hunting ground as were the prairies of the Central West before the wire fences were built or the cattle branded or dehorned.

The first man of my acquaintance who had the foresight to study the bottom of the ocean was Mr. E. W. Scripps, who personally told me of its great undiscovered wealth and who left a sum of money to endow such a study. Let me add that I think he was a great-grandfather of the wife of William Loeb (commonly known as "Nackey"). Unfortunately, no United Nations existed in that day and Mr. Scripps was obliged to depend upon his newspaper syndicate to promote interest in the project.

Jehovah's Witnesses Attend Three-Day Circuit Assembly

Approximately 1,420 persons attended the final session of the three-day "Feed my little Sheep" circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses Sunday, Jan. 19, in South Bend's Serbian Auditorium.

The convention drew delegates from 35 towns and cities in southeast Michigan and northern Indiana and 50 attended from Plymouth congregation.

Peak attendance was reached when many visitors from the South Bend area attended the keynote address by Angelo Catanzaro, district minister, on the subject "The Bible Triumph in a Scientific World."

During the Saturday evening session, Jan. 18, the report on the work of Jehovah's Witnesses in the Plymouth vicinity was discussed, revealing a 10% growth in the number of those who are engaging in the ministerial services of the group. Mr. Spangler, presiding minister commented, "At this rate our congregation can be doubled within the next five years."

A baptismal service was conducted for newly dedicated witnesses and 26 were baptized Saturday in a pool especially erected in the South Bend, South Unit Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Academy Sports

Culver Military Academy will be host to its first invitational wrestling tournament Saturday, Jan. 25, when three teams join the unbeaten Eagles for morning and afternoon matches.

Coach Colin Stetson's team enters the event as one of the favorites in view of the Academy's undefeated record in seven straight matches this season. But strong opposition will come from the other invited teams, New Haven High School, Howe Military School, and Penn High School of Mishawaka.

Culver has already beaten New Haven, 36-13, and while it has not met Penn in a head-on match, the Eagles did finish third in Penn's recent invitational match of eight area schools. South Bend Clay won the Penn Invitational and Mishawaka was second. Culver came back last week and knocked off Mishawaka, 35-11.

Official weigh-ins for the Culver Invitational will be held at 8:15 a.m. under the direction of referees Gene Flowers, South Bend, and Ben Bruce, Bloomington. The morning session will begin at 9:45 a.m. and the afternoon session at 2:30 p.m., with all competition scheduled for the Academy's Little Gym. Blind draws will be made for all matches.

Merrillville was Culver's seventh victim last Saturday in a one-sided, 42-8 victory for the Cadets. Coach Stetson's grapplers lost only two decisions in the 12 matches, and top wrestlers Wendell Jacobs, Mike Thrower, Dave Miller, and Chris Hinkle continued to dominate the heavier weight classes.

The swimming team won its seventh meet in nine outings Saturday when Coach Frank Walatis' mermen clobbered Carroll High School, 86-10. One of the big meets of the season came earlier last week, however, when the Academy won a cliffhanger over South Bend Riley, 52-43. Culver led 45-43 going into the last event of the day, the 100-free style relay. On the last leg of that event, with the meet hanging in the balance, Culver's Mike Huffington started the final 40 yards trailing Riley's Bill Wheeler. Huffington caught Wheeler at mid-pool and barely touched him out at the finish to win the event and the meet. Freestyler Bob Lamoreaux and butterfly expert Fred Schlicher each set records in their specialty for the Cadets.

While the wrestling and swimming teams continued on their winning streaks, the basketball squad added two more defeats to its growing list. Latest to chalk up victories over the Academy were Hobart River Forest, 79-64, and Niles, Mich., 83-65. Paul Kilian hit 36 points against Hobart, but the scoring outburst was not enough to hold off the River Forest quintet. Against Niles, Culver fell far behind early in the game, and then closed it to eight points in the second half before Niles pulled ahead again. The basketball team moves back into action Saturday at Bloomington University School.

In one other event, the Academy rifle team tied Howe Military School in a three-position match with both finals at 1,403. But when the match was decided by comparing the five best scores in the standing competition, Culver lost by two points. Culver's Jeff Seel was the top shooter with a 287 score.
