State Librarian Bestows Award At Plymouth Sunday

ROBERT R. MCCLARREN

"Your 'Greatest Space Race'" will be the topic of Indiana State Librarian Robert R. McClarren when he speaks at a ceremony honoring the Plymouth Public Library Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Lincoln Junior High School, Plymouth. The public is invited.

McClarren will present to Mrs. Stella Binkle, head librarian, the Dorothy Canfield Fisher Award as the outstanding small library in Indiana and one of the 10 top libraries in the nation. The $1,500 cash grant is to be used to purchase books, many of which will be on display, along with recent library improvements and the Marshall-Starke Bookmobile, at a public open house at the Plymouth library from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Sunday.

Keith Felix is general chairman of the day, which also will mark the 50th anniversary of the library and the opening of National Library Week. Civic organizations are paying the expenses and assisting with arrangements. Other chairmen are Mrs. Deane Walker, invitations; Miss Helen Myers, open house; Charles Howard, award ceremony; Mrs. Ilo Lehman, dinner; Joe O'Brien, finance; and William Laramore, publicity.

It pays to be a highway space traveler. According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, motorists should always make sure that they have adequate stopping room. This means an area of space which any other vehicle, or person cannot enter before you have time to take proper evasive action or else bring your car to a full stop. The faster the speed the more space is required.

FIRE DEPARTMENT calls should be made to Viking 2-2121. Note this number near your home phone.

SCHOOLBELLPUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOLSenior Trip —
Always Late

By Lucy Osborn and Paul White

Wait, wait, wait. For four long years the seniors have been working and waiting for the trip, and now the time had arrived... almost. After waiting for another half hour for the behind-schedule train, the seniors were finally on their way. Of course, the coach we got was the poorest on the train, but since most of our time was spent in the sky dome car, it didn't make a whole lot of difference.

By the time we arrived in Washington, the train was over two hours late, so all during the tour it was rush, rush, rush. One of the most memorable experiences was visiting Kennedy's grave. After visiting Mount Vernon the class headed for Richmond where some of us spent the night in "postage stamp rooms." Some of us had some interesting experiences. After returning from the theater, Paul White and Charles Snyder had to pound on their door for ten minutes. Tom Schmidt and Sam Lowry happen to be heavy sleepers, and of course neither Paul or Charlie remembered to take a key! Miss Shanks also had a little trouble while checking the rooms to see if all of us were in... she somehow managed to get the wrong room.

The next morning we were awakened by a telephone call from one of those southern belles. Well, at least all the boys enjoyed it!

Many girls will remember Jamestown and Williamsburg because of the stocks and all those lovely runs they got in their nylon! The boys probably remember the view (Tom Yocom took pictures of some of the girls in the stocks... from a "rear view!"). Also, ironically, it was said that the ice house was the "hottest place in Williamsburg." The class had a familiar guide there, in the form of former Culver graduate John Benedict. We were all glad to see him.

That evening one very tired group left for the return trip to Washington. The hotel reservations were mixed up, and we ended up without rooms. We finally wound up in a motel outside of Washington, stranded without food or entertainment. Some people were even desperate enough to consider dancing on the safety islands. Diane Boots didn't seem to have trouble finding something to do. She had a dinner date (which ended up being at about quarter till eleven). Those security men in the motel sure wouldn't mind their own business when you got back, would they, Diane?

Cheerfully, we all jumped out of bed in the morning, ready for the bus ride to New York. Of course, we ended up late again. Our tour was to start at two o'clock and we got there a quarter 'til. A great many of us ended up skipping lunch (with the high prices of food we really didn't mind). The afternoon tour took us to the Cathedral of St. John's the Divine and United Nations. After eating dinner on our own we went to Radio Music City Hall. After the impressive Easter show we were free until one o'clock. Most of us made our way to see Greenwich Village. To some it was quite a disappointment; to others more than they expected. The Cafe Bizarre was certainly enjoyed by those who went there.

The following morning, which was the beginning of our last day in New York, the class traveled to see the Statue of Liberty and the Empire State Building. After a rather cool, rough boat trip to the island, the seniors gazed upon the majestic "lady of freedom." At the end of the climb — 168 steps — through the dirty windows of the crown, as far as the eye could see one looked upon a vast expanse of fog. Oh, well, we will always remember it if for no other reason than the leg cramps. Seriously, the Statue of Liberty was an impressive sight which reminded us of our freedom in America.

The view from the Empire State Building was much the same — foggy, but at least the elevator ride was fun.

The free afternoon was spent sleeping, shopping, and in the beauty parlor. Our evening was started out right by getting lost on our way through China Town. Our seven course dinner at the Chinese restaurant was met with mixed emotions and stomachs. Upon the completion of our dinner, we all scattered our different ways. Some of us attended Broadway plays and others went to Greenwich Village again.

At 11:30 p.m. that same evening, we all met in the lobby of the Taft Hotel to go to the Russian nightclub, Two Guitars. The floor show was unusual, informative, and enjoyable and the Russian meal was delicious. About 2:30 a.m., the senior class was waiting patiently with tired, swollen feet, and droopy eyes for the subway underneath New York City. For a while we thought we would be the "class that never returned," but finally a train came to rush us to our beds at the hotel.

The trip back to Union Station in Washington the next morning was uneventful except for the small traffic ticket our bus driver received while driving through Delaware. One novelty concerning this part of our trip — WE ARRIVED ON TIME. We even had a little time to tour the Supreme Court Building before our departure on our homeward bound train.

On our return trip, a new fad was started — seeing how many people can be stuffed into one club car for a hootenanny. The next morning our trip ended just as it began by arriving at Lapaz ONE HOUR AND TEN MINUTES LATE.

All in all, the trip was an experience that we will cherish the rest of our lives. We learned much about the people of our country as well as having a good time. To next year's seniors — have fun on your trip. It is an episode you will never forget.

Music Festival
In Preparation

By Linda Thurin

The art students are continuing their work on portraits, block printing, and sculpturing. Many of the portraits and sketches have been hung in the cafeteria, study hall, and on the bulletin board for other students to admire and analyze. Mr. Smith also displays much of the students' work in the art room. Good and bad alike are displayed, and the effect is varied and colorful. By putting a student's art work among others, the student is given a chance to compare his with the rest. He can realize where improvement is needed, and he will be inspired to do better. The art students not only work for a grade, they work to improve their products. The art work may not be considered a masterpiece, but it is the result of many hours of patient work. Students and visitors are invited to come and view the projects made by the art classes.

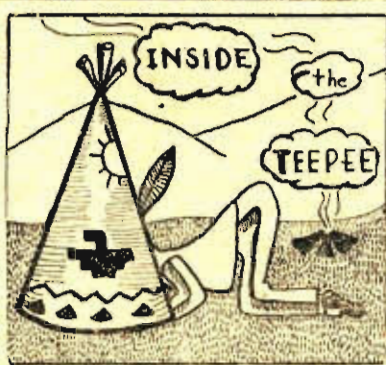

The senior band is practicing for the Culver-Argos Concert to be held at Argos on April 24. There are many pieces of music in the band folders. The exact concert numbers will be chosen at a later date. Diane Davis has been elected student director for the band.

Chorus members are also practicing for the Culver-Argos Concert. They have eight pieces of music to perfect. Mr. Fouts and the chorus director from Argos are trying to work out a date to travel to the other school and direct the other chorus, so they will know where improvement is needed. No definite arrangements have been made as yet.

Trudge, trudge, trudge... back to the old, hard drag... Seniors are back... trudge... the parties are over... oh happy day (?)

The seniors are trying to recuperate from all of their wacky adventures... trudge... did you hear about Pam Phelps disturbing that poor old man in Richmond? Really Pam, you know that Zip Code! What about the time Miss Shanks got the wrong room while making bed checks!

Juniors, the UN has lovely guides. If you don't believe us, ask Mr. Crabb. Blond wasn't she? But wait! That isn't all that was nice. Jan Scruggs and Janet Heiser found a nice way to add spice to a girl's life — although, this took place at Macy's in New York.

The underclassmen weren't doing badly either. For instance: Patty McCombs and Ron Babcock, Linda Baker and George Babcock, Brenda McAllister and Mike Eustis, Linda McAllister and Doug Lindvall. (Sorry, those twins are so hard to keep apart.) Carolyn Snyder and Larry Linhart, and Suzanne Overmyer and Paul Liette. Wow! What a vacation!

Larry, do you know Carolyn has a secret admirer? Of course, we can't tell you who he is but his initials are B.P. and maybe you could say he was just doing a good deed, but he did keep his eye on Carolyn while you were gone.

Oh, no! Everyone beware. We have a news bulletin that Valerie Gunder has received her driver's license.

It seems Jan Scruggs and Martha McAllister were a little upset with the parts they were assigned for the play "Guys and Dolls" which is being produced at C.M.A. But girls! We hear you play the parts beautifully — could this be due to experience?

Speaking of experiences... a funny thing happened to Carolyn Snyder on the way to Lapaz last Saturday. Drive much Carolyn? For more information we suggest you contact Carolyn or Doug Lindvall. Speaking of Doug, has anyone seen his class ring? It seems to have disappeared. All helpful papposes — if you find it, tell Doug and relieve his anxiety.

Dmcy Lemar, who were you with last Saturday? You don't know? TSK!... ho hum...

What, three sophomore girls climbed to the top of the naval building at C.M.A. over vacation? For more information about this interesting subject contact Barb Mikesell, Pam Fish, and Dindee Lemar. Just keep in mind, "kids do the darndest things!"

April 7 Trip
For Seniors

By Donna Rogers

During the week after the Senior Trip, the seniors talked about their various experiences while on their journey. Even though they are still not rested, they will be taking another tour on Tuesday, April 7, to Chicago. The group will tour the Continental Bank, the Merchandise Mart, and the Board of Trade. Accompanying the trip will be three delicious meals, compliments of Mr. W. O. Osborn, President of the State Exchange Bank.

The junior class will be selling concessions for the Jaycees' basketball game this Saturday, April 4. The juniors have recently taken possession of the coke machine in the gym, the money being also used for their Senior Trip. As for their Ham Supper, they have reached an all-time high of $899.73, which is approximately $200.00 more than last year's intake.

The Junior Prom is just around the corner, and the class is now talking about several possible themes.

The freshmen are planning to take a trip to the Indiana State Dunes. A few classes have made this trip in the past, and they have found it very enjoyable. Have fun freshmen!

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

By Marsha Guise and Lois Newcomb

First Grade — Mrs. Keyser: Since the pupils have just finished their second phonics book, they are now working on the last book of the series. They are also beginning to work story problems and think it is a lot of fun.

First Grade — Mrs. Barton: The first graders have been writing stories of their own. Here are a few of them.

If I were an Easter Bunny, I would hop and jump. I would hide colored Easter eggs and send Easter eggs to the children.

Denny Howard: If I were an Easter Bunny, I would crack eggs on my head. Would I? Yes, I would!

Mike Guise: We colored eggs at home. The Easter Bunny came to our house. He brought some Easter eggs and chocolate eggs. We got some records.

Jana McKee: Second Grade — Mrs. Shirrell: Douglas Beaver, Paul Sherwood, and Donna Taylor celebrated their eighth birthdays in Mrs. Shirrell's room this week. Donna's mother visited her room on Donna's birthday and served cup cakes, candy Easter eggs, and milk.

Third Grade — Mrs. Carter: Many of the students in our room spent their Easter vacations out of town. Michael Coldwater went to Alabama, Sylvia Williams went to Wisconsin, and Diane Brientbarth spent several days with her grandparents in Illinois.

In English the students are writing letters to each other and mailing them at their post office. Two postmen are chosen each day to deliver the mail. It's fun to write and receive letters.

Fourth Grade — Mr. Horban: The pupils have put up a time line of "History of Planes" from the early ones to possible future models. Kathy Schlabach and Ilene Richardson had their names added to the handwriting honor roll.

Mrs. Keller: Each person is choosing a famous person he would like to know more about. They will find the necessary information from all available sources, and after the first writing, they will revise and correct their work. Each one will then make a booklet about his famous person.

Bruce Snyder and Olga Ruiz won the prizes for having the nicest fingernails.

Spring Vacation

By Jeanne Adams and Dick Mackey

Since this was the first year for a spring vacation here at Culver High, we thought that we would ask some of the students what they liked best about the vacation. Here are their replies:

Cathy Stratton — Getting to go to Ohio and being with Brent!

Suzy Spencer — Thursday and Friday night.

Gary Wallen — Getting my motorcycle repaired.

Jon VanHorn — The free time I found to mess around with my auto.

Vera Smith — Getting away from homework!

Donna Rogers — My trip.

Paul Liette — The four parties that were held.

Paul Saft — Having the Seniors gone.

George Wright — No school!

Steve Bockock — Ask Mary Grosvenor.

Pat Seslar — Oh! Is that what it was. If that was a vacation, I'd rather go to school!

Barbara Overmyer — I'll never tell.

Beth Sperry — I worked at the M & M so I didn't get much of a vacation.

Linda Thurin — Five dates with someone special from Argos!

Loretta Berger — Going to the dentist!

Leona Schmidt — Sleeping late.

Marsha Guise — Being snow-bound in Gary!

Sharon Warran — Sleeping late and writing letters.

Cinde Lemar — You'll never know!

Sue Personette — Friday night at the show with Bruce.

Peter Paul — Working in the cornfield.

Carole Schlabach — Going to Chicago.

Beverly Schilling — Watching the snow fall! Ha!

Richard Lutz — Going to Knox.

Diane Boots — Naturally the whole Senior Trip was great, but I really enjoyed seeing Min while we were in Virginia the most.

Jane Ives — The parties.

Sue Cole — I most enjoyed visiting the school I moved from.

John Behmer — Seeing Linda again.

Greg Harmon — Going home from work to play my guitar.

Larry White — When it started!

Sheila Fish — Oh, I don't know... the whole thing was pretty neat!

Jim Weirick — Sleeping.

Peggy Herr — My bike hike with "Scout" Thomas.

Steve Ulery — Getting some fresh air.

Nora Sheppard — The whole Senior Trip.

Jim Lewis — I don't know which part. Let's see! Friday, Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday nights were about the best.

Janet Branaman — Having no homework!

Kay Thomas — Oh - of course the 40 mile bicycle ride I took with Peggy one fine day. I especially liked it when I had a flat tire and walked the last 15 miles back home. Did you ever try to fix a flat tire with bubble gum? It doesn't work!

Andrea Siple — I went to West High for a day.

Carolyn Saft — What spring vacation?

Spring Brings Track Season

By Charles Snyder

Spring is here which means that the boys of Culver High School are turning their athletic abilities to still another form of competition. The track season is the last sport of the school year. Coach Crosley's squad has been training in the gymnasium and running on the track whenever the weather permits. There are about 25 boys out for track this year.

The track schedule will start out with two three-way meets away from home. The first meet on April 9 will be with Plymouth and Lapaz. The following night, April 10, Culver will compete with North Judson and Winamac. The next week Culver will play host to the Triton squad on April 14 and to Lapaz on April 17.

Kay Thomas Is New Editor Of Tomahawk Staff

By Gloria Baker and Nora Sheppard

Kay Thomas has been chosen editor of next year's Tomahawk staff. The staff chooses its editor in the spring so she and her staff will be able to gain experience by working on the summer supplement.

Kay was chosen because of the outstanding work she has done in previous years for the staff, her ability, and character. At the present time Kay is vice-president of the senior band, class treasurer, and Tribune and Pilot Reporter for the Schoolbell Staff. She is also a member of the Pep Club, the Sunshine Society, and the National Honor Society.

The Tomahawk Staff would also like to welcome Miss McCoy as its new staff advisor. Miss McCoy has taken Mrs. Kline's position on the staff. Although Miss McCoy has not had any previous experience with a yearbook, she is learning fast and doing a fine job.

The Science Club is presently working on two projects. Mark Pleuch is building a particle accelerator, and Greg Yapp has a project concerning metal bluing. These will be on display at the open lab on Tuesday. The main purpose of this lab is to give interested students a chance to work outside of class.

The Sunshine Society is now discussing the State Sunshine Convention. This Convention is for any girl of the Society who is interested in attending. It provides an opportunity to meet others and also help them to understand their society, and the purpose it has. This convention will be held in Frankfort, Ind., April 11, 1964.

Monday, March 23, the Sunshine Society was the guest of the Hi-Y. Dr. Ramsey, a medical missionary from the southern part of Africa, was the special speaker. She attended medical school in Boston and for the last five years has been in Africa. When she returns there in July, she will not be home again for seven years.

She displayed small dolls which were likenesses of African natives. She showed slides of various customs of the African people. Some of their rather surprising customs include their courtship and marriage. In Africa a man receives a wife in return for ten cows. He can have as many wives as he can afford to buy. The king of the country in which Dr. Ramsey works had one hundred twenty-five wives!

The women have their hair done only once a year, and to keep it beautiful they pack mud on their heads. As a punishment for doing an evil deed or incurring the dislike of someone powerful, they used to tie people to ant hills and let the ants eat that person. When it comes to cooking for the king, they have young boys to do it because they are afraid an older person might try to poison him.

Hearing Dr. Ramsey was quite an experience for the Sunshine Society and the Hi-Y members. It was a most educational and enjoyable program.

Don't try to be a fast driver if you are a slow thinker. According to the Institute for Safer Living, motorists should adjust their speed to known comfortable reaction levels. Driving beyond your reflexes is akin to driving beyond your headlights.

FROM WAY BACK — A social event popular when the 20th Century was young, was recalled recently by Arthur H. Weller in his "Down Memory Lane" column in The Salem Leader. It was the taf-fy pull. As Weller recalled it the hostess would cook down some sorghum until it was very thick then pour small amounts on plates or saucers to cool. The guests after putting a small amount of lard and a sprinkle of flour on their hands, would pick up the sorghum and start pulling and stretching it into long, thin ropes. Now and then a "show off" would demonstrate how long a rope he could pull.

"The kingdom of heaven is at hand. Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give." These words from Matthew (ch. 10) will be used as the Golden Text at Christian Science church services next Sunday.

The question, "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be explored in passages from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook, including this statement: "God is not the author of mortal discords. Therefore we accept the conclusion that discords have only a fabulous existence, are mortal beliefs which divine Truth and Love destroy"

(Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 231).

PETER PIPER OUTPICKED-
 The Tell City News in an alliterative story tells of the hobby of a retired Tell Citian and his wife. Says The News: "That peck of of pickled peppers Peter Piper purportedly picked was a paltry quantity when compared with the amount of pecan meats picked by Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Eckert during the past few years." Eckert, a former chair factory worker, told The News that about four years ago he bought 100 pounds of pecans which he cracked, picked and sold just to occupy his time. Mrs. Eckert joined him in the chore and their pecan picking business expanded. Last year they picked more than 70 pounds. They have found a wide market for their pecan meats.

THE Twenty-Third PSALM

You've got to have your arms around a warm, woolly, wobbly lamb before the real meaning of the Twenty-third Psalm grips you.

You begin to realize how awkward, bewildered, helpless a lamb really is.

David wasn't merely singing of the Lord's faithfulness. He was confessing his own helplessness!

The key to religious faith is not simply the discovery of God's power. It is the discovery of our own need.

The Lord is OUR Shepherd.

- 1 The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want;
- 2 he makes me lie down in green pastures. He leads me beside still waters;
- 3 he restores my soul. He leads me in paths of righteousness for his name's sake.
- 4 Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff, they comfort me.

5 Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of my enemies; thou anointest my head with oil, my cup overflows.

6 Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

QUARTERLY EARNINGS
REPORT DUE BY APRIL 30, 1964

Future social security benefits to a worker and his family can be assured only through the correct reporting of earnings, according to Mr. Charles E. Burke, Manager of the South Bend Social Security Office.

Mr. Burke pointed out that the earnings for the past calendar quarter, January, February, and March, are due in the Internal Revenue Service office by April 30, 1964.

It is necessary to file the quarterly earnings report even if only one employee is involved or only small amounts of earnings. The law applies to employers of household help, as well as to business employers. However, in the case of household help — maid, babysitter, cleaning woman or handy man — the report is not required unless they earn $50 or more in the three-month period.

A convenient, envelope-type form, number 942, is provided for reporting household employees' earnings. This form can be obtained from any Internal Revenue Office and can be prepared in just a few minutes.

Additional information and the necessary reporting forms may be obtained from the Internal Revenue office serving North Central Indiana. The office is located at 1317 E. Mishawaka Ave., South Bend, Indiana.

COUNTY NOMENCLATURE—
Grant County, organized in 1831, was named for two soldiers, Capt. Samuel Grant and William Grant, who were killed in a battle with Indians in 1821. The county seat, Marion, was named for Francis Marion, a Revolutionary War soldier.

FHA LOAN PROGRAM HELPING MARSHALL COUNTY FARMERS

Operating credit from Farmers Home Administration is helping Marshall County farmers overcome a serious problem facing farmers throughout the nation. Mr. Sharp, County Supervisor of the agency said this week. This problem is how to acquire enough land to make modern machinery and farm technology pay off. Mr. Sharp reported that a review of the FHA operating loan program for 1963 in Marshall County shows that most of the agency's borrowers using this type of credit are able to rent or lease additional land under an equitable leasing arrangement with landowners. FHA makes operating loans to farm families for the purchase of feed, seed, fertilizer, machinery and other equipment and to cover other farm and home expenses. Loans are made only to borrowers who cannot obtain credit from conventional lenders. Interest rate is 5 per cent. Operating loans may be repaid over periods of from 1 to 7 years. Renting more land is often the most efficient and financially sound method of acquiring the necessary land resources, rather than buying additional land. These days many farmers, particularly young farmers just starting out, have a hard time buying enough land to become farm owners. The price of farm land in Marshall County as well as in other parts of the state and nation continues to increase each year. However, a lot of farmers can successfully combine modern machinery and modern methods with equitable land leasing arrangements to produce an above average income for their families. Mr. Sharp reported that several FHA operating loan borrowers in the county had increased their net incomes in 1963. All (or most) of these borrowers, he reported, rented all or part of their farm land.
