Town Board Topics

The Culver Town Board met in regular session last Monday evening in the council chambers at the City Building with the usual full calendar.

The Junior Woman's Club of Culver presented photos of the recreation equipment which they are purchasing to be placed in the Culver Town Park in the playground area. The representatives of the club that were present discussed the possibility of repairing and painting the equipment already in the playground area.

Charles Ricciardi of the Culver Cleaners asked that something be done about the sewer and manhole next to his establishment. He stated that the odor from the sewer at times was unbearable and asked that it be corrected. Mr. McFeely said that it would be looked into and corrected.

Mr. McFeely informed the Board that steps were being taken to compile figures, specifications and the necessary information concerning a new fire truck for the Culver-Union Twp. Fire Department, and this information would be presented at a joint meeting of the town board and the township advisory board for consideration.

The Board asked for a progress report from the street department and the water and sewer department.

Street Commissioner Don Mikesell reported the firm with the street sweeper, which was to have started work on cleaning Culver streets the first part of this week, did not show up due to conflicting circumstances, but would be here the last of this week or the first of next. He also reported that the part of East Madison street leading from Main Street east, had been repaired and made passable for traffic and the brush which obscured the view at South Street and Old 17 had been removed.

Water Commissioner Verl McFeely reported that work was continuing on the Slate Street water line and would be finished as soon as the needed material had arrived. In connection with this same project, Frank McLane addressed the Board by letter, stating the school corporation was in accord with the placing of a fire hydrant next to the school property on Slate Street. The regular work of keeping the water works area and sewer areas in repair was being done as needed.

After a short discussion between Verl McFeely and Don Mikesell as to which department bought the present lawnmower, which is worn out, the Board asked that three bids be presented to them on a new lawnmower.

The Board, after investigation and discussion with the town attorney, the complaint filed by Don Trone that he was being charged for sewer services on a vacant building which was not occupied and did not have water services should be discontinued, was enacted upon. Charges would be discontinued, but past payments could not be refunded.

The most important business of the evening was the passing of the new parking ordinance. The ordinance was read and passed on the first reading. The second reading will take place at the next regular Board meeting.

The ordinance contains parking regulations for the downtown areas, establishes 5 minute loading zones, and that areas shall be so marked by street signs informing the public of the areas in question. (The ordinance is being published in this week's issue of The Citizen, which is in detail for all areas affected by the ordinance.)

The ordinance will be in effect as soon as the street signs which have been ordered, are installed, and the ordinance passes the second reading. Penalty included in the ordinance for violation of the stated areas, will be $1.00, payable to the arresting officer or town clerk. All fines are to be

Culver Boy Scouts Participate In Camp-O-Ree

The Beaver Patrol of Culver Troop 290 received a blue ribbon at the Menominee District Camp-O-Ree as they finished in second place, just one point behind the leaders. The event was held at the Myers Lake Scout Reservation last Friday and Saturday.

Thirty-six patrols from troops of Menominee District competed in 10 stations for a five-hour trial of Scouting skills in use of the compass, ladder-making and scaling of a wall, finding edible plants, identifying animal tracks, following silent signals, first aid, trail signs, boiling water in a paper cup, semaphore code, and measuring. About 370 Boy Scouts and adults took part in the activities.

Two other patrols represented the Culver Troop and received red ribbons — The Flaming Arrow Patrol and Panther Patrol. Edward Behnke, Greg Easterday, Steven Kelly, Carl Strang and Dennis Woodington are the boy leaders of the three patrols.

The local Troop stayed over until Sunday afternoon as the parents brought a picnic dinner and visited the campsite.

"Junior Women" Paint Town Park Play Equipment

Community youngsters will enjoy gaily painted game and play equipment in the Culver Town Park this summer season as the result of the civic minded efforts of the Maxinkuckee Junior Woman's Club.

Club members have completed this painting project in which they used rust-retarding paint. They applied a white undercoat and then finished the job with various bright and eye-catching colors.

The Junior Woman's Club also plans to purchase some new equipment for play use in the Town Park. This much needed improvement adds greatly to the Park's beauty and will certainly appeal to the youngsters.

This community project executed by the Maxinkuckee Junior Woman's Club is part of a two-year plan.

PAPER DRIVE WILL BE HELD BY BOY SCOUTS ON SATURDAY, MAY 23

A paper drive sponsored by Boy Scout Troop 290 will be held this Saturday, May 23. The Scouts will begin pickups at 9:30 a.m. and plan to cover the Town of Culver, Academy homes, and the homes around the lake. Following recess of the Board, as they convened for the second session, which is usually to pass on the town's bills, a letter from the Maxinkuckee Homes, Inc., was read, which stated their appreciation to the Board for annexing Maxinkuckee Highlands into the Town of Culver. Also expressing their complete satisfaction as to the agreement between the corporation and the Town of Culver.

STATE HIGHWAY 117 GETS RESURFACING TREATMENT

State Highway 117, beginning at State Road 10 and ending at State Road 110, was resurfaced this week with a layer of hot-mix. The entire project only took two days. Using the latest paving machinery, the resurfacing material is laid on in a continuous mat, with heavy road rollers following, to compress the mat to the under road surface. Result is a smooth top surface.

Zip Code System "Catching On"

The following was taken from the April issue of "Postmaster's Advocate," organ of the National League of Postmasters:

"Just in case someone tries to tell you that ZIP Code is not 'catching on,' listen to this statement by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski:

You may have heard the claim that no one really uses ZIP Code. Well — of 30,000 business firms contacted — 87 per cent reported they do, or will. These are the people who send most of our national mail volume. One striking example of such cooperation is the recent completion of full ZIP Coding for 17,500,000 copies of Readers Digest mailed at Dayton — 100 storage cars and 34 truck loads ZIP Coded monthly.

Or you may have heard the general public isn't cooperating but spot checks of individual mail show approximately 22 per cent in large cities is being ZIP Coded — and the figure runs as high as 50 per cent in smaller communities.

Personally, we're sold on ZIP Code 100%. We don't think there are any of you PM's who are not sold on it also, but if there are, we recommend you give some thought to that famous line from a poem (whose name we've forgotten) which goes like this: OURS NOT TO REASON WHY, OURS BUT TO DO OR DIE. 'Nuff 'sed — we're management."

Just in case you might have forgotten or overlooked recent mailings in the Culver area informing you of the Culver Zip Code number, it is 46511.

Miss Darlene E. Christensen Speaks
Wedding Vows With L. Jay Snyder

MR. AND MRS. LESTER JAY SNYDER

The Culver Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren Church provided an impressive setting for a lovely Sunday afternoon ceremony at 2:30 o'clock on Mother's Day, May 10, when Miss Darlene Evelyn Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold R. Christensen, Route 2, Culver, exchanged wedding vows with Lester Jay Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Snyder, 464 State Street, Culver.

Rev. Bruce Price, pastor of the Hibbard and Burr Oak E.L.B. Churches, performed the double-rite before the altar graced with baskets of blue and white shasta daisies. Mrs. James Bonine, organist, accompanied Miss Sue Greenlee, vocalist, who sang, "I Love You Truly," "Always," and "Because," preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in her floor-length wedding gown of silk embroidered nylon organdy over taffeta, fashioned with a sabrina neckline touched with seed pearls, a fitted bodice, and short sleeves. The bouffant skirt, which extended into a brush train, was highlighted by an inverted redingote back accented at the back waistline with a butterfly bow. Her full illusion veil fell gracefully from a double queen's crown of pearls and horsehair. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and gardenias.

Miss Nancy Emond was maid of honor and appeared in a gown of blue star satin, featuring a bell-shaped skirt. A crown of bows held her short tiered veil in place and she carried a colonial bouquet of blue and white shasta daisies.

Miss Carolyn Snyder, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Karen Barr, cousin of the bride, were bridesmaids. Their dresses and accessories were identical to that of the maid of honor.

Miss Marlene McNaughton, cousin of the bride, was flower girl and wore a full-skirted light blue dress and a crown of blue flowers in her hair and carried a basket of flowers.

Sanford Snyder served his brother as best man. Dennis Christensen, brother of the bride, and Carl Wagoner were groomsmen. Dan Savage, Dave Middleton, and Nuzzio Merlo served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Christensen chose a three-piece pastel pink suit with matching accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations. Mrs. Snyder, mother of the bridegroom, selected a three-piece pink and light beige suit with matching accessories, complemented with a corsage of pink roses.

A reception for 250 guests was held immediately following the ceremony in the church social room which was decorated with wedding bells and light blue and white daisies. A three-tiered wedding cake, adorned with light blue roses and silver leaves, centered the serving table which was presided over by Mrs. Ann Broeker, Mrs. Jane Broeker, Mrs. Irene Renk, Miss Mimi Fisher, Miss Donna Raub, and Miss Diane Broeker. Miss Rose Cramer was in charge of the guest book.

For their honeymoon to the World's Fair in New York, the new Mrs. Snyder chose a light champagne two-piece suit with matching accessories and added the gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet.

After May 23, the newlyweds will be at home at 706 Obispo Street in Culver.

The bride is a graduate of West High School and is employed at The State Exchange Bank in Culver. The bridegroom is a Culver High School graduate and is affiliated with the Snyder Motor Sales in Culver.

Named Vice-President Of State Business and Professional Women

MISS RUTH SHANKS
 Miss Ruth Shanks, Culver High School Commerce teacher, was elected first vice-president of the Indiana Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., at their 46th annual convention at French Lick Springs, Inc., May 15, 16, and 17.

The convention theme "Partners in Progress," will highlight the 1964-65 program for Indiana's 144 clubs and 10,000 members. To carry out this theme the convention adopted a legislative platform to include support of legislation to advance the position of women by providing equal pay for equal work, equal opportunity for men and women in industry; better housing for all citizens through improvement of private nursing homes and encouragement of private enterprise to provide moderate priced housing for all citizens; better flood control for Indiana; and legislation to abolish discrimination as now found in the Social Security Act.

Miss Shanks said the greatest undeveloped resource in our country is our woman power and the Indiana Federation is launching an aggressive program for more training and preparation to upgrade skills of all women as well as an active program to provide more opportunities for them in business and the professions.

Mrs. Zella Stone gave the keynote address at the opening session and installed the new state officers at the Saturday evening banquet.

Salom Rizk, author of Syrian Yankee, who was introduced by Miss Shanks at the banquet, spoke on "America Is More Than A Country."

At the Sunday morning World Affairs Breakfast Don Bolt, a specialist in Latin-American affairs, discussed what we are doing and can be doing to build better relations with our neighbor countries in the Western Hemisphere.

MRS. DONALD PARSON

The regular stated meeting of the Order of Eastern Star was held Tuesday evening, May 19, in Masonic Hall and featured a reception honoring Mrs. Donald Parson, who was Grand Page at the Indiana Chapter. A short memorial service for the deceased members was also held.

Members and guests signed the registration and guest books and were given a voucher made of a miniature picture of Mrs. Parson. The Chapter Room was decorated with red roses, the flower chosen by Mrs. Parson when she served the Culver Chapter as worthy matron. The East was decorated as a memorial to the deceased with flags on each side of a bank of grass on which were placed rows of white crosses and an arrangement of white irises.

Worthy Matron Mrs. H. D. Maynard presided over a short business meeting. Mrs. Roger Thews was the soloist for the evening, accompanied by Mrs. Cleo Ringle.

through an arch of pink candles, entwined with red roses held by the members of the "Lads and Lassies". They also presented her with a gift.

The worthy matron introduced the guest speaker, Col. E. Kemp Moore, of Culver Military Academy, who spoke on the meaning of Memorial Day.

As each star point approached the altar, she read a poem and placed on the altar flowers appropriate to the color of her station.

The conductress and associate conductress approached the altar and as the associate conductress read a poem, the conductress placed a green wreath and dropped golden links on the altar as a symbol of the members departing in death.

Mrs. Oberly read a poem, "The Two Seas of Palestine", and thanked the Chapter for the courtesies extended to her. Mrs. Dolan expressed her happiness at being in Culver again and Mrs. Parson also expressed her gratitude at being honored by all her friends.

In the closing march the officers formed a line through which the honored guests were escorted.

DR. HOWARD G. DIESSLIN ADDRESSES 20TH ANNUAL AGRICULTURAL CLINIC

The director of Indiana's Co-operative Extension Service told Hoosier bankers recently that jobless youth can develop into "one of the most explosive problems in our national history."

Dr. Howard G. Diesslin, addressing the 20th annual Agricultural Clinic at Purdue University, said many persons entering the labor force who have passed the three R's "will find themselves trapped by the three U's — unschooled, unskilled and unemployed."

Diesslin pointed out that no more unskilled workers would be needed in 1970 than in 1960 and the demand for industrial workers would remain about the same during the present decade.

New people entering the labor force in the 1960's, Diesslin said, will be in these proportions:

Twenty-nine per cent drop outs from high school;

Forty-five per cent who have finished high school, and

Twenty-six per cent will have attended college or will hold a college degree.

Earlier, Dr. John W. Hicks, assistant to Purdue's president, discussed the increasing educational needs of young people, particularly from the standpoint of Indiana and the midwest.

Indiana's collegiate level education, he asserted, is better than that offered in about 45 other states. It is as good as any in the 50 states, Hicks added.

However, he cautioned that many advances in education will have to be made in the midwest in the next decade for it to keep pace with the rest of the nation.

As a major trend, Hicks emphasized the continuing importance of regional campuses in Indiana.

"We need to bring collegiate level education closer to youngsters who need it — closer to home," he said. "More and more we are going to have to provide better education in regional areas."

A regional system will be more economical for the students, as well as the taxpayers of the state, he declared.

Hicks explained that various basic changes in the nation's economy are making an impact on educational needs of our people. He listed them as:

Science and technology, Industrial revolution or automation, Speed and complexity of modern life, and Increasing leisure.

He pointed out that the nation is rapidly moving from a goods producing economy to a service producing economy. This means that more education will be required for service occupations. Indiana is particularly involved in this trend since it has traditionally been a goods producing area, Hicks said.

After The Fair Is Over

Unisphere provided by United States Steel

It's estimated that 70,000,000 people will visit the 1964-65 New York World's Fair and travel the intricate network of parks, malls, gardens and exhibits by foot. World's Fair planners, anticipating the crowds, have made it a point to plant grass that will stand the wear and tear.

They have also given thought to what happens after the Fair is over. In fall, 1965, the site will become a two-mile park — one of the largest of its kind in the world — complete with botanical gardens, a zoo, a marina and helicopter facilities.

Many of the Fair's original exhibits will be preserved, in part or whole. Among them are the Court of Nations, the Court of Peace and the Court of Astronauts, with its statue of "Man Launching the Stars." The unique landscaped Garden of Meditation will also be a permanent part of the complex, along with the tropical fauna of the Pan American Highway Gardens. Overlooking it all will be the Unisphere, permanent symbol of the Fair.

All of these areas have already been sodded or seeded in Merion bluegrass. In 1965 they will be re-seeded to begin their lifetime in the permanent park.

Close by the fairgrounds and park-to-be is Shea Stadium, new home of the New York Mets and Jets. It, too, is planted in Merion, like so many other baseball and football stadiums and golf courses. Homeowners throughout the country have also found that there's nothing like this kind of bluegrass lawn. So, take a tip from the World's Fair and try Merion for your lawn tea.

Veterans to Honor 'D-Day'

$250 Round-trip to Europe Offered

June 6, 1964 will be the 20th anniversary of the Allied Forces invasion of the beaches of Normandy, France. In special honor and remembrance of that day "D-Day", a decade ago, it has been announced that a special air fare has been ordered jointly by the U.S. and French governments, to those World War II veterans of Europe.

Eligible for the special fare are also the wives and children or widows of these veterans. Gold Star mothers are also included. Children under 12 years of age are eligible for an even lower rate.

This special very low fare of $250 approved by the governments includes round-trip economy class transportation by jetliner from New York to Paris. Regular fares at this time of the year could be as high as $826.50 per person. The fare is applicable to those persons departing the U.S.A. between May 20 and June 5. The fares apply to all veterans of the E. T. O. in World War II.

For more detailed information and brochures on this special opportunity for veterans to travel to Europe, write to: D-DAY, Air France, Prudential Plaza, Chicago, Illinois.

In addition, low-cost tour programs are being offered, by a prominent American travel agent, in conjunction with the D-Day fares.

Prepared by American Foundation for Animal Health

From time to time, what are called "new diseases" crowd their way into the animal health picture to rob farmers of more profits.

All of these "new diseases" mean trouble, but from there on the meanings may be far different. For instance, "new disease" actually may be just a different form of an old disease. In other cases this term may describe an already-established disease which has changed and became capable of affecting a different species of animal. In still other cases a "new disease" may be just that — a livestock problem never before encountered.

But, regardless of the meaning of the term, the important question in the minds of livestock raisers is, "What can we do about it?"

One of the farmer's most important safeguards in this respect is the scientifically-trained observant veterinarian, as he goes his rounds in the community each day. He must be always on the alert for the new, the strange.

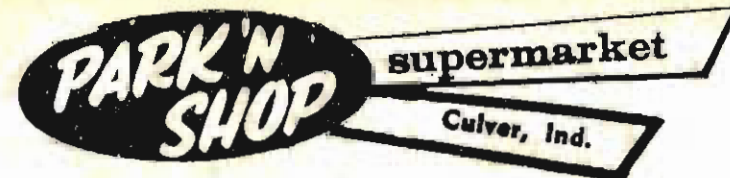

New diseases are always a threat to livestock and require prompt action when they appear.

Seldom does he find a clear-cut case of a brand-new disease, because nature doesn't often work that way. But, if he does, the veterinarian will probably approach it with such methods as treatment, isolation, nursing, prophylactic measures and other means. If the case is not clear-cut, he may then have to employ such measures as postmortem examinations, or he may call on the resources of the scientific laboratories of state and federal governments, veterinary schools and commercial laboratories. As a disease detective, he also may call for aid from his professional library, scientific periodicals and his veterinary colleagues.

The key to a solution to the problem lies in part in early detection and prompt action. And this requires alertness on the part of livestock raisers for any abnormal signs in animals.

France Bound

By Kay Thomas

PEGGY HERR

"Who, me? I can't believe it!" These were the first sentiments of junior Peggy Herr as she received news that she had been selected to go to France this summer. Peggy was a participant in this year's Indiana University language honors program which will send 30 students abroad to France this summer to study and master the French language.

Peggy first competed along with 225 Indiana students by taking oral and written examinations. The 225 was then narrowed down to 75 semi-finalists. At this stage Peggy had to fill out a 12-page application sheet. She had to distribute reference sheets to two teachers, two non-teachers, one to her principal, and one to her parents. The 75 semi-finalists each had a personal interview with two French professors of Indiana University. Peggy's individual interview, which lasted about 30 minutes, consisted of questions such as: Why do you want to go to France? What do you think a Frenchman would eat for breakfast? How would you react if you could not have all the luxuries you were accustomed to while you were in France? Peggy also had to write an autobiography.

Peggy was given the maximum financial grant of $850. This means that she will have to pay only $100 altogether.

Peggy will be leaving from Indianapolis on June 21 and will travel by plane to Paris, France. She will then go to the French resort town of Saint-Brieuc in the province of Brittany in northwestern France. The town's population is about 40,000. Not far from the town is Mont-Saint-Michel, the beautiful French abbey. At a school in Saint-Brieuc Peggy will study the country's language five hours a day. She will be living with a French family while in France. She is not allowed to speak any English unless it is absolutely necessary; all must be in French. Peggy will return to Indiana on August 25. She will next year take French IV taught by Mrs. Virginia Smith, who has been her French teacher for the past three years.

Besides being very talented in French ability, Peggy is also outstanding in other school subjects and clubs. She last year won recognition as outstanding academic student in her class. She belongs to the Tomahawk staff, the Librarian's Club, National Honor Society, and Pep Club. She has been a member of Sunshine Society for two years, was this year's vice-president and is next year's president of the organization. Peggy has been class secretary for two years and will hold the same position next year. She this year took part in the junior play.

There is only one little problem which Peggy says she may encounter in getting ready for her trip abroad, and that is the rule about how much the luggage and materials must weigh that she takes and brings back. How can anyone expect a girl to come back from nine glorious weeks in France with just 39 pounds of luggage?!!

The People In White

By Joanie Dillon

There are seven periods for academic study in our regular school day. If a poll were taken, I think the favorite courses would be so varied that perhaps none would score a majority. But add another hour and put it halfway between morning and afternoon class sessions and call it — lunch hour. I feel sure that with this addition there would be only a slight hesitation before a Culver student would assure you noon hour is a very wonderful part of each school day!

The well-liked group of women who plan, prepare, serve — and please — our students daily is under the advise and direction of Mrs. Anna Waite. I think perhaps we are inclined to take Mrs. Waite's services for granted, so at this time we pay a small tribute to this very important lady and her staff in white.

As proof of how seriously Mrs. Waite considers her profession, she steps into her kitchen workshop at the early hour of 6:15 a.m. We might think this would be a rather bothersome chore five days a week, nine months of the year, but our chief cook does enjoy her work. She and her three able assistants begin to prepare the noon meal while many of us students are eating breakfast! There are also 16 high school students who help in our cafeteria. These young people voluntarily forfeit study halls and noon hours to do this work.

An average of 600 faculty members and students file through the cafeteria line each noon hour. Mrs. Waite observes that lunches featuring hot dogs or spaghetti are favorites of the CHS clan and servings on such days may mount to over 750.

Mrs. Waite has been on the Culver staff since 1951, thus having devoted nearly 15 years to feeding hungry people. She has attended various summer workshops and camps at which she has gained ideas and experience and lessons to hand on to us. Her favorite meal would certainly boast chicken as the main dish. She has one pet peeve which is an inaccurate morning cafeteria count. In other words, more students eat at noon than may indicate so that morning, or the opposite may occur. (Students, take note!)

This busy lady takes off her apron and leaves her white workshop at 3:00 p.m. — to go home and plan her own evening meal.

MUSIC NEWS

By Kay Thomas

The high school mixed choir minus the seniors is practicing the music they will sing for baccalaureate and commencement exercises. For baccalaureate they will sing "We Thank Thee, Lord," an arrangement by Tkach and "Sine Nomine," a hymn by William How. For commencement the moving "Halls of Ivy" will be sung.

Senior Band members are wearing holes in their shoes practicing to march in the Memorial Day parade May 30. The band will also display marching skills on June 11 in the Aubbeenaubbee Township Strawberry Festival. Glory be! It seems the Senior Band may be fortunate enough to finally get summer uniforms. Everyone please keep his fingers crossed.

The Junior Band, along with all other music participants, should be congratulated for the outstanding concert they participated in on Mother's Day. These seventh and eighth graders sound better at every performance.

Senior Band requirement sheets have been issued to eighth grade band students wishing to enter Senior Band this summer. Some of the requirements they must meet are: they must be able to tune and care for their instrument properly, be able to tongue at a high rate of speed, be able to sight-read in good fashion, know the concert scales and key signatures, and make at least a 45 score out of 50 on a written examination on musical terms. They also must be able to sustain a tone for 35 seconds.

The Music Department has received some new record albums: the French "Carnaval des Animaux," "Guide to Jazz" with Louis Armstrong, Duke Ellington and other jazz artists, "The Sorcerer's Apprentice," Bizet's "Carmen," and Gershwin's famous "Rhapsody in Blue."

Chosen As Year's Best Reporter

By Joan Dillon

KAY THOMAS

For the past few years the South Bend Tribune has devoted one page of the Sunday edition to high school news. Each school in the surrounding area had chosen representatives. Throughout the past eight months those representatives write articles concerning their respective schools and sent them to the Tribune. Culver's reporters these past few months have been Kay Thomas and Joanie Dillon.

Tuesday, May 12, the various reporters were guests of the Tribune at a dinner in the building's cafeteria. After an excellent swiss steak dinner, Mr. Joe Schrantz, editor of the high school page, made a few comments and then introduced the speaker for the evening, Mr. John Collins related, to the school reporters and their sponsors, highlights of his own reporting career.

Mr. Schrantz again took the floor at which time he explained the characteristics of a good reporter. This led up to his announcing that eight young ladies were chosen recipients of awards which honored them as being outstanding reporters. Culver's Kay Thomas was presented an attractive engraved bracelet for her reporting. Some of the traits involved are as follows: the subject of the article; the effective style of writing; and the regularity of the articles sent to the paper. Schools whose reporters and sponsors had done effective work and good photography were presented with plaques. After photographs of the eight girls were taken, the students were dismissed from the dinner.

Spring is here. Summer is coming. And so, happy day, is May 29.

Spring turns a young man's (and a young lady's) heart to thoughts of . . . what else? . . . bike riding. Seems that we heard a slight rumor that a certain Senior girl and a certain cadet decided to ride around the lake. We're sure you remember this particular Saturday. The wind and dirt were at gale proportions. Somehow this girl fell off her bicycle (barely missing John). We know it wasn't intentional because she scraped her knee pretty badly. You weren't really trying to hit him were you, Martha?

Our congratulations to the cast of "Guys and Dolls." The performance was great.

While we're handing out praises, let's not forget our athletes. Our teams have compiled a great record this year. The outcome of the LaPaz Relays was great!

Ginny Thews has a new hobby. Tree climbing. We've heard there's a good one by the Band Building, Ginny.

Linda McAllister, do you really have a crush on that snake? Come on now, our boys are surely more attractive than that.

Once upon a time there was a choir concert. Funniest thing 'bout that boys' section. Where were they?

The Sophomore Car Wash seems very successful — at washing Sophomores . . . Loretta, for instance.

Our cheerleaders are going to camp this summer. At least they were — until Kathy E. met up with a slingshot in Mr. Miller's office. Now, you'd better check with Kathy to see if they're still going.

Kathy seems to be running into her share of mishaps. Some clumsy person stepped on her when he was getting out of a boat. (In the future, Mr. Bortoff, you'd better be careful getting out of those things.)

This week Dave Lemar joined Bruce Lovely — on the window sill. Dave, them things aren't safe.

Hugh Hariz is suing Miss McCoy for assault with a deadly weapon. She hit him with a wire she found on the floor! Our great lawyer, D. Lemar, will defend him in court.

So long, we're going to count the days. We're down to just using our fingers! (???)

Oh! Wait a minute. A bulletin just came in . . . Flash! What's this? A Sophomore boy with the initials B. L. likes a certain girl with the initials C. L.? Stand by for further information next week. (We hope!)

Friday, May 29, the Culver Community School had an open house. Many interesting and informative displays were shown. For the benefit of those who did not attend or saw only a few of the exhibits a short review will be given. I am sure that you will find this very interesting.

As you entered the school building, you most likely found yourself in the high school building. The languages had some very nice arrangements. The English department had a couple very unusual bulletin boards. Betty Ricciardi and Linda Nelson decorated the bulletin board with pictures, drawn by Betty, of American poets and a picture of Shakespeare. These pictures were denoting American Literature and a tribute to Shakespeare. Several personal essays and notebooks of Julius Caesar were displayed. In one classroom tapes of the senior speeches were played.

The Latin display consisted of Latin themes written by the second year students and Latin sentences translated from the English by the first year students. The first year students had also made a set of Latin posters entitled "Gaudeamus Igitur." This display showed a number of pictures of modern products and inventions which had names formed from Latin.

The parents and visitors were allowed to visit the modern language lab. Many parents put on earphones and listened to tapes of drills that many of their children studied every day. Mrs. Smith talked to many visitors about their children's programs in the French classes.

The sciences had many different displays for the various classes. A few of the biology exhibits were three dissections (earthworm, crayfish, and fish) showing the development of internal structures from simple to complex. Many microscopic studies were set up including root, stem, leaf, bacteria, algae, lettuce, carrot, and onion. Another biology class showed the physiology of humans using Elmer, a rubber manikin, with cards labeling the parts of the body and pertinent information. Notebooks, insect collections, and lab animals were shown. The chemistry classes had several experiments set up so the students could show their parents what some of the things we had done in class were. There were etching glass, reaction of active metals with water, making cells (batteries), flame testing the alkali metals, and the various forms of sulphur. Mark Pieuch had a particle accelerator on display.

The history classes and teachers had some interesting displays. In one class the students donated examples of their regular work. This included maps, reports, and notebooks. Parents were allowed to snoop. Mr. Lawson had an interesting bulletin board display on "How Not to Vote" using the disqualified ballots from the recent school election.

In the Music Building the Junior Band held a half hour rehearsal. To use the time wisely and to really show the parents what a regular practice is like the band played unpolished numbers. I hear there were quite a few parents there.

Quite a number of parents wished to visit the library. They were interested in the new books on display. There was also a book jacket display on the bulletin board in the hall. Other books — the classroom type — were on shelves in classrooms.

Starting from the bottom up in the grade school you would have seen the kindergarten displays. The kindergarteners had many fans. Over 30 families registered in their classes. It was very well represented.

Mrs. Keyser's room had a very nice turn out also. Nineteen children were represented. Miss Friesen had made trees to decorate our desks. The class showed papers on reading, numbers, writing, phonics, rhymes, and opposite words on the walls. They also wrote some stories to put up. They want to thank everyone for coming.

Mrs. Allen's class displayed their writing, original stories, Easter hats, and a drawing on an easel. The daily work was also shown.

The second grade taught by Miss Page made folders for their work. Work pads and the folders were on the desks. Some of their stories were on the wall in the hall.

In Mrs. Shirrell's second grade 14 parents visited. Work from looked quite realistic except for being green. It made them think of Ringo Star because there were many rings on it. Some adventurers saw their relatives — the monkeys and gorillas. (I am only kidding.) The antics of these playful beasts could not be enjoyed because they were only stuffed skins. Not one of the sixth graders can call another an elephant any more — it would be a lie. No human could possibly have a skin like an elephant. The children enjoyed looking at the elephant epidermis display.

In the amphibian and reptile display the ones who were brave enough to venture close noticed that along with each exhibit the name of the native location of the creature and something about him was available. In a sea display the spectators found out what it was like to be Jonah. A large whale skeleton was on exhibit and the explorers could peer from one side through the bones to the other side. Jail may have more bars, but I'd rather be in it than in a whale.

The African manholes or three-toed horses were very interesting to see. Not many have seen just such an animal. A fabulous exhibit was the prehistoric skeletons, cavemen, and dinosaurs. The settings were the swamps where all these unfamiliar beings lived. One dragon fly had a wing span of over three feet. Not even today's dragons are that large. Some very beautiful and informative displays were the China exhibit (halls of jade), miniature cities, Egyptian jewelry, old Egyptian boat and bathtub, and Indian relics. The Indian's left a wealth of tools, masks, weapons, clothing, and traces of customs for places like this to show. Boy, what a time kids would have playing cowboys and Indians with this stuff.

Probably every boy turned to Buffalo Bill and went out to hunt the big bison as he gazed at the magnificent buffalo hunt display. The natural habitat and families of seals was a very realistic and informative showing that many students stopped to examine. Much information was available to anyone who took the time to stop.

The bird display and the worldwide butterfly collection were two very colorful and striking exhibits. Much time was spent examining nature's wonders. The colors were gorgeous. Some of the more foolhardy tried with all their might to get some of the birds to talk, but nary a twirp was produced.

As the time for looking at the live specimens ran out, many exclaimed how realistic the animal looked and how well preserved the costumes seemed.

The more adventurous students took a trip into the coal mine. This in itself was a worthwhile reward for going to Chicago. Not many get to see such a thing. In some cases this may be the only time one is seen. After all this exploring the lunch room, food, and benches were well appreciated.

Excitement was caused when John Bunker, David Campbell, and Craig Gunder called home collect for 90¢. Craig was the

At 7:00 a.m. Saturday, two bus drivers — Mr. Sysma and Mr. Kowatch — loaded four teachers — Mr. Carswell, Mr. Kaiser, Mrs. Manns, and Mr. Overstreet — and the whole sixth grade class to start a journey into the animal and primitive man world. Where were these people going? To the Natural History Museum in Chicago, Ill.

The group slowly and cautiously crept up towards a savage lion. The men poised for the kill . . . One of the young women went through the ceremony of having a plate put into her upper lip. A small smooth disc was put into place. At first it hurt, but she knew she would get used to it.

I imagine these were only a few of the thoughts the imagination aroused as the children explored the vast corners of the Natural History Museum. The mind of a child (sixth graders, please excuse the term) can turn a paper drive into a mission to collect pieces of green cheese from the moon.

When asked what they liked most about the trip, the students replied in the following manner: "We enjoyed seeing all the animal exhibits and pictures of man — primitive man long ago and primitive man today."

Some of the things they did and saw will be listed. Many enjoyed laughing at hymns who, far once, couldn't laugh back. Some watched the fish lazily swim about the enclosure. The more brave closely examined some reptiles. Watching the scary apparatus was fun as long as a thick sheet of glass separated you and the animals.

Many of the pupils traveled back to the game of parrots. Looking at the mummies in their fabulous tombs was quite interesting. One place even showed an actual mummy hand exposed. It only one to be unsuccessful — no one was home.

The highlight of the day was when Freddy May found himself stuck with an apple core with no place to put it. He went up to one of those huge helpful guards and asked what to do with it. The guard said, "Stick it in a corner." Freddy did just that.

I'm sure you all realize how worthwhile it is to visit a place such as the Natural History Museum. Next time you go, look in the corners. You might be surprised at the extra exhibits there are.

Conservation Dept. To Charge For Put, Take Hunting

The Division of Fish and Game of the Indiana Department of Conservation has announced that a fee would be charged during the fall small game season for put-and-take pheasant hunting on certain state fish and game areas. This action was taken by the Conservation Commission upon the recommendation of the Director of the Division of Fish and Game.

A five day period of free hunting will be available on the areas preceding the beginning of the put and - take pheasant season. This will give opportunity to harvest some of the native game species before the artificial stocking program begins. At all times during the season a part of each area will be available for free hunting of native species.

It is planned that the bag limit on pheasants on state put-and-take game areas will be two birds of either sex. The fee for the privilege of hunting will be $3.00 per day. At least two pen-reared birds will be released for each hunting effort. Hunters will be privileged to hunt a total of three times at any or all of the areas. In the past Indiana put - and - take hunters have been allowed to shoot but one bird and of either sex. For a $2.50 hunting license fee, the opportunity to take $6.75 worth of pheasants was a little more than the Division of Fish and Game could afford to offer to Indiana hunters. The increased number of state fish and game areas, the low license fee, and the increased number of hunters makes this step necessary.

More than 67,000 hunter days were recorded on the state areas last year for all types of hunting. About 48,000 of the hunting efforts were by pheasant hunters. This represents an increase of about 20 per cent over the previous year.

Charges have been in effect on most state areas for some time for boat rentals, boat launching, and for the use of duck blinds and goose pits. The areas affected by the new ruling of fees will be: Crosley, Glendale, Willow Slough, Jasper - Pulaski, Winamac, Tri-County, and Pigeon River.

Weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simmons were Mrs. Simmons' sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Russell McGruder and daughter, Shelly, of Chicago.

HOW SENATE RACES SHAPE UP FOR 1964—Districts shown in white on the map will nominate and elect state senators in the 1964 elections under terms of a 1963 legislative apportionment act recently declared to be in effect. Gray areas on the map or bordering it indicate senators who are "holdovers" and will continue in office two more years. "X" indicates no change in districts under new apportionment. "D" or "R" designates the political party of the senator who represented the district (or approximate district) in the 1963 legislative session.

Democrats now occupy 13 holdover seats and need to elect 13 senators in 1964 to gain control of the Senate. Republicans have 10 holdover seats and need to win 16 for Senate control. One new Senate seat allotted to Lake county will be for a two-year term. One seat each in Marion and Wayne counties will be for two years as a result of resignations of senators with an additional two years to serve.

The rest of the meeting was spent socially after which the hostesses served refreshments.

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DENOUNCES "LAND OF TAXES" SIGNS

The display of thousands of bumper stickers reading "Indiana, Land of Taxes" has been denounced by the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce as "the sick joke of the year".

A Chamber bulletin sent to its membership alleged that the stickers, which appeared after enactment of the sales tax law last year, "could create a sour reaction in the minds of industrial executives scouting for new plant locations in the Midwest". The bulletin said the stickers make an "erroneous suggestion" that Hoosier taxes are greater than those of other states, which isn't true.

ELECTRIC POWER... Indiana's Most Abundant Resource

POWER POOL

Mothers in car pools know that toting five for the price of one pays off in lower transportation costs. This same kind of teamwork among Indiana's Five Investor-Owned Electric Companies pays off in low electric rates for you. Although each operates separately, the generating and transmission facilities of Indiana's Electric Companies are interconnected into a "power pool". On occasions when extra electric power is needed each of the 5 electric companies can "borrow" the electricity it needs instantly from a neighboring company. This means more efficient use of generating facilities and the most dependable service at the lowest possible rates for you.

Meet Your New B-Team, Varsity Cheerleaders

By Jane Ives

Last week eight girls were chosen to lead our B-team and varsity yells next year. This week we would like to introduce you to your new yell leaders.

The four Varsity yell leaders chosen were Lonni Darocsi, Kathy Easterday, Sheryl Fisher, and Cheryl Zink.

Lonni Darocsi is a pert little 5'1" Junior. She has served one year on the Varsity squad, two years on the B-team squad, and two years on the Junior High cheering squad. Next year will make her sixth year on the squad. When asked if she enjoyed leading yells, Lonni replied "Yes, I enjoy cheerleading very much. Ever since fifth grade when I started to attend basketball games regularly, I've wanted to be a cheerleader. At North Bend when I was elected, I about flipped!! Then when I was a freshman and was chosen as a high school cheerleader — I was quite proud — not of myself or my achievement but because I could lead yells for a GREAT team!"

Besides serving five years on the various cheering squads, Lonni has also served on student council for two years, is a member of the pep club, Sunshine Society, Press Club, Senior Choir, and National Honor Society.

When asked to comment on the team, Lonni did such a good job of summing up the feelings of all the girls that her comments, exactly as she made them, follow:

"The Culver team, to me is great. When someone asks me how I feel about our Indians, that's the first word that comes to my mind. Even with a losing season I'm proud of our guys. They hold their heads up and come back for more. I know that sometimes the team sees no use in cheerleaders — I've even heard them express these feelings — but still — to me our team is the greatest!"

"Our pep block is pretty wonderful too. Sure, sometimes they don't put everything they have into their yelling, but on the whole they're a swell group. Possibly interest could be stirred up by getting some vests or something. They take a lot and only a few get really upset."

"Mr. Miller is really the finest! He's gone through so much for the betterment of the squads — nagging, complaints, etc. — and he deserves a lot of thanks."

Kathy Easterday is a 5'4" Junior with a never-ending supply of bounce and energy. She has had four years previous experience — one year on the Junior High cheering squad, one year as a Freshman cheerleader, one year of B-team and one year on the Varsity squad.

Her many activities include choir, press club, Yearbook Staff, Sunshine Society, Rainbow and National Honor Society. Kathy had one of the lead roles in the Junior Play and was a member of the Senior band during her Freshman and Sophomore years. She has also served a year on the Student Council.

Kathy informed me that the girls get to spend a week at cheerleading camp next month in Michigan. She is very thrilled about the idea and "can hardly wait to get started!"

Sheryl Fisher is a 5'4" Sophomore. She has served two years on the Freshman cheering squad and one year on the B-team cheering squad. Sheryl is Vice-President of her class and is a member of the Pep Club, choir, band, and Sunshine Society. She loves horses and spends much of her time out-of-doors.

Sheryl made the following comments on the tryouts this year: "I like the way they chose cheerleaders this year because everyone had an equal chance and the pep club had the chance to pick who they thought would best represent our school."

She also added, "If the boys are as good next year as they were this year I'm sure we will come out on top."

Cheryl Zink is a 5'4" Freshman. She has had three years previous experience — two years on the Junior High Squad and one year on the Freshman squad.

She is a member of the high school band and choir. During her eighth grade year, Cheryl was one of the four girls which made up the "Powder Puff Relay Team". As you can see, Cheryl is very interested in sports but she is also an accomplished seamstress and cook.

The four B-team cheerleaders elected were Valerie Carter, Linda Fisher, Joyce Odle, and Susie Thews.

Valeries Carter will be a Freshman next year. This will be her first year on the squad and she is happily anticipating the experience. Valerie enjoys being out of doors and spends much of her time fishing and swimming.

Susie Thews will also start her High School career next year. She has had one year of experience on the Junior High squad. Susie has been elected Secretary of her class for next year. She is a member of the Junior Band and the 4-H Club. She enjoys swimming, water skiing, and ice-skating.

Joyce Odle is a Freshman this year. She has had experience on the Junior High cheering squad and a year's experience on the B-team cheering squad. She is a member of the band and is a baton twirler for the marching band.

Linda Fisher, a 5'3" eighth grader, has had two years of previous experience on both of the Junior High squads. Linda is a member of the band and her hobbies include horseback riding and hiking. Linda would like to see the pep block get vests or jackets.

Well, there they are . . . our new cheerleaders for 1964-65. Good luck girls!

ADAGE PROVED — Warrick County assessor, Lennis Goad, found out the correctness of the adage. "Never burn your bridges behind you." The Boonville Standard reports that Mr. Goad burned off the weeds in a field on his farm about seven miles north of Boonville. He thought the fire was out and went to his home. Later when he started for his office he found the fire had spread after he left and had burned a small wooden bridge on the lane between his house and the main highway.

Memorable Moments

By Jeanne Adams and Carolyn Snyder

The school year is finally drawing to an end, and most of the students at C.H.S. are anxiously awaiting the final day. Yet, looking back over the year there have been some memorable events. This week we asked the students what they liked best about the school year. Here are their replies:

Carolyn Saft: All the fights that everybody had.

Paul Saft: Going to the Regional.

Suzy Spencer: The Junior Play, ball games (especially Sectional and Regional), dances, the Ham Supper, and last but not least the Junior-Senior Prom.

Jon Van Horn: The good track, baseball, cross-country, and basketball teams. We were real winners in all of them.

Gale Vander Meade: The fun I had and hope to have with Bonnie Salyer.

Hugh Hartz: Fun with all the boys who like me.

Steve Ulery: Taking the first Sectional trophy ever to be given.

Kathy Easterday: The Junior Play, winning the Holiday Tourney and Sectional Tourney, and cheerleading.

Linda Thurin: The Junior Play, winning the Holiday Tourney and the Sectional, going to the Regional and meeting Charles Redinger!

Wanda Warren: Everything! Absolutely everything. But I believe the best thing of the whole year was our basketball team. They are really sharp! I am sad this year has to come to an end.

Dennis Schnieke: The day I started going with Holly Thompson. She's neat!

Doug Lindvall: Basically, the best thing that has happened to me this year was breaking up with Martha. (yuk-yuk).

Valerie Gunder: Cheerleading and being Sectional champs!

Tina Ferrier: The thing I liked best about the school year is thinking that it's almost over.

Jim Weirick: The evenings and weekends when I wasn't in school (and also a gal I know).

Dave Lemar: Basketball games, the Junior Play, and my infinite quest for the good side of Mr. Cole.

Paul Liette: Winning the 4-Way Tourney, the Sectional, the county baseball championship, the LaPaz relays and seeing Jim Lewis win the trophy for high point man at the county track meet.

Mary Ann Shock: I enjoyed everything!

Kay Overmyer: Being able to spend my time with Al and enjoying my last year at good ole Culver High School.

Suzanne Ayers: The Senior trip and taking the trophy at Plymouth.

Susan Helber: I enjoyed Christmas and spring vacation and all the weekends.

Marsha Guise: The Sectional and Regional — even though we didn't have much luck at Elkhart.

Cheryl Harmon: The day I finally got a good grade in World History.

Mike Eustis: The best thing that could happen was the end of track and the beginning of baseball.

Steve Bair: Being manager for the best bunch of guys around.

Larry Banks: I enjoyed being cheerleader, and the after-game dances were fun! Everything was enjoyable for a change!

Darlene Taylor: Getting my class ring and the Junior Ham Supper.

Vera Smith: Thinking about being a Senior next year! Also, getting a certain guy's class ring.

Holly Thompson: Meeting the nicest guy I've ever known.

Patsy Huffer: Getting it over and the next and next and next till I'm out.

Cathy Stratton: Nothing really, except looking forward to the prom!

Fran Warner: Washing cars (especially Mr. Crabb's car) and being in the most unborings English class of high school — Mr. Crabb's (Give me an A on that one Mr. Crabb.)

Bev Barshes: The Senior trip and knowing that I have to suffer three more weeks until graduation.

Edward Ricciardi: The thought that it would come to an end.

Sharon McGaffey: Being in the Senior Play and going on the Senior trip; also, that I will only have to wait nine more days until graduation.

Carole Barton: The Senior trip and being in the Senior play.

Frank Sheppard: Art class with Mr. Smith is a riot and our speeches in English are a ball, but I'll be glad to be out.

Lonni Darocsi: Weekends!

Marty Garrison: Everything!

Greg Yapp: The week the Seniors got shipped East.

Karen Garbison: Everything.

Pat Seslar: My entrance to Culver High School; many "enjoyable" hours of painstaking study and research; the end (of the school year, that is!).

Betty Ricciardi: French III — a wonderful experience that helped me to win a scholarship.

Bob Eustis: It's a toss up — arguing or arguing!

Tom Schmidt: Nothing.

Gary Wallen: May 29, 1964.

Patty Wentzel: Receiving the Tomahawks.

Steve Parker: There were times that were good except for ????

Danny Spencer: The fun we had.

Bea Napier: Everything.

Pamela Welsh: Everything around tourney time. Seeing our great team play.

Steve Thompson: Susie Personette and Martha McAllister.

Kerry Haines: Our vacations.

Marcella Mann: It means I'm getting close to the end of a school and education and starting with another career! (Guess what?)

Linda Baker: The last day for obvious reasons!

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Carter were guests at a dinner for the past matrons and patrons of the year 1951, 20th district, Order of the Eastern Star, Sunday evening at the B & B Restaurant in Nappanee.

 The transforming and healing effects of knowing man's spiritual identity as a child of God will be emphasized at Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Soul and Body." The healing of the lame man at the temple by Peter will be read (Acts 3), and also this verse from II Corinthians (3:18): "We all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed into the same image from glory to glory even as by the Spirit of the Lord."

Related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include these lines: "Consciousness constructs a better body when faith in matter has been conquered. Correct material belief by spiritual understanding and Spirit will form you anew" (p. 425).

SWISS HERITAGE—Tell City the city down on the Ohio River named for the Swiss patriot and noted marksman, William Tell, is mighty proud of its Swiss heritage. This pride is reflected in the naming of a new sub-division which will be known as Burglen Hills. The name is derived from Tell's village, Burglen, in the Swiss canton of Uri. In Swiss stories, William Tell was often referred to as the "Archer of Burglen."

A MATTER OF DEGREE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Doctor? Lawyer? Merchant? Already Bobbie's parents are planning for his future. They're saving to give him the best education obtainable, because they want him to be happy and successful... a son to be proud of.

It would be splendid if a good education automatically led to happiness and success, but unfortunately it doesn't. Many well-educated men and women have failed utterly when it came to living a stable and worthwhile life, because they lacked the strength of character that would have sustained them.

There is no better training ground for the building of character than the Christian Church. There children are encouraged to follow a way of life that will not fail them, and to respect themselves and their fellows.

Give your child every chance to succeed. Make sure that his education includes a thorough knowledge of the time-tested Christian truths.

LIKES OLD TUNES—A Hagerstown man, Daniel Hoover, nearing his 85th birthday, finds enjoyment in his ancient "wind up" model Edison phonograph and his collection of over 400 wax cylinder records, reports The Hagerstown Exponent. The music comes out of the big horn which the "talking machine" is equipped. It is a 1910 model. Mr. Hoover's collection includes a number of instrumental pieces and also some monologues by such early 1900 favorites as Cal Stewart, Ada Jones and Billy Murray. Mr. Hoover also has a television set to which he can switch when he tires of his phonograph.

Babson Discusses The 1964 Crop Outlook

The farmers of our nation last year grossed about 41 billion dollars, to set a new record. The big question now is: Will they do as well in 1964?

Spring Planting Intentions

If farmers stick to their early 1964 planting intentions, U. S. crop acreage will just about equal that for 1963 and will be a small 2% above 1962. The Agriculture Department's Crop Reporting Board says that a total of 261,000,000 acres will be seeded to the 17 major crops covered in its March 1 planting intentions survey. If we add the minor crops not included in that survey, the total for ALL U. S. crops this year will probably amount to 310,000,000 acres, — the fourth smallest ever recorded.

The Crop Reporting Board

looks for declines in acreages seeded to barley, corn, flaxseed, and oats; but it expects these downturns to be offset by the larger acreages that will be seeded to soybeans and spring wheat.

Our Babson commodity analysts foresee ACTUAL 1964 plantings a bit higher than the figure indicated by the Crop Reporting Board.

Corn and Wheat

It is officially estimated that corn plantings will be 1.7% less than in 1963 and 7% below the 1958-62 average. The reason for this is that farmers have decided to take more of their corn land out of production so they can qualify for payments by the government under its new feed-grains diversion program. Even with this smaller acreage, however, most experts believe that corn output will equal the 1963 record of 4,081,395,000 bushels. I personally feel it may even top that figure.

Government reports on U.S. spring-wheat plantings indicate that there will be a boost of 6.5% from last year, but that the total will still be about 3% below the five-year average. Of course, the new farm bill just enacted will encourage farmers to cut plantings back even more. But, assuming average yields per acre, I am convinced that total 1964 wheat production will still come very close to the five-year average. While the wheat surplus does not loom so large as it did a couple of years ago, that problem is still far from licked.

What About Cotton?

This spring the outlook for the cotton crop is more uncertain than usual, because some cotton was already in the ground before the new farm bill became law. This law reduces farm price supports for cotton from 32½¢ to 30¢ a pound. Cotton growers had originally intended to plant just about the same number of acres as in 1963, which would be just below the five-year average of 15,435,000 acres. My guess is that less land will be sowed to cotton now, though the cutback won't be as great as it would have been if the farm bill had passed earlier in the season.

The cotton provisions of the farm bill may be an improvement on the old "two-price" system, but I predict they will not be the cure-all some people expect. Continued government tinkering with production and prices will make matters worse in the long run; it will simply postpone the reckoning for those farmers who cannot — or will not — adjust to economic reality and changing marketing concepts.

Prices and Income

Some months ago everyone was excited at the prospect of Russia buying vast tonnages of wheat, and possibly other grains. But — although the Soviets have taken fairly sizeable amounts — our hopes for really large shipments of wheat and other grains beyond the Iron Curtain have fizzled. Grain surpluses are still with us. Although we have cut back our plantings, we are still overproducing.

For this and other reasons, we have right now considerable downward pressure on prices of farm products. Hence, I predict that 1964 farm prices — on average — will be a little bit lower than last year's. Farm income will do well to hold to its 1963 level.

Academy Sports

Culver Military Academy moves into the last big weekend of its 1963-64 sports year this weekend with the baseball team at home for a twin-bill and the crew, tennis, track and golf teams at St. John's Military Academy, Delafield, Wis.

After this weekend, the Academy will settle down to the serious business of graduating a senior class of 191 students and only two events remain on the card for the official close of the season May 30. This Saturday's lone sports attraction at home is a 1:30 p.m. doubleheader against Concord High School.

Tennis and track continued to occupy the limelight in the spring schedule through last week's activities. The tennis team won its eighth victory, 16-0, over Howe Military School. The netmen have lost only one match to tough Peru High School, probably the state's best tennis squad.

In track, Coach Dave Burke's team made virtually a clean sweep in the Logansport Relays although no team scores were kept. The Academy runners set one new record in the mile relay and won both the 880 and sprint medley events. Additionally, ace Tom Carpenter won the half-mile event.

The Eagle golf team walloped Warsaw High School and Howe Military in a triangular match here Saturday. In fact, the Academy's junior varsity shot a good enough score to beat the two visiting varsity teams. Culver fired a total of 315 in the varsity match. Warsaw had 342 and Howe had 361.

This was not one of the Academy's better years in the Central States Schoolboy Regatta, held Saturday at Lincoln Park Boat Club, Chicago. The Academy got to the finals but lost out to Chicago's Weber High School in the championship mile race. Weber's time for the course was 5:04.9 and Culver was a distant second at 5:10.

In the junior eights, Culver was again second to a Chicago school. Lane Tech won the race with a 5:20.3 and the Eagles did 5:24.5.

Coach Jim DeArmond's baseball squad split a double header with St. John's, winning the first game 11-3 but losing the second contest, 9-0. The results left the Academy with a 7-8 record.

Wednesday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas were Mr. and Mrs. Russell McKee of Osyka, Miss., Mr. and Mrs. Lester McKee of Brook, Ind., and Mrs. Trula McKee. Other callers during the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Donavon Overmyer and sons, Vern McKee and daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Overmyer.

SIGN-UP FOR 1964 WHEAT PROGRAM EXTENDED THROUGH MAY 22, 1964

The Marshall County ASCS Office announced today that the sign-up period will be extended one week through May 22, 1964.

Domestic and export certificates will be available under the 1964 Voluntary Wheat Program to farmers who voluntarily carry out all of the program provisions. Price support ($1.43 per bushel) through loans or purchase agreements will be available for all wheat from any farm where the acreage is within the allotment, but only growers who sign up and meet all the provisions of the 1964 Wheat Program, will be eligible for the certificates as well as the diversion payments for setting aside wheat acreage and devoting it to a conserving use.

Together with the price support loan or purchase agreement based on $1.43 a bushel, the certificates guarantee the participating grower substantial price protection a large part of his 1964 wheat crop.

There are two kinds of marketing certificates of different value. The Domestic Certificates (covering 45% of the farm allotments normal production) represents wheat for use as domestic food; these will have a value of 70 cents a bushel. The Export Certificates (covering up to another 45% of the allotments normal production) represents wheat for export, and these will have a value of 25 cents a bushel.

Since the certificates will be based on the normal yield of eligible wheat acres, a crop failure on the acreage planted for harvest because of natural causes

HANDY HINTS FOR GREEN THUMBS...

A PIECE OF STEEL WIRE FABRIC -- STURDY AND LIGHTWEIGHT -- CAN BE USED TO GROW BETTER TOMATOES. TIE A PIECE INTO A CYLINDER AND SET IT OVER THE PLANTS. BRANCHES WILL GROW OUT THROUGH THE OPENINGS, KEEPING THE RIPENING FRUIT OFF THE GROUND. THESE CYLINDERS ARE ALSO GOOD FOR PEONIES AND OTHER HEAVY-BLOOMING FLOWERS... ANOTHER TYPE OF SUPPORT IS TO STRETCH STEEL WIRE FABRIC OVER A WOODEN FRAME, GOOD FOR CUCUMBERS AS WELL AS TOMATOES.

would not result in reducing the value of the certificates available. Participating farmers who produce more bushels of wheat than the farm's marketing allocation (the bushels for which certificates are issued) will have some wheat for sale which is not eligible for certificates. Such wheat would be eligible for a price support loan or purchase agreement, however it may be sold on the market. The farmer will receive the value of the certificates at the ASCS County office.

The Wheat Program sign-up will continue at the ASCS County office through May 22, 1964.

FORMER CITIZEN EMPLOYER VISITS CITIZEN OFFICE

Clyde Wiseman, of Bradenton, Fla., and former employee of The Citizen, called at the Citizen office last Wednesday afternoon to renew acquaintances. He was a little disappointed in the fact that due to personnel changes over the years, none of his former fellow employees were still working at the Citizen office.

Mr. Wiseman, the son of Kape Wiseman, of this area, is a Culver native. He was employed at the Citizen office in the early nineteen hundreds, when he started as a "printer's devil". The Citizen was then occupying a building which stood where the Johnson's Tire Service establishment is now located.

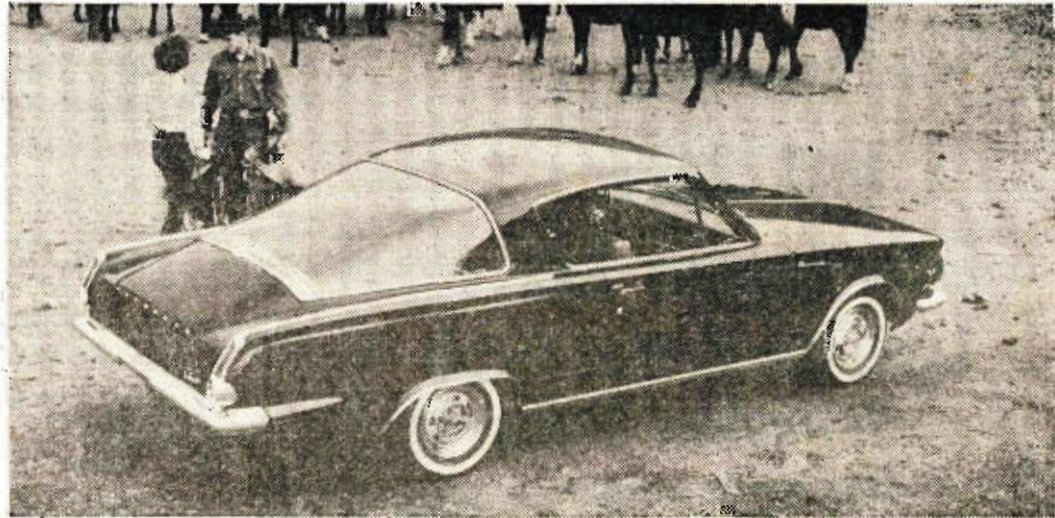

In 1910 Mr. Wiseman left Culver for Florida, where he followed the printing trade for a few months, coming back to Indiana, he took a position with an Indianapolis pharmaceutical house publishing their house publication. He later located in Kansas City, Mo., and then retired in Bradenton, Fla.

While in Culver renewing old friendships, he is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Baker. Mrs. Baker is a niece of Mr. Wiseman.

JUST WAIT — The Johnson County News says: "Things seem to come to people who wait, especially if they know what they are waiting for."
