A THOUGHT FOR FLAG DAY

When I think of the flag . . . I see alternate strips of parchment upon which are written the rights of liberty and justice, stripes of blood to vindicate those rights and in the corner, a prediction of the blue serene into which every nation may swim which stands for these things. — Woodrow Wilson

Retired Navy Man Opens The Country Store

The Country Store which opened for business last Thursday, June 4, on the L. G. Walker Corner at 138 W. Shore Drive, is owned and operated by Mr. and Mrs. James E. Rinesmith, formerly of Chula Vista, Calif.

Mr. Rinesmith, who spent his boyhood summers at Lake Maxinkuckee, is a nephew of Mrs. Ora Rovell, who resides with her father-in-law, L. G. Walker. The Rinesmiths moved to Culver on May 1, 1963, and have since remodelled the Walker home and built The Country Store which boasts a complete line of groceries, meats and fishing tackle.

Mr. Rinesmith retired from the Navy in Jan. 1960, and the following is a reprint from a Chula Vista newspaper at the time of his retirement:

"After a varied Navy career, which included being at Pearl Harbor when it was attacked, participating in the invasion of Mindoro when his ship the USS Haraden, was attacked by a 'kamakazi' plane and the crew was blown over the side, and later serving on the Higbee, which had its bow torn off by another American destroyer in an accident, Chief Torpedoman James Edward Rinesmith recently ended his 20 year of Navy service. Fifteen of those years were spent on destroyers.

"Born in Huntington, Ind., Rinesmith attended schools in Marion, Ohio, and was graduated from Harding High School. Later he served as a car apprentice on the Erie Railroad prior to his enlisting in the Navy in 1940. After going through boot training at Newport, R. I., he served for three years on the Bagley, during the bombing of Hawaii, the Solomon Islands and Australia campaigns.

"After being picked up by the Twigg and spending three weeks in the hospital during the invasion of Mindoro, Rinesmith went to Bremerton, Wash., while his ship was overhauled. The next year he served on the Higbee in China and the Far East protecting American rights and property during the Chinese Communist push to conquer China. During this period of time the Higbee backed 600 miles into Pearl Harbor when she was involved in the accident with another American destroyer while personnel was transferred from one ship to another. The next two years Rinesmith did recruit duty in La Fayette and Crawfordsville, Ind.

"In March 1950, Rinesmith was transferred to the USS Fletcher, which transported a group of NROTC students to Pearl Harbor for training. Unfortunately the Korean War broke out soon after and the Fletcher returned the students to the States and then went to Korea. During the next three years Rinesmith was stationed in Korea except for a seven month tour of duty in San Diego. The ship helped in the evacuation of Hungam. When the Fletcher was converted to a radar picket ship, Rinesmith was transferred to the Tingey.

"The next few years were spent at the Naval Recruit Training Center at San Diego for three years; touring the Far East, stopping at Australia on a good-will tour on the USS Kidd, spending a short time in Long Beach when the ship was overhauled, transferred to the Hamner, which was also overhauled in Long Beach and a hospital stay at Balboa Hospital, before his retirement.

"His brother, Cmdr. Robert Rinesmith, has spent 26 years in the Navy."

Following the wedding a buffet dinner was served at the Oldenburg Inn. Miss Jalnice Forth was in charge of the guest book.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Muehlhausen and the bridegroom's parents are Rev. and Mrs. Harold W. Hohman, all of Culver.

Miss Janice Sailer was accompanied by organist, Mrs. Ed Sailer, when she sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "O Perfect Love."

Miss Jacqueline Muehlhausen, of Minneapolis, Minn., attended as bride's maid of honor and bridesmaids were the Misses Kay Levenson of Crown Point, and Cheryl Hohman, of Culver. Maid of honor was Mrs. Kay Muehlhausen, of Culver, while flower girl was Holly Muehlhausen, also of Culver.

Wayne Hohman served as ring bearer as best man and usher were Elmer Spindt, of Bensenville, Ill., Donald Muehlhausen, of Culver, and Walter Muehlhausen, Jr., of Marshalltown, Iowa.

Given in burlesque by her father, the bride appeared in a gown of white organza and point d'Veise lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice, high bateau neckline and short sleeves banded in lace. The controlled skirt was bordered with lace and featured a detachable chapel-length train.

An organza pillbox hat trimmed with Venice lace secured the bride's three-tiered elbow-length veil of silk illusion. Her bouquet was a crescent arrangement of white daisies and roses.

The honor attendant was attired in a gown of blue silk organza featuring a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and cap sleeves. The floor-length dome skirt was fashioned with a floating back panel. She wore a floral plateau with a short veil and carried a crescent bouquet of blue and white daisies centered with pink sweetheart roses.

The gowns, headpieces and flowers of the other bridal attendants were identical to those of the honor attendant.

A floor-length blue tulle gown was worn by the flower girl. She carried a basket of white rose petals and wore a floral headpiece and white gloves.

The mother of the bride chose a suit of pale blue silk with matching accessories while the bridegroom's mother selected a pink lace dress with matching accessories. Each mother and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. L. G. Clatten, were gifted with white orchid corsages.

A reception was held for 250 guests immediately following the ceremony at The Culver Inn.

The couple will reside in Flagstaff, Arizona, where the bridegroom is a senior at Arizona State College. He is a member of Sigma Xi and Pi Sigma Epsilon fraternities. The bride attended Indiana University.

The Culver Home Demonstration Club meeting was held Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Wayne Kline. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Ferris Zechiel and Mrs. William Kline. Mrs. Wilfred Craft, president, opened the meeting by reading the thought for the month.

The theme "Friendship" was used by Mrs. William Kline for the devotional period. The scripture was read from Matthew 6: 1-4, followed by two poems, "Let Me Live In The House By The Side Of The Road" and "Ancient Prayer." The song of the month, "Annie Laurie" was led by Mrs. Zechiel and the birthday song was sung in unison for several members.

Mrs. Herman Siems presented the very interesting lesson, "Advertising." She showed several advertisements from magazines and newspapers to demonstrate that there is much psychology used in advertising and she also stated that $12 billion a year is spent on advertising.

During the business meeting 28 members answered roll call. It was decided to have the annual picnic with the Union Township 4-H girls as guests on Thursday, July 2. Mrs. Craft showed the yellow ribbon the club received for serving on the hostess committee for the May Coffee. A letter concerning Mental Health was read and Mrs. Guy Davis was appointed Mental Health chairman for the club.

Edward Froderman to Head Christian Science Church

EDWARD FRODERMAN

A call to use "spiritual power" to help solve the world's "thorny problems of human relations and social inequalities" greeted Christian Scientists at their Annual Meeting Monday.

Several thousand members from many states and countries attended the meeting at The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

A message from The Christian Science Board of Directors reaffirmed the church's conviction at the mightiest force on earth "the still small voice of universal Christian idealism."

All human thinking is being irred to its very depths, the message noted. But "the Mind of Christ surmounts divisions of creed and doctrine, and binds in the holy family all who love God and seek to do His will."

The election of Edward Froderman as the new president of the church for the coming year was announced.

His address to the gathering ascribed "spiritual perception" as a necessity for meeting today's great human responsibilities.

"This unparalleled hour is presenting an opportunity for each of us," he said. It has become essential to "make use of our God-given spiritual power."

Mr. Froderman is a former vice-president of a Chicago bank, signing in 1949 to enter the public practice of Christian Science healing. He moved to Boston in 1956 to serve as Manager of the church's Department of ranches and Practitioners. In 1961, he was appointed as a Trustee of The Christian Science Publishing Society, a position he still holds.

The new church president is a native of Bad-Salzungen, Germany, emigrating to the United States as a teen-ager. Living with relatives in Chicago, Mr. Froderman soon became interested in Christian Science and enrolled in the Sunday School. He went on to become First Reader and board chairman at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Chicago.

Revived religious stirrings in Eastern Europe were reported to the meeting by the Clerk, Gordon V. Comer. Applications from this region for membership in The Mother Church have begun to arrive again, ending many years of no communication, he said.

The retiring president, Mrs. Helen Wood Bauman, noted the "unlimited possibilities" open to humanity through the "healing-power of goodness" — the power "inherent in justice, mercy, truthfulness, and love" to overcome sin and disease.

This is "natural rather than miraculous," said Mrs. Bauman, editor of the church's religious periodicals.

"Energies of goodness are God-derived. They are equal to this troubled age because they are understood as divine laws and not merely personal virtues."

She quoted the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy: "The marvelous healing-power of goodness is the outflowing life of Christianity, and it characterized and dated the Christian era" (Miscellaneous Writings).

Closed-circuit television was used for the first time at the meeting, which annually draws an attendance of about 7,000 members, accommodated in four different auditoriums.

They heard reports from several church departments — including an announcement that more copies of Mrs. Eddy's book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" were sold during the past year than in any other year since its first publication (1875).

Wide and increasing audience response was reported for the church's radio series, "The Bible Speaks to You." The report told of an unusual innovation recently adopted as part of the church's effort to communicate a religious message effectively to a large general audience. People who are not Christian Scientists are being used as interviewers — with no script — to bring out questions that listeners would want to hear answered by the church speaker on a given subject.

Establishment of a new Christian Science Society in Nigeria during the past year brought to 54 the number of countries where branches of the church are located. It was noted. New cards and folders are being published for the first time in Hungarian, as well as Afrikaans, Arabic, and Hebrew. A new Greek edition of the church's periodical, "The Herald of Christian Science," was also announced.

About 4,500 Christian Science lectures were given all over the world since last June, more than ever before in a single year, according to one report. The names of three new appointees to the 29-member Board of Lectureship were also announced during the day: Martin N. Heafer of Houston, Texas; Thomas O. Poyser of Boston, Mass.; and Harry S. Smith of Atlanta, Georgia.

U. S. NAVY FILM SHOWN AT V.F.W. MEETING

At the V.F.W. meeting on Monday, June 8, approximately 22 members were shown an official U. S. Navy film entitled, "The U. S. Arriving."

The film was photographed last June as President Kennedy reviewed the elements of the First Naval Fleet and some shore bases. The colored movie, lasting about 3 minutes, shows many of the Navy's most modern weapons in action.

The film was obtained through Commander Samuel E. Perkins, USNR, who is a member of the U. S. Naval Reserve Company 9-14 of South Bend. Commander Perkins, who has been a resident of East Shore Drive, Culver, for many years, is a retired Foreign Service Officer. Arrangements were made by Gene Reister and Ray Houghton.

The more frequent showers and baths you will be taking during the hot summer will be more pleasant if your water is soft. Lindsay company experts say soft water is more refreshing because it washes away all the soap and dirt instead of leaving a thin film of scum on the skin as hard water does. You'll use less soap with soft water, too.

Before you wash any throw rug, baste a piece of fabric such as an old torn sheet to one edge. It makes it easier to pin on the clothesline.

Babson Discusses The World's Greatest Miracle

Miracle Of Birth Of Babies, Seeds

The greatest miracle, of course, is the conception and birth of a helpless baby with its unparalleled opportunities. It is said that one reason the Chinese nation has had such a long and matchless history is because the Chinese figure their children's age from nine months earlier than we do. Hence the mothers also give much more attention to what they do and think during those nine months.

Importance Of Seeds

Roger W. Babson

The next-wondrous miracle to the birth of babies is the "birth" of seeds. This will be the real subject of this week's column. I have just returned from the Evers Flower Farm at Lakeland, Fla., run and operated by Orris R. Evers who raises over 275,000 plants every spring and 100,000 more every fall. He is a graduate of the University of Florida and has a Master's Degree from Ohio State University. I mention this to show the importance of an education to a "farmer". This should be an inspiration to those college graduates who think that they must be doctors, lawyers, or insurance agents in order to build a large business and make a better, happier, more beautiful world. This my friend Evers is now doing. God bless him. He knows that every seed contains a miracle.

Each Seed A Little Computer

Two facts about seeds interest me intensely: the first is the billions of seeds — both vegetable and flower — going to waste every year. The head of one company which raises and sells only vegetable seeds sells over one hundred billion (100,000,000,000) live and active seeds each year. The second fact is that each seed is a complete factory. Had I the space I would prove this to every reader. Moreover, each "factory" knows exactly when to commence operating without the need for any labor union or any legislation. Each seed is a most marvelous automated device — far more extraordinary than any computer.

What Computers Are Now Seeking

Computers are a very wonderful invention; but they give out only what has been fed into them. This is probably true also of seeds; but nature "programs" the seed. As yet, computers do not think; but seeds apparently do "think" — at least they know when to sprout or burst their shell and grow into a vegetable or flower or into a magnificent oak tree. You say this is merely done by the seed "listening" to the sun. Or to put it another way, the sun "programs" the seed to send a sprout upward to form leaves, and a fiber downward to form roots. Truly it all is very wonderful.

Possibilities Of Computers

Computers also are wonderful; but none of the five leading computer manufacturing companies (a list will be sent gratis on request) will claim that their computers will work by doing their own thinking. They need to be "programmed", which means that the information must be fed into them by some human brain. Psychologists tell me that the time is coming when brain waves — in leaving our heads — will operate computers. I feel sure, too, that the day is coming when the computer will secure its knowledge from the rays of the sun, from the direction of the wind, or from other invisible data fed to it by nature.

Every Seed Is A Thinker

Now let me get back to my favorite subject of "seeds". Each seed is a miniature computer already being "programmed" by nature. It, however, depends greatly upon environment and almost wholly upon what has happened before. Let me again refer to the writings of Dr. Rufus Cole of Mt. Kisco, N. Y. Every seed proves his basic claim: That there is nothing new under the sun, and that what happens today is dependent upon all that has happened for generations before. Furthermore, seeds will someday become real economic forces, though this possibility is now almost entirely ignored. I wish I were a young man and could enjoy the great changes ahead of us; we have only tapped the great computer era! Even Edison once said to me: "Give me a few more years, and I would have seeds perform wonders such as the incandescent light and the electric motor have done for the industrial era."

Kitchen No Sanctuary

You would think that the kitchen, at the very least, would be free from invasion by bureaucrats — but it isn't.

The federal government has established a training program for embryo chefs by dipping into the treasury bowl for the dough needed to finance it.

Appropriately enough, one such course is being conducted in the kitchen of a hotel in Washington, the world's undisputed center for the concoction of out-of-this-world, overrich dishes a la boon-doggle.

Whether or not the culinary aspirants learn anything else, we'll wager a 20-layer cake against a doughnut that they'll become expert at cooking a goose — the taxpayer's, that is.

LOCAL STUDENTS RECEIVE DEGREES AT PURDUE UNIVERSITY

Purdue University's 112th commencement exercises, marking the completion of the 90th year of the land-grant school, were held Sunday, May 31, with exercises in both the morning and afternoon in the Edward C. Elliott Hall of Music at Lafayette.

Normally commencement is held only once a year for students completing their work in June, January or August; however, during the speeded-up program of World War II three commencements were held annually, accounting for the 112th commencement this year.

Approximately 2,360 students were candidates for baccalaureate or advanced degrees Sunday. Those who finished last August or at mid-term in January were eligible to return for commencement.

An additional 210 students were candidates for associate degrees after two years in engineering technology curricula.

Dr. Frederick L. Hovde, Purdue president, delivered the address to the candidates and also conferred the degrees.

Candidates for degrees from Culver included Stanley Evan Curtis, Route 1, Agriculture; Gary Urban Gretter, 322 Lake Shore Drive, Forestry; John William Robinson, 222 Marmont St., Electrical Engineering; John Carter Bays, 185 N. Terrace, Science; and Norman William Thomas, 110 N. Plymouth St., Agriculture.

COCKROACHES DEVELOP RESISTANCE TO INSECTICIDES

The German cockroach has developed a high degree of resistance to certain insecticides, says Glen Lehker, Purdue extension entomologist.

The German roach is a small, tan-colored species usually found in the kitchen. It is the most common of the several kinds of roach that may infest Indiana homes.

Homemakers who have difficulty in controlling roaches may be dealing with this particular species, Lehker says. They may also be using chlordane or one of the other chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides to which the roaches have become resistant.

The best material to kill resistant roaches is an 0.5 per cent diazinon spray, Lehker says. This is a phosphate material and like any roach control preparation, it must be applied properly to be effective. The secret is to get the spray behind and beneath built-in cabinets and into the many other places where roaches hide.

For a description of the German roach and how to control it, write the Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. 47907. Ask for mimeo E-23, How to Control Cockroaches. Single copies are free to Indiana residents.

CORN LEAF APHIDS INFEST 1963 CORN CROP

Corn leaf aphids reduced Indiana's 1963 corn crop by more than six per cent, reports Ray Everly, Purdue University research entomologist.

It was the heaviest infestation in recent years, he says, rising to the forefront in a year when other corn insect damage was average or lighter.

A check of 163 Indiana corn fields showed more than 90 per cent were infested with aphids. More than half the plants examined had aphids on them.

Bushel losses from European corn borer attacks were about the same from 1962 to 1963, with slightly more than one per cent loss in fields observed by entomologists. Areas in north-northwest and south-southwest Indiana, were hardest hit.

Everly says corn ear worm infestation was the lowest in eight years, with about .1 per cent loss in fields observed. The severe winter in late 1962 and early 1963 was probably responsible, with its extension far into southern states to reach the insect in its overwintering stage.

Cold weather was also partly responsible, Everly maintains, for reduced field infestation of Angoumois grain moth. This insect, which is primarily a storage problem, was found farther north in Indiana than ever before in 1962. In 1963, it was much less a problem.

In addition to insects, birds are also an enemy to corn. Everly reports that birds, primarily blackbirds, were responsible for about .5 per cent losses in fields observed. Hardest hit were localities near wooded areas. Starlings cause damage near populated areas.

But the major target for control or resistance research is becoming the corn leaf aphid. The insect is believed to be carried into Indiana by wind and by the time farmers have noticed infestation, most of the major damage is already done.

Aphids, which are plant lice, suck juice from the corn plant and limit the flow of nutrients in the stalk. Smaller ears and less extensive root systems are the result. Severe infestation can bring an accumulation of 15,000 to 20,000 insects on a single plant.

An infestation can reduce the ear size to where losses reach five bushels per acre.

DON'T WASTE THE ROAD

DRIVE IN ONE LANE AT A TIME!

Lane-changing is one of the more hazardous maneuvers in traffic and one which can disrupt the flow of traffic and cause others to be involved in accidents or near-misses, a trucking industry spokesman cautioned.

Speaking in connection with Indiana's trucking industry's April campaign, J. E. Nicholas, general manager of the Indiana Motor Truck Association, pointed out that new hazards are now involved in changing lanes because of our growing mileage of multiple-lane highways and expressways.

"Before you change lanes, you have to know what is behind you; not only what is directly behind you, but also what is behind and off to the side. The standard inside rear-view mirror on passenger cars will not give an adequate view. It leaves a large blind area to the left rear which can only be covered by an outside mirror," Nicholas said.

He added that the trucking industry has long recognized the value of large outside mirrors properly adjusted.

Having provided yourself with adequate mirrors, it is easier to change lanes safely. It is still your responsibility to signal before changing lanes and to make sure the way is clear," the trucking official warned.

JUSTING TO RETIREMENT

Can a man lead a satisfying life after retirement?

He can, answers Dr. Dorothy V. Mummery, family life specialist at Purdue University. Much of the unhappiness experienced after retirement is due to a person's failure to seek new ways of meeting the deep personality needs which all people have.

Many of a man's satisfactions are derived mainly from his work. This means that at retirement he has to find other ways of meeting his psychological needs. Otherwise his unmet needs put him under considerable stress and lead to bitterness and despair.

If wives and families recognize some of the retired man's psychological needs, they can help him adjust by finding new ways of meeting them.

Each of us has a need to feel loved and liked for our own sake, observes Dr. Mummery. Although the love of family is basic it is not sufficient to meet the human craving for affection and companionship. A man needs companionship from other men, too.

Many men find much of their male companionship associating with other men doing the same kind of work. When a man retires from a job, he also retires from this source of companionship.

For a few months he may continue to seek their companionship, ship, but no longer having the same interests, the same problems and successes, he feels that the men no longer enjoy his presence as they once did. Nor does he derive the same enjoyment from their company.

Thus, a man's successful adjustment to retirement may involve establishing connections with his own age group as opposed to his vocational or work group.

One of the best sources of companionship will be retirees. Of course to accept this requires an open acknowledgement that one is old (and retired). Some people prefer being isolated to being labeled old and refuse to join old age or senior citizen clubs for this reason. This reaction is probably because of the negative attitudes toward old age that exist in America, points out the specialist.

The change brought by retiring is less abrupt for the man who for many years has obtained part of his fellowship from lodge and church memberships. The common interest he has with these associates continues after retirement.

Then, too, a man who has enjoyed leisure time activities, such as fishing, bowling, furniture refinishing, can continue to have fellowship with his cronies of like interests, regardless of their age.

NEW PROCESS FOR DRYING CORN

Studies of a new process for drying corn offer hope for reducing damage in artificially dried corn and at the same time increasing capacity of continuous flow and batch dryers.

George H. Foster, U. S. Department of Agriculture agricultural engineer at Purdue University, reports progress on continuing studies of this new process. The "dryeration" process, as it is called, is a combination of drying and aeration.

Foster says the process works in this way:

The corn is dried in a batch or continuous flow dryer down to a moisture level of 16 to 18 per cent at fairly high air temperatures. It is transferred immediately without cooling to a temporary storage bin equipped for aeration. The corn is allowed to set for a few hours and steam itself before cooling is started.

Cooling is accomplished with airflow rates of about one-half cubic foot per minute per bushel. At these low airflow rates, nearly all the heat in the corn is utilized to further dry the grain, and it is possible to reduce the moisture content 2 to 3 per cent during cooling. The moisture removal is incident to the cooling process and accordingly is completed as fast as the grain is cooled.

Foster explains that overheating

ing shelled corn during drying or removing the moisture too fast can increase breakage in handling. In addition the milling properties of the corn can be impaired and susceptibility of the grain to molds and insect damage can be increased.

Foster and his associates have found three factors which when combined can help reduce such damage:

1. Stop rapid drying when the corn reaches a moisture level of 16-20 per cent.
2. Steam the corn after drying and before cooling.
3. Cool the corn slowly by aeration with low airflow rates.

These three factors were incorporated into the process, called "dryeration."

To store egg yolks, cover them with cold water and refrigerate, suggest Purdue University food specialists. They will keep up to three days.

Warm eggs before cooking them in the shell, recommend Purdue University food specialists. Cold egg shells tend to crack when they hit hot water.

In Indiana...

at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst's whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Indiana...beer goes with fun, with relaxation

Highlights from the life of the Apostle Paul will be featured at Christian Science services Sunday in the Bible Lesson entitled "God the Preserver of Man." Included will be Paul's words from II Timothy (ch. 4): "The Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom be glory for ever and ever."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this: "The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his heavenly Father, omnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering" (p. 387).

KICKING THE HABIT — An extreme way of cutting down on cigarette smoking was reported to Lowell Nussbaum, Indianapolis Star columnist. Nussbaum said he was told of a motorist who stopped at a red traffic signal, hopped from his car, raised the trunk lid and from the trunk took out a package of cigarettes. After removing one cigarette he replaced the pack in the trunk, closed the trunk, jumped back into the car and drove on.

Watch out for school children, especially if they're driving.

Free as a Bird

No worries, no responsibilities! A lot of us would gladly trade places with Wendy, just to share that wonderful "joy of living" that children feel so often, and adults experience so rarely.

"But what is there to be happy about?" you may be thinking. "Maybe Wendy has no worries, but I certainly have!"

Perhaps we forget that this world is in God's hands . . . and that, with God, nothing is impossible. We wear ourselves out seeking human solutions to our problems, when Divine help is always available if we will only ask.

Try it. Try bringing your worries and doubts to God this Sunday in your neighborhood Church. Hear God's promise of guidance and comfort for all who will give their lives to him in childlike trust. And let the Holy Spirit fill your troubled heart with lasting joy.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

All grades of meat are good for some purpose, remind Purdue University food specialists. When planning a meal, decide the type of meat dish to be served. Then select the meat cut and grade needed.

Create extra seating at the end of a long hall by placing a love seat there — against a fair-sized wall, suggest Purdue University home furnishings specialists. This could be a private retreat for reading or conversing.

Don't leave partly used bottles and packages of insecticides around during the winter, warn Purdue University extension entomologists. They should be marked and stored away from children and pets.

Sweaters and knitted dresses need special care for long wear and good fit. Clothing specialists at Purdue University advise folding these garments and storing them in a drawer.

Hoosier potato growers and local dealers in fall producing areas had 345,000 cwt. of potatoes in storage on Jan. 1 State-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University say this is one per cent higher than the Jan. 1, 1962, figure.

Super phosphate (0-20-0) fertilizer scattered in the bedding of the sheep barn will help keep the barn dry and free from odors, say Purdue University extension animal scientists.

Start gloxinia tubers now, Purdue University horticulturists recommend. They need heat and moisture to get a good start. Plant them so the "scooped out" side is up.

Before purchasing grass seed, consider seeding simple mixtures of orchard grass, brome grass or timothy with clover and alfalfa in separate fields, suggest Purdue University extension agronomists.

Argos Topples Culver, 8-2, In League Action

Lakeville Tie, 6-6, Suspended

By EARL MISHLER

The Culver Indians suffered their first Marshall County summer league loss since June of 1962, Monday night at Argos, 8-2. Last Thursday's game at Lakeville was suspended after 7 innings, tied at 6-6, to be completed July 8 at Culver.

At Lakeville, Coach Gene Crosley's boys fought from behind twice, led by Jim Boswell and Paul Liette, both of whom had three 3-for-4. Junior righthander Bruce Lindvall pitched four shut-out innings in relief after lefty Jim Lewis was touched for six runs in three innings.

With senior stars Boswell and Lewis absent Monday (at Boy's State), Coach Crosley was forced to go to his bench, which proved to be much less convincing than his basketball depth. Mental and mechanical errors marred Culver's patched-up defense. Liette, who had lost only once before in his pitching career, allowed only one earned run, but contributed two throwing errors to Argos' scoring.

Meanwhile John Kibort stopped the Indians on just five hits for the victory.

Culver travels to Bourbon Thursday evening for a county league game against Triton. Box Score: (the Lakeville box will be published after completion of the game):

JUNIOR LEAGUERS LOSE TO LAPAZ

Unearned runs also hindered Coach Crosley's Junior League team. Pitcher George Babchuck allowed only four hits and no earned runs, but also made two throwing errors, as the B-15 squad lost at LaPaz, 4-2. Stu Lowry had two of Culver's six hits. Line Score:

Culver	000	110	0-2	6	3
LaPaz	000	310	x-4	4	2

2 BH - S. Lowry, Loser, Babchuck (0-1).

BASEBALL NOTES

Culver's Sam Lowry, playing for Winamac's Post 71 American Legion team, pitched three shut-out innings in relief at Logansport Saturday night. Post 71 was defeated, 1-0. Sam yielded one scratch single, walked none, and struck out three, but was not involved in the decision. Rick Ervin, another CHS alumnus, played in right field for Winamac.

Friday dinner guests of Mrs. Trula McKee were Mr. and Mrs. Vern McKee and daughters.

Arrangements For Swimming Classes Being Made

Members of the Culver Town Board and Union Township Trustee Glen Overmyer have been holding combined meetings in an effort to set up the operation of the usual summer swimming classes at the town park beach. Full arrangements have not been made but will be forth-coming in the next few days.

Coach Gene Crosley, who formerly conducted the classes is unable to do so this summer due to the heavy schedule of the Driver Training classes and summer baseball program. The combined efforts of the town board and trustee hinges on the arrangements that can be made with the regular life guard and the part time life guard. When the regular life guard returns from his schooling with the Red Cross life saving school, he will be certified as a swimming class instructor.

The first TUNE UP race of the season, which was sailed last Sunday on unpredictable Lake Maxinkuckee, was unusual in that there were 11 boats that started and that the weather gave a sample of everything to come this summer.

The wind was gusty which gave Jerome Zechiel a good start which he maintained all through the race, finishing far ahead of the others.

There was a bit of rain, there was a dead calm — in short, it was a test and a real TUNE UP.
