Town Board Topics

Bids covering the purchase of gasoline and oil for city owned vehicles and for fuel oil, presented by Gordon's Texaco Station and Standard Oil Company were opened by members of the Culver Town Board at their regular meeting last Monday evening, June 15. The bids were studied and discussed by the board, but no action was taken. Due to the conditions stated in the bids, the board wished to study each bid more thoroughly before accepting any bid. The bids were turned over to the city attorney so a study could be made of the various federal and state taxes on gas and oil could be ironed out according to the wording of the two bids, and the exact price could be determined.

The offer to sell a street grader to the Town of Culver for the sum of $2,000, was rejected by the board. It was their opinion that this piece of equipment was not needed at this time. The grader offered was not suitable for the work needed to be done on Culver city streets at the present time.

In order to have a more complete accounting and also detailed information as to the amount of money needed to operate the Town Park, the board discussed the proposal of establishing a separate fund, called the Park Fund. At present the operation leaves much to be desired, in that funds allotted to the general fund, can be spent for any need that has been established for the general fund. This may be for the park or any other operation so specified.

By creating a separate Park Fund, all monies needed for the operation of the park would be specifically allotted for that purpose, and that purpose alone. Revenue derived from rentals, leases, etc., would be put in this fund and used only in the operation of the park. This method would allow clear, concise information concerning the complete operation of the city park.

After the discussion, the board passed an first reading, Ordinance No. 182, which will establish such a fund and such fund will be a part of the town budget and tax levy structure beginning with the coming budget and tax levies this August.

In passing the ordinance, the Town Board has taken a step forward and it certainly should be done. As confusing as rules and regulations are concerning the expenditure of town funds, this step will at least clear up part of that confusion, and detailed information can be acquired by examining an authorized division of city finances.

The situation of delinquent water and sewer bills has always been a headache to not only this Town Board, but preceding boards. The present board, in order to clear this situation up in the Town of Culver, took definite steps to correct that condition.

The Board ordered notices to be sent to all water users, who are two quarters delinquent in their water bills, stating the delinquents had one week to clear their water accounts or the water would be shut off at the meter. If payment then is not forthcoming, the amount would be certified in the County Auditor's office and become a tax lien on the property in question.

The town attorney was instructed to prepare an amendment to the present sewage contract, which will give the same authority to the board in regard to delinquent sewage charges.

Water and sewage privileges are services established by the Town of Culver. By agreement, these services are paid for by the user. It is the user's obligation when he orders water and sewage (Continued on Page 2)

Sites For Proposed New High School Discussed

The consideration of a report on available sites for a new high school for Culver Community Schools was the main item of business at the Monday evening's meeting of the Board of School Trustees.

Glenn Overmyer reviewed information secured regarding sites in the vicinity of Culver. The study of possible tracts of land took into consideration the availability of water, sewage, and other services as well as the location with relation to present school buildings. It was reported that two areas north of the present Culver School and south of State Road 10 seemed to include adequate acreage and to offer accessibility to utilities.

A third site which was checked by the school officials is east of new State Road 17 along the south side of the road running west from Mill Street. This is located on the George Franz farm. The fourth tract under consideration is located southwest of the cemetery to the south of Culver.

After extensive discussion, the School Board directed Superintendent Frank McLane to arrange for an early inspection of the proposed sites by Dr. Wilber Stewart of Schoolhouse Planning Division of the State Department of Public Instruction. Approval by this agency and by the State Board of Health must be secured before any further steps can be taken to secure a location for the proposed high school.

During the business meeting, the School Board also received transfer certificates which had been submitted by a number of North Bend residents, requesting transfers to Knox for approximately 40 pupils. The requests included pupils who attended Knox-Center Schools during the 1963-1964 term. After a study of the requests, the School Board members voted to limit the issuance of transfers for 1964-1965 to those high school pupils who had attended Knox High School on legal transfers during the 1963-1964 school term.

The matter of possible sale of the abandoned Ora and North Bend school buildings was discussed. Attorney George Stevens, who attended the Monday evening meeting, was asked to provide information regarding the legal steps to be taken in selling the buildings.

In addition to the present members of the School Board, Woodie McGlothlin, Oscar Wesson and Everett Dowd attended the meeting and participated in the discussions. These men will become members of the School Board on July 1 when the terms of Eldon Davis, Glenn Overmyer, and Donald Taylor will terminate.

Culver Military Academy has awarded sabbatical leaves of absence or study grants to 11 of its teachers and staff members for graduate work this summer.

The 11 are among 20 members of the Academy staff who will attend summer sessions at colleges throughout the country during July and August. Sabbaticals are granted under a regular program at Culver for teachers with the required years of service. In addition, the Academy makes grants available to all of its teachers under the Alexander Frederick Fleet Fund.

Two Culver teachers will spend the summer studying abroad. Frank A. Walaitis and John F. Roos, members of the language department, will travel in Germany and Italy, respectively. A third member of the language department, Burton L. Curry, will study French at Middlebury (Vt.) College.

In addition to Roos, Alexander Fleet Fund grants have been made to the following:

L. Kingsley Moore, for study in Soviet government and foreign affairs at Notre Dame University; Richard W. Gimbel, for study at Bread Loaf School of English, Middlebury College; William J. MacQuillan, study in forensics at Ohio State University; Gerald Thomas, study in mathematics at Brown University; Ronald Noel, study in Spanish at Indiana University; Robert Bauman, completion of master's degree work at Stanford University; Colin Stetson, for study in physical education at I.U.; Kermit C. Zieg, to attend a workshop for controllers at I.U.

Two other Academy instructors will also attend summer sessions. Richard J. McKay will participate in a study program in counseling and guidance at Boston University and Carl Eckert will enroll in courses in history at the University of Michigan.

Two CMA Faculty Members Receive Fellowships

Private foundations have awarded fellowships to two members of the Culver Military Academy staff for graduate study this summer.

Melvyn A. Estey, chairman of the history department, has been awarded a Lilly Fellowship in American history. He will study at Indiana University.

Robert A. Reichley, assistant director of public relations and editor of the alumni magazine, has been named a Newspaper Fund Fellow for graduate study in journalism at Syracuse University.

Estey has received a leave of absence from summer duties as director of the Woodcraft Camp at Culver to pursue graduate

7,000 Attend Strawberry Festival

Approximately 7,000 people jammed the small town of Leiters Ford last Thursday evening to attend the 11th Annual Strawberry Festival. Serving started about 4 p.m. and continued throughout the evening, ending approximately at 11 p.m. The huge serving tents dished out strawberries in every conceivable form and style.

Miss Cheryl Eastman, a sophomore of Aubbeenaubee Township High School won the coveted title of Strawberry Queen. She was crowned in an impressive ceremony by Miss Indiana, Marcia Pinkstaff and Miss Nancy Crill, last year's queen.

A 29-unit parade started the evening activities. Culver High School Band marched in the parade. Winning floats were: Aubbeenaubee Scrabble Club, first; Mt. Hope Church, second; IOOF Rebecca Lodge, third; and Fulton County Rural Youth, fourth.

In the antique car contest, Harold Brown, Star City, took first place with a 1914 Maxwell; second place was Darl Kenbel, Winamac, with a 1923 Dodge; and third place was won by Steve Shafer, Lucerne with a 1929 Ford.

Parking arrangements for the huge crowd was made by utilizing several adjoining fields to the activities, yet streets and roads were lined with cars as much as a mile from the activities.

Other entertainment for the evening was the Logansport Shrine Motorscooter Corp. Square dancing was also a part of the program. There were several rides for the kiddies and concessions for the young people.

services to pay for them. There should be no delinquents. Every user must pay his share for the service received.

ODDS AND ENDS — Mrs. Clyde Shively discussed the problem of burning garbage in the large incinerator located on her trailer court property located at the corner of Liberty and Pearl Streets. The incinerator, which was built by her late husband and others, is now being used by several people. According to Mrs. Shively, the burning of garbage is creating a nuisance. She asked the Town Board if there was a city ordinance pertaining to the burning of garbage inside the city limits, and to the present time no such ordinance has been found. The board informed Mrs. Shively that if such ordinance did exist, it would be enforced. If no such ordinance existed, the board would take the matter under advisement for further consideration. Several businessmen were present to discuss the possibility of opening an alley back of the businesses that face Lake Shore Drive, from Liberty Drive to State Street. Part of the property had been deeded to the town for that purpose several years ago. The board stated they would make an effort to acquire the necessary footage to open an alley so those businesses could have access to the back of their establishments. 14 members of Boy Scout Troop 290, with Marshall Brown, troop committee chairman and Roland Behake, Patrol Dad, attended the board meeting as observers.

This statement was issued today by A. J. Bochicchio, Manager of the Veterans Administration in Indianapolis, following several inquiries from those who have been approached by such salesmen.

"The VA does not endorse any product, project or commercial endeavor for the profit of individuals, organizations or corporations," Mr. Bochicchio said. Mr. Bochicchio added that the VA neither endorses nor condemns door-to-door solicitations in behalf of veterans. Those who suspect claims made in such endeavor should check with their Better Business Bureau or any similar community organization.

Miss Beverly Thomas Speaks Wedding Vows
With Nicholas Knoerzer In Sunday Ceremony

MRS. NICHOLAS KNOERZER

Baskets of white gladioli and yellow daisies graced the altar of the Maxinkuckee Methodist Church for the Sunday afternoon wedding at 2:30 o'clock on June 14 which united in marriage Miss Beverly Thomas and Nicholas Knoerzer.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Thomas, West 18th B Road, Culver.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Phil Wallstead, Calumet City, Ill., former Culver resident.

Rev. Clyde Beckner, pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring rites.

Mrs. Richard Gunder, pianist, accompanied Miss Carol Heiser, vocalist, who sang, "Oh, Promise Me."

Given in marriage by her father.

er, the bride was lovely in her bridal gown which featured a Chantilly lace bodice with a Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves which formed bridal points at her wrists. The floor-length skirt was fashioned with three tiers of lace topped with a full skirt of organza, caught up at various points with roses. Her elbow-length veil of illusion fell gracefully from a crown of tiny pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and yellow rosebuds.

Miss Kay Thomas, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and appeared in a lemon yellow silk dress with a top of lace applique. Her short veil was topped with a pearl crown and she carried a bouquet of yellow and white daisies.

Richard Knoerzer served his brother as best man.

Robert Parker and Jerry Drudge, cousin of the bridegroom, ushered.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Thomas selected a two-piece beige eyelet dress and white accessories.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Wallstead, chose a two-piece pale green suit of lace and added beige accessories. Both mothers were gifted with corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the Culver Lions Den. Those serving were Mrs. Arthur Birk, Mrs. Jon Lewis, and Mrs. Robert Parker.

Miss Ellen Pletka, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of Culver High School and the bridegroom graduated in 1963 from Culver High School.

After a short honeymoon, the newlyweds will be at home at 40 Webb Street, Calumet City, Ill.

Jessie Hartle, Leiters Ford Resident, Dies

Mrs. Jessie Hartle, 80, a life-long resident of the Leiters Ford community, died at 12:30 p.m. Sunday in the Woodlawn Hospital at Rochester where she had been a patient since May 20.

Mrs. Hartle was born May 1, 1884, near Leiters Ford to John and Rebecca Hood Wagoner and was married in 1902 to Walter Hartle who preceded her in death in 1949.

Mrs. Hartle was a member of the Methodist Church, the W.S.-C.S. of the church, Rebekah Lodge and the New Idea Club, all of Leiters Ford. For several years she was a substitute mail carrier on a Leiters Ford rural route.

Survivors include two sons, O. C. Hartle of LaPorte and Vernard Hartle at home; a stepson, Charles Hartle of Culver; four grandchildren; eight great-grandchildren; and a brother, Olin Wagoner of Rochester. A daughter, Naomi Sanns, and a son, Gerald, preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. today at the Grossman Funeral Home at Argos with Rev. Theodore Roberts, pastor of the Leiters Ford Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in the Leiters Ford IOOF Cemetery.

CHILDREN PROFIT FROM SUMMER PLAY

School's out! Children have several months of freedom, but they also may have several months of loneliness if they don't have playmates their own age.

If your child doesn't have playmates nearby, provide opportunities for him to play and visit with congenial friends several times a week, recommends Dr. Dorothy V. Mummery, family life specialist at Purdue University.

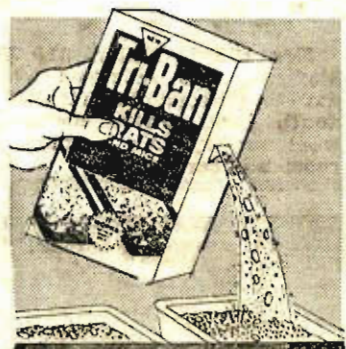

Encourage your child to bring a pal along on family picnics and to dinner occasionally. Then do your part in welcoming the visitors. Be neither over-critical nor over-indulgent. Treat them understandingly, but firmly when necessary, as you do your own children.

Visiting among youngsters is influenced greatly by the parents' attitude. Your attitude is important in helping your child feel comfortable when his friends come to the house, and in making the guests feel it is fun to come.

Parents can help their children become socially mature by providing happy play experiences with other children. Dr. Mummery says. These experiences foster friendliness in children, help them feel at ease and comfortable when their friends come to play. These feelings will carry over to the social situations of adult life.

AREA HOLSTEINS SET NEW PRODUCTION LEVELS

New, officially recognized milk and butterfat records by Registered Holstein cows in this area were underscored in a special report from The Holstein-Friesian Association of American.

Culver Lieu Della Betty 4597927, a five-year-old, had 15,829 pounds of milk and 695 pounds of butterfat in 329 days. Culver Maud Dictator Kate 4630646, a four-year-old, had 17,074 pounds of milk and 683 pounds of butterfat in 391 days. Culver Lad Dictator Julie 4907903, a three-year-old, had 18,614 pounds of milk and 682 pounds of butterfat in 358 days. Culver Joe Dictator Cherry 4907149, a three-year-old, had 17,561 pounds of milk and 648 pounds of butterfat in 343 days. Culver Dictator King Becky 3975-

346, an eight-year-old, had 15,607 pounds of milk and 622 pounds of butterfat in 319 days. All are owned by John A. Newman & Sons, Culver.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 7,500 pounds of milk and 275 pounds of butterfat by the average U.S. dairy cow, notes the national Holstein Association.

Purdue University supervised the sampling, weighing and testing operations in cooperation with the Holstein organization's herd and breed improvement programs.

DOG TICKS ABUNDANT

American dog ticks are unusually abundant throughout Indiana this spring, reports Glen Lehker, Purdue University extension entomologist. They attach themselves not only to dogs, but also persons who go into vacant lots, fields and woods, where these ticks are most likely to be found.

You can eliminate these pests from tall grass and weeds around the house by treating the area with a DDT spray or dust, says the entomologist.

Ten per cent DDT dust can be applied at the rate of one-half pound per 1,000 square feet. Apply the DDT 25 per cent emulsifiable concentrate — two quarts in each 12 gallons of water — at the rate of one gallon of spray to each 1,000 square feet. Ticks remain near ground level, Lehker adds, so it isn't necessary to spray or dust higher than two feet on brush and shrubs. One treatment will give season-long protection.

A four per cent malathion dust is excellent for eliminating ticks on dogs and also will save the owner tedious hand picking, Lehker says. Insect repellents containing diethyl toluamide or other approved repellents will help keep the ticks off children and others who go into infested areas. Be sure to follow label directions.

Dr. and Mrs. A. T. DeGroot from TCU, Fort Worth, Texas, spent Sunday and Monday with their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Warner. Other Monday evening dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Park Wickizer and Mr. Wickizer's mother, Mrs. Mae Wickizer, of Culver.

VACATION CLOTHES

Whether you are vacationing on a cross country trip, an overseas tour or visiting relatives in another city, you can increase your enjoyment by planning your vacation costumes.

Begin with a list of places you will visit and the activities scheduled, suggests Mrs. Bonita Farmer, clothing specialist at Purdue University.

Consider luggage limitations of how you will be traveling — by car, plane, train or ship. Consider the dress requirements or where you will be staying — in homes, motels, hotels or camps.

Plan the clothing to wear enroute as carefully as you do your destination clothes. If you prefer shorts for car travel, have a skirt to cover them when going into restaurants and on shopping and touring jaunts.

Comfortable shoes are a necessity — be sure you have walked many miles in them before the trip, advises the specialist.

Select garments from your wardrobe that are wrinkle resistant, comfortable, and dark in color so soil will not show. Constant packing is hard on clothes, so you may want to take old favorites rather than buy new ones.

Vacation time is a good time to leave fussy, frilly party dresses at home, says Mrs. Farmer. Instead, choose a multi-purpose dinner dress or jacket dress that reveals a dressy sheath when the jacket is removed.

If you plan a lengthy trip through different climates, consider a jumper-blouse combination. You can wear the jumper as a sleeveless dress in hot climates.

You may need to include in your packing plan a raincoat and rainboots, a sweater that can double as a blouse or wrap and a light or heavy coat depending upon the season.

Mrs. Farmer says fabrics that are good travelers include those containing polyester fibers, resin treated cottons, and triacetate. Firmly knit suits and jersey dresses are also good choices.

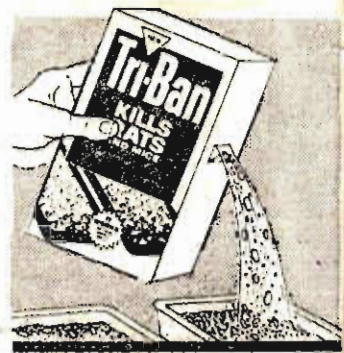

SHADE FOR HOGS

Hot, humid weather frequently becomes reality with shocking suddenness. This kills unprotected hogs, remind Jim Foster and Dick Hollandbeck, Purdue University animal scientists.

A 200-pound market hog requires about eight square feet of shade for free circulation of air. Mature sows and boars should be allowed 12 to 15 square feet of shade.

The animal scientists point out that in many cases additional shade area must be provided for confinement feeding set-ups. Most of these provide a maximum of six square feet of shade per hog. Corn crib picketing may be extended over part of the feeding floor for additional shade.

RESPECT THE FLAG — FLYING OR LAUNDERING IT

Fly the American flag proudly on holidays, or every day, except in inclement weather. The rule is to place the blue field, or union, to the flag's own right if displaying vertically, to the observer's left if displaying horizontally.

Respect demands that the flag never be allowed to touch the ground, reminds Elkin Minter, Purdue University home management specialist.

The flag should never be displayed so it is needlessly exposed to dirt, but if it does become soiled, it may be laundered, she continues.

Fortunately, most flags are made of washable fabrics such as cotton sheeting, cotton bunting, wool, nylon, or a nylon-and-wool blend called "nylanin."

Before washing, pre-treat soiled edges and spots by rubbing lightly with a soft brush and thick soap or detergent suds. If the flag is labeled machine-washable, follow printed directions. Otherwise, hand wash the flag with warm water and suds in a deep tub or bathtub.

Never twist, wring, or rub the fabric against itself. Rinse well, using cool water as the last rinse, and roll in a large towel to extract excess moisture. Hang the flag on the clothesline in the same manner as for display. Machine washable flags may be machine dried.

When almost dry, press the flag lightly on the reverse side with a moderately hot iron — using straight strokes parallel to the stripes. If the stars are appliqued, pad the board with a towel under the blue field. Fold the flag loosely and store it.

There are many days when it is especially fitting and proper to display the Stars and Stripes, Miss Minter says. These are New Year's Day-January 1, Inauguration Day-January 20, Lincoln's Birthday-February 12, Washington's Birthday-February 22, Army Day-April 6, Mother's Day-second Sunday in May.

NO SMOKING — The recent report indicating that cigarettes may cause lung cancer served to remind Hoosier oldsters that the 1905 Indiana General Assembly passed a law banning cigarettes in the state. The law prohibited the manufacture, sale, exchange or barter of cigarettes and provided a fine of $25 to $50 upon a first conviction and a fine of $10 to $500 and up to a six months jail sentence for a second conviction. In 1909 the law was amended to apply only to minors but it is still on the books.

ALL SAINTS — In the quiet little town of St. Leon in northern Dearborn County there stands beautiful old St. Joseph's Church built in 1859. The town, which has a population of between 300 and 400, once bore the name of the church, St. Joseph, but in the early 1900's the name was changed to St. Leon to avoid having it confused with St. Joe, a town in Dekalb County. Despite the official change in name, some old timers still call the Dearborn County town St. Joe.

ELECTRIC POWER... Indiana's Most Abundant Resource

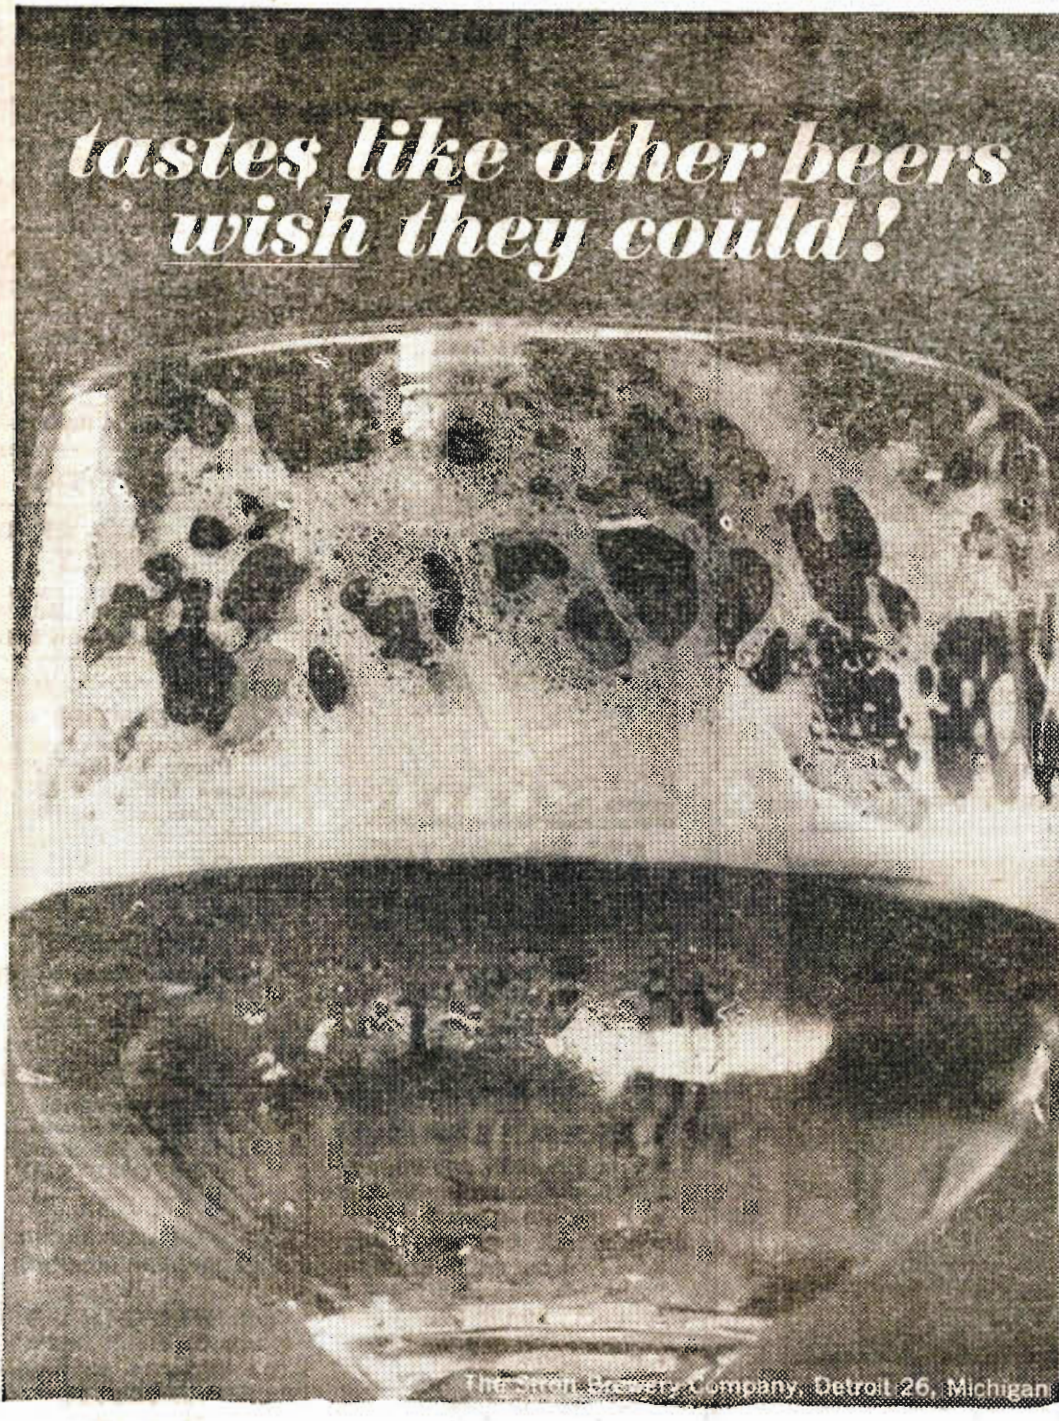

NOW IT GOES
FOUR TIMES AS FAR

Imagine a golfer who could drive a ball 1000 yards! Just as golfers continually try to improve their game, Indiana's Five Investor-Owned Electric Companies strive to improve operating efficiencies. In recent years, methods have been developed to make a ton of coal produce nearly four times more electricity than it did in 1920. Advances such as this are just one reason why the average price per kilowatt-hour of electricity has steadily gone down. Research, coupled with large investments in expansion and modernization results in more efficiency with the best possible service at the lowest possible rates for you.

Babson Discusses Possibilities Of World War III

Southeast Asia Must Remain Free

Up until the present time, I had not been immediately concerned about the possibility of World War III; but with the developments in South Vietnam, I sent to Wellesley for my expert on international affairs, Donald W. K. Chnn.

Roger W. Babson

Conditions In Cuba
With Cuba so near to us here in Florida, it receives considerable space in the leading daily papers. Of course, none of us in Florida want to do anything to help Castro. We are very much opposed to his position regarding our reconnaissance planes flying over Cuba, and are provoked over his cutting off water and other supplies from our important base at Guantanamo Bay in East Cuba. We have owned this base since we freed Cuba from Spain 66 years ago.

On the other hand, everyone in Florida, especially in Miami, feels it would be a mistake to attempt another blockade of Cuba, particularly against Britain's ships. It has been many years since I personally have been to Cuba, but delegations which have been recently feel that if we can avoid using force, Cuba will die on the vine, so to speak.

Importance Of Vietnam
Mr. Chnn feels strongly that the real trouble spot in the world is South Vietnam. Laos and Cambodia compound the difficulty.

Cyprus, and even the African trouble spots, are not to be compared with the Southeast Asia problem. Congress should give President Johnson and Sec'y. McNamara the money necessary to protect South Vietnam. It is a key spot for checking the Communist spread in Southeast Asia. As long as the Peking Government can be held to the Chinese mainland, I believe there will be no war between the United States and Russia.

If however, Vietnam should be lost to the Communists, the Chinese might be able to break through to the rich resources to the south. This would not only give the Chinese the necessary food for their people, but would bring several other nations immediately into the conflict to protect their own economic interests in Southeast Asia.

Southeast Asia
To begin with, France has large commercial interests in Southeast Asia. I personally believe that President de Gaulle went on his recent trip to Mexico and other countries to line up allies to prevent a collapse of Southeast Asia. De Gaulle recognizes that this would mean a great financial loss, and also a loss of prestige, to France.

But it could bring into the conflict other countries such as the Netherlands, Great Britain, Japan, and possibly the Philippines. This would not necessarily involve the United States and Russia at first; but it could easily lead to World War III. Naturally, the United States does not want another World War at any time; but the Administration is particularly anxious to avoid such a catastrophe before the elections are over in November. Furthermore, Russia is now buying food-stuffs to make life more livable for her own people and for those of her satellites. If we should lose Vietnam and if the Chinese Communists should break through to the resources of Southeast Asia, the situation could worsen drastically.

What About Formosa?

I assume that our warships are now patrolling the waters in the vicinity of Formosa. At present our chief interest is Formosa — more than it is Chiang Kai-shek, who is satisfied with things as they are since he represents China in the United Nations. If, however, Red China should be admitted to the UN, as de Gaulle and certain other leaders desire, it would be a great disappointment to Chiang Kai-shek and to his wife. I do not see clearly how both Formosa and Red China could have representation in the United Nations, but this may be possible. Today, Formosa serves as a guard to the United States. We fought hard to get it; we would long hesitate to give it up.

This brings me back to the nub of my discussion on the possibilities of World War III. As long as we are able to hold South Vietnam and to keep the status quo, I have no fear of World War III in the reasonable future. If, on the other hand, the Communists should break through, it could so dislocate France, Britain, the Netherlands, the Philippines, and especially Japan, that it might start World War III. In another weekly column, I will discuss Japan in detail.

Model Railroaders Invited To Visit HO Layout At CMA

Scale model railroaders are invited to visit without cost the HO layout of the Culver Military Academy Model Railroad Club at a two-day open house June 20 and 21.

The Club layout will be open Saturday, June 20, from 9 a.m. until noon, from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday, June 21, the layout will be open from 10 a.m. until noon and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

The Culver Model railroad is one of the largest in the United States. It includes over one quarter mile of track and allows the simultaneous operation of seven main line trains and four large terminal yards.

The Club has 50 model steam locomotives, almost 50 Diesels, and several complete famous "name trains."

Visitors may bring their own equipment or run Culver rolling stock. The Club does not have any overhead catenary for trolleys or electric locomotives.

The Culver Model Railroad Club is one activity in an extensive program of hobbies for cadets enrolled at the Academy. The layout was built over a period of ten years under the direction of Colonel Edward Payson, who is also chairman of the Academy's Music and Art department.

The layout is located on the ground floor of the Dining Hall near the main entrance gate to the Academy.

Children will not be admitted to the layout room, but there are ample windows for viewing the operations of the trains.

The Academy will not be in session June 20 and 21. However, visitors are welcome to stroll around the campus. Culver is the country's largest college preparatory school with an enrollment of 850 students in grades 8 through 12.

Mrs. Herman Gardner and daughter Susie, Mrs. Leo Warren and daughter Wanda, Mrs. Ted Thurin and daughter Linda, Miss Betty Ricciardi, Miss Sue Cole, and Mrs. Jack Taylor attended a tea for the Girls' State Delegates Sunday afternoon at the River Park American Legion Post Home in South Bend.

The first chapter of Genesis — coupled with explanatory passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy — will form the nucleus of the Christian Science Bible Lesson this Sunday entitled "Is the Universe, Including Man, evolved by Atomic Force?"

The Golden Text is from Psalms (33:6): "By the word of the Lord were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth." And from Science and Health: "All that is made is the work of God, and all is good" (p. 521).

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill and Mrs. Charles Simmons returned to Culver Friday, June 12, from Decatur, Mich., where they enjoyed a week's fishing trip.

FARMERS WITHOUT WHEAT ALLOTMENTS MAY FILE

Operators of farms without a wheat allotment may file an application for a "New Farm" allotment for 1965 prior to July 1, 1964.

Farmers are reminded that requests for allotments are limited to those farms that have zero allotments. A producer must also receive more than 50% of his income from the farm to be eligible for an allotment.

Producers may grow and sell as much wheat in 1965 as they wish. However, to participate in the 1965 Voluntary Wheat Program, or to be eligible for 1965 Wheat Price Support, the producer must harvest an acreage of wheat within the farm allotment.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

As Advertised in Farm and Home Section

Farm-action programs of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service trace back to the early 1930's when farmers and city people alike were struggling against the effects of a nationwide depression. ASCS programs today — as in the past 30 years — have a major role in the fight against poverty and rural decline.

Commodity crop-adjustment programs were the first of the measures provided by Congress in the fight against rural poverty; it had been proved previously that farm prices could not be protected where supplies were unlimited.

There are approximately 500,000 farms growing tobacco in this country, and the average tobacco acreage per farm is about 2 acres. For flue-cured and burley tobacco — which account for about 90 percent of total U.S. tobacco production — more than one-third of the farms have allotments of 1 acre or less; about 55 percent have allotments of 2 acres or less.

In the case of wheat, more than a million farms have allotments of less than 15 acres, and these farms represent 67 percent of all wheat allotment farms.

More than half of the corn loans, more than a third of the wheat loans, and some 60 percent of the soybean loans are for $1,500 or less. Many grain loans are below $500. This is true of a third of grain sorghum loans, 45 percent of the loans on oats, and a third of the loans on rye.

Price supports enable the small farmer to plan his operation with a certain security. He knows in advance that the price for his crop will be at a certain level — reflecting the steady influence of the loan. But whether or not the producer takes out a loan on his crop, he benefits from price support. The programs hold up the general level of commodity prices, helping small operators most because these are the farmers whom low prices are most likely to force out of business.

Aided by farm-action programs, gross farm income has been moving ahead at a slightly faster rate than the farmer's costs, and this has benefited rural business. In the past 3 years, the increase in gross income has funneled an additional $8 billion into rural communities — and most of these dollars have wound up in the cash registers of small-town retailers and farm supply dealers.

Studies by USDA and university economists in recent years have indicated that, without commodity programs, realized net farm income would decline between 40 and 50 percent, seriously affecting even the producers on non-supported commodities.

More than 2 million farm families and farm workers' families realize a net of less than $3,000 a year. Better than a third of a million additional families net between $3,000 and $4,000.

To help make price supports work, ASCS Activities include loans for building farm storage facilities, and loans for drying and other equipment to operate storage space more efficiently. A farmer may also earn storage payments by resealing his grain stored in his own bin.

The Agricultural Conservation Program, in effect since 1936, helps the small farmer make improvements on his farm that he could not afford to make without cost-sharing assistance. About one-third of the farms participating in ACP are under 100 acres; about one-half receive payments of $100 or less. In addition, for any farmer who earns less than $200 of ACP cost-sharing assistance at regular rates, a "small payment" increase is provided.

ASCS emergency programs often keep the smaller and poorer farmer in business through a period of natural disaster such as flood or drought. Emergency feed grain sales make feed available at a price the small farmer can pay, preventing profiteering and protecting livestock prices by helping prevent the forced selling of stock from feed-short farms and ranches.

Emergency conservation assistance, in addition to the regular ACP, can be made available to aid farmers when lands are damaged by natural disaster — a severe blow especially to the smaller and poorer farmers. To repair damage done to farms by floods, earthquakes, drought, and wind-storm, some 64 counties in 10 states received such emergency aid last year, amounting to $4.4 million. Twenty-four Indiana Counties have been approved this year.

Laws authorizing various ASCS Programs include such provisions as directing the Secretary of Agriculture to protect the interest of tenants, sharecroppers, and small producers; providing for the division of payments among such producers; guarding against the displacement of tenants or any unjustified change in relationships which would increase the landlord's payments; providing for the payment of "fair and reasonable" wages to sugar crop workers.

COTTONY MAPLE SCALE INJURY

Populations of cottony maple scale have been building up in northwestern Indiana and can become a serious pest throughout the state, reports Glen Lecker, Purdue University extension entomologist.

Mature scales resemble strings of popcorn attached to the underside of the branches, he explains. These insects suck the sap, causing the trees to be weakened and susceptible to borer attack. Heavily infested branches die and foliage of the entire tree turns a sickly yellow.

Scales secrete large amounts of a sweet, sticky honeydew which drips from trees, spotting automobiles and staining other objects on which it falls. Not all dripping, however, is caused by scales, since other insects, such as aphids and leafhoppers, also secrete honeydew, Lecker adds.

The female scale passes the winter as a small, brown flattened scale less than 1/8 inch long. In the spring as soon as the sap starts the flow, the scales grow rapidly and lay their eggs. These eggs are contained in large cotton-like masses of wax that give the insects their conspicuous appearance at this time of year. Each cottony mass contains from 1500 to 3000 eggs which will hatch in late June and early July.

Either Sevin or Malathion can be used to control the scale. Sevin is the preferred material. Use two pounds of Sevin 50 percent wettable powder or 1 1/4 pounds of 80 per cent flowable powder in each 100 gallons of water. Malathion is used at the rate of two quarts of a 57 per cent concentrate in 100 gallons. Follow container labels for mixing smaller amounts.

Sprays are most effective when applied in late June and early July after the eggs have hatched, Lecker emphasizes.

NEWS VALUES — After a recent weekend in which tornadoes in the southwest killed six persons, H. E. Smith, associate editor of The Paoli News, noted that newspapers gave much more prominence to the story than they did to another reporting 13 traffic deaths in Indiana during the same weekend. Smith made this comment: "Goes to prove it is not the number of deaths that count, but the startling nature of the calamities that make news. Deaths from automobile accidents are commonplace while tornadoes generally are seasonal."

Passenger: "Can't you control that child, lady? He just pulled off my toupee."

Lady: "Oh, thank goodness! I thought he had scalped you!"

Culver Indians Play 11-11 Tie With Triton

Will Host LaPaz Tomorrow Night

By Earl Mishler

For the second time in four games, Culver's baseball Indians battled to a tie game in high school action, as the Tribe blew a seven-run lead at Bourbon Thursday night, June 11, for an 11-11 tie in eight innings with Triton. It has not been decided as yet whether the game will be replayed or not.

Displaying the defensive lapses that caused last Monday's loss at Argos, Coach Gene Crosley's squad showed again how sorely they missed seniors Jim Boswell and Jim Lewis, who were still at Boys' State. Culver committed five fielding errors, the last two being extremely costly as they came during Triton's seven-run sixth inning that tied the game.

The Indians had batted their way to an 11-4 lead, behind the hitting of outfielders Dave Lemar and Paul Liette, who drove in seven runs between them. Junior righthander Bruce Lindvall, after surviving a shaky four-run first inning, had held the hosts in check until the horrible sixth. After four earned runs had scored, Liette was called in to pitch, whereupon a cheap infield hit, a dropped fly ball, and a tumbled grounder tied the game.

In the bottom of the eighth, Triton loaded the bases against Liette, but an attempted squeeze play backfired into a double play, after which the game was called due to darkness.

Of Culver's ten hits, Lemar led the way with 3-for-4, while both Liette and Bob Eustis had two apiece.

The Tribe still 1-1 in County action plays host to LaPaz this Thursday night in a very important league battle. Box Score:

Youths Campaign For John Bottorff At Convention

JOHN D. BOTTORFF

Thirty-three students of Culver High School and four sponsors attended the Democrat State Convention at Indianapolis last Thursday and Friday. The group traveled by chartered bus, which was supplied by several interested citizens. The group supported the candidacy of John D. Bottorff, who was running for the Democratic nomination for Secretary of State post. They participated in demonstrations on the convention floor for the Bottorff election drive.

Cathy Carrothers, Susie Gardner, Bonnie Saft, Linda Shock and Mark Piecuch journeyed to Indianapolis on Thursday in the interests of Bottorff's nomination.

Mr. Bottorff, who has been a teacher in the Culver Schools this past year, won the Secretary of State post over two opponents. His majority vote of 1445 won him the nomination.
