Town Board Topics

Wilfred "Bud" Craft, acted as president pro tem of the Culver Town Council last Monday evening in the absence of Theodore Ervin, who has resigned from the town board due to a change in employment to Pontiac, Mich.

Robert Kyle, after the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, protested the Ordinance No. 184, which prohibits the use of alcoholic beverages in the Culver Town Park. Mr. Kyle stated there was no regulation handed down by the State Alcoholic Beverage Commission, that would govern such an ordinance. The board took no action on the protest.

The board again took up the proposed ordinance which will regulate the burning of garbage and trash inside the Culver Corporation limits. Due to the many conditions involved and the present day efficient incinerators, the board felt that further study and discussion with the town attorney was necessary, before the ordinance could be put into shape for passage, or consideration.

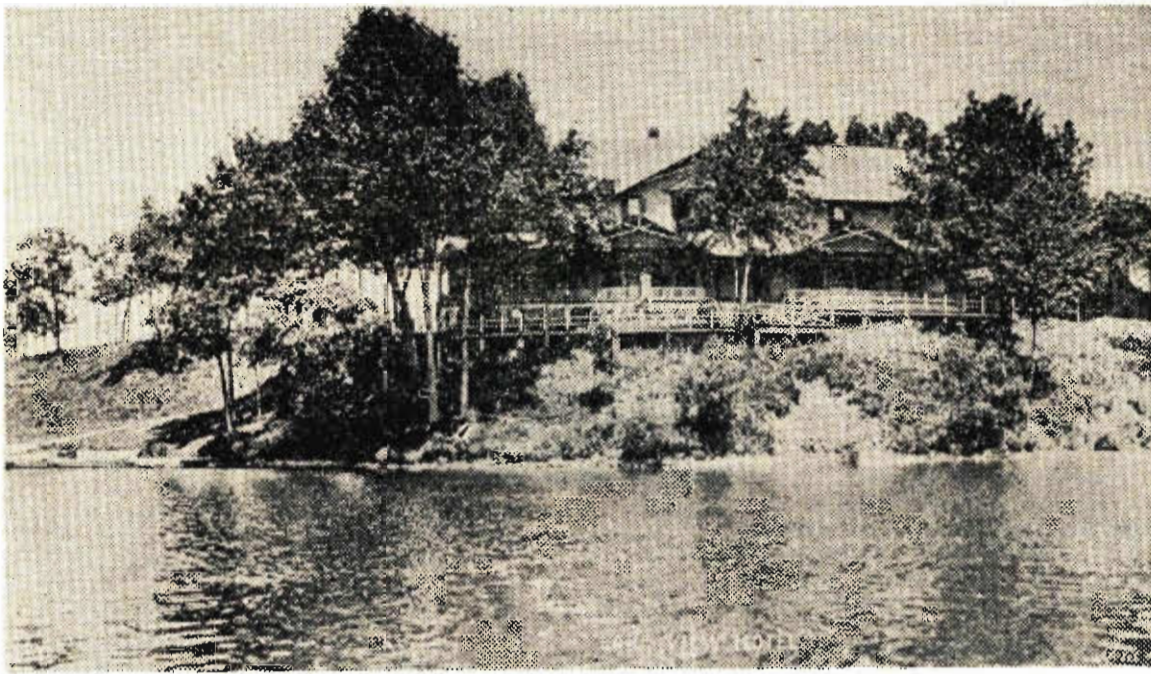

In the course of this discussion, Dr. Dan Bieker brought up the question as to why the town board could not include in the budget the funds to afford a garbage collector that would collect the town residents' refuse and haul to a special location for dumping. The board pointed out that there were independent truckers that were doing that now. All that was needed was for the resident to contact them and the trucker would take care of the trash and garbage. Nothing was settled in this discussion, the board taking the entire garbage and trash situation under further investigation and advisement.

At a previous board meeting, Postmaster Wayne Mattox had discussed with the board the condition of certain streets in Culver, stating that if those in question could be improved, U. S. Mail carrier service could be extended to the residents living on these streets. The Board had met with the street construction company and the City Street Commissioner, Don Mikesell, and a study made of the streets in question. The Board was in agreement with Mr. Mattox, and pending the extent of funds for this year's street improvement, the streets in question will be improved.

It was brought to the Board's attention that some property owners, who had been notified that the weeds on their properties were to be mowed, had not done so. It was revealed that in some cases the information as to the owners of these properties were in error. The clerk-treasurer was asked to send notices to the rightful owners. Property owners not cutting the weeds on their properties, after notification, are subject to the town doing the cutting, the charge for same being placed as a tax lien against the property in question.

The proposed budget and tax levies for the coming year were read and passed. The budget this year calls for a tax levy of .764 cents for the general fund; .39 cents for the street fund; and .07 cents for the park fund, making a total of $1.226 tax rate for the coming year. Last year's budget called for $1.20, but was cut by the state tax board to $1.17. This year's budget is .056 cents

Culver's Popular Resort Hotel In The Early 1900's

Pictured above is the former Lake View Hotel as it looked many, many years ago. The hotel was located on the banks of Lake Maxinkuckee, east of the present Culver Beach Lodge, and was a popular resort spot in the early 1900's. The building burned down in the late 1920's or early 1930's, but operation of the hotel had been discontinued before that time.

The above picture was loaned to The Citizen by Everett Norris. Anyone having other pictures of historical interest is invited to bring them to The Citizen for publication.

Firemen Make Four Runs Over Weekend

Culver firemen were kept busy over the past weekend. Up to Tuesday morning, the department had made four runs.

The first run was made Thursday morning, July 30, at about 8:45 a.m. to the Fishback home on Hibbard Road. Defective wiring in a freezer started the blaze in an outbuilding. Fire was extinguished before any damage could be done.

The second run was made near the intersection of State Roads 10 and 17, near the Coke Smith home, to extinguish a car fire. A 1957 Oldsmobile was afire. The fire was of an undetermined origin doing about $250 worth of damage. The car was being driven by Burton L. Thompson, of 700 Heaton Lake Road, Elkhart. Riding in the car with Mr. Thompson were Mrs. Thompson and their two children and his brother and sister-in-law. Chief of Police Don Mikesell took the Thompson family to the home of an aunt near Plymouth.

The third run was made Monday morning, Aug. 3, at 10:15 a.m. to Upas Road west of Burr Oak to extinguish a fire in a 1960 Chevrolet, owned by a Mr. Messer. The fire was of an undetermined origin and did $50 worth of damage.

The fourth run was made late Monday afternoon about 6:40 to the back of the Crabb Furniture store. Trash was being burned in an old stove which ignited surrounding papers and paper cartons. Some damage was done to the floor of the building and smoke damage to the furniture. No estimate was made on the damage.

Higher due to the purchase of a new fire truck, which the town of Culver pays half the cost over a three-year period. The purchase of the new truck added .16 cents to the budget, but by eliminating other costs in other funds, the increase in tax levy amounts to only a .056 cent increase over last year. The county tax board and the state tax board will have the final say as to the tax rate to be levied for next year. The Culver Town budget will be published next week in The Culver Citizen for your study and approval.

Pacini and Kitts To Conduct Band Concert Sunday

The associate conductor of the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra will share the podium with Summer Schools Bandmaster John S. Kitts on Sunday, Aug. 9, at 4 p.m. in Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium on the Culver Military Academy campus.

Renato Pacini will conduct the 85-piece Summer Schools Band for the playing of Robert Russell Bennett's band transcription of the Rogers and Hammerstein's Broadway hit "The Sound of Music" and von Suppe's "Light Cavalry Overture."

Pacini will also conduct the featured performance of faculty members Martin Uebel on clarinet and Kitts on bassoon in a presentation of Stamitz's "Double Concerto for Clarinet and Bassoon." Kitts — also a member of the Indianapolis Symphony — has made a special transcription of the work for the 1964 Summer Schools Band.

Uebel and Pacini will be joining musical forces for the first time since they met as students at the New England Conservatory of Music.

Following graduation with honors from the New England Conservatory in 1932, Pacini remained in Boston to serve as the first concertmaster of the State Symphony and the New England Conservatory Orchestra.

He went to Indianapolis to be assistant concertmaster with the Symphony in 1938 and five years later was named assistant conductor. He was appointed associate conductor — second in the Symphony Orchestra only to Conductor Izler Solomon — in 1955.

In addition to his duties with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, Pacini is conductor and musical director of the Lafayette Symphony Orchestra, conductor of the Indianapolis Symphony Ensemble and choirmaster of the St. Vincent's Nursing School Choir. He was elected an honorary member of the National Society of Arts and Letters in recognition of his contributions to music in the Middle West.

The public is invited to attend the free one-hour concert in the air-conditioned auditorium.

Smallmouth Bass Tips Scales At Over 3 Lbs.

We are not sure this is a record for Lake Maxinkuckee but at any rate it was a good catch. Thomas A. Hendricks, of 1780 East Shore Drive, reports that on Sunday, July 26, he caught a 3 pound, 2 ounce smallmouth bass. The fish measured 19 inches in length and was caught along the east shore of the lake.

Mr. Hendricks said it was the largest smallmouth bass he has ever caught and he has been fishing in Lake Maxinkuckee for the past 60 years.

Council Fire Will Be Tribute To Edwin D. Myers

A tribute to the late Edwin D. Myers entitled "Chief White Eagle" will be the Woodcraft Council Fire program at 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 8, at Culver Military Academy.

"Chief" Myers — as he was affectionately called — was director of Indian Lore from 1945 to 1963 and was a member of the Summer Schools faculty for 30 years. He died in Webster Groves, Mo., of a heart attack on Dec. 12, 1963, at the age of 63.

Mrs. Myers and Edwin D. Myers, Jr., an Air Force captain, and his family will be special guests at the tribute.

Seventy Woodcraft Camp students and several faculty members will take part in the program. Students in the Woodcraft Camp — one of the four Culver Summer schools — range from nine to 13½ years of age.

Major Richard Zimmerman of Detroit, Mich., has written the script for the program that will be narrated by Major Kent Kurtz, Fort Wayne. The narration will interweave facts of Myers' life around Indian dances.

Chief Myers received his nickname in 1945 when Chief Bull of the Black Foot tribe made him an honorary chief and gave him the Indian name of White Eagle. He met Chief Bull during one of his many trips to Indian reservations to do research for the Council Fires that have come to be regarded as a highlight of the summer season here.

The Chief earned a master of arts degree in fine arts from the University of Missouri and earlier attended Northeast Missouri State Teachers' College, Washington University of St. Louis, Texas Christian University and the Chicago Art Institute.

He also played percussion instruments in several circus bands — including Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey — and in concert and opera performances.

The public is invited to attend the Council Fire program. It will be preceded by a presentation of a portrait of Chief Myers to his widow.

Twenty-nine members and guests of the Home Demonstration Club enjoyed a picnic Friday evening, July 31, at the spacious country home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis.

After supper, a short program was opened with the thought for the month presented by Mrs. Wilfred Craft. She also gave devotions using as her theme, "God Is An Artist," and read verses from the 27th Psalm, using "On A Hilltop" for meditation. Group singing was in charge of Mrs. Ferris Zechiel with Mrs. Whitney Kline at the piano.

The birthday and anniversary songs were sung for several members and guests. Three film strips, "Life Of A Humming Bird," "Wild Animal Life In Africa," and "Canadian Wild Life," secured through the film rental service of the Culver Public Library, were enjoyed by everyone present.

The September meeting of the organization will convene Friday, Sept. 4, at the home of Mrs. Lillie Buswell, 309 West Washington St.

LABOR SAVER — A Westville man, Jim Rogowski, weary of trimming his hedge, put together a unique contrivance which he says enables him to complete in 15 minutes a job that once took four to five hours. He attached to four bicycle wheels a platform on which he placed a rotary lawn mower. The odd machine can be adjusted to operate at heights from 30 to 36 inches and The Westville Indicator says it skims over the top of the hedge cutting a 23-inch swath, "almost as flat as a billiard table." Rogowski told the newspaper he plans to make a sulky next year to attach behind the mower so "my wife can do the hedge trimming."

SOLVING FAMILY CLOTHING PROBLEMS

Buying clothes for school, for a special event or just replacing worn and outgrown articles often pose problems.

Will the clothes make a complete wardrobe, or just add to a jumble in the closet?

To get the most satisfaction from your clothing demands thoughtful planning. Remember, a family's clothing problems are not solved in one shopping trip, or even in one year.

"Solving Family Clothing Problems," a new Extension circular from Purdue University, may help you gain more satisfaction from your clothing.

The publication gives principles of wardrobe planning, outlines steps for solving clothing problems and suggests teaching techniques for those who wish to use the publication as a tool for instruction.

The circular recommends thinking through your clothing philosophy, inventorying the clothes you have, planning future purchases, and evaluating purchases.

Babson Discusses Barry Goldwater's Great Day

The Need For A Courageous Leader

Babson Park, Mass. — This is Barry Goldwater's great hour. He has received the nomination of the Republican Convention and it may mean his election in November to the Presidency of the United States. I doubt whether he expects it. If President Johnson retains his health and selects a satisfactory man for vice-president, the consensus is that President Johnson will be reelected in November. However, many events will occur in the meantime and even President Johnson could be defeated. Similar political surprises have happened in the past.

Roger W. Babson

Entire World Needs Readjusting
The defeat of Barry Goldwater by President Johnson may result in making Goldwater the greatest individual in the English speaking world. Indeed, the English speaking countries are in need of a courageous leader. They are already beginning to talk in their press about Barry Goldwater as the one and only man who has the necessary foresight and courage.

Great Britain and, in fact, the entire British Commonwealth including Canada would naturally be the first to appeal to Goldwater to help them out. Great Britain is now on the verge of an election between the Conservatives and Labor. The English press is strongly divided between the financial interests of London and the working people of Liverpool. Some of the editorials are already saying "we need a man like Senator Barry Goldwater to lead us out of our present conflicts, — a courageous man, absolutely unselfish, and not a politician." This does not mean any permanent change in government, but simply a temporary agreement for the good of all parties. But let us look at other English speaking countries. The next great one without a strong leader is India.

What About India?

This is a vast sub-continent and a long-civilized country, second only to China in population, with over half a billion people, including Pakistan. It had been held together by Prime Minister Nehru who recently died suddenly leaving these millions of people as a prey to Russia, China, or to a purely revolutionary group. This is one of the world's greatest political problems today. It is vitally tied up with South Vietnam which is now holding back the Chinese.

Furthermore, it looks as if the South Vietnam war can only be contained by more active United States participation. This President Johnson is in no mood to do now, especially before the election in November. With this, Laos and Cambodia are also involved. Many national leaders believe that Barry Goldwater is the only one who, at present, could hold the Chinese back and be unselfish enough to retire after he has performed this important function. Furthermore, even though he should not get the Presidency of the United States, Barry Goldwater may one day be widely viewed as a "prophet" of the English speaking world.

Possibilities of Failure

Barry Goldwater is human and may forget his unselfish independence when he comes to the test, but as yet he has not. He will undoubtedly stick to his present hope of beating President Johnson in the November elections. Should Barry Goldwater win, he will go down in history as a great figure such as George Washington or Abraham Lincoln. But the temptations before him will be very great from now on.

The purpose of this week's column is to warn readers of the terrific importance of the events we are now facing. This is not an appeal for Barry Goldwater. He may stumble as have many before him having the same opportunity. No one, of course, can tell what the future holds. Yet, I am one of those who believe that what takes place now is simply a continuation of what has been happening down through the centuries, and furthermore that what happens today or tomorrow will be the result of forces set in motion centuries ago. I wish that General DeGaulle, for whom I have the greatest respect, would give more time to reading the history of Rome, Spain, Carthage and other ancient nations of North Africa.

Just a reminder to phone in your personal and society items for next week's Citizen. Please call Viking 2-3377 or deliver them in person.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holliday and children of Midland, Mich., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Wynn. On Sunday the group were joined by the Walter Hold-erread family of Walkerton and the Bob Wynn family of Culver and all enjoyed a picnic in the Culver Town Park. Sunday evening the group returned to the Cleo Wynn home where a cook-out was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Shelton Kaiser and daughter, Elaine, returned home Monday after spending the past nine weeks in Bloomington and Orleans, Ind. Mrs. Kaiser has been in Bloomington due to the illness of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Crum, while Mr. Kaiser and Elaine spent part of the time there and also visited other relatives in Orleans.

GUARD AGAINST IMPOSTERS ASKING CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

Unscrupulous persons sometimes try to obtain confidential information by taking advantage of the reputation and prestige of the Social Security Administration, according to Charles E. Burke, District Manager, of the South Bend, Indiana Social Security office.

Every social security field employee carries an identification card, he continued. If you have any doubts about his identity, ask to see his card. When talking to people on the phone we always state our name and business, Mr. Burke said. If you have any reason to believe your caller is prying, ask him to hang up so you can call him right back. Look up the number for the Social Security Administration in the phone book. You will find it under United States Government. When the operator answers, "Social Security Administration," ask for the person who called you, by name.

All information given to the Social Security Administration is confidential and is used only to administer the social security laws. We are prohibited from supplying information to anyone for the purpose of locating missing persons, collecting bills, or providing mailing lists. Most people know this and are willing to give us any and all information we need to perform our job.

Help us keep personal information about your age, income, and family confidential. Be sure you are not giving information you want kept confidential to someone who is unwilling to identify himself and only implied he worked for social security.

IN CAST FOR LUC'S OPERA PRODUCTION

Alexander C. Smith, of Culver, is performing as a "super" in the cast for Indiana University's spectacular outdoor production of Puccini's lavish opera "Turandot" this summer. The opera, which was Puccini's last, is being presented July 29, Aug. 1, 5 and 8 in Memorial Stadium on the campus.

"Turandot" is the production which the State of Indiana has selected to present as the highlight of Indiana Day at the New York World's Fair Aug. 17 and 18.

Presented on a huge, sprawling set built in the horseshoe end of the stadium, the production employs a cast of 300.

Brilliant Chinese costumes, rented from the Chicago Opera Company, are worn by the cast. "Turandot" is the story of a merciless princess who destroys all that succumb to her beauty, as well as the story of riddles that a hero must solve to save his life.

HOOSIER DAIRYING BRINGS $124 MILLION ANNUALLY

Dairying is bringing Hoosier farmers more than $124 million annually — more than 10 per cent of the cash farm income in Indiana. Dr. J. L. Krider, head of Purdue University's animal sciences department, said today.

Speaking at 1964 Dairy Day at Purdue, Krider pointed out that education and research had provided the know-how that undergirds an industry which provides dairy products that are abundant and reasonable. The speech was read for Dr. Krider, who was absent because of his mother's death.

Consumers benefit from these research, teaching and Extension educational efforts as producers apply this technology to the production of safe, nutritious milk, he added.

Dr. Ralph E. Erb, assistant head of Purdue's animal sciences department, said that dairy educators are devoting more time and effort to the use of dairy products in human diet.

In the area of forage research, he pointed out that yields have been doubled and may be tripled. Hay samples from Purdue research fields vary from 16 to 22 per cent in protein with digestibility of the dry matter as high as 66 per cent, Erb added. This compares to the usual values of 12 to 16 per cent protein and 50 per cent digestibility.

Erb said that even with genetically superior dairy cows and good feed, efficient management is essential for financial success. Purdue research includes, he said, study of housing and feeding systems with the end of finding the most efficient systems of dairying which result in reducing the cost of producing milk.

FARM PRICE OUTLOOK

Seasonal hog price declines this fall probably will be less than in the autumn of 1963 with prices reaching the $16-$17 level in the last three months of 1964.

This is the analysis of Purdue University agricultural economists, who point out that currently we are in the months of highest seasonal hog prices for the year. They recommend that Indiana farmers keep their hogs topped out and ready to sell at highest market price weight.

Stronger fed cattle prices are in prospect, too. Grade price differentials are likely to widen as supplies of top grading beef decrease in the coming months, the economists say.

Little change in corn prices for the 1964-65 crop — compared to the past year — is likely. Only a slight seasonal rise can be expected for the remainder of the market year.

Harvest time prices of soybeans are expected to drop below the loan rate of $2.25 a bushel. Harvest time prices below $2.10-$2.15 should justify storage, according to the economists.

Milk prices will increase seasonally during the next few months.

Egg prices, which began to strengthen in June, likely will continue upward, averaging about the same as last year during the summer and fall.

A five per cent increase in the fall turkey crop probably will bring average prices of about 22 cents a pound — slightly below last year.

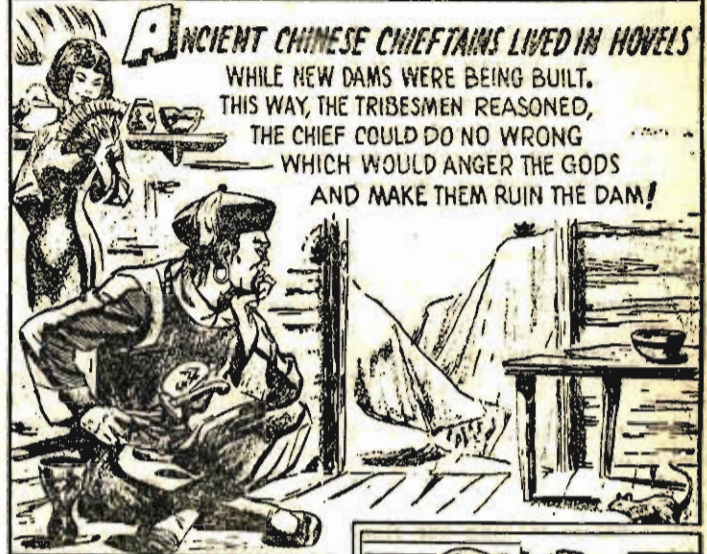

NO QUITTER — The Gladdens Corner correspondent of The Lafayette Leader at the age of 78 isn't about to quit. He is Ora H. Ellis. In a letter to the editor requesting a fresh supply of envelopes in which to mail in his weekly news report Ellis wrote:

"I am only 78 but I want to continue writing. I have only 11 brood sows and a male hog to look after. They have a lot of little pigs. Social Security will never spoil me. A lot of those old fellows lie right down and let the government keep them. I still saw wood with a cross cut saw."

Life Of A Peace Corps Volunteer Living In Bolivia

(Editor's Note: The following article was received from Christina Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Hughes of Culver, who is serving in the Peace Corp in Bolivia.

I arrived here May 1 to start a two-year tour of duty with the Peace Corps. After spending a week of orientation in LaPaz, the capital, I, with a male volunteer, was sent to Sucre. The city is located on the Andean plateau with a population of about 25,000. It is still considered the capital of Bolivia according to the people who live here. The mean temperature is 65 degree. We are now having winter so the nights are a bit chilly, but the daytime is beautiful, never too hot or too cold.

When I arrived I had to find housing for myself. There was a list of names to choose from so we visited and talked with the families before making our final decision. I am living with a wonderful middle class family. I pay $32 a month for room and board. This includes a big room of my own, three meals a day (breakfast consists of coffee and bread), washing, ironing, and a hot shower plus American type toilet. The meals are no different than in the States except we have our big meal at noon and eat a light supper at eight o'clock at night.

At first trying to get started on a project was not only difficult but very frustrating. I found I had my problems with the language which didn't help matters much. After about a month of talking with various people I finally felt I had my feet wet. The problems at first were trying to adjust to the slow pace of life these people had. Time means absolutely nothing. The common feeling is it can wait until tomorrow. When tomorrow comes it is put off until next week, etc. A drastic adjustment had to be made or I would have lost my mind.

Now that I am well into my work I not only see progress, but also a great deal of satisfaction with what I'm doing. Sure there are moments when I wonder if I'll ever get anything done, but fortunately these are few and far between.

Every morning I go to the central market where I am in charge of a nursery consisting of 26 babies. There are three Bolivian women who work there so I have to supervise their preparation of the milk, which is supplied by Caritas from the U.S. Before I obtained this milk the babies were receiving water and corn mixture. Many had never tasted milk.

In the afternoon I teach English to doctors and nurses at the Central Health Center. This is quite a challenge as my Spanish falters and we find times when it is most difficult to communicate.

After teaching for an hour I walk to a barrio about a mile away where I give milk to approximately 70 families every day. These people are mostly Quechua Indians. The average number of children per family ranges from four to twelve. There is much poverty, ill health, and unemployment among these people. Many are without water or electricity. Their homes are made of adobe and have dirt floors. Soon I will test all these people for T.B. as I've found two active cases thus far. I also treat minor cases of impetigo and other infections. While serving the milk I have all children wash their hands and faces. Many have never used soap.

Every night I walk about a half mile to a clinic where I am in charge of medical students and nurses. Last week I gave over 100 injections. We have only four syringes and a small electric burner to re-sterilize. Many times there is no electricity so we must treat by candle light.

Soon I will start an occupational therapy project in the only women's mental hospital in Bolivia. At the present time there are 215 patients who sit all day doing nothing. The staff consists of one doctor, two nurses and six servants who treat the patients like animals.

As you can see there is never a dull moment. When I complete my two years here as a volunteer I do not expect to say I've built 200 miles of roads or 200 schools, or even ten latrines. I hope I will be able to say I've made a little progress in the way of sanitary education and have won the hearts of many people I've come to know. I know now that I am learning so much from these people and only hope that they will be able to gain something from me.

Life as a Peace Corps Volunteer is by no means a vacation on tax payers' money. We are not here to stamp out Communism nor win a war on poverty. I only hope that one day I can look back and see some progress. It's a slow process and one must realize that inertia is a difficult thing to move. Just realize one thing, we are here doing our best to serve our country well.

GREAT LAKES, ILL. — Robert K. Kelsey, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Kelsey of Route 1, Monterey, has begun basic training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

The nine-week training includes naval orientation, history and organization, seamanship, ordnance and gunnery, military drill, first aid and survival.

During the training recruits receive tests and interviews which determine their future assignments in the Navy. Upon completing the program they are assigned to service schools for technical training or to ships and stations for on-the-job training in a Navy rating specialty.

Naval training produces the power in seapower by supplying qualified personnel to man the ships, planes and shore stations of today's Navy.

DENVER, Colo. — Airman Third Class Thomas B. Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil S. Allen of Route 1, Monterey, has graduated from the technical training course for U. S. Air Force weapons mechanics at Lowry AFB, Colo.

The airman, a graduate of Monterey High School, attended DeVry Technical Institute, Chicago, Ill.

USS PROTEUS — John M. Bryant, machine accountant seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Bryant of 303 North Shore lane, Culver, recently returned to Charleston, S.C., aboard the Navy submarine tender USS Proteus, completing a tour of duty at Holy Loch, Scotland and Rota, Spain.

Proteus, specially fitted out as the nation's first tender to service and repair nuclear powered fleet ballistic missile submarine and their Polaris missiles is normally based at Holy Loch, Scotland.

She will remain in Charleston to be loaded with the supplies and repair parts necessary for upkeep and the latest class Fleet Ballistic Missile Submarine.

Using "Spirit" as a name for God, the Christian Science Bible Lesson on Sunday will explore how the qualities of Spirit bring harmony into human affairs.

Bible readings will include this description: "The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law" (Gal. 5).

Among selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual, — they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite, — in order that sin and mortality may be put off" (p. 265).

Dr. and Mrs. Jack Chamberlain and five children of Champaign, Ill., are vacationing this week at the Mawhorter Apartments. Mrs. Chamberlain is the former Culver resident, Marilyn Tasch.

That Summer Afternoon

I'll never forget the day we took this picture. The sun was shining brightly and we'd gone for a ride in the country, my husband Tom, Thelma and I. We came to this field full of daisies and we stopped, and I braided a crown of flowers for Thelma's head. She was wearing a brand new dress and she had a new little parasol too. I thought she looked like just about the happiest and prettiest little girl alive.

How thankful I was! For our Thelma had just weathered her first serious illness, and for several weeks there had been days and nights of incredible anxiety and heart-rending prayer.

Now, watching Thelma in her new-found health, I thought of our church. Not only our minister, but members of the congregation, people whom I scarcely knew, had rallied to our side during Thelma's illness.

Just having them — just knowing that they were adding their prayers to ours, had meant so much. And now, I knew, they were sharing our jubilation.

How sorry I feel for people who don't go to church. For they miss one of life's great truths — the knowledge that if you have the Church, you can never again be alone.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"I CAN'T READ THIS, BUT MY DAD SAYS THAT IF A DRIVER DOESN'T OBEY THIS SIGN IT COULD CAUSE A BIG ACCIDENT." The Chicago Motor Club cautions drivers that every Stop sign is a danger sign, but that this danger can be eliminated simply by stopping and yielding the right-of-way as required by law. Silk Screen Process Added To AD-RITE Sign Co.

The AD-RITE Commercial Sign Service, owned and operated by William Stubbs, Culver, has added a new sign printing service to the firm's growing business. The new process is the Silk Screen Process, new to this area.

The new process will enable Mr. Stubbs to do mass production work on any quantity of signs ordered and will eliminate, in many cases, the need for using the hand method. The new process of the firm will allow for one master sign to be made, it to be used as a pattern for the rest of the number of signs ordered. The process is much faster than hand sign painting.

Mr. Stubbs, by the new process, can make signs from 2 x 4 inch size up to 4 x 8 feet in size. Details and many other styles and types of signs can be produced by the silk screen process.

The Ad-Right firm also does raised plastic letter signs for large display signs, boats and buildings. These can be made into various patterns and styles. Other types of signs made by the firm are truck and window lettering, wall and bulletin signs, Scotchlite Hiway Signs and Sho-Cards.

Argos Ends CHS Season With Thud, 3-1. Tribe Finishes With 12-8 Mark

By EARL D. MISHLER

Culver's baseball Indians closed out a very disappointing summer season last Friday evening, losing a home contest to Argos, 3-1. The Tribe, who had eight returning lettermen from last year's 25-2 team, finished 12-8 overall and 3-5 in the County league.

Senior lefty Jim Lewis pitched well in one of his infrequent starts last Friday, but Culver's batting power remained very quiet. Argos hurler John Kibort stopped the hosts on three singles in beating them for the second time this summer. Lewis' loss was his first in high school action.

Culver's hits were singles by Paul Liette, Dave Lemar, and Stu Lowry.

After a brief layoff, Coach Gene Crosley's squad will start the fall season. Non-league games will precede the start of the Fall County league. Culver will be shooting for its third straight Fall title, after seeing their similar two-year streak in summer league competition snapped by LaPaz' Vikings.

Junior catcher Andy Lowry, who caught every inning of every game this season, captured the team batting title with a mark of .355. Box score:

He began his utility career with NIPSCO in 1938 as a stockman in the Plymouth district. In 1940 he advanced to residential salesman and local representative at Nappanee and Bremen. He has steadily advanced through the various sales departments reaching the Gary division sales supervisors in 1950.

FARMERS AND FOOD STAMP PLAN

The Food Stamp Plan has merit as a welfare program, but "is of minor significance as a solution to the problem of farm product surpluses," notes Dr. Don Paarlberg, distinguished professor of agricultural economics at Purdue University.

Farmers, however, are aided by the program, even though this help "is dilute, uneven and of modest dimension." Paarlberg adds.

"The farmer's share of the consumer's dollar averages about 38 cents," he explains. "Thus, in the long run, if an additional $100 is spent for food under the Food Stamp Plan, about $38 can be expected to work its way back to the farmers."

Experimental programs under this plan were operating in 43 rural and urban areas in 22 states with 382,000 participants last April. Eligible for participation are persons certified by local officials as being needy.

Families without incomes pay nothing for the stamps. (About 10 per cent of them fall into this category.) Families with higher incomes pay higher amounts. Those whose incomes approach the "income exclusion point" ($245 per month for a four-person family) pay an amount approaching the whole exchange value of the stamps. Those with incomes above the "income exclusion point" are ineligible to participate.

In exchange for this payment, the participating families receive stamps sufficient in value to purchase the nutritionally adequate diet specified by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. With their stamps recipients buy, at approved stores, food of their own choice. All food is eligible for purchase with stamps except alcoholic beverages, e. tea, cocoa and foods clearly identified on the package as imported.

How much help might farmers get if the pilot Food Stamp Plan were expanded to cover the entire country?

"If standards were kept about as they have been for the pilot Plan and if slippage is ignored," answers Paarlberg, "the arithmetic is as follows:

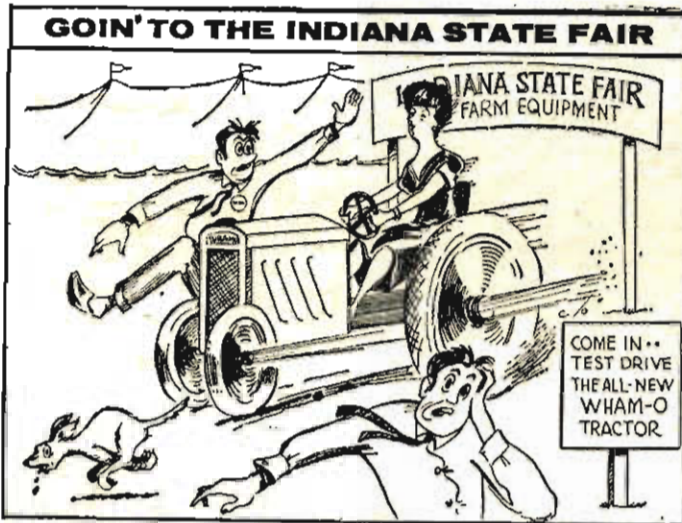

"Recently about 6.2 million people on the relief rolls have been receiving donated food. If the Stamp Plan were made available to all of them and if the dropouts were in the pilot program, the total federal outlay would be about $300 million.

"If 38 per cent of this worked its way back to farmers, farm income would be increased by about $120 million. In addition, there would be a slight increase in the overall price of food, resulting from new demand generated by the program. This quantity can not be predicted with confidence, but the amounts concerned are quite small.

"Total receipts from farm marketings have been about $35 billion. Thus, the increase in farm income which might be expected to result if the Food Stamp Plan were expanded nation-wide might be less than one per cent. And if the Food Stamp Plan came in, it would largely replace the now-existing Direct Donation Program, which has an impact of half of one per cent on gross farm income. So, the net effect would be an increase in gross farm income of about half of one per cent."
