Russ Oliver Completes 25 Years As Coach; No Retirement In Offing

RUSSELL D. OLIVER

Twenty-five years in any gainful endeavor is an accomplishment of note. In the business of coaching it is even more notable, and when achieved in the same job, it deserves highest commendation.

That's the story of Russ Oliver, Culver Military Academy football mentor who just completed 25 years at the helm with no plans for imminent retirement. In fact, after posting one of CMA's more successful seasons with six wins in eight games, he may even be looking ahead to next year with the prospect of 19 returning lettermen. He plans to continue coaching "indefinitely."

Oliver, who has coached football at one school longer than any coach in Indiana, also has one of the best career marks — 128 victories, 62 defeats and 11 ties.

Now that his twenty-fifth season is over, Oliver will move into another phase of work that is relatively new in the years he has spent at Culver. For most of the quarter century since he joined the Academy staff, he has coached and served as athletic director. The end of football season signaled the beginning of basketball, and so on into baseball.

Three years ago he was appointed the Academy's first permanent alumni secretary and was relieved of his coaching duties other than football. Whether said half-heartedly or sincerely, he claims he doesn't miss it.

Named Christmas Seal Chairman For Marshall County

FRED ADAMS

Fred Adams, Culver Banker, has been appointed 1964 Christmas Seal Chairman for Marshall County. Over 7500 letters of Christmas Seals and Health Bonds are in the mail this week to open the fund drive for Tuberculosis and other Respiratory Diseases.

Mr. Adams stated that for almost 60 years the American people have supported the annual Christmas Seal Campaign. Over these many years the TB associations have returned more than full measure the support the American people have given them — and rightfully so.

He also wishes to remind the public of the service given in Marshall County this past year; 3,320 persons were x-rayed in the mobile unit, 2,100 children were TB skin tested in school, four chest clinics were conducted for the follow-up and x-ray of 156 patients.

This year an additional 1,000 children can be skin tested because of the success of last year's campaign. All of these accomplishments are financed by the annual Christmas Seal Campaign.

You are urged to answer your Christmas Seal letter as soon as possible since it is the only source of income that keeps the program in action. If you did not receive Christmas Seals in the mail, they can be found in the lobby of your local post office.

"TRIBUTE TO JOHN F. KENNEDY"

There are legends upon legends,
Of many heroes brave and bold;
Yes, we've many precious stories,
Which are often being told:
There are stories about our country,
And the men who helped create;
This freedom we have come to cherish,
The tyranny we have come to hate.

Many men are being mentioned,
And the brave deeds they have done;
Many lives have been affected,
By a brave American son:
Many men have become legends,
In this great land of the free;
But the man I'll most remember,
Was known as John Kennedy.

On a P.T. boat he was injured,
Then a Senator this man became;
He fought for the freedom of America,
And added valor to his fame:
He fought hard to be our leader,
And gave all he had to give;
In hope people the world over,
Would find a better place to live.

Just one year ago his life was taken,
By an assassin, a traitor, a cad;
Twas then this great man of our nation,
Finally gave us all he had:
On a warm sunny day in Dallas,
While he was riding with his wife;
A traitor full of hatred,
Took this brave American's life.

Then our country was left shaken,
Our heads were bowed low in disgrace;
To think we let a man like Oswald,
Freely walk about this place:
Now John Kennedy too is a legend,
And the many deeds that he has done;
For which he will always be remembered,
As a gallant, heroic son.

Tax Rate Of $4.96 Set; Town Board Business Session

The Culver Town Board has received notice from the County Auditor's Office that the new tax rate for 1965 will be $4.96 per $100 valuation, 68 cents higher than this year's $4.28.

Board members noted that the increase in the tax rate, as approved by the state board of tax commissioners, is almost entirely due to increases in levies at the county level, since the Culver Town rate increased only from $1.17 to $1.20.

At Monday night's regular board meeting, members were advised that December 2 has been set as the date for hearing in Circuit Court on the request for specific legal findings in the annexation suit tried last May. In that suit, residents of the West Terrace subdivision at the southeast corner of State Roads 10 and 17 remonstrated against annexation but Judge Roy Sheneman ruled for the town after a four-day trial.

The board reported it is studying specifications and bids for the purchase of a new tank truck for the fire department and expects to purchase the truck soon. The new unit will serve both town and township and replace one now in use.

The formal written agreement for use of the dump area south of town was presented for reading and discussion, and some revisions are to be made before final approval by the board.

A discussion of the curfew law as the result of an inquiry from Evert Hoessel, manager of the El Rancho Theater, brought out the fact that the state law requires youngsters under the age of 18 to be off the streets by 11 p.m. unless returning home from school- or church-sponsored activities.

A notice of "continuing occurrence and cause of claim" signed by 17 families residing near the sewage plant was received by the board. This was said to be a preliminary legal step before formal suit against the alleged treatment plant deficiencies could be filed. The board stated that a sanitation expert from Purdue has been engaged to investigate and report on the problem.

Culver Firemen Quell Grass Fires

Firemen were called to the town dump site south of Culver twice last Saturday afternoon to put out spreading fires in the area.

The first blaze broke out about 3 p.m. and was reported by Lawrence White, after he attempted to first put out the fire himself. Firemen quelled the blaze but were summoned again when the fire broke out anew. The fire spread about 200 feet from the dump, burning grass and trees.

Last Thursday afternoon, firemen answered a call to douse flames that broke out at the Burr Oak dump area.

Here and There Around Our Town Of Culver

By Margaret McDonald

Our area received noticeable rainfall on Sunday and Monday but more is still needed to alleviate the drought situation. Temperatures have dropped from last week. Yesterday (Tuesday) morning the frost was surely "on the pumpkin" with a 30-degree temperature reading. Yet last weekend, the middle of November, beautiful mums were still blooming on the Academy campus, stately snapdragons were in full bloom in Henry Henning's flower garden, geraniums still bloomed several places around Town in windowboxes and gardens, and bright yellow dandelions made appearances on various lawns.

Former Culver resident Claude Longfellow, who lived here from 1919 to 1932, was in Town Saturday renewing acquaintances. Mr. Longfellow was at one time manager of the Palmer House, now known as The Culver Inn. He also was a former owner and operator of the old Jungle Hotel. A former public accountant, Mr. Longfellow now lives in Warsaw.

Culver may be a small town, but it's a very important one and its renown continues to spread, as evidenced in the "Miss & Mrs. (and Mr., too)" column of the Oct. 29 edition of the "La Mesa Scout" of La Mesa, Calif., as follows:

"Now that they have acquired the winter-in-California habit, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rex Mawhorter, 4032 King St., are again in La Mesa, near their daughter, Mrs. John Harrell, who lives nearby. The visitors hail from Culver, Ind., on Lake Maxinkuckee, Indian name for "crystal clear waters", and site of a one-time Indian reservation. The very fine Culver Military Academy is situated on the lake.

"Mr. Mawhorter retired two years ago from the job of postmaster at the Academy after 43 years of service. The Lake is the second largest in Indiana, spring fed, and left from the glacier period and beautifully clear. There is a great deal of activity in the summer, all sorts of organizations take advantage of the ideal situation and the Academy has a large enrollment in Summer Woodcraft Camp, Naval and Horsemanship Schools. Music-minded people may enjoy the 51-bell carillon weekly concerts on campus with resident and guest carillonneurs."

Yes, we readily agree with the "La Mesa Scout" — Lake Maxinkuckee is beautiful artwork of Nature with "crystal clear waters," the serene Academy campus is indeed an inspiration to all who view it.

Thursday evening members of The Culver Press enjoyed a chicken dinner at Schori's Restaurant in Plymouth and attended the open house at the R. R. Donnelley & Sons printing plant at Warsaw. The mammoth presses used there are an unbelievable improvement over the hand and foot operated presses of the early printers. The automatic changing of the rolls of paper and the speed at which the machines operate are really something to see.

Oh, by the way, Mrs. Donald Parson marked Veterans' Day in an unusual way. That afternoon she walked into the kitchen of her home at 524 North Liberty Street to find a 12-inch snake on the floor. The snake was brown speckled and blended nicely with the color of the floor! Mr. Parson took the reptile to the yard where Mrs. Parson killed it with a shovel.

The little brush that comes in the package with new electric shavers makes a fine brush to use for cleaning reels and guns.

Carrie Hissong, Age 78, Dies After Illness

Mrs. Carrie C. Hissong, 78, died at 4:20 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 11, in the Marshall County Parkview Hospital, Plymouth.

Mrs. Hissong, a resident for many years of Route 3, Argos, in the Poplar Grove neighborhood, suffered a heart condition eight weeks ago and had been in the hospital since that time.

Mrs. Hissong was born to Anthony and Margaret Pontius Smith Dec. 13, 1885, in Green Township, Marshall County, and spent all of her life in the County. She was married to Lawrence Hissong, July 14, 1912, and he survives.

Mrs. Hissong was a member of the Poplar Grove Methodist Church and Woman's Society of Christian Service of that church, as well as the Maxinkuckee Rebekah Lodge 844.

Surviving with the husband, Lawrence, are two sons, Loren of Argos and Wayne of Leiters Ford; five grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Roy (Mabel) Cromley of Culver; two brothers, Owen Smith of Argos and Lester Smith of Culver.

The Grossman Funeral Home, Argos, was in charge of arrangements. Services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 14, at the Poplar Grove Methodist Church with Rev. W. Ray Kuhn, pastor, and Rev. Edmund Worley of Lowell, officiating. Burial was made in Poplar Grove Cemetery. Maxinkuckee Rebekah Lodge conducted graveside rites.

The group sang "Take Thou Our Minds", and Mrs. Lester Brown responded with prayer. Mrs. Rust read from a leaflet that had been previously handed out and the group read parts from "Take a Look at Yourself". A film strip, "Members One Of Another", was shown with Mrs. Rust as narrator. A question and answer period followed.

The meeting closed with the song prayer, "Take My Life".

Refreshments were served to 33 members and four guests at tables decorated with Fall flowers and a Thanksgiving motif.

State Commission Approves School Transfers To Knox

In the meeting of the Board of School Trustees of Culver Community Schools on Monday evening, Nov. 16, Attorney George Stevens and Superintendent Frank McLane reported that the question of legal transfers of a number of North Bend pupils from the local school corporation to the Knox-Center-Washington School had been considered by the State General Commission of Education on Friday, Nov. 13. Though Mr. Stevens, Mr. McLane, and Principal Kenneth Cole had gone to Indianapolis to appeal to the General Commission to deny the transfers, they were not admitted to the Commission's hearing. After the Commission had discussed the matter in closed hearing, the local officials were informed by an official of the State Department of Public Instruction that the General Commission had approved the transfer to the Knox Schools of all pupils whose transfer requests had been denied by the Culver School Board.

Reviewing the case, Mr. Stevens and Mr. McLane explained that in June requests for transfers had been received on behalf of more than forty pupils of grades one to twelve who reside in the North Bend area. In applying for such transfers, most of the parents included the following reasons: social and business interests of the parents in the Knox community, and proximity to the Knox Schools in contrast to the distance to Culver. The Board of School Trustees, after reviewing the transfer certificates, granted transfers to five pupils who would be Seniors at Knox, to another pupil who would be taking second-year German, and to one pupil who desired to continue Vocational Agriculture. This action was in harmony with the policy followed by the State General Commission a year ago. At that time the General Commission explained that it had approved a policy of granting transfers for pupils who would be Juniors or Seniors in a school of another school corporation following consolidation of their own resident corporation.

After the June decision of the Culver School Board, the parents of thirty-five pupils who had been refused transfers appealed to Starke County Superintendent of Schools, Donald Peregrine, as provided by Chapter 367 of the Acts of 1963. On August first Superintendent Peregrine conducted a hearing on these appeals and soon thereafter informed the Culver officials that he had approved all transfers which had been refused by the Culver School Board.

Attorney George Stevens, legal counsel for the Culver School Board, then was asked to appeal the ruling to the State General Commission on Education, and the latter group appointed Assistant Superintendent Edgar Smith in the office of State Superintendent William Wilson to review Superintendent Peregrine's transcript of his reasons for granting the transfers. Attorney Stevens and Superintendent McLane submitted written reports to the Assistant State Superintendent, explaining the school corporation's reasons for opposing Mr. Peregrine's approval of the transfers.

After receiving the explanation of the unofficial oral report given to Attorney Stevens regarding the State Commission's action on Friday, the School Board discussed in detail the possible far-reaching results of such a decision by the State General Commission. However, the Culver school officials concluded that any determination as to further action on their part should be postponed until an official record of the Commission's decision is received by the local School Board.

The School Board's legal counsel, Attorney George Stevens, reviewed with the group the quitclaim deed which he had prepared to provide for transfer of the abandoned school site of the North Bend School. The land had been deeded to the Trustee of North Bend Township in April of 1912, in order to provide for the use of the land as the site of a school building. The deed specified that when the land ceased to be used for school purposes, such land should revert to the grantors after the removal of the abandoned school building. Some time ago the School Board sold the building to Charles Jeffries of Ora, with an agreement that the structure will be removed from the site and the ground leveled before April 1, 1965. After hearing Attorney Stevens' explanation, the School Board approved the resolution provided by Mr. Stevens and directed the President and Secretary of the Board to sign the legal forms. Mr. McLane was instructed to send the signed deed to Mrs. Malott.

The School Board president, Cedric White, read a letter from Mr. William O. Osborn, informing the School Board that the appropriate legal forms had been signed by Russell and Wanda Easterday, granting a six-months' option for the school corporation to purchase the tract of land west of School Street and south of State Road 10. The site of approximately thirty-three acres has been under consideration as the location for a new high school. In July it was approved by the State Department of Public Instruction and the State Board of Health for such use.

Since new bids had not been taken on stoker coal for the Aubbeaubee and Culver Schools and on gasoline for school-owned busses, the School Board passed a motion authorizing the publication of legal notices asking for bids on these materials for the 1965 budget year.

The School Board was informed that a regional conference of the Indiana School Boards Association would be held at Elkhart on Nov. 30th. Most of the School Board members expressed their willingness to attend the meeting, which will be devoted to a discussion of the legislative measures which the School Boards Association will sponsor.

in the Atlantic since World War II.

He is serving aboard the attack cargo ship USS Uvalde.

The operation, called "Steel Pike", featured U. S. and Spanish Marines landing from landing craft and helicopters of a combined U. S.-Spanish Fleet of 94 vessels which included ships of the United States Military Sea Transport Service and chartered ships of the U. S. Merchant Fleet.

The mock assault on the beaches of Southern Spain was staged by Marines of the Second Marine Division, Second Marine Aircraft Wing and Force Troops, Fleet Marine Force, Atlantic, along with a battalion of Spanish Marines.

"Steel Pike" showed the ability of the U. S. and Allied amphibious forces to rapidly transport large numbers of troops and all their equipment, get them ashore and maintain them for as long as necessary. It also trained the forces of both countries in conducting joint operations.

During the operation, the Uvalde supplied equipment to Marine ground troops during and after their beach assault.

THE SCHOOLBELL

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOL

Just as the Seniors never seem to learn that civics themes should be finished sometime before 4:00 a.m. of the day they are due, smoke signals should learn to be more considerate of their translator. What I'm trying to say is — here it is, almost time for the signals to be deciphered and sent to press but I have to stay up all night to decode.

Coming in strong and clear is the fact that there are just 14 days until Thanksgiving vacation. Braves, you've only two weeks to track down a chick — er — turkey — for the big holiday. (But the chick idea isn't so bad either!)

Fellow citizens, I wish to proclaim to all the brave and courageous act performed by a fellow citizen of your own reservation. Last week Doug Kosterman, braving the hazards of being trampled to death, opened a box of Sunshine mints. Before you could count "un, deaux, trois" about 50 of his classmates swarmed upon him. Somehow Valerie got two and Doug ate — ONE? Well, it was a great sales pitch for the Sunshine Girls anyway!!

Maybe Kathy E. and Diane D. have learned that "silence is golden" — especially in fifth period study hall!

The Seniors are ever being reminded that graduation is slowly but surely coming. Just last Monday they were greeted in the cafeteria by the invitations salesman. Hint-Hint.

Doug Lindvall, we're interested to know which of your classmates accompanied you to Elmhurst College. . .

A certain sophomore seems to have forgotten where her locker is located, so she's utilizing that of a senior guy.

Oh, Sophomores, wasn't it great leaf-raking over the one-day vacation? Such a nice cool breeze to make your work more enjoyable!

We're hoping that the B-Team and Varsity guys appreciated their fire-engine ride through town; I know of about 100 other braves and maidens who about collapsed after the rousing "snake dance" along eleven blocks. But who wanted to go home? The fun had just begun: like roasting hot dogs and marshmallows in the bonfire. (We go about things in a BIG way!!)

We'd sure like the Freshmen's recipe for "Brewing up a Victory" 'cuz the first basketball games were fabulous — a gross understatement. Feathers off to our great Culver Indians and coaches!

It was almost like Homecoming Friday night; there were at least 15 familiar faces of recent CHS grads among the ranks of fans. Paul White will say that college is ok, but his real wish was to be "out there" on the floor once again. And let's see, a bearded alum was at the dance looking for a certain Senior maiden. Life is full of surprises, right Linda Nelson!!

Pat O. and Joan D. had lots of offers for window-washing jobs. Don't you feel like real experts after slaving away at four sets of store windows? — Perry White, how did you get roped in on the job?

BEWARE! — Juniors are out on the streets giving the evil eye to anyone who isn't interested in eating ham at the big feast they are sponsoring, scheduled for Saturday evening, Nov. 21.

Susie Riester, what was the sad sad news you had to tell Judy Price? It was terribly depressing, huh?

"You'll have to speak up, I've got — strings — in my ears!" so say Sophomores Suzanne O. and Marilee H.

By now Mr. Lawson is feeling like a full-fledged Senior once again. You might ask him why.

We'd say a few students were happy to see "Mr. B." at the gym Friday.

Pam C., do you find the world so depressing that you would actually throw yourself out in front of a moving car in attempt to — keep it from hitting the — BANK!! — Glad to note the only damage was to your shin.

Why is Judy P. hobbling around this week? "Rolling Surfin'" takes a little co-ordination, you know!

Eva N. bit off more than she really cared to chew when she and Molly decided to ride over to Richland Center. (Just to keep the story straight, she has a cousin over there.)

We're glad to know that Kay T. was impressed with Ball State. You say the English class which you attended is just like a high school class? But how would you know with "Mr. T." sitting in the very next chair?? Maybe that's the same reason you didn't see Carolyn S., Linda N., Jim L., and Dave L.

It's nice that some people have so much money that they can just throw cokes around. What's that — an objection?? Oh, Donna R., don't you agree? Now, now, let's not hold a grudge against a fellow Senior just because her arm accidentally knocked a half a glass of coke on you . . .

Miss Charleion of Senior lit is out on a talent hunt. Were there any really spectacular sonnet-writers discovered?

There seems to be an epidemic of hairy growths on the left hands of certain girls in the Junior class. We hope it's contagious.

Sadly enough the reservation courier is impatient to be off with this to the press, so it's "close shop" for the next few days. Thump . . . Thump . . . thump . . . Maybe he'll make a new olympic record for the four-block trot . . . thump, thump. . .

Joke Corner

By Linda McAllister
During World War II, a massive flight of Allied bombers set out to spread tons of propaganda leaflets in enemy territory. All but one of the planes returned. For hours everyone scanned the skies for the missing aircraft. Then, two days later the plane came in for a landing. An irate officer dashed out and demanded "Where have you been?"
"Delivering leaflets, of course," said the pilot.
"And how long does it take to drop a few leaflets," asked the officer.
"Drop them?" the pilot exclaimed. "We pushed them under people's doors!"

A man is never a complete failure; he can always be used as a horrible example.

Education

Editor's Note. The following themes were written for Mrs. England's English classes. They are a fine example of the writing potential of the Culver students.

"A WASTED LIFE"

By Robert Vondra

On Sept. 20, 1961, Mike Phillips, age 16 years two weeks, quit school. He was sick of being bossed around by teachers, and he wanted to earn some money so he could buy a car.

He started looking for a job right away. He went to all the gas stations, grocery stores, the lumber yards, and various other places, but he got the same answer at all of them: "A high school diploma is necessary."

Finally, on Nov. 18, he got a job cleaning up a small shoe store. But after three weeks the owner fired him because he couldn't afford him.

Mike kept on looking, and on April 17 he got a job at a cannery, at a dollar an hour. He worked there two months, but then he was replaced by a machine. The machine did more work than 20 men, and cost less than the salary of one man to operate.

Mike knew now that he had made a mistake when he quit school, but if he went back now, he would be in a class a year younger than he, and he couldn't stand the humiliation of that. So he drifted from job to job, dogged the rest of his life by his lack of education.

EDUCATION PAYS DIVIDENDS

By Ruth Beemer

The statement "Education Pays Dividends" may seem to imply a mercenary attitude toward education. To many people the sole purpose in getting an education is to become financially successful, as if wealth and social status were of the greatest value.

Some may look at a teacher's job from this point of view: "Why should anyone want to be a teacher if he is well qualified in other fields and could be making thousands more with much less effort at a different job?" Maybe this is the attitude some people take, but what they don't realize is that there is a certain satisfaction for the educator in seeing young people grow in wisdom and in realizing satisfaction in preparing the next generation for the world.

Education pays dividends? Yes, but not necessarily in the form of money. True, having a good education can help you get a good-paying job, but it can also help you fulfill a moral obligation to your society, to your nation, and to yourself. Since individuals make up a nation, the crime rate would decrease, and the election of government officials would be more intelligent if every individual were well educated. Education pays dividends in the forms of freedom, security, and general happiness.

EDUCATION

By Stuart Lowry

What is education? Education is the discipline of mind or character through study or instruction. Education begins at a very early age and is extended indefinitely. There are elementary schools, high schools and colleges, but these offer just a basic education. A person learns through life by observing, reading and other such methods. People 80 years old have been known to take extension courses and even attend college.

What can an education do for us? Most people agree that a good education affects a person's occupation. In today's modern society, the unskilled is finding it harder and harder to make a living. Machines are rapidly taking his place. Assembly line workers are beginning to wonder how long they will continue to have a job. When they are finally laid off, many return to school to further their education. They have learned that they should have completed high school. However, in many cases this is too late. The time to get your education is now. High school is a basic necessity, and some sort of further education is becoming more and more essential.

State universities offer a college degree at a bargain price and many offer extension courses. A person with a college degree usually has a choice of three or four well-paying jobs at his fingertips. He will be able to afford a well-furnished house and have a new car and many other things that the high school dropout could not even begin to afford. It is a known fact that the college graduate earns about $50,000 more in a lifetime than the average unskilled worker.

Yes, a good education may be expensive and a lot of work, but you just can't afford to miss out on it.

Pep Rally Opens Basketball Season

By Elaine Kaiser

The team's supporters returned home, huffing and puffing, Thursday night, Nov. 5, after a stimulating pep rally and snake dance.

After a speech by each of the coaches and a speech by co-captain of the team, Dave Lemar, the judging of displays and posters began. While the judging was going on, the fans were led in pep yells by the cheerleaders and members of the faculty. When the winners for the best display were announced, the freshmen proved victorious. They will be presented with a small travelling loving cup. Their display consisted of a witch leaning over a boiling caldron and "brewing up a victory" for the Culver Indians. The Seniors placed second with their "chug-a-lug" express — a small ingun" with a cowcatcher on front.

Perhaps the highlight of the evening was the long parade and snake dance through downtown Culver. The town fire engine carrying the members of the team, headed the procession. The C.H.S. band formed behind them. Four members of the faculty — Mr. Wolfe, Miss Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Ulrich — led the snake dance followed by our four varsity cheerleaders and nearly 100 braves and maidens trailing behind. The procession wound its way through 11 blocks and ended up back at the starting point.

The evening ended with the toasting of hot dogs and marshmallows over a roaring bonfire.

Thus the basketball season at Culver High was started off with a cry of "Victory" for a great team!!

Mrs. Barton's first grade: Louellen Weiger and Danny Crow celebrated their birthdays this week by bringing treats for their classmates. The students are learning addition and subtraction of numbers.

Mrs. Allen's second grade: Patty Lowry had a birthday party with her classmates on Tuesday, Nov. 10, and Jimmy Bickel had a birthday on Nov. 12. Mrs. Allen's class is studying about Indians.

Mrs. Shirrell's second grade: Jerry Eskridge celebrated his Nov. 8th birthday early by having a party at school on Nov. 6th. The class greatly enjoyed the milk and decorated cakes which he furnished.

Mrs. Carter's third grade: Denise McKee is the only one who hasn't missed any spelling words in the trial and mastery tests. Those students missing only one word are: Andy Ervin, Lisa Dinsmore, and Karen Parson. The following reports were written by Andy Ervin and Lisa Dinsmore respectively:

A BASEBALL GAME I SAW

The Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees played. The White Sox won. The score was 9 to 5. It was very hot. There were about 32,000 people there. It was at Comiskey Stadium.

PEPPER, MY CAT

My cat's name is Pepper. He runs away and later he comes home. One day he went away and he ran off. When he came home, he had callouses on his feet.

Mr. Horban's fourth grade: Leslie Prouty, David Reichley, Sylvia Williams, and Karen Zechiel have perfect spelling records. The class is going to start a book to help them understand the location and names of the countries.

Mr. Harris's sixth grade: The science class made a cloud. This was done by using rubbing alcohol, chalk, and pumping air into the mixture.

The class also read a story about 4-H and all the pupils in 4-H brought the ribbons and prizes they had won to class. David Scott celebrated his 12th birthday on Sunday and Lonnie King celebrated his 13th birthday on Tuesday.

Mr. Overstreet's sixth grade: Mike DePoy had a birthday Tuesday, Nov. 10, and Susan Shei had one Nov. 8. Sandy Miller and Lynn Langlois were the winners of the Safety Poster Contest in the one section.

Mrs. Schriker's sixth grade: The Health Class of Mrs. Schriker's class also competed in the Safety Poster contest. Mrs. Epley and Miss Page judged the posters of the different rooms. The winners that were in Mrs. Schriker's class were Gary Yeazel and David Williams.

Congratulations to all who competed and especially to those who won.

Did you hear about the cannibal who was expelled from school? They caught him buttering up one of his teachers.

The trouble with life, is that you're halfway through before you realize it's one of those do-it-yourself deals.

The Shadow Strikes Again

By Janet Crow

This week's shadow victim is a well-known Senior girl who has brown hair and blue eyes.

My victim started off her day as usual in first period French class with a few yawns. After talking to some other students, she finally got down to business and started to answer some of Mrs. Smith's questions. (She's very good at answering questions most of the time.) And then the bell rang and her first class of the day was over. I think I caught her breathing a sigh of relief on this.

I followed her into English class second period. As the class began, she looked very wide awake and intelligent. She joined the rest of the class to see a movie and paid very close attention to it. She must have thought the movie was very interesting.

Next I followed by victim into Mr. Lawson's classroom. Before class began she sharpened her pencil. She didn't make it to her seat before the bell sounded; however, Mr. Lawson didn't seem to mind. She was talking to a few of the Senior boys around her before the class got underway and I caught her in the midst of a few laughs. After this I thought she had gotten settled down and was ready to listen to Mr. Lawson, but she hadn't. She took out some paper and began drawing something. I was unable to tell exactly what it was that she was drawing, but whatever it was, it kept her occupied for a good 30 minutes. Finally she put her masterpiece away and was ready to listen, and before the period had ended she had actually answered one question for Mr. Lawson.

My victim went to study hall then, and without hesitating got right down to studying. As the time dragged on, she was beginning to get a little restless. I imagine she was getting very hungry. At last the study hall was out for lunch. Although I was unable to watch her during lunch, I am sure she ate heartily.

After lunch she had another study hall and made good use of it (or so I was told). She was probably studying for her oncoming World History test seventh period.

Her next class was band. During this I was told that she was again trying to study for her World History test. When Mr. Fouts came back to check on the new music, she very sneakily put her book underneath the chair.

Band was over and it was time for the test that she had so much been looking forward to. (Ha Ha!) I didn't find out how she did on the test, but I am sure she did fine after all that studying. She is usually pretty good at this sort of thing.

All of her classes for the school day were over and for the corresponding secretary, it was off to the Sunshine Meeting. She sat quietly through most of the meeting, and then the final bell sounded and her day of being followed by The Shadow was over.

Thus concluded a day in the life of this week's shadow victim, Eva Norris. Maybe it wasn't you this time, but beware; the next time the shadow may be watching YOU!

Pep Club In Full Swing

By Judy Price

Pep Club — As seen at the Culver-Central game, Culver's Pep Club is at its peak in performance. The addition of the boy's cheer block nearly doubled the club's membership. The Home Economics Department is making black vests for the girls. The Boys have purchased black felt hats.

Sunshine Society — At the recent meeting of the Sunshine Society, the Sunshiners elected Linda Sparling as "Sunshine Girl of the Month" for her appearance. Congratulations, Linda! The topic of the meeting was "Women in Politics" and the girls were told of the lives of Clare Booth Luce and Margaret Chase Smith.

Hi-Y — The Hi-Y is starting their plans for the annual Snow Ball Hop sponsored with the Sunshine Society. They have discussed the possibility of selling candy sometime after the beginning of the year.

Producer Mike Todd, Jr., relates how one African headhunter explained his first glimpse of a TV set: "It's a wonderful machine where they shrink the whole body."

Customer: "Your dog seems very fond of watching you cut hair."

Barber: "Well, it ain't that so much. Sometimes I snip off a bit of a customer's ear."

Wanted: Supermen!

By Linda Baker

Protecting the president is a job not even superman could guarantee foolproof.

In the course of the history of the United States four presidents have been assassinated within less than 100 years, beginning with Abraham Lincoln in 1865.

Attempts have been made on the lives of one of every five American Presidents. One of every nine has been killed. Since 1865, there have been attempts on the lives of one of every four presidents and the successful assassination of one of every five.

The protection given to the early Presidents was very casual. Presidents took evening walks and rode horses without being accompanied by a Secret Service man.

In 1902, the Secret Service (which was then the only federal investigating force of any consequence) began full-time protection of the President. Until 1963, this record was perfect.

The Secret Service men of today are the best trained and have the President well covered at all times.

Whenever the President is in public, the Secret Service works in a concentric circles arrangement. A few agents work directly around him and act as football blockers if the crowds begin pressing in. The rest scan the crowds and area for suspicious-

The job of the Secret Service men is difficult, but it gets even more complex when the President visits many cities in one day. They must map his trip in every city and be ready to go into action when he arrives.

So, as you can see, the job of a Secret Service man is little less than that of being a "human superman!"

Rodeo Time At The Bass Lake Horse Palace

Saturday night will be Rodeo Time at the Bass Lake Horse Palace as the International Rodeo Association opens the first of two Rodeo weekends. Sunday afternoon will see a Rodeo Matinee as the I.R.A. athletes head toward year's end and High Point Awards.

Contestants from four states are expected to meet at the Bass Lake arena in their quest for gold and glory. Livestock for the Rodeo will be the best obtainable. The Brahma Bulls will be well rested after giving the Blue Cross a headache all summer. Twenty head of bucking broncs will keep the chutes from cooling off during each performance.

This Rodeo will be the first of several winter rodeos in the Horse Palace. All new and modern designed chutes will keep the Rodeo fast moving with few delays between events.

Next weekend the Indiana State Rodeo Finals will be featured in the Horse Palace with the Indiana Rodeo Cowboys Association making their year end awards. Marion Noerm of Knox, is expected to be crowned all 'Round cowboy for the '64 season as the result of his points acquired riding broncs, bulls, and steer wrestling. Advanced tickets may be obtained at the Horse Palace.

 "Soul and Body" is the subject at Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Golden Text reads: "Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? (I Cor. 3:16).
 The Lesson-Sermon concludes with these words from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "To divest thought of false trusts and material evidences in order that the spiritual facts of being may appear. — this is the great attainment by means of which we shall sweep away the false and give place to the true. Thus we may establish in truth the temple, or body, 'whose builder and maker is God' (p. 428).

OLD ENOUGH!

Not old enough for a novel, a dictionary, an encyclopedia.

But old enough for the Bible!

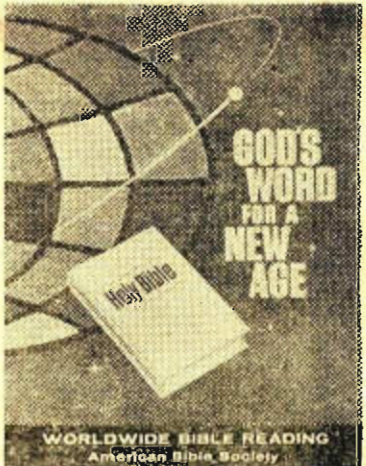

For in these very years before she fully understands its truth, a child learns to respect God's Word. Reverence is born. A sense of the importance of religion develops.

The passages must be short . . . and sensibly chosen. Childish but searching questions must be answered. Mother and Dad will soon discover that explaining Truth to their child deepens their own comprehension.

Take advantage of a parent's most sacred privilege. Introduce your child to God. Make the Bible part of the family. Participate in and cooperate with the Church' program of religious education.

A child grows spiritually whose parents grow spiritually!

FAST FUELING

Owners of fuel docks pay attention to this one: Solder a 1/4 inch tube down the spout of the big funnels you use to fill gas tanks with. Tube allows air inside tank to escape, makes pouring faster with no spills.

Academy Sports

The Culver Military Academy basketball team makes its home debut Friday night at 8 against LaPaz High School.

Coach Chester Marshall's cagers, 72-66 winners in the opening game against Greene High School last Saturday, will be strengthened for the home opener by the eligibility of five football players. The gridders did not have sufficient practices to play in the initial contest.

The Eagles were outshot from the field 49 to 39 per cent against Greene. The host team dropped in 24 of 36 free throws while Culver hit only 16 of 40 charity tosses and missed 11 one-and one shots.

Deaf Man Perfects Tiny Hearing Aid

A remarkable tiny hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

This small device has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a new unusual design idea in a product to restore natural hearing.

It was developed especially for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear.

Due to the use of transistors, the user cost is extremely low. The instrument weighs only 1/4 oz. It is about the size of a sewing thimble — hardly noticeable yet powerful.

How It Looks From Here For Friday's Game

By EARL D. MISHLER

Tyner's Redmen will bring a 2-1 record to town Friday night for their intra-county skirmish with the Culver Indians.

Young coach Jim Drews is in his second year at Tyner, and, despite the fact that only one regular is back from last year, the Knox High School graduate has the Redmen playing improved basketball. They opened the season with a 59-56 upset victory at Argos, then drubbed Richland Center, 57-35, before bowing last Friday at Akron, 56-47.

5' 10" senior guard, Lee Zumbaugh is the only player who started on the Tyner team that was eliminated by Culver in February's Sectional, 70-53. But senior forwards Phil Jacobson, 6' 0", and Norm Ross, 5' 10", have carried the Redmen's scoring load thus far. Ross has tallied 44 and Jacobson 37 points, backed up by Zumbaugh with 24.

Rounding out the probable starting line-up are seniors Jerry Schmeltz, a 5' 10" center, and 5' 8" guard, Gene Reese. Hal Patterson, 6' 0", Jim Smith, a 6' 1" sophomore, and diminutive Steve Matz are the leading reserves.

Culver enters the game after a two-week rest, having defeated South Central, 76-51, in their opener. The Indians will be heavily favored, but must beware of an upset from the scrappy Redmen. Game time is 6:45 p.m.

(This is the first in a series of articles on Culver's opponents. Each team will be featured in the Citizen the week of their game against the Indians.)

CULVER EIGHTH GRADERS WIN OVER ROCHESTER

The eighth graders of Culver were never behind in a rough and tough basketball game at Rochester Monday night. The final score was 42 to 34.

The seventh graders lost their first game of the season, 32 to 15. Jerry Lemar led the locals with six points, followed by Steve Overmyer with four points.

The eighth graders had a balanced attack with Phil White leading with ten points. He was followed closely by Kerry Haenes with nine and Perry Smith with eight points.

The next game will be played here tonight against Triton starting at 6 p.m.

Russ Oliver

"Basketball is a silly game and the weather in the spring is lousy for baseball. But football is something else," he adds.

As alumni secretary, Russ will now join with other Academy officials in visiting Culver Clubs throughout the country. There are plans to be made for the rapidly-expanding June class reunions and there is a constant flow of alumni mail to be answered.

On the road, Coach Oliver will talk about Culver, the progress being made in academic standards, how the military fits into the overall picture, and the Academy's plans for the future. He can be excused if, somewhere along the line, he mentions that his twenty-fifth season was a good one, that 19 lettermen will be returning for next year's squad, and that despite this large number, he has a typically pessimistic view of prospects for next year.

The only thing to offset his pessimism is another statement he made the other day — the next 25 years should be a bit easier.

Conservation District Schedules Public Hearing

The second legal step toward the inclusion of Bourbon, Center, German, North, and Tippecanoe Townships in the already organized Marshall County Soil and Water Conservation District will be taken with the holding of the public hearing at the REMC building, Plymouth, at 8 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 19.

County Agent R. C. Harvey, who has the responsibility of conducting the educational phase of the district, points out that petitions by land owners in these townships were presented to the State Soil Conservation Committee asking for inclusion in the district.

The public hearing will be conducted by representatives of the State Committee. Persons attending can speak either for or against the expansion of the district. A good hearing will depend on the active participation of those present.

If the state committee gives a favorable report on the hearing, the third step, a referendum will be included in the townships to be included in the district. All land owners are entitled to vote. In order for the referendum to carry, a majority of 60% of all eligible land owners must vote and 60% of those voting must vote in favor of the district. All interested persons are urged to attend the hearing.

The newspaper is the only medium that works 24 hours a day to bring the advertiser's name to the public.
