Here and There Around Our Town Of Culver

By Margaret McDonald

The Citizen is going to press a day early this week so that you may read it before Thanksgiving.

The first snowfall of the season fell early last Thursday morning and set the stage for an early Winter blizzard which blasted our area on Friday. Accompanied by unseasonable low temperatures, which began falling Thursday, roads became ice-coated and the gale-driven winds on Friday added havoc and discomfort to motorists and pedestrians and piled the snow in drifts which stranded many vehicles. The wintry storm cut visibility to zero at times and brought large waves, crested with whitecaps, to Lake Maxinkuckee which portrayed all the anger of the storm in its grey, churning waters. New low temperature records were set for the date in many locations and the weekend remained cold with Saturday morning readings ranging locally from eight to 14 degrees above zero. However, Monday and today have a most welcome relief with a high reading of 41 degrees yesterday and a low morning reading today of 28.

The basketball team of Richland Center, which played West High School Friday night, was unable to return home following the game, due to hazardous road conditions, so they spent the night in Culver and swamped Lake Shore Lanes with their food orders of 50 hamburgers and French fries, plus beverages.

Weather only added fuel to the Culver Indians who streaked to a 77-44 win over Tyner's Redmen (Culver's second straight for the season) Friday evening in the local gym. Culver travels to Bremen Friday where they will play the Lions.

Thursday is Thanksgiving and as we gather with family and friends to mark the occasion, may I add the final line of Joyce Kilmer's "Hymn of Thanksgiving," "And oh! Thank God for God!" A truly thankful Thanksgiving to one and all!

Funeral Services Held Saturday For Bus French

Ora F. Connor, 64, better known as Bus French of Culver, died at 10 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 18, at Logansport.

He was born Sept. 8, 1900, at Bass Lake, and had resided in this area his entire lifetime. He was a veteran of World War I.

Surviving are two brothers, Henry N. Conner, Knox, and Robert H. Conner, Kouts, Ind.; three sisters, Mrs. Mae C. Warren, and Mrs. Alice L. Lampert, both of Downers Grove, Ill., and Mrs. Edith E. Ryniker, South Gate, Calif.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 21, at the Easterday-Bonine Funeral Home. Rev. Dwight McClure, pastor of the Culver Evangelical United Brethren Church, officiated and burial was made in the North Union Cemetery, northwest of Culver.

Wins D.A.R. Good Citizen Contest In Marshall County

By Pat Ogden

SUE COLE

Sue Cole, a senior, has the honor of being selected as the D.A.R. (Daughters of the American Revolution) representative from Culver. She was selected by the teacher's honors committee, which is a group of teachers chosen by the faculty for the purpose of selecting students for honors. Sue is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cole, 221 Lakeview St.

Sue took the county test at the Marshall County Trust & Savings Bank in Plymouth at 9 a.m. Nov. 6. Tyner, LaPaz, Plymouth, and West also participated. Another group represented the remainder of the county.

The test questions involved the U. S. Government's role in international, national, and local affairs. The participants used both fact and personal viewpoint in answering the questions.

On the basis of her score, Sue was chosen to be one of the county representatives. Her paper will be sent to a panel of judges to compete in state competition. The papers are graded with names removed.

The D. A. R. representative must possess these four qualifications: dependability-truthfulness, loyalty, punctuality; service-cooperation, courtesy, consideration of others; leadership-personality, self-control, ability to assume responsibility; patriotism-unselfish interest in family, school, community, and nation.

The State D. A. R. representative will receive a pin and a $100 bond. Each state winner will write an essay to compete on the national level. The national winner will receive a $1,000 scholarship to her chosen college.

Collecting sea shells, reading, sewing, and popular dancing are Sue's hobbies and special interests. She is also quite active in school functions. Some of her school activities have been and are: Band — 1, 2, 3, 4, president 3, music sweater 4; Choir — 1, 2, 3, 4; Pep Club — 1, 2, 3, 4; Tomahawk Staff — 2, 3, 4, head of underclass 4; Press Club — 2, 3, 4; Sunshine — 2, 3, 4; National Honor Society — 2, 3, 4, honor sweater 4; Senior Play; County Jr. Heart Board 4; Math Contest — 3; French Contest — 3; State Instrumental Contest — 2, 3; Indiana Youthpower Conference Delegate — 3; Girls' State Delegate — 3; Rainbow; M.Y.F. — 4 years; and paper route.

Regarding the honor she received, Sue said, "I am going to use the equestrian's advice about a horse show when I think of the state contest: 'Never expect any prize when competing in a contest. That way if you lose, you won't be disappointed; if you win, you will be pleasantly surprised.'" After hearing all the qualities that were taken into considera-

Thanksgiving Day — 1964

In the United States of America, November traditionally is the month of Thanksgiving. It is the time especially set aside to give thanks to our bountiful, loving, all-providing Father-God.

It is the time set aside to look appreciatively at our many blessings. It is the time set aside to give thanks for all the things we usually take for granted.

Thanksgiving quickens a new spirit of appreciation within us. Thanksgiving creates joy. Thanksgiving builds faith. Thanksgiving for our blessings never fails to open the way for more good. Thanksgiving sets in motion an endless cycle of good that enriches us in mind and body.

Let us make this an unforgettable day of Thanksgiving. Let us give thanks for peace, life, family and friends. Let us give thanks to God for the glorious world in which we live. Let us give thanks for our blessings great and small. Let us say, "Thank You, God, for everything." — The Daily Word.

PTA Meeting

By Patty Overmyer and Elaine Kaiser

The first PTA meeting for this school year was held Nov. 10. The attendance was very good and it is the hope of the faculty to improve the attendance every meeting.

Shelton Kaiser, elementary principal, gave a talk on Audio Visual Aides. There is nothing new about AVA. Teachers and parents have been teaching by this method for a long time. There is no better way to teach students than by hearing or seeing. I feel quite proud of myself. Seriously though, I am very honored to have received the appointment from my school and my county."

Sue plans to attend Purdue University starting in the summer session. She wants to be a teacher and will major in French and math. After graduation from college, she plans to join the Peace Corps and serve her country abroad.

On behalf of Culver High School, I would like to congratulate Sue for winning the D. A. R. award. We wish her the best of luck in state competition.

by teachers to help the children gain a better knowledge of the subject.

AVA can't be separated from any other department because of its value to the teachers.

The State of Indiana recognizes the importance of such a department and says that every school should have a person trained for this work.

Our school has a very good AVA. Mr. Kaiser is trained in such work and is valuable to the faculty. The Projectors Club helps Mr. Kaiser by showing films.

Culver is proud of its program. We now have equipment purchased at $9,995. The program has grown tremendously.

Culver students see about 400 films a year. This would not be possible if we didn't have Audio Visual Aids.

Mr. Tanksley then gave a talk on our library. He discussed the importance of a school library and pointed out that the library helps your child by: improving his reading habits, improving his academic achievement, helping to further success in college, giving students the initiative to study by themselves, arousing curiosity, therefore striving to gain more

Culver Press Adds Writer To Citizen, Magazine Staff

R. D. HANSEN

Robert D. Hansen, a native of Marshall County who has resided in Fort Wayne for the past 12 years, has joined the Culver Press and will have editorial duties with both The Citizen and Indiana Business and Industry Magazine.

He will serve as managing editor of the magazine, with responsibilities for copy preparation, editing and layout of the editorial contents. The magazine now reaches over 6,500 business and management personnel throughout Indiana.

He will also serve as editor of The Citizen, having primary responsibility for government and business news, including town board.

Born in Bremen, he is a graduate of Bremen High School and Indiana University, and is a World War II veteran, having served in Europe with an infantry outfit. He spent five years in editorial and promotion work with the Fort Wayne newspapers, and has had extensive experience in advertising and technical writing.

Married to the former Ferne Cainan of Aurora, Ill., he has two sons, Ronnie 7, and Jimmy 5. The family expects to move to Culver in the near future.

Mrs. Anna Lep Dies At Age 61, Services Friday

Mrs. Anna Lep, age 61, Route 2, Culver, died at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 23, at the Starke Memorial Hospital in Knox. She had been in failing health for the past few years.

Born July 20, 1903 in Czechoslovakia, Mrs. Lep went to Chicago in 1907 where she lived until coming to this area 15 years ago. She was married June 4, 1931, in Chicago to Charles Lep, who survives.

Also surviving is a brother, Michael Schnierer, of Chicago.

Services are set for 2 p.m. Friday, Nov. 27, at the Easterday-Bonine Funeral Home in Culver, where friends may call after Wednesday noon. Rev. Joseph A. Lenk, pastor of St. Mary's of the Lake Catholic Church, Culver, will officiate, and burial will be made in the Burr Oak Cemetery.

Plan Now To Avoid "Christmas Rush" Urges Postmaster

A little planning during the Thanksgiving Holiday can help avoid the "Christmas Rush", Postmaster E. W. Mattox said today.

The Culver postmaster has some tips which will not only put ZIP into Christmas mailing, but help local postal employees move the record-breaking mountain of mail that is expected this Christmas season.

1. Find last year's Christmas mailing list. If you don't find it or didn't have one, make one up.
2. Check to see that all addresses are correct.
3. Wherever possible, add the ZIP Code to the addresses on the list. Because ZIP Code speeds your mail, always include the code for your area in return addresses. For all Culver patrons the number is 46511. This is the best way to inform friends, relatives and business associates of the code number for your area.

4. Determine your list of gift purchases which must be mailed. Such planning allows you to shop early when selections are the greatest and you can stock up on mailing materials in advance. Be sure to purchase enough material so that parcels will be packed securely.

The postmaster emphasized that poorly wrapped and too flimsy cartons are the major cause of parcel post damage. He also suggested that the address be written on only one side of the wrapping and that a duplicate address be included inside the carton.

Mr. Mattox said that the Post Office Department in Washington is predicting that a record seven billion pieces of mail will move through the postal system during the peak rush just before Christmas.

"The cooperation of all mailers is vital for us to deliver each holiday card, letter and package before Christmas day. A little planning will make the Christmas rush less hectic for everyone," he said.

Janeen Scruggs Wins Methodist Scholarship

Miss Norma Janeen Scruggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman M. Scruggs, 311 South Main St., Culver, has been awarded a National Methodist Scholarship at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa.

Miss Scruggs is a freshman at Dickinson and a graduate of Culver High School where she was a member of the National Honor Society and choir, co-editor of the yearbook and served on the editorial staff of the school newspaper. She hopes to have a career in journalism.

National Methodist Scholarships cover tuition and fees up to $500 and are granted on the basis of superior academic standing, character, leadership ability, need and active church membership. About 500 such awards are made each year by the Methodist Board of Education, Nashville, Tenn.

Dickinson, a liberal arts school founded in 1773, is a church-related college with an enrollment of 1,300 students from all parts of the country and many foreign countries.

4-H's Honored At Farm Bureau Saturday Supper

Approximately 175 Union Township 4-H's, their parents, and Farm Bureau members attended the 4-H Achievement Night supper at the Culver Lions Den Saturday night, Nov. 14.

Rev. Steven Gubi, Atwood, entertained the group with his sleight-of-hand performance.

The Farm Bureau furnished turkey for the dinner.

County award winners were Michael Overmyer, junior leader key award; Linda Behmer, tenure award; John Behmer, milk production award of merit and field crops award; and Mary Norris, dress revue award.

Farm Bureau pins were given to these Union Township junior leaders: Joan Kosterman, Jack Lucas, Vickie McKinney, Eva Norris, Mary Norris, Susan Thews, Lois Newcomb, John Behmer, Sharon Norris, Steve Ulery, and Michael Overmyer.

Linda Behmer was given a gold pin for completing ten years in 4-H. Sharon Norris won one for nine years and eight-year award winners were John Behmer, Bonnie Good, Hershel Odle, Steve Ulery, and Eva Norris. Recognized for seven-year membership were Alan Mahler and Mary Jean Norris.

Other gold pin award winners were Lois Newcomb, Joyce Odle, Patty Overmyer, for six-year membership; and Susan Thews, Cathy Welsh, Linda Fisher, Sheryl Fisher, Jack Lucas, Linda Reinhold, Randy Singleton, Phillip White, Linda Hudson, Joan Kosterman, Vickey McKinney, Sandy Singleton for five-year memberships.

Silver four-year membership pins were awarded to Karen Krsek, Bea Napier, Pamela Welsh, Janet Zechiel, Mike Wynn.

Three-year award winners were Claudia DePoy, Mike DePoy, Phil DePoy, George Holl, Jr., Nancy Overmyer, Debbie Triplett, Perry White, Jane Kosterman, Mary Ann Lewis, Pam Scott, Linda Snapp, Ginny Thews, Pamela Thompson, Jacquie Welsh, Kathy Wolverton, Marilyn Wolverton, and Carole Zehner.

One-year members awarded bronze pins were Mary Theresa Babcock, Melissa Guise, Sandra Lewis, Patricia Liette, Brenda Lindvall, Deborah Martin, Linda Miller, Susan Napier, Wendy Nelson, Gloria Plante, Shari Scott, Karen Zechiel, Vaughn Kepler, Steve Singleton, Richard Sytsma, and David Wolverton.

Enumerators have been named in Marshall County for the 1964 Census of Agriculture. Crew Leader Mrs. June A. Askins said today.

Enumerators in Marshall County belong to a force of 23,000 throughout the nation employed temporarily by the U. S. Bureau of the Census for this year's Census of Agriculture.

Enumerators are key workers in an agricultural census. It is the enumerator's responsibility to locate every farm within an enumeration district assigned to her, determine if the operator of the farm has answered all questions on a questionnaire that will be mailed to the farmer by the Census Bureau, help the farmer complete any unanswered questions on the form, check answers for accuracy, and deliver the form to the Census Bureau.

A Census of Agriculture is taken every five years in the years ending in "4" and "9" to gather needed, up-to-date information on the nation's agricultural resources and productions. Such information is vital in making decisions affecting many segments of the U. S. economy. Data gathered include the number and size of farms, acreage and harvest of crops, livestock inventory, information on farm equipment and improvements, farm products sold, and on some production expenditures. Information also will be collected on use of fertilizers, insecticides, and herbicides.

The enumerators will be trained in a special 4-day home study course designed to prepare them for the farm census, their crew leader said.

The following persons have been appointed:

Mrs. Alice S. Stull, Polk Township; Mrs. Roberta P. Harbaugh, North Township; Mrs. Edith Weaver and Mrs. Louise Huff, German Township; Mrs. V. Gottschalk, Bourbon Township; Mrs. Loretta C. Shuppert, Center Township; Mrs. Susanna Voreis, West Township; Mrs. Sue Busart, Union Township; Mrs. Mary McGriff, Green Township; and Mrs. Mildred Weidner, Walnut Township.

How do you keep shells from jingling together in your pocket? Easy: Just slip them in the fingers of a spare pair of gloves.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Joseph A. McCarthy of State Road 17 remains a patient at Parkview Hospital in Plymouth where he has been confined for the past five weeks following foot and leg injuries suffered in a tractor accident. Mr. McCarthy is recuperating satisfactorily in room 204.

Mrs. Rossie Moore of Burr Oak returned home Saturday evening from Parkview Hospital in Plymouth where she underwent major surgery Nov. 10. She is reported getting along nicely.

Patricia Wilson and David B. Cleveland
Are Married In Lovely Church Ceremony

MRS. DAVID BALFOUR CLEVELAND

Miss Patricia Carroll Wilson became the bride of David Balfour Cleveland at 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 7, in the First Presbyterian Church, New Castle, Pa. Dr. Gene Stone officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Paul Hays Wilson, 1413 Highland Ave., New Castle, and the late Dr. Wilson. The bridegroom is a son of Mrs. Chester W. Cleveland of 1394 E. Shore Drive, Culver, and the late Mr. Cleveland.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, Loyal W. Wilson, the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of ivory satin, styled with a scooped neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The bodice of her gown was adorned with pearl teardrops and motifs, and a bow of self material topped the detachable back skirt panels which formed a chapel train. She wore a bouffant veil and carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids.

Miss Margaret Ann Wilson and Miss Linda Jane Wilson, sisters of the bride, served as maids of honor. They were attired in identical full-length gowns of willow green brocade fashioned with panel backs. They wore halos of demure sweetheart roses and carried pink nosegays of demure sweetheart roses.

John A. Cleveland of Culver, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Guests were seated by E. Jerry Witt of Wilmette, J. Rodney Todd of Culver and Wallace G. Holdsworth of Des Plaines, Ill.

A two-piece burgundy velvet suit with a light blue satin blouse and burgundy accessories were worn by the bride's mother. The bridegroom's mother chose an emerald green peau de soie jacket dress with a matching green and blue velvet pated hat and complementary accessories.

White mums and roses were used very effectively throughout the bride's home where the reception was held following the ceremony. White roses decorated the bride's table which was centered with a beautiful three-tiered wedding cake. Ropes of Southern smilax and clusters of white mums enhanced the handsome colonial staircase.

After a wedding trip to the Virgin Islands and Nassau, Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland will reside at Chateau de Ville, 3918 Rue Rabelais, Indianapolis.

The bride is a graduate of Stuart Hall in Staunton, Va., Katherine Gibbs in New York, and Finch College in New York. She was formerly employed by a neurosurgeon in Boston.

Mr. Cleveland attended the Fessenden School in Boston. He is a graduate of New Trier High School in Winnetka, Ill., and the William Allen White School of Journalism of the University of Kansas. He is a publisher of the Indiana Business and Industry magazine.

Other local residents attending the wedding were Mrs. John A. Cleveland, Peter, Leslie, and Susan, Mrs. C. E. Glass, and Mr. and Mrs. James Forgey, all East Shore residents. Out-of-state residents attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Duvall of Glencoe, Ill., Mrs. E. Jerry Witt of Wilmette, Ill., and Mrs. Wallace G. Holdsworth of Des Plaines, Ill.

Preceding the wedding a rehearsal dinner was given Friday evening by Mrs. Chester W. Cleveland, mother of the bridegroom, at the New Castle Country Club. Dr. and Mrs. Carl Cecelia and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lenhart hosted a brunch at the Country Club on Saturday. The Lenharts are aunt and uncle of the bride and the Cecillas are her cousins.

§-§-§ Crescent Class Elects Officers

Members of the Crescent class of Grace United Church of Christ met Wednesday evening in the social rooms of the church with 23 members and one guest attending. Mrs. Wilfred Craft, president, welcomed the group and gave a thought for the day.

During the business officers elected for the coming year were Mrs. Craft, president; Mrs. Cloyde Miller, vice president; Mrs. Emma Swigart, secretary; Mrs. Ruth Brown, assistant secretary; Mrs. Errol Culter, treasurer; and Mrs. E. E. Zechiel, assistant treasurer.

Rev. Harold Hohman gave the meditation closing with a prayer. Two films, "Holy Land" and "Riding High," were shown.

During the social hour the refreshment tables were attractive with decorations of bittersweet, gourds and autumn leaves. Hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Craft, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson and Mrs. Fannie Biddle.

§-§-§ Culver City Club To Meet December 3

Marcia Henclewski Becomes Bride Of Dean Alan Graveel

Escorted down the aisle by her father, Miss Marcia Ann Henclewski became the bride of Dean Alan Graveel at a 10 a.m. nuptial mass on Saturday, Nov. 7, in St. Stanislaus Catholic Church in South Bend.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. Henclewski, 1719 W. Marquette Blvd., South Bend, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jules C. Graveel, 18310 Brightlingsea Pl., South Bend. Mrs. Graveel is the former Mary Savage, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Savage, Route 1, Culver.

Rev. Louis J. Putz, C.S.C., of Sacred Heart Church, Notre Dame, performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with bouquets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli. Vocal music was provided by Mrs. David Witucki, and Gerald Sypniewski was the organist.

The bride chose a gown of pean satin and re-embroidered alencon lace. It was designed with a basque bodice, long, tapered sleeves and a semi-scoop neckline. The controlled bell skirt ended with a detachable train. Seed pearls, iridescents and aurora crystal beads on lace decorated both the bodice and the skirt. Her bouffant ballerina veil of pure silk English illusion fell from a petal cap edged with tiny seed pearls and she carried a long cascade bouquet of pink-centered white cymbidiums.

The maid of honor, Miss Diane Bettler, and the bridesmaids, Miss Sue Graveel and Miss Linda Swiental, wore gowns of flamingo red satin velvet. Each dress was fashioned with a scoop neckline and shirred puffed sleeves. The empire-style bodice topped a long skirt gathered in back with a tiny bow. Their headpieces were red velvet roses with circular nose veils. They each carried a triangular-shaped cascade of large white mums accented with red velvet cording and spiral eucalyptus leaves.

Juan Cintron was best man and ushers were Thomas Brunner and Larry Graveel.

A mauve brocade jacket dress with matching hat and shoes was worn by the bride's mother. Her flowers were pink-centered white cymbidiums. The mother of the bridegroom chose a beige knit suit, the jacket of which was trimmed in beige satin. She had matching accessories and her flowers were yellow cymbidiums.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in Z. B. Falcon Hall. Dinner and a reception were held in the evening in Falcon Hall for 300 guests. After a trip to Chicago the couple will be at home at 906 Cleveland Ave., South Bend.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School and Holy Cross School of Nursing. Mr. Graveel was graduated from Central High School and will receive a degree in mechanical engineering in January from the University of Notre Dame.

Entertains S. K. Club

Mrs. Charles Ferrier entertained in her home Friday evening for the members of the S.K. Club. Following the dessert course bridge was enjoyed at two tables and prizes were won by Mrs. Robert Riewoldt and Mrs. Earl Eckman.

Eighteen members and guests of the Literature Group of the Culver City Club met Thursday evening, Nov. 19, in The State Exchange Bank Auditorium with Mrs. Hall Wilson, vice chairman, presiding in the absence of Mrs. Al Poppe. Mrs. Wilson opened the business meeting with the pledge to the Flag.

The minutes were read by Mrs. Peter Onesti in the absence of Mrs. Donald Parson, secretary of the group. The thought of the month, "The Indian Version of The 23rd Psalm," was given by Mrs. E. E. Zochiel, and the group enjoyed a film strip, "Grandma Moses." Blind Goods Chairman Mrs. Wilber Taylor displayed goods made by the blind.

Announcements were made concerning the Arthritis Fund donations and Mrs. Shelton Kaiser, mental health chairman, asked that Christmas gifts for patients at the Norman Beatty Hospital be taken to Trone's Shop no later than Tuesday, Dec. 1. Gifts are NOT to be wrapped, but donors are asked to bring plenty of wrapping paper and ribbon. Volunteer members, who will go to Beatty Hospital on Dec. 10 or 11 to wrap gifts, should list their names with Mrs. Kaiser at Viking 2-2074.

Members were reminded of the Maxinkuckee Junior Woman's Club-sponsored Holly Shoppe on Wednesday, Dec. 2, at The Culver Inn. The Bazaar will open at 11 a.m. and the $1.50 luncheon will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Donations of $1.00 each will be collected for the 1 to 4 p.m. afternoon and 7:30 to 10 o'clock evening card parties, all features of the Holly Shoppe.

A Holiday Charm Show, which exhibits and shares decorations and ideas for the Holidays, will be held on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 4 and 5, at the First United Church of Christ in Bourbon. The public is invited to attend on Friday from 3 to 9 p.m. and on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The meeting was closed with the club collect. Mrs. Helen Overmyer and Mrs. Dorothy Osborn presided at the tea table which was centered with yellow mums, Thanksgiving figurines, and brown tapers.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Kenneth Miller, Mrs. J. D. Newman, Mrs. William Kose, and Mrs. Peter Onesti.

FARM EXCHANGE STUDENT FROM NEW ZEALAND VISITS IN WILLIAM LAKE HOME

Noel Crawford from Cave City, New Zealand, was a guest in the William Lake home from Wednesday until Saturday, Nov. 11-14. Mr. Crawford, a member of the National Federation of Young Farmers, was a farm exchange student from New Zealand to England and was enroute home by way of the United States. Mr. and Mrs. Lake were guests in the Crawford home at Cave City in 1955.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lake and their houseguest, Mr. Crawford, were Thursday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Hisehman in Mishawaka and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ulery and family at Burr Oak on Friday.

On Friday evening, Mr. Crawford accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Lake to the Green Township Farm Bureau meeting at the Argos School and gave a very interesting talk about his country of New Zealand. He said the standard of living in New Zealand was equal to that of the United States and the principal crops were wheat, pasture, sheep, beef cattle, and dairy cattle. Most of the exports go to England. Mr. Crawford is traveling by bus to San Francisco and will then go by plane to Hawaii and New Zealand.

DR. DONALD REED NAMED LOCAL CHAIRMAN OF I.U. SCHOOL OF MEDICINE FUND

Dr. Donald W. Reed, 304 State St., Culver, has been appointed local chairman of a newly organized Indiana University School of Medicine Fund. He is one of five graduates of the I.U. School of Medicine living in Culver.

This program of raising funds from alumni and friends to help meet the needs of the school was launched recently by the I.U. School of Medicine Alumni Association in cooperation with the staff and faculty and the I.U. Foundation.

Dr. Dennis S. Megenhardt of Indianapolis, national chairman of the program, said local chairmen have been appointed in 135 cities throughout the country.

Contributions to the fund will be used for student scholarships and loans, for facilities, toward the creation of endowed professorships, and for other urgent needs in accordance with the wishes of the donors, he said.

This year has been designated as the VanNuys Memorial Year in honor of Dr. John D. VanNuys, long-time dean of the School of Medicine, who died last Feb. 15, and a special fund has been established in his memory.

EIGHT-WEEK WINTER COURSES TO START JAN. 4

Purdue University's school of agriculture will offer two eight-week courses in agriculture — animal agriculture and general agriculture — beginning Jan. 4, 1965, according to V. C. Freeman, associate dean of the school of agriculture and director of resident instruction. Courses end Feb. 26.

Students will be required to take five core subjects: Farm management, field machinery and farm power, community leadership, crop production and soil management and feeds and feeding. In addition, two major subjects and two elective subjects are required.

Total cost for Indiana students ranges from about $265 to $300.

Scholarships are available from member banks of the Indiana State Bankers Association, the Sears, Roebuck Foundation and the Indiana Farm Bureau. Persons 18 years old or older with a good common school education may attend; no entrance examination is required.

Since the winter course program began in 1887 more than 10,000 students have completed the courses.

For a 1965 winter course bulletin write V. C. Freeman, associate dean, School of Agriculture, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. 47907.

CENSUS OF AGRICULTURE BRINGS FARM STATISTICS UP TO DATE FOR COUNTY

The 1964 Census of Agriculture, now being conducted by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, in Marshall County, will bring up to date farm statistics last collected in 1959.

Here are a few of the many facts recorded in the 1959 farm census for this County:

There were 2,086 farms in 1959, compared with 2,357 in 1954. The average size of farm was 125.3 acres in 1959, compared with 111.3 acres in 1954.

The value of products sold by the County's farmers in 1959 was $14,177,036. The value of all crops sold was $4,452,245. The value of all livestock and livestock products sold was $9,724,796.

The 1964 national Census of Agriculture is the 18th in a series which began in 1840. Because of the rapid changes American agriculture has been undergoing in recent years, Census Bureau officials regard the current census as one of the most significant ever taken. They ask every farmer to cooperate in compiling an accurate record of these changes by filling out the census form he receives in the mail and holding the completed questionnaire until a census taker calls for it.

WOOL GROWERS URGED TO KEEP RECORDS

Wool growers — particularly those who market their lambs in the fall — were reminded today about the importance of keeping adequate records of their sales so that they will be able to make proper applications for payment under the Wool Incentive Program.

According to Carl W. Price, Chairman, Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, the sales record for lambs sold should include the name of the buyer, his signature, and the number and live-weight of lambs sold, plus the description "unshorn". Lamb payments are made only on lambs that have never been shorn, to discourage unusual shearing of lambs before selling.

The Chairman also reminded growers that current marketings of wool and lambs through Dec. 31, 1964, will qualify for incentive payments under the Wool Program for the 1964 Marketing Year. Beginning with 1964, the Marketing Year is the calendar year.

Growers are urged to file their applications for payment, supported by the required sales documents, with the ASCS County Office as soon as possible after their fall sales are completed. While applications for payments on 1964 marketings may be filed no later than the end of January 1965, an application may be submitted at any time between now and then.

Mr. Price said that lamb feeders particularly should keep accurate records which will establish the length of time they have owned lambs on which they apply for payment. Lamb payments are made only on lambs which a producer has owned for 30 days or more, and amount of payment is based on weight gain of the lambs during the seller's ownership.

COMMODORE DEWEY's words carried loud and clear up to the conning tower of the American flagship, Olympia. Captain Charles Vernon Gridley, eyes riveted on the Spanish fleet, barked a command. Black smoke belched from the mouths of the big guns. Teeth-jarring roars thundered across the water. The Battle of Manila Bay had begun.

114 minutes later the shooting was all over. The proud Spanish fleet had been brought to its knees that afternoon in 1898. Not one ship escaped destruction or capture. It was one of the most complete victories in history—and without the loss of a single American sailor.

Though mortally ill at the time, Captain Gridley personally directed plans and movements during the battle. He won high praise from Dewey for his bravery and skill. But Gridley didn't live to enjoy his fame. His strength depleted by the strain of battle, he died in Japan on his way home to Logansport, Indiana.

News of Manila Bay spread quickly through the nation—thanks, in large measure, to the telephone. By the time of the Spanish-American War, it had been revolutionizing communications for over 20 years.

The progress continues today. The folks at Indiana Bell are putting the scientific inventions and innovations of the Bell Telephone Laboratories to work for you. That's why your telephone service is the finest in the world.

Are You Physically Fit?

By Holly Thompson

Fifty years ago, Americans worried about the new-fangled income tax law, about automobiles scaring the horses off Main Street, and about milady's dresses rising recklessly to ankle length. Nobody seemed to worry about a condition called "Physical Fitness." Children beat rugs in the backyard, walked two or three miles to school, and picked bushels of fruit for Mother to preserve in the summer time. Farm and home chores kept everyone busy.

Today's push-button society finds children being chauffeured to school, to music lessons, to scout meeting; sitting glassy-eyed in front of television sets; or emptying waste-baskets as their contribution to family living. Whatever they are doing, they are hardly ever walking, and they are generally not working.

Almost half of the 200,000 school children in grades 4 through 12, participating in pilot programs for the President's Council on Youth Fitness, failed minimum tests. Says Dr. Hans Kraus, Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, New York University-Bellevue Medical Center, "The older generation was tougher because it had to undergo adequate physical activity in the normal routine of living. Our present soft living has robbed too many young people of vital muscular strength and flexibility."

To counteract this condition, Indiana schools have responded with a variety of testing programs and fitness regimens. Here at Culver the gym classes have worked at some of these programs and much more emphasis has been placed on the individual sports so that the abilities acquired here will be able to be used in later years.

At the present time, we are working on archery. Archery as we know it today, is a far cry from primitive man's use of the bow and arrow for food and self-preservation to its use in a child's game of cowboys and Indians. It was, of course, in comparatively recent times that relegated the bow into the realm of sport. It has become a highly specialized sport in which both men and women participate. It requires skill and an ability which is achieved only by practice and more practice.

In the past, archery has interested groups in many parts of the world, mostly in England and the United States. But its popularity has been relatively limited. Lately, however, there has been a renewal of interest in the sport and reflecting these interests and the interest of the President's Council on Youth Fitness, we find groups all over the country participating in this sport and many, many other individual sports. But not all people are getting enough activity of this sort and they are becoming unable to pass even the minimum test mentioned before.

Not all students and schools are meeting these challenges successfully but the schools in Indiana seem to be. However, it is obvious that continued improvement in quality and quantity of the programs is necessary if every child is to be given an opportunity to achieve physical fitness.

A program designed to promote fitness should not be a one-shot effort or one that is emphasized only when public interest in the subject is at a high level. Such programs are a fundamental part of our total school program, and they offer a unique learning experience for all age levels.

Skills and attitudes developed by children who take part in such programs will be carried through a lifetime. The real purpose of any fitness program is to deliver a physically fit child into adult life. Hippocrates stated in the fourth century B.C. "That which is used develops, and that which is not used wastes away."

"Should I Join?"

By Donna Rogers

Seniors girls, who are planning on entering college next Fall, are thinking about whether or not to join a sorority. The underclass girls should be considering this also.

Many things have to be considered when you are trying to decide whether to join. One of these would be expenses. You can count on paying around $100 to $200 more than if you were staying in a dorm. Some girls seem to neglect the fact that you can be a member of a sorority and still live in a dorm. Many would be glad to pay the extra money so that they could live and get acquainted with many girls.

The girls who choose sororities feel that they should place themselves in an environment of many different personalities and circles. Also, some girls feel that a sorority would enable one to adjust to the many different kinds of people which she will meet on life's road.

Those who prefer to live in a dorm are worried about the social life and togetherness interfering with their studies. They would prefer to be friendly with all students rather than just those in a sorority. Again, some girls feel that their sorority sisters would remain friends for life. It would be possible to make friends in a smaller college without living in a sorority, but in a larger college, it would be more difficult.

Some colleges do not offer much of a social life for people who live in dorms. If a girl plans to attend a college like this and is interested in a social life, most likely she will join a sorority.

Activities in a sorority seem to be more organized than dorms. They are a more select group, and should be able to work together better. Some sororities have pledge programs which are set up so that they will not interfere with the freshmen's studies. They do this because they realize that a person goes to college to get an education. A few sororities put freshmen in rooms with seniors in the same field, which assure the freshmen of assistance if necessary.

There are those who get the impression that sororities are just for fun and games. A sorority is what its members make it. Some sororities, honorary, have high grade standards which must be met. The grade question usually is involved in every sorority. The girls who are interested can make the right decision on which sorority they want when they "rush."

Different colleges have "rushes" at different times of the year. First there is the "open rush." This is an open house to all the girls who are in the least bit interested. Then the more formal "rushes" enter the scene. These are tea parties and this type of activity. By this time a girl should have five or ten sororities in mind. The ones which are interested in her will invite her back. She usually narrows it down to the one which is interested in her, and in which she is interested.

The pledges go through initiation much like other groups, but for a longer period of time. If she is asked to do something, she does it. The pledges have "walkouts" when they just take off for a day or weekend, and do not tell anyone where they are going.

Everyone wonders about a new job, new town, or college life, just as they do about sororities. Girls will continue to take a chance on joining a sorority as long as they think that it offers what they want.

LINDA SPARLING AND PAMELA CROZIER

By Betty McFarland

At the beginning of each month, the Sunshine Society elects one girl from their membership that has a certain characteristic that is noticeable. This girl is given a bracelet of gold links with pearls every two links and a pendant that hangs from the bracelet on which is the Sunshine emblem. She is to wear this bracelet during the month for which she is elected and she then passes it on to the girl that is elected for the next month.

The girl elected for the month of October was elected for her disposition. She was Pam Crozier.

Pam is a senior and is active in Usher's Club and Pep Club. She likes sports and likes to sew and cook. She states that she was shocked when she received the bracelet.

The girl for the month of November was elected for her neat appearance. Linda Sparling was selected for having this trait.

Linda is also a senior and is active in Pep Club and Rainbow and is a member of the Yearbook Staff. Linda likes to cook and sew. She says that it was a shock when she received the bracelet and that she is going to hate to give it up at the end of the month. She also said that it was really a pleasure to think that so many girls considered her appearance neat.

These girls are now eligible to compete for Sunshine Girl of the Year. This contest is held in the Spring at the Ideal Ladies Party. At this time all the names of the girls that were Sunshine Girls of the Month are placed on a ballot and the members elect one girl as the Sunshine Girl of the Year. She then receives the bracelet, which she keeps.

"Who Are We?"

By George Wright
Senior Civics Theme

We are a people who would fight among ourselves and suddenly stop fighting to join forces and fight a common foe. We are a people who have every nationality in the world represented in a country of equality. Yet we would ridicule people who may be from another country or of another nationality. We are a people who help make our country's laws and then bitterly disapprove of those approved by a majority of our own people. We are a people who praise a great leader in one breath and point out his faults in the next. What kind of people criticize acts that their neighbors do and then repeat their neighbors deed? We are Americans.

In G. K. Chesterton's mind Americans are free thinking enough that they are the most non-conformist people in the world. This is shown in one of his quotes on the behavior of American people. "Most Americans are born drunk . . . They have a sort of permanent intoxication from within, a sort of invisible champagne . . . Americans do not need to drink to inspire them to do anything." (1)

It is said that Americans are the most conceited people in the world when it comes to stating what country they are from. An American is a very proud person. He considers his country the best in the world. If an American was talking to a person from another nation and could not offer proof as to why his country was better in a specific field, he would rather fight than say his country was second best.

Americans are a mixture of all nationalities and this makes him unique. We as Americans believe all men are created equal. Our ancestors may have been Irish princes or Danish kings but we still fight for equality. I think the American's attitude toward citizenship and equality is best stated in the following paragraph.

"If a man is going to be an American at all let him be so without any qualifying adjectives; and if he is going to be something else, let him drop the word American from his personal description." (2)

An American is a person of many and widely varied feelings. Only in America could a person campaign violently for one political party and then weep at the funeral of the leader whom he so violently campaigned against. Only in America does a political office seeker campaign so belligerently against a person he later helps so earnestly to better his country.

In America people have a very strong tie to their class. But in America a person may rise to fame, or become wealthy even though his parents were poor. In other countries a person or his family may never rise from one class.

In America there are many different religions and most Americans feel strongly toward their religion. But in America, a predominantly Protestant country, a Catholic leader can be elected.

In America (as in other countries) political parties may disagree violently, but unlike other countries both parties work together placing country above party.

No matter how different two men are, and no matter how bitterly they oppose one another, they will band together to aid in the betterment of their country.

What is an American? "An American is a man who is greater in soul than in his class, creed, political party, of the section in which he lives." (3)

Topic Of Debate: Family Car

By Doug Lindvall

There are many families all over the country sharing the problem of, "Who gets to have the car tonight?" As we tune in on a typical family on a typical night we can hear a very typical conversation.

"It's a quarter 'til seven, kids, your mother and I are going now", says Father as they leave for the show. "Good b..."

"Wait!" screams Jim, their seventeen-year-old son, "I've got to have the car! I just ran out of paper and I can't finish my theme."

"Well, son, your mother and I were just leaving and..."

"Gee, thanks, Dad! You're really great for seeing it my way. I'll be back in a minute."

Forty minutes later Jim returns . . . . .

Meanwhile, back at the home- stead, Sue, daughter of this fast moving family, had explained that she must go to the library. So, she leaves with the car and, just like a woman, doesn't come home for two hours.

By this time it is really getting late but Mother and Dad still have time to catch the late show. Well, they are off when suddenly the car stops with a chug-a-lug. The motor is dead, and by all indications the car is out of gas. Then suddenly the pistons fall out and the crankshaft breaks in two. Bit by bit, piece by piece, this transportation miracle falls to the ground, and now there are no more problems of who gets the car.

This may be one method of solving the family car problem, but hardly the most desirable. The best one is to have Dad buy you your own car!! (The method of approach is left to the reader.)

"Chug-a-lug! Chug-a-lug! It makes you wanna' hotter. . . . Turn off that cotton-pickin' alarm clock! It's only 4:00 a.m. Oh-h-h-h! I'm so tired — THUD! (That's the easiest way of getting out of bed in the morning — just roll over until you hit the floor.)

At 5:15 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 7, five sleepy gals (the four varsity cheerleaders and Carolyn Snyder) and Mr. Miller left for Indiana University where the annual cheerleaders conference was to be held.

"Boy, look at that fog. . . It's awful!" But that didn't stop the gay (?) carload. . . off they went down the road to a day of practicing and learning new cheers.

Z-z-z-z-z "Screech, skid, gasp!" "Whoops, guess I forgot about that railroad track" calmly states Mr. Miller to the five abruptly awakened girls.

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

By Karen DeWitt and Marsha Guise

This week the kindergarten enjoyed several stories about Thanksgiving. "Stranger" is the movie the youngsters saw; it has a lesson that could be emphasized every year.

Mrs. McLane's first graders have been studying the American Indians. Some of the projects are making Indian villages, bringing relics to class, and writing stories about them. Randy Jett wrote, "Once there was an Indian. His name was Red Eagle." Danny Hatten and Anne Stevenson also wrote very good stories about the "Plain Indians" and "The Turkey and the Indians."

The third graders have been busy in all three sections. One of the main attractions is seeing how many can spell all of their spelling words correctly. In Mrs. Mishler's room there were 25 and in Miss Henning's room there were 20.

The students from Miss Henning's room and Mrs. Carter's room are studying the four basic food groups and how they help our bodies. Mrs. Mishler has provided her pupils with a fun way of learning to tell time by following the rules of the game bingo.

From Mr. Horban's room, Anne Pare' and Thomas Hodgkin did an experiment to show how air pressure forced an egg into a bottle. All of the children did excellent work on their reports about

Last but not least, Mr. Overstreet's health class is studying food and its value. They are also studying the uses of the different foods for the human body.

Recipe For Victory

scare took all of five minutes — and soon the girls were back to sleep.

Along about dawn, life again came to the little tan Falcon — everyone woke up from their little snooze and the day began again (for about the third time).

Time to stop, everybody!! We stopped at a little restaurant for some refreshments — we were still so tired we were silly . . . the people there must have thought we were nuts! We barely got our orders placed when Mr. Miller says "O.K. now, it's time to leave." Painful, hungry groans arose from the five and we finally persuaded him to let us stay (after bribing him with one of Cheryl's donuts.)

Soon we were on our way again . . . this time not for long, because very soon after that we were marching down long corridors in the new field house at I.U. looking for the girls' dressing room. This year the conference's theme was "A Recipe for Victory". The first thing on the agenda was the contest. Most of the different squads were sitting in the stands twisting their hands, chewing their handkerchiefs and just plain looking nervous — but not the Culver cheerleaders! Oh, no! The contest didn't worry us in the least. There was some very, very, good cheerleading squads down there and we weren't going to get our hopes up high at all!

The contest hadn't been in progress long when over the loud speaker we heard "The next three schools are Culver, . . ." Down the stands we ran — eager to get it over with . . . soon we were in the center of the floor yelling "Power" with all our might!

Well, so much for that. Better luck next time girls.

During the rest of the contest, we went around to the different groups that we recognized — Plymouth, North Judson, Mentone, and Bremen — and talked about our recent victories. We also learned some new yells from some other squads.

Then it was lunch time. That didn't take too long, and soon we were back in the bleachers while Mr. Newt Loken taught us some new chants.

The I.U. pom pom girls then divided us up into three groups and taught us a yell. After that Mr. Loken taught us some more chants and yells.

The day was going pretty fast — already it was time for the announcement of the winners and the final contest.

The day ended, so we thought, with Morrystown (a school from our division) taking first place in the contest. Eager to see how we Culver cheerleaders did, we scouted all over for our score sheets. They were not available, but everyone's total points were posted. Amazed and quite excited we reported back to Mr. Miller that we had tied for fourth place in our division!

After having changed clothes for the return trip, we all piled back into Mr. Miller's car tired and hungry, and quite happy.

Coming home we sang, chanted and about drove Mr. Miller out of his tree! Have you ever tried to keep your mind on driving while someone directly behind you was chanting "Get the ball, you all, get the ball!"? Believe me, it's not too easy!

Back in the little town of Culver, the first thing we wanted to do was tell Coach Crosley the news. Mr. Miller took us down to the Coach's house! we all tumbled out and . . .

"Tramp, tramp, knock, pound" "Come in." There was the coach all relaxed in his arm chair. "Yipe!! Can you imagine his surprise to see four crazy girls come bouncing in all talking at once?"

Seriously, though, I'd like to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Miller and Mr. Crosley for taking such an active interest in our cheerleading squad. We certainly appreciate your help. Thank you.

knowledge, and it makes students appreciate the opportunity to read.

Our library contains a variety of books for all age levels. During the past summer we cataloged 2,354 books. There are 1,700 grade school books which are not cataloged, 500 old texts and other surpluses, plus 26 different magazine and newspaper publications.

Mr. Tanksley was assisted by 17 student librarians in cataloging the books.

The meeting was closed and the parents returned to their homes with a better appreciation of the AVA and the School Library.

VENISON COOKERY

The trick to serving tasteful venison is a "do" and a "don't" says Marcile Allen, Purdue University food specialist.

Do add a generous amount of fat and don't overcook the lean dry meat of antlered animals.

For the tender cuts use dry heat methods, such as roasting, broiling and pan frying. For less tender cuts use moist heat methods such as braising, stewing or pot roasting. Grind some of the less tender meat for deerburgers, meat loaf and mincemeat.

Loin and rib sections provide the best roasts and steaks for broiling and pan-broiling. The chuck or rump is good for pot roasts and ground meat. The round will make good Swiss steaks. Shank, neck and flanks can be used for stews and ground meat.

When roasting, broiling or pan frying, lay strips of bacon or beef suet across the meat.

Do not overcook; venison meat toughens quickly. Because the natural fat of the animal solidifies easily, venison tastes best when served piping hot.

Enjoy the distinct flavor of venison. But if you think the game flavor will be too strong, Miss Allen recommends trimming away the excess fat. You might also use a highly seasoned sauce, made with garlic, onion, tomatoes, spices or herbs, to mask the "gamey" flavor.

CHARLES SNYDER NAMED TO RESIDENCE HALL COUNCIL

Charles Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Snyder of Culver, has been elected a member of the Freshman Council of Men's Residence Hall, H-3, at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind. Charles graduated from Culver High School with the Class of 1964 and entered Purdue in September.

H. A. Boblett Gets 50-Year Mason Award

In an open meeting at Culver's Masonic Hall on Thursday evening, Nov. 19, an award of gold was bestowed on Herbert A. Boblett, Academy Road, for his 50-year tenure with the Henry H. Culver, No. 617, F. & A.M., Masonic Lodge.

Henry D. Winkler gave the oration and Mrs. Boblett pinned the attractive medal on her husband. This coveted award was to have been presented to Dr. Jesse R. Robinson of Bloomfield, Mo., and Lester A. Rockhill of Los Angeles, Calif., both former residents, who were unable to attend. In December, this same award is to be presented to Frank A. Brooke, 825 Lake Shore Drive.

With W. T. Parish and W. O. Osborn already recipients of this outstanding membership record, the Culver Masons now boast 300 years of membership in just six members!

JOHN BENEDICT NAMED SECRETARY OF INDIANA CHAPTER OF AIESEC

John A. Benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene G. Benedict, W 18th B Road, Culver, has been named Secretary of the Indiana Chapter of AIESEC-U.S., at Indiana University, Bloomington.

AIESEC is the international association of students in business and economics. Through a world wide system of working traineeships, it provides close and friendly relations between students of all nations.

AIESEC traineeships offer the business oriented students an opportunity to apply his theoretical training to a practical situation in a country other than his own. More than 200 American business and industrial firms — large and small — support this world wide exchange of future executives.

LOCAL HOLSTEINS COMPLETE YEAR'S TEST RECORDS

Registered Holstein cows from this area are prominently mentioned in a special production testing report from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Brattleboro, Vt.

Culver Della Dictator Lena 4161609, a seven-year-old produced 18,978 pounds of milk and 668 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Al-Beth Dictator Leader Pat 5239086, a two-year-old, had 17,109 pounds of milk and 605 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Both are owned by John A. Newman & Sons, Culver.

The cows made their records under Dairy Herd Improvement Registry rules, a program that incorporates the DHIA records of Registered Holstein cows into the national Association's breed improvement programs.

Purdue University supervised the weighing and testing of the records. DHIR and its companion program, Herd Improvement Registry, have a combined enrollment of over 140,000 Registered Holstein cows in nearly 3,275 herds. These new records compare to the average U. S. cow's output of 7,500 pounds of milk.

Floral Arranging Is Enjoyed By Junior Woman's Club

Members and guests of the Maxinkuckee Federated Junior Woman's Club met in the home of Mrs. Larry Berger on Monday, Nov. 23. Assisting the hostess was Mrs. Ted Strang and Mrs. Ronald Williams. Guests were Mrs. William Stegemoller, Mrs. John Baker, Mrs. Jack Miller and Mrs. Jerry Wyman. Mrs. Francis Fishburn was welcomed as a new member.

Mrs. Lance Overmyer, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Joe Anderlohr, Jr., who enlightened the club members on the art of floral arranging by creating many lovely centerpieces. The members then enjoyed creating their own floral arrangements.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Dale Heiser. Last minute details were discussed concerning the Holly Shoppe which will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 2, at the Culver Inn. The closing thought was given by Mrs. George Hopple.

The Christmas meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. John Hoesel on Dec. 14.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses during the social hour.

Don't forget to put your crow or duck calls on a string. You'll forget 'em in the excitement of shooting and they may get lost.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snyder, Sr., who accompanied their son, Allen, to Washington, D.C., on Sunday, Nov. 14, returned to Culver Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kline attended the annual Lake family dinner Sunday at the Mishawaka home of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Hibschman. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. William Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Orvin Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Millburn Lake, Mrs. Clara Stults, and Mrs. Orley Zerbe. A bountiful dinner was served by the hostess, after which the William Lakes showed interesting films of some of their recent trips.

Restrictions Eased On Two Duck Species

In that fleeting instant when the ducks come within range, Indiana duck hunters have several rapid-fire decisions to make. As they look down the barrel they not only must pick out the best shot . . . but they must know that the duck they are pulling down on is one that can be legally taken.

In recent years, at least one specie each year has been protected. Although entirely necessary and justifiable, this restriction has caused apprehension for the hunter at the critical moment of decision when identification can be difficult.

This year that apprehension is relieved somewhat with restrictions having been lifted on the canvasback and redhead. In the daily bag limit of four, two canvasbacks OR two redheads may be taken . . . or, one of each. Keep in mind that the key word here is "OR" . . . canvasback OR redhead.

sometimes mistakenly referred to as the "black mallard" . . . has been taken off the two-only restricted list. In immediate past seasons, the black duck was included with mallards. By removing it from this identification and considering it separately, four may be taken to comprise the total four duck limit. The two duck limit on mallards still exists.

In the daily bag limit, two may be mallards, wood ducks, canvasbacks OR redheads . . . or one of each. Four of any other species in any combination may be taken.

Mergansers fall into another bag limit category and are not included in the duck limit. Five mergansers may be taken daily and ten in possession as long as not more than one daily, (two in possession) is a hooded merganser.

Ten coots may be taken daily with 20 in possession.

Adding them all up, four ducks, five mergansers and ten coots may be taken in the daily bag.

If identification is a problem, the United States Government Printing Office can help. A quarter (25¢) will get you a booklet entitled . . . "Ducks at a Distance" that accurately describes all waterfowl Hoosier hunters are likely to spot. Write the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington D. C., and don't forget to include a quarter.

Attendance at Sunday services was 55. "Veterans of the Cross" day will be observed next Sunday, Nov. 29.

Providing the weather is considerably better this Friday night than it was last Friday night, the annual Thanksgiving family night supper will be held in the church basement at 7 p.m. William Lake will show pictures. Turkey will be furnished, the trimmings will be potluck.

There will be a singspiration at Grandview Church next Sunday night at 7:30 p.m.

Sunday guests of the Rev. and Mrs. W. Ray Kuhn and Carol were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Olsen and Lark of South Bend and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith and Steve of Alexandria. The occasion was the family Thanksgiving celebration and marked Mrs. Kuhn's birthday.

Sunday afternoon and supper guests of Mrs. Mildred Overmyer and Darold were the Vance Costello family of Argos and Martin Costello of Defiance, O.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lake and the Paul Ulery family of Burr Oak attended a gathering of the Lake families at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Hibsachman and family in Mishawaka on Sunday.

The power of Truth over illusion will be a central theme at Christian Science churches this Sunday. The hypnotic nature of evil will also be described in a Bible Lesson on the subject: "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced."
Featured will be this vivid passage from Revelation 12. "And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world."

Related readings from the Christian Science textbook will include these lines: "Mortal mind is constantly producing on mortal body the results of false opinions, and it will continue to do so until mortal error is deprived of its imaginary powers by Truth, which sweeps away the gossamer web of mortal illusion. . . Truth casts our error now as surely as it did nineteen centuries ago" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy pp. 402, 495).

A cordial welcome is extended to all to worship with us.

More Than Enough

We are the most prosperous people the world has ever seen! Even the poor among us live in princely comfort compared to some in other lands. Our country is famous for its beauty and fruitfulness, our cities are as modern as tomorrow, and our future glows with promise. God has indeed been good to us.

But with His bounty of wealth and power, God has given us responsibilities. Because we have so much, we are called upon to share what we can spare. And we are required to work and pray for the end of ignorance, poverty and suffering wherever they are found.

To be able to give is a blessed privilege. Let us fill our churches and join in heartfelt thanks to God that we have enough . . . and more than enough . . . to share.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Babson Applies Own Theories To Predict Weather

All of my readers are familiar with the weather forecasts that are given on radio and TV several times a day. These cover not only the territory which your station serves, but the TV forecasts also show a map indicating what is occurring in all other sections of the country.

The Old Farmer's Almanac This is a booklet that has been issued for 172 years and is published by Yankee, Incorporated, Dublin, New Hampshire. As to how their predictions are made, I do not know. But the book contains forecasts about the coming winter, whether it will be mild, cold, wet, dry — and gives predictions also for the full year ahead. I am not guaranteeing the forecasts of the Old Farmer's Almanac, but the editors have been at it for a long time and should be able to make a good estimate.

So far as I know, all sections of the United States get the same Almanac and the same forecast, wherever they live. However, suggestions are given readers for making adjustments to fit the various areas. In my opinion, the Old Farmer's Almanac is a valuable book and I recommend it.

The Inevitable Curve Of Action and Reaction Those who have followed this column for many years will remember that I often refer to Sir Isaac Newton's "Law of Action and Reaction." In fact, it was on the basis of this Law that Babson's Reports were originally founded. Readers who have been to my conferences will remember that the large (Richard Knight) auditorium at Babson Park carries a reference to the Law of Action and Reaction, which law I am using today to help forecast what the coming winter will develop. I am breaking away from professional meteorological forecasting methods and basing my experiments on the up and down curvature which applies to almost everything on earth — from the waves of the ocean to the temperatures of the land.

My interpretation is that — considering the whole country — if one traces this curve over periods of years the ups and downs will come close to balancing. In other words, there will be a period of years with temperatures running a little colder until they reach a curve trough where they will start up again and be a little warmer. Only time will tell whether my experiment is right or wrong. The professional meteorologists may not agree with my forecasts; but then, they often do not agree with one another.

My Forecast For The Next Two Years After tracing the temperatures thus far this year, I find that most of the country has experienced a cool summer. Based on these curves I will forecast that the cool weather is not over. My curves do not take into consideration snow, by which many readers judge winter. I plot the regular temperature figures, in winter just as in summer.

My forecast is that those sections of the country which have had a cool summer will continue to have lower temperatures until the curve reaches its nadir. Then it will gradually turn and start upward until it reaches an apex and heads back down again. To complete one of these curves requires four to eight years. Hence I forecast that both winter and summer will be cooler than normal for at least a couple years more. Then the temperature will begin to move upward.

Weather Forecasts Helpful To Businesses With my readers living in different sections of the country, I do not like to give too definite advice. However, I do feel that any reader who is handling perishable foods would do well to have a talk with his TV meteorologist.

Notice Of Additional Appropriations

Notice is hereby given the taxpayers of Culver Community Schools Corporation, Marshall County, Indiana, that the Board of School Trustees of said corporation at their regular meeting place at 7:30 o'clock p.m., on the 7th day of December, 1964, will consider the following additional appropriations which said officers consider necessary to meet the extraordinary emergency existing at this time.

Special School Fund
B-1 Pay of Principals $ 144
B-3 Pay of Teachers $ 500
B-6 Instructional Supplies $1000
F-3 Pay of Transfers $1200

I think television is wonderful, and I especially appreciate the studies given by the TV meteorologists. I often think, however, that nothing will take the place of good old-fashioned common-sense such as our grandfathers showed when they anticipated the cold of winter and stored their vegetables in their cellars accordingly. Along this line, I understand that one of my "Babson clients" uses a system somewhat similar to mine . . . basing his forecasts on cycles of weather. From these he judges crop yields, hence is better able to plan his canning operations months ahead.

MARSHALL COUNTY SOIL AND WATER CONSERVATION DISTRICT MAY BE EXPANDED

The State Soil Conservation Committee held a hearing in Plymouth on Nov. 19, to assess the desire of farmers from German, Bourbon, North, Center and Tippecanoe Townships, to be included in the Marshall County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Eighty-five farmers were present at the meeting, representing all five townships.

Spokesmen from all townships spoke favorably about enlarging the district to include their townships. No one present offered any objections.

The State Committee was favorably impressed and said they would recommend inclusion of the five additional townships into the Marshall County Soil and Water Conservation District.

After the local Board of Supervisors is notified officially of the State Soil Conservation Committee's approval, a referendum will be held in all five townships.

In order to enter the existing Marshall County Soil and Water Conservation District, all landowners of 10 acres or more are entitled to vote. Sixty per cent must vote with 60 per cent of the voters in favor of inclusion.

Robert Harvey, County Extension Agent, chaired the meeting. Russell Reiff, White County farmer and president of the State Soil Conservation Committee, and Charles McKee, executive secretary of the State Committee, conducted the hearing.

Supervisors of the Marshall County Soil and Water Conservation District were also present. They are Fred Wolff, chairman; Elmer Holm, vice-chairman; Adrian Snapp, Secretary-Treasurer; Leon Leffert, and Carroll Thompson.

Also present were Hermann A. Beck, conservationist in the Marshall County district; Dean Manchester, soil conservation technician; Clay E. Hurt, area conser-

Deaf Man Perfects Tiny Hearing Aid

A remarkable tiny hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

This small device has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a new unusual design idea in a product to restore natural hearing.

It was developed especially for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear.

Due to the use of transistors, the user cost is extremely low. The instrument weighs only 1/4 oz. It is about the size of a sewing thimble — hardly noticeable yet powerful.

Culver Throttles Tyner, 77-44, For Second Win

Press Defense Smothers Redmen

By EARL D. MISHLER

The Culver Indians raced to their second straight win of the young basketball season Friday night, scoring a 77-44 victory over Tyner's Redmen in the local gym. Due to the season's first blizzard, only a sparse crowd looked on as Coach Gene Crosley's boys unveiled another new weapon against the outclassed visitors. A blanket-like 2-3-1 zone press, spearheaded by 6'1" senior, Jim Boswell and his "many, many arms," literally smothered the Redmen throughout the first half.

However, with the exception of their defense, the Tribe's victory was largely an unimpressive one. Their offense sputtered during much of the game, with the outside shooting at times surprisingly poor.

6'3" senior Bob Eustis enlivened the Indian attack in the second half, and Boswell had a good night from the field, but the majority of the Tribesmen played less than spectacularly. As a team, Culver hit 35 of 82 for 42.7 from the field, and 7 out of 10 at the foul line.

After building up a 34-10 lead in the second period behind the zone press, balanced scoring, and Dave Lemar's strong defensive rebounding, the reserves were called upon. The half ended 40-15, in Culver's favor.

The third quarter was very unique: Tyner's reserves played against Culver's starters, and the visitors "won" that period, 16-15. But the issue had long since been decided, and the bench was cleared again in the final stanza.

Eleven Indians hit the scoring column, and 13 Tribesmen have scored already this year. Boswell, hitting 9 of 13 field goals, led the scoring with 19, and Eustis added 15, including 6 of 10 from the floor. Both Bob and Bruce Lindvall, who missed the season's opener, played at almost full strength. Phil Jacobson led the losers with 14 points.

No CHS Varsity has won its first two games since the 1952-53 squad captured its first twelve. In addition, Culver's 33-point margin was the biggest for the Indians since Red Spring's gang trounced LaPaz, 72-31, on Nov. 7, 1952.

Coach Bill Stegemoller's B-Team rallied in the second half to defeat a surprisingly good Tyner B-Team, 47-40. Larry Washburn and Paul Hatten paced the Papposes with 14 and 13 points, respectively. However, the game's standout was easily Tyner's Greg Amor, a blonde freshman pivotman who tallied 21 points. Amor, who uses the bankboard on nearly all his shots, rates as one of the area's top freshman prospects.

This Friday Culver travels to Bremen in search of their third straight triumph. Box score:

Culver Faces Young Bremen Team Friday

By EARL D. MISHLER

The Bremen Lion team that plays host to our Culver Indians this Friday night will consist of an entirely new cast of faces for the fans. Head coach Jim Clack has no returning lettermen from last year's exciting team, one of the area's powerhouses.

Gone from that team are 6'8" Craig Roeder, sharpshooter Buzz Anglin, and other personnel such as Terry Miller, Bill Husmann, and Denny Keck.

But Clack has nothing to cry about this season. Last year's B-Team compiled a fancy 17-3 mark, and they represent this year's Lion Varsity.

Five juniors comprised Bremen's opening night lineup in last Friday's 73-64 loss to Lakeville. High point man was 5'10" guard Mike Strang who tallied 20, while forward John Pfeiffer, 5'10 1/2", hit 18 and 6'1 1/2" center Denny Wagoner contributed 15.

Rounding out the probable starting unit is 6'1 1/2" forward Mike Zimmer and 5'11" guard Keith Kauffman. The top reserve will likely be a sixth junior, 5'9 1/2" Conrad Tucker. Also on the squad are senior football stars, Richard Dodson and Tom Missman.

Bremen's surprising showing against Lakeville last week gives Culver fans fair warning that the Lions, despite their inexperience, will be no pushover.

Next week the Citizen will feature the Knox Redskins and the North Judson Blue Jays.

A new improved GAS DRYER is the one for you!

Your old dryer has been a wonderful friend through the years . . . a real work-saver! However, important improvements have been made, and new gas dryers are better than ever . . . with many new exciting features.

There are special settings for the popular miracle fabrics . . . as many as four temperature controls . . . also larger capacities, ultra-violet lamps and improved dryness controls. These are what every homemaker wants and needs!

If you're struggling along with an old dryer, it's time to get a new, modern gas dryer.
