THE CULVER CITIZEN

ON LAKE MAXINKUCKEE • INDIANA'S MOST BEAUTIFUL LAKE

70TH YEAR, NO. 51

CULVER, INDIANA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1964

TEN CENTS

Here and There Around Our Town Of Culver

By Margaret McDonald

The weatherman surely did cooperate with Culver children Saturday and brought an ideal sunny day with a high temperature of 48 degrees. Santa arrived on the fire truck, just as promised, but 15 minutes later than anticipated. He's just so busy these days that he finds it increasingly difficult to keep schedules. About 280 eager children waited in line at The State Exchange Bank Auditorium to confer with Santa and receive their personal treat. Police Chief Don Mikesell served as Santa's escort into town. The Senior and Junior Chamber of Commerce were co-sponsors of the event. Jaycees Lance Overmyer and Joe Anderlohr were co-chairmen, assisted by Bob Kline, Kenny Miller, and Bill Stubbs.

The rain and fog last Thursday and Friday gave way to a warming trend which cleared up the ice and removed almost all trace of snow. We're glad to get rid of that treacherous ice but hope for a light snowfall for a "White Christmas." Now that we have been having colder temperatures, only nine degrees above zero yesterday morning, the Lake is beginning to form a light crust of ice along the shoreline.

Mrs. Dessa Brugh, who recently moved from South Main Street to Route 2, is a proud great-aunt these days. Her 11-year-old grandniece, Merry Christine Good, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Good of Hamlet, has been selected from contestants all over the nation, for a trip to Santa Claus, Ind., where she served last Saturday as honorary mayor of famous Indiana village. Merry Chris was chosen on the basis of a letter of application she mailed to town officials. Contestants must be born on Christmas and her name beautifully attests this fact.

Just seven more shopping days before Christmas!

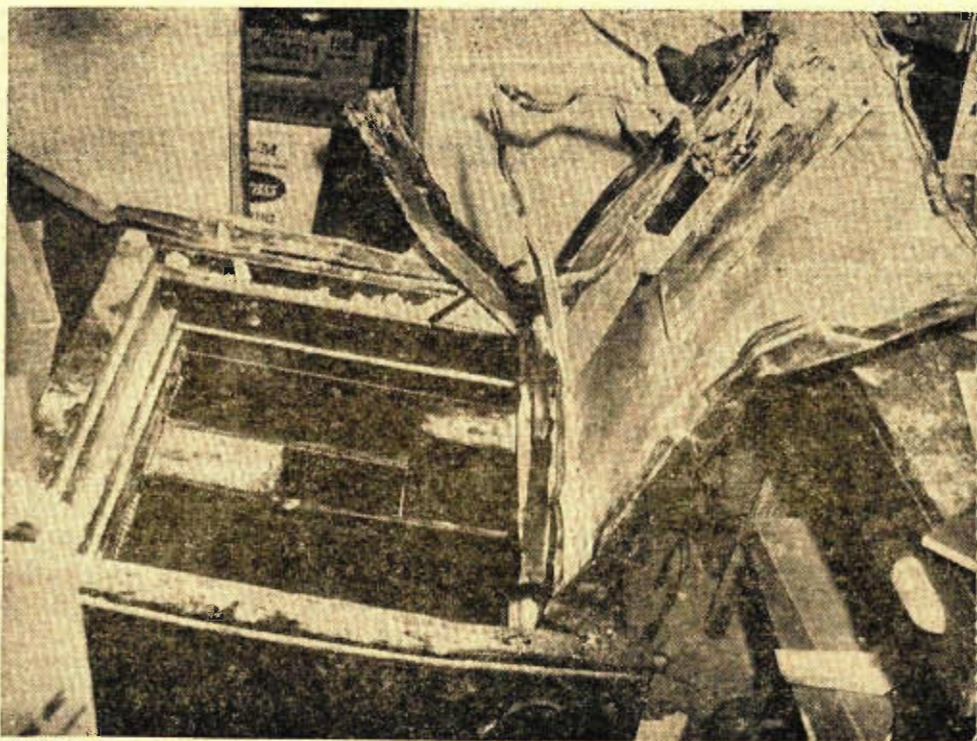

Christmas Issue Of The Citizen Out Next Tuesday

Next week's issue of The Culver Citizen will be our big Christmas number and will go to press Tuesday, Dec. 22, in order to reach your home before the holiday on Friday. Therefore, our deadline for this issue will be 9 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 22.

This Yuletide issue will contain the traditional Christmas greetings from nearly all of the business establishments and professional people in this area.

If you have overlooked signing up for either a Christmas or New Year's illustrated greeting, we suggest you call The Citizen office at once at VIKING 2-3377. Prices range from $4.20 up and several beautiful greeting ads are still available.

New crop of TRI KAPPA PEASANTS on sale at The Citizen's front counter. Please help the sorority raise money for charitable purposes. Only $1.50, plus tax, a pound for shelled broken nut meats.

Shown is the wrecked safe of the Park 'N Shop on east Jefferson St., after burglars had broken it open and escaped with $1,000 in store receipts. The front door of the store was forced open to gain entry.

Bert Davis Of Leiters Ford Dies At Age 78

Bert Davis of Leiters Ford died at 5:15 this morning at Pulaski Memorial Hospital in Winamac at the age of 78.

Mr. Davis' first marriage was to Ocie Davis who preceded him in death in 1944. His second marriage was to Hulda Taber, who survives. A son and daughter, also preceded him in death.

Other survivors are two sons, Dale of Phoenix, Ariz., and Cecil of Leiters Ford; three daughters: Mrs. Howard (Donna) Coleman of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Ed (Eva) Lebo, and Mrs. Don (Ruth) Auntry, of Leiters Ford; three stepchildren: William Taber, Mrs. Ralph Geiselman, and Mrs. Norman Scruggs, all of Culver; a brother, Ivan Davis of Sun Prairie, Wis.; 18 grandchildren and 7 great-grandchildren.

The body has been taken to the Foster and Good Funeral Home in Rochester where arrangements are incomplete.

Jaycees Hear Report On Dec. 7 "Tatum" Game

A movie and a report on the recent benefit basketball game were highlights of the dinner meeting of Jaycees last Thursday evening at the M & M Restaurant.

The movie, "Blue Angels", a Navy Air Force film from the Culver Library, was shown. Scott Geiselman assisted as the projectionist.

Jaycees learned that 400 were in attendance for the Harlem Road Kings basketball game held on Dec. 7, with many others unable to attend due to the inclement weather. Tom Baker, who with Chet Marshall served as officials at the game, was a guest of the evening.

Rey Nicodemus was the program speaker, commenting on his duties as an employee of Northern Indiana Public Service Co. in Culver. President Ron McKee presided at the meeting.

Visitors to Culver judge it largely by the people they meet here. What do you do to make Culver more attractive to visitors and newcomers?

Four Weekend Burglaries In Culver Result In Loss Of Over $1,500

Burglars made off with more than $1,500 in four break-ins in Culver over the weekend.

Biggest loser was Park 'N Shop store, 107 East Jefferson, where the thieves netted over $1,000 after forcing entry into the store through the front door and breaking open the safe. The break-in occurred sometime Saturday night after Thomas Staras, manager, closed the store about 9:20 p.m.

Police Chief Don Mikesell said he was notified of the break-in about 3:30 p.m. Sunday by two boys who were passing by the store and noted that the door was ajar. He said the office desk and files were ransacked and the safe laid on its back to force it open. The store is owned by Charles Rhodes of Osceola.

A break-in at the Marshall County Lumber Company, 316 East Jefferson St., was discovered about 6:30 p.m. Sunday by George Babcock, manager.

Mikesell said $10 was taken from the cash register. Entry to the building was gained by forcing a door open.

Officers said a third break-in was discovered at 6:35 p.m. Sunday at the Marshall County Farm Bureau Co-Op, also on East Jefferson St. They said the office was ransacked and $323.40 taken. A window on the east side of the building was forced open to gain entry.

Also reported was a loss of $50 taken from a cash register at the Gates and Calhoun Sales and Service, East Jefferson St. The owners reported the rear door was forced open.

Officers stated that the break-ins appear to be the work of the same people. Sheriff's officers and state police detectives are assisting in the investigation.

Christmas Party For The Children Set For Dec. 19

The annual children's Christmas party, co-sponsored by Evert Hoesel and the Finney-Shilling Post 6919 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held at the El Rancho Theater on Saturday, Dec. 19, from 4 to 5:45 p.m.

Children of the community are invited to attend the annual free show which will feature "Yogi Bear" and cartoons. There will also be free candy for each child.

Boys and girls, mark this date on your calendar with a big red circle!

DAVE WASHBURN BEGINS FOURTH SEASON OF BASKETBALL AT McNEESE

Dave Washburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Washburn, 446 School St., Culver, has started his fourth and final season of basketball at McNeese State College, Lake Charles, La.

Valued for his ball handling skill and all-around basketball know-how, the 5-7 senior is a front line Cowboy reserve. The McNeese Basketball Guide states, "The cover ball handler often enters games late to direct Cowboys' 'delay' game."

Dave is a health and physical education major.

Tickets On Sale For 4-Way Holiday Tourney At Argos

Pairings for the 4-Way Holiday Tourney, which will be played at Argos on Saturday, Jan. 2, have been announced. Culver will meet Argos in the opening game at 12:30 p.m. and Triton will meet Mentone at 2 p.m.

In the evening the two losers will play the consolation game at 7 p.m. with the two winners scheduled to play the championship game at 8:30 p.m.

All-tourney tickets will be on sale at the Culver High School office from now through Dec. 22 at $1.25 for adults or students. Each school has been allotted 400 all-tourney tickets for pre-tourney sales. If tickets remain by the first tourney game, fans may buy single session tickets at the door for 75 cents each. Each school will be assigned a section of seats in the gym. Doors will open at 11:45 a.m. for the afternoon session and 6:15 p.m. for the evening games.

BE DIFFERENT: Give a new gift every week of the year. Sound impossible? Not at all! A gift subscription to The Culver Citizen can do just that. And it's a gift you can be sure will be appreciated and used. Free gift card mailed if requested.

Culver Clips Caston, Loses At Rochester

Tribe Brings Record To 5-2

By EARL D. MISHLER

Rochester's speedy Zebras handed the Culver Indians their second defeat in seven games Saturday night, a 62-56 decision on the Rochester floor. The Tribe had defeated Caston at Fulton Friday night, 46-39.

In Friday's encounter, the Caston Comets chose to slow down the game's pace while working the ball against Culver's fine zone defense. The deliberate hosts held a 19-16 half-time lead before Coach Gene Crosley's lads got rolling.

In the second half, speedy senior guard Jim Lewis sparked a Culver rally that sewed up the contest. With Jim Boswell feeding on most of the plays, Lewis racked up several lay-ins on the end of fast breaks.

By late in the final period the Tribe had built up a comfortable margin at 46-34, before Caston's reserves cut into the deficit against Culver's subs.

Lewis tallied 15 points to lead all scorers, and was aided by Boswell and Dave Lemar with 10 apiece. Boswell also grabbed 10 rebounds to top the Tribe total, and chalked up eight assists, the highest total thus far this season. John Maudlin, a 5' 10" junior guard, paced the losers with 14 markers.

Saturday's game at Rochester was decided by a somewhat ironic twist. The host Zebras, starting a team with only one man taller than 5' 9", outrebounded the Indians by the unbelievable tally of 43-20! Of their six previous opponents only Knox's gigantic Redskins had been able to grab more rebounds than the Tribesmen, and the total was fairly close in that game.

Despite this unbelievable statistic, the Indians could still have won except for a disastrous second period. Leading 19-15 after one quarter, the Culverites went to sleep completely in the second stanza. Culver had looked sharp against the hosts' man-for-man defense, but Rochester switched to a zone at this point, and for the third straight game, the Tribe's offense bogged down considerably.

Rochester swept quickly to a 40-34 lead at halftime by scoring often on their fast break. But the crucial statistic was the rebound total for period number two: Rochester 15, Culver 0.

The second half was played on even terms, but the Tribe's shooting fell off and their frequent chances to catch up were wasted. They tied the score once in the third period, but could not keep up the pace.

Boswell, hitting 8 of 11 field goal attempts, paced all scorers with 20, and Lemar added 11. Gordie Bathrick and Steve Coplen paced the winners with 16 points apiece.

Culver hit 40 per cent from the field and matched Rochester's 22 field goals. But the Zebras canned 18 of 23 free throws and Culver only 12 of 19.

Once again one of Culver's offensive problems stemmed from the reluctance of their better shooters to shoot over the opponents' zone defense. The 6' 1" Boswell, far and away the best player this reporter has seen yet this season, nevertheless could be of even more value to the team if he would shoot more often. Jim

Views Of The Citizen

Last week's Citizen carried a story announcing the new school calendar for 1965-66, beginning with registration on Tuesday, Aug. 31, and concluding on May 27 following.

With Labor Day weekend generally accepted as the traditional close of summer across the length and breadth of the land, it occurred to us that Culver citizens (specifically those families with pupils in school) are being deprived of an additional week of fleeting summer by the need to be close to home at an earlier date.

Families who would otherwise plan vacations and travel extending through Labor Day must forego this pleasure, in addition to those who would take a three-day holiday but don't because "summer's over when school starts."

We accede that state law requires a minimum number of attendance days in each school term. But we believe that parents, and pupils, and teachers, too, would prefer that school started after Labor Day and extended another week in the spring. After all, the need for students to be out of school and at home helping with the spring plowing is past; in fact, another week on the school's spring baseball season might be welcomed by the ball players and coaches alike!

Your comments are invited.

C.M.A. Widens Scope Of Summer Theater Program

Culver Military Academy has changed the name and widened the scope of its summer theater program.

Scheduled to open in July as part of the Summer Schools is the new School of Theater and Fine Arts. An expanded program, available to both boys and girls, will be offered in most activities.

The change, according to Major General Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (ret.), superintendent of the Academy, has been made to permit girls to take more courses outside of work in the theater. When the summer theater school was established five years ago, emphasis was on courses in theater, acting, makeup, set design, and other allied activities.

Under the plan of the School of Theater and Fine Arts, General Spivey said theater courses are not required and all of the facilities of Culver will be made available to girls who enroll.

Girls and boys between the ages of 14 and 19 will be able to enroll in academic courses for credit or review, and may take such recreational courses as tennis, golf, swimming, water skiing, sailing and scuba. There is a wide program of social activities available to all students.

The School of Theater and Fine Arts is the only one at Culver in which girls are permitted to enroll, with the exception of 15 daughters of faculty members who attend Winter School. During the summer, girls are housed in special dormitories or in faculty homes, while boys enrolled in the four schools live in regular Academy dormitories.

The Culver Summer Schools are operated by Culver Military Academy for eight weeks during July and August. Last summer, 1650 students attended the schools.

Dr. R. Streeter Joins Academy Medical Staff

Dr. Ralph G. Streeter, a retired U.S. Navy surgeon, has joined the medical staff of Culver Military Academy.

Dr. Streeter spent 21 years in the Navy and had been stationed at the U.S. Naval Shipyard prior to his retirement. He directed the Navy's tuberculosis program for two years at the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Washington, D.C., and he served hospitals in the Pacific area and on both coasts during his service career. He held the rank of captain.

He is a graduate of the University of Vermont, and Dr. Streeter spent 13 years as a general practitioner in Batavia, N.Y. before entering the Navy Medical Corps.

Dr. Streeter joins the Academy medical staff of Dr. Milan D. Baker, Academy surgeon, who heads the Health Centers staff of two surgeons, five nurses, and a laboratory technician. The Center is a fully-equipped 70-bed hospital that serves the needs of the Academy's 874 Winter School students and the 1,650 students who attend during the summer, when additional doctors and nurses are added.

Please Mail Now, Culver Faces Urges Postmaster Walkerton Here Friday Night

"It's too late to mail early, so please mail now," Postmaster E. W. Mattox said today.

"The biggest mail explosion in history is upon us and we need the cooperation of everyone to make sure that the holiday mail is all delivered before Christmas," the Culver Postmaster said.

Mr. Mattox suggested the use of air mail and special delivery to guarantee pre-Christmas delivery, especially for out-of-town mail.

In all instances, the use of ZIP Codes will be helpful. The codes generally mean that mail moves in a more direct route and is handled fewer times. Parcels with ZIPPED addresses may be delivered 24 hours or more before others going to the same destination which do not include the five digit code.

Postmaster Mattox announced that all postal operation will be on a holiday schedule Christmas day and that employees would make their usual effort to see that all late arriving parcels were delivered Christmas Eve. Only special delivery mail will be delivered on Dec. 25.

Mr. Mattox thanked all the citizens of Culver who cooperated in the "Shop and Mail Early" campaign. "It now appears that we will reach the peak for outgoing mail on Dec. 16 and 17 with the incoming peak a day or so later. However, there still is a small mountain of holiday mail which must be delivered," he said.

BALLOON — Walking the marshes for waterfowl or water birds, you risk a fall that may plug your shotgun with mud. Avoid this by slipping a penny balloon over the muzzle. You can shoot right through it if necessary.

Mrs. Meryl Shivers
Entertains Green
Township Homemakers

The Green Township Homemakers Club met with Mrs. Meryl Shivers in her new home, appropriately decorated for the holiday season, on Tuesday for the annual Christmas potluck dinner. The vice-president, Mrs. Frank Ruffing, Jr., presided at the meeting which followed. Mrs. Leverett Olin led the group in praying the Lord's Prayer to open the devotional period. She read scripture from Matthew 1 and read "The Greatest Story Ever Told" by Ousler. Mrs. Alfred Winenger and Mrs. Shivers sang a duet, "White Shepherds Watched" and Mrs. Olin concluded with a poem "Light, Peace, and Love" by L. Loveman. Mrs. Winenger led group singing of carols.

The name of Mrs. Pearl Hodson was transferred to the honorary list of members. Mrs. Doyle Fishburn conducted a candlelight installation service for new officers who are Mrs. Meryl Shivers, president; Mrs. Roscoe Heckaman, vice-president; Mrs. Carroll Thompson, secretary; and Mrs. Owen Smith, treasurer.

Mrs. Shivers accepted the gavel and presided at the remainder of the meeting. Mrs. Roscoe Heckaman was in charge of distributing and completing the new year books. Roll call was answered with "A foolish indulgence I ought to give up." After the bountiful dinner, it was with sincere feeling that most of the 18 members present answered "Food!"

Mrs. Owen Smith was in charge of the gift exchange. Mrs. Clem Miller will entertain the club on Jan. 12 in the Fellowship, Room of the Argos Bank. Mrs. Shivers and Mrs. Heckaman will give the lesson on Program Planning.

Susan Marie Currens
Marks First Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Currens entertained at dinner Thursday evening, Dec. 10, in their home at Route 3, Knox, honoring the first birthday of their daughter, Susan Marie.

Guests attending the event were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Currens of Burr Oak, paternal grandparents; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Thompson of Knox, Raymond Thompson, Knox, uncle of the honored guest; and Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McCarthy, Culver, who are Susan's godparents.

Delicious birthday cake and ice cream were served to conclude the delightful affair.

Rainbow Girls Plan
Inspection, Reception,
And Christmas Meeting

The Rainbow Girls are reminded of the inspection on Saturday, Dec. 19. The following girls should be in the Fellowship Hall of the Methodist Church by 8:30 Saturday morning: Joan Dillon, Cathy Carrothers, Becky Easterday, Diane Davis, Karen DeWitt, and Patty Overmyer. At that same hour Carolyn Snyder, Elaine Kaiser, and Linda Baker should be at the Lions Den. (The help of other Rainbow Girls would be appreciated).

At 10 o'clock the following girls should meet with Joan Dillon in Fellowship Hall to practice an escort: Lyn Mackey, Vickie McKinny, Elaine Epley, Diane Nelson, Linda Baker, Maryann Lewis, Jean Gross, Karen Banks, and Barb Overmyer.

The pre-inspection luncheon will be in the Lions Den at 11:30 a.m. The inspection will start at one o'clock.

At 1:30 Sunday afternoon, the reception honoring Lucy Osborn, Grand Fidelity, will be held in The Culver Inn.

It is required that Culver Rainbow Girls attend these functions.

There will be a regular meeting of Culver Assembly 61 on Monday night, Dec. 21. After this meeting will be the annual Christmas caroling. For refreshments and a gift exchange after caroling, the girls are invited to the home of the Mother Adviser,

Mrs. Jack Easterday. They are reminded to take with them to this meeting a commodity of food for the Christmas basket and a dollar gift for the exchange. (Slacks and sweatshirts may not be worn at the meeting; however, time will be allowed to change into warmer and more appropriate clothing after the meeting before going caroling.)

O.E.S. Enjoys Annual Christmas Meeting

The Order of Eastern Star convened Tuesday evening, Dec. 15, in Masonic Hall and opened in regular form with Mrs. Herbyn Maynard, worthy matron, in charge. There were 45 members attending the special Christmas program.

The Chapter Room was decorated with three decorated Christmas trees, angels, reindeers, and candles.

The club rooms were decorated in the Christmas motif and refreshments were served by Mrs. Maynard, Mrs. Harold Hatten, Mrs. Arthur Hatten, and Mrs. Raymond Paswater.

Visiting Matrons and Patrons Night will be held Friday, Jan. 29, at 7:30 p.m. Initiation will be held Tuesday, Jan. 5.

Herbyn Maynard read an original poem, "Santa Talking To All." The group sang several Christmas carols.

Mrs. Sam Allen gave a reading,

"I'll Never Be Ready For Christmas," and presented a story.

Additional carols were enjoyed and the program closed with a Christmas thought by Mrs. Maynard.

Chapter closed in regular form.

Wide Awake Class To Meet December 17

The Wide Awake Sunday School Class of the Culver Methodist Church will meet with Mrs. Harry Speyer, 416 Forrest Place, Thursday, Dec. 17, at 7:30 p.m.

A feature of the meeting will be a dollar gift exchange. Members are urged to attend.

And fuzzy philosopher at work: The trouble with the world today is that too many kids don't believe in Santa and too many adults do!

Tri Kappas Enjoy Annual Christmas Meeting In John Henderson Home

The John Henderson home on Faculty Row glowed with the traditional Christmas colors of red, green, and gold when the Tri Kappa Sorority convened Monday evening, Dec. 14.

Garlands of Christmas greens, tied with red satin poinsettias, enhanced the handsome colonial staircase in the Hendersons' Academy campus home. The white colonial mantle was likewise decorated with Christmas greens and glowing candles, using pastel colors in the jeweled sleigh and white reindeer.

Although all other meetings during the year are devoted to business and service to others, the December meeting is planned entirely for the entertainment and fellowship of the members. After a short business meeting, the members enjoyed a Christmas program, "Christmas in the Holy Land," presented by Mrs. Thomas E. Walker. The Walkers and their two children returned late last August after a year spent in Greece and a December visit to the Holy Land.

Mrs. Walker's description of the many beautiful and devout customs and Biblical locations was most impressive and informative. Mrs. Walker gives her program with much warmth as well as deep seriousness.

After the program, a Christmas gift exchange was enjoyed around the beautifully decorated Christmas tree. Christmas carols were also enjoyed by the members.

Punch was served from a table covered with a lovely red and gold organdy cloth and decked with garlands of holly and large candles in hurricane globes.

The dining room table was covered with a beautiful imported sheer linen embroidered cloth over pale blue satin. Centering the table was a small white flocked Christmas tree with small pastel ornaments. Figures of angels and candles in silver candelabra made a most impressive table setting. Mrs. Henderson presided at the silver coffee service. Individual birthday cakes, centered with a small candle, were served and as the candles were lighted, "Happy Birthday" was sung by the Tri Kappa members in honor of the founding of the local Epsilon Nu Chapter of Kappa Kappa Kappa on Dec. 14, 1959.

A toast was given by the members to the Tri Kappa founders attending the fifth birthday celebration.

Christmas donations of canned food and toys were brought by the members for Christmas giving to needy families in the Culver area.

Mrs. John W. Oldham, assisted by Mrs. Joseph Clyne and Mrs. Robert A. Reichley, were in charge of the Christmas program.

Assisting hostesses for this Christmas party were Mrs. C. Glenn Coolman, chairman, assisted by Mrs. David L. Burke, Mrs. Wilber Taylor, and Mrs. Robert Bauman.

Home and Hobby Club Christmas Meeting

The Home and Hobby Club held its annual Christmas potluck dinner meeting on Tuesday with Mrs. Chauncey Dennie. The president, Mrs. Ben McFarland, opened the meeting. The history of the song of the month, "Deck the Hall," was given by Mrs. Robert Kepler who also led the group in singing.

Roll call was answered with "A foolish self-indulgence I ought to give up." The club adopted another member of the County Home because of the death of the first adopted member. New officers installed were Mrs. Richard Calhoun, president; Mrs. Chauncey Dennie, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Kepler, secretary; and Mrs. Merrill Murphy, treasurer.

Each member contributed to the program with some thoughts about Christmas. Members then prepared packages of fruit and cookies which they had brought to be distributed to the two nursing homes in Argos.

Thirteen members and five children were present. Mrs. Allen Dennie was a guest. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Kenneth Campbell on Jan. 12.

Women's Guild Observes Christmas; Installs Officers

The regular meeting of the Women's Guild of Grace United Church of Christ was held Thursday evening, Dec. 10, at the church social rooms. Mrs. Edward Easterday, president, opened the meeting with a poem "Miracle Road," by Nick Kenny, after which she conducted the business.

Rev. Harold Hohman, pastor, installed the following officers for next year: Mrs. Oscar Weston, president; Mrs. Evert Hoessel, vice president; Mrs. Donald Osborn, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Tasch, assistant secretary; and Mrs. Bruce Ogden, Sr., treasurer.

The following committee chairmen were also installed: Mrs. Harold Hohman, spiritual life; Miss Florence Page, stewardship; Mrs. Robert Zechiel, Christian education; Mrs. Edward Easterday, missionary education; Mrs. Peter Onesti, Christian service; Miss Margaret Swanson, Christian social action; Mrs. Wilfred Craft, social service and church needs; Mrs. Ermil Lewis, good cheer; Mrs. Judson Dillon, ways and means; and Mrs. Shelton Kaiser, program.

Mrs. Cleo Ringle, chairman of the program committee for the evening, opened the program with a Christmas prayer after which Miss Verda Romig read an article titled, "Christmas Is Everywhere."

After the group singing of several carols, Mrs. Wallace Starr read a story, "The Star and The Shepherd Boy." Mrs. Harold Hutten read a story entitled, "The Faded Blue Blanket." and Mrs. Evert Hoessel read, "The Light and The Cave." The program was concluded with the group singing, "Joy To The World," and a prayer by Mrs. Ringle.

Mrs. Hoessel was chairman of the hostess committee and refreshments were served. One guest, Miss Mary Henning, was welcomed.

Members of the Maxinkuckee Junior Woman's Club met in the home of Mrs. John Hoessel on Monday, Dec. 14, for the regular meeting at which time the members enjoyed a Christmas party.

Mrs. Dale Heiser, club president, conducted the business meeting. Election of the nominating committee for 1965 was held with Mrs. Kenneth Martin, Mrs. Ted Strang, Mrs. Robert Lindvall, Mrs. William Snyder, and Mrs. John Hoessel elected. The closing thought was given by Mrs. Ray Houghton.

A gift exchange highlighted the evening after which buncos was enjoyed by the members with prizes awarded to Mrs. Houghton and Mrs. Latham Lawson.

The home was gaily decorated in the Christmas motif. Refreshments were served throughout the evening from a table centered with an antique punch bowl, greenery, and Christmas ornaments. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Warren Curtis, Mrs. Bernard Busart, and Mrs. Snyder.

Every minute of anger is 60 seconds of lost happiness.

Mrs. Richard Behmer Hosts Hibbard E.U.B. W.S.W.S. Christmas Meeting

Mrs. J. Richard Behmer was hostess in her home Thursday evening, Dec. 10, to 23 members and four guests, Mrs. Dwight McClure, Mrs. Richard Krull, Mrs. Ronnie Leffert, and Jill Overmyer, of the Hibbard E.U.B. W.S.W.S. She was assisted by Mrs. Richard Overmyer.

Mrs. Coleman Lowry, president, opened the meeting by welcoming members and guests, followed by a period of silent prayer. Mrs. Jack Quivey and Mrs. Arnold Lowry then presented the missionary lesson. Mrs. Lowry read a legend, "Why We Light Candles At Christmas," after which she and Mrs. Quivey discussed Yuletide customs of various countries, primarily Spanish American countries.

A missionary offering was then collected and several Christmas carols were sung by the group, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Homer Albert. Mrs. Quivey closed the devotions with prayer.

The president then conducted the business session and thanked everyone for their cooperation during the year. The meeting was then turned over to the new president, Mrs. James Jones, who requested members to state what month they wished to entertain the W.S.W.S. and secret pal names were exchanged. Mrs. Harry Leffert had charge of entertainment, following which the Lord's Prayer was prayed in unison.

Secret pal Christmas gifts were passed out by Miss Overmyer and refreshments were served by the hostesses to conclude the evening.

Poplar Grove W.S.C.S. Meet With Mrs. Ray Kuhn

The Poplar Grove W.S.C.S. held its annual Christmas dinner meeting in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. W. Ray Kuhn and Carol on Wednesday, Dec. 9. Mrs. Leslie Mahler, president, opened the meeting which followed the potluck dinner with the poem "A Christmas Prayer."

Mrs. Allen Denuie accompanied the group at the piano in the singing of Christmas carols. Mrs. Frank Cowen read the Christmas Story from Matthew 1 and 2 and closed the devotions with the poem "Don't take Christ Out of Christmas."

Each member contributed to a program of songs, readings and poems. Rev. Kuhn closed with prayer. A gift exchange followed. Mrs. Kuhn will present the lesson on Jan. 6 when the Society meets with Mrs. Carroll Thompson.

Miss Bess Easterday Entertains For S.K. Club Christmas Party

Miss Bess Easterday entertained in her home Friday evening at a Christmas dinner party for the members of the S.K. Club. The Easterday home was beautifully decorated for the season and following a delicious dinner a gift exchange was enjoyed.

The remainder of the evening was spent playing bridge and prizes were won by Miss Verda Romig and Mrs. Charles Ferrier. Other guests present were Mrs. A. Adams Mrs. Russell Burns, Mrs. Earl Eckman, Mrs. Robert Riewoldt and Miss Thelma Smith.

Eastern Star Auxiliary Enjoys Christmas Meeting

Mrs. Jerome Zechiel, Sr., opened her home Tuesday evening, Dec. 15, to one guest and 26 members of the Order of Eastern Star Auxiliary for their annual Christmas meeting.

Mrs. Margaret Carter presided over the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Edna Reed. Following the business, the hostess and assisting hostesses, Mrs. Owen Banks, Mrs. Fred Banks, and Mrs. William Washburn, took charge of the program consisting of Christmas piano selections and carol singing by the group. Mrs. Zechiel read a selection entitled, "Spiritual Gifts," and Mrs. Fred Banks read, "Ways To Celebrate Christmas."

Delicious and attractive refreshments were served by the hostesses and this was followed by a gift exchange.

Do not forget Sunday School services each Sunday at 10 a.m.
The annual Christmas family night will be held on Wednesday evening, Dec. 23. Sunday School attendance Sunday was 49.

A nice crowd was present Sunday evening, Dec. 6 when Florence Cavender spoke and showed slide pictures of her work as a missionary to South America. Florence is home on a six-month furlough after serving four terms under the Oriental Missionary Society. She will return to that country Feb. 1. While in the states she has an apartment in Fort Wayne and is doing deputation work. She was a guest in the Guy Davis home from Sunday until Tuesday.

The regular Christmas meeting of the W.S.C.S. was held in the home of Mrs. Guy Davis Wednesday evening, Dec. 2, with a fine attendance.

Local friends attended the funeral services for Mrs. Tanner, mother of Mrs. Vernard Goodman, held in Rochester Saturday morning at the Foster and Good Funeral Home. The burial was at Lawton, Mich. Mrs. Tanner, who was formerly Mrs. Charley Salts, was a resident of this community several years ago.

This community is pleased to have Mrs. Myrtle Leininger become a permanent resident in this community. A telephone was recently installed in her home and the number is 832-4568. Mr. and Mrs. John Leininger and family of Chicago were weekend guests in her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Davis and family spent Sunday evening in Warsaw in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Loser.

Fads At C.H.S.

By Lonni Darosci, Bob Sherrill, Sheryl Welsh, and Judy Thews

Fads have a tendency to change every so often; here at C.H.S. they are not staying the same either. Some of the different fads are pierced ears, black mesh hose, and high leather boots. Most of these things should really be called fashions, but let's see how some of the Culver students and teachers feel on the subject. Students, how do you feel about the latest fads and fashions at C.H.S.?

Judy Price — I think they're neat. I'd be scared to have my ears pierced though, for fear that I would regret it later when it's too late.

Bill Pletka — I have no opinion. If people want to pierce their ears, wear black mesh hose, and high leather boots, that is their privilege.

Patty Overmyer — I agree with Bill.

Pat Ogden — Pierced ears are just a fad, and I think the kids will regret it later. Black hose are okay and high boots are really vogue.

Jim Boswell — The idea of piercing ears and wearing high leather boots is another way for a girl to gain social status (so they think). I believe the mesh hose may give a girl's legs more comfort in the winter. If the girls can do these things, boys should be able to wear large, black, saddle boots and they should be able to pierce their noses. I believe the boys do not worry about social status though and they will not stoop to these tactics.

Bob Crow — Styles are great, sometimes! Whether they are great or poor — they will always be there.

Janet Crow — I think the pierced ears fad is okay if you like to wear earrings all of the time, but I don't want my ears pierced. I like the mesh hose, but I don't like the real high leather boots. I think they are too high and they look cloddy.

Valerie Gunder — I like them. They are the latest in fashion and they are okay as long as they don't go to extremes.

Sheila Fish — I don't think there is anything wrong with pierced ears if you don't go to extremes with the type of earrings you wear. School is no place for black mesh hose. They are meant to be worn on more or less formal occasions, not with casual clothes such as those one would wear to school or for sports.

Jon Van Horn — Well, if that's the new fashion, somebody goofed. If they really want this garbage, let them go to Africa, Germany, or Russia where they would look in place.

Paul Liette — Well, the way

I figure it, it's your ears and you can put all the holes in them you want. As for black mesh hose and high leather boots, if you can stand to be seen in them and can stand to wear them, go ahead. It's your taste that makes everyone else sick, but who cares about the other person?

Linda Thurin — I don't like the pierced ears. For one thing, they can become infected if not cared for properly. The mesh hose are not much different from the leotards and knee socks which are also popular. Besides, they're warm! Leather boots are also warm for outdoor wear, but I don't think they co-ordinate with school or sports clothes for indoor wear.

Suzy Spencer — My opinion of pierced ears in nix. I don't think that school is the place for earrings. Black hose with designs in them are all right, but when they are plain they look too dressy for school. High boots are fine and many come in handy this winter. But earrings in school??? ICK!

Gale Vandermeade — Pierced ears — it stinks. Black mesh hose — I think they should be red. High leather boots — they're okay if no one wears them.

Ray Harness — Well, er, uh... it's like this...

Sharon Warren: I think they are all okay, but I don't care much for the black hose. The pierced ears I like because I think they make one look older. The high leather boots I like because they look so neat. The black hose I don't much care for I don't know exactly why, but I just don't care for them.

Pam Fish — I think that pierced ears are all right as long as the earrings are fashionable. I don't like the big drop earrings. I don't like the mesh hose for school. For a formal occasion I think they would be quite appropriate. As far as I know the leather boots aren't worn in place of shoes, they are just worn in the snow. I think that's fine as long as they don't begin to take the place of shoes.

Mike Eustis — Double Dud!

Barb Mikesell — Pierced earrings — tough when small earrings are worn. Black mesh hose — ICK!! High leather boots — Too boss!

Kay Thomas — Pierced ears truly ridiculous in my opinion. Mesh hose are kind of neat. High leather boots are very practical, if you're practical. Okay, Jim (Bob.), go ahead — pierce your nose, I think you'd look ten times better that way! But you're only fooling yourself if you think boys don't think of social status.

Pat Seslar — Va-Va-Voom.

Sue Cole — I'm giving no for black mesh hose (especially the designed variety) and high leather boots... for sports wear; they are not appropriate for very dressy occasions. For high school girls, I think pierced ears should be out. We are not old enough to be wearing earrings all the time. It looks out of place at school. There are not enough really social occasions that require this apparel for our age.

An anonymous sophomore boy — I feel that pierced ears are terrible. If some one wants to show off their courage there must be better ways than that. In my opinion they make a person look as horrible as the idea seems.

Mrs. England — I do not care for them. Once it was necessary to have pierced ears if one wished to wear earrings. This has not been so for many years. It seems to me then a fashion that has outlived its purpose. I think that black mesh hose are too dressy for school. With sports clothes I like the dark cotton knit hose. I think most C.H.S. girls dress very attractively and suitably for school.

Club News

By Janet Crow

The Sunshine Society met Dec. 8, 1964. The song and creed were omitted because of the extra time needed. Papers concerning the committees for the winter formal were passed out. Then Janet Manchester was chosen Sunshine Girl of the Month for conduct. She was presented with the bracelet, and the rest of the meeting was turned over to the program committee. The program was about Women Stars of the Bible. Girls on the committee were Kay Thomas, Janet Parker, Valerie Gunder, Tina Ferrier, Linda McAllister, and Patti McCombs. Kay Thomas portrayed Esther, and Patti McCombs portrayed Mary. Since there wasn't enough time, not all of the girls had time to give their readings.

The Hi-Y meeting Monday, Dec. 7 was mainly to plan committees for the Sunshine Hi-Y Winter Formal Dec. 19.

Pep Block members have now received little pins to wear on their pinafores and the Seniors have their black berets to wear at the games.

Christmas Joy

By Phyllis Jewell

If someone would approach you on a snow-covered city sidewalk and ask you what you thought the joy of Christmas is, what would you answer? I'm afraid too many of us would say, the giving and receiving of presents and cards. True this is one of the joys but is it the true joy? Let's evaluate the holiday and it's joys and meanings again.

If you first consider the basic idea behind the whole celebration, I think you will find that the other joys present in the season are nothing without it. What is the basis of Christmas?

"... and she (Mary) brought forth her first born son (Jesus) and laid him in a manger."

Without this, there would be no Christmas. This should be the true joy of Christmas around which all other ceremonies revolve and it is.

Where then does the mistake lie? It lies in the tendency of the people to become so caught up in the mechanics of these ceremonies that they overlook the basic joy. We are badgered by business establishments to populate their stores since they have the best gifts for our loved ones. We are told over and over that a certain card company produces the best cards. So many times we are so preoccupied in the decisions as to which of these gifts are the best to give and which of the cards would be most appropriate that we forget why we are performing all these tasks.

This Christmas let's slow down a little. True, we should send Christmas greetings and choose gifts, but perform these tasks early and leave the days around Christmas to the purpose for which they were set aside for in the first place. Worship and praise God for the wonderful gift He has given us.

Vera Smith Named Co-ed Correspondent

Miss Vera Smith of Culver High School has been named Co-ed Correspondent for the 1964-65 school year, according to an announcement by Miss Margaret Hauser, editor of Co-ed Magazine. Vera is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith and is a Senior at Culver this year. Her appointment was made by Mrs. Barbara Winters, home economics teacher, who presented Vera with a special Co-ed pin and card.

Selected for her qualities of leadership and her enthusiasm for home economics, Vera will serve as junior adviser to the editors of Co-ed, national magazine for teen-age girls. She will keep them informed of activities at Culver High School. More than 4,000 Co-ed Correspondents throughout the United States and Canada report regularly.

Mrs. Shirrell's Second Grade: Birthdays in Mrs. Shirrell's room during the month of December are those of Stanley George, Dec. 2, Twyla Jo Shaffer, Dec. 5, Patsy Humes, Dec. 8, and Kelly Sprause, Dec. 27. Twyla Jo treated her classmates with cupcakes last Friday.

We are proud to report that everyone in the room had a perfect spelling paper of Friday, Nov. 27. Congratulations students!

Mrs. Carter's Third Grade: Karen Parson was nine years old on Nov. 28, and she treated the class with homemade cookies. Martin McCombs had a birthday on Dec. 3 and he treated the class with chocolate candy.

In their spelldown Lisa Dinsmore and Andy Ervin were the winners. Their room is beautifully decorated for Christmas, and the pupils have recently been reading some Christmas stories.

Mrs. Mishler's Third Grade: The students in Mrs. Mishler's class have been having very good results in spelling. Last Friday there were 20 perfect papers out of 30. Everyone studies very hard. In arithmetic, they have been doing column adding. The students did very well in this new lesson. Also, for practice, the students have been having races in different types of problems. Everyone in her class is talking about Christmas and what they would like to have Santa bring. Names were drawn from a hat, and there was much excitement in the air. Perhaps a few children know who has their name, but some are still guessing about it.

Even with the bad weather, the class has had good attendance. Maybe the "flu bug" has been around and has gone for the rest of the year — at least we hope. A couple of students didn't make it in last Friday because the buses weren't able to make their routes.

Mr. Horban's Fourth Grade: All of Mr. Horban's class drew names for their Christmas party which will be held on Dec. 22. Thomas Hodgkin gave a very interesting report on "Camels" for social studies.

Mr. Harris' Sixth Grade: Mr. Harris' class is planning a gala Christmas party for Dec. 22 in their home room. They have already exchanged names for gifts and the committees will soon start the decorations for the room. In elementary sports, the Punters are undefeated in soccer and lead the league with a record of 2-0. In their Saturday basketball program, they are beginning to form a six team league. The teams will be captained by a sixth grader one of the following on each team: Steve Neff, Bob Heiser, Dennis Reinhold, Victor Triplett, Warren Bair and Larry Peters. The students will participate in these games on most of the Saturdays until spring.

Mrs. Schrieker's Sixth Grade: This week in spelling the class made all A's. Michael Croy had cut his finger so we looked at his blood under the microscope. We looked at the marrow in a bone. The class had fun looking at fossils and seeing a movie on them. We have done many experiments in class and will be studying the different glands.

Your College Perspective

By Joan Dillon

To say that we are about to tackle a controversial topic is truly an understatement, for the benefits of the large university over the smaller college, or vice versa, are debatable. I do think, however, that we may begin with at least one concrete thought: That the benefits the students receives depends upon his personal likes and dislikes. In other words, the various characteristics of colleges appeal to various types of persons. Thus, what is ideal to one may be distasteful to another. Also, the different-sized institutions are better for the specific purposes they try to achieve.

But let us back up. There are 18,000 colleges and universities in the United States. You are a high school student interested in attending an institution of higher learning; you want to know which is really the best for you. You can best decide after you have actually visited the campus, have seen the facilities, and have talked with the faculty and students. When you have visited many different types, (one college catalogue suggests taking visits to at least 20 or 25 before the student makes his decision as to his favorite), you may categorize them; you will be considering your own personal needs and likes as you do this.

To begin, there are innumerable tales passed from person to person about the wonderful aspects of the many-acred, heavily-populated, grand university with the "big" name. Some people say that it is here one receives the better education. Why, just look at the well-known, well-paid, well-educated faculty. These instructors are the cream of the crop. Not only can the large university hire an excellent faculty, but also it can afford to spend millions of dollars on buildings, equipment, and research; thus, the student is exposed to great academic standards. Usually a wide range of curriculum is offered; there is more facility in scheduling courses. It is here, at the larger school, where there is more likely to be the opportunity for graduate work. So far as the cultural side is concerned, (and it has been said that the time spent outside of the class is probably as important as the time spent within), famous guest celebrities and lecturers pay visits to the campus. Yes, the social activities are many and often also, for usually the big colleges have a wide variety of social fraternities, sororities, and organizations. There is always something to do, somewhere to go. Here there is more competition for participation, in activities such as athletics, so when the position is won there is the fame and prestige of having succeeded.

For those people who would advocate small colleges, the following virtues are offered: The student-faculty relationship is nearly always much closer; the youth is not merely a number; he has a face, a personality, a character. There are the important guidance and interest in each student in combating the effects of homesickness or test jitters. A large number of small colleges are liberal arts schools, and there are those who continue to believe that the liberal arts program is necessary in order to get a good foundation in the humanities and sciences before specialization. And today one can major in any field from accounting to zoology. It seems that the students themselves are closer on the small campus for nearly all of them live in college residences rather than scattered about in many dorms and private homes. To go to this smaller college may be advantageous to the person who comes from a small school and community. There is the possibility that this person will have less trouble making the adjustment to college life, considering the intimacy of students and faculty.

Theoretically then, big universities are the better equipped, and the smaller colleges are the more intimate of the two. In practice, however, there are too many exceptions for this to be the rule.

Sports

By Paul Liette

Winter has arrived and the snow and cold has driven many a healthy body inside to get sickly and feeble. What is there to do in the winter? That is a question that is heard and will be heard for the next few months. Teenagers don't know what they can do. Many of them are just afraid of the cold weather.

In our community we are fortunate enough to have a lake which can add to our winter sports. We do not take advantage of our lake. Ice hockey, a very quick and exciting game, could be a favorite pastime in Culver. This sport is a favorite pastime in the states of Wisconsin and Northern Michigan.

Ice skating can be fun, invigorating, and very rhythmical. With a little practice one can skate very easily. Ice skating has brought many world-known people their reputations.

"Sled-riding is for children?" This remark is a favorite excuse for many teen-agers to stay indoors. Sled-riding is not for children alone. The U. S. has an Olympic sled-riding team. At Culver we have good natural resources for sled-riding. We can use the hills of our golf courses. Through the years "Devil's Backbone" has acquired a name that in itself spells excitement.

Get out this winter and keep your body healthy. Dress warmly and properly and you'll have fewer colds and diseases plus having a good time.

Leonard Stevens Awarded Doctorate Degree From I.U.

LEONARD E. STEVENS

A Culver Military Academy language instructor has been awarded a doctorate degree from the Indiana University.

Leonard E. Stevens, a member of the Academy language department since 1947, began course work in Spanish and Spanish-American literature and languages in 1957. He worked summers and during the 1960-61 academic year, when he was on leave of absence for doctoral studies at I.U.

Stevens' dissertation was written on "Feminine Protagonists in Manuel Galvez Novels."

Stevens did his undergraduate work at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo and has masters degrees from the University of Michigan and Indiana University. He was a teaching fellow in French at Michigan and in Spanish at Indiana.

He is one of 15 Academy language instructors, three of whom hold doctorate degrees. John R. Mars is chairman of the department.

FOODS OF THE FUTURE

Foods of the future coming from today's laboratories are instant applesauce, strawberry powder and instant pea and bean soups!

Jan Armstrong, consumer marketing specialist at Purdue University, reports experimental products may be convenience foods for tomorrow's homemaker. Instant applesauce, made by adding water to free-flowing apple granules, keeps without refrigeration, and has the same flavor as if made from fresh apples. It's made from apple pieces dehydrated by the explosion puffing process developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This process is also used for dehydrating blueberries, potatoes, carrots, beets, turnips and sweet potatoes.

Strawberries that keep on your pantry shelf may be available in the future. An experimental strawberry powder, produced by engineers of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service, retains fresh berry flavor and aroma. It dissolves instantly in cold water to make puree or liquid. Other powdered fruit already developed include raspberry, blackberry and boysenberry.

Instant pea and bean soups in powder form become wholesome main dish foods by adding water.

Developed by the USDA, instant pea and bean soups are being perfected at Michigan State University for mass production.

 Jesus' life as a manifestation of divine power will be studied at Christian Science services this Sunday. Subject: "Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" Bible readings will include accounts of the virgin birth, calming the storm, the raising of Lazarus, and Jesus' words: "I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life" (John 8:12).

 Selections from the Christian Science textbook about the birth of Jesus will include these lines: "The incarnation of Truth, that amplification of wonder and glory which angels could only whisper and which God illustrated by light and harmony, is consonant with ever-present Love" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 591).

A CALL FOR CATHY

Cathy loves to answer the phone, even though the calls aren't for her.

You can imagine how thrilling this moment was. There was really a call for Cathy.

We watched her shining smile . . . and listened to her shy, awkward replies.

"That was Miss Ferring," she informed us with a slight air of sophistication.

"And who in the world is Miss Ferring?" we asked.

"Oh, she's my Sunday School teacher. I thought you knew—"

A dedicated Christian volunteer was devoting her time and talents to the religious growth of our Cathy—and we didn't even know her name!

We'll remember that call. It brought us to our senses—and to our Church!

Babson Comments On Increasing Winter Tourism

Roger W. Babson for Florida as soon as we can, by train or airplane, by bus or automobile. Unless some unexpected deterrent event occurs, Florida will have the largest influx of visitors it has ever had.

There are various reasons for this. Perhaps the foremost is the prosperity of the people in the North. "Going to Florida in the winter" continues to be an attainable luxury for a good many families. These are families who set aside a certain amount of money each month during the year for entertainment, and will use a part of this to go to Florida for a while this winter.

Labor Union Contracts
Also, many of the labor union contracts now have "fringe" benefits which favor their senior workers to the extent that they are able to take a vacation in the winter. This does not necessarily mean that they will all go to Florida. California, Arizona, New Mexico, Hawaii, and other such states also offer an attractive climate. Florida, however, is nearest for those in the eastern half of the country.

Practically all of the families who can enjoy such a winter vacation have automobiles. Many of them enjoy traveling by auto to a warmer climate, and will include the trip as part of their vacation. It seems certain, therefore, that Florida will receive a sizable — if not the major — portion of these senior labor union members. Taken all together, Florida, California, and some of the other southwestern states should have the greatest influx of winter population this year that they have ever enjoyed.

Labor Union Developments

Several of the labor unions have, with government aid, bought large tracts of land and developed them as small towns. The letter carriers, for instance, are building such a settlement about fifteen miles east of Lake Wales. Here they have constructed apartment houses which their members can rent. This particular development includes a post office, a general store, a restaurant, a library, a social hall, and every convenience for movies, dances, and other forms of community entertainment. This little settlement is very enterprising, and usually furnishes a column of news on events in the area which appears in the two Lake Wales newspapers.

Several similar developments are being planned, especially for the west coast of Florida south of Sarasota. Improvements of this sort are healthy indications for Florida, as they bring to the state year-round citizens who are receiving pension checks from the North every month to supplement whatever they may be able to earn in the South.

Final Recommendation

Neither Florida, California, nor any other tourist state should urge people from the North to go and settle in their area unless these people have some income arriving regularly from their "home" area that they could depend upon in the event of sickness or other difficulty which would involve unexpected expense.

And, certainly, any persons making their first visit to Florida, California, or other states mentioned above should travel around and see various sections of the state — even of the nation — before making the ultimate decision and settling anywhere.

This column is not intended as advice to readers that this is the time to buy land in Florida. There certainly are such times, but Florida land ideally should be bought when public interest in "going to Florida" is much less keen than at present. Furthermore, the land to own is that on the seacoast or bordering large rivers or other bodies of water. For a great many years there will be plenty of land obtainable in the interior of Florida, but there can never be much more land than at present on the Florida seacoast, east or west.

Culver-Caston

is hitting 49 per cent of his field goal attempts, but has taken only 74 shots in seven games.

By virtue of Saturday's victory, the Rochester Zebras have established themselves as the early season favorite in February's Plymouth Sectional. But the home-court advantage, usually estimated at from four to eight points, will not be in effect come tournament time — and there is a suspicion here that the Zebras will not be able to rack up such an advantage on the boards should the Indians face them again.

Culver's B-Team tallied points at a fierce pace over the weekend but also came off with an even split. Caston fell to the Papooses, 51-46, but the Rochester Colts outscored them, 64-56. Junior guard Larry Washburn, making a bid this season to establish another new B-Team scoring record, tallied 30 points over the weekend, including 17 against Rochester. Randy Wakefield paced the victory over Caston with 14 points, all in the second half. Coach Bill Stegemoller's boys now carry a 4-3 record.

Next week Culver returns home to face Walkerton's Indians. Box Scores:

GRASSROOTS GLEANINGS

by Bill Stokes

A couple of items from The Wapello (Iowa) Republican files of 60 years ago makes you wonder if life wasn't just a little bit more exciting back when—"A horse driven by Lude Marshall ran away Tuesday afternoon and broke the buggy and harness in bad shape. The driver was fortunate in jumping from the buggy in the alley at the Republican office and escaped unhurt. The horse ran as far as Wehmeyers northwest of town, leaving the buggy near the home of C. S. Reynolds."

"Morning Sun people are justly indignant over the notoriety given the young ladies of that city by the Stratton episode in Muscatine. Also for the inference that they dress in a manner unbecoming to ladies. Of course no one in this section will believe such stories but strangers are apt to."

"The very best way to kill time is to get busy and work it to death," advises The Redfield (S.D.) Press.

The Ogemaw County Herald of West Branch, Mich., says that a difference of opinion is no problem to people who know enough to split the difference.

"Times change," remarks The Tribune and Register of Tyndall, S.D. "The hoy whose dad used to drop him off at school and then drive on to work, now has a son who drops him off at work and then drives on to school."

"Treat your friends kindly," says The Review, of Portageville, Mo., "if it wasn't for them, you'd be a total stranger."

The Lewistown (Ill.) News passes along this information: "In politics, a man who leaves our party and joins the opposition is called a traitor. A man who leaves the opposition to join us is known as a convert."

"Don't tell that tired looking person he needs a vacation," advises The Clay City (Ind.) News, "maybe he's just had one."

"The girl who wore a swim-suit in August without going swimming and a ski outfit in January without actually skiing, really meant business in June when she picked out a wedding dress," observes The Reese (Mich.) Reporter.

"Middle age is that period when a man's yearning power is at its greatest," states The Reporter and Farmer of Webster, S.D.

A court judge ruled that it is an offense for a woman to go through her husband's pockets, reports The Angola (Ind.) Herald.

"Worse than that," adds the Herald, "in days like these it's just a waste of time."

"You will never stub your toe standing still," quotes The Carlisle (Iowa) Citizen.

the 1894 files of The Milbank (S.D.) Herald Advance makes the answer to the question obvious. "A very unfortunate accident overtook J. Benedict Monday afternoon. While driving near the big windmill the horse took fright at the arms of the mill and while Mr. B. was endeavoring to control him the lines broke and the horse plunged over the wood pile nearby. Mr. Benedict was thrown from the buggy and his right hipbone was broken and he was badly bruised."

"Some people don't believe they are having a good time unless they're doing something they can't afford," says The Mackinaw Valley News of Minier, Ill.

The Renville (Minn.) Star-Farmer tells about the fellow who claims the most aggravated thing about the present generation is that he no longer belongs to it.

The Woonsocket (S.D.) News remembers when a farm wife once became a marked woman serving ring bologna and store cookies to the threshing crew.

How could she?

"The man who has nothing to boast of in his illustrious ancestors is like a potato—the best part of him is underground," says The Reinbeck (Iowa) Courier.

The Minerva (Ohio) Leader carries a complaint from the ladies bemoaning the tax on cosmetics. This tax was put on as an emergency measure during the war, the Leader says, and since the emergency no longer exists, the tax should be removed.

Let's think about that a minute, fellows. Let's ask ourselves if there isn't a relationship between cosmetics and emergency even in times of peace. To be more specific, there are girls who, without make-up, would have to be classed as emergency agencies.

CARIBBEAN ISLAND HOPPING

by Jerry Charles

... remote, now the Winter Paradise islands of the Caribbean are within easy reach of everyone living in the Midwest. In a matter of hours after boarding a jet, you can be on with incredible speed to the lands of swaying palms, emerald waters and the soft beat of calypso drums.

Island hopping requires no particular skill—you don't have to be a world traveler or a millionaire—all you need are your plane tickets, some vacation time and a desire to see the glorious Islands in the Sun.

The more time you have the better, but Island Hopping in the Caribbean doesn't require much time as you think. For example, you can with amazing ease, take in the Islands of Puerto Rico, St. Thomas, St. John and St. Croix in three or four days and not feel rushed. The best way to determine which of the Islands you want to visit is look at a map of the Caribbean and pick your Island Hopping itinerary. Once you decide which of the Islands you wish to visit, then consult your travel agent or write to the Farm and Home Section travel dept. We will help you plan your trip so that you may take advantage of the best air fares and schedules.

To help you become better acquainted with those Islands in the Caribbean which are included in your Island Hopping grasp, let's take a sketchy look at each . . .

BERMUDA is a romantic coral island, distinguished by its pink sand beaches and British air. Although it's only 24 miles long, you'll find it very secluded. Sailing is one of the major sports. But swimming, fishing, golfing and bicycling are equally excellent.

THE BAHAMAS form a chain of beautiful semi-tropical islands that have a charming atmosphere and probably the best climate you'll find anywhere. Nassau, on New Providence Island, is a favorite resort. The strawmarket at Rawson Square, Nassau is a favored spot where you'll find inexpensive and unique handmade straw gifts.

PUERTO RICO combines all the elements of a tropical island with the charm of Old Spain. Add to this the vitality and glamour of San Juan and you have just an idea of the fascination of Puerto Rico. Some of the most beautiful beaches in the Caribbean can be found here.

THE VIRGIN ISLANDS (U.S.A.) are composed of St. Thomas, St. Croix, St. John. All are free ports and therefore the biggest bargain centers in the world. You'll be surprised at first at the Danish architecture until you remember that these islands were settled by and purchased from Denmark.

HAITI is one of the most exciting, colorful islands in the Caribbean. In some parts of the islands, voodoo is still practiced as a religion, and it's not unusual to hear the faint beat of the voodoo drums from the distant hills. Haiti combines the primitive and the elegant with complete nonchalance.

JAMAICA is one of the most beautiful tropical islands in the world. Kingston, the capital city located on the South Shore, is gay and colorful. You'll be intrigued with the Jamaican language which is English but with a strong African dialect which defies description.

TRINIDAD is the farthest south of the islands—only 10 minutes from the coast of Venezuela. You'll be amazed to see Chinese in oriental robes, calypso-singing Negroes, turbaned Hindus, Spaniards, Portuguese and Frenchmen all walking the streets of Port of Spain. The scenery is breathtaking and the beaches beautiful.

TOBAGO, a tiny island that inspired Daniel Defoe to write Robinson Crusoe, lies about 20 miles northeast of Trinidad. It is one of the few undisturbed, remote islands of the world. There is nothing to do except wander the beautiful beaches.

BARBADOS, home of the famed flying fish, is the most eastern of the West Indian islands. In Bridgetown's hustling Careenage you'll be delighted to see the tall masted schooners unloading their cargoes just as they did a century ago. Harbor police wear middie blouses and skimmers with red ribbons.

CURACAO has a fairy tale charm you'll never forget. It is truly a bit of Holland. The narrow gables of Willemstad are in the exact style of the 17th Century Dutch houses. Curacao is a shopper's paradise; unquestionably the bargain center of the world next to Hong Kong.

Holiday Open House

by Marion Latzko

HOLIDAY time is party time! When people are in the gayest, most thoughtful mood and your house is at its prettiest, it's time for a successful open house. Many friends can be entertained at one time and you can make a lovely table of goodies with just a little effort.

The punch bowl is always the center of attention. You may like to decorate around it with a wreath of evergreens trimmed with gay colored Christmas balls, sprayed pine cones, figurines, or, for a special look, live flowers kept fresh in plastic tubes you can find at your florist's shop.

Egg nog is a traditional Christmas drink to serve. Egg Nog Delight will soon become one of your favorites because it is economical and very tasty.

Of course, it's time to rob your cookie jars that are overflowing at this time of year. If you're looking for some new fillers for the cookie jars, Flaky Meringue Cookies and Honey Drops will be perfect for the job. The coconut on Honey Drops can be colored red or green, or any color that matters, to match your color scheme.

Dainty sandwiches of fruit breads are always well received.

FLAKY MERINGUE COOKIES

Cooky sheet 4½ dozen Preheated 375°
 1½ cups flour 5 teaspoons lemon juice
 ¼ teaspoon salt ½ teaspoon lemon rind
 ½ cup (1 stick) butter or margarine Nut Meringue Filling
 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten Confectioners sugar

Mix flour and salt together thoroughly. Cut in butter to the size of small peas. Add yolks, lemon juice and lemon rind. Stir with a fork until well blended. Chill dough thoroughly (about 2 hours). Pinch off small pieces of dough, form 1-inch balls with hands. Place on lightly floured pastry cloth and flatten to form 2½-inch circles with the bottom of a glass or a rolling pin. Spread 1 teaspoon of Nut Meringue Filling in the center of each. Roll dough as for a jelly roll, being careful to seal edges and ends of each cookie well. Place in a crescent shape on cooky sheet. Bake 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Place on cooky rack to cool. While warm, sprinkle with confectioners' sugar.

NUT MERINGUE FILLING

2 egg whites ½ cup sugar ¾ cup finely chopped California walnuts

Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar while continuing to beat. Beat until stiff and glossy. Fold in chopped nuts.

HONEY DROPS

Cooky sheet 5 dozen Preheated 350°
 ¾ cup (1½ sticks) butter or margarine 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 cup sugar ½ teaspoon mace
 1 egg yolk ½ teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon orange rind 1 egg white, slightly beaten
 ¼ cup honey Shredded coconut
 2¼ cups flour

Cream butter and sugar together thoroughly. Beat in egg yolk and orange rind. Blend in honey. Mix dry ingredients together thoroughly; beat gradually into butter mixture. Drop by teaspoon onto cooky sheet two inches apart. Flatten with fork dipped in flour, then brush with egg white. Sprinkle each cooky with red or green colored coconut. Bake 8-12 minutes. Cool on cooky rack.

Note: To color coconut, sprinkle a few drops of red or green food coloring over coconut. Toss with a fork until evenly colored.

CRANBERRY PUNCH

1 quart cranberry juice 1 cup orange juice
 2 quarts water ½ cup lemon juice
 1 stick cinnamon ¾ cup sugar
 5-6 cloves

Boil all ingredients together. Strain. May be served hot or cold. 1 jigger vodka per cup may be added if desired.

EGG NOG DELIGHT

½ cup sugar ½ teaspoon vanilla extract
 3 egg yolks ¼ teaspoon salt
 ¼ teaspoon salt 3 egg whites
 4 cups whole milk scalded ¼ cup sugar

Beat ½ cup sugar into egg yolks. Add ¼ teaspoon salt and stir in milk slowly. Cook in double boiler till mixture coats spoon, stir constantly. Cool. Add ¼ teaspoon salt to egg whites. Beat stiff. Add remaining ¼ cup sugar. Beat well and add to custard with vanilla. Mix thoroughly and chill for 4 hours. Top with nutmeg. If you wish, add liquor such as rum to your liking.

SWEET RELISH DIP

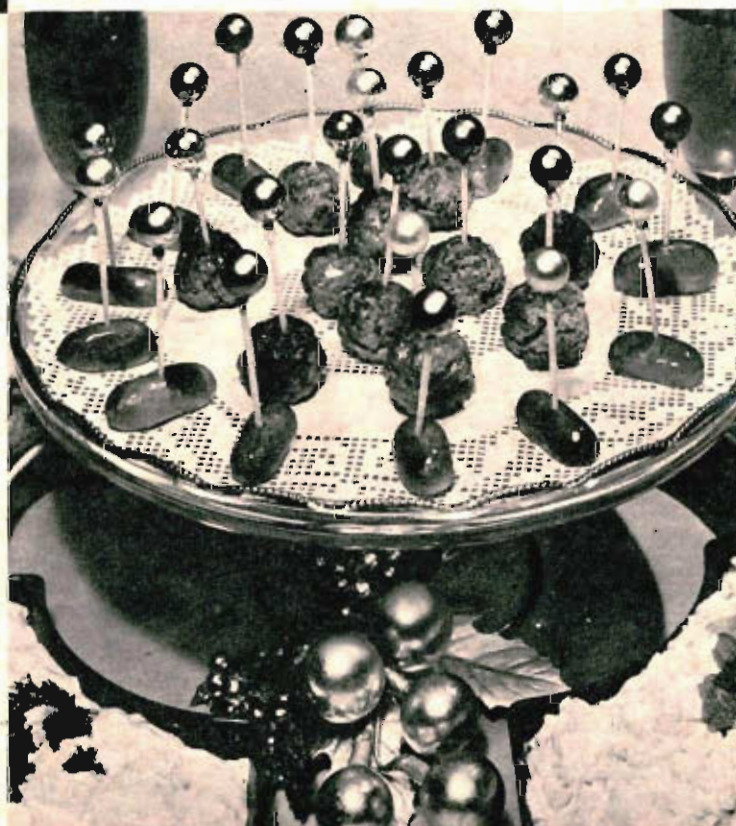

1 cup California Dip
 2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish
 2 tablespoons light cream or milk

Mix sweet relish and cream (or milk) with the "California Dip". California Dip: Combine 1 pint sour cream and 1 package onion soup mix just as it comes from the package. For one cup of mix use ½ pint sour cream and 3 tablespoons (½ package) well-blended onion soup mix.

HAMBURGER HORS D'OEUVRES

1 pound chopped beef
 ½ teaspoon salt
 ¼ teaspoon pepper
 ¼ cup California Dip
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Mix together chopped beef, salt, pepper and "California Dip". Shape into tiny meat balls (½ inch diameter). Brown in butter. Serve on picks and pass with "Sweet Relish Dip".

Date Apricot Loaf spread with cream cheese tastes just right with egg nog. You can cut the sandwiches into dainty shapes and arrange them on a tray with almond stuffed dates for a holiday party look.

Hors d'oeuvres are just right for this occasion too. For picks, use toothpicks with small ornaments for spearing such treats as Hamburger Hors D'oeuvres.

Fruit spikes of such combinations as 1 chunk of frozen pineapple and 1 strawberry on a long wooden pick can be served very glamorously in a bed of crushed ice.

Another treat is Spicy Sausage Balls that are easily made by combining 4 pounds of highly seasoned sausage meat and two cans (6 oz. each) of water chestnuts which have been chopped. Shape them into 1 inch balls and bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees) 45 minutes, or until well browned.

And don't forget your favorite fruit cake on the shelf. It's always well received.

Whip up your favorite recipes and your imagination and then invite your friends to a very special open house. You'll be glad you did.

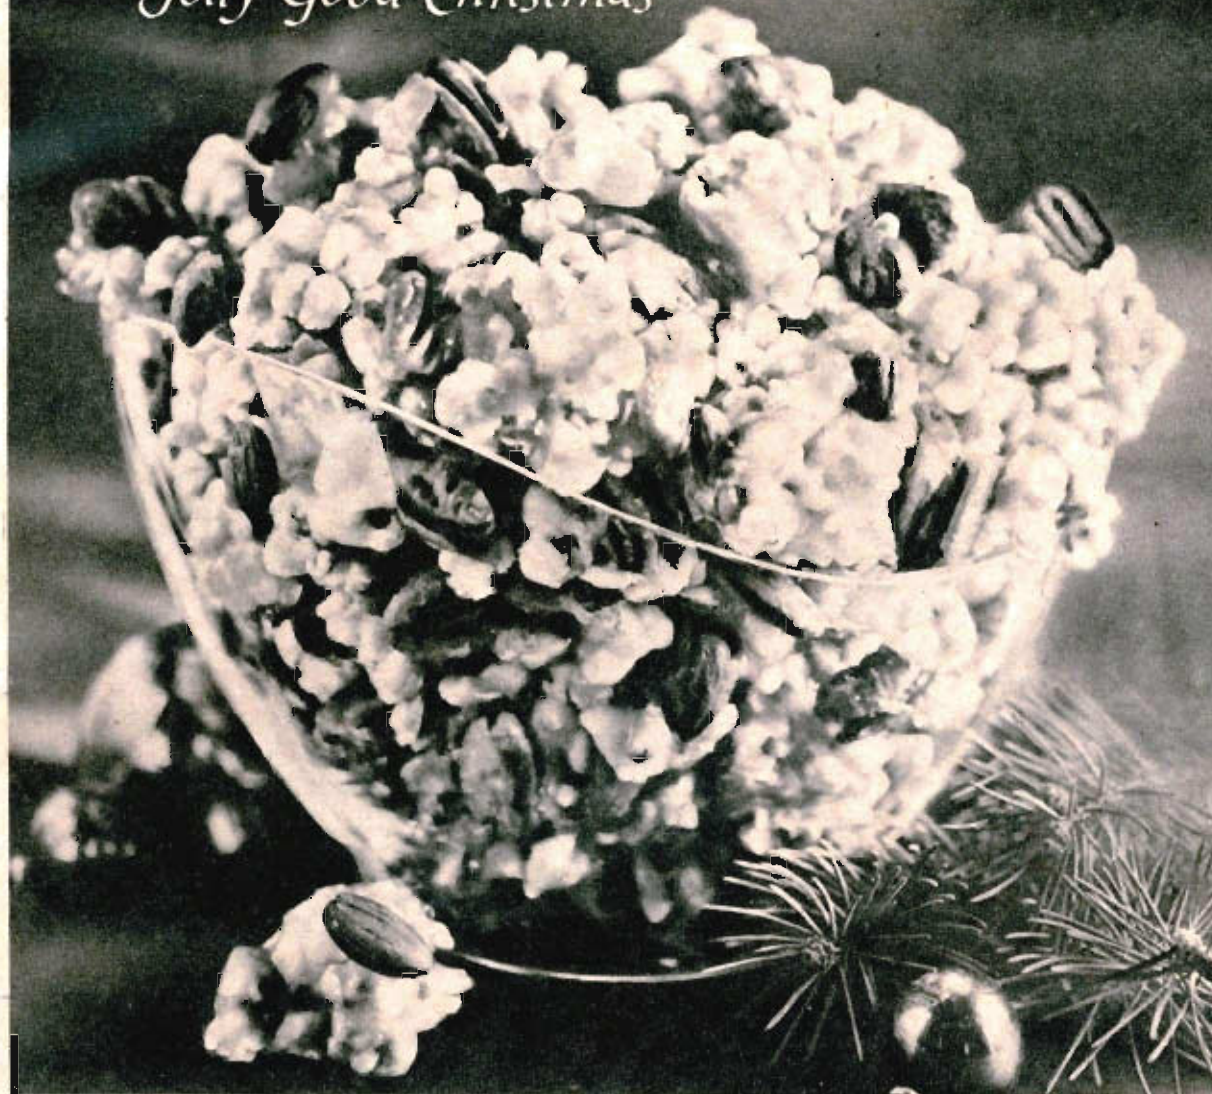

DATE APRICOT LOAF

- 1 cup fresh dates
- 1/2 cup dried apricots
- 3 cups flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon soda
- 1 cup brown sugar (packed)
- 3/4 cup chopped California walnuts
- 1 egg
- 1 1/2 cups milk

Pit and slice dates. Rinse apricots and cover with boiling water. Let stand 15 minutes. Drain and slice. Sift flour with salt, baking powder and soda. Stir in sugar, dates, apricots and walnuts. Beat egg lightly and combine with milk. Stir into dry mixture. Pour batter into greased loaf pan (10 x 5 x 3 inches). Let stand 15 minutes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 1 1/4 hours. Turn out on wire rack to cool. Makes one loaf.

Karo Crazy Crunch for a Jolly Good Christmas

What a treat for your family and friends!

Dig this crazy popcorn—it's positively wild, caramelized with Karo and crunchy with almonds, pecans or peanuts! Great just caramelized, too. That's Karo Crazy Crunch—and just try to stop eating it! Keep a batch on hand for family or guests; pack some up in pretty, perky packages for gifts. Thanks to Karo, you can make it for peanuts!

Karo Crazy Crunch

- | | |
|----------------------|----------------------------------|
| 2 quarts popped corn | 1-1/3 cups sugar |
| 1-1/3 cups pecans | 1 cup Mazola margarine |
| 2/3 cup almonds | 1 teaspoon vanilla |
| | 1/2 cup Karo Crystal-Clear Syrup |

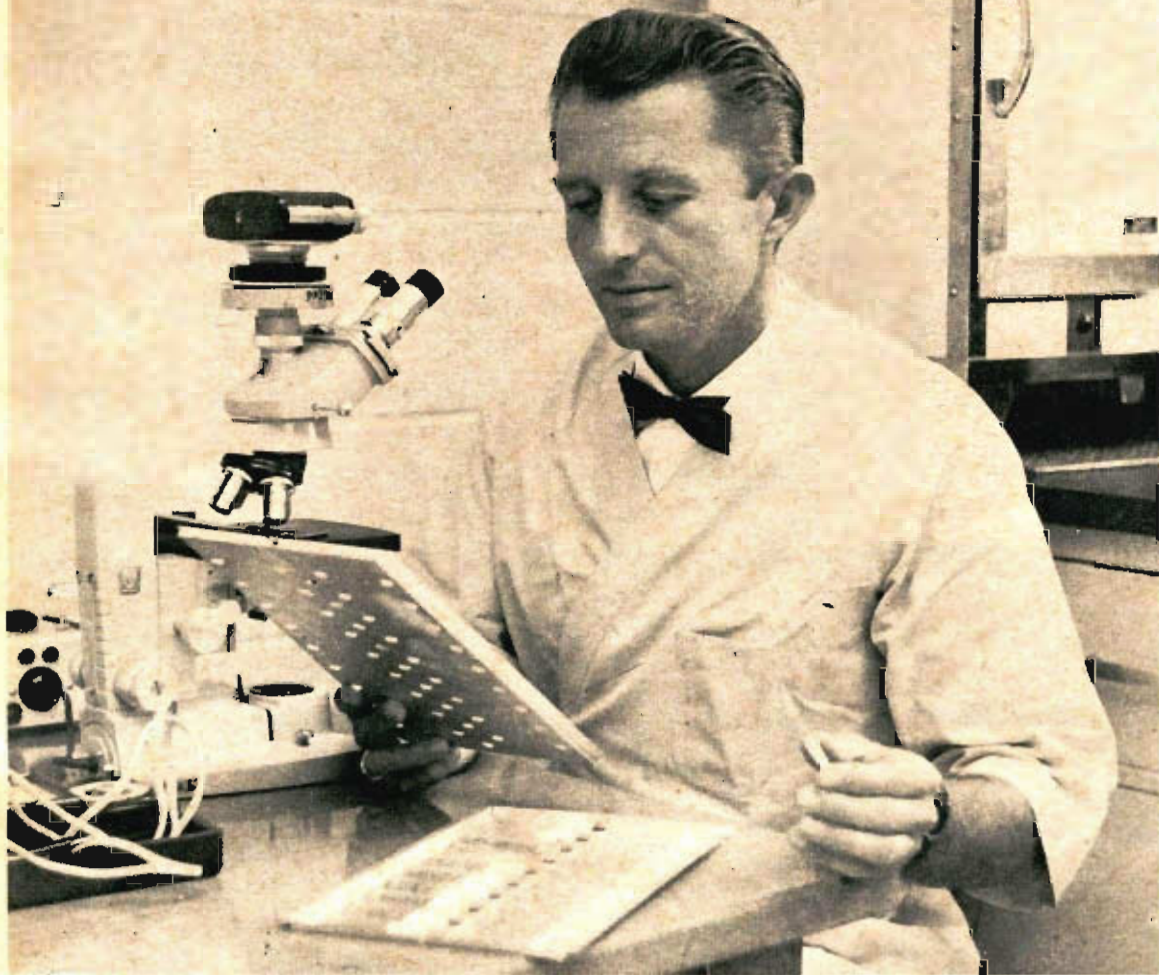

Mix popped corn and nuts on a cookie sheet. Combine sugar, margarine and Karo in a 1-1/2 quart saucepan. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Continue boiling, stirring occasionally, for 10 to 15 minutes or until mixture turns a light caramel color. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Pour over popped corn and nuts, mix to coat well. Spread out to dry. Break apart; and store in tightly covered container. Makes about 2 pounds.

The new way to cook is with Karo

Karo adds delicious new flavor and appetizing new texture to foods. Karo gives meats and vegetables an appetite-appealing glaze . . . blends beautifully in sauces, dressings and desserts, makes even everyday dishes taste so delightfully different. When the recipe in your cookbook calls for corn syrup, use Karo. Available in pint and quart bottles; in 5 and 10 lb. cans.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD

Inside the laboratory, John Nellor analyzes cattle tissues to determine if the hormone-like compounds used in his breeding trials had any harmful effects on either the cow or her calf. Results showed the treatment to be completely safe.

BEEF cattle of the future may very well be products of "planned parenthood."

Scientists are successfully controlling the breeding time of cattle by feeding them hormone-like compounds. The result is more cattle ready for breeding at one time, higher conception rates and a considerable saving in breeding expenses.

A typical controlled breeding experiment is being conducted by John E. Nellor and other Michigan State University animal husbandry researchers at Rowala Ranch in Iosco County, Michigan. Nellor reports "excellent results" from three years of tests, and comments that "it's just a matter of time" before these research techniques will be used by beef cattlemen across the country.

In the MSU tests, synthetic hormone-like compounds are mixed with grain and fed to the cattle for two weeks. Then the feedings are stopped.

"About 95 per cent of the treated cattle will come into heat within a three-day period shortly after the hormone feedings are ended," says Nellor.

"About half of these cattle will conceive at this time, and another 20-25 per cent will conceive when they return to heat approximately 20 days later. So, by waiting until the end of the second controlled heat period, a farmer could get about 70 per cent of his herd bred in a single handling."

Nellor contends that this rate of conception is as good—or even better—than natural service.

Furthermore, the controlled breeding methods cut artificial insemination costs by having large numbers of animals ready for breeding at the same time. Farm management is improved because animals are more uniform at sale time, and because farmers can make better use of labor and feed. Disease problems are reduced, since artificial insemination virtually eliminates those diseases transmitted by sires.

The first successful use of orally fed hormones for controlled breeding in cattle was actually reported by Nellor and his col-

Scientists literally had to "get a horse" to carry out their controlled breeding research project. By using hormone-like compounds they had hundreds of head of cattle ready for breeding at the same time. This type of "planned parenthood" would mean considerable savings to beef cattle operators who could then cut breeding costs and eliminate sire-transmitted diseases.

A "cowboy scientist" rides herd on these cattle which are being used in controlled breeding trials.

A portion of an animal's blood is being chemically assayed for hormone activity by Miss Susan Mahoney, MSU research technician. She's using this information to help find a pregnancy test for cattle which could prevent thousands of pregnant cattle from being mistakenly sent to market.

for beef cattle

...eagues several years ago. He explains that the delay in using these methods under actual farm conditions was due to "the tremendous amount of research needed to determine the correct amount of these compounds that should be fed."

Tissues of hundreds of cattle were examined in order to find out whether this type of treatment has any harmful effects on the cow or her calf and whether it influences her future reproductive ability.

Even though the treatment has passed all of these tests, it must still be approved by the Food and Drug Administration.

Nellor emphasizes that the use of these synthetic hormone compounds is a "logical approach" to controlling breeding time. Rather than stimulating egg production, the hormones actually inhibit breeding activity. The animals readily "rebound" by coming into heat shortly after the feeding treatments are ended.

And, even if one animal consumes four or five times more compound than she's supposed to, she'll experience no abnormal conditions. The animal will only "rebound" a little slower than those that received the right amounts.

Actually, this inhibited breeding activity (during the two-week feeding period) is about the same as the female animal experiences during her normal cycle. "Furthermore," says Nellor, "tissue analysis indicates that this treatment does not have harmful effects on normal body activity."

The compounds used in the MSU tests—Repromix from The Upjohn Company and a similar compound from Eli Lilly & Company—are presently only available for research purposes. "But," Nellor asserts, "our results indicate that the compounds would be effective under actual farm conditions."

"Technical crews will probably have to supervise the feeding treatments and handle the artificial insemination at the first and second controlled breeding time. Then bulls could be turned out with the cattle to breed any animals that did not conceive via artificial breeding."

Hundreds of cattle were rounded up for breeding during controlled estrous studies at the Rowala Ranch in Losco County, Michigan. Here, the herd follows a load of green-chopped hay to the feedlots where artificial insemination chutes are set up.

rugged partners! sturdy ground drive spreader, muscular new loader—powerful, low cost partners from New Idea

Here's New Idea's rugged ground drive spreader, with a full 95-bushel capacity . . . built to shrug off the shocks and strains of mechanical loading and spreading in rough fields. Here's the world's newest loader, built for smooth, fast operation. Together they make a powerful, loader-spreader team that's economical to own and operate.

You can handle any type manure! With the optional endgate, sloppy manure stays in the spreader 'til you get to the field. Handy, powerful, economical . . . no wonder this 95-bushel workhorse is bought by more farmers than any other spreader in the world.

The brand new New Idea Loader is radically improved and has the power and performance you want in a farm loader. It's ruggedly built with mechanical latch bucket control and the tine bucket can be quickly converted to a 40-inch or 80-inch bucket. You'll like its low price, too. See these, and other fine machines at your New Idea dealer today. Or write: New Idea, Coldwater, Ohio.

where bold new ideas pay off for profit-minded farmers

POPULAR SIZE CYLINDER/PADDLE. For fine shredding and controlled, uniform spreading. This ruggedly built 145-bushel New Idea cylinder/paddle spreader is ideal for larger dairy and livestock farmers.

LIGHT TOP DRESSING, TO HEAVY APPLICATION. Big 160-bushel, patented New Idea flail spreader pulverizes any manure in any weather. Manure is thrown down to the ground, not up into crosswinds.

SINGLE BEATER SPREADER. Twelve scientifically designed paddles slice manure fine and hurl it in wide uniform pattern. Hydraulic endgate retains sloppy, semi-liquid manure. Available in 125- and 155-bushel sizes.
