Alaska and The Pacific Northwest

Your sightseeing tour in Victoria affords a stop at the luxurious Empress Hotel, Victoria, British Columbia. The shopping area in this "little bit of England" is one block from the hotel.

Wouldn't you like a complete change of pace this summer? The Farm and Home Tour to Alaska, departing in June is the answer! For those of us who still picture our northern-most state as a land of ice and snow, it is with great surprise that we learn the climate and scenery are much like Norway and Sweden. Travelers "in the know" claim that the fjords of Norway take second place to the beauty of the steep-cliffed inlets of the Alaskan Inside Passage. Summers in this beautiful state are warm and the sun shines from 18 to 24 hours a day.

Since becoming a state, Alaska is one of our fastest-growing regions and you will have a splendid opportunity to see a part of the fabulous progress. Departing by train from our mid-west home towns, we stop in Chicago for a sightseeing program, then on to Banff and Lake Louise with ample opportunity to be thrilled by these luxurious resorts high in the Canadian Mountains. Proceeding westward to Victoria, a more English city than London, for a day's visit before we sail from Vancouver aboard the lovely Princess Patricia for a leisurely trip along the Inside Passage. Our ship offers the most up-to-date accommodations in Alaskan waters!

Stops and excursions will be made at Prince Rupert, Ketchikan — Alaska's First City, Juneau — bustling capital, Wrangell, and Skagway — famed for its "Gold Rush Days." One of the highlights of every Alaskan Cruise tour is the narrow-gauge rail trip from Skagway to Carcross, following the "Trail of '98."

On completion of our relaxing cruise we return to Vancouver and proceed to Seattle, Washington, site of the 1962 World's Fair and Queen City of the Pacific Northwest. Our streamlined dome-liners whisk us back across country which will hold attention for every daylight hour until arrival in home cities.

How do you get there? Under the experienced planning of our tour management, all you have to do is drop a note or postcard to: Farm and Home Tours, 26 North Carroll Street, Madison, Wis. Ask for the free folder on the Alaska Cruise Tour — every detail is given.

Once you have made up your mind to visit Alaska, just clip and mail the enrollment form in the folder along with your deposit. Then you can relax until it is time to pack and meet us at the station. Your efforts cease the moment you meet your tour-manager who takes over completely and handles all details. You can literally leave your pocket-book at home! Just bring along enough money for souvenirs and perhaps some gifts.

A word of warning: A fine allotment of space is held for our group, but choice space sells fast. Enroll early to avoid disappointment.

Benner, Stevens Named Morehead Award Winners

Charles Myron Benner (Chuck), son of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Benner of Culver, has been presented a Morehead Award to study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The announcement and the presentation of awards were made recently by Hugh B. Chatham of Elkin, a member of the Board of Trustees of the John Motley Morehead Foundation.

Benner is a student at Culver Military Academy. He is one of 67 boys to receive the awards this year. The awards are worth $7,500 to out-of-state residents for four years of study.

As a student, Benner's activities include being associate editor of the school paper; a regimental lieutenant in the school military; a member of the honor committee; the Blue Key Club, the Choir and the Band. He plans to study Education.

James William Stevens (Bill), son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Stevens Jr., 9 Hill Haven Drive, Lenoir, N.C., has also been named a recipient of a Morehead Award to study at the University of North Carolina. To North Carolina residents, the awards are worth $5,800 for four years of study.

As a CMA student, Stevens' activities include being a lieutenant in the school military, serving as battalion personnel officer, member of the honor guard, Monogram Club, Blue Key Club, Choir, eagle scout, co-captain of the varsity crew, member of the varsity swimming, southern all-stars diving teams, winner of the Sons of American Revolution ROTC medal. He plans to study Business Administration.

The Morehead Awards were first presented in 1951. They are presented on the basis of outstanding merit as reflected in academic ability and attainment, character, leadership, ambition, unselfish service and physical vigor, without consideration of need.

Jaycees Mark 2nd Anniversary

The 2nd anniversary of the founding of the Culver Junior Chamber of Commerce was celebrated with a Ladies' Night Dinner last Wednesday night (March 1) in the Lions Den. The event had been postponed from a week earlier due to the snowstorm.

Approximately 40 attended the dinner served by ladies of the Burr Oak Church of God. Following the dinner, the new Culver Military Academy color movie, "Summertime Adventures for Youth," was shown. However, the main speaker, Col. J. W. Henderson, former dean of admissions for CMA, was unable to attend because of illness.

The Culver club was organized in 1963 and extended a state charter by the Plymouth Jaycees with 26 charter members, eight of whom were present for the dinner. They were Ron McKee, Verlin Shaffer, Ken Martin, Bill Snyder, Jim Bonine, Roy Nicodemus, Charles Edgington, and Eddie Amond. The club now has 29 members. President McKee presented a candlelit cake for the occasion.

In other Jaycee business, Ronald Tusing, chairman of the co-sponsored Jaycees-Maxinkuckee Junior Woman's Club benefit dance on March 13, reported on arrangements and ticket sales.

The club welcomed new member John Hook, and guests Mr. and Mrs. James Beckhart, who are new residents of the community.

Seven Arts Group To Sponsor Ballet

JANE ANN MILLER

The Wabash Valley Junior Ballet, sponsored by The Seven Arts Group, will appear at Eppley Auditorium on Sunday, March 14, at 3:00 p.m. The Company is a not-for-profit, incorporated group of dancers of amateur standing who pool their talents and resources in order to give programs for the purpose of increasing dance audiences and to provide experience for themselves. They are directed by an elected board of directors who live in the city of Wabash and are supported by that community.

The Wabash valley Junior Ballet company is a member of the Northeast Regional Ballet Festival Association.

Additional aims of the dance group and its directors are to increase the awareness of dance audiences, especially in the Wabash community, by bringing outside dancers of quality regardless of the field of dance; to keep its membership in good standing in the Northeast Regional Ballet Festival Association and to raise money to send dancers to its workshops and festivals; to build and maintain a scholarship fund to assist dancers in further study; and to do everything in its power to assure the future of a good dance education for those in the community who desire it.

R. Hall Wilson, Rural Carrier, Dies At Home

Richard Hall Wilson, 40, a lifetime Culver resident and post office employee for ten years, was found dead at 7:30 a.m. Wednesday at his home at 430 State St. He had served in recent years as a rural mail carrier, though he had been in ill health recently.

Mr. Wilson was born Jan. 5, 1925, was a Culver High School graduate and a veteran of World War II.

The body was taken to the Van Gilder Funeral Home at Plymouth where funeral arrangements are incomplete at this time.

Control crabgrass and some other annual grasses such as foxtail in the lawn by using control chemicals in late winter or early spring, advise Purdue University horticulturists.

Mrs. Elsie Weiger Dies Following Long Illness

Mrs. Elsie L. Weiger, 70, 921 Academy Road, Culver, died at 9:20 a.m. Sunday, March 7, at the Plymouth Parkview Hospital, following an illness of several years.

Mrs. Weiger was born Feb. 16, 1895, at Fowler, Ind., to James M. and Margaret Ann (Tunis) Kendall, and was married on Sept. 12, 1912, at Fowler, to Theodore Weiger, who preceded her in death on Oct. 1, 1963. She has resided in Culver since coming here in 1915.

Mrs. Weiger was a member of the Culver Methodist Church, the W.S.C.S. of the church, and the Burr Oak Rebekah Lodge.

Surviving are three sons, Raymond E. Weiger, Plymouth, Vern E. Weiger, Tippecanoe, and Charles Weiger, Jr., Culver; two daughters, Mrs. June E. Dunnick, Edwardsburg, Mich., and Mrs. Fay E. Gilbert, Plymouth; three sisters, Mrs. Leona Holoffe, Whiting, Ind., Mrs. Pearl Miller, Kentland, Ind., and Mrs. Florence Prowant, Chadwick, Ill.; 16 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, March 10, at the Culver Grace United Church of Christ, with Rev. Helmer Peterson, pastor of the Plymouth Church of Christ, officiating. Burial was made in the Culver Masonic Cemetery.

The Easterday-Bonine Funeral Home of Culver was in charge of arrangements.

Funeral Director Delivers Baby

Mayor and Mrs. Paul Hiff of Peru became grandparents Thursday, Feb. 25, thanks to the persistence of George Listenberger, who drove through all but impassable city streets and then delivered the baby while getting his instructions over the phone from a Peru doctor. Listenberger, a former Culver resident and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Listenberger, is a funeral home director in Peru.

The new mother, Mrs. Patricia Howard, 264 W. North St., Peru, the Hiff's daughter, gave birth to a son at 6:15 a.m. at the family home, and they were later taken to Duke's Memorial Hospital where both were reported to be "doing fine."

Mrs. Howard and her husband, Raymond, called the Listenberger Funeral Home earlier Thursday morning and asked that an ambulance be sent to the home to take her to the hospital. This was the day that late February blizzard paralyzed this section of the nation.

The ambulance was at first unable to get through so Mrs. Howard called her father. Mayor Hiff attempted to round up a tractor to assist the ambulance in reaching the home, but was unable to do so. He then tried to get city police to the home, but they too were unsuccessful.

Meanwhile, George Listenberger, who was driving the ambulance, continued his attempts to reach the residence and was finally able to get through.

By the time he did arrive, however, the birth had already begun to take place. His quick phone call was made to Dr. O. B. Johnson, who gave delivery instructions to Listenberger over the phone.

Listenberger said later, "It's the first time I ever had to do anything like this."

Babson's Annual Business Forecast For Year 1965

Promising the people of the United States "peace and prosperity," President Johnson was carried to victory last November on an overwhelming landslide. By nature he is more likely to compromise than to contest. Also, he is deeply sincere in his desire to accelerate the economic growth of this country and to

But we must not forget that both Woodrow Wilson and Franklin Roosevelt promised to keep America out of "foreign" wars. And already the British financial crisis has forced the Federal Reserve to raise its discount rate to 4% — despite President Johnson's dislike of higher money rates. Therefore, as we look forward to 1965 from our more than 60 years of experience in forecasting and analysis, we emphasize once again that the great rolling tides of economic fundamentals and social currents are likely to have a greater impact on what is to unfold than will the campaign promises of successful candidates.

1. There will be no war with Russia during 1965. The Russian people want some of the "peace and prosperity" that President Johnson promised our citizens.

2. Watch Russia's satellites in 1965. They will try to make a deal with the new Moscow Administration which will involve more trade and prosperity and less politics. Following Khrushchev's fall, the satellites will aim for more consumer goods for their people rather than for more personal freedom.

3. Russia will not bring the Berlin issue to a crisis in 1965. The tendency will be to soft-pedal talk about Berlin until Red China's course of action becomes clearer.

4. Red China made the biggest news in 1964 by exploding a nuclear bomb. In 1965, Communist China's greatest effort will be to gain admission to the United Nations. World leaders cannot ignore this awakening giant with its 700,000,000 people. We believe there is a 50-50 chance that the Red Dragon will get into the UN in 1965.

5. However, Communist China will not risk all-out war in the year ahead. She has neither a sufficient stockpile of nuclear bombs nor adequate means of delivering them in quantity. Red China's biggest use of her new-found nuclear power will be to "blackmail" the West.

6. Regardless of what happens in the next few months, we look for President Johnson to compromise on the situation in South Vietnam sometime during 1965 and move toward "neutralization."

7. Conditions in Cuba are not likely to change radically in 1965. The Russians will do nothing to handicap Castro; neither will they do much to help him. Thus Castro will be unable to deliver the economic help he has been promising other Latin American nations. And with world sugar prices down, the Cuban chieftain will try to make a deal with the United States before the end of 1965.

8. Cutbacks in defense spending will not result in radical unemployment in the U.S. in 1965. Companies and regions seriously affected by the loss of "conventional" defense work will shift to meet the rapid changes due in our system of defense during the next few years.

9. Our Defense Department, under Secretary McNamara's leadership, will increase efforts in 1965 to produce new super-weapons. It is realized there would be no Maginot or other "line" to protect our country in future wars. Control of space will be the new aim in defense.

10. Intensified emphasis on new space-age defenses will provide more jobs in 1965 than the closing down of obsolete installations will eliminate.

11. The stock market will continue to be a paradox in 1965. The Dow-Jones Industrial Average may push to 1000 before any real turn-around takes place. Many stocks, however — including numbers of issues oriented to conventional warfare and defense — will still do little or nothing. Look for greater selectivity in stocks next year.

12. 1965 may be an advantageous time for investors to put very small sums of money into "space" stocks. These are outright speculations, but so were the ventures of Columbus, Magellan, and other explorers of the past. If there were no risk-takers there would be no progress. Such "investments," however, should be well diversified and limited to amounts you would be prepared to lose.

13. Cash dividend payments should increase in 1965 . . . although at a much slower rate than has been the case this year.

14. No assessment of finances in the United States can be made without carefully weighing Britain's plight. We are convinced that unless the Labor Government adopts strict austerity measures, the pound will fall before the end of 1965.

15. Until the fate of the pound is resolved, short-term interest rates must be kept high to prevent foreigners from withdrawing their deposits held here. Also, domestic demand for credit promises to remain strong. Hence, interest rates will edge upward during 1965.

16. There may be some erosion in bond prices as interest rates move upward, but there should be no massive decline unless a real credit crisis develops. Investors making new purchases would do well, however, to stick now to bonds maturing within five years. Sometime during 1965 longer bonds may become good buys.

17. Inflation fears may rise in 1965; but we do not look for runaway prices next year as productive capacity is too large.

18. More wage hikes are certain in 1965. Liberal concessions won in the auto and other industries in 1964 provide tempting targets for the steel unions and secondary labor groups to shoot at in 1965.

19. To the extent — and this could be considerable — that higher costs cannot be compensated for by price hikes and greater efficiency, profit margins will suffer in 1965.

20. Indeed, despite the projected 2% cut in the corporate income tax rate next year, we look for only a very slight overall rise in corporate profits . . . nothing to compare with this year's huge 20% expansion.

21. Labor disputes will be numerous in 1965. Many labor pacts can, and will, be reopened for wage adjustments during the coming year.

22. Employment will continue favorable in 1965, but additions to rolls will be most noticeable in fields such as teaching, personal services, and government work.

23. Little real progress will be apparent in the drive to reduce unemployment. We are only now just "touching off" the big new explosion in growth of the labor force.

24. Due to rising labor costs, look for business to turn even more to automation and labor-saving devices in 1965. Pressures on profit margins will spur cost-cutting and efforts to raise productivity.

25. Because of rising expenses and overwhelming competition, a further increase in failures will be seen in 1965.

26. As a result of automobile strikes in late 1964 and the fear of a possible steel shutdown in mid-1965, we look for a bulge in business volume during the first half of 1965.

27. In a nutshell, business should make new all-time highs in early 1965; after midyear, a tapering-off appears likely. However, 1965 will set another new record.

28. Following the strike interruptions of late 1964, personal income should move smartly ahead to new highs in the first half of 1965 . . . although the rate of advance will slow after midyear.

29. This projected rise in income will be beneficial to retail trade. And though buying in the second quarter may be dampened by heavy income-tax payments due Uncle Sam on April 15th as a result of under-withholding during 1964, the last half of the year will find retail trade in certain lines — such as furs and jewelry — spurred by President Johnson's promised excise-tax cuts.

30. The important automobile industry should post another excellent sales year in 1965, but as the year advances we feel that gains will be harder to come by.

31. The powerful building and construction activities should prove a strong support to general business during 1965 . . . even though we foresee no marked improvement. Some gain in dollar volume will be largely due to higher costs. Apartment building has been overdone in some sections and a breathing spell is logical. One- and two-family houses could post a small increase, but the big market for new housing is still some years distant.

32. Overextension of credit and overambitious operations have put the real estate market in a bind in many large metropolitan areas. We strongly advise caution in making new commitments, especially in commercial real estate where a thin equity exists.

33. However, even if scarcer than in recent years, there will still be opportunities for selective purchases of real estate in 1965. Each area is a law unto itself. Know your locality and study the direction of growth trends. Farm land bought in the path of expanding suburbs may be a better long-term buy in 1965 than stocks.

34. Nonfarm real estate foreclosures will continue in an uptrend during 1965. This should be particularly true in regions where overbuilding of speculative homes has taken place and where cutbacks in defense spending cause local distress.

35. Productive farm land that lends itself to mechanization will not decline in price in 1965. Rising use of farm equipment makes it necessary for operators to cultivate ever-larger spreads. This trend is maintaining the demand for fertile acreage in the farm belt.

36. As 1965 begins, prices for agricultural products are generally well above their lows for 1964. Unless severe widespread drought intervenes, we look for no more than seasonal strength in agricultural prices during the year ahead. In a word, we do not see any near-term important uplifting forces on the farm scene.

37. The situation in industrial commodity prices is somewhat different. With business heading higher in the first half and with labor costs scaling new peaks, industrial commodity prices, with some exceptions, will push upward at least during the coming six months.

38. Living costs will also rise to new all-time heights. And, since President Johnson is committed to getting Medicare passed at this session of Congress, look for hospital, nursing, and doctors' fees to spurt before the end of 1965.

39. Even with federal income taxes already slated to drop a notch next year and with prospects excellent that excise taxes will be cut, rejoicing should be restrained by the knowledge that local taxes will take another up-twist and social security levies will rise again . . . even after the 89th Congress enacts Medicare.

40. Climbing capital goods outlays will be one of the brightest spots for 1965. Gains over this year could run as high as 10%.

41. Further progress in United States exports will be harder to achieve in the coming year. Certainly, if the steel labor outlook appears bad by mid-spring, heavy imports of foreign steel may be resorted to by U. S. businessmen. This would result in a narrowing of our favorable trade balance and have a further adverse impact on the U.S. international balance of payments.

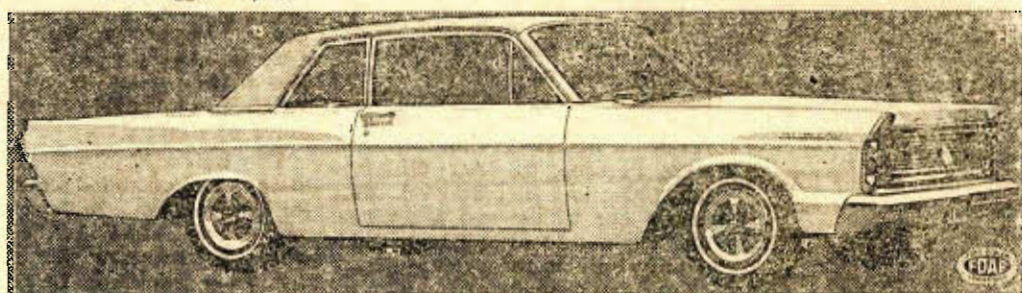

42. Although we are not fore-

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Editor, THE CITIZEN:
Our sincere thanks to the Town Board and the Culver Street Department for the removal of snow from the Culver business districts the last week of February.

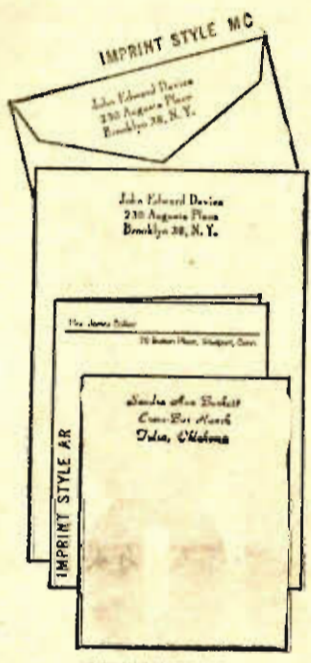

We have owned the El Rancho Theatre for over 30 years and this is the first time snow has ever been removed by the town from in front of our place of business. This service was greatly appreciated by us and I'm sure by many others.

Thanks a million.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. John Wagner, Route 2, Culver, returned home Wednesday, March 3, from Memorial Hospital in South Bend after undergoing eye surgery on Feb. 24.

D. Hatten, 310 Cass St., Culver, was admitted to Memorial Hospital in South Bend on Saturday for observation and treatment. His room number is 809.

Elza H. Hawkins, 316 E. Washington St., Culver, was dismissed from Memorial Hospital last Friday after being a patient there since Saturday, Feb. 20.

Marion Carter of Hibbard was admitted Monday to Parkview Hospital in Plymouth for observation and treatment.

Mrs. Jack Sanders, 447 S. Main St., Culver, was admitted to Parkview Hospital at Plymouth on Monday and underwent major surgery Tuesday. She is reported getting along satisfactorily.

CLOTHES THAT ARE PERMANENTLY PRESSED

Cotton slacks that hold their creases after washing are the result of a new permanent press process, reports Mrs. Bonita Farmer, clothing specialist at Purdue University.

Called delayed cure, this new process builds sharp creases and pleats into garments that retain their original shape and appearance both after laundering and during wear.

Although used largely in men's casual slacks, the permanent press process will soon be used in shirts, blouses and dresses.

Permanently pressed slacks have been available in wool for some time, but the new delayed cure process now uses a blend of cotton or a modified rayon with either 15 per cent nylon of 50 to 65 per cent polyester fibers.

How does this process differ from wash and wear fabrics? Mrs. Farmer explains that in the wash and wear fabrics, the chemical finish that prevents wrinkles is applied while the fabric is flat and is immediately heat treated to lock in the finish. As a result when the garments are cut and sewn, the seams pucker because the fabric wants to return to its flat state.

In the delayed cure process, the fabric is treated with a chemical finish that does not set when the fabric dries. The treated fabric is then made into a garment and the garment is pressed where desired. Finally, the garment is placed in a high temperature oven which cures or sets the finish and this sets the shape of the entire garment.

The resulting garment holds sharp creases or pleats after laundering, dries smoothly, and resists wrinkles during wear. However, at present alterations are difficult or impossible to make on the permanently pressed garments.

Motorists are urged to make their driving "fall safe". According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company occasional driver failure among drivers who are ordinarily capable and skilled is the cause of the majority of highway accidents. What is driver failure? It includes such leading errors as failure to signal properly, failure to use proper lanes for turns, failure to dim lights, failure to observe a sign or signal, and many others. These are common safe driving practices which the average driver observes nearly always. One failure, however, may get him into a peck of trouble.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOL

Underclassmen Reveal Their Ambitions

By Joan Dillon

The younger set of students which compose the Culver Community Schools has been heretofore rather neglected. For this reason, and also because the minds of these youngsters are uninhibited, we have conducted a survey in the Elementary Building. The basic question asked of the students was what they might like to be when they have grown up, followed by their reasons for this choice (or choices, as the case might be). We began in Mrs. Melton's two kindergarten classes where the responses were often as hard to come by as pulling teeth! And we progressed from grade one, where youngsters proved to be quite talkative, through grade six, by which time ideas had become more serious and mature.

KINDERGARTEN

Scot McKinnis - Farmer. (Why?) I don't know.
Cindy Tusing - Nurse. Before that I might like to work at the fountain in Daddy's store.
Randy Bradley - Policeman on a horse. (Why?) 'Cuz . . .
Jennifer McLure - Schoolteacher like Mrs. Melton.
Peter McKay - Boy Scout . . . Boy Scout Leader. 'Cuz I've seen them on TV and I like their suits.
Patty Brown - Fairy godmother. (What's the nicest thing about being a fairy godmother?) A wand.
Polly Sue Thompson - Kindergarten teacher. (Why?) I don't know. Why?
Brian Foust - Engineer on a train.
Johany DeWitt - Be a baseball player. (What team would you be on?) Cardinals. (What position would you play?) Bat.
Shawn Baker - A teacher like Mrs. Melton.
Timothy Overmyer - Mouseketeer. (Why?) So I can wear ears.
Jody Jones - Teacher. (Why?) 'Cuz I like kids.
Robert DeWitt - Policeman. (Why?) 'Cuz I want to.
Paul Carlson - An officer. (Where would you be an officer?) At the military school.
Pam McCune - Housewife (Why?) Because I like to work with my mom.

Seniors Tour Capital Building

By PAT OGDEN

On March 3 at 8 in the morning Culver's senior class started to Indianapolis for a tour of the capital building. We reached our destination at approximately 11 a.m. and began our tour by viewing the interesting relics of the museum in the capital building. Next on our schedule was a movie on how a bill becomes a law. After the movie some seniors seemed ready to pass out from lack of food, so we departed for the state office building to consume a delicious lunch at the cafeteria.

At 1:30 we again formed a group, and the Secretary of State, John Bottorff who taught at CHS last year, led us to his office, where he gave a talk on the duties of the Secretary of State. Our guide proceeded to take us to the governor's beautiful office, but unfortunately we did not see him, as he was still out to lunch.

Next on our agenda was the opportunity to hear the Senate in session, but they were in caucus, so, when the senators failed to return after a half-hour, we decided to try our luck with the House of Representatives. But we missed hearing them also, as the representatives had not yet returned from lunch. The rest of the tour, which included a visit to the courts, had to be canceled because time was running short. We began our journey home at 3, a tired group, but with a better understanding of the Senate, House of Representatives, and Secretary of State.

A Tribute To Our Team

By Marsha Guise and Patti McCombs

There aren't many ways of telling our team thank you and making them feel that we really mean it. It's been said over and over at the close of each season; but each year it's a little different because of the players. They all help to make the team and should all be honored for their hard work, but some will never be back to bring glory to good old CHS and these are the ones we're directing this tribute to. (And the COACH, of course.) Let us take time out now, to show you in the only way we know how, that we appreciate you and your efforts (all that practice) by saying THANKS from all your Culver fans. And somehow it just won't be the same without you mighty Seniors!!!

what they have planned for their future.

Bonne Chance, Mademoiselle!

By KAY THOMAS

The first step is always the hardest. Junior Pam Carter has received the news that she has successfully completed the first step in the Indiana University sponsored program to send deserving students abroad to study and master the French language and to learn by participation the way-of-life of the country's people. She took and passed an oral listening comprehension test Feb. 9 at CHS. The test itself was quite different from last year's which was partly written and partly oral and was administered at LaPorte High School.

The next step will be for Pam to fill out what seems to be miles and miles of never-ending forms. She must ask three adults to fill out an evaluation sheet of her traits and abilities. Semi-finalists, selected on the basis of the information on these forms, are announced sometime around March 22.

If Pam passes this hurdle, she will travel to I.U. for a personal interview. Finalists are announced in the latter part of April. In the end only 30 Indiana students out of the approximately 175 who originally applied will go abroad this summer for nine weeks they will never forget.

Pam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Carter, 622 Pearl Street, Culver.

Pam conscientiously spends many hours a week in the French lab improving her speaking fluency. She is the only student from CHS who took the test this year and thus should be congratulated for her fine achievement. Pam looks forward to someday teaching the French language.

How To Enjoy Eating

By SUE COLE

Each year for the last several years, Indiana businessmen have sponsored a program designed to educate the youth of the state in the field of dietetics. Now is the age of constant action; to supply the needed energy for this age, people must eat a well balanced diet. To teach the youth to do just this is the purpose of the Youthpower Conference.

Diane Davis is this year's Sunshine representative for this district. During her two days at Youthpower — March 4 and 5 — she will discover that she is representing one of nine organizations having personnel at the conference. Various speakers from the management of large businesses and officials of school organizations will present interesting facts concerning the activities and aids that have been created to inform the public about the importance and means of good, sensible eating.

One of the highlights of the conference is the tour given to various food industries in the surrounding Indianapolis area. During this tour the teens will view most of the executive heads, see the working departments, watch the food being prepared for marketing, sample the finished product, and view the organization of that company. Information about the company's works and how the company serves and betters life is usually available and distributed. Sometimes the tourists even get to meet the president or founder of the company.

The conference is not just all talk and no show, the food the youth will be served is marvelous. By serving the colorful and healthful meals, the sponsors show how meals might be better presented, prepared, and planned. One of the main ideas that are stressed is the variation of snack foods. Teens need not always eat candy and drink pop at parties or during snacks. Some of the most appetizing snacks available at the conference consist of various egg, cheese, fruit, and juice preparations. Not only are these foods enjoyable to eat, they are healthful.

During the session the representatives will participate in discussion groups. Topics may run from the current fads (concerning foods) teens and schools and to how parents influence a child's habits while he grows.

Fun enters the picture too. One evening after dinner the guests are entertained by a singing group from one of the nearby colleges. Afterwards the teens have a dance. The band is usually great.

After Diane has completed her stay, she will be expected to spread the knowledge she has gained. No doubt, various clubs and organizations will ask her to speaking. All in all, it is a very worthwhile experience.

The Ideal Teacher

By Lonnie Darosci and Judy Thews

O.K., students and teachers, today we are going to color the ideal teacher. Crayons ready, everyone? Let's begin.

See the teacher's face? Color it kind, but stern. He can crack a joke, but yet he can handle the class and keep order. Also color it sympathetic. If a student gets flustered in class discussion or does not understand a question, this teacher values time, but not so much that he won't explain or make a student feel at home in class.

Now, look at the teacher's rules. Color them perfectly established, but not too dictating. A student should have some freedom in the classroom. A student shouldn't feel guilty if he has to sneeze or blow his nose. In study hall, he should be able to do his work comfortably — not all tensed up — afraid he's doing something wrong if he moves!

Now see the daily assignments? Color them short. Many students carry five solids a day with two study halls . . . one if he's in band. In study hall he can passibly get half of his homework done, but the rest he carries home. Many times a student works on school work for 14 hours a day (this includes eight hours at school). Is teen-age life all school during the week?

See the teacher's personality? Color it projected into classroom discussions to relieve classes of dreary business-like form. Some teachers operate their classes and remain indifferent to the students. A teacher who can interestingly explain something without the aid of an honor student usually finds himself enjoying his class — and his students enjoying him.

Take a look at the ideal teacher's classroom. Color it warm, friendly, — and attentive. A student spends nine of 12 months in a classroom. It should be something special — not drudgery. A student should show respect for his teachers — a student pays even more respect to a teacher who has respect for him.

Now our picture is finished. Pretty, isn't it? But remember . . . as one of our students said, "Show me an ideal student and then I will try and show you an ideal teacher."

Spaghetti Supper

On April 3, the Culver Community Building will again be the scene of the Culver High School Student Council and National Honor Society Spaghetti Supper. This year, as last, Mr. Kenneth Cole will be acting as chief cook and bottle (dish) washer. Serving will be from 5:30 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Adult donations will be $1.25, while children 12 and under will be admitted for $.75. Tickets may either be purchased from Student Council or Honor Society members after March 12, or at the door.

The money made on the supper will be used to buy next year's Honor Sweaters and pins given out for various activities at the end of each year.

Everyone is invited and will receive a warm welcome!

Visitors to Culver judge it largely by the people they meet here. What do you do to make Culver more attractive to visitors and newcomers?

Jigsaw puzzles never lose their popularity.

Did you know that children have enjoyed puzzles through the years in America?

Back in the 1800 period, "dissected maps" were a best seller in toy stores. These were geography puzzles, and they are just as much in demand today.

A new boxed puzzle of the United States and another one of the world are on their way to the toy counters of your local stores now. Adding Alaska and Hawaii to our states has made puzzles even more colorful and fascinating.

"The nation and the world change often enough so that geography puzzles never go out of style," points out H. M. Benstead, Jr. of Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin.

Most people don't realize that not too long ago families had to paste down and cut out their own puzzles.

In museums we can see that puzzle-making was not a task to be undertaken lightly. A suitable picture might be glued to wood or painted on it. Then it was cut by saw into as many confusing pieces as possible. After that, sanding was needed, and often a finishing coat. It might take a year to make a few puzzles for Christmas. Puzzles came under the heading of play and few free hours were available from chores and work. Today low cost puzzles abound for every age group. Toddlers enjoy puzzles of the frame-tray type with perhaps a dozen colorful pieces to be fitted. Of course a puzzle aids a child's memory, color perception and manual dexterity. But mostly it's fun.

Schoolgoers enjoy puzzles they can learn from, and scenic spots and landmarks are as popular with this age group as with adults. Putting together Mount Rushmore, Yellowstone Park, or Niagara Falls stir the imagination.

Dedicated puzzle fans vote for the 750-piece sets. Some say that puzzles help them concentrate or think out a problem. Others prefer to work in a sociable family group. Puzzled about a gift? Puzzles are perennial favorites.

CULVER TOWN PLAN COMMISSION

Notice is hereby given that the Culver Town Plan Commission of Culver, Indiana, on March 23, 1965, at 7:30 p.m. (EST) at the Council Chambers of the Town Hall of Culver, will hold a public hearing on a proposed amendment to the Zoning Ordinance and Map, as amended, for the Town of Culver and the contiguous unincorporated territory under the jurisdiction of the Culver Town Plan Commission.

The proposed amendment, copy of which is on file at the office of the Clerk-Treasurer of the Town of Culver, concerns the property for the extension of territorial jurisdiction, which may be properly described as follows:

COMMENCING IN THE CENTER LINE OF REDWOOD ROAD APPROXIMATELY ONE-FOURTH (1/4) MILE NORTH OF 16C ROAD, THE PRESENT NORTH LINE OF OFFICIAL TWO-MILE LIMIT; THENCE NORTH TO THE CENTER LINE OF WEST 16th ROAD APPROXIMATELY ONE-HALF (1/2) MILE; THENCE WEST ON THE CENTER LINE OF WEST 16th ROAD TWO AND ONE-HALF (2 1/2) MILES TO THE CENTER LINE OF SOUTH THORN ROAD; THENCE SOUTH ON CENTER LINE OF SOUTH THORN ROAD APPROXIMATELY ONE-HALF (1/2) MILE TO THE NORTH LINE OF THE PRESENT OFFICIAL TWO-MILE LIMIT; THENCE EAST ON SAID NORTH TERRITORIAL LIMIT LINE APPROXIMATELY TWO AND ONE-HALF (2 1/2) MILES TO PLACE OF BEGINNING.

The proposed amendment would make the following change in zoning:

Extended territorial jurisdictional area be zoned as "S" Suburban.

BEGIN CRABGRASS CONTROL

Certain chemical crabgrass controls can be used now, say Purdue University horticulturists, before warm weather arrives and weed seeds begin germination.

Some arsenic compounds, chlordane and other chemicals, which prevent crabgrass seedlings from surviving, should be used well before May. But don't use them when a new lawn is seeded because they will hamper germination of the grass seed.

The horticulturists recommend a good program of general lawn care to help in controlling weeds such as crabgrass and in maintaining a healthy turf.

Adding fertilizer in the spring and fall, and cutting grass at a two-inch height will help keep the lawn vigorous so it will overshadow crabgrass.

When applying chemical crabgrass killers, be sure to follow directions on the package. If too little of the chemical is applied, it won't do the job. If too much is used, it will be unnecessary and costly.

SEWING PUBLICATIONS

Sewing an Easter outfit or a new spring wardrobe?

Your outfit can have a hand fashioned, instead of a home made, look if you give careful attention to facings, collars, linings and buttonholes.

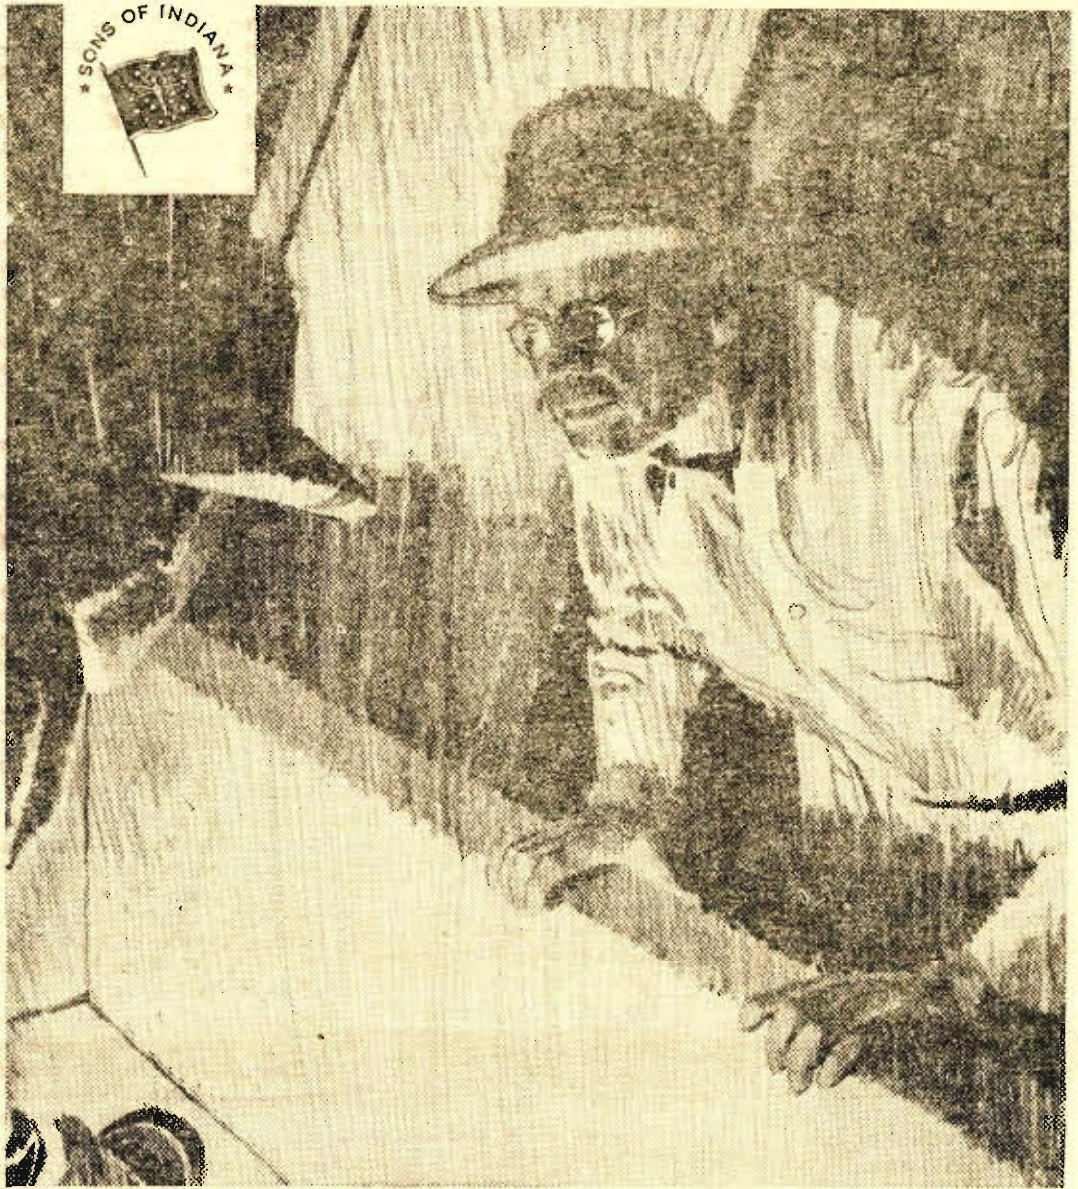

Many times the difference between hand fashioned and home made is the skill with which the details are finished.

Lois Folk, clothing specialist at Purdue University, is the author of a basic construction series, "Face It Right," HE-455, "Linings and Underlinings," HE-456, "Collars Are Easy," HE-457, and "Buttons and Buttonholes," HE-461.

Indiana residents may receive a free copy of each publication by writing Agricultural Publications Office, AES Building, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind. 47907. Copies are also available from county Extension offices.

Pick up dirt and dust behind and underneath your range with the wand of your vacuum cleaner. For harder to reach areas, Purdue University home management specialists suggest blowing the dirt out by putting the vacuum hose on backwards.

GEORGE ANDREW REISNER, BORN, INDIANAPOLIS, 1867

What was the secret under the Pyramids?

A flashlight beam cut through the inky blackness of the burial chamber.

The rasping sound of stone against stone carried through the still, stale air as the heavy lid of the sarcophagus was raised. George Andrew Reisner peered into the coffin that had been undisturbed for thousands of years.

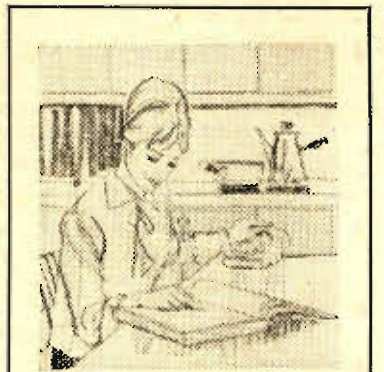

"Gentlemen," he said, slowly, "I regret Queen Hetepheres is not receiving."

And so it was that the great moment of this famous Indianapolis-born Egyptologist's career brought disappointment that day in March, 1927. He had discovered the lost tomb of the mother of the great pharaoh Khufu, one hundred feet under the pyramids of Gizeh. Only to find the Queen's mummy had disappeared! To this day, the fate of the remains of Queen Hetepheres is unknown. But the contents of the tomb shed important new light on the history of ancient Egypt.

Reisner worked on to recapture for all time many glories of the distant past. This brilliant Hoosier scholar was honored around the world and, today, his books and teachings are guiding modern archeologists as they seek to unearth the mysteries of early civilizations.

And the march of progress in archeology has been paralleled in another science—communications.

Witness communications via space satellite; automatic dialing telephones; DDD; transmission of data by telephone. The future? "Face-to-face" conversation by Picturephone; communication on beams of light; worldwide DDD—Bell Labs is at work on these, too. When practical, Indiana Bell will bring them to you. It's all done with one objective: to maintain your telephone service as the finest in the world.

SHOP BY PHONE

"The announcement that the Chicago Federal milk market order will be terminated on March 31 is proof that Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has not bowed to political pressure but has instead followed established orderly procedures in handling the Chicago milk order referendum," A. L. McWilliams, Pure Milk Association general manager, stated today.

"Now that the mischief has been done, the Chicago market superpool lost, and many Wisconsin dairy farmers have suffered substantial financial loss, I predict that the cooperatives which brought about those circumstances by voting against the amended order will now reverse their position and plead they didn't understand," McWilliams said, adding:

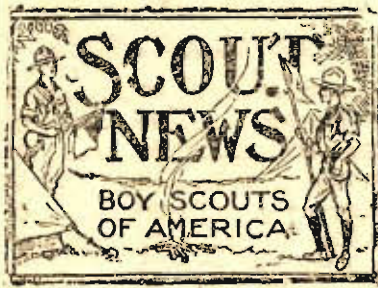

Secretary Freeman the scapegoat for what apparently was a case of poor judgment and blundering strategy on their part."

McWilliams said that in order to preserve orderly marketing and protect the income of its members, Pure Milk Association has invited other fluid milk cooperatives to join with it to work out a new price structure comparable with other Illinois and Wisconsin markets.

"Pure Milk Association," he said, "believes that Chicago market farmers have too long carried the burden of supporting unneeded milk supplies. On the other hand, any questions about the objectives of the manufacturing milk interests have been dispelled by their published proposals to include in the Chicago pool any manufacturing plants that merely indicate a desire to ship milk to that market.

"It should be noted that this proposal applies only to the Chicago market," he continued. "The time has come to recognize that Chicago market farmers are entitled to and expect the same consideration as producers in other markets."

By TIM FRAIN, Troop Scribe

Troop 290 met at the Culver Methodist Church Fellowship Hall on Monday, March 8. Pre-opening was making fire starters. Opening ceremonies were conducted by the Flaming Arrows. The colors were posted then a recitation by Richard Brown was given on "A Scout Is Kind". Uniform inspection was held this week. We next had a "Scout Law Relay" and the Beavers won and "Strike The Match" contest with the Flaming Arrows winning. Closing ceremonies were held with Scouts standing in a circle with the Flag in the center. Each Scout took one step forward and saluted the Flag then stepped back; then everyone recited the Scout Oath.

Gregory Easterday appeared before the Board of Review for the Eagle rank. Congratulations, Greg.

There will be a troop hike on Saturday. Meet at the Methodist Church at 2 p.m. Everyone is to bring food for a kabob and bismuit twist and don't forget to take along necessary hiking gear — see your handbook.

Your fee for the Historical Trail hike and camp is to be turned in next Monday.

Each patrol is to bring a mess kit fry pan to next Monday's Troop meeting.

A motor vehicle accident usually calls for an on-the-scene conference between occupants of the cars involved. According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, some of these conferences may have more serious consequences than the accident itself. Before any bystander discussions or exchange of information the disabled vehicles should be moved off the roadway if possible. All occupants and bystanders should stay well clear of travel lanes and off the roads. If a night accident, leave car lights on and set out flares or red electric lanterns at least 100 feet in front and back of damaged vehicles. Always carry flares or red lanterns for such after dark emergencies; never use flares or other open flames if gasoline has been spilled.

OUR HEALTH

By J. M. Amberson, M.D.

The Flu

"I had a touch of the 'flu," is an expression we hear quite often and leads many people to believe that the 'flu (influenza) is simply a bad cold.

It's not. Influenza is a potentially dangerous disease and must be recognized as such. During the 1963 influenza epidemic, 50,000 more Americans died than would have been expected under normal conditions. More than 20 million people died during the worldwide epidemic in 1918.

Symptoms

The symptoms usually develop quite rapidly. These include chills, fever (101°-103°) headache, generalized weakness and discomfort, muscular aches, and loss of appetite. The nose and throat may feel mildly irritated causing the patient to cough occasionally. Because pneumonia is a frequent complication of influenza, this disease should not be taken lightly. If symptoms that suggest influenza occur, it is wise to consult your physician. 'Flu vaccines have been developed which give protection against the common strains of 'flu viruses. As a precaution, ask your doctor if you should have a 'flu shot this year. Last year the U.S. Surgeon General advised that pregnant women, those with chronic diseases, and people over 65 be vaccinated before the beginning of the 'flu season. A similar warning probably will be issued this year.

New Medication

There is good news for victims of minor sore throats—an illness quite common at this time of year. Chloraseptic, a non-prescription, anesthetic and antiseptic oral solution has been found to relieve the pain of minor sore throat, usually within seconds, according to clinical studies. Chloraseptic can be applied to irritated throat tissue by spraying or gargling. Of course, if high fever accompanies the sore throat, if it seems to linger on, or there are other complications, see your physician.

The parable of the prodigal son is featured in this week's Bible Lesson on "Substance" to be read in Christian Science churches Sunday. Rejoicing to see his son's return, the father said: "For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found" (Luke 15).

How everyone must eventually find the "substance" of his own life is brought out in the Christian Science textbook: "It is only by acknowledging the supremacy of Spirit, which annuls the claims of matter, that mortals can lay off mortality and find the indissoluble spiritual link which establishes man forever in the divine likeness, inseparable from his creator" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 491).

PLANTING VEGETABLES
Plant vegetable seed according to the last average frost date for your area and the hardness of the particular vegetable you want to plant.

Restrain yourself from planting too early, caution Purdue University extension horticulturists, because late frosts may bring disaster.

If you live in the Indianapolis area, you can plant Irish potatoes about the second week of May. Plant snap beans, corn and tomatoes the third week of May. For very tender crops, such as cucumbers and other vine crops, wait until the last week of May. If you live farther south plant them earlier and if you live farther north plant them later.

If you can't restrain the urge to work the soil and plant, early vegetables, such as radishes, carrots, onions and lettuce, are hardy and most frosts won't hurt them. In normal years you can plant these about April 1 in the Indianapolis area, and in southwestern Indiana 20 days earlier and in northeastern Indiana 10 days later.

You've been speeding, and you get a ticket. You don't like it, but you know you've been wrong. With little or no argument, you pay your fine.

You've been staying home from church on Sundays for one of a dozen reasons. Maybe you like to sleep late. Maybe the minister in your church preaches dull sermons. Maybe you don't consider yourself the church-going type. Whatever your alibi — nobody's going to come after you.

This is a summons you'll have to serve on yourself. For an infraction of God's law is something that can't be ignored. Until you declare yourself guilty, you will be deliberately shutting yourself off from the greatest fellowship in the world. No judge in history has ever pronounced a sterner sentence.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Babson's Column

casting runaway inflation for 1965, we do feel that attempts to keep money easy in this country in the face of a world-wide trend toward tighter credit, will greatly increase the danger of a later inflationary blow-off. Conditions remind us of the late 1920's when the Federal Reserve here kept credit too cheap and plentiful to support the British pound. Hence the eventual collapse came from an even more dangerous level.

43. It is unlikely that the United States will raise the price of gold during 1965. However, we may well see the calling of a monetary conference to deal with the weakened British financial situation and to attempt greater liquidity for world currencies generally.

44. As far as gold stocks are concerned, they are already high and should only be held in 1965 as insurance against the long-range trend toward higher world prices for gold.

45. The silver coinage situation will become more acute as the year progresses. The 89th Congress will be forced to consider a new silver coinage act. If it is not passed in 1965, it will be shortly thereafter.

46. Returning to the all-important foreign scene — since we are very much wrapped up in the future of the Free World — we forecast further instability among the Russian leadership. Khrushchev's ouster marked only the beginning of the coming power grab in Moscow. The real leader has not yet emerged.

47. Ascendancy of the African and Asian nations to a position of control in the United Nations will force the United States in 1965 to take action alone when vital spheres of influence are violated. The UN will become even more of a debating society; and month by month the chances grow dimmer that we will ever again see United Nations troops used for rescue operations such as in Korea or the Congo.

48. Following the British crisis, General de Gaulle will work harder than ever in 1965 to unite Europe as a great third force between Communism and the United States. President Johnson is well aware that the winds of change are blowing strongly in Western Europe. 1965 could see the beginning of the end for transatlantic union as envisioned by U.S. Administrations during the past two decades.

49. World-wide credit problems and restrictions on trade cast dark shadows on investment prospects abroad. Many nations which have shown great growth during the past 20 years will be poor risks for new commitments during the year 1965.

50. In conclusion, we recall the statement of a former President of a South American nation: That the U.S.A. prospered so greatly because its founders came to worship God . . . as opposed to countries whose settlers went to worship gold. Surely we can hope to prosper in the future only as we recognize that righteousness and morality must be as important as analysis and statistics as springboards for new business ventures during 1965 and in all the years ahead.
