Town Board Will Advertise Street Repair

The Town Board, meeting on Monday night in regular session, announced it will place its first advertisement for bids for street repair materials on March 24 in order that the contract can be let and repairs started at the earliest possible date.

Town Board President Ted Ervin, in concurrence with members Edgar Shaw and Wilfred Craft, instructed Clerk-Treasurer Ruth Lennen that the request for bid should specify 700 tons, more or less of asphalt patching materials, according to specifications set out and available in the Clerk's office.

In other business, the board announced the addition of Ray Houghton to the town's work force. Houghton will work with both the water and sewer departments.

The board continued to hear reports on operation and maintenance activity at the sewer treatment plant, and were advised of repairs being made in various operating units. The board approved a request to buy some 50 teflon-type non-clogging diffuser units, for use principally in the digester tank, at a cost of approximately $200.

Clerk-Treasurer Lennen advised the board that all town employees and others should be advised that instances of claims arising out of accident or injury which is covered by town insurance must be reported at once to assure full protection of the policy. A mishap should be reported whether or not an injury appears to require medical attention.

Town's Fire Protection Needs Are Reviewed

A list of recommendations "for use as a guide when changes or improvements are contemplated in fire fighting facilities" are contained in a report just received by the Town of Culver from the Indiana Rating Bureau of Indianapolis.

The Bureau is an independent organization whose services are subscribed to by virtually all fire and casualty insurance companies in the state as the basis for setting business and residential fire insurance rates.

As a result of the inspection, Culver's rating for insurance purposes dropped from 7th class to 8th class, though no increase in insurance rates is expected, since rates for the two classes are reported to be the same.

The Town Board, meeting on Monday night, indicated it would refer the report to Town Attorney Howard Hilles for his counsel.

Among the 20 recommendations set forth, five were deemed to be of "prior importance" by the rating service. They were:

1. Provide an up-to-date water distribution map showing exact location of valves, mains and services.

2. Increase adequacy and reliability of water supply by replacing existing 50,000 gallon elevated tank with one of at least 150,000 gallon capacity, or adding additional well capacity.

3. Install a 10-inch water main along Plymouth Street from Davis to College, and an 8-inch main along Lake Shore Drive from Slate to Forest Place.

4. Eliminate dead ends of mains wherever practical, using 6-inch minimum size for hydrant supply in future construction. (Most of the town mains are now 4-inch capacity.)

5. Maintain more complete operational records of the fire department, including fire reports, hose tests, apparatus maintenance, training conducted and building inspections made.

The rating bureau's inspection was conducted in Culver on November 16 and 19, 1964 by Inspector M. C. Hensley, who acknowledged the valuable assistance rendered by Water Supt. Verl McFeeley and other officials of the various town departments concerned.

BASS LAKE WATER LEVEL HAS RISEN TWO FEET

According to Dale Fishburn, owner and operator of Marine Service at Bass Lake, the water level of Bass Lake has risen about two feet this winter due to rain and snow and the successful operation of the huge pump which was installed last fall to supply water for the lake.

One person in that vicinity had well trouble from the lowering of the underground water level, but that was taken care of by driving their well deeper.

Mr. Fishburn seemed to be quite pleased with the results of the lake well and was hopeful that by next summer the level of the lake would be back to normal.

Culver Lions To Host District Convention Sunday

The Culver Lions Club and the Culver Military Academy will be co-hosts to the Ninth Annual District Convention of District 25-G, of the International Association of Lions Clubs, on Sunday, March 21, at the Culver Military Academy's Eppley Auditorium. Over 400 Lions and Lionesses from 55 Lions Clubs covering a seven-county area are expected to attend.

Registration for the convention will take place in the foyer of the Eppley Auditorium, on the CMA Campus, starting at 12 noon and continuing until 2 p.m. From 2 p.m. until 3, the program in the main auditorium will be for Lions and Lionesses. This part of the program will consist of a welcome by General Delmar Spivey, superintendent of CMA; a welcome by Dr. Oscar Wesson, Culver Lions Club president; a Necrology service conducted by district chaplain Fred Horn; and reports on the Lions Club state projects which are Cancer control, leader dog and the eye bank.

Following this part of the program the ladies will meet in the Little Theatre Auditorium for a program especially designed for them. The rest of the afternoon program for the Lions will consist of a business session conducted by Lloyd Deardorf, district Governor, and the election of a new district governor and trustees for the eye bank and cancer control projects.

The ladies program will be held in the Little Theatre Auditorium, beginning at 3 p.m. Miss Serpil Garginer, an exchange student from Turkey, will address the ladies relating her experiences in this country as a house guest of a resident of Plymouth and also give details of the schools she has attended in Turkey. Following her talk, the movie, "Summertime Adventure for Youth" will be presented by Robert Reichley, public relations director of CMA.

The Lions and Lionesses will again gather for the banquet to be held in the CMA dining hall at 5 p.m. John Mars, a Culver Lion and a member of the CMA teaching staff, will be master of ceremonies.

The evening's program will be held at 7 p.m. in the Eppley Auditorium for both Lions and Lionesses. The speaker of the evening will be International Director Lyle S. Seaman, of Crawfordsville, one of the Lions most noted after dinner speakers. Following Lion Seaman's address, awards will be made to clubs of the district, and door prizes will be awarded.

There is expected at this convention many Lions, who are prominent persons and who are high up in the state Lions organization. Culver Lions Club president Dr. Oscar Wesson urges that Culver Lions turn out 100 per cent for this convention. Registration chairman Andy Venum will accept reservations. The meeting, plus dinner, is $4.50 per person.

Instruction in Freedom Needed The Uneducated Young

From the Richmond, Va., News Leader

In recent months, Northwestern University, Purdue University, the University of Wisconsin and U.S. News and World Report have been conducting a survey among American high school juniors and college juniors in an effort to determine political trends among young Americans. The results of this survey were reported in Action magazine, a publication of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, recently.

Among the students surveyed:

- 71 per cent would deny an accused person the right to confront his accuser.
- 40 per cent believe certain groups should be denied the right of peaceful assembly.
- 41 per cent believe that freedom of the press should be cancelled.
- 34 per cent favor denying free speech to certain persons.
- 26 per cent would allow search and seizure without consent.
- 53 per cent believed in government ownership of banks, railroads and steel companies.
- 56 per cent voted for close government regulations of all business.
- 62 per cent said that the government has the responsibility to provide jobs.
- 62 per cent thought a worker should not produce all he can.
- 61 per cent rejected the profit incentive as necessary to the survival of free enterprise.
- 84 per cent denied that patriotism is vital and plays an important part in our lives.

A number of writers, analyzing these figures, believe they provide additional proof that the doomsters are not far wrong in their predictions of a welfare state in this country. That may well be, but the results of the survey also speak volumes about the poor quality of courses in history and American government offered in most high schools and colleges these days.

Then, too, the results offer an eloquent rebuttal to the thesis that the minimum age for voting should be lowered, perhaps by constitutional amendment. If a majority of those under 21 don't know what American government is all about, as the results of this survey would indicate, it is doubtful that they could intelligently exercise a right to vote.

More than anything, these shocking figures tell us of the massive job to be done in the education of our youngsters — not only in the schools, but also through the business community. Freedom and free enterprise are parts of a priceless inheritance. If these figures are valid, our generation is tossing these assets away.

Born Oct. 12, 1883, in Pulaski County, Ind., to John V. and Mary (Overmyer) Reinhold, Mrs. Crump had resided in Hibbard for 51 years. She met Mr. Crump when they were schoolmates at the OK School in Tippecanoe Township, Pulaski County, and they were married in Winamac Dec. 7, 1902, and marked their 60th wedding on Dec. 9, 1962, with an open house in their Hibbard home. The Crumps were well-known in the County for their fiddle and piano duets at many square dances in the area.

Surviving with the husband are: five daughters, all graduate nurses, Mrs. Hilda E. Fuzy, Fort Wayne, Mrs. Viola E. Alcock, Plymouth, Mrs. Edna M. Reed of Culver, Mrs. Opal M. Seven-Figure Phone Numbers To Be Adopted

Seven-figure telephone numbers will be adopted in Culver in about a year, Indiana Bell Manager, David A. Fletcher announced today.

He said numerals will replace the two letters in present telephone numbers as Culver joins a gradual nationwide changeover to All-Number Calling. ANC is designed to accommodate telephone growth and the resultant need for many new numbers.

"Dialing habits won't change," Fletcher said, "because the letters in present numbers will be replaced by numerals associated with the same holes on the telephone dial. The five figures will remain the same."

As an example, the directory listing for the telephone company's business office will read 842-3301 instead of VI 2-3301 once All-Number Calling is introduced.

Fletcher said the introduction of seven-figure numbers in Culver will coincide with the effective date of a new telephone directory — in the spring of 1966. He plans to mail letters to businessmen, suggesting that they incorporate the new numbering style in printed material which will be used after that time.

"There is one compelling reason for All-Number Calling," Fletcher said. "The nation's telephone companies are running out of numbers, and ANC makes almost half again as many available."

He said this will be "enough to keep pace with telephone growth well into the next century."

Seven-figure telephone numbers already have been adopted for more than half the telephones in the United States and Canada. In Indiana, such communities as South Bend, Bloomington and Muncie have switched to ANC.

Exchange Student From Turkey Speaks At W.S.C.S. Meeting

The women of the Culver Methodist Church W.S.C.S. had a very delightful experience at their meeting last Thursday when they heard a talk given by Serapil Giginler. "Sera", as she was referred to by Mrs. W. J. MacQuillan who introduced her, is a 17-year-old exchange student from Turkey and she spoke to the women about her native land, Turkey. The women were quite impressed with her ability to speak English and the relaxed manner in which she presented her talk.

Serapil is from Bandirma, which is a Turkish city of about 30,000 population. Her family consists of her mother who is a homemaker, her father who is a salesman, and a married sister whose husband is a Turkish soldier. She also has a new nephew whom she has never seen. The family is of Moslem religion.

Sera also told of her American family who are Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Einspahr and their son Kip. She is living with them while she is attending Plymouth High School where she is a senior. The American Field Service sent her here and she is sponsored by the Rotary Club in Plymouth.

In her talk Serapil also spoke of her country's customs, history, and educational system. The main difference in their form of education is that they attend three years of high school and therefore the year she is spending here will not be credited to her. When she returns to Turkey she hopes to enter the university and study medicine or some form of engineering.

The speaker was followed by a business meeting presided over by Mrs. Harry Speyer.

seem to get into a lot of trouble. Wasn't there something last semester about talking and standing in corners - or somethin' like that?)

The Spanish students are learning to dance. Well, most of the Spanish students are learning to dance; Steve Bair doesn't quite get the hang of it yet.

Hey, Molly and Eva!! How did you ever manage to get sunburned in Culver - in the middle of winter?? . . . Oh, we're just to ask the Weather Man, right?

Holly T., are you feeling any better? (It seems that our little Junior girl got rather upset after riding up and down the elevators all afternoon while in Indianapolis.)

While Holly is trying out these new fangled contraptions, Mike E. and Mark K. prefer the old fashioned mode of transportation: feet. They ran up and down and up and down and up and down thirteen flights. puff . . . puff . . .

Hey, Loretta, how is it that you always get caught with candy in hand? Actually its a problem of coordination; she keeps dropping goodies. Well, did you get them all picked up?

Ee-e-e-k! Oh, don't worry little Sunbeams. That cute little mouse who made his appearance during the last Sunshine meeting wouldn't hurt anybody. Huh.

Like there's this wild correspondence between CHS and CMA. It's quite probable that Susie D. and Susie T. could tell us whether that Fourth Classman had written recently.

Dr. Larry White has opened an office in Study Halls from 11:59 through 12:35 for the purpose of testing for a dreaded disease: personality. He has quite a practice worked up (mostly Seniors), and for a slight fee (One must use his own pencil and paper.) you might drop in for an appointment. - Chin up, Dave. The people who call you fickle do not know what they're talking about. You might as well accept the fact that the majority will never realize the warm, wonderful type of person you really are.

Well, the "hot line" from the CHS Teepee, UPI, has pretty well cooled off. (It's probably the snowy and zippy weather we've had lately.) So until we get in the groove after vacation - Bye, and have a happy week. Seniors, in particular! Bon voyage! Au revoir! and all that!

Seniors Count Days Until Trip

By Judy Price

Senior Class - The Senior Trip is rapidly approaching, and the Seniors are getting more and more excited each day. While the entire trip will be both educational and enjoyable, most would agree that they are especially excited about seeing New York City. Seniors will have one afternoon and one evening free while in New York City, and the plans for this free time vary greatly. Many of the girls plan to see the dress shops on Fifth Avenue in the afternoon while in the evening many will be going either to a Broadway play or to Greenwich Village.

Junior Class - The Junior Class has begun making plans for their annual play, which will be held in the Community Building on April 23. It has not been announced what play will be put on.

Sophomore Class - Beware of a member of the Sophomore Class trying to sell you a show ticket! Really though, this isn't such a bad thing, considering what a good show it is. The movie is Bob Hope's new comical hit "A Global Affair", and it will be shown at the El Rancho on March 26 and 27.

The Shadow

By Bob Vondra

This week your antagonist of the newsprint world has decided to relate to you a typical day of a very untypical Sophomore.

In first period English class, he seemed to be very interested in his lesson and read it all through Mrs. England's discussion.

Things went OK in typing where he pecked out his flying forty words a minute (only twenty mistakes, yet!) except for a small difference of opinion with Bob S. that could be heard in the basement.

Third period study hall finds our victim in Spanish lab. He lopped off a perfect morning by becoming a punching bag for Paul Hatten in Health and Safety class.

Lunchtime finds our victim in the drug store, where he adds a few more ounces to his well-rounded midriff bulge by consuming a vitamin-enriched lunch of a hamburger, cokes, potato chips, and candy bars. Back at school, he managed to irritate people on the first, second, and third floors before the bell rang.

Fifth period, Miss Allen's efforts to penetrate his cranium were only mildly successful, as he was engrossed in creating a modern art masterpiece on a piece of scrap paper.

As geometry was next period and he still didn't have his lesson done, he slopped through it in sixth period study hall, snapping at anyone who tried to interrupt his chain of thought. But then when he was finished, he pestered everyone around him. Towards the end of the period he was seen reading an Ian Fleming book (he always keeps a supply of them close by).

Seventh period went alright, because he had completed the minor miracle of getting his lesson done. Eighth period he was seen around the gym, folding towels, sorting socks, and spraying Fengo Spray on unwary passers-by.

When school was over, he still hung around the gym and seemed to gather a great deal of pleasure out of seeing the track runners tromp up and down the stairs.

By now, most of you have figured out that this week's victim was Steve Bair, campus clown.

Old Chinese proverb: Wet birds seldom fly at night. Think that one over, and when you figure it out contact me.

Faculty vs. Faculty

By Paul Liette

To build the treasury up for the Student Council, last Friday night it's members presented the public with a basketball game between the North Judson and Culver High faculties. Financially the game was a success but for the morale of our male faculty, well . . . !

Tip-off time was scheduled for 7:30. For a hearty, starting five, we managed to come up with the following: at the guard positions were Coach (Hook-shot) Crosley and Vern McKee; Forwards were Mr. Wolf and Mr. Harris; and last was the former Aubbee star, playing center, Mr. Kline.

It seemed that the Indians were always a step or two behind the tall, aggressive Judson five. The Indians were behind almost ten points at the half-time intermission. The second half produced a press which didn't seem to bother Judson too much. Mr. Wolf was the hero of the game by hitting a last second shot on a missed free throw by Mr. Kline. By the time the final buzzer sounded, both teams were in deadlock tie. Since both teams were a little out of shape, they decided to let the score remain tied.

Saint Patrick's Day March 17

By Marilee Herrmann

March 17 is the day on which the Irish commemorate their great national saint. Saint Patrick was born in the year 387 in England or Scotland. His father was a deacon, thus he was raised in the light of the church. At the age of 14 he was captured by a band of pirates and taken to Ireland to be sold as a slave. For 6 years he looked after a chief's flock of sheep. Escaping one night, Patrick walked 200 Roman miles to where a ship full of dogs was departing for France.

After arriving and returning home, a vision came to him giving him a letter that started out by saying, "The voice of the Irish." Against the will of his parents, he left for France where he studied to become a priest. Patrick then left to return to Ireland to spread the gospel to these atheist people. During his time in Ireland, he founded 300 churches and baptized over 120,000 people.

Saint Patrick evidently had a personality which was of an intensely spiritual nature. His importance in the history of Ireland consisted of the facts that he brought Ireland in touch with western Europe and that he introduced Latin into the church. His work consisted largely in organizing Christian societies which he found in existence on his arrival, and in planting the faith in regions which had not yet come under the sway of the gospel. He then died at the age of 106 leaving Ireland to commemorate him as a great saint.

We are rather disappointed in our faithful Doug whose smoke signals are not too distinct this week. cough . . . cough . . .

John Milner! Really! You MUST refrain from seeing Marsha Guise in broad daylight! What if Marilee were to find out??? Oh, don't worry; we'd never tell.

Surprised! . . . That's what Linda and Brenda McAllister were (we hope) at their surprise birthday party!

Hey Sparling, don't keep Boswell out too late on weekends. He needs his sleep, just as any growing boy. By the way, where did you two go in such a hurry Friday??!

One more name has been added to the road-demons' list. Great show, Linda B.! But watch out fellow drivers - and pedestrians!

Where were Doug L., Dave L., Larry F., and Gary W. going in such a hurry Tuesday afternoon? A rather interesting topic of discussion. Right?

We understand that Brenda Mc. and May K. are going to take phys. ed. next year. That's the ol' spirit, girls!

But Phil S., you should have learned your lesson by now. Lies always catch up with you sooner or later. (Usually too soon.) Don't they?

It's bad enough when you get picked up for stealing your own car when you're guilty. But it's just too too much when you're innocent. Could you vouch for this, Bob A.?

Congrats are in order for Jonnie VanHornie! Hey kids! He finally got his "beloved" Hurst in! . . . What's a Hurst? Good question. As a matter of fact, that's a very good question!

Susie R., is it true that Susie D. bit you on the head? . . . Well, if not, what's that band-aid for?

The U.S. History class seemed to have fun on the way to and from Indianapolis. We hear Mr. Crabb came out playing poker (penny ante) with a few of the Junior boys. Mike McCann doesn't seem to have that kind of luck.

From the sounds of things, Cindy Lemar is going to have a fun time this weekend. Let us know more later, will ya, Cindy?

Speaking of weekends: Wanda, why not tell us about your wild weekend at Purdue? Oh, it really wasn't so wild, huh? It's just that you were about to pull your hair out having taken tests . . .

Who are the two Senior girls who sit in study hall and eat candy all the time? Do you give up already? But who else would do such a thing than . . . Kay and Kathy. (Say, Kay and Kathy

Underclassmen Reveal Ambitions

By Joan Dillon

This week we are going to pry into the minds of the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth graders to see what they have planned for their future.

THIRD GRADE

Channing Mitzell - Two things: a doctor or a priest.

Pamela Martin - Nurse (Why?) Just to help people.

Robert Hoover - Engineer. (Why?) I'd build an atomic car; I'd change all the big pieces with small ones; everything's too big now.

Lisa Dinsmore - Druggist. (Why?) My mother is one who works at a soda fountain instead of with pills.

Martin McCombs - Scientist. To invent things.

Anna Lemar - Nurse. (Why?) Help doctors make sick people well.

Sandy Newman - Nurse. (Why?) I'd like to be around babies.

Brent Lindvall - Banker. (Why?) I like to count money!

Cindy Johnson - Artist. (Why?) I like to trace.

Marla Quivey - Schoolteacher. I'd like to help the third grade.

Mike Busart - Lawyer, because they make lots of money.

Philip McKinnis - Farmer; to raise crops and money.

FOURTH GRADE

Lindon Curtis - Doctor or vet. (Why?) I'd like to be like my brother Stan.

Charles Wakefield - Get married then be an army reporter. (Where would you go?) To Russia or where there are small wars. (What would you write?) Books.

Mike McFarland - Military architect. (Why?) To design new weapons, atomic hand weapons.

Carolyn Bailey - Dental hygienist or nurse. (Why?) My sister-in-law is a dental hygienist.

Bryce Hinkle - Get married then an army career in war; I can already shoot a B-B gun.

Vivian Napier - School teacher or nurse. (Why?) To help sick people and help people learn.

Nancy Heiser - Nurse. (Why?) It's for girls and it's interesting.

Chet Marshall - Coach or pro athlete.

Todd Matson - Join the air force. (Is there any special reason you chose the air force over another service?) I like flying.

Kathy Ringer - Housewife.

Carol Overmyer - Housewife.

Thomas Hodgkin - I've been thinking about becoming a naturalist. (Can you tell me what a naturalist does?) He studies flowers and plants and animals, and the nature of living things and why they live.

Sylvia Williams - Artist. (Why?) Well, both my parents are.

Leslie Prouty - Teacher. (Why?) My mother and father are teachers.

FIFTH GRADE

Carol Dehne - Secretary. It'd be fun.

David Brown, Well, I wanted to be an undertaker, but I guess the education is expensive, so I might be a barber like my grandfather.

Bobby Ringer - Farmer. I've lived on a farm all my life and I just like it.

Denise Shidler - Nurse. To help people.

Glenda Martin - Help the handicapped.

Tim Overmyer - Pro basketball player with the Boston Celtics.

Susie Powers - Just like my mother, a housewife, and I'd pitch in and help in social things.

Sandy Lewis - Nurse. To help people.

John Hansen - Baseball. (What team?) First base for White Sox.

The following five students had written themes as an English assignment.)

Jani Garrison - Veterinarian. Because I hate to see animals sick or hurt. Or else a horse raiser or a jockey.

John Matzat - Marine jet pilot. I'm interested in planes; I want to know how an astronaut feels; it would be nice to do something that other people don't do.

John Jewell - An aeronautical engineer. They learn all about rockets and planes, and how to make them. Engineering is important and it would be fun to see a rocket go to the moon and know you had a part in it.

Marty Vondra - Teacher. I would like to watch people grow up, knowing that I have helped them learn something. Doctor. I would like to help the sick and comfort them. I would like for people to feel better about their sicknesses.

Karen Lucas - Zoo keeper. To feed the animals and wash the elephants, to care for them, and clean their cages.

SIXTH GRADE

Richard Ruhnow - Architect.

Kent Lucas - Marines. I can serve the country. I'd drive a tank; I would be safe!

Paula Haenes - Airline stewardess.

Jane Shock - IU and then be a secretary.

Nancy Reichley - Painter. I like to.

Sandra Miller - Interior decorator. I like designing.

John Houghton - General scientist and inventor.

Doug Prouty - West Point (would study history and then try to get a teaching assignment when the time comes).

David Williams - Purdue (study science - biology)

Dennis Mackey - Purdue (study archeology)

Seniors Anxiously Await Vacation

By Rose Wieringa

Twelve, eleven, ten, nine, eight. What's that, some kind of math exercise? No, it's just the seniors counting the days until their trip.

The Culver High School seniors leave for their senior trip on March 21, from the LaPaz train station. They arrive in Washington, D.C. at 9 a.m., Monday. From here they will board special buses for an all day tour. Among the places to be visited are the Capitol Building (where the traditional group picture is taken), the Rotunda, Statuary Hall, House of Representatives, Senate, Washington Monument, White House, Sorcoran Art Gallery, Daughters of the American Revolution Building, Red Cross, Pan-American Building and the new Supreme Court Building.

After a brief stop for lunch they will visit the Lincoln Memorial and Arlington Cemetery just in time for the changing of the guard at the Tombs of the Unknown Soldiers. Next is Alexandria and then a stop is made at Mount Vernon, home of George Washington, and a tour of the estate. Mount Vernon is one of the few well preserved historic houses. From here the seniors leave for Richmond, Va., capital of the Confederate States, where they will spend the night in the Richmond Hotel.

Tuesday, they will again board the buses for a day of sightseeing. The first stop will be Jamestown Festival Park where they will visit the Old and New World Pavilions replicas of the three British Ships that crossed the ocean. Next is Williamsburg, capital of Virginia, from 1688-1780. It is America's most famous restored city. The remainder of the day will be spent touring the many famous buildings in Williamsburg. At 6 p.m. the students will again board their buses this time for a trip to Arlington, Va., where the seniors will spend the night.

On Wednesday the seniors will leave Arlington early and ride the buses to New York. The arrival time is planned for about lunch time. At 2 p.m. they will ride the bus for a tour of uptown New York and the United Nations Building. Other places that they will see are Rockefeller Center, Central Park, Columbia University, Riverside Drive, Grant's Tomb, Harlem, Cathedral of St. John the Divine, Frick Museum, and St. Patrick Cathedral. At 4:15 p.m. the seniors will go back to their hotel where they will be on their own until 7 p.m. when they go to Radio City Music Hall where they will see the Easter Show. After that they are on their own for the rest of the evening.

Thursday morning they take the Statue of Liberty Boat across New York Harbor to Liberty Island for a visit to the Statue of Liberty. After this visit they will return to Manhattan Island and go to the Empire State Building where they will visit the Observation Tower for a view of New York from the world's tallest building. The remainder of the afternoon and evening is the choice of the individual.

Friday at 11 a.m. the seniors will leave New York for Washington, D.C., where they will board the train for home. They will arrive in LaPaz early Saturday morning thus ending a trip that will always be remembered.

Anne Osborn Wins Woodrow Wilson Fellowship

Anne Gregory Osborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Osborn Jr., State St., Culver, is one of 17 Stanford University students with prospective careers in college teaching who have received first-year Woodrow Wilson Fellowships for 1965-66. Miss Osborn is a student in the field of neurophysiological psychology.

They are among 98 undergraduates in California and Hawaii colleges selected for this honor, according to Sir Hugh Taylor, president of the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

All 1,395 winners in the national competition will receive tuition and fixed fees at the graduate school of their choice, plus $1,800 for living expenses.

Commenting on the critical college teacher shortage, Sir Hugh said: "Less than one third of the college teachers we need are being produced today. Four years from now, when enrollments are expected to increase 50 per cent, the faculty shortage will become still more acute."

The Foundation's program is the largest private source of support for advanced work in the liberal arts. Since 1958, it has been financed by two Ford Foundation grants totaling $52 million. Nearly 6,000 former fellowship winners are in college teaching or finishing graduate work for careers in this field. Four are college presidents.

During 1964-65, Stanford tied for eighth place nationally in total number of Woodrow Wilson fellowship winners with 21. It ranked fifth as the graduate school choice of fellowship winners.

This year's total of 98 California-Hawaii winners is down sharply from last year's figure of 141. Within the region, the University of California at Berkeley and UCLA tied for first place with 19 winners each, followed by Stanford with 17 and Pomona with eight. The University of California at Riverside had seven recipients, while California Institute of Technology and the University of Southern California had four each.

Nineteen Stanford students received honorable mention in the competition.

The temporal and illusory nature of all material objects will be explained in a Bible Lesson on "Matter" at Christian Science churches this Sunday.
The responsive reading from Jeremiah includes this verse. "Truly in vain is salvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains: truly in the Lord our God is the salvation of Israel."
Also to be presented are these lines from the Christian Science textbook: "The crude creations of mortal thought must finally give place to the glorious forms which we sometimes behold in the camera of divine Mind, when the mental picture is spiritual and eternal. Mortals must look beyond fading, finite forms, if they would gain the true sense of things" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 264).

THE LISTENING POST

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

We don't consider it eavesdropping to "hear" our children's prayers. Nor is it too much trouble! In fact, it is part of our responsibility to God.

For Mollie and Ted are His children, too. Parents are partners with—not substitutes for—our Heavenly Father.

It is this sense of partnership that has brought faith and the Church into the life of our family. We are not foolishly depending on our mere adulthood to inspire character in them. We do not command that they do what we say, not what we do. And we never sit at home while they are in Church, as though the truth they have gone to seek weren't worth a grownup's effort.

We figure God wants us at the listening post, to monitor their spiritual searchings, to share with them the blessings He has given us all.

Babson Discusses Unusual Program To Aid Business

Retired or semi-retired businessmen with executive experience and small firms throughout the country should both be interested in an unusual program sponsored by the Small Business Administration. The gist of the scheme is to line up retired executives with special know-how who would be interested in helping out small manufacturing or service establishments that cannot yet afford top-echelon personnel.

How The Plan Works Out

Economic observers have regretted the wasted talent of retired officials. They know it could be extremely valuable if used to give small, struggling concerns the kind of help that might send them on to success. It has also become evident, upon investigation, that a great many executive retirees are delighted with the prospect of working — at least part time — in a useful advisory capacity. Hence, a pilot try-out was made in Boston and Washington, and enough retired experts and small businessmen were brought together to warrant going ahead with a program on a nationwide scale.

Last October the system was set up in 68 cities across the country. This involved, of course, the process of finding those equipped and willing to help as well as those little firms that needed assistance. — and bringing the two together. Retired managerial men were recruited for the most part through newspaper ads and via business associations. A gratifying — even surprising — number of leisured men expressed interest in lending a helping hand. Some 2,000 have already offered their services, and the search for more will certainly be stepped up as the usefulness of the plan is proven.

Plants That Are Eligible

To be eligible for participation in the scheme, companies must have no more than 25 employees. Most of the concerns taking part became aware of the plan when they applied for loans either from the Small Business Administration itself or under the government's anti-poverty program. Owners were informed of the possibilities of help from former managerial officials, and many expressed immediate interest in the venture. It is stressed, also, that all small companies (with 25 or fewer workers) may take advantage of this opportunity whether or not they have applied for government loans.

The project is known as the Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE), and the agency's key function is to see that its listed retirees are put in touch with firms desiring accomplished managerial experience. Once an adviser has been directed to a small company needing his type of knowledge, the continuance of the relationship is up to the individuals brought in contact with one another.

Advisers Must Make Certain Pledges

Involvement in the program is voluntary — on both sides. There are, however, certain stipulations that must be observed. A SCORE adviser is to receive no remuneration for the first 90 days. Then, if the arrangement works out well, the two parties may develop their own agreement to pay for forthcoming services rendered. The contributing executives must pledge not to give simultaneous assistance to rival clients. Nor are they permitted to receive commissions from companies recommended to their clients as sources of services or supplies.

So far, the greatest value of the SCORE setup seems to come from the contacts that past executives often have at their fingertips. Big-scale suppliers as well as buyers are frequently cautious about dealing with "starter" or "little" manufacturers. It is here that an established official who knows the ropes can open doors. Contact with one or two big customers often means the difference between success and failure for a small firm too busy with its own operations to expand its horizons and give adequate attention to the problems of distribution.

For Readers Interested . . .

If you are a retired executive who would like to "help the beginner along", or if you are a small businessman who needs such help, we suggest that you send for information to the Small Business Administration, 811 Vermont Avenue N.W., Washington, D.C. 20416. Or contact the SBA office — an independent U. S. Government agency — in your nearest large city.

Just a reminder to phone in your personal and society items for next week's Citizen. Please call Viking 2-3377 or deliver them in person.

By Mary Whitman

One of America's most valuable coins is the "king of silver dollars," minted 30 years after the date it bears on its face.

This coin — the 1804 silver dollar — has been a center of numismatic controversy for more than 100 years. Fifteen specimens are known to exist, and each is valued at upwards of $30,000.

"For a long time this coin was thought to be even more rare, and was regarded as the most valuable of all American coins," says Ken Bressett, numismatic editor at Whitman Publishing Co., Racine, Wis., the nation's leading manufacturer of coin collecting supplies.

"But more recent evidence indicates the coin was not even minted in 1804, and is not as rare as once believed."

This evidence, in the form of a scholarly and detailed book on the subject, was compiled by Bressett, with co-author Eric P. Newman and other research associates.

It was established that eight silver dollars bearing the date 1804 were minted 30 years later, in 1834. (Silver dollars actually minted in 1804 bore the date 1803.)

"Why the deception concerning the 1804 date?"

"The government was preparing a set of presentation coins for a visiting foreign potentate," says Bressett, "and since no silver dollars were being minted in that year — 1834 — it was decided to round out the set with a rare date: 1804 was selected. Two of the coins went into the set, and the rest were sold to collectors."

Value of the 1804 "cartwheel" skyrocketed when the word got around in coin collecting circles. In 1859, the deception was compounded when seven duplicates were minted and sold to collectors at premium prices.

Laws were passed to stop further practices of this nature, but in time the seven counterfeit coins became as valuable as the eight originals.

"Interest has always been high in this coin because of its unusual history. The combination of rarity plus demand has made the 1804 silver dollar one of our most valued coins," Bressett concludes.

Academy Sports

Culver Military Academy's rifle team put the finishing torch on a successful season Saturday beating an Indianapolis team 1399 to 1395.

The marksmen finished the season with a 22-2 postal (targets are fired on and then mailed to a central location to be scored) record and a 3-0 mark in dual shoulder-to-shoulder matches.

Culver is currently in first place in the monthly National Rifle Association (NRA) all-prone competition, and according to team coach Sgt. Maj. Clarence Sprouse, "We shot a high score in the Fifth Army Area Match. I don't see how any team in this area could shoot a better score." He added the team may compete in the National Matches after spring vacation.

"We won first and second place in our league in the Indiana State Junior NRA Match," said Sprouse. There were 29 clubs and 210 shooters in the match.

Other season highlights include placing second in the Mid-Western Military Academies Rifle Match and the St. John's Invitational Rifle Match — the later only four points behind the winners. Culver men were seventh at the Kemper Annual Indoor Camp Perry Rifle Match. Marmion Military Academy of Aurora, won the Mid-Western and the Kemper matches.

Sprouse pointed out that although Howe beat Culver at the start of the season, "We beat Howe and Notre Dame at Notre Dame and Marmion at Aurora, and finished higher than Marmion at the St. John's match."

Mrs. George Phillips and Mrs. Ted Strang were Wednesday, March 17, luncheon guests of Mrs. I. O. Pfeiffer of Bremen, who is County president of the Federated Clubs.

Mrs. George Phillips and her mother, Mrs. Harry Medbourn, returned last week to their Culver homes after a six-weeks' vacation at Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Anchors Awelgh For Tour To Alaska

This is your ship, the lovely Princess Patricia, returning to Vancouver, British Columbia, under Lion's Gate Bridge.

It appears that a goodly number of our Farm and Home Section readers will be visiting our great 49th State of Alaska. Will you be among them? If you have not made your summer vacation plans yet — see what our tour management has planned for June 27th to July 15th.

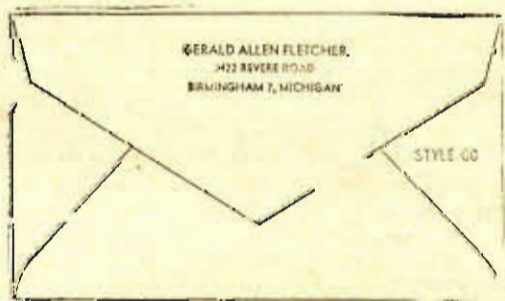

For those who prefer to travel during the summer months, this program that has been carefully arranged to take in as much as possible in the allotted time, is ideal. Our June tour includes the scenic American Rockies, which you will view from the dome cars of our deluxe streamlined train to Banff and Lake Louise. After visiting Victoria and Vancouver, we board the lovely PRINCESS PATRICIA of the Canadian Pacific for a nine-day cruise — the highlight of the tour. On our return to Vancouver, we again travel by train to Seattle, Washington. After a sightseeing program here, we return to home cities July 15.

Alaska always thrills and delights the traveler, exceeding all expectations for majestic scenery. It is the "Land of the Midnight Sun," with great glaciers, endless forests, glistening snow-capped mountains, the Northern Lights, lovely peaceful canyons sheltered from the sea — a charming land of great contrasts — all viewed from your comfortable deck chair!! This all-inclusive tour relieves you of all details and responsibilities of travel. The tour manager is interested only in your well-being, handles all tickets, checks you in and out of hotels, pays all the bills, those annoying tips, and you need only be available at the time and place specified for all the activities planned for you. The rest is up to you — relax and enjoy your self.

BE AN EARLY BIRD — Our tour management has acquired a fine allotment of accommodation for this tour, but, as with all good things, it is wise to plan ahead. Don't wait too long and take a chance on getting the type of accommodations you want. To secure complete details, write NOW for your free tour folder.
