Bird Sanctuary Dam Complete; Is Northeast Of 10, 117 Junction

JUST WATER OVER THE DAM to some people, but Academy planners saw a two-acre reservoir with potential for a park and recreation area.

The dam in the bird sanctuary, northeast of the junction of State Routes 10 and 117, has been completed.

The dam forms a reservoir which will be used to keep the stream on the western boundary of the Woodcraft Camp filled with water during the dry spells of the summer months. The water, which is eight feet deep at the dam, can be let out from the reservoir in eight-inch lifts.

The only major problem encountered in creating this two-acre pond was that of bad weather, since the stream was low at the time. Even so, the stream was temporarily rerouted while the concrete was laid. In addition to concrete, several thousand yards of soil were brought in by truck to complete the $2,200 dam.

The dam was programmed for this year at a planning meeting last August.

From time to time small improvements may be made, such as adding benches, trails or a bridge, to make the dam look more beautiful. In the future the dam and area around it may serve as a recreation area for the Woodcraft Camp, but plans for this are not definite.

Special Trash Collection Scheduled During 'Clean Up, Fix Up Week'

A special pick up of household rubbish is being scheduled in conjunction with "Clean Up Fix Up Week" in Culver next week.

Edgar Shaw, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce committee in charge and Town Board member, said the special pick up will be conducted on Monday and Tuesday, with the area south of Jefferson St. scheduled for service on Monday, and the area north of Jefferson St. scheduled Tuesday. All pick up will be from the front curb, and in the event of rain, the schedule will be set back one day.

The Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees, and Town of Culver are joining in sponsorship of "Clean Up Fix Up Week," a weeklong event. During the week, special emphasis is placed on sprucing up around the home and yard, and making repairs and painting up wherever needed.

Only through the earnest cooperation of all citizens, can this worthwhile project succeed, said the cooperating organizations. The special pick up of rubbish will be conducted by Street Department men and equipment under the direction of Don Mikesell.

Kenneth Cole, principal of Culver schools, is cooperating by calling attention to "Clean Up, Fix Up Week" in special announcements to students. Officials noted that young people can be especially helpful in clean-up and fix-up assignments around the home.

While the trash pick up is for the normal accumulation of debris around the house, any excess accumulation of trash cannot be accepted. Residents and business places who have large amounts of trash should arrange to have a private pick up in these instances.

Lester LaBounty, Former Resident, Dies In Texas

Lester B. LaBounty, age 77, a former resident of Culver, died at 11:05 p.m. Sunday, May 9, at his home at Lyford, Texas, following a long illness.

Mr. LaBounty was born July 8, 1887, in Starke County to Rev. and Mrs. Edward LaBounty. He attended an engineering School in Indianapolis and during vacations he ran boats on the lake here. On June 15, 1906, Mr. LaBounty joined the staff of Culver Military Academy where he was employed for 46 years, retiring Dec. 31, 1952, as Chief Engineer. Following his retirement Mr. and Mrs. LaBounty spent several months each year in Texas moving there permanently about 10 years ago.

Survivors include his widow, Mary; a sister, Mrs. Russell (Wanda) Easterday of Culver; and a half-brother, Herbert LaBounty, of Logansport.

Funeral services were conducted at the Duddlesten Funeral Home at Raymondville, Texas, with burial there.

Driver's Ed and Typing In CHS Summer Classes

Summer classes at the Culver Community School will offer instruction in "Driver's Education" and "Personal Typing."

Courses will begin Monday, June 7, and continue through Monday, Aug. 2. "Driver's Education" will obligate the student each morning, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. Typing students will attend daily classes from one to three o'clock each afternoon. However, the Fourth of July holiday will be observed.

The only charge levied for the courses will be the book rental fee and the cost of consumable materials. Each course will give the participant one credit toward graduation and will be applied to graduation.

It is the desire of the school officials in adding the summer typing course to alleviate the heavy winter schedules of many college-bound students.

To enroll in the "Driver's Education" class, which more than meets the minimum state law, Culver Community School students must be 15 years of age by June 12, 1965.

"Personal Typing" enrollees must be 1965-66 Culver Community high school students, freshmen through seniors.

Those students, who have not enrolled thus far, and who are planning to take advantage of these beneficial Summer classes, should call the High School Office, Viking 2-3275, in the very near future.

The instrumental and band program at Culver High School for the coming summer remains unsettled because of the fact that Mr. Harry Fouts, local band director, will be attending graduate school at Indiana University. Local school officials are attempting to secure a qualified teacher to handle the instrumental program for the summer period.

Two CMA Students Win Creative Writing Awards

Two Culver Military Academy students have been honored for achievement in one of the most competitive creative writing contests in the nation.

Selected for awards in the 1965 creative writing competition by The Atlantic are Scott M. Thompson, son of Dr. and Mrs. John L. Thompson, 6073 Contreras Road, Oxford, Ohio; and Robert G. Kellam, son of Mrs. Leewan R. Kellam, 2609 Windsor Road, Raleigh, N.C.

Thompson, a junior, scored a rare accomplishment in the contest when he won both a third place in prose writing and a certificate of merit in poetry. The third place article of prose, "Opiate of a Stormy Empire," deals with the mysteriousness of Moscow and will be published in a forthcoming issue of The Atlantic. Thompson's article was based on a visit to Moscow.

Thompson's poem was entitled "Death of a Fool" and dealt with the futility of war in what a judge called "intellectually, emotionally, and poetically interesting."

Kellam's certificate of merit was given for a poem entitled "Bach." It was classified as "interesting and intelligent." Along with Thompson's poem, Kellam's verse will be published this summer in a forthcoming booklet containing prize-winning articles and poems written by students from many parts of the nation.

Both are students enrolled in an English honors section taught by Arthur G. Hughes, department chairman and holder of the Eppley Endowed Chair of English at Culver.

Librarians, trustees, school, and academic librarians are urged to attend this event which will get underway with registration and morning coffee from 9 to 9:45 a.m.

Donald L. Barnes, Associate Professor of Education at Ball State University, will discuss the Knapp School Library project during the morning session. He has published more than 40 articles in seven countries (England, Sweden, United States, Germany, India, Italy and Australia) and conducted international studies in 13 countries. He has a forthcoming book related to philosophical and psychological dimensions of religious education to be published by Ginn and Company.

A mid-day luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. at The Culver Inn and will be followed by the afternoon's program, at the Eppley Theater, which will feature speaker Arthur Hughes, chairman of the Academy's English department.

A highlight of the afternoon will be a guided tour of the Academy.

Advance registration is urged. Checks should be posted no later than Saturday, May 15, and should be made payable to and sent to Mrs. Thelma Johnston, secretary, Kewanna, Ind.

SELECT WALTER W. STRAIT TO ATTEND SUMMER INSTITUTE IN PHYSICS

Walter W. Strait, a member of the teaching staff of Culver Military Academy, has been selected as one of the 23 secondary school teachers of advanced placement physics who will attend a summer institute in the new Johnson Memorial Science Center at Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Ill., July 5 through Aug. 27.

most probable source of these is among those presently teaching the regular secondary school physics course.

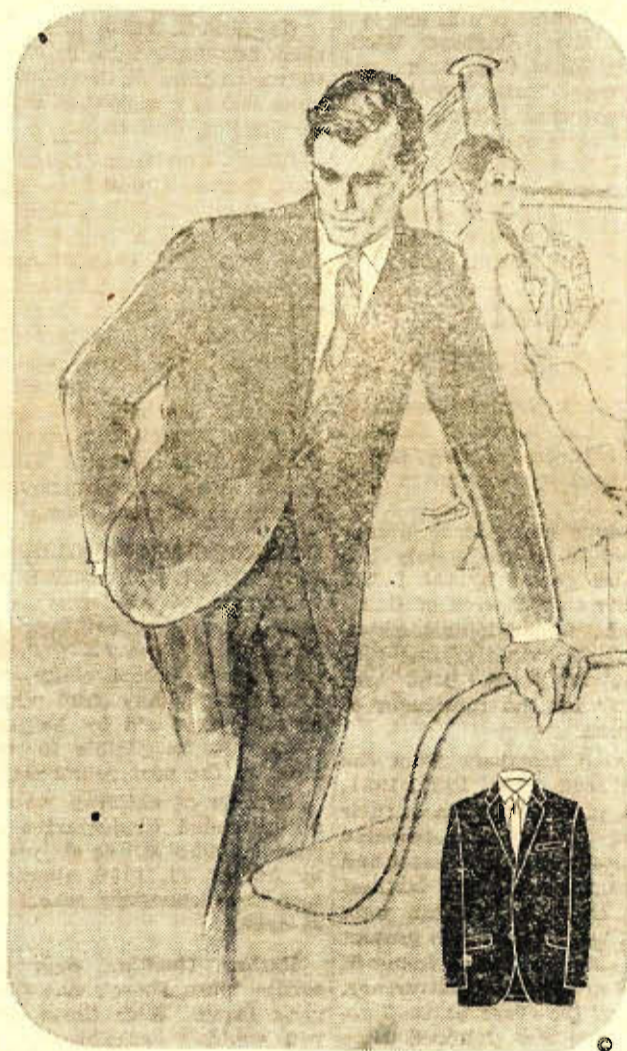

Such a person is in a peculiar position. He is trained to teach secondary school physics and is generally experienced in teaching at this level. But, since the Advanced Placement Physics Course is a college-level course, he finds that he must upgrade his own command of subject matter and also all aspects of his teaching environment, including demonstration and laboratory facilities. These are difficult tasks. Advice and help are needed very urgently if an APP course is to begin properly and to be done well. A special emphasis will be placed on the subject matter and laboratory work related to the topics of Modern Physics.

The conference is supported by a $39,670 grant from the National Science Foundation. This sum covers living expenses, travel, tuition and fees for each participant, in addition to providing a six-man conference staff.

Fortunately, a large number of drinking drivers are stopped by police before they have a chance to become involved in an accident. According to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, drivers operating under the influence often reveal themselves by following erratic or irregular driving patterns which are readily detected by trained observers such as police. Even so more than 50 per cent of all fatal crashes in recent months have involved drinking or drunken drivers.

Consumer Must Not Over-Extend During Boom

It is often impossible to convince young husbands and wives that it is during periods of prosperity like the present that plans must be made for possible unexpected reverses. Business has never kept on going up indefinitely without recessions or other corrective adjustments, and chances are that it never will. The fundamental law of economic Action and Reaction is easier to forget than to repeat.

Overbuying Is Easy In Boom Times

Nearly everybody wants a new car, a color TV set, appliances, luxuries, exotic vacations, and a modern up-to-date home. It is only natural for the young and the optimistic to want the highest possible standard of living, for themselves, and for their children. But it seems to be going out of fashion for people to check on just how much the family pocketbook can stand. How many of today's workers, for instance, set aside part of their weekly pay check to place in some form of liquid savings before they buy desirable but not essential things?

During a boom it is easy for a young family man to get trapped. And at present, he is further lured by the promises of the Great Society, and he is also a product of the "unending" prosperity that has come out of World War II. Like many others, he is enticed into overloading, by newspaper, magazine, radio, and TV ads. With more money to spend than he has ever had before, he is easily tempted to get in over his head. Whereas families twenty years ago were spending only 45% of their incomes for the essentials of living, a substantial majority of family income today is used up in fixed charges such as food, rent, and installment debt.

When Setbacks Come

This may be all right as long as a boom is in progress. But let a downturn set in and bring about layoffs, and the burden of installment commitments carried by many people could mean economic catastrophe for them. There will always be important cycles of overexpansion and depression because the inevitable quirks of human judgment will see to that. Only if you increase your financial reserves during an "up" period can you hope to ride through a "down" period without being done in.

Inflation talk is everywhere at the present time, so family heads are especially ready to take on new expenses if only to avoid the higher prices for goods that they expect a little later on. It must be kept in mind, however, that inflation is always followed by a blow-up. So if we should have an inflationary explosion, you can count on it to be followed by deflation. And deflation means business troubles, more unemployment, lower incomes. If a man has no reserves, a layoff could leave him with unpayable commitments for mortgage, interest, real estate tax, car, furniture, appliances. If, in addition, he owes for store purchases and utilities, no unemployment insurance is going to scratch the surface of his needs.

Thrift Still A Valuable Virtue

Prosperity is a time for putting funds aside in savings accounts, with an idea perhaps of carefully investing the money later on. Money in the bank is one of the best types of insurance against unemployment emergencies, which are almost always unforeseeable. It is, of course, a delight to have all the finest things that you and your family may want. They bring happiness and satisfaction. But not if your financial planning has been bad and the bill collectors and repossession agents beat an unpleasant path to your door.

Time teaches that it takes even more intelligence, will power, and courage to plan for tomorrow than it does to take care of today's obvious obligations. Thrift is still one of the cardinal virtues, even though the buy-now pay-later system that is so prevalent in our society encourages careless spending and unthrifty attitudes. If a recession strikes, many who ignore thrift will be among the sadder but wiser who will have learned this fine attribute too late.

The Changing Face of Washington, D.C.

Washington, D. C., was our national capital before it became a true city, and there are people who maintain that the gap has never been closed. They say that the city has never caught up with government, and that it lacks the capacity for graceful living that other international capitals, such as Paris and Rome, have.

But things are changing beside the Potomac, and one of the most dramatic proofs of this change is the $66 million Watergate project now rising above the Washington skyline.

Soaring over one of the most spectacular sites anywhere—a 10-acre triangle beside the Potomac and right across the street from the new John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts which will go into construction this year—Watergate promises a luxury and style to Washington that it has not known before.

Designed by Luigi Moretti, of Rome, and Corning, Moore, Elmore and Fischer, of Washington, D. C., Watergate has abandoned traditional rectangular block forms for gracefully curved structures. Three of the five Watergate buildings will be devoted to cooperative apartments ranging in price from $20,000 to more than $200,000. There will also be an office building and a residential hotel.

One of the largest real estate investments in the country—a total of $44 million—has been put into Watergate by The John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co., and every apportionment of urban life is being incorporated.

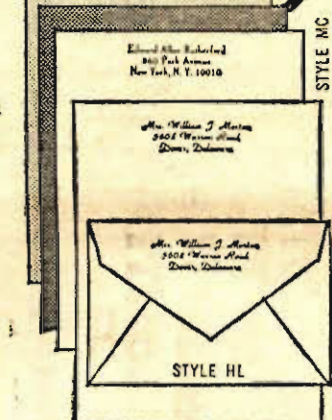

Commercial facilities as well as specialty shops and restaurants will be contained in a pleasant shopping mall, and there will be parking space for 1200 cars below ground. Residents will have the use of three outdoor swimming pools, as well as a year-round indoor pool as part of a health club.

Watergate is a cooperative apartment community. Those who purchase apartments will also own an equity in the non-profit corporation that will administer the cooperative. What's more, interest and real estate taxes are deductible income tax items.

The first Watergate building—one with 238 cooperative apartments—was begun early in 1964. Work on the office building and residential hotel has just begun. The first apartment building will open in the early fall. The office building and hotel will be completed in May, 1966.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOL

PUFF, PUFF, PUFF — With the clear skies and wonderful weather we've been having, the smoke signals are coming in loud and clear. Let's hope it stays this way, huh, kids?? Now let's see what has been intercepted by our clever scouts . . .

Patti McCombs and Carolyn Snyder, do you always do summersaults in Nelson's car? Don't make a practice of it, girls.

While we're on the subjects of cars . . . who was that we saw driving McCombs' car around town Monday? That couldn't have been Mark K., could it??? That explains why Patti and Mark were late for their fifth period class Monday!

All's fair in love and war. Diane Nelson, really, there's nothing on country roads to be afraid of . . . you should be used to them by now.

Speaking of country roads . . . What were Barb, Marsh, Cindee, Pam, Chip, and Larry B. doing stuck in Memorial Forest till 10 o'clock at night? Now really — we know it's Spring and all — but you needn't make up ridiculous excuses — just tell the truth!!

Speaking of Spring . . . Dave and Jon, would you kindly refrain from showing your affections in public . . . we know you two like each other — but really!!!

Susie S. — what do you get if you lose your bet with Bob E.? Care to reveal any "info"?

What two separated homerooms have a connecting rear door? Ask Barb O. and Doug L.

Linda Baker would like to clear up any wrong impressions people got from the article about her gold — She got it from Jon . . . indirectly . . . he had the window down in his car.

We see a lot of new couples going to the Prom — Bruce and Marcia, Becky and Skip, Larry and Marsha, Chip and Barb, Jim and Linda, Mark and Patti, and many more we hope. Of course the ole regulars — Doug and Brenda, Linda and Mike, Larry and Carolyn, Linda and Tom, Jim and Sue, and Paul and Sue.

Gary Wallen — Can't you sit in one seat and stay there? It seems as though you are moved all over study hall fifth period. Mrs. Smith surely has some good reasons behind her "moves".

What's this, Mark, trying to catch a baseball with? Oh, a mitt! But isn't it a little small??? Next time Patti, get him a mitt to fit his hand, not his pocket.

Congratulations to all of the newly elected officers and cheerleaders. And to the next year Schoolbell editors — we know you will all do a swell job.

May and Patti really feel the rhythm of the music. — ya' just can't keep them still in choir.

Bob — how did your Chev' get so wet Monday night? And Larry — was the water warm and refreshing?? (That was a dirty trick.)

Sue P. — why don't you enjoy a certain junior girl's comments in Joy B. slam book? Well, we must admit they were a little prejudiced!! Jealousy does a lot to a person!!

Sparling — what did you do, hold a gun at Jim's back to make him write what he did in your Tomahawk?

Speaking of Tomahawks — aren't they the best ever!!

Spring time is usually for mating . . . right? Well, someone must have turned the love making machine in reverse. Who ever it was put it back in regular order.

Here's to hoping next week will still be like Spring. Bye . . .

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

By Marilee Herrmann and Elaine Kaiser

Pitter-patter the good little fairy tip-toed down the halls to Mrs. Allen's second grade room. Here he saw that Donnie Mackey and Kim Flossenzer were both eight years old last week. We also noticed that they had completed their book called "Around the Corner". Just before leaving, he was surprised to see how well the plants for their mothers were growing.

Scurrying on down the hall, he arrived in time for Deborah Bernhardt's and Patty Bean's birthdays, who were both eight a few days ago. Both of the girls are in Miss Page's second grade room.

Flying up the stairs he entered Mr. Horban's fourth grade room and found that the fourth grade all-star team beat Mr. Shirrell's fifth grade team in a game of softball. He was very pleased to see that David Reichley, and Doug Snyder, Sylvia Williams, and Karen Zechiel have had perfect records in spelling this year. He would like to say "Happy Birthday" to Evan Lowry, Barbara Crow, and Diane Breitbarth, also.

Sitting very quietly in Mr. Frettinger's room he was able to find that the students had named their team the "Stingrays". This great team defeated Mrs. Hartman's softball team 13 to 6. Looking over his shoulder he saw that they have started their science projects. Kent Davis and Bill Herrmann have identified shells for their projects. Jeff Zechiel has demonstrated a very interesting project, an electro-magnetic crane, commonly used in a junk yard. Pam Hartz surprised them by putting two clear liquids together and producing a pink liquid — then adding a third and making it come clear again. For a language project they are writing original stories and making them into books.

On his last stop to Mrs. Schrieker's room he saw that they had finished their health books, so they were going outdoors and playing team games during the Health period. The students were planning a "chicken reunion" for all the chickens hatched in the classroom in March.

At last our fairy returned home after a very pleasant and eventful visit to the Culver Grade School.

Bus No. 2

By Diane Davis

It's 7:15 a.m. and time once again for Bus No. 2 to go on its daily route. There seems to be a chill in the air so this bus asks the kind man in front to turn on its heater so it will be warm for its friends. Everything seems to be in good running order, so away it goes down the road, merrily blinking its eyes at all the cars it passes.

Bus No. 2 is noticing all the beautiful scenes of the sunrise as it moves through the country. It comes out of a daydream as it rounds the peak of the hill and sees the first group of friends patiently, yet excitedly waiting.

The children chat happily as their friends, and their friends' friends join them. Soon all the seats are filled and Bus No. 2 starts its journey back to school. The group arrives about 8 a.m. and everyone hurriedly rushes toward the door to begin a busy day at school.

Thus, the morning task is completed and Bus No. 2 can rest until it is time to take some weary looking children home.

Trackdown!

(Otherwise known as the Shadow)

By Patty Overmyer

The first time I saw my 5-foot, 3-inch victim was around 8 a.m. She wasn't in her usual good spirits, so I figured she must be tired. She's usually with that certain senior guy, but this morning was an exception. He was with the guys — SHOCK!!

First period - English, I'm told she was as normal as could be, which means she finally woke up. She even answered a few questions, but most of the time she was talking to George and just everyone around her.

Second period - Typing, I saw my victim rush to her seat about 15 seconds before the bell — she should be on the track team!! A few hundred mistakes later, she greeted me with a very good morning. That's the old girl I know, bright and cheery. Well, the bell rang and off she went, to see her guy. (They must carry magnets in their pockets!!)

Third period - Study Hall. My victim even studied for awhile, then off to the Spanish lab where she studied (?).

Fourth period - Health & Safety. My victim tried to be very good this period — she tries awfully hard. She answered a few questions intelligently and then talked to everyone who could talk back. She whispers so loud that even I could hear her, and I sit clear across the room. Don't worry, she didn't get caught today.

Noon Hour. She was with her guy again. I wonder what they find to talk about????

Fifth period - Spanish. I'm told that my victim is very good in that class - only talked 15 minutes out of the period. She listened to what was going on in class for about half an hour. She's talking again — of course not when Miss Allen is.

Sixth period - Band. She gets her "licorice stick" ready just in time to warm-up. She was probably talking to that guy. I wonder what she finds so entrancing about him? We were talking over the events of the day when we noticed Mr. Fouts was watching us — back to the music. She is very good on her clarinet. How could we get along without her??

Seventh period - Geometry. She talked to Marlene for awhile then decided to listen because she finds this class a little rough. She worked on her assignment for tomorrow — she tried.

Eighth period - Chorus. She's a great alto — I know because she confirmed my thinking of her in those terms. How she managed to stay out of trouble I'll never know.

If you haven't guessed who my victim is, I guess I'd better tell you. It's one of those great sophomores — Brenda McAllister.

BEWARE! The next victim of The Shadow may be you.

Happiness Is:

By Pam Fish

When Mrs. Smith doesn't give dictation.

Having read the "Caine Mutiny."

Seeing Mr. Crabb pull up his blue socks.

Knowing you have a date for the Prom.

Realizing we've only got two more weeks of school.

Knowing how to work your algebra problems.

Knowing you're going to graduate.

Having a pass from fourth period study hall.

Being in love.

Getting an "A" on your history test.

Sitting next to Joan Dillon in study hall.

Being popular.

Having an umbrella when it rains.

Knowing your watch hasn't stopped.

Going to bed before midnight.

Anytime the Yankees win a baseball game. (personal opinion)

Knowing Mr. Cole broke his paddle.

Finally becoming a Senior.

By Bob Shirrell

On Thursday, April 29, at the Culver - Richland Center - Argos track meet, Phil Scruggs broke the Culver High School record for the half-mile with a record time of 2:13.5. Phil's time broke the record set last year by Paul White.

Another good showing at the track meet was in the shot put which was swept by Culver — one, two, three, four.

Other fine showings were made by Paul Hatten in the mile (5 min. 2 sec.), Jim Lewis in the 100 yard dash (11 sec.), and 220 (25 sec.), and by the mile relay team which came from behind to win by inches. The final score was Culver 58 — Argos 56 — Richland Center 33.

On Saturday, May 1, the track team traveled to Lapaz for the Lapaz Relays. The participating schools included Lapaz, Argos, Triton, and Culver.

One of the events Culver won was the shot put. Jon VanHorn had a 46 foot, 3/4 inch put which outdistanced second place by more than a foot. Other events that we won were the sprint medley, the 440 relay, and the shuttle relay. In the shuttle relay the Culver relay team tied the track record.

We placed well in all the events but the final score was Triton 78 — Culver 65 — Argos 52 — Lapaz 47. That brings the track team's record to four first places, five second places, and no third places.

A very special mention should be made of the girls' relay team made up of Ruth Benner, Helen King, Susie Thews, and Susie Rlester. Even though no other competition showed up for the Powder Puff Relays at the Lapaz Relays, they did a fine job of representing Culver High School. Also special thanks should be given to Miss Overmyer, their fine coach.

The Culver Junior High track team, coached by Mr. Kline, is also having a good season. Their record now stands at seven first places, and one second place.

Mr. Stegmoller and the track team have been working hard the last week and we should see several other fine showings of the Culver High track team.

First Prom

By Melvin Jackson

All was quiet on the night of the prom.
I looked at Dad, I looked at Mom, I looked at the keys hanging on the wall.
I shuddered, then stammered, but no words came at all!
How else can I go there, the school is so far!
So finally I forced it.
"M-M-May I have the e-e-car?"
Dad quickly glanced up, my hopes dived down.
He uncrossed his legs, put his foot to the ground,
And stared at me hard, without a word.
Then, when he spoke, I didn't believe what I heard.
"Sure, go right ahead, son", he said in a drone,
"But even if you just scratch it, please don't come home!
I'd hate to get mad, and get out of bed,

And wrap my new car around your thick head!!!!!!
NOW BE CAREFUL!!!!!!!"

Next Year's Cheerleaders

P-O-W-E-R!! Well friends, it's that time of the year again when the C.H.S. pep block picks the cheerleaders for next year — the 1965-66 season.

On Wednesday, May 5, the Varsity and B-team cheerleaders were chosen. To be eligible for the Varsity squad, the girls must have had previous experience as a freshman or B-team yell leader (besides being able to jump). In order to be qualified for a B-team yell leader, the contestant must be a freshman, sophomore, or junior.

Each girl tried out with two yells, then the pep block voted by ballot for the girls they thought would do the best job.

The girls chosen to lead the Varsity to victory next year are Sheryl Fisher, Cheryl Zink, Joyce Odle, and Susie Thews. The B-team cheerleaders for next year are Linda Fisher, Valerie Carter, Lyn Mackey, and Karen Banks.

We'd like to congratulate each of these girls.

Band Gives Aubbee Concert

Last Thursday the Culver High School band gave its first traveling concert. It was held at the Aubbeenaubee High School at Leiters Ford.

This proved to be a very exciting experience for all of the band members who boarded the bus promptly at 12:20. They not only got to get out of some academic classes at school, they got to experience for the first time in many years the experience of giving a concert at another school during school hours.

Many schools have brought their choirs and bands to Culver, so Culver, being no different from them, decided to show off a bit. We all hope this continues and the band and choir get to go to many other schools in years to come.

On Friday, the Kewanna High School band presented a concert in the gym. This year Culver has had around five of these musical convocations. We hope to have many more.

Questions and Answers On Oral Polio Vaccine

Listed below are a number of questions and answers regarding the first mass feedings in the program to eradicate polio from Marshall County. The Marshall County Medical Society in cooperation with the county Jaycees and American Legion Posts will provide area residents with the new oral vaccine.

Q. What are the advantages of oral polio vaccine over the other type?

A. The ease with which the vaccine can be given — by mouth, instead of by an injection needle, is a big advantage.

Another advantage is that this oral polio vaccine is designed to provide what doctors call "intestinal immunity" against polio. Thus it not only affords the immunized individual optimum protection against polio by stimulating the production of antibodies in his blood, but also reduces the likelihood of his becoming a carrier of the disease.

The vaccine being used in Culver is the new Trivalent vaccine. It contains a blend of the three strains of monovalent vaccine. It is taken by mouth and only two feedings are necessary for basic protection instead of three.

Q. How is the vaccine administered?

A. The vaccine is taken orally from paper cups or — if a concentrate is used — on sugar cubes.

Q. Are there any harmful after-effects, such as fever or slight illness, as a result of taking the vaccine?

A. Oral polio vaccines have been administered to millions of persons, with little or no after-effects directly attributed to the vaccine.

Q. How does the vaccine work?

A. After it is swallowed, the vaccine virus multiplies in the digestive tract stimulating the body to produce what doctors call "antibodies." These are what provide protection against polio.

Q. How long can immunization from polio last after a person takes the vaccine?

A. Experts believe it will give you a relatively long-term immunity against polio. Since individuals respond differently and exact data is not yet available, some experts believe a booster dose should be given every two to four years.

Q. After a person takes the vaccine how long is it before he should begin to get protection?

A. Protection should begin in two to three weeks.

Q. What about those who have received previous Salk polio shots?

A. A complete series of two feedings of the new Trivalent vaccine is recommended regardless of any previous shots.

Q. Suppose all members of a family but one get the vaccine, is there a possibility that the person may become immunized from the others?

A. The person who did not take the vaccine might become immune through transmission from other members of the family — and this would of course be a beneficial effect. However, this procedure cannot be depended upon.

Q. Does this vaccine help to protect against all types of polio?

A. Yes, in Culver we are fortunate in getting the new Trivalent vaccine. It contains a blend of the three strains of monovalent vaccine. It is taken by mouth and only two feedings are necessary for basic protection, instead of three.

Q. How many doses of the vaccine are needed.

A. Two doses spaced at least eight weeks apart.

Q. Where will this vaccine be obtainable during the mass immunization program?

A. You may receive the vaccine at certain community centers or through special mobile units which will be placed at strategic points throughout the county. Watch your newspaper and listen to TV and radio for further announcements on this.

Q. Can the vaccine be purchased anywhere and taken by individuals?

A. No. It is available only through doctors and recognized institutions like the County Health Department and hospitals.

Q. Why is it necessary to take the vaccine now, when we do not have any incidences of polio in this area?

A. The nation is enjoying relative freedom from polio right now, but it is well known that this disease comes and goes in waves. There is therefore no assurance that the present situation will continue. By the same token we do not have any cases of smallpox, yet we continue to be vaccinated against this disease. The principle is the same, and through this new oral vaccine, we hope to make polio as rare tomorrow as smallpox is today. Experts feel that it is better to conduct a program like this before an epidemic strikes rather than wait until it is here.

Q. What does the vaccine taste like?

A. It is a pleasant-flavored liquid, designed to appeal particularly to children, who are very susceptible to polio.

Q. Would an overdose of the vaccine be harmful?

A. No. In carefully controlled tests, measured overdoses of the vaccine have been given, with no harmful after-effects.

Q. Who should take the vaccine?

A. The vaccine may be given to everyone six weeks of age or older. Everyone over six weeks of age is invited to take advantage of this opportunity.

Q. When will the vaccine be given?

A. First feeding date is Sunday, May 23, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Culver Community School Cafeteria.

Q. How much will it cost?

A. A donation of 50¢ per dose is expected although no one will be refused the vaccine for lack of funds.

Q. Where can I obtain additional information or answers to other questions on oral polio vaccine?

A. From your doctor, from the Marshall County Health Department, or U. S. Public Health Service.

HOME FRUIT TREE SPRAYING

What is an all purpose fruit spray material? Purdue University entomologists say it is often a mixture of methoxychlor, malathion, and ferbam or captan. Methoxychlor and malathion are included to kill insect pests. Ferbam or captan is used to control plant diseases. Many trade-name mixtures contain these or other ingredients which will perform satisfactorily.

An all purpose spray material can be used to control pests on apple, cherry, pear, peach, and plum trees. Follow container directions, which generally suggest spraying at least every two weeks. Since most backyard fruit growers do not have proper spraying equipment, coverage is generally inadequate, and better fruit can be grown if weekly applications are made.

All parts of the leaves and limbs should be sprayed until they are wet. As a rule of thumb, if your tree is one to four years old, you will need from 1/2 to one gallon of spray for each application. If your tree is 5-10 years old, one to three gallons; from 10-15 years, 4-8 gallons; and over 15 years old, 8-10 gallons per tree will be needed.

UNDULANT FEVER CASES DECLINING

Control and eradication of brucellosis (Bang's disease) in animals has brought a sharp reduction in undulant fever in human beings. Only source of human infection is from animals. The number of cases of undulant fever in the United States dropped from 6,321 in 1947 to 405 in 1964. In Indiana, they declined from nine in 1959 to only one last year.

Most recent method of detecting brucellosis in cattle, explains Dr. K. M. Weinland, Purdue University extension veterinarian, is identifying adult cows going to market, taking a blood sample at the time of their slaughter and conducting a brucellosis test. Under this program of market cattle testing, carcasses can also be examined for evidence of tuberculosis.

An identifying back tag is applied to the animal at the time it is consigned to market. The tag number, with the name and address of the owner, is recorded by the purchaser. The tag stays with the animal until slaughter, when the blood sample is obtained for the brucellosis test and the carcass examined for tuberculosis.

If the test for brucellosis is positive or the carcass shows evidence of tuberculosis, the tag supplies a means of tracing ownership of the herd from which the animal came, Weinland says.

This market cattle testing program is a cooperative effort among state and federal officials, commission firms in public stockyards, auction sale operators and abattoirs. Ultimate goal is to detect diseased animals and herds from which they came and eventually eliminate much of the on-the-farm testing for brucellosis and tuberculosis.

With increased use of this back tagging program and fewer individual on-the-farm tests, costs of conducting these tests will be eliminated with a savings of tax dollars, Weinland adds.

At the present time, the 11 commission firms at the Indianapolis Stockyards are under contract with the disease control agencies to apply the tags. Auction sale operators throughout Indiana are being urged to join the back tagging program.

A county or area can be recertified for brucellosis or tuberculosis if a minimum of five per cent of the cow population of the area is slaughtered under the market cattle testing program in one year and found to be free of the disease.

Dr. L. R. Barnes, federal veterinarian in charge of Animal Disease Eradication in Indiana, says that two counties — Spencer and Perry — have been recertified for tuberculosis under the back tagging program carried on in the Evansville Stockyards.

For back tagged cattle to be recognized in the tuberculosis program, they must be slaughtered at a plant with federal, state or municipal veterinary inspection.

Weinland points out that the market cattle testing program is part of the over-all disease eradication program now being carried out. This program consists of area on-the-farm testing, milk ring testing and market testing for bovine brucellosis. State and federal authorities hope to eliminate brucellosis from all animals in Indiana by 1975.

FEED GRAIN PROGRAM BENEFITS DETAILED

Growers who participate in the 1965 Feed Grain Program will have definite advantages over growers who elect not to participate, according to Carl W. Price, Chairman, Marshall County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

First, he explained, the diversion payment earned for reducing the farm's 1965 acreage of corn, barley or grain sorghum, assures the participating grower of a substantial income from the diverted acres, regardless of drought, flood, insects, hail, or crop disease.

This is also true of the price-support payment which is made on the acreage planted in 1965 to one or more of the three feed grains — no matter what disposition is made of the crop, the price-support payment is assured.

And, third, price support is available through loans and purchases on the participating farmer's 1965 production of the three feed grains.

Furthermore, the Chairman added, if the farm operator requests it, an advance payment of one-half of the estimated diversion payment will be made at the time of signing up or as soon as possible after that time.

Growers take part in the Feed Grain Program by diverting at least 20 per cent of the farm's feed grain base acreage into an approved conserving use and carrying out other provisions of the program. If more than the minimum acreage is diverted, a higher rate of payment will apply. Maximum diversion is 50 per cent of the farm's feed grain base or 25 acres, whichever is larger.

The minimum rate of payment is based on one-fifth of the county's total price-support rate (the county loan rate plus the price-support rate). A higher rate (one-half of the total price-support rate for the county) applies to diver-

Crops and Robbers

Stop the Alfalfa Weevil

"The weevils have gotten so bad around here, we had to go from alfalfa to another crop. We're trying timothy-clover and a sudan-sorghum cross and hope some of them will do."

So say farmers in the majority of the alfalfa-growing areas of the United States. The weevil has hit — hard — and dairy and beef farmers are hurting.

Alfalfa may be looked down on by some farmers, but in value of production, it is fourth most important field crop grown in the United States. Value of the alfalfa grown is exceeded only by corn, cotton and wheat, in that order.

But now a voracious insect, the larvae of the alfalfa weevil, threatens to eat American farmers out the practice of growing alfalfa.

Unless steps are taken now, more and more growers may be forced to turn to other crops.

For example, alfalfa acreage in Georgia (40,000 acres before the weevil appeared), has been cut 60% to under 16,000 acres. Similarly, North Carolina farmers have cut their alfalfa acreage from 90,000 to 40,000 acres, and in North Dakota, as many as 100,000 acres have been retired in a single year.

In Alabama, Connecticut, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, South Carolina, and Tennessee, where the weevil has recently become a costly problem, farmers are concerned. In Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia, the weevil has been considered a major problem for a number of years, and has caused a noticeable reduction in hay quality.

Up to 1963 a satisfactory level of control was achieved by chlorinated hydrocarbons, such as dieldrin and heptachlor. Then two things happened: weevils developed resistance to chlorinated hydrocarbons, and new methods of detection revealed milk and meat residue problems with the insecticides. These problems were so severe that dieldrin and heptachlor were removed from the USDA's list of insecticides accepted for use on alfalfa.

Before clearance was withdrawn, however, a number of dairy farmers in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia, who had treated their fields with heptachlor and dieldrin had to dump their milk until traces of residue disappeared. $8.5 million has been allocated by the federal government to indemnify these farmers for losses suffered.

Meanwhile, agricultural chemical companies have not been idle. The USDA had accepted Diazinon and Guthion, malathion, methoxychlor and parathion for use on alfalfa. Experience with methoxychlor and Diazinon showed that they were effective for weevil control and did not create any milk or meat residues, provided a seven-day interval was observed after treatment before foraging or making hay.

The manufacturers of Diazinon and methoxychlor, Geigy, experimented with a treatment which combined these two insecticides, with excellent results. The new product, called Alfa-tox, has just been accepted by the USDA for use on alfalfa. A single treatment for each cutting at the low rate of two quarts per acre will give good control on the first and second cuttings, which are most subject to weevil attack, and residue problems are completely avoided by proper timing of the application.

Based on field checks and experiment station reports, Alfa-tox may be the insecticide which will turn the tide against the weevil and help alfalfa maintain its position as the most important hay crop in the United States.

BARROW SHOW AIDS CONSUMERS, HOG PRODUCERS

The Hoosier Spring Barrow Show continues to play a major role in familiarizing Indiana hog producers with the type, weight and finish that makes pork more attractive to homemakers.

Dick Hollandbeck, Purdue University extension swine specialist, points out that in addition to the on-foot judging, the carcass contest stresses measurements of meatiness, yield and back fat.

A 16-year summary of the top 40 to 60 barrows in this show discloses Indiana swine raisers are doing a better job of selecting hogs. For instance, the average weight of these animals in 1950 was 225 pounds. At the 1965 show the average weight was 213 pounds.

While the weight declined to a more desirable figure from the standpoint of the packers, the meat yield increased from 71.6 to 72.6 per cent during the 16-year period. During this time the length of the barrows increased from 29.4 to 30.3 inches.

Back fat of the winning barrows in the 1950 show measured 1.8 inches. Hogs in the 1965 show averaged a back fat measurement of 1.20 inches — a decrease of more than one-half inch.

Even more meaningful is the proportion of skinned, defatted ham and loins to chilled carcass weight. These are not only the most valued cuts of pork, but also the best indicators of meatiness of the pork carcass, Hollandbeck explains. The 1950 percentage of ham and loin was 33.66; this percentage had risen to 42.70 per cent by 1965, a 9 increase of 7.53 per cent. Loin eye area in the 1965 carcasses averaged 5.15 square inches, up nearly three quarters of a square inch from the earlier years.

Fat trimmed from the carcasses also has declined sharply over the past 16 years.

CREATIVENESS SPARKS HOME SEWING

Creativeness is the big "why" behind the ever growing home sewing trend.

Women enjoy using color, line and texture to achieve becoming costumes. The feeling of accomplishment that comes with wearing the garment and receiving compliments are other important factors, says Mrs. Bonnita Farmer, Purdue University clothing specialist.

Reporting on a survey by the Women's Fashion Fabrics Association, Mrs. Farmer explores other factors behind the increased fabric, pattern and machine sales in this country.

Sewing to save money is still an important reason. By making the garment, the homemaker can select better quality fabrics and notions for a fashion design with a smaller investment than for ready-made garments.

In addition, the extra touches of workmanship increase the wear life of the garment and make care easier and less expensive (especially true for children's clothing.)

Good fit may be listed as another of the benefits.

Notice Of Administration

In The Circuit Court of Marshall County, Indiana.
NOTICE is hereby given that Amy L. Flagg was, on the 23d day of April, 1965, appointed Executrix of the Estate of Wayne W. Flagg, deceased.

All persons having claims against said Estate, whether or not now due, must file the same in said court, within 6 months from the date of the first publication of this notice or said claims will be forever barred.

A desire of individuality is another factor. Boredom with the sameness of ready-made clothing is relieved by unique combinations of pattern and fabric. The sewing homemaker can express her own good taste.

Men are getting into the act, too. They feel great pride in wearing custom sport coats tailored by their wives or daughters. Some adventuresome young fellows are even trying out the sewing machine themselves!

STORING WINTER CLOTHES

Store your winter clothes with as much thought as when you selected them.

Following a few simple rules of storage may eliminate replacement expense next fall, says Mrs. Bonnita Farmer, Purdue University clothing specialist.

Be sure to wash or dryclean your garments before storing because insects and mildew attack soiled articles more readily than clean ones. Do not starch clean fabrics, as molds and silverfish often feed on starch.

If you dryclean your clothes in coin-operated machines, be sure to air them thoroughly before storing. Do not use plastic hangers. Even though the fabric may not feel damp, there may be enough solvent left in the fabric to soften the plastic hanger. The garment then sticks to the hanger and can not be removed without damage. This may also happen to garments hung on plastic hangers that are exposed to moth preventives such as paradichlorobenzene.

You will need to remove any plastic buttons or trims if garments are stored with moth preventives.

Hang garments in a well-ventilated closet away from moisture and excessive heat. Protect them from dust with plastic or fabric dust covers. If hanging space is limited, fold garments and place in a large container to avoid crushing.

Do not store furs in plastic bags where air cannot circulate, thus allowing the leather to dry out. Furs need air.

Store clean wool garments separately from garments of other fibers and provide moth protection by sealing the container or using moth spray or crystals. Do not store acetate garments touching wool ones, as the acidity of the wool may fade some acetates.

It is best to fold knitted garments. Prolonged hanging may distort the garment's shape.

Protect leather accessories with a good wax dressing, such as saddle soap, paste shoe polish or a thin coat of floor wax. Applied to both uppers and soles of shoes, the wax keeps moisture out and helps prevent mildew.

SOIL INSECTICIDES INCREASE CORN YIELDS

Soil insecticides have increased Indiana corn yields an average 6.5 bushels an acre, says Dr. George Gould, Purdue University research entomologist.

This figure is from summaries of 151 research and demonstration plots in 24 Indiana counties in a five-year period. The increases ranged from nothing on soils having no problem to 91 bushels per acre on one field with a severe wireworm infestation.

FACTS ABOUT LICENSE PLATES

"Stub" Farlow is one of only five men whose faces appear on plates. The other four are the presidents on Mt. Rushmore National Memorial, reproduced on South Dakota plates. Farlow is a World War I era rodeo cowboy who rides a bronco on Wyoming plates.

In 1901 when New York state introduced plates, motorists made their own of tin cans and shingles. New York was the first state to require tags.

Seventeen states issue "safety" plates, which reflect headlights and help prevent night accidents, particularly deadly rear-end collisions. The glowing tags can be seen for 2,000 feet and are 150 times brighter than ordinary painted plates. K

The insecticides most commonly used were aldrin and heptachlor, but several others were also tested, according to Gould. Insects controlled were corn rootworms, wireworms, grubs, cutworms and others of lesser importance.

Both row and broadcast treatments were compared with best results obtained from the broadcast method. For aldrin and heptachlor, the standard dosage was followed. This is one pound actual toxicant per acre in the row and two to five pounds broadcast. The five-pound rate is needed on muck soils because of their high organic content which lessens the effectiveness of the insecticide. Row treatments are effective for one year and broadcast treatments for about three years. Broadcast treatments were superior for control of wireworms, cutworms, and grubs.

Standard equipment was used by Gould for applying the chemi-icals. In most cases, these consisted of granular applicators on the planter for row treatments and crop sprayers for distributing the chemical broadcast.

Broadcast applications must be incorporated into the top three or four inches of soil immediately after application; otherwise, the chemical starts to volatilize and disappear. For this reason it should be sprayed on plowed soil and disked in within an hour or two.

A youth from the hill country was taking his Army induction physical, the first such in his lifetime. At the conclusion, the doctor asked:

"Do you have any scars?"
"I reckon not, Doc," the hill-billy replied. "But iffen I could git mah clothes, I could let you have a cigarette."

$110 MILLION ASKED FOR SCHOOL MILK PROGRAM

Pure Milk Association today urged the Senate appropriations committee to appropriate $110 million for the special school milk program instead of the $100 million which the U. S. department of agriculture has proposed in its budget.

In a letter to all members of the committee, Avery A. Vose, PMA president, emphasized that the nation's population and enrollment in schools is increasing drastically and therefore an appropriation of $110 million is needed to keep the program as effective as in previous years.

He said the department's request for $100 million for the special school milk program is $3 million below the amount appropriated for the current year.

Vose pointed out that this pro-

"500" Drivers Begin Record Assault Saturday

Members of the racing fraternity today predicted new track records in excess of 160 miles an hour when official time trials get under way Saturday at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in preparation for the 49th annual 500-mile race on May 31.

Jimmy Clark of Scotland is expected to lead the record-breaking assault with the hope of becoming the fourth driver in Speedway history to win the No. 1 starting position for two consecutive years. The others are Parnelli Jones, a strong contender again this season, and Rex Mays and Eddie Sachs.

Clark set the current one-lap and four-lap records of 159.337 and 158.828, respectively, last May.

He and Jones are the only former pole position winners in the field of 68 this year. But Rodger Ward, Don Branson and Jim Hurtubise will be seeking front-row starting positions again and A. J. Foyt also is regarded as a strong contender for the No. 1 spot. All will be driving rear-engine cars.

Billy Foster of Canada, first rookie to pass his driver's test this season, heads the contingent of more than a dozen newcomers.

Speedway officials expect a tremendous turnout of race fans for Saturday's program and all gates to the grounds will be opened at 7 a.m. Contestants will be permitted to start practice at 9 o'clock and official time trials will begin at 11 o'clock, following traditional ceremonies on the main straightaway.

Sunday's schedule for the second session of time trials calls for the opening of gates and start of practice simultaneously at 9 a.m., with the first official qualification attempt at noon.

Sixty-eight cars are entered this year and only the fastest 33 qualifiers will be eligible for starting positions behind the Plymouth pace car on Race Day.

gram is a means of supplying school children with the nutritional requirements which the American Medical Association considers adequate for growing youngsters.

"The AMA recommends two to four cups of milk each day for adequate nutritional requirements of school-age children," he stated.

"Without the school milk program, many poverty-stricken American youngsters would not receive this very important nutritional boost which helps them to improve scholastically.

"We are spending billions of dollars annually through unemployment and aid to dependent children programs because we recognize the need to provide an adequate standard of living for American citizens who are unable to provide one for themselves. Many of these people are not working today because of inadequate education," he continued. "The special milk program provides young men and women from low-income families the additional nutrition they need to build strong bodies and develop keen intellects in these times when both of these characteristics are so vital to the survival of this nation," he declared.

"People establish their eating habits, either good or bad, for life during their school years."

Mankind's quest for immortality will be presented at Christian Science churches this Sunday through the story of John the Baptist and his relationship to Christ Jesus. Subject of the Bible Lesson is "Mortals and Immortals." Golden Text: "Thou art no more a servant but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ" (Galatians 4:7). The concluding Bible verse is from I Corinthians: "As we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly."

Related passages from the Christian Science textbook will include these lines: "The real man being linked by Science to his Maker, mortals need only turn from sin and lose sight of mortal selfhood to find Christ, the real man and his relation to God, and to recognize the divine sonship" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, p. 316).

LITTLE FEET
 WHAT PATH?

The future holds the secret, and it's anyone's guess! He may be a great statesman some day . . . or maybe a world-renowned athlete or actor . . . or perhaps a scientist . . . but most likely, just Mr. Average.

Of course, a lot will depend on his opportunities, his God-given talents, his character, and his training.

Anything could go wrong along the way — poor health, bad examples set by his parents and associates, a broken home, neglect, and false values. But why make a list? The possibilities for this child's failure in life are so numerous that it makes us shudder — and the worst of it, we can guarantee him nothing. But we can give him hope and faith.

Standing ready and anxious to help him is the Church and the precepts which it teaches. It is our duty and our privilege to help spread the spiritual principles of Christian living in practice as well as in word so that the youth of our nation will find some meaning to the path of life which so strangely twists and turns toward some hoped-for goal.

Do not forget Sunday School services each Sunday at 10 a.m. Attendance last Sunday was 57.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Society was held at the church on Wednesday evening. Eight ladies of the Hamlet society were guests. Mrs. Paul E. Winn had the devotions and the program on "Spiritual disciplines of the Inner Life" was given by Mrs. Leon Stark. Following the program in the Sanctuary the ladies enjoyed a fellowship time and refreshments at beautifully decorated tables in the basement.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Goodman were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bryan in Culver. The occasion honored the birthday of Mrs. Goodman. Mrs. Edna Bryan was also a guest.

Mrs. Nettie Wagoner, Mrs. Wilbur Geiselman of Culver and Mrs. Rommie Spurlock of Rensselaer were recent visitors in the E. Goodman home. The Goodman's were also recent visitors in the home of Roy Hay in Logansport.

The annual Daily Vacation Bible School here will be held May 31 through June 4 with the final session on Sunday evening, June 6.

Rev. and Mrs. Leon Stark and Kay left Sunday afternoon for Terre Haute where they visited until Monday afternoon with the Rev. Stark's 93 year old father.

Prayer Meeting and Bible Study is being held this week in the home of Grace and Harold Burton. A short meeting of D.V.B.S. workers is also being held during the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis visited over the weekend in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mathias in Bloomington, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. John Mathias in Quincy, Ill. Sunday afternoon they all motored along the flooded area of the Mississippi River near Quincy. John is manager of a 20,000 acre farming corporation for the Adwell Corporation of Chicago. Of this, 8,000 acres runs along the river with 7 miles of levee. This levee is patrolled every minute 24 hours each day by the men of this drainage district and so far the levee has held. It was the levee in the drainage district below the Adwell district that broke and was seen Sunday afternoon. It was 6 miles from the road across to the river that nothing but the roofs of the barns and houses, tops of trees and telephone poles could be seen. All farming equipment and movable objects were along the road side and high ground, moved out before the water came. It was a sight.

Mrs. Leon Stark and Mrs. Guy Davis attended the Officers Training and Nominations Workshop held at North Judson Tuesday for the southern half of the South Bend district of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. The same program will be held at the Stull Memorial Methodist Church in South Bend for the northern part of the district next Tuesday, May 18.

COUNTY SELECTED SERVICE BUSINESSES GROSSED $3.0 MILLION IN 1963

Marshall County's 198 service establishments had total receipts of $3.0 million in 1963, a decrease of 14 per cent from 1958, according to a report of the 1963 census of business just released by the bureau of the census, U. S. Department of commerce. The last previous census of business covered operations during 1958.

The service trades in the census of business included those providing: personal services to individuals; miscellaneous business services, auto repair and other auto services; and other repair services. Also included were motion picture production and distribution businesses; motion picture theatres; other amusement and recreation services; and hotels and motels.

The selected service trade establishments in the county employed 204 persons (exclusive of proprietors) and had a payroll for the year of $574 thousand. The state as a whole included 27,409 establishments with receipts of $686.9 million.

The bureau of the census report: selected services, Indiana, 1963 census of business, from which these data are taken, may be purchased from the superintendent of documents, Washington, D. C. 20402 and at U.S. Dept.

INDIANA FARM EXPORTS

One dollar of five of Indiana's 1963 total cash farm income came from sales to foreign countries.

Dr. Gordon A. MacEachern, Purdue University agricultural economist, gave this analysis of the impact of the export market on Indiana agriculture.

He found that in 1963-64, Indiana ranked seventh among the 50 states in sales from exports of farm commodities. The state's farms contributed about five per cent of the total exports from the United States.

"Indiana contributes a minimum of nine per cent of the feed grains, 15 per cent of the soybeans and eight per cent of the soybean oil exported," MacEachern noted.

An increasing share of U.S. farm production is being exported, the economist says, with agricultural product exports amounting to more than $6 billion in fiscal 1963-64. Indiana's contribution is estimated at $250.9 million.

"The farming industry in the state has such a large stake in farm exports," the economist asserts, "that any changes in world trade of major commodities produced in Indiana will have a direct impact on farm income and related industries."

"Certainly the present diversified nature of farming between crops and livestock... will provide some shelter or minimize the impact of export changes, but nevertheless the impact will exist in terms of income and enterprise adjustment."

To control mites and scale insects, Purdue University entomologists recommend applying dormant sprays to outdoor shade trees, fruit trees, shrubs and ornamentals in March.

In Indiana, after a day's fishing beer's the one... for good taste, good fun

Wherever you fish for sport—on the ocean, by the booming surf, or on some quiet country pond, it's great at the end of the day to head for a rewarding glass of beer. While you're talking over the ones that got away, or pan-frying the ones that didn't, you enjoy the hearty taste and cool refreshment only a glass of beer can give you so well. Yes, whatever your sport—bowling or strolling, golfing or gardening—a frosty glass of beer makes a naturally great accompaniment. UNITED STATES BREWERS ASSOCIATION, INC.

Caught In Lake Maxinkuckee

Shown here is William Baldwin of Crown Point with an eight-pound, four-ounce walleyed pike which he caught Wednesday morning in Lake Maxinkuckee. The pike, which measured 26½ inches in length and 16¼ inches in girth, was landed with a South Bend bamboo fly rod. It was entered in the Indianapolis star fishing contest by John Stealy, new manager of the Ha-Mac Landing at Culver.

JUNIOR HIGH FINISHES SECOND IN COUNTY MEET

The Culver Junior High track team finished a very successful season Monday night at Bremen. The Juniors finished behind Bremen by only 3½ points, 63 to 59½. Triton finished third while Argos and LaPaz tied for fourth and fifth. West Township finished with 14½ and Tyner had nothing.

The heart breaking loss was only the second time this year the team had been beaten, while defeating 13 other opponents. Phil White continued his unbeaten ways in the 60 and 100 yard dashes. Randy Burkett was defeated for the first time this season in the shot put, while having to settle for second. Altogether Culver won six first places, but lack of depth proved to be the downfall.

Other outstanding performances, other than by White and Burkett, were by Perry Smith in the low hurdles, and Kerry Haenes in the 880. Smith also ran an outstanding last leg on the 880 relay team to defeat a Bremen runner by only inches.
