Local Educators To Assist With New Reading Textbooks

Jere A. Goodman, Regional Sales Manager for Psychotechnics, Inc. of Chicago, announced today that a contract has been signed with Walter L. Powers of Plymouth to author a new series of junior and senior high school developmental reading textbooks and filmstrips to be published under the title of Optimum Reading Achievement.

Mr. Powers, Administrative Assistant for Curriculum Development for the Plymouth Community Schools, originally developed his program as the basic reading course for Plymouth High School students. Mr. Goodman states that Psychotechnics, Inc., specialists in training aids for industry and education throughout the United States, believes that this new series will be the first of its kind to provide an integrated and sequential developmental reading program for grades 7 through 12. The series is designed to bring reading speed into a perspective that makes common sense in the secondary school curriculum.

Mr. Goodman also announced that Mr. Powers has selected three local educators as consulting editors to assist him in researching and preparing Optimum Reading Achievement for publication. They are Arthur Hughes, English Department Chairman for Culver Military Academy, Patrick Hodgkin, English Instructor at C.M.A., and John Crittenden, Developmental Reading teacher at Plymouth High School.

Oral Vaccine Workers Urged To Attend Meeting

All workers who participated in the first Marshall County oral polio vaccine mass feeding on May 23, and others, are urged to attend an organizational meeting for the second or follow-up mass feeding. This meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Home, 118 West LaPorte St., Plymouth, on Tuesday night, Aug. 31.

Among those requested to be at the meeting are persons from all parts of the county and should include among others, representative groups of physicians, nurses, pharmacists, boy scouts, civil defense workers, auxiliary police, Legion, J.C., etc.

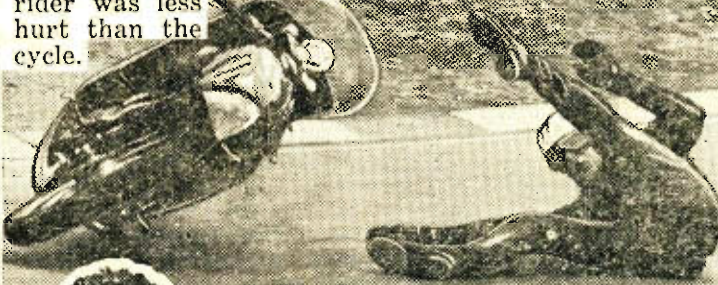

The turn out for the first feeding in May was disappointing in that only 30 per cent of the county population turned out whereas 75 per cent to 80 per cent participation is considered normal. A better understanding by the public of the continued need for this immunization will provide more turn out at the Sept. 26 feeding. It is hoped, persons who did not receive the first dose on May 23, may take their first dose on Sept. 26 and receive their second dose from their family physician not earlier than eight weeks later.

The oral vaccine will be conveniently available to all residents from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Argos, Bourbon, Bremen, Culver, and Plymouth. Specific locations in these communities will be announced at a later date.

NEW WHEAT VARIETY RESISTANT TO SMUT

Riley, the first loose smut resistant variety of soft red winter wheat having the short, stiff straw required by today's farmers, was announced today by the famed U.S.D.A.-Purdue University small grain breeding team.

Loose smut is a major problem in winter wheat production areas. This disease causes heads to turn black at heading time with complete destruction of kernel development in the infected plants.

Named for Indiana's noted poet, James Whitcomb Riley, the new beardless variety has yielded equal to the best commercial varieties now available. As a result of its stiffer straw this variety can be given higher fertilization which results in higher yields.

New races of leaf rust have appeared which attack the previously resistant Knox and Monon varieties. These new races appear likely to attack the new Riley varieties. The U.S.D.A. - Purdue breeders are working on improved varieties showing higher resistance to this rust.

Riley is resistant to the predominant races of Hessian Fly present in the midwest.

The new variety has been under development for 13 years since the cross was completed. Parental varieties were the well-known Knox, a close relative of Monon, now the most widely grown soft wheat in the midwest, and a loose smut resistant strain also bred at Purdue.

Riley is the tenth new wheat variety developed in the last 20 years by the breeding team which represents the Indiana agricultural experiment station at Purdue and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The breeders are Drs. R. M. Caldwell, L. E. Compton and J. F. Schafer, all of the department of botany and plant pathology; Dr. F. L. Patterson of the department of agronomy, and Dr. R. L. Gallun of the department of entomology and the U.S.D.A.

Foundation seed of Riley is being distributed to certified seed growers, who will produce certified seed for sale to farmers for planting in the fall of 1966.

NEW SUMMER ELECTRIC PEAK SET AT NIPSCO

A new summer electric peak of approximately 919,000 kilowatts was set at the Northern Indiana Public Service Company during the height of the long, hot afternoon, Monday, Aug. 16, as air conditioning units were used to capacity.

The new record, noted between 1:30 and 2:00 p.m., broke a short-lived peak demand from 11:30 a.m. to 12 noon Friday, July 23, of 903,090 kilowatts.

George L. Morris, NIPSCO manager of electric operations, said the new peak was met with power generated by the utility's three Lake Michigan generating stations and purchased power from neighboring utilities.

Morris pointed out the new peak was set while thermometers averaged between 85 and 90 degrees, which was lower than the readings when the previous high was recorded. He explained the warm weekend had built up heat in homes, businesses and factories so that greater cooling was needed Monday than during the previous "hot spell."

"This, coupled with the normal industrial load, did it," he concluded.

Indiana evaporators produced 71.9 million pounds of bulk, unsweetened condensed milk last year, say state-federal agricultural statisticians at Purdue University. This was seven per cent more than in 1963.

NFO MEETING SET FOR SATURDAY, AUGUST 28

Membership instructional meetings have been set up for NFO members in each five-county area throughout the entire NFO organized territory. The purpose of these meetings is to bring the NFO members up to date on the progress of the organization's bargaining efforts.

Charles Wilhelm, Marshall County NFO President, said that NFO members from Marshall County will be attending the NFO area meeting which is being held at the R.E.M.C. Building in Plymouth, Saturday, Aug. 28, at 8 p.m.

Charles Wilhelm stated, "NFO meat marketing arrangements whereby NFO members can sell together, have been a major factor in the price rise of hogs and cattle because the volume sales made by NFO members have brought new and keen competition to livestock buying."

The membership instructional meetings will include a discussion on meat marketing arrangements, their effect on livestock prices, their potential, and the next steps to be taken by NFO. A new NFO grain program will be announced and discussed. Plans to use the dairy bargaining power developed by NFO to raise the price of milk at the farm level will also be discussed.

A top NFO national official, Gene Potter, national director from Illinois, will be present to conduct the meeting. A thorough question and answer period will be held.

Mrs. Walter Von Ehr Entertains Members Of Golden Key Club

Mrs. Robert Cultice was a guest of the Golden Key Home Demonstration Club when they held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Von Ehr on Tuesday, Aug. 17.

Mrs. Richard Dehne opened the meeting with the thought of month, "The wife who drives from the back seat isn't any worse than the husband who cooks from the dinner table."

History for the song of the month "While Strolling Through the Park One Day" was read by Mrs. Robert Cultice.

A lesson on "Freezing Food at Home" was given by Mrs. Walter Von Ehr and Mrs. Richard Dehne. Some of the points of their lesson are as follows.

1. Use a good wrapping that will keep food from drying out and discoloring.
2. Best to freeze foods without mayonnaise as this separates.
3. Cooked egg white when frozen gets tough and rubbery.
4. Batters and yeast dough that are frozen before baking lose part of their leavening power.
5. Quality of fruit pies are best

if they are frozen before baking.

6. Most cookies can be frozen after baking or as dough.

7. More economical for a long time food plan than planning from day to day or by the week. It is best to freeze in quantities on slack days for busy day meals.

8. From the standpoint of quality and economy it is a good practice to keep foods moving in and out of the freezer, rather than holding them.

The names of Mrs. Walter Von Ehr and Mrs. Arnold Lowry were submitted to serve on a County Committee.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Arnold Lowry who read a poem entitled "Home and Mother."

The door prize was won by Mrs. Charles Wynn.

The next meeting will be held Sept. 21, at the home of Mrs. Arnold Lowry.

A family-style dormitory was what Florence Tanner was running in mid-summer with son and his family, and brother and his family of five children, plus other relatives and friends who dropped in for a happy visit with the Tanners (minus papa who is away studying this summer). Son David is hard at work on the final stages of his PhD requirements at the University of Chicago.

Sara Riewoldt and her husband had such a good time babysitting granddaughter Lisa while the little one's parents were off on a houseboat trip on the Mississippi that they are looking forward to the Bunches' visit to Culver in the near future with great anticipation.

Norm Mann is greatly missed from the Library's activities. He has not been feeling well and had to be gone from work for tests and treatment.

Linda Heiser, in charge of feeding the livestock at home, has decided that life in the country is not for her! Washington, D. C. seems to be much more on her mind, for some reason.

Ruth MacQuillan is looking forward to having her men-folks back home soon. Mac has been working hard at Purdue this summer while Malcolm was in Chicago doing social service work.

Alexander Kourmadas, born July 9, made it three boys for John and Mary. Jimmy, aged three, takes him in stride; Fred, six, who knows all about babies, is most solicitous. Grandmother Mabel Bishop plans on checking on him in the Fall. We understand that John had to put on the speed going through Washington, D.C., from their home in Alexandria, Va., to the hospital in Silver Springs, Md. Mary's and John's address is: 1804 Hackamore Lane, Alexandria, Va. . . . Col. John and Norma Henderson now have an even 20 grandchildren, thanks to Robert and Mary Henderson, of Columbus, Ohio. They are the proud parents of Susan Esther, who did her best to even off the boy-girl ratio, but the boys still have the edge on girls in the 20!

Congratulations to Eric Hughes and Roger Meredith, Top Dogs, in that order, in Woodcraft Camp. There are two sets of very proud parents on West Terrace! . . . Second Lieutenant "Chip" Bryant, assigned to the Adjutant General Corps, is in Korea after driving from Ft. Benjamin Harrison to San Francisco. He flew from Travis AFB to his Korean Base with plans being formulated to get together with his CMA buddy, Bill Gram, Jerry Graham's hubby, who is also stationed in Korea . . . Tina Hughes, Peace Corps Volunteer in Bolivia, has made her move to the Altiplano and her new address is: Base Otavi, Cuervo de Paz, Casilla 183, Potosi, Bolivia. She would appreciate hearing from anyone so that she can have mail to read when it arrives, once a month!

Dr. and Mrs. Norman Boyer, temporarily of Chapel Hill, N.C., where Dr. Boyer, on leave from State Department duties for special medical studies at UNC, were house guests of Col. and Ruth Graham. Their daughter, Cathy, had spent two weeks visiting Eley Graham and seeing some of the Summer School activities . . . The Ray Jurgensens enjoyed showing some special guests, Mr. and Mrs. Downey, from Melbourne, Australia, around our beautiful campus last week. The Downeys had accompanied their daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Warren Jurgensen, and their children, from Lexington, Ky., and are "seeing the U.S.A." for the first time.

Barbara and Art Hughes were in seventh heaven when granddaughter, Kristan Kalia, spent two weeks with them. Just incidentally, her parents, Greta and Ribbi, were along, too! Art even took some time out from the book on Composition and Usage which he's writing with Pat Hodgkin, to keep check on the young charmer! . . . For the first time in almost three years the "Wally" Walaitis family is together, with Jackie home for two weeks from Olean, N.Y., where she is a buyer for Bradner's Department Store, and son Bill is in from Japan, and Thailand, where he spent the past seven months. He is here for a month before going on to Orlando, Fla.

Big reunion was held at the Bryant household when Betty's brother John brought her mother, Mrs. J. M. McLaughlin, from Pittsburgh, and her brother Sam brought his daughter, Emma Louise, from St. Louis, to stay with Betty and Frank while the Messrs. McLaughlin and their wives continue from "half-way house" to Canada on a fishing jaunt. Betty is hoping to persuade her mother to "stay a spell" this trip.

Gordon Berg, six years absent from the CMA Faculty, stopped by to visit Mary Ellen and Horton Reed for a few days. While he was here, the Reeds had a few of his acquaintances of yesteryear in to chat. Al Bunner and Mac MacQuillan even left their homework at Purdue to come up to say "Hello". Gordon is teaching Math at Scarsdale High, Scarsdale, N.Y. . . . Col. Wally Leland made another one of his flying trips onto the campus to check up on old buddies for a few days last week.

Major Evans, beloved former Woodcraft mainstay, now retired, has been visiting the Dean Bensons the last two weeks. Hale and hearty now, he's residing in Janesville, Wis., and is using his free time to plan a trip with a friend this Fall up into Canada, the Gaspé and Nova Scotia!

Canada is popular with Culverites this summer. The Coke Smith family have just returned from a tour of the Gaspé, Quebec, North-eastern U.S. and on down to Richmond, Va., to visit families before returning to Culver. Sounds good, doesn't it? . . . Interlochen, Mich., with its National Music Camp, is also popular with folks here. At different times Allen Bray and John and Norma Henderson were guests of Mr. Britton L. Gordon at the Camp. Chaplain Bray was fortunate enough to be there when Van Cliborn was the guest soloist at the concert. Quite an experience! . . . Ruth and "Bennie" Benson had a New England month in July — a week at Cape Cod, then Dean Benson took off for a conference and Ruth spent the time with her sister, Mrs. Marion (Helen) Kenney, at Worcester, Mass. Then they had a week in the Green Mountains of Vermont to round out their vacation. The younger Bensons have had a busy summer: Bob is working with General Foods during the week, but has weekends free for Cape Cod, Tanglewood, and Jacob's Pillow offerings; Jane is home for the rest of the summer after a busy first term of Summer School at Washington University in St. Louis.

"Brownie" Brown is off to Cambridge, Mass., for at least three weeks, to work with John Mellon on their linguistics book. The Mellons have moved and their new address is: 88 Wright St., Arlington, Mass.

We are glad to report that, while she is still "taking it easy," she's well on the mend.

SECRETARY HIGHLIGHTS FARM ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, speaking before a farmers' group recently, pointed to the following accomplishments as evidence of how agriculture has "moved steadily upward on a number of fronts" during the past several years:

Farm earnings today are substantially better. Realized net farm income in 1965 is now expected to total $13.5 billion — the highest since 1953 and some $1.8 billion more than our farm families earned in 1960. We've succeeded in moving to more equitable farm price levels.

Farm spending has increased. Last year when gross farm income was $4 billion over the total of 1960, farmers increased their expenditures for automobiles by over $600 million and boosted other expenditures for capital goods and machinery by another $400 million.

Food is a better bargain than ever before. This year, for the average family food costs will take about 18.3 percent of income after taxes. In 1960, food required 20 percent — and the diet contained less beef. If the same percentage of income were being spent for food in 1965 as consumers were spending in 1960, they would have $7 billion less to spend on other things.

Food distribution programs are more effective. USDA's food programs are now reaching over 40 million American adults and youngsters each year. The volume of food distributed through these domestic programs has increased from 900 million pounds in 1959-60 to 2.1 billion pounds in 1964-65. In addition, a growing volume of food is moving into the homes of low-income families through commercial channels under the Food Stamp Program.

Farm exports are bigger. Sales of agricultural commodities overseas are expected to reach a new record of $6.1 billion in the current fiscal year. It will be the second year in a row with farm exports in excess of $6 billion, as compared with $4.5 billion in fiscal 1960. This means more than better markets, better incomes, for farm families — it means expanded job and income opportunities in the areas of processing and shipping — and it makes a substantial contribution to a favorable balance of payments.

The supply-demand relationship is better. Surpluses are down. Carryover stocks of grain by the end of this year will be at the lowest level since the mid-1950's which means greater farm price stability and a cut in storage and handling costs for taxpayers.

The Secretary pointed to these accomplishments as proof that "it is possible to base a reasonable, progressive, serviceable food and agricultural policy on a concept abundance rather than scarcity, benefiting producers and consumers alike."

"That doesn't mean," he said "we have achieved full parity in income opportunity for our adequate, commercial family farms or that rural America as a whole is moving ahead in job and other opportunities as rapidly as it must to reach our goal of parity of opportunity."

AUGUST 26, 1915—

Will Osborn has a new Maxwell touring car.

Jesse A. Blanchard and Mrs. Dessie M. McGinnis were married at the Evangelical parsonage by Rev. F. L. Snyder last Thursday evening.

The Charles Medbourn and Ira McLane families motored to Rochelle, Ill., last week and visited with Edwin McLane.

Fred Thompson has traded his old Buick for a 40 horse power car of the same make recently owned by A. M. Cleveland of Plymouth. Fred's old car has a record of 72,000 miles in six years and is still in good running order. That's "going some."

The big Overmyer reunion will be held here today.

BUYING SKIRTS AND BLOUSES

"Separates do more for me. They are more comfortable, casual, useful." A typical statement of a young American woman, these words reflect a fashion trend of two piece coordinated costumes — usually a blouse and skirt.

While two piece combinations eliminate some fitting problems, look for good fit and construction features that will maintain the shape of the garment throughout wear, says Mrs. Bonita Farmer, Purdue University clothing specialist.

Even though skirts are sized according to waist measurements, always try on a skirt before buying, she advises. The waistband should be snug but not tight. Look for a nonstretchable backing or inner belting in the waistband. There shouldn't be any strain, wrinkles, or cupping under through the hipline. The lining should be firm enough to withstand strain, to prevent wrinkling and stretching. Sit as well as stand in front of a mirror to check the skirt length.

Well-selected blouses can add variety to your wardrobe and extend the use of your skirts if colors are carefully coordinated. Blouses are sized according to bust measurement, but "try on" tests are always a good idea since different styles will have varying amounts of ease.

Pay particular attention to the fit of the neckline as alterations are difficult to make and binding or sagging necklines are uncomfortable. The blouse should be wide enough through the shoulders to let the sleeves fall easily but not so wide that the shoulder seams drop on the arms. There should be enough "give" through the shoulders to eliminate any gaping or pulling at front. Long sleeves should not strain across top or elbow line. The blouse should be long enough to stay in place as you reach, bend or sit.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Then you will visit a travel agency, study maps, read travel books, and talk with those who have already made the journey.
 And what about that far more important (and uncertain) journey . . . the journey of life?
 The Church offers wise counseling from those who have studied life.
 The Church presents you with a map formed from the fundamental truths of God and his directives for living.
 The Church interprets for you the greatest of all travel books, the Bible.
 The Church gives you the companionship of the all-wise Guide, who made this journey without a mistake, the Lord Jesus Christ.
 Agency, map, travel book and Guide for life's journey. Come to Church and find them all.

The Dwarf Pfitzer juniper is a better suited evergreen variety for small homes than the Common Pfitzer, according to Purdue University horticulturists. The Japanese yew and the Anglo-Japanese yew are also recommended for home plantings.

Beef cows can raise calves on pasture without additional feed, Purdue University extension animal scientists say pastures should contain 50 to 60 per cent grasses, such as brome or orchard grass, with the balance in legumes.

WHAT IS COLORFAST?

Hangtags and labels tell you if fabrics are colorfast. To buy colors that will last the life of the fabric, you should understand the label information, says Mrs. Bonita Farmer, Purdue University clothing specialist.

The words "Vat Dyed" indicate superior colorfastness. "Guaranteed Fast Color" means colorfast as long as you follow the care instructions given. You must assume that color will not stand more severe washing than the label indicates.

Since there is no law which specifies colorfastness statements, washing instructions may be your best clue to good buys in colorfastness. For example, children's playclothes labeled "hand wash only" may not be desirable since such washing might not get the clothes clean. Fabrics labelled "dry clean only" may be colored with dyes not fast to washing. Finishes such as wrinkle resistant or water repellent also improve color retention in fabrics.

Decide which colorfast requirements you want. Although most fabrics are not equally colorfast to all conditions, they must be fast to conditions for their particular use. Drapery and upholstery fabrics should be colorfast to sunlight. A party dress should be colorfast to perspiration and dry cleaning — but it does not have to be colorfast to sunlight. Towels, colored sheets and work clothing must be colorfast to washing.

Many manufacturers voluntarily subscribe to the L-22 standards established by the National Bureau of Standards. These manufacturers indicate on the label whether an article is washable or dry cleanable, what the temperature of the water for washing should be, and if the article can be bleached without damage. Look for this type of information on the fabric label to help you buy colorfast fabrics.

Missile To Be Displayed At Kewanna Festival

WRIGHT-PATTERSON AFB, Ohio — A U.S. Air Force AGM-28 Hound Dog missile will be displayed at the Kewanna Harvest Festival in Kewanna, on Aug. 26-28.

Slung beneath the wings of a B-52 Stratofortress bomber, two Hound Dogs give the Strategic Air Command bomber a triple-threat striking capability. The supersonic missile, with a range of 500 miles, carries a nuclear warhead. It can act as a pathbreaker for the bomber or can itself deal a knockout blow to a primary target.

Although the Hound Dog extends the useful life and striking power of the B-52, the pair of missiles accounts for less than half the total weapons of the aircraft.

The Hound Dog scents its target through a self-contained inertial navigation system. Independent of radar and radio control, this system cannot be jammed or decoyed. The system is preset before the bomber leaves the ground and can be changed during any part of the mission before the missile is released.

These missiles are elusive. They can be directed to one target, then abruptly change course for a different one. To add to the confusion of the enemy, the missile can be launched high, then come in low over the target. They can be launched low, then dive into the target from high altitudes. It is also possible for the Hound Dogs to be fired high and fly high or fired low and fly low. As a real bonus, the missiles can be used as auxiliary engines for the B-52 while in flight or at take-off. The turbojet engines of the two missiles add another 15,000 pounds of thrust to the bomber, and their fuel tanks can be constantly refueled from the B-52.

The Hound Dog display is from the Orientation Group, USAF, Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.
