Mrs. Edward Amond, 802 Lakeshore Drive, Culver, will be the director of the Marshall-Stark Development Center. Announcement of her appointment was made by Dr. J. Kent Guild, Plymouth, president of the board of directors for the Center for retarded and physically handicapped children.

Mrs. Amond is the former Shirley Drews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Drews, Knox. Her husband is the owner of Gold Coast Industries. The couple has two children, Douglas Drew, 3, and Kimberly Kay, 2.

Mrs. Amond attended Knox Community High School and Ball State University. She received a bachelor of science degree in elementary education from Valparaiso University and a master of arts degree in speech pathology and audiology from Western Michigan University.

Mrs. Amond is currently speech and hearing therapist for South Bend Community schools. She will leave this position next month to prepare for the January opening of the new Center for pupils from Starke and Marshall Counties.

She has been working closely with the board of directors for the Center and is now busy testing pupils who have applied for placement in the school. She is being assisted in the testing by Darrel Kraft, Plymouth, a psychologist employed by the Union-North School Corporation.

Dr. Guild, in announcing the appointment, said, "The board is very pleased about hiring Mrs. Amond as director. We are fortunate to have someone with her qualifications and experience. Her background in both counties will also be helpful."

Mrs. Amond holds a critic teacher's license and elementary education and speech and hearing licenses in both Michigan and Indiana.

Mrs. Amond will have charge of the teaching staff at the Center and will work with pupils who need speech or hearing therapy.

Mrs. Fern Fenimore, 77, of Hibbard Road, Culver, remained in very critical condition at Parkview Hospital, Plymouth, Wednesday morning, after being admitted for treatment of burns received in a fire at her home.

Mrs. Fenimore, widow of Edgar Fenimore, was burning trash Saturday morning in a wood burning stove in her kitchen when her clothing caught fire.

Mrs. Fenimore reportedly ran outside for help and her screams attracted a neighbor, Morgan Parker, who came to her aid. The woman received second and third degree burns on 85 percent of her body.

Two-Car Collision North Of Culver

Hillard W. Walmer, 68, of 192 North Terrace, Culver, was cited by Deputy Sheriff Dale Dodson for following too closely after a two-car accident one mile north of Burr Oak on State Road 17 at 2:40 p.m. Saturday.

Deputy Dodson reported that a car driven southbound by Penny B. Wakefield, 16, 405 S. Ohio St., Culver, was struck in the rear by Walmer's car, causing damage to the left rear of the Wakefield car estimated at $300, and $500 damage to the front of the Walmer car.

Dodson said the Wakefield car had slowed because of a man walking along the highway, and Walmer was unable to stop in time to avoid the collision.

Four-year-old Terry Wakefield received a bump on the head in the accident, while others in the Wakefield car were not hurt.

Board Approves New Insurance Plan For School

On Monday evening the Board of School Trustees discussed a comprehensive insurance program in which one policy would provide an all-risk type of coverage with more complete coverage than the many policies now used. Robert Cuitice of State Exchange Insurance Agency reviewed the proposed program with the School Board, explaining the increased protection which would be available under the new program. Several types of damage or loss not included in present policies would be added under the new plan.

After an extensive discussion, the School Board voted to initiate the new program promptly, since most of the policies in effect at present expire during December. The new insurance program will be handled in a cooperative plan involving the State Exchange Insurance Agency and Wayne Roe of the Leiters Ford State Bank.

In other business, the School Board held the legally advertised hearing on a proposed additional appropriation to cover repayment of temporary loans made earlier in the 1965 budget year, with payment of the loans to be made out of tax money to be received in December.

The steps for purchase of the site for the new unified high school were completed during November, and the new property west of School Street and south of State Road 10 will be available for the beginning of the construction of the new building in the spring of 1966.

The School Board authorized Superintendent Frank McLane to consider applicants for a custodial position at Culver School. This vacancy has been created by the resignation of Vern McKee, who has informed the school officials that he expects to accept a new position after the next two weeks. The School Board and Mr. McLane expressed their regret over losing the services of Mr. McKee, who has done an excellent job of handling the heating plant for several years.

FIRE DEPARTMENT calls should be made to Viking 2-2121. Note this number near your home phone.

Mail Mess: Post Office Struggles To Smooth Big Wrinkles In Zip Code

Northern Indiana mail service, or more accurately the lack of it, was the subject of a special story appearing in the Wall Street Journal on November 22. If Culverites have been suspecting that the letters they mail and receive are not moving with the speed and dispatch they were led to believe the new zip code system would bring, they may find the answer in the following Journal account of the problems being encountered at Rochester:

"How does a piece of mail get from this sleepy county seat of 4,900 in the heart of central Indiana corn country to Mentone, a hamlet of 800 a dozen miles to the northeast?"

"It travels 190 miles in four different directions, none of them northeast, that's how. Mentone-bound mail goes first to Kokomo, 50 miles south. There it's sorted from the flood of mail that pours into Kokomo from 87 towns in the area. Next, it's trucked 30 miles north to South Bend, bypassing both Rochester and Mentone on the way. From South Bend, it goes 60 miles southeast to Warsaw and finally, southwest to Mentone, where it's delivered, as much as four days after leaving Rochester.

"Paradoxically, the long, looping path this mail takes is part of a complex Government plan aimed at speeding deliveries and boosting the efficiency of the postal system. But talks with angry Hoosiers affected — and this includes everyone from small town businessmen to overworked postal clerks — indicate that the new system, far from speeding deliveries, is resulting in long delays, particularly in rural areas, and is swamping some post offices with incoming mail. These men point to the decline in mail service brought about by the new system as one more example of Government planning gone awry.

"The system is based on 552 sectional centers across the country. Each center sorts all mail going to and coming from smaller towns in a particular zip code district. The first three numbers of a zip code designate a sectional center. In cases where local train routes have been discontinued, the sectional centers do the sorting that was formerly done in mail cars. The sectional centers are one step in the post office plan to get the zip system in gear by January, 1967.

"Although the first sectional centers were set up as long ago as 1961, new ones continue to be opened. The snarls are particularly bad during the period when an area is changing over to the new system or re-arranging its established sectional centers. In fact, here in Indiana, mail service under sectional centers, while far from streamlined, brought few complaints until June, when four new sectional centers were opened and four old ones abolished. Then, as one Indiana postmaster says, "The roof fell in. On paper, the new setup looks smooth as glass, but in practice it's led to log-jams of mail in the sectional centers and deliveries as much as seven days late."

"This official points out that the letter from Rochester to Mentone first goes to Kokomo because Kokomo is now Rochester's sectional center. It then goes north to South Bend before being sent to Mentone because South Bend is Mentone's new sectional center — even though Mentone is just a few fields of corn up the road from Rochester.

"Ideally, a letter could take that long, roundabout path overnight and still be delivered the next morning. That was the post office's original intent. However, what postal authorities didn't count on or prepare for was the overwhelming avalanche of mail that poured into sectional centers such as Kokomo and South Bend on initiation of the new system. The Kokomo post office, in fact, was buried under such a mountain of mail that first week in June that it gave up trying to deliver second and third-class mail and concentrated on trying to handle the first-class. "The sectional centers just don't have the men or equipment needed to move that much mail," comments another Indiana postmaster.

"Perhaps hardest hit by slow mail deliveries are Indiana's 291 small local newspapers — all of the state's weeklies and those dailies with less than 10,000 circulation. Most of them are delivered by mail to subscribers, many of whom live on farms and in nearby towns . . .

"Just as affected, but less vocal than the newspapermen, the businessmen in Indiana's small towns. L. J. Castaldi, vice president of the Midwest Spring Co., in Mentone, says he must 'keep in constant and quick mail communication with our offices in Chicago. But an airmail, special delivery letter from Chicago to Mentone — 120 miles — usually takes two days to get here.' Mr. Castaldi says the same letter would have made the trip "in a matter of hours" before sectional centers. He estimates he has filed '100 to 150' complaints with the post office."

The Journal points out that while the problems in Indiana may be more acute, checks in nine states where the new system has been in operation from one to two years, reveal they, too, continue to have problems. Other places where overworked postal workers continue to battle mail jams were reported in Pikeville, Ky., Pueblo, Colo., and Wisconsin Rapids, Wis.

The feeling among some postmasters is that zip code may eventually provide "overnight mail delivery from any point in the nation" as promised by the new Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien. But former Postmaster John A. Gronowski's statement that sectional mail centers and zip coding would save $61 to $71 million in labor costs and reduce the postoffice payroll by 10,000 clerks seems quite out of reach.

First Argentina Exchange Students Here In January

Culver High School's first exchange students are due to arrive early in January and will spend two and one-half months here.

Miss Cynthia Allen, Culver Community School Corporation's Spanish teacher, received a letter Monday from the Inter-American Cultural Exchange informing her of the assignment of Ruben A. Preuss and Maria Christina Alessi, both of Buenos Aires, to Culver.

The Argentine students will be living with local families; Ruben will stay with the Leroy Davis family, and Maria Christina with the C. W. Epley family.

The Inter-American Cultural Exchange is based in Mundelein, Ill., and sponsors exchanges of United States and Argentine high school students during their respective summer vacations. Last summer Cheryl Zink of Culver and Sonya Showley of Leiters Ford spent their vacations as exchange students in Argentina.

Patricia Wesson and James Reilly
Are Wed In Grace Church Ceremony

MR. and MRS. JAMES E. REILLY

The Grace United Church of Christ in Culver was the scene of a lovely wedding at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 26, when Patricia Louise Wesson became the bride of James E. Reilly of Terre Haute.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar Wesson, Route 2, Culver, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Reilly, 1721 S. 26th St., Terre Haute.

Rev. Harold Hohman, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony before the altar which was decorated with baskets of pink carnations and white glads. The church was in candlelight with candelabra flanking the altar, and lighted tapers on the pews.

Mrs. Judson Dillon, organist, played the nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. William Trowbridge of Terre Haute, who sang, "How Do I Love Thee," "Wedding Hymn," and as the couple knelt at the altar she sang, "A Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor-length gown of white nylon velvet which she made herself. Her gown was fashioned in an empire style with chapel train attached and the long sleeves came to bridal points at her wrists. A half-hat of organza and lace petals outlined with seed pearls and accented with iridescent beads, held the bride's bouffant illusion veil. She wore a diamond pendant, a gift of the bridegroom, and carried a cascade arrangement of gardenias and red sweetheart roses on a white Bible.

Miss Barbara Hatten of Culver was maid of honor and wore a floor-length, empire styled dress of cranberry red nylon velvet and carried a cascade arrangement of gardenias and pink sweetheart roses. Bridesmaids were Miss Christine Hand of Culver, Miss Maxine Haycox of New Albany, Miss Kay Shuster of Rensselaer, and Miss Lois Koch of Terre Haute. They all wore empire styled dresses of pink nylon velvet and carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and red sweetheart roses with pink candles lighted in the center of the bouquet with red ribbon streamers. All of the attendants wore blusher veils and bows matching their dresses.

William Trowbridge of Terre Haute served as best man and groomsmen were William L. Reilly of Terre Haute, brother of the bridegroom, Burton Bronner, Stubbenville, Ohio, Daniel Boone, Indianapolis, and James Riley, Cleveland, Ohio. Ushers were Charles T. Wesson, Culver, brother of the bride, David Reilly, Terre Haute, brother of the bridegroom, and Glen Miller, Terre Haute.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wesson chose a blue nylon lace dress with royal blue accessories. Mrs. Reilly wore a rose pink chiffon dress with matching hat and shoes and white gloves. They each wore a white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Church Social Rooms, which were decorated with white paper bells and streamers. Approximately 125 guests were present from Detroit and Lansing, Mich.; Cleveland, St. Clairsville and Stubenville, Ohio; Evanston and Washington, Ill.; Seoul, Korea; Terre Haute, Orleans, Ft. Wayne, Indianapolis, New Albany, Rensselaer, Plymouth, Rochester and Winamac. The refreshment table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with a five-tier wedding cake and pink candles in crystal holders. Miniature two-tone pink carnations and fern entwined around the candle holders and at the corners of the table. Serving were the Misses Pamela Samuelson, cousin of the bride; Joan and Cheryl Dillon and Elaine Kaiser. Mrs. William L. Reilly and Mrs. Charles T. Wesson were receptionists.

Following a short wedding trip the young couple will reside at 104½ E. Main St., Bloomfield, Ind. For going away the bride wore a gold brocade ensemble she made from material she received from a pen-pal in Korea. She wore black accessories and her corsage was a gardenia and sweetheart roses.

The bride graduated from Culver High School in 1962, attended Indiana Central College, Indianapolis, and is a senior at Indiana State University, Terre Haute. The bridegroom graduated from Stubbenville High School in 1958 and is a 1965 graduate of Indiana State University. He is an elementary teacher in the Bloomfield School.

THE LEMON DROP KIDS

The small-town grocer was not in very good spirits, so he was not too pleased when the three small boys entered.

"I'll have a dime's worth of lemon drops," announced the first. The old man climbed the ladder, took down the candy jar, filled a small bag and returned the jar to the shelf.

"And what will you have?" he asked the second boy.

"A dime's worth of lemon drops."

"Why didn't you say so before?" asked the irritated proprietor. Turning to the third boy, he said, "Do you want a dime's worth of 'em too?"

"No sir," said the latter.

So the old man climbed up and went painstakingly through the whole procedure once more. As he sighed and dusted his hands he demanded of the third boy:

"Now what is it you want?"

"A nickel's worth of lemon drops," came the answer.

Postmaster Urges Preparation For Christmas Mailing

"Last Christmas the post office handled more mail than ever before, yet the operation was the most efficient in history," Postmaster E. W. Mattox said today.

Nationally about 99 per cent of the Christmas mail reached its destination before Christmas Eve.

"ZIP Code use and the cooperation of the public in mailing early were the main reasons for our success and with the same or better cooperation this year, we expect to handle even greater volume of mail with less effort than during the 1964 Christmas rush," the Postmaster said.

Mr. Mattox had advice which would help mailers prepare for the upcoming mailing season.

A. Up date last year's list and include ZIP Codes. The phone book is usually a good source for local addresses. All Culver addresses have the same ZIP number of 46511.

B. Prepare a gift list as soon as possible. Shop early to take advantage of full stocks. Be sure to have on hand enough shipping materials: boxes, tape, wrapping paper, etc.

C. Use first class postage on greeting cards. This assures their being forwarded if the recipient has moved or that undeliverable cards will be returned if a return address is on the envelope.

The postmaster advised again this year that poorly wrapped and loosely packed cartons are the major cause of parcel post damage. He also asked that all mailers make an effort to address their letters, cards and packages as clearly as possible and do not wait until the last minute to deposit all their gifts and greetings.

Girl Scout News

Everything goes easier with practice, and the Girl Scouts have been practicing: flag ceremonies, caper planning and most important their laws and creed.

This is a very busy time of year for the Girl Scout, rather she is a Brownie or a Senior Scout. Thanksgiving being the theme of the past few weeks, many hours have gone into planning handicraft projects and service projects relating to Thanksgiving.

Troop 47 made tray favors for the IBM Nursing Home at Plymouth, and a visit was made to the nursing home on Thanksgiving Eve. The girls, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Beruhart, Mrs. Kenneth Shei, and Kathy Welsh, visited with patients and sang songs for them.

November, the month of Thanksgiving, was chosen by many troops as a time of rededication to the Girl Scout motto, creed and laws by existing members.

Troop 52 finished the "My Troop Badge" followed by a surprise party given by leaders, Mrs. Jack Spencer and Mrs. Dale Heiser.

The first snow blanketing the ground has reminded most Girl Scouts that it is time to start plans for the Christmas season. We are sure the plans will be great and projects many.

I would like to remind leaders and scribes to relay their troop news to the Public Relations Director, especially during this holiday season, as there will be many troop activities and projects of interest.

Corps Engineer Reviews Career

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article was taken from the Nov. 8 issue of the Dallas Times Herald. Mr. Andrews, 7536 Caruth, Dallas, Texas, is a 1923 graduate of Culver High School and is the son of the late Charles Andrews of the Rutland community.

Converting the Texas forests and plains into an armed camp of airbases and army posts was the challenge faced by the Corps of Engineers soon after its Southwestern Division headquarters was opened in Dallas in February, 1911.

The last of the original 26 army officers and civilian engineers assigned the herculean task of preparing the bulk of the nation's World War II training grounds in Texas, Carl H. Andrews, retired Friday from the Corps of Engineers.

At 61, Mr. Andrews looks back on a career with the Corps that has seen its mission expanded from building flood-control levees to giant hydroelectric dams and sprawling space centers.

Mr. Andrews, who joined the Corps in 1923 as a junior engineer at Memphis, was among the 20 assigned to open the Southwestern Division office in Dallas shortly before World War II began. The team, soon joined by a giant force of army officers and civilians, was directly responsible for military construction during the early phases of the war. They made Texas the largest training center in the nation.

At the outbreak of WW II only airbases at San Antonio and Fort Bliss at El Paso were active. The Army Engineers were ordered to expedite construction of bases across the Southwest, and most were built to accommodate tens-of-thousands of trainees on a maximum 60-days notice.

Among the major installations the Corps carved out of the Southwest wilderness were the Army's Fort Hood, North Fort Hood, Camp Wolters, Fort Sill, Camp Maxey, and airbases including Carswell, Perrin, Bergstrom, Brownwood, Ellington, and Biggs.

"Everything was in short supply," said Mr. Andrews, who retires as assistant chief of the Corps engineering division. "A small group of Texas contractors" gave the nation a tremendous effort."

Mr. Andrews recalled that materials and supplies to build the camps was secured by priority reassignment from non-essential civilian jobs. Even labor was requisitioned for the emergency task.

Texas was picked by the Army for air and ground training primarily due to its climate and terrain, he said. "Then we were given about 60 days to build each installation."

Mr. Andrews, who has remained in charge of military building at the division level, was indirectly the overseer for construction of the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston and for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's grounds at White Sands, N.M.

When Mr. Andrews left Purdue University in 1923 with a degree in engineering to join the Corps as a civilian, he was assigned as a surveyor on levee construction on the Mississippi River. His starting salary was "a pretty good $1,800 a year."

"Back then the Corps built levees, and it wasn't until the late 30s that we got into the dam building business," he recalls. "And that was just for flood control. Now we build them for hydroelectric power, water conservation and flood control. More recently they have become major assets to the nation for recreational purposes."

As he looks on the work of the Corps on such projects as the Trinity River Development mission, he still thinks the Corps' program of military construction is of equal importance.

"It would do us no good to build all these great reservoirs unless we also built facilities to protect them," he said.

But he is all for the great dams creating the lakes throughout the Southwest.

"I plan to retire to some fishing and hunting I've been too busy to do," he said, surveying a wall map of the Corps of Engineers' lakes.

Mr. Andrews retires as engineering supervisor of the five engineer districts in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, New Mexico and portions of Kansas, Missouri and Colorado.

Thanksgiving Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jewell, Phyllis, George, and John were Mr. Jewell's two sisters and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Roberts and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keyser, Nancy and Sandra, all of Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Wise, Marilyn, Linda, and Buster, Plymouth; Mrs. Ed Dill (Gretchen) Dillon, Debra, John, and David from Macomb, Ill.; and Mrs. Bruce Ogden Sr., Culver.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Tousley for several days last week were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Duff of LaPorte, and Mr. Tousley's mother, Mrs. Mary Tousley of Royal Center. On Thanksgiving Day they were all dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Tousley in Culver. Thanksgiving Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ogden Jr. were Mr. and Mrs. James Bollen of Lake of the Woods, and Glenn Bollen of Kokomo.

Well, let's see what the teepee has to offer in the way of juicy gossip this week.

The original junior class of 1965 received their rings last Wednesday... congrats kids.

Brenda, Linda, and Suzi O., why are you so happy?? Couldn't be cuz' some certain seniors got their pictures Wednesday could it? Suzi Riester, you say you do not want anything in the teepee this week about you? OK — we won't put anything in.

What were Norm and Mike E. fighting about? Oh, you say they weren't fighting? How did you get your black eye then, Michael?

Diane Davis, we know you're a cowboy fan, but wearing a gun-belt in band???

What's the matter Karen B., somebody pop you balloon?? (chuckle)

Our pep club got off to a good start our first game, but on the way home some people like silence - Huh, Brenda and Elaine? It's a good thing Mr. Crabbe came back to class when he did. It seems he has taught his first period history class some manners.

Confidential request of anyone who knows: "Who's Bicol"?

Mr. Fouts really! Do you have to discourage the band members so with that original music?

Anyone want to know who the real instigator in fourth period English class is? Bob Crow — Can you tell us?

Say Brenda, did Bruce like his "original" birthday gift?

Linda B. Where were you 'til 12:00 last Saturday night? Oh, and how was Jan.

We hear that a few senior girls were out 'til 1:00 the other night. How did you guys enjoy the Holiday Inn?

Gee, that was a beautiful and inspiring concert on film Mr. Fouts let the band and choir listen to last week. Why'd ya go to sleep, Corky?

Hey, Gary D., does your hat come off that easy?

Carin M. Don't let Gary D. run to get on the wagon after this just because he loses his hat all the time.

It seems that Mr. Lawson has started a fad of his own. In case you're wondering what it is, he used a safety pin for a tie tae!

Joyce, who's coming home during Thanksgiving vacation? Maybe it's a guy from Indiana State?

We hear that another CHS Maiden has conformed to get her ears pierced. Where'd you get those new earrings, Tina?

Elaine E., what were you doing Saturday night — hmmm.

Paula, how did you finally get home from the party Saturday night? Could there be something to that?

It seems that the play that Patty O. wrote for SS3 didn't go off too well. Don't worry Patty, we can't all be playwrights. Better luck next time.

Last but not least, we want to say a big HI to Tom Bocock way down in Missouri. We understand he is a faithful reader of ours.

Well gang, see ya next week with more fun and games.

Teen Center — Here We Come!

By Vickie McKinney
Work! Work! Come on gang! Let's get this "teen center" rollin'.

About a month and one-half ago seven high school students got together to try and get a "teen center" started. Since then these seven students have raised their number to 24 (6 members from each grade). These students have gotten farther than they thought they ever would.

In the beginning, they knew they'd need a lot of support, but before they could get this support they needed the majority of the high school to be in favor of the "teen center." A poll was taken and 72% of the students voted "full support and attendance." The group took their poll rating to the Jaycees and discussed it with them. Later on, after they had raised their total to 24 students, both groups met again. They decided to get a group of four students, grades 9-12, and four Jaycees together to decide on rules and regulations for the "teen center." The people chosen to represent their classes are Mike Enstis, Linda Baker, Vickie McKinney, and Kerry Haenes. These people will be meeting soon and then we will really have this project in motion.

A place has not yet been selected for dances which the "teen center" will have.

Why don't we all pitch in and help these kids? I'm sure they could use your support, aren't you?

If anyone has any questions about the "teen center" please contact any of the following students: Marsha Guise, Valerie Carter, Ron Babcock, Phil Edgington, Barb Mikesell, Linda Fisher, Mike Enstis, Jack Lucas, Judy Thews, Vickie McKinney, Randy Wakefield, Kerry Haenes, Linda Baker, Karen Banks, Bob Crow, Bill Liette, Patty Overmyer, Vicki Clifton, Paul Hatten, Steve McCombs, Suzi Overmyer, Norma Davis, George Jewell, and Alan Banks.

Excited Young Father: "Quick tell me, is it a boy?"
Nurse: "Well, the one in the middle is."

"HANS" WEEKLY WINNERS

Disguising myself as a cheerleader, I have been able to view many of the area games in the past weeks. I have now seen most of the teams in action and should be able to bring my average up to where it belongs. Some of the more impressive teams include the Plymouth Pilgrims (contrary to someone else's opinion), the Knox Redskins, the Bremen Lions, surprisingly enough the Monterey Flyers, and of course the mighty Culver Indians. Al Kralovansky seems to be leading the area scorers with his 31-point performance against Mishawaka. Steve Norris of Rochester and Wade O'Dell of Argos are battling it out for second place.

In my third round of predictions Pioneer eeked out a double-overtime victory over Caston to ruin a perfect round. I still had a tremendous round predicting 9 out of 10. This makes it an incredible 83% which leads the county as far as predicting goes. The three games that I've missed out of 18 have all been upsets. Fans, that's pretty good!!!

We've had many secretary applications but no one seems to fully meet the requirements. Please, girls, KEEP TRYING! We need your HELP. The mail must go through!

As my feature predictions I'm predicting two South Bend games. On December 3, I'm taking Mishawaka over South Bend Jackson and South Bend Washington over St. Joe.

Now, back to the area games: December 3 —

South Central over North Judson — Anyone that can beat the Indians can certainly beat the Blue Jays.

Plymouth over New Carlisle — A post-Thanksgiving feast for the Pilgrims on New Carlisle.

Bremen over Walkerton — Check game of the week.

Cass over Rochester — Zebras will lose their stripes.

Caston over C.M.A. — Secret Agent 006.9 discovered the Co-dets wash their uniforms in FAL.

Monterey over Star City — Another percentage raiser.

Kewanee over Aubree — Aubree doesn't have what it takes.

Wakarusa over Triton — "You can't stop that many shots in three years in a row!"

CULVER over Knox — A real barnburner.

December 4 —

CULVER over North Judson — A double-victory weekend for the Indians.

Bremen over Bangs Township — Where's Bangs Township?

Monterey over Washington Township — Where's Washington Township?

Walkerton over Aubree — Walkerton is on the road to recovery.

LaVale over Triton — A toss-up.

Pioneer over Western — Panthers will growl again.

Just — Lovable Hans.

In our youth, the perfect gift for an 18-year-old girl was a compact. It still is — if it has four wheels.

The Junior High Culver Indians met the Triton Trojans on the Tippecanoe basketball court on Wednesday night, Nov. 17.

The eighth graders were beaten by a score of 30-40, although it was a close game all the way. The scoring for the game went like this. Box Score:

	FG	FT	F	TP
Listenburger	4	1	2	9
Lemar	3	2	4	8
Overmyer	2	5	2	9
Litheland	1	1	0	3
Gunder	0	1	3	1

Leading the Trojans was Slagbagh with a final total of 12 points.

Again the Indians felt the taste of defeat as the seventh graders fell to a loss of seven points, the final score being 29-36. Culver gaining only three and Triton pounding out eleven in the second quarter was a big factor in the score.

The next Indian encounter will be with the Argos Dragons, Dec. 2. The game will be played on the home court with starting time, 4:15 p.m. December 9 the Junior High will battle North Judson at North Judson with a starting time of 7:15

The 7th and 8th grade coaches are Jerry Wolfe and Jim Kline, respectively. Box Score:

	FG	FT	F	TP
Peters	4	4	2	12

Hard Work Pays Big Dividends

By Cheryl Zink

One of the requirements for the Argentine Exchange Student Program was that each student write a report concerning his or her trip. We were informed that we might illustrate the report with any slides or pictures we may have taken. The three best and most complete reports would receive prizes: $30 - for first prize, $20 - for second prize, and $10 - for third prize.

In all, there were 28 students and not more than three or four were sent to the same city. Some of the cities were Buenos Aires, Concordia, LaPlata, Mar del Plata, San Juan, and San Luis. Most of these cities were situated in different terrain so that few of the reports might have the same content.

On November 24, I received a letter from the IACE (Inter American Cultural Exchange) office stating that my report had been awarded second place. First and third places went to Denise Shafer and Avon Leekley, both from Chicago, Ill.

I had colored pictures and slides from the tour, of the school I attended, and of my family and friends illustrating the 16-page report. I also included Argentine stamps, a booklet of plants and flowers given to me by a schoolmate, and a plan, written in Spanish, I made for the practice class I taught at school. It was graded by a presiding teacher.

Faculty son Jim Spencer has bought the Owyhee Avalanche, and resurrected the newspaper from its 35 year old grave, in the near-ghost-town of Silver City, Idaho. Fall Festival houseguests of Don and Jean Bivens were the Ned Kilkennys from Mt. Vernon, Ohio. Mrs. Kilkenny's brother, John Zuccaro, was a Culver graduate, and it was through her that the Bivens had their first connections with the Academy. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rickett, Larry's parents, made the dash from Wooster, Ohio, to Culver to stay with young Connie and Carl while Larry and Donna, along with Jerry Thomas, spent Saturday and Sunday of Fall Festival weekend with the high school group from the Methodist Church downtown, at Lake Webster. . . . Norma and John Henderson came down from Interlochen, Mich., to spend a weekend at home over Teachers' Institute.

Mrs. Ruby Walker, mother of Tom Walker, spent a week the early part of November with Tom and Charlotte. . . . The General and Mrs. Spivey, Sally Spivey, Russ and Sunny Blair, and others made up a party at the Army-Air Force tussle in Chicago Nov. 6. Bob and Sally Reichley and Nancy, Bob Hartman and Cindy Marshall were cheering spectators at the game, too.

Thanksgiving visitors will be coming into Culver shortly. The first we've heard of are Dorry Mitzell's mother, Mrs. Fred Muma, from York, Pa., and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen. Mrs. Nancy Worley, the mother of Sally Reichley, will be coming from Jacobus, Pa., at the same time. All the visitors plan to spend a week, through Thanksgiving. . . . The Saturday morning dance classes of Nov. 6 were delighted to have Christine Stevens with them again while she was visiting Marsha Estey, on a week-end away from her new home in Cape Girardeau, Mo.

Erna Short and Phyllis Heiber, well know artists in this area, will be exhibiting two each of their works at the Northern Indiana Artists' Guild showing the end of November. The preview and reception of the showing will be held Nov. 28, from 2-5 p.m. on the mezzanine at the Pick-Oliver Hotel in South Bend.

Phyllis and Erna's works will also be included in the Winter Exhibit of the St. Joseph Valley Water Color Society, again at the Pick-Oliver. This exhibit will open with a tea Dec. 12, from 2-5 p.m., and will run until Jan. 6.

The Plymouth congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has been informed that their semi-annual Bible convention will be held in LaPorte on Dec. 24-26. The announcement was made at the Kingdom Hall by Mr. Stanley Spangler, presiding minister of the group.

Sponsored by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Brooklyn, N. Y., world headquarters of the organization, the meeting is expected to draw about 1,200 ministers and their families from 7 congregations of Northern Indiana and Southwestern Michigan. Directly in charge of the program will be Mr. Harry A. Metzlik, district supervisor covering Indiana, Michigan, and Ohio. A feature of the assembly will be a public Bible discussion at 3 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 26, by Mr. Metzlik, on the subject, "What Does the Resurrection of the Dead Mean for You and Yours?"

To accommodate new ministers, an ordination and baptism ceremony is to be held during the assembly. "Since about 80,000 new ministers come into the organization each year, the group has been referred to as the fastest growing religious movement in the world," Mr. Spangler said. He added, "Scripturally every Christian is a minister, and is obligated by his dedication and baptism to follow the example of Jesus and the apostles in their preaching activity".

Following the meeting, Mr. Dennis Bennett, the circuit supervisor, is scheduled to visit each of the congregations represented, with a view to strengthening the organization, and putting into practice the things learned at the assembly.

THE GOOD LIFE

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Newspapers

Early Hoosier papers, it has been said, were done with swamps and on a cider press for publishers had little else with which to work.

They printed a lot of odd-ball stuff, a great amount of trash and the process most of the material at early settlers had to read. The papers fell by the wayside and made successes.

The first printer in Indiana territory was Elihu Stout, who, in 1804 brought his press and materials by river from Frankfort, Ky., to Vincennes and there founded the "Indiana Gazette."

Stout's paper was burned out and started over again, and he renamed it "The Western Sun." Today's Vincennes daily paper is called "The Sun-Commercial."

Judge John Law, a personal enemy of Stout's, in his sketch of Vincennes, told some interesting things about the pioneer publisher. He said: "About the 1st of March, 1804, he (Stout) purchased a press and type in Frankfort, Ky., and these, with a small amount of printing material, were shipped on the Kentucky river in a small craft for Vincennes. Mr. Stout immediately set to work on horseback and reached Vincennes on the 4th of April, 1804, and procured a room for the reception of the type and press, which did not arrive until sometime in June, having been transported all the way by water in boats propelled by hand. As soon as they arrived however, Mr. Stout commenced preparations for printing a paper called the 'Indiana Gazette,' and on the 4th day of July, 1804, the first number of the paper was issued, and its publication continued with all possible regularity for about 18 months when its publication was suspended on account of an accident by fire, until other materials could be procured. These were secured as soon as circumstances would permit, from Kentucky, and the publication of the paper was resumed, its name being changed that of 'The Western Sun'."

Judge Law said that Stout all these early months had to transport his printing materials from Frankfort, Ky., by horseback, along with him on these trips were three horses, one for riding and two for packing.

Indiana's state archives show that there were at least five newspapers operating in Indiana when the state became a member of the union in 1816. These were "The Plain Dealer" in Brookville, "The Cornucopia Of The West" and "The Western Eagle" in Madison, "The Indiana Register" in Vevay and "The Western Sun" in Vincennes. Microfilm copies of some issues of these papers can be seen in the State Library and they are carefully preserved and guarded by Miss Margaret Pierson, State Archivist.

Some other very early Indiana papers, copies of which are extant, are the "Indiana Gazette," of Corydon (earliest copy Aug. 19, 1817), "The Brookville Enquirer" (earliest copy Feb. 5, 1819), "The Indianian" of Jeffersonville (earliest copy Nov. 13, 1819), and "The Indiana Oracle" (April 15, 1820) in Lawrenceburg, "The Tocsin" (April 8, 1820) in Salem, "The Indiana Republican" (Jan. 16, 1817) in Madison, "The Indiana Centinel" (May 22, 1819) in Vincennes, the Indiana Centinel and Public Advertiser" (July 11, 1807) in Vincennes, and the "Western Sun and General Advertiser" (Dec. 6, 1818) in Vincennes.

the wilderness, and their publishers were the men who assumed the task of supplying their fellow pioneers with news of the world. From their humble beginnings has grown the fourth estate of Indiana, a business which today leads the nation in number of newspapers per capita. Only four states have more newspapers than Indiana and all four have more than twice the population of the Hoosier state. The reason for this is primarily that Indiana has such a large number of prosperous, medium sized communities. Indiana's newspapers rank 11th nationally in total circulation.

The first newspaper west of the Alleghenies was the "Kentucky Gazette," in Lexington, in 1786; the first north of the Ohio was the "Centinel" of Marietta, Ohio in 1793 and the first in Illinois was the "Illinois Herald," of Kaskaskias in 1814.

The earliest newspaper in our capital city was "The Indianapolis Gazette," first published on Jan. 28, 1822. At the time Indianapolis had been laid out but six months, no man had owned a lot in the place over four months, there was no road into it, no way out of it and no other business yet established in it. There was no mail and no post office, not over 500 souls in the entire area of Marion County and no advertising business. The newspaper was the first business in Indianapolis. But, in spite of all the roadblocks, the "Indianapolis Gazette" made it throughout the 1820s!

Indians Open Home Season With Loss To Bremen

Knox and Judson Weekend Games

By Bob Shirrell

Last Friday night, Nov. 26, the Culver Indians played their first home game and lost to the Bremen Lions by a score of 70-53. This is the second loss for the Culver squad in the yet-young season.

During the whole game the shooting from the floor was about even. The Indians got a total of 46 points and the Lions got a total of 50 points. The real shocker is the number of free throws each team took. Bremen took 34 free throw shots and got 24 points; Culver took only 13 shots and got 7 points. This difference of 13 points drastically affected the outcome of the game.

Senior Bruce Lindvall led the Culver team by scoring 20 points. All of Bruce's points came from floor shots; he didn't take any foul shots. Bruce was followed by his classmates Andy Lowry and Mike Eustis who scored 11 and 9 points, respectively. As a team, the Indians hit 41 per cent of their shots from the floor and 54 per cent of their shots at the free throw line.
