School Board Accepts Bids For New School Bus

The Board of School Trustees of Culver Community Schools on Monday evening received bids on a new school bus chassis and bus body. The bid of Gates-Calhoun Chevrolet was accepted for the chassis, the total price being $2948.73. Kerlin Bus Sales and Service of Silver Lake was the successful bidder for a 60-passenger Thomas school bus body, the price being $3826.50.

Other chassis bids were as follows: West Side Truck and Machinery Sales of Plymouth for an International, $3262.89; Ray Wicker Ford Sales of Culver, $2971.00. Bids also were received as follows for the bus body: Imperial Equipment Company of Lafayette, $3804.30 including alternates for a Bluebird body; Schoolcraft, Inc., of Indianapolis, $3965 with alternates for a Wayne bus body; and Leonard Supply Company of Silver Lake, $3941.40 for a Superior body.

In other business, the Board discussed maintenance problems to be completed this summer. Included in these is the need for extensive repairs to the roof on the Culver High School building and conversion of the heating plant to oil or gas. The Board decided to ask local heating companies to secure engineers' estimates on the heating project, including renovation or replacement of the smoke stack.

The School Board heard a report on the teacher situation by Supt. Frank McLane and Supt.-elect Robert Rust. Faculty replacements for several positions have been secured. Mrs. Sandra Middleton will teach third grade at Culver; David Ulrich will teach departmental science and health in the sixth grade; Lynda Ulrich will teach social studies and English in the junior high school; Vernice White will have mathematics and commerce at Culver; and Paul Schmida will fill a mathematics position vacated by Ernest Dillman, who will teach at Warsaw next year. Vacancies still exist in French, Spanish, art, industrial arts, and grade four at Culver. At Aubbeenaubee School teachers for girls' physical education, Spanish, and mathematics are needed.

Board members and administrators expressed their dissatisfaction because of the slow progress in the architectural and engineering plans for the new high school. The preparations of the final plans and specifications, originally to have been completed by February, still have not been accomplished. Superintendent McLane was directed to insist on a definite commitment by the architect on a date for completion of this work.

By Mary Whitman

"Telling time" by blowing the fluffy seeds off a dandelion, "snapping" a snapdragon, and making a Jack-in-the-pulpit "preach" are age-old flower games enjoyed by children.

Almost everyone has played "he loves me" or "he loves me not" by pulling petals from daisies.

"Do you like butter?" Little girls are still anxious to tell you by holding a buttercup under your chin to see if it casts a bright reflection.

Any field of knowledge is fascinating when it's approached as a game, with facts added later as curiosity grows. Even the simplest family outing helps a child learn. Gardening, trips to parks and woods and nurseries all become adventures as a child adds to his information.

A number of fine juvenile books can help a youngster along the way... and even engross adults. Did you know that 600 years ago in Syria you could lose your head for picking a crocus? Did you know that the primrose was once used to treat headaches and the marigold to improve eyesight? Or have you ever eaten flowers?

You can find recipes in ancient cookbooks for day lily soup, for eggs scrambled with rose petals, for boiled cattail buds and for candied violets, we learn from a flower book published by Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin. Editor Dorothy Haas points out that a book of this kind tells how plants grow, how they were christened, and how nature has provided for replenishing the world's wealth of flowers.

There are more introductions to the world of plants and nature in a number of books found at local variety stores and libraries. Using books as a guide a child may go on to mount leaves, seedpods, wildflowers and weeds. Framed, these make attractive wall decorations for a child's room. Or arranged in scrapbooks they can add with 4-H work or school credits as he studies botany and other subjects.

HOW AMERICA GREW

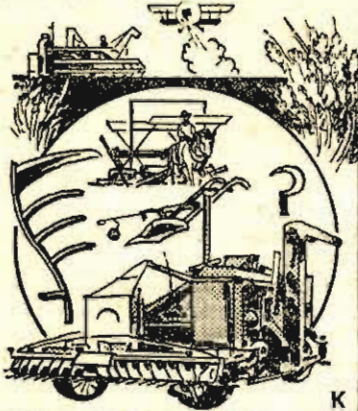

FROM THE FARMS, GREATNESS

THE PIONEERS literally planted their lives in the virgin soil to give us our legacy of freedom. The first crude log cabins sprang up in the deep forest, while sod houses were built on the treeless plains. Early settlers followed streams, where precious water was plentiful. As raw land became scarcer, wells were dug on higher fertile ground to obtain water.

THESE FARMERS and their valiant wives toiled down through the years. Their life was a never-ending saga of work, privation, and courage. The women worked side by side with their men without complaint. Their thoughts were always for the future of their children. Today, one farmer can raise the same crops it took 50 farm families to produce only 75 years ago.

A LIVING TESTIMONIAL to these early settlers can be seen in the world's largest display of agricultural tools at the Pioneer Village in Minden, Nebraska. Here, just 12 miles south of I-80, on three city blocks in south central Nebraska, stands 22 buildings dedicated to the common man, where in just a few hours you can truly see exactly how America grew.

Armed Forces Day Open House May 21 At Bunker Hill

Bunker Hill AFB, Ind. — "The biggest and best yet."

That is the goal of the Bunker

Hill Air Force Base 1966 Armed Forces Day open house, Saturday, May 21.

Aircraft displays, including this Strategic Air Command installation's B-58 Hustler, KC-135 Stratotanker, HH-43B Huskie and others; marching bands, including the Purdue University All-American Marching Band; and many "surprises," will highlight this year's celebration.

Air Force equipment such as survival gear, a KC-135 boom, jet engines, generators and turbines will also be displayed and demonstrated. Sandwiches, soft drinks and other snacks will be available at food stands stationed within the display area.

Armed Forces Day is held each year during the third week of May to provide the American public with an opportunity to view and inspect the preparations of their Armed Forces. The slogan for this 17th annual observance of Armed Forces Day is "Report to the Nation."

Army Commendation Medal Awarded To Donald E. Hand

The United States Army Commendation Medal has been awarded to Specialist E4 Donald E. Hand of Culver for meritorious service while stationed overseas.

Presented early this year at Headquarters VII Corps, Moehringen, Germany, the coveted and high ranking award to the Culver soldier was among seven awarded for merited accomplishment over a three year period.

The citation lauded the significant contributions of Specialist Hand to the 3rd Battalion, 21st Artillery over a period extending from July 13, 1964 through January 30, 1966.

"Throughout this period Specialist Hand performed duties normally assigned to persons of appreciably greater experience and higher grade, including commissioned officers, and he performed these duties in an outstanding manner. Frequently officers preparing papers have sought and gained his valued advice.

He has consistently demonstrated the highest qualities of individual character and he significantly contributed to the overall operation of the S-3 section.

Specialist Hand's dedication, initiative, industry and competence reflect distinct credit upon himself, his unit, VII Corps and the U. S. Army."

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hand, State Street, Culver, Specialist Hand was separated from the service, February 4, 1966 after two years service with the Armed Forces. He is a graduate of Culver High School, class of 1960. Don is residing in Fort Wayne where he is associated with International Harvester. He is continuing his education by attending Indiana University Extension Center at Fort Wayne and plans to attend Indiana University, Bloomington Campus, this fall.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOL

Since Robin saved Batman from his mighty jam with the Joker, they both decided to come to Culver High to tell and hear the latest gossip.

It seems Gary Davis is starting a boarding house for the summer. What about this Gary?

Say Skip and Becky do you really like to throw frosting at each other? Well, as we hear you sure did a good job at it last Sunday!!

As we all know from last week's Teepee Steve Bair is working at the Root Beer Stand. We hear you broke a jug and got everything turned around your first night. Cheer up you have all summer to do something good!!!

It seems like Karen S. sure likes to get into trouble 4th period. Say, Karen aren't you supposed to be in class that period? Well, then how in the world can you get into trouble?

Norma, Debbie, Kathy, and Linda S. do you really enjoy crashing parties that well? It seems like you had some fun crashing Nancy O. and Mary Ann's party the other night, and then deciding to leave and go see Kirk. As we hear you had some trouble getting out of his basement without getting caught! O.K. girls tell us your little secret!!!

Say, Bill, Steve, and Sam what did you three do in gym class to make Mr. Klise mad at you? Oh, you say it's a secret!!! O.K., but if anyone is interested get the info from Mr. Klise!

It seems like Bob Crow had some trouble the other day and broke his leg. Bob, you know that you aren't supposed to say mean things to Cheryl, and just because you did Cheryl decided to let you join the club of "teasers"!!

Everyone beware of the Chemistry room during 4th and 5th periods. It seems Mr. Wolfe is being sneaky and giving his students little bottles to analyze. Oh, a word of caution to all you students, don't be fooled by food coloring.

Well, Batman and Robin have to leave and go to work on another case, so until next week BE GOOD or Batman might get you!

Lowry and Hatten Set New High School Marks

On May 10 Culver trounced Oregon-Davis's TVAC (Tippicanoe Valley Athletic Conference) champs 78 1/2 to 39 1/2 in a record setting track meet.

Culver's Mark Lowry avenged an earlier defeat by soundly trouncing Oregon-Davis's half millers. Mark, who was pushed only on the first lap, came into his own by setting a new school record and area best mark of 2:05.5 for the 880 yard run. Mark also ran the second leg of the winning mile relay.

Paul Hatten, the areas best two miler, switched to the mile and set a new school record of 4:49.1 for the 1760 yard distance. Paul was pushed for the first five laps by Oregon-Davis's Neil Blair but took off on the last lap to beat him by at least two seconds. Ron Babcock finished third in both the mile and the 880, running the mile under five minutes and the half in 2:12.

Andy Lowry was Culver's only double winner taking the high hurdles and the shot put. Andy flew over the high barriers in 17 seconds flat and put the shot 43' 5 1/4".

Charlie Poor won the 100 yard dash in 10.9 seconds and placed second in the 220 yd. dash. Terry Clifton won the 440 yd. dash in 56.2. John Milner won the low hurdles in 23.7. Gary Davis won the 2 mile in 11:02. George Jewell won the broad jump and Norm Johnson won the pole vault. During the whole meet Culver only lost two events: the 220 yd. dash and the high jump.

This ends Culver's dual and triangular meet season on a winning note. The boys have done a good job this year and deserve to be congratulated. SO CONGRATULATIONS.

Election Results

On May 10, the second Tuesday in May, the students at Culver High School went to the polls to vote for their class, club, and organization officers of their choice. Each student had to go in his own free time, unless he or she did not prefer to vote.

It looks as if all students did a good job in picking next year's officers, and we do hope it will be a good year for all of them.

The eighth graders to be have chosen Jim Baker as their president, Terry Babcock will be the vice-president, Mary Jo Fishback as the secretary, and Jan Shock as the class treasurer.

Next year's freshmen elected Fred May as president with the help of Cheryl Sturdevant as vice-president, Mary Ann Lewis and Joy Borg will be secretary and treasurer respectively.

A Piece of Paper Worth $65,000

It's a proud moment. The orchestra is playing "Pomp and Circumstance." He's just received congratulations . . . and a piece of paper that may be worth $65,000.

What is it? His high school diploma. It's a mighty valuable asset for anyone who's ready to begin looking for a job.

The competition these days is tough. But he has an edge over those who didn't finish high school. He has a better chance of finding a job . . . and a better chance of keeping it. What's more, according to a recent survey, he stands to earn more in his lifetime . . . an average of $65,000 more . . . because of that high school diploma.

If he goes on and finishes college, he can expect to earn even more. How much? On an average, $100,000 more in his lifetime than someone who stops at the end of high school.

Just as businesses compete for sales, people compete for jobs. In either case, the one who is best equipped has a competitive advantage. When it comes to personal equipment, one of the best assets you can have is a good education.

It seems everyone is getting caught up with the secret agent bit anymore and now it's my turn. I decided to pick a subject that would really test my prowess as an agent. For the time being I will call her Q. T. Hush.

Q. T. arrives at ye old school at about 8:04 exactly. What's that, a disguise? Oh, I see, it's just her red nose from the cold. Smothering along the lockers I see her turn and go to her locker where she deposits her coat and picks up her books for her first period class — study hall. This is excitement? I thought trailing people was supposed to be exhilarating. Ah, things are picking up! She's looking furtively up and down the hall for someone. She walks up to me and asks if I've seen "that pickle". What's she trying to do, blow my whole act? As a smile spreads over her face I notice that the pickle has just now arrived. From then on she can be seen messing around the halls until about one minute 'til the bell, when she rushes to her seat.

First period is spent frantically trying to do the impossible — Algebra. The bell has just rung and she heads for Algebra class. My cohorts tell me that this time is spent watching and waving to the people who walk by in the hall. Although she does generally listen to Mr. Dillman. There's the bell, and she rushes to choir. Aha, now I see what all the rush is for! There's that boy-better known as pickle. It seems he takes choir too. In between songs they carry on the usual romantic conversation, calling each other pig and porky, and exchanging gruesome faces.

This period being over, they now head for their fourth period class, English. Actually, they're pretty quiet this period. Although it could be because she is too busy talking to her friend. (I won't divulge the name on the grounds it might incriminate me.) At 11:55 she hungrily races down to the cafeteria line. Once she has her tray in hand, she slows down. No sense hurrying now — he won't be back until 25 after.

It's now noon hour, our suspect is wandering around the hall's with — yes — you guessed it, that boy. Tsk, tsk. One minute before the bell for fifth period she races to class (she ought to go out for track) and spends the next hour moaning and groaning over her chemistry. It's now time to head for the highlight of the day, History class with Mr. Crabb. She spends her time giggling, talking to those around her, and once in awhile listening to Mr. Crabb.

There's the bell again and there she goes. Wonder why? Oh, yes, a common problem to most girls — that boy. She studies, well, she looks like she studies for the next hour in Study Hall. What could be so interesting between Claude and Q.T.? Ah, relief, it's the end of the day. She talks a short while to her pickle and hurries home to change her clothes. Then on to work on the Prom decorations. If, by some remote chance, you haven't guessed who my suspect is, it's Diane Nelson, otherwise known as Kay or Porky.

Sixth Grade Elections

By Marilee Herrmann

Our sixth grade classes were allowed to vote for the first time on May 10, 1966, the day of the school elections.

Each section voted on two candidates from their section for each of the offices (Pres., Vice-Pres., Sec., Treas.). They then voted for two out of the six that were running for each office. The names of the people were put on the official ballot slip. Each sixth grader received one as his turn to vote came up.

Next year's seventh grade officers are: Tim Overmyer, president; Brad Bennet, vice-president; Pam Hartz, secretary; and John Jewell, treasurer.

Congratulations go to the new officers, and to the whole sixth grade class for doing a wonderful job.

What if . . . the study hall clock was on time? torches weren't so hot the ceiling would stay up in Mrs. England's room the Juniors had to make another term paper you believed it? things went better with 7-up? submarines could travel in wet cement? Mr. Wolfe got drafted? school was on Saturday and Sunday, and vacation was Monday through Friday? the academy was a girl's school? the semester exams were cancelled? that door behind the piano in study hall is actually the secret entrance to Batman's cave? the teachers had a sit-down strike?

Early Morning Fantasy

By John Krieg

In my opinion, there is nothing more challenging and intriguing than to get up before the sun and go fishing.

I usually get started around five o'clock, when it is still dark and everything is quiet. I'm careful about getting my equipment together, and leaving the house, for I don't want to wake the rest of the household.

While walking down Washington Street toward the lake, I see no living things, except for a few songbirds in the treetops. The streetlights are still glowing and the moths and gnats are continuing their endless efforts to get closer to the light bulb.

When I finally reach our misty Lake Maxinkuckee, a light fog is rising and small waves are softly slapping the shore. Far off into the distance I can hear the carp jumping and the silver bass placidly engulfing the minnows that have gone out too far.

Time seems to be no object in this early morning's wonderland, but I know that soon the sun's first rays will appear through the trees, far off into the east.

As I'm getting my fishing rod into the boat, I can barely see a pair of turtles crawling along through the barrage of rocks and seaweed. A few frightened skip-jacks are racing across the water, closely followed by a hungry bass.

After a few minutes of day-dreaming, I unchain the boat and put the oars into the locks. I don't have to row very far, for the water is bubbling with various kinds of fish.

I usually stop to look around, after which I drop anchor and begin fishing. They don't strike at my lure for some time because they're careful about attacking objects which appear out of the sky. But after it is drawn through the water a few times, they start to strike at it.

In about an hour I have caught my limit and am ready to head for home. The sun has sent its lightning fast messengers through the trees to tell me that the new day is beginning. On shore, things are beginning to pick up. The cottage owners are up and the lake is beginning to fill with less enthusiastic fishermen.

As I reluctantly draw the boat closer to the shore my eyes once again absorb the incomparable beauty which never ceases to enchant me.

"Alumni Fun" is the name of the game—a fast-paced challenge of wits and wisdom in which teams of college graduates vie for scholarship grants donated by American Cyanamid Company. Each Sunday afternoon over the CBS Television Network, a team of three prominent alumni represent their alma mater against a similar group from another leading college or university. See how you'd do with questions like these:

- Legends and queens naturally go together. Can you identify the queens from the following legends. You must get three out of four.
 - What queen kept her petticoat dry and ruined a courtier's cloak?
 - What queen posed riddles at the court of King Solomon?
 - What queen said, "Let them eat cake?"
 - What queen's "extended visit" caused a 10 year war?
- Only one state bears the name of a President, that's Washington; but four state capitals bear Presidents' last name. Name three out of four.
- There are many famous art galleries in the world. In which city will you find the following:
 - The Tate Gallery
 - The Rejks Museum
 - The Prado

ANSWERS

Jehovah's Witnesses To Hold Convention At Toronto, Canada

"Off to Canada" is the summer call for the Plymouth Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses who will be leaving shortly for their district convention to be held at Toronto, Canada. It was announced this week by Stanley Spangler, presiding minister of the congregation, that a delegation of 20 or more from Plymouth will attend this international gathering to be held June 22-26 at Exhibition Park in Toronto.

"We are expecting an attendance of over 50,000 from the Great Lake States of United States and Ontario," Mr. Spangler explained. "This convention will be the beginning of a series of eleven North American assemblies scheduled for 1966. There will be six in Canada, four in the United States and one in Alaska. The convention is called 'God's Sons of Liberty' District Assembly. Explaining this unusual title Spangler stated: "True liberty means living inside God's principles of freedom as outlined in the Bible."

Since April 24th, 3,500 Jehovah's Witnesses in the Toronto area have been busy in a massive campaign of visiting homes to arrange accommodations for the coming delegates, to supplement hotel and motel facilities to care for the large gathering.

An interesting feature of the convention will be a mass baptism when it is expected over 800 candidates will be immersed in water in symbol of total dedication of their lives to the service of Almighty God, Jehovah.

The convention is arranged by the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society through its Canadian branch.

 The story of Job will form the basis for a Bible Lesson on "Soul and Body" at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

Explanatory passages from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will emphasize the theme that man's real existence is spiritual — in God — and that to accept this gives men dominion over the material body. Included will be these lines: "Man is tributary to God, Spirit, and to nothing else . . . Having one God, one Mind, unfolds the power that heals the sick, and fulfils these sayings of Scripture, 'I am the Lord that healeth thee,' and 'I have found a ransom.' "

GOD'S WORD for a NEW AGE

An old man in Austrana holds his Bible with shaking hands. Painstakingly his pointing finger follows along a well-loved passage. In a village in Guatemala an Indian lad reads joyfully from a New Testament written in elementary Spanish. In a rural area of Japan a lively youth group discusses the Scriptures using Bibles printed in their mother tongue.

People like these, and thousands more in every corner of the earth, read Bibles today because of the work of the American Bible Society. Founded on May 8, 1816, the Society's sole object is the widespread circulation of the Scriptures. Now, faced with a worldwide population explosion and mounting literacy, the Society sees an exciting challenge in rededicating itself to its goal: that no matter what his language, whether rich or poor, or where he lives — no man, woman, or literate child should be without the Scriptures.

In our space age of confusion and change, the Bible remains constant. Read and study the Bible faithfully, and attend your church regularly. Hear there the word of God — His greatest gift, so freely given.

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CMA's Biggest Sports Weekend Huge Success

Even though its teams came away without a victory, Culver Military Academy counted its biggest sports weekend of the year a huge success.

Despite bad weather and a heavy schedule, the Academy was host in three events it has established in recent years. They included the fourth annual James H. Bishop Memorial tennis tournament, currently the largest and most competitive scholastic net event in the state; the 12-team invitational golf tournaments; and a Sesquicentennial crew event involving oarsmen from four states.

Largest of the three events was the Col. Bishop tournament, established in memory of the late Academy history teacher who founded the Junior Davis Cup program and was president of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association. New Albany High School finished in front of 20 other teams, including some of Indiana's top tennis powers. The New Albany victory ended the reign of perennial champion Peru High School.

Because rain marred the first day's play, the tournament had to be telescoped into a full day Saturday. By the time Warsaw High School junior Ron Clase won the singles championship in a grueling match, darkness had set in. Clase, a promising left-hander who hasn't been beaten all year, was second-seeded in the tournament and he came back from the brink of defeat to outlast first-seeded John Sutter, a 6-7 1/2 junior from Marion High School, 4-6, 6-4, 9-7. Young Clase played brilliantly to avert defeat several times during the match, and his strategy to keep the big boy moving eventually paid off with a victory.

New Albany was aided in its team victory by a doubles championship won by John Briscoe and Al Peden, who defeated Al Cochran and Dave Hanna, Lafayette Jefferson, 7-5, 0-6, 6-4.

Team Scores: New Albany 15, Peru 12, Plymouth 10, Warsaw 10, Indianapolis Sacred Heart 9, West Lafayette 8, Anderson 7, Lafayette Jeff 6, Lakeland 6, Marion 5, Logansport 5, Culver Military 5, Michigan City 3, Huntington 3, Mount Vernon 1, Fort Wayne Central Catholic, Indianapolis Brebeuf, Manchester and Wash failed to score.

Singles: Ron Clase (Warsaw) beat John Sutter (Marion) 4-6, 6-4, 9-7.

Doubles: John Briscoe-Al Peden (New Albany) beat Bill Hanna-John Cochran (Lafayette Jeff) 7-5, 0-6, 6-4.

The Culver Invitational golf tournament came in for a surprising turn of events over an error on a signed scorecard. There wasn't any doubt about LaPorte High School's superiority over the rest of the field. The Slicers came in with a 308 total, far ahead of second-place Culver Military Academy with 321. But a problem developed when LaPorte's Bruce Tripp signed an incorrect score card. A ruling in good faith based on an interpretation of USGA rules — which make the player responsible for his own score — disqualified Tripp, moved LaPorte to last place, and gave the victory to Culver.

However, on Monday, a review was made of the rules and a discrepancy arose in interpretations.

Academy Coach Tom Baker telephoned the USGA for a ruling, and officials in New York reversed the decision Saturday. So LaPorte ended up as champion, ending a two-year string of victories by South Bend Riley, and the Academy placed second.

The problem developed when Tripp took a four on No. 18, but scored it as a five on his card. Although he had actually scored a 79, the total was added up to 80, and Tripp signed the card. The USGA makes the committee responsible for the total — not the player, who is obligated only for the hole-by-hole scores. Also, when a player records a hole score higher than that which he actually scored, it stands as recorded. LaPorte's team total officially was 309 to take the team prize, and there was a tie for medalist honors at 74 between Culver's Mark Day and LaPorte's Tom Swanson.

The team scores: LaPorte 309, Culver Military 321, South Bend Riley 333, Kokomo 333, Anderson Madison Heights 333, Warsaw 337, Logansport 340, Plymouth 344, Elwood 344, Griffith 350, Rensselaer 353, Mishawaka 353.

In crew, Marietta (Ohio) edged Culver in an exciting race for the varsity eights championship of the Sesquicentennial Regatta. Marietta's time was five minutes, 16 seconds for the mile course, and Culver's crew finished about five seconds in back of that.

Teams included in the Regatta in addition to Marietta and Culver were from Wheeling, West Va., Parkersburg, West Va., and Chicago.
