Margaret Carter Retires From Teaching Career

Gave 46½ Years To Profession

When Mrs. Margaret Carter, veteran grade school teacher, retired from the Culver Community Schools at the end of the current school year, it marked the completion of 46½ years of teaching approximately 1,500 students.

Mrs. Carter began her teaching career after a 12-weeks' summer course at Valparaiso University in 1916 in a one-room school in Green Township of Marshall County, where she had all eight grades with an enrollment of 21 pupils, one third of whom were Zehners. She had to build her own fires but the older boys carried in the wood used to heat the stove.

"Just think," she said, "my salary was $2.40 per day, $12 per week, and the entire sum of $336 for the school year consisting of seven months. Out of that I saved $65, which saw me through a 10-week course of summer school at Tri-State College, Angola, in 1917."

For the next two years, Mrs. Carter taught the primary grades in the old Hibbard School. From there, she was transferred to the Rutland School, where she had 14 pupils.

After another summer term at Valparaiso in 1920, she was called to teach the third grade room in Parkview School, Anderson, Ind. Following that assignment, she was absent from the profession for a few years.

Other schools where Mrs. Carter taught were Burr Oak and Maxinkuckee, and for the past 26 years she has been teaching in the Culver Union Township Schools, now known as Culver Community Schools.

Much of her professional training was obtained by attending evening extension classes in various towns. She was a student of The University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, in the summer of 1950, and upon attending Manchester College she received her B.S. degree from that college in 1952. She enjoyed her classes at Ball State Teachers College during the summers of 1961 and 1962, after which she was granted a certificate of five years of professional training which entitled her to be qualified for the highest salary schedule in the school system.

During more recent years, Mrs. Carter has taught second, and some third generation offspring, descendants of her original class members. In most instances both parents were students of the well-loved teacher.

Lively Janie McKee had the distinction of being the only member of a third generation in Mrs. Carter's room during the 1965-66 school year. Janie is the daughter of two former students, Mr. and Mrs. Vern McKee. Mrs. McKee is the former Miriam Lowry. Janie's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lowry, were students in Mrs. Carter's class in the old Hibbard School in 1918.

In their own way, students in each class have showed their love and respect with their eager co-operation, small unexpected gifts, and with the many notes they wrote to express their sentiments. The following are notes she has received in recent years:

Dear Mrs. Carter,

I think that you are the best teacher that I have ever had. And I like school very much. I even wish that there was school seven days a week.

Your student,
Jimmy Taber

April 1, 1960

Dear Mrs. Carter,

This summer I will miss you very much. I hope I can stop getting B's in my subjects. I think you are the best teacher I have had and most beautiful too.

Your school boy,
Jeff Adams

May 11, 1960

Dear Mrs. Carter,

The last time I wrote there were only three weeks of school. Now there are only 8 days. I like you because you make me do my work.

Your pencil eating boy,
Jerry R. Schriñisher

P.S.

Will you read this to the class?
J.R.S."

"It is a pleasure to work with children in a community where parents show a sincere concern for their children's progress in school and where many words of appreciation are expressed by them for the teacher's efforts," commented Mrs. Carter. "The satisfaction of seeing students I have worked with grow into adults and accomplish fine, worthwhile things, is a rewarding experience," she said.

Mrs. Carter's advice to young men and women who are considering teaching as a profession is simple and to the point. "A person must have a liking and a desire to teach. He or she should also have good health, a sense of humor, love children, and have a determination to be firm and fair with them at all times," she declares.

While the latter may be the most difficult requirement, Mrs. Carter says she is a firm believer that the pupil-teacher relationship can and should be a friendly one, but not at the cost of respect the pupil has for the teacher. Spanking in some cases is the most effective means of putting across the import of obeying the rules. No child is really bad or vicious if handled properly.

Added to Mrs. Carter's efficiency and dedication in the school room, she is an accomplished homemaker; Past Master of Emily Jane Culver Chapter of Order of Eastern Star, present treasurer of the Chapter and has held that office for the past 10 years; and is active in work of the Hibbard K.U.B. Church. She enjoys reading and sewing and lends many helpful hours with her six grandchildren. Her future plans are indefinite due to the illness of her husband.

Regarding the retirement of Mrs. Carter, Superintendent Frank McLane had this to say, "I know that I express the feeling of everyone associated with our schools when I extend to you (Mrs. Carter) our sincere thanks for the excellent service you have rendered to the schools of this community through the years. Many children have gained much from your guidance and leadership, and you may take justifiable pride in the successful work you have done."

The Culver School personnel gave a testimonial dinner at the school cafeteria Thursday during which Mrs. Carter was among the honored guests. She received a testimonial plaque, hand-lettered by Mrs. Warner Williams; a compilation of letters from past administrators and former students; and a gold pendant watch.

C.M.A. To Build New Golf House

Culver Military Academy will have a new 1,650 square foot golf house by next fall. Maj. Gen. Delmar T. Spivey, U.S.A.F. (ret.), superintendent, and board member Laban J. Brady broke ground for the 30- by 55-foot facility during the Academy's alumni golf tournament May 20.

Designed by William B. Ittner, Inc., architects, the golf house will be built by Marshall County Lumber Company. The new golf house to be built just north of the present facilities, will have a lounge and lockers for the storage of golf clubs, office space for golf pro Thomas E. Baker, showers and dressing rooms for men and women, and an area for storing golf carts and other course equipment.

Football stands, with a seating capacity of 1,500, are nearing completion. The new bleachers will increase the seating capacity in the area of the football field to about 2,500. A feature of the new stands will be a press box centered on the fifty-yard line. The press box will provide room for the announcer, movie and still photographers, reporters and special guest seating.

Dr. Earl Rudder Is Commencement Speaker At CMA

Dr. Earl Rudder, president of Texas A. & M. University System, will deliver the commencement address at Culver Military Academy on Monday, June 6.

Dr. Rudder's address will be given at an 11 a.m. honors convocation during which the Academy makes its highest academic awards to students, faculty, and alumni. The convocation will be held in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium and is part of Culver's annual June Week celebration beginning June 2.

As one of two Texans appointed by President Johnson as part of a 55-man task force to visit Viet Nam to extend the fight against poverty, ignorance, and disease, Dr. Rudder traveled in Southeast Asia in March.

Dr. Rudder holds many high honors in the fields of education, government, military, and athletics. He was educated in Texas public schools and was graduated in 1922 from Texas A. & M., where he had also been an outstanding football player. He was twice a teacher and football coach in Texas schools until he was called for service during World War II. After the war he became mayor of Brady, Tex., from 1946 to 1952, when he was named vice president of Brady Aviation Company.

In 1955, Dr. Rudder became commissioner of the General Land Office of Texas and chairman of the Veterans' Land Board, a position he was to hold until 1958, when he was named vice president of Texas A. & M. Only a year later he rose to the presidency of the University, and last year the board of directors named him president of the Texas A. & M. University System, consolidating the offices of chancellor and university president.

Dr. Rudder had a distinguished record as a soldier and holds the reserve rank of major general. He was the commanding general of the 90th Infantry Division until 1963, when he became assistant deputy commanding general for mobilization for the Continental Army Command.

During World War II, he won the Distinguished Service Cross among many combat decorations. He was known for his organization and training of the Second Ranger Division, which suffered over 50 percent casualties on the first day of the invasion of France. Dr. Rudder was wounded twice during the engagement, but remained in action. In December, 1944, Dr. Rudder took command of the 109th Infantry Regiment only eight days before the Germans began their last great counter-offensive of the war, in the Battle of the Bulge. The 109th is credited with a major role in repulsing the German attack.

One night at an association meeting somebody says there's a leptospirosis epidemic in the next county. What do you do?

You offer to do what you can to help. Then you continue with the meeting. Because you did what needed to be done long ago. You vaccinated with Pfizer Leptospira Pomona Bacterin, a chemically-killed whole broth culture of Leptospira pomona, which assures high potency in every dose. In most cases, a single injection annually protects your animals against "Lepto" throughout the entire year. What's more, Pfizer Leptospira Pomona Bacterin is aluminum hydroxide adsorbed. This means you get slower absorption and better immune response. So, inoculating your cattle, swine, sheep and horses with Pfizer Leptospira Pomona Bacterin is doing a favor for both your animals and your neighbors. You'll sleep better, too. Next time ask for Pfizer.

Plymouth Combo To Play At Republican Dinner

The "Sahas," a five-man combo from Plymouth will represent the Third District, composed of Marshall, Starke, St. Joseph and LaPorte Counties, at the $100 a plate "Go-Go" Republican dinner in Indianapolis on June 11.

Former Vice President and presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon will be the speaker at the banquet when over 3,000 persons are expected to attend. The gala affair will feature musical groups, one from each of the 11 Congressional districts in an all out effort to spark the '66 campaign. Nixon attended a similar dinner held recently in Ft. Wayne and said, "I never had so much fun in my life!"

The "Sahas," has been playing together for one year. Their first public appearances were last summer at Centennial Park in Plymouth. They played for a number of teen dances sponsored by the "Friendly Neighbors." During the winter months they were featured at dances and private parties in Plymouth and in the surrounding communities of Elksart, Culver, Bremen and Lakeville.

The boys have authored over a dozen original songs; their number for the Indianapolis rally is entitled, "The Spirit of '66."

The members of the combo are Larry Truman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Truman, lead guitar; Jim Boudreau, son of Mrs. James Boudreau, rhythm guitar; Kurt Kralovansky, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kralovansky, bass guitar; Steve Robertson, son of Dr. and Mrs. James Robertson, organ; and Dan Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Williams, drums.

The Marshall County Republican organization will decorate the Third District table for the dinner assisted by groups in each of the other counties. The table will be decorated in accordance with the theme, "The Spirit of '66." The "Sahas" will be billed as "The Minutemen" for this performance.

Plans are being made for the state championship Michigan City Red Devil cheerleaders to appear on the stage with the combo in a "Go-Go" dance routine.

County's Farms Now
Total 1,819 According To U.S. Census Bureau

A total of 1,819 farms was counted in Marshall County during the 1964 Census of Agriculture, the U.S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census reports.

In the last previous Census of Agriculture (1959), the total counted in the county was 2,086 farms.

The 1964 total is published in a preliminary report on the county just issued. The report also shows that average farm size in the county was 137.1 acres and that the average value of the county's farms (land and buildings) in 1964 was $43,880.

Other important county statistics in the report are:

1. Value of all farm products sold by farms in the county in 1964, $17,265,822; in 1959, $14,177,036.

2. Value of all crops sold by county farms in 1964, $6,356,738; in 1959, $4,452,245.

3. Value of all livestock and livestock products sold by county farms in 1964, $10,883,067; in 1959, $9,724,791.

Information obtained for the first time in an agricultural census included the amount of income received by the county's farmers ($26,017) from recreational services as well as data on the use of pest control chemicals in the county in 1964.

A Census of Agriculture is taken every 5 years in years ending in "4" and "9" to gather information on the nation's agricultural resources and production. The data are needed to make decisions affecting many segments of the U.S. economy. The 1964 farm census was the 18th in a series that began in 1840.

The preliminary report for the county contains more than 500 facts about agriculture in the county. Among additional facts it contains are the number of farms by size, type, and economic class; the number of farm operators by method of tenure, age, color, off-farm work, and number of school years completed; land in farms by use and by land-use practices; data on equipment and facilities; farm expenditures; number of hired workers; and number of farms reporting poultry and livestock production and those reporting crop production by acres and quantities as well as sales.

NOTE: Single copies are available for 10 cents from the Bureau of the Census, Washington, D.C. 20233 or from any field office of the Department of Commerce. These are located in major cities.

Social Security Health Insurance

Health insurance cards have now been mailed to over 15 million people 65 and over who have established their entitlement to hospital and medical insurance under the Social Security Act, according to Mr. Charles E. Burke, Social Security District Manager in South Bend. The next large mailing of the red, white and blue cards will be early in June.

Cards for people who did not sign up for the voluntary medical insurance part of the program which requires a monthly premium payment of $2 will first be mailed in June. This mailing is being delayed since many among the one million people who did not enroll for medical benefits initially, have since changed their decisions, and Congress has extended the enrollment period to May 31st. The next opportunity for these people to enroll will not come until October 1967, and even then they must wait until July 1, 1968 before their voluntary medical insurance will be in force. Men and women who now reach 65 have 3 months before the month of their birthday and 3 months after that month to enroll. Mr. Burke urged enrollment in the 3 months before age 65, however, to ensure that medical insurance protection starts with the month that age 65 is reached.

The original deadline for signing up for voluntary insurance was March 31st. Nationally about 90% of the 19.1 million people eligible for medicare had already signed up for medical insurance by March 31, but there were a little more than one million who had not made a decision on medicare. The deadline was extended to May 31st to give these people time to sign up if they want medical insurance, and to give those who said "no" to medicare a chance to reconsider.

Mr. Burke said many of the people who have not enrolled for medical insurance are still work-

Spiritual causation and spiritual reality will be explored in a Bible Lesson-Sermon "God the Only Cause and Creator" at Christian Science church services this Sunday.
Responsive reading from Psalms will begin with these verses: "The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works."
"The Lord is high unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth."
Related passages to be considered from the Christian Science textbook include these lines: "When mortal man blends his thoughts of existence with the spiritual and works only as God works, he will no longer grope in the dark and cling to earth because he has not tasted heaven... The age seems ready to approach this subject, to ponder somewhat the supremacy of Spirit, and at least to touch the hem of Truth's garment" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy).

THE WORLD IS WAITING..

In ancient times the world waited breathlessly for every new king. It was always man's crying hope, man's fervent expectation — that under a new king the world would be different.

Today we no longer put our faith in kings — nor in any government that does not represent the people. We believe that tomorrow will be determined by the hopes and ideals of the young men and women who today prepare for their role in life.

There aren't any Christmas bells at graduation time. But it would be well for us to remember those learned men — the Wise Men — who came across the desert to Bethlehem. They came to pay homage to a new-born King... One who did change this world.

And the sons and daughters upon whom we look with fond hopes today must find their foundation of faith in the same Lord.

With its ministry of teaching, its inspiration to service and sacrifice, the Church points their path to tomorrow — and ours!

By Mary Whitman

Animal photographers who work for Walt Disney productions often stalk their game from North Pole to South with camera and light meter.

Many of their photographs later appear in book form, to be studied by young readers.

One example is a non-fiction work called Animal Adventures in Lands of Ice and Snow, combining United States Navy photographs with wild-life shots taken by these world-ranging shutterbugs.

"The polar regions are the last frontiers this side of space," points out William Bridges, Publications Curator of the New York Zoological Society, who prepared the book for Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wisconsin.

Lately, the high and low poles of the world have been explored by many adventurers, military men, scientists and others who, hope to solve secrets of radio communication, animal migration and weather forecasting. Young readers who want to follow their footsteps can learn the tempo of polar life in these colorful pages.

The march of lemmings, a centuries-old riddle, is still to be solved. A folk legend persists that the small furry animals are trying to swim to Atlantis, the lost continent. For whatever reason, at certain cycles they enter the sea by thousands and disappear.

"It may be that young naturalists growing up today will be the ones finally to solve the mystery of the lemmings," the author points out.

Other animal patterns call for more study too, the book reminds us.

The quirks, virtues, problems and playfulness of other animals are covered here, including the polar bear, caribou, seal, snowy owl, arctic hare, and the sturdy walrus who was for many years the bulwark of the Eskimo economy.

The suspenseful story of man and animal in a precarious balance of nature is sure to appeal to boys on your book list.

A small colored lad was caddy-ing for the President in Georgia. The President hooked one into the rough, causing the caddy to exclaim: "You sure goofed that one!"

The next shot was a slice and again the caddy responded with "... an' there you goofed again!"

Just then another caddy went by and called the President's boy to one side. "Does you know who you's caddyin' for?" he asked. "That an' the President of these United States!"

"Sho nuff?" questioned the first and "Sho is," replied the second.

The President's next shot was a good one, and his caddy fairly beamed up at him as he said: "Yo shore is improvin', Mr. Lincoln!"

The salesman after gaining entrance to the prospect's home put on his personality act. "My what a lovely home you have," he gushed. "And pray tell me what is in that beautiful vase on the mantel?"

"My husband's ashes," said the young wife.

"Oh, I'm so sorry. How lang has he been dead?"

Father Sheridan Awarded Honorary Doctorate

The Rev. William C. R. Sheridan, pastor of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Plymouth, received a signal honor Thursday evening, May 26, at Nashotah, Wis., when he received an honorary Doctor of Divinity degree from Nashotah House Seminary during the Solemn Eucharist. There are only 29 living alumni (bishops, members of religious orders and priests) who have received this degree.

Mrs. Sheridan and a number of parishioners and diocesan friends attended the ceremonies.

Father Sheridan was educated for the priesthood at the Seminary. He graduated from Nashotah House in 1942 and is currently studying for a Master's in Sacred Theology both in Wisconsin and at the Graduate School of Theology at Saint Mary's College, South Bend.

Nashotah House is one of the 14 regional seminaries of the American Episcopal (Anglican) Church and is located approximately 30 miles west of Milwaukee. The name "Nashotah" is an Indian name for "Twin." This institution is located on land containing twin lakes and was originally established in 1842 to work among the Indians of that region.

The citation which accompanied the honorary doctorate said, in part:

"Father Sheridan is a highly respected graduate of this seminary and a much-loved parish priest. He has displayed significant concern for the encouragement of vocations to the priesthood, and his book, "Journey to Priesthood," has aided many young men to discover the divine purpose for their lives. Father Sheridan is a skilled and much sought conductor of retreats and quiet days and is held in deservedly high regard as a confessor and a counselor . . . Nashotah House exists to prepare candidates for the priesthood, and the qualities of true priesthood are clearly seen in the life and labor of this, her son."

The new Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church in the United States, the Most Rev. John E. Hines, D.D., preached at the Commencement Mass. It was the new primate's first visit to the seminary.

Father Sheridan has been the Pastor of St. Thomas' Parish for 19 years. He was ordained to the priesthood in the Diocese of Baltimore, Maryland in 1943.

Culver Indians Lose First Two Baseball Games

By R. Vondra

On Wednesday, May 25, the varsity baseball team lost to Marian by the score of 5 to 2. The game was played at Rose Park, Mishawaka.

The Indians got their two runs in the first inning. Terry Gentry made it to first on an error by the shortstop, and was hit in on a long triple by catcher Bob Shirrell. Bob came home as center fielder Jack Lucas singled.

Culver posed a threat to Marian the whole seven innings and had eight runners on base that didn't cross home plate. Three of the opposing runs came on errors, and the other two resulted from a home run. In his first game of the season, pitcher Brian Lindvall gave up only six hits and one walk.

In their first effort of the season on May 23, Culver lost to an experienced LaVie team. The game came apart for the Indians in the 4th inning, as they were simply overwhelmed by the LaVie 9. Both Culver defeats can be attributed to the fact that the Marian and LaVie teams have been playing for a month or more, and this correspondent feels certain of better things from our team in the near future.

4-H NEWS

By Kathleen Banks

The May 25 meeting was called to order by Bob Ringer. The Pledge to the American Flag was given by Mark Kepler; Keith Kowatch gave the 4-H Pledge; and Kathy Ringer read the secretary's report.

Mark Kepler lead the singing of "Row, Row, Row Your Boat." John Jewell gave a report on how to keep in good physical shape. Mr. Siple showed films.

The next meeting will be at the Wolverton home at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, June 8.

There is probably no better way to loaf — without attracting unfavorable attention and criticism — than to go fishing.

L. L. TOUSLEY HARVESTS BUMPER MUSHROOM CROP

L. L. Tousley, Route 1, Culver, brought to The Citizen last week a beautiful crop of mushrooms, some measuring 7 and 7 1/2 inches in length, which he had found in his own yard!

According to Mr. Tousley, he spotted the mushrooms growing under a tree ten or twelve days ago and kept them covered with a gunny sack, which he dipped in water each day, until they grew to their present size. This was the fifth crop that he harvested from his yard this year.

Needless to say, Mr. Tousley didn't leave without his mushrooms.

All kinds of office supplies on sale at The Citizen.
