School Board Reviews Final Building Plans

On Monday evening the Board of School Trustees of Culver Community Schools reviewed with Architect James Rennard the details of the final plans and specifications for the new high school building. According to the present estimates, the plans will be submitted to the Schoolhouse Planning Division, State Board of Health, and other State Agencies by June 20th. At approximately the same time copies of plans will be made available to prospective bidders so that bids may be accepted by the latter part of July.

In other business, the School Board conferred with Charles Lumm, consulting engineer, regarding his services in connection with plans for conversion of the Culver School heating plant from coal to oil. The present stokers are in bad condition, and there is need to improve the heating system in the immediate future. In addition, major repairs must be made to the smoke stack. The consulting engineer will prepare recommendations for the necessary work to correct these problems and will develop plans and specifications as a basis for bids on such work.

Alumni And Faculty Member Honored At C.M.A. Convocation

Two alumni and a member of the faculty were recognized for academic achievement at the seventy-second honors convocation Monday, June 6, at Culver Military Academy.

Since Culver, the nation's largest college preparatory school, is unable to confer advanced degrees, it annually selects members of the alumni and faculty for special honors. The three honored Monday were Grand Rapids (Mich.) industrialist Britton L. Gordon and Academy English instructor Thomas E. Walker, who were named honorary members of the Culver Chapter of Cum Laude, and William L. McKeown, Akron, Ohio, who received the McDonald Watch award for his superior college record at Stanford University.

The awards were presented by Major General Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (ret.), superintendent of Culver, during the 11 a.m. honors convocation. Dr. Earl M. Rudder, president of Texas A and M University, delivered the main address at the convocation, which is part of the Academy's annual June Week observance.

Gordon is president of Blackmer Pump Company Division of Dover Corporation at Grand Rapids, Mich. He is also a vice president of the Dover firm, located in New York City. A 1929 graduate of Culver, Gordon holds degrees in mechanical engineering and law from Cornell University. He has been associated with Blackmer Pump Company since 1939.

The Grand Rapids industrialist has been associated with many civic projects, including serving as a director of the Grand Rapids Symphony Orchestra, former chairman of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission and a trustee of the National Music Camp and Interlochen Arts Academy. He was honored recently for his work in developing the Kent County (Mich.) Airport.

Walker has been a member of the Culver faculty since 1955. He was selected as a Fullbright Teacher and spent a year in Greece in 1963. Walker was appointed in 1962 to assist the Indiana State Committee in devel-

Lake Group Announces Boat Rules

With the coming of the summer boating season, the Lake Maxinkuckee Association patrol boat will be in service until after Labor Day. Each year boating injuries and fatalities have mounted, and for the safety of both boaters and bathers, extreme care should be taken in the operation of motor boats.

The Lake Association is placing markers (yellow and white buoys) at the 200 foot line around the lake, and according to Indiana State Boating Laws, all boats are required to observe minimum speed within these marked areas. The attention of the public is directed to Section 34 of the Indiana Boating Laws, which reads as follows: "No person shall moor or attach any boat to any buoy, beacon, light marker, stake, flag or other aid to safe operation placed upon the waters of this state, or by others under authority of the State of Indiana, nor shall move, remove, displace, tamper with, damage or destroy the same under penalty of the law."

The Lake Association reports that in the past many of these markers have been removed or tampered with, and they would appreciate the cooperation of all boaters in keeping the markers intact.

Also all boat operators should familiarize themselves with the Indiana Boating Laws, especially as to speeds permitted, boating areas, water-ski regulations, life-saving equipment required, running lights, boat licenses and certificates of registration. Orders have been issued by the Indiana Conservation Department that strict compliance with all boating regulations will be required. These laws and regulations are for your own safety and the safety of others, and will be enforced.

Due to constant safety patrolling of Lake Maxinkuckee a fine record of absence of major accidents has been established, and it is the hope of everyone concerned that this record be continued. The cooperation of all boaters and the general public is necessary to keep the lake safe for everyone.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN ARE ON THE JOB

The Whites stated that they deeply appreciated the services of the volunteer firemen.

Dr. E. M. Rudder Speaks At C.M.A. Commencement

Development of individuality is one of the greatest challenges facing today's college generation, the president of Texas A & M University told the graduating class at Culver Military Academy Monday, June 6.

In the address at the seventy-second honors convocation at Culver, Dr. Earl M. Rudder, who heads the Texas A & M University System, told 198 graduating seniors:

"The larger challenge you will face in college is that of developing individuality. Following the crowd, or the mob, may be the easiest route to take," Dr. Rudder said, "but it is not necessarily the best route. I believe that one mark of a successful man is the development of personal convictions . . . and it means developing your individual character to the fullest even though you may be bucking the tide of popularity."

On the subject of popular causes, Dr. Rudder referred to some aspects of the campus protest movement.

"I have noted with grave concern the apparent moral decay on some college campuses. I view with distaste the slovenly dress and bearded faces of beatniks who oppose decency and proper authority. If this is what you must do these days to be popular on campus, I sincerely hope you will choose to be unpopular. I hope you will maintain the level of dignity which you have been exposed to at Culver Military Academy."

Dr. Rudder noted that 99.6 percent of Culver graduates go on to college and discussed briefly the challenges that college will offer graduating seniors next fall.

"A college is an exciting place to be. You will find dozens of activities to occupy your time in addition to academic pursuits. In fact, it is possible to spend a complete college career engaging in nothing but extra-curricular activities. But your academic record will follow you all the days of your life. It will remain long after the echoes in the stadium have faded; long after the last dance; long after the bull sessions which at the time seemed infinitely more appealing than studying chemistry 102."

Dr. Rudder stressed that one of the great differences between college and high school is in the amount of individual attention given the student. The important effort and money invested in students by their parents, make it necessary for students today to guard every moment of their educational experience.

"In college you will receive less individual attention than you received at Culver," Dr. Rudder explained. "Thus, if you find yourself falling behind, the responsibility for catching up will be yours. You must ask questions about what you do not understand; you may have to visit with the professor in his office for extra help."

"Yes, I know — this is called 'apple-polishing' and will bring snide remarks from your fellow students. But when you need help — get it. More than likely, those who laughed at your apple-polishing will be asking you for jobs one day."

Dr. Rudder paid special tribute to William Henderson, a 1943 graduate of Culver. Henderson, son of retired dean of admissions John W. Henderson, served as a platoon leader when Dr. Rudder, who now holds the rank of mafor general, commanded the Second Ranger Battalion.

"I have long maintained that the best measurement of a school is the quality of its graduates. I have long admired Culver, for it has been my pleasure to know some of your graduates . . . Of the many young officers in my command during World War II, Bill Henderson was particularly outstanding. His performance in some of the most gruelling combat in Europe was a credit to his own character and to Culver."

Dr. Rudder's speech came at the conclusion of the honors convocation during which Culver recognized outstanding academic achievement during the year.

Valerie Gunder Becomes Bride Of Dane Avery

The Reverend Carl Q. Baker officiated at the wedding of Miss Valerie L. Gunder and Dane W. Avery at 2 p.m. Sunday, May 22, at the Culver Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Gunder of Culver. Mrs. Glenna Avery, Eaton, Ohio, and Harold R. Avery, Dayton, are parents of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Theodore Ervin was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of pique. The scoop neckline and short sleeves were edged in lace, as was the sheath skirt.

Her shoulder-length veil was secured by a crown of crystals and pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink and white carnations and pink roses.

Miss Wanda L. Warren, as maid of honor, was attired in a floor-length pink gown featuring an empire waist and an A-line skirt. Her veil was held by a ring of pink satin covered with green leaves matching those of her dress. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Dave Miller, Dayton, Ohio, was best man. Ushers were Craig Gunder, brother of the bride, and Steve Avry, brother of the bridegroom.

Both the mother of the bride and bridegroom wore dresses of beige with matching accessories. Their corsages were beige cymbidium orchids.

A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the double ring ceremony. Miss Carol Templeton, Terre Haute, registered the guests. Mrs. James Grover and the Misses Lonni Darocsi and Linda Nelson served.

The bride, a 1965 graduate of Culver High School, is employed at Bunker Hill Air Force Base, Peru. The bridegroom is a 1964 graduate of Eaton High School, Eaton, Ohio, and is employed by the Goodyear Service Store in Peru.

Mr. and Mrs. Avery are at home at 252½ West Tenth St., Peru.

Emily Jane Culver O.E.S.
Honors Mrs. E. W. Carter

Emily Jane Culver Chapter No. 484, Order of Eastern Star met in Masonic Hall June 7 at 7:30 p.m. for their regular stated meeting.

The business was conducted under the direction of the worthy matron, Mrs. Harold Fittingling.

During the good of the order Mrs. Ernest W. Carter was honored by the officers and members with a special program entitled "The Tea Towel Brigade" in appreciation of her 46½ years service as a teacher and also for serving the chapter as treasurer for 10 years. Mrs. Carter was escorted to the East, honored with a medley of songs, "School Days" and "In The Little Red School House" by Mrs. Charles Clifton, and each of the officers honored her with a poem and presented her with a tea towel. The worthy matron had a bulletin board on which she had a collection of items that were reminiscent of her years of service as a teacher, member of the Eastern Star, and community.

The chapter was decorated with bouquets of iris, peonies, and mock orange. Refreshments were served in the club room following the meeting by Mrs. Donald Reed, Mrs. Jack Easterday, and Mrs. Roscoe Stevens.

"A Man Could Get Killed" To Be Featured Next Week At El Rancho Theater

"A Man Could Get Killed," "A Man Could Get Killed," which will be featured at the El Rancho Theater on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, June 12, 13, and 14, has received the following review:

"A fast-moving spy picture, replete with wild chases and dangers, this Robert Arthur production has all the elements of popular appeal, including four name players and magnificent backgrounds filmed in Portugal's Costa de Sol region.

James Garner, who plays his role with an air of amazement at the fabulous happenings, and Tony Franciosa, who plays in a delightfully tongue-in-cheek style, have rarely been better and Melina Mercouri is saucy, seductive and brazen throughout.

For the younger set, Sandra Dee is on hand as a man-chasing American tourist involved in the exciting events, which are more often frantic than funny, but add up to light entertainment for the masses.

Directed by Ronald Neame from a screenplay by Richard Breen and T. E. B. Clarke based on the David Walker novel, "Diamonds for Danger." The suspenseful moments usually wind up in hilarity while the romantic scenes are often tinged with humor, at which both Franciosa and the wide-eyed Miss Mercouri excel.

The mostly English supporting cast includes two standout portrayals by Robert Coote and Cecil Parker. Gabor Pogany's Technicolor photography is superb."

It Pays To Advertise

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lohr of Sierra Madre, Calif., former residents of Culver, arrived Sunday evening to spend several days with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ferrer, and to attend the annual Culver High School alumni reunion.

EMBLEM OF DIGNITY AND JUSTICE

FLAG DAY

Speaking at the Flag Day celebration, Washington, D.C., on June 14, 1914, President Woodrow Wilson said,

"This flag for the future is meant to stand for the just use of undisputed national power. No nation is ever going to doubt our power to assert its rights, and we should lay it to heart that no nation shall henceforth doubt our purpose to put it to the highest uses to which a great emblem of justice and government can be put.

"It is henceforth to stand for self-possession, for dignity, for the assertion of the right one nation to serve the other nations of the world — an emblem that will not condescend to be used for purposes of aggression and self-aggrandizement; that it is too great to be debased by selfishness; that has vindicated its right to be honored by all nations of the world and feared by none who do righteousness."

Christian Scientists Hold Annual Meeting

FAMAN BACHRACH

ERWIN D. CANHAM new President of the Christian Science Church

Erwin D. Canham became the new President of the Christian Science Church today, as members from around the world convened in Boston for their Centennial-Year annual meeting.

Simultaneously, construction workers one block away were beginning land clearance for the religion's dramatic new expansion of its headquarters area, known as The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

These were the climactic events in this year's observance of the 100th anniversary of the beginnings of Christian Science under the leadership of Mary Baker Eddy in 1866.

To the annual meeting, it brought the biggest attendance in the Church's history, flowing over into the adjacent Civic Auditorium and a nearby theater, where the proceedings were carried on closed-circuit television. An estimated 15,000 people were on hand.

Mr. Canham, who is a well-known journalist and Editor in Chief of The Christian Science Monitor, will serve as President for one year while continuing his Monitor duties. He came to the meeting directly from a major world speaking tour, which he will resume next September in Europe. Capacity audiences have greeted the editor in 34 cities and four countries, thus far, to hear his non-denominational public address on "The Spiritual Revolution," which was initiated this year in connection with the Centennial.

"And now we move into the Second Century," began Mr. Canham, speaking before the annual meeting in his new capacity as Church President.

"False confidence has brought society close to disaster," he said, and summed up three major challenges that must be faced: "destruction of civilization by nuclear warfare . . . unchecked population growth, leading to famine . . . moral destruction of society through sensuality and licentiousness."

"The battles to be fought and won are in the hearts and minds of humanity, as individuals strive to understand and apply God's laws . . . the truth of being."

A message to the meeting from The Christian Science Board of Directors noted the "radical changes" taking place in humanity's thinking about "the nature of Deity and God's relation to man," was read by Clayton Ebon Craig, new Chairman of the Board.

Several new steps to improve the church organization and prepare it for "the challenges which lie ahead," were noted by the Directors, as well as in reports to the meeting from different church departments.

Two of the most important innovations mentioned were a new International Department and a coordination of the Church's new Youth Division for better growing operations in these Similar changes have already added four stories to the proposed height of the new Church Administration Building announced last year as part of the expanded 15-acre "Church Center" now under construction.

The detailed plans call for a 26-story building and other facilities at a cost of more than $8,000,000, with extensive private development on surrounding church-owned land.

The Church Treasurer's report to the annual meeting today noted the establishment of a "Church Center Building Fund," but added that "no specific financial goal has been set, no personal solicitation is to be made." Contributions are to be kept on a voluntary basis out of "each member's gratitude."

Other events in connection with the Centennial this year included the publication a few weeks ago of a 100-year report on the Church's spiritual healing experience, titled "A Century of Christian Science Healing"; and a recent ceremony at the Smithsonian Institution accepting a privately-donated marble bust of Mary Baker Eddy into the National Portrait Gallery. A tribute from Gallery officials stated that "as the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy has earned such recognition" among those who have made "a significant contribution to the lives of their fellow citizens."

RURAL ELECTRIC RATE REDUCTION ASKED BY NIPSCO

An electric rate reduction that will save rural customers of Northern Indiana Public Service Company $300,000 a year was announced today by Dean H. Mitchell, NIPSCO chairman and president.

In a petition filed June 3, 1966, NIPSCO asked the Public Service Commission of Indiana to approve rate schedules effective July 1, 1966, that will enable rural electric customers to enjoy the same low rates that are already in effect in all other areas served by the utility.

The rate reduction proposed by NIPSCO will save 25,000 customers in 21 northern Indiana counties an average of $12 per year.

With Commission approval, NIPSCO residential electric customers in cities, towns and rural areas throughout our territory will now be on a uniform rate, Mitchell said.

He explained that several years ago the utility started a program reducing and equalizing rates between the rural and smaller communities of its service area and the larger population centers.

Mitchell pointed out that the utility has an unbroken record of electric rate reductions dating from the end of World War I. He said that continued population growth, together with greater customer use of electricity and increased efficiency, have enabled NIPSCO to reduce rates in spite of increased taxes and the rising cost of labor, materials and services.

Since 1963, Mitchell said, we have systematically reduced the cost of both gas and electric service to customers by $1,830,000 per year.

Only last year, the utility chief executive pointed out, we introduced uniform residential rates for all cities, towns and communities in our service area.

As a result of increased operating efficiencies, Mitchell said, we are taking this further step to encourage greater use of electricity on the farm.

"The electric utility's downward price performance is a continuing marvel of this inflationary age," Mitchell said. "While other components of the cost of living continue upward, only gas and electric rates have shown this amazing downward trend throughout the years."

One night at an association meeting somebody says there's a leptospirosis epidemic in the next county.

What do you do?

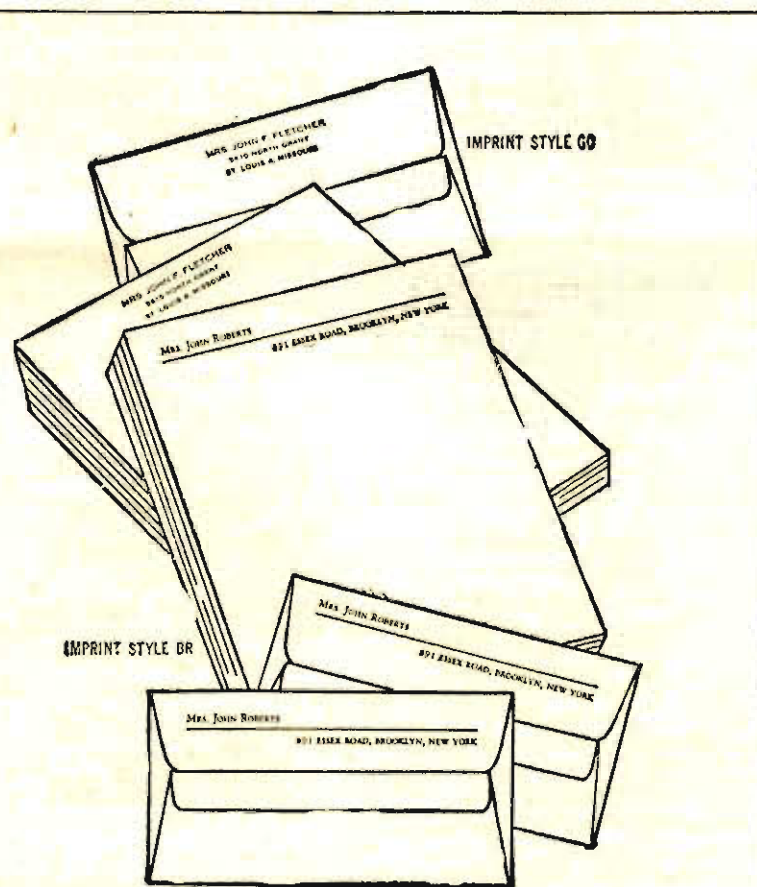

You offer to do what you can to help. Then you continue with the meeting. Because you did what needed to be done long ago. You vaccinated with Pfizer Leptospira Pomona Bacterin, a chemically-killed whole broth culture of Leptospira pomona, which assures high potency in every dose. In most cases, a single injection annually protects your animals against "Lepto" throughout the entire year. What's more, Pfizer Leptospira Pomona Bacterin is aluminum hydroxide adsorbed. This means you get slower absorption and better immune response. So, inoculating your cattle, swine, sheep and horses with Pfizer Leptospira Pomona Bacterin is doing a favor for both your animals and your neighbors. You'll sleep better, too. Next time ask for Pfizer.

"Great peace have they which love thy law; and nothing shall offend them." This promise from Psalms will be part of the Responsive Reading at Christian Science church services this Sunday. Subject of the Bible Lesson is "God the Preserver of Man."
The lesson includes the story of Daniel and his three fellow captives whose spiritual steadfastness in worshipping only God preserved them from harm in the lion's den and the "fiery furnace."

Among the related passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, are these lines: "The central fact of the Bible is the superiority of spiritual over physical power . . . The calm and exalted thought or spiritual apprehension is at peace."

Who doesn't dream, sometimes? Who doesn't stand gazing into the future, picturing that new house, that graduation day, that wedding ceremony, that deluxe-model car . . . the thousand and one dreams that man holds in his heart?

We realize that a worthwhile life must contain more than just material satisfactions. Without a confident frame of mind, our future will be nothing but tension and uncertainty. Where can we find this inner feeling of courage that will make things easier for us every hour of every day?

Millions of people find it in the Christian faith. The apostle Paul said that he was strengthened in everything he did by faith in Christ . . . and this truth is constantly being rediscovered by men and women urgently in need of something they can trust.

Faith is the key to peace of mind. With faith, you will be able to move mountains of frustration.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

3936 Iowa St.
San Diego, Calif 92104
May 30, 1966

Editor THE CITIZEN:

This being Decoration or Memorial Day, I feel like reminiscing a little. On May 30th, 1889, it snowed in northern Indiana. We lived on the Thomas Houghton farm in the Mount Hope neighborhood, one half mile west of the Mount Hope Church. My father, the late Stephen Smith, had shorn our sheep and some of them froze to death. Then come to May 30th, 1900. It was a notable day at the Burr Oak cemetery. It was less than 30 years after the close of the Civil War and many of the veterans of that war were living on the Burr Oak Flats and in the vicinity of Culver.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON FINAL ACCOUNT

ESTATE NO. 7772

STATE OF INDIANA:
MARSHALL COUNTY SS:

In The Marshall Circuit Court
In The Matter Of The Estate Of George R. Van Schoiack, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned personal representative of the above captioned estate, has presented and filed:

(a) A final account in final settlement of said estate and petition to settle and allow account.

(c) Petition for authority to distribute estate.

and that the same shall be heard in the court room of said Court on the 23rd day of June, 1966, at which time all persons interested in said estate are required to appear in said Court and show cause, if any there be, why said account should not be approved. And the heirs of said decedent and all others interested are also required to appear and make proof of their heirship or claim to any part of said estate.

Bleachers were erected for a sizeable choir which had prepared special music for the occasion. A noted speaker gave an oration. Then there was the firing of a gun salute over a veteran's grave. I remember one George McKinney, who always gave the order to fire.

I can only remember a few of the veterans by name, Dr. O. A. Rea, Uncle Johnny Osborn and Peter Spangler, and Mr. Myers from the Poplar Grove neighborhood. From around Burr Oak, George McKinney, Belden Padlock, Martin Hemminger Sr., Franklin Overmyer and William Warner. And what tall tales I used to hear Mr. Warner tell in Bert Miller's barber shop about his war experiences.

And again May 30th, 1911. The first race on the world renowned speedway was won by Ray Harroun, in a Marmon six cylinder car, averaging 74 miles plus an hour. Today I listened to Graham Hill, an Englishman, win the race, averaging 144 miles plus, several miles less per hour than what it was done in last year's race. In 1911 I was the milk man in Culver, that is I was delivering it. After Mr. Harroun won that race in Indianapolis, he came to Culver and rented a cottage on Long Point, and I was his milk man. A lot of water has gone over the mill, since that Decoration Day in 1889.

There are very few who will remember my musings, but there may be some.

Most sincerely
WILLIAM J. SMITH

LOCAL STUDENTS GRADUATE FROM PURDUE UNIVERSITY

Purdue University held twin ceremonies Sunday, June 5, for a record class of almost 5,000 in its 114th commencement.

The approximate total of 4,934 graduates of 1965-66 represented a 7 per cent increase over the 4,608 degrees granted in 1964-65.

Local students included in the list of graduates were Walter O. Gollnick, Jr., Culver Military Academy, who received his Bachelor's degree in Industrial Management; Richard E. Kriner, 2118 East Shore Road, Bachelor degree, Humanities; Adolph W. Massa, 421 N. Plymouth St., Bachelor degree, Electrical Engineering; and Michael Overmyer, Route 2, Bachelor degree in Agriculture.

The ceremonies at 9:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. drew mostly the class of June graduation candidates, totaling about 2,805. These included about 1,907 candidates for bachelor degrees, 510 masters, 183 doctors and 206 associate (two-year) degrees.

The commencement was open also to the 2,129 graduates who completed their studies in January and last August.

JAMES CARTER RECEIVES DEGREE AT MANCHESTER COLLEGE

James Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Carter of Culver, received his B.S. degree during the 77th annual commencement exercises at Manchester College, North Manchester, Ind. The exercises were held in the College Gymnasium-Auditorium Monday morning, May 30, at 10 a.m. Fifty-two received the Bachelor of Arts degree and about 225 received the degree of Bachelor of Science.

Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review gave the Commencement address. Baccalaureate services were in the College Auditorium the preceding evening at 8 p.m. Dr. A. Blair Helman, president of Manchester College, gave the Baccalaureate address.

Someone has said that the fellow who used to wonder where his next dollar was coming from now wonders where it went.

A salesman was explaining to his buddy the reason for his sudden affluence. "I sell women's stockings. Sometimes if the woman of the house is really interested I put them on for her," he said. "You must sell plenty that way," said the friend.

"No not really," said the salesman. "My legs look lousy in a woman's stockings."

Two men were seated in a bus. One of them noticed that his friend had his eyes closed.

"What's the matter, Bill?" he asked. "Feeling ill?"

"No, I'm all right," answered Bill. "It's just that I hate to see all these ladies standing."

Culver Beats O-D And Argos; Bows To Mentone

By R. VONDRA

Steve McCombs blasted a long triple in the seventh inning to give Culver a 12-11 edge over Oregon-Davis, on June 1.

The starting pitcher, Terry Gentry, gave up six hits and nine walks. He was relieved in the middle of the sixth by Stu Lowry, who gave up one hit and no walks.

The Indians broke a 2-2 tie in the second inning when Stu Lowry walked and was hit in on a long triple by George Jewell that turned into a short home run, as George sprinted for the plate and slid in under a high and desperate throw. The tribe stayed ahead until the sixth inning, when a last-ditch rally and a couple of errors cost Culver five runs to Oregon-Davis, bringing the score up to a dismal 12-11, in favor of Oregon-Davis.

A blanket of doom descended upon the Culver dugout, but as hope springs eternal Jack Lucas, and then Brian Lindvall, walked despite the efforts of the exhausted O.D. pitcher. Seeing his win slipping away, the visiting coach pulled his pitcher and put in his shortstop to hurl the rest of the last inning.

Steve McCombs, the next batter up, promptly knocked in the tying and winning runs on a long triple that dropped between the center and left fielders.

In one of the biggest Indian massacres since Little Big Horn, Culver swept to a 12-6 victory over Argos on the Argos field, on June 2.

Brian Lindvall pitched the entire game, giving up a meager six hits and three walks.

The only time Culver was in trouble was at the bottom of the first inning, when the score was 4-1. The Indians held the Dragons scoreless in the second, and then in the third inning cashed in on errors and walks that totaled up seven Culver runs.

In the remaining two innings, the Argos coach changed pitchers twice as three more Culver runs crossed the plate, but before he could change pitchers again, the game was called on darkness.

After a weekend's rest, the tribe met the Mentone Bulldogs at home, on June 6.

Monday was an off day all around for the Indians, as the starting pitcher Terry Gentry couldn't find the groove, and the batters couldn't hit against a fast Mentone pitcher until too late. Terry was relieved in the sixth inning by Stu Lowry, who held Mentone scoreless the rest of the game.

The Bulldogs were leading all the way. They scored 2 runs in the first inning on a home run, and the remaining 10 on walks and wild pitches. The only time Culver had a chance seemed to be in the last inning when they brought the score up 4 runs to the final 12-8 figure, but they were just too far behind.

Culver's record now stands at 2 wins to 3 losses.
