CMA Canoeists To Compete In Natl. Championships

Culver Military Academy has selected nine winter school canoeists to compete in the National Canoe Championships in New Rochelle, N.Y., July 23 and 24. They returned to the Academy June 28 to take part in a rigorous training routine supervised by Kalman Blaho, director of canoeing at Culver and recently named coach of the American canoe and kayak teams.

The canoe team will drive to New York July 21 to spend a full day of training before the races. They are planning to compete in the junior C-2 races Saturday and the juvenile C-2, C-4 and C-8 war canoe races Sunday. They have their hopes set on the national war canoe title.

Blaho, a native Hungarian and former canoe coach of the Italian Olympic teams, is developing a canoeing and kayaking program at the Academy and will be in charge of the North American Canoe Championships on Culver's 1,800-acre Lake Maxinkuckee.

The American Canoe Association selected the Academy as the site of the North American championships Sept. 17-18 after the world championships in East Berlin next August. Blaho was selected to coach the American teams at the same meeting.

Ray Dodge, former commodore of the association from Niles, Mich., said after the meeting:

"For the first time in history, the United States has a great canoe coach in Blaho. All of us feel that he will bring our country into a stronger position in canoeing and kayaking at the international level."

A native Hungarian, Blaho won the national canoe championship in his own country 22 times before he left for Italy in 1957. In Rome, he was professor at the College of Physical Education while at the same time leading the Italian teams to a gold and silver medal in the 1964 Olympics. He served the past year as a consultant to the U.S. Olympic Committee and the American Canoe Association.

The North American championships will bring to Culver three top canoeists in seven different classifications from both the U.S. and Canada. In addition, association officials hope that Mexico will send a team to Culver. The championship will involve a flat water race course of 500 meters for women and 1,000 meters for men. Additionally, there may be a 10,000 meter race.

In addition to their practice schedule, the team is assisting Blaho in canoeing classes for 43 summer school students and helping to begin work in four-oared

Nipsco Electric Demand Surpasses Million Kilowatts

Preliminary figures indicate Northern Indiana Public Service Company's peak electric load exceeded 1 million kilowatts for the first time in the utility's history Tuesday, July 12, Dean H. Michell, NIPSCO chairman and president, has announced.

The demand vaulted past the million mark to a peak of 1,015,500 KW in the half hour period from 1:00 to 1:30 p.m. Tuesday while temperatures hovered near 100 throughout the utility's 12,000 square-mile service area. The figures indicate this new peak was then surpassed in the 2:00 to 2:30 p.m. time period when usage totaled 1,025,100 KW.

George L. Morris, NIPSCO manager of electric operations, attributed the demand to the long sustained heat wave which caused maximum use of fans, air conditioners and refrigerators in homes and offices while industries were also in full production.

Morris noted NIPSCO was well prepared for the increased demand well in advance of the heat wave and that the company has available a 15% reserve at all times.

"At this time this amounts to approximately 150,000 kilowatts and should be adequate for any further demand increase in the near future," Morris said.

He pointed out the peak was met by electricity generated by NIPSCO's three Lake Michigan generating stations and purchased power from neighboring utilities.

Alumnus Named One Of Top Ten Alumni Magazines

"Culver Alumnus," official publication of Culver Military Academy, has been named one of the top 10 alumni magazines in the nation for 1966.

Edited by Robert Reichley, director of public relations, the "Culver Alumnus" was the only secondary school magazine named to the top 10 list by the American Alumni Council. The remaining nine magazines chosen are published by colleges and universities, including several of the largest institutions in the country.

Announcement of the top magazine awards was made at the AAC's recent annual conference at The Greenbrier, White Sulphur Springs, West Va. The council selected the Johns Hopkins University publication as the magazine-of-the-year and named publications from the following schools to the top 10 list: Columbia University, Culver Military Academy, Dartmouth College, Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa.; Principis College, St. Louis; Simmons College, Boston; Stanford University, Swarthmore (Pa.) College, and the University of California at Los Angeles.

Only two secondary schools, Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass., and Deerfield (Mass.) Academy, had been named in previous years to what is generally an all-college list of outstanding publications.

The AAC award is in recognition of "all-round editorial excellence and high professional standards." To be considered for the top 10 list, the Culver Alumnus first had to be judged on a basis of its appearance and then score high in at least four categories in its editorial treatment of alumni, continuing education, the institution, its students, and its faculty.

During the last year, the Culver Alumnus published a special issue on the performing arts that included a major article by Joshua Logan, an Academy alumnus, and a leading Broadway producer. Other issues this year included a discussion of the Viet Nam war by John Mulliken, "Time" magazine's Pentagon correspondent, and John Bridge, managing editor of "The National Observer," an article on rare books by Yale University Librarian James Babb, who was selected by President Kennedy to organize a new White House library; and a challenge to alumni to support education written by Donald Griffin, recently-retired alumni secretary of Princeton University. All of the writers are Culver alumni.

The AAC specifically commended the magazine for an article "Could Thoreau Thrive at Culver" in which five students discussed in frank unedited material the subject of independent thinking within a military school.

Culver Alumnus Editor Reichley has been a member of the Culver staff since 1960 and director of public relations since 1964. Previously, Reichley was a member of the editorial staff of the York (Pa.) Dispatch for 10 years, during which he won two Keystone Press awards from the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association.

Reichley is a graduate of York (Pa.) Junior College and Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa., where he majored in English. He has done graduate work in journalism at Syracuse University on a Newspaper Fund Fellowship.

STORY HOURS AT THE CULVER PUBLIC LIBRARY

The Summer Reading Club will end July 30 and all children should turn in their booklets before that date.

Mrs. Edward Amond Resigns As Director Of Development Center

Citing "conflicting lines of authority" as her reason, Mrs. Edward Amond has resigned as executive director of the Marshall-Starke Development Center.

The resignation will become effective Aug. 1 and Mrs. Amond says she has no plans for the future. Her resignation stated:

"Because of conflicting lines of authority, the staff and I have not been able to function to the best of our ability. For the best interests of the Center and the children enrolled there, it seems that we should eliminate one of the sources of the conflict. Therefore, I am resigning.

"It is my hope that each and every one of the many people who have given their fine support to the Center this past year will continue to do so again this year. We have seen tremendous progress in the children enrolled there and look forward to further progress this next term.

"I have enjoyed the opportunity to work with the residents in Marshall and Starke Counties and look forward to the time when I will have an opportunity to work with them again."

Miss Elizabeth Schwier, president of the board of directors of the center for retarded and handicapped children, commented:

"We regret to receive the resignation of Shirley Amond. She is the one person who has provided the professional knowledge and direction for the Center.

"Her knowledge of the current development and future plans in the field of mental retardation is exceptional. Although she has resigned as executive director she will continue to serve the Center as a special adviser. For this we are grateful.

"We hope to find a successor who will continue with her ideas and ideals."

Miss Schwier mentioned the board is also seeking two new teachers for the staff for the coming year.

INSULATED BOOTS

Insulated boots are great in sub-zero weather but don't put them on until you go out. Worn in a warm house or car, feet sweat and never get warm again that day.

DIZZINESS

DIZZINESS is a frightening episode and the uncertainty of its cause prompts fear in the victim.

Many persons suffering dizziness imagine this occurrence may be due to brain disease or is a prelude to a stroke.

There are many causes which may bring on dizziness — diseases of the ear or central nervous system, excessive straining of the eye muscles, high blood pressure or anemia.

The control of dizziness is particularly important because of the harm it may do to the patient. A dizzy person might fall towards a hot stove or down a flight of stairs. A mother might be carrying a child and let it accidentally fall from her arms.

In elderly people, the prevalence of dizziness is associated with arteriosclerosis or hardening of the arteries.

Honest advice and service promote confidence in our statements. We have never intentionally misled.

Kathryn Phillips and David Washburn
Are Wed In Louisiana Church Ceremony

MRS. DAVID WALTER WASHBURN

Our Lady Queen of Heaven Church at Lake Charles, La., was the scene of the wedding of Miss Kathryn Marjorie Phillips and David Walter Washburn at 10 o'clock in the morning on Saturday, July 16.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walton Phillips of Houston, Tex., former residents of Lake Charles; and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ross Washburn, 446 School St., Culver.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. Irving DeBlanc officiated at the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Roy Eaton, organist, played the nuptial music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a full-length gown of silk linen fashioned with scoop neckline. The bottom of the gown and sleeves were trimmed with Venice lace and the cathedral train was appliqued with floral motifs. Her veil of illusion fell from a circlet of seed pearls and organza flowers, and she carried a cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis with miniature English ivy.

Mrs. Ward Lott of LaPorte, Tex., was matron of honor and was attired in a full-length aqua gown, trimmed with lace around the empire bodice and sleeves. She wore an aqua organza bow headpiece and carried a bouquet of gold daisies. Donna Jones, as flower girl, wore a dress matching that of the matron of honor.

William J. Washburn served as his brother's best man and ushers were William Studebaker of Logansport, Edward W. Phillips of Lake Charles, and Jimmy Thompson of Beaumont, Tex.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Phillips chose a light aqua linen jacket dress with blue accessories and a white hat. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a beige linen dress with matching jacket, beige accessories, and a pink hat. They each wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in Our Lady Queen of Heaven K.C. Hall for approximately 150 guests. Out of town guests attending were from California, Texas, and Indiana.

After a wedding trip around Lake Michigan the couple will reside at Bedford, Ind. For going away the bride wore a steel blue two-piece dress and coat with white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Lake Charles High School and McNeese State College, and was a teacher for three years at the Calcasieu Parish School in Lake Charles. The bridegroom graduated from Culver High School and McNeese State College. He is employed as coach and teacher at Bedford High School, Bedford, Ind.

CULVER STUDENTS ATTEND I. U. MUSIC CLINIC

Brenda McAllister daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. McAllister, 202 West Lewis St., Culver, attended the Indiana University Music Clinic at the I.U. School of Music in Bloomington, last week.

Other Culver students who attended were Cathy Welsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Welsh, Route 2, and Stuart Lowry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lowry.

Approximately 450 young musicians, coming from as far as Connecticut and Missouri, spent an intensive week of study on the Bloomington campus. The students attended daily classes and rehearsals, participating in two concert bands, an orchestra, and a festival chorus. They also performed individually, and were taught by members of the faculty of the School of Music.

The twentieth annual Music Clinic began on Saturday, July 9, and concluded with a concert in the I.U. Auditorium on Sunday, July 17, given by the major ensembles. The students attending the Clinic, which is under the direction of George F. Krueger, Professor of Choral Music at Indiana University, are selected from applications, and are among the finest young performers in the United States.

When police arrested a woman for jay-walking, she rolled her big brown eyes at the officers and said, "I thought the 'Don't Walk' sign was bus company advertising."

The reporter returned from an interview. "Well," said the editor, "what did our candidate have to say?"

"Nothing."

Ling Su would love to wash and dry her clothes automatically, keep her food fresh in a refrigerator and relax at night with TV. Instead of building a fire at dawn to heat and cook, she'd like to flick a thermostat and heat her morning rice and tea automatically. You have many daily tasks in common with the 700 million Ling Su's of the world . . . except that you live in America, where investor ownership provides the most plentiful and economical supply of electric power in the world.

SESQUICENTENNIAL INDIANA SCRAPBOOK

By J. M. Guthrie
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR
Indiana Sesquicentennial Commission

MEDICINE MEN

To this day there are those who believe that Indian medicine men, shamans and jugglers possessed secrets and curative powers beyond belief. Had their abilities been recognized and their curative powers and methods properly noted by white practitioners there would be hardly any disease among us today, etc., etc.

Some research uncovered a treatise, of a couple of centuries ago, on the treatment of ailments among the Indians of this region. If anyone wishes to make some Injun medicine, following are the ailments and cures:

Trench mouth — chew the root of the cherry tree and hold a long time on the gum.

Veneral disease — the cherry is best, same as above. Branches of young pines, boiled, good too. If these do not work try white creeper.

Arrow wounds — use a root with several feet, called Ouissoucatacki, or crawfoot ranunculus. Crush the root and take four pinches on a quill with a little warm water. Also can be used on persons suffering delirium. Also does pretty well on those crushed by falling trees.

Snake bite — root of the herb of the rattlesnake, called Akiskionaraoui. Can substitute orvietan and theriac.

Eye trouble — root of the wild chervil. Steep root in water and drop juice in the eye. Sweet cicely will do nicely, also. If root gathered in May when vine is in sap, so much the better.

Flux of the abdomen — swallow four pills made of green clay, morning and evening.

Burns — apply the root of the basswood. (A Miami medical miracle drug)

Wounds and sores — bark or root of white oak, boiled. Root of Onis works too and if neither cures, try the bark of young pines. Also, last resort, bark of leatherwood.

Cancer — leatherwood bark good. Leatherwood bark stops bloody flux. Keep trying.

Colds — mouldy corn bread. Try anything, someone will find a cure.

Falling in the limbs (inability to Watusi, etc.) — root and bark of the elder. Boil it and put in soup. About a pint of this sambucus should be administered at a time.

Childbirth pains — root of

Health Hints

MEN—THE WEAKER SEX!

Yes, it's true. Men are the weaker sex. The average lifetime of a man is four or five years less than that of a woman . . . and men have more heart attacks and ulcers. Why? Because men drive the nerves too hard at work and play. Prolonged stress is one of the main causes of many illnesses in men. Learn to relax, men. You'll live longer . . . and stay healthier.

CANKER SORES

Troubled with a canker sore? The common condition of the mouth and tongue is painful, but fortunately not serious. The sore is usually a small blister which ruptures, leaving a yellowish-white painful ulcer. Usually, a canker sore clears up by itself in a few days, but if it doesn't see your doctor. A canker sore can invite secondary infection.

BURSTITIS

Bursitis is known by many names. Whether you call it "housemaid's knee," "tennis elbow," or "policeman's heel," bursitis can be very painful. Bursitis occurs when the sac between a tendon and a bone becomes inflamed following unaccustomed strain or injury. If you become a victim of bursitis, apply hot, wet towels and rest the affected extremity. Above all, see your physician if the pain of bursitis persists.

ISSUED MONTHLY IN THE INTEREST OF YOUR GOOD HEALTH BY THE NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF BLUE SHIELD PLANS.

ginger crushed to powder (Shawnee shamans' sure-cure)

Sharp cuts — plant of a thousand leaves. (This is simply achillea millefolium)

Sore eyes — leaf of hore, boiled. Bark of white oak if hore unavailable.

Films on eyes — burn river shells, pulverize and blow into eyes. Will cut the film.

Drawing things out of wounds (bullets, arrowheads, tommyhawk splinters) — boil distaff reeds and apply. Hot or cold the medicine man did not say.

Bloody flux — best remedy, even better than leatherwood, is root of the fern which bears very small seeds. Steep the root, not the seed, in water until red — the water, not the root. Diminish by a third. Drink about a quarter of a liter on an empty stomach. Three or four doses cure the bloody flux every time.

To vomit — redwood boiled will make one throw up. Also use the stem which leads to little red berries — does likewise. Also, put on mask, dance, yell.

To draw off pus — use bark of the prickly type of ashwood. (Good Algonkin ailment alleviation) Put on Indian sign.

Headaches — bore a hole in cranium to let out Evil Spirit that got inside. Trephined buttons make dandy ear bobs (collectors' items)

Looseness of bowels — sumac best (requires special preparation). Sumac also very good to give confined women not entirely delivered. Sumac pretty good on those who lose too much blood by mouth. Also good for dropsy. Better drink water in which sumac soaked — don't eat too much sumac, might poison. Also, for looseness of bowels, root of the bean trefoil binding.

Felons — chew some bark of the hybrid ash and put on injury. Also good for sprains.

Toothache — bear spleen best. May be placebo but worth a try. Internal sicknesses not otherwise diagnosed — use a hollow, cone-shaped bone, apply large end to place that hurts and suck out evil.

Ear ache — use psychology. By a sleight-of-hand trick draw a small green snake from ear, then show the patient the cause of trouble.

There is more to the Pottawatomie pharmacopoeia but the above should suffice for the majority of physical disabilities.

Caution: get your doctor's written consent before attempting to practice any of these centuries-old, medicine men's tricks on loved ones.

Suggestion: enclose a copy of this article with your next check to your M.D. He may have missed some of this while interning.

Mrs. Vonda Fisher has donated some very good books to the Monterey Library this past week, including Stewart—"Airs Above The Ground"; Seton—"Avalon"; "To Catch an Angel"—Russell; "Those Who Love"—Stone; and many more. O. S. Duff of Niles, Mich. has presented to the Monterey Library a copy of Charles Deams' book of Indiana Shrubs. This is a very appropriate gift for celebrating the famous year.

A special program for the summer reading club was held at the Library, and a story hour for the younger children was held at the same time. A total of 75 children attended. A few games of unscramble words were enjoyed by the older boys and girls, some books were discussed, the children wrote a topic of a favorite book they had read recently, Nairy Bauer told about her latest read book, some different puzzles were worked out by the group, a poem consisting of all the letters of the alphabet using a saying to do with the Library was read by the children. For the younger folk, roll call was taken by each child's favorite food, birthdays were celebrated by Tina Zehner, Steve and Sue Bauer. A short puppet show was presented by Mrs. Claire Zehner and Miss Rebecca Reinhold entitled "The bad Mince Pie". The older children were given an outline map of Indiana and each child was assigned a different subject for filling in the map to correspond with books read for the Indiana week of the summer Reading Club. The children who haven't picked up their outline, are asked to do so in the near future so you can work on them as you read your books on Indiana. The program was presented by Mrs. Carol Eskridge and Mrs. Claire Zehner.

Culver Loses To LaVile And Aubbee

By ROBERT VONDRA

Culver lost 9-3 in a mediocre game against the LaVile team on July 13, when the Indians met the Lancers at the LaVile field. With many of the players that started this season for Culver absent last Wednesday, the team's batting could not match LaVile's.

Brian Lindvall pitched, and gave up ten hits and six walks, against one of the best teams the Indians have met this year.

Culver scored their three runs early in the game and were leading for four innings, but as the game wore on and their morale sank under LaVile's powerful hitting, the lead changed. In a pounding drive that scored six runs in the last two innings, LaVile turned a tight game into an easy win.

The varsity gave Aubbee its first victory over Culver in six years, and also Aubbee's first win of the year, when Culver lost to the Braves 10-7.

An easy kill turned into disaster for the Indians, when all (them) broke loose in the second inning. With the help of three singles and some appropriate Culver errors, the Aubbee team scored eight runs. Although Culver spent the rest of the game trying frantically to pick up lost ground and almost succeeded, their over-eagerness to hit on the Aubbee pitcher may have cost the game.

Terry Gentry pitched an off night, giving up four hits and eight walks.

With two more games left for Culver, their record now stands at 14 losses and four wins.

Maxinkuckee Yacht Club News

By BEVERLY SUVERKRUP

There were nine Skylarks and ten Sailfish entered in Saturday's Junior Fleet race. The winner of the Skylark race was Steve Speer. His brother, Scott Speer, served as his crew.

Greg Schmoll placed second in this race. Philip Schmoll, his brother was crew on this boat. Greg attends the Culver Woodcraft Camp and is also a Junior member of the Yacht Club.

Academy boys took first and second places in the Sailfish race. Jerry Collins sailed the winning boat. Hays Latham was skipper of the second place boat.

Interested spectators in power boats are asked not to cross directly in front of the sailboats. Waves from power boats passing can cause a sailboat to lose all of the wind from their sail. This is especially true on days with very little wind. It is especially dangerous to pull a skier directly across the path of an on coming sailboat. We would greatly appreciate your consideration and we do appreciate your interest.

The Saturday C Scow race was won by Bud Suverkrup in T12. His wife, Beverly Suverkrup, served as crew. The second place boat was T22, Allen Becker was the skipper of this boat. Bill Furry, who sails this boat in the Sunday series, was the crew. This race is being contested.

The Sunday race was won by Bud and Beverly Suverkrup. Bill Furry sailed the boat that finished second. His crew was Allen Becker.

The standings for the Sunday series are: 1st-Furry, 2nd-Suverkrup, 3rd-Speer, 4th-Hollowell, 5th-Zechiel, 6th-Moore, 7th-Muehlhausen, 8th-Trone, 9th-Roth, 10th-Esser and 11th-Shaver.

Several Academy boats participated including two E Scows.
