School Board To Complete 1967 Budget

Faced with an indicated decrease in assessed valuation throughout the three township school districts, the Culver Community Schools' Board will complete the outline of the School Board late this week. The School Board at their regular meeting, Monday evening, July 25, considered scheduled appropriations together with estimated revenues. An increase in both the Special Schools and Tuition rates will be evident according to Robert Rust, Superintendent. He pointed out that not only the decreased valuations, but the lower cash balance as of June 30, 1966, together with certain maintenance projects would cause the rates to advance. Even if the 1967 budget is not larger than last year's, the Superintendent said it would be an increase in tax rates because of certain fiscal circumstances which must be faced.

In other action, the Board took under advisement the repair of the roof of the High School building and the ceiling of the roof of the Aubbeenaubee School, the repair of the Culver gym floor, and repair of the ceiling in the music room at Aubbeenaubee.

A rental fee for the supplies for the kindergarten students at Aubbeenaubee School are to be decided upon by Mr. Howard, the Principal, and the kindergarten instructor.

Approval was also granted for the administrators to plan Curriculum Workshops to be held during the school year.

A letter of resignation from Larry Crabb, an English and Social Studies instructor at Culver High School, was received. Mr. Crabb has been named Principal of Pease-Harris Junior High School. In other communications, the Superintendent reported that an official letter from the Town Board of Trustees granting approval to connect the new High School building to the sewage system had been received.

School Budget Calls For Tax Rate Increase

The tentative 1967 budget for the Culver Community Schools calls for a proposed 1967 tax levy of $4.03, an increase of $1.03 over the rate for 1966.

The Board of School Trustees studied in close detail the appropriation and necessary amounts to be raised in a series of budget sessions giving approval to the tentative schedule to be advertised at a called meeting last Friday evening, July 29. The entire budget totals approximately $728,588 after deductions.

Although the School Board could see no way to reduce the rate before it is submitted to the Commissioners, August 25, Robert Rust, Superintendent, pointed out "The Board hopes that a revised figure on the assessed valuation and perhaps sources of income from the State which we cannot predict will reduce the rate. All parts of the budget are approximations and changes in totals, if any, will take place on or before August 25."

Factors causing the increased rate, the Superintendent explained were lower property valuation base, a restored 16¢ levy to the cumulative building fund levy, a $14,400 lower cash balance on the June 30th statement as compared to the 1965 balance, a revised insurance premium schedule causing two payments to be made in the 1966 fiscal year, and high transfer tuition costs. Other upward revision is due to increased estimates in utility, social security, water usage fees, salaries of administrative and teaching personnel and one added clerical worker and major maintenance projects now under study for activating and scheduling.

The Culver Superintendent said that proposed tax levies for the three-township school district are based upon a ten per cent valuation decrease in both Union Township, Marshall County and North Bend Township, Starke County and a three and one half per cent lowered valuation in Aubbeenaubee Township, Fulton County. The latter valuation is actual.

Although official valuations have not been released in Marshall or Starke Counties, Glendyn Albright, Marshall County Auditor, has certified that a ten per cent reduction is to be used in budget estimates because household goods are no longer taxable and railroad values have dropped.

Last year the Culver Community Schools levied only a 64¢ cumulative building fund rate because property tax relief income was added to the fund. During the year a ruling by the Attorney General stated in effect that property tax relief cannot be used to lower school building fund levy, thus the proposed budget shows the rate of 80¢ which was originally voted for the levy when the fund was established in 1965.

The Culver School Board will soon consider repair projects including installation of a new boiler, repair of stack, and roof of the heating plant building at Culver, and a revision of plumbing in the high school building to provide increased water pressure together with installation of urinals. Other projects up for consideration include roof repair of the high school buildings at both the Culver High School and Aubbeenaubee School, a ceiling on the music room at Aubbeenaubee, and a floor in the study hall at Culver.

In addition to upgrading the physical facilities, the budget proposal provides for a quality education program with continuing emphasis on upgrading on both the elementary and secondary school levels.

In a detailed summary, Mr. Rust explained with the lower valuation of this year, it would have been necessary last year to have had a rate of $3.39 instead of $3.00 to raise the amount of money that was raised.

The special school fund which is used in functional operation of the school system is $244,861 in the proposed 1967 budget as opposed to $212,865 last year. Funds for operating the two plants is $55,050 up $7,000 over 1966.

In coordinate activities which includes transportation, Health (School Nurse) the figure is projected at $12,225 as compared to last year's budget of $37,600. Maintenance is estimated at $31,380 as compared to $30,750. Fixed charges are estimated at $28,870 vs $26,070, and capital outlay, $14,925, as compared to $13,000. General Administration which includes the Superintendent's Office and Administrative expense is $26,000 in 1967 as compared to $19,000; Instruction which includes clerical salaries, instructional supplies and library, also teacher meetings and diploma is $28,135 vs $22,485. In the tuition account, teachers salaries and transfer tuition is $483,727 as compared to $459,100.

MR. AND MRS. VERN LEE FORSYTHE

The Culver Evangelical United Brethren Church was the scene of a lovely candlelight wedding at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening, July 30, when Miss Mary Anne Shock became the bride of Vern Lee Forsythe.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shock, Route 2, Culver, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Forsythe, 424 N. Center St., Bremen.

Rev. Walter D. Mangun, grandfather of the bride, was assisted by Dennis Shock, brother of the bride, in officiating at the double ring ceremony before the altar which was decorated with baskets of white gladioli, pink chrysanthemums, and greenery.

Paul White, organist, played the nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Richard Behmer who sang, "Because," "God Gave Me You," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attired in a floor-length gown of organza over taffeta fashioned with long pointed sleeves and a sabrina neckline which was outlined with scalloped chantilly lace, touched with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. A panel of the scalloped lace trimmed the front of the skirt and edged the tiers of organza ruffles which formed the back of the gown, and extended into a chapel train. The back waistline of the gown was highlighted by a self rosette. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis, centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Don E. Shock, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor wearing a street-length dress of pink lace and chiffon. Her headpiece of illusion was accented with a pink bow and she carried a colonial bouquet of dark pink carnations, white stephanotis and pink ribbon.

Don E. Shock, brother of the bride, served as best man and ushers were Stanley Forsythe and Dennis Shock.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Shock chose an aqua colored dress and white accessories. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a beige silk dress with brown accessories. They each wore a corsage of carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social rooms where the bride's colors of pink and white were carried out in the decorations. Serving were Mrs. James Csabie of South Bend, Miss Jackie Ernsberger of Bremen, Miss Jean Morrison of Plymouth and Miss Karen Jefferies of Chesterton. Miss Linda Forsythe of Bremen was in charge of the guest book.

Out of town guests attending were from Fort Wayne, Monon, Bremen, South Bend, Plymouth, Walkerton, and Columbus, Ind.; Defiance, Ohio, and Plainwell, Mich.

Following a wedding trip to Northern Michigan the young couple will be at home in Norfolk, Va., after Aug. 9.

The bride is a graduate of Culver High School and was employed at Wagner's, Inc., Plymouth. The bridegroom graduated from Bremen High School and is now serving with the U.S. Navy and is stationed at Norfolk, Va.

Unicycle Act To Be Featured At Kewanna Harvest Festival

THE BRADLEYS

Hal and Muriel Bradley and their sons Randy 12 and Brad 9 who have been performing professionally on the unicycles for three years are scheduled to perform at the Kewanna Harvest Festival Saturday, Aug. 27, 1966, afternoon and night performance.

They originally started out doing a hand balancing and tumbling act, as Hal (their father) was a hand balancing performer. Muriel (the mother) was always fascinated by unicycles, so Mother and Dad purchased one for themselves. Randy their son learned the hard way by riding with his Dad and holding the seat in front of him, thereby learning to ride before his dad.

Showing a natural aptitude for riding, Randy and Brad started rehearsing on the unicycles with their mother and dad, and today the Bradleys have perfected one of the outstanding wheel acts in the business. Randy is the only boy in the country using the off-center unicycles which is a trademark for the Bradleys.

FISHING FOR FUN

"Summertime — when the living is easy . . ."

Does the familiar phrase conjure up visions of long days spent lolling on the bank of a stream, waiting for the fish to bite? Alone or in company, it's a favorite summer pastime for millions.

For most of us, release from the tensions and pressures of the workaday world, plus all that fresh air for good measure, are the best prescription for a vacation. But there are few hazards. Marshall County Heart Association points out, not including the failure of the fish to cooperate. Among the latter are:

Overexposure to sun, resulting in severe sunburn or sunstroke. Water intensifies the effect of the sun's rays, even on an overcast day, so protect yourself and your companions adequately. Head covering and a good sunscreen lotion are essential; if you have had a preliminary few weeks of gradual exposure, you can easily avoid getting a painful burn.

Accidentally hooking yourself or other non-fishy victims. If the hook is deeply embedded, don't try to remove it out backward. Have a doctor remove it; he will push the hook out point foremost — it is less painful that way and causes less damage. (Hooks left lying in the bottom of a boat or a dock are a real menace; the barbed points should be covered with small corks when not in use.)

Boating mishaps. Barring storms and squalls and reckless boating by "hot-rodgers," you and your passengers should have smooth sailing if you: don't overload the craft; don't stand up or change seats in a small boat while under way; have life preservers for each occupant; and keep a watchful eye out for other craft, water skiers and swimmers.

Overeating. Remember, this kind of sedentary fishing is not real exercise. The fish are the only ones getting a workout. Let them do the nibbling. Stay away from nonstop snacking.

There is an entirely separate category of hazards for the active fisherman: the type who has to play hard and live dangerously in order to have his fun. Underwater spear-fishing, for one, is a sport only for the young and fit. A tug of war with a 500-pound marlin is also no sport for a middle-aged man with any kind of a heart condition.

Less obviously dangerous, and widely appealing to the not-so-young, are the mountain streams and lakes dancing with trout, promising a vigorous encounter with the terrain as well as with worthy adversaries. Such outings can turn to tragedy unless some basic precautions are observed.

"That efficiency expert has had his eye on me all day," said one girl secretary to another. "I don't know whether to act busy or interested."

Pageant At CMA To Depict County And State History

A pageant with a cast of 200 depicting Marshall County and state history will highlight Indiana Sesquicentennial Day at Culver Military Academy on Saturday, Aug. 6.

Entitled "Spirit of Menominee," the pageant will be given on the Academy's football field at 8:15 p.m. and is open to the public at no admission charge. The special day's observance is one of a series of celebrations held at the Academy this year in commemoration of the state's 150th birthday.

"Culver is extremely conscious of the rich heritage of the great State of Indiana," said Major General Delmar T. Spivey, Academy superintendent. "It is our privilege to be able to share with the general public the many talents and resources of our staff during the Sesquicentennial observance of the Hoosier state."

Directed by Richard Zimmerman, a veteran of 16 years on the Culver summer staff, the pageant will feature a theme of brotherhood and will cover Marshall County history from its first settlers in the mid-1700s to the present day. Its central figure will be Chief Menominee, legendary head of the Potawatami Indian tribe who inhabited the area when it was first settled by the white man. A continuing thread in the pageant will be the county's religious history dating from the arrival of the French Catholics and their work with the Indian tribes in the area.

Zimmerman, though a native of Michigan, has become an expert on Indiana and Marshall County history during the years he has served in the Indian lore Department of the Culver Summer Schools. He assisted and then became director of Woodcraft Camp Council Ring ceremonies and wrote the script for the Camp's fiftieth anniversary celebration in 1962. He also wrote his master's thesis on the council ring ceremonies during graduate work at Wayne State University.

During the winter months, Zimmerman is speech and drama instructor at Dearborn (Mich.) High School. He is being assisted in the pageant by narrator Kent Kurtz, another 16-year veteran on the Culver summer staff. Kurtz is a speech and English instructor at Fort Wayne's Elmhurst High School.

In working with a cast of more than 200 boys and girls and a technical staff of 50 Academy instructors and employees, Zimmerman has used student actors from all four of the Culver Summer Schools. More than 130 youngsters from the Woodcraft Camp will have roles in the pageant, and Zimmerman has written in parts for the Naval School drill team, troopers and horses from the School of Horsemanship, and young ladies from many parts of the nation who are enrolled in the Academy's summer Girls School.

To entertain the audience prior to the start of the pageant, the 34-piece Naval School band will play a brief concert under the direction of Col. Edward Payson, chairman of the music department at Culver. The Band will be seen again Sunday at 4 p.m. when it will play a special Sesquicentennial Concert in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium. Featured in the concert will be compositions by Indiana Composers and other music familiar to Hoosiers. The concert is also open to the public free of admission charge.

To further illustrate Indiana heritage, a special art exhibition from the Hoosier Salon will be hung in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium Gallery beginning Wednesday, Aug. 3. The gallery is open to the public free of charge. The art exhibition is the third sponsored by the Academy as part of its observance of the Indiana Sesquicentennial and will hang in the Eppley Gallery until the close of the current session of the Summer Schools on Aug. 20.

If the problem were solely one of directing non-Hoosiers in a pageant devoted to Indiana history, the pageant here Saturday would be an easy job. But where does one find Indiana uniforms dating back to 1840? And how does one disguise a 14-foot specially-built chapel that is a permanent fixture and yet must be removed from non-religious scenes in the pageant?

And how does a director pull off six costume changes in an hour on a legendary Indian chief who must appear young, then old, and then young again?

To do all these things, Zimmerman has utilized 16 years as a member of Culver's summer Indian lore department. When he found he needed military uniforms to depict the Indiana Volunteers in about 1840, he discovered they weren't available in the Hoosier state. But weeks of searching turned up the needed uniforms in a rental agency in Detroit.

His problem in masking out a 14-foot permanently-built chapel was solved by constructing movable trees which will hide the chapel in scenes where it is not needed. A huge rock also constructed by Academy people must be light enough to be movable and yet strong enough to support the actors. Here, workmen found the answer in chicken wire and lightweight canvas to provide a solid stage prop that can be moved on and off the set.

Zimmerman has utilized staff members in his eight-man Indian lore department for makeup on Chief Menominee, who is portrayed by yet another non-Hoosier, St. Louis-born Scott Janoch. Chief Menominee, who appears in the pageant as a young chief, and then an ancient warrior, and then returns again as a young chief in the grand finale. All this requires six costume and makeup changes.

Since the pageant will be given at night, a stage crew composed of volunteers will assist Academy workmen in utilizing spotlights and individual lighting setups covering virtually the entire length of the Academy's football field. In one scene alone, 17 different fires will be lit — almost simultaneously.

For music, Zimmerman has used classical and light classical music for taping purposes and even this resulted in problems since a main section of the music — the late Carl Fisher's "Reflections of an Indian Boy" — went out of print some years ago. From a scratchy recording borrowed from a friend, Zimmerman has salvaged enough good sections to use it in the pageant.

Six new Indian dances, one square dance, and several new tribal ceremonies have been written especially for the pageant, and new Indian costumes have been made by Mr. and Mrs. Homer Kemple, of the town of Culver, who have made costumes used in Culver ceremonies for many years.

Zimmerman has utilized winter months and most of the summer in preparing the script for the pageant, though some of the source material was developed four years ago for the Woodcraft Camp's fiftieth anniversary celebration.

Travelogue Is Friday Evening Feature At Wizard of Oz Lodge

Al Jonas of Knox will present one of his fascinating travelogues with pictures and comments Friday evening, Aug. 5, at the Wizard of Oz Lodge on the east side of Bass Lake.

Mr. Jonas has an interesting and unique way of presenting his travels with Mrs. Jonas in all parts of the world.

The program will follow the buffet dinner served from 6 to 8 p.m. that evening, Aug. 5.

Two old hermits had saved some money and decided to have themselves some fun. So they got on a train. After a while, a fruit vendor passed through and persuaded them to buy some bananas.

The bolder one peeled a banana half way down and ate it just as the train entered a tunnel. Excitedly he exclaimed: "Hey, Zeke, you eat that there banana yit?"

"Nope," was the reply.

"Well, don't do it," declared the first, "I et mine and durned if I ain't stone blind."

BREAKFAST

For eight or more hours as a rule, the body has been without nourishment and the blood has been depleted of materials needed for a well-functioning mind and body. Yet many people think that a hurried cup of coffee with perhaps a slice of toast is sufficient to break the fast.

It is not sufficient; breakfast is actually an important part of the day's three meals. Careful studies have shown that with a proper breakfast people work better, think clearer and have steadier nerves. With an insufficient breakfast comes a midmorning slump in work output, hunger pangs or nervousness. This is caused by a drop in the amount of available glucose or blood sugar, circulating in the blood stream.

Nutrition experts recommend that breakfast should provide from one-fourth to one-third of the daily calories and other nutrients, with some protein food of good quality.

Milk, meat, eggs or cereal with milk will provide a good breakfast, and what is more, you will feel better, and work better.

Women are to blame for most of the lying men do. They insist asking questions.

LIGHT UP THE STAIRWAY

It only takes a little thing
To trip you on the stair —
So Sue Safety says make double sure
You've lots of lighting there.

Gal: "Am I the first girl you've ever kissed?"

Pal: "Well, you might be . . . your face is kind of familiar."

Turhel Wheels suggests this slogan for teenagers: "Cease and detwist!"

Two drunks wandered into a zoo and stopped in front of a lion's cage. They stood watching the animal a few minutes and suddenly it let out a roar.

"C'mon, let's go," said one of the men.

"Go ahead if you want to," responded the other, "I'm gonna stay for the movie."

Of the many remedies that won't cure a cold whiskey is by far the most popular.

Three elderly ladies were stranded in a tough neighborhood and they reluctantly stopped at a local greasy spoon and ordered from a grizzly waiter. "I'll have a cup of strong tea and no lemon," said one.

"Some weak tea and lemon," said the second.

"Tea for me," said the third, "but make sure the cup is clean."

Returning a few minutes later with the order, the waiter grumbled, "Okay, which one wanted the clean cup?"

"What does your husband work at, Mrs. Murphy?"

"Intervals."

The computer-minded who think that logic is always superior to common sense may be interested to hear of the man who had two wristwatches. One gained two seconds a day and the other had no works — just a dial.

After programming the latest computer to decide which he should discard, he got the answer that he should keep the empty watch since it would tell him the correct time twice each day, whereas the one that gained two seconds would give him the exact time only once every 120 years!

The young lady eyed her escort with extreme disapproval.

"That's the fourth time you've gone back for more ice cream and cake, Albert," she said acidly.

"Doesn't it embarrass you at all?"

"Why should it?" the hungry fellow shrugged. "I keep telling them I'm getting it for you."

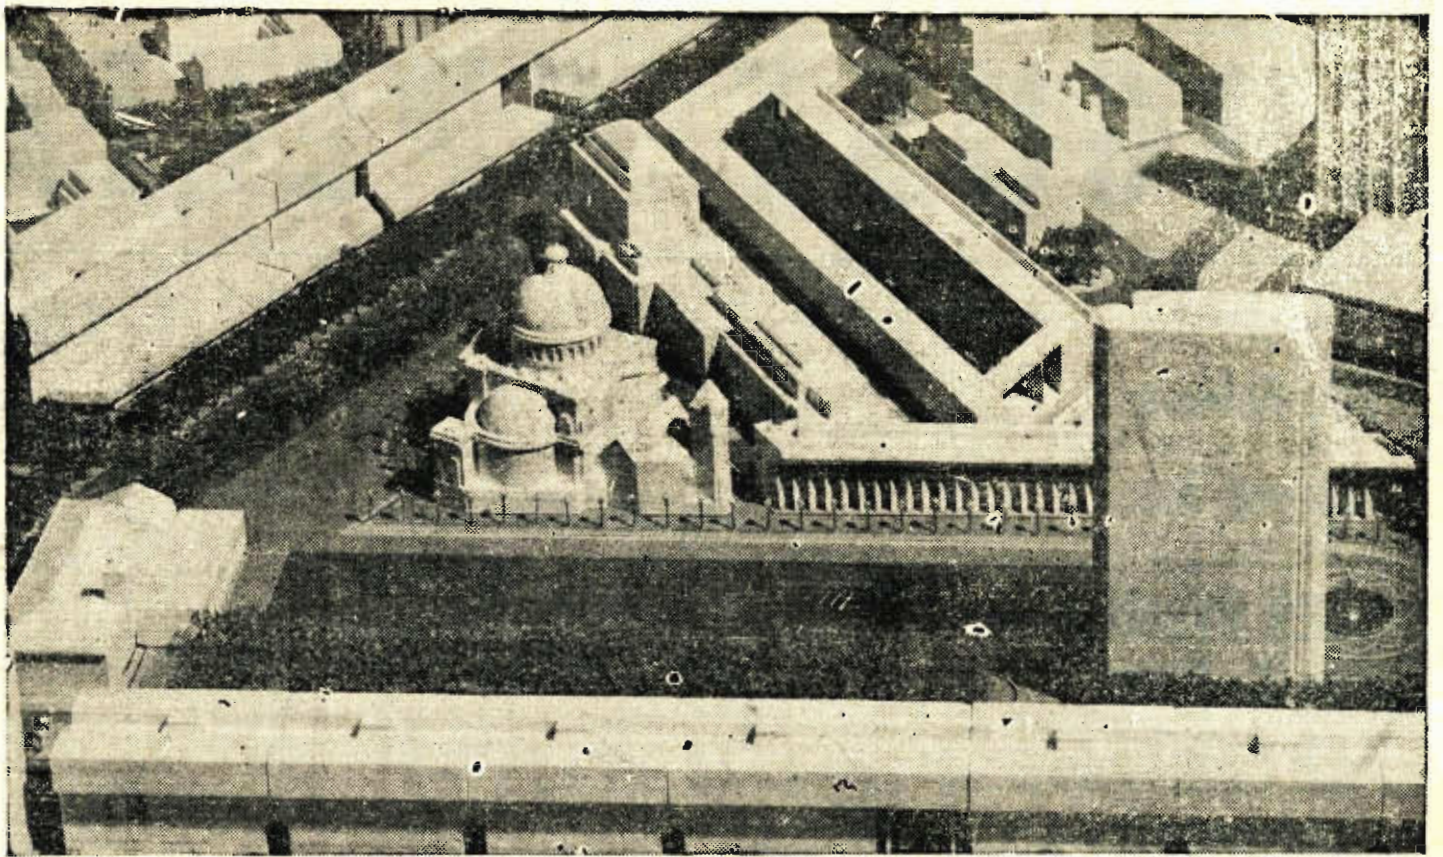

A little tot, in church for the first time, watched the ushers pass the collection plates. When they neared the pew, he piped up so everyone could hear — "Don't pay for me, Daddy; I'm under five."

A social worker who passed a certain bar every night on her way home noticed that one of her clients seemed to haunt the place. One evening, as he came staggering out of the place, she spoke to him.

"Why do you go into a place like this? What makes you do it?" she asked.

"Why, nothing makes me do it, Miss," he replied grandly. "I'm a volunteer."

The retiring usher was instructing his youthful successor in the details of his office. "And remember, my boy, that we have nothing but good, kind Christians in this church — until you try to put

CONSTRUCTION BEGINS ON NEW CHRISTIAN SCIENCE "CHURCH CENTER"

First stages of land clearance were initiated June 6 for the expanded 15-acre headquarters of Christian Science, as members gathered from around the world for their Annual Meeting in "The Mother Church," shown in the center of this planning model. New details in the plan by L. M. Pei & Associates call for a block-long reflecting pool covering an underground garage, a 26-story Church Administration Building (lower right, scheduled for completion in 1969), and more space for auxiliary facilities in the long colonnaded building extending to the right of the original church. Also pictured are the existing Publishing House and proposed new apartment buildings surrounding the Center.

someone else in their pew."

A woman tourist in Greece rented a car and drove out to one of the ancient temples. Passing near one huge fallen column, she asked a fellow tourist to take a snapshot.

"Don't get the car in the picture," she said, "or my husband will think I knocked this place down."

"Willy, git yore paw's hat ont'n that mud puddle."

"Cain't, Maw. He's got it on too tight."

A speaker was lecturing on forest preserves. "I don't suppose," he said, "that there's a person in the house who has done a single thing to conserve our timber resources."

Silence ruled for several seconds, then a meek voice from the rear of the hall timidly retorted, "I once shot a woodpecker."

A teacher sent this note home at the start of the term: "If you promise not to believe everything your child says happens at school, I'll promise not to believe everything he says happens at home."

When an all-Texas regiment landed in North Africa, the Captain is reported as saying, "Remember, men, we've got to humor these natives. If they say Africa is bigger than Texas, agree with them."

A would-be soap-box orator who had reached the argumentative stage sat down next to a clergyman on a bus. Wishing to get into an argument, he turned and said, "I'm not going to heaven because there is no heaven." His words, however, got no response.

"I said I'm not going to heaven because there is no heaven," he said again, almost shouting as he came to the end of his sentence.

"Well, then," replied the clergyman calmly, "go to hell, but be quiet about it."

"What's new around your house?" said a lady to a small boy.

"I don't know," he replied sadly. "They spell everything."

A mother, knowing that her little ones possessed an unerring knack for uncovering secrets, felt desperate measures were needed to prevent the children from discovering the Easter eggs in advance. She took the eggs to the chicken house and put them under an old setting hen. The rooster came home, saw the eggs, flew into a rage, jumped the fence, and beat the daylights out of the peacock!

A man took his daughter on a trip to New York. They went to one of those plays that made father blush a bit.

"I'm sorry, Dorothy, that I brought you here," he said. "This is hardly a play for a girl of your age."

"Oh, that's all right, dad. It'll probably liven up some before the end."

Boss: "You're the laziest man I ever saw. Isn't there a single thing you are quick at?"

Workman: "Yes, I get tired

WOMEN GET MORE HEADACHES THAN MEN, SAY DOCTORS, AND THEY RECUR MORE OFTEN—MANY MORE MIGRAINE, AND THREE TIMES AS MANY NERVOUS TENSION HEADACHES, THE MOST COMMON TYPE. CAUSES ARE MANY: MONOTONY OF HOUSEKEEPING, BOREDOM, PRESSURE OF RAISING CHILDREN, ETC.

KEEPING A COOL HEAD MAY BE HARDER FOR WOMEN, BECAUSE OF THEIR ENDOCRINE GLANDULAR SYSTEM. THEY SHOW WIDER FLUCTUATIONS IN TEMPERATURE, MORE SEVERE RESPONSE TO PAIN, AND WEATHER, SOME SCIENTISTS SAY, WILL INFLUENCE HEADACHES.

A HEADACHE TABLET DESIGNED FOR WOMEN RELIEVES THE PAIN AND THE NERVOUS TENSION THAT OFTEN CAUSES HEADACHE. CALLED CORE IT COMBINES THE MOST WIDELY USED PAIN-RELIEVER AND A GENTLE RELAXANT. THE IDEAL FORMULATION FOR COMBATING THE EVERYDAY NERVOUS TENSION HEADACHE.

By Mary Whitman

The "donkey game" is a party standby.

No one seems to know how long youngsters have been pinning tails on donkeys at birthdays. If you're new to the game, here's how it goes. A picture of a donkey is mounted on the wall or door at the children's arm level. Paper donkey tails are provided, usually numbered 1 to 24. Each child is blindfolded, is turned around once or twice, then goes unsteadily to the picture to pin the tail. The donkey tail closest to the right position wins — but most turn up pinned to the ears, the body, or the clouds in the sky in the picture's background.

Party-givers will find that variety stores now have an extra large boxed donkey game with many advantages. The picture — a soft-eyed Mediterranean donkey bearing flowery baskets — could become a permanent wall decoration. It's 29" x 22" in size, can be mounted on corrugated cardboard for the game, then framed to brighten the play room between birthdays.

"Another bright spot — especially for those giving parties for the first time — is the booklet of games enclosed in the box," points out game editor Mary Hill of Whitman Publishing Company of Racine, Wis. "The donkey tails can be used for party stunts and fortunes. Each child takes a numbered tail, and the hostess reads 'assignments' and futures from the book."

Other games are suggested, too, for small-fry festivity. For instance, five party games can be planned around a pound of peanuts in the shell. Children can play peanut carry, peanut toss, peanut blow, red-hot peanuts and peanuts in the bag — and eat the peanuts later. "Red-hot peanuts" is a variation of musical chairs and hot potato. Peanuts are passed around a seated circle until the music — radio, record player or piano — stops. Peanut-holders are out. The last child to stay in the circle without a peanut wins. Rules for other games such as Who Am I, Stop Thief and Make a Break are here, too. So are tips on magic tricks.

The next party could be the easiest with helps like these.

Assistant: "No, madam, we haven't had any for quite a long time."

Manager (overhearing): "Oh, yes, we have, madam; I will just send to the warehouse and have some brought in for you." (aside to assistant):

"Never refuse anything; send out for it."

As the lady went out laughing, the manager demanded of the assistant: "What did she say?"

Assistant: "She said, 'We haven't had rain lately!'"

Little Georgie received a new drum for Christmas, and shortly thereafter, when father came home from work one evening, mother said: "I don't think that man upstairs likes to hear Georgie play his drum, but he's certainly subtle about it."

Father: "Why?"

Mother: "Well, this afternoon he gave Georgie a knife, and asked him if he knew what was inside the drum."

The Agriculture official told the old farmer to collect his stock of every description and have them branded.

"Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or being his counselor hath taught him?" Isaiah's tribute to the almightiness of God is part of the Bible Lesson-Sermon on "Spirit" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.
 Also included will be this passage from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit blesses man, but man cannot tell whence it cometh." By it the sick are healed, the sorrowing are comforted, and the sinning are reformed. These are the effects of one universal God, the invisible good dwelling in eternal Science."

F. Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Mohr and daughters, Stephanie and Cynthia, left Monday for Ft. Polk, La., where Sgt. Mohr will be stationed.

Dur displays are complete — ranging from very moderate in price to higher priced merchandise for those who wish to invest more.

SYMBOL OF SAFETY

You never mistake the meaning of a Church spire. Even to those who are cold to the ideals for which the Church stands, that finger of faith always points to something that is comforting, reassuring, safe. The very presence of a Church, whether in a crowded city street or on a quiet country road, is a benediction to all, including those who are not conscious of worship.

Such an influence, with what it means to those who open their hearts to truth, is worthy of a second thought. It merits acceptance as a refuge. It commands confidence as a port in time of storm. The Church deserves your support — your membership — because it affords real protection for the family whose welfare it is your duty to defend and whose proper upbringing is your solemn obligation.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH
 The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The maintenance superintendent had a pretty teen-queen daughter who asked her boy friend to see the ball game over the family television set. When the boy arrived, he brought a jug that obviously contained a mixture involving alcohol, and during the game he took a nip now and then. At last the maintenance superintendent could stand it no longer.

"Young man," he said, "I'm 47 years old, and never in my life have I touched liquor."
"Well, don't get no ideas, Pop," the brash boy friend snarled. "You ain't gettin' any of this."

The school inspector prepared to give the children an intelligence test.
"Now, children, close your eyes."
The inspector made a noise like a dog panting.
"Now open your eyes and tell me what I was doing."
"Kissing teacher," came the reply from one of the boys in a back seat.

Why can't life's problems hit us when we're 18 and we know everything?

An Irishman, after paying his respects in the cemetery, walked about looking over some of the old tombstones. He stopped before one on which was engraved: "Here lies Sandy MacGregor — A Generous Father and a Pious Man."
"Huh!" exclaimed the Irishman. "Just like the Scotch — three men in one grave!"

The mama bull, the papa bull, and the baby bull set out to go to the fair. After walking a while the mama bull became tired and sat down to rest. A while later the papa bull got tired and he sat down to rest. But the little bull walked all the way to the fair.
Now, the moral to this is: "Sometimes a little bull goes a long way."

The salesman breezed into the office of Julius J. Grouch one sultry afternoon.
"Hi, Willie," greeted the office boy, "haven't seen you in a long time. How's your boss standing the heat?"
"Not heard," came Willie's terse reply. "He's only been dead a week."

Social Security

Disability insurance benefits have been a part of the social security program since 1957, according to Charles E. Burke, District Manager of the South Bend Social Security Office.

In 1965 an important change occurred in disability provisions. This change concerned the length of time that a worker must be disabled in order to qualify for disability benefits.

Before the 1965 amendments, it was necessary for a person to be so disabled that he was unable to perform any substantial gainful activity, and this disability must have been expected to be of long and indefinite duration or to result in death.

Under the disability provisions now in effect, a person may qualify for disability benefits if he is unable to do any substantial work, and his disability is expected to last at least one year.

Mr. Burke pointed out that this change in the social security program is an especially important one to a worker who had previously filed an application which was denied because his disability was determined not to be of long and indefinite duration. Such a worker should now contact the South Bend, Indiana social security office at 125 S. Lafayette Blvd. right away if his disability is expected to last at least 12 months. He may now be able to receive disability insurance benefits.

Direct Male recalls the old days when, if a youth started sowing wild oats, his father started the thrashing machine.

Lulu and Effie were discussing Christmas presents. "Do you think one great big stocking would hold everything you want this year?" asked Lulu.

"No," returned Effie, "but one pair of men Sox certainly would!"

Advice from a former New Orleans playboy to his son, on the subject of marriage: "My boy, I've just got two little pieces of advice to give you. First, always reserve the right to spend one night a week out with the boys." He paused and then his son asked for the second piece of advice. He immediately got it: "Don't waste it on the boys!"

A prim little old lady was telling her friend about her awful shock upon finding two empty whiskey bottles in her garbage can. "You can imagine my embarrassment," she said. "I got them out fast because I didn't want the garbage man to think I drink."

"Well, the minister lives next door," was the reply, "so I put them in his garbage can; everybody knows he doesn't drink."

Health Hints

BARKED KNEES

WARMER WEATHER, lighter clothing, running, and barked or abraded knees usually come in that order. Barked knees, after being washed with soap and water and kept as clean as possible, are best left unbandaged until a dry scab is formed. Otherwise, the bandage gets stuck and pulls off the scab when it is changed.

SUNBURN

REMEMBER that the redness of sunburn doesn't show up until several hours after the damage is done. In welcoming the sun this summer, remember: (1) increase exposure very gradually, (2) excessive exposure is unwise even when the skin has been gradually tanned and (3) severe sunburn can be as dangerous as any other burn. For relief of sunburn, apply plain cold cream or petroleum jelly. For moderate to severe sunburn, consult a doctor.

GARDENING

BEFORE YOU BEGIN your outdoor work, it's good practice to read all the instructions and warnings before using a gardening product. Many pesticides and even some fertilizers contain chemicals that are potentially dangerous. To be on the safe side, it is wise to avoid excessive contact with some of these products, especially those that are in powder form and easily inhaled. Wearing canvas work gloves is another precaution.

Two men were discussing the high rate of taxes and government waste of money. Just then a school bus passed them. "See what I mean," exclaimed one. "When I was a boy we walked three miles to school and three miles back home each day. Now we spend $50,000 for a gymnasium so they can get exercise."
