The School Trustees reviewed a census report of resident pupil population of the three-township school district prepared for a vocational education application. The report discloses a total of 1402 pupils kindergarten through grade 12 residing in the district.

Petitions requesting issuance of $300,000 general obligation bonds and a petition requesting the Board of School Trustees "to obtain the erection of and to secure a lease upon a new High School building" to be built by a community corporation, are being circulated this week by 25 petition carriers.

Plans for the new High School building to be erected upon a newly purchased 37-acre campus located at the intersection of State Road 10 and School Street, have been approved by the State School House Planning Commission and the General Commission on Education.

Maxinkuckee Yacht Club News

By BEVERLY SUVERKRUP

For the last three Sundays the Yacht Club has had a Fall series of C Scow races.

On September 4, Bill Furry sailed T22 to a victory. His father, Gene Furry, and his sister Susie Furry were the crew for that race.

The second place was won by Bud Suverkrup in T12. Bill "Cutter" Washburn and Mary Anna Becker were the crew.

Allen Becker won the September 11 race in T22. Leo Weber, a guest from Logansport, served as crew.

Charlie Roth placed second in this race. His crew was Bill Studebaker and they sailed T101.

Cutter Washburn sailed T12 to a victory in the September 18 race.

Bud Suverkrup was the crew in this race.

The second place boat was skippered by Bill Furry. His crew was Ed Kinnear.

In the C Scow races, the place the boat comes in in a race is credited to the boat rather than to the skipper regardless of the boat.

The Fall series was won by Bill Furry in T22.

Editor, THE CULVER CITIZEN: I read an interesting (?) letter in this column last week and would now like to give my opinion on the subject. The letter was written by some bowler who isn't happy because there isn't a parking place right in front of the bowling alley door waiting for her when she comes to bowl. She does not think it's right for teenagers to drive their cars down there, they should leave them at home so there will be plenty of room for her car. What she doesn't seem to realize is teenagers are human beings with rights too. If they get there first they are entitled to those parking places. The same holds true where the seats in the bowling alley are concerned. The bowling alley is a place for the around here to go at night and she should be thankful they are there instead of some other places.

Double parking and stopping are a problem, but have you ever noticed the women who double park their cars up town to run in a store?! Teenagers aren't the only ones responsible for this problem, so share the blame.

BEAUFORT, S.C. -- Marine Private First Class Thomas E. Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Schmidt of Rural Route 1, Culver, was cited by his Commanding Officer for outstanding effectiveness in maintaining the aircraft during the mission.

Personnel of VMFA-312 were participating in a combined Air Force, Navy, and Marine Corps missile shoot for crew training and missile evaluation.

U.S. And Canada Tie In Canoe Championships

For the first time in the 14-year history of the event, United States and Canadian teams tied in the North American Canoe Championships held at Culver Military Academy last weekend (Sept. 17-18.)

Favored Canadian paddlers swept three of the first four long distance events in Saturday's competition, but bolstered by a clean sweep by American girls, the U.S. team recovered Sunday and won the last event to deadlock the race for the John Labatt aggregate trophy. The Labatt trophy goes to the team with the highest number of first places, and only in 1964 was the U.S. able to win it.

The deadlock was a surprise in some canoeing circles and reflected what Kenneth Smith, commodore of the Canadian Canoe Association, said is the steady improvement of American teams.

"Canada has always dominated the North American, but then we started so far ahead of the U.S. in canoeing. I think the tie does show a steady improvement by the Americans, and, of course, the U.S. girls are very talented. But Canada still holds an edge in depth, and had we been able to bring along several strong canoeists unable to make the trip, we might have been able to change the aggregate results."

The races were held on Lake Maxinkuckee during two perfect days for racing. The only aspect that marred the event was the absence of Hungarian-born Kalmán Blaho, national coach of the American team and a member of the Culver staff. Blaho was stricken with a heart attack last Tuesday as he was preparing the course for the weekend races. He remains in a serious condition at Parkview Hospital, Plymouth, Ind.

Saturday's events were devoted to 10,000 meter races in both kayaks and canoes and the Canadians left little doubt about their superiority at the long distances. Only the American team of Washington's John Van Dyke and Bill Bragg, Purdue, Calif., were able to hold off the Canadians by winning the two-man kayak race. Canada swept the other three easily, though American 10,000-meter champion Kenny Wilson gave perennial Canadian winner Gabor Joo a battle before falling behind in the last lap of the six-mile race.

Sunday was a different story as Marcia Smoke, her sister Sperry Rademacher, and 1964 Olympic Silver Medal winner Francine Fox opened the races by sweeping the 500-meter kayak race. Mrs. Smoke, who won a Bronze Medal at the Tokyo Olympics two years ago, took the lead and never relinquished it. She and her sister are from Oklahoma City, and teamed together two races later to win the 500-meter K-2 competition. Their victory followed that of New York's Kenny Wilson in the 1,000-meter K-1 race and tied the U.S.-Canadian battle for the Labatt trophy.

Though Canada took the C-2 and C-4 races at 1,000 meters, the Americans were not to be denied. In the 1,000-meter, two-man kayak contest, Van Dyke and Wilson teamed together to edge out the top-flight pair of Hungarian-born Canadians Jimmy Simonyik and Gabor Joo. The U.S. went into the last race needing a victory to tie. And they got it in a close race for the K-4, 1000-meter championship. The winning American team was made up of Van Dyke, Wilson, Bragg and Philadelphia's Bob Harris, also a native Hungarian.

The North American championship was organized and run by Ray Dodge, past commodore of the American Canoe Association, and Chester Marshall, director of athletics at Culver. Dodge is from Niles, Mich.

MEDICARE

Mr. Charles E. Burke, District Manager of the South Bend Social Security Office, stated today that a great deal of attention has been focused on the Medicare program since it began on July 1. People were anxious to see how it would work out in practice. There was no mad rush to enter the hospitals and very few problems were encountered for those 65 and over who had to have hospital attention. The financial aspects of the program has also had some particular interest and consideration and deserves further explanation.

There are two parts to the Medicare program and each is financed differently. The hospital part of the program is financed by a rate of .35 on one percent of the individual's earnings with an equal contribution by the employer of an employed individual. The tax is on earnings up to $6600.00 a year. The annual tax on that amounts to $23.00. This is scheduled to increase slightly in years to come to keep the program financially sound. According to the present law the maximum tax any individual will pay will be $52.80 a year but not until 1987. The hospital fund is kept separate from the funds that pay cash retirement benefits.

Mr. Burke also said that the second part of the program, the voluntary supplementary medical insurance plan, is financed by the contribution of $3.00 per month by those persons who are enrolled. A matching contribution of $3.00 from the Federal Government out of general revenues goes to finance this part of the insurance. There is no contribution from the employers or from social security funds to finance the supplementary medical insurance.

Contributions from the general revenue of the Federal Government will support the hospital insurance of those who were not covered by social security. The law provides for the review of the financial status of the supplementary medical insurance program every two years to insure fiscal soundness.

Remember if you have any questions about Medicare contact the Social Security Office. It is located at 1125 S. Lafayette Blvd., South Bend, Indiana. Phone 234-4001.

Students Comment On Summer Abroad

By PATTI MCCOMBS
As most of us already know there were three students from Culver who spent their summer studying abroad. The following are the answers from a conversation between Patty Overmyer, Bob Shirrell, and myself.

Bob was gone about six and a half weeks, five days of which he spent in London, two and a half at Brussels, five in Paris, and the rest of the time at Tours, France at the university where he studied. There were 177 students participating in the same program as Bob. The program was called American Education International.

Bob feels his most interesting experience was when he was in London. One of his friends and he went to an anti-Viet Nam war march. He says it was really interesting the way they carried on. Most of them were beatniks yelling "Hey hey, LBJ. How many boys did you kill today?" Some were yelling "US, get out of Viet Nam." The police came and as they were being put into the paddywagons they were singing "We shall overcome." Just a little ironical, don't you think? After all it is an American civil rights song.

Bob says the food was excellent. "When you hear someone say the French cooking is among the best in the world, you can believe them!" His favorites were salads, breads, and pastries.

He also feels that their sanitation standards are not above improvement. One example: One day he found a great big dead bee in the salad bowl!

When asked what he had the most trouble with he responded with the monetary system in England. It seems he had to figure out what to do with shillings, crowns, pounds, pennies and pence. In France for the first week he had trouble with the language. "I could understand the Frenchman, but for some reason he couldn't understand me," says Bob.

Bob is glad to be home again and back to good ole CHS. He would like to thank his parents and Mrs. Virginia Smith, who through their help and encouragement, made the trip possible. We're glad to have you back Bob, and I'm sure you deserved such a wonderful opportunity.

According to Patty the food is "delicious". Breakfasts consisted of bread with tea or coffee. The breakfast was a little skimpy, but the four and five course dinners, and lunches, made up for them. Her favorite were the pastries, which she thinks are out of this world.

Patty says the people are so friendly they make you feel right at home. "Everyone was so helpful, you couldn't help but enjoy yourself."

One of the best times Patty had was during the last night in Paris. About 12:00 at night the director took some of the students to Les Halles, which is a huge market place in France, and very famous. It seems she got back to her hotel that night with peaches, pears, apples, and grapes (even managed a watermelon) without paying a franc. Hmmm.

The most trouble she had was with her french when she would go to a store.

Patty saw all kinds of clothes while she was in Quimper, France. (That's where she lived.) Everything except the mod clothes. The clothes in Paris are really wild and there they have some of the most beautiful knits she ever saw.

One of the different customs that impressed Patty the most was the way the boys all behaved. Every one of them was a perfect gentleman. Also, the youth are very formal when talking to an elder.

There are probably a million more interesting things Patty and Bob could tell us of their experiences, but unfortunately, we don't have the time. I'm sure their trip was a rewarding experience which they will never forget and it just goes to prove the younger generation aren't all bad, as many of the adults seem to think.

I Spy

By SUSIE THEWS

As I walked up the familiar high school steps, I could hear the voice of my victim cheerfully talking to anyone and everyone in sight. I lost my victim in the crowd, but encountered him again in first period English class. There, when he finally stopped talking, he went straight to work reading, taking notes, and answering questions every once in a while.

Second period my victim had Chemistry which, by the way, he thinks is easy.

His next and favorite class, so he said, was Chorus. He spent the next 55 minutes singing and pestering Mr. Fouts. He accomplished the latter quite well and I won't comment on the former.

After Chorus my victim ran up to room 4 where he had French class. "Il a parle francais" until he was dismissed for lunch.

After a nourishing lunch, my victim was all ready to march with the band. He especially liked this period because he got to yell at everyone in his file.

6th period he trotted up to U.S. History class where he spent his time pestering Mr. Waxman and keeping the class in a general uproar.

The last period of the day my victim had Algebra and since the classroom was quiet, I assume that he studied (?)

With school finally over my victim headed happily (?) for cross-country practice. Now, if you still haven't guessed who my victim is I'll fill you in. He's none other than one of those great JUNIORS, Corky Overmyer.

Students To Visit Purdue

The lure of education at a university that has had nine graduates in the aerospace program will be sampled by prospective students at Purdue University's annual High School Day, Saturday, Oct. 15.

The all-day program on the Purdue campus, Lafayette, Indiana, is intended mainly for high school juniors and seniors, whether or not they plan to enroll at Purdue. Parents and high school counselors are invited, too.

Reservations for the day's program should be made in the office of Mr. Miller by October 3.

Last year's turnout of 3,700 persons far surpassed the advance expectations. Even more may be attracted by the space age theme, to be introduced by Harland W. White, Purdue Director of Admissions, in a keynote talk on "Shoot for the Moon" in Purdue's huge Elliott Hall of Music, seating 6,080.

Registration will start at 8:15 a.m. in the Hall of Music lobby.

Charles A. Henry, Associate Director of Admissions, said an added program feature this year will be a 25-minute concert by the 100-piece Purdue Concert Band, opening the general session at 9:00 a.m.

From 10:00 a.m. to 12:10 p.m., the visiting students will meet with counselors in the Purdue School in which they could prepare for their first-choice career.

"This will be an opportunity for a professor-to-student exchange to establish some directions toward a youngster's lifetime goals," Henry said. "Then they'll get a student-to-student exchange when they eat lunch with Purdue students in the residence halls. College and career won't be quite so distant and unknown to them after these personal dialogues."

Visiting students will be given a chance to visit a second-choice educational area in the afternoon or to join in conducted tours of Purdue's laboratories and other facilities.

All Purdue schools and departments co-operate in the on-campus program, sponsored by the Office of Admissions, which spends most of the year in fieldwork with college counselors in Indiana high schools.

Bits and Pieces

The Man From U.N.C.L.E. has been saving quite a bit of information to relate to us so let's let him begin.

Hey Susie T., we hear that you are more interested in walking then taking your Honda, wonder what happened? Oh you say that you were grounded from your Honda for two weeks!! Cheer up, it is not far away.

Attention-Attention!! Joan Kos-terman would like to say hi to everyone at Culver.

Walking around the halls, we notice a few early birds with their Senior cords on. They sure look great, but aren't you jumping the gun a little.

Congratulations to all the boys in cross-country for a splendid job with Argos last Friday night. Keep up the good work!!

Hey gang, the apple season is not quite here yet so the next time will you please pay for them?

George J., we hear that you were chased by two German Shepherds the other night. Well, it serves you right for being in an orchard.

Well, play time is around again and the Seniors are pretty anxious. Wonder if the boys will be brave enough to try out? Come on Guys, lets show the girls all that you have!!

It seems Peggy S. has found a new way of attracting certain boys' attention; but isn't throwing your purse a little too much?

The Seniors are beginning their magazine sales and would like for all to help as much as they can.

Hey Rex-how did your football game come out on Sunday? Sure there were no broken bones or black eyes??

It seems like the Juniors are also anxious because on Friday they ordered their rings. Well, we hope that you will enjoy them!!

We have been told that the 5th period Chemistry boys are really enjoying the class. Wonder what is going on in there? For more info ask someone from the class.

The Man From U.N.C.L.E. has been ordered to another case so he has to leave us but would like to say thanks to all his victims and to be on the watch for more victims for him to investigate.

Dear Staff and other interested readers:

We would like to welcome to our staff four new members--we shall call them junior writers. With the help of Mrs. Manis, Sylvia Warner, Cindy McKee, Brian Crosley, and Doug Snyder, all sixth graders, have been chosen to help write grade school news.

We hope to have an article from them for next week's Schoolbell. Patty and Suzi

First School Convocation

By SUZANNE OVERMYER

On September 9, the first student and teacher assembly was held for the school year of 1966-67. Its purpose which is becoming a tradition at Culver was to introduce the new faculty members and the new students.

Cheryll Zink, president of Student Council, welcomed all the new students and teachers. She then introduced Culver High School's new principal, Mr. Bernhardt. Mr. Bernhardt introduced the new members of the faculty. Then a student councilman from each of the five classes introduced the new members of his class. The seventh grade was also introduced as a standing body and welcomed to the mighty halls of Culver High.

Mr. Bernhardt then gave the traditional principal speech on how to make this the best year for both the students and the teachers.

Academy Sports

Experience and weight distinguish Culver Military Academy's varsity football Eagles from last year's squad. The Academy will open its 1966 football season Saturday afternoon as host to Bremen High School.

The 2 p.m. game is Bremen's eighth session with the Eagles. Culver has led the series with seven wins and last year's loss. Bremen is one-and-one so far in its season with a win over Triton and a loss to Concord.

Coach Russ Oliver, beginning his 27th season at the helm of the Eagles, says that his probable starting lineup will average three years of working together and 181 pounds — much larger and more experienced than last year, when Culver trudged through a 2-5-1 season.

"The squad is in the best physical shape for an opening game that I have seen in a long time, plus the fact that we have more depth than in other years. We have 15 returning varsity lettermen, two reserve letter winners, 12 from the Fresh-Soph team and three players from the intramural program."

Right tackle Al Kuehar, captain of the Maroon and White, will anchor the offensive and defensive lines. The six foot, 210-pounder from Crown Point has played for three years.

Coach Oliver sees some strength in returning runners Spence Dickinson at halfback, Chuck Borton at fullback, and in scatback Brad Strait, who runs the 100 in 10.2. He is also watching Dave Dale, his scrapping six-foot, 175 pound guard and end Chip Linnemeier, "a good pass receiver."

Adding steam to Coach Oliver's 130-67-11 career record are full-back George Barry, guard Mike Houston and end Doug Richards. Oliver says that Barry and Houston are not big, but they are scrappy. He also sees potential in 6 foot 2, 175-pound Richards who should be a good replacement for Linnemeier.

Oliver and his assistants, Dave Nelson and Rich Edwards, are working on their line, which suffered most from graduation losses. The team lost 13 players to graduation.

The coaching staff cites its greatest competition this season as Lafayette Central Catholic, Fort Wayne Bishop Luers High School, (Flint (Mich.) Northwestern High School and West Lafayette High School.

"Although we have a tough schedule this year," says Coach Oliver, "we anticipate a 6-2 or 5-3 season. We now have the weight and experience with which to face an undefeated season with a little more reality."

Two days later a representative from the very same company called on me. I was sore. "What's-a-matter with you guys?" I demanded. "You specifically said in your ad that you'd send no salesman."

"Mr. Colonna," muttered the poor guy who called on me, "I'm as close to 'no salesman' as this company has."

Dear Bill,
Here's our backwoods hideaway. It started out to be rather primitive but we found we couldn't do without a few conveniences. Ruth fought with the portable stove for a week and then we gave in and bought an electric range and refrigerator. Then, I found out our stereos sounded twice as good up here, 'cause I could play it twice as loud. During the hot spell, we installed an air conditioner, and last week the kids fought up the TV. So, if you and Marge want to come up and "rough it" with us, you'd better hurry. Electric living spoiled us!

 "Reality" is the subject of this week's Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday.
 The ways in which spiritual reality is revealed will be studied in several Bible passages, including these verses from Exodus and Galatians: "Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared . . . We through the Spirit wait for the hope of righteousness by faith."

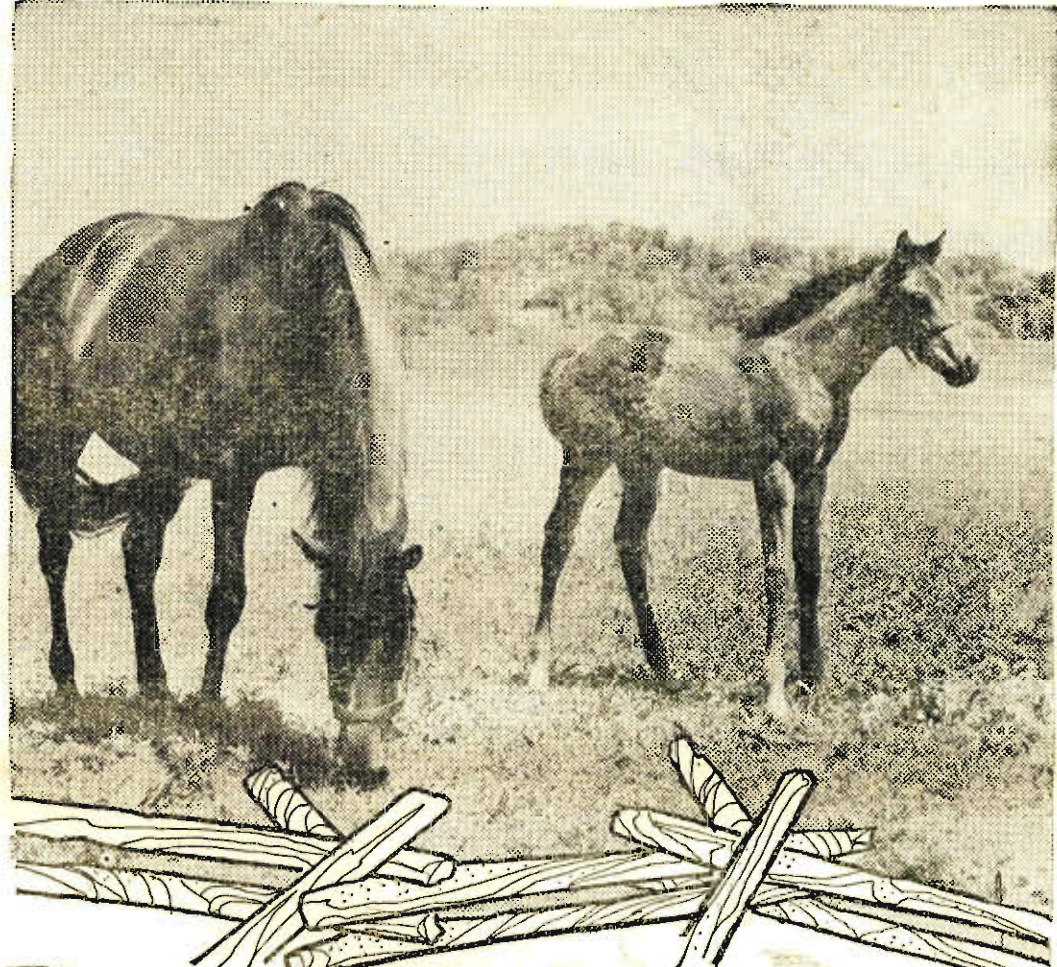

A corresponding passage from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy gives this definition of angels: "God's thoughts passing to man; spiritual intuitions, pure and perfect; the inspiration of goodness, purity, and immortality, counteracting all evil, sensuality, and mortality."

KATHY EASTERDAY ENTERS INDIANA UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF NURSING

Lois Kathleen Easterday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Easterday, 306 N. Ohio St., Culver, is a member of the largest entering class in the history of the Indiana University School of Nursing — 178 students — which has been accepted at the I. U. Medical Center. Entering as sophomores, the class has completed a year of collegiate work and will spend the next three years at the Center to gain practical hospital experience while continuing their academic study.

The 52-year-old School offers to qualified high school graduates a four-year course leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing. Approximately half of the work is in the field of arts and sciences and half is made up of professional nursing courses.

BEAUTY'S BABY

One day, recently, the children and I stopped, on our way home, to pet Beauty and her baby. Beauty lives at Mr. Ryder's farm, not far from our home, and the coming of her colt has been a prime topic of conversations these past few weeks.

This particular day Carla's question about Starlight's Daddy and his whereabouts sparked a discussion with my threesome that ranged from God's plan for the birth and care of baby animals, on to people and their babies.

It was a rare and precious moment, such as parents and teachers treasure, when young minds reach out effortlessly for information and understanding.

As we drove home, I thanked God for the opportunity He had given me to share in this eager unfolding of my children's thoughts and ideas. I thanked Him, too, for His Church which has inspired my religious growth and thus helped me keep pace with the developing queries of my children.

The Church is the source of great understanding.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

1801. The design was retained after Indiana became a state in 1816. The seal features a pioneer felling a tree, while a buffalo flees from the forest in the foreground. The setting sun indicates the nation's expansion westward in those early frontier days. The date of the Indiana Territory's admission to the Union appears at the bottom of the Seal.

Being commemorated on the obverse of the medal is James Whitecomb Riley, native son of the State of Indiana and famous American Poet. Riley was born at Greenfield, Ind., on Oct. 7, 1849. Among his famous poems were "The Old Swimmin' Hole" and "When The Frost Is On The Punkin". His first volume of poetry "The Old Swimmin' Hole" and "Leven More Poems" appeared in its first edition in 1883. Yale University awarded Riley a Master of Arts Degree in 1902, with the University of Pennsylvania adding an honorary Doctor of Letters. Indiana University added an honorary LL-D to Riley's honors in 1907. In 1911, Riley donated a valuable piece of land for a library and school administration building to Indianapolis, his adopted home.

He was elected to the American Academy of Arts & Letters and was awarded a gold medal by the National Institute of Arts & Letters. His poetry eventually appeared in 32 volumes and 70 special editions. Riley, sometimes called the Robert Burns of America, died at Indianapolis on July 22, 1916.

This distinctive series is being produced by Presidential Art Medals, Inc., Englewood, Ohio. Ralph J. Menconi, the sculptor of the Indiana medal, is nationally recognized for his portraiture. The Indiana medal is offered in bronze at $2.50 each, silver (serially numbered and limited to 7500 pieces) at $10.00 each and platinum (serially numbered and limited to 25 pieces) price on request. For additional information send 25¢ (refundable on first purchase) to Presidential Art Medals, Inc., Englewood, Ohio, for the 1966 Catalog.

NEWMAN HOLSTEIN COW RECEIVES EXCELLENT CLASSIFICATION

Culver Lieu Lad Nan 5385300, a Registered Holstein cow in the herd of John A. Newman & Sons, Culver, has been officially classified "Excellent" — the highest designation attainable in the type classification program of the Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

This highly select designation is applied only to animals scoring 90 or more of the 100 points representing theoretical perfection in body conformation.

Of nearly 72,700 Registered Holsteins officially classified for type last year, only 785 were rated "Excellent".

The Newman Holstein moved into the "Excellent" bracket for the first time during a recent classification of the herd by Clyde Wilson, Rushville, Pa. — an official inspector on the staff of the national Holstein organization.

She scored 90 points. Animals scored "Excellent" in previous programs are not included in this listing.

The Classification Program — in continuous operation since 1929 — provides a universally-recognized method of comparing the conformation of living animals with that of the True-Type Holstein cow or bull. Participation is currently at an all-time high level.

"You haven't been a salesman long," remarked a customer during a lull in rush at one big store.

"How can you tell that, madam?" asked the puzzled salesman.

"You still blush when you mention the prices."
