Plan Revised For Financing New School Building

Entire funding of construction costs of the new Culver Community Schools unified High School building will be through sale of Holding Corporation Bonds, in a revised plan unanimously approved last Wednesday night by the Board of School Trustees.

Approved by the State General Commission of Education and sanctioned also by the State School House Planning Commission, plans for the building to serve the three-township district are complete. The 37-acre site for the new building, purchased in 1965, is located at the intersection of State Road 10 and Tamarack Road.

Originally the School Board had sought, because of saving in interest, to fund the construction through a General Obligation Bond issue of $300,000 with the remainder through sale of Holding Corporation Bonds.

The School Board considered remonstrance petitions submitted October 26 at their meeting last week. The petitions certified by county auditors contained more signatures than earlier petitions which had favored the General Obligation Bond issue. It was unanimously agreed to abandon the original financing plan and to proceed immediately with total financing through the Holding Corporation.

The seven-man Board of Directors of the Culver Community Schools Holding Corporation is scheduled to meet this week with Attorney George Stevens to initiate plans.

In other business the School Board approved the proposed Title I Project for 1966-67 and named Superintendent Robert Rust as the legal authority for the Federal project. Entitled "Self reliance through improved skills, Language, Reading, and Mathematics", the submitted project for 173 identified under achievers is intended to raise reading and other academic achievement levels through individualized instruction.

Essentially the plan would provide for teacher aides in the Culver Elementary, the High School, and the Aubbeenaubee school and for a 6 week summer session for 110 selected pupils, June 6 to July 14, 1967. Qualified teacher aides will begin work in the High School Dec. and Elementary, Jan. 23.

In a formal resolution the Board approved the development of guidelines for the A. R. McKesson - Culver Scholarship. The trust agreement recently announced will provide $900 for a graduate of the class of 1967.

Roof repair projects, Culver High School and gym; repair of stage curtains; the boiler at Aubbeenaubee; and the installation of a new main door for the Culver Elementary were approved.

Charles Bernhardt, Principal Culver High School, presented a plan for the remodeling of the stage in the Culver High School study hall to provide for a developmental reading center. The proposal was approved. Purchase of a new dryer for the Culver cafeteria was granted.

The Board considered bids for the used bus and because of circumstances which have developed in the transportation fleet it was decided not to sell the bus at this time.

C. L. Haney, former pastor of the church, officiating. Burial followed in the Pleasant Hill Cemetery, near Lake Bruce, Ind.

Adult Education Courses Offered

Requests that sewing be included in the projected Adult Education courses to be offered have been received from seven patrons.

As a result of a recent survey, school officials indicated that twelve-evening Adult courses in Art, Modern Math, Typing, and Spanish would be tentatively arranged.

Tuition charge for each course is set at $12.00 plus the cost of instructional materials. Minimum number to organize each class is twelve. The courses are open to the general public.

Robert Rust, superintendent, stated that if a sufficient number were interested, every effort would be made to offer sewing. Those interested should secure a survey form on which they may indicate their interest in Sewing and return to the high school principal's office at Aubbeenaubee or Culver.

Registration for the courses is to be completed before January 5-6, 1967. Classes will meet once a week for 12 weeks with classes in Modern Math and Spanish meeting on Monday evenings and Art and Typing on Tuesday evenings starting the week of January 9th and continuing through the first week of April.

Culver Chamber Asked To Join NIEDA Function

Businessmen of Culver were advised Monday to "be a part of the whole picture," not only fostering better business in their own community but also considering their own needs and growth in relation to the Northern Indiana sector in general.

Guest speaker at the monthly Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Culver Inn was Eli D. Miller, director of the Industrial Council of South Bend and executive vice president of the South Bend-Mishawaka Chamber of Commerce. He suggested that Culver's Chamber join NIEDA, Northern Indiana Economic Development Association, currently an alliance of 15 northern Indiana counties including Marshall and Starke. Miller is executive director of the association.

Miller explained briefly a recent trip to New York City where at the invitation of a number of large corporations, members of NIEDA detailed just what is available in Northern Indiana for additional industry. He said several possibilities for new Indiana factory sites resulted.

Some projects supported by NIEDA, according to Miller, are: more technical institutes to train youths who will not attend college; more medical centers, with South Bend a possibility for one site; better highways; legislative programs for economic benefits for Northern Indiana, and specifically each community's own examination and self-education as to the resources it has available for economic growth.

The Chamber also heard a presentation by Robert Rust, Superintendent of the Culver Community School Corporation, in regard to a fund-raising project for new school band uniforms. Eighty uniforms are needed to replace present uniforms described as "20 years old and with hardly enough fabric left for repairs." Approximate funds needed amount to $7,200, about $90 per uniform. The school can get no tax funds for such a purchase, Rust said, and the fund-raising will be strictly on a contributory basis.

The Culver Chamber was not asked to donate directly to the fund, but each individual businessman was asked to be aware of the project for whatever individual commitments might be possible. Dr. Joseph D. Howard, M.D., Chamber president, assured Rust the Chamber would be behind such a community project.

In other action it was ascertained that the Junior Chamber of Commerce would continue conducting the annual town Christmas party, splitting financial costs with the senior chamber.

Guests at the meeting were the Rev. A. E. Givens, new pastor of the Culver E.U.B. Church, Mr. Rust, Plymouth attorney George Stevens, and Bill Bellamy, editor of Indiana Business & Industry magazine, Culver.

AMERICAN LEGION "FEATHER PARTY" IS NOVEMBER 21

Members and their guests of William A. Fleet, Post No. 103, American Legion will enjoy their annual "Feather Party" on Monday, Nov. 21, at the Legion Home. The event will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Those attending are asked to bring dessert.

Reverend Routson To Speak At Thanksgiving Rites

At Culver E.U.B. Church Nov. 23

The annual Community Thanksgiving Service, sponsored by the Culver-Union Township Council of Churches, will be held at Culver's Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren Church on Wednesday evening, Nov. 23, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Ellsworth Routson, pastor of the Burr Oak Church of God, will be guest speaker and has chosen for his sermon topic, "God's Benefits." He and the host pastor, Rev. Arthur Givens, along with assistant host pastor, Rev. Joseph Haney, are planning the special program, which will be highlighted by special music to be furnished by the E.U.B. Choir.

The free-will offering will be used to support the work of the Culver-Union Township Council of Churches in the Culver community.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend this highlight of this community's annual observance of Thanksgiving.

School And Town Officials Plan Safety Program

Because of the congested area near the Culver Community School building, school and town officials are cooperating in an urgent effort to reduce the possibilities of a traffic accident and injury.

Discussing the necessity for greater safety, Robert Rust, Culver superintendent, pointed out yesterday, "Our school's faculty is very much aware of the hazards in the four-street approaches to the building and their cooperative concern for accident prevention is welcomed as primary in this continuing program.

"We are hopeful and have every confidence that the students are concerned, and their individual caution, not only as pedestrians, but also those who are permitted to drive cars and ride bicycles is certainly welcomed.

"In the interests of safety a sidewalk has been replaced, an off street parking area has been developed and a new off School Street drive, primarily for the safety use of parents of Kindergarten pupils, has been constructed and is now being used daily," the superintendent stated.

More signs are needed, he went on to explain, "And the Board of Town Trustees have ordered caution signs. We are also interested with the Town Board in the use of added adult traffic watchmen at the intersections."

Thirteen busses arrive each morning and depart each evening from the school. To put it another way, nearly 1100 students plus a large staff of instructors and other school personnel are vitally involved in this program of safety, Mr. Rust stated. "Many patrons and others have expressed concern and their interest and their concern is deeply appreciated."

"The Bernard Shaw Story" Coming To GMA

Bramwell Fletcher, noted English actor, will appear as George Bernard Shaw in two performances at Culver Military Academy on Friday, Nov. 18.

A 1 p.m. matinee will be for public school children from Marshall County who participate in the Academy's Program for Education in the Performing Arts. An 8:15 p.m. performance in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium is for students, faculty and season subscribers to Culver's Concert-Theater Series.

Fletcher got his start at an early age in Shakespearean theatre in England and has since been well known on the stage and in the movies. He has done such stage productions as "Rebecca," "Lady Windermere's Fan," "Angel Street," and "My Fair Lady." He has played opposite noted actresses Katherine Cornwell, Cornelia Otis Skinner, Olivia de Havilland, Carol Channing, Tallulah Bankhead, Greer Garson, Julie Andrews, and others.

In October 1965 Fletcher staged his present production "The Bernard Shaw Story" at the Theater de Lys in New York. It achieved hit status and was equally successful in some 50 presentations on the road. This "autobiographical entertainment" was originally intended for a single presentation but so impressed were the critics who attended that it was opened again the following month at the East 74th Street Theatre and given an extended run.

The success of "The Bernard Shaw Story" was due not only to Fletcher's innate acting ability or to the startling physical accuracy of his Shavian makeup. It also stemmed from his personal acquaintanceship with G.B.S. and his long study of his works. As a young man Fletcher met Shaw while walking down a country lane in Hertfordshire, fell into conversation with him, and was forthwith invited to tea with the great man. During their talk, Fletcher seized the opportunity of sketching Shaw, later taking his drawing as the basis for a full-length portrait of Shaw.

This is a theatrical portrait of Bernard Shaw as artist-philosopher, aiming to create, through his own ideas and mainly through his own words, an accurate "autobiographical" portrait of one of the greatest writers of his time.

In Mr. Fletcher's performance he seeks to reveal the fully rounded personality of Shaw, private and public, from youth to ancient. The show begins with Shaw's own self-portrait, taken from a speech in "Don Juan in Hell."

The "portrait" delineates what must have been the "real" Shaw, both the "surface clown" and the "underlying philosopher." In attempting to clarify Bernard Shaw's idealistic vision, the performance reveals his own unique methods for bringing that vision to the attention of the public, and his lifelong effort to inculcate that vision in the minds of his audiences.

The production is divided into two parts. Mr. Fletcher appears in both as the Shaw the writer considered to be in the prime of life — the late fifties or early sixties.

Part One, in the main, reveals Bernard Shaw's early life — his boyhood in Dublin, his years as a young man in London during the first nine years as a struggling author. He is shown as newspaperman, music critic, novelist, dramatic critic, and finally the emerging playwright. His marriage at 42 is depicted, and he airs his many extraordinary views on a wide variety of subjects from women, through socialism, doctors and religion. He speaks of his attempts to complete the idealization of a man living without a sex life.

Part Two finds Shaw as a fully mature man, dealing as such with the problems that beset all of us in our civilization today.

Mail To Be Sent By Air To Military Post Offices Overseas

Postmaster E. W. Mattox today announced that henceforth all first class mail, personal sound recordings (voice letters), and parcels weighing five pounds or less and measuring not more than 60 inches in length and girth combined, will be airlifted on a space available basis between the United States and all military post offices overseas.

Also under Public law 89-725 — The Dulski Military Mail Act — which was signed by President Johnson on Nov. 2, 1966, second class publication such as newspapers and magazines published weekly or more often, and featuring current news or interest to the military, will be airlifted from San Francisco to the armed forces serving in Viet Nam.

Postmaster Mattox explained that parcels weighing five pounds or less and not exceeding 60 inches in length and girth combined, paid at surface rates, will be moved by surface transportation within the United States from the points of mailing to the port of embarkation.

Postmaster Mattox also reminded mailers that Christmas parcels weighing five pounds and under, though they are given air-lift priority from San Francisco to Viet Nam on a space available basis, should be mailed no later than Dec. 1. Airmail, he said, should be sent no later than Dec. 10.

The deadline for Christmas packages weighing more than five other overseas military post offices by surface means was Nov. 10.

Little Mary insisted that she be allowed to serve the tea when her mother was entertaining one afternoon. Mother, with crossed fingers, consented. However, she became annoyed by the long delay and asked, "Why did you take so long, child?"

"I couldn't find the tea-strainer," answered Mary.

"Then how did you strain it so well?"

"I used the fly-swatter."

MARK LOWRY WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Rose Polytechnic Institute, Terre Haute, was first in the state in the percentage of "Hoosier Scholars" enrolled with its freshman class this year, according to Ralph Ross, dean of students.

What is more, according to Ross, Rose ranked third, trailing only the two giants — Indiana University and Purdue — in the value of Indiana state scholarships received. The total of all Indiana scholarships received by Rose freshmen is about $34,000, he said.

There were 60 winners of the new state scholarship in Rose's entering class. That's more than 20 per cent of the 258-man freshman class, Ross reported.

Only 1,800 scholarships were awarded, worth nearly $400,000, according to Ross.

Scholarship winners at Rose include Mark V. Lowry, Route 4, Plymouth, a May graduate of Culver High School.

Deaf Man Perfects Tiny Hearing Aid

OFFERS FREE MODEL

A remarkable tiny hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

This small device has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a new unusual design idea in a product to restore natural hearing.

It was developed especially for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear. Due to the use of transistors, the user cost is extremely low.

A true life actual size replica of the smallest all-in-the-ear hearing aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone sending in this advertisement while supply lasts. So we suggest you write for yours now. No obligation whatsoever. Write to C. Eckert, 311 E. Lexington Blvd., Eau Claire, Wis. 46

Dr. Carlos H. Baker, Noted Hemingway Scholar, To Speak At Academy

Noted Hemingway scholar Dr. Carlos H. Baker, former chairman of the Princeton University English department, will speak at Culver Military Academy on Monday, Nov. 21.

Dr. Baker will visit classes informally on that date, speak to juniors and seniors, confer with members of the Academy's English department, and then speak at a meeting of the faculty and guests at 8 p.m. in the Little Theater.

An outstanding authority in the related fields of modern American and English literature, Dr. Baker is the Woodrow Wilson Professor of Literature at Princeton, a position he received in 1954. A prolific writer whose articles and reviews are regularly featured in the metropolitan press and scholarly publications, Dr. Baker in the fall of 1952 gained wide recognition with his publication of the first full-length study of Ernest Hemingway. The work was entitled "Hemingway, The Writer as Artist," and it represented two years of study and writing on Baker's part.

Professor Baker completed his study of Hemingway too soon to include more than a long footnote on the now famous "The Old Man and the Sea." Yet Baker's review of this work by Hemingway was ranked as the best book review of the year.

Baker's book on Hemingway has had three American editions and has been translated into Italian, Arabic, and German. Since 1961, the noted Princeton professor has been gathering material for a life of Hemingway, in a project authorized by Mrs. Hemingway and Charles Scribner's Sons Publishers.

Dr. Baker is the author of Shelley's Major Poetry: The Fabric of a Vision, 1948, a study of all Shelley's chief poems as an index to his imaginative and intellectual development. In 1958, his first novel, A Friend in Power, was published by Charles Scribner's Sons, and was subsequently selected as one of the volumes to be digested and reprinted in the Summer, 1958, edition of the Reader's Digest Book Club.

His second novel, The Land of Rumbelow, a fable in the form of a novel, was published by Charles Scribner's Sons in 1963.

Academy Sports

Culver Military Academy varsity footballers closed out the 1966 grid season last Friday night against Marian High School of Mishawaka, dropping their third straight contest this time by a 26-19 count. This losing streak offset the Eagles' winning string at the season's start and left them with a 3-4-1 record.

Brad Strait, a speed merchant who runs the 100 in 10.1, ignited the Culver attack with his second scoring run in two games. On the third play of the game, Strait, at 155 pounds one of the squad's smallest men, churned 63 yards to give Culver the initial lead. Marian stormed back in the same quarter, sustaining a 64-yard march to paydirt, and the score stood 6-6 at the period's end.

In the second quarter, the persistent Eagles made another foray into Marian territory. The drive paid six points in reward as John Casner rifled a 13-yard pass to Jim Wootton for the score. On the next series of downs, halfback John Schumacher intercepted a Marian pass and scooted 30 yards for a Culver TD. The Marian Knights managed to score a single TD in the second quarter, and left the field at intermission on the short end of the 19-13 score.

Yet, the Eagles were denied any further scoring opportunities in the second half as the Knights smothered every CMA thrust goalward. Marian raced to 265 yards rushing throughout the game while Culver was limited to 95 yards rushing and two first downs.

Already looking forward to next year, Coach Russell D. Oliver says that the varsity may lean heavily on recruits from this year's 4-1 junior varsity, coached by Colin Stetson. "We probably won't have as many returning lettermen next year as we had this year," said Oliver, in his 27th year at Culver, "so we may rely on some of the outstanding players on the junior varsity this year."

Basketball

Culver Military Academy's basketball Eagles meet Clay Township High School near South Bend for their season opener Nov. 18. Clay has the advantage of four out of five returning lettermen versus Culver's three.

The Eagles no longer have the services of Pete DePrez, Shelbyville, Ind., the holder of three scoring records at the Academy who was graduated last June. DePrez scored 854 points in his three-season career at the Academy, 443 points in 18 games of his senior year, and 45 points against Avilla High School Jan. 21, 1966.

Coach Thomas E. Baker said.

"When you lose a great scorer like DePrez, you must make up for this with a better overall team balance." Although he has no heir apparent to replace DePrez, he is developing a squad "with more overall balance, even though we have no big boys in particular."

Baker, a veteran of 18 years coaching experience plus four years on Frank Keaney's University of Rhode Island Rams in the late 1940s, took a page from the Keaney book of speed and hustle last year when he took over the varsity squad.

Last year's squad racked up an 11-7 season after changing from pattern to fast break offense, and Baker believes that this year's squad can improve on that record. He added that his team gave up five out of its seven losses on the free throw line. Seven of last year's games were won or lost with up to a seven-point differential.

This year Baker wants his team to improve on the point differential now that they are more proficient in the fast break. The team is still working on fast break methods, but it is spending more time on the specifics of its defenses.

Mark Bedem, a 5'11", 152 pounder from Indianapolis, Ind., will help to take up some of the slack left by DePrez' graduation. The high scorer on last year's "B" team with a 14-point game average will team with Tom Matlock, a returning letterman from Cincinnati, Ohio, in the back court.

Tim Schultz, a 6'2", 182 pound senior from Argos, Ind., is another returning letterman. He averaged six rebounds and seven points a game. Team captain Chip Brewer, 6'1" and 165 pound from Cincinnati, Ohio, averaged six points and four rebounds a game last season.

After the 10-practice quota has been fulfilled by four grid-ers-turned-basketball players, Coach Baker's team will be complete.

Baker expects to see the talents of Tom McMillan, Brewton, Ala., last year's leading "B" team rebounder with a 10-point game average; Chip Linnmeier, Culver, last year's leading scorer, with an 11-point average and second "B" team rebounder with an average of eight, and Gordon Deik, a promising junior from Greenwich, Conn.

Culver will continue to compete with five perpetual rivals in series dating as far back as 1916. The Academy will meet Calver High School Feb. 11 with a 6-4 series record dating back to 1916. Culver's next-oldest rival is Howe Military School. Howe holds the short end of the 16-8 record for games begun in 1924. The Academy has played the largest number of games with St. John's Military Academy, Delafield, Wis., and leads the 35-25 series begun in 1927. Culver also leads in its series with Park School, Indianapolis, Ind., 19-12, and Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, Mich., 10-3, both starting in 1933. The Eagles also have a 17-2 record against Culver alumni who have returned to the Academy since 1947.

Coach Baker expects some tough action from more recent adversaries Clay, LaVelle, Niles, Merrillville, LaSalle, Jackson and Argos. Each of these teams represents a large number of returning lettermen and relatively large student bodies.

Club And Class News

By Kathy DeWitt and Carin Manchester

This week a majority of the clubs are quite busy with basketball season coming on. So to see what they are planning let's take a peek through the magic mirror.

Romper, stomper, homper, boo
Tell me, tell, tell me true
What my little friends at play will do!

First, we see the Senior Class getting ready for our first basketball game with their concession stands.

Well, here comes the busy Junior Class who just finished their ham supper and now a committee is starting to work on the pep rally display. Also they say that the class ring balances are due November 23 and the rings will be delivered on November 30.

The Sophomore Class has just poked their heads around the corner to say they are finishing their season for raking leaves and are getting their display ready for the pep rally.

The Freshmen Class is barely coming in but we do see that they are also getting their display ready for the pep rally.

It looks like the magic mirror is slowly fogging up the classes but wait — the vision for the different clubs are coming in with flying colors.

Here comes the Honor Society who are planning for their initiation which will be held November 30!

Hark! Does any one hear voices and music? Why who else could it be except the Choir starting to practice their voices on some Christmas music for the Christmas program next month.

The Student Council is rather foggy but if we look real close we see that they have decided on selling tickets and charging admission to the Junior High basketball games.

The Band Council is coming in real clear with the officers discussing plans for their annual Christmas party and they are also talking about new uniforms for the band. The Senior Band would like to thank Mr. Rust and everyone concerned for their helpfulness and everything they are doing to try to get new uniforms for the band. We appreciate it very much.

The vision is slowly fading away but if we hurry maybe we can look at a few more before time runs out on us.

The Usher's Club is quite idle as we can see but they are ready for our basketball season.

ONE WHO CARES

By Cheryl Zink

High school students who regard their school in a self-possessive manner and feel an obligation to their school have school spirit. A student with school spirit takes pride in his school, his fellow classmates, his teachers, and his achievements and cooperation with the former three. A student with school spirit is interested in student government and everything that takes place in his school. This student is not only a participant in school clubs or a member of an athletic team, but is a strong supporter of both. This student is such that he would never do anything to bring disgrace to his school. He always does his best in everything. He does not easily accept defeat, but does so in a sportsmanlike manner. This student would not litter the halls, toss refuse into drinking fountains, or write on desks. He has respect for himself, his teachers, fellow classmates, and his school.

Objectively, this is a student who has school spirit. Most C.H.S. students would like to consider themselves among those with school spirit. Yet, if you were to visit our school, or attend a basketball game, you might discover for yourself that there are many students lacking in school spirit. Are you one of these?

Here comes the Pep Band practicing on their horns. I wonder who they are practicing for? Oh, the magic mirror says because they will be playing at every home game.

The steam on our magic mirror is getting worse but we do see the yearbook staff busy at work trying to get the yearbook completed.

There is the Sunshine Society who just finished their meeting. Well, it is candy time again so the girls will be out selling candy to you. This year the selection is mints, peanut crunch, and peanut butter cups. So if they come to your door help the Sunshine Society and buy some. Other things discussed and voted on were helping the children of the Indians by sending them some clothes to wear. This month has gone by so the Sunshine elected Marilee Herrmann as November's Sunshine girl of the month for her appearance.

Well, folks, our magic mirror has lost all its vision for the clubs and class news so until next time be sure to watch Romber Room to see our magic mirror at work!

Basketball Parents' Night

By Dave Beuchamp

Monday, Nov. 7, was the annual basketball players' Parent's Night. First off, Mr. Crosley introduced our coaching staff. Mr. Crosley himself handles the Varsity; Mr. Waxman, B-team; Mr. Gangloff, Freshmen; Mr. Hooley, 8th grade; and Mr. Wolfe, 7th grade. Next, Mr. Crosley introduced his Varsity boys and Mr. Waxman introduced the B-team.

Steve Kelly, Steve McCombs, Steve Miller, Steve . . . ah . . . ah . . . Steve Snyder?

The teams went through a normal practice with Coach Crosley explaining the purpose of each drill.

While the boys showered, coffee and cookies were served, and Mr. Crosley and Mr. Waxman filled the parents in on the training rules.

Corky, what did you say you were doing with all those cookies? Oh, you are taking them to your brothers. A week's supply?!

Junior Classical League Initiates 7 New Members

The horror of the Roman arena prevailed in the cafeteria of Culver Community Schools as the members of the Junior Classical League initiated seven new members into the club at 4 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 1. "An Afternoon in the Coliseum" was the theme of the initiation. The initiates had to undergo such terrors as being participants in gladiatorial combats and holding the blood of other gladiators (ice cubes) in their hands. They also had to choose between two doors, behind one of which was a reward, behind the other, a horrible punishment. Then they declined Latin nouns and conjugated Latin verbs as a final test of their worthiness to enter Junior Classical League. Each new member then received the Badge of Clydeus, the symbol of the Latin classes of Culver High School. Carl Strang, the president of J.C.L., led the club in a short, serious initiation in which the group recited the Pledge of Allegiance in Latin and the J.C.L. Creed. Mulsum and (cider and doughnuts) were then served.

New officers of the Junior Classical League are Carl Strang, president, Kris Strang, secretary, John Milner, vice-president; and Leon Sims, historian.

The actual purpose of the Junior Classical League is serious. It is intended to foster the preservation of interest in the best of Latin and Greek culture. The Culver branch is a member of both the national and state Junior Classical Leagues. This is the largest classical organization in the world and the second largest co-educational youth group in the nation.

With the basketball season beginning, it seems as if the maidens and braves of CHS have been outdoing themselves trying to see who can get his name mentioned the most times in "Bits and Pieces."

Way to go Juniors! Your Ham supper was a big success!! Looks as if another great Junior boy is on his way to fame, huh Chuck? You were really great. Afterwards the Juniors went to Stu's house for more food and entertainment. What could be better than watching the Miss Teenage America Pageant on a color TV set, especially if you were too tired to do anything else? By the way Gary, did you ever find your keys?

It seems that our French teacher is having all sorts of trouble. She locked herself out of her house Saturday and had to walk into town since her car keys were in the house. How many blisters did you say you had?

Speaking of teachers, Mr. Fouts, what were you doing out on the streets at night... with an unlit Honda?! We thought you drove a red "Foutsmobile".

You say there was an all day party at Davises Saturday. Oh, you mean the Sophies and Juniors working on their projects for the pep rally. They got along fine until the juniors got out their pink spray paint and magic markers. Guess the Sophies don't like 68's written all over their project. Oh well...

What's this we hear about a certain Junior girl getting pushed into the boys' dressing room during basketball practice? For more info contact S.D., F.M., or S.B.

Since we're on the subject of Juniors — what did you say you were expecting?

If anybody finds Karen S. in a bad mood just give her a cherry popsicle. (That'll cheer her up!)

Kerry H., you're just going to have to stop talking so much during movies. At the rate you were going Sunday it looked as if you might have been asked to leave the theater. Oh, you say it was Mayo's fault!

Patty M. has a babysitting job every Wednesday night. You say he's a lovable little guy. Hmmm... Steve is his name, who could that be?

More and more Senior cords can be seen in the halls all the time. They really look great gang, and since Lois Curtis has done 90 per cent of them, let's give her a big hand.

If you hear someone singing and dancing in the halls, it's probably Patti M. She's been accepted at Valpo. Congratulations!

Everyone watch out for Tom Overmyer - he has a violent temper! Just ask Norma Davis.

Hey, what's this slumber party Paula LaPlace and Cindee Lemar are having? It looks as though it's a big hit with a couple of other girls — but what makes this one different?

From the goading and moaning of the Seniors, the SAT Test must have been pretty hard. Hark Juniors, your time isn't very far away.

We have just discovered a new way to find out if a person is blind or not!! Have the person walk down the hall on the second floor and if he can't see the Juniors' poster, he's blind for sure!

Attention: Anyone wishing to join the Yellow Club should petition the board for membership. It is a very worthy organization and all are urged to join. (This has been an unpaid public announcement.)

As we look over this week's "Bits and Pieces" we find that not one person, but a whole class, has outdone itself in getting its name mentioned the most times. This week we give the award of "Nut(s) of the Week." to the Junior Class!

PEP CLUB

The excitement at Culver High School this week is due to the approach of basketball season. Among those most excited is of course the team, but also the Pep Club.

This year our Pep Club is under the guidance of two new sponsors. They are Miss Asay, the new art teacher, and Miss McClellan who teaches French and Spanish I. With their help, and the help of the cheerleaders, the club has formed a point system for all members. Each member is given 50 points of merit at the beginning of the season. If she fails to come to the game without a good excuse, to come before the half of the B-team game, or attends without her pep block blouse, then points will be deducted as demerits.

Also, this year the boys' pep block will be seated in the section adjacent to the girls' pep block instead of its usual seating on the floor.

PEP RALLY AND SESSION

On Nov. 10 the Pep Club will hold its annual pep rally for all students of Culver High School.

Each class and club has been asked to submit an exhibit. The judging and showing of the exhibits will be the first event in the school gym. Everyone will then gather at the track for the traditional bonfire where cheers will be yelled, and speeches will be made by the coaches and a few members of the team.

To bring the evening to an end, the team will mount the firetrucks and lead the students through the streets of Culver in the good "ole" CHS snake dance.

SESQUICENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

By J. M. Guthrie
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR
Indiana Sesquicentennial Commission

THE CONSTITUTIONAL ELM
Some wags have stated that if all the wood that is said to have come from the Constitutional Elm could be gathered into one place it would make quite a forest.

"Taint so," says Frederick Porter Griffin, of Corydon, nephew of Miss Mary Jane Griffin, who was Chairman of the Elm Tree Committee of the Hoosier Elm Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Corydon, Ind. Mr. Griffin generously gave a complete and authentic rundown on this most famous of Indiana trees and what became of it. Says Mr. Griffin, "It was indeed a very large tree and there is still a lot of it around despite the fact that it died and was cut down over 40 years ago."

Almost every school boy knows something about the Constitutional Elm and how the 43 delegates back in June 1816 moved under it to conduct business in its shade. Not many know the rest of the story. Mr. Griffin supplied the facts.

The tree became a well known landmark of Corydon and about every visitor to the place saw both the state's first capitol building and the big old elm tree.

It was the most photographed tree in Indiana. About every organization of the state at one time or another had to hold a meeting in its shade. Mr. Griffin said that church groups, school classes, patriotic, fraternal organizations and even the Ku Klux Klan met beneath its branches. Marriages were performed there too, though Mr. Griffin does not state if this bound the knots any tighter.

In 1915 a Corydon chapter of the D.A.R. was formed and took its name from the elm, becoming The Hoosier Elm Chapter. In 1909 this patriotic group asked for and received permission from the town board to care for this tree.

In 1915 the group erected a bronze tablet on a stone, telling the story of Indiana's first constitution.

Came the state's centennial and one of Corydon's newspapermen wrote:

All hail to thee, most stately Elm
Majestic, lofty, and sublime--
May thy grandeur ne'er be defaced
By the ravages of time.
Through unnumbered years may yet
You stand to beautify--adorn
And mark the sacredness of the place
Where a commonwealth was born.

In 1923 the D.A.R. group appointed a special committee, composed of Miss Mary Jane Griffin, Mrs. Maggie Logan Gibson and Mrs. Marcia Morris Wilson to guard and protect the elm against all comers.

It had a large limb which projected over a yard across the street and interfered with pedestrians, who threatened to chop it off. (They didn't do it). Automoblists became something of a problem and a fellow tore the top off his touring car while cruising beneath it one day. He threatened to sue the D.A.R. for damages and they threatened a counter-suit against him for running into the tree. It was a stale-mate.

A lot of elm trees died in Indiana in the 1920s and among them was Corydon's Constitutional Elm. It began to die in 1924 and only a few twigs spouted in 1925. In August of '25, a large limb fell and the D.A.R. and the Town Board decided to remove it and preserve the wood. Miss Griffin was appointed to superintend the cutting and saw to it that every piece was saved, down to the larger twigs. When the smallest twigs were piled up and burned she sat down and cried.

Thirty-four wagon loads were hauled away and the wood stored in 28 places in the Corydon vicinity. Records were kept (and have been kept) of every storage place.

The committee put a special wood preservative on the stump and erected a shelter over it. In 1936 a stone masonry work was erected about the remains and a bronze tablet placed thereon. It stated:

CONSTITUTIONAL ELM
On this spot, beneath the shade of the elm the constitution of Indiana was framed in June 1816. This tree lived until 1925, attaining a height of 50 feet, a trunk diameter of five feet and a spread of 132 feet. This monument was erected in 1936.

The people of Corydon protected the tree while living and have preserved the wood from it since.

To this day, articles of many types, particularly gavel for patriotic groups and civic organizations, are made from the carefully hoarded remains of the most famous tree of Indiana. So don't be too prone to laugh when you see a gavel recently made from the Constitutional Elm. People of Corydon will furnish a notarized statement to the effect that the wood is genuine.

Mary Ricciardi Awarded I. U. Scholarship

Mary Ricciardi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ricciardi, 452 S. Main St., Culver, a junior at Indiana University was among 135 I.U. students awarded 1966 "Little 500" scholarships, which have been given annually since 1951 to students working their way through school.

The $100 awards are granted on the basis of grade averages, need, and the number of hours worked each week. The over-all grade average of 1966 scholarship recipients is 3.39 out of an all-A average of 4. The scholars are working an average of 20 hours per week.

Scholarships are financed by the I.U. "Little 500" Weekend staged last spring under auspices of the Indiana University Foundation.

Student planned and implemented, the Little 500 began primarily as a 50-mile men's bicycle race patterned after the Indianapolis 500 automobile race. Some 5,000 witnessed the first event; 60 working students reaped the benefits.

Since then, the crowds for the bicycle race have grown into the 23,000 range; the weekend's activities have expanded to include a tricycle race for coeds, a golf jamboree and a variety show by top-name entertainers; scholarship aid has been extended to a greater number of students, and the over-all program has won the unofficial title of the "world's greatest college weekend."

To date, Little 500 proceeds have underwritten 2,025 scholarships, financed by $202,500 in proceeds.

Jobs held by the winners vary — dishwasher, waiter, file clerk, typist, laboratory assistant, maintenance worker, pizza maker, store clerk and a variety of other positions — but the Little 500 Scholars have certain things in common, too, said William S. Armstrong, executive director of the Foundation.

"They are good students. They are willing to work for a college education. And they are aware of the many hours their fellow students give in promoting the Little 500 Weekend as a testimonial to the working student."

STATE HISTORICAL MARKER SLATED FOR SOUTH BEND

The Indiana Sesquicentennial Commission announces that St. Joseph County will receive one of 40 state historical markers presented to date by the Commission as part of its Historical Marking Program. Nominations for sites or places of historical interest are sent to the Commission Office; the Historical Markers Committee of the Sesquicentennial Commission then makes its decisions and orders the markers. These markers are similar to those seen on the grounds of the State Capitol and the State Office Building in Indianapolis - of cast aluminum, navy and gold, 7' high (complete) with a plaque dimension of 42" by 30".

The marker for St. Joseph County will be located at or near the entrance to Riverview Cemetery 2300 Portage Avenue, South Bend. The text on the plaque will read:

LA SALLE PORTAGE SIGHT

In December, 1679, Rene Robert Cavalier, Sieur de La Salle and his companions portaged from the St. Joseph to the Kankakee on their expedition to establish a French fur-trading empire in America.

Michiana String Quartet To Give Concert At CMA

The concert is sponsored by the Seven Arts Group of the Academy's Faculty Wives Association. It is open to the public at no admission charge.

The Sunday concert is a resumption in a long series of performances by the Michiana String Quartet at Culver. The group has not appeared at the Academy, however, for the past two years.

Assisting the Michiana group will be the Rev. Patrick Maloney, CSC, tenor, a member of the University of Notre Dame music department, and Terence Shook, pianist, a member of the St. Mary's College music department. Regular members of the Michiana String Quartet are Edward Payson, cellist and chairman of the music department at Culver; Zigmont Gaska, first violinist; Patricia McHenry, second violinist; and Jon Gaska, viola.

The program for the evening will include Ralph Vaughn-Williams' Song Cycle "On Wenlock Edge"; Turina's piano quartet, and Beethoven's string quartet.

A sermon on "Soul and Body" will be presented at all Christian Science services this Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Psalms: "Who is God save the Lord? or who is a rock save our God? It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect."

A related reading from the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, states:

"Consciousness constructs a better body when faith in matter has been conquered. Correct material belief by spiritual understanding, and Spirit will form you anew."

Nip and Tuck

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Indians Lose To South Central By 68-50 Score Meet LaSalle Friday, Nov. 18

By STEVE BAIR

South Central's Satellites proved that good freethrow shooting can win basketball games. Hitting 30 out of 43 from the charity stripe, the Satellites zoomed to their first victory in their opener by a 68 to 50 count.

The tribe kept within striking distance for three quarters, but fouls took their toll in the fourth quarter. The Satellites hit 12 for 16 from the bonus line in the final period, and scored only four two-pointers in that stanza, 36 to 34. Thus, if the tribe could have kept from fouling during the last half they could have made a much closer game of it.

Mike Nicksch, who hit 14 for 15 from the free throw line, led all scorers with 20 markers. Teammates Jim Kuss and Chuck Emerick each added 14 tallies to the victors' score. Paul Hatten led the Indian attack with 15 points and 10 rebounds. Stu Lowry and George Jewell added 11 points and 10 points respectively.

Inexperience showed in the Tribe's opening game. But the Indians showed plenty of scrap and enthusiasm and they showed signs of giving some taller ball-clubs plenty of trouble.

Women who are selecting beach-wear might profit from this advice of the late Dorothy Dix. A reader wrote the columnist. "Is it considered good form for a lady to appear on a public bathing beach in a low-cut beachless bathing suit?" "If your form is a good form, it is good form," Mrs. Dix replied. "Otherwise — otherwise."
