The Culver Chamber of Commerce met Monday noon, Feb. 13, at The Culver Inn for their February meeting. Dr. Joseph Howard, President, acknowledged guests Bob Shoemaker and Larry Berger, and added that "the present membership is 85 and a goal has been set for 125."

Ten committees were appointed by the Chamber officers and a board of Directors was approved by the Chamber membership. The board included Rev. Carl Baker and Dr. Frank Setzler, one-year terms; Robert Cultice and Wilber Taylor, two-year terms; and Harold Fritz, with Lt. Col. Zieg, three-year directors.

Rev. Carl Baker, President of the Culver Park and Recreation Board, reported that he has been receiving information from Culverites, favoring the addition of the swimming pool to the Culver school plans. Rev. Baker said, the Town Board has approved the soliciting of private funds to hire an adult at the Town Park this summer, which would involve approximately $1500.

Eddie Amond, Jaycee co-chairman of the Culver Fire Department benefit dance, stated, "we need the co-operation of the Culver merchants and Chamber members in supporting the Jaycee efforts in raising the $300 pledge for the two-way fire truck radio, support us with ticket purchases."

Jim Karz, Culver Inn manager, suggested that March 13 be the date of the next Chamber meeting. This was approved by the members.

Eddie Amond, Chamber Publicity Director, introduced Harold Fritz, Plant Manager of the McGill Corporation. Mr. Fritz said "McGill's presently have 64 Culver area employees, including the salaried personnel; we have a target set to employ 90 people by the first of June." Following his preliminary remarks the Chamber members and guests were given the first formal tour of the McGill Corporation.

Army Specialist Fourth Class Don W. Cramer, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cramer Sr., Route 2, Culver, was awarded a safe driving certificate Jan. 24 while serving with the 71st Transportation Battalion in Vietnam.

Spec. Cramer received the award for driving military vehicles with no accidents or traffic violations.

Spec. Cramer, a truck driver in the battalion's Headquarters Detachment in Long Binh, entered the Army in December 1965 and was stationed at Ft. Story, Va., before arriving overseas last September.

He is a 1964 graduate of West Township High School, Plymouth, and was employed by Ritz Craft in Bremen, before entering the Army.

Seaman Recruit Larry C. Fisher, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward C. Fisher of Culver, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

Retires After 36 Years With Standard Oil

HERMAN W. GARDNER

Herman W. Gardner, 106 Lewis St., Culver, retired Feb. 1, 1967, as Culver Standard Oil Agent after 36 years of service with the company. His duties are being taken over by Norman Baker who has worked with Mr. Gardner for several years.

Mr. Gardner began his career with the company as a service station operator in South Bend in 1931. He transferred to a tank truck driver salesman in 1933 and delivered furnace oil to the west half of South Bend. In 1937 he was promoted to Agent Trainer covering the north half of Indiana, and in the fall of 1937 he came to Culver where he was field representative of consumer sales. In July, 1940, he was named head of the Culver Agency, a position he has held for 26 years.

Many interesting events and changes have taken place in his 36 years with the Standard Oil Company. Mr. Gardner stated that he began his career with the company in the depths of the depression, at a starting salary of $31.50 a month for a 71 hour work week, when gas was sold eight gallons for $1.00 and oil was 25 to 30 cents a quart. When he delivered furnace oil in South Bend the cost was six cents a gallon compared with 15.8¢ now.

During the depression one of Mr. Gardner's tasks was to deliver oil to the soup kitchens where thousands of unemployed people came every day for food. Oil was used to heat the huge kettles of soup to feed these people. Mr. Gardner stated that the lines waiting for food were usually four abreast and four blocks long.

Mr. Gardner was active in Union affairs representing the employees; was president of the South Bend local for several years; and was also president of the national organization which represented 15 midwestern states, five refineries, and some 25,000 employees. He also served as secretary-treasurer of the Central States Petroleum Union National for five years during which time he prepared briefs and was chairman of their National Bargaining Commission negotiating contracts for Chicago and Whiting refinery employees as well as many other locals.

Mr. Gardner also recalled the terrific chore of taking care of rationing coupons during World War II when gasoline was rationed. The coupons all had to be taken to The State Exchange Bank and each gallon of gasoline accounted for. Bank employees handling this task were Esther Lindvall and Betty Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner are members of St. Mary's of the Lake Church in Culver and have one daughter, Della Sue, who is a junior at St. Joseph College in Rensselaer.

Mr. Gardner stated that he appreciated the good patronage he received from the people of this area for the last 26 years, and that he has no special plans for the future except to rest for awhile.

The Citizen wishes Mr. Gardner a happy retirement.

School Lease Hearing Set For Feb. 27

Members of the School Board of Trustees and Directors of the Holding Corporation of Culver Community Schools met in joint session last week to approve Notice of Hearing on the proposed lease by the two groups for the new high school.

After a review by Attorney George Stevens, both Boards agreed in principle and authorized the publication of a Notice for a Hearing. The lease, for a term of 22 years, provides for an annual rental fee of $213,000. Date of the Hearing has been set for Feb. 27, 1967. The groups heard a detailed discussion of the proposed lease including the matter of insurance.

Paul Davidson appeared before the groups to ask for further consideration for including in the construction plans the swimming pool, which was turned down as an alternate.

In separate meetings following the joint session the two Boards adopted resolutions of procedure. The School Board of Trustees heard in a special report by the Superintendent which detailed the accounting of damage caused by the snow storm a week ago. Damage included a 30 x 15 ceiling area and water damage to a typewriter, floor and chairs in the high school building.

An inquiry on the Boards' interest in selling the Ora School in North Bend township was presented. Sometime ago an evaluation of the property was set at $2700. The Board was asked to consent to a re-evaluation of the property.

Contracts to Mrs. Glenda Marshall and Mrs. Josephine Leach, both half time English teachers, at Culver high school were approved.

The Board directed the Superintendent to secure further data regarding the necessary provisions for added rooms for Culver for the 1967-68 school term and information concerning a professional survey on building uses and curriculum.

The Board will meet with Welfare Committee of the Classroom Teachers' Association on March 1, 1967. The same evening school Principals will present staff needs.

Philip Hughey, Culver instructor, who has been developing studies on equipment for the new building was engaged to continue this work. He presented an extensive and detailed evaluation of equipment needs.

POST OFFICE TO BE CLOSED FEBRUARY 22

Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22, shall be observed as a legal holiday at all post offices.

Culver Firemen Pay Last Respects To Arthur M. Fishburn

Arthur M. Fishburn, 52, took his last ride Saturday.

But he rode out of this life the way he wanted to - on the top of a fire engine.

Fishburn, a 61-year veteran of the Culver Volunteer Fire Department, died Tuesday in Parkview Hospital after suffering a stroke.

One of his last requests was to ride to the cemetery, aboard the new department fire truck, with all the firemen with him.

So they hoisted his casket onto the top and cushioned it amid coils of fire hose, after services in the United Church of Christ.

As the services began, somebody blew a long blast on the fire whistle in the old station across the street.

It was a fitting occasion for Fishburn, whose body was carried through Culver which closed down its businesses Saturday in solemn tribute.

"It's too bad there aren't more like him," said Tom Walker, left behind to answer the telephone.

Fishburn, a blacksmith by trade, was a charter member of the department which he cherished. He once shod horses that drew the old rigs.

Long ago he was fire chief, back in the early 1930's, and after that, he always was captain, even before some of the present firemen were born.

"He dedicated his life to the fire service and that should speak for itself," said Duane Lantz, chaplain of the Indiana State Fire Marshal's office, delivering the eulogy.

Flowers banked the altar. Rev. H. W. Hohman, pastor, conducted the services, as firemen, hooded and holding their helmets, sat quietly in special pews in the front.

Then, as the service ended, they took up positions on either side of the church steps as mourners filed out.

"No one was liked any better," said Fire Chief David Burns. "He answered the last fire call we had - a house fire a week ago. He never missed a call."

"Everybody knew him. It was just recently, while in the station, that he remarked that he wanted to take his final ride aboard a fire truck."

"He was one of the best," said Police Chief Veri McFeely, leading the way to the cemetery. Once, as the fire engine turned a corner, the siren went on.

Surviving are his widow, the former Frieda M. Friebe, whom he married in 1928; two sons, Elmer and Francis, both of Culver; a daughter, Mrs. William Schmidt of Mishawaka, and two stepsons, Donald Bickel of Knox and Herschel Bickel of Culver.

The Easterday-Bonine Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Local Boy Scouts' Court Of Honor Marks Scout Week

On Monday, Feb. 13, Culver Boy Scout Troop 290 joined in the national celebration of the 57th anniversary of Boy Scouting in America by holding a Court of Honor and potluck supper at the Culver Methodist Church.

About 160 Scouts, parents, Scout leaders, and guests attended. Mr. Richard Davies, history instructor at Culver Military Academy was the featured speaker of the evening. Mr. Davies, a native of Valparaiso, was a member of the Peace Corps for two years in the country of Panama. He spoke of the hardships of those people and the prevalent misunderstandings between their country and the United States. Davies listed training that was needed to live among the Panamanians. It was quite interesting the parallel between the training Mr. Davies received for his job with the Peace Corps and the training that a Scout receives while an active member of Boy Scouting.

During the Court of Honor, members of the local Troop were recognized for their accomplishments during the past year.

Members of the local Troop Committee presented the following advancements: Second Class achievements went to Bruce Snyder, Gary Strang, William Bennett, Paul Hughes, David Reichley and George Tanner.

First Class to James Davis and James McFarland.

Star rank was earned by James Baker.

Merit Badges were next awarded and were received by Carl Strang, James Baker, David Reichley, William Bennett and James McFarland.

Service pins were awarded as follows: 1-year - Larry Babcock, John Jewell, Steve Myers, Gary Strang and Jeff Zechiel; 2-year - James Baker, Tim Baker, William Bennett, James Davis, Lynn Flora, Kent Lucas, James McFarland, Bruce Snyder; 3-year - Tim Frain; 4-year - Carl Strang; and 5-year - Greg Easterday.

Perfect attendance pins were earned by James Davis and Tim Frain.

Scoutmaster Snyder concluded the evening's program by recognizing the work of the Junior leaders of the Troop: Don Child - Michael Leach and James McFarland; Patrol Leaders - James Baker, Bill Bennett and James Davis; Senior Patrol Leader - Carl Strang; Jr. Assistant Scoutmasters - Greg Easterday and Tim Frain.

Current and up-coming activities of the Troop are swim program at C.M.A., Scout-O-Rama in Plymouth, Spring Camporee, and summer camp at Camp Tamarack in Michigan during week of June 18.

Anne Osborn Named To Steering Committee At Stanford University

Anne Osborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Osborn Jr. of Culver, has been named to serve on the steering committee for the Study of Education at Stanford University, Stanford, Calif. Anne is a first-year medical student at Stanford, Woodrow Wilson and National Science fellow and winner of the 1965 Dinkelspiel Award as the outstanding woman in that graduating class.

Appointed by President Wallace Sterling and headed by Vice-Provost Herbert Packer, the committee includes five faculty and three student members.

The new steering committee will be responsible for deciding what problems should be studied, delegating particular problems to groups and individuals, and reviewing proposals resulting from the study to make policy recommendations.

Attention will be given to the concept of the residence university and the problems therein entailed, including the women's off-campus housing issue, the value of such projects as Grove house, and the roles of tutors, sponsors, and resident associates.

One of the major eventual considerations will be how . . . educational review and improvement can be institutionalized, eliminating periodic and, in Prof. Packer's phrase, "somewhat convulsive" attacks on the problem.

The current study will cover the entire undergraduate and graduate program and is expected to be complete by late 1968.

According to Packer, its initial efforts will include hearings on a tentative agenda and an inventory of current studies of education at Stanford and elsewhere. A revised agenda will be adopted by the steering committee, which will then proceed to organize appropriate sub-committees for each agenda item.

Miss Osborn was president of Cap and Gown Society, senior women's honorary, and established an upperclass tutoring program for freshmen. A Legislature member, she initiated a study of academic advising and organized a Thursday evening lecture series at Koble, where she was a sponsor.

A 1965 Stanford graduate, she studied one year in the Ph.D. program in psychology at Harvard before returning to Medical School last fall.

"Both the attitudes and expectations of undergraduates have changed significantly during the last two or three years," she commented.

"I can remember hearing no clear statements from the University on its goals in the education of its students; perhaps such a statement is impossible to make.

"Any reassessment of Stanford . . . should keep in mind both what students hope to gain from, and what the needs of society require of, a university education."

Citing the "overwhelming popularity" of Hoskins house, an apartment structure for several undergraduate women on campus, she suggested that providing a more attractive and diverse choice of living arrangements at the University might appeal to some women students now seeking the option of living in nearby communities as upperclassmen.

Culver Jaycees Hold Business Meeting At The Bank Lounge

The Culver Jaycees met Thursday evening Feb. 9, at The State Exchange Bank Lounge. President Jerry Wyman calling the meeting to order.

Distinguished Service Award Dinner and Rosses Night Chairman, Jerry Wolfe, said, "the project can be considered a success; approximately 75 Culver people were present and attendance was probably cut 50% due to the blizzard conditions." Dr. Otis Bowen of Bremen, Speaker of the House in the Indiana Legislature was the keynote speaker.

Teen Center Project Chairman, Don Muehlhausen, reported, "their Student Constitution has been reviewed by my committee and we recommend several changes, however, the student leaders have not as yet made the desired changes . . . another attempt will be made to complete the revision."

The Ladies Casino Fun Night has been approved for March 25 according to Roy Nicodemus, chairman.

President Wyman said, "there was not enough time to submit a bid to hold the Indiana Jaycee Tennis Tournament at Culver this year, however, I recommend we offer a bid for the 1968 activity."

Latham Lawson was to serve as chairman for the Heart Fund project and he planned to have the Culver cheerleaders pass the blanket during halftime at the Culver-Culver Military Academy game, with proceeds going toward the Heart Fund.

The dance for the Culver Fire Department two-way radio fund, was reported by Co-Chairman Eddie Amond, who said "tickets and letters have been sent out to all the members and Firemen, . . . the Presidents of 10 area Jaycee clubs have been notified of our project . . . it is now up to each and every Culver Jaycee to make this project a success, let's get out and sell those tickets, the Fire Department is counting on us."

A scientist rushed madly into the control room of the missile center and proudly announced a new discovery.

"Men," he shouted, "there are women on the moon! We shot a communications rocket up there and got a busy signal."

CLUB AND CLASS NEWS

By Linda Baker

Since I have been blessed with the most exciting piece of news found in the Schoolbell, I have decided to try my best to live up to its reputation and bring you the greatest CLUB AND CLASS NEWS you've ever read.

First off we'll take a look at those heroes and heroines of High School, the SENIORS. It seems that during their class meeting last week, they chose the class colors, pink and green; flower, peony (pink); and the motto, "Climb as though you were to live forever, and live as though you were to die tomorrow." Quite a class, those SENIORS!

Now to the JUNIORS. At their class meeting they finally settled on a theme for the Prom. I asked them what it was, but they would not tell me. They mumbled something about it being tradition to keep it a secret. They also chose the band for the Prom. I sure do hope the Prom is a success.

The Sophomores and Freshmen seem to be taking it easy. They aren't in the process of planning anything right now.

The SUNSHINE SOCIETY is putting the final touches on their dance. The dance is Feb. 18. For more details watch for the posters in school and around town. Other projects are also in the planning, such as visiting convalescing homes in South Bend. But they are not definite as of yet. We'll look forward to hearing more about those in the near future.

The PEP CLUB is beginning to make plans for the Sectional. We hope to hear more about their plans in the near future, also.

The TOMAHAWK STAFF met to celebrate the end of this year's school annual, well, almost the end. Elaine had fudge for the occasion.

She also dropped a few hints for next year's editor whoever he or she may be.

Speaking of staff, the SCHOOLBELL STAFF (what's a schoolbell) met to discuss possible suggestions for future articles. Patty and Suzi also gave a few suggestions of their own. They also discussed improvements which could be made in the future concerning the staff.

Well, all in all, the classes and clubs at CHS have been rather busy and active this past week. I hope I have succeeded in giving you a glimpse of what they are doing.

READING GROUP MEETING SET

Approximately 175 members of the Tiptecanoe Council of the International Reading Assn. will hold their winter meeting at the Akron, Ind. School Cafeteria on Saturday, Feb. 18 at 12 o'clock E.S.T.

The organization is composed of public and independent school teachers from an area consisting of portions of 11 countries. These teachers are in some way involved in the reading program. The speaker for the meeting will be Mrs. Carol Arnold of Rockford Public Schools. Mrs. Arnold attended the International convention at Paris last August and plans to share highlights of the convention with the members of Tiptecanoe Council.

Saturday's hosts for this meeting are the Tiptecanoe Valley Schools which is composed of Akron, Mentone, Beaver Dam, Talma, and Burke. Mr. Morris Alger, principal of Beaver Dam School is chairman of the meeting.

Bits and Pieces

Well . . . Hello There! Are you tuned in for some juicy gossip? Well, we'll see what we can do to supply you with something to talk about. . .

Most important, of course, is what the Seniors are doing. They are eagerly awaiting their trip which is now only 34 days away. So as a word of advice to all Seniors, get your new clothes, luggage, and the other three nuts' names in that you are going to room with.

Three cheers for the Chinese Naive Neophytes! In case you are one of the few who hasn't heard of them, they are our own Culver students who put on a program for the Culver City Club. Recruits from it are being asked to display their talents once more. . . Patty O., George J., Paul H. and Brenda Mc. . . Have fun!!! (Do we hear a groan from Paul???)

Everyone's getting ready for the Sunshine Dance. Having a group as good or as cute as the Shangrilads isn't often, so get busy and ask the guy of your choice, girls!

Hey Kathy, Suzi, and Patty. . . did you have a good time on your dates Saturday nite???? Oh, sorry didn't know? . . .

It was Homecoming weekend for Mayo. Bradley Wagner, Mayo's secret-no-more-love came home unexpectedly. How about introducing him to some of us singles? . . .

Hey "Peug"! Did you enjoy your trip to the doctor's last week. She "accidentally" fell on her way to the band building and cracked her wrist. The reason we say "accidentally" folks, is because the nstrumental contest is coming up very soon and we know "Peug".

Hey Sara, what sort of hobby is spraying paint in one's hair?? Cadets are odd boys, aren't they?

Several (lucky) kids of CHS have been receiving pretty odd things in the mail recently. For instance, Patti M., and Beth R., have both reported machine part catalogs, and Carol Kline is simply overwhelmed by somebody's thoughtfulness to send her a record by the name of "Chickenman". I wonder . . . George J., would you know anything about this? . . .

We hear that Bob S. enjoyed his trip to New Orleans. Such nice weather, Bob!

What's this new fad with the Culver boys?? Oh, you say it's the Vul Bruyner look! Well, if that's the latest. . .

Seniors . . . prepare yourselves, speeches are about to come into season. Well, another season, another reason for ending this week's gossip column. Bye!

The kind hearted minister watched, smiling, as the little tyke struggled to reach a doorbell just out of his reach. Finally, the pastor walked over and obligingly pushed the bell for the boy. The lad waited a second, then exploded: "Here comes the lady now, mister! Let's run!"

Eagle wrestlers beat Loganport 27-20 to give them an 8-22 season as they face Howe Military School.

The varsity basketball squad earned an 11-7 record to date with two sweeping victories against Aubbeenaubee and Culver High School. The wins constituted CMA's sixth in the row. The team has won in eight of the last nine encounters.

Tim Schultz, Gordon Delk and Tom Matlock led Academy scoring against Aubbeenaubee to win 61-47. The three players earned 43 of the team's 67 points. Russell Parker and John Szponar shot the most points for Aubbeenaubee. Although both teams shared about the same field goal averages, Culver won the game at the free throw line by making 76 percent of its shots.

Mark Rodem and Rich White earned 35 of the Academy's 68 points to beat Culver High School 68-54. Paul Hatten, Stan Lowry and George Jewell earned 44 of the town's 54 points. The Eagles beat the high school in field goals although they trailed the town in free throw percentages.

MECHANICAL NOSE

Bomb scares on airplanes will be a thing of the past when a new mechanical nose is perfected. According to International Management, a McGraw-Hill publication, the new device can detect and analyze the characteristic vapors given off by explosives. After loading the plane, a sample of air will be taken from the baggage and passenger compartments, and if a bomb is on board, the nose will know.

DIVINE GUIDANCE

THE PRICE OF FREEDOM

George Washington was a leader who recognized the gifts and talents of others and assigned to each the task for which he was fitted. His simple, unassuming manner well grooved a republic and helped to make him the true leader that he was.

On the birthday of our first President, it is well to remember the fundamental principles he propounded — principles that have helped guide this nation through the years.

It was a cold day at Valley Forge as General Washington prayed for Divine guidance for our young nation in its moment of severe trial. Later General Washington met with a group of his military. With tears in his eyes — not tears of fear of failure but rather tears of pride for his fellow men and admiration for his struggling nation — he gave his military patriots a simple command, "Put none but Americans on guard tonight."

What General Washington meant was simply this: the salvation of our cause required true men, men willing to stand firm in the face of great odds. Men who loved their flag and liberty and freedom more than life. Men willing to prove it. His words are just as true now as in 1776.

CLEAR?

No wonder there's a Berlin wall!
 It's so hard to get people to accept ideas—to continue to accept them.
 It takes ruthlessness, brutality, oppression.
 Or does it?
 Jesus Christ was a carpenter in Nazareth. That was centuries ago. But the ideas he shared with his disciples are preached from our pulpits today. The truths for which he offered his life are being lived by millions of Christians.
 How did he make his point so clear . . . and so eternal?
 He did it through Love and Self-sacrifice . . . and God's Power. He did it through the very gifts which he imparts today to those who worship Him!

RINGWORM

RINGWORM of the scalp is predominantly a disease of children.

Caused by fungi, ringworm is a parasitic, moldlike organism. Ringworm of the scalp takes the form of one or more grayish patches in the hair accompanied by partial baldness. The hairs in the infected part break off and there is some scaliness of the scalp.

Hairs break off at their weakest point where the tiny parasites attach themselves near the surface of the scalp at the base of the hair. The remaining lower ends of the broken hair strands continue in an infected condition.

Shaving the scalp clean and scrubbing with soap and water is preliminary to treatment with an agent that will kill the fungus causing the trouble. In particularly stubborn cases, x-ray is sometimes used.

Spread of the infection to various parts of the scalp and to other persons is a frequent occurrence. There are literally thousands of the tiny parasites on even the smallest piece of hair that falls off. A bit of the infected hair may fall into a new region of the scalp or be carried to another person through exchange of a cap or muffler, or from the back of seats in buses or theaters.

A dying dictator was stretched out on his bed breathing his last. By his bedside was his second in command, tears streaming down his face. The old dictator patted his aide's hand feebly. "Do not grieve so, Comrade," he whispered. "I want you to know that because of your loyalty I am leaving you my money, my cars, my plane, my country estate, my yacht—everything."

"Thank you, thank you," cried the man. "You're much too good to me. Oh, if there was only something I could do for you!"

The dying man boosted himself up a bit. "There is," he gasped. "Just take your foot off the oxygen tube!"

Postal Customer's Bill Of Rights

Postmaster E. W. Mattox today called attention of Culver mailers to the new "Postal Customer's Bill of Rights" to help meet President Johnson's government-wide goal of improving the quality of federal services to the public.

Directed at post office window services, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien has ordered the Customer's Bill of Rights implemented by two immediate steps at Culver.

1. Posters will be displayed in the post office lobby and service counters containing 10 points which specify the kind of treatment customers have a right to expect.

2. Instructions from Mr. O'Brien call for careful observance of all points in the "Postal Customer's Bill of Rights." The instructions also provide directions for the most efficient management of window services.

The posters tell customers they are entitled to:

1. A neat, clean counter on which to transact business.
2. Service by a well-groomed, neat window employee.
3. A friendly greeting that expresses a desire to assist.
4. Knowledgeable, well-informed, interested window personnell to help with postal needs.
5. Prompt, alert and efficient service.
6. Competent and correct information on inquiries.
7. An attitude that reflects helpfulness, patience and congeniality.
8. The courtesy and tact that would be expected from a friend.
9. Polite referral to another window or individual, when necessary, to give the appropriate service.
10. A feeling, upon leaving, that the post office is glad to serve and help at all times.

Instructions for fulfilling "The Postal Customer's Bill of Rights" are being distributed to all window personnel by Postmaster Mattox.

Mr. O'Brien stated in connection with the new postal service improvement effort:

"President Johnson insisted that every federal employee give added attention to providing the American people with the very best service possible . . . Since your daily duties bring you in direct and continuing contact with our customers, I would like to tell you what I consider the type of service the American people have a right to expect when dealing with the largest business operation in the world."

In addition to improving relations with customers, Postmaster Mattox said, the "Customer's Bill of Rights" can expedite handling of transactions at the windows and make the service more efficient.

He explained that demands on window personnel, who must deal with a wide variety of information, forms and varying services, are often very heavy, and postal customers can assist them in meeting the new service goals by being as brief and business-like as possible. The Postmaster, also, urges patrons to offer suggestions and constructive criticism on this program or any other service of the Culver Post Office.

SESQUICENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR
Indiana Sesquicentennial Commission

HARMONIE

New Lights, Zoarites, Owenites, Jesuits, Spiritualists, Adventists, Shakers and others by the dozens have been in our heartland — and still come and go — but foremost among these groups of people searching for a new way of life was one which called itself Harmonist.

They came to Indiana Territory about 1814 and moved onto 30,000 acres of virgin land purchased around the town we know today as New Harmony, in Posey County.

These people were primarily Germans and followers of their pastor, George Rapp and his adopted son, Frederick Rapp. They were a strange lot with strange ways and were not too welcome among pioneers of Indiana.

Their religion taught them (4th Acts, Verse 32) "neither said any of them that aught of the things he possessed was his own, but they had all things in common." In other words, communism.

Another odd characteristic was their refusal to separate into family groups for they believed in the imminent end of this world. Their most fanatic followers were strict celibates and they saw no reason for the continuance of families, ceremonies of marriage, sex or such mundane things, or so they said.

They came to this wilderness by a long river journey, suffering discomforts, sickness and death on the way and when they arrived in their New Harmonie there was no shelter and scanty supplies.

These people, while mostly unskilled, possessed attributes which sometimes make skill and great knowledge unnecessary. They were energetic, industrious, devout, fanatical and led by superb organizers — the Rapps. And the group had money.

By 1824 they had established a community unlike anything that ever existed in Indiana, before or since. They had built a town and cleared 3,000 acres thereabouts, established vineyards (fenced), orchards and had hundreds of acres of growing crops.

They were engaged in business enterprises all over the midwest and underselling all competitors; a situation which was not exactly welcomed by their free-enterprise

On Proposed Lease Notice Of Hearing Culver Community School Corporation

You are hereby notified that a public hearing will be held before the members of the Board of School Trustees of Culver Community School Corporation on February 27, 1967, at the hour of 7:30 p.m. Central Standard Time at the office of the Superintendent of Schools of the Culver Community School Corporation at 110 South Main Street, Culver, Indiana, upon a Proposed Lease to be entered into between Culver Community School Corporation which has its principal place of business in Culver, Marshall County, Indiana, as Lessee, and Culver Community School Building Corp., as Lessor.

The proposed lease upon which hearing will be held is for a term of twenty-two (22) years, commencing with the completion of a school building to be erected by Culver Community School Building Corp. The lease provides for an annual rental of Two Hundred Thirteen Thousand Dollars ($213,000.00) per year payable on June 20th and December 20th of each year during the term of the lease, commencing with the completion of the school building. As additional rental the Lessee shall maintain insurance on the building as required by the lease, and shall pay all taxes and assessments against such property, as well as the cost of alterations and repairs.

The lease gives an option to the Lessee to purchase the property on any rental payment date from and after six (6) years from the execution of the lease. The building to be erected will be a high school building located on a tract of 33.11 acres lying in the Southwest corner of the intersection of State Road 10 and School Street.

The drawings, plans and specifications, including the estimate for the cost of said building, as well as a copy of the proposed lease, is available for inspection by the public on all business days during business hours at the Office of the Superintendent of Schools at 110 South Main Street, Culver, Ind.

At such hearing all persons interested shall have a right to be heard upon the necessity for the execution of such lease and upon whether the lease rental provided for therein to be paid to Culver Community School Building Corp. is a fair and reasonable rental for the proposed building. Such hearing may be adjourned to a later date or dates and following the hearing the Board of School Trustees of Culver Community School Corporation may either authorize the execution of such lease as originally agreed upon or make modifications therein as may be agreed upon with Culver Community School Building Corp.

Dated this 6th day of Feb., 1967.

type neighbors. They acquired wealth and comforts far advanced over the poor, log cabin, American pioneer type with whom we are so familiar.

Visitors to their village have left us much information about the Harmonists and it is difficult now for us to realize what their fanatical zeal and drive accomplished in that remote time and place in a space of a decade.

One Donald Macdonald kept a journal of his visit in 1824 and from it and other sources we learn of the Rappites, their ways and material possessions.

Their village had four streets east and west and six streets north and south. An "opening" in the center of town held an old church and a new one. There was an inn and there were two granaries — one of wood and one of brick.

Most houses were of unpainted wood or log but several were of brick, including dormitories for both men and women. The dormitories, or as Macdonald called them, "larger dwellings," had hallways running down their centers and men lived on one side of the hall, women on the other. At that early date they heated their rooms with stoves and insulated them.

The town had blacksmith and copper shops, "cow houses" and a deer park. It had a hatter's shop, cobbler shop, a tannery and clothing factory (operated by women). They had a corn mill on the Wabash River and it was powered by water.

The Rappites established a coconery and silk factory, oil (linseed) mill, saw mill, brick yard, brewery and distillery. They had a building which housed their horse-propelled "thrashing" machinery, a cotton and woolen and dye house driven by steam engine and a cotton mill (operated by horse and ox power).

They had large boats on the Wabash and penetrated many remote places on the rivers of mid-America and carried on extensive trading with merchants of New Orleans. They operated two or three prosperous stores in Vincennes and elsewhere. With no labor to pay they were formidable business competitors. And they were in many lines of merchandising.

The Rappites stored their surplus wine, cider and beer in two cellars under their church and held larger group entertainments in rooms above the church.

Macdonald said, "There were a good many young persons among them, and we understood that they had several children who remained at home." Other stories are to the effect that they explained new babies' presence to neighbors as orphans, mostly from Europe.

The Harmonists grew too wealthy, developed some faction and were not happy among their neighbors. When an opportunity came to sell out to philanthropist, Robert Owen, they let him steal their place for $140,000.00, in January 1825. By June of that year they were all gone back east from Indiana.

Their 30,000 acres, much of it improved, their village, mills, factories ten years of fantastic toil and everything, which was conservatively valued at a million dollars, went down the drain.

Even without the Rapps, Harmonists persisted until this century in Pennsylvania but celibacy and a few other factors spelled doom for their movement. Perhaps also some were disillusioned when the world did not come to an end as soon as was expected.

"And now, gentlemen," continued the congressman, "I wish to tax your memory."

"Good heavens," muttered a colleague, "why haven't we thought of that before?"

Indians Lose To New Paris & CMA In Weekend Games

By STEVE BAIR

The Culver Indians lost two more games last weekend. One to a New Paris team that has won eight of their last nine games and one to Culver Military, who has won their last seven in a row.

After a long bus ride to New Paris, which is just south of Goshen, the Culver Tribe lost to the Cubs by a score of 75 to 56. There seemed to be a lid on the basket as the New Paris club jumped off to an early lead that couldn't be overcome. The locals couldn't stop the New Paris fast break and the Cubs' sharp shooting forwards. Down 21 points at halftime, the Indians regained momentum and were catching the Cubs, but three questionable calls by the officials killed this quickly.

George Jewell led the locals with 16 markers, 12 of these in the fourth quarter. Phil Waybricht led both teams with 22 points.

The next evening the Indians faced cross-town rivals, Culver Military Academy, and lost a tough contest to the Eagles by a score of 58 to 54. The Tribe took an early lead, but seemed to forget their defense during the waning minutes of the first half. Down by three at the start of the third quarter the Tribe went into a dead spin, being out-scored by the Eagles 20 to 8. Rich White led the Eagle surge with three baskets at the end of the first half and four at the start of the second. Giving up 12 points, the third period proved the difference as the Tribe out-scored the Eagles 16 to 15 the last stanza.

Paul Hatten led the Indians with 19 points. Stu Lowry and George Jewell had 13 and 12 markers respectively. Mark Bodem and Rich White led the Eagles with 20 and 15 points respectively.
