Letters To Editor

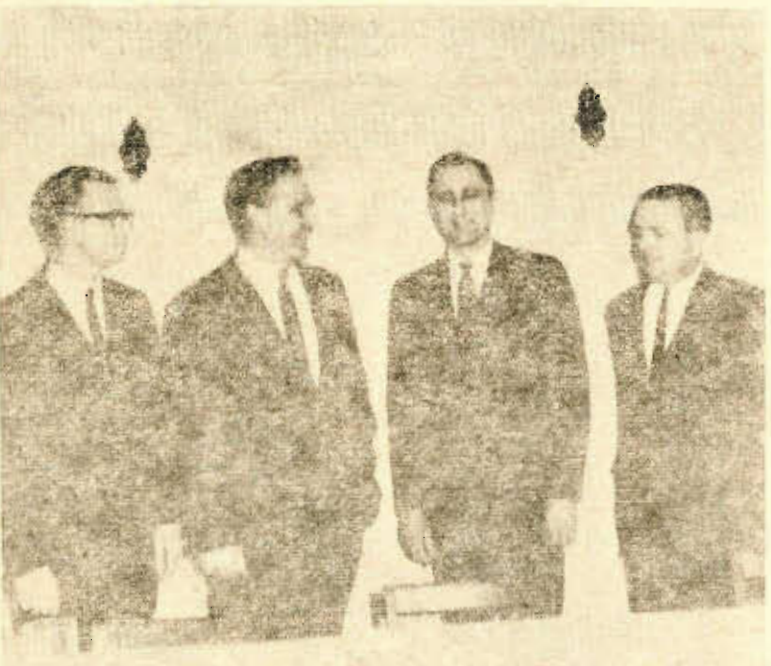

Editor, THE CITIZEN:
I am concerned about the deplorable condition of the road from State Road 10 to Culver past Dr. Howard's office.

There are far too many of our surrounding people going to Plymouth and Argos to shop now. So please do something to the road. It might help.

Senator Will Erwin Is Guest Speaker At Chamber Of Commerce Meeting

Senator Will Erwin of Etua Green explained some of the details of the 1967 General Assembly at the meeting of the Culver Chamber of Commerce at The Culver Inn on Monday noon, March 13.

Senator Erwin pointed out, "That outdoor recreation will triple from 1965-1975 according to an earlier survey and the State Government must respond to this need." He urged caution in the choosing of various locations for State Parks, in that they must not lose empathy of the people involved. "Why not encourage private campsites and facilities?" he asked. In the recent legislature, Senator Erwin introduced a bill (that was just signed by Governor Branigan) that will promote private facilities and calls for a certification from the State that proper sanitation is being carried out and the campsite is a satisfactory location. Senator Erwin went on to say, "8% of the sales tax and gross tax will now return to the county, due to various efforts of the 1967 Legislature. I voted against a pay raise for the Legislature, but the time is now coming when the salary will need a definite increase in order to encourage bright young men to run for office in a modern Indiana."

Dr. Joseph Howard, president of the Chamber, conducted the meeting and commented that the Chamber office is presently being decorated and a sign will be installed shortly at the Lake Shore Drive location.

The next meeting is tentatively set for an evening dinner on Monday, April 17, to enable more of the Chamber members and guests an opportunity to attend; a definite location has not been announced.

Robert Osborn invited all the Chamber to support the Culver High School Basketball Banquet on April 5 at the Eagles Lodge when Russ Oliver of Culver Military Academy will be the guest speaker.

Eddie Amord, co-chairman, along with Lance Overmyer of the Jaycee-Fireman's Ball, reported that preliminary reports show a profit of $175 for the project.

Larry Starkweather and Roy Nicodemus, co-chairmen for the Casino Night, said the event will be held on Saturday evening, April 1 at the Eagles Lodge. Jaycee wives are asked to bring a covered dish.

Don Nuehlhausen, chairman of the Jaycee-Teen Center project, commented that the students have submitted a "Culver Teen Center" Constitution. The membership voted approval of the Jaycee-Teen Center affiliation, with President Wyman to appoint three men to serve as a nominating and standing Jaycee liaison committee.

The Jaycees plan to support the Little League program again in 1967 and personnel is now being appointed for the project.

The Easter Egg Hunt for the Culver children will be held on Saturday, March 25 with Lance Overmyer, Chairman; assisted by Kenny Miller and Don Nuehlhausen. Overmyer added that complete details will be announced next week by his committee.

Latham Lawson, Chairman, reported that a blanket was passed by the CHS cheerleaders at the CHS-CMA basketball game in February, resulting in $50 for the Marshall County Heart Fund.

Don Schaadt, Public Health Chairman of the Indiana Jaycees, and Bob McNary, both of New Haven, were guests of the evening; also attending from out-of-town were Carroll Morrison, Ralph Keller, and Bill Curry of the Bluffton Jaycees.

Green Thumb Tips

Just a little space will produce a lot of vegetables if you plant it so it is fully utilized. For instance, in a single row you can plant radishes as soon as you can work the ground. A month later they'll be eaten, the row will be vacant, and you can use the same row for snap beans.

Many other vegetables can be doubled up in the same way. Spinach, an early vegetable, can be followed by peppers; onion sets by carrots or beets.

One of the easiest annuals to grow is the pink, related to the perennial carnation. There are both single and double-flowered sorts, but the most interesting are those with fringed and feathered petals and all sorts of fancy color patterns, varying from flower to flower. Why not plant seeds of pinks in any sunny place and revel in their fragrance this summer?

Order an extra-large supply of seeds of baby's breath, for this annual comes into bloom so fast that you'll want several crops for use in mixed bouquets all summer.

Bob Discher and Carl Adams of Culver, and Bill Kiesling and Walter Newman of Logansport, spent four days on the Gulf of Mexico with Capt. Bud Pritchard, skipper of the big charter boat Sea Rebel out of San Carlos Marina, Ft. Myers Beach, Fla.

Capt. Bud said they had one "dry run" when he missed a favorite spot in 70 ft. of water because of a faulty compass, but the other three trips will long be remembered by the Hoosier fishermen.

Wednesday they worked the kings west of Naples and docked with 58 of the slim gamesters. However, it was Friday, a rough day on the Gulf, when they made their big score. This trip produced 131 grouper, 35 gray snapper and a 70 pound leopard shark. Bud said, "Many of the grouper weighed around 20 pounds apiece and the snapper ranged up to eight pounds.

On Monday the four anglers took 50 grouper, 14 snapper and one king mackerel.

Vedette Editor And Advisor Speak At Press Convention

The student editor and faculty advisor of the Culver Military Academy newspaper spoke during the annual convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York last weekend.

L. Henry Liese, Manila, Philippines, student editor, and David H. Gaskill, faculty advisor, led discussions on the topic: "Why Special Issues?" The Culver student newspaper, The Vedette, has been active in the production of many special issues devoted to current topics during the past six years.

The Vedette earned a Medallist rating from Columbia's rating service last year. The award was based on a newspaper in their first class category which exhibited special personality or character. Culver delegates were selected to attend a reception of the Overseas Press Club while at the convention.

Since 1961, Vedette editors have produced special issues dealing with American patriotism, the Cuban Crisis, the problems of academic time and college admissions, the influence placed on secondary schools by students who have become more involved in their education, and opportunities in space and oceanography.

Gaskill, a 1964 journalism graduate from Indiana University, has advised Culver Military Academy's student newspaper for two years. Liese, a senior from Manila, Philippines, in his third year at the Academy, has served as Vedette sports editor and Honor Council representative. He has been a member of the Four Gun Drill artillery honor organization and Blue Key and Cum Laude scholarship societies.

Making signatures and addresses are two frequent problems that Mutual Medical Insurance, Inc. of Indianapolis, Indiana, has run into in processing doctor bill requests for payment forms from medicare beneficiaries. Charles M. Burke, social security district manager in South Bend, Indiana said today.

Dear Man Perfects Tiny Hearing Aid

OFFERS FREE MODEL

A remarkable tiny hearing aid has been perfected by a man who has been hard of hearing for nearly ten years.

This small device has no dangling cords or separate transmitting units and represents a new unusual design idea in a product to restore natural hearing.

It was developed especially for those persons who can hear but can't understand. This new hearing instrument provides "ear-level" hearing with the wearer picking up speech, sounds, television and radio at his ear. Due to the use of transistors, the user cost is extremely low.

A true life actual size replica of the smallest all-in-the-ear hearing aid ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone sending in this advertisement while supply lasts. Representatives of Mutual Medical Insurance, Inc., the carrier for medicare doctor bill payments in the South Bend area, have reported that some beneficiaries have received repayment for doctor bills later than was necessary because they forgot to sign their forms or to include their address.

The signature on the request for payment form authorizes the carrier to pay the claim. Mutual Medical Insurance, Inc. has to have the signature before the claim can be paid.

A missing address presents even a bigger problem according to Mr. Burke. "Without the address Mutual Medical Insurance Inc. doesn't know where to send the check, and the only way to get it is to write back to the doctors, who are sometimes reluctant to give out their patients' addresses."

Mr. Burke noted that there are two ways to get payment for doctor bills under medicare and that under the first method the doctor agrees to make the claim to the medicare carrier. But when the other method is used, the beneficiary pays the doctor bill and sends the claim to the carrier.

"Beneficiaries sending in their own request for payment forms should be especially careful to give all information called for, including their address, medicare identification number, and their signature," Mr. Burke said. "Also, the beneficiary should either have his doctor complete the second part of the request for payment form or enclose an itemized receipted bill before sending in his claim."

"Because Mutual Medical Insurance, Inc. has reported some problems with claims from this area," Mr. Burke said, "we are suggesting that beneficiaries making their first claim bring the forms and receipts to the social security office. By letting us check the request for payment forms before they are sent to the medicare carrier, the beneficiary can be sure that his claim won't be delayed because some item has been left off."

Mr. Burke said that persons unable to come to the office at 125 S. Lafayette Blvd., South Bend, Indiana, can mail in their forms. People who mail in their forms should indicate their telephone number so that they can be contacted if additional information is needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tasch, with Mr. and Mrs. John Galbreath Jr. of Winamac and Mr. and Mrs. George Rogers of New Hampshire, Conn., attended the funeral Saturday of Jacob Martin Galbreath at the Weisheimer North Chapel in South Bend. Interment was at the St. Joseph Valley Memorial Park. J. M. Galbreath was a great uncle of Mrs. Tasch's and was a retired school teacher of the South Bend system.

Good morning, this is your Hippy Dippy weatherman with the weather, sports, and gossip sponsored by the Boy-watcher's Clubs of America, (centrally located in the halls of CHS, of course).

The latest news comes down from the north: 50 degrees below this weekend with a dead hope of spring. America the Beautiful is about to become Anarctica, the Frozen! Sorry about that chief; I'll see if I can order some good weather for the Senior Trip.

Now for the Sports section: The Boywatchers' Club got a little off course this week but that's all right, the Academy is as good a place as any this season. The recruits from the club are Patty, Suzi, Jeannette, and Kathy T. Now girls you're pressing your luck. You just about got caught the last time you were there. . . but if they are more interesting over there don't desert the club!

Is singing a FUN SPORT? Well anyway, some CHS girls tried out for the Academy play, "The King and I." We would like to wish you good luck: Patty O., Linda H., Janet H., Sara H., Bonnie R., and Mary Beth I.

Phil Edgington . . . how are the sports over at Logan on weekends?? Oh, it's a secret, o.k., we won't tell.

Well, that's about all for the Sports section. Now for the local gossip:

Armando would like everyone back home in Mexico to know that there is nothing between Anna and him, but — it seems Armando has his eye on a certain Michelle Peronn.

Patti McCombs, the black-ode streaks in your hair do wonders for it — don't cov-ugh! them up this time.

If you know what's good for you, you won't go around punching any guy that's in track. The track coach has really been working on them to build up those muscles (!), and he must be doing a good job, since they're all sore as the dickens. That's Charles!

Mable said that Pete told her that his brother's cousin's sister-in-law heard from her neighbor FIRST HAND that Blair's finally found his true love! Now, wasn't that worth waiting for??

Congrats to the lucky (?) girl! "Well Norma, you've done it again. You had to show everybody how far you could open your moth, but this time you tried too hard, you pulled a muscle." This kid will do anything to get attention.

It is heard through the grapevine that three Juniors are planning a head. They've already asked for dates for the Prom. Right, Gary, Susie, and Mike??

Just think underclassmen (we can, ya know!) only two and a half more days 'till peace and quiet will surround us. That's when the great (?) seniors will depart for the East.

Since this is a one-man stand as usual and since my only line is the weather, which hurts; I'll say good day and watch out for Russian ICBM's!

The Senior Trip

By Bob Vondra

The Senior trip is the goal of all underclassmen and the dream come true for the Senior class. To all those who are not going this year but hope to go in years to come, here are some of the things the Seniors will see and do.

Sunday night we board the Capital Limited at LaPaz and head for Washington. The quiet night is whirled away with card games until lights out. Monday morning we arrive in Washington and begin an all-day tour of our Nation's capital. We have our pictures taken on the Capital Building steps. After seeing the Capital Building, we tour the House of Representatives, the Senate, and the White House.

After lunch we are allowed to spend some time in the Smithsonian Institution and view the many interesting objects out of our Country's history. Our next stop is Arlington Cemetery, where we will pass Ex-President John F. Kennedy's gravesite.

Tuesday is spent at Williamsburg, Va., America's most famous restored city. Here we walk the same streets that George Washington, Patrick Henry, and other great patriots as they discussed their great struggle for freedom.

Wednesday our bus takes us to New York, where we will see the United Nations Building, Grant's Tomb, St. Patrick's Cathedral, and many other sights. Later on we will go to Radio City Music Hall where we will see the famous "Rockettes." After the show we will be on our own to have fun in the city until 1 a.m.

Thursday we see the Statue of Liberty, which was presented to America by France as a token of good will. After our visit, we will go to the Empire State Building, tallest building in the world, and from its summit have a panoramic view of New York. After our sightseeing tour we will be on our own for the rest of the afternoon and night.

These are just the highpoints of a Senior trip that will never be forgotten. This is what you have worked for so hard, and now, as later in life, you learn the value of working earnestly and the reward it brings.

Warsaw Band Gives C.H.S. Performance

By Elaine Kaiser

The Culver High students were entertained by the Warsaw High School Band on Thursday, March 9. The 78 members of the band were dressed in black uniforms with red trimmings. The band played a variety of songs. Among them was the Overture from Brigadoon, A Pageant, two drum solos, a stirring march featuring a skit, Spanish Harmony directed by Mr. Poust, America the Beautiful and the Battle Hymn of the Republic with a narration by a band member, and God Bless America. The band members then ate in our school cafeteria before returning to Warsaw. We were especially glad to have this band since their director, Mr. O'Riley, formerly taught at Culver. Congratulations on a nice job.

An Afternoon At C.M.A.

"Golly, here I am — in fifth grade — and I get to go to the C.M.A. Convocation this afternoon with the high school students! Just think — I get out of two of my subjects just to go watch something. My teacher is passing a paper around now that tells what it's all about. From what I can understand, a man gets out on the stage and does funny things by acting them out without talking. I think it's called Pantomime.

"Hey! It's time to go. Last one on the bus is a rotten egg! Steve, quit pushing. Mr. Vondra, make Karen quit hitting!

We're here! Gee, look at all of the school buses. Why — there must be hundreds of them.

Boy this place sure is big. I guess they call it the Epley Auditorium. There's a seat in the front row — hope I can make it. (HUFF-PUFF) "Hey! That's my seat! Yes, Mr. Kaiser, I can sit back there."

It's starting now. Just think — instead of doing my spelling — I'm over here having fun.

Ha! Ha! Look at that man. He's got a tight white outfit on, with a black skull cap, and he's barefooted. His face is painted white with black around his eyes and mouth.

He's acting like he's walking — now he's running. Oh! He found a bicycle and he's riding that. Golly, he's funny. I've never seen a man move like that. I wonder how he does it? Oh, oh! He stopped! It it the end already?

I have to go back to writing. Whew! All he's doing is acting a little history on pantomime. I'm afraid I can't understand all he's saying. Tommie's sitting behind me and he's pulling my hair. "Quit it, Tommie, before I come back there and bust you one!"

Now the man, whose name is Frans Reynders, is doing an act as a puppet. The name of it is Marionette. He's a string puppet which breaks his strings and lives on his own for just a few short minutes. I wonder if puppets are really like that?

Here it is, time for the last act already. The name of this one is the Soldier. That's what I'm going to be when I grow up, so I gave to pay very close attention to this. — That was awfully sad. Just in his movements he proved that war is a terrible thing. I don't think I want to be a soldier after all.

Now it's time to go back. I really enjoyed that. He had eight acts altogether. Between Marionette and the Soldier was the Man at the Table, the Bird, the Surgeon, the Girl, the Game With the Hand, and Samson and the Lion. You know something? I want to pantomime when I get older. I could make people realize things without using words. I hope we get back in time for writing. I know now that I didn't go just to I could get out of two of my subjects. I really liked it and I hope we can go again sometime. Joey, so help me! If you say one more funny thing about that program — I'll — I'll bust you right in the nose — even if I am a girl!"

"I admire that last piece you played, Professor. It had a sort of wild freedom about it you know—a sort of get up and go that just suited me. Was it a composition of your own?"

"Madam," responded the eminent musician, "I was putting a new E string on my violin."

Ron & Rhonda

Dear Rhonda,

I've just started going steady with Jim a few weeks ago and already it seems like years. In the beginning he was a perfect gentleman always opening doors, walking on the street side, helping me with my chair, etc. but now he's forgotten everything! I really should not complain because that's his only fault so far, but good manners make you feel more like a girl. What should I do?

FEELING UNFEMININE
Dear Feeling Unfeminine,

This is a touchy situation and I hope you realize this boy has not changed his feelings, but as you say he has forgotten. If you gently drop hints he will catch on. Pause at doors for him to open, situate yourself on the right side of the street, ask him to help you with your coat. He'll get the hint. If these are his only faults don't press the matter. I think he'll understand.

SINCERELY,
RHONDA

Dear Ron & Rhonda,

What do you think about High School boys smoking? My steady has just taken up the habit to my distaste and I don't know how to stop it. Would you make suggestions?

DISGUSTED
Dear Disgusted,

WE, personally, do not like to see teenagers smoking, but as young adults we feel you are mature enough to realize and weigh the values of cigarette smoking on health and the cost of this pleasure. You may not be able to control your steady's smoking but you do have a definite influence of it. Let him know how you feel about it but don't be too harsh. All boys try it and maybe he will stop for you.

SINCERELY,
RON & RHONDA

For all those SENIORS going on their Senior Trip, Ron & Rhonda would like to say have a real good time. New York and Washington are two of the most educational cities in the U.S.A. Learn a lot, have fun and leave enough of those cities for the next classes. KEEP YOUR KOOL!

As I look into my crystal ball, I see some of the Class of '67 in the year 1992. Let's see what they are doing.

Steve Bair has become a renowned writer. Among his accomplishments we find an Ann Lander's column and the book, "How to Lose Weight Without Trying."

Linda Baker started as a social worker, but decided if you can't lick 'em, join 'em. That's what she did.

Bob Crow is in the bunny business. He has establishments in all the major cities.

May Kozlowski is the mother of five happy, pesky children who all seem to be following in her ornery footsteps.

Dave Kelly is a noted Senator. He had better luck with the government than he had with Student Council. All his talents were wasted — he can take the disappointments!

Ed Gaiselman and Mike Holloway have become prosperous partners in Milwaukee. What could that business be?

Suzi Overmyer is a missionary?? She has just returned from Africa and is staying in the States for a couple of months.

Tom Osborn is a well-to-do dairy farmer — the kind Mr. Lawson used to tell us about — Tom owns 2,000 acres.

Marlene Morrison is the owner of all rights to produce T-Birds.

Cathy Schmidt is a great war hero. We sent her to Vietnam, pulled our troops out, and she drove the Viet Cong nuts. Yeah, Cathy's personality.

Diane Nelson is a famous race car driver. After trying out Jerry's Vett, he never got to drive it again — this could be the determining factor.

George Jewell is an actor of great feeling who is now appearing in the Broadway play - Pickle.

Patty Overmyer is a happy mother of nine children. At least at last count it was nine.

Bob Vondra has become the world's most famous clothes designer. His look is the no look.

Dr. Ed Wieringa has just performed one of the greatest brain operations seen in the world. The patient died, but his operation was a success.

Gary Burkett is Ford's top salesman and the father of 10.

Kent Overmyer has become the World wrestling Champ. He has held the title since he beat Casius in 1975.

Bob Shirrell has taken over the Joe Pyne show.

Jeanette Salyer is the owner of Change Color Hair Co. Her biggest problem is taxes. She uses her ingenuity and makes money and then the government takes it away. Poor Jeanette!

Tom Bockock is the holder of the "World's Best Developed Man" title. It seems after graduation he took a developing course and just couldn't stop.

Cheryll Zink is still a cheerleader, but she has graduated from Indiana to the Boston Celtics.

Patti McCombs is still a Go-Go Girl. Matter of fact the oldest one known to man.

Paul Hatten is the player-coach of the Boise Zephyrs. Great team! Only lost two games; they've only played two.

Marilee Herrmann owns one-half of the Betty Crocker Co.

John Milner owns the other half.

Terry Clifton — oh, sorry, but Terry's in jail for hitting a pedestrian.

Joyce Odle is the nation's leading Economist. She says it was all due to Mr. Lawson's Econ class.

Norm Johnson has become the greatest Evangelist since Billy Graham.

Mike Schmidt is now running for the Presidency. Good Luck.

My crystal ball is fading, so I shall fade with it. Farewell.

Synthetic Wife: "Dear, you must have had a terrible day at the office, you look so tired and hawery. How would you like a nice steak with a baked Idaho potato, a summertime salad and big dish of apple turnovers?"

Trucking Tycoon: "Not tonight, dear, I'm too tired to go out."

A Nation Of "Cut-Outs"?

By Linda Baker

A few people have suggested certain patterns to follow in order to be considered "in" or up-to-date. This so-called pattern of social success consists of the right hairdo, usually from one extreme to the other, just the right touch of make-up (did I hear it was the eyes this year?), the must in clothing apparel, and the stores in which to purchase this apparel. You don't have to do a bit of thinking anymore; someone's already done it for you!

This is all fine and good if you have a weak mind and can't afford to overwork it. But what if everyone took this advice? We would soon have a bunch of carbon copies, one just like the other. Individual tastes and even personality would be lost.

Individualism is one of the most important freedoms of choice that our nation has to offer its citizens. When these citizens cease to exercise their freedoms, they chance to lose them. When this happens, America, as you and I know it, will cease to exist. Other young, striving countries will have nothing to base their principles on.

Thus, Americans must not heed the advice of the few — very few — people who consider themselves as being deemed the blessed prophets of social success. They must use their own judgment and show their individual tastes, whether these tastes be considered "in" or "out." What is good and right for one person isn't necessarily good and right for another.

Too much emphasis is put on this "in crowd" by these "social experts". Actually, the "in crowd" consists of a small minority who have the misguided illusion that everyone's out of it but them. They couldn't be more wrong. For it is they who are or will soon be out of it due to the rapid fashion change in the United States.

By forfeiting their individuality, they are losing their right to exercise their freedoms. White others, by being themselves and developing their own individual tastes and personalities, are securing and perpetuating their freedom of individuality.

Therefore, I stress the neces-

MEET THE

CHAMPION

Wayne Zahn—AMF Staff

"I feel good, my hand is in good shape, I think I'm going to win it."

Win it he did, and very convincingly as he averaged 219 for the 60 games, a new record. Only two of his games were under 200 and one of them was his final game of 183 when he had a lock on the title.

There wasn't any room for second guessing because at no time in the 24 game finals was any bowler within striking distance. "Bo Burton put some pressure on me in the final block, the only pressure I felt in the entire tournament," recalls Wayne. He was referring to the fact that a late charge by the handsome 25 year old Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis had cut Zahn's lead to 170 pins at one point. Burton averaged 250 for the first four games of his final eight game block. But Zahn kept on with his machine like bowling as he missed the pocket less than a dozen times in 24 games and missed only one spare in that same span of games.

With the PBA National Championship added to his laurels for 1966, Wayne Zahn had gone through it all. He had won in the short one game TV test in the Tournament of Champions, he had come through in the match play format of the Masters and he had held out in the long grind of the National.

The $10,000 first prize gave him the money winning title for the year as it brought him well over the $50,000 mark and his high scoring had vaulted him to the top spot on the average list.

"It was almost a perfect tournament for me," says Wayne. "I rolled the game I've been working to achieve. I had the right mental attitude before the event and all during the tournament."

Wayne Zahn talked like a man who had arrived, a man who now knew why he had gone through the financial ups and downs, the days away from home living out of a suitcase and the aggravation of depending upon the falling of stubborn pins, all part and parcel of being a professional bowler.

Wayne Zahn had arrived.

again. Can the "average" person accept this call, this self-surrender?

It is really inevitable. And we know this in the first stirrings of our deepest spiritual intuition. It can happen in July on a city street, in a classroom, in an office. Easter comes when it happens in the heart.

Writing of the new birth, Mary Baker Eddy, the founder of Christian Science, said:

"It begins with moments, and goes on with years; moments of surrender to God, of childlike trust and joyful adoption of good; moments of self-abnegation, self-consecration, heaven-born hope, and spiritual love" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 15).

Our intuition grows into perception and understanding. Gradually, we gain the conviction that the lives of all men are ultimately bound together, in Truth. Then we begin to find the courage, strength, and intelligence we need to lay down our lives for each other, day by day — to sacrifice whatever is self-satisfied or self-seeking in our hearts, to break through the barriers of mortal ego.

Then Easter comes. And then

we begin to see ourselves — and each other — in this new light.

For this is where the "greater love" leads — to clearer views of what is actual, to resurrection, to a life that is new and to life that is endless.

Jesus said, "He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it" (Matt. 10:39).

SAVINGS BOND REPORT

Harold E. Rose, Chairman of the Marshall County U. S. Savings Bond Committee, has received a report revealing that the County's Savings Bonds sales for January were $60,845 compared with $63,268 for the corresponding period of last year. The State's sales for January were $14,482,637 which is a gain of 16.8 percent compared with sales of last January.

Fifty-nine of the State's 92 counties reported sales gains for the month when compared with sales of January 1966.

As teenage son slumped dejectedly in a chair, his face anguished, Mother asked Father what was causing the gloom.

"He wants to go to the drug store down at the corner," replied Father, "and the car won't start."

Zahn Wins National

As the field of 192 bowlers began arriving in Long Island for the Professional Bowlers Association National Championship, the final big test of 1966, the spotlight was on two bowlers, Dick Weber and Wayne Zahn.

Weber had won the All Star; Zahn had copped the Tournament of Champions and both had a shot at the all-time one year money winning record set by Don Carter in 1962.

Both showed great confidence in pre-tourney interviews. This was expected of Weber since he was generally recognized as the top bowler of the day, having been named Bowler of the Year in three of the past four years.

The press was impressed by Zahn's confidence. Only seven months before he had been an excited kid after winning the Tournament of Champions. Now he was a polished pro, sure of his game, sure of himself.

Once the tournament started, it quickly became apparent that Zahn's confidence was fully justified. He took the lead after the 24th game of the 60 game grind and was never headed. He was never lower than fourth at any time and after each six game block his comments were similar,

WHEN EASTER HAPPENS

Christian Science Sermonette

The meaning of the Easter is renewed when we begin to discover in ourselves the capacity for that "greater love" of which Christ Jesus spoke.

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends," Jesus (John 15:13). And his total willingness to do this opened to mankind a new estimate of reality — brought resurrection, showed us a new and unending life.

Our readiness to learn what Jesus' words mean in our lives can begin to open to us this vast view.

His words are a call for the most penetrating kind of self-sacrifice — for a spiritual devotion that overcomes human pride, fear, and selfishness in a triumph of divine Love.

It is literally a call to be born

Nipsco's customers!

Why? Because the people at Northern Indiana Public Service Company are working hard to keep the price of electricity low. In fact, the average NIPSCO residential customer pays about 15% less per kilowatt-hour today than he did 10 years ago!

AREA CHRISTMAS TREE GROWERS ELECT OFFICERS

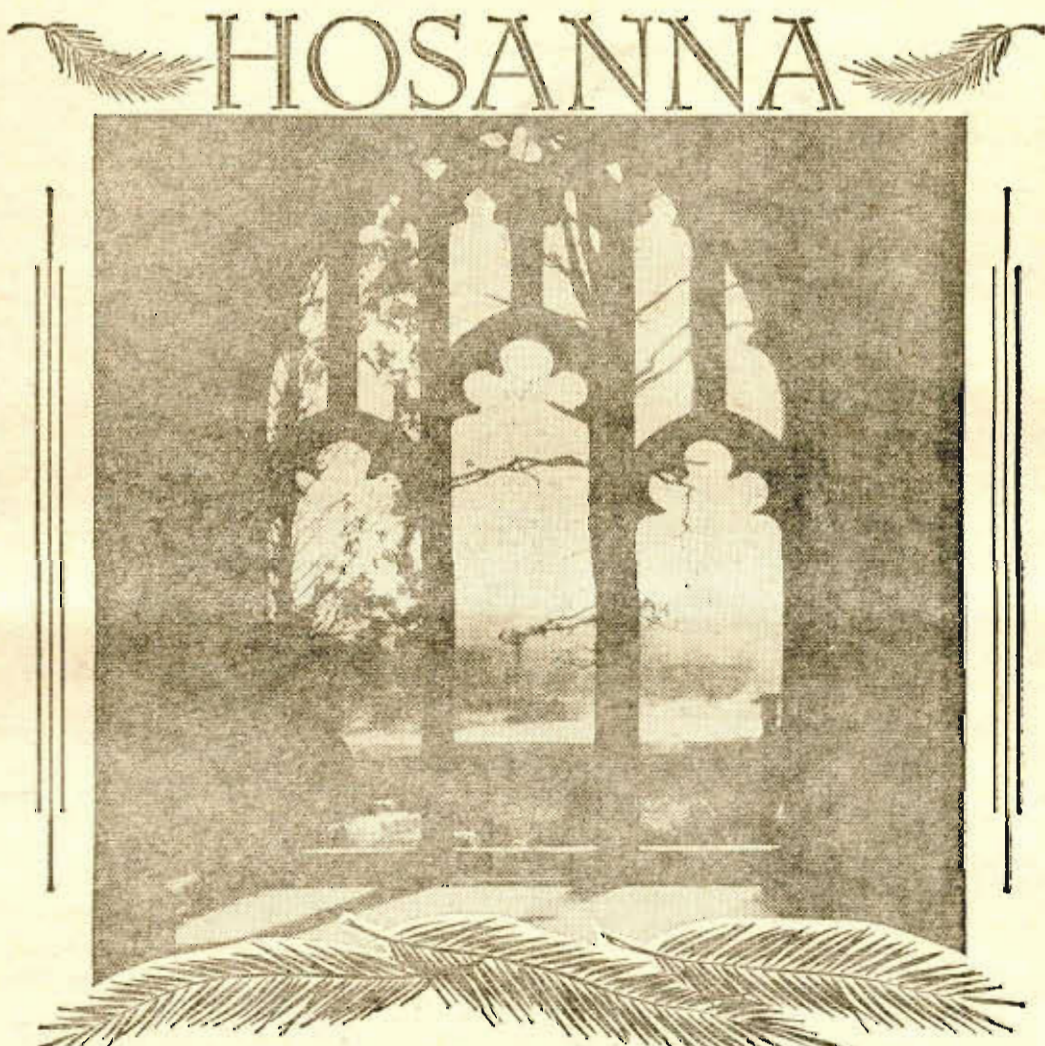

All officers were re-elected at the first annual meeting of the Northwest Indiana Christmas Tree Growers Association held at Hamlet recently. Officers re-elected were President, Stanley Hensler, Hamlet; Vice-President, Gerald Apple, Culver; Secretary, John Anderton, LaPorte; and Treasurer, Don Rosenbaum, LaPorte. Directors selected were Denslow Doll, Walkerton, and Roy Klotz, Bremen.

The thirty-nine individuals present heard very satisfactory reports concerned with the last Christmas tree season. Growers reported an excellent demand for quality Northwest Indiana trees during the past season. Cooperation of association membership in assisting with the location of trees for prospective buyers has been an immediate asset to the association and industry. Plans were also made to keep the membership informed on appropriate timing of recommended practices for quality production of trees for which this area is proud. Christmas tree growers may join the association by contacting one of the above officers or directors.

According to Donald Clayton, county extension agent, progress of the association during its first year indicates that it can be a great asset to the industry in northwest Indiana.

A 50-word (or less) classified ad in The Citizen costs just $1.40 a week on either a 26 or 52 consecutive insertion contract.

Palm Sunday! After services, I lingered for a moment in the sanctuary. The sun patterned the floor with gold and stippled the palms by the altar. A quiet stillness held me and for an instant it seemed I saw a crowd waving branches and heard them shouting "Hosanna to the Son of David; Hosanna in the highest."

And Jesus came, riding through the tumult of rejoicing. He had been in Galilee making blind men see, and lame ones walk, lifting up the dead and quickening men's hearts to goodness with his teachings. Many voices sang his praise, yet in a few short days, their screams would swell a cry of "crucify Him."

How could they, we wonder? How could anyone be blind to the goodness of this man, the rightness of His Word?

And still today, as we turn away from the hungry, the poor, and disregard the needs of our fellowman; we just as surely add our voices to that cry.

SESQUICENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

By J. M. Guthrie
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR
Indiana Sesquicentennial Commission

SPANIARDS IN INDIANA
White men have been around the southern shores of Lake Michigan from about 1660. French missionaries established a mission at the mouth of the St. Joseph River and there in November, 1679, La Salle built a stronghold which he called Miamis.

The place was destroyed and the French government built another fort some sixty miles up the St. Joseph River and maintained a trading post, or posts, in the area for years.

When France capitulated to England following the French and Indian War the fortification was occupied by a detachment of the 60th British Regiment, called Royal Americans.

Within a couple of years, Pontiac captured it in a "battle" lasting two minutes, according to English Ensign Schlosser, in command. At the time there were several French and English traders with headquarters thereabouts. England sent men back and took over from Pontiac's Indians and they went unmolested until October, 1777.

Thomas Brady, of Cahokia, led a raiding party against the post, Fort St. Joseph, and routed the British again. Then in the fall of 1778, Paul Meillet, founder of Peoria, with 300 men from his area stormed it, took it away from a force of regular British troops and destroyed the place yet another time. Meillet sent the garrison to Canada, seized the stores and cleaned out all the Englishmen.

When the French left, the stubborn British returned, rebuilt and used the fort as a fur trading center and one of the points from which White and Indian raiders were sent to prey upon settlements in Illinois and Kentucky.

In 1780, a force of British and Indians went from Michilimackinac and attacked both the Spanish in St. Louis and Americans (and French) in the Cahokia neighborhood. The British were driven off but the Spaniards suffered considerable loss, including the life of their commandant, Fernando de Leyba of St. Louis.

Smarting under this attack the Spaniards initiated a campaign against the nearest British outpost—Fort St. Joseph.

In 1781, a Spanish force under command of Don Eugenio Pourre, ranking as captain in the Spanish line; Don Carlos Tayon, a lieutenant in the royal service, second in command; Don Luis Chevallier, "a man well versed in the language of the Indians" (and possibly an old trader from the St. Joseph area); two Indian leaders, Eleuterno and Naquigen; sixty five soldiers from Upper Louisiana and sixty Indians of the Sotus (Sioux?), Otagues (Ottawas?) and Putnamis (Pottawatomis?) tribes made an incredible, winter march across Illinois and Indiana to take St. Joseph.

It was a tough campaign and they were heavily laden as each man had to carry provisions and trade goods for unfriendly Indians along the way—in addition to arms and personal baggage—all in the dead of winter.

The force could not strike out across the prairies because of the need of fresh game and firewood. The only account of this campaign that has been found said that Pourre and his men "suffered in so extensive a march and so rigorous a season, the greatest inconvenience from cold and hunger." They made allies of the Indians as they went and their coming to the English fort went undetected for they promised tribes along the way they could share in the plunder. The fort was taken and spoils divided among the troops and Indians.

Pourre took the English flag back to Governor Cruzat in St. Louis when he returned after a stay of only a few days.

The sequel to this story is that in the Second Treaty of Paris, the Spaniards, as a result of Pourre's midwinter campaign, made claim to a great deal of what is now midwestern United States. In cahoots with France, Spain had our country pretty well sliced up and claimed land eastward from their Upper Louisiana into Indiana and Ohio.

Less wise men than Adams, Franklin and Jay might have given in to pressures of their allies, Spain and France, and given all of America west of the seaboard states away. Contrary to instructions, once they saw that France and Spain were about to despoil the United States, our emissaries entered into negotiations with Great Britain and succeeded in getting the Northwest Territory for the United States.

The lone Spanish march across Indiana in 1781 could have resulted in our being a part of Spain.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

BROWNIE TROOP 47

Girl Scout Sunday was observed on March 12 with each girl attending her own church. Mari Babcock served as Acolyte at the Methodist Church.

On Monday afternoon a group of Brownies with their leaders decorated the window at the Ben Franklin Store using as their theme, "International Friendship Around the World". The remainder of the troop enjoyed a party at the Methodist Church with Mrs. John Oldham. Refreshments were served by Mari Babcock.

A party for the Girl Scout Troops of Culver was held that evening by the Maxinkuckee Woman's Club who serve as sponsors. Col. Gerald Graham gave a very interesting talk on the Black Horse Troop and took us on a tour of the Riding Hall and Stables. Everyone enjoyed the evening very much, and look forward to another visit at a later date. Refreshments were served at the Bank Lounge by members of the Woman's Club.

A Spaghetti supper will be served by the Cadette Troop 148 at 5 p.m. to the Brownie's on Wednesday, March 15.

There will be no meeting next week because of School Vacation.

LOCAL HOLSTEIN COMPLETES YEAR'S TEST RECORD

A special production testing report from the Holstein-Friesian Association of America shows that Culver Lancelot Lieu Maggie 5886333, owned by John A. Newman and Sons, Culver, produced 20,169 pounds of milk and 681 pounds of butterfat in 365 days.

The two-year-old cow made the record under Dairy Herd Improvement Registry rules, a program that incorporates the DHIA records of Registered Holstein cows into the national Association's breed improvement programs.

Purdue University supervised the weighing and testing of the record. DHIR and its companion program, Herd Improvement Registry, have a combined enrollment of over 133,000 Registered Holstein cows in over 2,900 herds.

This new record compares to the average U.S. cow's output of 8,080 pounds of milk.
