State C. Of C. Urges Statewide Time Uniformity

Action by local communities to preserve total statewide uniformity of time observance in Indiana during the "daylight time" period beginning Sunday, April 30, has been urged by the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce in a bulletin sent to the chamber's 197 affiliated local organizations.

It was recommended that all areas now in the official Eastern Standard Time zone remain on that time, without advancing clocks, and that all areas in the official Central Standard Time zone advance their clocks one hour to observe Central Daylight Time. The entire state would be on the same time "by the clock," as it has in past years during the official daylight time period. This year ends Sunday, October 29.

Under terms of a 1966 Federal time act, the official Eastern Standard Time zone in Indiana would be required to observe Eastern Daylight time during this period, a practice which no area in this zone has followed in the past, and which would put a one-hour time-differential line from north to south roughly down the center of the state.

John V. Barnett, executive vice president of the State Chamber, said the recommendations to local communities were based on a "consensus" of an informal committee on Indiana's time situation which has been meeting for several weeks. Members of the group, he said, were representatives of the Indiana Farm Bureau, the State Chamber, the Indiana Manufacturers Association, Theatre Owners of Indiana, broadcast media, the Indiana Retail Council, and transportation agencies.

The remedial local action recommended, Barnett said, is based upon a law recently enacted by the 1967 Indiana Legislature after repeated efforts had been unsuccessfully made, with support from Indiana members of Congress, to amend the Federal act to recognize the burdens the act would place on the commerce and citizens' convenience in Indiana and states similarly situated.

The Indiana law — overwhelmingly approved by votes of 40-1 in the Senate and 69-10 in the House — permits communities to adopt a "local time" for government, school and commercial purposes if one clock in each public building, such as the courthouse and city or town hall, shows the time specified by the Federal act and is designated as "official time."

Bremen Enquirer Now Printed At "Pilot-News"

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article, reprinted from the Dec. 29, 1966, issue of the "Bremen Enquirer" presents many interesting facts concerning another one of Marshall County's weekly newspapers.

This is the last issue of The Bremen Enquirer to be printed on the Potter hand-fed cylinder press.

There will be Bremen Enquirers all right-every week. But they will be printed on the high speed rotary press of its sister paper, The Pilot-News.

Unlike the wonderful one-hoss shay, some things meet the point of no return by becoming obsolete before they break down. This is the case with The Bremen Enquirer's 82-year-old press. Still in excellent working condition, it would probably be going strong after 100 years.

Former editor James K. Gorrill was asked to tell us what he knew of the old press' history. This is his recollection:

"It's an 1885 model of a C. Potter Jr. and Son two-revolution cylinder press, size 36 by 48, which means it would print a four-page form of an 18 by 24 page.

"The patent number plate on the foot casting shows patent numbers from 1875 to 1884, so the press must have been sold by the manufacturer in 1884 or soon after. It is hand fed and runs at a comparatively slow speed, but it does excellent work, surpassing in that respect many of the high speed presses that have replaced its kind.

"My father purchased this press from the Plymouth Republican after the merger of the Republican and the Chronicle in 1911. It was hauled across the country roads on sleds and was set up for The Enquirer by an old pressman, John Olds. I think, an all around printer from the Plymouth shop.

"With the press came its 'pedigree,' but by word of mouth only, so we don't have 'the papers.' The press had been purchased by the Republican some years before from the Toledo Blade, when it installed a faster machine.

"The story told us was that the first issue of the Toledo Blade was printed on it. Of course that could not be true, as the Blade was established in 1848, according to our Ayers directory. Perhaps the truth was that the press was purchased originally from the manufacturer and was first used by the Blade. Or it might have been used in printing the first issuess after some change in style, or after moving into some new location. But it is reasonably sure it was used to print the Blade until it was replaced by a more modern press and then it was hauled across country to Plymouth.

"There's still a lot of life in the old outfit, if some country newspaper could be found that would like to have that type of press.

"I remember a time some advertiser whose attention had been attracted by the use of a colored display line in a city newspaper advertisement came to us and wanted to know if we could do anything like that—a page advertisement with one big display line in brilliant red.

"We told him we could do it, but it would be an expensive page. He asked how much did we mean by expensive. We told him it would be at least $10 extra for the red line.

"Production costs in 1917 were only a fraction of today's figure, but, even at the 1917 rate, it took a lot more than $10 worth of work.

"We ran the whole run with the page advertisement without the line that was to be in red. Then we washed up the rollers, disengaged the ink fountain, spotted the red line in place, and ran the whole issue through the press again to pick up the red line, the boys in the shop taking turns at feeding the red ink to the form rollers—feeding it ink by hand, with a brayer.

"There are some printers today who wouldn't know a brayer if they'd see one. But they'd probably know better than to agree to do a $100 job for $30. Maybe we had too much pride in our work to think about the profit."

Wife: "Mort, wake up! There's a burglar going through your pockets!"

Maintenance Foreman: "Leave me out of it, Mabel. You two just go ahead and fight it out yourselves!"

Public Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hatten were installed as worthy patron and worthy matron of Emily Jane Culver Chapter No. 484, Order of Eastern Star, in a public ceremony at the Masonic Temple Saturday, March 25, at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fitterling, worthy patron and worthy matron, presided at the opening ceremony at which time everyone joined in giving the Pledge to the American Flag, sang one verse of the National Anthem, and gave the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Michael Sealey, Junior Past District Deputy of District 20, was escorted to the East and presented a corsage by Mrs. Harold Hatten. Mrs. Fitterling introduced Mrs. Fred Banks who served as the installing matron. Mrs. Banks then introduced the other members of the installing staff: Mrs. Roy Price, installing marshal; Mrs. Herbyn Maynard, installing chaplain; Mrs. Chauncey Lennen, installing organist; and Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Albert who served as guest soloists.

She has chosen "Service With Sincerity" for her motto; "Faith, Hope, and Love" as her watchwords; the "Effulgent Sun within the Star" as her emblem; "Light - That the principles of our Order may shine with undiminished lustre through our lives" as her theme; colors — Aqua with pink and white; and the pink rose with the lily of the valley are her chosen flowers. Junior Women and
Tri Kappas Give Boost To Park Fund

In response to the appeal of the Board of Parks and Recreation for funds for summer personnel the Maxinkuckee Federated Junior Woman's Club has provided one hundred dollars and the Tri Kappa's have donated two hundred dollars. According to Board President Carl Baker this amount represents just under one-fourth of the total amount needed.

The Board plans to provide a full-time adult supervisor of park activity for the summer season. This person will supervise the work of the two life guards, one full-time and one part-time, and provide leadership in various recreation activities in the park program. The life guard salaries are provided by town budget funds and the Union Township trustee, but there is no appropriation for adult supervision in the budget for this year. It has been the Board's judgement that the greatest improvement in park operation this summer could be realized by the appointment of the supervisor. As soon as sufficient funds have been received the Board will ask for applications for this new position.

Businesses or individuals who wish to contribute to the supervisor fund may mail checks to Mr. Baker, P. O. Box 208, made payable to the Town of Culver Board of Parks and Recreation.

Rev. Harold W. Hohman, Pastor of the Grace United Church of Christ, officiated at the single ring ceremony before the altar which was beautifully decorated with palms and chrysanthemums. Mrs. Gordon Roberts of Culver, organist, played the nuptial music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street-length white lace sheath dress, fashioned with long sleeves. She wore a white ribbon headpiece and carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Attending the bride were her sisters, Diane and Sally. Best man was Jo Bonan of Detroit.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Watts. Large white bells, tied with white ribbons, formed the background for the three-tiered wedding cake which centered the refreshment table which was covered with a white cloth edged with silver bells. Mrs. Charles Simmons presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Edith Hudson was in charge of the guest book. Pictures were taken by Miss Linda Hudson and the bridegroom's brother.

The bride attended Boston University, Northwestern, Berkeley and Stanford derring the summers and graduated from Michigan State. She is employed as Radio Production Writer for W.W.J. Detroit News.

The bridegroom has served in the U.S Air Force; has a degree in Political Science; and is currently doing graduate work at Michigan State. He appears on W.W.J. every two weeks and is working with the State of Michigan with U.M.V. on the stress of blood pressure.

Following a short wedding trip they will reside in Detroit.

YOUR COUNTY USDA DEFENSE BOARD

Certain U.S. Department of Agriculture leaders in Marshall County have an assignment that is not widely known to the public, but one that might be extremely important in time of an emergency.

They are members of the Marshall County U.S.D.A. Defense Board, according to Lester McGriff, county office manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, who also serves as chairman of the Defense

Applications now accepted for waitresses, bus girls and dishwashers for the summer season.

Board.

Other members of this board include Mr. Curtis Middleton of the Indiana Cooperative Extension Service, and Mr. Hermann Beck of the Soil Conservation Service.

Representatives of the Forest Service, Agricultural Research Service, Farmers Home Administration and the Consumer and Marketing Service are also members of the board when they are located in a county.

Mr. McGriff explains that the primary purpose of the Marshall County U.S.D.A. Defense Board is to prepare for a situation "that we hope will never occur — a nuclear disaster. However, if such an emergency did occur, the need for such a board would be great. By prior planning, much can be gained."

Serving as a part of the total defense effort, the agricultural leaders concern themselves with such things as food on farms and in warehouses, rural fire defense, information to farmers and other persons in rural areas concerning personal protection as well as the care and management of crops, livestock, and other agricultural resources.

In addition to working as a unit, County U.S.D.A. Defense Board members each have special responsibilities. Assignments generally follow the normal duties of these agricultural leaders. In addition to being chairman of the board, the ASCS representative has important responsibility in food supply management except in those metropolitan areas where a representative of the Consumer and Marketing Service is available. The ASCS representative also has assignments concerning agricultural production problems in times of emergency.

The Cooperative Extension Service representative is primarily responsible for information and education programs concerning emergency situations; the Farmer's Home Administration representative has the responsibility for emergency credit to farmers and food processors; the Soil Conservation Service representative is responsible for supporting the food production effort and radiological monitoring (detection of fallout from nuclear weapons) as it pertains to farm produce and farm production.

Often Mr. Crayton Holdreid, county civil defense director attends the meetings of the County U.S.D.A. Defense Board. This permits a closer working relationship in the total defense effort within the county.

Each state has a U.S.D.A. Defense Board organized along similar lines to that of the county board. The state board has the responsibility of coordinating all U.S.D.A. programs at the state level during times of an emergency, and is expected to provide leadership to the various county boards. However, in case communication connections are not available, county boards must operate independently.

by Judith Schwantes

NEW YORK (CFN)—That's the task of a Memphis woman, Mrs. Olen A. Green. She also oversees the washing of more than 400,000 pillow cases and even more towels each day!

As executive housekeeper for Holiday Inns of America, Inc., Mrs. Green is an expert at keeping more than 800 inns in apple-pie order. Some of her housekeeping hints may shave minutes off your cleaning schedule.

When making a bed, she advises, it's a big help to completely make up one side before moving to the other. It saves wear and tear on both the housekeeper and the carpet.

Each room should be dusted every day and the carpet vacuumed to prolong its life. The dusting is largely for "looks" and should be done last, because all the other activity will kick up dust.

Two things that separate the women from the girls as top-notch housekeepers are spotless mirrors and shining clean wash basins.

Mrs. Green teaches her method to the housekeeping staffs at the various inns and also lectures at the Innkeepers' Training School in Memphis. She also supervises the production of training films for housekeeping personnel.

Although she began her career as housekeeper at the Holiday Inn of Ocala, Fla., Mrs. Green's present position was especially created for her in 1962. She likes her job tremendously, although she finds there's one "occupational hazard." Every so often, she finds herself checking for dust in a friend's house!

She can't begin to estimate the number of miles she travels each year in the line of duty, but when she's at home, she's got one hard and fast rule. "I do my own cleaning," she says. "Why, I wouldn't let anybody touch my house!"

the Bradley Hall and will open it as a bowling and box ball Alley.

Mrs. Guy, chief operator at the telephone office, will leave on April 1 to go to South Bend. Daisy Easterday will take her place.

The ice went off the lake last Friday night, the 16th. Following warm and rainy weather it became saturated and sank. Last year it disappeared on March 22.

DENTAL CARE

IT IS all well and good to encourage children to emulate George Washington, but not where dental health is concerned. Our first president had a long history of trouble with his teeth and later with his dentures.

Your children's teeth should last their entire lifetime, provided they have been started on the way to good dental health at a young age. Dental health habits must be learned in childhood and "baby teeth" are very important to future dental health.

One basic function of primary teeth is to preserve proper space for permanent teeth, and if they are lost too soon—through decay, for example—the permanent development of teeth is often crooked. Poorly aligned teeth can affect appearance, eating habits and speech. Frequently misshapen dentition can only be corrected by orthodontic treatment, which may be lengthy and costly.

And if a child's appearance is seriously affected by unsightly teeth, emotional problems may result. To start your child on a lifetime of good dental health at home, make certain he always brushes his teeth properly after meals and after snacks. If he is in the habit of eating sweets, cut down on them; sweets are a major cause of decay. And if your community's water is not fluoridated, the dentist can suggest alternate methods for your child to receive fluoride's benefits.

Dental decay is the most prevalent disease of childhood. About 50% of all two-year-olds have one or more decayed teeth and by the time they begin school, they have

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

He stands alone, looking almost too small for the burden of those books. You watch him, and you wonder what he is thinking. But you know that if you were to ask him, he'd only look up with a little shrug and say — "Oh, nothing."

"Nothing" is so often a child's answer to the deeper questions. Perhaps a child knows instinctively that he can't hope to put into clear words all the puzzle, the confusion, the joy, sorrow, and wonder that comes with growing up. And "nothing" can become — to you — the most frustrating word in the world.

What can you do about it? You can love him, and you can help him in every way you know. You can be sure that he is given a chance to go to church with you, and to Church School. Here he will find some of the best answers of all to that long list of questions that will become longer, still, as time goes by.

Social Security

Charles E. Burke, District Manager of the South Bend, Indiana, Social Security Office announced recently that social security beneficiaries, who worked during 1966, have an important deadline coming up soon. It is time once again, for those who have earned over $1500 in 1966, to file their annual reports. The deadline is April 17, 1967, however, since that date falls on a weekend, the due date has been extended to April 17, 1967.

Any person receiving social security benefits for any month in 1966, who worked and earned over $1500 in 1966, is required to file this report. This applies to all adult beneficiaries who were under age 72 at least one month of 1966. Child beneficiaries under age 18 for at least one month of 1966 are also required to file the report if they earned over $1500 in 1966. This also applies to student beneficiaries between the age of 18 and 21. This is true even though they did not start to work until after their benefits stopped.

Persons who reported to social security in 1966 that they expected to earn over $1500 will receive a pre-punched card through the mail. It is requested that this card be used because it will speed up processing. Persons who did not receive the card through the mail should contact the social security office and request the Annual Report Card. There is a penalty for failure to file the annual report.

The address is Social Security Administration, 125 S. Lafayette Blvd., South Bend, Ind. 46601. The phone number is 234-4001. The office is open Monday through Friday from 8:45 a.m. until 4:45 p.m., except on Thursdays when the office hours are from 8:45 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. for the convenience of those who work during the day.

MEDICARE

Older people in the South Bend, Indiana area who have paid doctor bills but have not yet claimed their medicare doctor bill insurance payments are invited to have their claims checked by the the South Bend Social Security Office before mailing them to the medicare carrier, according to Mr. Charles E. Burke, District Manager.

"In the first six months of the medicare program some benefit payments were delayed because the applicants did not include all the necessary information with their claims," he said.

Mr. Burke believes that most people will need this help only the first time they make a medical insurance claim. "The Medicare Handbook, which is given to all beneficiaries, explains how to make the claims," he said, "and the form is relatively simple, but most people can use some advice the first time they apply. We're glad to offer assistance, and we believe we can help many people to avoid some delay in their payment."

Mr. Burke noted that the medicare claim may be made either by the patient or by the doctor, if he accepts assignment of the insurance. If the doctor applies for the medicare payment, he bills the patient only for any part of the $50 deductible.

Under the other method of payment the doctor bills the patient, the patient pays the bills, and then the patient sends the complete request for payment form to the medicare carrier. A statement from the doctor showing the treatment given and charges already paid by the patient must be furnished either on the request for payment form or in a separate receipted bill.

In the entire State of Indiana, medicare doctor bill insurance is handled by Medicare, Mutual Medical Insurance, Inc., Indianapolis, Ind. 46203.

The same simple one-page request for payment form is mailed to the carrier no matter whether the payment is to go to the patient or to the doctor. Doctors' offices, accustomed to filling out insurance forms, should have no difficulty providing the few items of information requested, Mr. Burke noted. But handling of forms received directly from medicare beneficiaries is sometimes delayed because some essential item of information has been omitted.

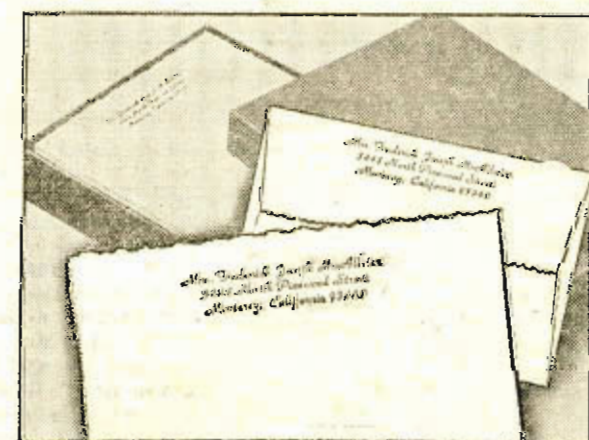

If the beneficiary leaves out his medicare identification number, for example, it is impossible to verify that he is signed up for the doctor bill insurance, or how much of his deductible amount has been paid. Some elderly people with failing eyesight are unable to make legible entries. And some do not get adequately itemized receipts from their physicians, or forget to enclose the receipts with their claims. If the request for payment form is incomplete or improperly filled out, the medicare carrier has to write back to the beneficiary, thus delaying the payment.

"The social security office does not make the decision or pay the claim," Mr. Burke said. "The law requires that the payments be handled through the selected medicare carriers. But we can answer general questions about medicare and help people in the South Bend area get their applications ready for review by the carrier."

"If an older person cannot visit the social security office in person, he can send the forms by someone else," he said, "but in this case, he should be sure to give his telephone number."

The South Bend, Indiana Social Security Office is located at 125 S. Lafayette Blvd.; the phone number is 234-4001.

THE CULVER PRESS, INC.

Press Bldg., Culver, Ind.

A neglected triangle at the intersection of two busy streets in Duluth, Minnesota was transformed into a garden spot by members of the Garden Flower Society and cooperating garden clubs.

There's nothing like a group of people working together to attract the attention of all the "sidewalk superintendents" and "highway straw bosses." When the project on which they are working is one of beautifying an area in a city, naturally it's a traffic stopper.

Such a project was carried out last summer by the Duluth, Minnesota Garden Flower Society. The area beautified was a triangle on London Road and Superior Street, a busy thoroughfare with continuous traffic.

Because the triangle had been unused for years the soil resembled a rock pile but tilling it over and over gradually brought it to plantable condition.

During a 4-day period 25 members of the Garden Flower Society, working 8 to 10 hours a day, planted 170 rose bushes, a "tree" rose, 600 petunias, 1200 lavender and white sweet alyssum plants and 1000 pansies to make the once-dingy triangle a blooming island in a sea of traffic.

Because motorists were so engrossed in the work being done, traffic signals went unheeded and traffic moved at a snail's pace. Ninety-five per cent of motorists complimented the busy workers. An estimate of the cost of their labor and materials (most donated) exceeded $600!

Garden clubs cooperating with the Garden Flower Society continued maintenance of the plants throughout the growing season so that the triangle continued to be an attractive spot. And every participant was gratified at helping transform a little plot of bare ground into one of beauty.
