O'ER THE RAMPARTS WE WATCH

OLD GLORY

A day traditionally known as Flag Day, when we pay our respects to "Old Glory," comes on June 14.

The first Flag Day remembrance took place in 1877 when the Government requested all public buildings to fly the national flag in commemoration of its 100th anniversary.

Since this time the day is dedicated to the freedom that symbolizes America, a flag that is to be respected by all Americans. It denotes a positive act of pride, performed by those who realize the importance of keeping the red, white, and blue symbol of our nation flying in the breeze.

We, as Americans, on this day should not be lax in the manner in which we display our flag or the way we behave when the flag is in our presence. The very fact that we are free to decide how we want to honor the flag should be the best reason to wave it.

Let all of us be proud of our flag and honor it by displaying "Old Glory" on this day.

TOM CURTIS RECEIVES DEGREE FROM PURDUE

Scientists now explain that kissing is simple chemistry. A craving for salt started. The cave man discovered that he could cool off in the summer by licking his neighbor's cheek. He then discovered it was more fun if the neighbor was of the opposite sex. Then everybody forgot about salt.

Oliver Carmichael Speaks At C.M.A. Commencement

A leading Indiana businessman and former college president took a verbal swing at segments of the student protest movement in a commencement address at Culver Military Academy Monday.

Oliver C. Carmichael, Jr., chairman of the Associates Investment Company and former president of Converse College, Spartanburg, S.C., told 205 members of the Academy's graduating class:

"But let me warn you of a pitfall: In this age, there is more than one way to 'go establishment.' When that phrase was first developed it referred only to established order — to government, to business, to our churches, to all of the institutions that represent a link with traditional values.

"But now there is another kind of establishment — the structure built by the professional protester. This structure is a citadel of the negative, a fortress with walls as rigid and unyielding as any ever built by the czars and autocrats of an earlier era. The negative establishment can imprison and destroy freedom. For college students, the negative establishment is one of the greatest dangers."

Carmichael entitled his address "Positive Thinking in the Age of Protest" and he told the college-bound graduating class that the future of freedom rests on the ability of youth to take a hard look at society. He urged them to weigh it carefully against their own ideals. He asked them to be skeptical, inquisitive, and questioning, for he said his own generation is not handing today's youth a "perfect inheritance."

"As college students, you will have to decide for yourself the meaning of liberty," he said. "It will be your responsibility to determine how you can help make the ideal of liberty a reality for yourself and for every other American. Perhaps it will be your decision to protest. Surely that is your right.

"And, in all honesty, we would have to admit that there are injustices in America and in the world. My generation is not handing you a perfect inheritance; you have a duty to raise objections to some of the things in this civilization we are passing on to you."

But Carmichael added the "negative establishment" was a corrosive force intent not on life but on death. He said it seeks "not national rebirth but national suicide."

"It is easy to protest, to be against something. In fact, it is almost too easy. For hundreds — perhaps thousands — the protest has become a way of life. It has far outgrown the boundaries of its usefulness in our society. The protest no longer merely helps us understand a social or economic problem. Instead, it becomes an end in itself, an end that bears within its being the forces of annihilation."

Carmichael told the students that it will be their problem to learn to live in an environment that to some degree is controlled by the negative establishment.

"It will be up to you to preserve in your own minds the positive thinking processes that have been developed here at Culver. This really is the trick — to think in positive terms, to combine your willingness to criticize with an equal willingness to work toward the solution of problem situations . . . We must be ready to create, not to destroy. In an atmosphere of protest and unrest, it isn't easy to be a builder. But build you must."

Students were told they must carefully examine the popular philosophy that every person over 30 is "inherently stupid, selfish and sinful." Carmichael told the graduating class that no age has a monopoly on intelligence, generosity or virtue.

"My generation profited from the contributions of our fathers and mothers, and so will yours. And both your generation and mine must accept the truth of a statement once made by the late Sir Winston Churchill. He told Parliament: 'If we open a quarrel between the past and the present, we shall find we have lost the future.'"

Virginia Sparling And Melvin Doyle
Wed In Methodist Church Ceremony

MRS. MELVIN JOSEPH DOYLE

The Culver Methodist Church was the scene of a lovely wedding at 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, June 3, when Virginia Barnes Sparling became the bride of Melvin Joseph Doyle in the presence of their families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Leslie Sparling, 784 West Shore Drive, Culver, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Henry Doyle, Raleigh, N.C.

Rev. Carl Quinlan Baker, pastor of the church, officiated at the single ring ceremony before the altar which was decorated with two large baskets of white stock and gladiolus, candelabra and palms. Pews were marked with white satin bows and green lemon leaves.

Mrs. Ted Ervin, organist, played the nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. James McAllister who sang, "One Hand One Heart," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of candlelight linen fashioned with a low scoop neck, venice lace short sleeves, A-line skirt and full attached chapel train. Circular lace trimmed the high rise bodice of the gown. She wore a knee-length alencon lace mantilla and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, sprigs of ivy and Jayette orchids.

Miss Linda Sparling, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaid was Miss Jane Hillis of Indianapolis, cousin of the bride. They wore identical floor-length gowns of coral silk linen fashioned with princess lines and high jeweled necklines with a deep band of candlelight lace, with matching ribbon interwoven through the center of the band, above the pleated edging encircling the hemlines. Their headpieces were floral plateaus of matching color with back streamers each tipped with single flowers with bouffant. They carried reed baskets of light coral roses, small blue carnations, white daisies, and sprigs of ivy.

Howard Doyle of Raleigh, N.C., served his brother as best man and ushers were Ivan Todd of Raleigh, N.C., and Fritz Muehlhausen of Logansport, cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sparling chose a light green silk suit with matching accessories and wore a corsage of light pink orchids.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Barnes family cottage on West Shore Drive. The refreshment table was decorated with compotes of coral sweetheart roses, white daisies and heather. Arrangements of white and coral complemented the living room.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will reside in Knightsdale, N.C. For going away the bride chose a light aqua suit with a cerise flowered hat and wore a corsage of white orchids from her wedding bouquet.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. Clark Mitchell, sister of the bride, and daughters, Ellen and Donna, of Greensboro, N.C.; Mr. and Mrs. James Hillis and family, Indianapolis; Dr. and Mrs. Ben Pence and family, Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Bill McAfee and family, Birmingham, Mich.; Dr. and Mrs. Kent Guild and family, Plymouth; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moore and family, Logansport; Mr. and

HINTS ON HEALTH

INDIANA STATE MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

HEAD INJURIES

Head injuries may look more serious than they are. Scalp wounds, comprising most head injuries, heal rapidly in most instances, due to abundant blood supply.

The human head is constructed to withstand injury with a minimum of disability to the contents inside. In the case of a blow to the head, examination by a physician is in order. A person who gets a cut or bump on the head often is emotionally concerned about what might happen to his brain. After the physician has taken a history of the accident, examined the injury, staunched the blood and repaired a damage that gives no indication of serious trouble, he has another problem. He has to reassure the patient and distraught relatives that the victim is on the road to recovery with his brain intact, and that the sooner he resumes activity, the better for him.

However, should the patient behave abnormally later on, exhibiting a partial stupor, or vomiting, with feeble pulse and pallor, he needs attention. These symptoms suggest a concussion or shock, as induced by a violent blow. A bruising impact that affects tissue beneath the surface, but does not break through the skin, is called a contusion. It is possible that a blow to the head, even though there is no skull fracture and no unconsciousness, can be a cause of brain damage.

Green Thumb Tips

As you transplant seedlings into the garden, give a thought to future watering. Rainfall or water from the hose will gather in depressions in the soil. If you leave a slight depression around each newly set plant and eliminate any nearby, you'll insure the moisture so necessary for the growth of the plants.

It is a great mistake to garden when the soil is wet. If it should happen to be largely clay, working it while wet will result in a product closely resembling concrete — certainly not a medium in which plants will grow happily.

The time to eliminate weeds is when they sprout. Then it's simple to dislodge the roots with a cultivator. Later, when weeds have grown, the weeding job takes both time and effort.

Some annuals bloom so quickly when sown from seeds that several sowings should be made to keep their flowers in your garden all summer. These include annual baby's breath and candytuft.

Do you know that both of these flowers may be grown in colored forms as well as the usual white? There is a rose-colored baby's breath and a mixture of seeds of candytuft available that will produce plants with lilac, pink, carmine and cardinal flowers as well as white.

For a different ingredient in salads, why not plant endive? It's as easy to grow as lettuce, but don't bother to use the seedlings that you thin because they do not taste sweet. Wait until plants have grown and then use only the center leaves, which will be tender and delicious.

An unusually dainty climbing plant for use in window boxes, hanging baskets or just to cover a bare bit of soil is the black-eyed susan vine. Flower colors are yellow, orange, buff or white and most blooms have the black eyes of their namesake.

This vine grows in sun but also does very well in light shade.

Transplanted Southerners and Northerners who want to grow that Southern delicacy okra — often called gumbo — should know that the seeds will not sprout well as long as the weather and soil are cool. Delay planting seeds until the soil warms up and you'll have no trouble getting plenty of seedlings.

Looking for a quick cover for that hot dry spot? Plant seeds of portulaca, nasturtiums, or sweet alyssum. These plants enjoy sun and poor soil.

There will be preaching services next Sunday following Sunday School.

A nice crowd was present Sunday evening for the final program of the Daily Vacation Bible School held here last week. Following the program refreshments and general fellowship was enjoyed in the basement and the tables of work done by the classes were viewed.

The men of the church and community gathered at the Dale Davis farm with their machinery Thursday and prepared the ground and planted over 60 acres of corn. This has been an annual project since 1948 and the income used to supplement the financial giving of members for church expenses. C. C. Mikesell is the farm manager this year.

Mrs. Guy Davis was among the Marshall County Choral members who journeyed to Purdue University Tuesday and participated in the Annual Choral Festival held during the week of the Homemaker Extension Conference each year in June. Dr. Albert P. Stewart of the Purdue musical organization is the overall director. Since Dr. Stewart and his Varsity Glee Club are in Europe his assistant, Marvin Myers, took his place. Of the 62 choral clubs in the state 51 gave individual performances during the day. In the evening the combined choruses of over 1,000 voices gave a choral program before a large audience. The performances were held in the Elliott Hall of Music.

Following the evening program Mrs. Davis attended a reception held at Twin Pines Cooperative House for past district and state officers of the Indiana Homemakers Extension Association. The present state and district officers were hostesses.

"I haven't seen you at church lately," the minister remarked to one of his parishioners one day. "I hope you're not slipping from the fold."
"Well, not exactly," replied the man. "But my daughter's learning to play the harp and well-to tell the truth, I'm not so particular about going to Heaven as I used to be."

Larry is in seventh heaven. He got his baseball suit yesterday, and is finally a full-fledged member of the neighborhood team.

He is the youngest one in the lot, and certainly the smallest. But he packs a great deal of leadership ability in that half-pint frame. We had not lived in our neighborhood one month, before he was bat boy and unofficial mascot. In just a few short weeks, morale improved. Two of the boys nicknamed, "Loudmouth" and "Fatso" became "Speed" and "Lefty." The boys began to cooperate and play better as a team. They moved steadily upward in the league.

You can imagine what this did to our spirits. How proud we were, and yet humble too, for we knew we could not take complete credit for his sense of fair play. You see, he has been brought up in the Church as well as in our home. It's a wonderful feeling to realize that in such a few short years our son has shown the influence of Christian training.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Christian Scientists Hold Annual Meeting

MRS. BEATRICE THAYER PITTMAN, of Boston, who became president of the Christian Science Church at the denomination's Annual Meeting in Boston, Monday, June 5.

MRS. BEATRICE PITTMAN
Christian Scientists gathered from around the world for the Church's Annual Meeting on Monday, June 5, at Boston, Mass., and heard a call for sharply expanded outreach to the world and the community.

"Christ Jesus showed his deep involvement with the world of his day," The Christian Science Board of Directors reminded the audience.

Erwin D. Canham, editor in chief of The Christian Science Monitor and retiring president of the denomination, described a "period of unprecedented ferment in the world's religious thought." Each individual has a "mission in the marketplace of human thought and experience," he emphasized. "For Christian Scientists, need and opportunity have never met more challengingly.

"We must not be left by the wayside, preoccupied with ourselves, cloistered behind our own church walls. Our mission is in the world," Mr. Canham said. "We must bring to hungering, yearning humanity the word and proof of spiritual food and healing. We must reach out as never before."

Mrs. Beatrice Thayer Pittman, who was elected president for the coming year, described Christian Scientists as "interested in good government, in righteous laws, in bettering the lot of all men. We are devoted to an adequate opportunity for everyone."

"When an opportunity comes to serve in civic, national, or international organizations and we see that we have something constructive to give, one should not hesitate to do so."

About eight thousand members, many from distant parts of the world, filled the auditorium of The Mother Church Extension and the adjoining original Church edifice. Closed-circuit television carried the meeting to an overflow audience seated in a nearby theater.

A modest ground breaking ceremony took place during the morning, as the first spadeful of earth was turned for the Church's new Administration Building. The 26-story structure will be the first of several buildings in the Church's new $15 million Center in the Back Bay area of Boston.

The message of the Board of Directors was delivered by Thomas E. Burley, Chairman. "Today, there is every indication that we are embarking upon a new era," he told the members. "Progress has been going on down the years resulting in continuous expansion of the church organization."

He spoke of the "temporary" move of administrative offices over 35 years ago! "Church activities have not only filled this building to the bursting point, but they have spread to quarters in seven other buildings. . . . As plans for a new building developed," he said, "an opportunity to make a significant contribution to the community became apparent."

Mr. Hurley quoted the words of Mary Baker Eddy, who discovered and founded Christian Science, as supplying the key to success in this forward step ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," p. 454): "Love for God and man is the true incentive in both healing and teaching. Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action."

Reports to the meeting included notice of a 10 percent increase in circulation of the Church's international daily newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor; expansion of radio broadcasting in Africa and new publications in major African languages, Yoruba and Zulu; the commissioning of five additional Christian Scientists as Chaplains in the United States Army, Navy, and Air Force; and extensive relief work in several countries, including Italy, Wales, Tasmania, Turkey and the United States.

On The Right Tack

MYC NEWS
by Evelyn Harrell

It was a beautiful day on Lake Maxinkuckee Sunday. The excellent sailing weather saw several more skippers making their season's debut. These skippers came, they saw the competition, and they easily conquered them when they came in first, second, and third over last week's racers.

First I want to apologize to "old" skipper Dave Washburn for calling him a novice last week. I should have realized by his masterful win that he was an old experienced skipper.

From my position at the end of the fleet, it didn't appear that there were any close contests for positions this week. Bruce Moore in T50 got off to an excellent start and remained in front of the fleet during the entire race to take first place. Bill Furry in T22 sailed into second place without any difficulty. T122 with Fritz Muehlhausen at the helm crossed the finish line in third place. "Old" skipper Dave Washburn in T101 beat out Bud Suverkrup for fourth place and Bud in T12 had to be content with a fifth place in his season's debut. Bruce and Fritz did much better than their teacher, Rupert Esser, whose T26 came in sixth, but it must be a great satisfaction to Rupert to see his students performing so well. I wonder if Rupert would consider giving Bill Stofer, who in T52, kept his season's record of coming in last intact. Bill, they don't give a trophy for consecutive last place!

Many of us feel the judges are doing a commendable job in running the races without the proper starting equipment but it is hoped that members will volunteer their services to repair the official Judge raft before the Tune Up Series is finished. The Regatta committee appreciates the services that the judges perform during the racing season and to help them will make their job a little easier.

It was decided at last fall's Regatta committee meeting that each skipper would spend one day as an assistant judge, helping them set the course and run the race. It is hoped by doing this that both judges and skippers will benefit from each other's knowledge and that they both may gain understanding of each others' problems. In this way we hope to have better qualified judges and a better racing season. A drawing was held at the Regatta committee meeting so that skippers were assigned their "Judge-for-a-day" duty impartially. This schedule will be reaching skipper shortly. QUOTE OF THE WEEK: "But Dave I couldn't fire the starting gun any sooner the other judge was keeping track of the time too!"

LOCAL HOLSTEINS RECEIVE LACTATION CREDITS

A report of milk production levels attained by dairy cows in area herds has been received from Holsteiu-Friesian Association of America. The actual food production output, under official testing rules, by these local Registered Holsteins is:

Culver Lad Dictator Burma 5450240, a three-year-old, produced 19,490 pounds of milk and 789 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Culver Lad Lancelot Violet 5450239, a three-year-old, had 20,040 pounds of milk and 787 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Culver Lancelot Emperor Delia 5385304, a four-year-old, had 19,120 pounds of milk and 711 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Culver Dictator Eden Teena 397-5343, an 11-year-old, had 19,488 pounds of milk and 728 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. Culver Lad Dictator Leona 5450238, a four-year-old, had 19,950 pounds of milk and 737 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. All are owned by John A. Newman & Sons, Culver.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 8,513 lbs. of milk and 315 lbs. of butterfat by the average U. S. dairy cow, notes the National Holstein Association.

Purdue University supervised the sampling, weighing and testing operations in cooperation with the Holstein organization's herd and breed improvement programs.
