New Culver High School Building Now In Progress

Ground Breaking Ceremonies, formally marking the start of construction on a new 23-classroom building planned for high school students of the Culver School District, were held Wednesday afternoon, June 7. The site of the new building, to be completed in 1968, is located on a 33-acre campus at the intersection of State Road 10 and Tamarack Road, just north of Culver.

Students of Aubbeenaubsee and Culver high schools, with visiting Monterey high school students, were joined by Directors of the Culver Community Schools Corporation, the Board of School Trustees, and representatives of civic groups and patrons of the school district in the ceremony.

Band members, representing the Aubbeenaubsee and Culver High School Bands, directed by Charles Byfield, participated in the ceremonies marking the start of the long awaited educational building.

"This brief ceremony marks the long awaited start of construction of the new building, to serve as a unified high school for the boys and girls of North Bend Township, Starke County; Aubbeenaubsee Township, Fulton County; and Union Township and the Town of Culver, Marshall County; and should this district be determined to be the surviving corporation in the present discussions between Pulaski County and Culver Community Schools Corporation, it will also serve the boys and girls of Tippecanoe Township of Pulaski County", Robert Rust, Superintendent, stated.

The Superintendent pointed out that the development of plans for the modern structure represented more than four years effort on the part of patrons, board members, and school officials. "We believe it will adequately serve the educational program for the school district", he stated.

Ralph Osborn, Jr., President of the School Building Corporation; Walter Johnson, School Board President; and Attorney George Stevens, together with representatives of the classes of the two schools took part in the prompt program.

The building will have 23 classrooms including 10 laboratories for science, home economics and business. A gymnasium, an 800 seat auditorium and facilities for agriculture, industrial arts, drafting, music, art and ceramics, and a cafeteria will be included.

A library providing for 7000 volumes in perimeter shelving, with a 950-square-foot reading room, will also be included. Plans call for an administrative center, reading, English, social studies center and new equipment throughout the school.

M-W, Inc., Indianapolis, is the architectural-engineering firm for the building. The attorney is George Stevens, Plymouth. Bond Counsel is Miller, Lee, Donadio, Ryan, Indianapolis, and Robert Rust is Superintendent of Schools.

State Exchange Bank Purchases Bonds For School

In a formal resolution, the Board of School Trustees of the Culver Community Schools Corporation has expressed deep appreciation to W. O. Osborn, President of The State Exchange Bank, and to other officers and the Board of Directors of the bank for their civic interest and timely consideration in the purchase of more than $1,800,000 in outstanding bonds, which represents the greater share of the $2,600,000 issue for the new high school building, construction of which started here June 7.

Delivery of $2,600,000 in bonds, representing cost of the building, was made on June 6 by officials of the School Building Corporation, headed by Ralph Osborn, Jr., President, and Don Taylor, Treasurer.

Bond delivery, originally scheduled for May 26, had been set back due to a delayed remonstrance and the subsequent denial of the petition of the remonstrators by the State Board of Tax Commissioners on May 3, 1967.

When it appeared that the 4.11% bonds could not be delivered by the May 26th deadline, officials of The State Exchange Bank of Culver gave every consideration and, after going over the matter with original bidders, Merrill-Lynch of Indianapolis, the bank agreed to purchase the unsold bonds.

In the resolution of the Board, it is pointed out that circumstances had come about in which a technicality might preclude consummation of the arrangements to deliver bonds to bidders on May 26 as had been originally scheduled.

The formal resolution goes on to say:

"WHEREAS, after seeking counsel concerning procedure, W. O. Osborn, President of The State Exchange Bank, and officers of the bank, did unstintingly contribute of their time, effort and counsel to aid in this community educational project, and after checking with directors, and with state officials, the bank did agree to purchase the unsold bonds from Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith without premium, upon warranty by bond counsel, and with delivery in early June, the amount unsold being estimated in excess of $1,800,000;

"THEREFORE, for this most appreciated interest and action on the part of The State Exchange Bank, its president, W. O. Osborn, and all bank officers, directors and employees, coming as it did at a time when it appeared that months of effort and hopes were to be tabled until a revised procedure could be developed, the Board of School Trustees resolves this special recognition with thanks for such forthright interest, and instructs the Superintendent of Schools to officially convey deep appreciation to The State Exchange Bank."

Establish Branch Unit Of U. S. Postoffice At CMA

A branch U.S. postoffice has been established at Culver Military Academy, according to Wayne Mattox, postmaster for the town of Culver.

The branch unit will be supervised by the Academy but will function under the jurisdiction of Mattox. The changeover will occur June 17.

Under terms of the contract between the Academy and the U.S. Postoffice Department, the branch office will adhere to all federal regulations including security in the handling and processing of the mail. The branch unit will undergo periodic inspections by Postmaster Mattox and other representatives of the Post Office Department.

According to present plans, the Academy's branch postoffice will continue to function on the ground floor of the Eppley Hall of Humanities, where a strictly campus postoffice has existed for about 10 years. To meet federal regulations, a section of the present postoffice will be enclosed and under special security at all times. Robert Craycraft will continue to serve as postmaster at the Academy, but under the jurisdiction of Mattox.

The Academy will continue to use the remaining portion of its postoffice for postal boxes and campus mail. All financial transactions such as the sale of stamps as well as the handling and processing of regular U.S. Mail will occur in the federal portion of the office.

The main postoffice in the town of Culver will pick up and deliver regular mails at appropriate time, Mattox said. Previously, the Academy transported mail to and from the town postoffice.

Major General Delmar T. Spivey, USAF (ret.), superintendent of the Academy, said the establishment of the branch postoffice at the Academy will result in better and more efficient service for faculty and students and at the same time expand the responsibilities of Mattox. The branch office will handle money orders as well as C.O.D., registered, certified, and insured mail.

The contract was negotiated with the regional Postoffice Department in Cincinnati by Academy officials and Mattox.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

THE X-RAY MACHINE

(DISCOVERED IN 1895 BY WILHELM KONRAD ROENTGEN, A PHYSICS PROFESSOR AT THE UNIVERSITY OF WURTZBURG, GERMANY.)

AN X-RAY IMAGE IS PRODUCED BY INVISIBLE RADIATION WAVES PASSING THROUGH AN OBJECT, EXPRESSED ON FILM AS BLACK AND WHITE SHADOWS. THIS IS DIFFERENT FROM PHOTOGRAPHY, IN WHICH VISIBLE LIGHT WAVES ARE REFLECTED FROM AN OBJECT TO CREATE THE IMAGE.

INSIDE THE X-RAY TUBE FAST MOVING ELECTRONS, EMITTED FROM THE CATHODE, BOMBARD THE TARGET SUBSTANCE WHICH PRODUCES THE RADIATIONS WE CALL X-RAYS.

FROM SKILLED INTERPRETATIONS OF THE SHADOWS, THE RADIOLOGIST MAKES HIS DIAGNOSIS. RECENT DEVELOPMENTS NOW MAKE POSSIBLE DIRECT FLUOROSCOPIC VIEWING OF A PATIENT'S INTERNAL ORGANS IN 3-DIMENSIONS.

TIPS FROM A TOP COMPETITOR
by Barbara Cooper

(Women's National Water Ski Champion 1966; Seven time holder of the Women's National Jumping Title; mother of a 3½-year-old boy who also skis; beauty contest winner.)

Water skiing started as a family sport with me. My parents came home one day with a complete rig -- boat, motor, skis, the works--and right away we started skiing as family. But it didn't take me long to make up my mind to try to become a champion. I wanted to make the U.S. World Championship Team and to be the first woman to jump 100 ft. on water skis.

With the support and encouragement of my parents, and good instruction and hard work, I made both these goals.

For anyone to learn to be a good water skier, they should find someone who is a good skier and ask them questions, watch them ski, and get all their help they can. It's easy to learn to do things the wrong way, and then it's very hard to break the bad habits.

I never developed a style I could really call my own. Like some tournament skiers do. I am always watching others ski and compete, trying to figure out what I might be doing wrong. By trying different techniques, you can find the one, or the combination, that works for you.

A lot of people have asked me how I keep my complexion and hair from getting ruined by the sun and water. They think if you're in the water a lot and out in the sun your face will get cracked and scaly. But it's not hard to prevent this. I wash my face well every time I finish skiing, and always put a good complexion cream on before going to bed at night. Regular shampooing keeps my hair from getting ruined. It's a good idea to keep it short during the season, too.

Competitive skiing is really great, but it does have a few drawbacks. For one, boys don't like to be beaten by girls. In a 1959 tournament in Alabama I beat Larry Penacho, the current men's world jumping champion. I jumped 90 ft and Larry jumped 87 ft. He said to me afterward, "That's the last time you're going to beat me!" It was. I think it helped him become the terrific jumper he is today.

Jumping 100 ft doesn't seem like much. One hundred feet on the ground isn't very far. But jumping on water skis for 100 ft. is like trying to go the speed of sound with a single engine prop airplane. In 1955 the men's world jumping record was 125 ft. That's 5 ft. less than the Wright Brothers' first flight! The current record is just 158 ft. off a 6 ft. ramp at 35 mph. At that speed and off that ramp height, the farthest men will jump is believed to be about 170 or 175 ft. Increasing the speed and the ramp height, most people feel, would make the sport too dangerous and competitors would push themselves too far.

My dream now is to get water skiing accepted as an Olympic sport. We have all the necessary requirements, so I think it's only a matter of time before the sport is recognized as an Olympic event.

ARCHITECT'S MODEL OF NEW $15,000,000 CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH CENTER

Christian Scientists attending their Annual Meeting in Boston, saw this model of a new Church Center. Ground breaking began on June 5. The Center will include three new buildings designed by I. M. Pei & Partners, a 7-acre church park and plaza, and a 550-car underground garage. The entire complex will comprise 15 acres in Boston's Back Bay section, adjoining the Prudential Center. The domed building at center is the existing church edifice, known as The Mother Church Extension. Behind this, is the Christian Science Publishing House, to which will be added a block-long Colonnade Building (long, low structure at right). The projected 26-story Administration building, which will house the Church's office staff, is shown at right foreground. A 668-foot reflecting pool will extend from this building to the arc-shaped Sunday School and Conference building at left foreground (second structure from left). The building at extreme left is Boston's famed Horticultural Hall.

MYC NEWS

by Evelyn Harrell

Sunday was a prime example of Maxinkuckee luck. The morning was dark, calm, and rainy, but by race time, the skies cleared and a good sailing wind was blowing. For this final race of the Tune-Up Series, seven skippers were out; among them was Pete Trone in T88 who participated in his first race of the 1967 season.

After a ragged volley of starting signals, the boats were off on a rough beat. Bud Suverkrup in "C Breeze" said . . . "We ignored all sailing tactics in the book!", but this didn't keep him from coming in first by a good margin. Skipper Dave Washburn brought "CharLee" in second and Bill Furry's "Folly V" had to be content with third this week. Last weeks race winner, Bruce Moore, after some bad luck and a capsized brought his "Cricket III" in fourth. Pete Trone in "Woodtick II" took fifth place in a close finish with Bill Stofer in "Windjagerin". Strong, puffy winds caused Rupert Esser's "Tia Mia" to capsize and he was unable to get her righted without assistance so that he was unable to finish the race.

We were sorry that T13 and T40 were unable to get out to the starting line in time to compete in this week's race. We hope to see you all next week.

Next Saturday, June 17, begins the regular racing season with the first race of the Season Series. Sunday will see the skippers competing for the L. Roy Ford Memorial Trophy and we should see some fierce competition for this fine trophy.

Many thanks to the Yacht Club volunteers who got the judge's boat in condition this week. NEWS ITEM OF THE WEEK: Guest speakers at one session of the Junior Fleet instruction this year will be Bud Suverkrup and Bill Stofer. These two senior skippers, using advanced audio-visual aids, will lecture on "How to find the leeward mark!" Good luck Juniors . . .

Our man with the Armed Forces

Because beer is such a favorite with service men, we brewers like to do all we can to keep its surroundings right. So USBA representatives serve as adviser members of the Armed Forces Disciplinary Control Boards throughout the country.

These men from the USBA operate hand in hand with service and civilian police, with malt beverage licensees, public boards and committees: military, civil, professional. Object: to protect those who are underage, and to insure strict observance of the law.

We're proud of the work they do.

Culver Baseball Sectional Rally Falls Short

BY DAN SPENCER

The CHS baseball team carried a 2-3 record into the initial IHSAA sectional at Logansport on Saturday, June 3, and was nipped in extra innings by Rochester 12-9. Culver was down 7-3 after six innings and had only one chance left to bat. Steve Snyder led off with a walk, Steve McCombs doubled him to third and Stu Lowry's double scored both runners. After a pop-out, Liette walked and he and Lowry both advanced on a passed ball. Phil White then sent the game into extra frames with a two-base hit.

Sloppy fielding and lack of smart baseball thinking allowed Rochester five runs in their half of the eighth. After a routine ground out, McCombs singled, stole second, and went to third on Lowry's single. When Rochester tried to pick Stu off, the runner on third scored. Bob Shirrell hit a solid single to right that scored the man from second. After Liette single, Phil White flied deep to right to end the game.

Culver's 11 hits were led by Lowry's three hits, Lucas' two hits, and McCombs' two hits. Although Culver did have 11 hits, they left nine men on base which could have made the difference.

The box score for Culver for the sectional is as follows:

Name	R	H	Rbi
McCombs, 2b	3	2	0
Lowry, ss	2	3	2
Shirrell, c	0	1	1
Liette, 3b	1	1	0
White, cf	1	1	2
Lucas, rf	1	2	1
Gentry, lf	0	1	1

The R. Kallas To Head Pal-Aid International

A former Culver resident and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ribhi Kalla (the former Greta Hughes daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hughes, West Terrace, Culver) have accepted responsibility for heading up a new international organization designed to raise ten million dollars for the promotion of charitable and humanitarian projects to assist Palestinian Refugees wherever they may be located.

The organization, Pal-Aid International, is non-political and non-profit, and has as its objective the assistance of Arabian families who have been dispossessed from their homes as a result of Middle East disturbances over the past few years. Pal-Aid will work with the United Nations Relief Agency in the distribution of funds and other aid.

Contributions, tax deductible, may be sent to Pal-Aid, International, 6227 N. Kenmore, Chicago, Ill., 60626.

Mr. Kalla is himself a Palestinian refugee who came to this country in 1953 and is now a mechanical engineer in Chicago.

Scientists Plan New $15 Million Church Center

The Christian Science Church Center is part of a 31-acre, $80 million development plan for the headquarters area of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

I. M. Pei and Partners of New York City are the planners and architects.

The project was announced in 1965 by the Church's Board of Directors as a necessary step to house expanding activities of the denomination, represented in more than 50 countries. Land clearance was begun in 1966, and foundation work in 1967.

In addition to church uses, a little over half of the land is being leased to private developers for construction of some 3,500 middle-income apartment units, with retail shops, office space, and underground parking.

Heart of the project is a 15-acre, triangular-shaped area between Boston's huge Prudential complex and Symphony Hall. Rising in the middle is the original church edifice and its white-domed extension, built between 1894 and 1906, flanked on one side by a block-long publishing house erected in 1934. These structures form the nucleus for a Church Center that within three years will include a new 26-story Administration Building, a Colonnade Building for audio-visual production and other activities, and a new Sunday School and Conference Building seating 1200 people. Extensive landscaped palzas, a reflecting pool and a large underground garage will complete the Center.

WIND DESTROYS BARN ON IRA CROMLEY FARM

Torrential rains drenched scattered areas of Northern Indiana Wednesday, June 7, while other sections had little rainfall in the thunder-storms that slashed across a two-state area.

High winds swept a small section of Marshall County, south of Culver, collapsing the roof of a barn on the Ira Cromley farm at 20th B Road.

As the roof came crashing down on farm machinery stored in the barn, electrical wires were ripped loose. No estimates of damages were given, and the barn was the only building on the Cromley farm touched by the winds.
