Broadway Musical To Open C.M.A. Theater Series

A bright Broadway musical that produced a half dozen hit tunes will open the 1967-68 Concert-Theater Series at Culver Military Academy on Friday, Oct. 13.

"The Roar of the Greasepaint — The Smell of the Crowd" is the first of nine professional productions in the ninth annual series at the Academy. Curtain-time is 8:15 p.m. in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium.

"Greasepaint" had a successful two-year run on Broadway and continued the fame of English actor Anthony Newley in this country. It also produced hit songs that have been recorded by top singers and musicians. Among the top musical numbers are: "Who Can I Turn To?", "The Joker," "Where Would You Be Without Me," and "Nothing Can Stop Me Now."

The story behind the musical is simple in concept as well as broadly entertaining. It is a statement about a class war, the rich vs. the poor, the game of life for which the big fellow makes the rules. Edward Earle plays the lead role of "Cocky" and "Sir" is played by David Jones. "Sir" forces "Cocky" to play the game his way while a chorus of ragged urchins romp around them. The musical has all of the elements of romance and rebellion.

Edward Earle was the understudy to Anthony Newley through the pre-Broadway performances and on Broadway until Newley left the show. Earle took over the lead role and he is also director of the New York production. Earle has played many summer stock performances in the top musicals and has also been seen in many movies and TV programs.

David Jones has also appeared in many Broadway musicals, among them "Brigadoon", and "Gentlemen Prefer Blonds." He has appeared on television in the Jackie Gleason show and other network productions.

The critics were unanimous in their raves, such as Norman Nadel in the New York World-Telegram and Sun: "The Road of the Greasepaint, The Smell of the Crowd" is a triumph of showmanship and it reaffirms the power of personality in the musical theatre. The material is dispensed with joyous élan . . . there is so much exuberance in this show, especially among its chorus of small female urchins, that you'd feel like a traitor if you didn't enjoy yourself." Will Leonard of the Chicago Tribune quotes: "You go away happy . . . the show is every bit as crazy as its name. Edward Earle plays the wily out of it . . . every shrug, every sigh is eloquent. Opposite him is the looming, arrogant, hulking, cheating frame of Sir, played with a beautiful, hateful swagger by David C. Jones. The lighting, the direction, the movement, the atmosphere, the whole feeling of this production make it a show worth seeing."

The orchestra is under the direction of Susan Wigg and Edward Earle staged this fast-moving musical for producers Barry C. Tuttle and William A. Carrozo.

David Smith, Menominee District Scout executive, Plymouth, will present the Eagle Award and Frank McLane, former superintendent of Culver Community Schools, will be the guest speaker.

All drive captains and their team members are urged to attend. Drive materials and instructions will be delivered to the captains and workers at this very important meeting. The drive is to be completed by Nov. 21.

State Taxes Distributable To Counties

Commissioner of Revenue, William L. Fortune, announced today that $20,688,659.03 will be distributable on Jan. 1, 1968, to Indiana counties for property tax relief. This figure represents eight per cent of the total collections of sales and individual adjusted gross income taxes remitted from Jan. 1 through Sept. 30, 1967. The 1967 Indiana General Assembly specified that each county shall receive an amount equal to the percentage of that county's contribution to the total state collections of individual adjusted gross income taxes.

The allotment for Marshall County will be 580445 percent of the total. The sales tax distribution of $61,791.37 plus the income tax distribution of $59,178.82 will make a total distribution of $119,970.19.

RETIRES AFTER 32 YEARS IN ICE BUSINESS

Mrs. Russell McFarland has retired after 32 years of handling ice in the Culver vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. McFarland moved to the former McClane property in May, 1934, and began the retail sale of ice for the late Harry Medbourn. In 1940 the McFarlands built a refrigerated ice house across the street, next to their home. There they managed a little store and raised and sold fishing bait along with the ice business.

In 1963, Mr. McFarland died, but his wife continued with the business until 1966, at which time health conditions forced her to retire. Another hobby of Mrs. McFarland's was making noodles, which she sold to the public.

Mrs. McFarland now makes her home in Plymouth at 722 West Garro Street and she comments that she still makes good noodles.

During the Korean conflict over 75 percent of the officers and men in the Marine Corps saw combat.

Author To Speak On Southeast Asia At CMA Tuesday

FELIX GREENE

Felix Greene, the author who has made 5 trips inside China and two to North Vietnam, will report on Southeast Asia in a speech at Culver Military Academy on Tuesday, Oct. 17.

The lecture is at 3:20 p.m. in the Eugene C. Eppley Auditorium and is open to the public at no admission charge.

In May, 1967, Greene returned from his fifth trip to China and his second important journey to North Vietnam. More than any other U.S.-based reporter, he has seen what is going on in both countries. He traveled through the most heavily bombed areas in North Vietnam and saw the devastation. He had interviews with the Prime Minister, Phau Van Dong, and top military leaders. He had previously had a long exclusive interview with President Ho Chi Minh.

On his way to Hanoi and on his return, Greene spent some time in Peking — long enough to get the feel of what's going on now and to realize that, however complex and turbulent the cultural revolution appears to those outside China, it has an inner direction which has not been fully understood in the West. Greene knows China intimately, and has twice interviewed Prime Minister Chou En-Lai. His film "China!" won the 1965 Award of Merit at Edinburgh's International Film Festival.

Felix Greene's two books on China, "A Certain of Ignorance" and "Awakened China," have been widely read and discussed both here and abroad. The paperback edition of the latter book (under the title of "China — The Country Americans Are Not Allowed to Know") has sold more than 200,000 copies. His recent book "Vietnam! Vietnam!" is a report on Vietnam in photographs and text and was given by U Thant to key UN delegates because he thought it "one of the most important books on the subject."

LOOK Magazine, last summer, featured a seven-page illustrated article on Felix Greene's latest trip. With the approval of the U.S. State Department, he spent three months in North Vietnam, writing for the San Francisco Chronicle and filming for CBS-News.

RONALD E. TAYLOR RECEIVES AWARD FOR VIETNAM AIR SERVICE

Staff Sgt. Ronald E. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Taylor, Route 3, Knox, was recently awarded a medal for overseas marksmanship, and another medal for bringing in a helicopter to safety at Tuy Hoa, Vietnam. He also received two other medals.

After spending one and one-half years in Vietnam, Sergeant Taylor and his family now reside at 295 East Fairmount Blvd., Rapid City, S. D., where Taylor is a tower controller at Ellsworth Air Force Base. Taylor and his wife, the former Nancy Keiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Keiser of Grovertown, are both graduates of Knox High School and the parents of a daughter, Ronda. Taylor's father, Donald Taylor, is a former trustee of North Bend and the Taylor family is well known in the Culver community.

Two costly and irreplaceable aircraft of the Vietnam jungle war ("Huey" helicopters) returning from a combat mission, were lost in the darkness over Vietnam. No price tag could be attached to the lives of the four men aboard. They were lucky to be near a base, but Tuy Hoa at that time was still a new base and not yet equipped to handle night operations. A top solid overcast, the craft were running dangerously low on fuel. In addition, the gyroscope on each chopper was malfunctioning and one had lost its automatic direction finding capability.

Operating the Tuy Hoa air traffic control facilities at the time was a group of controllers of team No. 74, deployed from the 1st Mobile Comm. Gp. at Clark A.B. in the Philippines.

The mobile unit was deployed to provide communications and navigation aids at the bare strip base until permanent facilities could be installed. Without runway lights for night operations, the control tower and other air traffic control equipment had closed down two hours earlier. However, two "Black Hat" controllers, Taylor and A-2C John E. Wollar, were resting in their tents when they heard of the emergency. Hurrying to their GCA van, they attempted to locate the "Hueys" by radar and radio. Taylor made contact which revealed the plight of the planes and their crews. Taylor divided the two aircraft into separate flights. Using a "No Gyro" precision approach service, Wollar guided the first "Huey" down safely. Three miles behind was the second plane which Taylor controlled and brought in. On'y 12 minutes had passed from the time they made initial contact until both planes were brought down from the murky darkness to the safety of Tuy Hoa's runway.

The time element proved all important because the sands of time, and fuel, too, were running out on the two planes. When the first "Huey" landed, the pilot had enough fuel to keep him aloft for another two or three minutes. But even then, he was much better off than his companion — the other ran out of gas on touchdown!

Social Security

People who rely solely on information from friends and neighbors about social security are being short-changed because they are paying for more reliable information, Mr. Charles E. Burke, District Manager of Social Security at South Bend, Indiana noted.

The doors of the social security office swing wide and the people in the office are ready to assist all who walk in, Mr. Burke said. Social Security is your program and the district office employees want to see you get your money's worth.

He added that no one should hesitate to ask for information about his rights and responsibilities, and pointed out that many people understand one part of the law but do not understand some other part which may be just as important for them.

For example, most people come to the social security office to complete their application for benefits when they are about to retire, but many are not aware that a telephone call ahead of time asking what to bring with them may save an extra trip.

Most people know that if they are permanently and totally disabled they may qualify for disability benefits, but many do not know that a disabled person may now qualify for disability benefits if his disability is expected to last 12 months.

Those who know that widows and minor children receive monthly benefits if the "breadwinner" dies, may not know that dependent parents can also receive monthly benefits.

It is common knowledge that people over 65 are eligible for medicare, but many people do not know that they need to sign up 2 or 3 months before they are 65 to become eligible for the supplemental medical insurance as early as possible.

It has been published that 91 percent of those over 65 signed up for the doctor bill insurance but do the other 9 percent know that they will have another opportunity to sign up in October, November, and December of this year?

Mr. Burke said whether you come in with a bundle of doctor bills for assistance in completing a claim for reimbursement, or inquiring about a lost social security card, you will receive helpful service from the employees of the social security office. The office in South Bend is located at 125 S. Lafayette Blvd. and is open from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Monday through Friday, except on Thursday when the office is open from 8:45 a.m. to 8:00 p.m.

A wrestler had spent a long evening with friends at a village tavern. The friends decided to show him a short cut home, which took them across a field where a bull was loose.

The bull attacked, but found itself gripped by the horns and dragged about the field. Finally it managed to get free and bolted. "If it hadn't been for those last two drinks," said the wrestler, "I'd have knocked that guy right off his motorcycle."

The girls will play various games such as basketball, cageball, soccer, volleyball and tennis.

Eighteen girls are in the league. Three of the girls come all the way from Aubbee to join in the fun. Two of the girls are disabled for now but still wanted to join. Marsha Keller, who has a broken arm, was happy to see Pauline Ruschau hobble in on crutches after a recent operation.

Any girl who would like to join should come to a meeting. The next meeting will be held after school, October 4, and will last about an hour.

MONTEREY STUDENTS TRAVEL TO CULVER

By Carrie Wilcox
Every day at 12:30 p.m. a big bus draws up before Monterey High School. Into it climb about 23 students of Monterey. They have just completed a difficult morning studying chemistry, English, and foreign language, have partaken of a hasty luncheon, and are about to undertake the arduous journey to Culver High School, where they will receive instruction in algebra, geometry, and advanced mathematics.

An otherwise tedious journey is relieved by the fact that the bus carries several persons who resemble famous men. Their wit, erudition, and sometimes their vocal ability enliven the entire trip. The Elvis Presley of Monterey High School entertains his school mates, but he is losing his voice. A second Luther Burbank discusses the composition of grass and other substances with his associates. Another Einstein expounds theories of higher mathematics to whomever will listen. One young scientist whose major is girl-watching explains this highly-developed field.

The bus carries its passengers past some of the most beautiful scenery in the world, past magnificent Hartz Lake and a lonely countryside. The swift transformations which autumn effects in the landscape each day present to the students a panorama as varying as that which one might see on a seashore or in the mountains.

As the travelers jolt along through the autumn countryside, they are preparing for the time when they will reach their destination. A few students are hurriedly checking their preparations in mathematics. Others are bonding up on other subjects or are just talking or laughing.

Suddenly someone yells, "We're here! We're here!" Everyone sighs with pain to think that he has arrived safely.

Each student goes his separate way to class but he returns in about 55 minutes to complete the marvelous round-trip to Monterey.

MONTEREY P.T.A. MEETS

The Tippecanoe Township (Monterey) P.T.A. held its regular meeting Monday, Oct. 2, in the Monterey School cafeteria with President Lehman presiding.

Old business consisted of the time band awards were to be presented to the seniors. In the past the awards were made in March. Hereafter the sweater awards will be made in the first semester.

A $25 donation was given to the school cafeteria to be used for any purpose desired.

New business consisted of the election of officers for the 1967-'68 year. The following persons were elected: President — Donald Franklin, Vice President — Dorothy Taiclet, Secretary — Dorlie Postuma, Treasurer — Mildred Winters, Reporter — Mona Lou Keller and Program — Jackie Pugh.

The business being completed, each teacher advised the group of the outcome of the corporation workshop held in Culver School Wednesday, September 27. This brought about pleasant discussions on many topics.

The meeting closed with the serving of refreshments.

MONTEREY BAND VISITS BAND AT AUBBEE SCHOOL

On a warm afternoon, on Aug. 4, the Monterey High School Band traveled to Aubbeenaubee High School to combine with their band. After coming off a hot bus, the band members found themselves surrounded by the cool walls of the Aubbee gymnasium. There were many friendly faces around; and after being greeted, the visitors got down to work. The combined bands practiced several numbers together for about 50 minutes, and then it was time to head home. Those band members who went from Monterey are: Catherine Mahler, Joyce Master, Diana Tanner, Nora Euyart Connie Ringen, Karla Hoover, Bev Kline, John Wamsley, Cathy Long, Martha Derby, Jenny Peterson, Susan Stark, Patty Large, Becky Scott, Irene Jolly, and Lois Stotler.

"Look, Mother!" yelled little Willie. "There's a big black bear out in the back yard."

"Now, Willie, you know perfectly well that's Tom Jones' dog. Now go straight to your room and kneel down and ask God to forgive you for telling a lie."

Willie was back downstairs in a few moments.

"Did you ask God to forgive you?" she said.

"Yep, I did," said Willie, "and He said it was all right. God said the first time He saw Tom Jones' dog. He thought it was a bear Himself."

At a large party early this spring, a Wall Street financier stepped out in the garden for a breath of air and discovered his wife in the arms of another man.

"What is the meaning of this?" shouted the enraged tycoon. "Who is this man?"

There was a moment's embarrassed pause. Then the woman spoke up.

COMMUNITY HOME SCHOOL THE SCHOOLBELL

Published Weekly by the Press Club of Culver High School

It is time to return and tell all you fans about the excitement in Culver High School.

Hey, Vicki C., how was your date last Friday? Did you say that the "Miracle" was quite a surprise? ? ?

Linda F., what happened to your car Wednesday night that made you angry. Oh, just some shaving cream on the windows! Well, we hope you catch your victim.

It is very strange that Mike W. had shaving cream on his car on Thursday night. Okay! What is going on around here? ! ?

Say, Carole A., what is this we hear about the saying on your locker, "Baby I Never Knew."

Susie D., how is Clyde lately?? If anyone is interested, Susie bought Clyde, the goldfish, at Lafayette while attending District Convention for Sunshine and brought him home in a plastic sack.

Say, Gary D. did you enjoy your lemon tart that Kitty threw in your face Sunday?? To all students — beware of Kitty when she is around lemon tarts. . . .

Recently we have been hearing the pounding of footsteps very early in the morning. No, thank goodness, Culver's not being invaded. It is only the Senior Band practicing for Band Day at Purdue.

Thinking about hand practice, Susie T., how does it feel to be falling over signs while you are marching?

Maybe I am just seeing spots before my eyes, but I'm sure I saw a green Corvair with pink dots! For more information check with a few of the Junior boys.

An announcement to all the lucky people taking French. You are all secret members of the fantastic (coming soon) French Club!!

Okay, Miss Shanks, what was all the noise about in your car last Saturday? It seemed as if your S.S.S. girls were having a pretty good time waving at the people while coming home from District Convention.

Really, Susie D. It is not time to hatch any butterflies in your locker. Oh! You say it was a mistake, and the creature decided to make a cocoon before you could take it out.

We would like to congratulate a '67 graduate on her engagement. How does it feel Marlene to have that diamond on your left hand?

We are real pleased that the seventh and eighth-grade girls are starting a Jr. Sunshine this year. We hope that all of you will enjoy it, and that the society will be a success.

We surely must admit — the techniques in shorthand are different! What about it, Dolores??

Well, fans the smoke is running a little low; and it is time for us to leave in search of more news; so until next week have fun and study hard. . .

Study Hall Meditations

By Peggie Shei and Tim Frahn

Here I am sitting in study hall, with all my homework done, nothing to do, and 25 minutes of class left. Talk about boredom! Mr. Ulrich won't even let me leave to get a book! I told him if he didn't, I'd just sit here and talk - - - Right! Sure! Uhuh! Would you believe if I talk. I get to come in and see Mr. Ulrich from 12 to 12:30 Monday? I don't even get out for lunch till half-past eternity so I think I shall do something else instead, like maybe shut-up! I have just taken up 5 minutes. Yea, go there keep it up!

Oh how boring it is to sit here and think about my dog Herman and the flea that lives on him! By this time that flea should be about half-way home, taking time out to eat lunch along his journey from the right ear to the left ear. You know, don't you that one flea takes two weeks to travel from his summer home the "Leftus" to his warm winter home area the "Righteous?" Yes, it does. It's a hard journey to make, boy. When that flea gets about half way home the danger really begins! No lie! He has to dodge the ole dog comb every day, and if you don't think that takes three years of a flea's life, you ought to try it sometime! It takes years of practice. You have to step between the teeth of the comb, as it comes by. It gets pretty close at times when the flea AND the hair have to squeeze into one little place. Of course, then there are always those people who just have to pet dogs. I've seen many a flea killed that way. Poor things; and all because they wanted some warmth and comfort for winter. Such a pity!

As my time is running short (thank heavens) I leave my little flea trudging his way to his winter home. Good Lu. . . UGH! . . . As I said "You have to watch out for those people who love to pet animals. Some fleas have it, and some fleas don't."

"Do you ever see any strange sights?" the elevator operator asked the window washer.

"Yes," replied the man, "There is an office on the fourth floor where everyone's always working."

What do you think of the "Hippies?"

Suzi Riester — They are the society of pigs. Hippies can't face life so they hide behind a shield of Flower Power and Love-Ins.

Terry Gentry — I think they need HELP!

Chuck Beck — They are a group of society's children trying to change the inevitable course of history. They are also afraid to face life and take over it's responsibilities.

Debbie Mills — They should grow up and face the world as it really is. Come out of the life of make-believe, Hippies.

Vicky Mikesell — It must be nice not to take a bath and wash behind your ears every night! (chuckle!)

Margaret Koehler — Hippies to me are kids who are trying to tell other teenagers that they're having a riot starving to death and drugging themselves.

Carin Manchester — The Hippies are in a society which needs help. They act foolish and have ridiculous ideas about life which are only taking them to their death bed.

Linda Reinhold — Hippies — An insult to the Hawaiians.

Jan Price — They're parasites on our society.

Dorothy Clem — They need help!!

Nancy Overmyer — They're a bunch of whippies.

Pam Scott — They're equal to PIGEONS!! (???)

Marcia Clem — They need something! Could be help!

Harriet Johnson — The Hippies need help! I don't like them!

Peggy Shei — If they enjoy that kind of life — let 'em. I'm just happier the way things are now - normal, so to speak.

Ron Jones — Like man, they are out of this world!!

Danny Thomas — I DON'T!!! Dave Campbell — Hippies are the ultimate in supreme idealists but they aren't as good as I am. Hippies are the real public majority.

Linda Hudson — Hippies have good ideas and some bad ones. If they would only stop taking pot and drugs they would be okay. This summer I saw and talked to some and they weren't too far out.

Delores Stokes — I think the Hippies are independent. I don't have to think about their belief about love. They have only one idea that I don't like and it is taking drugs and smoking pot. The thing about hippies that I do like is that they all stick together. They believe in what they do and practice what they preach. They are right in their own way and wrong in several other ways.

Linda Fisher — I think they have an idea. Individualism is something you don't find much of anymore and the Hippies are individuals. They are finding their own life and doing what they want — so let 'em!!!

Barbie Baker — I think they are stupid and should wake up to reality before it's too late!

Paula Haenes — I don't understand them; they are toooo far out!!!

Susie Donnelly — I like elephants better.

The Shadow

By Ed Kozlowski

This week's shadow will cover one of the most distinguished members of the junior class. I, as the shadow of the week, am going to try to give you a portrait of my victim as he progresses through what he thinks will be a routine day. Monday, 8:09, "Oh, am I tired! Here we go with another week of school." As he walks down the halls, he gets admiring stares from students who appreciate his classy socks.

First period English class passes without incident except that he brilliantly answers a question about which no one else had any idea what the answer was. Second period Spanish seems to hit a sore spot in our victim's brain. He can't seem to grasp the fluent Spanish of Mrs. Barrabes. In third-hour history Mr. Lawson poses a difficult question to the class. After careful deliberation the victim, with eyes aglow, raises his hand to the question: "What do camp followers do?" "Follow campers of course!"

Fourth-hour Algebra II with Mr. Schmidt is interesting, but my victim is getting hungry. As he enters the cafeteria, he makes a comment about the food which I cannot repeat for fear of creating a scandal. After eating, as he is nearing the familiar group near the office, he is greeted by his friends with a friendly slap which knocks him off his feet. So ends the noon hour, and he enters fifth-period study hall. Because he ate breakfast, he can work to his full capacity. In sixth-period study hall, he sleeps because he over-exerted himself. The final period at last arrives, chemistry. Here in this class the victim shines his brightest because he can associate things like H₂O equals water and so on. So ends the day of the one and only S. S. . . . Steve Snyder.

THE SENIOR CLASS members have finished their magazine drive and have now started working on the Senior Play. The good-looking class of '68' have all had their Senior pictures taken and are hoping to get them back by Thanksgiving.

THE JUNIORS have ordered their beautiful class rings. It's going to be a long wait kids! They have also started making plans for the Ham Supper which will be held on November 4.

There has not been too much leaf raking. What's wrong with our mighty SOPHOMORE Class? Oh, you say no one has been calling? If you would like your leaves raked please call . . . Thank you.

The FRESHMAN CLASS has elected a new student council member, Tim Baker as John Houghton is attending the Academy this year.

SUNSHINE — Ten members of the Sunshine Society journeyed to Lafayette Jefferson High School for the Sunshine Convention which was held Saturday, Sept. 30. This year the Sunshine Society had the honor of having the Freshman Class join their Club. There were about 55 new members that joined this year.

Mrs. Ulrich is sponsoring a Junior Sunshine organization for the seventh and eighth grade girls. This is the first year there has been a Junior S.S.S. The girls appreciate their opportunity to belong to this organization and their thanks go out to Mrs. Ulrich.

The SPANISH CLUB met Sept. 29 to elect officers. The officers are as follows: Gary Byfield - Spirit Of CHS?

Yes — We consider this a question in our case. Do we really have spirit at CHS? I don't think so. We don't have spirit. We have the makings for it, but that is all.

When I talk about school spirit, I am talking about the devotion and pride students, teachers, and parents alike have for their school. As far as I'm concerned, every one of these groups is lacking in the real spirit Culver High School needs and deserves.

Of course, we have a small school and it's old and it's beat-up, but it is small because this is a small town and it is old and beat-up because it has been here since 1906; and we all know its survival has not been helped by the majority of us students. This school has done a lot for us, and in the future we'll find out just how much.

You parents are probably thinking "Well - I'm not the one going to school. Anyway, how could I have school spirit?" Then let me ask you this. How many times have you been inside the school? Do you know what improvements have been made this past summer? Take a look sometime! Have you ever been to a cross-country meet? How many baseball games have you attended? I know you work, and you don't have time for these things but at least be interested.

This is everyone's school. It is not just the school of the cheerleaders, the team, the coach, and the principal.

Civics Essay

By Tim Frain

In a recent Civics test, this essay question was asked: Alexander Hamilton in a speech before the ratifying convention for the United States constitution in New York on June 24, 1788, said, "But, sir, there is another object, . . . I mean a principle of strength and stability in the organization of our government." How did the writers of the Constitution fulfill this object. The following is the answer of one of Mr. Lawson's students, Tim Frain.

In writing the Constitution, the authors set up the principle of strength, but not to one man only. Washington didn't approve of this. Strength was spread out over the land from the President through Congress, to the states and then to the people, the origin of it all. This spreading out could be compared to a river, with the people as its origin, the states as tributaries or streams, Congress as some of the major rivers and the President as the mouth of the river.

Stability was brought about through laws. The laws could be compared to a salmon traveling up the river to its origin, where it lays eggs, or ideas, giving birth to more laws that float down stream to the tributaries, rivers and the mouth.

Organization is the key. Without organization the rivers would flow all over. The tributaries would overflow carrying an excess of power to the wrong places and depositing everything at the mouth making a huge delta; but we have dams to provide flood control and to keep the tributaries, rivers, and the mouth organized when the origin sends too much of something down stream.

These three objects were then fulfilled by setting up the different offices and positions throughout the entire network of streams, rivers and tributaries and by letting matters flow through at a steady rate and keep everything organized.

Latin Conference

By Bonnie Albert

Last summer from July 9-15 I attended a conference for Latin students at Indiana University. There were 59 of us from all over the state. On Sunday, we had an orientation meeting at which we were given our "red books". These contained our schedule for the week, a list of rules we were expected to follow, and a list of over-sized assignments.

We attended two lectures a day and had an hour's discussion of each lecture afterwards. The lectures were over different subjects from the classical field, such as archeology, mythology, and Greek philosophy, and were mostly given by professors from the University's Department of Classics. What time was left was called our "free time" and we were expected to spend it studying.

Each student was also assigned a paper to write or a translation to do. Later a book prize was given to the student who did the best in each category.

Our counselors were all marvelous and constantly kept us entertained. On Friday, we had a picnic at Brown County State Park and afterwards saw a play produced by Brown County's Little Theater.

The whole week was wonderful. I met so many great people and did so many interesting things that if college is anything like that week, I want to go for at least 20 years.

Did you put that cigarette out? Over two hundred thousand fires a year are caused by unthinking smokers, the National Fire Protection says. Check your own smoking habits — and be sure that last cigarette is smoked before you go to bed.

English Export

By Sara Hoesel

For the last two years England has been exporting styles of clothes, music, Twigg, and now, to the halls of C.H.S., has come our own English Export, Mrs. Wallis.

Mrs. Wallis teaches English; and before coming to America, she taught in a school in Norwich, which is in a County of Norfolk in England.

She finds teaching in the States a bit different from teaching there. For one thing the school system is quite different. The boys and girls seldom go to coed schools; and when they are in school they wear uniforms. The timetable of the school is run on a weekly basis instead of a daily one like ours.

Mrs. Wallis likes many of the things here in this country. Among her likes are: the setting of Culver, the lake, the friendliness and helpfulness of the people, and labor and time-saving conveniences, especially light plugs, and three-way-light bulbs.

Of course not all is roses; she does dislike some things. For one, our wather so far has been too hot and humid for her. Also she thinks our newspapers, television, and radio, do not give a broad view of world affairs and discuss enough matters of general interest. Like the rest of us, she feels there are too many commercials on T.V.

Warning to students! Her pet peeves are chewing gum and combing hair in class.

Culver Win Argos Invitational

By Steve McCombs

On Friday, Sept. 29, Culver's cross-country team ran away with the first-place trophy in the Argos Invitational meet. It was an impressive victory for the Culver boys because 10 other area teams participated in the meet.

Andy Tarquino led all Culver runners with a sixth-place finish. Kerry Hasnes was right behind him in the number seven slot. Juan Ruiz came in tenth and was Culver's third man. Tom Overmyer finished 15. Gary Davis was 22. Steve Kelly came in 25 and Carl Strang was 26 to round out the top seven runners from Culver. All in all, there were 77 boys running the meet; and as you can see, Culver was well represented.

The top five teams in the meet were: Culver first with 66 points, Argos second with 97, O.D. third with 100 points, Akron fourth with 107 points, and Caston fifth with 118 points.

Just Forgot

An absent-minded railroader called on his old friend, the family doctor. They chatted for a couple of hours. As the railman rose to go, the doctor asked, "Family all well, I suppose?" "Good Heavens!" exclaimed his visitor, "that reminds me. My wife's having a fit."

FUN & FITNESS

and twist your right arm inward as far as possible. You will feel pull in the right side of your upper body, shoulder and arm. Tighten your abdominals as much as you can as you twist. Watch the ball over your right shoulder. Straighten your upper body and shift your weight to the forward or right foot. Rotate your shoulder by twisting your arm outward as far as possible. Lift your chest up and try to arch your back slightly. Take in a huge breath on this move and let it out when you rotate inward. Do eight of these to a side.

Arm Rotation & Roll Back

Bonnie Prudden has won nationwide acclaim for her work in alerting people of all ages to the need for physical fitness.

She is a consultant on physical fitness for Reader's Digest and the Director of the Institute for Physical Fitness as well as known lecturer, author, television and radio personality.

This series is designed to demonstrate an exercise curriculum which provides for a well rounded body conditioning. At the same time the series shown can be identified with the exercising benefits derived from the sport of bowling—the nation's most popular participating sport.

(In this segment Bonnie discusses the Arm Rotation and Roll Back exercises. These exercises are achieved with the aid of a bowling ball.)

ARM ROTATION

The Arm Rotation exercise can be accomplished by following these easy directions.

Take the ball in your right hand and advance your right foot forward. Keep most of your weight on the back or left foot. Now, round your back and bend slightly forward at the waist

ROLL BACK

Try this exercise many times without the ball until you have mastered the control you will need to hold your balance. Once you leave the sitting position the distance you will travel backward and the speed will be determined by the weight of the bowling ball. Start in the sitting position and roll slowly back. As your back reaches the floor, thrust the ball back over your head and draw your knees up and back toward the ball. Notice the height of the seat. Note also that from position #3 the seat does not continue to rise. In the last picture the ball is at full arm length and the legs are fully extended.

Your balance is maintained by the weight of your seat. Return from this position as you went into it. Curl the knees and thrust the ball forward. Do this exercise slowly. Start with two and work up to eight.

The Arm Rotation and Roll Back exercises are useful for exercising the abdominal muscles. The arm rotation especially, gives useful exercise to the shoulder muscles which is important in bowling. The same benefits that are derived from these two exercises are realized during the third step of the bowlers approach.

Culver's football Eagles rolled to their second victory in a row Saturday, stomping Terre Haute Honey Creek 44-19. The score was the highest total for the Eagle team since 1944.

After a 7-7 first quarter stalemate, Culver scored three touchdowns in the second quarter. Chip Linnemeier plunged four yards for the first tally; John Casner tossed an 18-yard pass to John Schumacher for another; and Paul Gift made his second goal in the afternoon, a two-yard dive, just before the end of the half.

Gift scored earlier on a four-yard, first quarter touchdown and accounted for four first-half extra points.

Quarterback Bob Steffy came off the bench in the second half to guide the Eagles to a pair of touchdowns. Steffy lofted a 21-yard scoring pass to John Casner in the third period and pitched 16 yards to Roger Bird in the final minute of play. Gift added a fourth-quarter field goal from 15 yards to complete the game with 22 points to his credit.

Chris Hicks was the game's leading rusher with 68 yards. Paul Gift gained 66 yards, and Chip Linnemeier added 56 yards to Culver's running attack.

Honey Creek 7, 0, 12, 0 - 19
Culver's varsity soccer team evened its season record at 2-2 with a 3-2 victory over visiting Bethany Christian this Saturday.

Despite a first-period lapse which led to a 2-0 Bethany lead, the Eagle kickers rallied to score their first goal late in the first quarter on a Santiago Montufar kick.

Jan Medusky evened the score with a third period goal, and Dennis Hansell pushed through the tie-breaker with a minute remaining in a 10-minute overtime.

The Eagle's cross country team lost a three-team meet with West Lafayette and DeKalb of Auburn. The score was DeKalb 30, West Lafayette 35, Culver 59. Culver's first runner, Doug Scholz, ran third.

The football team meets Fort Wayne Bishop Luers Saturday at 8 p.m. in Fort Wayne; the soccer team plays LaLumiere at home Wednesday at 4 p.m. and travels to Howe Military School Saturday for a game at 2:30; and the cross country team races Winamac at home Tuesday at 4:30 and travels to the Shortridge Invitational Saturday at 2 p.m.

The Old Timer

"He who works on a shoe-string has to be ready for the breaks."

After her floor show act the lithe blonde went to one of the tables and her host finally got around to asking:

"Why does a beautiful and talented girl like you have to dance in a joint like this?"

"One reason," she answered, "is that I meet a lot more young men here than I did when I worked in a library."
