McGill Plant At Culver Produces Millionth Bearing

Production of the 1,000,000th bearing by the Culver plant of McGill Manufacturing Company, Inc. Bearing Division was announced Tuesday by Vice President and General Manager, A. B. Williamson.

The 1,000,000th unit was presented to Williamson by Culver Plant executives Plant Manager, Harold Fritz and Larry Starkweather, Assistant Plant Manager at a ceremony in the local plant main conference room Friday afternoon.

This bearing was a CAMROL Cam Follower, a type originated by McGill and manufactured now in the smaller sizes at the Culver facility. All Cam Follower production will eventually be transferred to this first McGill plant outside of Valparaiso.

Williamson said, "McGill Management is especially proud of this achievement of the people at the Culver plant who were recruited locally and trained to this high degree of efficiency on complicated machinery in only fifteen months."

He said that 86 are employed currently at Culver where present facilities can accommodate 125 persons, and a potential total out-put capability of $5,000,000 annually is expected in the next couple of years.

Ground was broken in November 1965, and new machinery installed so that production was begun in July 1966. This first bearing completely manufactured and packaged at Culver, was gold plated and presented to Williamson last January.

Awarded Legion Of Merit For Service In Vietnam

A U. S. Army officer stationed at Culver Military Academy has been awarded the Legion of Merit for meritorious conduct and outstanding service during combat in Vietnam.

Major William A. Roosma, senior Army instructor at Culver, received the decoration at a garrison parade at noon Sunday, Oct. 22, when thousands of parents and alumni were on campus for homecoming weekend. Brig. Gen. John W. Dobson, USA (ret.), superintendent, made the award.

The Legion of Merit is awarded by direction of the President of the United States and was given to Major Roosma for performance of duty in combat areas of Vietnam over a year's period ending last August, when he was assigned to duty at Culver. Major Roosma heads the military science department at the Academy.

The citation accompanying the Legion of Merit states:

"Major Roosma distinguished himself by exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service during the period August 1966 to August 1967 while serving consecutively as Assistant Brigade S3 and Battalion S3, 3d Battalion, 21st Infantry, 196th Light Infantry Brigade in the Republic of Vietnam.

"As Brigade Assist S3, he accompanied the advance party and established a secure base area for the main body at Tay Ninh. The outstanding manner in which combat after action reports were prepared reflected Major Roosma's ability to understand and evaluate a guerrilla environment. He judiciously developed the equipment requirements and procedures for the establishment of a forward tactical operation center to control multiple battalion operations.

"During several major operations, Major Roosma astutely directed the brigade control point, developed plans of operation and guided the activities of all elements through the net control station. As the Battalion S3, he worked arduously and effectively to raise the combat proficiency of the battalion, setting high standards in reporting techniques and requiring all units to submit information accurately, rapidly and completely.

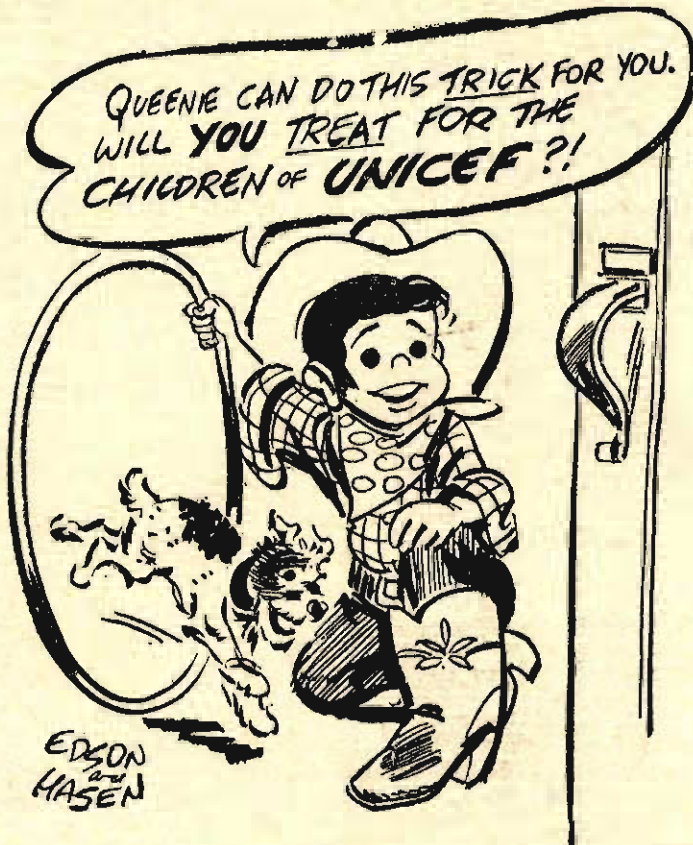

"During actual combat operations, Major Roosma's detailed knowledge of the capabilities, limitations and procedures of all support units permitted him to provide timely instructions to both organic and support elements. Manifesting rare technical knowledge, energy and enthusiasm, he has contributed immeasurably to the success of the counterinsurgency effort in Vietnam.

"Major Roosma's professional competence and outstanding achievements were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army."

Major Roosma is a 1958 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy.

WORLD COMMUNITY DAY

World Community Day of the Church Women United of the Culver Community Council of Churches will be held in Fellowship Hall of the Culver Methodist Church Friday November 3 at 7:30 p.m. The theme of the service this year is "Who Shall Separate Us!"

Local Children "Trick-Treat" For UNICEF Oct. 27

Area children will again participate in the "Trick or Treat" for Unicef Halloween Program on Friday, Oct. 27, from 5:30-7:30 p.m. with headquarters in the Bank Lounge.

Locally sponsored by the Maxinkuckee Federated Junior Woman's Club, the Trick or Treat for Unicef program has features to please people of all minds.

It is a fine opportunity for the youngsters themselves to combine their traditional fun with a constructive rewarding activity all their own — "the world's greatest effort by children to help children."

Some idea of what our boys and girls will accomplish, with our community's generous cooperation, may be found in the fact that every day UNICEF's jeeps, trucks and other vehicles travel roughly the distance of 30 times around the world, or four times the distance from the earth to the moon . . . Placed end on end, the midwife kits shipped by UNICEF would form a pile four times as high as Mount Everest . . . If they held hands at the Equator, the children and mothers helped by UNICEF each year would circle the world . . . The dried milk shipped by UNICEF would fill the United Nations building more than 25 times.

Maxinkuckee Federated Junior Woman's Club, the organizers of the local Trick or Treat for UNICEF program most certainly deserve that their selfless and efficient efforts should meet with unqualified success.

The children collecting for Unicef will be identified by the can with the orange and black Unicef sticker which they will be carrying.

As the majority of these conscientious civic-minded children who participate are in grade school, it would be a great help if the residents of Culver would turn on their porch lights for these two hours to help brighten their way on Unicef night.

Culver Schools To Remain On Eastern Standard Time

The four-county school district comprising the Culver Community Schools Corporation will operate on Eastern Standard Time during the current year or until such time as the area uniform time is changed, school officials have announced.

Three schools, Kindergarten through Grade 12, are conducted by the corporation in Monterey, Leiters Ford, and Culver. Organization requires bussing of students between schools and some members of the staff travel between schools making necessary a statement by the school announcing the policy and the adoption of one time schedule.

"We realize that the adoption of the singular time schedule may work a hardship on some school patrons and if it were possible, as it was in 1966-67, to operate on a flexible time schedule we would do so, but such is not the case," stated Robert Rust, Superintendent.

The Eastern Standard Time schedule will remain the same for the schools as it has since last April.

The popular ukulele is not a native Hawaiian musical instrument as is usually believed. It is a German instrument and was popular in that country in the twelfth century, according to the records of the Royal Library at Stuttgart. Later it was introduced into Portugal, from which country it was carried by sailors to the Hawaiian Islands. Its popularity among the Hawaiians is of very recent date, and they named it "ukulele," which means, in their language, "to jump like a flea."

The names of Iceland and Greenland are very misleading. They do not represent the character of either country. Greenland is a land of ice, and was named by Eric the Red, in 985, who called it "Greenland" so people would be more likely to go there to live. Iceland, on the other hand, is a country of green pastures and pleasant climate. The names of these two countries would be far more appropriate if they were exchanged.

COMMUNITY HOME SCHOOL

THE SCHOOLBELL

PUBLISHED WEEKLY BY THE PRESS CLUB OF CULVER HIGH SCHOOL

What's the newest sound in the halls of C.H.S.? Could it be the juniors dropping their newly acquired slide rulers? They need coordination!

Patty O. and Suzi O. were home last weekend. Let's send them a hearty "HOW" — are you?

We hope that Kathy, Linda, Ana, Mary Ann, and Sherry have fun at Homecoming at C.M.A.

Suzi Riester says, "Hi."

Hey, Jim Baker, what are those jokes you've been telling in world history?

Richard R., why can't you remember that song about a funny cow in Spanish?

One of our juniors has turned 17 already. How does it feel, Vicki M.?

Looks like all the guys of C.H.S. are getting their hair all cut off. I bet the coaches like it.

Chorus is turning into a regular nature study course. We study bees, thanks to Margaret K., and caterpillars, with the help of Linda H., Linda M., and Pam W. kindly consented to give a demonstration on how to bandage a cut wrist (and it wasn't a fake cut either!).

Hey, Mike Coronet, why do you always jump when Mr. Waxman moves?

In another week or so Carol K. thinks she is going to get her driver's license. If she passes the tests, everybody had better watch out!!

Miss Wilson, you say you don't like squeaky chairs in health class — Why not?

Mr. Aspen, the seventh period English class would like to say they really enjoyed the poetry you read to them. Please do it again sometime.

Run For Your Life!

By Charles Osborn
This year it has been ordained that anyone going out for a school sport (including ping-pong) must run two miles a night, about three miserable times a week. This is supposed to build stamina (puff-puff), wind (gasp), and legs. (Also corns, callouses, and bunions). I certainly can't argue with this method, but my feet certainly do.

There is another aspect to this rule as we are on our honor (such as it is) not to take shortcuts through the cornfield. Our conscience tells us to run the entire course, but our legs keep yelling, "Take the shortcut, take the shortcut!"

The first two weeks were the worst. We were easily identifiable by our limps as we dragged ourselves from class to class. What can you expect when the most exercise the majority of us get is throwing paper wads in study hall?

I think Coach Waxman knows what he's doing, though because running gets easier every week; but I still wish I had the liniment concession.

Would You Believe, "Slilch"?

Recently the roving reporters interviewed some members of the student body with the question, "If there was such a word as SLILCH, what would you give as a definition for that word?" Here are some of the intelligent answers.

Kirk Wahamaki — "Slilch" has a very complex definition. It means the same as "Zapzz."

Dave Campbell — A word used to define the state of being of a "Tuna".

Bill W. — "Slilch" is the incoherent product of somebody's warped brain. It also could be the secondary nourishment for a Western Zebo-rubegar.

Harriet Johnson — I give up! Mary Ann Lewis — Since when was "slilch" a word?

Ginny Thews — I would say that it is a very imaginative word. Velda Prosser — A person with had breath!

Jan Price — As the twig is bent, so grows the tree.

Kris Strang — The same as Zots!

Cindy Carter — How you feel when you get your report card!

Anonymous — Someone's puff-puffs!

Mike Van Horn — A bad report card.

Carin Manchester — Being alone on a cold rainy day.

Karen Banks — Getting one of Mr. Lawson's United States history tests back and then having him pass out a map on the next day.

Jan Shock — My algebra grade!

Barb Byfield — Not being able to play a simple exercise for the band director, especially if you are his daughter!

Patty Hodges — Getting moved in general business by a bunch of boys in the front of the class.

Bill Napier — Getting into Study Hall with nothing to do.

Pam Thompson — The band on certain numbers.

Margaret Ruhnaw — A mangy bachiato!

Linda Reinhold — Miss Shank's shorthand tests.

Marilyn Wolverton — MUD!!

Pammy Moran — It makes me think of Mr. Williams...

Kathy Tasch — Sounds like something I'd do!

S. Parker — What your parents give you when they see your report card!

Let's say it means anything you want it to mean and forget it!

The SENIORS are busy getting ready for the play, which they will present October 25. We are sure it will be a big success. They have also been ordering graduation announcements.

It's that time again and the JUNIORS have organized their committees for the ham supper and will be selecting a band for homecoming.

It doesn't look as though the SOPHOMORES have been doing much leaf-raking lately. Could it have something to do with the weather?!!

The FRESHMEN class hasn't been doing much of anything. Come on kids, let's get on the ball!!

The FRENCH CLUB will meet to write a constitution and elect officers.

The SUNSHINE SOCIETY installed the new sunbeam officers with Kim Wyman as President; Kathy Crowel, Vice President; Carol Overmyer, Secretary; and Ronda Singleton, Treasurer.

Members of the HONOR SOCIETY are considering revising the Student Handbook.

CHS Fads

By Chery Sturdevant

I have made the following observations of current fads at Culver High School.

The "in crowd" has camouflaged their poor eye sight with contact lenses, in colors to enhance the beauty of their eyes. Last year the hairstyles were long and skirts were extremely short but this year the trends are reversed. Short hair is back again. Pierced earrings are still rated high among the daring ones, whether they prefer tiny buttons, big bold hoops or delicate little dangles.

In the fashion line, the pin-striped shirts and blouses are very popular. Pleated plaid skirts swing in this year to replace the old mini-skirt. The purses have switched from the old carry-all bags to the tiny new mini-bags. As for shoes the slender pointed shoe is no longer "in". It has been replaced by the square-toed, box-type shoe, accented with big brave buckles and bows or the chunky gold chain. Suit jackets and sweaters are growing longer, pulling in to accent the slender waistline.

All bright colors are "in" this year, but orange, gold, and coordinating colors seem to dominate the color schemes.

The newspaper is the only medium that works 24 hours a day to bring the advertiser's name to the public.

Our Trip To Bethel College

By Carin Manchester

Once again the senior band was honored to attend a concert at the Bethel College Auditorium featuring the United States Marine Band. After a long tedious journey, we (the members of the senior band) arrived at the Bethel College and patiently awaited for our afternoon program presented by the Marine Band.

The program began with the band's playing "The Star Spangled Banner". Next on the program was a march, "The Stars and Stripes Forever," directed by Captain King of the U.S. Marine Band. During this march two piccolos presented a duet, and also a duet was played by the cornets. The third number was an overture called "The Journey to Reins" in honor of a king. Following this overture was a piece of music presented to us by Charles Ervin, solo cornet, called El Matador. Charles Ervin composed this terrific piece of music. "Festival Prelude" a more peaceful and quiet number, was the next number of the program. Here comes the circus! No, it was only the band playing a song about the circus called "Entree of the Gladiators." A quartet of trombones were next and their song was "The Unique of a Trombone." It was played with fine and superior style. The same quartet and band presented a piece that is familiar to everyone, "Born Free." Following this were some famous compositions of Henry Mancini's. Various numbers were played and once again we had another march, the official march of the United States Marine Band. Our announcer for the day sang a selection of numbers from love songs to funny songs. The concert ended with the Marine Theme Song, "From the Halls of Montezuma."

Receiving a great applause, the United States Marine Band ended their magnificent concert and the high school band members were on their way home. The trip was most rewarding, and the members of the band enjoyed it very much.

Watch out for school children, especially if they're driving.

Freshman Of CHS Undergoes Gruesome Ordeal

By Karen Tanner

I walked in through a glass door, alone one gloomy Monday, dragging myself across the floor into a room in which several unknown patients with smiling faces were looking toward me. They gave me a feeling that they were laughing loudly inside themselves and saying, "Today is your dooms day, dooms day, dooms day!" I signed in, walked a short distance, and settled myself in a soft foam chair. Suddenly a creaking door opened, a nurse sneaked out staring at me, coaxing and subtly begging me to come with her, to a greenish-colored room, with windows two feet thick, and monstrous creatures looking at me saying, "Now it's too late to back out." As I waited there impatiently for the piercer to come barging in to operate, I thought of all the needles, shots, knives, and blood running down by neck.

Finally he arrived, and while I was slowly reclining, the nurse laid several towels over my chest. From a small drawer, the piercer drew out a rectangular-shaped package, opened it with a knife, and used forceps to take the snake out of there. The snake was long, thick string made of silk, with a cruel-looking fish hook tied to it. Then he jabbed the device through my one ear lobe, and pulled the snake-like object back and forth. He repeated the process with the other ear lobe. What I did suffer for the sake of beauty! But when I admire my beautiful new earrings dangling from healed ears, I am glad that I had my ears pierced.

Purdue High School Day

I arrived at the lobby of the Hall of Music of Purdue University at approximately 8:30 a.m. on October 14. This was to be high school day at Purdue. I then waited in line for a few minutes to receive my lunch ticket. Afterwards I proceeded upstairs. As I entered the auditorium, I received a folder with Purdue University printed on the front. Inside the folder was information about Purdue. Also included was a free pencil with the Big 10 Champ's schedule on it. The Purdue Varsity Glee Club sang a few songs for us. Then Prof. H. W. White, director of admissions, gave a very interesting talk on "The Quest in Questions." We were then separated into different groups, according to which school we were interested in. I went with the science group. After arriving at the chemistry building, a professor of the department of science broke down the school of science into more areas of study. The science school was then split up into nine other groups: chemistry, mathematics, physics, and biology were some of the areas of study in the field of science. I stayed with the biology group. One of the professors of biology talked to us about the different courses offered, those required, and some of the different areas of study in biology. We then went to lunch. I ate lunch at Shealy Hall, which is one of the older women's residence halls. The food was delicious, and we were served plenty of it. After lunch we were given a tour of the hall by one of the hostesses, who lived in the hall.

Instead of going back to another educational meeting I decided to stay in the hall and talk with the hostess, who was a freshman, about college life. Later on in the afternoon, I thought

I had better try and find the place where the educational meeting in which I was interested was being held. I wasn't able to find it and somehow wound up on the other side of the campus. Eventually I made it back to the Memorial Center, where I was to meet my parents. I had a wonderful day and learned much. The most important point I learned was that Purdue is a great school. I might add that I didn't see one single cow.

C.H.S. Sports

By Doug Hartz

In the sport's scene, on Saturday, Oct. 14, the Culver cross-country team ran at the Shortridge Invitational. In competition with about 120 boys, Culver's team finished 9th. The scores were: Andy Tarquino 33, Juan Ruiz 47, Carl Strang 60, Tom Overmyer 62, Gary Davis 63, Kerry Haenes 67, and Steve Kelly with 73.

Behind the scenes, basketball try-outs are under way. The wrestling team is eagerly waiting to get under way.

The Shadow

This week the Shadow was confronted with a new problem, my Super Subject knew she was being shadowed. Such a challenge did not prove too difficult to overcome, and I tailed my Super Subject faithfully for one day.

Early in the morning my unsuspecting Super Subject cheerfully sat behind her horn and made "beautiful" music in Band. In the second period Super Subject migrated with the herd to "habla espanol, todo el tiempo" (speak Spanish all the time). My linguist performed beautifully; and when the bell rang, she dragged me behind her into developmental reading class. Her eyes, moving at the speed of 400 words a minute, glanced at the clock; after clean up time she was off to English.

After contributing a few comments on the evenings assignment, Super Subject settled down to watch the clock and complained of her hunger. Relief came at last when the bell sounded and she was off to lunch.

After the usual noontime socializing, my Super Subject put in an intellectual, but fun period of Algebra II. Her mind was quick and alert, and she eagerly ran into history class. Exhausted by the energy put forth in the last class, Super Subject wearily moved down the hall and down the stairs to chemistry. My Super Subject involved with whipping out answers on her slide rule. When the bell rang, she heaved a sigh of relief and went fighting through the masses of people to her locker and off to a night of homework and T.V.

This week's Super Subject and a busy one at that is a member of the great class of '69 and bears the name of Carol Kline.

Interview

By Carol Kline

The lucky person I interviewed this week is none other than Mr. Waltz, our new assistant principal.

Before coming to the hallowed halls of C.H.S., he taught in various schools in Indiana, including CMA, which accounts for his competence in understanding students.

His first impression of Culver was, a small town but a beautiful rest haven from CMA.

He is a highly qualified assistant principal because he loves students and he thinks the students from Culver are intelligent, friendly, courteous, and good-natured, and above all; he thinks the school spirit is great.

In asking him what he felt about leading a bachelor's life he gave a big sigh and said, "Considering the alternatives, no comment."

As a result of leading this bachelor's life, of course, his hobbies are working and collecting dirty dishes. His favorite pastimes include "chicas mirando" and giving out low grades.

Since he dislikes include interviews and washing dishes, I must close or I might have myself a new job.

Open Letter To Vietnam Servicemen

Editor's Note: This is a recent theme written by a member of Mr. Lawson's Civics class. Susie Donnelly wrote this inspiring open letter to the fighting men of Vietnam.

You, the American fighting men in Vietnam are beautiful. Your beauty is not equal to that of the Eiffel Tower or to a new Dior gown: your beauty is far greater than theirs because yours is alive and radiating and affecting the lives of many and altering the course of world history. Your magnificence has never been and never will be surpassed. Your beauty is a personal thing which can not be seen by a person's eyes; yet it is felt in the minds and hearts of people throughout the world.

You are honored in the foreign nations of the world because you are America. You represent the United States, from Lexington and Concord to Korea — from New York harbor to the Oregon forests. You are the democracy which thousands of men have died to preserve. You are the leader of the free world, fighting to extend the boundaries of freedom. Hope for world peace is restored by your being in Vietnam. Faith in mankind is rejuvenated by your willingness to risk your life in order that others may acquire a decent mode of living. You are the world leader, trying to achieve harmony among the nations. You are indeed beautiful.

You are beautiful to the people of Vietnam because you are everything they are struggling to gain — you are freedom; you are equality; you are democracy; you are indeed life itself. You are there to help these people to help themselves. The good example you set for them provides them with a goal to achieve. Your beauty lies in the fact that you care enough to risk your own life to aid others. Each drop of blood you shed in Vietnam and each bead of sweat you drop in the jungles is beautiful because of the sacrifices that went into it. Each cigarette you give to a Vietnamese kid is lovely because of the love and understanding that went with it. Everything you do is improved because of the tremendous effort that you put into it.

You are beautiful to me because you are everything I believe in. The American soldier in Vietnam becomes a living portrait of equality and democracy for every man, and of freedom and liberty for the world. Your devotion to the principles you believe in sets an example for me to follow. I grow proud when I realize that the United States has forces of your caliber fighting throughout the world. The feeling of patriotism I have for my nation swells when I think of the American fighting men defending the right in Vietnam. You are education in a land of ignorance. You are bombs and anti-aircraft fire in a land of booby traps. You are medicine in a land of disease. You are jet planes in a land of animal power. You are science and technology in a land of superstition. You are hope for peace in a land devastated by war.

You'll get fast and satisfactory service through the Want-A-Section of The Culver Citizen.

Aubee High School News

What was the big feudin' at Aubee Friday night? Could it have been the Fry's and the Pop-off's again? Well, it's all over now because the feudin' ended Friday, Oct. 20, about 9:15 p.m. That was when "A - Feudin' Over Yonder," the Dramatic's Club play was over. The cast had a very enjoyable time rehearsing and performing.

As a representative of the cast and president of Dramatics Club, John Szponar presented Mrs. Neva Mikesell, the director of the Dramatic's Club, a bouquet of roses and Miss Henrietta Patton, her assistant, a carnation corsage.

Saturday, Oct. 21, three of the high school cheerleaders, Margaret Nelson, Sue Szponar and Julie Van Horn and Denise Kline, captain of the Jr. High cheerleaders, participated in the Cheerleading Clinic at Oak Hill. The girls had a very enjoyable time learning new yells.

We would like to welcome the Ingram family to our school. We are very happy to have them.

DO CHEERLEADERS WORK OR PLAY AT MONTEREY

By Pamela Lehman

After school the cheerleaders change clothes and start out with a new "Hello" yell. "Now the Indians and the Fliers are here tonight," the cheerleaders at Monterey High School chant. Eventually someone makes a mistake before the end of the yell, and they must start again.

This goes on for a long while until some cheerleader's stomach yells up at her. Then all send two freshmen out to buy candy bars. After all sugar enters the bloodstream quickly; the hard-working cheerleaders decide the candy is too dry without anything to drink.

They walk single file downstairs, buy themselves cokes and relax. Then, as all girls will, they start talking. They bounce a few subjects around, and finding none very interesting they get to their favorite (next to boys) subject — teachers.

They check to be sure there are no teachers around, and finding none, start gabbing away. "So-and-so gave us a hard test today in such-and-such," or "Isn't such-and-such fun?" and so it goes.

By the time these hard-working cheerleaders are through, they have lost about fifteen minutes of precious time.

On the way upstairs from the basement, someone hears the B-team cheerleaders and decides to go see them.

Five more minutes are spent, in inspiring the younger girls, and finally the Varsity cheerleaders get back to work.

The janitor sweeps over and around them, trying to get his job done.

They return to work again and try forming a pyramid. As they again try a pyramid, they constantly fall and laugh until their sides ache. They attempt many different types of pyramids, and since they succeed in none of them, they start all over with the "Hello" yell once again.

They try "Good Luck" and, with the help of an audience of two freshmen, change the end of the yell to make it successful.

Suddenly they decide that they have practiced enough, and all head for the drug store for that last coke.

LIBRARY PROGRAM GIVEN AT MONTEREY

An assembly program was presented by Claire Zehner, Head librarian at the Monterey Public Library, for the Monterey Junior High and Senior High School students on Friday, Oct. 20. The program, which began at 3 p.m., included many items important to high school students. Several papers were handed out to each student. These papers included articles on the following subjects: "How To Write a Term Paper", "Borrowing Procedures for Public Libraries", and "How To Write a Book Report". Each pupil received a book marker, too. All of these materials were placed in a useful library bag. Registration cards were distributed for the purpose of giving the students the right to borrow books from all the public libraries in Pulaski County; Union Township, Marshall County; and North Bend Township, Starke County. Finally a film was shown entitled "Library Research in High School."

THE SAGA OF A SLIDE RULE AT MONTEREY

How does it feel to be a slide rule in a beginner's possession? The student, whom the slide rule is trying to help, is in Mrs. Onda Good's chemistry class in Monterey High School.

First the student looks at the slide rule as if it is a monster. He is always criticizing. The hairline isn't visible; the slide is too hard to move; or it is inaccurate.

The slide rule has to risk the chance of being dropped, accidentally, of course. The student is usually so nervous that the slide rule can feel the vibrations. If a slide rule could possibly be bruised, it would be. Most beginners handle a slide rule carelessly-taking it apart, dropping it, putting it together the wrong way, or standing it on one edge and catching it before it falls. As anyone can see, being a slide rule is a very dangerous occupation.

If the student multiplies or divides incorrectly, the slide rule is at fault. Not once does the student admit that he and not the slide rule goofed.

NEW HERD AVERAGE REPORTED TO LOCAL HOLSTEIN BREEDER

A new annual herd production average for milk and butterfat has been announced for the Registered Holstein herd owned by John A. Newman & Sons, Newman Holstein Farms, Culver.

As reported by Holstein-Friesian Association of America, the daily herd has completed its latest testing year with an official, per cow average of 16,617 pounds of milk and 614 pounds of butterfat, based on 98 completed lactations.

Purdue University supervised the weighing and production testing procedures in cooperation with this breed improvement program of the Holstein organization.

This herd's performance level compares favorably to the average U. S. cow's annual output of 8,080 pounds of milk and 299 pounds of butterfat. Production averages are calculated on the commonly employed, two milkings per day, 305-day, mature equivalent basis to provide a comparison standard.

Only from the carefree heart of a child could come such joy. Or could it? Is it necessary to lose childhood's happy laughter? Must we feel depressed and burdened with the yoke of adult cares? Certainly not! The God-given gifts of joy and happiness are possessions we can and must retain throughout all our years. But how can we keep this wonderful spirit? Here is a formula that is very simple: attend the church of your choice regularly. In God's house you will learn to accept life's burdens — and soon they will be ever so much lighter. His Peace will fill your heart. Here, in fellowship with others, you will receive the needed peace and understanding to reclaim and sustain the merry heart.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

VOICE OF EXPERIENCE

The Durango (Colo.) Herald relates that the story going down there concerns the hunter who was befriended by Utes. To impress the Indians he pulled out his cigarette lighter and said: "Magic. Look, I make fire."
 He twirled the little wheel and there was flame.
 "Big magic," said the tribesman. "First time we ever saw one of them light on the first try."

 "Why should it?" the young man shrugged. "I keep telling them I'm getting it for you."

"How did Oscar lose the fingers on his right hand?"
 "Put them in the horse's mouth to see how many teeth he had."
 "And then what happened?"
 "The horse closed his mouth to see how many fingers Oscar had."

"How far is it to the next filling station?" the driver asked a farmer.
 "Nigh onto two miles as the crow flies."
 "Well, how far is it if the damned crow has to walk and roll a flat tire?"

Father Sheridan Reports On 62nd Episcopal Synod

By
Rev. William C. R. Sheridan
Pastor of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, Plymouth

(Editors' Note: Recently returned from a 10-day Episcopal Supreme Synod meeting in Seattle, Wash., where Rev. William C. R. Sheridan served as a delegate for the sixth time, the following is a sharing of that church synod by Father Sheridan and is reprinted from the Oct. 4 issue of The Plymouth Pilot-News.)

"Last week in Seattle, Washington, I had the duty of helping to represent my diocese at the supreme synod of the Episcopal Church in the United States. Until very recently, such a gathering would have been of interest only to fellow Anglicans in Ireland, Burma and New Zealand, for instance. Now, happily, much of Christendom is interested in the problems, agonies and opportunities of brother Christians — wherever they may be and whoever they are. It is a great joy to me, personally, to bring fellow Christians of this area some of the actions of our 62nd "General Convention."

Just as the great Roman Catholic Communion attempted to bring reform and renewal in its recent Second Vatican Council, so — on a far smaller scale — the American Episcopal Church tried to cope with some of the problems of our age. The Chief Pastor, the Most Rev. John E. Hines, S.T.D., put it very bluntly in his opening address when he said: "The agony, frustration and suffering of human beings which has erupted in terrible rioting in some of our cities forces us to admit the precarious condition of society. We in the Church are part of the problem . . . We are called to be healers of mankind, but we ourselves must heed the biblical injunction: 'Physician, heal thyself'."

Bishop Hines then went on to say (concerning racial injustice and oppression in our country) that racial minorities want to know where we stand and to see our position clearly manifested in deeds. He proposed that Episcopalians give. In the next three years, $9,000,000 to Negro self-help organizations — "with no strings attached." What is at stake is the very life of our society. Incidentally, the United Presbyterian Board of National Missions in Washington, D.C., voted the same week to give a large sum towards the same "urban crisis" in our country!

Mixed Impressions
The international flavor of the General Convention was seen immediately. Bishops, priests, and lay delegates came in many "varieties." They represented their dioceses from Taiwan, the Philippines, Haiti, Brazil and Guatemala — as well as from 89 jurisdictions in the United States. One could hear spoken, Chinese, French, Portuguese and Spanish — in addition to the regional accents of all of our 50 states. Many of us remember the terrible battles fought near and on the island of Okinawa during World War II. It was a joyous moment when the new Diocese of Okinawa was created and a bishop chosen as the spiritual leader of thousands of new Christians there, and to realize that later this work would be turned over to the Bishops of the Nippon Seikokai (the Anglican Church in Japan) — our former "enemies."

Even in our world of great inflation it was awesome to see what the penny, nickel, dime and quarter "thank offerings" of the women in 8,000 parishes amounted to during the last three years. The United Thank Offering — to be used for additional mission work of the Episcopal Church — came to the staggering sum of $4,917,772!

Sensational headlines had to do with the sad antics and quotations of the former Bishop of San Francisco, Calif., the Rt. Rev. James A. Pike. It is an open secret that he is ill and not entirely responsible for what he says and does. But in these circumstances, the "Family of the Church" does not disown or punish such a person, anymore than a private family would. Truly, he needs the prayers of us all! But have you heard about the extraordinary acts of courtesy and kindness done to Episcopalians at Seattle — the kind that never "make the press"? All the Episcopal sisters and monks present were "house guests" of the Roman Catholic religious communities while in Seattle. The Christian Brothers from California gave as a gift all the sacramental wine used for the celebrations of the Holy Eucharist, and at two services more than 6,000 people received Holy Communion! The leaders and laymen of all major Protestant Communion in Seattle left nothing undone by way of hospitality and graciousness. In the long run, these acts of charity will be remembered long after the sensational remarks of one sick person — once in high office.

Confusion Reigns!
Before I left for this supreme synod, I told my flock not to be surprised if the democratic House of Deputies (almost 700 priests and lay deputies) would turn out to be just as confused on world issues as the rest of our country. A point in case was the war in Vietnam. Hours of passionate debate resulted in the same conclusion as expressed in the rest of the United States — conscientious men take very different stands on this conflict. Finally, the deputies rejected proposals for "de-escalation and the end of the bombing in North Vietnam. A resolution was passed calling for continued efforts at discussion for peace, and for United Nation efforts. The resolution "supported every effort of restraint by our government," yet calls on all to heed the calls to peace by the Pope and the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Archbishop's Visit
Far and away, the "spiritual climax" of the ten grueling days and nights of the 62nd General Convention was the visit of the spiritual leader of the world-wide Anglican Communion. The 70th Archbishop of Canterbury, Primate and Metropolitan of all England, the Most Reverend and Right Honorable Michael Ramsey, D.D., is the Chief Father in God of 368 dioceses in 72 countries. Included among the 44,000,000 Anglicans (or Episcopalians) in the world are the 3,750,000 Episcopalians in the United States. The first Archbishop of Canterbury was St. Augustine, in 597 A.D.

Archbishop Ramsey has been called the "Jet-age Archbishop." In five years he has become the most travelled primate in history. He has visited every continent to confer with leaders of all branches of Christendom — Roman Catholic, Orthodox, Protestant, and his own Anglican Communion. His Grace has conferred with Pope Paul VI in Rome, the heads of the Orthodox and Armenian Churches in Istanbul and the Patriarch of Moscow in the Soviet capital, and many others. His passion is the reunion of broken Christendom. It was a deeply moving event at the great Ecumenical Service, where the Archbishop of Canterbury preached. More than 15,000 Christians and Jews crowded into the Seattle Center Coliseum to hear him say at this service: "This evening is a symbol and a prophecy . . . of something tremendous which is going to happen in God's good time."

I am painfully aware of so many things left unsaid, but I've done my best in the space available. How much all of us need to work for the reunion of Christendom — and the loving, serving support of one another . . . for our Blessed Lord's sake."

HE JUST CAN'T WIN
The young couple hadn't been married long when they had their first quarrel. The husband, wanting to establish his authority for all time, said sternly to his wife, "Sit down. I want to show you something," and he strode purposefully to the closet while she sat in meek silence.

Grabbing a pair of pants from the closet, he said, "See these? I'm the one that will wear these around here from now on!"

Instead of awing his wife with his masterliness, she surprised him by breaking into laughter. Wiping her eyes, she managed to gasp, "Those are my slacks!"

COLD TAKE-OFF
The first grade teacher had just read her pupils some nursery rhymes. To find out whether they had been paying any attention, she began asking questions about the rhymes.
"Why did the cow jump over the moon?" she inquired.
Little Jon spoke up: "Probably because the milkman had cold fingers."

Academy Sports

Culver's soccer team rolled to its fourth victory in a row and its sixth of the season Saturday, trouncing Howe Military 4-1. Culver goals were scored by Fausto Moscoso and Bob May in the first period, Ernesto Estrada in the third period, and Santiago Montufar in the fourth. Culver's record is now 6-2.

Culver attempted 22 shots for the goal and only permitted Howe four. This was Culver's second win of the season over Howe's kickers, winning 2-1 Oct. 14 at Howe.

Last Wednesday, Bob May scored once and John Mehrtens twice against the Notre Dame junior varsity, winning 3-1. Juan Montufar, brother of Culver player Santiago Montufar and, himself, a 1967 Culver graduate, scored the only goal for Notre Dame.

The soccer team faces Divine Heart Seminary Tuesday at 4 and Park School Saturday at 2 p.m. on the Academy field; the cross country team traveled to the La-Porte Invitational Tuesday and closes out its season at home Thursday at 5 p.m. with South Bend Adams. The football team's next contest will be Friday, Nov. 3 at West Lafayette.

The cross country team beat St. John's, 16-47, during half-time of Saturday's Homecoming football game. The team record is now 7-3 in dual competition. Doug Scholz won the race in 10:22, followed by Joe Cummings, Mike Scholz, Stasz Gorski from Culver and Bob Lichter of St. John's.

Last Wednesday, the squad won in a triangular meet at home. The Academy beat Syracuse 15-50; beat Warsaw, 19-39; and Warsaw beat Syracuse, 15-50. Doug Scholz again led the pack, winning in 10:17.4.

Culver's football Eagles attempted to walk away with a Homecoming win over Archrival St. John's Saturday, but were caught from behind and tied, 13-13.

The Gregory Memorial Sabre, symbol of the rivalry between the schools which dates back to 1905, will remain at Culver since the Academy won last year's contest. Culver leads the 21-15-2 series record.

The score was knotted with only 1:30 remaining in the game, as St. John's quarterback Charley Winter flipped an 18-yard touchdown pass to end Doug Painter. Culver staged a comeback during the final minute of play, but all hope for victory vanished with a missed field goal attempt from the 10-yard line in the final 30 seconds.

Culver's first score came on a four-yard plunge by John Reitman early in the second quarter. This tally offset St. John's first touchdown, a 40-yard return of an intercepted Eagle pass in the first period, and at halftime the score stood 6-6.

John Casner chalked up Culver's 2nd touchdown as he ram-bled 13 yards to paydirt on a reverse midway through the third period. This score was set up by a blocked St. John's punt deep in Lancer territory by linebacker Tim Moore. Fullback Paul Gift was the leading ground gainer in the Culver backfield with 81 yards on 16 carries. Chris Hicks accounted for 72 yards and Chip Linnemeier, 69. Before sustaining a leg injury in the last quarter, team captain John Schumacher intercepted three Lancer passes. Culver 0, 6, 7, 0 - 13 St. Johns 6, 0, 0, 7 - 13

MISSED!

The railroad station agent heard a crash and dashed outside to see a train disappear around the bend. On the platform lay an unconscious man, surrounded by the contents of his opened suitcase.

"Was he trying to catch the train?" the agent asked a small boy.

"He did catch it," the boy answered, "but it got away from him again."
